Mother's Face.

Three little boys talked together,
One sunny summer day,
And talked out of the window,
To hear what they had to say.
The prettiest thing I ever saw,
One of the little boys said,
Was a bit of his mother's face,
All black and white and red.
The prettiest thing I ever saw,
Said the second little boy,
Was a pony of the circus—
I wanted him awful bad.
I think, said the third little fellow,
With a grave and gentle grace,
That the prettiest thing in all the world,
Is just my mother's face.

A Love's Lesson.

She died and left him lonely,
She had loved her with a great love—though of course he had not always told her so. But God took pity on his grief. Now this will not be given to you or to me, but to him it was given to visit his wife in that strange land whither she had gone. Bright winged angels were there, but the man marveled much that in the home of so sweet a soul there was neither jasper walls nor pearly gates nor glassy sea. When his wife saw his wonder,
her face grew suddenly wistful.
Soon his disappointment changed to joy as he saw bright angels using all their powers to make her happy by tender words and deeds. At last the man spoke.
'Heaven is not as I thought,' he said. 'Still it is a happy place.'
'O sweetest, sweetest, sweetest,' cried his wife, pitiously.
'Can't you understand yet? I am not in heaven, and I cannot be there for long, long years!'
'This,' said one of the angels, 'is only the place where good wishes come to be made up to them the little tendernesses that they never had on earth.'
The man groaned. Then he seemed to sink down endless abysses of black space and blue air; and at last when the golden robes were beginning to sing in the purple dusk of morning, he woke in his bed with tears of joy.

He kissed the tired little wife by his side. She did not wake, but she turned the covers and murmured
his name.
She never asked why the days thereafter were so much happier, but her heart was no longer heavy and hard to carry as it used to be.—
Wentworth Hewitt in Zion Herald.

Running up and down stairs, sweeping and bending over making beds will not make a woman healthy or beautiful.
She must get out of doors, walk a mile

Tablets to improve her digestion and regulate her bowels. For sale by all dealers.

Old and New Violins.

An interesting test of the relative merit of old violins and new was made the other day by the American guild of violinists in session at Chicago.
It may be recalled that some years ago some experiments of the same sort were made in Paris, with the unexpected result that listeners not knowing what sort they were hearing awarded the palm to the new instruments.
This is absurd, of course, for,
if a Stradivarius costs $5,000 or $10,000, how can it fail to be better than a new violin worth only a few hundred dollars or perhaps less? Yet there is a heretical sect which holds that the superiority of the old Cremona makers is a myth, and the Chicago experiment was meant to settle that point.
It proved, however, inconclusive,
for while the old violins as a rule carried off the honors the first prize led to a violin only three years old. Nine teen instruments were entered, including a Nicholas Amati of 1543, and a Jacobus Stainer of 1650—Springfield Republican.

It is a wise sister who refrains from looking astonished when her brother is polite to her in public.

Mr. W. T. Collins, Morpeth, Ont., writes: 'It affords me pleasure to be able to speak favorably of two of Dr.
Chase's medicines—the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I had been a sufferer for twenty-five years from rheumatism, lumbago and neuralgia and suffered almost all the medicines I could hear of, without one particle of benefit,
until I commenced to use Dr.
Chase's. I noticed an improvement before I had used two boxes, and the benefit obtained by continuing the use has been wonderful. I have so much confidence in these two medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends, and I have yet to hear of a single case in which they failed to give satisfaction.'

Dr. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates &
Co., Limited, Toronto.

Sunday School Teacher—And you

The Abuse of the Automobile.

The twentieth century may fairly be called the age of speed. The trolley-cars rushing through city streets and country roads, replaces the jogging horse-car and rumbling stage; the fast steamers take you to England in two days; the thousand miles between New York and Chicago is covered in eighteen hours; and mankind has almost forgotten the joys of a quiet motor. Distances have been shortened by the bicycle, the automobile,
the motor-boat, and the aeroplane,
and we outstep them all.

As a result, perhaps, the physician knows that something is lost. The uses and benefit of the automobile, for example, are great if it is sensibly used; but when it is abused, the danger to those in and out of the car is even greater. Driving a high-power car at full speed is a pleasurable form of intoxication, but like all intoxication, it has its penalties and they are heavy.

