FUEL OIL AGAIN.

Ottawa, March 21 .- A delegation representing the gas companies of Canada will wait upon the government to ask that the duty on fuel oil be removed. Mr. John Coates, of the Ottawa Gas Company, says that five years ago this company bought fuel oil for 3 cents a gallon. The price is now 5.28 cents per gallon. There used to be competition, he says, between the Queen City and Imperial Oil Companies, but since the Standard Trust has gobled them both up a monopoly has been created and the price has been raised.

THE SHAKESPEARE SMASHUP. Stratford, March 21 .- The official report gives the following additional account of Saturday's accident at Shakespeare: "At 5:40, No. 4 express from Chicago, due at Toronto at 7:50, collided with a west-bound freight, which was standing foul of the main, line on a siding at Shakespeare station. Fireman Finch, of the freight train, had his right foot cut off, and Fireman Law, of the passenger engine, scalded and injured internally. They were removed to Stratford hospital. Three freight cars were derailed with coach and the baggage car, the latter, with the two engines, badly damaged.

Discusses Several Colonial Questions of Importance.

London, March 21.-During the course of the discussion of the vote on account of the House of Commons, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain said: "With regard to the Reid contract with New- that position the Canadians should foundland, to have disallowed or delayed it would have been a tremendous interference on the part of the imperial government with a self-governing colony, and either course would have brought the colony into bankruptcy, for which he would have been held responsible. Further, Mr. Chamberlain remarked that though he shared largely in the opinion in regard to the financial soundness of the contract, possibly he might be mistaken, and the government of the colony might be right. Its government, however, had made a painful admission, that it was incapable of efficiently carrying out large proposi-tions which are handed over to a contractor whom he believed to be competent and honorable." Speaking of the West Indies, Mr. Chamberlain said he thought it was impossible to give those islands representation in the government. It would be absurd to universally enfranchise the negro. The prevailing system, under the control of the colonial office. was the best which could be adopted under the present circumstances.

Touching the Transvaal question, Mr. Chamberlain said that not one of President Kruger's promises to remedy grievances had been fulfilled. Mr. Chamberlain claimed that the proposed change in the franchise was not of the slightest value, that dynamite was still a monopoly, and that there had been no advance toward remedying other grievances. Mr. Chamberlain asserted that President Kruger could give the Johannesburgers a real municipality, with control of their own educational system and civil police, without the slightest derogation to the interests and tain could interfere in the event of the negotiations at Washing Viceroy Curzon so Terms the treaty of London or the comity of nations not being observed. As the paramount power in Africa, Great Britain could make friendly suggestions, but he (Mr. Chamberlain) did not believe for a moment that they would be successful now, and therefore it would be undignified to make them. Mr. Chamberlain concluded with saying: "As the present conditions continue they constitute a real danger. We are watching the sit-

Sir Charles Tupper Talks Four of difference which it was sought to Hours and a Haif.

Mr. Bell Moves the Address in Reply to the Speech,

And Creates a Favorable Impression-

The Debate in the Senate.

Ottawa, March 21. - The address in reply to the speech from the throne opinion as to the constitution of the was moved yesterday by Mr. Bell, the new member for West Prince, P. E. I., in an able speech, which won for him a special study of the differences bethe applause of his fellow-members and tween Canada and the United States. a complimentary reference by Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. Bell's references better relations with the United States. to the great prosperity which exists in Canada at present, and his contrast of THE NEW YORK FIRE the deficits of former years with the surplus of today, the surplus which has, he pointed out, been obtained, not by increased taxation but with material reductions in the burdens of the people at the same time, were received with frequent cheering. Mr. Bell also touched a responsive chord on both side of the house in the robust patriotism which characterized his references to the recent negotiations and near where the ladies' entrance on the the action of the Canadian commissioners in refusing to sacrifice any been. Canadian territorial rights. Mr. Martineau (Montmagny), who spoke in French, seconded the address, indorsing the policy of the government in the administration of the Yukon and in the reform of the senate. Sir Charles Tupper followed in a speech of four hours and a half, which he devoted to an arraignment of the government, with not a little of his old-time vigor. He claimed for the Conservative party the credit for the prosperity which he rejoiced to see around him, and accused the government of stealing the policy which his party had formulated, and which had laid the foundation of the national greatness. Not long since, Sir Charles continued. Mr. Sifton had made a speech in which he said the tariff was now a dead issue, and if the Conservatives should get in power it was one they would not change much. And why should they? Sir Charles asked. Was it not their own tariff? He called upon the minister of finance to put into operation the power which he obtained at the last session to impose an export duty on pine logs, pulpwood and nickel matte. If we were to say to the Americans: "We will adopt your law, and you must give to every Canadian in the United States precisely the same advantages as we give to your citizens in Canada," their laws would be swept from their statute books immediately. Never was there such an excellent opportunity for striking a blow for interimperial trade. Referring to the joint high commission, Sir Charles said he did not expect that the Alaskan boundary question would be settled. No one had ever proposed such a monstrous proposition as that of the Americans, to have an equal number of arbitrators on each side, and to have no umpire. When the Americans took have broken off negotiations, and come home, free to adopt such measures as he did not hesitate to say were absolutely indispensable to command respect from the United States. We had tried the sunny ways of accomplishing these objects too long.

Sir Charles, in concluding, denounced the proposals of the government to introduce a redistribution bill and to attempt the reform of the senate. Charles sat down at 11 o'clock. Wilfrid Laurier will reply today.

IN THE SENATE. In the senate, Mr. W. H. Kerr, the new senator from Cobourg, and Mr. Paquette, the new senator from Quebec, were introduced by Hon. R. W. Scott and Hon. David Mills. Senator Kerr, in moving the address in reply to the speech from the throne said there would be no dispute, he thought, about the paragraph in the speech stating that the country was in a very prosperous condition. The present wave of prosperity in the Dominion was due a large measure to the confidence of the public that the institutions and industries of the country were now on a firm and permanent basis. Senator J. B. Thibeaudeau, of Montreal, who seconded the motion, said he was glad to note the large increase in the immigration to the country of a class of people calculated to make good citizens and thrifty settlers.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell made an allround attack on the government. Mr. Mills, in reply, agreed that the country is in a prosperous condition. The stimulus which had taken place in immigration and the absence of the exodus of Canadians from this country were, he said, the best evidence that the country was more prosperous and a better place to live in than it had been under the rule of the late govdevelopment of the Transvaal. Mr. ernment. For this the government Chamberlain then pointed out that Briclaimed some credit. Referring to the settle at the conference. There had been a difference of opinion on the question of the settlement of the Alaskan boundary. The Canadians offered to accept the rule which had applied to the Venezuelan difficulty, that all the towns in the disputed territory, which had existed for more than fifty years should go to the country the people of which established them. This rule the United States refused to accept, saying that all the towns established by them in the disputed territory, no matter when, should revert to them. There were also differences of sad death of Lord Herschell had been a calamity to Canada, for he had made He accused Sir Mackenzie Bowell of minimizing the importance of securing Another Body Discovered in the Ruins of the Windsor Hotel.

New York, March 21.-Workmen digging in the ruins of the Hotel Windsor came upon a human body early today, Forty-sixth street side of the hotel had The remains were evidently those of a woman. The head, all but the lower aw, had been consumed. New York, March 21.-The body found early today was very badly mangled. A molar on the right side of the face and another on the left side had been filled with gold. This was the third body to be found. The description of the body given out at the morgue is as follows: Body No. 3 ie that of a female, about 80 years old; small stature; arms and limbs missing; all hair burned off; second lower back tooth, right side, filled with gold; back tooth, lower left side, gold-filled; third back tooth, left side, decayed. Part of black silk dress, beaded trimmings, faced with white pongee silk, and with white lace border; parts of linen; white shirt waist, marked 38, apparently the size; band of silk dress waist marked. water were played on them incessantly. A number of pieces of bodies were found during the night-bones charred and broken and separated from one another, some with pieces of burned flesh Early this morning the workmen digging on the Fifth avenue side, near the entrance where the first traces of bodies were found, came upon a piece of pelvis, weighing about two pounds. Later a workman found what seemed to be the knee-cap of a child, pieces of the joining bones. It was dug up on the Forty-seventh street side. A pile of damaged clothing was found here. In trying to separate the pieces the workmen found inside the clothing what was believed to be mangled. burned and crushed flesh and bones.

