Believe me yours [illegible] Sunshine 2070 Many [illegible]
I hope that you will answer this portion in defence of a letter, which I will send on from Paris. Your letter to me came a day or so ago and I have thought over very carefully what you say there and must admit that your arguments are reasonable and that not for two fatal objections I would fall in with them. The first and most mighty objection is that if I delay my stay in Paris until June and July the courses I must also wish to attend & the lectures & seminars I must desire to see & hear will be over. I am not going to Paris on a sight seeing but as a student, though no doubt I shall see a good deal too. Sensibly it would mean for me to waste my time & expense for three weeks at least longer.
One month will have been quite enough vacation & holiday & I feel I ought to be doing some serious work. I might, however, be able to arrange to meet you somewhere for some part of a trip about the 10th or 12th of June

My dear King

Here I am in Paris and charmed and delighted to be here. If Switzerland is the most beautiful and grandest country for natural scenery Paris I think is the most wonderful city planned by the human brain. I had no idea until I came here and saw the avenues, boulevards and esplanades, the Bois and the Champs Elysées, that such a beautiful city could exist. I am charmed with the life here, I am enthusiastic over the Exposition and I mean to make the very best use I can of my month here. I have see the blue of Lac Leman - when I stand there I tell you what we could feel how Byron felt and read the spirit that breathes in his lines, for the romance clings about that scene still and we could not but be inspired. The rest of the chateau was interesting and romantic and well worth seeing but the scene of Bonnivard was what I was gladdest of having seen.

The next day was a Saturday and again it was gloriously fine and clear and I spent it all on the water journeying to Geneva and back. We were but a little party of four a nice English boy, who was at my pension, called Beckett, his aunt Mrs Oliver and her son. Mrs Oliver is one of the very nicest women I have ever met and the more I came to been here quite a week but already I feel I could stay here with pleasure a long time. I have spent months in Switzerland, however, I do not regret and never will regret spending - it was full of pleasure and pleasant and joy. I learned a good deal of French, had a jolly good time, and made some friends whom I was genuinely sorry to part.

My last week there - the first week of May - was the prettiest of all. I gave it up to sight seeing and bicycling and saw the lake pretty thoroughly. On the Wednesday I took a 60 mile bicycle ride around the North of the lake from Lausanne to Evian, & passed through an end of towns & pretty Swiss villages, it took me over four hours and was most interesting and I came back in the steamer across the lake from Evian by boat very tired but with that feeling of enjoyment and satisfaction that comes to one when the work. The next day I rested and saw some of the sights of Lausanne, and on Friday afternoon I went with one of the young Germans at our pension and taking the boat of the Lake visited the chateau of Chillon and saw it outside and inside very thoroughly and a most charming and romantic old place it was. When we meet again I will show you an excellent photograph of the pension there, at present I can only say that as I stood in that dark underground cell and saw the thick pillars with their rings in each, the little slit of a prison window through which the sunlight gleamed and one could house and see of her. The better I liked her and admired her. She is an English woman of very broad sympathies and is most natural and unartificial. She is a perfect comrade to her son and her nephew and I liked to watch them. Geneva is about 25 miles from Lausanne a little more and as we stopped at many little Swiss towns on the Lake-side, we did not get to the Swiss metropolis until twelve. Before that we had had a jolly little lunch in the cabin and so were all ready to do the city when we steamed in to the harbour at Geneva, and saw an imposing front of grand hotels, pier, jetties and gardens. I was impressed with the size & importance of the town, which though beautiful is not charming and interesting, especially the cathedral and the old fonts about it. We ajusted three quarters of an hour in a ramble about, and then took a train car out to the suburbs and had a beautiful ride and at the end a magnificent view of "the summit of mountains" - Mont Blanc - in the distance. Our boat left at 2.15 and we had a most pleasant journey back, at the end of which we had tea in Mrs Clair's sitting room at the Pension des Chateaux, before Beckett and myself took the electric railway up to Lausanne. I was stuffy that night from having had so much out doors; and was glad to go to bed early the more so as I had planned if the next day were fine to make an expedition to the Dent d'Oche a mountain in Savoy, eight miles across the lake and ten a twelve miles inland. I wanted to climb as least one offing peak and this one seemed to me the best, as it was 8113 ft high and the nearest accessible peak of any importance, though not considered at all dangerous or difficult. The day did dawn fine and gave good proise of continuing, so as I crossed a little after six donned my knicker bockers, heavy boots with spiked clamps on them and rather heavy underclothing and filled pants to spend my Sabbath mountaineering and its wonders, instead of in a church.

I got the seven o'clock boat for Evian and had my coffee and rolls as we steamed across the lake. Amongst the town of Evian I soon struck a bargain

the living stable man there for a man & carriage to drive to the little village of Berneck, 15 kilometres inland, and back in the afternoon.
and in a quarter of an hour I am comfortably seated in an open cart & bowling up the dusty highlands towards the Alps behind. Through a lovely country dotted with villages and orchards & the grounds, here and there trees in bloom white and fragrant, now again the dusty peasants passed on their way to church, old men and old men in simple peasant garb. For a 1/2 hours we steadily ~~mounted~~ mounted the hills, then down into a little valley dotted with little villages & flanked by mighty mountains - a most picturesque & truly Swiss scene - and we

~~with~~ drew up at the café on ~~one~~ of the village of Beuvia. An old dame came out and I parlé-vousé with her - she wanted me to take her in as a guide at 15 francs but I told her I was not a millionaire, and so it was down of the dark and the mountain loomed up above me with its snow crowned summit. I wanted no more time but telling my cocher to be ready to return at 4 I began the ascent.
But oh the sun the hot and the preliminary stage almost took all my resolve away, for my face burnt, my head ached, my mouth parched, and my bloody body in its heavy clothing sweated profusely. But I toiled skirting around the corner slope of the mountain by a narrow path. just a little below the snow line I met a great herd of the mountain flock and spoke with him a few minutes. Then onwards and upwards again and soon I was amidst great patches of snow, wading knee deep in that soft substance and scrambling up over rocks of debris towards the first of twin peak. Around me were the undulating hills and valleys in their snowy whiteness and beauty, above me rose the three huge peaks reaching into the sky and it was the highest of these three that I first mental, on which by the side of such a mountain, hoped to see gain. It was some good hard work and when I gained this first foot I sank exhausted in the glowing but controlled my spirits and determination and went forward to the next, which I thought must be the top.

Along a narrow snow clad ridge down a hollow and up the rocky side beyond
I climbed or rather crawled, but when I emerged on the top it was only to discover that the real peak was still beyond me and that I had still another difficult ascent to make. I crawled along a rocky ledge which sloped precipitously on either side and which I had to cling to on the less precipitous side though even then it was a pretty straight away descent to the valley several thousand feet below in case of a fall or slip. I was glad when that tiful ridge was safely past and about after climbing through a large snow patch I found myself in the very high est peak of all. From this I had the greatest and most impressive view I had ever seen, for I seemed to be up in the clouds almost and all around me were hundreds of snow clad peaks, east, west, north and south, encircling the eye. On one side rose the mighty Jungfrau far away amongst the mountains of the Bernese Oberland on the other the round white summit of Mont Blanc towered far eminent amongst its lesser Alps. Below me was Lake Leman which I could see from end to end, and many a valley, and little village. My head seemed almost to swim and my spirit to rise from out my body as I gazed around so that unselfish fascination, and it was with a feeling of regret and of unwillingness that I at last turned to begin the descent but not by the same way as I had no mind to crawl along ridges. Instead I went down the steep side of the mountain where there was least snow and where the earth offended some some foothold and it formed both a shelter and safe mode of descent to the path below, though it would have made a steep climb upwards. I had taken three hours in the ascent and took two to get back to Banff, where I arrived with a most tremendous thirst on and that first bottle of vile blanc tasted good as it trickled down my throat. When I got back to Exian about 5.30 I found I had time for a good square meal and as I had had nothing since 7.30 I was ready for it at the restaurant three by the Lakeside. The boat took me back about 6.30 and by eight I was back at my pension and preparing to go to bed I was dead tired and sleepy. I slept superbly well that night and the next morning I was a little stiff but not so much as I expected.

The last two days at Lausanne were showery and uneventful and I left by the Tuesday night express for Paris quite a number of my Lausanne friends and and English being at the train to say farewell. The journey to Paris was not half bad as there were only four of us in the carriage and each had a corner.
One of the two other Englishmen was a man of about 35 and I found out in conversation that he knew Hinde very well having him at school with him and we had an interesting talk together. I observed from the tags on the travelling bag that his name was Pitt Ridge, and knew then that he was a well known and popular author whose works about the slums and poor districts, though I have never read anything of his. After a fairly comfortable night we got into Paris at seven in the morning. I got my trunk and bicycle passed through the customs without very much trouble or delay. It was not a long drive from the station to the rue de l'Odeon, near the Luxembourg gardens, where I was in pension with a French family, but on arriving there I found that my driver demanded 3 fr. 50 which seemed to me far too much. I was willing to give him 3 fr. but no more, and a crowd soon gathered around, the cabman abused me under his breath &

I looked in vain for a gare. I came & finally to end the scene gave him his 60 centimes extra and went to my pension in the 2nd stage arrived the hosts of the gamins and cries of Englishe - English. It was not a very pleasant introduction but everything since then has been very pleasant.
The place I am at is in the Quartier Latin, near the Sorbonne and not far from the Louvre on the other bank of the Seine. I am paying 200 fr. per month for full board and lodging and they feed me pretty well. Besides Madame Pompadin du Rivage, there is Monsieur .. and the two boys of 15 and 13 years of age, then two young Canadians lodge here who are employed as guardians in the Canadian pavilion at the exposition. One of them is a son of President Harper of Chicago, the other an Amherst man called Van Dusen. Both of them are nice boys, but as they are away from 7 to 6.30 I do not see them very often. I am making slow but sure progress. I am going to give lectures a week at the Sorbonne and several engineers as an audience not as a participant, and I feel that after a month here I shall get on pretty well in the language. My plans for June are quite unsettled I would like to make them fit in with yours if possible. I believe that you will love a great deal if you go back to America without visiting the Exposition. One who has not been there cannot realize all the things of beauty and interest that are there, and which those who stay away may be content and feel that they have not missed much yet it is a case of where ignorance is bliss, and those who go, see, admire and enjoy have by far the better part.

I must confess that once I was sceptical about the Exposition and about enjoying it, but one visit thither completely converted me and succeeding ones have but served to strengthen my belief in its value and interest. The buildings are large and magnificent, the panorama afforded to the view on both banks of the river are most magnificent but the greatest interest is not the exterior but the interior, and I have rarely enjoyed sight seeing as much, and never met, as I wandered through the two grand Palaces of Art, one given up to retrospective French art,

a wonderful collection, and the other a larger and finer one to the modern world art and sculpture. But I cannot in the space of a letter give you all that I have seen and enjoyed. I can only say that instead of being disappointed, I have been greatly charmed with the great Exposition and with all that I have so far seen there. Apart from the more serious side, from the beautiful and artistic there are numerous interesting novelties in use and in exhibition.
One of the most amusing is the house upside down with everything in it upside down, and in which by a most skilful arrangement of mirrors you appear to be walking on the ceiling I believe. A flat-from two miles by rolls ~~ceaselessly~~ around the park of the fair on the ~~ft~~ boat of the Seine and also a belt line electric.

The Exposition is in fact a world by itself and I intend to see all that interests me in it very thoroughly. I am not neglecting the sights of Paris proper (I have seen the interior of ~~the~~) and have been one morning at the Louvre, and one at the Luxembourg besides being about a good deal on my bicycle in the Bois, and along the Boulevards. But these things you have seen, however and enjoyed. Let me hear from you when you have time as to your plans and projects. I am rather hoping we may get to manage to get in a few days together before you sail at the end of June. Believe me
Yours very sincerely
Augustus from Hammerfest W. L. Mackenzie.

My dear King

I did not mean my post card of yesterday to be my only answer to your letter recently received. Though I cannot join with you in your trip much as I am inclined that way my failure to do so will not I hope interfere with our regard for one another. I do not think, I may be wrong - but I do not think it would be well for me to take such a trip now both on account of the time it would take and the expense it would involve me in, but more because I do not think my father who has been supplying me very liberally with money for my stay abroad on

I had a letter from Colby yesterday and he tells me there will be no Law Fellowship in History next year, but that one in Political Economy will be made and perhaps one in History the year after. However he adds that Prof Ingram has informed him that I will receive a Harvard appointment for next year, and so will be A.K. I wish we could be near one another together next year it would be very jolly. Have you any idea of trying for the Law Fellowship?

I must close now as I have to go out for the afternoon, write me again before you start if you have time and let me know definitely your later plans. I have written to Bartlett for a fellowship - have you? Believe me. Ever yours sincerely W.L.M.K.

offers my time utilizing my time in travel a night going. In June I might take a little trip I might join you in the south of France to the Rhine and journey Belgium or Holland, but at present I am in Paris with an object and wishing to an end and cannot depart after a week or so of living here. You must remember that you have been in Berlin steadily for close on two months or more acquiring German, and now you are prepared to leave it, if I had been two months in Switzerland a France I too might feel the same, but at being little more than a month since I left London I do not feel that I have any justification to abandon my studies and my friends and go sight seeing and touring in Italy, Switzerland and along the Rhine yet at present at least.

you would have a quiet passage think you could get a computable berth for £5 if you applied early enough; I should select one as in the middle as possible and in an outer state room. and keep aboard send you a plan of the vessel. I should likely be sailing myself in one of their

Your letter just rec'd with the pretty views of Potsdam came to me this morning and I hasten to answer it for I think I can see how we can have a jolly trip together if you will concede me the opportunity. If you are leaving Berlin for Switzerland the end of this month and will do your Swiss trip first so as to give me a little longer in Paris I will undertake to leave here the 11th or 12th of June, meet you at Bale or at Chiasso on the Italian frontier, purchase one of those round trip tickets for Venice, Florence, Rome, Naples and return of the Paris & Genoa ride to Lucerne from Chiasso I think they £5. 15/- second class and make that very pleasant trip together, the way you outlined in one of your letters. I know I am asking a good deal in asking you to alter your plans but as you suggested in your note of this week I am following up the suggestion. My results in Paris will be up about the twelfth, and I shall have received my Harvard draft of $26. frances which I must have before starting as otherwise I would not have money enough to take me to you. By that time I shall be quite willing to turn my back on Paris and, though it is a little late for an Italian trip, I do. I expect we can stand what heat we must with and it will spare pockets being out of shape and purse lower, and then together we will save money which we would have to spend alone. Think over this proposal of mine & see if you can do it, if you can I will promise to help it, as I am as anxious as you are to see Italy and do a little more travelling and I should like above all things to have you with me, or rather be with you - can we not manage it?

If you decide to join in with this offer let me know immediately when and where you would like me to meet you. I think it should be either Bale or Cheiron as some place between these two, and as an amount of my cheque I can hardly hope to get to you before the 12th of June. We could then have two or three pleasant weeks together before you sailed.

I have not time to write you more than a few lines to-day as I have several letters for the american mail to send off and they will take all my afternoon. I am continuing to enjoy and profit by my stay here and the chances I have. The trouble is that there is too much to do, too much to see and too many

Just a hurried line or two to catch you at Lausanne Lucerne. I was glad indeed to get your letter from Rome & am falling in with my offer and I will certainly meet you wherever you wish, though I expect Chiavari will be the best place as I have studied things pretty well and I think the round trip from Chiavari to Rome & Naples and back to Bordighera in France is the best thing for both of us. I fear that it will be impossible for me to fall in with your later plans have yielded to a great temptation and by the added pleasure of a

an instructorship instead of a fellowship a assistantship for next year, as Lucas says has decided his cases into free division, and I shall probably have one, but this is only rumour and not official at all.

I am continuing to enjoy Paris & the Exposition, and they being here lends an added pleasure, as we see a great deal together. As soon however as that function changes from Harvard arrives and I know exactly it I shall gladly pack my suit case and start for Switzerland or Italy. It will probably be the morning of June 12th that I shall leave here.
I shall stay that night in Bale as I assume and be prepared to meet you the next day - Wednesday the 13th and will be jolly glad to see you again.

My dear King

Your letter of Sunday came this evening and I hasten to reply to it and to request you will my despatch please. Unless something goes my wrong, in which case I could telegraph you I am quite certain to leave here next Tuesday morning by the 8 o'clock train, to arrive at Bâle at 7.45 that evening and at Lucerne at 9.34. It would be fine to meet you at either Bale or Lucerne, if at the former we could stay the night together, if at the latter I would not stop but go on to Lucerne where we could at 10.50 the next morning and reach Chexbres that afternoon late or in the evening. As soon as you get this it seems unfair to me especially when we will meet and if you find it before Saturday evening I am sure to get it the next day. I am going to buy a round trip ticket from Paris to Naples via Nice Turin & Genoa and return by Modane Grenoble and Lyons, good for two months as I find by so doing I can save considerably in fares and it will suit in admirably with my plans to spend a month of serious study of French at Grenoble. It will be fine having this trip together and I am looking forward to it with a great deal of anticipation - even if it is "flies abroad you C'Esper" yet I guess we can stand it and make the most of our chance there. Fay before he left very kindly gave me a list of good moderate priced pensions in the chief cities and being together we can live more cheaply and spend less than if we were travelling singly.

you come to be well placed at Bayreuth & to be having a good time - I wish I were with you and I might be sent for this Harvard cheque which I am waiting for. By the way have you any Baedekers for Italy for if not we had better have them & I might pick up second hand ones in Paris though they would likely be in French and for a guide book English is preferable. Paris continues to be very enjoyable to me but in spite of the last few warm days I have been suffering from a quite severe sore throat which I got one cold rainy day when I went to the Exposition with Ley, and went in the morning with him to see Sarah Bernhardt in L'Aiglon - a very fine play and a remarkable actress. However I am conquering my throat and it is much better to-day. I was across at the pension he is staying at where they are all English & American and hardly a word is spoken in French.

but I am not surprised when I see where he got it. He is so much of a mother as well and puts on so many airs of superiority and is an awful me a very tired feeling and a lack of desire to see much more of him.

But I must run off and finish this and the other notes can wait until

Not being able to sleep longer I got up at 8.15 and have now (9.05 about) gone down to breakfast. I did not like to wake you as you seemed to be sleeping well. After breakfast I shall be writing a little in the Hotel reading-room - look for me there if I do not see you before that.

He said that he had asked Saunders about me but that the latter had replied that he had already answered my letter but if so I have never got the answer, as in fact any letter from Saunders. They enclosed a newly issued programme which, however, had the space for the name in Saunders's course left blank, and as Platner must some time ago that if I wished it I could have the appointment I have no doubt that I shall get it and be kept next fall. Dear King,

First of all did me to me congratulate you on your new position and ~~about~~ and you success in it. And I know that if honest effort and ability and application can make anything successful you will succeed. After I first ~~saw~~ the ~~announcement~~ announcement when I got your second and learned that you had called an acceptance of the Government's offer. I do not know that you have been misused and entirely you have acted without wise advice and counsel of older heads than mine. To the young very often life presents ~~itself~~ itself as a difficult and perhaps experience is a better teacher than we often give her credit of being. I am glad mind that coming to Ottawa when you could so authentic over the position and the satisfaction you seemed to feel in knowing what you could do in it. I do hope that you will not find that the place is not all that you had hoped for to be - but I feel that you will meet disappointments and obstacles with patience and with success and will overcome them.

I feel ashamed to think that while I have received two very welcome letters from you during the last week this is the first time I have written you at length. If I had but known that you would be delayed a day I would have written a letter and sent a hastily scribbled post card to catch you at Queenstown - I hope you got it. But me thank you very much for the copy of the Convocate you sent me. Both because I felt grateful for your thoughtfulness in the matter and because the number itself contained interesting news. I found there a great deal of interest, and felt that he presented the facts in a very real and forcible manner. It was good of you to speak so appreciatively of my few words in the Settlement; I should have liked to have written more but found particularly hard work to make it as brief as possible. The news of the Settlement that you gave me in your letter was very pleasant to hear, and also I was glad to hear that you had had a letter from Seaman, and had seen Lowe in London. It must have been pleasant meeting Dr Cunningham and I would like to see him myself before I go but I doubt if I shall have the chance for I am and perhaps to be pressed to hear that I am going to sail from Bristol the 24th to keep this month and will have trouble to sustain a visit from Hindsop I shall hope to arrive at the Settlement Saturday night. I will then remain Sunday and depart on Monday for Bristol unless the state delays me. It did you. I tried to get passage the 31st but found that there could be no certainty of the boat sailing then & they offered me a passage on the 24th I decided to take it and wrote immediately to that effect, and also a letter to my father announcing my change of plans. To tell the truth I am rather sick of Europe for months of it has been enough of a stretch and if I am to go to Harvard and have a hard year's work there I need a rest before it begins. As for the Harvard offer remains as it was but I am hoping from the Imperial Institute and Board of Trade that I shall be appointed or have been appointed either a Teaching Fellow in History or an Instructor in two half courses in English political history since are slipping quickly by, with little to show for it, really, writing, letters (I fail to get them off by the days) and hard clothing to provide. My journal is still expanded in arrears though written up to date for the time since leaving Italy. I hope to get it all written up, however, sooner or later - probably later, as the pressure of work ahead is rather great.

This letter is not as long as some of mine have been but it has taken me pretty nearly two hours to write so I will close it up here. My address for August will be "Rockenwood" Little Metis P.Q. and for September Rosemount Westmount, Montreal. I shall hope to hear from you, before, at Little Metis where I expect to arrive Aug. 6th.
Again wishing you every success in your new field of work and endeavour.

I am as always

yours very sincerely

W. Mackenzie Mackenzie King.

P.S. Send me the first numbers when I have written to Marjorie, I do hope there should be any misunderstanding or mishap, about and tell her I should be glad to act as her assistant in Hunting as, and I trust it will all come out well in the end.

I shall be at Metis for the month of August and in Montreal for September, and if your editorial duties permit I should feel it a pleasure to entertain a distinguished guest like yourself for any week end you could get away from your duties and visit us, and I feel sure that it would give my people great pleasure as well. So regard this as a standing invitation to Rosemount whenever you can run down to Montreal and see us. I expect you will occupied yourself at home in Ottawa and this year expand. I shall soon begin to look for biographical sketches of the new Editor but I only know one man who can write up to date as Asquith yourself and that is your humble servant for I would be out of the various episodes of the Italian trip and of the visit to England of the distinguished Canadian

Grenoble
July 17th 1900

Dear King

Your letter from Liverpool with the little Bristol enclosure came to me yesterday and I was deeply grieved and put out to hear of the trouble annoyance and expense you had been put to all through my advising you to take passage by the Elder Dempster line from Bristol. Believe me if I had known of all that things were so bad I would never have committed you to that passage. When I came across the ship was extremely pleasant & a fair number of passengers and I had heard the line very favorably and I wish that I had any objection of in my packet and could choose my own boat. In my letter to the agent at Liverpool I said that on no account would I go by Bristol or their line but would prefer to wait a week if necessary for a Liverpool boat. Meantime I shall leave Grenoble, which is very hot these days, for London next Friday and await my fate there. It will be very nice to be at the Settlement again. Was your head still intact I wonder when you left England - I suppose it is off now. Mine has trimmed and does not look half bad with a slight fringe. With best wishes for success I am spoken of in Montreal. I got a good start and surprise on the receipt of your letter, which it was very kind and thoughtful of you to write, and I immediately acted on your advice and wrote two letters to the Elder Dempster people one to Bristol asking them to have for me at once to the next passenger boat of this line leaving Liverpool, and one to the head office at Liverpool explaining why I wished to change and asking them to remove me a berth. I expect that it may cost me a pound or so more but I do not wish to travel in a dirty and badly equipped cargo boat such as you describe the Etolia to be and there is probably much difference between them.

I am very very very glad that you had so much very enjoyable about sailing, but I was glad to hear that you actually got back your deposit. The Elder Dempster Co. have the mail contract and her husband's name was no doubt as you say Tattersall. On the Lusania you doubtless had a fine passage and a pleasant time and when this reaches you you will probably be near home in time at Ottawa. I wrote you a fairly long letter the other day to your London address which no doubt you will have had by now.

I am very much put out and perplexed over my own passage

Little Rocher

Dear King

It is not often that I get a franked letter and I had a surprise in yours last night but a very glad and welcome one. Your letter was a very interesting one to me and the least I can do is to answer it with a good long one in my turn. First let me congratulate you on the successful organization of your department; the letter paper with its crest and heading was very effective and striking & looked extremely neat. Do not work too hard and break down for it must be a strain on you to be constantly on the go and under constant anxiety & care.

I suppose you would like to hear the news since I left Grenoble which was Sunday the 20th of July. The heat had been awful and I was rather run down. The journey to Paris was most trying, all night in a hot carriage with seven Frenchies, and I was rather a wreck when I arrived in Paris next morning. There I spent three hours and almost lost my train just catching it as it was about start. The trip to Dieppe was pleasant and crossing the channel was very trying - it was just such a day as when I saw you off at Newhaven and we made a quick and pleasant passage. I was at the Settlement at half past seven and Mrs. Russell had a good dinner for me and I saw Fyfe, Carling, Dennis and me in two others. It was delightful being back. I had some old room and felt very much at home in it and was glad they put me there. Dennis was in my room and had it nicely fixed up. I saw Dr Grose the next morning and had a long and pleasant talk with him. He said that he was sure that I would get a place at Harvard but did not think that the appointment would be made till just before the session opened. He advised me to go down to Cambridge about the 26th of September and interview the professors on the matter. In the afternoon I had a very nice call on the Miss Bonds at Iroquai. We had tea out in the little garden behind and it was delightful. They were asking after you and your whereabouts and desired me to congratulate you on your new appointment which I neglected to tell them of and to wish you all success in it. I spent the evening at the Settlement where I saw the Warden & had a nice long talk with him on the work of the place and the difficulties to contend with and I will say that I was much more impressed with the Warden as a result of that talk with him. Sunday I finished off packing and got a telegram from the Elder Dempster Co. saying that the Lake Champlain which I was booked for would not sail until three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, so I slept that night at the Settlement and was off the next morning for Liverpool. The day was beautiful and the trip a pleasant and interesting one through a beautiful country & interesting towns. We did not get out of Liverpool until four o'clock and left Ireville the next afternoon. The voyage across could hardly have been pleasanter or more delightful. The ten days passed like magic and I was only ill for a day and a half when we had a heavy storm to contend with. The people on board were mixed but several were particularly nice. One was a Miss Edith Vaughan, a Montreal girl who had spent several years in Germany and had much of good to tell of the Germans, she also spoke French very well and altogether was very charming. She was not the only pebble on the beach but was one of the brightest + most sought after and I saw a good deal of her without to all verging on the sentimental. The ship was steady and comfortable though very crowded. I had the chief officer's room with an Irishman from Toronto, a man named Caldwell who claimed to be a great Liberal and to know Mr. Henlock but I did not think him a particularly shining light. There were nearly four hundred Roumanian Jews in the steerage and a rather unpleasant crowd and a very undesirable class of emigrants I should say to have in Canada. There were also a lot of second class passengers who used to sing a lot and help us amused. After ten pleasant days I landed at Rimouski last Friday afternoon and was with my family in the evening and the meeting was very pleasant on both sides, though they could not get over my beard which took them by surprise and they have been holding council as to it ever since. I was disappointed at not finding Miss Hunt here but as soon as I telegraphed my my arrival she came and was with me Sunday. Needless to say I am having a delightful time and the days are slipping by like magic. My people are all interested in my travels and in my collection of photos and gramaphone which I wish had more of though as it is I have almost a hundred. Your letter from the Lucania at New York followed me here from the Settlement and I was glad to get it, but your one from Ottawa was far more interesting of course as it was about your work and yourself.

I appreciated very much your confidences with regard to your work and I feel sure that you will be successful in it and start the paper on a straight and solid course. It must have been extremely pleasant to see your family again and they must have been glad to see you. It is strange how months of separation seem to fade into nothingness when you are again with those who are near and dear to you. It was a pity though that you could not enjoy a longer holiday with them and see more of them. It would be pleasant if you could have your sister at Ottawa with you and it would be more like home for you. Your invitation to me is a very attractive one and I should like nothing better than to see Ottawa for the first time under the auspices of your Editorship: I fear though that I would find it hard to persuade him Hurst to spare me for even three days or a week end in September and if you can get away you had letter come to Rosemount where we shall all be glad to see you and will try and make your visit a pleasant one. I personally should miss very much not having seen you and had a talk with you before I go away this fall so if you can spare a week end please come down - say the 5th, 15th or 22nd of September which ever suits you best, or all three of them if you like. My mother and father both cordially join in the invitation to visit us and you must come.

I should think in no way it would be an advantage to belong to the Rideau Club, but unless you expect to be permanently or for a considerable time in Ottawa it seems pretty silly to fork out $100 all at once in it. I think myself that you will sooner or later have an offer worth thinking of from the Economics Dept. at Harvard, and I counsel you not to let your Ph. D. go if you can possibly take it this coming year. Of course it may be possible with your personal & academic work to give the necessary time to your thesis and preparation and if so it is unavoidable.
I should feel a great regret to see you lost to academic work where I believe your influence would be for the good and where I feel you would find most to satisfy the higher and nobler aspirations and hope that you have. I have not seen any articles of your appointment but would like to do so very much if you have a clipping or two you could lend me. I understand that it was very favourably received in every quarter. I wish you very success old man in your new field and as you have begun well I hope to see you continue well. It is a place of importance and responsibility & you have exceptional chances to make your influence felt for good in national affairs. I trust that you will get an efficient and able man as your secretary and that you will pull well together - never have I felt my lack of accomplishments in a business or beauty as when face to face with the responsibility of applying for such a position as that of your secretary. I shall look forward to the appearance of the new journal and read, mark and inwardly digest it.

This is not nearly such a good letter as yours to me but I fear that I have little that is of real interest to write of and that most of what I have said has been a reflection of your letter. I am enjoying a period of rest and lagenium here by the sea, my journal has ceased, my beard is still here and the days slip in "lux and idlness". Write me when you can find time and I will answer to the best of my ability, meanwhile I will say

Pardon my breaking in on you when you are busy but there is something I wish especially to know about and I think you can help me better than anyone else.

The Western University of London Ont are advertising for a professor in English and History, and though the salary offered is only a $1000 yet there might be more in it later and I am thinking of applying for the place and sending references. I do not know anything about the University however - what standing it has, whether it is sectarian or not, what degree it gives, the number of students or anything in fact. If out of your own knowledge and sources of information at your disposal you could give me a little light on this subject I would feel much obliged, and also for any advice on the matter. I have not heard a word more from Harvard but I fear that it must there will be nothing better for me there than an assistantship or teaching fellowship, so that if I could get an independent position elsewhere it might be better than being at Cambridge in a quite subordinate capacity. I am rather perplexed what to do, but I shall not do anything hastily and after all I shall have the Harvard chance until the end of September.

We are continuing to enjoy our stay here though unfortunately my father has been called up to town on law business. I suppose that you heard that the bill for two new Quebec judges was defeated in the Senate by one vote and therefore his judgeship is indefinitely postponed. We were all sorry for though he is doing a good law business yet he is not so vigorous as he used to be and the work is hard. I trust that you are

Dear King

After I had written to you about Western University my conscience smote me for troubling you when you were so busy. It was very good of you to interest yourself so much in the matter and I was right glad to get your two notes in the one envelope by last night's mail. I had already come to the same conclusion as you and offered for the position though have much chance I have of getting it is unknown to me. I have sent a very nice letter of recommendation from home and letters from my two Hill professors. Cross to whom I wrote about the owned I would not think of this other place but as it is it is well to make provision for the future as far as one possibly can. If Mr. Hill has any influence in the matter or is interested in the University I am sure he would say a good word on my behalf, as he is an old friend of my father's and known our family well. I shall be grateful if you find time and opportunity to speak to him about it. You speak of Billy Cruyer being a possible officiant for the position, but I understand that Billy went out to South Africa in Strathcona's Horse and is still out there chasing Uncle Paul and the Boers so that I do not think he is likely to be in the running for the place

matter advised me to accept it if offered, as being better than anything I could expect at Harvard, and that if I were successful I would have Harvard to fall back on. That seemed enough advice to me to warrant my proceeding in the matter. The man who resigned the place at London was a Dr Frederick Sykes, a Toronto B.A. and a Johns Hopkins Ph.D. - perhaps you know him or have heard of him? He has just been married to a Miss Ryckman of Brockville and is a lecturer in University Extension work in Philadelphia now. I shall certainly be careful if the position is offered to me to see that it does not bind me to any term of service beyond one year, unless they make the salary better worth having. I am not at all certain of being able to fulfill in 1901-2 though there is a possibility of it, and for myself I regard it as very probable that the coming year I shall be at Harvard and working there. From Prof. Coffin of Queens College, Kingston, who is here for the summer and who has lectured in English at London I learnt something of the community there - pretty much the same sort of thing as you say yours found Harper tells you, that it is a small place with few students & sort of high standing with an Anglican flavour. I have written for a calendar and hope to receive it in a day or two, when I will be able to judge for myself what it amounts to. I should not think the duties would be very onerous, and the session is probably a short one with good vacations. A thousand straight is more attractive than three or four hundred at Harvard. If I had an instructorship at Harvard as-though very likely there are some items more amounts for it.

You must be pretty busy now so congenial and going along so well. There is no doubt that you will have a great opportunity to influence Government legislation on labour questions and I look

Dear King

I was glad to get your note after not hearing from you for some time but no doubt you were busy. I have delayed answering your letter on account of the uncertainty of my movements as I have been appointed to the vacant professorship in the Western University at London and may have to leave before the end of the week. I will not do so, however, unless absolutely necessary and I trust that you will come down and stop over Sunday with me should I be here - I will let you know if I leave before then.

I see your Gazette is out - or at least one copy of it at Ottawa - I shall be anxious to see it and see your hand in it. This is not a letter but merely a hurried note while I am waiting for "Semaine" to call and walk with

I had a note from the pursuit of the University this morning and I shall not have to leave for London before next Monday or Tuesday. Come down therefore if you possibly can get away on Sunday for I shall have another chance to see you for some time. Let me know how you are coming and I will meet you at the station. We can have a good talk and it will be pleasant being together again.

My dear Rex.-

Many thanks for the copies of the Labour Gazette which, however, I had already seen and examined with interest as they came out monthly. I trust you are liking your work, and from all accounts believe you are making a success of it.

Did you not call on me and find me out last summer? It is my impression you did, and I am sorry we missed eachother. I hope, however, as you do that we may see eachother during Christmas week.

I wrote a paragraph endorsing your appointment at the time it was made. Did you see it?

Please give my best wishes to Bert Harper, and believe me, dear Rex,

Ever sincerely yours

My dear King:-

If you have ever put off answering a letter until you were heartily ashamed to write you may realize somewhat how I feel now, and as you have been through the ordeal of the General Exam (it certainly deserves a capital "G") I may plead that as an extenuating circumstance. I am happy to say I passed mine last wednesday, and am now in the midst of the reaction, which is almost as bad in its way. Nine professors honored me with their presence and all but Coolidge took their turns at the thumbscrews. I won't bore you with details for I imagine my examination was neither unusually difficult nor strikingly brilliant. As for the rest of the men who have come up so far this year, I enclose a list of the candidates with a few marginal notes. Newhall's case, I think, needs a few words of explanation, for I feel convinced that he was turned down not for ignorance, nor even for incapacity, but because the committee felt he was too immature. Bailey was given three hours one day and then advised to withdraw. Andrew, after four years work, could not finish his thesis in time and gave up the whole thing. Newhall's failure may have had some effect.

Now as to the Kerry's, let me say first of all that I subscribe heartily to all you ever said about them personally. They certainly are fine specimens of clean cut american manhood. Peter has taken very kindly to History I, his mark so far is B- and I feel sure he will get a B for the course. Robert, as you know, is a more difficult subject, but he stands now at C (very minus, I fear) and I really think he will level it. Just at present he is in New York, ill with the measles, most devilish bad luck just at this time of year. In the other course, Greek History (2), I turned them over to one Harris a thoroughly competent man, and the protegé of Dr. Botsford,

Dear Mrs King I mail the long expected Harvard letter this way as I want it to go in the safest way. I suppose you would not enjoy loosing it. It is N.S. I hope you haven't missed too much of your trip raining in Europe. Don't you like their palace? I enjoyed your letter very much. Well there is a great news I must tell you although it won't excite you as much as it does me or all of us because you don't know my sister She is here since last Monday, with the baby because she is engaged to be married to my brother in law. at the beginning of July. So you can think that we are happy and enjoy the time with the darling boy mean get one too having been your house mother for 4 weeks.

I am going abt to Potsdam to-day to see some friends, but I know that I won't make a boat trip near Babelsberg. Forget all about it except the beauties we saw together, we saw a lot of beautiful things together we must never never forget those.
I can imagine what you will think about me when reading this awfully untidy writing please try to excuse it as I have many things waiting for me to do.
Father & Mother send their love to you as does Susi. Jannie finds nobody whose face he can lick all over now, he feel very sad not being the only people on the beach any more that is taken on the laps of everybody.
Good luck for all your plans

I saw Dr. Dickie in the street the other day, he will come to look at your father's picture very soon. Father works hard, Mother is happy with her sweet little grandson and my sister, although there is always a sad strain when we look at the boy, but he is lucky at the other hand (or side?) in getting a second mother like my second sister. Dear Mackenzie King,

To-day you left old Europe, the distance is getting larger & larger, but those true friends you make here will think of you just as much in spite of the ocean between. I intended to write you a steamer-letter to thank you for your notes and to give you a greeting on your way, but I was unable to write being taken a little ill through all this much giving about to prepare for the wedding. To-spite that it came just now I am a bother instead of a help. I need your letters interested me she wants to be remembered. So you have a bear after all I hope your family won't fall from their chairs when seeing you. How is your Mother, give our best compliments to both your parents, and your sisters especially the one you think me so much like. Do you still think so? Tell me all about them and about the deciding you can trust me in keeping it secret, it interests me awfully. I do hope you will have a good passage, with all possible beauties. Your time will be very much filled when reaching home but Father thanks for your kind letter he is so happy to have satisfied you. There is no expense I have for you, believe me. Love & best wishes from all. Sincerely yours Brother Wele very much in fact all of us.

To accept our heartiest congratulation this offering is a great honour for which they could not find a more fitted man. And yet I understand perfectly what keeps you back from accepting at once although there is very very much for favoring the acceptance think of the independance and last not least the very considerable service you do to your country. It is ridiculous for me to say it but I found you to be a nature that can do only real good work when feeling happy in it and I know it is University work you really love therefore the other would never satisfy you and so not make you happy. Of course I did not mean to say that you would do bad work at the Sayette but you would not give the essence: your heart and soul to it. Please forget this right after having read it.

Excuse me for having forgotten to put your Father's photos into the box. Father gave me only the tropictures to pack and I as thoughtless as usual forgot to ask for the photos. it's too bad but they are not lost and I hope they won't have this fate when mailed. I shall do this after July 13th Will that be time? Indeed it is dangerous to trust an artist's family with what is dear to one. Once more Excuse us.

Dear Herr King

Thank you for your letter & also for the papers especially for the one with the picture in, which however will not count as a photo. Well, well, well - you are quite a famous man by this time, everybody is talking (?) about you, I suppose. Once more I congratulate you! What did Harvard say? They must be nice letters you get now from everywhere; don't you enjoy them? And how about your work, have you to do very much, will you find still time for working just as we wished it. - - Please don't worry one moment about the check it is not such a pressing business. Can you believe that I gave away Jammie? but it is only too true. I hope our little Susie girl will have picked up at the seashore. Do you think it will be good for her to read her some of the not so difficult parts of "Eckermann" & perhaps translate her some of "Culture & Nature" in case - - you know her pretty well & can judge a little. How I wish I could lift this lovely character as high as possible but not only in grimy but really standing on a strong basis that she remains that way through happy & hard times. - - I won't stay away long, by the end of Sept. Berlin will see me again most likely. They all would send their love if they knew me writing. Take care of yourself! Sincerely Dorothea Wilson privately and what became of the translations you made here? That's quite a list of questions. ---

I have "Seelenmacht" after all and although I am at the very beginning of reading it I kind of feel that it just suits me for a book. (?) He brings in too that all our actions etc. have an influence on others in the whole unity & law business it will end I hope & suppose, you know what I mean. if I could only learn to express myself nicely! I think although it is an awful responsibility that is pointed out to us by this unity or better because it is such a responsibility it is so good for all of us to hear it every now & then that our thoughts, actions & aims may get deeper more noble & higher. Well I won't go on telling you things that you know yourself better than I do. I'm only thinking of it just now so much, as I have more or less time of my own, since the middle of July because Father, Mother & Susie went for the seashore right after the wedding leaving me here to take care of the house. I expect them back by beginning of September. When they are here I shall move off & go to my sister's and the Rhine etc. The wedding was lovely, every thing

My Dear Mr. King,

We lost much when you went from us. Your spirit, your heart have such a great value for us, that I cannot find words to express it suffisiently. If we found a friend in you we have gained much and your dear letter from Dresden lets me hope so, we had a real great joy through that letter.

It was written so wonderfully, there were words and thoughts and a language so beautiful and rich that it would be good for people to publis it, if it Did not belong only to our family.

I myself and all of us can thank you only and be happy to have met you and to have had you as a dear boy in our house.

My answer is so late, excuse me for it please, but I was ill after your leave, not so much physically as mentel or better in my soul. All those hard events in the last years, I mean the losses of our beloved children, came back with their full power and you can believe me, it is only the strong love of my dear ones which gives me strength again to bear all. Your Letter too did me so much good, I do thank you for it. We live very quiet since your Departure. Fred Cloud will leave us June 15th. then all those dear people, that lived with us, will be gone. My husband works at your father's portrait, he really enjoys it.

Accept our kindest wishes and our love, be and remain our dear true friend as we all are your true friends.

My dear Rea,

Jean now comfortably settled in the country at the foot of the Caledon hills and am fond of a fine ten-roomed manse and five and a half acres of glebe land. So I have done the thing which I was warned not to, & have "hidden my light "under a bushel" by retiring to this quiet place in the fields. But as no doubt, my dear fellow,

THE LABOUR GAZETTE.

OFFICE OF THE EDITOR.

OTTAWA. 22nd October, 1900

Dear Mr.Wickett/-

Allow me to thank you for your kind words of congratulation expressed in your letter of October I9th and also for your kind invigation to call on you when in Toronto again. It will be a great pleasure to see you and have a talk on matters in which we are both much interested. I would especially like to compare notes with you on your experiences abroad and get your opinion in regard to the work of the universities which you attended,and also on many other things.

I am much obliged for what you say in reference to the LABOUR GAZETTE and the attitude of the manufacturers towards it. The intention is to make the GAZETTE as largely statistical as possible and entirely a record of fact. As you know,the former task is not easily accomplished by a small staff and it may be a little while before this part of the work can be made as useful as it ought to be.

The subjects dealt with will of course be those which primarily concern the working classes,but there is no intention to make the publication other than an entirely impartial one,which should commend itself to the manufacturers as well as to the men. If it fails to do this its chief purpose would be your new position larger opportunities will come to you and, in time. The new work will, no doubt become very congenial. It is a great comfort to your parents to have you so near them and how thankful they must be that such a one has been given them.

It is just one year ago since you left us for your study abroad and I am glad it has been such a delightful and profitable year. We shall hope to see you sometime during the winter and hear from you all about your okay on the matter. I cannot tell you how disappointed I am that Hart was not successful in securing back with you in Toronto. However I suppose it is all for the best and you will be much happier with your own friends around you. When your friend Ethel comes to Ottawa (it ought soon, but I have had no word from her) you will have a good time; Miss Underwood will be there. Three weeks from today I am going to Ottawa for a short visit to my constituency and shall be glad to see all the Hart-s. I will call for the Canterbury's at the College and see what I can find out about Ethel. Give my kindest remembrance to Mrs. Cruikshank. Yours affectionately W. L. Mackenzie King

My dear Mr King.

I want to thank you so very much for your photograph which reached me New Years morning. It is a splendid likeness of you and so beautifully taken. a style quite new to us. I am very proud of the picture whose dear face recalls many helpful talks and still more proud of my young friend who has entered upon such a noble career for this life work. I want to thank you also for your lovely letters which are so full of interest to us. You have a happy faculty of giving others so much pleasure. Just think of the happiness you were able to bestow upon Mrs Toynbee by telling her of the great influence her husband's noble life has had upon yours. It is, indeed, a great privilege to meet so many celebrities and see them in their homes and I know of no one who can appreciate it more than you. All this will tend to broaden your life and fit you for your great work. I have often thought that you must, sometime, have received a call to the ministry which you did not heed but the more I read and learn of your line of work, I see how closely the two are allied and I am sure the call has been received. I am pleased that you find the little volume I gave you, so helpful. It is "a book for the heart and the closet" and I felt sure you would find its words a comfort and inspiration. I have two copies - one given one when quite a young lady - the other, a gift to my mother from my husband. A few weeks ago, I spent a "quiet day" at St Stephen's church. I thought of you as I went through the dark rooms of the Parish house for I remembered your telling one of your talks there to the workingmen. Mr Bent is doing a noble work in that section of the city.

