LATE STUDY OF THE SUN AS DETAILED BY AN EXPERT

Director Abbot of Astrophysical Observatory Describes Progress
—Variation of the Orb's Heat.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—"Each periodic return of the time of maximum sun spots brings with it a freshened interest and renewed activity in solar observations," said C. G. Abbot, director of the United States Astrophysical Observatory, in which he succeeded the late Prof. S. P. Langley. Mr. Abbot has measured successfully after years of work in Washington and Mount Wilson, Cal., the amount of heat transmitted by the sun to the earth, and has determined how much this varies from year to year.

"It," said Mr. Abbot, "the sun varies 10 per cent, and back again in a year the temperature of inland stations should change about five degrees Fahrenheit, but because of the whole world will only change from one to two degrees. If the change be ten per cent, and back again in a month the temperature change would be less, and perhaps not noticeable, but if the sun's rays should fall ten per cent, and continue so forever the whole world would be nearly 15 degrees colder than it is now, unless there should result indirectly a change in the amount of cloudiness.

"Clouds reflect the sun's rays so powerfully that if the earth were completely covered by clouds it would have only half the sun's rays it now has to warm it, and the consequence would be a glacial period. But this would not become so cold that there would at length be too little moisture evaporated to maintain the clouds, and then the earth would warm again.

"The measurements of the sun's heat thus far made teach that variations of 10 or 15 per cent, though not usual, do sometimes occur, and changes of four or five per cent, are almost of fortnightly occurrence. The science of detecting them is not simple or easy, but the value of such knowledge in advancing the natural industries where plant or animal life is involved may well justify the daily observation of the sun's radiation at stations, which would be necessary as a basis for long-range predictions.

Mr. Abbot said that, in spite of the fact that the sun was the promoter of every particle of life on the earth and necessary to the very existence of animals and plants, while all climates were controlled absolutely by it, and that it was the only star near enough to the earth to admit of detailed study, yet astronomers comparatively neglected it. Besides a few eclipse observations, estimating the number of sun spots when they occur, regulating time and occasionally noting peculiarities of the color spectrum, the time of rotation or the distribution of light, little attention had been paid this most important celestial object.

As a result of two recent conferences an international union now has been formed. Its objects include the study of the nature and cause of sun spots, the nature and thickness of the so-called envelope of the sun and of the corresponding envelope of atmosphere close to the earth, the wave length of the nature of the corona or circle of light around the sun, the amount of heat available to the earth and the variability of this.

of places changed as much as 30 or 40 feet. This accounted for that had been called errors in the apparatus of the leading national observatories, and also had an appreciable effect on what is known to astronomers as the 'constant of aberration,' one important method of determining the distance of the sun on which all conclusions as to distances, masses and other elements of the solar system hang, and also the exact astronomical predictions depending on solar theory. This oscillation of the pole has an effect on tides, says the observer, and the same astronomer put forward the statement that apparently earthquakes are more numerous when the vibrations are greatest—about once every seven years.

The geodetic association, Mr. Abbot said, had established four stations almost exactly in the same latitude in a circle around the globe. These are at Caracas, in the island of San Pedro, Italy; at Misamis, in Japan; at Utsab, in California, and at Gathensburg, Md. To these recently have been added two stations in the southern hemisphere at Baywater, in western Australia, and at Doncastro in the Argentine republic.

"Now," says Marconi, "I will communicate with the nearest station, and he presses the key of the transmitter. There is a blinding blue flash and at each pressure on the key sparks radiate by two feet in length start from between the two silver balls of the induction reel. One of these balls is in communication with the earth and the other with a rod. Each spark represents an impulse which is communicated from the battery to the rod and into the vibrations of the ether called Hertzian waves.

These waves expand in space in every direction at a speed of 300,000 kilometers a second; that is to say, seven times the circumference of the earth. They are independent of wind and temperature and glide above the surface of the earth and sea, striking on their way the wireless stations that lie far beyond the horizon.

At each blinding flash that accompanies the movement of the key a note like the report of a rifle is heard. It is an awe-inspiring spectacle, the inventor calmly standing there presiding over the key amid the lightning and the thunder. The operator is obliged to stuff his ears with wool. It appears, however, that recently Marconi has found means of doing away with the noise almost completely.

U. S. EX-SENATOR COMMITS SUICIDE

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 7.—George Wallace Delamater, once candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and who served as state senator from Crawford county from 1887 to 1890, committed suicide by shooting today in an office in this city. Occupant of the neighboring office in the Diamond National Bank building found him dead with a 38 calibre bullet hole in his right temple.

Grief over the death of his father, George B. Delamater, at Meadville, Pa. on May 6, and the sudden death of his son, James Scott Delamater in June at Conneville, Pa., is believed to be the cause of his suicide.

HARBOR FEES.

A delegation from the common council leaves this week for Montreal to meet Mr. McNicoll of the C. P. R. and members of the shipping Federation, for the purpose of discussing the proposed readjustment of wharfage charges in St. John harbor.

The late Theodore Tilton, who boasted that he had never had a pipe, cigar or cigarette in his mouth, used to declare that the most inveterate smoker he ever knew was Sojourner Truth.

Redd-Out in my car with a party yesterday.

Greenie—Yes. "Come to a wide, deep stream which we could not ford."

"No bridge you could run the machine over?"

"No."

"What in the world did you do?"

"Just sat there and thought it over."

First Professor—That man has been generally honored by many colleges.

Second Professor—I should say so. He has been given enough degrees to qualify him for a first-class thermometer.

The Guest (after a dinner)—Your wife is such a beautiful woman it's a wonder you're not jealous of her.

The Host—Oh, I am! I never invite any man here who is any sane woman would take a fancy to.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the kind old lady to the beggar, "are they the best shoes you've got?"