Uganda Bibles.

What is perhaps the most extraordinary form in which the Bible has ever been offered is that edition of the Scriptures in the language of Uganda.
The volume is of great length, but only three inches in thickness and the same in width.

Canning Peas and Beans.

Peas, string and lima beans are canned in the same way. Only fresh young peas should be used, and they should be canned as soon as possible after the hulling. In the case of string beans much depends upon their being young and tender. String carefully and break into short lengths and pack firmly in the jar. The lima beans should be very carefully sorted, so that no beans that have begun to harden or spot get into the jar. They should be canned immediately after they are shelled.

Odds and Ends.

Fourteen hours was considered a day's work for miners during the early part of the last century.

There are 11,000,000 square miles in the British Empire, 8,000,000 in Russia and 209,000 in the German Empire.

The telephone line across the Isthmus
of Panama is strung on old railroad tracks.

Electric lamps for use in mines
were first designed for rescue work, but now they are extensively used by the miners.

Ten for ten, warships are built in this country as quickly as those at broad and at less cost.

It has been computed that one day of fog in London entails an extra expense of from $10,000 to $50,000.

An Ideal Newspaper.

Occasionally it becomes the duty of a practical editor to give to the very intelligent and impractical people who are always demanding an ideal newspaper a very common sense reason why it will never be published.

And the reason is based on a few questions like these:

Has anybody ever seen or heard of
an ideal minister?
Has anybody ever seen or heard of
an ideal college president?
Has anybody ever seen or heard of
an ideal doctor?
Has anybody ever seen or heard of
an ideal banker?
Has anybody ever seen or heard of
an ideal lawyer?
Has anybody ever seen or heard of
an ideal merchant?

We are decidedly of the opinion that a loud and emphatic 'no' is the answer to each question.

Why?
Because the representatives of the callings named are all human, with the usual number of virtues and faults. And editors being human are in the same class. Therefore when the world is peopled by angels and the newspapers controlled by archangels, we shall see the ideal newspaper, and not until then.—Boston Globe.

Not Lately.

The young lady was painting—sunset, red with blue streaks and green dots.
The old rustic—at a respectful distance—was watching.
'Ah!' said the female artist, looking up suddenly, and pretending she had n't known he was there all the time,
'perhaps to you too Nature has opened her sky-pictures page by page?
Have you seen the lambent flame of Javan leaping across the livid east;
the red stained, sulphurous tablets floating in the lakes of midnight, black as raven's wings blotting out the shuddering moon?'
'No, mum,' replied the rustic shortly; 'not since I gave up drink.'

The Magdalen Islanders.

This little archipelago consists of 13 islands, some of which are uninhabitable, all connected at low water
by a long stretch of sandy beach, entirely without vegetation but haunted
by myriads of gulls, terns, gannets
and other sea birds.

The first settlement of the islands was made in 1793 by remnant of the Acadians who were driven out of New France by the English. Their principal trade is to fish the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence for cod, mackerel, lobsters, etc. They also raise scant crops in the valleys and feed a few sheep and cattle on the high central hills of the islands. The Magdalenians are a simple, primitive and industrious people, who earn their livelihood under discouraging climatic conditions.

KING COLE TEA

Severely Simple.

The new models for fall millinery are severely simple, and a return of the old fashioned sailor in felt, velvet and plush, and small hats that look like derbies, with rolling brims, is predicted.

These latter hats are very becoming, and made in dark shades of velvet, plush and satin. They will undoubtedly have a tremendous vogue.

A bunch of small ostrich feathers, marabou or osprey is coquettishly fixed to one side very far in front of the hat. The wine shades, reds and purple, are to be among the favorite colors.

Many French women have taken to wearing their hair short—that is, clipping it off around the face and ears and arranging it in curls. This mode of culture calls for close-fitting caps, or hats or the cavalier style of hat, and we may expect many such next fall.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, 'Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller.' For sale by all dealers.