I want to apologize for not acknowledging the receipt of your picture at once for I do appreciate your kindness in sending it to me but home cares and anxieties make it difficult, sometimes, for one to discharge the pleasanter duties to one's friends. I have had no little anxiety about Woodward's work in school. He went into foot-ball as enthusiastically last fall that he did neglect his studies, and the headmaster, who is opposed to athletics, has made it very hard for him. Woodward has been determined to leave school and prepare to enter Harvard next fall but I do not think it advisable, on many accounts, and he has settled down to good work again, I hope. He expects to take the English course in Harvard and I feel that now is his time to read which I am sure will be of great benefit to him all through life. Ralph is doing splendidly, still sings in the college choir and has two little friends with whom he has fine times. Our Colonel calls occasionally, says he is very busy this year. He does not

My dear Sir,

I have your letter, & thank you for the tribute paid to me. I believe I have every available figure from all printed sources, relating both to women's wages & men's, up to 1892. & have tabulated a large amount of later material. I could supply you with a bibliography which would take 6 months at the least to work through, but your line on England is limited. If you are not touching the history of women's wages &, of course, cannot be of much use, as I am only collecting my material for a history of the women as wage earners & have not yet seriously set about collecting current data. My historical material on my hands would supply a report to your Govt as large nearly as Edw Young's labours on Europe & America '70. If that is what you want, I can, as I say, assist you. My notes are copied in bound volumes, or are in bluebooks, pamphlets Etc Etc in my library. Many are tabulated in a cabinet - I do not know how to advise you. If my material is of use to you, it will be essential that we should meet.. for I could not possibly undertake to send a complete Copy of what I possess as the task of copying would be a very long one. I am perfectly willing to assist you all I can, but your letter is too indefinite for me to know how, exactly, If it is only current material you want. Miss E. Collet. of Labour Board of Trade & Miss M. Irwin (Glasgow Women Trade Council Glasgow) are the persons to help

With, of course, the current numbers of the Labour Gazette (1899) the Blue book from our Lab. Dept on Changes in Wages & Hours of Labour (annually since '93.) any of which are ready for the purpose in hand. If you want historical material, there is a slight account in A.L. Bowleys Notes on Wages in the XIX^th Century (1900 price 4/.) Cambridge Press., & some more of great importance in the "Returns of Wages, 1830-86 & the Labour Commission. Reports on the Employment of W & Girls 1894. But my material extends from Arthur Young in 1776 to date. & there is not a note known to me, of which I have not a copy, neither a book known to me to contain wages notes, which I have not examined. In short, my notes for my work with the exception of current data, are already in my possession & only wait tabulation. You are welcome to the use of these — the question is, 'how can you have access to them'? (if you want to).

I shall be glad to hear from you again, telling me, more definitely, exactly what material you are gathering, & if you wish to have access to my notes, it is probable that the thing can be arranged. You write of coming to see me. If you want to use my data, I could come to London to you, say from Friday to Monday, but as I am only a working mechanic (or rather was till recently — am now but little more) the flesh is willing, but the purse is weak. In other words, if you really could wish to see my material, it is partly portable (& luckily I have much of it duplicated & so could spare it these duplicates,) & I would bring it to London to your place if you will pay my railway & personal expenses. It is my misfortune that I have to be so discourteous as to write that latter clause. — I wish I was in a position to do for assist a stranger in our land without such considerations.

Believe me to be.

Ottawa,

Dear Sir/-

Your appointment of Mr.King as Editor of The LABOUR GAZETTE is one that I hope will do you credit. By the work he does he will,of course,be judged. Unquestionably he has the qualifications,but whether or not he has the sympathy has yet to be shewn.

I notice that you are about to appoint Correspondents in the chief labor centres,and I would be glad to see Mr.Phillips Thompson named for Toronto. He has exceptional experience and ability to perform such work and would be acceptable to Labor Unionists here and elsewhere as I believe no one else would be. I will be glad to assist Mr.King myself in any way I may be able to do at any time.

Yours sincerely,

Sunset rendered at a charming equalled and then your friendship peoples kindness on the whole gave me the first taste of that wonderous gentleness, that American and Americans have shown to me - I can assure you - I do not forget that and do not strike friends of my list even if they are silent victims of one cause or the other -.

Yes I love America and I hope to repeat my visit some day in not too far a future peoples are most kind in wanting me to come and Boston is willing

My dear Mr Mackenzie King,

I have just this morning received your nice letter and photo and I hasten to thank you for both and to tell you two things ; firstly that I had not struck you of the list of my friends - I seldom strike out a name once put down . in ink - that is to say, but second- ly am sincerely to tell you how badly I felt at the thought that you must consider me a more ungrateful writer than I am if you have never received this letter I mailed to you about the 17th of December thanking you for your kind letter to the Steamer and telling you of our journey across - Perhaps I am wrong, but I got the impression by your last mentioning having not received it, that it had never reached and if that is the case I am very sorry indeed - for I must tell you I was both very thankful and touched at that spontaneous expression you expressed in introducing me or Rind by to Mrs Stuart. In that letter I told you how much I liked and admired her and how exceedingly kind she was to me, but even if you have had it, I am sure you can stand hearing it twice - Yes indeed I count it a great privilege to know such a woman as Mrs Stuart and I am so glad for you that you have such a delightful home, as hers must be, to visit when away from your own - she told me much of her daughters - if they are like her, they must indeed be charming - -

Dear me if you have not received that letter I have such a lot to tell you, that I don't know where to commence, but firstly I must say that I addressed it to "Victoria Chambers" Ottawa and mailed it together with one to Mrs Stuart which I sincerely hope she has received or did not what I say. Do me the kind favor to inquire and drop me

you feel you are doing your work and I hope and wish for you in this new year that you will be more and more content -.

My life here has been most unbeautiful since I returned,

This is perhaps healthy but not wildly exciting. But then you see I am an ungrateful

I am sure "Canada" as "Eng-

new empires all "this" will give us to the politics of the world.

What about Mrs Edwards canal

sorry I did - from man wanted

Mrs E's patience and love - though I must say I think I could forgive the man I cared for anything - only that failing stands for him as the worst nearly of all -

I found my mother far from well when I came home, but am thankful to say she is ever so much better. I have been rather gay in this new year

Dear Mr. Mackenzie King,

I don't know whether you remember me & our long talk in the office of Franks & Co. Sq Sank cheaps. in March 1901 Your letter of introduction (February) were more than useful to me. Instead of staying 3 months I stayed 14 in America. The last 6 months I was special agent for the Amer. Fed of Labor to procure Child Labor Laws in the Southern States. I have asked the Chairman of a Committee formed by me in Alabama Rev. Edgar Gardner Murphy to send you my Report to that Committee. With Mr Gompers occurrence I placed the matter rather in the hands of the public than of Labor. The "World's Work" for Sept. & October published an article by me on the subject (Doubleday & Page New York.)

I came home for my wedding to meet my fiance (half way) who has been in S. Africa for some years. He is in the Civil Service in the Cape & is due there in December unless he decides to settle in the States. I am going back to resume charge of the campaign before the Southern legislatures this autumn. We sail on the 28th of this month, 2 days after our marriage and

My Dear Will,

Just a line, accept my best thanks for your kind remembrance of me - I am glad indeed that the ~~suggestion~~ of abbreviment comes without my seeking — but after all, one's real friends are those who make the least noise.

I really don't know what answer Edwards made. Mr. Gilbert Parker and I are co-laborers on his next book, (a novel on Quebec) and my name is to appear as joint-author. I have brought the MSS. with me to Canada, and it is yet a few weeks from completion. That, however, is not a matter beyond arrangement, if the filling of your vacancy were pressing.

The other horn of my dilemma is a half-promise
I made to Mr. George Brett,
President of the Macmillan Publishing Company, who has professed a kind interest in me. This, of course, was given with the completion of my MSS. still in prospective, which means that I still have time to make a choice.

There is no one with whom I would sooner associate my work, as I said to your father this afternoon. During the past three or four years I have more than once remarked that you and I were books for somehow which you would write me fully upon the subject of your letter, as to the position itself, remuneration, and prospects. And if it were expedient, I would gladly run down to Ottawa for a day to have a talk with you. I would go down this week-end, but as we both of us seemed to possess the faculty for "arranging things" it is most curious that you should now supplement my reflection by a proposal to climb up together. How did you know I was in town; I only landed from the Lucania last Saturday after a most successful year it seems better to wait to hear from you first - By the way, I have laid the foundation of a rather turn to account.

Poor dear old Bert — I hope fate will be as kind to me when it comes my turn. The passing of that noble boy was magnificent: and yet it must be particularly hard on you who knew him so closely. To take up the mantle of so heroic a figure is itself alluring; and I shall wait to hear from you before advancing in another direction.

With best regards,
Yours always sincerely

My Dear Rex,

Your kind note duly receives, and this is merely the first moment I've had to acknowledge it. I cannot thank you enough for the thoughtful unselfish motives which (in spite of your confession) prompted it; and I intend to follow your good advice. What I can say absolutely upon you to see that my efforts for an portfolio do not prejudice my chance for the other. Selfishly, I prefer Ottawa: for the future of my family I feel that I should

you know it. 2243

You say also that, if I desire it, you will endeavour to secure me more time; and if you do that it will enable me to run fairly and strenuously for both — a state of affairs which I know you yourself would rejoice in; if you were, as I am, upon the sharp horns of a serious dilemma. For the Board of Trade, I have hardly done more than put in my application, but upon your advice I will do what still seems possible to further my case, and I see the full wisdom of your obiter dictum, that it is better to have both positions than neither. And if it is written that I am to go to Ottawa, be sure that you yourself (whom before I knew so slightly) are no small part of the attracting magnet. The Bd. of T. Mind, will not make a final selection till Jany. 4th. Let me know what relation that date will bear to Mr. Murdock's. Again, my best thanks. Yours ever sincerely, Blair Fraser.

At a public meeting of the citizens of Ottawa last evening, it was decided to establish a memorial of the late Henry Albert Harper who lost his life on the Ottawa river, through the ice, in an effort to save others.

The meeting appointed a committee to ask subscriptions for this purpose, believing that a deed which showed the highest type of unselfish courage should not pass unrecognized by his fellow-citizens.

If you feel able to aid, the committee would be glad to receive a subscription which may be sent to Mr. George Burn, at the Bank of Ottawa, Treasurer, or to any member of the committee, or to any of the city Newspaper offices.

PERSONAL.

My Dear King,-

I have several times thought that the shock of Harper's tragic death must have been more severe on you than perhaps on any other person, as you were so closely related to him both in your work and in your recreation during the past years. If I am not mistaken you and he were kindred spirits, and were doing your work for its own sake and in the belief that you were working for others than yourself. Does not Tenneyson make one of his heroes "end a fair life by a brave ~~end~~ duetto ? Assuredly this is descriptive of Harper's life and death. I had formed a very high opinion of our friend's character, and his sudden death came to me as a personal bereavement.

And now a word as to business. I saw Harper a couple of weeks before his death in reference to the Labour Gazette, and he told me that he thought the matter would probably be held in abeyance until the session began. Are you in a position to say anything about it ?

With kind regards, and wishing you the Compliments of the Season,

Yours sincerely,

My dear Mr. King,

May I say a word in reference to a portion of your very interesting address of last evening which em-bodied what seems to me - I don't know that it is your view - a very common mis-conception of the "socialistic"

or adoptions. Such forms as it might successively adopt would present the usual ob-stacles to reform, but its con-stitution would, I think, be a more fluid, rather than a more rigid, one than any we have yet known. The question of incentive, of the weak and the strong, of the "nature of man" and of [illegible] are fundamental also, though I

proposition. I refer to the suggestion that the socialistic state would be something external to the socialistic individual, and that his freedom would be contingent on its more or less arbitrary action. The State, of course is made up of its individual members, and unless it be an organism formed of the life of all its parts and informing the same, it is a mere abstraction. But if the state be formed of its members, it can in no sense be external to any member any more than it can be external to all. The socialistic state would, it seems to me, be based on an agreement that in specific particulars it would be a certain kind of an organic body - and no external fate think they will all melt away in the smile of the oncoming Spirit of Love. The emulations and the strivings will not cease when men and women are assured standing-ground and food and raiment. They will simply be set free for action on higher planes. Does this ~~sta~~ satisfy? But the question of the externality

of the State, it seems to me, disposes of itself. The state and its parts being one, when it ministers to any one or more parts or members, it is simply the people acting for itself. The organically vital essence - in its higher unfoldings - acting according to the organic law of all for each and each for all.

Forgive me for bringing up a point of difference rather than one of agreement. I yet I agree fully with the remarks of the seconder of the vote of thanks, and shall, with your permission, give myself the pleasure of calling at an early day on the Deputy Minister of Labour.

Dear Mr.Burns/-

You may remember having afforded me a day of great pleasure with you at Battersea during my stay in England last year and one or two short conversations we had together at other times.

I was then engaged in collecting material on the subject of fair wages and direct employment of labour by public bodies and you were kind enough to give me much useful information in reference to the employment in England and the work of the London County Council in particular.

It is now some months since I returned to Canada to undertake the work of organizing a new Department of the Government established in the interests of labour and have now the position of Deputy Minister of Labour, the Minister being the Hon.William Mulock at present en route to Australia as the representative of the Canadian Government at the opening of the first Parliament of the new Commonwealth.

I have turned over to the Department such material as I was able to collect on the subject of fair wages and am now engaged in the preparation of a series of articles on that subject for publication in the LABOUR GAZETTE and in a special report. I find that up to 1897 my information is pretty complete but that I have very little in regard to the work of the Council since that date. I am writing to ask if you could give me any particulars which might help me to bring the matter up to date.

What I want to know most is the relative standing of the Progressists and Moderates in the Council since the election of 1898, any changes that have been made in the standing orders or in the general policy of the former Council respecting its attitude towards conditions in public contracts and direct employment of labour. Have the conditions inserted in contracts been modified or extended and has the work let to contractors been increased or diminished in proportion to the amount done by the Works Department?

I would be very grateful for any printed documents throwing light on these subjects and for your own information in reference to them. Have there been any important measures passed or recorded of which you may think I most likely have not received information, if so I will be very thankful if you would give me short references of them.

I

I am sending you copies of the LABOUR GAZETTE, the Departments official journal, of which I am Editor. You may see by some references in them what is being done in this country in connection with the fair wage employment.

I was much pleased to see that you were again returned to Parliament and if not too late please accept my congratulations on your success.

With kind remembrance,

Believe me,

Canadian Press Association

Toronto, January 10th, 1901

My dear Sir :—

Arrangements for the meeting in Montreal are being steadily worked out with a promise of a large and influential gathering. In view of the importance of the meeting and the very suitable arrangements with the railways (explanatory circular enclosed), the Executive hopes for a large representation of this Association.

The programme will follow the usual lines. The Thursday morning session will be confined to our own members and will deal with the yearly reports, amendments to the constitution and general business. Thursday afternoon will be an open session, with our President's Address, several papers and discussions, and the discussion of the advisability of forming a Dominion Press Council consisting of one or more representatives from each local organization. On Thursday evening there will be a banquet at which one leading statesman will speak, and at least a half dozen of leading journalists. The tickets will be reasonable in price.

On Friday morning there will be three sections from 9.30 to 11.30 : A Daily Section, a Weekly Section and a Class Journal Section. These meetings will not be public. From 11.30 to 1, our Association will again meet to elect Officers for the ensuing year, and transact such other business as may be necessary.

Among the subjects to be discussed at the gathering are : Paper Duties, Rural Delivery, The Newspaper of 1950, Inter-Imperial Newspaper Postage, Telegraphic Service, Plate Service, Libel Law, etc.

If you expect to attend please notify the Secretary at the earliest possible moment. It will be necessary to know beforehand about how many members are to be provided for.

Dear Mr King

I heard only the other night when I dined with Vernon, of the sad death of Mr Harper.

I felt what a shock his loss must be to you & all his friends; & venture to send you my sympathy.

The short time, which I had the pleasure of knowing Mr Harper, still left me with a vivid recollection of his charm; & all his friends must feal the great consolation that Mr Harper died in a characteristic act of heroism. I hope that the blow will be mitigated by the thought that Mr Harper's last act was worthy of him.

Mr.Cunningham,

Dear Sir,

In the course of my reading last night in the "Leeds Mercury", I came across an appreciative criticism of a new book, by Wm.Cunningham, D.D.,L.L.D., This at once struck a chord in my mind, and in memory I went back sixteen years ago, to the time of the Industrial Remuneration Conference. I was sorry at the time that I did not make your personal acquaintance; and although I have seen it mentioned in the papers that you were going to be in Leeds or the neighbourhood, I have either been away from home at work at the time, or some other cogent reason has prevented my trying to meet you.

I have often wondered if any of the gentlemen present at the Conference, economists or others, have seen any outcome for good following the week's proceedings. Speaking for myself, I am afraid that the seed sown at that time has fallen upon stony ground, as I have not seen much evidence of fruitfulness as a result of the deliberations. I shall be pleased to know if your experience has been more satisfactory, as in your extended acquaintance with economists you may have met with indications of good work which has resulted from the Conference. I remember the Socialists and Land Nationalisers were in full force, and most aggressive; but these questions do not seem to be much "forrader". The workman has been having a good time for the last two years, so that his voice has not been heard in a wail over the land as it was at that period.

Volume 3

PUBLIC ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES

I shall also be pleased to have a little information on literary matters, if you can kindly oblige me.

Sometime since, in the course of my work, I met with an accident, (I had a fall on a building), which has incapacitated me from following my employment. Having been a steady man all my life, I am thankful to say this untoward accident has not found my wife and myself necessitated to give up our sturdy independence. But, having the whole of the day on my hands, and not wishing to rust out; I feel at times that I have something to say which might be useful to my fellow-men, and am impelled to put my thoughts on paper. I had a letter in the "Spectator", two or three weeks since; and although I did not expect any pay when I sent the contribution, I have received a cheque from the editor for, what I think, a handsome sum. What I wish to know, if you can oblige me is, Do editors, as a rule in the reviews, etc., pay for contributions of the nature of a letter, in reply to an article which has previously appeared in their Journals? And, if so, can you name some of them who would be most likely to receive such matter, or short articles on social or economic subjects such as a workman would write from his standpoint. The Spectator I know of, but there will be others of the same class with which I am not acquainted.

This may only prove a mere fancy, but I should like to try; and although I may have to cultivate literature on a little oatmeal, and cannot hope that it will prove a crutch to support, still, it may develop into a walking stick to help me a little through life.

Trusting that yourself and yours are in the best of health, and that I am not trespassing too far on your kindness,

I am,

Yours faithfully,

JAMES G.HUTCHINSON.

My dear W. King /.

I am going to ask you to do a favor for me. The enclosed design Patent was issued recently to the Canada Crown Cork and Seal Co. (in which I am personally interested) and I am anxious that the Patent ~~as~~ show on its face a little plainer for what it is issued. I have therefore pencilled the word "Embossed" before the words "Crown Cork or Seal", and if you could have the Department do this for me (as well as adding an "s" to the type-written word "a" before 'embossed') I would be greatly obliged. No doubt you will know the proper authority to approach to allow this to be done. I am sending this to you, as I am anxious to get it back quickly, ~~as~~ the reason being that the rival manufacturers are threatening to interfere with our sole rights of embossing, & we are thinking of having a fac-simile of the Patent paper struck off and sent to the various users of Crown Corks.

I hope I am not putting you to any too great trouble, & I assure you I will appreciate your service.

Sincerely Yours.

My dear Mr King:-

I am this morning in receipt of your favor of the I9th inst. and assure you I am grateful for your kindness in looking after my interests in the Trade Mark and Designs Branch.

I note what you say regarding a second application and registration in order to obtain a different wording in a new Certificate, and I am therefore enclosing you a new application and drawings in duplicate (together with the $5. necessary fee) and if you could manage to ascertain whether a new Certificate would be issued worded something after the manner of the type written copy I also enclose, I would be glad if you would kindly file this new application for me. Some of the Crown Cork & Seal Cos. customers having doubted the fact of the issue of a Certificate, my object is to have some fac-similes struck off and forwarded to them for their own inspection, and consequently I wish to have the Certificate shew for what it is issued on its face, as far as possible. If, however, the Department feel that they could not insert my suggested wording in a new Certificate, probably you could get them to word it as I suggested before, namely, Industrial Design "of an EMBOSSED CROWN CORK". (The word "SEAL" in the former certificate was unnecessary). Of course, if you can get them to insert the wording I have suggested in the type written copy sent you so much the better- for me.

I am very sorry to have to trouble you in this, and were I not personally interested in it I would not do so.

Sincerely Yours,
Nassau B. Eagen

P. S., When you are in the Patents Branch could you kindly ascertain for me whether any extension was ever granted for either manufacture or importation of Patent No. 6I,360 and the periods for which such extensions (if any) were granted .

My dear Mr. King /.

I duly received yours of the 21st this morning with enclosures and I assure you I am very grateful for what you have done so expeditiously for me. Your surmise was correct, that if I could get nothing better in the certificate the word "embossed" would have to fill the bill. We are not banking much on the validity of the patent (?) but are using it to "bluff" the trade and the other manufacturers. This, of course, between ourselves. The other information from the Patents Branch suits me.

I trust some time I may have an opportunity of in some way serving you.

Believe me,

Sincerely Yours,

Dear Sir —,

Along with this I send you sketch for Bookcase. As it is drawn in "Inch Scale" you can easily make out the different sizes.

If you want it carried out in the finest, Mahogany, the work done in the very best manner, drawers and doors supplied with locks and handles, it will cost you $37.50 each.

I shall be pleased of seeing this order entrusted to me, and you may rely upon it that I give full value for the above quoted price.

As you know I have a contract to finish for the Russell house; on the 7th inst. they want to open the theatre & they insist to have my work ready at the same time. Those people worry me fearfully about it.

I do not think I can finish your bookcase before the middle of next week & I am quite prepared to lend you another one if it is of any help to you.

Let me thank you for your good letter of June 11 and for the printed matter which you sent me. I am very glad to keep in touch with you and your work, and to learn of your comings and goings.

I am sorry to say that we shall not be at Shady Hill this summer after all. All arrangements had been completed for our going there when Mr. Gentry's death changed our plans. I shall remain here with Mrs George and her mother for a few weeks, and then return to Evanston and get some of my work in better shape for the coming college year. You may be interested to know that I have been advanced to an Assistant-Professor-ship, with a corresponding increase in salary. So, all told, the year has been a good one, so far as College affairs are concerned.

I am very glad to know that you are living in such a delightful spot. I hope, dear King, that you really live somewhat each day, and do not allow yourself to work too much, as, I must confess, I have always done heretofore. From now on I am going to live. After thinking over the conversation we had the other day in Boston, I have come to the conclusion that if you could take July for your holiday we might work together that month. As I really only intend to spend two months and a half in the country, and as I have commenced reading Blackstone, I think I can do very well by myself for the first month, and feel sure we can accomplish a great deal in the second working together. I gather from what you said the other day that this proposition appeared favorably to you, and hope you may be able to arrange your business so that you can accept it. No there was nothing else for such a man - But O - it was a heavy heavy price to pay - and if there is a Divine purpose in the cutting off of my brother in a manhood which had already given fruit, and gave promise of more, if there is a purpose in it, I cannot see it now -

Through the Kindness of your father I have received all the newspaper accounts of the accident, and I have taken a mournful pleasure in the accounts of the feeling that has been shown in Ottawa - It is indeed Kind, very Kind of the people to think of a memorial to Burt as a public man.

My dear friend Rex,

For in all truth the events of the last few days have only confirmed my belief in a friendship that your Kindness to me has long since shown you had for me - And I feel a genuine pleasure in the thought that you gave me that friendship chiefly on account of your own Character whom I am proud to call my brother - I thank you from my heart for your cablegram of nearly two

you had, and above all when I have just learned from your father of the suddenness of the sad news as it was given to you at my own native town;— as I think of this, Rex, I feel that my own sorrow is only greater than yours, and it is not in a common place expression of sentiment, that I say that my heart goes out to you—

It was a noble action, yet not more noble than the life of him who has gone— with whom we have both lived, and whom we have both loved— It was not surprising to me— I can only think of it as my brother thought of it himself and expressed it in his last words: "What else is there for me to do?

two weeks ago, which gave me sad certainty after nearly three days of horrible suspense, and which gave me some comfort in its thoughtful expression of my noble brother's self-sacrifice.

I regret that I have not answered it sooner, and for the selfishness of my own sorrow, I know you will pardon me. But now in a calm that may be due to an incomplete realization of loss, or to a lull in the pain at my heart, my thoughts turn to you, and I realize that while I have lost for time my brother, you have lost a close friend. When I think of all you and Bert were to each other, of the sympathy of thought and common work that

Ralph Smith also said he wished to see that the Hull contract was carried out in the matter of the fair wages clause and intended bringing the matter up in the House on Tuesday. I just received your letter this morning on my return from a brief trip out of Town & am sending forward by this mail.

I appeal to your judicial mind to deal fairly with the accused & how all to set forth him "criminal" until he has been heard. Seriously though, the appeal is treated very lightly here as those know Rex knows how unfeasible it is for him to act as alleged. The others for him credit for too much intelligence to be guilty of the folly attributed to him

My Dear Rex:

They are not going to give you a chance to act as arbitrator,nor yet even as chairman of a board of arbitration, in the matter of the difficulty between the woodworkers and their employers. To-day I received a formal notice from Everson,to the effect that the strike had been formally declared off. There is nothing further to report regarding the carpenters' strike. I understand the negotiations are still going forward.

The last of Gazette copy went down at noon to-day, and we should be able to get the July issue off in good time,as the tabular matter was sent down some days ago.

There is nothing startling to report. I have decided to take regular doses of mountain air for the balance of this month. I climbed the mountain yesterday in a rain-storm,and had the pleasure of standing by the cross in a bleak wind,with rain-clouds swishing around my legs and floating over the tree-tops beneath. It was prime,but I missed you.

My dear Rev.

Here I am having church all by myself in this majestically beautiful spot. It was a hot climb for a Sabbath morning but I am amply repaid. A delightful breeze is making music in the tree tops, a bird with a clear yet sympathetic note - I can't describe the note and I don't know the name of the bird is beating in a melody of wood sounds indescribably refreshing after a hard week's work.

The thought of the past week caused me to look up for a moment from the paper to take another glance at the capitol which stands out clearly in the bright sunshine through the lines of the birches and softened by a blue white summer haze sufficiently marked to give the effect of distance. Oh! Rev it is lovely. I have a fine minutes conversation with a little red squirrel on the way up the mountain. He was a little nervous at first but became reassured climbed down the tree trunk until he was two feet from me and looked me in the face steadily as I prattled away to him. The little fellow felt like myself, he couldn't imagine vicious intentions in such a place. If men could only get to a mountain occasionally and look down upon the world it might be they like ants would not have their being there would be less dollar chasing, less worship of forms, institutions, baubles and lath and plaster. We saw the foothills rich in the full colour of maturity. Today they are strong in the deep refreshing green of youth. They are happy. Everything about me is happy and I thank God for it all.

OTTAWA 19th July, 1901.

My dear Rex/-

I do not like to bother you with a matter of Departmental business but there is one question which has to be decided at once and concerning which I know you would like to be consulted.

This matter is with regard to the publication of the trade union directory. When I come to look over the amount of information which has to be given and the number of tables which will require to be published I cannot see how a complete directory and an explanatory introduction can be compressed into less than from 30 to 50 pages of the size of the LABOUR GAZETTE.

Supposing that the directory would run 40 pages, which I believe to be a fair estimate, I think, in view of the importance of getting the whole of the matter into a single volume, that it would be desirable to publish it in a separate volume published by the Labour Department and in size and style similar to the LABOUR GAZETTE to which it would in fact be in the nature of a supplement.

Such a volume could I think fairly be sent to subscribers ~~retailers~~ and to others ~~for use~~ for say 5 or 10¢ a copy.

I have been working up the material in connection with the subject of labour organizations and I think I can have two articles thereon one ready for the August number of the LABOUR GAZETTE and another for the September number. The first of these articles will have to do with the legislation of the Dominion and the several Provinces with regard to organized labour with particular reference:- 1st, to the legislation regarding organization, registration, insurance, etc; 2nd regarding the conduct of organizations e.g., intimidation, conspiracy, picketing etc., 3rd, re recognition of unions, Union label etc.

This article I shall preface with a brief historical introduction which would enable it to be subsequently used as it stands, and following this I would suggest an article for the September number dealing with the history and development of trade unionism itself. This article also I hope to have in shape before leaving on my holidays. This article, I think, could be covered by an introduction and could be made to lead the trade union directory, which should be ready, according to my present calculation, before the 1st of September and in good time for the Trades and Labour Congress.

There

referred to

OTTAWA 190

There would,I think,be no particular harm in anticipating the directory by using in the LABOUR GAZETTE the two reading articles, which are supplementary to one another and both have a direct bearing upon the subject-matters of the directory.

Another argument in favour of this course is that there will be a difficulty in getting the directory itself ready in time to be used in the August number of the GAZETTE. The returns are by no means complete and the circular covering the July labour organization elections would probably be late in coming in.The table which is being prepared is an elaborate one and will take time both in its compilation and in the setting up at the Bureau.

With regard to the make-up of the tables I am making an attempt,so far as possible,to make the table index itself both as to organizations and as to localities. From a study of the reports upon trade unions in England and from conversations with a number of men here I have come to the conclusion that it would be very important to have in the directory the organizations grouped under the heads of the trades to which they belong. What I suggest then is that the table be made up on this basis,the trades being alphabetically arranged. Under the heading of each trade so arranged I would have the organizations classified under the names of the places where they are located commencing at the east and going through to British Columbia.

At the present time we have a list substantially complete of the organizations in the different parts of the country and I am having tables made out with a space for each of these organizations so that all that will be necessary,when the schedules come in,will be to fill in the blank space opposite the trade affected.

There are altogether some 1200 organizations.The information which we propose to give will occupy a line across two pages of the GAZETTE.Figuring the space on the basis of type which we have been using for our tables and allowing for the occasional breaks caused by headings and sub-headings in the tables themselves, we cannot count on getting more than 35 lines to a page. This with a list of 1200 organizations will,as you may see,take up between 30 and 40 pages.

The

The little book complete should, I think, be quite creditable to the Department and I think further it should be in good time if it is ready, bound, etc., for distribution at the time of the meeting of the Trades Congress.

I am making my arrangements on the basis I have outlined and am doing my utmost between times to get thase two articles in shape. If the arrangement does not meet with your approval, however, I should like to know as soon as possible, by return mail, if you can manage it conveniently, as I want to get out the table of contents for the August number, and to get material in shape before I leave about the middle of August.

This is a hard matter of fact business communication for inflicting which at this juncture I owe you an apology.

Your letter of several days ago came to hand this morning and I can assure you was very very much appreciated. I shall not refer further to it, here until I attempt to get a chance to write you to-night or to-morrow.

OTTAWA July 22nd 190 I.

My Dear Rex:

Yours of the I9th July just received,and I am getting off this line this afternoon.

In regard to the movements of the Ministers: Dr. Coulter had a letter from Mr.Mulock this morning,in which the P.M.G. stated that he would be leaving England on the I0th August,which would mean that he would reach here between the I8th and 20th. Dr. Coulter,by the way,asked me to remember him to you. Mr.Sutherland left Ottawa a few days after you did,and the result is that I have been running the Department to the best of my ability pretty much off my own bat ever since,adhering of course,very closely to the precedents and policy which you have laid down.

With regard to Mr.Sutherland's speech and the Table of Contents,copies of each are being sent you under separate cover.

Arrangements have already been made for the translation and proper paging of the French Gazette and the Index. The requisition for the index in French has not yet gone down,and I shall make it 5.000 copies,as you direct. I have already made arrangements to have the Table of Contents mailed to subscribers with this month's Gazette.

I am also sending you a copy of the blank form which you asked for.

With regard to the binding of the Gazette,I am afraid we are going to have a difficulty in having volumnes of uniform paper. It was only a couple of days ago that I learned of the fact that the I00 copies of each issue were being struck off on white paper of the better class. In some way or other it has come about that the numbers for January and February on the white paper,have not been preserved. Fortunately we have discovered a small bundle of the February number in white,which will probably be sufficient to answer our purposes so far as that month is concerned. January remains a problem,and unless I can succeed in getting together the three copies of that issue in white,I am afraid we will be forced to bind in the 9 copies of one style and one of the other. I shall. however,before doing this,take a look through the odd lots lying about,and possibly I may be able to get enough among the copies which we took down to the house. In any case I shall do the best

I can. It would be impossible to get a unfi~~dm~~ set in the second style of paper,inasmuch as the first entire issue in the first four months was apparently run off in the better style of paper. However,in the meantime I shall give directions for the covers~~ϕ~~ so that there will be no delay in getting off the three copies you speak of. I shall make a special effort to try and get one there before you leave.

I am sending you by this mail copies of the July number which was delayed a day or two longer than I expected.owing to the fact that the cover for binding ran out,and a new supply had to be secured. I think you will agree with me that the July number is quite up to the mark. I made an effort throughout to hold stuff down,and succeeded in getting the correspondence into something less than 20 pages. I have tried also the experiment of introducing "minion type" which I find a good way of saving space.

The month has been a busy one,but I am feeling in fairly good shape,the result,I think,of spending the nights at Kingsmere. I have several times ridden in from the hill,and once last week made a record on the run by coming in from the house there to the office in 55 minutes,and that without the necessity of taking a bath at this end. I might add that it was a fairly cool morning.

But must close in order to get this off this afternoon.

Most Sincerely Yours

Bert

OTTAWA 26th July, 1901.

Dear Rex/-

I was very glad to receive your letter this morning and have noted particularly what you say in regard to using the material respecting trade unions. I thoroughly agree with you that we owe it to ourselves and to the LABOUR GAZETTE to use as much of the material as possible in the GAZETTE and my only reason for suggesting the course I referred to was a desire to have a complete directory available for distribution at the Trade Union Congress.

When we consider the amount of material which we will have available for the Departmental report or GAZETTE supplement on this subject I think it would be impossible to publish the available information in the GAZETTE in the next two numbers and I did not think you would like to repeat the information regarding the locality,name of organization,Secretary and Secretary's address in a fuller compilation. ~~of the~~ latter.However,on thinking the matter over I do not see that there would be any great objection to our doing this and I am having the Printing Bureau strike me off a proof of 3 or 4 sample lines in order to discover the space which will likely be taken up by a directory containing 4 columns,giving this information.

I think that we should be able to get these 4 columns on a single page set down the page,the long way.This set in brevier type (the style used in our wages tables) would permit of about 70 or 80 lines to the page and would enable us to get an abbreviated directory(which should be sufficient for the purposes of the Congress,if the other is not available in time)into about 12 or 13 pages of the LABOUR GAZETTE. I ~~shall be~~ make an effort to have the table so constituted ready for the August number of the GAZETTE.

With regard to the order of the articles on trade union legislation and history of trade unionism,I suggest the running of the legislation article first,for two reasons: firstly,because the material being in the statutes I could get the work out at once and thus have the position of the unions under the law clearly in mind

Volume 3

CANADA

OTTAWA 190

mind before dealing with the development of the trade union movement itself,and secondly,because in the article on the development of trade unionism I had hoped to make a review of the present standing and distribution (brief ~~review~~) of the labour organizations in Canada having regard for example to the number of them registered under various Acts,the number giving insurance benefits,etc.etc.

To do this would require my having ready at hand the approximately complete returns from the various unions which I do not hope to have before about the end of the month.

However, I shall try and have both articles finished by the first week in August and there will then be ample time to use either one in the August GAZETTE and if we decide to use the abbreviated directory,as referred to by you in the August number,both of the articles might be postponed.

With regard to labour legislation I count upon using the article on railway legislation in the August number. I have also another article on labour legislation in course of preparation which I hope to have ready for the September number.

Whether or not it would be advisable to publish the abbreviated directory in the August number will,I think,depend upon the completeness of our returns. What I propose is to have the tables set forth the locality,name of organization and fill in opposite these names particulars regarding the secretary and secretary's address,as these particulars are available. I think that by the end of the first week in August we shall have the returns approximately complete in at least these four particulars. I would like also to have run the names and addresses of the presidents of the several unions,but this would require two additional columns which would require the setting of the table across the page. This would mean that the article would occupy ~~near~~ about 20 pages of the GAZETTE and I fear would be rather too heavy.

I am afraid that what I have said may have lacked coherence somewhat,but to briefly outline what I think would be the best course, in view of what you have said,I would suggest that we publish in the August number a directory giving the locality,organization,name of secretary and secretary's address,an article which should be acceptable to the Trades Congress. In the meantime I shall do my utmost to have ready both reading articles to go with the directory so

CANADA

Dic.A.

so that should we decide differently later we can have one of these articles available for use in the August number and one in the September one, should we use the directory itself in the August number. I am working on this understanding.

After careful search I have found it impossible to get hold of copies of the January number of the LABOUR GAZETTE on the finer paper and I shall be forced to bind the nine numbers in one kind of paper with the January number in another. However, I have paid a visit to the Bureau and had a talk with the head of the binding department who tells me that by lightly tinging the edges of the paper with a fine reddish speckling, the appearance of the volumes will be improved, the discoloration due to fading and shelf use guarded against and the difference in colour of the paper, so far as outside appearances are concerned, avoided.

Volume 1 with the index bound in, with the arrangements I have made, prove a very respectable book.

The only die for printing on leather which we have is that which was used for the little certificates issued to Correspondents. This is much too large for printing on a volume of the size of that made by the LABOUR GAZETTE and in any case would not serve for any printing with the heavy pressure work required upon the binding of the volumes.

As the Department is likely to require considerable binding in future I have ordered a die bearing the crest of the Department as upon our letter paper (sample ~~enclosed~~ sent) with which we will stamp in gold the volumes now being bound. The man at the Bureau has promised me to use all despatch and I hope to be able to get you a bound volume by the close of next week.

I was pleased to see that your holidays continue to be pleasant and sincerely hope that the task which goes with them will not operate to ~~enhance the difficulty will be~~ to you.

You need not worry about an early return. I shall of course be glad and much relieved to see you back, but think I can manage to keep the ball rolling in the meantime.

I fear, my dear Rex, that this letter is anything but a refreshing holiday draught but part of your prerogative as Deputy Minister is to neutralize the benefit of the rest

OTTAWA July 27th 190 I.

My Dear Rex:

With reference to your note of July 24th,I may say I agree with you that the mistakes in proof-reading in the article on trade disputes are unfortunate. The error at page 62 was due to repetition in filling in blanks in the copy, a fact which is not very extraordinary in view of the rush involved in the completion of the table at the very last minute. A foot note in the next issue will set it right. The error on page 66- "Trade disputes of the month of 'May'" is due entirely to carelessness at the Bureau. The tables were made up at the Bureau,and the mistake did not occur in the proof sent to us. Some little re-arrangement was made in the arrangement of the table at the Bureau at the last moment in order to gain space,and apparently they have made the mistake at that time.

re Guelph correspondent: No report came from Guelph. Instead we received,acknowledged and accepted the resignation of the Guelph correspondent. Mr.Callander is unable to continue his duties there, but has promised his good will throughout. The cheque was not sent to him.

No report came from Ryan of Three Rivers,and the cheque in this case was also held.

Several days ago the Department received a report from Bremner in the nature of a monthly report on labour conditions in British Columbia. This report,as it in no way relates to his duties as Alien Labour Act officer,I have not seen fit to acknowledge,but retain it among the papers for your consideration. I believe he has been sending such reports monthly,in order,I imagine to keep up his bluff as Labour Commissioner. This is the only communication which we have had from him.

I sent you a copy of the Table of Contents several days ago. It was omitted from the first bundle of papers sent to you. It is being sent out with the Gazette for July. I am sending you an additional half dozen copies of the Table of Contents by this mail.

I have under my hand the Globe editorial of July 22nd,and thoroughly agree with you that it contains a first-rate review of the situation as far as the trackmen's strike is concerned. So far no request has been received from either party for intervention under the Conciliation Act. There has been considerable correspondence in connection with the importation of Italians in British Columbia,which I need not enter into here,as the men who wrote and telegraphed to us appear to be satisfied with the Department's statement regarding the provisions of the amended Act. Into the details of this correspondence we can go uponyour return.

I have to thank you very much for your thoughtful reference to myself. I may say that I have been kept pretty busy,but I am feeling in fairly good form,and will doubtless appreciate a holiday more,when I get it.

We had a scorcher of a month in July,but at last managed to move the Public Works Department to the extent of filling your order for an ice-water filter,just as the hottest of it was over! Oh!the ways of Departments are slow.

There are a heap of matters,personal and other,which I shall reserve for you personally. I shall try and get time to write to you to-morrow.

Most sincerely yours,

I had further several illustrations since you went away of the insidious influence of contemptible, unscrupulous, self seeking tricksters both in and out of Labour circles who are doing their utmost to set the work of the Department at naught.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR

OTTAWA 31st July, 1901.

Dear Rex/-

Your letter of July 28th has just been received and I have noted what you have stated regarding the trade union directory, and the matter of the other articles for the August number.

With regard to the latter I may say that the series relating to Agriculture has been completed and I think it would be wise to publish one of the articles re directory in the August number. However, this is a matter which we can discuss on your return. I shall have an article ready in any case.

I think your decision respecting the publication of the directory separately is a wise one and falls in perfectly with my own view in the first instance. The information is being tabulated in accordance with your plan and should be in fairly good shape by the time of your return.

My idea in cutting out the presidents address, etc., was simply a compromise with a view of carrying out your suggestion of getting an abbreviated directory into a single number of the GAZETTE. The enlarged form is of course much more complete, but as you will see, it will require to be set in two pages or on the long way of a page, thus taking up more space. However, this is not an objection if we have the space available in a separate supplement.

Regarding the bound volume I am making a big effort to get a copy ready by to-morrow afternoon's mail, but if I cannot manage it it will doubtless be ready by Saturday and can be mailed by you yourself upon your return.

As to the appearance of "Price three cents" on the Index, I have already explained this to you in a previous letter. The error does not appear on the French copy and would not have in the English if it had not been for a stupid addition made by the Bureau on its own responsibility.

Re subscriptions: They have been coming in regularly although not in alarmingly large numbers. It is rather an interesting fact that the first renewal subscription arrived this morning from the E.B.Eddy Company. I think it is a source of satisfaction to know that although the GAZETTE is probably of greatest advantage to workingmen it has not so far given reason to excite the prejudice of the employing classes.

Mr.Ardouin has practically completed the library directory.Indeed everything has been done that can be prior to the assorting of the cards in the case,a complete list having been compiled.

I enclose you herewith your cheque for July. Those sent to you by Mr.Johnstone for signature had not arrived until up to this morning;upon reaching here they will be cancelled Mr.Johnstone having decided to issue duplicates instead of delaying the staff's salaries.

One other thing: re sample copies. I have set aside the entire supply of back numbers in sets.I think the number of sets is in the neighbourhood of 1000 English and 300 French. There are a considerable number of extra copies of several of the numbers,but the staff has been so busily occupied that I have not been able to do anything in the way of sending these out as sample copies.

Dubreuil has had his hands full with the directory and work in the back office,whilst Williams has been busy helping in getting out circulars and the GAZETTE in the absence of Andrews,who, as you know,did not return until Monday last from his holidays.

I am also,looking forward eagerly for your return. The past month has been an instructive one to me and there are many things which I would like to discuss with you and which,necessarily, cannot find place in a semi-business communication like this. I may be able to drop you a line in the course of the evening if I get time.

something of the movements as we progress. From the itineraary card I find that we are to be in Halifax twice. We are to arrive there at 6 p.m. on Thursday, August 22nd, spend Friday morning there, leaving at 3 p.m. for a trip through the Annapolis Valley. We return to Halifax at midnight on Saturday, the 24th and spend Sunday there leaving at 10 p.m. for St. John N.B. Sunday 25th is to be left pretty much to ourselves and I think I shall take advantage of the opportunity of calling upon Mrs Hovrigg's sister then.

I was very sorry I missed Mrs H. - this afternoon - She has been exceedingly good to me during your absence - She has a great heart and a pure mind and I hope you will be great friends. Dear Bert:

I hope that you are having a very pleasant trip,as I am sure you are from the fact that there has been no communication from you tothe contrary,and from what Max has had to say in one or two dispatches which he has sent home.

Mr.Mulock returned to Ottawa Thursday,and I spent Thursday night at his room with him. He was asking about you and wished me to thank you for your good wishes to him. He looks very much pulled down,and like a man who had undergone a great deal of suffering. He is much thinner and older I think,in appearance. His arm is in a sling,which of course,adds to his sorry appearance. I felt quite badly,when talking with him,to see the evident change which this illness has made upon him. I do not think he recognizes the fact himself,and I am sure would not like anyone else to have the impression that he is poorly,but he is certainly much pulled down. He expressed himself as very much pleased with the way the Department had been carried on during his absence,and he approved of everything which we have done,especially the stand taken in regard to the Alien Labour law,and the replies which have been sent to enquirers. He is also very much in earnest about the Fair Wages business,and intends to stir up Council in reference to it. He is well-pleased with the Gazette,and quite delighted with the presentation copy. He has asked me to have a similar one made up to be sent by him to the Premier of the new Australian Commonwealth. He spoke of the labour situation in Australia at some length and I think his trip there has made him more interested than ever in labour matters. He says everything is labour in Australia,but at the present time a reaction has set in against the labour element. They have gone too far with their "compulsory" measures. Mr.Mulock also approves of the stand we have taken in regard to the Conciliation Act and the C.P.R. strike. He also supports us in our attitude regarding Bremner,and has decided to get rid of him at once.

I have been giving a good deal of time to the Trade Union Directory. It was necessary to go over the whole thing from beginning,as the classification of trades was not complete enough and the information very much wanting in parts. It would be quite impossible to have the whole directory prepared by September,without having it very incomplete,and I have therefore decided to put it in instalments in the Labour Gazette. I am writing to the secretaries of individual trade unions where returns have not been sent in,to our own correspondents,and to individuals for information

Volume 3

CANADA

in regard to each union,and by taking it up in this thorough manner by instalments,I think the total result will be much better than if anything were sacrificed for other ends.

I received a telegram from Nelson,B.C. that the instructions of the Department of Public Works were not being carried out in regard to working the builders' labourers eight hours per day, so I at once communicated this dispatch to the Department of Public Works,and they telegraphed that unless their instructions were complied with in 24 hours,the progress estimates of the contractor would be interfered with. I told the union to wire me if there was any further delay,and as no wire has come,I imagine the contractors have complied with the instructions they received.

Dubreuil is at present in Montreal,investigating a complaint in regard to an alleged violation of the Fair Wages schedule,and I think it probable that O'Donoghue may go to Quebec in a few days to investigate a grievance there.