"Why, lady," replied the candid beggar, "could you imagine better ones for the business. Every one of 'em holes means nickles an' dimes ter me."

Infant Terrible—"And did they go into the ark two by two?"

Mamma—"Yes, dearest."

Infant Terrible—"Well, who went with auntie?"

Hatdresser—"Tremendous 'ad of 'air, sir! Better let me cut the 'ole of it for!"

Eminent Violinist—"Why?"

Hatdresser—"Well, you'll excuse my sayin' so, but it makes you look like one of them fiddler chaps, you know!"

"Dus Driver (to carman of van in front, which is blocking the way): "Jyer, get on, get on! You've bin keepin' us waitin' five minutes."

Van Driver (turning round): "Five minutes? Well, that ain't so long. You 'ad to wait five years once, 'adn't you?"

"Horatius" said the professor's wife, "I don't believe you've heard a word that I've said, and here I've been talking for half an hour."

"Well," said the pondering professor, "who could believe it? You seem just as fresh as when you started."

"What do you consider the greatest object of interest in England?" asked the interviewer.

"Well," answered the great lecturer from abroad, "I arrived here yesterday and—"

"Of course," exclaimed the interviewer, apologetically, "I meant the greatest object of interest next to yourself!"

"I have heard a good deal about people who borrow trouble, but I think my wife is a champion in that line."

"Why, I thought she was always cheerful and contented with her lot."

"She was until our baby was born, six weeks ago. Now she is worrying because he may marry some girl that we shall not like."

Tinkered up the clocks; He soldered leaking coffee pots And set to rights the locks. The bicycles he doctored, From broken back to rim; To start a balky motor car; Was only play for him; But one day his wife's eggbeater Went badly out of whack— They took him to a hughouse And he never has come back.

THE VIOLET. O, faint, delicious springtime violet! Thine odor, like a key, Turns noiselessly in memory's wards to let A thought of sorrow free.

The breath of distant fields upon my brow Blows through that open door, The sound of wind-borne bells, more sweet and low And sadder than of yore.

It comes afar from that beloved place, And that beloved hour, When life hung rippling in love's golden grace Like grapes above a bower.

A spring goes slinging through the reeds grass, The hawk sings o'er my head, Drowned in the sky—O pass, ye visions, pass!

I would that I were dead! Why hast thou opened that forbidden door From which I ever flee? A vanished joy! O love, that art no more, Let my vexed spirit flee!

O violet, thy odor through my brain Hath searched and stung to grief. The sunny day, as if a curse did stain Thy velvet leaf.

William W. Storr. The late Theodore Tilton, who boasted that he had never had a pipe, cigar or cigarette in his mouth, used to declare that the most inveterate smoker he ever knew was Sojourner Truth.

"Lawks, honey, how so?" she asked. "Because, Auntie," he rejoined, "you know that, according to the Good Book, nothing entereth there that defileth. Now, how do you expect to get into heaven with your teeth defiled by tobacco?"

"Lawks, honey," answered the old negress, "when I go to heaven I 'spect to leave my brefs behind me!"

"You call me a thief."

"And you called me a liar."

"Well?"

"I've been thinking."

"What about?"

"I've been thinking that it might be a good thing for us to form a partnership and open a life insurance and trust company."

"No."

"What in the world did you do?"

"Just sat there and thought it over."

"BUCKEYE DAISIES" ARRIVE IN PARIS

Tourists Have to Pay Beer Prices for Water While on Road. None of Them is Engaged, at Least Colonel Wilson Has Not Heard of It if Any are to Wed.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The famous "Buckeye Daisies" arrived in Paris about midnight of Monday and took charge of the fifth floor of the Hotel du Louvre.

These twenty-five young women, chosen as the most popular in Ohio, have thus entered on the final stage of their sight-seeing tour, which was through Scotland, England, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Switzerland.

They left Interlaken at eleven o'clock Monday morning, and upon entering France found nothing but beautiful country and bright sunshine, which they think augurs well for their short sojourn in Paris before leaving for home August 10 on the Rydam.

It should be explained that these young ladies give the Buckeye Daisies as the result of a popularity contest run by the Columbus Dispatch, in which more than 10,000,000 votes were cast. Each of the twenty-five young women received more than 300,000 votes.

"No one is engaged as I know of," said Colonel Edward S. Wilson, who is in charge and is the only man in the party, "and I have rounded them up in Paris safely, no one being ill. Every one is deeply appreciative of the kind attentions that are being showered on them throughout the Continent."

CANT FIND ANY ICE WATER. An unusual incident happened to the party soon after leaving Interlaken. All during the trip they had been short of ice water. In fact, in parts of beer-drinking Germany it was difficult to get any water at all. But the trip to Paris was not without its incidents. To their dismay on searching the train after leaving Interlaken there was not a drop of water aboard to drink. After many inquiries they found that after the first stop across the frontier there was a well. When the train stopped the next day, they went to look for it. Disappointment again for nobody could find it. When they begged at the station for a simple drink of water the man charged them the same as for beer, and the water was not cold either.

"Wasn't it a shame?" said one of the girls. An effort was made last night to brew the ice water famine. One of the young "Buckeyes," Miss Ida March, whose home is in London, says that she liked London very much, even if it was bigger than Paris. She added: "But everywhere we have been well treated. There was so many to see us off that we could scarcely get on the train."

"Berlin I like best of all," said Miss Almada Denny. "Of course, we have not seen Paris yet, but the German capital there are so many great parks. In America such green spots would be considered waste ground."

"And when we get home," said Miss Margaret Naddy, of Columbus, who was popular enough to get $2,400 votes, "we will miss the promenades and parks of Berlin, as there is nothing of the kind at home."