Board of Education Will "Come Again" for Its $24,000.

Lively Discussion on Union Label-Will Not Be Demanded Upon the Firemen's Clothing-Other Matters.

The city council side-tracked the board of education's request for $24,000 and the whole salary question last night, gave Ald. Jolly's motion, re permanent improvements a formal welcome-it later, sent a small number of unimportant communications to committee, disported itself individually in various ways, and ratified the contracts let by No. 3 committee. The latter were chiefly for fire department supplies, and included 600 feet of hose from the Guttapercha Rubber Company, of Toronto, although friends of the Canadian Rubber Company made an interesting attempt to upset it.

The mayor presided, and the others present were Ald. Parnell, Greenlees, McCallum, Plant, Dreaney, Graham, Malloch, Garratt, Winnett, Reed, Car-rothers, Jolly, Douglass, O'Meara, Rumball, Pritchard and McPhillips, and Acting City Clerk Bell.

The meeting adjourned at 11:57.
Among the communications were requests from the Ta lor's Union, Typographical Union, Cigarmakers' Union, Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, Metal Polishers' Union that the union label be demanded upon the firemen's clothing; a request for a grant to the Convalescent Home; several applications for positions as street watering inspectors and firemen; petition from Architect Heaks to connect the Normal School with the Wortley road drain; from R. J. Wood, et al., for a tile sewer Waterloo street, between Simcoe and Grey streets, and from Wm. Traford, et al., for a tile sewer on Maple These were sent to the proper committees.

Ald. Dreaney moved, contrary to the mittee's report. One clause recommended that tenders for the relief wood be called for in wards.

Ald. Parnell was opposed to tenders being called for in wards. Cheaper prices would be received for in bulk, he thought. Discussion followed. Tenders will be called for as usual, for the city, north and south of Dun-das street, as well as by wards. The committee will again consider the advisability of buying a drop net for the fire department.

ABOUT THE UNION LABEL. Ald. Dreaney moved, contrary to the committee's decision that the union label be upon the firemen's clothing. Ald. Plant seconded. Ald. Jolly said that would bring the competition down to two shops. To Ald. O'Meara, the chairman said the tender of Galpin & Jones was recommended by the committee for acceptance.

Ald. Greenlees said, "If this is a move to restrict competition to union offices, it is illegal." He had no objection to union labels. Ald. Plant said the president of the

Tailors' Union was present, and should Ald. Malloch thought the council deprived a man from working. Were these men not to do anything but look on, while others worked? Ald. O'Meara decried the union because they debarred a poor man (the employer) from the privilege of working on the bench.

Andrew Johnston, president of the Tailors' Union, was heard. He said that any employer who paid his men $1 25 a day could get the label put on the work of their employes. Employers who were members of the union, and afterwards started in business for themselves, could also get the label. themselves could also get the label. They had no vote on local affairs, unless by invitation, but retained their less by invitation, but retained their membership, as the union carried their insurance. "The prices at which that contract was taken are too low," he said. "No man could pay the union wages, $1 25 a day, and make money at

Ald. Plant spoke at some length in of the label. It was a guarantee that $1 25 y would be paid for favor of the a day would be paid for the work, he said. Some contractors would take the job and get girls to work for them at $2, or $2 50 per week, will be discussed in a business way if the label were not demanded. He placed no dependence in the clause in the specifications that union wages must be paid, and cited the case of a workman who,, a couple of years ago, was engaged on similar work, and unsuccessfully tried to collect, by law, union wages.

Ald. Parnell believed $1 25 a day was too little to be paid for such work. The men who drive his wagons get $1 50 a day, but he was not willing to place any impediment in the way of the employer. It was by work the employers rose. Ald. Winnett stood out for the label. The motion to demand the union label was lost, Ald. Graham, Garratt, Winnett, Dreaney and Plant voting "yea."

WHOSE HOSE TO BUY. A clause recommending the purchase of the Guttapercha Company's hose was then read. Ald. Garratt wanted to know if the length of hose left at the fire hall last year had been tested. Chairman Dreaney answered by saying that a length of the Canada Rubber Company's hose had been in use with the other hose at the fire hall, but that six months was not long enough, the chief said, in which to test it. He talked of "guarantees," and said the council should buy the cheapest hose.

Ald. Winnett explained the difference between a ply hose and a jacket hose. Ald. Parnell said, sometimes guarantees amounted to something and sometimes they didn't. The Paragon was known to be a good brand of hose. The council had experimented enough. Ald. Pritchard said the hose the Canadian Rubber Company was offering this year was precisely the same kind of hose as the city got last year, under a different name, he said. Chief Roe had recommended "Paragon," and the city should get it. Ald. O'Meara said the chief should be present. Ald. McCallum moved to lay the matter over, and the chief be summoned. Carried. The chief recommended the Paragon hose made by the Guttapercha Company, and the clause was adopted.

SCHOOL BOARD'S NEEDS.

The board of education asked the council to provide by the issue of debentures, $24,000, for expenditure, as Victoria school, four rooms, rebuilding portion of present structure$ 7,500 Rebuilding and enlarging Park 8,500

ing, and purchase of lot Queen's avenue, rebuild and enlarge present school 3,500 Total $24,000

Dr. Teasdall, chairman of the board, informed the council that the interests of the members of the board in the matter of taxation was considerableit meant in assessment about $100,000. The board had given the matter very careful attention, he said, and discussed the merits, individually, of the

Trustee Macpherson strongly urged the necessity of the proposed improvement to Victoria school.

Dr. English presented a petition with 150 signatures asking for better accommodation than the Chesley avenue school. Dr. Ziegler said the change in the Queen's avenue kindergarten would effect a saving of $600. Trustees Bayly and Hamilton spoke of the lack of ac commodation of West London schools. All quoted the M. H. O. as condemning the present schools to which they re-On motion of Ald. Parnell the matter was sent to No. 1 committee. OFFICIALS' SALARIES.

The finance committeee's salary slate was read by Ald. Rumball. "I move that the whole matter be laid over until the estimates come in," said Ald. McCallum, and he brought his hand down upon the desk emphatically. "We can't vote away money tonight, when we don't know where it is coming from. We don't want a 23 or 24 mill rate this year."

Ald. O'Meara was of the same opinion. Some of the officials should get increases, he said, but there were others that were getting as much and a little more than they would be worth to any other corporation.

Ald. Rumball supported the report. The total increase meant only $1,400. Much more than that was passed by the council before the estimates came in, and no such question was raised. No. 1 committee had given the whole matter careful consideration.

Ald. Graham was, as a member of No. 1 committee, quite willing to share in the glory that was due to the committee for its careful readjustment of the officials' salaries. Ald. McPhillips thought there was less glory for the committee than there would have been if some of the officials had been given a greater increase.

Ald. Parnell believed no city in the Dominion had a better set of officials than London. Yet, he supported Ald. McCallum's motion. Presently, the council would be twisting about in every council would be twisting about in every council. ery conceivable shape to keep the rate of taxation down to a normal figure.

Ald. O'Meara wanted to know why the salaries of the "poor workingmen" were not to be raised.
Ald. Greenlees and Ald. Rumball in-timated that Ald. O'Meara was insincere, and the repartee was lively and good-natured.