Mr. Buburba—I've been pinched for money lately.
City friend—Well, women have different ways of getting it. My wife always kisses me when she wants it next month.

Wigg—That fellow Brown is awfully conceited. He thinks he knows it all. Wagg—Oh, he'll soon get over that. He's going to be married next month.

What the Local Paper Does

What the late Hon. David Davis once said:

'Each year every local paper gives from $100 to $500 in free lines for the benefit of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The local editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other ten men, and his fairness, man with man, he ought to be supported, not because you like him or admire his writings, but because a local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be crowded with great thoughts, but financially it is more of a benefit to the community than a preacher or a teacher. Understand us now, we do not mean morally or intellectually, but financially, and yet on the moral question you will find the majority of local papers are on the right side of the question. To-day the editors of local papers do the most work for the least money of any people living.'

Summer Complaints Kill Little Ones.

At first signs of illness during the hot weather give the little one Baby's Own Tablets, or in a few hours he may be beyond cure. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to the well child and will promptly cure these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine so good and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that they are absolutely safe. Mrs. Chas. Lapierre, Les Bouches, Que., says: 'Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones and I always keep them in the house.' The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Note of Warning.

There has been issued, by direction of the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, a conspicuous poster calling the attention of potato growers to the importance of examining their crop to ascertain whether or not it is infected with 'Potato Canker.' The hanger shows in natural colors a potato plant the whole yield of which is affected by the disease. It also shows the appearance of individual tubers in which the canker has started to work. Growers who discover suspicious symptoms of the disease in their crop are requested to send affected specimens to the Dominion Botanist, Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The poster is issued as Farmers' Circular No. 3, of the Division of Botany and is being distributed by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

Political Impressions.

BY REVIEWER.

We were not surprised that so noted an ex-Canadian as the Rev. Dr. Charles Eaton, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church of New York, President of the Canadian Society of that city, a native of Nova Scotia, should, while stopping at the Halifax Hotel, be called upon by a reporter of The Morning Chronicle, neither were we surprised that he gave utterance to some silly nonsense. The Rev. Doctor is nothing if not emphatic and somewhat spectacular in his views, and his native eloquence helps him wonderfully.

This Rev. Dr. Eaton is not a 'Flag-Flapper' or a waver of the Union Jack, or even of the Maple Leaf. He was always, while a Canadian, of the other sort and of the gritty stripe too. We think he shows mighty poor taste when he, an American citizen, comes over to Canada on a visit for the recovery of his health, and sits down before a newspaper reporter and undertakes to insult those 'Flag Waving' Canadians who, he says, are 'tiresome.' He, in his wisdom, is a sworn citizen of Uncle Sam, and takes off his hat when the Stars and Stripes are unfurled. He has sworn to defend and protect the United States of America against all comers and especially England, whom 'Sam' seems to hate, and while he may or may not be orthodox and of a sound or unsound theology, we have some suspicions of a man who insults the loyal citizens of a land that bore him and gave him his skill at the trade he seems to have dropped into. Canadians are proud of their country, of its mother land, and the old flag that has protected her against many onslaughts, administered at the hands of a country she had never injured, and a country seized by pure jealousy and unnatural greed, of a country which our eloquent clergyman is a sworn defender.

Dr. J. G. Schurman, President of Cornell University, and recently appointed the Ambassador to the court of Greece, is an out and out enemy of Canada and Great Britain, and yet he was born on Prince Edward Island, and graduated from Acadia College.

'Dr. Charles Eaton,' as The Morning Chronicle so familiarly calls him, was born in Nova Scotia and graduated from Acadia, and he, after swearing fidelity to a foreign and in some respects unfriendly nation, comes down home and insults the very land that gave him birth, many citizens of which are his peers at least. The incident is remarkable, yet familiar in a history.