At every point the "Buckeye Daisies" stopped the postal clerks were forced to work overtime. There has been a craze to send home postal cards. Colonel Wilson estimated that to date more than ten thousand have been posted. One "Buckeye" alone posted seven hundred.

LOST IN STRANGE CITY. Lost in a strange city was the fate of two "Buckeye" daisies yesterday. Immediately after dinner two of the most daring, armed with map and compass, started out to find the Bon Marche to shop. This store is not the easiest in Paris for a stranger to find, but the young women said they had had experience in Cincinnati and feared nothing.

First they got mixed up in the edge of Luxembourg Garden, afterwards wandered up and down a strange street, but at last were put on the right track by an Englishman who reached the Bon Marche just as it was closing and the shutters were being pulled down. They saw the Latin quarter without knowing it.

That such accidents will not happen again is guaranteed by a society known as "Les Petites Messagers," which yesterday sent a messenger boy, who will act as a guide during the rest of the Paris visit.

Some one said that the "Buckeyes" were guests at a champagne breakfast yesterday morning about eleven o'clock. There may have been champagne with speaking distance, but any one who even hints that the "Buckeyes" did more to fix than ignore it, simply doesn't understand the "Buckeyes," that's all.

Last night the young women remained at the Hotel Du Louvre resting for this morning, when they began a whirlwind tour of Paris under the leadership of "the man from Cook's."

While struck with the beauty of Paris, all the "Buckeyes" prefer waiting until after today before giving their impressions. The ice water famine is broken. The management of the Hotel Du Louvre yesterday laid in a supply of 2,000 kilograms of ice for the girls. Never in the history of a Paris hotel, it is said, has there been such a demand for ice water.

HAD WOMAN'S BODY IN THEIR BAGGAGE. Arrest of Couple in Marseilles Reveals Growsome Murder at Monte Carlo.

MARSEILLES, France, Aug. 8.—A trunk belonging to a man and woman who arrived here today from Monte Carlo attracted the attention of the baggage master, who caused it to be opened. It was found to contain the body of a woman, cut to pieces. The man and woman owning the trunk were arrested. They had asked that it be forwarded to London.

The couple, who are middle aged, and gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, a Swede, thirty-seven years old, the murdered woman was Theresa Williams, a Swede, thirty-seven years old. A man named Barker is under arrest at Monte Carlo charged with having killed her.

MORE GASES AGAINST THE MILLIONAIRE SPORTS

CHATHAM, N. B., Aug. 8.—Game Warden Robinson said this morning that the cases were not finished against the American millionaires, Arthur Robinson and Justin Farrington, who were yesterday found guilty of shooting moose out of season and fined all together $300. This lends color to the report of wholesale slaughter but further than this, the game warden would make no statement.

800 PEOPLE KILLED BY LIGHTNING YEARLY. The Worst Fatalities Occur in Northern Georgia and Alabama—The Percentage in Maine.

An average of 800 people are killed in the United States each year by lightning, according to data collected by the weather bureau in Washington. This means that about one in each 100,000 of population is killed in that manner.

The best of most numerous visitations includes all of Florida except the southernmost tip, the lower edge of Georgia and the southeastern corner of Alabama. In that belt an average of 45 thunderstorms a year is experienced.

The zone of next greatest frequency includes the more northern parts of the states last named, as well as the whole of Mississippi and Louisiana, nearly all of Tennessee, the adjacent corners of Illinois and Kentucky, the southern part of Arkansas and the eastern central part of Texas.

Another belt of equal intensity extends throughout Central Illinois and adjacent sections of Indiana, Iowa and Missouri.

The region from the Virginia Capes to Connecticut escapes with an average of 25 such storms, while Boston is visited by only 23. The frequency diminishes until the Rockies are reached and on the Pacific slope there are practically no such storms.

The region of greatest danger from lightning stroke does not coincide with the zone of greatest thunder-storm frequency, but includes northern Vermont, the whole of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West

NEWFOUNDLAND IS FIRM OVER FISHERY

Deadlock Threatened in Issue With the United States.

Premier Bond Will Not Accept Concessions Made by Imperial Cabinet—An Intricate Affair.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 7.—The Biblical story of David and Goliath finds a modern application in this struggle between Newfoundland and a scant 200,000 people, and the United States with its 80,000,000. Newfoundland, however, is not dismayed, for she has already fought a similar fight with France over St. Pierre-Miquelon, and reduced that little Gallic possession to beggary in the process.

The crux of the whole problem is that of bait—not flake bait or minted bait of the amateur angler, but the inshore fishes, which are caught and affixed to hooks to lure to their doom the greedy cod, haddock, halibut, and mackerel of the outer waters and the Grand Banks, where 1,000 smacks of various flags, crewed by 20,000 adventurous mariners, are to be found engaged in their perilous avocation. "Bait" seems a small thing for mighty nations to fight about, yet disputes arising out of this North Atlantic fisheries question have more than once brought England and France, and England and America, to the very verge of war.

As regards the latter countries, the question goes back beyond the Revolutionary War. Then the American colonists enjoyed the right of fishing along the coast of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. That conflict ended in 1783, but it was revived by the treaty which closed the war. The liberty remained till the outbreak of 1812, and the treaty of Ghent, in 1814, did not deal with it. American fishermen resorted to these waters, and British corvettes chased them away, till, to prevent a possible rupture, a treaty was concluded in London in 1818, by which the Americans gave up all claims elsewhere in return for the "right to take forever, in common with British subjects, fish of every kind on the southwest and west coasts of Newfoundland, on the Margedon Islands, and on the Labrador, from opposite Anticosti, east and northwest indefinitely."

SIR ROBERT BOND MAKES A PROTEST.