The vote to lay the matter over was: Yeas—Ald. Pritchard, O'Meara, Winnett, Reed, Malloch, Dreaney, Plant, Parnell, McCallum—9. Nays—Ald. Mc-Phillips, Rumball, Carrothers, Graham, Garratt and Greenlees—6. Ald. Jolly was excused from voting. FIXED ASSESSMENTS.

When the recommendation to fix the assessment of D. S. Perrin & Co. was read, Ald. Plant objected. He held that fixed assessments were not in the interest of the city as a whole. The manufacturer did not enlarge his factory until there was a demand for it. He provided employment it was for his own gain, and he should pay his taxes as anyone else did. Exemptions were against Ald. Greenlees' principles, but on the ground of fair play he supported the bylaw. If the council was starting from the first he would vote against exemptions, but only a short time ago the council had dustries. The motion to introduce a bylaw carried, Ald. Pritchard, Plant and Mc-Callum voting nay.

Ald. Pritchard moved to rescind the $50 fine imposed upon John Cambridge for selling cider. Ald. Garratt sec-Ald. Greenlees and others objected to the council being a court of appeal, and no action was taken. Ald. Garratt asked if anything had been done about his motion regarding the election of aldermen. The mayor replied that it had been sent to Col. Leys, and nothing had been heard of it since.

Ald. Jolly read his motion to encourage the building of permanent side-walks, and pointed out that to abandon plank walks altogether would mean a saving of $10,000 in 30 years. The question was referred to No. 2 committee at Ald. Parnell's suggestion to be fully discussed. On the strength of Ald. O'Meara's notice of motion, the contract let to Harding & Leathorne for some filling in at the coves may be cancelled. The sewer committee will reconsider it.

Ald. Garratt gave notice of motion to rescind John Cambridge's fine. Ald. Carrothers gave notice of motion to exempt the machinery in all factories from taxation-the lands and buildings to be taxed to the full extent.

After Serious Sickness

THE HEART AND NERVES NEED STRENGTHENING-THE BLOOD REQUIRES ENRICHING.

Nothing will do this like Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

After such serious diseases as Typhoid Fever, Scarlet Fever, Pneumonia, Diphtheria, La Grippe, etc., the heart and nerves are left in an extremely weakened condition, and the blood is thin and watery.

Getting back health and strength again seems slow work.

At this time there is nothing that will help a convalescent to health like Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They impart vitality to the heart and nerves, enrich the bloodandinvigorate the whole system. Since the recent epidemic of Grippe, thousands of people have not regained their strength-don't feel their old self yet. A few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will banish all the evil after effects of this disease and rapidly restore health and animation. Mr. T. Barnicott, with Messrs. Hutchinson & Thompson, Aylmer, Ont., made the following statement: "About a year ago I was quite sick with La Grippe, which left my system in an

FOR SIXTY DOLLARS

A Man and His Four Children Were

Hacked to Death.

Winnipeg, March 21.—The crime of which the Galician Gusczak was found guilty was one of the most cold-blooded on record. Another Galician named Bojeczko had $60 in cash secreted on his person which Gusczak got to know of, and wished to secure. He and another man named Czuby went to Bojecko's hut one night armed with a revolver and an axe. They shot Bo-jeczko, mutilated his body with the axe, then killed four children belonging to Bojeczko, who were sleeping in the room. The children were killed with blows from the axe alone. Their bodies were found a few days after, and an investigation commenced, with the aid of native interpreters and detectives. Suspicion fastened strongly on Czuby and Gusczak, who were arrested. They then confessed, each seeking to implicate the other in the worst possible way, evidently in the hope of mitigating the punishment they would receive. They also implicated a third man, Pistenczak, against whom, however, the evidence was very slight. Gusczak, while on his trial, attempted to repudiate his confession, but such a strong chain of evidence had been furnished by the remarks he had already made, many of which were otherwise verified, that his denial was useless. His accomplice will be placed I on trial this week

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by wastes and decompositions that are continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes and repains the same with new material made from healthy blood, and this the Sarsaparillian will and does secure, a cure is certain for when once this remedy commences its work of purification and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving and flesh and weight increasing. Scrofula From Birth.

Scrofula From Birth.

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: It is with pleasure I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicine called Sarsaparillian Resolvent. I have a girl three years old last September who has suffered with scrofula ever since she was two years old. It fact, the doctor told us she was born with it. We had our best local doctors with her, and it seemed like all hope was gone, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease seated or seized upon her lungs severely. I began to think that our little girl could not live very long, our physician's medicine doing no good. In the meantime I received a copy of your medical publication called "False and True," which you sent me. After seeing the accounts of so many cures effected by your treatments, I at once resorted to them, and by the time she had used one bottle she was most well. The ulcers that were making their appearance on her body are entirely gone, her lungs almost healed, or at least she has quit coughing. She has begun on the second bottle, and I believe by the time she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, SAMUEL S. BARKER, Flat Top, Mercer County, W. Va.

"LIFE A BURDEN." Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: For a long time past I have been suffering in the most distressing manner from a long train of symptoms which have baffled the skill of all the medical men down here, and which I feared, if not arrested in their progress, would terminate in the total prostration of my strength. Loss of appetite and desire of stimulating and artificial means of sustenance at irregular times, want of healthy sleep and consequent depression on arising in the morning rendered life quite a burden to me, until a friend induced me to try your medicine. So I got a bottle of Radway's Sarsaparilliau and a box of Radway's Pills and took them according to directions. I soon found relief. I got three boxes and three bottles more and I am is better health than ever before. I remain your humble servant, ARTHUR D. WRIGHT, Unionville, Mich.

A Weary Ordeal.

Sir Charles Tupper spoke for four If in the House of Commons yesterday. For a man of Sir Charles Tupper's years this is a notable physical feat, yet it must have been matched by the fortitude of the House. Admiration of the veteran's energy can hardly carry one over such a stretch of the veteran's verbosity. Sir Charles has not, like a Laurier or a Foster, the art of making a speech attractive, but in justice to him it should be said that he is unaware of the fact. His unquestionable vigor finds utterance in a fierceness and flatulence which have become so habitual that they cease to impress. As Mr. Blair once said, Sir Charles fires off a canonn at every passing fly. His supporters keenly regret his garrulity, but the Liberals, who are under no compulsion to sit it through, are well disposed toward the old baronet, and hope for political reasons that he will long live to enjoy his present position.

Canadian Butter and Eggs.

Prof. Robertson, the Dominion dairy commissioner, writes to the Canadian Gazette, London, England, in reply to the rather disparaging references to Canadian butter and eggs made by Messrs. Harris, Chate & Co., the London importing firm. We were incredulous of the company's statements at the time, and it is gratifying to find them so promptly refuted by an authority like Prof. Robertson. He says the firm must have been long out of touch with the Canadian butter trade. The cleanly and skillful methods of Canadian butter-making and the cold storage accommodation on railroads and steamships, make it possible for Canada to lay down in Great Britain a quality of butter unsurpassed. The trade is growing, and bound to grow, as Canada can produce butter not only of the very best class, but at a less cost than European countries, whose farmers have now to import a large proportion of the feed consumed by their dairy herds. The observation of Messrs. Harris, Chate & Co. that "Canadian, eggs are a distinct failure in the British market," is also taken up by Prof. Robertson. "As a matter of fact," he says, "Canadian eggs are distinctly human knowledge. In any serious critigaining in favor in nearly all the markets in Great Britain. The eggs are of selected, and are reported to be landed in good condition as to freshness, cleanten millions of dozens (10,280,466)."

Christian Science.