President Schurman is a man of brains and power and knows upon which side of the fence he is, and where the butter is the thickest, but what does this 'Dr. Charles Eaton' know about the economic crisis facing Canada in Sept., 1912. He knows what the wishes of Mr. Taft, Mr. Champ Clark and Mr. Hearst were, and their wishes evidently were his. We could pass over his childish economic effusions and his feeble remarks regarding what he thought of reciprocity and the Panama Canal question, but his brutal and unmanly reference to the loyal and enthusiastic citizens of Canada who 'waved' the old flag we will stop. Dr. Eaton would probably be a better politician if he were not so grievously ignorant, and if he knows no more about running Madison Avenue church than he does about Canadian political sentiment, we pity his church. Every one pities New York in her disgrace, savagery and lust, and if Dr. Eaton is any good he should stay there and not act the craven deserter.

Wedding in Wolfville.

At the home of the bride's father, Mr. E. Sidney Crawley, on Wednesday evening, September 4th, at half past seven, Miss Helen Bernal Crawley was married to Mr. Henry Perley Demasoon of North Sydney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. F. Dixon, Rector of St. John's church, assisted by Rev. Alfred Watson, of Kensington, P. E. I., brother-in-law of the groom. The only guests were relatives and intimate friends of the family.

The bride's costume was of white crepe de chine. Her veil was fastened with the wreath of orange blossoms worn by her mother at her own wedding. The bouquet was of white sweet peas. Miss Dorothy Crawley, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and was becomingly attired in pink chiffon and carried pink sweet peas.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers. The parlours in the hall were filled with masses of golden glow, and every available corner was banked with the same flower. The drawing-room, in which the ceremony was performed, was decorated with pink and white asters and pink sweet peas, the bridal couple standing under an arch of white anemone with a background of green and white. The wedding march was played by Miss Gertrude Borden. The decorations in the dining-room were pink sweet peas. After supper had been served to the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bernal Crawley left in an automobile for Windsor. The bride's travelling dress was of golden brown sateen. Many beautiful gifts testified to the affection in which she is held by her numerous friends.

Patrons are respectfully requested to place their orders early so that we may be able to deliver the goods in time for the busy season beginning in the latter part of the year.

The Boy Scouts.

The quarterly meeting of the Boy Scout Association of Wolfville and vicinity was held on Monday evening, August 27th, at 7.30. It is unfortunate that only five out of twenty-three members were able to be present. A letter from the Hon. Secy., Mr. Morgan Tamplin, tendering his resignation, was read. All those present expressed their regret that he was leaving. Mr. Tamplin having accepted a position in New Glasgow, he was obliged to leave Wolfville, and a resolution was passed appointing a committee to forward a letter to Mr. Tamplin expressing their regret and thanking him for the very efficient manner in which he had discharged his duties. The Rev. W. H. Rackham was appointed his successor and the scouts are to be congratulated on having secured one so well qualified for the work. Next Sunday, Sept. 8th, the boys will meet at the Club Room at 10 to 11 a. m., for Church Parade to the Methodist church. All are particularly requested to be present. The regular Friday evening and Saturday afternoon meetings will take place this week.

Halifax Sees Man Start on Trip to West Coast by Auto.

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF CANADIAN HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION, THOMAS W. WILBY LEAVES WITH MESSAGE FOR PRESIDENT W. J. KERR.

Halifax, N. S., August 28.—At three o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Thomas Wilby started from the city hall on an automobile trip which he plans to end on the western coast of Vancouver Island about six weeks hence, thereby demonstrating the practicability of the Canadian Highway Association, and flies the pennant of that organization on his automobile. This, and the flag of the Automobile Club of Canada, are the only decorations which he sports.

For several months preparations have been going on for this first cross-Canada journey. Co-operating with the energetic pathfinder, the officers of the Canadian Highway Association have prepared maps, plans, charts, etc., which will be invaluable to Mr. Wilby. A chain of pilots has also been provided across the continent. Those in Eastern Canada, as far as the Great Lakes, have been selected by different automobile clubs in these districts, while west at this point the men have been appointed by the Canadian Highway Association. In most cases the pilot is a member, frequently an officer of the Association, and it is his intention to accompany Mr. Wilby for at least one hundred miles on his journey, resigning his services as guide when the district served by another officer is reached.