This was one of the matters that came before the recent Colonial Conference at London, in which the Prime Ministers of the self-governing colonies took part. Sir Robert Bond called it up on one occasion, and he may be recalled that he was reported by a section of the London press to have roundly berated Lord Elgin for having introduced a small colony like Newfoundland, when he would not have dared to do so had it been an important colony like Canada. This allegation was indignantly repelled in the House of Commons next day by Mr. Winston Churchill, and Sir Robert Bond himself subsequently denied that there had been any "scene" at the session in question.

On his departure from Liverpool, though, on June 21, he dealt with a report from Newfoundland stating that the modus vivendi of 1904 was to be renewed for 1907, with an additional clause preventing the Newfoundland authorities from serving legal process against American vessels, declaring that this arrangement was an even worse one than its predecessor.

It is highly probable that such a clause is demanded by the American Government, in order to protect its vessels from countless legal actions, and Newfoundland is separated from the North Pole by the hiring of colonial fisherfolk were to be resumed this fall. The British Government, however, cannot compel Newfoundland to observe such a compact, unless by passing an act of the Imperial Parliament, because Newfoundland possesses full autonomy, and this would certainly be an invasion of her right to carry out her own domestic laws by her own machinery.

An Imperial statute would vary of "coercion," and would be a very unpopular measure to introduce into the House of Commons, so that the British Government is on the horns of a dilemma, desiring to fulfill its treaty obligations to the United States. It can be held that their treaty rights comprehend this point, while at the same time it is unwilling to put undue pressure on Newfoundland.

PEACEMAKER GOT ANGRY, KILLED HIS FATHER-IN-LAW

Edward Mulvaney, of Brooklyn, Was Annoyed Because Combatants Would Not Accept Arbitration.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Losing his temper because his efforts as a peace-maker had not succeeded, Edward Mulvaney a young man, knocked down and killed his prospective father-in-law, Robert Scandaler, a contractor in Flatbush, Brooklyn, early today. The killing was the outcome of a quarrel between Mr. Scandaler and his son-in-law, Edward Mulvaney, who was calling on Miss Scandaler, feared that the disputants would hurt each other and intervened. The contract, she said, upon which Mulvaney had developed and Mulvaney and Scandaler adjourned to the street, Brooklyn, to settle their quarrel. Mulvaney struck Scandaler a powerful blow on the head knocking him down. The contractor died shortly afterwards. Mulvaney was taken into custody.

HANDED A LEMON TO THE PERSISTENT MASHER

How a Passenger on an Atlantic Liner Got Square With the Fellow Who Annoyed Her.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—How the attentions of a would-be masher, who annoyed several women on the voyage of the Atlantic liner, were suddenly stopped by a citrus presentation when the promenade deck was crowded with passengers who enjoyed the man's discomfiture, was told yesterday after the Cunarder had berthed from Liverpool.

A Southern woman with her husband was the object of the masher's attentions. From the outset of the voyage he had been sitting at the table in the saloon, and on the promenade deck, and no amount of scowling or evidences of annoyance could shake his obnoxious attention. Finally she decided to humiliate the man. Her husband and several friends gathered round her, and she at last the women was paying some attention to him. With a smile she indicated that the two would meet further up the deck and a nod indicated the place. With a punctured bow the man extended his hand to grasp that of the woman. But there was no hand clasp, for instead her fingers relaxed their hold on a large July lemon. There was a roar of laughter from the crowd scattered along the deck, and the masher, red in the face, hurried through the saloon entrance and went to his cabin. Thereafter he was scarcely seen.

GERMANY NOT SATISFIED WITH THE FRENCH POLICY

The Expected Criticisms of the Moroccan Affair Have Begun

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Some discontent is evinced in the German press today in the matter of the action taken by France at Casablanca. The Reichs-Zeitung says: "What one hundred sailors succeeded in doing could in our estimation have been equally well accomplished by an equal force of policemen."

Continuing, this paper expresses regret that the international police had not been organized more rapidly. The Boersen Zeitung says: "France has occupied Casablanca to restore order and provide for the property of the European residents but she will remain there and gradually draw Morocco into her power as Great Britain has done with Egypt and Japan with Korea."

BUILDING MAY BE BACKWARD

Some of Those Who Were Burned Out Undecided

Hartland - Not Likely to Recover Very Soon From Recent Blaze - Extensive Repairs on Chapel

HARTLAND, N. B., Aug. 7.—Owing to the scarcity of materials there may be no new buildings erected on the burnt district this year. Keith & Plummer, leading general merchants, who lost their two large three story buildings, have decided not to rebuild until spring. They have rented the Ross building at the upper end of Main street, and while they have not the space at their disposal that the old stores afforded, the inconvenience is felt more by themselves than the public for they have managed to lay in a complete stock of all lines. They will also make room for their millinery department, when the season opens. Horace L. Nixon, another merchant who suffered by the fire had intended going on with a new building at once, but is now more undecided. G. C. Watson has sold his lot and the remainder of the building that stood thereon to C. Humphrey Taylor, who will proceed at once to repair the building and rent it for stores and tenants. The price paid was $1000. Mr. Watson will continue his undertaking business.

Franklin Clark has bought from J. D. Shaw, the lot where stood the building occupied by Ziba Oveser and Dr. Macintosh. The lot has a 35 foot front and the price paid was $600. The farmers are doing their best to get as much hay in as possible between showers. This week the weather has been somewhat more favorable, although there has been some rain every day. However, in spite of the fine weather, the much-dreaded rust has as yet not appeared in the potato fields. H. H. Smalley, who has one of the largest potato fields (19 acres) in this vicinity, says his crop is doing finely.