The movement that bears this comprehensive and pretentious title has of late made some little stir in the Enlish-speaking world and especially in the United States. It is evident that it does not easily fall a victim to the contempt of those who class it among "fads and frauds," neither is it to be navy. Some very plausible arguments killed by an epigram, or such statements as that in spite of its name it is neither Christian nor scientific, and that while other religions call upon men per contra, it may well be said that to deny themselves, this demands that we are best serving imperial interests they should deny their senses, would by the upbuilding and development of have done the business. It is evident that some sincere people believe that Five million dollars a year would a new revelation has been given, and seems destined to add another to the already long list of sects. A recent lecturer of this school says: "To tell of Christian Science in one brief hour is like trying to count the stars in illimitable space, or to number the unceasing waves of the sea-this science of infinite mind, whose principle is God." If that is, true, and for the present we are not concerned to question the which we appear to be entering. A few statement, it follows that no complete criticism of such an all-embracing system can be given in one brief article.

We have learned sufficient science to great, wise or foolish, has a real relaenough to aid her. We should now any care the life of the century which stagger under a weight which we shall is now drawing to the close can easily be able to comfortably bear when we see that "Christian Science" is only part of a larger movement, and the Twenty-five years hence, Canada, movement to which it is related is a reaction against materialistic tendency ject has been dealt with by able thinkers and careful observers in many lands, and we could fill this column with facts gleaned from the life of France and Germany, as well as of England and America, showing first that in all these lands the rapid march of physical science was accompanied by an extreme materialistic tendency, and second, that about a quarter of a century ago the reaction began, and that sidered, this country has borne a very There are, of course, side-currents substantial share of imperial responsi- and under-currents, and we can only aim at giving a broad general statement; but as a general statement this fact of reaction against materialistic tendencies formerly predominant can be proved and illustrated from the life of all civilized lands.

Its character has been local and even personal circumstances, so that in one place it appears as a "Catholic revival," and in another as a theosophic or purely ethical movement. It is noteworthy that the apostle of theosophy, as well as the founder of by the authority of the Almighty, then "Christian Science," was a woman, and also that Mrs. Besant, who now, as a teacher of theosophy, attempts to "stem the tide of materialism," spent a great part of her life in conjunction with Bradlaugh in preaching materialism of the coarsest kind. She is merely one of the straws which indicate the direction and force of the popular current. We are told by an accredited lecturer that "It is not fair to give a public lecture that this religion has no relation to spiritualism, mesmerism or theosophy, although it teaches tolerance and charity for whatever makes men better and women. Indeed, it recognizes this as the final test of every religion." The lady who made this statement was no doubt sincere in her belief, but it is significant that theosophy and "Christian Science," as modern organized movements, were born about the same time, and have attained their greatest successes in the same country, and also that the statistics of spiritualism show a similar increase in the same period. Of course, those who accept the founder of "Christian Science" as one divinely inspired, and speak reverently of her as "Our Mother," will say that this only proves that this is "the fullness of time," when the new revelation had been prepared for and was needed, while those who think the new movement a dangerous delusion will see that its origin can be accounted for, and that its success in so far as it has had success, comes in part from its presenta-

to have a monopoly. No such movement consists wholly of error. It could not live a day in the strength of pure falsehood. A system which professes to solve completely the problem of human life must have as part of its stock-in-trade many wholesome truths, whether it has received these by a new inspiration or taken them over from the common stock of cism of "Christian Science," then, we must first ask, What does this system uniformly large size, and carefully claim to be? and, second, What is its distinctive principle, if it has any; whether any thoughtful man has disness, fullness and central position of covered that he can test it by the stanthe yolk. The Canadian egg case, with dard which rules his own life, and from its cardboard compartments, is also which he draws inspiration and preferred to the egg cases from other strength? The Men With Thick Thumbs

[Victoria Times.] Lord Kitchener, we gather from a phrenological journal, has very thick thumbs. So had Bonaparte Number One, so had O. Cromwell, so had O. Von Bismarck, and so had every man who has taken a large and muscular grip of the affairs of his age, and carved his initials good and deep in the white marble tablets of time. Men with thick thumbs plant their heels so deep in the sands of time that many tides may ebb and flow before they fade and vanish into the void of oblivion.

The War Lord's "English Blood." [Montreal Gazette.]

The text of the German Emperor's cablegram to Mrs. Kipling is remarkkinship with the Anglo-Saxon race. The emperor has, of course, English blood in his veins, but he has never before shown inclination to be proud of it. Indeed, when once his nose was bleeding, and somebody made a remark about it, he is reported to have said: "Never mind, it will let out some of that -It does not seem, though, to have let it all out.

Note and Comment.

Rev. Dr. Munhall is reported to have said, at one of his meetings, that the recent bad weather was the work of Satan. The average orthodox opinion, I fancy, could not be that any sort of weather whatever could be set up against the permission of the Almighty. London Advertiser.

And the "average orthodox opinion" would seem to be a resonable one in such a case. And this raises the questions: If Satan cannot set up any kind of weather "against the permission of the Almighty," does Satan do anything else without that permission? And if he acts only with the permission or answer that question. This age seems to have mighty little use for Satan anyhow.-Hamilton Times.

The Witness' Suggestion. [Christian Guardian.]

We are glad to notice the proposal of the Montreal Witness, that the prohibition question be kept out of the party arena, and put on a referendum by which the people will still the responsibility, and the shoulder on Christian Science without stating provinces that are ready may move forward in the path of progress. the prohibition law were successfully prepared and enacted, and then made subject to a referendum vote in the provinces, it could be included that the affirmative vote should be not only a majority of votes cast, but a reason proportion of the total vote, and then the Canadian patriots, who have given unselfishly of their time and means and talent to this work for many years, would know what was required in order to move forward. If a reasonable path of progress is opened for the prohibitionists, it is all we ask.

Deadly Habits. The woman who is addicted to the terrible morphine habit knows that going down the steep hill that leads to are thousands of other women rushing down the same incline, but they do not know it. They find themselves sufheadache, spondency, irritabiltion of truths of which it cannot claim ty, and a dozen other symptoms of female troubles. For relief they turn to the many alcoholic stimulants, malt extracts and other "compounds," so widely advertised to cure the ailments of women. These produce a false stimulation, and the suf-ferer finds herself compelled to take more and more as time passes, and soon become an unwitting slave to strong drink. What a weakly woman needs is Dr. Pierce's Fa-Prescription, which contains not a grain of opium or a single drop of alcohol or other dangerous stimulant. It acts directly abou the womanly organs, stopping draws, restoring displacements and having a wonderfully beneficial effect upon the general health. Suffering women who wish to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce himself can do so by mail, addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y. He makes no charge whatever for advice.

Mrs. Rena Hensel, of Massillon, Stark Co., Ohio, writes: "I had been troubled with chronic constipation and female weakness and doctored with different physicians, none of whom seemed to help me. I saw one of your advertisements, and I thought I would try your medicines. I did so and with good results. Took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one of his 'Favorite Prescription,' and I can say I am cured of my troubles, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicines. They do a world of good to those who give them a good trial."

If you want a book that tells about all woman's diseases, and how to treat them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay customs and postage, and he will mail you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser. Cyclists' Sore Throat.

The London "Lancet," the leading medical journal of England, says:
"After a spin along a more or less dusty road the cyclist sometimes experiences a dry and subsequently sore and inflamed throat. Headache and depression often follow, and the symptoms generally simulate poisoning of some kind. When the germstobefoundin road dust are considered, these effects are hardly to be wondered at. Hundreds of millions of bac-teria are found in a gram weight of dust, and the species isolated have included well-known pathogenic organisms. Indeed, there can be no reason for doubting the infective power of dust." This applies to people in perfect realth. To those with weakened, inflamed throats and bronchial tubes the danger is infinitely greater. LONDON'S ARMORY

The City to Raise $20,000 in Debentures

To Purchase the Site-Money To Be Repaid by the Government.