I am getting to work on the annual report,as the Minister wishes to have it down to the printers as soon as possible. The Gazette will be issued at the end of next week,and everything is running smoothly.

We have been having a very pleasant time in the country. Mrs.Herridge and mother drove into town with the "dromedary" on Thursday last,and we spent the night with Mrs.Herridge. We have been doing a little reading,and have had some interesting walks through the woods.

Percy Ashley,a brother of Professor Ashley,spent last Sunday with me at the farm and was here part of Saturday and Monday.

I have been searching the town every noon for suitable rooms. One of the best places I have seen is Mrs.Cassels' house, where we could get four rooms on the second floor,all of which are very pleasant,and at a fairly reasonable rate. She is the mother, or step-mother of Miss May Cassels,a friend of the Misses Burbidge, and when I saw the photo of the former on the piano.I thought it was about time to stop considering the matter further! For this and other reasons I thought it would be well for us to go elsewhere if opportunity presents. The best thing I have seen is a house on Somerset street,not far from that of Mrs.Herridge,where we would be able to get the front part of the house upstairs,and in fact the whole second floor,with the exception of one room,if we desire it. I would prefer,however,having the front drawing-room downstairs and three rooms upstairs,rather than having the four

Volume 3

on the second floor. It may be difficult to secure this,as the landlady does not wish to give up the front parlour,but I think if offered a reasonable amount she would be inclined to do so. I am prepared to go as high as $18 or $20,if you will go to $15 if necessary in order to secure these rooms. They face the south,and are beautiful rooms in every respect,newly papered and well-furnished. The house is a new one,and we would be the only roomers in it. Mrs.Herridge told me of it,and she thinks there is no better place in Ottawa,and I am inclied to agree with her. Mrs. Wyatt will not consider anything under $35 for her front and back parlour and two rooms on the top floor,although I tried her at $32. Every room in the house on Somerset street is better than Mrs.Wyatt's rooms,and I think we would be much more comfortable there. Please let me know what you think of this matter as soon as you get this letter.

on the second floor. It may be difficult to secure this,as the landlady does not wish to give up the front parlour,but I think if offered a reasonable amount she would be inclined to do so. I am prepared to go as high as $18 or $20,if you will go to $15 if necessary in order to secure these rooms. They face the south,and are beautiful rooms in every respect,newly papered and well-furnished. The house is a new one,and we would be the only roomers in it. Mrs.Herridge told me of it,and she thinks there is no better place in Ottawa,and I am inclied to agree with her. My dear Rt.-

I found your very welcome letter awaiting me when I reached Halifax on Thursday night but as I have been so much occupied since that I have not had time to write even a brief note in reply. I We have been over so much ground and have seen so much that I seem to have been travelling all my life & within the last few days however I am getting accustomed to the irregular hours, shortage of sleep and other disagreeable things incidental to such excursions as ours and a trip to Australia or the North Pole will have few terrors for me. The trip has taken us through the most interesting portions of New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia & I have been delighted with everything that I have seen and had learned much regarding the Economic position of this important section of the Dominion & Our itinerary leaves us little time to loiter by the way and the completeness of our arrangements makes it important to stay with the crowd to a much greater extent than I expected & Still I have managed to discover much that is picturesque and instructive regarding the life of the people in the various districts we have gone through and have stored up many impressions which I hope to discuss with you upon my return. I could not attempt to go into them now.

Mac and I have been thrown much together during the trip and I have grown to know and to like him much better than before. I am thoroughly convinced that he has a bright future before him. We have been sleeping together at the various hotels en route and are looked upon as one of the pairs of the party. We spent a pleasant afternoon with the Davies' at Charlottetown.

I have to thank you for the cards of introduction. Unfortunately, it has not been possible for me to use them. The Patullos did not turn up and when we were at the Sydneys our programme was too fully occupied to enable me to look up the gentlemen you referred to. However I met a number of the best informed and most influential people in the place and found out about all there was to know, about it.

I had a pleasant time with Johnson and Kendall both of whom I knew quite well and to both of whom I conveyed your regards. They both send you their kindest.

Re. the House - Should nothing better turn up I would be quite satisfied with the proposal which you had made to Mrs Wyatt provided I could have one of the larger rooms up stairs. The small one would be somewhat crowded considering the little space available in the back parlour for storing stuff. However that is a matter of detail and I am quite prepared to ~~check by~~ any arrangement which you ~~might~~ may make either with Mrs W. or Elsewhere.

I think perhaps I shall return to Ottawa for a day or part of a day before going on to Barrie in order to clear up this lodging question ~~here~~ and any other matters which require attention. I shall however write you again if I decide to do so.

I must close now however as I had a busy day before me. With kindest regards to you mother Mrs Herriott and the others.

Always yours most sincerely

Dear Rex.

I have to thank you very much for your welcome letter with enclosures and the bundles of papers which came to hand today.

Ever since I heard of the death of your mother's sister I have intended writing you, but I knew that your father & Mac will convey my sympathy and furthermore I knew Rex that you understand that when sorrow crosses your path, your sorrow is mine just as is your happiness. I did not know this Mackenzie but I know the wrenching of the heart strings which comes when one she is close to us is taken away and I feel deeply with you and particularly with your mother in the loss which you have sustained. I can only repeat to you the message which you sent to me when all that I held dearest on earth seemed to have passed out of it. There is no death. Life is eternal and makes towards perfection & those whom we look upon, as are the more linked to that greater, larger, deeper spiritual life which is within us and about us but which passes our human comprehension. The very air in which I write is filled with a thousand associations which bring me into the closest sympathy with those who have passed through the valley of the Shadow & Were you here tonight dear Rex I might make myself intelligible in a way in which I cannot hope to in a letter & As I have sat here looking out over the bay with which I am so familiar my boyhood and my youth have passed before me, and these as well as the hopes and aspirations of early manhood are so closely associated with the deeds & ties which guarded and nourished all that was good in them that I could not recognize myself were I not convinced of their continued existence and their living interest in all that I cherish that is worthy. This afternoon I stood before the grate where with you I spent an hour which stands out as a milestone in my life and tonight I thank God that we have been enabled to accomplish something of what we then contemplated and that we have before us opportunity of usefulness beyond what we could have imagined as we stood there upon the threshold of life.

who are becoming the framers of the opinion of the town and who are being sobered by a knowledge of the stern realities of life — Many thoughts which have been coursing through my mind I should like to discuss with you upon my return.

I am glad you have decided to take the Cape house for there at can settle down without misgivings and look forward to a healthy, happy and profitable winter in which I hope we will both be able to accomplish much. I feel much indebted to you for having taken upon yourself all the worry and work in con-is sacred to me through the associations which float through my mind as I breathe it. My visit here has been like a pause in a quiet and familiar Eddy in the stream of life and I feel that it has done me good — It has strengthened me in my resolutions and it has enabled me to see many things more clearly — Barrie is a quaint, quiet, old place which "has gone half way up the hill and then sat down" but down here I see throbbing changing life. If, as you say, the Copies will not be ready for us before the middle of the week you needn't bother about any staff as I shall have plenty of time to look after it myself. My sisters are very anxious that I shd spend Sunday with them and as I have some business to see to in Toronto I do not see how I can very well get to Ottawa before Monday night (arriving there Tuesday morning). I have written to you father however to ask what your mother's plans are and if it wd suit her better to go on Sunday night I shall endeavour to go with her as it wd be a great pleasure to me to have her under my charge. From present indications I think we will reach there on Tuesday morning. You need not bother meeting the train as I shall take you mother to the Sherbrooke for breakfast, probably calling first at 202 Maria to leave our luggage. We will probably not be in a hurry about leaving the car so that if you are in town we might meet at breakfast say about eight o'clock.

On train C.P.R. about fifty miles east of Winnipeg,Man.

Nov. 6th,I90I.

My Dear Bert:

We expect to arrive in Winnipeg in less than half an hour. We left Toronto on Monday noon,arriving at North Bay about IO P M. Had a good night's sleep and a pleasant day yesterday. The scenery along the north shore of Lake Superior is exceptionally fine and very much like what one sees along the shore of the Mediterreanean At Toronto I met Lt.Gov. McMillan of Manitoba,and have had several talks with en route. He has invited me to lunch with him at Government House to-day,and as there is a stop over in Winnipeg of about six hours,I have accepted his invitation. We leave again about four P.M. this afternoon.

We have decided to change our route and go via Banff to Revelstoke. If there are any telegrams which you wish to send they will reach us there on Friday night. We stay at the C.P.R. Hotel over night in Revelstoke,and will arrive in Rossland probably on Saturday.

Giddens and myself are both exceptionally well,and feel the benefit of the rest on the way. Have not time to write more now,as we are just at the station.

With best regards,I am ever,

My dear Rex/-

I have been so busy since you left that I have found it impossible to get a letter off to you and even now I have only time for a brief note to let you know that things have been running smoothly in the Department,although we have had quite enough to do in the matter of getting out the stuff for the GAZETTE,etc.,

All of the copy of the GAZETTE except the editorial notice and intro. to trade union directory went down yesterday morning (5th inst) and the balance I took down myself at an early hour this morning,so that we have had a good start this month.

I am enclosing you a note of congratulation which came from Mr.Mulock and also a letter marked"personal"from Toronto. I am enclosing you herewith a copy of this morning's "Citizen" which, as you will see,has a kindly personal reference to your esteemed friend and bookcase constructor,Mr.Flemming.

Flemming's foreman called here yesterday and stated that he would try and arrange to get hold of material,etc.,so that you will not be disappointed in the matter of the completion of your case. I will undertake to look after your interest in that regard.

I have to thank you for your very kind letter written from Toronto and for the good wishes sent by your people. Regarding the enclosure,the Valleyfield article was duly re-written and incorporated in the GAZETTE copy and the letter for Mr.Mulock addressed and forwarded.

I shall try to get time to write you further during the day.This hasty note is simply intended to report progress and to let you know that all,is well.

Many of your friends here have spoken regarding your trip to Rossland and all agree that you will be able to effect a settlement if such a thing is possible. I need not add that you have my best wishes.

I sincerely trust that the power of righteousness is real among men and that your prophecy may be fulfilled.

Ever my dear Rex

On the C.P.R. crossing the prairie, near the country of the foot-hills.

Nov. 7th,I90I.

Dear Bert:

We have now had two days of the prairie,and expect in the morning to get the first glimpses of the mountain scenery. The journey has been extremely interesting,and is passing altogether too quickly away. I am delighted with the North-west,and more proud of Canada than I ever was before. This morning our train was delayed for some three hours at Moosejaw,but this gave us opportunity to take a seven mile walk on the prairie. I can assure you that it was most thoroughly enjoyable

I had a very delightful time in Winnipeg,where I had lunch with the Lt.Governor,Col.McMillan,and spent part of the afternoon with Ralph Connor. I have been reading his books,and find him quite as entertaining as they are. He is a very natural earnest man,an one who I am sure will have a great influence for good on the future of this country. He has invited me to spend the night with him on my way back,and this I will probably do. When you see Dr.Herridge please tell him of this,and thank him again for me for the letter which he was kind enough to give me. While inWinnipeg I went into the Bank of Commerce to see Percy Jory. He is looking exceedingly well,and wished me to give his best regards to you.

You will be pleased to hear that Mr.Ackland is among the passengers on board. He is going through to the coast,and may possibly be returning at the same time as ourselves. We have some interesting men on board,among others a young Englishman who was interested in the Le Roi mines,and is going direct to Rossland,and another,an extremely fine fellow,a former member of the Strathcona Horse.

After reaching Rossland I will write you again. Meanwhile,adieu,

Yours most sincerely,

DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR CANADA

OTTAWA 7th November,1901.

My dear Rex/-

I have nothing very extraordinary to report up to the present. The staff has its hands full but I think we will be able to worry along.

The second instalment of proof for the annual report, galleys 5 to 9 inclusive,came to hand to-day and I am sending you a copy by this mail. I am also sending you,at the Minister's request, his copy of the first four galleys upon which you will see that he has indicated a number of corrections.

I am also sending you at Mr.Mulock's request a copy of the letter sent by him to the manager of the LeRoi Mines. The original of this amended letter ~~to the Manager of LeRoi from Mr.Mulock~~ I forwarded to British Columbia immediately on receiving it.The letter was exactly as enclosed with the changes indicated.

The Order in Council re authority for signing cheques came to hand this afternoon and I will have it put through to-morrow morning so as to be ready for contingencies.

I am also enclosing you a letter which came to hand to-day from the Registrar of the University of Toronto and an account from the Rideau Club.

Dubeyruil returned this morning from St.John and his reports upon the Quebec and St.John contracts clear up the situation at these two places.

A number of other contracts for P.O.D.supplies have been brought to my attention and I have found it necessary in a couple of cases,in order to protect this Department,to wire our Correspondents for current rates of wages before initialling the tenders. From the returns that are coming in I do not anticipate any great difficulty although I see the wisdom of our having,as you suggest,carefully compiled schedules showing the conditions of the various trades,prepared before tenders are called for.

The Burbidge-Ormsby wedding came of in due form yesterday afternoon and was a most pronounced success. A number of people expressed regret at your absence. In the evening a little group including the bridesmaids and a few others were invited over to the Davies' where we spent a very pleasant evening. Lady Davies inquired about you and expressed her best wishes for your success in British Columbia.

Most cordially yours,

My dear Rex,

I have been flying westward with you all the while weighing up in my mind the chances of the success of your mission & it may be that this proneness to speculate upon the outcome of an issue in the future, but where one's feelings are so nearly concerned one cannot but do it & each time my thoughts have turned to the subject of your mission to the coast my conclusion has been the same - you must succeed. Today - the first breathing spell which I have had since you left - as I walked home in the bright sunlight and the brisk air the conclusion has become conviction & I do not attempt to disguise the difficulties which confront you & indeed perhaps, I rather than justify them & Two camps of organized self in the act confront each other & Reminiscences, bitterness and passion have much sway in each & But your strength lies in the fact that what you seek is fairness, truth and justice as well as the promotion of industrial peace, and the country's welfare. "Speak to his heart", says Emerson, "and the man becomes suddenly virtuous". My dear Rex I assure you it is not the prejudice of a friendship, which makes me desire you more than I care to confess, that tells me that it is not the strong arm of the commission which will issue at your direction, nor get the fear of public opinion, that is your strongest weapon in this important crisis; but the commanding influence of a high minded man lead moved by noble impulses and unalloyed by selfish motive. Success must crown your efforts.

This work has been an instructive one in many ways. You have doubtless noticed the conclusion of the Canadian Manufacturers Assoc^{n} with regard to the Labour Gazette and the Department's work generally. The decision though not unexpected, is an evidence which I had with him on Friday assured me that it ought not to be carried over the verdict of the C.M. Assocn - "It", as he put it, "A department which stands for the recognition of the rights of workingmen cannot expect to be popular with selfish employers". Speaking of the comparison made between the Canadian & U.S. Depts, I urged upon him the importance of the publication of a Monthly Gazette as a means of making effective of how much must be done before men whose business principles are but a reflection of their personal interests as they conceive them, can be brought to see that right reason will not be satisfied by any industrial scheme which leaves out of account consideration for the well being of the great mass of the people.

a policy which depends for its sanction upon public opinion. We agreed with me and added. They talk of a quarterly publication.
Sometimes they say be better satisfied still if there were no publication at all.

Mr Fielding's opinion was not necessary in order to reassure me in the matter of the C.M.A. criticism. The judgment which is really important is that of one's own conscience. Mine tells me that however imperfect our work may have been, however much there may be room for improvement, what we have done has not been unin-advisable, especially when the difficulties under which we have laboured are considered.
I am confident that the broad lines of policy which we have followed are right and that our work, as our knowledge of existing conditions increases, will be of more & more value to the workmen of Canada and to the country generally.

OTTAWA 11th November,1901.

My dear Rex/- re binding GAZETTE.

I have this morning a letter from Atwell Fleming,of Hunter,Rose & Co.,in which he says:-

"You state in a former letter that you would notify the post office here to furnish us with bags to take the books to Ottawa. We think,however,that the same should be packed in cases and shipped to you in the ordinary way,as we fear that shipping them in mail bags they will not reach you in first.class condition".

After reading this letter I had a talk with Dr.Coulter who tells me that unless a ruling which he has made is overridden it will not be possible to have these bound volumes sent to this Department free even when packed in mail bags,this decision having been reached in order to meet a demand made upon the P.O.Department by the railway companies for an increased grant in view of this practice of shipping merchandize from outside establishments.

Apart from the unwisdom of bringing the question to a head in this particular instance in view of the possibility in future of having the GAZETTE printed outside,I think the reason given by the Hunter,Rose & Co.,to be sufficient to justify the Department in having the books packed in cases and sent to the Department by freight inasmuch as this course will guarantee the arrival in first rate condition.

I think that from something that Dr.Coulter let drop in our conversation that if we go about it right the difficulty in the matter of shipping the GAZETTE from an outside point may be overcome without raising the issue which would arise in the event of shipping the bound volumes from a publishing house in Toronto.

I have written Mr.Fleming telling him that I would withhold instructions in the matter until I heard from you and I would like,if on receiving this,you would wire me in the premises. If I do not hear from you before Saturday noon next I will write to Hunter,Rose & Co.,advising them to have the books packed in cases and sent to the Department by freight,so that if you agree with me in the course I propose it will not be necessary for you to telegraph as I will take silence for consent and do not think it would be wise to leave the matter standing longer than next Saturday at the latest. There are several other matters which I hope to get time to write you about later in the day,but am rushing this to catch to-day's mail.

My dear Rex/-

I am sending you under separate cover the proof of the annual report so far as it has been read by the Minister and your father. I shall also attempt to get through my instalment of the proof to-day and may have something to add before this letter is mailed. I may say that in his personal letter to me covering the report Mr.Mulock said: "The report will read very well and shows much labour in its preparation". Apparently he is well satisfied,as indeed he may well be,with the work done by the Department during its first year.

I am sending you by this mail a letter which came from your father under cover to me. In his personal note your father informs me that Mack is to be here at the end of this week to play with the Argonauts against the Rough Riders and I shall look forward to a visit from him during his stay in the city.

Yesterday I received from the Department of Finance a letter from Mr.W.L.McDonald,the Vice President of the Miners' Union,Rossland, addressed to the Receiver General and making application for 50% of the fines in the case of the King vs Geiser. I laid the matter before Mr. Newcombe,the Deputy Minister of Justice,who informed me that if it be shown that the case was no longer pending and that no further appeal was in progress nor contemplated he could see no reason why the request should not be granted. At his suggestion I wrote to Mr.McDonald asking him to have the counsel for the union in the case prepare a statement showing the progress of the case and that it has been finally determined,to forward same to me and that upon receiving this information I would immediately bring it to the attention of the Attorney General in order that he may advise the Receiver General in the matter of the application for part of the fine. I thought it wise to bring this matter to your attention,first because it is the first case where an application of this nature has been made,and,second,because it is not unlikely that you will be approached by the union in the matter when there and it is just as well to have the ruling of the Justice Department at your disposal.

Yesterday I received from the Privy Council Office a copy of an Order in Council announcing that the appropriation for the enforcement of the Alien Labour Act taken in the estimates of the current year in the Department of Justice has been placed under the control of the Department of Labour as was done in regard to last year's estimate.

As the result of a telegram sent by Mr.Fielding at my suggestion Mr.Roche,M.P.,has recommended Mr.Frederick W.Smith of the "Acadian Recorder",Halifax,as Correspondent for the LABOUR GAZETTE for that city and district. From inquiries which I have made regarding this man go to show that he is a very competent man. He is also president of the local Typographical Union and should make a first rate man. I am writing to Mr.Mulock to-day forwarding Roche's recommendation in this matter and immediately upon receiving Mr.Mulock's reply I shall notify Smith of his appointment in the usual way.

It has just occurred to me that in the rush before you went away we neglected to put that fur cap into your box. If I thought it would be of use to you I would send it on even now but from what I can learn you would scarcely use it and in any case I fear by the time it reached reached Rossland you would have left for the coast. Doubtless if you run into an Arctic streak of weather you will be able to negotiate for the temporary use of somebody's furs.

By the way when you are in Vancouver it might be well to draw Mr.Bartley's attention to a statement which appeared in his paper re the Department and which has had considerable circulation among the papers throughout the country which have been carrying on warfare against the Department. I am sending you herewith a copy of "Citizen and Country" in which I have marked a quotation from Bartley's paper,the Vancouver Independent",and which the Citizen and Country no doubt quotes approvingly. In the same issue you will see an article "To prevent strikes in future". Wrigley wrote me re this matter asking for a statement regrading the Valleyfield settlement. In reply I told him that a full account of that settlement would appear in the November number of the LABOUR GAZETTE,which was already in press,and respectfully drew his attention to the same when he received it in due course.

By this time you will doubtless have had a chance of forming an opinion,at least in a rough way,of the prospects for the settlement of the strike and I shall eagerly await information from you in connection with the matter.

Most sincerely yours,

My dear Rex/-

Your letters posted at Toronto,Winnipeg and Calgary arrived in due course and were enjoyed in turn. I was particularly pleased to see that despite the worry of the task in hand you are open to impressions of the magnificent country through which you passed.

Indeed,the best patriotism is that which is prompted by a knowledge of the possibilities of one's country and an earnest desire to realize these possibilities. Much of the greatness which one must look for in the future of Canada is to be attributed to the wide diversification of interests arising from her immense area and widely varying conditions. Herein also,as you will doubtless realize more strongly in British Columbia than at any time heretofore,lies the problem for those who attempt to guide her footsteps.

I think you will find by no means the least interesting part of your visit an acquaintance with the attitude of mind on public questions which seems to be necessarily associated with life on the other side of the Rockies.

And Canada cannot for Imperial as well as for national reasons afford to have a little Ireland or a little Queensland as a side partner living next door.

There is nothing striking in the correspondence this morning. Mr.Fielding has endorsed Roche's nomination of Smith as Correspondent for Halifax and Mr.Sutherland that of Messrs. Goetz and Brown of Westbrook for Stratford. These matters I have submitted to the Minister for his final ruling.

Most sincerely yours,

My dear Rex,-

You must not take my official notes daily as a measure of my interest in your affairs here, & your progress there, & your thoughtfulness in writing me such refreshing letters as these which you have written to-day. Let me thank you for these letters, Rex, & may they take me with you as you go through that worldly grand country, the very thought of which makes the heart of a true Canadian bound with pride. The dating of your last, "in the country of the foothills" made me think how eagerly you must be looking forward to the prospect of the mountains. Perhaps you were fortunate enough to see them in the storm glory of a white sunset. These things like great pictures and noble thoughts leave a permanent impress upon one's life, and I rejoice that the path of duty has led you through so much that is beautiful and sublime.

But Lord, I am probably several chapters behind your present mental atmosphere, for by and you will be wrapped up in the affairs of a mining town, interested in its mushroom growth, its throbbing ill digested life and in the main object of your mission, the strike.

Perhaps it is this very mission of yours which has set my mind so strongly latterly upon the question of ~~human~~ duty. This afternoon, Harry, Jas Knight and I took a long walk in the frosty air - for winter has gripped Ottawa hard, ice covers the ground, ponds are frozen and the sky is stern and grey - and I found myself driven to turn conversation along this line - Is it because the church has so far drifted from truth that it succeeds so little in making the life of Christ a reality among men? I thoroughly hold that once convince a man of a truth and that truth, even despite him, will become an active potent factor in his life. How are men to be convinced? The church says do this - because authority says it is right so to do. But men do not do it. Why?

Because men do not come to vital conclusions upon the strength of anything, especially when they have their own opinions regarding the channels thro, which the authority filters. Is it not time that a different line shd be followed. Tell men to do right because it is right to do right; because it is consonant with the law of their natures; because only by so doing will they realize themselves & find love & come to the great beauty, justice and potency of the appeal to the rule of law. Show a man that it is only by putting forth his best effort towards what his best conscientiously tells him to be right that he will make any progress satisfactory to his own nature & in harmony with the Eternal Realities, and the shackles of petty ambitions fall from him. He becomes stronger and stronger. And in proportion as his own true strength increases so will the appreciation of nature's laws and the character of Christ develop manly humility and a sense of duty to the world without him, a sense that his life is part of the lives of many others, as many as come within the closest immediate sphere of influence, and that he owes it to humanity as much as he owes it to Him that that influence shall also tend in the direction of perfection, the sweeping away of bitterness, passion, prejudice and viciousness in whatever form. Once bring home to a man the sense of personal duty in terms of unbreakable and yet infinitely just law - law which properly followed makes for progress, if disobeyed, for confusion - and you have put him on his feet with his face to her true goal in life & therein it seems to me lies a reconciliation of the two injunctions: bear ye one another's burdens and bear your own burden & do the latter and you will find yourself doing the former which is a good thing to do.

All of this is simple, Rex, even elementary, but tonight it has a strong hold upon me and, as I haven't got you here to talk to, I am pouring it into your sympathetic ears, that is if you have patience for it. But there where the country is just finding itself, where standards are few and loosely put together, and men are apt to emphasize the importance of the immediate thing. There is the fact men try to get away from the truth by demanding "of all the thousand doctrines of the hour, their stupefying power". Both sides of the continent have perplexities and heartaches for the area strike of mankind + But, however distressing may be the rash radicalism of British Columbia, I doubt if its position is not relatively better than that of the (half indifferent) East. For where there is manly force and rude contact with nature - in Carlyle's sense - there is apt to be more result where an appeal is made, as it must be in both cases, to the manliness of men, the true heartiness of true hearts. The main difference it seems to me lies in this, that British Columbia requires the curb and the East the spur. Both need light. And the man who can get it to them must have their confidence, so much has men come to associate the truth and its exponent. Confidence requires trust and faith; and these, to be lasting, must be based upon strength and honesty in the individual who can be the guide. Hence it behooves every man who are for of lasting service to his country to see that he too is clear.

But I see I am going far afield again. Louis you, Rex, very much. The meaning of an individual is sometimes emphasized when the individual is absent from the associations which are eloquent of his individuality. The Canadian Manufacturers' Assoc^n is to the Contrary notwithstanding, your work is neither superficial or Ephemeral. It is of the very essence of a force which is calculated to prove a strong lever in regulating the labour movement - and in world other movements as well - in Canada. It is my happiness to be associated with you in that work, I think I comprehend its nature and its importance, immediate and even prospective, and I trust I may prove true to its demands and purpose.

But I must get down to my night's work, Rex. The house is singularly quiet-without ~~the~~ any movement in the adjoining room, but that does not excuse the sacrifice of opportunity. ~~xx~~ I am ~~glad~~ glad you found Ralph Connor such a fine type of a man. I am sending you herewith a copy of the third batch of annual report proof,galleys 10 to 19 inclusive. I am doing as you suggest in the matter of having a copy retained here proof read with the manuscript. I am also sending a copy each to Mr.Mulock and Mr.King.

Re labour library,you will see I have changed the number of volumes from 2,000 to 2,5000 There are actually now some 2,750 volumes and reports in the library.

I am enclosing you a letter which will speak for itself. You have also been favoured with a number of invitations to the houses of friends of yours in the city,a complete category of which I shall submit on your return.

Ottawa is experiencing an old fashioned snow storm this morning.

The last batch of proof corrected went down to the Bureau yesterday so that the GAZETTE should be out by the end of this week or Monday at the latest. I hope to be able to get at the copy for the next month's issue by to-morrow as I have the other work pretty clear to date.

------ Rossland,B.C.
Nov.I8th,I90I.

Dear Bert:

I enclose herewith copy of letter which I am to-day sending to Mr.Mulock. It explains the Rossland situation in so far as I am able to give it on paper. You will see from the account that,apart from investigating a past condition of affairs,there is little service which could be rendered under the Conciliation Act. Between ourselves,the men are entirely in the wrong. I have told them soand have no sympathy with them,that is to say,the agitators, for this is clearly and simply an agitators' fight.

I have obtained a new point of view in regard to trade unionism. The situation here is one of the grossest tyranny of a labour organization,and the dealings of those who have manipulated the affair are as crooked as they can be. I would never have been able to explain conditions in British Columbia rightly,much less comprehend the present situation,unless I had come here,and for this reason I think the purpose of my coming has been fully met.

I am leaving to-day for Vancouver. Will visit New Westminster,Victoria and Nanaimo,and then return direct to Ottawa,stopping over in Winnipeg for possibly a day. As far as I can see,I will be in New Westminster on Wednesday of this week,Vancouver.Thursday and Friday and possibly part of Saturday,Victoria over Sunday,Nanaimo Monday and Vancouver again Tuesday. Will pass through Revelstoke on Wednesday and reach Winnipeg on Saturday of next week. You had better write me on receipt of this letter to Revelstoke Hotel. Revelstoke,marking the letter, "to be called for",and write me again if you have time,to Winnipeg,where you may address your letter care of Rev.C.W.Gordon,with whom I will stay over Sunday.

I have seen a good deal of mining conditions in Rossland and vicinity. Giddens and I visited a quartz mill at Ymir,where we rode six or seven miles on cayuses,up and down the mountains. We saw through the process of free milling of gold. We were down in the Le Roi mines on another day,900 feet below the surface. We visited the smelter at Trail,and yesterday,the one at Nelson. I have had a great many talks with mine owners,business men,professional men,miners and others,and have been able to get a pretty accurate idea of the obstacles with which industrial development in B.C. has to contend. I can only enumerate the name of these for the present. They may be given under the following headings:

(I) Political unrest: instability of the local government,and the tendency of its members to pander to the labour element for votes;

(2) Embarrassing legislation,which has followed in consequence of this last named tendency:

Volume 3

CANADA

(3) Trade union tyranny,caused in part,through the interference of American organizations in Canadian affairs,and aided by intimidation and blacklisting;

(4) Anti-contract laws,both our Dominion Alien Labour law,and the Provincial Anti-contract law,which tie the hands of mine owners in their endeavor to deal with the supply of labour,as it is bound by trade union methods;

(5) Stock manipulations,which have created much suspicion in the minds of investors,and consequently preventing the investment of capital here;and

(6) The possible monopoly of coal and coke,and exactions by railway companies through want of competition. This danger of monopolistic ownership is one which will likely grow with the future unless something is done to off-set it.

To these might be added the possible complications which the Oriental immigration problem may produce. I feel,however,that there are two sides to this question,and that were it not that the Chinese and Japanese were available as a source of supply,in some circumstances,a further manacle might be placed upon the hands of those who are seeking to develope the industrial resources of the country.

Should Mr.Mulock not be backat Ottawa before my return,and Mr.Sifton or Sir Wilfrid desire any information in regard to the Rossland situation,you had better show them the copy of the letter which I have sent to Mr.Mulock.

As to allowing payment to Mr.McDonald of a percentage of the fines obtained under the convictions in the case of the King v. Geiser,I would strongly advise that the Government allow him fifty per cent--the full amount to which he could be entitled under the statute. I am not sure that the appeals have been finally dropped, but will write or wire you in regard to this point. If he is going to pay over this amount,I think it would be well for the Receiver General to issue the cheque to our Department,and for us to send it to Mr.McDonald,and get his receipt for it.

I think you were wise to have the bound volumes of the Labour Gazette shipped from Toronto by freight. Our Department however,should not pay any accounts on this score. The freight should be prepaid by Hunter,Rose & Co.,and their bill sent in to the King's Printer,who will afterwards render to us the account from his Department. We have no right to pay out anything on this account as the order for the whole business was given through the Bureau.

Volume 3

CANADA

I will return to you,as soon as I have time to get it into final shape,the proof which you have forwarded to me. My father has a very poor opinion of the composition,and has made a good many chagges which he thinks are essential to maintain the record of the Department--perhaps I should say,from his letter,to prevent its being brought into disgrace! I think much of his judgment on these matters,and will be guided by the suggestions he has made,along with those of Mr.Mulock and yourself.

I am glad to know that all has been progressing so well at the Department. My mind is absolutely at rest so far as it is concerned. I have every confidence in you,and in your judgment,and I have that better confidence of the knowledge of our personaly loyalty to each other,which would leave me without a doubt at any time,or in any place.

Your long personal letter,which I read last night after returning from Nelson,was a great joy to me,and I can assure you that all the feelings expressed therein are but the counterpart of my own, which are very real to me. Giddens wishes me to thank you for your message to him,and joins with me in sending you sincere regards.

I am,dear Bert,

Most sincerely yours,

My dear Rex/-

I have reserved for a separate letter an important communication which I received yesterday from the Officer in charge of Works,H.M.Naval Yard,Halifax.

For some weeks I have been in communication with this gentleman in connection with supplying files of the LABOUR GAZETTE for the Naval Station there and the Admiralty authorities at Home.

This letter announces that the Admiralty anticipate carrying on extensive works at Halifax Station and that it was proposed to recommend to the Home authorities to adopt the same procedure in reference to contract work as now practised by the Public Works Department. The letter further requested that this Department have a Fair Wages schedule prepared for Halifax and district. I wrote immediately asking that particulars be furnished regarding the classes of labour required and that upon receipt of these [redacted] the Department would be pleased to furnish the information asked.

I need not comment upon this letter in order to show you the importance of it. With regard to the communication I have preserved the strictest secrecy and shall see that no suggestion of it becomes public inasmuch as the consent of the Home authorities has yet to be received and a premature announcement might spoil everything.

~~While~~ The fact remains that the attention of the Imperial authorities at Halifax has been attracted to the Fair Wages policy of Canada through the columns of the LABOUR GAZETTE and the interest created has been so strong as to bring forth this recommendation that a similar line of policy be applied with regard to Imperial work.

I shall lose no opportunity of furthering the proposal, which I am confident,of adopted,would at once silence carping criticism and give a tremendous impetus to the fair wage movement in Canada,so important is the sanction of Imperial example held in this country.

I shall take all pains to have the closest attention given to the matter and the strictest confidence observed in view of its importance.

It is a long time since anything has given me greater pleasure than this move and I have to congratulate you and the Department upon it.

My dear Rex/-

I am enclosing you herewith the proof of the second batch (galleys 10 to 19 inclusive) as read by your father and by the Minister,as also a letter from Brebner and an account  which have come in within the last few days.

The Minister in his covering note stated that he would like to see a copy of the revised proof as it comes from the printer together with the corrected copy before the report is run off. The copy of the proof still at the Department has been read with the manuscript.

I received yesterday a letter from Mr.Giddens written at Rossland on November 13th and have forwarded the GAZETTES to Castell Hopkins and attended to the other matters referred to.

I am looking forward to a letter from you supplementing the information given in your telegram.

The Minister has approved of the recommendation of Mr. William Roche,M.P.,and appointed Mr.Fred Smith,Correspondent to the LABOUR GAZETTE for Halifax. Mr.Smith has been duly notified and furnished with the ordinary stationery.

I had a line from Mr.Mulock yesterday in which he said that owing to the cost it would not be possible to make local contracts for Letter Carreirs' uniforms. This I take to mean that it is his intention to award the contract for the uniforms throughout Canada to a particular firm,doubtless one of the lowest tenderers. This action I presume to be the result of a memorandum submitted by the Postal Stores Branch P,O,D,in which the increased cost of the proposed system of distributing the work among the several local firms was pointed out.

Dear Rex/-

Your long letter written on the eve of your leaving Rossland reached here yesterday too late to catch you at Revelstoke. I postponed writing you until I had a talk with the Minister regarding some matters which have come up in your absence. I find that there is nothing remarkable to report.

Re the decision of the Imperial authorities at Halifax to recommend the Canadian Fair Wages policy to the Home Government,Mr.Mulock agrees with me that the whole matter shall be kept absolutely secret until the ultimate decision has been reached. I have taken every precaution to prevent leakage from this quarter. Mr.Mulock was naturally very much pleased with the endorsation involved in the proposal of the policy of the Canadian Government and particularly of this Department.

I have to thank you very much for your nice long letter and for the cordial assurances which it contains. I hope you will have a pleasant return journey and shall look forward to seeing you again.

We have had quite enough to do here during your absence in spite of the assurance of the Rossland "Miner", apparently drawn from the bulky correspondence addressed to you at Hotel Allan,that the Deputy Minister of Labour carried all of the duties as well as the [redacted] title of his office with him in his travelling bag.

I have carefully withheld any statement regarding the [redacted] result at Rossland pending your return. I am perfectly satisfied,however,that the public will thoroughly understand and appreciate the wisdom of your course under the circumstances.

Dear Bert:

I again enclose a copy of my home communication,which is intended for you as a member of the family too. It will probably reach Ottawa a day or two in advance of my own arrival,but may be not unacceptable on that account. I have a good deal to tell you that does not appear in these communications,and I am glad that the time is now nearly at an end when we will have a chance of talking over all these matters together. It is hard to realise that it will take six or seven days to reach Ottawa again. In this city one feels very close to all the large centres of the continent,but the range of mountains over yonder reminds one that there is a two days journey through mountain passes and ravines,and beyond,two more days of prairie,then the northern woods and lakes and finally our own frozen and inclement clime. I will wire you from North Bay of the time of the arrival of our train. Till then you may possibly,not hear from me again.

Let me acknowledge in this letter the receipt of the $I00 which you wired to Vancouver,and your telegram to Nanaimo. We were stranded completely and had to borrow until this allowance came. Were just on the point of considering what articles of supplies we

Dear Mr. King:

It is the understanding of the Division of History and Political Science that you expect to present your thesis and come up for your special examination for the Ph.D. before next Commencement. Will you indicate a time that you would prefer for the examination, and your preference will be respected so far as possible.

Very truly yours,

Albert Bushnell Hart,

My dear Sir:

It is my understanding that you expect to come up for the second (the special) examination for the Ph.D. in the course of the present academic year. I am about to make up the programme for these examinations and shall be glad to know what is your preference as to the time of the examination.

In all cases the theses must be examined and approved before the examination can be held. The theses cannot be received later than May 1, and in order to get that part of the requirement out of the way, it is desirable to have it in my hands as early as is convenient to you.

Very truly yours,
Albert Bushnell Hart

Dear Mr. King:

It seems such an age since I have heard from you directly and I am afraid I am the debtor and am to blame myself - for the long lapse in our correspondence. So much has happened since I saw you last that very inadequate little while last spring first. such a beautiful summer! I thought I should surely write to you from Reid would but I didn't - though we spoke of you and Jim with you in leaving the place. My brother was with me there and we made our headquarters in Warwick and bicycled all over the Country around. I liked nothing in England better - needless to say.

different people that we

We found the English

busy grinding up Italian

Do you see why I am writing all these personal things to you? Because I want the same measure

all about you and what you are doing. I hear that your arbitration duties are benefited by his acquaintance during life and no one but is inspired by the glorious example of his death.

The undertaking was one at which the stoutest heart might be pardoned for wavering and his immediate decision and prompt action but receive their merited due in the expressions of honest admiration and eulogy which have flowed from the lips of the highest and never been so stirred with so many mingled and varied feelings as I have at reading the accounts of his heroism. Grief at his untimely end, pride at having been honored with his friendship and admiration for his noble self-sacrifice have alternately been rising to the surface of my emotions - each sentiment being in unison with and confirming my belief that there was no one but was

My dear King,

Perhaps you have noticed in the papers that St. Andrew's Church Toronto are proposing to secure an assistant for their minister, the Rev Dr. Armstrong Black. I have some notion that such a position would suit me. For one thing I have always wanted an opportunity to engage in such work as is carried on in their Institute on Nelson St., for that side of the church's work I have always seemed to see the one that must more and more engage his attention in the days to come.

Now I do not know, but I hope that you may be prepared to admit that in addition to some qualifications of a general sort that fit me for any profession, I have also perhaps some special knowledge that would be

I arrive to me in this sort of work. I suppose that this is a good opening and I think it is about the first of the kind that has occurred in the Country. My work here is something the same, and I suffered from other calls become here. But the field is so limited.

To speak plainly I want to enlist your active support on my side in this matter. The Institute work would be specially gratifying to me and I am sold enough to think I could fill the bill in other particulars also. I have not the honor of your father's personal acquaintance or I should write to him direct. But perhaps it is better that you should write him, if you will and say what you can in my favor. I know very well the position of influence that your father deservedly holds in St. Andrews and there is no doubt as to what he would be able to accomplish if he can be induced to take the matter in hand. I hope you can make representation of this sort enough to persuade him to take up and push my case. I should feel pretty sure of having it so right if he would. I have no doubt that an effort will be made by some parties to push in a Queen's man. I trust that I shall have your support and your father's to against that plan. I am a Toronto man, suitable I think, and available.

I am not much acquainted in that Congregation and you can do me invaluable service in this matter if you will; which service I trust you will find me not slack in acknowledging or in trying to repay. You will know best what to tell your father as to my qualifications. My course at Kirk and Varsity you know. Any ministers in Brantford can speak of my work here; in particular Rev. W. A. J. Martin of Zion Church, St. Catharines successor.

I do not desire to have you confine to your own judgment. A man must always have the right to use his own judgment, and I trust I have the good sense not to think the less of any man for doing so, even if it is against my wishes. I hope however that that will not be the way of it this time, but that you will be able to meet my wishes and assist me in every way you can.

In any case will you be good enough to let me know as soon as possible your attitude on the matter and what I can count on from you?

This letter seems too long. Please try to excuse that. My best wishes to you.

My dear King,

After a most delightful voyage across the southern seas we arrived at Marseilles last Sunday when Mr. Murlock proceeded to London by the special to consult a specialist and asked me to arrange a continental tour for Mrs. Murlock & daughters placing only one restriction upon me, and that was to meet him in London by a certain time as we sail for New York on the 10th August. He has vested me with full power and all are to be subject to my orders. As the south of Italy is now too hot Mrs. Murlock did not care to go there and so I was somewhat limited in my field. However on Sunday last we left Marseilles for Cannes & Nice, and after visiting these places proceeded to Genoa a city of rare interest. Milan was our next stopping place and a day was well spent. Today noon we left Milan for Lucerne via the St. Gothard but as you have made the trip you can readily sympathize with me when I say that the scenery is beyond description. The lofty snow topped mountains, with trickling streams, with here and there a large waterfall, the numerous streams, and picturesque lakes, the various colors and beautiful sunsets & sunrises are scenes never to be forgotten. In fact I feel quite at home here as German is so commonly used in this part of Switzerland. After making enquiries here I decided not to go to Mayence, Germany, thence down the Rhine to Cologne, and from there to Brussels spending a few days there and crossing the channel either at Ostend or going via Paris to Calais & Dover. I often wonder how I am ever going to settle down to work again. I mean office work. Between all this I have had a very good time not forgetting a pleasant evening or moonlight night in the Tropics & Mediterranean sea with that charming Australian girl for company on deck after dinner.

But enough. The trip has surpassed my fondest expectations and I have seen and heard, as well as met people who will have a good influence upon me.

I suppose the dept. of Labour is pegging away and stirring Labour circles with its efficiency but the word labour jars on me now as the band is playing. minutes walk the station, the Biggars were also sending people off by that train.

Tuesday was not a pleasant day for sight seeing. A perfect hurricane was blowing! I went to the falls in the morning, but it was a stormy cold wet day long. I was so glad we had done everything so thoroughly. Even the ice-bridge seemed much more broken up, & I doubt if we could have got across on the far side, tho' the huts were still there.

The Biggars have a young niece living with them, so in the afternoon she & I went over to the American side over abt. my luggage. We did not go any of the excursio

I do hope you had a comfortable journey back, & got your connection all right at Hamilton. I felt so dull & "blue" after you left, & if the mice had not arrived on the scene I don't know how I shd. have got through the time. I am so grateful for you for coming, I am quite sure I shd. not have appreciated the truly wonderful impressive sight if I had been alone.

I wonder if your estimates have come up yet, how it all went off. I hear from the Bells that Ottawa is very gay. It is said I think I have said good-bye to Canada, the time spent there was so happy.

if I make a lot of mistakes. How is it with your German? The winter is almost finished and Lol. Schmidt Burkly and I ordered already a semisplace. We had lots of fun this winter dancing and flirting altogether, many nice aquaintances etc. Pity that you are not here, but I am sure you enjoy Canada very much. In a fourtnight also I shall give a greater society, only I am very much afraid that we can't dance, because the Empress Frederic is going to die. — Very often I have the pleasure to see the Imperial Gradels - your remember the Grade - you have seen her at the ball of a painter. She is very pretty and the large richness of the Imperiators made a good effect on the last exhibition. — We have been very often in the Himmerald last summer, I was not travelling for a long time, only went to see my mother and a friend in Nürnberg. —

After I go on horseback very often, that's a wonderful thing, I enjoy it very much. Also we made very nice trips in the Grunewald all together in sledges. The brothers are well, the little one is quite well again now, but you will know this already by themselves. — I am sure you have a good deal to write and to study allday — therefore I did not take it a mess, that you quite forgot to write to me all this time. It seems your are quite a famous man now. When is your book going to be published? We have many new books in Germany in this year, especially theatre pieces of modern taste with quite new and original ideas, it is very interesting to read them and to see some of the best ones on the stage. — We had a very cold winter, years ago

My dear McLean/-

I desire to acknowledge receipt of your communication of December 26th which came to this office during my temporary absence for a Christmas vacation in Toronto, and to thank you for having forwarded the subscription to the LABOUR GAZETTE of the Hon. Frank Hill to this Department. Copies will be mailed him at once.

I shall look forward with interest to seeing the asount of Canadian Labour legislation in the "Economic Journal of March next.

Referring to your letter of a week or two previous I must ask you to forgive me for my delay in replying to it. I intended to write you while in Toronto but was kept so busy there that the time passed without giving me an opportunity of answering a number of communications which I had taken with me ~~overing~~ purpose.

It is very kind of you to make the mention in the American Annals of which you spoke. As to the particulars which you requested, I wish to say that my writings on economic subjects have, as you doubtless know, been for the most part of short and descriptive nature for newspapers, periodicals and the like. While at the University at Chicago I published two articles, one an outline of Trade Union development in the United States and another on the history of the International Typographical Union, both of which were published in the Journal of Political Economy. I gave Dr. Henderson, Professor of Sociology, some assistance in the preparation of his book upon settlements, which he has been kind enough to acknowledge in a very generous manner in his preface to that book.