Rev. Fr. Bradley was here the other day. He says that since the year began there has been much illness and several deaths in his parish, which is one of the most extensive in the province, being forty miles from one extreme to the other. The chapel at Riverview Church is being enlarged and repaired at a cost of $3,500. At Williams town a new edifice is soon to be dedicated. It has been three years in building and will cost about $3,000.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Aug. 7.—The will of the late John Ings was probated today. The estate is valued at over $220,000. It includes real estate, $25,000; mortgages, judgments and other loans, $100,000; Charlottetown Steam Navigation Company stock, 100 shares; Prince Edward Island Telephone Co. stock, 200 shares; Bank of Nova Scotia stock 100 shares; City Bonds $30,000, and the balance made up of other stocks and bank deposits. The dwelling house in Charlottetown on the Esplanade, with its contents, is bequeathed to his son, A. Ernest Ings of Charlottetown. $1,000 is bequeathed to St. Paul's church, $500 to St. Paul's Sunday school, $100 to the P. E. Island Hospital. The rest of the property is divided practically in equal shares among the four sons and one daughter of the deceased, viz., J. Walter Ings of Calgary, Alberta; Fred W. Ings of Nanter, Alberta; A. Ernest Ings, Charlottetown; and Constantine Demaris Ings, wife of Rev. Mr. Crawford Frost, Baltimore, Md. A. Ernest Ings is the sole executor.

SIR FREDERICK BORDEN VISITING ST. JOHN

Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia and defense, was in the city yesterday. Sir Frederick had a private conference with Dr. Puseley last evening. When interviewed the minister was very reticent, saying that his visit to St. John was purely private. He would say nothing concerning the question of the drill hall site. Sir Frederick was accompanied by Mr. Macoun of Ottawa, his son-in-law. They will leave the city today.

NO TRACE OF BODIES.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—No trace has yet been found of the bodies of Stanley Davidson and Miss Hingston who are believed to have been drowned near Varennes on Sunday, although a vigorous search has been kept up.

Mildred (very superstitious)—"Oh, dear! I would never have accepted you, Jack, if I had remembered it was Friday evening!"

FOUR PERSONS WERE KILLED

Carriage Run Down By Pennsylvania Flyer

Attempted to Cross Railway Track and Were Struck by Special Train Travelling at High Speed.

ALLENHURST, N. J., Aug. 7.—Four persons, employees of the Norwood House, were instantly killed tonight when their carriage was run down by a Pennsylvania passenger flyer known as the Bankers' Special, at the Corlies avenue crossing here. They were Thomas Edwards, a driver, and Corletta Grace, Jennie McDonald and Hannah Murphy, waitresses. The waitress were all young women who came here from New York when the summer hotel season opened. They lived at a cottage some distance from the hotel, to which they were being conveyed tonight. The Corlies crossing is just south of the local station of the New York and Long Branch railway, and the station platform was crowded with summer visitors, who witnessed the accident. Edwards started his horses and the carriage was squarely on the rails when the flyer, south bound, and the approach of which had been hidden by the oppositely moving special, tore across the roadway. The vehicle was smashed to bits and the bodies of its occupants were badly mangled.

A BORN DIPLOMAT.

George was caught napping. A pair of soft little hands covered his eyes and a sweet voice commanded: "Guess who is here?"
Nothing very dreadful for George in this you think; but then you don't know that George has two sweetheart and for the life of which couldn't decide whose voice it was, which made it very embarrassing situation for him. A wrong guess would lead to complications awful to think of. But a happy thought inspired George, and he answered: "It's the dearest, sweetest little girl in the world."
"Oh, you lovely boy!" gurgled the satisfied one, as she removed her hands. And now George thinks of applying for a diplomatic post, feeling that his talents would be wasted in any other field.

SHERLOCK HOLMES AT THE BAR.

The lawyer who has an instinct for the weak point of a witness generally fights a winning game. A famous lawyer put certain questions to a witness, which were answered with more or less hesitation. The witness was asked to repeat his statements, and then once more the same process was gone through.
Suddenly, without warning, the cross-examining counsel pointed his finger at the witness and in loud tones cried:—
"Give me that paper in your waistcoat pocket."
"I completely by surprise, the witness mechanically took a paper from the pocket indicated and handed it to the counsel."
There was profound stillness in the court as the lawyer slowly read, in his cool, calm voice, the exact words of the witness in regard to the statement, and called attention to the fact that they were in the handwriting of the lawyer on the other side. He then gathered up his papers with great deliberation, remarked that "there seemed to be no further need of his services," and left the court.
When asked to explain how he arrived at so absurd a conclusion, the lawyer replied:—
"A witness who has learned his evidence will not give it as if he had heard it merely. Besides, I noticed that when a word failed him his hand wandered mechanically to his waistcoat pocket."

MISS EDITH WALLACE WINS PARKER MEDAL

Lead the High School Matriculants in Mathematics—Hazen Howard Second.

Miss Edith D. Wallace is the winner of the Parker Silver Medal, as the leader of the St. John matriculants in mathematics in the U. N. B. matriculation examination. The mathematical examinations consisted of two papers, one on algebra and arithmetic and the other on geometry. On the former out of a possible 150, Miss Wallace made 138, and on the other paper out of a possible 125, her mark was 73, thus giving a total of 211.
Miss Wallace was closely followed by Hazen Howard, who made in algebra and arithmetic 138 and on geometry 65, thus giving a total of 204. The others were considerably behind.