Toronto, March 21 .- In the legislature vesterday Hon. J. M. Gibson moved to change the title of the bill "respecting Victoria Hospital of the city of London" to "respecting the city of Lon-He said that since notice had been given of the bill several new matters not then under consideration had been embodied in it. The authorities of London had been in communication with the Dominion Government with respect to the purchase of property for the construction or erection of a drill shed. It would be necessary, in order to carry out this transaction, for the city authorities to issue debentures for $20,000. He read a statement showing that at a meeting held to consider the proposal, twelve out of thirteen of the councilors had concurred in it. He did not like the method of inserting clauses into bills after they had been passed by the private bills committee, but in a case of this kind, where there was almost unanimity, he could not see any objection to allowing the matter to go through. debentures which the city desired to issue would be paid off from time to time by the proceeds from the sale of land which the Dominion Government would make over to the city. He intimated that the bill would be reported, and suggested that it might be passed through the committee stage now with the additions named, on the understanding that any objections that may be raised would be taken into consideration on the third read-

The suggestion was adopted and the bill was advanced a stage. Mr. Pattullo spoke eloquently in support of his bill to incorporate the Ontario Historical Society, in the course of which he said the institution would provide inspiration for many poets and authors of the future. The bill was read a second time and referred to a special committee of the house. Mr. Little's bill to prevent the growing of the barberry shrub was taken exception to by the speaker, because it involved a financial expenditure. The bill was allowed to stand. Mr. Hodgens' bill to enable farmers to collect pasture charges from stockowners before the beasts were removed was sent to the legal committee. Mr. Carscallen's bill for the taxation of street railway properties as going concerns was sent to the legal committee. Mr. Ross introduced a bill relating to separate schools. It provides that in unorganized districts separate schools shall be on the same footing as public schools in regard to organization. At present a separate school cannot be started until the district has been organized municipally, while a public school may be started by ten heads of households. FAGGED OUT .- None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cureone box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills do wonders in restoring health and strength. CHICAGO, March 20.—There were good demands for the right kind of cattle today, and such grades sold at firmer prices, there being a scarcity of well-matured heavy beeves; common and medium droves comprised the bulk of the offerings, and such consignments were fairly active, but weak to 10c lower. Fancy cattle brought $5 80 to $6; choice steers, $5 40 to $5 75; medium steers, $4 70 to $4 95; beef steers, $3 90 to $4 65; stockers and feeders, $3 50 to $4 75; bulls, $2 60 to $3 10; cows and helfers, $3 30 to $4; western fed steers, $4 25 to $4 60; Texas steers, $3.60 to $4 83; calves, $3 50 to $6 85. Shippers and packers bought freely of hogs, and the market ruled steady at previous prices; sales were large at $3 75 to $3 85; common lots selling at $3 55 to $3 65, and the best hogs at $3 87½ to $3 90. There was an active general demand for sheep and the market stood the strain of the big supply remarkably well, although lambs showed some weakness; poor to prime sheep brought $2 75 to $4 80, chiefly $4; very few trades below $3 50; yearlings, $4 50 to $5; and lambs, $4 25 to $5 60, largely $5 to $5 55. Receipts-Cattle 1,600, hogs 38,000, sheep 24,000.

DEADLY WIRES

Said to Have Been Discovered, by Which the Maine Was Destroyed.

blown up in Havana harbor has been found by an American engineer officer. The story is that Capt. T. L. Huston, of the volunteer engineers, who entered the service from Cincinnati, and who had been assigned to the duty of regular; it opened fairly active, with cleaning out the fortifications of Ha-135 total sale, including 10 loads of vana, had discovered in the gun room cleaning out the fortifications of Haof the Cuartel do Fuerste, a wooden box or hut, in which he found a guttapercha tube containing one large copper wire and several smaller wires. He also found evidence of a keyboard hav> ing been torn away. Capt. Hurton had confided his discovery to Warren J. Lynch, newly appointed passenger agent of the Big Four, who was visiting Havana, and said he was about to trace the wires to prove his theory that the Maine was exploded from that point.

> The wreck of the vessel can be seen from this gunroom, not more than 100 yards distant. The room itself was the part of the prison to which access was only allowed to a few officers.

A LONDON CASE.

Proving the Value of Dodd's Kidney Pills in Kidney Disease.

London, March 20.-Mr. Charles Dean, stableman at the City Hotel, comes forward to add his quota to the mass of evidence in favor of Dodd's Kidney Mr. Dean states that he had for three years suffered from severe cutting pains in the small of his back. At times they were so great that he had to lie down to get relief. Several remedies were used without benefit. A doctor prescribed for him, saying his kidneys were affected, but no good resulted. Finally he took a friend's advice and used Dodd's Kidney Pills. The usual result followed. Three boxes cured him out and out.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your drug-gist has nore in stock, get him to proure it for you.

The Sawyer-Massey Company, of Hamilton, have increased their employes' wages 10 per cent. Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial.

It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done it will do again. Charles Backman, engraver, Chicago, mortally shot his wife and himself. The woman had refused to live with him. THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil -a pulmonic, of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial results.

The Dominion postoffice carried over 11,000,000 more letters in the fiscal year 1897-98 than in the preceding year.

LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine. and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good Motion to Postpone the Peg-Leg's Trial Denied-Minor Cases Dealt With.

Middlesex spring assizes were opened yesterday afternoon by Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith. The crowd of spectators was probably the largest ever seen here at the opening of a court certainly the largest number of witnesses that ever attended a court in this section was present. There was a momentary buzz when the judge took his seat and then a prolonged silence ensued, broken only by the response of the jurymen as they answered the roll call. Clerk John Macbeth administered the oath and then the judge addressed the jury. His lordship referred to the fact that the judge who should have presided at this court was prevented by a somewhat serious illness, and he was sure the grand jury would join with him in regretting his absence and in hoping for his speedy recovery. The criminal business of the court, he said, was somewhat heavier than usual, but so far as the duties of the jury were concerned, they would be light, as the more serious crime charge had already been dealt with before by another jury. There were three other charges, one of which he characterized as cowardly, and he might almost say brutal. A man had been assaulted and beaten because he had dared to stand by his employers against his fellow workmen. He thought it hardly fair, however, to say the assault was brutal. He had heard of brutes attacking one another with fury and doing each other serious injury, but it was generally the result of hunger or some such cause. would be a disgrace to the administration of justice, to the peace officers and the jury if they, by any failure to perform their duty, allowed a crime of this nature to go unpunished. The judge closed with a reference to the assault case of Thomas Ninham and that of John W. Drennan, charged with bigamy.

WANTED BROWN'S TRIAL POST-PONED.

sel, rather surprised the court and the spectators when he moved to post-pone the trial of Marion Brown, upon the ground that there had evidently been a misunderstanding between Mr. Magee, the crown attorney, and himself, regarding the directions of the judge at the last assizes concerning the case. A postponement had been obtained, in order to secure witnesses from the United States to establish an alibi. Mr. Magee and the attorney-general had seemed willing to bring these witnesses, provided the crown was furnished with a general statement of what they were expected to prove. Mr. Magee had demanded of him the names and a detailed statement of what the witnesses were to prove-in other words, Mr. McPhillips said, give his case away to the crown before it came into court. This he refused to do. Another ground upon which he asked a postponement was that he had received assurances that there might possibly Cincinnati, March 21.—A local paper be something arising out of the technic-prints a story that the location of the al objection he had taken when he conbe something arising out of the technickeyboard by which the Maine was tended that the prisoner was not properly before the court. He had been to Washington and interviewed the American authorities, and the British ambassador. The case was now occupying Uncle Sam's Men Make a Rethe attention of the attorney-general. He did not wish to press the motion, but made it because he might wish to make use of it, in case a verdict of guilty was recorded against his client. The judge's decision was given in a few words. Whether the motion were formal or informal, he said, it would have to be dealt with as a motion for postponement on two grounds - one.

that it had an ulterior motive, the other that the court had no jurisdiction. As to the latter contention, he had dealt with that at the last assizes, and he had no reason to change his view. The order that the trial should proceed at this assizes was peremptory, and agreed to by the counsel who now made application for a postponement. The motion was refused. Mr. McPhillips expressed his willingness to proceed at once, and asked that it begin in the morning. Mr. Lount, Q.C., who is conducting the cases for the crown, was willing to proceed at any time convenient to the court, and the prisoner's counsel, but pointed out that there were 110 witnesses, and each day added to the expense of the crown. To the best of his judgment the case would occupy not less than five days.