During the past couple of years I have been making a special study of home industries, public contract work and the nature and extent of the sweating system in different industries and countries. I hope to have ere long a volume or two dealing with these subjects. The material is already collected and a good deal of it in final shape.

As you know, the Canadian Government gave me a commission in 1897 to prepare a report on the methods adopted in Canada in the carrying out of Government clothing contracts, which report I prepared in the fall of that year and submitted early in January 1898. This report was used as a basis for legislation, or rather for the action of the Government in its fair wages policy. While abroad in 1899-1900 the Canadian Government also gace me a commission to prepare a report on the methods adopted in European countries looking to the suppression of the sweating system in connection with public contract work.But for ~~the~~present appointment this report would have been in shape for Parliament at its next Session,but I have been so busy that it has been impossible to put it in final shape as yet.

I ~~think~~ you know the nature of my Post-Graduate course, a Fellow at Chicago and Harvard and also a Travelling Fellow for Harvard University. I would like you to note also that I was appointed in June,1900,as Instructor in Political Economy at Harvard University,but was obliged to resign this position because of my acceptance of the position as Editor of the LABOUR GAZETTE and subsequently as Deputy Minister of Labour. I was born December 17th,1874. I hope that this biographical sketch is not too extensive and is of the sort which you desire.

You may be well assured that I will be glad to further your interests in any way possible and particularly whenever opportunity presents along the lines you mentioned in your letter. I have already had occasion to bring your name forward in a few conversations and you may depend that I shall be glad to watch opportunities of like doing in the future,

Wishing you a very Happy and prosperous New Year and much fortune in this new Century,and with kindest regards to Mrs. McLean,

My dear King,-

You are aware of the work I have been doing on the Railway Policy of Canada. The government has in mind-judging from press interviews with Hon.Mr.Blair- to introduce Railway Commission legislation during the next session of Parliament. It would be of value to the government to have a preliminary investigation of existing rate grievances made by a special commission which would have sufficient power to obtain evidence that would be a basis for exact unbiassed findings. The findings of this special investigating commission would be a basis for such legislation as might be introduced and would indicate with exactness the extent of the grievances. In my study of the rate question I have been collecting a mass of material; all of this material impresses me with the necessity of obtaining exact information on the rate question- information which a government investigation by a special commission alone can give. As you know when the United States introduced its interstate commerce legislation on which the present Commerce Commission is founded it was only after there had been a seaaching investigation embracing all phases of the grievances complained of.

Now I would like you, if you feel free to act in this matter, to bring this suggestion, I have made, before Hon. Mr.Mulock with a view to his bringing it before Hon. Mr.Blair. Of course I am not purely disinterested in my recommendation since I would like to be appointed a member of such an investigating commission. And I hope you will feel free to diplomatically suggest the expediency of this to Hon. Mr.Mulock and through him to Hon. Mr.Blair in case the government should decide to act on the suggestion. As you know I have been making a scientific study of the transportation question not only in Canada but also in this country . And I am in a position-if I may be pardoned saying it- to bring to the task of such an investigation of rate grievances both knowledge of the subject and a scientifically unbiassed point of view.

The short note re Labour Legislation in Canada will come out in the March number of the Economic Journal. I enclose a copy of an extra proof that was sent to me. The biographical note will come out in the March number of the Annals.

Very truly yours,

My dear McLean/-

I have your letter of the 15th instant, enclosing proof of your article on labour legislation in Canada and desire to thank you for both. Your personal references in the latter are certainly very complimentary and I must thank you for this kindness.

I note what you say in your letter as to the advisability of a railway commission being appointed in this country to prepare a repirt before any special legislation in regard to railways in inrtoduces into Parliament. I will have pleasure in seeing that your suggestion in this regard is brought to the attention of the Government through one of the Ministers and I need hardly add that anything which I might be able to do to further your claims to an appointment in connection with the work of such a commission will be only toohheartily done.

I have just received your letter of April 26th in which you say that you are a candidate for the Professorship of Political Economy at McGill University and asking me to write in support of your application to Dr.Peterson,principal of McGill.

I can assure you that I would have been only too happy to do this had I not been already written to by a former Harvard associate in reference to the same matter. He wrote me a week or two ago for particulars about the University and as to the possibility of his application meeting with success. In replying I told him what I had gathered from a conversation I had at Harvard during the Easter vacation with the Professors there,which was to the effect that some efforts were being made to secure a young Englishman a graduate of Cambridge,Eng.,for the positio.This of course is entirely confidential. It is quite possible that these efforts may come to naught,or that the University authorities might consider more favorably the application of a a Canadian who is equally if not more competent for the position,so that I do not think that you should hesitate in making your application as strong as possible.

Having already written to this Harvard man as a personal friend and expressed in my letter to him the hope that he might meet with success in his application I feel some embarassment in writing of my own initiative to the President of McGill much as I would like to do so. I have written nothing in support of the Harvard man,so that the University has no expression of opinion from me in support of any application. If written to by the authorities of McGill for any expression of opinion I would be only too pleased to write them in reply,so that if you feel that I can be of any service to you in this way you are at perfect liberty to mention my name in support of your application as that of one who knows something of your qualifications for this position and who doubtless will be able to give an unbiassed opinion in reference to the same.

I need hardly assure that if written to I will give your candidature candidature my most hearty support. My only regret is that I do not feel at liberty to write at this minute myself but you will no doubt understand,from the explanation I have given, the position in which I find myself. Had I known that you were thinking of making application for this position I would have so informed my Harvard friend and governed my actions accordingly.

Hoping that I may still have the opportunity of aiding your candidature in this matter,

Office of the Commissioner on Railway Rate Grievances.

Fayetteville Ark. Dec. 28th. 1901

My dear King,-

Your letter of 26th. inst. has just been received. Permit me to express my very sincere appreciation of the kind thoughtfulness which inspired your offer. The opportunities for work afforded by the opening and the environmental conditions are attractive indeed. The standard of efficiency created by our lamented friend Harper places the work in a class by itself. There is much in it, I must confess, which attracts me.

However in this age of specialization the Economist must pick his own particular field. And I have chosen Transportation as mine. The work is opening up before me with ever more engrossing attraction. And it seems to me that I am bound to it. To change into another line of work which, while it is of great interest to me, is not the one in which I have specialized would necessitate my setting aside the results of my apprenticeship and entering upon another apprentice period. And the line in which this apprentice period would have to be spent is one in which your hand has shown its cunning. And so I must e'en stick to my last.

Thanking you again for your kindness and trusting that at some future time I may be in a position to express, in a more tangible manner, my appreciation of the proffered favor

Siegfried, André

Dear Mr. King.

I beg to introduce M. André Siegfried, son of M. Jules Siegfried, late Minister of Trade and President of the managing committee of the Musée Social. My friend M. A. Siegfried has been round the world a great deal, and knows nearly every English-speaking country. He is well acquainted already with America. You will find him full of the most valuable information on the subjects in which our chief interests lie.

His enquiries bearing more particularly on social conditions and legislation, your help will be invaluable to him. I daresay he is not likely to find a better guide through the Canadian problems, which your present situation has given you such splendid opportunities to study.

I envy him indeed, I envy his going to the Dominion, and his meeting with you. I remember with great pleasure the few days we spent together, and hope I shall be able some day to cross and pay you a visit in your own country. You know Canada is always attractive to a Frenchman: it would be especially attractive to me. Then, au revoir. I hope. Please believe me

yours sincerely.

Dear Mr.Mulock/-

I am sending this short line just to say that I hope,by the time this reaches you,that you will have had a pleasant trip across the Atlantic and that your journey to Australia may prove delightfull all the way.

I hope you will feel it worth your while,should you still decide to go by way of Italy,to arrange your time so that you can spend at least one day in Rome and one at Naples and Pompeii,and also at Florence and Venice if that were possible in your limited time.

I think you will find that the St.Gothard Express reaches Italy from Paris in less than twenty four hours. By leaving Paris at night you would be able to go through Switzerla nd during the morning of the day following and have the pleasure of the Swiss scenery which is very grand along the St.Gothard route. Perhaps you might find it worth while to spend a night or a day at Lucerne,should you desire to break the long journey at an intermediate point.

You will never regret having visited Venice if you have time to go there although I fear it might take you a little off the direct route.

In Florence at the Pitti and Ufizzi Gallery is the finest collection of masterpieces of art in the world.

When in Rome a visit to the Forum and the Colliseum might be made in an hour or two and it might be well to drive from the latter place out along the Appian Way to the Catacombs, if you happen to be there on a day and at the time at which they are open to the public. The best way to approach the Forum is by ascending the Capitaline Hill,at the top of which an old eagle and two wolves are still caged to keep alive the old traditionary lore of the city. You should not fail also to see St.Peter's Cathedral and the beautiful paintings in the Vatican.

There is little to see in Naples save the beauty of Naples itself,but even Venice would hardly compare with this.

Dear Mr.Mulock/-

I am sure that you will wonder at not having received a letter from me before this. I have delayed writing only because I have been expecting for about a month that the Estimates of this Department would be brought up in the House almost any day and wished to give you an account of their passage through the House in my letter. I have decided,however, not to wait longer although Mr.Sutherland has assured me that they will come up without fail during the present week.

Everything has progressed favourably in this Department during your absence. We have had a number of important Alien Labour matters to deal with; there has been another case under the Conciliation Act and one or two important debates in Parliament,in which the work of the Department has been commented upon.

The LABOUR GAZETTE has appeared regularly each month at the proper time and subscriptions have not ceased coming in on an average of over 100 per week. As you were always deeply concerned in regard to subscriptions you will doubtless be pleased to learn that our list of paid-up subscriptions is now considerably over 4,000. The Manufacturers' Association have added to their membership and have sent in subscriptions for the additional members. Trade Union Secretaries have been responding fairly well to the circular granting a commission which you authorized sent to them.Individual manufacturers, workingmen,postmasters.lawyers and others continue to contribute their quota of the amount sent in.

A reply was received from the Department of Labour in England to the request for confidential information as to the circulation of the English LABOUR GAZETTE. This reply gives such information as follows:

The letter adds that,with reference to the Free List,it is found necessary to send free copies of the GAZETTE to a large number of societies and individuals who send voluntary information both in regard to the LABOUR GAZETTE and the general work of the Department.

You will see from these figures that grouping the net sales and annual subscriptions of the English LABOUR GAZETTE together,which make up the total from which income is derived through sale,that our sales are from two to three times as large.We can justify from 1,500 to 2,000 as on the Free List on the same grounds as the English LABOUR GAZETTE justifies its Free List and our exchange list is considerably larger than theirs as the number of periodicals we receive in exchange is doubtless considerably larger,so that our circulation in rough figures may be put at about 7,000 copies per month. As there does not appear to be any slackening of the subscriptions sent in I think we have every reason to hope that with the opportunity of improving our circulation under the appropriation for the coming year we should bring it up to several thousands in the course of the months

I received recently a letter from Mr.Just of the Office of the High Commissioner for Canada in England,in which he speaks of the work of the GAZETTE and of its service to this country. I enclose herewith a copy of this letter as I think you may be interested in reading it,and I would only say in reference to it that the request which it contains has been brought to Mr.Sifton's attention and he is to let the Department know whether or not the Immigration Branch of his Department will undertake the cost of re-printing these articles and of sending them to England.

Enc-----

It has occurred to me that possibly you might be interested in having a complete file of the GAZETTE so I have given instructions that two sets up to date be mailed to you under separate cover.

The Department has been instrumental in having about 25 or 30 more aliens deported since you left. I have had a table prepared of the total number of deportations made as a result of the work of the Department since its inception for the use of Mr.Sutherland in debate and it shows that about 60 in all have been so deported. Williams is at present investigating a case in Brantford on a complaint made by the Municipal.Council of that City.He has been doing a good deal of work of a clerical nature in the Department and has been discharging his duties as Alien Labour Act Officer in a satisfactory way.

You may remember that before you left a communication was received from the Nova Scotia Steel Company's employees asking if this Department could arrange an arbitration for the settlement of the dispute between them and that Company. After consulting with the local Members for the Cape Breton district Mr.Sutherland decided to have the conciliation [illegible] the Department in the negotiations and,accordingly, willingness to accept the friendly offices of the Department in this matter. They were some time in replying but when they did so they expressed their willingness to have the Department intervene in the matter. The men have been notified of the Company's decision and are well pleased. At present the Manager of the Company is absent in the States but on his return I will likely go to Nova Scotia,under Mr.Sutherland's instructions to see if it is not possible to arrange for the establishment of a Board of Arbitrators to adjust the matters in dispute.

The employees of the Laurentide Pulp Company at Grand'Mere,Que.,went out on strike on Monday afternoon of last week bacsuse of a change in their scale of wages which was suddenly forced upon them. On Wednesday night the Premier received a telegram from the men asking for the intervention of the Government to effect a settlement. Sir Wilfrid Laurier sent for me and told me to discuss the matter with Mr.Sutherland and Mr.Sutherland decided that I had better go down at once and both he and the Premier wired the employees to that effect. I drafted a letter to be sent to the Company which Mr. Sutherland signed. It was in similar language to the one you framed to be sent to the Manager of the Malleable Iron Works in Oshawa at the time of the coremakers strike there. Just as I was about to leave on the following day Sir Wilfrid sent for me again and said that I might take his Secretary with me, that he would advise me to do so as the population at Grand' Mere was almost entirely French,so Mr.Boudreault and myself went down together. We arrived there on Thursday about noon and found about 250 of the strikers awaiting our arrival in the middle of the main street of the town. About 150 others had returned to work on receipt of the telegrams of the Premier and Acting Minister of Labour and had decided to remain at work pending a settlement under the Conciliation Act.

After talking with the Committee of the men we saw the Manager of the Company,Mr.J.Lorne McGibbon,who by the way expressed himself as glad we had come,and after discussing the matter with him at some length we were able to obtain certain concessions to be submitted to the men. He admitted that the new scale of wages had been made known to the men in a manner somewhat summary and gave me authority to express his regret to the men for this occurrence. He pointed out,however,that the change amounted to a shifting from a day to an hour basis and that while the wages of some had been lowered a little in consequence the wages of others had been raised.He consented,however,on condition that the men accepted the new scale to agree to pay them semi-monthly instead of monthly,as was the custom;also to allow the men on their own vote to determine whether or not they would have the Company continue the system

Volume 3

system of issuing coupons on the Company's store in payment of wages,or abolish this system,and,finally,they were not to discriminate against any person on account of his having taken part in the strike.

After further interviews with the committee and getting the Manager to make certain other concessions in reference to one or two individual cases,we were able to get the committee to accept these conditions and in the evening we had a mass meeting of the employees of the Company at which they ratified the action of their committee. The Mayor of the Town presided at this meeting,and I spoke to the men in English Mr.Boudreault translating what I had said as we went along. At first I thought we were going to have a little trouble because of discussion on the floor,but by keeping most of the talking at our own end we were able to have the motion vote an unanimous acceptance. Wh then had the committee come with us to the Manager's house and there drew up an agreement in writing which was signed by both parties,a copy of which communication was given to the men,one to the Company and the third retained for record in the Department. On the following morning every one returned to work.

I might add that the men seemed well satisfied with the result and thanked us very heartily for coming. Mr.McGibbon,Manager,was no less pleased. He invited me to his house to lunch with him on the following day and asked me to thank the Government for its friendly offices in assisting to bring about an adjustment of the dispute. Mr. William Van Horne is I believe the President of this Company.

This is noe the fourth time that the Act has been invoked and proved successful.

I am sending you a copy of Hansard containing the debate which arose at the time of Mr.Monk's motion for the papers having to do with the Valleyfield strike. You will see that his object in moving for these papers was to make political capital against the Department of Labour by charging me with having used my position to secure votes for the Liberal candidate at the election. He said in the course of his remarks that this strike had had the effect of changing Mr.Bergeron's majority of 100 in Valleyfield to a minority of over 200. He stated that I had told prominent people that the demand for the increased rate of wages was a just one and that the way to secure it was to support the Liberal candidate, which,of course,was manifestly absurd as there was no question of wages in the settlement whatever.

The Premier and Mr.Sutherland,Mr.Tarte and Mr.Logan came to my rescue and Puttee and Ralph Smith stood by the Department though they stated that the Company had not satisfactorily carried out its agreement.

Mr.Monk promised to produce affidavits proving these charges on the following week but two or three weeks have now elapsed and no affidavits have been forthcoming. On the other

Volume 3

hand the workingmen of Valleyfield have,of their own accord, made out a number of affidavits denying these charges emphatically and Ralph Smith has them in his possession and intends to use them when the matter comes up again. I have also made a statutory declaration denying each of Mr.Monk's statements in turn and the Premier may make use of this if Mr.Monk produces any evidence. Should he do so I will lay an information for perjury against any person who makes affidavit in support of the charges Mr.Monk has made. The effect of Mr.Monk's statement has been,I think,to create a feeling of sympathy for the Department and is not helping him any as it has served to bring out other evidence which is helping to strengthen the Government's position in the matter of this dispute. One thing the debate did was to prove that the Department was an accepted institution by both parties and that it has gained a regular place among the other Departments of the Government.

I do not think there will be much trouble when the Estimates come up and certainly the charges of Mr.Monk will only serve to draw the attention of the Opposition away from other things. The Premier is going to ask for the production of the promised affidavits or a retractation of the statement which has been made. I will send you further particulars in regard to this when it comes up. I cannot help wishing that you had been present when this matter arose in the House as it would have been a pleasure to have heard you bringing Mr. Monk to time.

I will also sending you a copy of Hansard which contains some remarks by Messrs.Charlton and Ross on the work of the Department in connection with the enforcement of the Alien Labour Act.

A question or two have been asked in regard to the operation of the 'fair wages clause in contracts,but these,I think,have been answered satisfactorily. There have been several complaints but these are being dealt with in a regular manner by this Department and the Department of Public Works.

Dubreuil the new Fair Wages Officer has had occasion to make one or two investigations,but has been kept mostly at work of a clerical nature in the Department here. Mr.Giddens who was appointed as stenographer just before you left has been doing splendid work and is satisfactory in every way. All the other members of the staff have been regularly at work are are doing their work well.

I think that this covers most of the items of interest in connection with the work of the Department.

I might add,however,that when dictating the last sentence the Auditor General rung me up and wanted to know how it was that this Department had such a bill with the King's Printer and was not paying its accounts monthly. He seemed very much distressed to think that this matter of credit had been running along so long. I told him that provision had been made in the Supplementary Estimates to meet this expenditure, that doubtless in the course of another week or two the way would be clear. In the meantime it might be just as well for him to allow us to continue the publication of the GAZETTE which must of necessity cease if all of the accounts had to be immediately paid. He concluded by saying that he did not know what he would do in the matter,but he was glad of having an opportunity of telling me that the whole business had been irregular.

My official relations with Mr.Sutherland have been exceedingly pleasant although it is once in a long while that I have the pleasure of discussing departmental matters with him.

Our main and supplementary estimates have still to come up in the House,but no doubt as the Session is now so far advanced and the Department has received little or no adverse criticism,they will pass with any considerable debate.

I hope that your long journey to Australia has been a pleasant one throughout and that you are now enjoying to the full the pleasures and honours which your position as representativw of this country abroad may bring,

May I4th I.

Dear Mr.Mulock:

You will,I am sure,be pleased to learn that the supplementary estimates of this Department passed the house on Thursday afternoon of last week almost without debate.

We asked,as you will remember,for a supplementary vote of $I7,I00,which was to include the amounts to be paid to Johnston and Berouard for their services. Mr.Borden,leader of the Opposition,objected to the vote for the Department being made up of a lump sum,and thought that the Department should present its estimates in the same form as other Departments. Mr.Sutherland stated that this would be done in another year,but that as the Department was one which had just been organized,it was thought better not to specify the amounts required in detail,until a more exact estimate could be made of the requirements of the different branches. He was prepared,however,to give the House a detailed statement as to how the money had been expended,and accordingly read a brief statement in which he gave the different heads under which expenditure had been incurred and the respective amounts spent. One of the members took exception to the payment of officers employed in other Departments for services rendered because of overtime work in the Department of Labour,where,he contended overtime should not be allowed. Mr.Sutherland agreed with this, but said that it was from purposes of economy alone that for the present this arrangement had been made,and that doubtless in the near future provision would be made for the employment of special officers to take charge of this work. These were the only points raised by way of criticism,and the item passed without a word of dissent.

On the day previous Mr.Monk renewed the debate on the charges he made in regard to the Valleyfield strike, by manufacturing a long story of his own,in which he took no account whatever of facts,he deliberately misrepresented even such statements as were a matter of record,in trying to show that there were grounds for the charges he had made. The only evidence he produced,however. in support of the attack made on myself,was an affidavit from a man who was present at the mass meeting of strikers,and who swore that I asked the men why they were out on strike,and whether they would return to work if the troops were withdrawn,which was just the very sort of affidavit that I myself would have desired,had I been seeking any from outside sources. The other affidavit was from a cab-driver,who stated that I had called on Mr.Bertrand and Mr. Leger,who were pronounced Liberals,and that I had called at the committee rooms of Mr.Loye,the Liberal candidate. The affidavit was not dated,and Mr.Monk declared to the House that this was my first action in Valleyfield,and that my whole conduct as a result, was of a partisan character. He did not state that Mr.Bertrand was the Secretary of the union and Mr.Leger the President,and that for this reason they were both men upon whom I was bound to call, nor did he say it was not until the night I was leaving Valleyfield,nearly twenty-four hours after the settlement had been effected,that in passing the Liberal committee rooms I had Mr. Loye come to the carriage,in order to inform him of what both parties had agreed to do by way of settlement of the dispute.

I must say that I have never listened to anyone so deliberately misstate and misconstrue facts which were as plain as day,and I hardly thought that any member of the House- certainly not a man of Mr.Monk's reputation- could have been capable of an attack of the kind. However,it has cost him pretty dearly, for even his own friends say that he had failed entirely in proving the charges which he had made. Mr.Borden,leader of the Opposition,was the only person who in any way supported him,and Mr.Borden's support was only of an indirect kind,and really in part an apology for Mr.Monk himself. Mr.Sutherland read an affidavit which I made,denying Mr.Monk's charges seriatim. The Opposition took exception to my having stated that Mr.Monk's statements were "untrue". This was the only point raised by Mr. Borden,who stated that he was sure Mr.Monk would be prepared to accept my statements,although the language was offensive. Several of the members called on Mr.Monk to apologize or withdraw his statements,but he sat in his seat,not being able to say anything in defence of himself,but too unmanly to make any sort of a retration. His attacks on me have only served to make the Department and its work better known and to create a sympathy for it both inside and without the House. I have thought that it was very largely due to Mr.Monk's failure and painful exhibition,that the Opposition were unwilling to criticise the Department at all. when the supplementary estimates were brought down. I am sending you copies of Hansard containing the debates referring to the Department,and I am sure you will be pleased to see by them that the Department and its organization have become generally accepted and understood,and that the record thus far,although a brief one, is substantial.

Since writing to you,we have had straightened out a few complaints against contractors for non-compliance with the conditions contained in the Fair Wages Schedule of the Public Works Department. Mr.Tarte gave instructions that four of the men employed by Bourque in connection with the construction of the Post Office in Hull should be paid by cheque through this Department upon the recommendation of its Fair Wage officer. Cheques in payment of their claims were made out by the Department of Public Works and sent over here,and the men received their pay at this office, and the amounts so paid have been deducted from payments due to the contractor on the work he has in hand. This enforcement of the Fair Wage conditions has given a great deal of satisfaction to workingmen everywhere,and is the very best thing which the Government in its own interest,as well as in the interests of the working classes,could have done.

The Premier has had me in his office on several occasions to talk over the Alien Labour Act and other matters affecting labour and has had me present at one or two deputations. Ralph Smith was anxious to have the bringing-in of workingmen from the United States made the subject of a special application to the Minister of this Department and to have his decision published each month in the Labour Gazette. I pointed out,however,that this would mean changing the matter of administration into one of policy, which might involve the Department in some complications. The Act,as it is finally passed,makes little change over the one already in existence,save that it enables an action to be brought before a judge with his consent,instead of with the consent of the Attorney-General.

I do not know that there is anything else of special interest to mention in connection with the work of the Department. Everything has been running along very smoothly. The Gazette has been issued on time each month,and subscriptions continue to come in,while all members of the staff have been doing their work faithfully and well.

The House has begun morning sessions,and it is expected that its work will probably end in the course of another week or two. Personally,I shall be very glad,as at times it has been very difficult,owing to the many interruptions and extra demands,to keep up with the regular work. I am quite satisfied,however,now that the supplementaries have been passed and a sufficient allowance voted for the coming year.

I was pleased to see by the papers that you had arrived safely in Australia,and that your reception there had been a hearty one. I hope that Mrs.Mulock and yourself and Cawthra found the journey a pleasant one,although I was sorry to learn from Dr.Coulter that you had had a touch of rheumatism on the way. I trust that that was only temporary and did not continue long.

Mrs.Thompson was staying with Lady Laurier a few days ago,and I had the pleasure of having some very pleasant talks with her. She is looking extremely well and said that all in Toronto were the same.

It seems a very long time since you went away and we all miss you greatly here,but I hope that you will not hasten your trip to a close without enjoying all of its opportunities to the full. If it is September before you return,you may I think,count on finding everything in order then. It will be so in this Department I know.

With kindest regards to Mrs.Mulock and Cawthra and with best wishes to all, I am,dear Mr.Mulock,

Very faithfully yours,

June 28th I.

Dear Mr.Mulock:

I have just returned to Ottawa from North Sydney. where I have been endeavoring to effect a settlement under the Conciliation Act between the Nova Scotia Steel Company and its employees.

You may remember that just before you left,the Department received a communication from the miners at the Sydney mines,asking that the Government intervene under the Act,with a view to adjusting certain differences between themselves and the Company. After you left,acting under instructions from Mr.Sutherland,I communicated with the managers of the company,informing them of the contents of the miners' communication,and asking them if they were agreeable to having the Department lend its good offices towards effecting a settlement under the Act. After some delay an answer was received stating that they had no objection to this course being taken. From that time until a little over a week ago,it was impossible to arrange a date at which the president and directors of the company were likely to be in Nova Scotia. The week before last, however,we received a letter stating that they would be prepared to meet a representative of the Department any time during the following week,and accordingly I left on Thursday afternoon last,arriving at North Sydney on Saturday night. I met a committee of the miners on Sunday and heard from them the statement of their side of the case. On the following day I went to New Glasgow,where I met Mr.Graham Fraser,the managing director,his brother and Mr.Cantley,resident manager at New Glasgow. These gentleman had,in anticipation of a possible arbitration,prepared statements as to the position of the company in regard to the wages which it was prepared to pay. They explained to me pretty fully,the nature of their contracts,the output of the mines,the cost of production and their position as competitors with the Dominion Iron and Steel Company. I told them that I would not care,without going very fully into all details,to express an opinion as to their ability to pay a considerable increase such as the men had demanded,but that I thought their own statements revealed the fact that they were in a position to pay the same wages as were being paid to miners by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company. As you may remember, a similar dispute had arisen between the employees of the Dominion Company and their employers and the same had been referred to arbitration which decided against the men. In view of this decision,and the fact that each company was in about the same competitive position as the other,I thought that the men would be unwise if they allowed their case to go to arbitration,provided that an agreement could be effected which would place them in the same position as the employees of the Dominion Company. I had hinted this to them in the course of our conversation of Sunday,and they had agreed with me,and stated moreover that having but a small allowance in the treasury of their union,they would have to be dependent almost entirely on what could effected through conciliation,without recourse being had to arbitration. The company stated that they were not anxious to have a full investigation by arbitration,if that could be avoided,inasmuch as such a course would necessitate certain disclosures which,from their point of view,might be prejudicial to the best interests of the company,and they,therefore,were also prepared to have the matter settled by conciliation if possible. I told them that I thought an offer to put the men on an equal footing with men doing corresponding work in the mines of the other company would be accepted as satisfactory by the miners,and that if such an offer came from them the whole difficulty might be closed without further investigation. They were quite prepared to make this concession,and Mr.Fraser returned with me from New Glasgow to North Sydney,in order that we might fix up an agreement between the company and the men along these lines. He and I stayed together at the North Sydney hotel on Tuesday night,and on Wednesday morning drove out at six o'clock to the mines,so as to meet the men at an early hour,in order that we might get away,if possible,by the train which left at eleven. At the mines,the resident manager showed me their books and a statement of the wages which were being paid by the Dominion Company to its employees,and which he had secured from that company a little time before. I noticed that in some cases there were considerable differences,and I suggested to Mr.Fraser that he then and there raise the men to the same rates as were shown on the Dominion sheet. He agreed to do this. The rates paid in every case seem to be dependent on technical points of one sort or other,such as thickness of seam &c. &c.,and these I thought it best to leave for adjustment by the new manager,who was to come into the employ of the Nova Scotia Steel Company the following week. The new manager has been assistant-manager of the Dominion Company's mines, and knows the rates that all the men there are receiving. On the night previous I met him at North Sydney,and he was told then by Mr. Fraser that if this agreement were effected he would receive instructions to have all men placed on an equal footing with those in the Dominion mines. So when I met the men on the following morning,I told them I had heard the new manager receive these instructions,and would myself see that they were given to him again if the agreement was effected along these lines. They were perfectly contented with this arrangement. Indeed,I think they were rather surprised,for after the decision given in the case of the Dominion Company and its employees they had largely lost hope of any advance. One or two questions were raised in regard to the manner in which the company should pay the bonus which it was prepared to allow on each ton of coal mined to men who worked at least twenty days in each month. I got the company to agree to allow this bonus to men who had worked fewer days,if they could show by medical certificate or otherwise, that their absence from the mines had been due to causes beyond their control.

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

Having had a clear understanding with each of the parties separately,I then called in Mr.Fraser and the resident manager of the mines to the room in which the miners' committee was assembled and explained in the hearing of both parties the terms of the agreement effected. This agreement also made provision for the settlement of future disputes that might arise. If at any time the men had reason to believe that the new manager had not carried out his instructions to the letter,a committee of three of their number was to wait upon him and ask for an explanation. If this explanation

Volume 3

were not satisfactory,they were to make an appeal to the general manager of the company,and if,after consultation jointly with the general manager and the resident manager they still felt that they were not being fairly treated,the questions in dispute were to be referred to arbitration. Where arbitration was resorted to in this manner the company was to elect one arbitrator,the men one arbitrator and the two arbitrators sho chosen were to elect a third,but failing an agreement between them as to the third arbitrator,the latter was to be named by the Chief Justice of the Province of Nova Scotia. The finding of this court was tc be final. If its decision was given against the company,the company was to pay all of the costs of the arbitration. If given against the men,they were to pay all costs.

After these terms had been fully explained I asked each of the parties if they were entirely satisfied and they said they were. It was really very enjoyable to see the friendly attitude which the manager of the company took towards his men,and their apparent good-will towards the company on learning that it was prepared to deal with them fairly in any difficulties that might arise.

On the way back,Mr.Fraser thanked me several times for having come down,and stated that the services which had been rendered to their company under the Act had been a real and very helpful one to them. He invited me to stay over a few days with him at New Glasgow,where he promised to show me over the works and have me meet several members of the company,but I was anxious to get back here and so did not take advantage of his invitation,or the invitation of Mr.Johnston,M.P. (Cape Breton) to visit the mines at Glace Bay and explore the Sydney district with him. Johnston,I think,was very much pleased with the result,as would be Dr.Kendall and Mr. Logan also. In some ways this is the best settlement which has,as yet,been effected under the Act,for it has,in the first place,prevented what might have been a very serious industrial conflict,and secondly,provision has been made for the settlement of disputes arising in the future.

A few weeks ago I attended a convention of the National Association of Officials of Labour Bureaus,which met at St.Louis. There were present the heads of the labour departments and labour bureaus in nearly all of the States of the Union. Mr.Glockling of Toronto,was also present,representing the Ontario Bureau. The proceedings were very interesting and instructive,inasmuch as the commissioners present gave accounts of the work of their respective bureaus,and the methods in which this work was being carried on. The Association gave Mr.Glockling and myself opportunity of participating in its proceedings,and before the convention was over,a motion was unanimously carried to change the name of the Association from that of the National Association to the Association of Officials of Labour Bureaus of America,so as to include our Department and the Ontario Bureau,and other bureaus which may hereafter be established in this country. Hon.Carroll D.Wright of Washington,who was present,was elected president of the newly-named association,and

I was chosen one of the vice-presidents. I felt throughout the meetings of the convention that our little Department had no reason to fear comparison from any of the State bureaus,or indeed the Department at Washington,regard being had for the much larger staff and appropriation possessed by the latter. I was not much impressed with many of the commissioners,who seemed to be fairly good products of the American spoils system,and not men of exceptional character or ability.

The work of the Department has been progressing favourably since I last communicated with you. We have reached the end of the fiscal year,with a very small surplus to the credit side of the account. Vol. I of the Labour Gazette is complete with this month's issue,and the table of contents which has been prepared for that volumne as a whole will,I think,better than anything else,disclose the nature and extent of the work which the Department has achieved during the short time of its existence. I am now preparing material for the annual report to Parliament,so as to have it in readiness for publication at any moment.

In the last number of the Gazette we reviewed the legislation of the recent session of Parliament,insofar as any of its provisions were of immediate concern to labour,and I prepared a special article on the Alien Labour Act,and had printed as an appendix to the Gazette, a consolidation of the Acts to Restrict the Imporation and Employment of Aliens. I am enclosing herewith some reprints of this appendix,which I have had struck off for use in the Department.

The Justice Department having made a ruling that under the new Act the Government will not authorize any deportations until proceedings have been commenced in the courts according to the provisions of the Act,we have ceased for the time being,continuing our special investigations with a view to securing deportation,and parties sending in complaints are furnished with a copy of the Acts as consolidated,and are specially directed to section 3 of the Act to see the provision which has been made under the new amendments,for its enforcement. This arrangement has enabled us to get rid,in a satisfactory way,of one or two persons who were appointed by the Justice Department and afterwards transferred to this as officers to aid in the enforcement of the Act. One was Mr.Ralph Garner of Niagara who was to get a salary of $500 a year,and the other a Mr.Becks at Little Current,who was to be paid for such services as he might perform. These gentlemen have received payment in full of their accounts up to the time at which they were notified that under the Act as amended,their services would no longer be required,the amounts sent them having been paid out of the special appropriation for Alien Labour Act purposes. Mr.German of Welland,was quite satisfied with this arrangement,so far as his man was concerned,and thought that it was the best thing to do. Bremner in British Columbia,has been kept on,but has been informed that the Acting Minister is of the opinion that his services are no longer necessary under the Act as amended,but that inasmuch as he has been dependent entirely upon remuneration received in accordance with the terms of his appointment by the Department of Justice,final action will not be taken in his case until your return. This was the Premier's wish,because of certain representations made on Bremner's behalf,to him by Mr.Ralph Smith. We have never appointed him an officer of this Department. The difficulties which arose in connection with the payment of his salary after his transfer to this Department were gotten over by having an Order-in-Council put through,allowing payment to him for services rendered at so much a month,in accordance with the terms of his appointment by the Minister of Justice. This was simply to enable our Department to pay him out of the funds which had been transferred from the Department of Justice,but his original and only appointment was that of an officer to aid in the enforcement of the Alien Labour Act,and he has already been informed that the need for such special officer no longer exists. Under the old Act,this Department caused in all,about eighty persons to be deported.

A number of representations were made to Mr.Sutherland on Williams' behalf for an increase in his salary. Williams has,I believe,been obliged to mortgage some of his furniture in order to meet payments which have been accumulating the past year or two,and is in rather straitened circumstances. When Mr.Sutherland spoke to me in the matter I told him that I did not think your intention was to increase Williams above $I,000; that that had been the figure which you had put down at the time of making up the estimates of this Department for the next year for him and Mr.Plant. He stated that he thought there were circumstances which would justify Williams receiving $I,200,and that he had told Williams he would have him raised to this amount. I suggested that the increase do not take effect until the beginning of the new fiscal year,and Mr.Sutherland has approved of this suggestion,so that notwithstanding the fact that the Order-in-Council went through,no payment on the increased scale will be made until the end of July. Mr.Plant has been raised to $I,000. Had these increases not been granted.either Mr.Smith and Mr.Puttee would likely have drawn attention to the matter in the House.

We have received from immigration officials in Scotland special requests for additional copies of the Labour Gazette. The letter received states that the articles in the Gazette,if condensed and published by local newspapers in Scotland,ought to stimulate immigration to a considerable extent,and the writer,who is the head of the Canada Government Agency in Glasgow,and wishes the additional copies for distribution to the press of Scotland and the north of England.

You will remember my telling you of a similar request from the High Commissioner's office in London,which was referred at the time to the Department of Immigration. That Department has since been looking into the matter,and they want us to make them an offer on the price at which we will sell them a considerable number of copies of the Gazette each month. Another idea which they are considering is that of having a large number of reprints made of the articles which have been appearing on the industries in Canada. I have obtained from the King's Printer an estimate as to the cost of

Volume 3

CANADA

these reprints,and am to have a talk with Mr.Pedley to-morrow,if possible,about the matter.

This is one idea I had in mind when I thought of beginning this special series of articles on the industries of this country,and I am much pleased to find that,without any suggestion from this side,and apparently without knowledge by one of the action of the other,both the English and Scotch authorities have discovered for themselves the worth of these articles for the very purpose for which among others,they were specially intended.

I have had several talks with Mr.Tarte about the Fair Wages policy and other labour matters,and we have arranged what seems to be a very satisfactory modus operandi in regard to the former. All communications pass directly between the Secretary of the Public Works Department and myself. When a complaint arises the Department of Public Works is notified,and this Department is informed which of the Fair Wages officers the Department of Public Works desires to have make the necessary investigation. The investigation being made is reported by either DuBreuil or O'Donoghue to myself,and after looking over their report,I send it to the Secretary of the Department of Public Works,with such comment as the Minister or Acting Minister of this Department may desire to have appended to same. The Department of Public Works withholds all payments due on any contract from the time at which it is notified of the complaint until the time at which this Department notifies it that the matter has been satisfactorily adjusted. In some seven cases the Department of Public Works has sent over to this Department cheques to be paid to men for wages due them in accordance with the terms of the Fair Wages schedule,and has subsequently deducted this amount from the amount paid to the contractor. Other complaints have been settled without recourse having been had to this extreme measure. If this plan were adopted by all the Departments in regard to every body of public work which is let by contract,I cannot imagine any species of reform which would be more likely to receive the all but universal support of the working classes.

It will hardly do for me to add more to this letter,for I fear that it is already of unwieldy proportions. We are all glad to learn that you are likely to be back during the month of August. Until that time comes you may have every confidence that the work here will continue in a satisfactory way.

With best wishes for a safe and happy return,

I remain,dear Mr.Mulock,

Very faithfully yours,

Dear Mr.Mulock/-

From my last letter you will have seen that the Conciliation Act received considerable notice in the Province of Nova Scotia. During the last week it has received quite exceptional notice in this city.

For some time past there has been local strikes in the machine & woodworking and building trades, but neither party until Saturday of last week made an appeal to us under the Act to endeavour to effect a settlement. The reason of this was, I think, largely due to the fact that the strikers were being led by Conservatives and were not anxious to see the Department secure any particular success under the Act.

The men made an appeal to the mayor for intervention and he referred them to the Department. The officers appealed to Mr. John Coates, as President of the Board of Trade, to effect a settlement through the Board of Arbitration which is established in connection with the Board of Trade. He, however, met with no success as all the employers maintained that they had nothing to arbitrate.

On Saturday of last week some of the woodworkers asked that I should interview the employers with a view of seeing what sort of settlement could be effected and I spent the day making a series of interviews.

I reported to them at night that I thought if they were wise they would close their strike upon obtaining from the employers an agreement not to discriminate against them for having taken part in it, and in this way save their Union as I saw no possibility of the employers being willing to arbitrate and I had important reasons for believing that the strikers might have difficulty in gaining their point even if arbitration were conceded. Further, that I believed that unless they concluded the matter at once they would lose because of the depletion in their ranks. The Committee, however, were inclined to continue the struggle and see if it were not possible in other ways to bring the employers to their way of thinking.

On

Dic.A. 3

On Tuesday night the City Council at its meeting passed unanimously a resolution recommending that all parties,both employers and employees,should refer the subject of dispute to me as an arbitrator,and if I were not acceptable as sole arbitrator that each party should choose one arbitrator to act conjointly with me,the board of three to give a decision which would be binding on both parties.

On Wednesday night a public meeting was held in the city hall at which the resolution of the City Council was unanimously endorsed. A number of speeches were made by those present and there was not one word said against the Department,but a great deal which was very complimentary to it. I am sending you copies of the Ottawa Enc- papers which will show you the exact position.

I do not think the employers will consent to arbitrate even now,as the very thing has happened which I told the committee of woodworkers would probably happen,viz:-many of their men have returned to work and the employers are not really very seriously embarassed as matters stand.

The whole affair is,however,as I see it another victory for the Department and its work. It proved conclusively that here in Ottawa,where the Department is best known,we have the absolute confidence of the working classes,and for that matter of the general public also.

Moreover,all parties have been obliged,in seeking a method of settlement,to avail themselves of the provisions of theConciliation Act. That the employers will not submit to arbitration does not in any way reflect upon the law or the Department,but that on all sides (with the exception of the employers themselves),and with the endorsation of the opposition press the Department should be utilized as it was contemplated in the Act,is the best possible evidence of the wisdom of the measure which has been introduced and of the importance it is to the country to have such machinery ready at hand in such a crisis.

I wish very much that you could have heard the words of many of the workingmen at the meeting and particularly of the most prominent Conservatives among them. Their commendation of the work of the Department was quite voluntary and it certainly exceeded anything I could have anticipated. The effect will be good throughout the country as it is the most conclusive evidence that any attacks

attacks which have been made have not shaken [redacted] rather strengthen the faith in the Department of those who are nearest at hand and best able to judge of its work. We may feel,I think,that we have won the entire confidence of the workingmen in this city and the refusal of a few employers to be willing to leave the questions in dispute to our arbitrament has only helped to strengthen our position with the workingmen.

~~OTTAWA~~ Rossland,B.C.

Nov.I8th,I90I.

Dear Mr.Mulock:

Regard being had to the attitude of each of the parties towards the real cause of the strike which commenced in Rossland on the IIth of July last,and their present position,a final settlement in terms of agreement between the parties is one which,from the nature of the case,could never be had,and its ultimate issue can,therefore,only be judged by the facts themselves. Although a demand was originally made upon the Le Roi,War Eagle and Centre Star Mining Companies for an increase in the wages of muckers from $2.50 to $3.00 per day,and this has been put forth as a cause of the strike,there is in reality no question of wages or conditions involved in the present issue. It is merely one of whether or not the companies are in future to be allowed to deal with their employees as individuals,or members of their particular camp,or whether their negotiations must first be with the executive of the local union belonging to the larger organization of the Western Federation of Miners.

For some time past the employers have been seeking to so arrange matters as to make unnecessary,recognition of the local union,and through it,recognition of the Western Federation of Miners. They have now reached a point where they claim they have succeeded in this end,and that the strike which was declared in July last has afforded them the means of achieving this end.

The Le Roi mines,which were closed for some time after the commencement of the strike,are now operating successfully. Le Roi Numbers I and 2,have given me a written statement,in which they say: "As to our position on the matter discussed at our interview to-day,we beg to state that our mines are in full operation; that our employees are satisfied with the hours of labour and the wages paid,and are working peacefully,and there is no reason why this condition should not continue."

The men who are at present employed at the Le Roi mines are non-union men. They have been coming in daily from different points,and have been taking the places rendered vacant by the strikers. While it is a fact that of all the men who went on strike in July.practically none have returned to work,still there are at the present time,only about one-fifth or one-sixth of the original number remaining in Rossland,the rest having found either temporary or permanent employment elsewhere,and,as I have said,their former positions at the Le Roi have been largely filled by non-union men whom the companies have since secured.

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

OTTAWA _____

At the War Eagle and Centre Star the conditions are somewhat different. The number of men employed at these mines,at the commencement of the strike,was considerably smaller than the number employed at the Le Roi mines. The manager,Mr.Kirby,contends that in some respects,the temporary closing-down of his mines has been an advantage. At all events,he states that when he desires to open the mines again,he can obtain the necessary labour,and that if it were a question of opening them only on condition of recognizing the local union,he would prefer to keep them closed. His written statement to me is as follows: "As to our position,discussed at our interviews to-day,we beg to state that there is an abundant supply of labour,and we are now able to operate our mines whenever we desire to do so."

In view of the policy of the mine owners to determine once for all the matter of which side is to control the terms and conditions of employment,and the fact that events subsequent to the strike have given them reason to believe that they will be successful in their policy,their contention that it is useless to discuss a past condition of affairs which no longer concerns them,I believe to be a right one.

I have investigated very fully the causes which,at the outset,produced the strike,and the situation as it is at present,and I am convinced in my own mind that the outcome of the dispute is as the mine owners have stated it,and that were it not so,it might be a disastrous thing for the mining interests of this province.

It would be too long a story to give you a history of events in detail,but one or two points may serve to indicate the exact situation. The Le Roi Mining Company has its mines at Rossland,and a smelter at Northport in the United States,these two points being about ten miles apart. In March of this year,the Western Federation of Miners,an organization having its headquarters in the United States.with district and local unions in Canada,as well as in the States,organized a union among the workers at the Northport smelter. In May last the men were informed that they must give up the union or lose their employment. They refused to do the former,and declared a strike on the 24th of May. On the IIth of July the strike of the miners at the Rossland mines was declared really in sympathy with the men at Northport,although the question of increase in wages was put forth as an ostensible ground. The men in the War Eagle and Centre Star were called out at the same time and all of the mines in Rossland practically closed.

One of the worst features in the whole affair is that the strike which was declared at Rossland was not declared at the wish or by the vote of the workers in the Rossland mines themselves,but was,I believe,forced upon them by subterfuge and a great deal of crooked work on the part of the executive committee,who were working with the officers of the District Association,and in close communication with the headquarters at Denver,Col.