TOWN OF WOODSTOCK PARTIALLY LIGHTED

Hartland Youth Let off With a Warning—A Musical Recital—Has Gone to Ottawa.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 7.—The town is partially lighted tonight, Peter Clinch this afternoon having withdrawn any objection to the running of the Connel system, the Lower Corner and the Elm street lights both the latter being supplied from the high voltage. This arrangement will allow the town's two largest industries, Dickinson's tannery and Dunbar's foundry, to resume operations in the morning, both depending for power on the dam company service. There has been a lot of feeling in town over the temporary loss of the lights, political matters even being temporarily placed in the background.
Addon Major, the Hartland youth awarded sentence on the charge of forging orders, before Judge Cartleton pleaded guilty under the Speedy Trials Act. His honor, after taking all the circumstances into consideration, decided to let the boy go under suspended sentence, warning him of the serious consequences and pointing out the demerit in a term in Dorchester as being a fact that was a very good student.
In the matriculation examination she stood fourth, Miss Isabella Thomas being first and Harry Macaulay and Wm. Hoyt, of St. John, second and third.

BRIEF DESPATCHES

PARIS, Aug. 7.—The Petit Parisien says that the seaport of El Arach in Morocco is surrounded by Khlot men, who are excited and excited over the bombardment of Casablanca. The gates of the town have been shut. This consists there of a warship.
New disturbances have broken out at Alcazar in the Fox region. The French resident here has been instructed to come to Tangier.
ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—The navy department intends in the course of the current year, to lay down two battleships of a new type. Their displacement is to be 19,000 tons, armed with ten 12-inch guns and minor batteries, turbine engines and a speed of 21 knots an hour.
EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 7.—A remarkable meteor was seen at 4:15 this morning and was visible moving across the sky from the southwest to the northeast at 5 o'clock. It presented the appearance of a comet about the size of a football with a tail apparently fifty feet long from which showers of meteors fell continuously. The ball was of a greenish yellow color, while the tail was white.
HONOLULU, Aug. 7.—Congressman N. Hoan Longworth in a speech made at the Commercial Club's luncheon today, said he hoped that the Philippines would not long be with us. In the meantime, free trade with the Philippines would not injure Hawaii.

JIMMY BRITT AND JOE GANS.

They Will Probably Fight for Championship of the World Next Month.

Next month will see two battles between light-weights, Joe Gans and Jimmy Britt will in all likelihood contest for the championship of the world in Nevada. Tommy Murphy and Dick Hyland will meet in New York or Philadelphia. Then together they may come the winners. Battling Nelson has been removed from all consideration as a championship possibility by Jimmy Britt.

Without doubt Britt, Gans, Hyland and Murphy are the best boys at their weight in the world. The reconstruction of James Edwards startled the sporting world. He played the fox for a year or more, made no boasts, retired in Nevada, and so little popularity did he enjoy, and so many enemies did he make, that club managers will pass him along unless he wants to fight for purses in the hundreds instead of the thousands. His sun has set. The days of his manager's dictatorship are over.

MAKING OF BOXES TO HOLD CIGARS

Some Interesting Facts About the Industry.

Cost Comparatively Small—Prices Made Possible by the Use of Most Intricate Machinery

There is probably not a cigar smoker in the land who has not ordered, at one time or another, how much of what he pays for his smoke goes into the box, and the lithographed labels, and the gilt bands and the like. A box which holds fifty cigars costs from 24 to 40, according to what it is made of, and this is without counting the labels and bands, or anything but the wood and nails. The cost of these boxes used in the United States alone runs up to $1,200,000 every year. Some of them go to Havana, but they come back with cigars in them.
Perhaps the most interesting and least known fact about this industry is that, while some cigar boxes are made of cedar, a great number are made of poplar, veneered on one side with cedar, while still others are made of poplar without any veneer. In the latter case the wood is printed in imitation of cedar by the use of ink of various colors, and a machine which makes a printing roller, on which are the lines to resemble the graining of cedar wood. The bottom and top of the cigar box of standard kind are 5/16 in. in thickness, while the ends are 7/32 in. Despite the very small amount of wood needed, it is cheaper, however, to make a box of this kind than of cedar, and still cheaper to print the poplar. Solid cedar boxes to hold 100 cigars, now cost about $4, and the half boxes, or those for fifty cigars, about 40. The corresponding prices for veneer are about 1-24 less, while for the printed poplar the prices are 1-124 to 24.
Such prices are only made possible by the use of intricate machinery and subdivision of labor, and it is also important to waste as little of the material as possible. To this end the thickness of the proper thickness is not sawed from the log, but spliced or split by a special machine. The immense pressure used in veneering wood for the manufacture of furniture is not used, and the veneered sheets, which are pretty well warped and twisted at first, are straightened out and dried simply by passing through rollers.
Then the slabs are taken to the sawing table, where they are ripped and cross-sawed—from five to ten in one case—into pieces of proper dimensions for the single boxes which are being made. Thence the pieces are sent to the inspector, who, besides examining each for sorting out those which are imperfect, makes separate piles of ends, sides, bottoms and tops.
The ends and sides are nailed together into frame by one machine, and the bottoms and tops are nailed on by another. These machines are fed with nails by an automatic arrangement which presents the required number of them at each stroke. One stroke does the business of nailing at one corner, and one stroke also suffices for the bottoms and tops, the nails being pushed in rather than driven. One of these machines will frame 5,000 boxes a day, and two machines working together will turn out 10,000 boxes, except for the labels.
The lid of the cigar box is held in place by nailing only along the front edge, and generally by one nail. The hinge at the back is made of one strip of cheesecloth glued upon the outside and subsequently covered by the labels and paper trimmings. When the hinge is dry the pasting of the labels is begun. Tiny metal hinges are sometimes put upon clear boxes, but these are comparatively rare. So are dovetailed boxes, which can, however, be had on order.
Generally speaking the entire interior surface of the box is lined with paper and paper flaps, and in large factories the label printing and sometimes even the designing of the labels constitutes an important branch of the work. Such printing is of an unusual variety of character, requiring several kinds of presses, including those for embossing.—Tit-Bits

DRISCOLL MAY COME OVER.