His lordship expressed the opinion that the trial could not begin before Wednesday morning. There were many matters which required his personal attention, and by Wednesday he might possibly be relieved by some other judge. The case was likely to be a lengthy one, and to start upon it immediately meant to keep him here longer perhaps than he should remain. Wednesday was set down as the day.

SINGLE COURT MOTIONS. Ward vs. Ward-Stricken from the list, no one appearing in the case.
Sims vs. Kingston—Motion by Mr. W. H. Bartram for ruling on point raised by defendants, viz., that he had no cause of action. Referred to the next sitting of the weekly court here. Mr. T. G. Meredith appeared for Mr. King-

Roberts vs. Coughlin - Argument postponed until next sittings of the Graham vs. McIntyre-Motion by D.

Stuart, of Stuart, Stuart & Ross, on behalf of plaintiff, to amend pleadings. Postponed until the trial of action. T. G. Meredith for defense.

LEWIS VS. LONDON STREET RAIL-WAY.

George Lewis, painter, vs. London Street Railway, was the first case on the jury list. This is an action for $5,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained by being wrongfully ejected from an Oxford street car on Aug. 6, 1898. Plaintiff alleges he got on the car, and tendered a $5 bill in payment for 25 cents worth of tickets. He took the tickets, tore one off, and put it in The conductor could not change the bill, and Mr. Lewis says he asked to have his bill returned, produced a 5-cent piece and offered to give back the remaining tickets. This the conductor refused to do, but agreed to give the plaintiff an order to go to the head office for his change from the $5. Plaintiff stated he was forcibly ejected without reason or warning. Mr. John M. McEvoy for plaintiff, and Hellmuth & Ivey for the street railway company. TRUE BILL.

Before the court rose a true bill was returned by the grand jury against J. W. Drennan, charged with bigamy. (Continued on Page 6.)

Hot Work With the Enemy Until Darkness Intervenes-Filipinos Supposed to Have Lost 200 Killed and 300 Wounded.

New York, March 21.-A dispatch to the Herald from Iloilo, Island of Panay, says: A battalion of the Eighteenth Infantry, a platoon of the Sixth Artillery and the machine gun battery made a reconnoissance in the direction of Mandurriao and Santa Barbara Thursday. While they were returning, the insurgents attacked the outposts on the right and a fight followed. General Miller was on the scene early, and directed the operations from immediately behind the fighting lines. He had several narrow escapes. The line advanced by rushes three thousand yards, under a hot fire, pouring in deliberate volleys upon the enemy's position, the artillery making good practice. By the time the forces were within 300 yards of the enemy's position, darkness fell, preventing the charge for which the Tennessee men and the companies of the Eighteenth on the right had already prepared by fixing bayonets. The rétirement upon Jaro was accomplished in good order. The engagement was brought on by the enemy's persistent attacks upon the outpost at Jaro bridge. Nothing could be gained by forcing the enemy back further, as it was impossible with the limited number of troops to hold the position. The American troops were exhausted by the fighting, and having to wade knee-deep through the rice fields and sugarcane. There were several cases of prostration by the heat.

The only man killed was Pte. Louis

A bullet passed through Pte. William Roovenberger's wrist and entered his mouth between the gum and cheek without injuring his head. There were other marvelous escapes as the men advanced amid a perfect hail of bul-

The severity of the engagement may be judged by the fact that the Eighteenth Regiment alone fired 62,800 rounds. It is estimated that the insurgents, with their more than 2,000 rifles, fired more than double our total of ammunition.

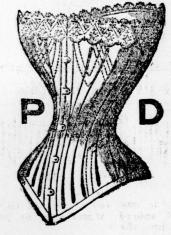

Private Biehl brought in Daly wounded, and gave warning to hurry up some ammunition, as most of the men were short. * He then returned to the fighting line, and was struck in the chest. He fell, saying, "I'm done for," and died in ten minutes. It is impossible to tell accurately the insurgent losses. The minimum esti-mate is 200 killed and 300 wounded. The instructions printed on the captured cases of ammunition were in German, and showed that the cartridges came from the artillery depot at May-

It is suspected that the ammunition and arms have been supplied to the insurgents from German and Japanese sources, and from the French colonies. The city is quiet and business is reviving. Another report says: The mountain banditti of Panay Island recently made a serious attack upon Iloilo, but they were repulsed with the loss of 200 men, by Gen. Miller. A dispatch from Manila, via London, says: In the fighting on Sunday the American loss was 7 killed and 30 wounded.

The transport Cleveland will sail at once from San Francisco for Manila with 1,300 tons of supplies for the American troops, followed in a few days by three more supply ships.

Every seat was occupied when the court opened at 10 o'clock. The Lewis case was resumed and continued until 11 o'clock, when the defense closed. Mr. Hellmuth applied for a non-suit on the statement of the plaintiff, but the judge directed that the case must go to the jury. Counsel addressed the jury. The judge regretted that such a simple case had occupied so much time. He reviewed the case, and pointed out that if the plaintiff had been ejected from the car as a result of any personal enmity of the conductor and motorman, the company should not be held responsible. If they had improperly ejected him, within the scope of their duty, Mr. Lewis was entitled to recover a reasonable amount. It was the duty of the com-pany's servants to protect the traveling public against insult and annoy-ance, but if a passenger became un-reasonably disagreeable, the conductor of the car would be justified in putting him off, using no more force than was necessary for that purpose. No good could possibly come, the judge said, of anyone making wild claims-$1,000 for Honolulu for the funeral of Princess this and $1,000 for that. Referring to Kaiulani on March 12. the plaintiff's statement concerning his earning abilities, Judge Meredith said If he were honest, should be brought up on a judgment summons. He did not think the plaintiff's case was strengthened by the extravagant claim. The case was given to the jury, who, after an hour's deliberation, gave a verdict of $400 for plaintiff. A stay of proceedings for 20 days was granted.

This case was tried at the winter assizes, but the jury disagreed. Thomas Russell, fruit broker, Glas-

AN EASTER SURPRISE

In Preparation for the Ladies of London.

The ladies of the city have a treat in morning. The remains will be taken store for them. For tomorrow, Bayley's to Stratford for interment. opened. This means much-practically everything-to delight the female heart and eye at 'this season of the year. Never before was the Easter hat such an exquisite creation. The artiste has been fancy free, and some wonderful-but not less beautiful than wonderful-productions have resulted.

An Advertiser reporter was privileged to look into Mr. Bayley's work and show rooms today-behind the scenes -and has found that the colors and shapes to be on exhibition there for the first time tomorrow are of the most extensive range. In colors there is the ivy-green, the hyacinth-blue, the oyster-white, the dahlia and Cyrano shades, violet and purple, and, in fact, every shade from the light pink to the mulberry. The cherry and soft reds are very popular.

In shape the hats this season are noted for their variety. Each hat is distinctive-each a work of art. There is the large brimmed hat; the shepherdess, drooping gracefully over the face; the small capote and jaunty toque to set well back on the head. In fact, an endless variety. The trimmings seem to include everything that pleasing in color and form.