The constitution of the local union requires that before a strike can be voted upon,24 hours notice must be given,that a vote will be taken. In the second place,it states clearly that a vote of three-quarters of the resident members is necessary in order to declare a strike. According to the admissions of the officers of the executive of the local union,made to me by themselves,I know that neither of these conditions were complied with. They did not call a meeting of the union to consider the matter of voting on the question of a strike until the evening of July 3rd. There were only a few members of the union at this meeting,and it was there that they decided that on the following day a vote should be taken on the matter of a strike. It was after eight o'clock before they decided to take this vote,and it was some time later before the notices were posted (though to what extent they were in reality posted is very doubtful) stating that the polls would be open from eight o'clock in the morning to eight o'clock at night on the day following (July 4) to enable members to vote on the question of a strike. According to the return of the votes,only 355 were cast in all,and three-forths of this number,plus four or five was the number in favour of the strike. As the total number of resident members,according to the statement of the officers,varied at that time between 700 and 900, the vote which,by their own constitution,was necessary to declare a strike,was certainly not polled. Some of the men have told me that notices were not posted,so far as they have been able to ascertain, and that they had no knowledge that a vote was to be taken,or was taken,until the strike was declared; that the executive knew a number of them would be out of the city on the 4th July (that day being a public holiday in Rossland) and further, that the men in the mines were not dissatisfied with the rates of wages which they were obtaining and the conditions under which they were working. They were, however,obliged to go out on strike after the same was declared,for fear of being termed "scabs" and being blacklisted in the books of the Western Federation,which might mean their exclusion from mines in which union men worked,for time to come.

The action of the executive in refusing to declare the strike at an end at the present time,is no less open to censure, than the manner in which they brought the strike about at the outset. I went over the facts of the case very carefully with them, and asked them,--believing,as I did,that the members of the union had never been rightly informed of the exact situation--whether I might not lay these facts before the union as a whole. This they refused to allow me to do,giving as their reason,that if I did,possibly the men would vote to declare the strike at an end. That it might not be persuasion on my part which could induce them to take this vote,I suggested to the executive that I would write out what I had to say,that we would go over this written statement together and strike out anything that they objected to as not bearing directly on the present situation,and that I would agree to read only the statement as it was written and approved of by them,but this they refused to allow me to do. They suggested that I talk with the Secretary of the District Association,saying that if he consented to the local union taking a vote on the matter of declaring the strike at an end,they would be guided by his advice. I went to Ymir to see him,and explained the whole situation fully. He said,however, that he would not consent to the local union even voting on the question of declaring the strike at an end,and gave me to understand that if they were to take such a vote,and so decide,their charter would be taken from them and they would be put on the blacklist in future.

These facts,together with conversations that I have had with some of the men,mine owners,citizens and others,convince me beyond doubt,that it is only the officers of the executive of the local and district unions who are responsible for having brought on the strike at the outset,and for refusing to allow even those who are affected by it,to vote in regard to declaring it off. For the Government to make any concessions under such circumstances,or to do anything which would strengthen the hands of these men,would, ~~in~~ to my mind,be unrighteous and disastrous.

As to public sympathy with the men.I am unable to find any traces of it. I asked the committee to give me the names of half a dozen reputable citizens who would say that they were right in their demands and their present attitude,but they were unable to give them. I have,as above stated,talked with persons of all kinds and both political parties,but find them only of the one opinion in regard to the men.

As to alleged violations of the Alien Labour Act,I can only say that I believe there were such at the outset,and that possibly the law has been evaded since,but I do not think that investigation at the present time would,in regard to such men as the companies have retained and would retain in their employ,hold them liable for having brought these men in under contract. At any rate,to hold such investigation,the law giving opportunity to the parties to commence action themselves,and facts being as they are,would only be to allow the executive to profit by its own wrong,which circumstances,however dubious,could scarcely justify.

Smith Curtis is very desirous that a commission should issue,but my private opinion is that he desires it only as a help to him in his political ambitions. He intends in the future,if opportunity should afford,to introduce a compulsory arbitration act in the Provincial Legislature,and he would like to have the evidence and report of such a commission to furnish him with material for debate. He would also like to have the labouring men of this district believe that his influence was such as had enabled him to obtain this for them.

I have asked the committee that if,in the event of a report being issued by such a commission,they would be prepared to accept its decision as final,but they have virtually stated to me that unless that decision were the one thing which they wanted,it would not change the present situation in the least.

My reply to Smith Curtis as to the inexpediency of granting such a commission,is based upon this statement of the executive itself. Mr.Curtis admits too,that the men were wrong in the manner in which they brought on the strike,and in the face of that admission,I am at a loss to see wherein he can defend his request in the interests of the public.

I went yesterday to Nelson to see Mr.Galliher,and talked over the situation with him. He agrees with me entirely in regard to the whole situation,the matter of the commission,et al. While. as a lawyer,he argues the point of the Government's power to deport under section 6 of the Alien Labour Act, independently of action being taken under any other section,he admits frankly,that for the Government to do anything more than it has done,would only cause it to lose the sympathy of some of its own supporters,and to gain nothing from other sources.

To sum up the whole situation then,I would say:
That the present strike is one which has to do with union recognition only:
That the mine owners are determined to concede nothing toward the men,and that so far as the Le Roi mining companies are concerned, their statement and facts go to prove that they have succeeded in carrying their end:
That the War Eagle and Centre Star have also succeeded,so long as they remain firm in their decision not to open the mines with union men,and are correct in their statement that the supply of labour is abundant for opening with non-union men if they desire;
That the strike is not declared at an end,simply because a few men are willing to sacrifice the local organization,rather than admit defeat,but that in reality defeat has already come and sacrifice is no less certain.

I hope you enjoyed your trip but are sure that you must be tired saying lovely things to charming people what more could you wish for.

I am having a very pleasant time and chaperoned by a charming little sweetheart certainly we have jolly times. I really think you should take a trip down this way.

New York is a great place to see and visit however I cannot always "come the king" as the Yankees always say. I've been simply glued to seven to the theatre several times. I enjoyed "In the Palace of the King" the most Viola Allen in the leading role. I have been out to lunch & dinner several times and as you know I always enjoy myself. Isn't Happy go Lucky girl

Will you kindly have forwarded to me as soon as it appears the Report of the Minister of Railways for the past fiscal year. If you will be good enough to pay for it, I shall forward price to you. Is there any way in which I can have "Hansard" day by day?

Now, one more thing. I plan to come to Ottawa in June. If you get your eye on a good boarding place, I would be glad to know of it later. I would like to get some practice in speaking French if it were possible. I expect the great danger would be in picking up something not quite the thing. I had hoped to spend the summer in Europe but my work here hardly permits that. Possibly might find an instructor in the University with whom I could converse an hour or so a day. However, I do not want you to take any trouble about the matters concerned in this paragraph at the present time. Merely mention it so that you might tell me when I arrive in case you should in the meantime think of what might be suitable.

I have just returned from a visit in Montreal. Might come down Spring to Ottawa but concluded to wait until June when I can remain some weeks. Sincerely hope that you may be there all that time for I want to see a good deal of you. We could have rather a good time, I am sure.

What about that Canadian Mint? See the Minister of Finance has suggested it. Who will they probably have for Director?

Should you ever be near Burlington be sure to come and stay with me. Glad to hear of your continued success.

Count me for my share in all expenses. The final examinations begin June 10 — Commencement about the same time as at Harvard. See no reason why I should not be able to get away shortly after the middle of June and remain several weeks. It is very kind in you to think of making a place for me. It will be a pleasure for me to see you long and often. Probably you will have made your plans before I can be away from my work in the University. Here's hoping your plans may carry!

Many thanks for that very excellent likeness of yourself which I received last Tuesday just before leaving London. I am back here to work again now and am hard at it as ever. The prospects of the University for next year are not very bright the Arts faculty may go up the spout and if so I shall be left positionless. My dear King:

Well how are things in Ottawa old man? I have not heard from you for an age and you owe me a letter too. Therefore I should not write but that I have one or two things to write about. The winter here has past very quickly and on the whole quite pleasantly though I have had more than enough to do to keep all my courses up to time. I have been out quite a little also and met most of the London people. When Mr Hyman was

If the Royal Tour has come your way at all, you may have made the acquaintance of Sir John Anderson. He is responsible for practically all the Canadian work here. He is the ablest man we have. We have been rather unusually active lately at the Settlement, & are shortly to open a new working-men's club near Grays Inn Road. After much discussion, we decided to sell here there. We are also planning the erection of a new building for the invalid children's school, with club rooms on the upper floor. My dear Mr.Volkhovsky/-

I was very pleased indeed to receive your letter of the 28th ultimo,in which you say that you have given orders that the LABOUR GAZETTE,issued by this Department,be placed upon your exchange list . I have handed your address to the Mailing Clerk of the Department who will see that the GAZETTE is mailed to you,in exchange for "Free Russia",regularly each month.

The references in your letter to my home are very pleasing to me as they will be to all there when I show them your letter.

My sister,of whom you speak,of remembering as a girl of 14,is indeed quite a young lady now,for she is older than I am.She will be very pleased that you have not forgotten her.

My mother is extremely well and my father also. When home at Christmas I arranged for an oil painting of my mother,to be made,as a new century's gift to myself. The artist had just completed two very fine paintings of my grandfather,Lyell Mackenzie,of whom you know a little. One of these portraits is to be hung in the City Hall in Toronto and the other in the Parliamentary Buildings in that City. There is some talk of having a third painting made for the National Gallery here. "This is how times change". You may remember that there was for some considerable time a price set on his head of $ 1,000.

I am very sorry to say that I do not know where your old friends the Hubersare,I also have lost track of them.I think that Oscar was married not long ago,but my impression is that his father is still in Berlin.

I was unable to see Mr.Liebknecht while in Berlin,though I made several efforts to do so. For this reason I have your letter still and possibly some day may be able to make use of it though I have great fears as he is now a very old man.

With best wishes to yourself and kindest regards always,

My dear Mr. King,

I learn from a Reuter telegram, that the Doukhobors have appealed to the world for a new place of settlement, as they find that the land tenure regulations, as well as those concerning marriage, divorce and registration in Canada are irreconcilable with their religious views. Would you care to enlighten me on this very interesting point: what is, really, the matter, what are the regulations the D. object to, and why cannot they be left alone to practice their own customs, while in the U.S. even the Mormons were are suffered to keep to theirs?

My dear Mr. King,

Yes, things do change indeed, very lately and they have been changing more than ever in Russia. In fact, recent events point to the beginning of a national revolution, and although force may be victorious for the moment, either government may be able to crush the rising I am certain that the Russian people will never again be able to be oppressed in the same way as before. Their minds are awakening, nothing will be able to put them to sleep again.

We Russians, who are away from our country, have been thinking how we can best help the students

+ people. We think the best thing we can do is to get as strong an expression of sympathy as we can, conveyed to them from the peoples of other countries.

I am sending you several copies of Free Russia. You would be doing a good deed if you made people realise the state of affairs. + if you could get the chief educational people to sign a protest something similar to that wh. is being signed in England. + a copy of wh. you will find in F.R. on p. 43, and also enclosed.

We, the undersigned, being Members of the governing or teaching bodies of Colleges, Public Schools, or other educational institutions in Great Britain and Ireland, wish to protest in the most decided manner against the introduction of soldiers and policemen into Universities of Russia in order to deal with the students in matters which are purely questions of academic discipline. We note with regret and surprise that in the recent case of such introduction in the Universities of Kiev and St. Petersburg it was at the instigation of the Professors themselves, the offence to be dealt with being the holding of a students' meeting to denounce a despicable theft on the part of one of their number. To construe peaceful gatherings of students upon any subjects connected with matters affecting them into crimes is to ignore the moral basis upon which all education must rest if it is to be of any real value: it is to confuse the moral sense of youth at a time when it should be most carefully guarded, strengthened and respected. The condemnation of a large number of students who took part in upholding the cause of morality to service in the ranks of the army as private soldiers for one, two or three years, is abhorrent to every right-minded person. The ruin of young intellectual careers, the degradation of thinkers to machines, the subjection of young educated men to the brutality of their inferiors in mental culture, and the demand of their implicit and unquestioning obedience to every command of such inferiors, constitute a punishment which would be terribly severe even for serious crime. For the gravest offences against academical discipline it is monstrously unjust.

We desire this protest to be made as public as may be in order that it may possibly reach some of the persons in Russia who are really interested in education and who may possibly have power to prevent such terrible abuses of authority as those we have indicated, which have outraged the best feelings of the civilised world.

My dear Mr King,

I wonder whether you are at in Ottawa at all. If your parliament sits as ours, you must be at your counter now, but if yours is still more lazy than the metropolitan, - then you may be able to enjoy your summer & your youth somewhere in the country.

It was kind of you to write an acknowledgement of my card, and I was extremely glad to learn of your intention to find out the exact facts about the Doukhobors. Now that the publication of F.R. has been suspended for three months there is no hurry with the matter; but I should feel greatly obliged to you if I might have from you an authoritative & circumstatial, though not long exposition of the facts concerned during the next two by the end of July or the middle of August. Such a statement, coming from so reliable a sourse would greatly contribute to the popularity of our periodical, and interest our readers. By the way, I hope I have not committed any indiscression by quoting your letter ~~your letter~~ in the Clay No. of F.R.? The passage was so complimentary to our little periodical, that I could not resist the temptation, seeing no harm in doing so. But if you object to your name being thus mentioned in our columns, I shall never do it again. It strikes me now that, if not unlikely, I have brought on you by that quotation an acquaintance with another periodical published here under the title "The Anglo-Russian". That funny production is edited by one Prelooker, a Jew who poses as, practically, a christian and professes to be "a Russian reformer". This individual, whose education and knowledge of things Russian are v. doubtful, but who makes a little business out of the position of a formerly persecuted Jew, watches F. R. and sends his productions to whatever ~~state~~ name & address he can pick up in it. Not unlikely he has already written to you in the capacity of "a Russian Reformer"! If not - you are happy in escaping his writings! On ~~the~~ surface ~~is~~ and to people who are only ~~insufficiently~~ slightly versed in things Russian, his writings have nothing repulsive; but to those, who know ~~the subject to the~~ bottom the stuff is ~~is~~ evidently not a healthy one.

I have lately come across a young Canadian lady, Miss Cohen who is a journalist & works for some Canadian papers. As we conversed, it transpired, ~~that~~ she knew you. I was much pleased to find in this remote (from you) part of the world a person with whom I could ~~on~~ talk of yourself & your father.

Please, give my best compliments to your family of whom I always retain the pleasantest remembrances.

With cordial greetings

Dear Mr. King, I mean Herr King, that's the way I must to call you. If you could see how comfortably or as it is in German "gemütlich" I am sitting here writing with lots of Xmas apples candies & nuts around me you would think this letter ought to be interestingly written - but I am afraid you'll be disapointed as I am no good letter writer at all - well I shall try to do my best anyway for an editor will be a sharp critic I fear.
"Now come endlich to what you want to say" you'll be thinking in your head - and you are right, nobody will contradict to that. Well - to say the truth, I thank you very much for your photo, I am very pleased to have it. We did spend some beautiful hours together, hours that have taught & influenced me very much I come to realize this more & more. - - - - I suppose Mother will tell you how much our little Susie enjoyed your lovely Xmas gift - which indeed is one of the nicest I ever saw; she enjoyed it still the more as she was very ill just at Xmas day in fact so ill that we were prepared for anything. but our God knew better & He spared her to be the comfort & joy of her parents & sister for some time longer, so you see Her year was very happy for us & your beautiful things were very much enjoyed. of course some time will go by till she will be able to write you herself, you'll excuse her won't you? [did I get all there "wills" right?]

How is your work? Do you enjoy it? it must be so interesting & is giving you so many chances - but don't overdo yourself! - Fred Clout spent Xmas here in Berlin with his family we all were so glad to see the boy again he is so nice. They are spending this winter in Paris, Fred being in a preparation for Harvard & there, he will enter College next fall. his disappointment was great when I told him what had become of you & that you would not be in Stanford most likely in the near future. [of course he was disappointed chiefly for not calling you in Stanford]

I was in Potsdam for a day to visit some friends there but I rest quite alone - and - and - - - - please do forget all about that!

& talks must better than write. We are having beautiful snowy weather. Else Lohm & I will arrange a sleighing-party - like the picknic to the Grunewald do you remember?

The letters from Kaiserin Aug. Str. are pouring to you now - favor man!

Well if you were here I would tell you loads of things but I can't write them so well.

Father - Mother & Susie send their love to you. and I send you my best wishes & hope you are both in health & your work and are jolly & happy.

Dear Herr King,

To be frank - I don't know how to begin & how to say what I am going to. First of all you must pardon me for telling you this which I hope you will understand aright - as a proof of my friendship for you & that I want all people I care for that know you think nice of you. Well - I heard through a third person that you sent a Xmas card to Frl. Schmidt-Bürkly & I know you sent nothing to Else Lohmann. Of course neither of them spoke to me about it - they don't dream that I know it - but can't you see in case Elsa Lehmann hears that you wrote to Fel. Schm. it might hurt her that you did nothing to her- for don't you remember how kind she was to you & me last spring and last not least - have you forgotten about her photo? It was very very nice of her wasn't? I see a good deal of her and I like her more & more if that was still possible. Now it's off my mind & I feel so much better & trust you'll make every thing all right & you'll write & tell me either scolding that I had no business to write this way or that you think I am right. You wrote me some time ago you were wondering when the time would come that you had nothing to thank me for - well now I am wondering how you will take this all - but tell me your honest opinion. I can stand a lot! I met the Fel. Glades the other night, one is a notorious beauty indeed and very nice besides. Did you get Mother's & Susie's note lately? I don't know where the child picked up so much English suddenly, nobody taught her - she reads

OTTAWA 6th December,1901.

My dear Wilson/-

I have to thank you very much for your letter of December 5th which reached me this morning.

It was a source of much pleasure to me to see that you also hold such pleasant recollections of our tour in the Maritime Provinces and have not forgotten some of the talks which we had. I can assure you ~~that the influence of~~ both ~~of these things~~ are fresh in my memory.

The tour was instructive and exceedingly refreshing to me as I undertook it after a heavy year's work.

I quite distinctly recall our conversation regarding Canadian trade unionism and the interest you showed in the labour movement. I have not yet finished with the subject but have already written for the LABOUR GAZETTE a couple of articles on the subject, one a skeleton review of the labour movement in Canada,another a review of the legislation affecting trade unions and these are being supplemented by a directory of labour organizations in Canada.This latter has been published from month to month in the LABOUR GAZETTE and is yet far from being completed.

However,I am sending you by this mail copies of the LABOUR GAZETTE,from the July number on,in which you will find articles I speak of and the directory insofar as it has been published.

I might add that when you come to look into the subject you will find a dearth of literature upon it. I had considerable difficulty in getting hold of my material but can assure you in the matter of its accuracy.

In the historical article published in the August number of the GAZETTE (page 95) you will see the important services rendered by the Toronto Typographical Union in the matter of the early history of the National Labour Congress.

I expect to have some other literature upon this subject in the near future and shall take pleasure in letting you have it, although I feel somewhat guilty in inflicting so much matter of my own preparation upon you,especially when the matter has been published altogether under the ~~bu~~ pressure of the last few months.

I am glad to hear that you may be in Ottawa in January and

You know of course that I owe Mr. Gilbert Parker at least a month's work upon the MSS. of your book. I am not quite sure how he will consider the question that the book be side-tracked for a few months, but he will be in Toronto on Thursday next and I will discuss the matter with him.

In the meantime, if the Ottawa matter presses for solution, the above have better be considered a waste effort in my application, and if after all the appointment does not come ~~to~~ to me, I shall be able to bear the disappointment. You yourself know how hollow are the successes of journalism (& mean, of course, in Canada) and while there is no year of my life that I would delete, I have reached the conclusion that I should no longer continue upon the pleasant path that leads to nowhere. I have in fact a considerable taste for business, and while I am sure no one would offer $1500 a year for my commercial experience, perhaps I shall find some one who will offer me a less sum and a good prospect.

The Secretaryship of the Board of Trade has not yet been decided, and it seems likely that a decision will not be reached until towards the end of the week.

However the whole matter results — Ottawa, Board of Trade, or what not — I shall always feel grateful for your disinterested kindness, which I hope the future will see requited.

Please tell me how I am, and believe me

My Dear Mr. Lemieux,

and altogether satisfactory. I believe, too, Mr. Wilson. From your own personal standpoint, you will perhaps be glad to consider Coats' application; and in the matter of journalistic experience his claims are quite as good as my own.

I discussed the appointment with Mr. Gilbert Parker, and while he is always willing to further my interests, he thinks our joint book deserves more than over-time energies. A man with larger experience (and hence more drawing than myself) received the Board of Trade appointment; and I, whether shall I go from their presence? One single hope stirs possesses me, and that is that however the vacant position at Ottawa is, or has been, filled, it will be to your own personal satisfaction.

With best regards

Yours ever sincerely, Clarence J. Bryan.

My Dear Will,

The enclosed letter was written last night, but too late for the night Sunday post. This morning, I received your most kind letter from the Rideau Club — and I really do not know how I am ever to thank you enough for the spirit of true friendship which prompts it. Even without your assurance, I am perfectly certain you would stand by me to the finish; and I would rather rely upon that single devotion than upon the joined efforts of a score of wire-pullers. But it is for your sake that I now say, do not offer me the basis. I honestly cannot give you that assurance which you properly ask, viz. that I am prepared to devote my future to the work. Some blue devil has me by the heels, so to speak; and until I have had my shot at a commercial target, I am bound to consider myself a suddenless barque upon the sea of journalism. Perhaps my shot will be but a rocket which, having flared up, lights at length in an obscure corner: but at least I will take the medicine without making a face, and having exorcised the demon will hastily creep back into the indirubber bosom of literature!

You do not know how hard it is for me to make the sacrifice: (I say sacrifice, for I am quite sure the position is in your own gift through the confidence of the Minister in his deputy.)

an act of Providence for Coats, whose health has been breaking down with work on the Globe.

Meantime, I go and invite the world to find your Minister of Trade and Commerce or your Postmaster-General, and though — after Branning — a wide compass should be fetched, save the portfolio. May I not write to you:

but I am able to make it for several reasons. One is, that fate is bound to send you and me together some time, some where — in a place more in excelsis than the Department of Labour; another is the aforesaid mercantile demon which possesses me; and a third is that I will so

All success to the Department & Ottawa in its new appointment; and to yourself my affectionate regards. You have indeed stood by me to the finish; but there is another finish — and although we have along way to go in life's journey I have pinned my faith to you. May I ask you to explain the whole matter to Mr. Meighen, in whom I would be glad to have found a friend. He at least must know that up to this moment I have had nothing to go upon but the prospect of a successful application; and will hardly blame me for indulging in other prospects. I shall write to him if you so advise me.

Believe me, dear Will,
Yours ever sincerely, Harold J. Bryan

Dear Madam/-

Your communication of the 13th instant,in which you ask if this Department could secure a place as cook for your mother who you expect to arrive in the city before long,has been received.

I am sorry to say that the Department has not an Employment Bureau in connection with it and,consequently,it would not be possible for you to obtain a situation for your mother through this means.

I think,however,that you should have little difficulty in getting a place for your mother as there seems to be a considerable demand for experienced cooks in the city. I should be glad personally to do anything which might assist you in obtaining a position for your mother and if you care to call at my office between the hours of 10 a.M.,and 4.30 P.M.,I will be pleased to have a talk with you in reference to the matter.

Your Reply came to hand, & contents noted.

But there is a mistake made as regards my letter, whether it was the Typewriter, or that my writing is misunderstood. The letter is Addressed Miss ——— & the opening begins with, "Madam" Most probably it is a mistake. I am a young man, aged 19 past, & formerly worked in the Country on a farm, till I made a trip last Oct. to Eng. to see my Mother. I never had any desire for farming, and I hope I will be able to work my way up in Life, without recourse to farm-life again. It has always been my aim to get a Situation in a Store or office, as I think I could fill the duties required viz. Honesty, straight forward, quick at figs. & a good & fast Reader in English, but unfortunately I am not able to Speak a word of the French Language.

Gentlemen.

I can safely say I can add as quick, & Correct as any one in an office, although I worked on a farm over 3 yrs. I do not boast, but I pride myself & my former School teachers, and where ever I am or may be, it will be my aim to do Credit to my School, where I spent many a Happy day in Merry Old Eng.

But I must now conclude hoping you will do your best for me, if in your power to do so.

Dear Sir/-

I have your letter of the 15th instant,in which you draw my attention to the mistake made in my reply to your former communication. As only an initial was given for your first name and the letter had reference to domestic employment I assumed that it was written by a woman.

I am sorry that the remarks in my previous letter as to the Department not being an employment bureau will apply also to its inability to secure a position for you.

I have no doubt,however,that possessing the qualities mentioned in your letter you will be able to secure for yourself the sort of employment that you are seeking.

I could give you the names of one or two parties desiring cooks if you still wish to secure a position of this kind for your mother.

Dear Sir/-

There is a matter of difference between the Hamilton Electric Light & Cataract Power Co.on the one hand and a section of their employees coming under the designation of linemen on the other hand, which has been referred to arbitration,and I am the arbitrator appointed by the Company,the Rev.Mr.Whitcombe having been appointed by the men,and we have to appoint a third arbitrator,and I desire to know whether you are free and willing to accept the appointment of third arbitrator should your name be agreed on,and the circumstance that you are outside the City of Hamilton and necessarily familiar to a certain extent with such matters will probably commend your appointment to the two arbitrators, and your proper remuneration as an arbitrator will be paid as well as your expenses coming from Ottawa.

The matters areferred are the scale of wages to be paid and the hours of labor,and the men who had struck and went off for a day or two have been back at work for the past two weeks,and the matter is one that ought to be short and disposed of in one day's sitting. Kindly let me know by return mail whether you are in a position to accept the appointment and willing to do so and take the matter up sometime next week should your name be agreed on.

My dear King:-

I am very glad indeed to know that you are going to undertake this matter personally. I do not know that I can give you any suggestions more than those already made in the course of our conversation.

The leading items for comparison are,as you are aware; first,cost of house rent and fuel; second,cost of food; and,third,cost of clothing.

I should be inclined to think that,one way or another the ordinary expenses are much the same in both cases. Of course one would like to know the cost of living for labouring men,properly so-called,as well as artisans and factory hands.

My dear King,-

I have received your formal notification of appointment with its personal enclosure, for which thank you very much. The situation with me is this. On Monday Mr Willisen telegraphed to a man in New York, whom he intends to make my successor, but has not yet had a reply. We do not know, exactly what to think and are telegraphing again to-night. A single day after he is once on the spot will be enough ~~xx~~ for me to be with him. This will let me away easily by the end of the week. Mr Willisen will not under any circumstances have me remain longer, so that the allowance until Monday which you were good enough to give me, will be sure to be the limit in any event. Mr Willisen is much obliged for your courtesy in the matter. He is very busy at the moment and the session of the Legislature is straining every effort of the reporting room. I will write you again to-morrow when I will be able to say definitely when I will get away. I would have written you immediately on the receipt of your letters but that I was expecting within a few hours to be able to state the case exactly. My dear Coats/-

I enclose herewith a letter received to-day and a memo. re Oath of Allegiance,which you may care to keep.It is advisable that you should have the latter with you on your return in the event of the date thereon being required for reference at some future time.

I was pleased to know by your letter that your trip had been a pleasant one and that you are enjoying the days being spent with your family again. I fear that in the way of news I also will have to plead a dearth of itfor there really has been very little happening since you left. Mr.Plant is back and also Dubreuil so the staff has materially increased though Dubreuil was obliged to lay off a day or two on account of ill-health.

Ardouin and I have put in a pretty steady week on schedules of rates and hours in the several classes of railway employees. The information was much more extensive and complicated than what I thought it would be and a need of striking averages as correctly as possible and at the same time indicating exactly the conditions under which special rates are paid,has made it necessary that we should make progress slowly. I think,however,that when completed the work will be a substantial one and may serve for several issues of the GAZETTE. We have had to correspond with a number of the companies to get additional returns and explanationsand but for the delay this may occasion the tables should be ready to go to the printer to-morrow.

I have also done something in the way of drafting forms for statistical tables in regard to trade unionism in Canada. The Clerk's branch has been working on these and they also may be ready for the printer either Monday or Tuesday. Correspondence with the exception of one or two days has been light but saving the interruption of callers which has been more frequent than I had hoped or desired,there have been very few minutes lost. Ardouin has also made some progress with the directory for the annual report.Plant has prepared the part on the ~~statistical~~ returns and I have done a little in the way of getting necessary information together.

In a letter received from Mr.Mulock to-day he informs me that

Dear Mr Mackenzie King

I have been meaning to write & thank you for your letter & for the Labour Gazette which I read with great interest & find most useful.

I was sorry to see in the number of April that the Labour Party had sent a deputation to Sir Wilfred Laurier in favour of restricting & discouraging Immigration; that is how all the trouble began in Australia & New Zealand; & with the comparatively lower population of America next door, I fear it helps thinking that a strong current of English immigration to Canada is the solution of many of its industrial difficulties.

There is, such a close connection between Industrial prosperity, & absence of anti-immigration legislation, that I should make free immigration for British subjects a condition of keeping Colonial stocks on the list of English Trustee securities.

In this connection, I should be very glad if you could give me your opinion on one or two points if it is not troubling you too much.

Do you think that the Immigration Commissioner can be trusted sufficiently for us to accept with[out] further investigation this information as to demands for labour.

Will the Minister of the Interior in Canada conscientiously sift the applications from employers of labour in Canada, in such a way that our action, or the immigration of labourers from this country does not make us directly partisans on the side of the employers, where strikes are imminent or actually in existence?
Can we trust the Canadian Gov[t] not to play into the hands of the reactionary labour party, [next to] close the door to immigrants, in face of any popular outcry?
Part of my scheme is to make the Immigration Agent of each colony a member of the present British Gov[t] Emigrants Inf. Office; so that any information which the Immig.
Agent may have, will in future be officially [published] guaranteed by the British Gov[t]
At present, the Information of the Empire Information Off. of the British Gov[t] is so vague, & general, as to be useless & unacceptable.
The Inf. of the Agents of the Colonies has no more authority to the ordinary public, than the information of any casual person.
By my scheme, I hope the Information will be both accurate, & useful, & be backed by the prestige of the British Gov[t].
At present, the fault of the Can. High Commissioner's Office, if I may say so, is that Mr Colmer, the Sec.
is incompetent & survival of the old days of the Colonial Civil services; while he is at loggerheads with Mr Preston, the immigration Commissioner, who is very keen & active; but not sufficiently Anglicised (if I may use the phrase) to be really fit to act as the official head of so important a Department.

Mr P. G.C. Campbell has been elected Professor in French literature at Kingston University. Mr Campbell lived with me during the whole of my four years at Oxford; I think he is the most striking character of our year; in some ways the cleverest; he was an Exhibitioner at Balliol, Chancellor's Essay prizeman.
My friend comes to Kingston in September; & I shall venture to give him a letter of introduction to yourself, remembering how much I enjoyed the pleasure of meeting you, & knowing what a comfort it will be to my friend as a freshman to Canada if he has the privilege of your acquaintance.
Mr Campbell chose Canada for his health; but as he was President of every Society of which he was a member in Oxford, I hope he will take up rather a wider sphere (of activity) than his professorship admits of.
Apologising for the length of this letter Yrs v. sincerely

11, Hyde Park Terrace,

Perhaps the difficulty in Mr Preston's case is a matter of time; but with regard to Mr Chinar, it is bad for any office to have a man at the head with his reputation for gentlemanly incompetence, even if there is nothing to be done; but, when there is anything to be done, it makes the task a rather difficult one to advocate the increasing the prestige of the Office.

~~By the way~~ I only put in this by way of explanation to show my reason for bothering you with the foregoing questions. I hope I have put the matter clearly & not too carelessly.
By the bye, my greatest friend at Oxford

Dear Sir

On returning from the west I find your favor and am exceedingly disappointed in missing you. I am getting out a little book on direct employment, a subject I understand you are investigating. It will be sent you with my compliments when issued. I trust if you are in this neighborhood again I may see you.

Dear King:

You would not have been Billy King (that's how I always think of you) if you had not sent me that characteristic note. You, your bachelor quarters, once not occupied by you alone, the parsonage, and our other home not far distant from either have been very much in my thoughts for many days.

But as the 5th of December came nearer and nearer I could not help reverting again and again to the mysterious action of Providence on that Friday a year ago.

I can never thank you enough for your unselfish attention to me, and your faith in both Harper and myself at that trying time. Unquestionably and assuredly Harper did what he should have, but it proved an impossible task.

As I am trying not to dwell upon this time last year forgive me if I bring this to a sudden close. I shall write to Jane tomorrow. She sent me such a nice letter yesterday.

With very kindest regards
I remain your sincere friend
Alex Cruickman.

Rossland, B. C., August 13th 1902

My dear King,

Your most welcome letter has travelled about with me, uttering its mute appeal for a speedy acknowledgment - along with a whole budget of other missives from far-off civilization, and only now, to my shame be it said, do I note how six long weeks have sped since your letter reached me - What do you think of me? I have been most short-sighted for only by attending to the mute appeal could I hope to see your fist again in a new epitome of your "rustling" life - The fact is that, while my heart is with you, my blessed old will is not up to writing letters in the woods - This summer has been the busiest of my life, simply chock full of work and that of so strenuous a sort that my stock of energy is not up to much else than the every day garnering of bulk and writing it record - Six weeks of perfect weather have kept me moving at top speed and at night I am not fit for anything else than merely cooling off and getting into the blankets - there to sleep like a stone - You know what the country about Rossland is like, rough, wooded to the top and überhaupt schwer durchzugehen.

It has been our portion since the 1st. of July and the same sort of thing, only more so, promises for the rest of the season - Every observation comes by good old-fashioned sweat and a climb of from 1000 to 5000 feet generally through brush - That last is often quite diabolic, especially where the fires have undermined the trees and they have fallen everywhere to make perfect natural or rather most unnatural abattis. I think it was from these "bulés" that the ancient Hebrew won his inspiration in making Gehenna the abode of fire! Howsomdever, something is done and today I completed a quadrangle of 300 square miles here in the heart of the foe - In June the record was a "reconnaissance" of some 45 miles in an opener country west of Midway - Altogether I have materials for a cross-section on 75 miles along the Boundary plus 80 miles done last summer. So I begin to feel encouraged that some day I shall get clear across to the plains - As you can easily imagine, there is no ounce of fat on me; I'm as hard as steel, either bone or muscle - I have lost perhaps five pounds though I eat as I have not for years - Any man should be well in this superb climate, the finest summer climate I have ever experienced - To-morrow, Jimmy Macoun, the botanist, together with the naturalist and my assistant and I we leave these diggins to rejoin the main Camp east of the Columbia (we have had a side loot of our own) and for the remainder of the season we are to be in the very wilderness - The Geologist to the old Commission said of the Country we are going into: "It is the most inaccessible on the whole Line". He couldn't work there at all as at that time there was not a single trail in the region for fifty miles east of the Columbia - We shall probably quit work about the 15th of October - So much for my prosaic doings -

You certainly did right to decline the splendid offer of the Metal Trades Association - My heartiest congratulations on it but still heartier ones on this new proof, by your staying where you are, that your heart is in the right place - I haven't a shadow of doubt you will do more good where you are - It would be sad to see your brilliant career interfered with by even such important and remunerative work as that proposed - We need you in Canada as a man for the people and there could not possibly be a finer way you can serve Canadaian men and women than to follow the path that has so broad and straight and bright, opened before you - I need hardly add that I am glad of your decision because it means you'll stay in Ottawa - Some of us cannot by any means spare you - Nevertheless, it was a dazzling offer; again Congratulations! You have certainly "been about" this summer - Winnipeg, Quebec, St Burwell, Toronto, Montreal in June and July and half of August not heard from; ma foi, but you see the world! I shall, you may be sure, be interested to hear if you have come to any decision regarding quarters for the winter - Did Mrs Morrison succeed in getting a suitable house? Of course, you will wish to settle down long before I reach Ottawa (about Nov 15th) and I leave it entirely to you to make arrangements as you would have them - It would be quite agreeable to me to furnish studies and bedrooms - Tell Lady Davies that Tom is doing finely, one of the most trustworthy men we have, the most, I believe - He is the picture of health and seems to enjoy the work - He

Yes, I have had good news from my lady all the summer. She has seen Italy as she only could see it and has certainly enjoyed it — Many out-of-the-way places they have visited as well as the usual show-places — I have been over much of the same ground and I realize how much more observingly, acutely, she has studied men and masterpieces than I could — Every letter makes me ask: "Where were my eyes to see, my heart to feel" in 1897? I believe she is at Bayreuth now, taking in the whole Ring and Parsifal. As you readily conceive, that six-thousand-mile earth-arc irks me! But it will soon be halved and, not three moons hence, fly to the vanishing-point. By the way, will you help me out with a box of curios the dear has sent me? It lies at Ottawa now in care of the Canada Atlantic Ry. I have written them to send the box to you which I know you will allow — I have also asked the Customs Collector to send his bill to me — I enclose the C.A.R. bill: will you pay it and let me fix it up with you in November? I have not now an open account at the Bank or I would send them a Cheque — I trust it will not-

Another but quite a different kind of perquisite in our savage life came last Monday — A "rancher" and I were in a particularly remote place on a high ridge heavily timbered, making our way over windfalls and small brush when the monotony of it was signally broken by the prettiest sight of its kind I have ever seen — an old sow bear, black and glossy with those inimitable bears ears erect and full

Dear King, Do not apologize for your delay in answering a letter; what was it Compared to mine! Nor must you move me to regret that we had ever thought of a plan to remove you from 331 Somerset. I should so regret the plan if it meant, in the slightest degree, your impairing your chances for solid comfort in making a change - All along I have wanted to be governed by your wishes in the matter - It would have been a keen pleasure to me to have made the joint arrangement but only on the condition that you were made happier by inhabiting quarters which, while more roomy, might have been made by the careful choice of a home, and by our combined efforts, as cosy as your own pleasant quarters on Somerset - I left you an unfair share of the work to be done in searching for that elusive thing, a thoroughly satisfactory domicile in Ottawa; the search has proved unavailing and you are most certainly right to stay where you are - I was leaving my rooms at the V.C. anyhow - apart from

Card in all its gilded splendor when read nigh to the sights, sounds and smells of our pack-train, saddles, cookery and general habiliments! Methinks you would be astonied to see me. I am never very ornamental, now I am a long haired, hob-nailed, patched and re tattered Savage! Friday night was nearly my last - A heavy windstorm with thunder and lightning, came on our Camp about 3 a.m. - We were surrounded by high dead trees, many in a rotten state - A heavy pour of rain, bang, a flash and then a moment of almost dead silence - followed by one of the most terrifying sounds I know - a large tree fell with that peculiarly powerful effect on the nerves that it always has, but a hundred fold greater when its ear-splitting crash comes unexpectedly out of the dark. My old bones were rattled right merrily - In 15 seconds, my assistant & I were "dressed" and out in the rain and piled the wood high on the camp-fires alongside the other men of the party - I have rarely seen so wild a thing as land or sea, as the woods for the next twenty minutes - Vivid lightning, gusts of rain and wind and the threshing cedars, pines and hemlocks with every little while a great crash as one the genuine disappointment I have in not having the more continuous association with you this winter, I am just where I was when we matured our plan - Somewhere about Nov^r 5^th^-10^th^ I hope to be in O. and I shall probably room at the Sherbrooke until I find a shack sufficient for my needs - If you happen to hear of a good place for one man, please note it down for me against my return - Dr Sinclair wants me to room at the Sherbrooke but I cannot agree to that for various reasons including Mrs D's rents! At least O'Hara here gives me some startling statistics on that score - I quite agree: a three-cornered arrangement, as Coats suggests, would not "go" - Yes, there is cause for "genuine pain" when one thinks of the social whirl of O. this winter - for you especially - No good excuse this season and you are so blooming eligible! of these came down - It was, too, rather exciting for we could not tell when one of the 75-foot whips would bring its tons of wood upon us out of the dark - There was absolutely no place to go and no way of telling which tree would come - But, fortunately, no one was hurt; the show came to an end and in an hour we were fast asleep again. Next morning we found that a tree only six feet from my tent had broken off about halfway to the top and its ruins lay south of its stump - If they had fallen west, it would have very probably snuffed out five of us - It was the closest shave for many a long day! But the experience was worth something as it showed wild nature as one could seldom see it - The old dame certainly broke out on Friday night - We are doing nothing just now by reason of rain (and snow on the peaks) My season is almost closed and by Oct. 15 I may be in Rossland - Many thanks for your card to Dr Coulthard - I hope to see him though I shall not be able to stay long in K. Have just written Mr Agassiz for a permit to visit the underground workings of the Calumet & Hecla mine - I plan to see Butte (Mont) and an iron range or two in Michigan also en route, perhaps to stop at Houghton and see the lady whose eyes did pierce your heart, Miss Chadbourne!

My dear Rex:

I intend to study law again next summer at Lake Delaware, and would like very much to have you tutor me. I know how extremely busy you are, but thought perhaps you might care to spend your holiday in doing some work with me and feel sure from past experience that there is no one from whom I should gain more in my studies.

I am thinking of coming to Toronto about the 23d or 24th April, in order to look up some hunters, and would be very much obliged to you if you would let me know who are the principal dealers in that line. I intend going to Ottawa for a few days after leaving Toronto, and am looking forward to the pleasure of seeing you then.

Hoping that you will be able to do some work with me next summer, and that I am not giving you too much trouble,

Very sincerely yours,

Peter G. Gerry.

19th April,1902.

My dear Peter/-

I promised to write you on my return from Halifax with further reference to the matter mentioned in your kind letter to me,which was received while there. If however you carry out your original intention to come to Canada this month I will probably see you here in the course of a week and so it might be as well to leave that open until we have a chance of talking it over together.

As to the horses,I am afraid Peter that your knowledge of the best persons to deal with is very much superior to mine and that in comparison I am totally in the dark. I think,however,that if you are buying in Canada you should at least see some of the horses from Henry's stables in Hamilton and Seagram's stables in Waterloo,Ont I know Mr.Seagram very well and all his family and would be very glad to give you a letter to him or any of them if you at all desire it. Henry,unfortunately,I do not know. Brand's Repository in Toronto is at least a centre of information on the subject of horses for sale though I imagine the class that is sold there is not at all the hunters which you desire. I would have gone to some trouble in looking up information on this point for you if I had not been kept occupied every moment of my time since returning from Halifax and also if I had not felt that in any event you were pretty well informed about it.

Do not forget that I am looking forward expectantly to the pleasure of seeing you here in Ottawa. Send me a card or a wire when you are coming that I may have an opportunity of meeting you at the train.

I might add that the occasion of my writing you at this particular moment rather than a day or two later is that I spent most of last night in dreaming of you and Bob. It seemed to me that we were all together out at Lake Delaware and there were no changes that I could observe in any of the trio. I hope you are both very well.

With kindest regards,

Believe me,

My dear Rex:

I received yesterday your extremely kind letter of April 19th. I intend leaving here either to-day or to-morrow, and have decided to go to Montreal instead of Toronto as I find that I am there much more likely to get the class of horse I am looking for. My dear Peter:

I have many times thought of writing you to thank you for your kind letter written to me from the West. My failure to write you has not been for want of good attention,but rather from lack of opportunity to send you a somewhat lengthy personal epistle.

I expect,during the course of the coming week,to visit some of the American cities,in connection with official business for our Government,and it is possible that this work will necessitate my being in New York for a few days. I expect,while there,to be kept pretty busy,but I hope that I may have the pleasure of a talk or two with Bob and yourself. Tell Bob that the anticipation of seeing him again fills me with considerable elation,recalling, as it does,some of the happiest memories which I have. The same, too,Peter,I wish to say of the possibility of seeing you again,and I do sincerely hope that you may be in New York when I come,and that if there,we shall opportunity of a few words together.

I am going first to Washington,and expect to leave for that city on Tuesday night. It will probably be the end of the week or beginning of the following week before I get to New York. I thought while in Washington that I would like to call on Mr.Ellis Postlewaite,remembering his kind invitation to me to do so,should I be in Washington at any time. If you have his address, and know of his being there,would it be troubling you too much to ask you to send it to me on a card. I expect to put up at the Shoreham Hotel,and I would receive O.K. a card to be called for there. It is just possible that at this time of the year,Mr Postlewaite may be elsewhere.

I will not add more just now as I hope that we will have the pleasure of a talk together soon.

------ Nov.21. 2.

My dear Peter:

I arrived in Washington only this morning,and found your kind note awaiting me. I must thank you for it,and also for the telegram which you sent me at the beginning of the week,and which I received in Ottawa the day before leaving. I stopped over at Burlington,Vt.one night,and at Albany another night; hence the delay in arriving here.

It is indeed very kind of you to invite me to stay with you. My visit being one on official business,would.I fear,cause me to be a poor sort of guest.besides.I know your time must be pretty fully occupied. I would have hesitated in writing you as to mycoming to New York had I thought that my so doing would have meant your going to any trouble on my account. I wanted to make sure of seeing something of you and Bob while in New York,and I am glad to know that this pleasure is in store. Perhaps it would be better in the meantime to leave the matter of your invitation open until we have an opportunity of having a talk together.

I expect to be here until Sunday night,and will arrive in New York likely some time on Monday morning. If you are free during the course of the evening,perhaps we could meet at the Manhattan Hotel. I had arranged,while in Ottawa,to secure rooms there,and will be sure to be at the hotel during the evening. If it is more convenient,in the event of your being otherwise engaged.to meet me at the club or elsewhere,if you would send word to that effect to the hotel,my time being my own,I would be free to meet you whenever you say.