Another English fighter has his eyes turned toward America. It is Jim Driscoll, the featherweight champion of England, made so by knocking out Joe Bowker in 17 rounds. Driscoll wants to come here to fight Abe Attel for the world's championship. His manager, Charley Hogan, wired Jim Driscoll the other day asking him for terms for such a match, and here is what the San Francisco promoter has to say:
"Since the Squire debut, it would be suicidal to put on a foreign fighter in 'Frisco, until he decisively beat a couple of good ones from America. I think this feeling would die out, but it is growing stronger. I know he is a little more than a featherweight, who he looked, but it would be rather difficult to make even the fellow they say are born every minute smoke to him or anyone else from across the berring."
"However, would like to put on Neil Wynn, the greatest plow in the country to run fights, four feet over the county line, and within eleven minutes of the most populous district in the town—the Mission."

NELSON AND NOLAN AT ODDS, SO A REPORT SAYS.

If there is any truth in the reports that come from San Francisco, there is a split threatened between Nelson and his manager, Nolan.
The Dane is sore, hints at a "job," suspects his friends, and Sunday night intimated that he would soon unfold a tale.
Nolan attributes Nelson's defeat, which he admits was decisive, to poor physical condition and an unaccountable slowing up. Nolan stands ready to break with the latter unless he can dictate absolutely his plans.
Jimmy Britt is once more the idol of the Pacific coast fight experts, and wants another match with Gans. While the latter has wiped Nelson off his slate as one of the boxers he would like to meet, still he must feel sore to think that Britt beat him out of the easy thing Nelson proved to be.
Though Gans appeared to the sports writers in letting Nolan do so much dictating to him, the colored boxer evidently knew that Nelson was all in and would prove an easy man for him in another battle. Now all the negotiations that have been going on for a second match between the pair have been called off by Gans, for he can see more money meeting Britt.
The colored champion announces that he would not consider another match with Battling Nelson now that Britt had decisively beaten him. He did say, however, that in case satisfactory in-

SOPHY OF KRAVONIA,

A Novel, by Anthony Hope
Author of "Prisoner of Zenda," "The Intrusions of Peggy," Etc.

Down the street from the square, there came a woman—youthful, old, pretty or ugly, his dame or drudge, it was too dark to tell. But it was a woman, and she went as though her heart was broken. For whom and for what did she weep like that? Was she a mother, or wife, or sweetheart? Perhaps she wept for Sterkoff who lay in peril of death. Perhaps she loved big Misch, over whom hovered the shadow of a swift and relentless doom. Or maybe her sorrow was remote from all that touched them or touched the girl who listened to her sobbing—the bitter sobs which she did not seem to check, which filled the night with a dirge of immemorial sadness. In the darkness and to Sophy's ignorance of anything individual about her, the woman was like a picture or a sculpture—some type or monument of human woe—a figure of embodied sorrow, crying that all joy ends in tears—in tears—in tears.

protestations of the two prisoners, but lieutenant Rastatz is clear that the street was decidedly dark, and that they all three believed the man they encountered to be Col. Stastich of the Hussars. Rastatz's much resembles his Royal Highness in height and figure. In the dark the difference of uniform would not be noticed—especially by men in their condition. He addressed Sophy: "Mistich had an old quarrel with His Highness, that's the true origin of the affair." He turned to the King again. "That is Rastatz's story, sir, as well as Misch's own—though Misch is, of course, quite aware that his most unseemly, and indeed criminal, talk at the Golden Lion seriously prejudiced his cause. But we have no reason to distrust Rastatz."
"Lieutenant Rastatz ran away only because he was afraid," Sophy remarked.

A QUESTION OF MEMORY.

King Alexis was minded that all proper recognition should be made of Sophy's service to his family. It had been her fortunate lot to have a life very peaceful in his eyes. Aligned from his son-in-law's temperamental and pursuits, he had none the less considerable affection for a strong feeling of a nature otherwise easy and careless. The King might go fishing on most of his days, but it was a Statesman's duty to be ready for any eventuality. He had a princess of a great house, and had been able to offer Countess Ellenburg no way from her husband's side. The work his marriage had begun his son's was to complete the royal house of Kravonia. The Prince was still on his promotion; it lay with the Prince to make his rank acknowledged and secure.

GERMAN PRESS IS ANGRY WITH FRANCE

Criticizes the Letter's Action in Connection With the Trouble at Casablanca.

QUEBEC MAN INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—There is no information to be had here regarding the report that Germany is to loan Russia $2,500,000 for the reconstruction of her fleet with the understanding that all the orders for warships be placed in Germany. Neither the foreign embassies nor the foreign office could shed any light on the report, but the sum of $2,500,000 is regarded as a mere bagatelle and the condition that Russia place all orders for the construction of warships with Germany is declared to be most improbable. The government has recently given orders for the construction of warships in various Russian yards, but the full project for the reconstruction of the fleet has not yet been formulated. It is noteworthy in this connection that the opinion is gaining ground in military and other circles that Russia will have no use for a fleet except for coast defense.

DRINKING GOOD LIQUORS OUT WEST

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—The new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan are drinking good liquor. The department of inland revenue recently had an inspection made owing to reports that persons had died from drinking poisonous concoctions sold over the bars. Samples were purchased by inspectors at the bars in many points in the two new provinces and an analysis failed to reveal adulteration in a single instance. A similar result was shown after an inspection made a few months ago of liquor sold in the east. An analysis of 30 samples of ginger ale collected at various places showed 29 pure and one doubtful.