Light, gauzy materials promise to be popular, such as malaines. Brussels net, crape, chiffon, mousseline de sole and laces of almost every description. Taffeta silk and ribbons in exquisite shadings are much used; and tiny ruchings and frills of chiffon edge many of the beautiful bows and rosetgold and silver, is very fashionable. ness are right, and consequently his trade is constantly enlarging. large show rooms are unsurpassed in Western Ontario, and the work rooms are well lighted and well appointed. ald. His kid glove and dress departments are also widely known.

The action of Ponton against the Dominion Bank has been postponed at plaintiff's request until the charges are finally disposed of

No Present Prospect of Settlement-The Situation Now.

The strike at the London and Petrolia barrel works is not yet ended. Another conference between Manager Forrestal and the strikers took place this morning, and the breach is said by both parties to be wider than ever.

An Advertiser reporter called on Mr. Forrestal this morning and was handed the following statement as the company's side of the story:

In place of the men averaging $1 a day as alleged, we are prepared to show you that some of them earn more than double that amount. One, in 19 weeks, earned $189 16, or $9 96 per week; another, in same time, $215 60, or $11 35 per week. Another, in 14 weeks, $176 52, or strikers could not come up to this average, for some are well up in years, and not able to perform a good day's work, while others could come up to left to the jury. And regarding the men being able to work only, or scarcely, half-time, they have themselves only to blame for it. About two years ago they indulged in a similar affair; and their demands were so arbitrary and ridiculous that we resolved not to make up any stock in advance, but simply to fill positive orders. Take the matter of pork barrels, for which we are paying 20 cents each. The coopers in Toronto get only 18 cents, and those in Detroit 16 cents for the same class of stock.

Speaking of the present situation, Mr. Forrestal said the company had agreed to grant the men all they had asked, with the exception of signing the agreement to recognize the union. The company could not be bound hand and foot by an irrresponsible organization. Mr. Forrestal spoke of the probability of installing machinery to do the work, and referred to several factories in the United States where no coopers were employed at all.

AT THE ABBEY

London, March 21.-Funeral services over the remains of the late Baron Herschell, who died at Washington on March 1, took place today in Westminster Abbey. A procession of carriages formed this morning at the residence of the deceased, Grosvenor Gardens, to which the body was conveyed yesterday on its arrival here from Ports-mouth. At the residence the casket was placed in an elaborate glasspaneled hearse, and the procession proceeded to Westminster Abbey. There the body was met by the dean, clergy and the choir.

The pall-bearers were: The government leader in the House of Commons, Mr. A. J. Balfour; the speaker of the House of Commons, the Right Hon. William Court Gulley; the high commissioner of Canada, Baron Strathcona and Mount Royal; the Liberal leader in the House of Lords, the Earl of Kimberley; the vice-chancellor of the University of London, Sir Henry Enfield Roscoe; the lord high chancellor, the Earl of Halsbury, and the chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, Baron James of Hereford, and the United States ambassador, Mr. Joseph H. Choate.

Lord Churchill, the lord-in-waiting to the Queen, represented her majesty, and there were also present representatives of the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York.

The chief mourner was the son of the deceased, Baron Richard Farrer Herschell, who followed the coffin with the members of the family. As the procession proceeded up the nave, the burial office and the nineteenth Psalm were sung. Lord Churchill bore the Queen's wreath, which was of bays, with an autograph card inscribed: "A mark of sincere regard from Victoria "Who is that pretty young creature, Frank? Not one of the Stretbys, surely?

"Her name is Eden Aubrey. Who she is and all about her I may tell you some day; but don't question me now." Mrs. Lyssendon looked both curious lent," she remarked; "and I think—and disconcerted, but made no remark; yes, I am sure—that I know these feaand before long, complaining that the skaters made her giddy, she expressed a wish to go home.

But, while she was saying her adieux, and politely listening to Mr. Stretby's regrets that she had not been able to stay and hear the best tune on his self-acting organ, Eden found Captain Lyssendon by her side.

"I owe you an apology and an explanation," he said, hurriedly. "Will you be at the stile tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and give me an opportunity of making both?" Eden could not trust her voice to reply; but she trod on air as she went home. He had not forgotten her. Perhaps it was out of delicacy that he had not introduced her so publicly to his mother, and he was coming to explain, to apologize, and she had done him injustice when she listened to the rumors Flip had made her miserable and suspicious by repeating. She sang about the cottage the next morning with something of the old light-heartedness, and hurried through light-heartedness, and hurried through the light packing her mother had intrusted to her. As she sat by the window, Mrs. Merstham's carriage, with a trunk on the top of it, rolled by, and inside she caught a glimpse of Mrs. inside she caught a glimpse of Mrs.

"He has let her go without speaking to her of me!" sighed Eden. "And yet she looked so kind! Would she have enough to wed her?" disdained me because I am not rich, like Mrs. Merstham?" The cloud of doubt was settling down again. Mrs. Aubrey, who was gradually giving up all her pupils, came into the room and spoke to her twice before the dejected girl could rouse herself to "What ails you, child? You are always in extremes lately!" she complained. "I shall be glad when our removal has been made, for it has unsettled both of us." She said no more, for Mrs. Merstham's carriage, now on its way back from the station to which it had conveyed her guest, had stopped at the gate, and Verna was alighting. Mrs. Aubrey was the first to perceive her approach, and desired her daughter to go and admit her; but Eden, shivering with dread of she knew not what, drew back and hesitated, until her mother, with lady-like ease, herself advanced to greet her unexpected visitor, who held in her hand the roll of songs lent to her some time previously. "This must be my excuse for intruding upon you," she said, as she laid it on the table. "I heard from Miss Tibbetts that you were leaving, and re-membered that I had neglected to return the music you kindly sent by

Mrs. Aubrey made some polite reply; and when Verna, with much apparent kindness, asked if introductions to her musical friends in town would be of any service to Eden or herself, she was gratefully thanked for her consideration. The ice was broken: Mrs. Merstham accepted the chair offered to her, and listened patiently while Eden's mother, won by her smiles and sympathetic air to set aside the reserve she had hitherto practiced, explained her reasons for leaving Eastham, and the hopes she was cherishing of a brighter career for her child than her own had been.

"I have not heard Miss Aubrey sing," Mrs. Merstham observed; "but I ven-ture to predict that, with such a careful mother always by her side, and such a painstaking teacher as Monsieur de Valmont, her chances of success are very great. I hope she will do well, and when I go to London for the season, I shall certainly call on De Valment, and inquire how his pupil is progressing. I am all the more interested in Miss Aubrey, because-because," she added, with apparent reluctance, "I have taken upon myself to be her champion lately.

Eden's color deepened, and Mrs. Aubrey drew herself up, saying, proudly, she was not aware that her daughter required defending.

"Neither does she, my dear madam," Verna hastened to reply, in her bland-est accents. "I must have expressed myself very badly if I led you to think so. I simply meant that one or two of the thoughtless young men whom Mr. Stretby gathers about him have been desirous of getting up a flirtation with Miss Aubrey, and, knowing how inexperienced she is, I thought it only my duty to entreat those with whom I have influence not to pester her with their attentions."

"Eden must not go to The Beeches any more," said the vexed mother. "Now I am afraid I have done mischief by my incautious admission!" cried Mrs. Merstham. "But I thought you might have heard something of from Miss Aubrey herself; and I was glad to be able to assure you that no blame ought to rest on her for the though as acts of others. When she has her debut, she will gauge the admiration she receives at its true worth." "And so you leave Eastham in a few days?" she went on, after an awkward pause, for Eden would not speak even to exonerate herself, and her mother was revolving in her mind what she had just heard, and reproaching herself for not having watched over her child more carefully. I thought Miss Aubrey might be pleased to carry away with her some souvenir of old acquaintances, and so I have brought her a sketch which pleased her when she was at my house. It will recall the faces of two of her well-wishers, my cousin and myself."