There are, of course, great difficulties to be met with on the journey. For many weeks it seemed as if the trip would have to be abandoned as there seemed no possibility of getting beyond the Great Lakes, short of shipping the car over the railroad or on one of the boats plying on the inland sea, but a few days ago Mr. Wilby was advised that a party which had been sent out to thoroughly investigate conditions in that locality, had reported that a route which appeared to be passable had at length been located.

Before leaving Halifax for his western destination, Mr. Wilby was presented with a number of letters to be delivered en route, these being from acting Mayor Martin to representative western men. One of these letters is to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, patron, and another to W. J. Kerr, President, of the Canadian Highway Association.

Valuable assistance is being given by Victor Parker, editor of the Modern River Magazine, of Winnipeg, who has volunteered to pilot Mr. Wilby for 200 miles outside of Winnipeg. Mayor Fleming, of Brandon, has arranged for a pilot from his town for a considerable distance westward, where he will relinquish his task to the Regina pilot. Members of the Medicine Hat Automobile Club are to take charge of Mr. Wilby in Alberta and convey him to the British Columbia boundary, where he will be met by Mr. Guy L'wenberg, who will have charge of him as far as Castlegar, where Mr. John D. Anderson, another vice-president, will undertake to pilot the car as far as Grand Forks, from which point Mr. Wilby will have the assistance of Mr. Jeff Davis. At Princeton an expedition packer will be waiting with horses which it is expected will be necessary in crossing the two divides on the Hope mountains. This part of the trip, it is believed, will be the most difficult of the whole undertaking, and, in the event of Mr. Wilby negotiating this obstacle, he will be met at the town of Hope by President W. J. Kerr, who will escort him to Chilliwack and across the Fraser Valley to Westminster and Vancouver, stopping at Westminster long enough to entertain the pathfinder at a luncheon to be given in his honor.

From Nanaimo to the western coast of Vancouver Island no great difficulty is to be encountered, the roads as far as Sprout Lake being in excellent condition. An attempt may be made to reach the coast at Long Beach, but if this is not feasible, the journey will come to an official end at Strathcona Park.

Nova Scotia Provincial Exhibition.

SEPTEMBER, 11TH TO 19TH. The Provincial Exhibition which opens at Halifax on September 11th will have many features never seen at a Provincial Fair before. The foot races on the scale contemplated are something new. The rivalry between the athletic men of the colleges should draw a big crowd of devotees of the running track. The Mount Allison college team intimated their intention of coming to Halifax several days before the exhibition opens in order that they may train and get in to the best of condition. There are races for other amateurs besides the college men and a good prize is offered for boys under 12 years of age. The horse races are always interesting and sixteen of these are for purse aggregating $6,500, the biggest yet. The greatest feature of the Exhibition will be the Aeroplane flights on a Curtiss Machine by Walsh. Never before has an aeroplane been in Nova Scotia, indeed in the Maritime Provinces, and this will be the first opportunity for people here to see this form of aerial navigation, far different from the old balloon method, now practically a thing of the past.

The VanDeville will consist of seven acts headed by Cedra of the Golden Globe of Death. The evening performance will conclude with a magnificent and unexpected display of fireworks.

TORTURED FROM BABYHOOD

"Fruit-a-Lives" Cures Constipation

Miss E. A. GOODALL

EDMONTON, ALTA., Nov. 20th, 1931
"I have been a sufferer since babyhood from that terrible complaint, Constipation. I have been treated by physicians, and have taken every medicine I heard of, but without the slightest benefit. I finally concluded that there was no remedy in the world that could cure Constipation. About a year ago I read 'Fruit-a-Lives' and decided to try them. The effect was marvelous. The first box gave me great relief, and after I had used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well. 'Fruit-a-Lives' is the only medicine that ever did me any good and I want to say to all who suffer as I did—'Try this fruit medicine and you will find—as I did—a perfect cure.'"

As We Journey Through Life.