SALE OF HORSES AT MONCTON

Government Imported Animals Disposed of Price Paid for Labeled Clydesdale Was $1,275—Buyers Were Present from Several Counties.
MONCTON, Aug. 7.—The sale of government-imported horses took place here this afternoon, being very largely attended, many of the buyers present being from outside points. The whole consignment of nineteen animals, thirteen Clydesdales, five Percherons and a French coach mare were sold and excellent prices realized. The highest price paid was for the big Clydesdale stallion King's College, the so-called white-eyed horse which has been so much lauded in opposition papers. This animal was sold for $1,275, the bidding being very spirited, starting at a thousand dollars and quickly mounting up to the figure for which it was disposed of. The price is higher than for the stallion sold at Fredericton, but the animal cost more, and is a much more valuable piece of horse-flesh. The highest price paid for a Clydesdale mare was given by Walter Bulmer of Westmorland Point, this county, its buying Dodo for $850. Madoline, a handsome piece of horse-flesh, brought the highest price of any of the Percheron mares, selling for $315. The French coach mare Dalbergie was sold to Mayr Smith of Shediac for $160. The Clydesdales brought better prices than the Percherons, but on sales to buyers from Kings, Albert, Kent, Carleton, York and Northumberland. Buyers were present from all these points to take advantage of the sale stock offered for sale. Previous to the auctioning Mr. Ness of Quebec, a member of the Canadian registration, and a recognized authority on horse-flesh, addressed the gathering briefly, drawing attention to the many excellencies of the animals which were to be a fine lot of animals. Among those present at the sale this afternoon was Premier Robinson, Commissioner of Agriculture, Farris, Surveyor General Sweeney, A. H. Copp (M. P.), C. M. LeGere (M. P.), and others.

GOING TO ENGLAND TO BUY A NEW STEAMER

D. J. Purdy and Capt. Mabee Leave This Evening—Hope to Have a Boat Running Before Long.

D. J. Purdy, M. P. P., leaves today for a trip to the old country. Mr. Purdy is going across to purchase a steamer for the river route in place of the S. S. Crystal Stream, which was burned at Cole's Island some weeks ago. Mr. Purdy has not decided how long he will remain away, but will inspect a number of steamers, and will purchase a suitable one.

Capt. Mabee who was in charge of the Crystal Stream, accompanied Mr. Purdy in his tour of inspection. Several suitable steamers have already been offered and Mr. Purdy anticipates no difficulty in procuring a vessel perfectly adapted for the service.

The steamer will be fitted up, after purchase and will be sent to this side at once. It will be placed on the river route early in the fall.

Mr. Purdy and Capt. Mabee leave this evening for Quebec where they will embark on the Empress of Ireland.

DEAF MUTES DIFFER ON RELIGIOUS SERVICE

Travelling Missionary Debarred From Holding Service by the Rules of the Local Association.

There is a diversity of opinion among the members of the deaf and dumb elsewhere, arising from an occurrence on Sunday last, but it is hoped that matters will be so arranged that in future no incidents of a like nature may occur. The Star is informed that on Sunday last Mr. F. J. T. Boal, a former Mount Allison student, came to the city for the purpose of conducting a service for the local deaf and dumb association. Mr. Boal is a travelling missionary to the deaf and the members of the association following out their programme previously prepared. Mr. Boal had sent notice to the members of the association of the meeting which he planned to hold but evidently no action was taken to advise the members of his friends claim that he is especially qualified for conducting services for deaf and dumb. The association side of the story is that the services had previously been prepared and that according to regulation no mute preacher from outside can be permitted to conduct meetings without the consent of the executive. This committee meets once a month for the transaction of business and no meeting was held at which Mr. Boal's service could be arranged.

HOPE TO EXTEND THE BREAKWATER NEXT YEAR

Contractor J. W. Long is preparing for the continuation of work on the rebuilding of the breakwater. No appropriation was made by the federal parliament, for this year's work, but arrangements have been made whereby Mr. Long will use up all the stock now on hand amounting to about six hundred barrels of cement along with other material. It is thought that so much money was set aside for dredging in the harbor and for improvements in the lighthouses along the coast, that the department decided not to do very much on the breakwater this year. The intention is, as has been recommended by the engineers, to continue the breakwater to Partridge Island, and it is anticipated that provision for this will be made next year. Mr. Long will commence setting the concrete on Monday.

TWO CEMENT MAKERS WERE GROUND TO DUST

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 8.—While at work repairing the inside of a rock grinder at the plant of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. last night, George Rodd and a foreigner named Mike Holm, were caught by the starting machinery and ground to dust.

ALL THE BLAST FURNACES WILL BE IN OPERATION

SYDNEY, N. S., August 8.—Number 2 blast furnace of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. will be blown out today after a period of idleness, and for a time all four furnaces will be in blast. This has happened only once before, in May, 1906. Work is being prosecuted vigorously in all departments of the Steel Works.

It is reported that the Steel and Coal Company's case after all the evidence is in will be argued at Halifax.

ANOTHER MAN KILLED IN CAPE BRETON MINE

SYDNEY MINES, N. S., Aug. 8.—John Freeman, a miner, was instantly killed late last night by a fall of coal while working in No. 5 colliery of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company. An inquest will be held.

MAY FIX THE ELECTION DATES ON SATURDAY

Reports that Bye-Elections are to be Held About the Last of September

A conference of Liberal members of parliament is to be held at Ottawa this afternoon. It is stated that a cabinet meeting will be held on Saturday of this week at which some decision will be reached in regard to the filling of cabinet vacancies though there is a possibility that no official announcement will be made until after the return of Earl Grey from his present trip. The cabinet will, it is understood, fix dates for the bye-election in St. John and several other constituencies. The expectation is that these will all take place about the same time, and will be during the last of September or the first week in October.

Mrs. H. Dykeman has returned from a visit to Mrs. King, Chipman.