I cannot tell you how pleased I am that you and Bob and I are to have some of our old talks together again. It is over three years since I last saw Bob,and you can well imagine that I am longing sincerely to meet with him again. Although it is only a few months since I last saw you,Peter,it was for such a brief time,that it,too,seems a very long while ago.

With best regards,and again with many thanks,

I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Peter G.Gerry Esq..

Dear Old Rex,

You probably think it very strange that I have not answered the bully long letter you wrote me while I was abroad, but may I ask how in the world do you expect me to write to you when you do not put your address on the paper you write to me on, so I have been compelled to wait until Peter returned from the West which he did yesterday. I cannot tell you how delighted I was to hear from you and only which I could have seen you. So look me up if you ever come to New York. Peter has been telling me about some of the times you had up here last summer and I am sorry to hear that you occasionally take a little rum. This is nice after the way you sat on me in college when I occasionally(?) went on a spree. A very funny thing happened up here the other day. Dr James's room mate, Dr Coleman was up here with me and we were talking anarchism when I suddenly thought of you and we both wished you were here to tell us more about them. I have often wished that I could have some good old talks with you again the way we used to at Newport when I thought you were enlightened. I have had a splendid summer abroad in Paris and strange as it may seem to you, led a respectable and quiet life. I have very little news to tell you except that I shall be in business all winter and also intend to ride with the Meadowbrook hounds. If you hear of a good hunter in Canada do let me know as I want one badly and will run up and see it. Peter had a splendid trip West as he probably told you, and I never saw him look better. I saw your friend Miss Gray last summer also Miss North, both of whom as had often you. Can I said before, I have no news to tell you but I did not want you to think that I was ignoring your letter. Do write to me again if you get time and send me articles about your work as I am still awfully interested in you and in economics, and shall never forget what

Your letter with its reference to your friend Mr. Harper,touched me greatly. He seems to have been a man of singularly high character and noble nature,and his death was not unworthy of his character and life. I was much touched by what you say of his appreciation of my books.

The publications which you are kind enough to send me,I shall appreciate and,I hope,make good use of. I am very much interested in all that side of our national life,and I should be glad if,from time to time,you would sènd me a copy of your publication.

Mrs Gordon joins me in sympathy,and in very warm regards.

Dear Ben

I wish you nice long & interesting letter. You must try & give us lots of time & I shall be pleased with everything you do. I am sure you have done several things which I only hope you have not forgotten to keep and which both Rupert & Mr. Gerald & Mr. Bird did. If you have not done so

As for the book you gave Miss Turnbull & the one you got Mr. Jennings I am sure Rupert would like that. you. It is lonely at times to think of him. He is certainly a kindly type & the work is a noble one & he would endeavour to fill Clerk's place. I don't doubt his ability, but hesitate to advise him. I wish you could hear him preach & judge for yourself whether he would be successful as a minister or to take up the work with you which I consider is just another department in our Masters work. We would prefer to see him with you rather than have him struggle along, perhaps for years, in a country church & in the end not give satisfaction for he is too deep a thinker.

We feel like leaving it to you & Frank to decide. Will you think it would be well for you to write Frank about it and tell what he has to say? The copies of Labour Gazettes & other papers arrived safely. Thank you both very much. I am afraid when this is all settled you will not want to see or hear of us again.

What else is another thing I want to trouble you about. Have you any idea of what would make a suitable gift to Mr & Mrs Herridge? It must be something lovely to be given in loving memory of Bert.

And still another thing I want to know. Would it be too much for us as a family to contribute to the monument in Ottawa? We are

I am sending you a letter
I have from Ted Burch which I enclosed in an envelope before I

I shall not see you again. He has written me such beautiful letters but he that I did not feel like telling any body the things but knew him & think I had them all.

Rest. Sometimes I feel I cannot better & kinder of God that dying such more trouble, but I must stop this. I know it is wrong of me

I have so much I want to say and like myself I feel there will never be all the time. If it were but so I don't believe I could live.
What a kind Providence it was that put me to sleep on my bed instead of the Chair. Mike & Jim & Charles are sending the papers & keep it on until they are not writing & thank you for them but the hands have been quite full for some time past.

Dr Pim & Jean will spend this week-end here. I have had so many interruptions.

My dear Rex,

I thought it so busy in my mind that I find it hard to choose what to write about first - And it may be that I shall fail to speak of the many many things of heart and mind that now come to me; memories of him who has gone, of the earlier days of our boyhood; thoughts of him as he has been in recent years in the business of life, when you two in a friendship that was permanent & real because founded on mutual love of the good and true, labored

Perhaps it is this sympathy and understanding of mankind that has led me of late to see things as he saw them and always to think of a parish as a man - and not as a preacher - Since coming here, and especially since the Foreign House of him who was so much to both of us in different ways, I have felt a deeper sympathy with the struggling "toilers of the deep" in the industrial world - Indeed, it has been a great Divine healing to me to think of their depths of pain intellectual and moral as well as physical; and in the consequent enlargement of my heart, I have felt at any time -

I do not think you have mentioned anything about Bert's book of which he has spoken to me frequently and which he hoped to have ready for publication before the Spring - Indeed my interest in it has almost led me to feel a share in its authorship - We have of the spoken of labor subjects and of our two callings; two in the division of labor but one in the aim which we both did and do have in the Elevation of the masses and the Salvation of man by him along industrial lines and by me along religious - and both of us by a religion and a Saviour together for the sake of humanity and her joy in the labor - a friendship indeed that inspires men also to make friendship for far from the joint-Stock Corporation that Carlyle so justly condemns inspires me to a better, brighter view of the world for which our hero thanked its Creator for having created it so bright.

First of all Rt. becomes appears - I need not say that I most heartily approve of the measures you have taken regarding Berth's Estate No other arrangement could please me more than that it should be made out in my sister's Name - And you may Send me the papers of renunciation of claim in remembering that it is not Bert himself who writes to me still - I feel, for my own part, that it is to Bert that I am writing still - Then when you ask me to give you the trust and brother's affection that I give to Bert, I cannot do anything else than accept your friendship so generously offered - I think that I have always had the trust in you, because you were not "one of his best friends" but from what my brother has told me in brotherly confidence, you were all alone in the friend's place in his heart - As for affection, I thank you from my heart for the comforting experience that sorrow in the death of my brother is perhaps scarcely justified - He is not dead, but lives nearer in Spirit than before - Daily I feel him nearer and knowing me above all conditions of time and space - Thus I feel a greater and stronger obligation upon me to be and do and suffer and hope because I have to justify myself to him as well as to my conscience - Your experience must also be similar - and from your letter I am convinced that it must be so -

Regarding Bert's book - if it had already reached anything near completion, I thought of suppressing

But regarding the memoir which you will publish yourself, - I shall send you parts of his letters

Of your letter as a whole, Rex, I must say this that it has afforded me much happy thought, happy because the sacredness of the sadness has almost counterbalanced in my mind and heart the rupture of the publication of it on my return home, and possibly of finishing it - (if unfinished) in accordance with the views so well known to me as his brother and one who took thought to run along similar lines to his own - Let me know what you think of my plans -

You have spoken of publishing a small memoir of him - and the thought of it is a very happy one - And I have thought that we might be able to combine the two -
The only difficulty is the distance between us and the fact that I have changed my decision of returning home in March until a future date which as yet I know to

His beautiful words in your words picture of dear Bert's Passing, of the triumph of his loving influence in the hearts of his friends, of the glory at last as he lay on Wilson's Hill in the glorious Sunlight and with only heaven itself above him, have all given me much comfort and peace. And yet I can see the

I took the ground that Man's moral and religious nature was organized in him at the beginning and before either Creed

Existence, and that therefor his duty to his fellows

I took up the Subject of the Simplicities of Christ and experienced a deep pleasure in it, as I think I wrote you I anticipated — I began with the thought that simplicity means power in that it often is gained only after much complexity of process & preparation and that it convinces the reason by its very nature - Thus the religious conceptions that Christ had were simple - God the Father, Man the Child born

the relation of these two - God's love on the one hand this conditional is the greatest obstacle - for that parish will probably demand an old to man than I - But once given the opportunity, I have confidence that I could carry out the necessities of a pastor with a fair success - Experience as Mount Forest showed me that -

However the chance of

I want you to hear

the great things, I should not have any misgivings at all - At present the work of the pastor attracts me more than that of the pulpit, and indeed experience of the last few years has fitted me more for the former than the latter - You may readily imagine how I look forward to an early settlement -

Regarding the Ottawa problem and that of Dr. Moore's church, - As you have said it would be a great congenial sphere of work if I was a fresh green graduate and felt more like a student than a minister - But yesterday I felt conscious of a growth, and a confidence that made me feel at ease - Indeed the simple and natural theme gave me part of its own free nature - Life in its reality is opening for me now and I have little misgiving regarding its final completion & with a preparation that has been long & full of opportunities for learning

Dear Frank/-

I am very pleased to know by your letter just received that you will likely leave Toronto on Wednesday morning next and that you will be here for Thanksgiving Day and days following. Send me a card as to the train I may expect you by and I will be at the station to meet you. If it is as convenient to you to arrange to come as you suggest by the train which leaves Toronto in the morning, I think that arrangement would be the best as it would give us Thanksgiving Day complete to take a trip out to Kingsmere should the day prove a fine one. You would also have a decent night's rest which you would hardly get travelling on the train by night.

Please thank Miss Harper for the clippings which she was kind enough to enclose and kindly give my sincerest remembrances to her when writing.

At the meeting of the Memorial Committee on Friday night it was decided that the choice of design and sculptor should be determined after public competition in which sculptors of other countries as well as Canada might take part. It was also decided that the form of memorial should be a figure or figures symbolical of heroism and nobility of character. From what Will has written me I think it probable that we may be able to have one of the best sculptors in New York do the work for the amount the Committee has at its disposal.

Hoping to see you on Wednesday evening next,

I am, as ever,

Yours very sincerely,

My dear Mr King.

Words can hardly express my appreciation of your kindness in sending me Bert's photograph. It is an excellent likeness of him- the best I think I ever saw of him.

It is indeed a very great consolation to us to know the esteem in which our dear, brave Bert was held by friends & acquaintances- and we also feel that much of that nobility of character which he possessed was due to his intimate association with and regard for yourself.

You will pardon my apparent delay in acknowledging receipt of photograph - Through Error in address it only reached me a day a two ago.

My dear Will/-

I have to-day received your registered letter dated March 12th and am writing to thank you for your kindness in enclosing the letters which you have. I am making copies of part of them which I will use in the little memoir that is gradually coming towards maturity. The letters you send are thoroughly characteristic of dear old Bert and will be very valuable additions to some of his other written thoughts. I will probably return them to you in the course of a day or two.

Did you not receive an acknowledgement of the photos of your old home in Barrie,which you were so kind as to send me. I wrote you att the time thanking you for them and telling you that I would give one to Harry Burbidge. I do not understand how it is that you did not receive this reply as I sent the letter almost immediately after the receipt of the photos. They are exceedingly good and I wish to thank you again for them.

There is one matter of which I would like to speak. About $3,000.00 have already been subscribed towards the erection of the monument in memory of Bert. As yet the committee has not decided what form this shall take but a good many of us are of the opinion that a bronze figure of Sir Galahad copied from the painting by Watts,which hangs at Eton College,Windsor,England and which is well known - the one where Sir Galahad stands in white armour with head uncovered by the side of a white horse.This figure mounted on a stone foundation and placed either in the city park or near the Parliament buildings seems to be the probable form which the memorial will take.

I am writing to ask if you know of any sculptors in New York who would likely undertake the modelling of such a figure at the price named.It is altogether likely that from the opportunity it would give to some well known man to have his work introduced into Canada,and because of the exceptional circumstances of the case that there may be an opportunity of getting a first-class sculptor to undertake the work at the price named,the amount of course to cover all costs,in connection with erection,etc.,etc.

What

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers
Volume 3

CANADA

What I propose doing at the next meeting of the committee is to suggest that the committee receive from sculptors designs and tenders covering same for the work,it being understood that the figure of Sir Gilhead as above given,either as a statue or a suitable bas relief from some scene in the Holy Grail,or something of the kind is to be the subject of the design,and that the committee be free to accept any [illegible] but not to pay for designs except the one finally chosen.

Perhaps you will have an opportunity of bringing this matter to the attention of some prominent sculptors in New York and if you do I will be glad to hear from you in regard to it,or to have the sculptor in question write me on the subject. It is very desirable that we should have an able man to do the work and it might strengthen my hands with the committee if I were to have a letter or letters from some of the men in New York City offering their services for the work. You will understand that many are in favour of confining the opportunity to Canadian talent,but in a work of this kind I am in favour of getting the best talent available for what we have at our disposal.

With kindest regards,

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Rex.

Your registered letter containing Berto letters rec'd yesterday.

Since receiving your letter of some time ago. I have made a list of Sculptors whose specialty is monumental work. & whose reputation is not too great to make them unavailable for a $3000 job - Have called on Schultzer. & Karl Bitter. but both happened to be out. I will make appointments with them. and several others of New York reputation. & hope to be able to give you satisfactory information in the course of a week.

I am personally acquainted with only one sculptor. He has only been "sculpting" for only a short time. so has no reputation yet. though he certainly has made some excellent models. However I will write you fuller about this matter of Sculptors later.

Hoping that you are well & happy. & with best regards to Harry B—

My dear Rex.

Though later than my promise. I have at last obtained some information re. New York Sculptors. One sculptor Schelfgew, who is first-class. & who does the important work for the best architects here. & does nearly all the best work for Ernest Flagg. one of the "front rank" architects here, told me that he would be willing to undertake the job - & seemed quite interested in it. French. who is in St Gaudens class, was out of town. but his assistant told me that he thought French might be willing to accept the commission. and that if he declined it. he (the assistant) could tell me of some other sculptors with good reputations who could do it. I got French's address in the country & have written him explaining the situation. From this I should judge that a New York sculptors with best reputations could be obtained for the work. The photos etc I sent you refer to work of Pike. of whom I referred to in my last letter as the only sculptor of my acquaintance. The photos of the large monument was his design submitted for the Grant Monument Competition in Washington. He is anxious to get the commission. as he is doing practically nothing just now. & would do his part of the work much cheaper than any other sculptor here. In fact. he told me that he would not care if he made nothing practically., he wanted something to do. His brother is a very clever architectural designer. who could work any architectural part if necessary. & this would not be an extra. I mention this, as it may be a consideration in saving money on sculptors fees. & applying it to the monument. From what I can learn. any

New York sculptor if commissioned for the work. would submit small clay sketches. until design was selected. of course. they would probably have to know the character of the design desired. In reference to this point. dont you think that if Sir Galahad" incorporated in the design would make it too poetical for the mveral public to appreciate. Though it is a beautiful idea. I dont think many many people would understand it. What do you think of a bust mounted on a simple classical pedestal? I will look for some designs for monuments costing about the amount contributed and send you what I can find — Of course. As you understand. I dont wish to suggest anything as to sculptor. or design. but am anxious to give any information about the matter I can obtain.

Hoping that you are enjoying good health. & with best regards to Harry P. —

My dear Mr.Hart/-

I have your kind invitation of the 26th inst,stating that you have assigned as the date for my special examination for the Ph.D.,May 22nd,and asking [redacted] will be ready for approval not later than May 1st.

I am almost ashamed to say that since my return to Canada my duties in connection with the work of organizing and administering this Department have occupied so much of my time that it has been next to impossible for me to do any satisfactory work upon my thesis,which I am preparing for publication in book form.

I have all the material gathered and classified and part of the work is already written,but I am continually beset with official obligations of one kind or another,which render it well nigh impossible to me to bring the whole of it to completion.

I intend,if I have no opportunity of finishing the work work before then,to devote the few weeks of my vacation to it. As Parliament is now in session and will likely continue to sit until after the 1st of May I can hardly hope to find the time necessary to complete what has been done before that date.

I am devoting part of my evenings to the work,however, and if I see it approaching an end near the 1st of May I will be disposed to submit what is by that time accomplished even at the risk of its being in a less complete condition that that which I may subsequently find opportunity to give it..

If it is not causing the Committee any inconvenience I would be obliged if the date mentioned in your letter were kept assigned to me on the understanding of course that if I come up at all this year it will be on that date,but there is a possibility that I may have to wait my chances for the coming year.

I am sending you under separate cover a bound copy of Vol.1 of the LABOUR GAZETTE,a copy of the first annual report of this Department and copies of Vol.2 of the GAZETTE to date. It is possible that you may be interested in having these publications inasmuch as they contain some information having a bearing on economic and industrial conditions in this country.

I extremely regret that I have not been able to bring this work to completion. In fact my time has been so occupied that I have had little or no opportunity to do any further work upon my thesis since last writing you.

I have,however,refused one or two tempting offers for the summer vacation in order to keep this time free for the completion of my academic work and I hope that in thus delaying for another year and going up for the Doctor's degree I will not be too much imposing upon the patience and generosity of the Harvard professoriate.

Mr. King,

Deputy Minister of Labor,

Dear Mr. King:-

While coming through from New York this week I met Mr. Polson of the Polson Iron Works, Toronto, who is an Executive Officer of the National Metal Trade Association of America. In conversation with Mr. Polson, he stated that the Executive of the above association were looking for a young man of proven ability, to take charge of the work of the association; or as he worded it:" act as commissioner". The work I believe would be somewhat along the same line as that of the Secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, which association you have no doubt come in contact with.

Mr. Polson asked me if I could recommend any parties for the position and having heard so many complimentary statements made in reference to your work, by Mr. Soper and many other sources, I took the liberty Mr. King of mentioning your name.

If you would care to consider any proposition whatever, out side of the work you are now interested in, Mr. Polson would be very glad to hear from you. I stated to him that I would write you in order that you might come in touch with each other.

Will you please accept my very sincere thanks for your kind thought of me in your conversation with Mr.Polson of Toronto, and will you also please believe that I am sincerely grateful to you for having spoken to Mr.Polson as you did, and writing me as you have.

Your letter was forwarded to me from Ottawa, while I was west on business in Winnipeg, and on returning through Toronto I saw Mr.Polson and had a most interesting talk with him about the National Metal Trades Association and its work. The opportunity is truly a most tempting one, and I have been slow in coming to any dedision in the matter of sending in an application, especially as I wished to be entibely satisfied in my own mind, that in view of the work which I have undertaken here, the step was the proper one to make. There is much which I feel is due to the task begun and something to the Government which has permitted me to fashion it pretty much after the manner of my own conviction, these two things have caused me to hesitate from the outset and finally decide that for the present, at least, it would be inexpedient to consider the matter of a change, even one so profitable in many ways as that mentioned in your letter, I assure you, however, that I am none the less grateful for your kindness on my behalf and I need scarcely say that the assurances of your generous personal friendship, which I gather from your letter are a source of very real pride and pleasure to me.

Please pardon the delay in my reply, it has been due in part to the fact that your letter was forwarded to me when some

Dear Sir
I saw my foreman last evening regarding the matter we were speaking of and I am afraid by some remarks he made that he will not keep Faith with the men as regards that Ayc he is Collecting. He tells me he put $125.00 in the business and he has 6 weeks pay coming to him since he signed off his partnership claim & a a certain percentage he was to have on all work or contracts secured by him making in all about $375.00 which he thinks he will be justified in keeping. Of course he is entitled to the amt due him I suppose the same as the rest of us but if he keeps all that I do not see how the rest will get anything nor do I see a way to help ourselves in the matter, all we can do I suppose is to wait developments, I will let you know if he gets that money as soon as I hear. Dear Mr.Kelly/-

Since your not having called nor hearing from you for some days past I have been wondering whether or not you secured employment in Kingston and have gone there. I hope when you called at the office last,and I was busy with some work which had to go at once to the printers,that you did not misunderstand my asking you to call again. I told the messenger to ask whether it was important that I should see you at that moment meaning of course that if you were intending to leave the city on the following day that you should so inform the messenger that he might let me know. As you sent back word that it was all right,that you would call again,I gave the mattee no fubther thought. I have,however,been a little anxious owing to not hearing from you and I write to say that I trust there has been no misunderstanding.

I hope you are well and have secured employment.

Dear Mr King

I drop you this line to thank you for sending me the Gazette with your remarks on my late friend Mr Burpee. I think you have very happily said what should have been said on him and his death. The speech of the event as of all similar events on me is to make me silent, and wish to remain so. And one of the most painful accompaniments of them is to have to speak about them because people think if you don't speak you don't feel. Burt had done his work through in such a short day to do it in. May we do ours as well. Some of us need a longer day to get out of us any good work. We should thank God for giving it to us. I feel very grateful Lawyer and to all his friends in Ottawa for your brotherly kindness. That is the highest and best thing we can exercise of. Pity it is that there is not more of it. Though there is much of it. It is the ultimate remedy for all social wounds and disorders. Burt had a large share of it. Wish you much success in your work. Any one is a working man to have got considerable insight into your problems. It is a great enlightenment to see them from the men's standpoint.
Wishing you a happy New Year

I have taken it for granted that you will pardon me a comparative stranger for trespassing upon your time but must plead the tragic death of poor Harry Harper as my cause.

During his life, he and I, though our paths of late years had been widely apart, were close friends and corresponded regularly and the news of his heroic death received to day affected me more than I can possibly tell and I have taken the liberty of addressing a letter of condolence to his brother, under cover of your address.

The letter above referred to should reach you by the same mail as this one.

Dear Mr King,

I very much regret that I have not had time before,to answer your letter of the 24th March,but I feel assured that you will pardon my seeming discourtesy when you take into consideration the trials,and tribulations that beset a correspondent on service,I must also ask you to pardon the use of a typewriter,

I was glad to hear that my donation to the"Harper Memorial Fund" had arrived safely,it is a thing to be wondered at,for mails appear to come and go in the most erratic manner,until one begins to wonder if any system at all is observed in postal arrangements.

Apropos of strayed letters;I wrote a longish letter to Bert about the end of December,which would be about 3 weeks after his death,Although you do not mention the fact,presumably it has,or will by this time have arrived,I sincerely hope that nothing I put down therein in my usual blunt off hand manner will offend the eye of a possible civilised reader,Generally I write a letter that can be read in decent society,but to Bert I always used to rehearse my grievances,and open my heart in a most uncompromisingly candid manner,and in words that were at times more forcible than polite,and as he was a sympathetic reader and listener the probabilities are that my part of the correspondence was not couched in terms used by diplomats.

With reference to the memoirsupon which you are engaged,I am awfully sorry that I can give you no verbatim extracts from Berts letters to me,You will readily understand that when one is daily staking ones life against the marksmanship of the enemy,one does not carry on ones person or in ones impedimenta,letters that would not be interesting to or appreciated by possible readers in event of unpleasant contingencies occurring. For that reason,I have never kept any of Berts long and inspiriting epistles,though I now,in view of his heroic end deplore the fact deeply.Your surmise to the effect that to me be often revealed the earnest side of his nature is perfectly correct,In every one of his letters he strongly urged me to curb ambitious desires and to content myself in doing my duty in a lowlier sphere than that to which I aspired,even though it were in a scale of society that at times was galling to the spirit.He pointed out on several occasions that it was not for me to seek for a higher status in my calling,if by remaining in my present rank I should be of more service to that profession,and humanity,as represented by my subordinates. Whilst I fully recognised the truth and justice of Berts remarks I could not reconcile them with dreams and ambitions cherished from my youth up. Had I not unhappily destroyed these letters I should most certainly have been very glad to let you have copies of these parts,for publication in the memoirs,(Of which please let me have a copy on completion)I can not recall the exact words in which these injunctions were couched but in all cases his letters breathed a spirit and teaching that could be summed up in the sentences"Do right because it is right to do right" and "Carry out the work,the results of which will be of the greatest benefit to humanity,irrespective of your personal inclinations and ambitions." In the foregoing sentences is compressed the very essence of Berts life and death.

I was very gratified to learn of the liberal response that had been made in the matter of the Memorial,and have no doubt that the noble deed will be suitably commemorated.

I thank you very much for your offer to share some of Bert Harper's interest in me,and accept your offer with gratitude,Did he ever tell you of the circumstances under which he and I first met?.Our first meeting was not of a promising nature,but truly characteristic of our dead friend.Some day I may have an opportunity of telling you myself.

In Miss Nesbitt,to whom I was introduced in Ottawa by dear old Bert,I have to a certain extent a confidante,and the principal theme of our recent letters has,as you may imagine been of a very mournful nature.I believe that you and she are old friends.

The war fizzling out as it is doing doing does not afford much scope for brilliance in operations,but our real and lasting work will soon begin.

As you have so kindly expressed a wish hear of my welfare,perhaps you may be interested to learn that I expect next month to go up for my qualifying examination for the ran of Lieutenant,and if a knowledge of the Taal does not prove a sine qua non for a "pass" I am a bit sanguine as to success (The examination is per se a very great concession) and hope that at last I shall be able to get out of the cul de sac that non Commissioned rank has proved to be.

Should the Taal prove to be my Waterloo the probabilities are that at the close of the war I shall again try my luck with"Our Lady of the Snows" in which case I shall most certainly do myself the honor of calling upon you previous to taking up a new mission in life which will be of a civil character-possibly coalheaving which is elevating and respectable.

In closing I would state that I am taking a carbon copy of this letter,and in view of the uncertainty of the mail service will post the duplicate in the course of a few days;thus are the advantages of typewriting obvious.

Again thanking you for your kindness,and with reciprocal good wishes.

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Lionel Hoork.

Dear Sir:-

Your Deputy, Mr. King, has quite captured our representative men, Merchants, Ship Agents, Owners, and the Longshoremen, and other union bodies in sympathy with the strikers. No better evidence could be had of the wisdom of the establishing of the Department of labor than the success attending Mr. King's visit to our City. His judicious action in obtaining the confidence of the conflicting parties, and then acting as intermediary, brought about a settlement that before his arrival had the appearance of serious consequences. I am sure you will be pleased to learn the estimation in which your Deputy is held by all that had the pleasure of making his acquaintance, and to congratulate you upon having such an excellent representative. He cannot fail to be of the greatest service in reconciling the differences so frequently coming to the surface between Capital and Labor. In closing, let me assure you I give expression to the views of all creeds and parties in this City.

Dear Mr. Troop:-

Your letter of the 18th instant referring to Mr. King, Deputy Minister of Labour, has given me the most unqualified pleasure. In connection with the establish-ment of the Department Labour, the importance of selecting a suitable man as Deputy was manifest, and knowing Mr. King, I felt assured that no more suitable person could be appointed. It is most gratifying to the Government to know that the results have so fully justified their action, and it is most pleasant to receive such testimonials as your letter. The position in question is unique, requiring for its successful filling a combination of qualities rarely found in any one man. The testimony of men like yourself will be a great encouragement to Mr. King in the discharge of his responsible duties, and I shall not fail to make known to him the views that you have so, fittingly expressed.

To-day I was waited upon by a newspaper reporter who informed me that the Ottawa Correspondent of The Bulletin had written a somewhat sensational despatch indicating wide-spread dis-affection on the part of the labour people of Canada. Such an article was not calculated to be of service to the country. I wonder who the correspondent is? Perhaps you can quietly find out. Dear Sir William/-

I have to-day mailed to the Countess of Aberdeen a bound copy,in red,of Vol.1 of the LABOUR GAZETTE and a complete file of the additional copies to date,also copies of the Annual Report of the Department to Parliament and of the railway bill of last Session with Hansard debate. I have written the Countess of Aberdeen informing her that these documents are being sent under separate cover in accordance with your instructions and that her name has been placed on the free-list of the GAZETTE.

I am enclosing herewith the memoranda in regard to the work of the Department which you desired should be sent in the first instance to yourself.

I have also mailed to Mr.R.B.Haldane,K.C.,M.P.,London,copies of the railway bill with Hansard debate covering same by official letter stating that they have been transmitted at your request.

Since your departure for England the work of the Department has been for the most part routine work;getting out the monthly issue of the GAZETTE,looking after subscriptions, preparing fair wage schedules,ect.,etc. We have been working short-handed as some of the staff are off on their vacation at the present time. I am working as opportunity permits on the annual report of the Department so,as to have it in readiness, if possible,for your revision on return.

You will be pleased to know that the Department of Railways and Canals is keeping our Fair Wages Officers pretty busy preparing schedules for work which that Department is carrying out. The Department of Public Works has also kept to the insertion of schedules in many of its contracts. There have been one or two complaints of contractors not complying with the terms of their contracts and some of thecomplaints are still under consideration. Others have been satisfactorily settled by the parties receiving the amounts to which they were entitled. Mr.Tarte has had several talks with me in regard to some of these matters in connection with his work.

We continue to receive requests for copies of the railway bill and the Hansard debate,and have also received quite

quite a number of expressions of opinion in regard to the merits of the bill from labour organisations and individuals. Some of these opinions strongly endorse the measure as a good one,but a number of others are hostile to compulsory arbitration,and,in regard to the present measure in particular,to that part which makes it an offence for individuals to encourage or declare a strike. This latter view appears to be the one most generally taken by the organizations of railway employees - the ones most immediately concerned. Other labour p organizations appear to regard to principle of compulsory arbitration as a good one.

At the request of Mr.Legris,M.P.,on behalf of the men and Mr.Bureau,M.P.,on behalf of the company the Department was asked to intervene under the Conciliation Act with a view of effecting if possible a settlement of a strike of the employees of the Tourville Saw-mill Company at Louiseville,Que. I was able to have the company concede all of the demands of the men in regard to certain objectionable conditions inserted in their original contracts of services but was not able to have the company concede a reduction in the hours of labour from 11 to 10 per day. The men though that they would endeavour to force the last point by holding out a day or two longer than they had but finally they were obliged to accept the conditions to which the company had agreed on our first conference.

You have doubtless read accounts of the strike of street railway employees in Toronto. From these you will have seen that a voluntary board of conciliation,composed of members of the Board of Trade,took up the matter of preventing at the outset a strike,and subsequently to get it settled,and that no request was made to the Department for intervention.

I imagine that it was the difficulty at Toronto and the strike of the Canada Northern Railway employees at Winnipeg which gave rise to the despatch which appeared in one of the English papers,and of which you spoke to me in a previous letter,alleging that the labour market in this country was in an unsettled condition . I have been endeavouring to discover who the correspondent was to whom this despatch may be credited but I have not as yet been able to discover him. One thing is certain,

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

Volume 3

PUBLIC ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES

certain,however,and that is the report was absoultely without anygreasonable foundation for there has probably never been a time in the Dominion when labour was more in demand or receiving better remuneration than at present.

I was pleased to learn that Mrs.Fitzgibbons thinks well of the GAZETTE and of the work of the Department. She has on different occasions made kindly references to the work in the columns of the Globe and some months ago I had her name put on the free-list for copies of the GAZETTE.

I have a letter this morning from Mr J.G.Colmer of the Office of the High Commissioner for Canada in London asking if we could supply two or three additional, bound copies of the LABOUR GAZETTE to that office. In his letter Mr.Colmer says: "This in its bound form proves a very useful work of reference and our library copy is so frequently requisitioned that it would be a very great convenience to have one or two others for loaning purposes". I think if some definite arrangement could be made through some of the immigration offices in London and other parts of England,for a satisfactory distribution of the LABOUR GAZETTE,it might be possible not only to do this country some good by causing persons immediately interested to become more familiar with our industrial conditions,but might also help to bring about a small circulation among English subscribers.

Your two letters to me,one in reply to a cable message and the other to a letter written on the same date were both a great pleasure to me and I thank you very much for your kindness in sending them.

I hope that your stay in England is proving an enjoyable one. Happily we on this side of the water are kept pretty well informed from day to day of all your doings,the press despatches being such as to indicate that the special correspondents are camping on the trail of the Canadian Ministers wherever they may be.

Dear Mr.Polson/-

I have delayed in writing you in regard to my putting in an application for the position of Commissioner of the International Metal Trades Association, until I had given the subject very careful consideration, and could acquaint you definitely with my intentions in the matter. Ever since you were so kind as to speak to me of the position I have felt that, what I owed to a work which I have commenced here, and to the Government in view of the opportunities they have given me, within limits, of prosecuting it more or less according to my own convictions, were obligations to which I could not give too serious thought. Instead of becoming less, the sense of their reality, becomes greater as I, in thought, reflect upon the possibilities of a change. I cannothelp feeling on this account that, for the present,at least, it would be other than expedient for me to take any step having in contemplation a change, and a severance of my present connection, no matter how promising and satisfying another work might be.

I have been more loathe to come to this conclusion in view of the kindly interest which you have taken in me, and because of the possibilities which you have pointed out. I can assure you, however, that I shall not easily forget your kindness, nor need I tell you that I shall always be deeply grateful to you for it.

Dear Sir Thomas:-

Re Railway strikes and Lockouts.

Mr. Mulock having been absent from Ottawa yesterday, I was not able until this morning to mention to him the drift of our conversation of Friday last and the conclusion reached, namely, that you were to discuss the subject with Mr. Hays and then to arrange an appointment here. Mr. Mulock mentions that the Government is desirous of a short session, and therefore it is advisable that, if any legislation in the direction in question is to be introduced, it should be at an early date.

In the preparation of such a measure there will necessarily be some delay as the views of the representatives of labour as well as of the Companies would require to be ascertained and this in itself involves some little time. Mr. Mulock feels that if a measure looking to a termination of railway strikes and lockouts is to be effective it should at its inception have the good will of both employers and employees, and previous consultation with interested parties may do much to promote this end. Thus you will see considerable time may be consumed in the preliminary work before the actual framing of a measure hence the importance of no unavoidable delay at any stage if legislative action is to take place this session.

Yours very truly,

Deputy Minister of Labour.

Dear Mr. King:-

Mr. Hays and I had a conference, yesterday, on the subject of railway strikes and lockouts, and the desirability of legislation calculated to prevent them.

I find that Mr. Hays does not share my views entirely, that is, he does not believe an attempt should be made, at this time, to secure such legislation as we discussed. Of course, the Grand Trunk lines are not in the same position as our own, by reason of the fact that they serve a more thickly populated territory.

In view of the vast interests involved and, therefore, the necessity for the greatest possible care and thought in the preparation of any measure, and because that the present Session is likely to be a short one, probably, it will be as well to allow the matter to remain in abeyance until another year. In the meantime, some plan may be devised that would be acceptable to both employers and employees.

Next time I visit Ottawa, I shall try to have a chat with the Minister and yourself on the subject.

Yours sincerely,

I am vexed with myself that all these weeks & weeks should have passed since the arrival of your interesting & touching letter, without any answer to it from me. I cannot imagine anything more stirring to the mind & moral sense of an active man like yourself than the work you are at present doing, amid these feebly-developed labour conditions of Canada, & I hope it will lead on steadily to larger & larger opportunities.

My attention has just been called to the fact that I have neglected a duty, viz:, in failing to forward you a copy of Resolution passed by mass meeting of Woodworkers in St. Andrew's Hall on December 31st, 1901, as follows: "That the best thanks of this meeting be accorded to the Hon. Aug.II,1903.

My dear Dr.Abbott:

I must thank you very much for your kind letter of the 27th July,in answer to mine of the 21st,re sending a short article to the Outlook,on the subject of the report of the Royal Labour Commission recently appointed by the Government of this country to investigate industrial disputes in the Province of British Columbia.

I am enclosing herewith the article which I have prepared,and which I hope will be acceptable. I had intended it as an editorial,but fear that possibly it will be too long for that. I would much prefer,if it were published as an article,that it should appear without any name,as having been secretary of the Commission,and in charge of the Department. I think it expedient that expressions of opinion on the merits of the report should not be forthcoming from me at this time. I feel confident that the report is one which will interest the readers of the Outlook very much,and rather than sacrifice some of its most important features I felt it better to run a little beyond the length mentioned in your letter.

The report has not yet been laid on the table of the House,so that its contents are not known to the public. As a matter of fact,no one,outside of the Commissioners and persons in the Department,knows what it contains. As soon as it is presented to the House,which will probably be some time next week I will telegraph to you at New York,so that you can fill in the date at the commencement of the article,and release the proof for the next ensuing issue of the Outlook. In that way you are likely to have a review of the report before it would be possible for the report itself to be mailed to the States. I would ask you to kindly keep as confidential the facts mentioned in the article until hearing from me.

Trusting that the article which I am sending will meet with your approval,and again thanking you for your kind letter,

I am, Very truly yours,

Dear Sir/-

I am in receipt of your communication of the 10th instant in reply to a telegram sent to you from this Department on the 9th instant,requesting a copy of your bill for the settlement of labour disputes by arbitration and in which you state that you have sent to the Department several copies of the paper and form of bill referred to. Would you please accept the thanks of this Department for your kindness in this particular.

It may interest you to know that at the last session of the Canadian Parliament the Hon.Minister of Labour introduced a bill in the House of Commons for the settlement of railway labour disputes by arbitration. The bill was introduced in the form of a compulsory measure largely with a view of calling forth during recess an expression of opinion from labour organizations,railway companies and other interested parties in regard to a measure of this kind.

The Minister is at the present time considering the measure in the light of public opinion as the Department has been able to gather it and with a view of re-introducing the measure, possibly with some modifications,at the approaching Session of Parliament.

I am enclosing herewith a copy of the bill as originally drafted with the Minister's remarks in regard to the same and I will have pleasure in forwarding you,at such time as the new bill may be introduced,a copy of the same. In the meantime I wish to assure you that the Department appreciates very much your valuable pamphlet on the subject.

Yours faithfully,

(S'G'D.) W. L. MACKENZIE KING.

My dear Mr King,

Just a slight encroachment on your valuable time to say that all at 136 Rep can Sk unite in very much indeed. We thank you for that charming Photo of your noble Self, which occupies the place of honour in our bedroom. Since its installation, there has been a marked improvement in Mrs Allan's Conduct, due as I tell her, to the Knowledge that you have your eye on her.

It seems 6 months to me since you left, but not you. I presume the days have passed all too rapidly for the amount of work to be accomplished.

The trip through the Rockies must be very enjoyable especially to you, who more than any other, sees "Tongues in trees" & "Sermons in Stones" & what is best, "God in everything."

It was very kind and thoughtful to send your

the Kingsmere air will restore her to her usual

Mr Fleury expects to finish it about the first is absolutely necessary as we want you at

Dear Mr.Allan/-

I am enclosing herewith my cheque No.104 for $100 in part payment of the account of the Export Lumber Company,which I also enclose. Would you kindly credit me with this amount on the account and return to the bearer.

I notice that on the last account rendered you have said nothing as to the trade discount of 2% which was promised on the first account. If I am entitled to this discount I would be pleased if ~~have~~ ~~the~~ ~~en~~ ~~to~~ mentioned on the account I am enclosing.

You were kind enough to say that you would give me the cost of the lumber which was taken from my house,to be used elsewhere.

The quantities in question are 545 feet of rough lumber,165 feet of flooring and 750 shingles. If you would please give me a statement as to what this would amount to I would be greatly obliged.

your competition I understand that the figure is to be of heroic size, which means 9 ft or over. Will you pardon me if I suggest that I think sculptors may hesitate to enter a competition for an heroic figure at the sum named in your terms. The usual cost of a figure of that size is from $4000.00 to $8000.00 which does not include a pedestal. I think if you could make the size of the figure a definite one it would materially aid the sculptor in working out his design

Hoping I may have helped you and that I may hear from you again regarding this point, as soon as possible. ———

Dear Sir/-

I am exceedingly obliged to you for your kindness in sending me information in regard to the Canadian Guild of Sculptors and a list of the most important sculptors in the Dominion,as asked for by me in my letter of a day or two ago.

In regard to the size of the figure for the statue to be erected to the memory of the late Henry Albert Harper,I would say that as far as I know the Committee did not intend to specify anything explicit in regard to this.

We are well aware that the amount offered is exceedingly small.It was obtained,however,by voluntary contributions without any canvass being made and the Committee felt that rather than detract from this feature of the fund,it would prefer to stand its chances of getting a suitable memorial for the amount it had to offer.

Sculptors may if they desire designate that the figure which they propose to execute at the price named shall be less than of heroic size. The Committee will,of course, expect that in some cases this may be done.

I thank you very much for your kindness in bringing this point to my attention and will see that the Committee is informed of it at once. I do not imagine,however,that there would be opportunity for sending out further printed instructions with reference to the rules governing the competition.

My dear King.

I am engaged in the consideration of the Preferential Tariff Question, with a view to a book which I hope to issue in two or three months. My general sympathies, as you may suppose, are very strongly on Mr. Chamberlain's side; but my conclusions are not likely to please extremists on either side; & I am trying to be as scientific as is humanly possible.

Can you aid me with some information? First I want to know what exactly are the present duties to the Empire including, what has so far been the effect of them, and what are the present proposals of the Govt. There are probably official papers, speeches &c, which you can send me a which will answer all these questions. The Anti-Chamberlain people lay great stress on the policy of the Canadian govt, as showing that no expansion of the English market for corn as is likely to take place. For my part I entirely approve (of course — this almost needless to say this) of the policy of Canada developing its own natural resources. Let her become owner later. What I want now primarily is to be sure of the actual facts.

I should be more than glad if you could send me any speeches or articles of value that may have appeared recently in Canada on the Preferential Tariff in general, from the Canadian side.

The situation as it appears to me is this — the English people can be persuaded to put duty on wheat & give Canada such preferential terms as will be a real assistance to the wheat grower (probably preventing it being a burden on English food" & at the same time reducing the tax on tea &c), if it can be persuaded that real advantages will be secured in return to English trade in the Dominion.

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

CANADA

The present 33⅓ is generally believed not to be effective towards that end. (I know what can be said on both sides of this — & I shall maintain an open mind but it has been of benefit — both the British manufacturer (on a rule) does not believe it).

I don't see how a Preferential system is to work if all possible Canadian manufactures are to be protected. And my own impression is that it could be used to the part of the Canadian government not to stimulate certain young industries (not very strongly suited to the country a few of which there is not at present a very strong need) ~~and also for~~ only it could be seen that the Canadian farmer could be substantially benefited by an English preference. The question is what precisely are the openings that can be offered to English goods — what is the quid for the quo. You may help me on this point — & whatever you may tell me I shall regard as profoundly confidential.

With the growth of the N.W, the agricultural vote will become stronger in comparison with the industrial — & in favour of cheap goods from England (if it can't get them, I should expect a demand for the reciprocity with the U.S). But the granting of the farming protection could stimulate certain industries in Ontario & the other provinces — eg. farming implements as well as manufactures. How does this reasoning strike you?

Very sincerely yours,

W. J. Ashley.

I regret very much that your letter of some weeks ago has remained so long unanswered but I have been away from the Department for some time for a vacation and absent in British Columbia and this has made it impossible for me to write to you sooner.

I have,since my return,had a talk with the Minister of Finance,Mr.Fielding,and also with the Minister of Trade and Commerce,the Minister of Customs and the Postmaster General on the subject of Canada's position in regard to the preferential tariff question,without mentioning to them that I desired the information other than for authoritative use. They all agreed in stating that the purpose of the present Government is to place the English manufacturer with regard to the sale of his manufactuted goods in the same position as the Canadian manufacturer.

This would not mean the absolute abolition of the tariff upon English goods but its reduction to a point so low as to not more than make good to the Canadian manufacturer such advantages of a cheaper cost of production as the English manufacturer may have on account of the greater cheapness of labour,in raw materials,or a ls a lesser rate of interest which he may have in the English market. This is the theoretical desideratum.

I am sending you under separate cover a copy of the Act of 1897 respecting bounties on steel and iron, which is the law at the present time; also a copy of a bill at present before Parliament to amend this act. Mr. Fielding, the Minister of Finance, has assured me that he thinks the bill as at present for its first reading is likely to pass the two houses without material change. As soon, however, as it has been assented to I will mail you a copy of the act. I am also enclosing a bill to provide for the payment of bounties on lead, which is being introduced for the first time this Session.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce has promised to supply me with a memorandum showing exactly what amount has been paid and is being paid at the present time in bounties to the iron industry. The Minister feels, however, that it would be almost entirely guess work to attempt to answer what so far has been the effect of these bounties. As you are doubtless aware the experience of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company in Cape Breton and the Clergue Company at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., have been anything but pleasant for the shareholders during this year. Influences evidently emanating from the United States have operated very adversely to the industry in this country. There appears to be little doubt that American capital is aiming at capturing the iron industry of this country.

United

The present proposals of the Government you will find pretty definitely set forth in the bill. A feature of chief importance to note in this connection is that the bountues are given on a sliding scale,the intention of the Government being that they should decrease year by year and run out at the end of five years. This year an exception has been made in the case of the Sydneys on account of local conditions.

The budget speech of the Minister of Finance delivered during the present Session of Parliament has a good deal to say on the Canadian position in the matter of the preferential tariffquestion. Mr.Fielding has given me a copy of his speech and also of his speeches of 1901 and 1902 which contain other references to the same subject. These I am forwarding to you. Mr.Fielding told me that if at any time there were particular points on which he could give definite information if I were to come to him in reference to these he would be pleased to answer them if possible. So I trust if I can be of service in obtaining from the Minister of Finance authoritative

authoritative statements on behalf of the Government with regard to any questions on which you may desire information, that you will not hesitate to write me concerning them.

In your letter you speak of the possible expansion of the English market for iron, etc. In this connection I should think that the construction of the new Grand Trunk Pacific, the transcontinental railway, is a metter which might fairly be considered an important one. Canada will not be able to produce more than a fraction of the rails and rolling stock required in connection with this road and the increased need for commodities of one kind and another to which its construction and completion are likely to give rise, would appear to be the source of a certain demand.

As a matter of fact the imports into Canada from Great Britain have shown a large and steady increase for some time past. The Minister of Customs has given me the following as an official statement from his Department. This statement was I believe cabled a week or two ago to the English papers the source, however, not being disclosed and the Minister has also referred me to the monthly statement of the Trade and Navigation returns of his Department for futher evidence to the fact mentioned in his statement. I am sending you under separate cover copies of the latest of these reports.

The

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

The statement is as follows:-

"According to an unrevised statement of the foreign trade of Canada for the fiscal year ended June last, just published by Customs Department, the imports for consumption from Great Britain were $9,687,648 over those of previous year, or an advance of 30%. Similar imports from the United States increased only 14%.