She laid the picture on the table, and though Eden did not advance to take it, she knew that it must be the water-

Quebec, March 21.-Immense quantities of snow have drifted on the cliff overhanging Levis and Hadlow, and yesterday afternoon an avalanche somewhat similar to that by which four lives were lost last winter took place. A strong gale was blowing at the time, and suddenly a heavy mass, measuring about an acre in length and about 100 feet high, gave way and rushed with a roaring noise below. An Intercolonial freight train was passing at the time, and this was completely swallowed up, the engine being canted partly off the track, and the cars somewhat damaged. The engineer and fireman on the train escaped with-out injury. The accident occurred a quarter of a mile from the sad fatality of last year. The mass fell directly over the residence of a man named Charles Veilleux, carrying away the top part of the dwelling with it, but the occupants of the house marvelousto Washington, D. C. Friday, March ly escaped.

About 150 men were immediately sent out to endeavor to dig out the sub-merged engine and cars. The men worked bravely for some time, a smaller mountain of snow suddenly gave way and buried about fifteen of the men. For some time excitement prevailed, and the workmen who had escaped this latter accident were set to work to rescue those who had been covered up. Man after man was taken out, and after they had all been counted, when all were supposed to have been found, it was discovered that one was still missing. After about an hour's hard work they succeeded in coming across him. He proved to be a young man named Letellier, residing on Commercial street, Levis, and he was in a very weak condition. SHORE ACRES

"Shore Acres," lauded as the best indigenous American play of late years, was welcomed by a splendid audience at the Grand last night. "Shore Acres" is of the familiar New England type, with the old farm and the mortgage collaborating as usual to work out the plot. But the plot, though stage-worn, serves to frame a charming picture of Arcadian life, done in New England colors. One likes to think there are such lovable, simple, old-fashioned folk living in such a lovable, simple, old-fashioned way. But whether his figures have prototypes or not Mr. Hearne has succeeded in investing them with a quaint reality, and the touches of human nature go straight to the heart. The mingled beauty, tenderness and strength of character make Nathaniel Berry notable creation. Mr. Archibald Boyd had this role well in hand and with one exception was strongly supported. The excellent and elaborate stage equipment greatly aided in the realistic impression of the production. The comedy element of "Shore Acres" is not as conspicuous as that of "The Old Homestead," and many would prefer the latter, but both appeal to the best sentiments and both breathe a purity which is too rarely exhaled by the modern stage.

Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for releiving, healing and curing the affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds,

METEOROLOGICAL.

Toronto, March 20-11 p.m.-The high pressure area which was over the Northwest yesterday, now covers the lake district, and with its accompanying weather is likely to extend its influence through Eastern Canada. The storm off the New England coast is centered tonight over Anticosti, and has been the cause of high winds from the lakes to the Atlantic, but is now passing to Labrador. There is an area of low pressure over the Southeast States, which threatens to soon travel to the lakes and give milder, unsettled weather. In the Northwest the temperature is somewhat higher, and light snow is falling, but conditions remain too unsettled to give any lengthy forecast. MIDDLESEX C. E. CONVENTION. The eighth annual Christian Endeavor convention for this county will be held in Glencoe on May 9 and 10. Five years ago the union convened in the same place, and a very profitable time was spent by the delegates. The people in Glencoe gave them a warm welcome, and were very enthusiastic, and it is not likely they will go back on their record. Dr. Dickson, of Galt, was the Inspiration at that time, as he was also last year in Strathroy. The provincial secretary is expected to be present this year, also several prominent city min-

The great camp received 1,618 applications for membership during February. This is the largest number received under the present management, and exceeds the number received during the same month last year by 644. During the first thirteen days of March there have been 669 applications received. The great camp is having a healthy growth. The Maccabee membership on March 1, 1899, was 345,000, and the surplus funds of the supreme tent at the same date were about $700,000.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

and laying mains was accepted, their figures (the lowest) being: Four-inch mains, 36 cents a foot; six-inch, 51½ cents; eight-inch, 75 cents. The firm will supply iron pipe at $26 50 a ton, and special castings at 2¼ cents a pound. A report by George C. Robb, inspector the Boiler Insurance Company, of Toronto, stated that the boilers at Springbank were in good order. The pumping engineer's report showed 36,-044,262 gallons pumped during the two weeks ending March 19. A communication from the Fire Underwriters' Association asked that another main be laid between the city and Springbank to lessen the danger of loss by fire in the event of the present main breaking.

THE PASSION PLAY.

Laid over.

"The Passion Play," as presented by the cinematograph, appeared both afternoon and evening at the Auditorium celebrated "Passion Play" of the Bavarian peasantry, as given at Oberammergau, every tenth year, to commemorate the life and ministry of Christ on earth. All the scenes enacted at the German village are faithfully reproduced on the canvas, with every movement of the various characters in photographic detail. The different scenes are explained by Prof. Smith Warner, lecturer, as they pass into view. There are 22 different scenes, among the most realistic being the "Crucifixion of Christ," and "The Resurrection." Many of the city clergy were among the audience. The "Passion Play" will be presented every afternoon and evening this week. Citizens generally will no doubt avail themselves of this opportunity to witness this really fine exhibition.

FRIGHTFUL AGONY

Endured by Victims of Stone in the Bladdder.

No Hope of Escape Except by Using Dodd's Kidney Pills-They Remove the Stone Quickly, Easily and Permanently.

Montreal, P. Q., March 20 .- No agony that falls to the lot of suffering humanity, is greater, more terrible, nor harder to bear than is that caused by the formation of a stone in the bladder. The complaint is so common, and so frequently spoken of that the terrible significance of the name itself is lost. If we were to speak of a "stone in the brain," or "a stone in the heart," the terrible nature of the disease would be apparent at once, because we are not used to the expression, and its meaning forces itself upon us instantly.

Now, "a stone in the brain" would not be more out of place than "a stone in the bladder." Nor would it cause nearly so much suffering, as the nerve centers would become paralyzed and feeling would die.

But stone in the bladder is alarmingly common. Thousands suffer the most horrible tortures from It. Thousands die from it.

And yet it is very easily cured. There is a remedy-Dodd's Kidney Pills-that cures it quickly, easily and painlessly. In proof of this statement, it is necessary only to quote the following letter written by Madame Campagne, of 167 St. Urbain street:

"I have suffered with stone in the bladder, and though I underwent different treatments, and used various remedies, I got no relief till I got Dodd's Kidney Pills. Five boxes removed the stone, built up my health, strength and flesh, and made a new woman of me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a positive cure for stone in the bladder, and every other form of Kidney Disease.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A SPARTA

St. Thomas, March 21.-Mr. C. Cornell, of Sparta, a prominent member of the Society of Friends, died very suddenly on Sunday. He attended the services in the Friends' meeting-house at Sparta, and spoke twice. After reaching home he was stricken with apoplexy. Mr. Cornell was born in New Jersey, Dec. 24, 1820, and went when young with his parents to Nor-wich, and for many years was engaged in the mercantile business in Otterville. He moved to his late home in Sparta in 1878. He leaves a widow and four Montreal, March 21 .- A. R. McDonald, late superintendent of the Intercolonial Railway, has again suffered a legel reverse in his case against Charles Riordan, the estate of J. J. Macdonald, and the executors of the late E. D. Boswell, to recover $193,000 in money or stock of the Temiscouata Railway. The superior court decided in favor of Macdonald, but the court of review reversed the judgment. Now the supreme court upholds that judgment. McDonald gave notice of appeal to the privy council.