"The dutiable imports from Great Britain have more than doubled since the Preferential Tariff went into operation, - the figures being for 1897, $20,217,422 and for 1903, $42,206,974. During the six years immediately prior to the Preference such imports decreased from 31 to 20 million dollars".

I should have mentioned abive what you already know, that the proposal of the Government in not only to lower the tariff in regard to English goods at present dutiable so as to place the English manufacturer on a competitive level with the Canadian manufacturer but also to raise the tariff as against other countries so as to confine the competition as largely as possible to British and Canadian made goods.

The most important documents on the subject are the papers relating to the Colonial Conference of 1902 some of which have been published in the form of a blue book by the Secretary of State's Department and presented to the House this year. The Canadian position is, I think, fully stated in these documents. You doubtless have a copy of this blue book or have obtained its contents from other sources. I am sending you one, however, under separate cover.

The only other documents or speeches on which I have been able to lay my hands within the past day or two,which have references to this matter that may be of service to you,are the speech of the Hon.Mr.Paterson,M.P.,on the budget delivered on April 8th,1902,the speech delivered by Sir William Mulock at Toronto on the 4th November,1902,and a speech on the budget by Sir Richard Cartwright delivered in 1902 and a pamphlet called "Political pointers",a special report regarding the growth of trade and material industries of Canada published last month by the Department of Trade and Commerce and a short article by the Hon.G.W.Ross on Preferential Trade in the "Canadian Magazine" of the present month. I beg to acknowledge receipt of your circular letter of the 24th inst. addressed to Mr Partridge.

Now as I am a Canadian and not unknown in Ottawa and Montreal, I am going to take the liberty of asking you for a few lines in confidence in regard to this matter. Mr Partridge is interested in the subject of the memorial, and although the fund is very small, might be inclined to submit a model , were he assured that American Sculptors stand on a strictly equal footing with Canadians. If you cannot assure me of this, Mr Partridge feels that his time and health will not permit him to engage in a work of such a character, with the pressure of other important work upon his hands. Pardon me for putting the case thus plainly, but I think you will see the fairness of my request, and, considering that I am a fellow-countryman, will not deny me a reply.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sir:-

Your communication has reached me. Let me thank you for your courtesy in refering to me.

I fear however that the amount named in your circular is inadequate to the demand of your Competition.

I would suggest that you make it $5000.oo at least, and $I0,000.oo if possible.

The cost of casting , in bronze alone, would be $1500.oo dollars ; if the statue was heroic size.

Dear Sir:-

Your favor of the 11th. Feb. 1903, came to hand . It is possible that you might find a young man of worth who would make the statue in bronze , for $3000.oo, and deliver same to your city; but it would be altogeather too much to expect of a sculptor that he would do the base and foundations as well.

I would therefore suggest that you have the statue made , a portrait statue, and then put it on exhibition in your city on a wooden base until such time as you shall have secured money enough to erect the base , in stone.

Dear Sir:

I have submitted for the consideration of your Committee, a sketch model, for the proposed Harper Memorial.

The intention of my design is, - that the panel in relief on the front of the pedestal should represent Henry Harper, at the moment when, shrugging off his coat he said: "What Edge can I do?" Above & behind him, in low relief, I showed place a symbolical figure of Death, holding in the right hand a poppy. (Death flower) and in the

be constructed and finished in the best possible manner. The entire monument would be fifteen feet high.

Any inscription which the Committee may desire - could be placed on the monument.

Should you wish to know anything about my work - you might refer to Sir Wilfrid Laurier or Mr Morgan of Ottawa. I am at present working on the D. J. Jamieson monument for Ottawa, and have just completed - in bronze a gilt figure of Governor Simcoe for the Queen's Park, Toronto, Ont. Statues. I have created are the figure of "peace" for the Soldiers Monument here. Statue of Sir Pomyaskha. Bust of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Sir Charles Tupper. Sir Hibbert Tupper. Hon. G. W. Ross. Sir George

Left hand, over his head, a spray of laurels.

I have also submitted an alternate panel of Sir Galahad. In the terms of the competition, a figure of Sir Galahad, was suggested. So, should his panel be preferred, it could take the place of the Harper panel.

The bust of Henry Harper, which I should make a perfect portrait, would be of heroic size. When modelling the sketch model. I had not the necessary photographs, by which to make a portrait. Both panel, and bust, would be of the highest Standard Bronze.

The pedestal would be Quincy Stanstead granite, twelve feet high, on a foundation seven feet deep, and would

Dear Sir,

In the sketch model ,which we now submit for the " Harper Memorial" the idea of the Sculptor is to represent the Angel of Death staying the hand of the Hero.

The composition represents Young Sir Galahad,the knightly protector of Women,facing the conflict,and in the contest his sword an shield are shattered.

Above is a tribute figure,displaying the open book of the words of the Brave,on a page of which is inscribed Mr. Harper's last exclamation " What else can I do ? "

The Monument is designed for the express purpose of receiving a large symbolical Bas-Relief.

The reasons for adopting the Bas-Relief as opposed to a standing figure are:-

Firstly: A standing figure would have to be of heroic size to be a success,this would not be possible,with the money at the disposal of the Committee.

Secondly:-A Bas-Relief gives a greater possibility of presenting lucidly,the significance of Mr. Harper's brave deed.

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

CANADA

Thirdly: Ottawa possesses several standing compositions.

The design of the Monument has purposely been kept simple, and the absence of any but necessary ornamentation will give to the bronze a distinction and importance, which is the birth right of this beautiful material.

You ask for an expression of opinion as to the method of judging, we venture to suggest a Committee, selected from among the following:-

Mr. Robert Harris R. C. A.

Mr. Wm. Brymner R. C. A.

Mr. Brownell R. C. A.

Doctor Mac Kenzie

Dr. Mac Kenzie's sculptural knowledge and attainments would qualify him as an exceptionally competent judge.

Dear Sir:-

Your favor of the 20th. came to hand this morning. Relative to Competitions for sculpture the fair way to hold a competition, if such means is decided upon as the best way to secure a statue, is to pay a certain sum for the six best models; giving the commission to the best one of the six.

The old method of giving the commission to the best model and making no remuneration whatsoever to the other sculptors who sent in good work, is not entirely fair to the profession. Their work is always considerable and the expense is more than is usually considered by the outsider. You will readily see that if there is an offer to pay a certain sum for six models and no discrimination is made between the payment of these six, it offers a larger field of encouragement to those who enter the competition. Even the many who will fail will feel that a just consideration has been recognized toward the profession.

The freight charges should be paid one way by those asking for the competition.

The simpler the statements are made in regard to any competition the better and less confusing are the results.

The Jury should be composed from your own committee and they should ask one or two well known sculptors, or men who know what good sculpture is, to advise them as to the respective merits of the various models. The final decision should rest with the Committee itself. This will avoid any feeling or artistic jealousy that would otherwise arise if the matter was put entirely into the hands of some art-control - society run in the interests of a few sculptors.

When the commission has been given to the sculptor who made the best model he should be paid one third of the amount

Central Park.
Fifth Avenue and Eighty-second St

New York, 190

agreed upon as the price of the finished work ,erected in place. One third more when the heroic statue is finished in plaster and the last third when the statue is in place , before it is unveiled.

This gives the sculptor ample funds to work with and the payments occur at such times that the sculptor is not hampered in his work . Plenty of time should be given for excelent work . It is not generaly known that the artist accomplishes his best work when his mood is favorable . He is neither a business man or a laborer , the two extreams of activity , but he is a thinker , sometimes a dreamer , and when he dreams well a good statue is the result . Many a good oppotunity to make a good statue has been lost because the Committee composed of business men have not considered the movement , sufficently , from the side of the artist. This fatal .

I would recomend that you insist on U.S. Standard bronze, 90 parts Copper, 7 parts zinc, 3 parts tin.

If you care to submit any copy of your preposed competition,to me, before you send it out , I would be glad to make any suggestions possible.

I will send you a list of thoroughly reliable men and if you care to know of some of their works will send you the data about any one of them.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mr.Challaye/-

I need hardly say that I was delighted to receive from you a copy of your published work on compulsory arbitration in New Zealand. I wish to thank you most sincerely for the kind words with which you havr inscribed the title page.

I have often thought of you and Rostrand and of the happy days we spent together at "The Settlement" in Tavistock Place. I wish very much that it might be possible flr us to renew the friendly meetings which we had there.Possibly the future may give us an opportunity.

I have just returned from an absence of some weeks in the western part of Canada,and,consequently,did not receive before this your publication which was forwarded from me home in Toronto to me here. I wish that I had had time to read over the pamphlet before writing you,as the subject in one in which I am extremely interested and I am quite anxious to know your views on the New Zealand law. I thought it better,however,to acknowledge the publication at once and am counting with pleasure on reading it during the course of the next few days.

I am much delighted to know that you are now a Professor at the Lycée Louis le Grand in Paris and I wish to congratulate you very heartily on the position which you hold.

I do not know whether you have learned of the work which I have taken up in Canada. After leaving England and spending a while in Italy I received a communication from the Canadian Government offering me the position of organizer of the Department of Labour for the Dominion and I have since July,1900,been in charge of the work of the Department here.

I am sending you under separate cover a complete file of the publications which we have issued to date as I think it possible that they will contain information on industrial conditions in Canada which will be useful to you. They comprise the LABOUR GAZETTE, the official journal of the Department,the 1st and 2nd annual reports of the Department,a report of a Royal Commission appointed to investigate industrial disputes in the Province of British Columbia and a report prepared by myself some time ago on the methods adopted in carrying out Government clothing contracts in Canada. My dear King:

I am just in receipt of your very kind letter and wish to thank you very very much for it. In the strength of it I will stay here till Tuesday instead of Monday. My father is very ill, though much better, they tell me, than at the beginning of the week. My visits always do him good. It is his heart that troubles him, and extreme restlessness and despondency are among leading symptoms of all maladies of that order. The card you forwarded me was from our family physician who tells me that he knows little or nothing about my father's condition – that he may live years, or hours. Home you may know, therefore, is a sadly changed place for me from what it was even a fortnight ago. I think I never saw the advance of age so sudden or the break-up of an almost perfect constitution more complete. Yet except for a failing memory his intellect is as keen as ever and it is a great pleasure for me to be with him and to renew our old times of comradeship which even long absences have not very greatly impaired. I wish you had known my father – he is a man with whom you would find, I am sure, many points in common.

On G.T.R. to North Bay,

Feb.20,1903.

My dear Coats:

I have just received your letter of yesterday,with which is enclosed a cheque for $200,and a copy of letter sent by you to the members of the committee of railway employees at St.Hyainchte. containing a copy of the reply received from Mr.Hodge to the letter of the Minister,with reference to the payment of wages of employees of the Wuebec Southern Railway. I have also received this morning a telegram from you stating that you sent a registered letter last night,but that the letter mentioned in telegram you had not received. Your letter of to-day also makes mention of this latter fact.

I fear that I have not made myself clear as to the letter here referred to. You have received the letter which I meant, as it was the one containing the request for the cheque. In that letter I asked that the documents requested therein should be put on board the C.P.R.train to North Bay. My telegram was intended to cancel that order and have them come by mail instead. From reading over your letter I fear that there are other points in my previous letter,which I could not have made as plain as I intended to. You ask what about the articles on trade unions and rates of railway employees. In my letter I think I stated that you would find the tables on railway employees,including maintenance-of-way men,yardmen &c. already set up in type,and that I would like you to write an article corresponding to the previous articles and have the same inserted in the March Gazette.

As to the trade union article,I think I suggested that Plant should prepare a descriptive table on the trade unions in Manitoba and the N.W.T.,and a statistical table on their growth, and that you should prepare an article similar to the previous one on trade union organization,and have it inserted,along with these tables in the March Gazette. This is my wish in the matter. On re-reading my previous letter,I think you will see the form which I want these articles to take.

My intention in asking for the notes of my interview with Dr.Grenfell was that I might prepare,on the way to the coast, ashort article on co-operation among fishermen. It is not my intention to say anything about Dr.Grenfell or about his work, apart from what may incidentally arise,with this particular branch of his work. As it would not be possible for me to get the notes now before another week,and asI want the article in regard to

Volume 3

CANADA

co-operation solely,and to embody some points which are not included in the notes,this article will have to be held over for another month. There is not time enough to send the notes out to Fernie and return the manuscript in time for publication.

I alsoasked for the papers relating to the St.Hyacinthe conciliation. My purpose in so doing was to prepare an article on the subject for insertion in the March Gazette. You do not, however,make any mention in your letter of these papers,and none are enclosed. Either to-day or to-morrow I will write such an account as I can from memory,and will mail it to you from Winnipeg along with suggestions as to any points to be added or filled in. There will not be time to receive the papers,so please do not send them,but keep them on file.

I think it would be all right to prepare a short article on the refusal of the chief of the fire brigade at Toronto to grant permission to the men to form a union. Take care,however,to see that it is put in such a way as not to appear to advocate a course in either direction.

I see mention in the press of a strike at Oshawa of carriage workers,and in the Toronto World also of a strike of garment workers which has been going on for some time. We have mention of it I think in last month's Gazette,or if not,have a record of it among the February strikes. I notice that yesterday or the day before,other classes have joined the strikers. It might be well to communicate with Mr.Robert Glockling as to the exact situation, and what he has done in the matter,as I think he is endeavoring to act as a conciliator between the parties.

I imagine,from accounts in Toronto to-day,that the Nanaimo strike will be settled soon. I doubt,however,if this will be the case with the Fernie strike.

Your reply to the committee re St.Hyacinthe conciliation was all right. I might say in regard to Mr.Hodge's letter to the Minister,that it is,as you say, a bluff. The question of a new scale of wages is not the one with which the men are at all concerned at the present time. They are seeking only for payment of amounts owing them. Their endeavor to get an agreement to secure payment on the 20th of each month was in view of the fact that the company never paid them regularly,and were liable tocease

Volume 3

payment altogether at times.

I wish you would send bound volumes I and 2 in red,together with additional copies of the Gazette to Arthur Guise Esq.,A.D.C. Government House. You might write a note under separate cover, saying that I had written you asking that these be sent to him at once. I promised to send them sometime ago,and the letter forwarded by you to-day was from Mr.Guise,reminding me that the promise had not been fulfiled.

A review of the annual report of the Department had better be published as a separate article,under the heading of work of the department,mentioning in the introductory paragraph that this is taken from the annual report. I think this article had better cover about four or five pages of the Gazette. Do not quote any of the forms or tables,but give the gist of each main division. See to-day's editorial on Provincial Mining Association in British Columbia,in the Globe. If you could get particulars it would be worth a special article. See that the B.C.Mining Record mentioned in this article,is obtained by the Department.

In case I should wish to send you a confidential telegram, make use of the Slater code. We will add 200 to every word,so that in interpreting the code you will have to take 200 from the word sent. Ardouin,I think understands the process thoroughly. You might adopt the same method if it is necessary to wire confidentially.

I have nothing to add,except that I have every confidence in the way in which you will manage while I am away. As,however,I may be absent some time,and Parliament is meeting so soon,the Department may require very close attention from you,and with the three or four important matters which we have on hand,too great care cannot be exercised.

Yours sincerely,

------ On C.T.R. north shore Lake Superior.
Feb.21,1903.

My dear Coats:

I am enclosing herewith an outline of an article re the intervention of the Department on behalf of the Quebec Southern employees. Not knowing how the matter may terminate before the end of the month,I have not given the article a title. If the Company pay their employees,the article had better be headed "Settlement of Wages Claims of Railway Employees by Depa[illegible]" "Intervention of Department of Labour in Settlement of Wages Claims of Railway Employees." If no settlement is made,and the company should pass into the hands of a receiver,instead of the word settlement,the words "on behalf of" had better be substituted. You will have to look over the article pretty carefully,and compare it with the pencil notes which are among the papers I left behind. Make any changes or additions that may be necessary. I may have one or two important points noted on the papers which I intended to work into the article. You will doubtless be able to detect what these are and insert them in the properplace. You will notice that the article is not completed. You might make a concluding paragraph summing up what may transpire before the month ends, concluding by saying that at the end of the month the situation stood in such and such a way. You might add also a paragraph to the effect that during the month certain of the employees commenced action in the local courts against the company for payment of their wages. Get from Samson a statement as to how far the actions had progressed at the end of the month,and whether or not any judgment had been given,and if so with what results. As this article will likely attract the attention of the House I would like you to scrutinize all of the statements that are made,with particular care.

I wish you would make out a voucher to Samson as follows:

St Hyacinthe, Feb.13, 1903.

Received from W.L.Mackenzie King,Deputy Minister of Labour, the sum of two dollars,in payment of services rendered in connection with settlement negotiations by the Department of Labour under the Conciliation Act,in thematter of a dispute between the Quebec Southern Railway Company and its employees.

Write Samson,asking that this voucher be signed,and returned to the Department,and when received,please file same with the other papers on conciliation.

I have made what I fear is a frightfully vain attempt to indicate the kind of outline which I think it would be best to give to the article on co-operative stores. On se ond thoughts it occurred to me it would be better to have this article appear at once,rather than delay it for another month,and as I recollect having made the interview pretty complete I think you will be able to bring in all of the points which are essential. I would ask you,then,toplease prepare this article,basing what you have to say upon the notes contained in the interview and following the outline suggested by the sketch enclosed herewith. It can then appear in the March number of the Gazette.

I received a letter from Mr.Acland,asking me to send a copy of the Labour Gazette to Dr.F.W.Spiers,Editor of the Book-lovers' Magazine,Philadelphia. I am writing Mr.Spiers to the effect that I have asked you to send him a complete file of the Gazette from the first number. I wish on receipt of this letter, you would send him an unbound set from the first number to the present,together with indices,his address being as given.

We are now on the north shore of Lake Superior,having passed,during the time of writing,Jack Fish,and one or two other stations,and are between three and four hours distant from Fort William. The weather is exceedingly fine,the day being clear and bright,and not cold. The ground,however,is covered with snow, and the general appearanceof the country,excepting for the waters of Lake Superior,dreary and desolate. There are rather too many infants in this car to permit of peace of mind,unless one happens to do as I have done,take an unbidden possession of the stateroom at one end. We expect to arrive at Winnipeg about ten to-morrow, and will mail this letter from there,unless we should happen to mail it at Fort William in the interval. I hope you received all right the answer to your telegram which was forwarded to me on the train. I find that if on time,we get into Fernie about six o'clock on Tuesday morning. I would be glad,in the event of their being any important news,if you would send me a very brief wire to Fernie on that day,or the day following. I willwire you of our progress there as soon as there is anything definite to report; also of our time of departure and proposed route. In sending messages,it will not be necessary to sign more than your last name and initials. All additional words beyond a certain distance necessitates,as I understand,an extra cost.

I intended to mention in my last letter that it would be well to dispense with the services of the additional temporary staff as soon as possible. I was going to ask that this be done at the end of the present week. I would not like it to run on beyond the end of next week in any event,and it might be stopped before then if possible. Salaries were paid in full up until Saturday a week ago inclusive.

I donot know that there is anything to add except that about all we have seen in the way of picturesque effect to date was an Indian woman with some dogs hitched to a sleigh,carrying wood along a trail through the woods; a few families of Indians scattered in the villages along the way,and the beautiful views of Lake Superior which one sees every now and then from the side of a large bay.

Unless I recall any omitted points or something important develops I will not likely write you again until after I have wired. Meanwhile,I hope all will go well with you and with the business of the office.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

OTTAWA. 26th February,1903.

My dear King/-

I wish to thank you very much for the kind telegram of sympathy which reached me at Clinton yesterday and which implied even more than it said. It has been a great comfort to me to know, as I did even before I received your message,that I had your sympathy at this trying time and that although my enforced absence from the office came at about as wakward a time as it well could, that side of the question would not be uppermost in your mind. You have never passed through such an ordeal yourself and you cannot know how happy you should be for the mercy of having those you love best in the world still with you. You do not know it now no matter how surely you think you do. When the time comes, as it will come, when you are to lose them you will feel as you never felt before how much there is in kindness even though it be only in a word or a very small action indeed. I do not forget poor Harper, but one's own flesh & blood is something else.

My father was an old man and in failing health as you know but his death was very sudden and painful at the last. It was from his heart that we all dreaded trouble,but a slight cold,which developed into bronchitis and which his weakened constitution was unable to throw off,was responsible for the final blow. I received the first word of his illness on Friday morning but before night a more reassuring message came and I was in hopes all through Saturday that the worst was passed. On Saturday night,however,I telephoned home and they told me that he could not live and on Sunday afternoon a further message let me know that all was over. Edgar and I put things in the best shape possible under the ciscumstances and I left on the late train. The funeral was on Tuesday and I was thus enabled to get back,Wednesday being a holiday,with the loss of two days only from the office.

With one exception matters have gone as smmothly as could be expected since my absence, the exception was a delay in a schedule which the Department of Railways and Canals was anxious to receive on Monday morning. I had telegraphed Dubreuil Saturday and was expecting to receive a reply on Monday. It came on Sunday,however,and being addressed to you was delivered at your house. Mr. Cope doubtless thought it was of a private nature and so it was only this morning on my return that an inquiry brought out what it had happened to the message.I had spoken of it to Edgar of it and he had not entirely overlooked it having tried to reach Dubreuil

but unsuccessfully on Monday, as the Railway Department was in some haste for the schedule I am sorry that this happened but do not think it a matter of first importance.

Your letter to me written on the G.T.R., train to North Bay regarding the previous one was, as you will have seen before this, written under a misunderstanding. I sent you your cheque in response to a telegram. The letter which Giddens wrote from the Rossin House, relating to GAZETTE work, and which was the only one I received from you, did not reach me until you were already on your way to North Bay. I cannot account for the delay in its transmission except on the score of slow trains. However, we can look into this matter much better when you return.

With regard to the keeping on of the additional temporary staff up stairs, I have kept in touch with the progress of the work from day to day and think that as a whole they have done very well. The work, however, has proved to be much more extensive than was contemplated at the time you left. Thus where you had estimated to send out 700 envelopes for the Province of Quebec, exclusive of Montreal, the total has reached over 3,000. The picking out of names also from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick directories was a slow matter and sometimes showed only small results for a day, in point of envelopes addressed, although the work was really very considerable. At present the directories for Toronto, London and part of Montreal still remain to be done. This I am pretty sure will be finished this week but I think the up stairs help should be retained until all the envelopes are sent out from the office. I do not see how this can be done in much less than four days. After that there is of course the sending out of the sample copies of the French GAZETTE, which remains to be done, though Plant tells me the results so far as the number of new subscribers is concerned are very meagre.

Lapointe is quite ill and is away from the office to-day in consequence. With this exception there is nothing very much to disturb the usual routine. I am in hopes of getting the GAZETTE down in good time, though it is now Thursday night and only six reports have been received, in spite of your circular letter to the Correspondents. I shall certainly get two-thirds of the GAZETTE down on Saturday as more than one half is already prepared to go. Even if the balance is delayed till Monday, and I am not sure that it need be, this will be making pretty good time with the copy.

I do not know that there is anything left for me to say except to thank you again for your message which I assure you was appreciated as much by my people as by myself. I have been rather upset and unsettled as you may easily imagine,but the work which is ahead of me for the next few days is the proper sort of medicine and welcome for tha additional reason that after all a man's work is his best solace and friend,and like a true friend it comes most effectively to the rescue when needed most in times of difficulty and trial.

will not find them too tame after your varied experience of the past three months, and that when we come to note progress the Department will not be found too far in arrears. I feel that more might and ought to have been done than merely keeping abreast of the current tasks as we have done, and yet though there have been periods when we might have done more, there have been others when we have had to give all that was in us. favorite. But the books, if you will let me, I shall put second to your letter. They are print and paper; your friendship is flesh & blood. It is a very fine poem that is better than a clasp of the hand that the heart goes with. You see I am a Stevensonian to the extent of believing his pretty saying as to friends as well as carving it in wood, - that "no man is useless while he has a friend." So, as I said, I wish I half smiled what you say; but you have said it, and I am content.

As for news, I might tell you how Bill & I slept last night on Kingmore and saw strange sights of moon & cloud and fog in the valley below. But this will keep till you return which is to be soon.

Note the change in superscription on the enclosed. I was afraid I might come like the Greek of old to be suspicious of this person who was so constantly referred to flatteringly. But this is even worse.

My dear King:

I have just got round to read the statement you gave to the Winnipeg Press re the strike situation there and wish to tell you while the impression is fresh how really good it seems to me, - how really better it is than appears on the face of it. I mean that while the public will be apt to be more interested in the particular incidents of your intervention and to feel that from that point

I view no great stroke was accomplished - nothing spectacular at any rate - the principle you were able to enunciate and to get acceptance for was really the very greatest that is involved in disputes of this nature. When you can get a mass of men to believe (and to prove their belief by acting on it) that the industrial system is not war, in which anything goes to gain, and measures are good in proportion to their expediency, but brotherhood, demanding the very maximum of scrupulous good-faith - and truth and honour and in fact the whole code of moral obligation - you have done a very great thing, one that to my mind is world-all the conciliation arbitrations and other principles put together because it is at the root of them all and is the only principle that gives the others any permanence or value.

You will know what I am trying to say though I dont seem able to express it very clearly. Let that they are men and not brutes, and that it is really nothing less than manhood itself that demands that a bargain whether he be employer or your trip to Winnipeg is one of the best of the results that has yet been achieved in this direction and I could only wish that its recognition by the public might be what it deserves. However that does'nt really matter: the consciousness of good work done is the main thing, and that you have and the Department

Remember me kindly to

Dear Mr Mackenzie King

I have just arrived here with my Father Mr N. L. Cohen who is a delegate of the London Chamber of Commerce. We are fixed here for a week during which my Father is taking part in the Civic & other discussions & I am trying to gather some information & if possible to make some practical advance with regard to emigration organisation

The should indeed be sorry to have come so far without having the pleasure of seeing you again & introducing you to my Father; & so we propose to leave Montreal next Sunday, the 23rd Aug for Ottawa, where we hope to work our way via Kingston & rejoin the Chamber of Commerce party at Toronto on the following Friday.

We are going with the party to Vancouver on the following week, & look forward to comprehensive if rather hurried tour through the N. West

I am particularly anxious to talk over with you certain questions in connection with the English Emigrants Information Office the managing ctte of which I have lately joined.
It is organized as a department of the colonial office; & tho' it has in my opinion suffered a little from the traditional caution of British Govt departments, I think the Office has undoubtedly done good work in the past & is capable of doing still better work in the future. However I hope to have the pleasure of talking these matters over with you when we meet.
Could you let me have a line whether we shall find you at Ottawa on Monday next the 24th inst.
Looking forward to seeing you

Dear Mr. Mackenzie King,

I must apologize for not having written before to thank you for sending us another copy of the B. C. report.

It is indeed wonderful reading; in fact, had we not had two copies, I don't know what my Father & I should have done; we found the report so full of interest & exciting, we could not lay it down.

I can't understand why Estes was not convicted when on trial in British Columbia. The case against him is so strong.

I quite agree with what you say of the degrading influences of the C. P. R. espionage system.

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

Personally I believe that the soundest plan is to insist upon a declaration by employees on signing of the Union Societies, (strike out other), to which they belong. The espionage system savours too much of civil war.

I should like to take this opportunity of thanking you for the very kind way in which, by your ~~co~~ advice & ~~co-operation~~, you have assisted me in trying to improve the publications of the Emigrants Information office. I can only say that I fully realize how good it was of you to suggest the sending of the unbound proofs of the Labour Gazette; I only hope that I do not waste too much of your time in discussing the matter.

We have spent a most enjoyable morning in which Mr King has been giving us a most interesting insight into the institutional actions of the Provincial city.

wrote to him on my last trip; he is now even more enthusiastic than I was.

It was a great pleasure to meet Lady Aberdeen again & to introduce my Father to them. When you come to England I hope you will let us know - come & look us up.

I cannot help feeling how very different is the type of progress with us. We can only work by patch-work; grafting new developments on to old foundations. Your institutions are much more symetrical.

If it is not troubling you too much, I should be very grateful if you could send me to England a complete set of the "cost of living" series of the Labour Gazette - let me know how much I shall be

Dear Sir/-

I am returning herewith the proof of the circular letter in reference to the Harper Memorial Competition and Award, which you have so kindly undertaken to prepare for the Committee as a contribution from your Company to the Harper Memorial Fund. You will notice that there are several corrections in the proof, and that on account of the length of time that has elapsed since the Committee drafted the circular, the dating had to be changed throughout. In order to avoid the necessity of making a further change in the dating, and as it is very important that this circular should be sent out at once, the Committee would be very grateful if you could see your way to having the circular printed as soon as possible. To prevent any possible slip, however, it might be well if you would send a second revise of the proof to Mr.King, Department of Labour, before finally running of the circular itself.

I presume that you remember that 450 is the number of copies of the circular required.

Dear Mr.Crannell

The executive committee of the Men's Association of St.Andrew's Church have authorised the publication of a monthly periodical,to be known as "The Message," and a board of management has been appointed to see to its publication.

The board,at a meeting held last night,decided that they would print a plate of the church on the cover of this publication,if the temporal committee will supply them with a suitable photograph of the church from which the plate can be made.

I was instructed to write and ask if you would have the kindness to have a suitable photograph or photographs supplied, or inform the committee where these photographs could be obtained should you not happen to have the same in your possession. It is desirable that the best possible picture of the church should appear.

I would also be obliged if you would have the kindness to send one or two copies of the list of members and adherents of the church for the use of the board.

Dear King,

I got your letter in due time and I hasten to thank you from my heart for your souvenir of our great event in June. I know it is a beautiful chair and that my lady will be pleased to pieces with it; I shall keep mum about it until your letter reaches her. I went from the station to order the flowers; as I did so, who should come in to the florist's but Maud Bordeau! She told me she is taking riding-lessons which looks as if your rival were getting ahead of you. I see them going off together on these glorious spring days and I "reckon" there will be a wedding out of it; ainsi va le monde. The little lady looked so charming that I gave her a rose and sent her away with my blessing. We talked a great deal at the Harper Memorial meeting and a sub-committee was drafted to interview the cabinet on the question of getting your site--Soper, Machado and Coats forming the com. I think Rockcliffe is out of it now; Soper was not there. If the eastern block front cannot be had, the com. will probably settle on Major's Hill Pk. The model is a beauty and no mistake. Toronto Univ. ought to have a replica of it. The question of the unveiling did not come up and I did not introduce it. I should like to have Soper help arrange that as he will assuredly agree with me; what he says, and Machado too, will go and no dunderhead will be able to carry out any inappropriate suggestion when both of them are primed. I have been hard at it since you left and have finished another article for the press, illustrations and all. My new and magnificent microscopic outfit has come; not a single thing broken. I shall be able to command the petrographical situation now. I had a talk with Coats who appreciates the necessity of ten-hours-a-day for him but I cannot tell how much of his appreciation is from his head and how much from his will; time will tell most assuredly. Do not forget to see the little museum in Victoria; it has some very fine stuffed animals etc. Write a line when your busy days will allow of it; I shall always be tickled to hear how you are making the fur fly.

Dear King,

The first bit of furniture and the first present to enter the living room at 179 Gilmour was your magnificent chair; for the ~~f~~first time I have been able to open the chest in which it came, to-day. Again I want to thank you most warmly for this treasure both for myself and for my lady; it is a beauty and will always be a grand ornament to our home. The chair is quite unique, surely without its mate on this side the ocean and I should be willing to wager that we shall have the only specimen~~x~~ of this fine design. Apart from its beauty it will have always the great value of being useful for it is tremendously strong. Many, many thanks for the gift, old man; come very quickly and occupy it. I am so busy that I can hardly tell which end I am standing on these days and I can no more than a mere note like this. My sister comes to take charge on Tuesday and I leave on ~~Wed~~ Thursday next for Boston, arriving in Columbia about the 31st--the wedding is to be at 4 p.m. on the 3rd--very quiet without even bridesmaids. I am very sorry I cannot feel the grip of your fist before I go; yet it is a great comfort to know that the grip is there in the spirit. Coats is working hard these days and is apparently happy tho' he says Mulock has precious few good words for him--M. is not the kind to pat one on the back, is he? Well, so long, old chap; next you hear from me will be from the snuggest home with the sweetest, best wife in the Dominion. Do not work too hard and come home like the light when you can come. Dear Rex, It has come about that, by most excellent ensample, the Anglo-Saxon gives way to the Latin, "King" to "Rex" and, I trust, Irish will lead to the Queen's English and so "Daly" to "Reginald" or "Rex" (of ancient employment in my callow youth) or "Rags" or "Tatters", comme tu veux - I have hoped to see your fist in the letter-bundle that our patient "Cayuses" bring out to us in the mail once a week, but I know the absorbing fascination that the Kingsmere mansion must have: I know the gravity of the question whether the ball-room shall be added or not: I know it has meant "rustling" to see your way through the pile of work awaiting you on your return to O and meantime you had your finger in the pie of proof-reading the great Labour report - your report, tho' the readers of the copious extracts from it would not guess that! I see you in every paragraph I've read and not so much the worthy Commissioners you have educated - And, as I have already written you through the "most excellent ensample" you have a world of congratulations on the great document - and mine most abundantly - It's better than a Harvard College professorship, n'est-ce pas, mein lieber? One thing specially strikes me in the report: it is the practical, simple, yet forceful statement of the conclusions in terms that will reach the man in the street - a Rossland or Vancouver or Denver street - will make him understand quickly because of the simplicity of style and, I think, will make him think because of the vigorous force of the matter - The report will reach the middle and the professors too - But you do "soak" the secret labour organizations! Your findings must have been highly sensational and illuminating - Again all honours to this splendid result of your long search for truth! Times have been stirring enough during the "silly season" in Ottawa: I should have liked to hear the railway speeches – The latest news from the fights is about a deadlock on the voting, to be broken in favour of the project, let us hope – I am glad to hear that you have once and again renounced the fascinations of Kingsmere and honoured our roof-tree on Minto Park: now that the autumn is coming on. I can hope that you will have still more free time in the city to go cheer up your friend and mine! I tell you, man, it is appreciated, every time you go to "179" and so doubly appreciated – by myself because it makes her time pass more pleasurably and profitably, and because it must do you good too – It was fine to hear that her two splendid sisters, the spirit-dreiser Mary and the golden Marion, have been with her – If all goes well I hope to meet Louie in Chicago not later than October 10th – I pull up stakes at Port Hill about the 1st – The season has been one crammed full of interest in scenery and geology and charged with luck in weather and trails etc to quite an extraordinary degree – Our first serious set-back is upon us now in the form of a long, cold rain with deep snow far down on the peaks about us, but the both of them must vanish before the September sun and then we will make the fur fly – Steady work for seven weeks at from 12 to 14 hours a day has been possible to me because of the spur and because I've been in better health than for years back – I can "whip my weight in" grizzly-bears! Perhaps one secret of it is that the packers forgot to take along a box of some 900 doughnuts! When the main camp left us geologists behind one day and we expropriated the mighty store – The canyon-rocks show route and dents where the cook's swears struck! Grouse, trout, rabbit have made our camp-fires merry – But "maybe I won't" shake them all with joy when the campaign is ended! Give my fix to Coats and Minnes and, if you have a minute write me a line about your summer, like a dear.

To the Honorable Committee of Award,-

FOR THE H. A. HARPER, M. A.

M E M O R I A L .

Gentlemen;-

Herewith, I respectfully submit for your critical examination my efforts in the competition for a suitable tribute to the Memory of the lamented H.A.Harper, M.A.

In the matter of symbolic statue, I have deemed it wiser to place the figure of Mr. Harper in a heroic attitude, rather than that of any form of the fancy. Therefore, I have chosen as my subject the form of Mr. Harper in the heroic preparatory act of rescue; and to that end, he is removing his coat, so as not to conflict with freedom of action; whilst using those words, "WHAT ELSE CAN I DO?" We see him also looking with sympathetic eagerness towards those needing the helping hands as just such a noble character as Mr. Harper possessed.

The intention of the nude figure leaning against the pedestal, symbolizes the grief of Humanity, with bowed head, holding the fallen and extinguished Torch of Life, as well as the laurel wreath of Fame.

The figures are to be made of oxidized bronze;- the main figure will be seven feet in height, resting on a pedestal ~~eight~~ nine feet high, of Quincy or Nova Scotia granite, and will be patent-hammer dressed, with the appropriate inscriptions, as called for by your circular.

Over the lower figure's head will be the last words of Mr. Harper,-"WHAT ELSE CAN I DO?" with the memorial on the two wide sides, and the epitaph on the opposite narrow side. The epitaph was composed with the assisstance of my friend, Mr. Guglielmo Struthers, and reads as follows:-

" Fortune had smiled upon his worldly way;
Honor and Fame were his in goodly part;
The psalm of life rose joyous from his heart;
The future, radiant before him lay,-
But suddenly the pulse of self was stayed -
He felt the touch of Love's immortal wings,
Of sacrifice, and willingly all things,
Yea, life itself upon the altar laid.- "

My dear King.

A few of the tenants have made enquiries of me with regard to the prospects of Grain Farming in Canada.

There have been many advertisements in our cheap papers here, alluring men to go to Canada and obtain Government grants. I should like in these instances to be able to give authoritative advice. Would it be to much to ask you if you could inform me, what is the least capital a man can possibly start on one of these Government grants with, and also what sort of a return may he reasonably expect to make on that money. I take it he will have to bear the ground himself of any trees or underwood that may be on it, and build himself a house at the same time, that is to say, he must find the necessary capital for re-claiming the land. How does the Grain business stand? Is it likely to last in its present condition for some years to come?

I am sorry to trouble you about this, but I feel it a pity that men should leave good jobs here, and go out there on speculation with practically no capital.

I hope to get my Chronicle regularly

Dunbee.

My dear Mr. King,

I am afraid that you did not remember my adress given in such a haste at the Annapolis station last November. Ever since I have had pangs of conscience about the fact that I did not recognize you on the train; but somehow you have changed very much in appearance or else that could not have happened; for I assure you I had not forgotten you

There were not always very willpeople about me in the rushand whirl of our life in Berlin, but just while you were there, there was quite a little group of jolly people of my own age and kind, and I have always considered that as an oasis to look back upon. You must really forgive me and write me a nice letter about all your doings; I will be very good in future.

I am at the Library of Congress as a Library-student and very busy in consequence. I do go out a little also, so I am having a good time, as usually I have. Dr. and Mrs. Dickie were in this country not long ago, but I had no chance to get a glimpse of them. I never could abide Dr. Dickies theology, but otherwise I esteem him most highly and am very fond of his wife. Dear Sir:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your invitation to take part in the competition for a monument to the memory of H.A. Harper and to thank you for the same. less for a proper architectural setting for that figure, and that it is accordingly unprovided for me to avail myself of your kind invitation. The time set for the submission of the models is also too short.

The account of the heroism of Mr. Harper is extremely touching, and it is undoubtedly the sentiment of the other sculptors as much as of mine that so signal an act of devotion should be depicted by a more splendid monument than the one that the fund at your disposal can build.

I must ask you to pardon me again for being so long in fulfilling my promise to you in regard to obtaining a skde face portrait of Sir Wilfrid.I have made endeavours in different places to get this photo but without success. Mr.Pittaway informs me that Sir Wilfrid would not consent at any time to have a profile taken and that the photograph which I am sending you under separate cover is the nearest approach to a side face photo that Sir Wilfrid has consented to have made.

My impression is that the photograph of Sir Wilfrid that is in Sir William Mulock's library,of which I spoke to you,shows a little more of the dide face than the one I am sending you under separate cover. I would advise you at any rate to have a look at it.

Dear Sir/-

Some months ago Mt.W.F.Harper of New York wrote you in relation to the proposed memorial to his brother,which the citizens of Ottawa intend to erect in recognition of his splendid heroism in sacrificing his life to save the daughter of one of the Cabinet Ministers in this city.

In your letter you asked him to write you in regard to the form which the memorial is expected to take,where it is to be erected and other details.

Mr.Harper wrote you originally at my request his brother having been my most intimate personal friend and associated with me in the work of this Department.

I feel it rather presumptious that the committee should approach you in reference to this matter at all particularly as the amount which the committee has at its disposal is so exceedingly small. It was contributed entirely by voluntary subscription and no canvess of any kind was made,so that the committee feel that it would be more in accord with the spirit of Mr.Harper's life if no effort were made to increase the amount beyond that which each person might care to give of his own free will.

A copy of the circular letter which the Committee,setting forth the nature of the memorial and the terms of the competition in regard to the same was mailed to you last week. Feeling,however, that it may not have reached you I am taking this opportunity of enclosing another copy.

My dear King:-

Your letter of the 10th inst. kindly enquiring as to the progress I am making, came duly to hand. Since you were here I have made great gains, but of course I still have much to gain. I now sleep well and eat well and am able to be out of bed and around during the day. But not until yesterday however, was I given permission to walk outside my room. I may now walk a little in the corridors and may wheel myself about in a wheel chair. I am very, very weak and shall probably have to remain here some weeks yet before it will be safe to break away. I cannot tell you, my dear King, how glad I was to see you. Our paths, you know, had not crossed since I saw you at Newport, over five years ago. And I was glad to see you looking so well; I hope your good health will continue. When I get well I am going to work and worry less and take life a little more easily - not be really less industrious but more rational. I shall hope to write to you again before so very long, and do you write me when you have time. Sincerely Yours, J. E. George.

My dear King:

If you will excuse my dropping the "Mister" and hoping you will do the same. It is very good of you to send along that magazine. I value that article immensely. The only error is that I have five stores, instead of four, but that makes no difference-- the sermon is the same, however long the text. I have already been able to put my mill affair into better order and I have arranged for adding coopering and barrel making, and if the lime which has been bothering us so much in our boiler turns out well, we are going to start a small kiln at once, so that we shall be able to barrel and export our own lime.

I have been lecturing every night up here and feel like a worn-out talking machine. Sometime I will get back to action again, I hope. I have secured a specialist friend to come and help me with a few operations in a special line of surgery, for a month next season, but I shall be looking out for a chance of a visit from you. I am quite certain with your careful insight into things and your perfectly unbiased stant-point, a visit from you would be of value to me, besides the fact of the comradship of the same aspirations. Just let me know by wire, down to Chateau, as late as you like, when you are going to come; it doesn't matter, I can always find room for another man, so long as he does not want kings' palaces.

I have just been writing Daly, asking him to put my little petition for the extension of the telegraph wire from Chateau to Battle Harbor Hospital personally into the hands of M. Girard, the member for lower Quebec. The cost of it will be nothing, and it would put us in communication, not only with all the sick along the shore, but with the head office at Ottawa and with any wrecks that occurred anywhere on the coast. I think that last feature ought not to be overlooked in trying to push the hands of the Executive to spend the few dollars necessary for that 28 miles of wire. You will remember that I saw Fielding, and the Medical Minister. I know there is a special fund for use for the benefit of fishermen, derived I think from the Fishery Commission Award some years ago. I believe it usually is fizzled away in doles. I had this at least from Sir Charles Tupper some years ago, when he was in power. Perhaps you could give Daly a hand in this matter.

I met Daly's fiancee up here the other day. She is going to be an addition to Ottawa society.

My kindest regards and hoping that you will find time, if it is only to flash like a comet across our sky during the coming summer, believe me to be,

My dear Grenfell/-

Many thanks for your kind letter and your promise to dispense with necessary formalities. I am pleased to know that the article on the LABOUR GAZETTE on your work meets with your approval though I much regret it does not do the work the justice which it deserves. Perhaps another year we can give a more comprehensive and better account.

I sent to the Secretary of the Deep Sea Mission Society,Toronto,100 copies of the GAZETTE containing to their request for copies for distribution. They seemed to think that the article might be of some service to them in furthering your work.

I have been down to the Maritime Provinces for some little time and out of the city a good deal so that I have not had a chance to reply to your letter. I expect to leave to-night for British Columbia to look into difficulties there. I regret that this will not give me time to do much in the matter which Daly has in hand for you. I am asking him,however,to let me know what I can do by way of communicating with any Ministers and what assistance I can render in that way will be only to readily given.

I must thank you for your kind invitation to visit you in the summer.If at all possible I shall certainly make the trip.

I look upon my meeting you as one of the most fortunate happenings which have come my way for many years and I hope that the future will give us each opportunity of being of mutual assistance in furthering the work which we have in hand.

My dear Frank/-

I returned to Ottawa from British Columbia only yesterday and Mr.Coats has given me the letters which you were kind enough to send to him during my absence.

I wish to thank you very much for this kindness . Your letter stating that these latters had been forwarded was sent to me while I was in British Columbia but I was so busy there that I had scarcely a mement for any personal writing. I regret that at present there is so much to be done that I can little more than acknowledge receipt of letters now.

I have my little skeech of Bert about two-thirds written, but I no sooner get into one part of it that something takes me away for weeks at a time and I am obliged to lay it over. I hope,however,to complete it sometime this year.

You have doubtless heard that a sculptor from Paris has received the commission to execute the statue which is to be erected in commemoration of dear old Bert and is at presen engaged upon the work. He thinks,however,that it will require about a year to complete it properly.

My dear Will/-

I am enclosing herewith a number of copies of the circular letter,in regard to the proposed public monument to Bert,which letter has been sent out by the Harper Memorial Committee to sculptors in the United States and Canada.

Last summer you were kind enough to go to the trouble of conferring with a number of sculptors in New York as to their willingness to enter a competition in regard to this memorial.

I am writing now to ask if you would be kind enough to send them another line reminding them of their conversation last year and enclosing a copy of the circular letter above mentioned. Of these sculptors you may remember making special mention of Daniel C.French,Pike,Martiny and Scheltgen. If there are any other sculptors whom you think are likely to enter the competition a line from you with a copy of the circular enclosed would I think be very helpful. I should think that Pike would be a exceptionally good man and from what you say in your letter of the 23rd June last,is very likely to enter the competition. Will you please let me know what reply you receive from any of these men in the event of your corresponding with them.

I must apologize for having been so long in writing to you but I suppose you yourself know what it is to have daily duties and how easily correspondence is let slip by when these have to be attended to.

In regard to the memorial to Bert I think that there is little doubt that some of the good sculptors will be secured and that the monument will be an excellent work of art as well as a splendid tribute to him.

I return you herewith a letter which I must as you a thousand times to pardon my not having sent before this. I found it among other papers relating to the memorial fund where it had got hidden away. I trust Mr.Pike will not have been inconvenienced because of the want of it.

With kindest regards,

Though this letter will reach you somewhat later than I promised. here it is at last—

I regret to say that Martiny was too busy to enter the competition. Certain sculptors here seemed to have the impression that a Canadian sculptor will be shown partiality. others that #3000 is not sufficient to cover what the circular letter calls for. I have only heard of these "impressions" about a week ago. & indirectly.

I understand that a draughtsman I know. named Hunters is sending in a design. When he asked me for permission to send in a design some time ago. I told him that I understood that the competition was an open one. but that I did not know whether the Committee would consider a drawing. or not. Models was what the letter called for. as it is the usual thing in competitions of this sort. However. if he wanted to take his chances on it. to go ahead & get up a design — but I could not guarrantee that it would be considered. He told me that if his design should be accepted. Martiny promised to do the modelling — I told him that he should put that in his letter to the committee. as well as a statement of his arrangements with Martiny. However. all this is a matter which belongs entirely to the Monument Committee.

Pike showed me two sketches he is sending on Monday.

I am very sorry, Rex. that more designs are not forthcoming from New York. It seems that our good sculptors have too much work on hand to take chances on the Competition. I can't see though how the "impressions" I have referred to, are justified. However, we all hope that something very good will be obtained from among the designs submitted. & that it will endure for ages as a memorial to Poet Burns. I can see the same happy, jolly, Burns now almost as distinctly as when on his visit to me two years ago. Pretty hard to even partially forget a man like Burns. Isn't it?.

I have been having a visit from Jim for several weeks past. He is taking in a course at the Post Graduate Hospital. I suppose he wants to keep up to date in the fine art of Surgery. I am enjoying his visit very much.

With best regards to Harry B—

Believe me, Rex,

Very Sincerely Your friend

Stella F. Harper.

PS. I am anxious to hear result of Competition. & a photo. or description of accepted design.

HAMILTON, CANADA,

April, 6th 1903. 190

My dear Mr King,

Many, many thanks for your kindness and trouble in providing me with so much valuable information. While I am familiar with the authorities mentioned by Prof Henderson, and have been a member of the Lake Placid conference for two years, yet it is a satisfaction to learn that our studies have been on lines approved by such an eminent authority, and that we are not behind the times. The articles on "cost of living" are the most valuable information we have been able to obtain, and I don't think you can imagine how helpful they will be to us in our dietary studies, and distribution of income. We are making a special study of Home Economics, and intend, in the new Macdonald College, to study the cost of maintenance of Government Institutions, especially of the food expenses. I have been very much interested in your report on methods employed in making government clothing, and the information contained therein will be of great service in emphasizing the benefits of household labor, in a discussion which is to come up at the Annual Meeting of the N.C. of Women, in May.

It seems like a providential direction that I should have met you in Ottawa, as I feel sure that you will be of great service to us, and I believe we can help you in some of your investigations. There are many things in our work which bear upon social matters, and for years I have been interested in industrial problems, and in technical education. If you should be in this vicinity at any time I trust you will give me an opportunity to discuss some of the matters, in which we have a mutual interest, with you, and find just where we may help each other.

HAMILTON, CANADA,

I expect to go out to the Coast this summer, and am looking forward with much ~~interes~~ interest to a study of social conditions in the new country. Premier Roblin has intimated a desire that I should give a few addresses on the new education in Manitoba during the coming summer, and the women of B.C. are trying to get their government to make a similar arrangement, so it is quite possible that it may be my good fortune to see that great country, under very pleasant auspices. It seems almost too good to be true, as I have so long wished for the opportunity.

The Hon Mr Harcourt informs me that owing to the Royal Commission, and the extra work entailed therewith, the government reports will be delayed, so that the report on Domestic Science, which I promised to send you, will not be ready for some time.

Why do you not devote a portion of your Labor Gazette to Home Economics ? Surely it is of importance to the laboring class, and in the technical classes, the working men's wives display great interest in the question; indeed even more than in the practical cookery. The distribution of income, and valuations seem to appeal to working women with great force. It is only a suggestion which you may "take into your serious consideration".

Again thanking you for your kindness and hoping that you may find it necessary to make some investigations,-how sorry I am that I did not know you when you were investigating the Hamilton contracts—in this direction in the near future, when we may have a more satisfactory chat, I remain

Dear Mr King:-

After I left you last evening, the thought occurred to me that it might not be a bad idea to let the three leading newspapers of the city - Journal Citizen and Free Press have copies of "The Message" in time so that they could give short reviews of it in the Saturday evening editions. Something of this kind might serve to stimulate an interest in the paper and the association which nothing else would. It is quite probable that this idea has occurred to you but in case it had not, I have thought it better to suggest it to you.

The Wolfe & Montcalm Memorial in front of City Hall having cost as nearly as possible the amount received viz $3000, & it appears from the Circular issued by the Committee this amount is all they have in hand. Harper Memorial

I shall feel obliged if you will emphasize the proposal that the Knight Sir Galahad could be set on the pedestal composed of rocks in the rough hewn state & the granite might be of various shades of colour which would greatly enhance its appearance especially after rain.

I believe there was no mention of the rock pedestal in the Knight in my Tender.

If agreeable shortly the Committee prefer a bust of Henry Harper with wings on the pedestal I can submit a design on this line in plaster & afterwards

My dear King,-

I see that Sir William Mulock has charge of the Railway Bill. May I ask you to bring my name to his favorable consideration in connection with the appointments the Government will make on the Railway Commission ? I am not making any application to the Government in connection with the matter. My work and prospects here are eminently satisfactory to me. At the same time I would be attracted by the opportunity to make still more specialized application in the field of transportation which the Railway Commission would afford. You know that the Railway Commission legislation is based on my recommendations. I rely ,then,upon your discretion to remind Sir William,in such a way as you deem best,of my qualifications. For the present,at least,I would prfer that your statements to him should come from you and not from me.

I have been interested in the newspaper statements with reference to your work on the Labour Commission in British Columbia.I look forward with interest to seeing the detailed report. The whole matter of the Labour Problem is brought home to one in much the same way in California as in British Columbia.

From time to time I meet some of your old Harvard friends.Rieber,who was in the Philosophy department here but has accepted an appointment in the University of California of which he is an alumnus,wishes to be remembered to you. likewise Hutchinson who is in the same institution. Dear Mr King

Your kind letter pleased me greatly and I thank you very much for it and for the volumes of the Gazette which came to-day.

On Saturday last I reported to the minister of Labour the result of your visit here. I would have done so immediately after your departure had I not considered it wiser to delay a little, as some of the weavers did not, at first, accept the situation as frankly as we had hoped; and I wished to speak definitely when reporting to the Minister.

I am glad to be able to tell you that this attitude on the part of the weavers was maintained by only a few and by them for only the first few days. I think I am safe in saying all agree now, that the solution arrived at was in the best interests of all concerned; and I have no doubt the settlement is a permanent one.

Good feeling now prevails; all employees who were away are beginning to return; and within a very short time I look to see things as they were before the trouble occurred.

To you personally I feel much indebted, both for your services

4th April, 1903.

Dear Mr. Mulock:-

Referring to your letter of April 1st., on enquiry I find that the official whose duty it is to compile the Civil Service List had inadvertently omitted the Department of Labour. His explanation is that as the Order in Council appointing Mr. King, Deputy, had not been sent to the Department of the Secretary of State, he had no notice of it and had not given the matter any thought until his attention was called to the subject. The omission will be corrected in the future.

Yours truly,

Dear Sir :-

Your favor of the 3rd. inst. was received here on the morning of the 7th. only a few minutes before the arrival of Mr King. Deputy Minister of Labour. Mr King has doubtless already advised you fully in regard to detail of matters gone over with him between the striking weavers and the management of this mill. We cannot speak too highly of the work done by Mr King when here, but it is only fair to say that our anticipations at the time he left, have not been fully realized, as a number of the men who must have voted to return, have not yet come back to work. While we had 56 weavers at work on the day Mr King arrived and 104 on the following day, the greater part of the extra number who returned, were women: only about 15 men who struck on the fancy looms have yet come back to work. It is probable that on Monday morning a further number will return, but I can only estimate the number not to exceed 25. Some still declare that they will not return to work and that they are going to the States. Of course, time only can soften any hard feelings some of these may have, but looking at it in the best light, I do not see that we shall get anywhere near the full number of weavers at work for some months to come.

Congratulating you on the result of Mr King's visit,

I remain,

Yours truly,

I have to thank you for your letter of the 10th instant. It is most gratifying to me to read your kind references to Mr. King's services, and I regret with you the trouble in question. Doubtless, as you say, it must be left to time to soften the feelings of such of your hands as may still refuse to work. Frequently the working people suffer from bad advice. Department of Labour Office of Deputy Minister.

ANSWERED.

Sir:-

I have the honour to report to your Department the result of the visit to this town of the Deputy Minister of Labour, as Conciliator in the strike of the weavers of the Saint Croix Mill of the Canadian Colored Cotton Mills Company, Limited.

The Deputy Minister arrived on the evening of the 7th instant, and immediately after conferred with the Weavers' strike committee. The following morning he interviewed the Mill management, reporting the result to the Strike Committee. Thereupon a joint conference of the management, the Deputy Minister, and the Strike Committee was arranged, at which the issues in the dispute were thoroughly discussed. In the afternoon the Deputy Minister addressed a meeting of the striking weavers, explaining in detail the situation as he found it; and after discussion a motion to declare the strike at an end was carried.

On behalf of the weavers and the citizens of the Towns of Milltown and Saint Stephen, I beg leave to express to you, as Minister of Labour, our appreciation of the services of Mr. King, of whose ability, fairness and unfailing tact, we have formed a high opinion.

I beg leave to express to you our thanks for the promptness with which your Department acceded to our request that a Conciliator be sent to endeavour to effect a settlement. Without this aid it is doubtful if the disputants could have been brought together in conference.

I may add that while not all the striking weavers have returned to work, by far the greater number have done so; and within a week or two it is expected all will be in their places.

OTTAWA April 18, 1903.

Dear Sir William:

The sub-committee of the Harper Memorial Committee,which was appointed to select a suitable design and site for the public monument to be erected to the memory of the late Henry A.Harper,have,on the basis of a competition,unrestricted in any way,selected from among a large number of models received,the model sent in by Mr.William Keyser,of Paris,France,as the one of greatest artistic worth and most appropriate. The sub-committee intends to recommend to the general committee at its meeting on Friday afternoon next that the model sent in by Mr.Keyser be accepted as the design of the proposed monument,and that the work of executing the monument be awarded to Mr.Keyser.

The committee feel that they have been more than fortunate in the results of the competition. They believe,moreover,that regarding the monument as an addition to the works of art in the capital,too good a site cannot be secured for it. Of the many sites mentioned there is none which appears to many members of the committee to be more suitable than the extreme south-east corner of the grounds on which the Government buildings stand.

The monument is to take the form of an allegorical figure,symbolical of heroism and nobility of character. The figure will be of heroic size,made of the best bronze,and mounted on a suitable foundation of stone. The whole conception and style of the figure is such as to make it a feature of special adornment to the place in which it may happen to be erected. Placed on the plot of ground between the extreme east of the corner of the eastern departmental block,and the gateway leading into the Parliament grounds,the figure would look out across the bridges where

Members of the committee favouring that site feel that before recommending it,they would like to know whether or not the Government would be willing to grant the site if asked. On behalf of these members I am,therefore,addressing this communication to you,to respectfully ask if you would be kind enough to acquaint the members of the Government of this proposal,and ascertain whether or not the Government would be willing to grant this site for the proposed monument.

Apart from the enhancement of the beauty of the Parliament grounds which the erection of a symbolical figure of this kind would occasion,the Government might be inclined to take the view that the placing of this memorial within the Parliament grounds would be a graceful recognition of the entire Civil Service,Mr. Harper having been at the time of his death a Civil Servant of the Government. This fact might be mentioned on the tablet which would be placed at the side of the monument.

Should the members of the Government,before expressing an opinion on this matter,desire to see the model of the proposed monument,in order to better estimate the worth of such an addition to the Pafliament grounds,the model could be brought to the Council Chamber,or any suitable place at a time which would be most convenient.

Thanking you on behalf of the members of the committee for the consideration and attention you may be kind enough to give

At the request of Argyle Lodge No 10,683 of the Americ--an Federation of Labour I have much pleasure in tending you their heartiest thanks for your very prompt action with reference to the Sherkston Strike.

Deputy Minister of Labour King impressed every person who had the pleasure of meeting him as a man pre-eminently fitted for the important position which he occupies. The writer together with Presid--ent Dunlop of Argyle Lodge attended with Mr King at the seene of the Strike and both highly approved of the stand taken by him in regard to same. Organizer Fleet acted in a most unreasonable and highly repre--ehensible manner. The members of the Union here desire to say that they endorse Mr Kings action in every particular and regret exceedin--gly that the unwholesome influence of Fleet prevented the Sherkston Lodge from taking advantage of his valuable assistance in the matter of bringing the strike to a satisfactory termination.

The strike is still on and from present indications likely

My dear Sir:-

On returning to Ottawa, I found awaiting me your letter of the 6th instant informing me that Argyle Lodge has authorized you to tender to me their thanks for my action in regard to the Sherbston strike. I also observed with great pleasure your gratifying references to Deputy Minister King, and his eminent qualifications for the responsible position which he fills in this Department.

I regret extremely that a satisfactory settle-ment of the strike was not reached. Winter is now at hand, and the men, if out of employment, will doubtless be great sufferers. I would be glad if you would make known to Argyle Lodge how much I appreciate their many expressions of sym-pathy with the efforts of this Department to be of service to Canadian artisans. The true welfare of our working men is of national importance, and action leading to that end is deserving of the best efforts of all who desire our Country's progress.

Dear Mr. Mackenzie King,

Your long and interesting letter of three weeks ago gave me much pleasure. I am much obliged to you for it, and for the volumes of your Labor Gazette which you were good enough to send to me, and which I have looked over with great interest. You are engaged in work than which there can be little doing in the world of ~~more importance and~~ greater concern in itself, or of more interest to one who is engaged heartily in it. The questions with which you have to deal are perhaps the most important with which this generation has to occupy itself, and it is plain that on their satisfactory solution depends the welfare of our great modern industrial and commercial communities. The methods that you have put in practice in the settlement of labor disputes seem unquestionably the best yet devised, but their successful application depends largely upon the character, the judgment, and the tact of the adviser, or arbitrator, as he may be. Knowledge of men, judgment and tact are not so frequently combined that we can hope that what might be called individual arbitration would generally be successful, as in the cases in which you have dealt. On the whole, no method of dealing with these labor disputes seems to me to promise better than the plan urged by Mr. Charles F. Adams in a recent address, a copy of which, I am glad to learn from him, he has sent to you.

Whatever may be the evils attending the great coal strike, it was almost worth while that the community should experience them, for the sake of the increase of interest and of knowledge concerning the matters in dispute between the workers and the operators which the community have been forced by the strike to acquire. The discussion which has been actively going on now for many months concerning the rights, the duties, the advantages and the limitations of the unions, the rights of non-union men, the relation between the unions and employers , is leading to the formation of clearer opinions and of better relations on both sides than has ever before been the case. With the public there can be little doubt, I believe, that the cause of the unions has greatly gained, and that the conviction of their usefulness has become general; but, at the same time, the sense has ~~gained~~ grown that the~~re~~ very grave evils connected with them ~~which~~ must be abated, if they would gain the real confidence of the community. Those evils have long been familiar to you. It is not that you and other men who have attended to these questions will have ~~gained~~ acquired new views from the discussions which have attended the strike, but that the views which you and others, who have studied the questions with open minds have long held will have become more widely diffused, and have more power in the shaping of that public opinion which is the ultimate source of power of such institutions as the unions, and which must be the ultimate determining force in the relations between employers and employed. If the committee of investigation, whose sessions are stretching out to a length which cannot but be regretted,- if this committee should make such a report, or reports, as may be hoped, dealing with the questions in a large and intelligent manner, with suggestions for the remedies of the evils which their investigations have brought fully to light, it will have a great effect, not merely in the coal industry, but on the relations of employers and employed in every branch of trade.

Your Labor Gazette shows, I think, that in many particulars of the labor question you in Canada are in advance of us in the United States. It is perhaps not strange that this should be so. Your Canadian system of admisintration has the advantage of being comparatively unhampered by legislative acts and purely political considerations. Our national politics become from day to day more and more a system of pure log-rolling. The fates of the Philippines are determined by selfish interests of speculators; the fates of Cuba depend on the ~~wealth~~ will of the western farmers who dread the competition with their beet sugar; but somehow, in spite of selfishness and wickedness of other sorts, in spite of Venezuelan bombardments, and of all the violence and selfishness in public affairs, somehow still the old world stumbles along. Our times are, on the whole, better for the masses of men in civilized countries than any which have preceded them. Never before were there so many men free from fear as in these days,- fear of personal violence, fear of devastation or robbery of their property; never before was there so widely diffused ~~comfort~~ physical, & material comfort. If in the higher regions of civilization ~~sin continues~~ there be little improvement, a commercial aristocracy with low ideals is taking the place of the aristocracy which, whatever its faults, cherished ~~at least~~ or professed to cherish respect for intellectual and spiritual things;

* My stenographer sometimes amuses me! He has apparently left me something like: but what I cannot, after 24 hours, fairly recall. I should, however, if I could anything about "the eminence of sin". We may take it for granted that the moral [illegible] are advanced [illegible] spiritual affairs!

if vulgarity is taking the place of refinement among the upper classes, yet we may be content in reflecting that these upper classes are but few compared with the multitudes of the lower class that are rising from degradation into comparative civilization and comfort. The comparison is not infrequently made between these days of wasteful and vulgar luxury and those of the decline of Rome, but the comparison fails in justice, because at the period of the decline of the Roman Empire the poor were growing more wretched in proportion as the rich grew more extravagant; but to-day, in spite of the enormous inequalities of wealth, the distribution of it still continues to be wider than in any preceding ti[illegible]

We now wish to arrange for the final lecture of the season in March and I have been asked to write you. Would it be possible for you to favor us with an address between now and the middle of March? Dear Will;-

I wish to thank you heartily for the very enjoyable time you gave me during my stay in Ottawa. I will always look back upon it with the greatest of pleasure.

In Montreal I saw Mr. Tarte, Mr. Thos. Shaughnessy and Mr. Robt. Reford and succeeded in extracting promises from them to address us. I also introduced myself to Sir Sanford Fleming on the train and had a two hours conversation, he promising to address the Club on the cable question early in the Spring. This of course is all confidential information and not to be imparted to our rivals in Ottawa.

I saw the Hon. G.E. Foster in Montreal at the Montreal Club and attended his meeting in the evening and came up on the same train from Montreal. I had a long conversation with him in the smoking room which was concluded some time after every one else had retired. I spoke rather strongly about Lord Alverstone and the Alaskan Give-way and Mr. Foster took me up somewhat sharply, and in the course of discussion stated that he had certain information in his possession which would go to show that the Canadian Government was making a scapegoat of Lord Alverstone and had instructed the Commissioners to make the dissenting judgments against Lord Alverstone as strong as possible so that sentiment might be directed against him. I could not draw Mr. Foster on the details of his information or as to what documents he had, but I judge he is preparing to make an attack on the Government on these lines in the near future and will endeavor to direct the feeling of resentment over the Alaskan decision against the Ministers.

Now from my knowledge of the matter I believe this to be simple rot but if you think it worth while you might tell Mr.Sifton of Mr Foster's plans.

April 5,1903.

Dear Sir:

Since learning that your secretary had written to the Harper Memorial committee,to make certain enquiries as to the competition for the proposed monument to the late Henry A. Harper,I have intended to write a personal letter to you,and have only refrained from doing so,expecting that the committee would hear again,either from your secretary or yourself as to your intentions in the matter of contributing a model.

I need hardly say that when your secretary's letter was received our committee and other gentlemen interested in the proposed monument were delighted to think that there was a possibility of having some of your work in the city of Ottawa. This delight was to me personally a very keen one,as the late Henry Harper was for some years my most intimate personal friend,and was,during the year previous to his death,associated with me in the work of the Department of Labour. Though the time for the expiration of the competition is nominally closed the models which have been received to date have not been examined by the committee, and some of them have not,as yet been taken from the boxes in which they were sent. It is doubtful if the committee will be able to meet until after Easter vacation,as some of the members are expected to be out of the city. Should there be reason to believe that a model might be received from you, the committee might delay its final action, and I am taking the liberty of sending this note that you may know that the committee appreciates your kind thought in thinking of entering the competition under the circumstances, and that I may express my own hope that you will still find it possible to do so.

I would be extremely obliged if, on receipt of this letter, you would have the kindness to wire me confidentially as to whether or not it would be possible for you to send a model, and if so, when the same may be expected.

I may add, in conclusion, that a letter of this kind would have been sent you before this, but for the reason that I have already given, and I also beg leave to thank you, in any event, for the consideration which the enquiries which you have made indicate that you have given to this matter.

To the Committee of the Harper Memorial:

Gentlemen:

I beg to present first a sketch model scale 2 inches to the foot. This sketch has, as you will see, a large low bas-relied of Sir Galahad typifying Mr. Harper's life as suggested by the programme. I have made this relief and the architecture as large as the means at hand afford.

The material to be of local granite at the option of the Committee; quality of bronze as specified in the programme. Footings to go 4 1/2 feet below the ground, of good quality brick laid in Portland cement. All the work to be first class in every respect. The inscriptions which I have roughly indicated on the model, are to be in bronze. I would suggest a bronze plate beneath the bas-relief containing a description of Mr. Harper's life etc. What further inscription you may desire can be placed on the back upon a bronze plate. In my opinion, this is all one can do for the money and execute the sculpture well. I have not followed Watts's Sir Galahad too closely, but have placed him looking over the sea at the sinking sun.

Second Model, No. 2.

This model at 1 1/2 inched to the foot consists of an obelisk with a smaller bas-relief of Sir Galahad and a bust of Mr. Harper with garlands above all in bronze. The detail of this small Sir Galahad can be seen much better in the larger bas-relief. You will understand this is no attempt at a portrait of Mr. Harper, but simply shows the relation the bust will bear to the monument. It will be 1 1/2 life size, making it very effective. Any other inscriptions you may desire can be placed upon a bronze tablet on the back of monument. The material and quality of work will ne the same as in No. 1 in every respect. I feel these two monuments are as large and effective as the money will allow me to do in a thoroughly artistic manner.

Should you choose either of my models, I can assure you I will put forth my best efforts to execute as artistic a work as lies within my power.

If you desire any changes I shall be happy to make them.

Very respectfully,

Charles J. Pike.

I want to express my very high appreciation of the Report of the Royal Commission on Industrial Disputes in the Province of British Columbia. It is an extremely interesting report, and I judge from the statement of the Commissioners at the close it was mainly your work. I find it most illuminating and most satisfactory as a piece of work and a study of the labor difficulty. Its fairness and fearlessness are of the kind we greatly need at present.

Dear Mr.Reynolds/-

I need hardly say that a word of appreciation from you on anything relating to labour matters is a source of great satisfaction to me and I am pleased indeed to know that the report of the Royal Commission on Industrial Disputes in the Province of British Columbia has been of interest to you.

It seems to me that a fearless exposition of facts and conditions as they are is more needed than any other single thing in dealing with present-day problems,and you are right in believing that in the report of the B.C.Commission we did not hesitate to disclose the truth as far as it was in our power to do so.

It has occurred to me that you might care to have a few copies of this report and I am sending you under separate cover a dozen or so. Should you wish copies sent to any persons,or for use in any way,I shall have pleasure in sending you a limited number.

It is pleasant to be reminded by your letter of my more than happy meeting with you in New York some little time ago.I trust that it will not be long before you will be visiting this part of Canada.

Dear Mr.Reynolds/-

I need not day to you that as one of a very large number of Canadians I feel the result of the recent municipal elections in New York to be a decided set back to the kind of public reform for which were are all so earnestly striving,nevertheless one cannot but feel that it is temporary at best and that even if the cost is a serious one the best will work itself out in the end.

I quite envy you the journey around the world which you have before you. If you should happen to visit the Passmore-Edward Settlement on Tavistock Place,London,get a letter from one of the residents there to Paul Manteaux of Paris. He lived for atiime at the Passmore Edward Settlement and is a man you would enjoy talking with very much.He is well informed on many of the social matters of concern to his city. I do not happen to know his address at the present time or I would give it to you.

I am enclosing herewith one of my cards as an introductiionto Mr.Felicien Challaye,who is now a professor at the Lycée Louis le Grand in paris. Mr'Challaye took a trip around the world some time ago similar to the one you intend to take. He has,in the last few weeks,sent me a copy of a pamphlet he has prepared on compulsory arbitration in New Zealand. He is a man I think you would enjoy meeting.

I have just recalled the fact that you did not meet Professor William Cunnungham of Trinity College Cambridge. As I know that Dr.Cunningham was anxious to meet you and as I am sure you will greatly enjoy a talk with him I am taking the liberty of enclosing one of my cards to him also.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY OF OTTAWA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT, 424 BANK STREET,
DEC. 14TH, 1903.

DEAR SIR :—

In accordance with the custom of the St. George's Society of Ottawa, unfailingly observed during the sixty years of its existence, the Executive Committee is now engaged in arranging for the annual distribution of good cheer on Christmas Eve to the deserving poor of the city.

Each year, at this joyous season, scores of families have been assisted and the hearts of hundreds of worthy people—the old, the infirm, the unfortunate and the little children—gladdened by gifts of material comforts—food, fuel and clothing—without which theirs would have been anything but a Merrie Christmas.

Collections in this behalf have hitherto been made by a Special Committee, through which subscribers have been personally waited upon and their donations solicited, but such a method must necessarily bring only incomplete results—some are overlooked who would gladly contribute. The Executive has therefore decided this year to address you direct by letter, calling attention to the project and soliciting a generous support thereto. The smallest contribution will be gratefully accepted. It will gladden some little one's heart on that holy day, or lighten the burden on some bent shoulders that perchance have known little brightness throughout the year. Donations in money or kind, which will be promptly acknowledged, may be sent to—

Dear Mr King :

I duly received your note of December 22, and have not replied sooner, as I thought I would likely see you.

In reference to a photograph of the church, I may say that Mr.F.P.Bronson has the cut which is printed on the front cover of the annual report, and this cut you could no doubt borrow for your purposes. A year or two ago, however, the General Assembly met in St Andrew's Church, and at that time Jas. Hope & Sons got out a booklet showing a number of the city churches. Among others there was a very good half-tone picture of St Andrew's, and the plate from which this was printed is no doubt still in the possession of Messrs. Hope, and could probably be had upon application to them.

I will procure and send you the list of members for which you ask.

Dear Mr King :

In keeping with my promise I am mailing to you to-day two copies of the last annual report of St Andrew's Church containing list of members.

I find upon looking at the cover that it does not bear the cut of the church which has appeared there in past years. There is, however, in the report a cut of the church. The plate from which this cut was printed is probably in the possession of the Crain Co., or at any rate they could likely tell you where it is.

Harper Memorial

31st January,1903.

Dear Mr.Soyer/-

I am enclosing herewith two copies of the circular letter and rules and regulations in reference to the Harper Memorial competition and award,which I promised to send you.

The circular was ready on the date which it bears and copies of it have been sent to all of the sculptors on the list obtained [redacted] the United States and to about 300 others whose names I have gathered from directories under the heading of sculptors in Canada. There may a few Italian organ grinders among the latter list but t there are some good men also and probably no harm will be done,so far as this country may be concerned,by not making the list too exclusive. I have also sent copies of the circular to the leading papers throughout Canada.

One reply was received yesterday from Mr.William Ordway Partridge's secretary stating that Mr.Partridge,though an old man and very busy,was very much interested in the subject of the memorial and would like to enter the competition if he received the assurance that American sculptors would receive equal treatment with Canadians.

Mr.

Mr.Partridge,as you may know,is one of the best sculptors in the United States having executed among other works a statue of Shakespeare which finds its place at Lincoln Park,Chicago;a bronze statue of Alexander Hamilton at Brooklyn,the Kauffman memorial at Washington;an equestrian statue of General Grant and busts of Edward Everett Hale,Whitteir and others. He is also an author of some repute.

Mr.Ellwell of Washington wrote Harry Burbidge a day or two ago saying that $5,000 was an amount small enough to offer for a competition of this kind. If,however,we succeed in getting one or two more artists of Mr.Partridge's rank into the competition at our present figure the committee will have little reason to regret the course it has taken in the matter.

Daly and I miss very much our little talks with you at lunch from day to day. We have had,as you may know,many pleasant hours together and have often spoken of Mrs.Soper and yourself and your kindness to us.

[redacted] that I was writing you he would,I am sure,wish [redacted] kindest regards sent to Mrs.Soper and yourself and his best wishes for a very happy trip for you both. In mentioning this I may

April 18, 3.

Dear Mr.Soper:

As I am leaving Ottawa tonight and will not be able to be present at the meeting of the Harper Memorial committee on Friday next,when the question of choosing a suitable site for the monument is likely to be discussed.I have thought it best to acquaint you in writing with my views of this matter,and I would be obliged,should occasion require it,if you would have the kindness to see that they are made known to the committee.

I am very strongly in favour of an uptown city site,as against Rockliffe Park,or any other site of any considerable distance from the main portion of the city. My sole reason for this is that I believe that except in a few months during the summer,at which time a large number of Ottawa people are out of the city,and when visitors are not present in the same numbers as they are in the winter and other seasons,the monument,if placed at Rockliffe Park would not be seen. The design which is likely to be selected is one which,I think,would warrant the committee in selecting a point near the centre of the city which would be of ready access at all times of the year. I would make one exception,however,in the case of an uptown site,and that is the City Hall square. I do not think that that site is in any way a suitable one. My preference would like,in the first instance,for a site on the Parliament grounds,if the same could be selected. Next I would favour the site at present occupied by a drinking fountain on Rideau street at the conjunction of Wellington. After this,Major Hill Park or Cartier Square,or if there were sufficient space, a site in front of the new public library.

I have written a communication to Sir William Mulock,asking him if he would ascertain from the Government whether or not the Government would be willing to grant a site on the Parliament grounds. I have mentioned in the communication that if,in considering this matter the Government should desire to see the model of the proposed monument it could be sent to a suitable place at any time. In writing this communication I stated that I was doing so only because the question of a site on Parliament Hill was sure to come up at the meeting,and that it would be well for ~~him to know~~ the meeting to know definitely in advance whether or not this site could be obtained. I will ask ~~them~~ Sir William to please make you acquainted with the decision of the Council in the matter.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr.Soper:

I enclose herewith a communication received to-day from the Minister of Public Works,in reply to a communication from me, asking if in the event of a request being made on the Government for a site for the monument on Parliament Hill,he thought the Government would be prepared to grant that site. You will notice that nothing definite is said in reply,other than that the chief architect of the Department of Public Works speaks very highly of the monument as one suitable of adorning any place whereon it may be erected.

Personally,I believe that if a representative sub-committee could be chosen to wait upon the Government or the Minister of Public Works to make a formal request for a site on Parliament Hill for the proposed monument it might be granted,particularly,if in making this request it was pointed out that the monument is symbolical and typical of an idea rather than individual in its character; also if it were pointed out that the placing of such a monument on Parliament Hill might be regarded as a tribute to the entire Civil Service,Mr.Harper having been,at the time of his death, a civil servant of the Government. Moreover,I think it should be mentioned that the monument is a public monument--that it was subscribed to by persons outside of Ottawa as well as persons in the city,and that no canvass was made for subscriptions.

If you think these points worth mentioning to the committee I would be obliged if,in my absence,you would have the kindness to give them as a suggestion.

Yours sincerely,

Harper memorial
Prot.

April 20, 3.

Dear Sir:

The sub-committee of the Harper Memorial Committee, which was appointed to select a suitable design and site for the public monument to be erected to the memory of the late Henry A. Harper, have, on the basis of a competition, unrestricted in any way, selected from among a large number of models received, the model sent in by Mr. Keyser, of Paris, France, as the one of greatest artistic worth and most appropriate. The sub-committee intends to recommend to the general committee at its meeting on Friday afternoon next that the model sent in by Mr. Keyser be accepted as the design of the proposed monument, and that the work of executing the monument be awarded to Mr. Keyser.

The Committee feel that they have been more than fortunate in the result of the competition. They believe, moreover, that regarding the monument as an addition to the works of art in the capital, too good a site cannot be secured for it. Of the many sites mentioned there is none which appears to many members of the committee to be more suitable than the extreme south-east corner of the grounds on which the Government buildings stand.

The monument is to take the form of an allegorical figure, symbolical of heroism and nobility of character. The figure will be of heroic size, made of the best bronze, and mounted on a suitable foundation of stone. The whole conception and style of the figure is such as to make it a feature of special adornment to the place in which it may happen to be erected. Placed on the plot of ground between the extreme east of the corner of the eastern departmental block, and the gateway leading into the Parliament grounds, the figure would look out across the bridges where

Volume 3

PUBLIC ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES

Wellington and Rideau streets join,and might be expected to greatly enhance the beauty of that part of the Government grounds.

Members of the committee favouring that site feel that before recommending it,they would like to know whether or not the Government would be willing to grant the site,if asked. On behalf of these members,I am,therefore,addressing this communication to you to respectfully ask whether or not the Government would be willing to grant this site for the proposed monument.

Apart from the enhancement of the beauty of the Parliament grounds which the erection of a symbolical figure of this kind would occasion,the Government might be inclined to take the view that the placing of this memorial within the Parliament grounds would be a graceful tribute to the entire Civil Service,Mr.Harper, having been,at the time of his death, a civil servant of the Government. This fact might be mentioned on the tablet which would be placed at the side of the monument. Should you,before expressing an opinion in this matter,desire to see the model of the proposed monument,in order to better estimate the worth of such an addition to the Parliament grounds,the model could be brought to your office or any suitable place,at a time which would be most convenient.

Thanking you,on behalf of the members of the committee, for the consideration and attention you may be kind enough to give to this matter.

I am,

Very respectfully yours.

Hon.Jas.Sutherland,

Minister of Public Works,

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

January 29th. 1903.

My dear King:-

I have been intending for some time to drop you a line and tell you of my new position here. Viles and myself have charge of the History work here and like the place very much so far. I find him a good man to work with and we pull well together. At present I am Assistant Professor in charge of the Department and he is instructor,but I have the promise of a speedy promotion to a full professorship and no doubt when they promote me they will give him a rise also and will appoint another instructor. Our department is one of the largest in the University as we have about two hundred students enrolled.

Columbia is a pretty little town of about seven thousand people and the college set is a very nice one. Occasionally we get a chance to go to St. Louis to lecture and life is proving very pleasant. I have a nice little house and both Mrs. T. and myself enjoy housekeeping. We had a most delightful trip last summer and visits to Lucerne,Milan,Verona,Venice,and Bologna brought back many pleasant memories of our trip of three years ago.

The library here would like very much to get a file of the Labour Gazette if ~~they~~ one is procurable. The professor of economics,Dr.J.E.Pope,is writing a book on the clothing industry and was very interested when I told him of your work on the sweating system. I think he would appreciate copies of your reports to the Dominion Government if you have any to spare. I am bringing out a little sketch on the History of the Right of Sanctuary in England in the University Studies here,a copy will be sent you when it appears. My work on the Monastic Towns in England for the Harvard Studies rather hangs fire.

My dear Sir Frederick Watts/-

I trust you will pardon the liberty I take in enclosing to you a copy of the circular letter referring to the erection of a monument in the City of Ottawa to the memory of a young man,who,a little over a year ago,sacrificed his life in an effort to save the life of a young lady,a daughter of one of the Minister's of the present Administration at Ottawa.

I take this liberty because of the mention which the circular makes of the desire on the part of the committee in charge of the memorial that the form which the monument should take should be a figure symbolical of heroism and nobility of character such as is suggested by the figure of Sir Galahad in your painting of that name. W^m H. Harper

[redacted]he young man to whose memory the monument is to be erected,was for several years of his life my most intimate and personal friend. He was a man of broad and generous sympathies, a good scholar and a true gentleman. At the time of the establishment by the present Government of the Department of Labour in Canada,he gave up a very promising career in journalism to enter the Civil Service

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

Volume 3

PUBLIC ARCHIVES PUBLIQUES

Service chiefly because of his interest in the welfare of the industrial classes generally and the promise which the work of the Department gave of best serving the interests to which he wishes to devote his life. Because of our close personal friendship we were associated not only in the work Of the Department but being bachelors lived together as well.

Over the study table in his library Mr.Harper had a copy of your painting of Sir Galahad. He often expressed to me the admiration which he had for it and has stated more than once that his ambition was to realise in his life something of the ideals which you had brought to his mind in the picture of the young knight.

The association of your painting with Mr.Harper's life was the cause which in the first instance drew the attention of the committee to the figure of Sir Galahad as a most appropriate subject for the memorial,but it was unquestionably the appreciation of the fine spirit of your work,and,in particular,the expression in your painting of Sir Galahad of the conception of heroism and nobility of character,which it was most desirous of symbolizing in the monument to be erected,that led the committee to express a unanimous desire that the figure in your painting should form the subject of the monument to be erected.

Another important consideration confirming the committee in

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers

Volume 3

in its choice was the belief that a reproduction in bronze in the Capital of the Dominion of Canada,of one of your creations,would serve from an educational point of view as a means of linking what was best in the art and poetry of the Victorian era in the Old World with a national recognition of it in the New.

I need hardly say that the committee regrets the very small amount at its disposal for the carrying out of its purpose. Knowing well what would have been Mr.Harper's wishes in the matter had he been able to express them no canvass of any kind was made for subscriptions,voluntary contributions acjnowledged through the local press within a few days after the decision of the Citizen's Committee to erect a monument to Mr.Harper's memory was reached,being the sole source from which the fund was derived.

Had the amount at its disposal approached in any way a suitable honorarium I have no doubt that the committee,as a committee,would have corresponded directly with you in regard to the possibility of obtaining your services in the execution of the work. The amount being small,however,the committee felt obliged to have recourse to public competition,with the hopes that among some of the sculptors,to whom its circular letter might be addressed,one might

might be found who,for reasons than the remuneration to be received, might be disposed to undertake the work

Because of my admiration for your work and the inspiration which it has been to me ,as well as a knowledge of the inspiration and help it has been to others,also because of my love for the memory of my greatest friend,I cannot refrain from saying that with all my heart I wish it had been possible for our young country to have in its Capital,as a monument to my friend,what might also have been a worthy memorial of your own life and work in this part of the British dominions.

It is true that in our National Gallery of Paintings we already have a painting which has been a gift to the nation from your generosity,but having this much we may perhaps be pardoned for wishing more.

I could not but feel that you would be interested in knowing the influence of your work on an individual life and of the kind of appreciation not only of its beauty but also of its educational worth of which the action of the Citizen's Committee is a concrete evidence.

For this reason I must again ask you to pardon the liberty which I have taken in writing you at such length and of

Dear Mr. King.

At first of course I must express you my parents' heartiest thanks for the excellent picture you sent them + also many thanks from me for the pretty book-mark! don't you surprised, getting a letter from your German friend posted in England? But I'll tell you, how this happens. My sister Dora is no more "Fräulein Weber", but she has become a Mrs. Rushbrooke, who is the wife of a certain Rev. J. H. Rushbrooke a Baptist minister, who took her in June 1902 away from Kaiserin Augustastr. 70. She met her husband while he was studying in Berlin & visited us a great deal. Dora, however, has been very ill last winter, I am sorry to say. She is only now recovering from her sickness, & that is also the reason, why she didn't thank you for your nice Xmas card. I have come here shortly before Easter, when I left school & after my confirmation had taken place on the 25th of March. Of course I have not yet seen much of England, but I am very fond of it. When I came through London, I stayed there two days, with the family

Dear Sirs:

I am sending you under separate cover to-day a picture of St.Andrews' Church,Ottawa,which is to appear on the cover of "The Message," the publication being issued by the Men's Association of which I wrote in my last letter. The picture of the Church is to be placed on the centre of the cover,and a lady in the city is at the present time making a suitable design for a border to go around the picture of the Church. She is allowing space for the picture of the church equal to just half the size of the photograph which I am sending,so that it will be necessary to have this photograph reduced exactly one-half,which will make it 4 x 2 ½ inches,more or less.

The committee are desirous of having the cover produce as fine an effect as possible,and would leave it to you as engravers to say whether or not it would be better to have a line cut,using heavier paper for the cover or a half-tone using a lighter polished service.

I expect the cover for the border to be ready by Friday night,so that you may expect to receive it on Saturday morning or on Monday morning at the very latest. The printing matter for the publication will be in the hands of the printers to-day,and we hope to get out the publication by Thursday or Friday of next week. If it is not possible for you to put through the work in time to let me have the cover by Wednesday or at the very latest Thursday morning of next wish.I wish you would telegraph to that effect.

Kindly let me know on receipt of this letter whether you decide on a half-tone or a line cut,so that suitable paper for the cover may be ordered at once.

If it is possible to have the telephone poles in front of the church effaced from the picture it would greatly improve the effect of it. The telephone pole to the right of the church should,of course,be left out altogether. I am sending the photograph,knowing that to reduce the picture one-half and make a line cut or half-tone will take somewhat longer than the work of the border. I hope it will be possible for you to let us have the picture of Dr.Herridge this week.

Gentlemen:

I am enclosing herewith a photograph of the Rev.W.T. Herridge,D.D. of Ottawa, a half-tone engraving of which the Men's Association of St.Andrews Church would like to have made by you as soon as possible. We are sending this to your firm as we understand that you do exceptionally good work,and it is probable that other photos will be sent for half-tone engravings during the course of the next few months.

The Men's Association of St.Andrews Church are publishing five numbers of a monthly periodical to be known as "The Message." and this photo of Dr.Herridge is to appear on one page of the publication. The quality of paper is quoted "book-paper" and we would therefore like to have a fine screen cut,our purpose being to have as good a reproduction of the photograph as possible.

It is possible that you may care to place a small advertisement in the publication. If so I would quote the following rates:

I/2 page,	-	$20.
I/4 "	-	I0.
I/I6 "	-	5.

for the five issues. Fifteen hundred (I500) copies of the publication are being printed for free distribution,no copies to be sold until this amount has been distributed free.

You will greatly oblige the Board of Management by having this work put through as quickly as possible. You might send reply,engraving etc. to my address at the Department of Labour.

Yours truly,

Dear Sirs:

I am sending you under separate cover a design for the cover of the Message,promised in my letter of a day or two ago. In connection with this design we would like you to put in in suitable lettering the words "The Message," in the little space at the top. The space in the centre is reserved for the picture of the church,below which and in the same space should be printed in small and suitable letters the words "St.Andres Church,Ottawa." In the space at the bottom should be printed the words "Published by the Men's Association." The Board of Management of the Message will have to entrust you with the matter of choosing the type which will be quite suitable for this purpose. If you think you have not the kind of letter that would be suitable,perhaps you could have the lettering done in ink in a manner which will suit the design. As,however,we desire to get the finished work as quickly as possible there will not be opportunity of exchanging views in the interval.

As mentioned in my previous letter to you the Board will leave it to your firm to adopt either theline cut according as the one or the other may seem to you the most desirable.

Kindly wire me on receipt of this letter which of the two you intend to adopt that we may place an order for the paper and also state whether the printers here may count on having the necessary plates for the cover by Tuesday next.

I fancy you will, as most of the Ottawa people I have met so far either know you personally or about you. I came out from England on the "Bavarian" with several friends of yours – amongst them – Mr. Anderson & her husband, both perfectly charming people. I am staying here for the winter with my Uncle Graham Bantop and having a particularly good time – going everywhere & seeing everything. It is also delightfully new to me, and people are kindness & hospitality itself. I have been going in wildly for skating & tobogganing though I am afraid my prowess on skates hardly equals my enthusiasm !! Another who be interested to know I have heard from you. My dear King,

I am anxious to get promotion to a First Class Clerkship in my department. (Privy Council Office).

There is a chance that this may be accomplished by my being placed in charge of the old State Books and the large collection of National Records which are in this Office.

I am specially adapted to, and experienced in, this kind of work: and I could do much toward classifying the papers, and be of valuable assistance to the Office in making research such as is Continually needed.

It is my opinion, having made a thorough study of the matter, that the Privy Council Office is the proper Department to have control of the Dominion Records, because the Records proper have to do with the old Orders-in-Council, which are in that Office and should remain there.

In any case, whatever the Government may see fit to do with the Records, I will be able, if placed in charge of them, to put them in better order than they are now, and be ready to make thorough and accurate research with regard to any subject, pertaining to land grants or other kindred matters when referred to this Department.

I am sure that Mr. McGee, who appreciates the value of the old Records, and their place in the custody of this Department, will be in sympathy with this arrangement, which will be in the direction of a work or improvement he has long since meditated.

With kind regards.

My dear Mr. King,

How perfectly fine that you can come to Toronto - and how equally agreeable that you thought of "Hansard"! We have read the reports with the greatest interest - it was really all so tactfully

it. I thought Sir Wilfrid's speech much the finest - as for the others I shall never think again that Americans are the only ones who deal in personalities.

Have you read Mr. Muir Kendall "Hansard & Contracts" - having

Dear Mr. King

It was delightful that you can really come to the people who made appointments for the first three days. I do so hope it train, because unless you have a "time-table train"

I think the last train Sunday leaves Boston

taken it - and imagine

you ready for the real country.
There is another arriving at 7.30 leave from the North Station - if you will send us word which one with your pleasure but, we will surely meet you. That is at the suggestion that you get the evening train out of Montreal - at 7. or 8. & arrive. We want to hear your opinions & lots & things do be