As we journey through life let us live by the way.
In the gloom of the night wait the dawning of day,
Turn a face lit with smiles to the beat of the rain,
For the sunshine will burst from the heavens again,
Will burst in its beauty and arch in the skies,
A rainbow of cheer for our wondering eyes,
Will flood every heart with its silvery light,
And drive all the vapours of trouble to flight,
As we journey through life let us live by the way,
Glean the bright golden glories of enjoyment as we Travel on the shore of Eternity's sea,
Let the music of laughter, the echoes of song,
Be heard from our lips as we journey along,
Let us smile in the face of each threatening care,
Each other's earth sorrows in brotherhood share,
As we journey through life let us live by the way,
Never how to despair when the heavens are gray,
For this earth's existence is but for a day,
To-morrow we'll pass o'er the river that flows,
Twist the kingdom of care and the king of repose,
If a brother should falter, extend him a hand,
Help the fallen to rise and the weak one to stand,
In the midst of adversity strive to be gay,
As we journey through life let us live by the way.

For the Sake of Others.

But secondly, abstinence is worth while for the sake of others. A conscientious man has always to consider the influence of his conduct upon others, and he should be ready to divest himself of liberties which another following his example, might abuse to his destruction. Are we not, in some real sense, brethren? And if so, must we not care, to the point of sacrifice, for one another's welfare? The man whose drink has led astray in the solemn night of Paul, the brother for whom Christ died? Are we not to consider him as if he were our brother?—And if so, can we call ourselves Christians, men? Have we the right to lead him astray?
Nothing is more certain than that scores of thousands have been and are being ruined by drink. In some, only a few years ago, they were as you are now, and they are now as you are now.

tenance the thing which has wrought society so deadly a blow, and hurried to destruction so many brethren for whom Christ died? Not so Paul. 'It is good,' he said, 'not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.' (Rom. xiv., 21.) 'Wherefore, if meat cause my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore.' (1 Cor. xiv., 13.)

We know that drink causes many a brother most fatally to stumble—a walk through the streets on Saturday night will furnish sorrowfully abundant proof of that, and what but selfishness hinders us all from adapting the immortal words of the Apostle and making his vow our own—'Since intoxicating drink causes so many of my brethren to stumble, I will not touch it forevermore.'—Prof. J. E. McFayden, D. D.

Beer, the Strength Taker.
Fiction: 'Her strength and energy the whole system.'
Fact: Athletes in training give up beer that they may be strong, and insurance statistics teach that it should be given up.
Sawdust's Magazine, which is devoted to the culture of physical strength, says: 'Let no man deceive himself about alcoholic drinks. The man who drinks brandy or beer, or whisky, or wine, ought to bear in mind that these drinks do not give strength, but rather dissipate strength. There are a great many people who believe that a moderate use of alcohol under proper circumstances conduces to health and strength, makes good flesh, and builds up. Indulgence in these drinks should be classed as dissipation. They weaken strength. They do not give strength at all. No man is stronger for having taken a glass of whisky. He may temporarily feel stronger, but the glass of whisky has deprived him of his strength and vitality at an exorbitant interest.'

The Burdens of Age.

The kidneys seem to be about the first organ to wear out and fail in properly performing their work. The result is weak, lame, aching back, rheumatic pains and falling eyes. Many people of advanced years have recovered health and comfort by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It ensures the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.
An old man says: 'I was once a prosperous farmer. I had a loving wife and two fine lads as ever the sun shone on. We had a comfortable home, and lived happily together. But we used to drink to make us work. Those two lads I have now laid in drunkard's graves. My wife died broken-hearted, and now she lies by her two sons. Had it not been for drink, I might have been an independent gentleman; but I used to drink to make me work, and mark it, it makes me work now. At my age I am obliged to work for my daily bread.'

Paralyzed Limbs.

Today the digestive system is the trouble, and irritability. Next thing you know some form of paralysis has developed. Mr. Alex. Houghton, in Moore street, St. Catherine's, writes: 'My legs became paralyzed, and I was unable to walk. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me. I am now able to walk as well as ever, and I feel better than I did for 30 years.'

What kind of a silo will yours be?
Wood—or Concrete?

IF you were to build two silos—one of wood, the other of concrete—side by side, and then could see them as they will look after five years of service, you wouldn't have to think twice to decide which is the best material. In a few years more there wouldn't be much of the original wooden silo left—the repairing you'd have to do would be as troublesome and cost as much as the building of an entirely new one. But the passage of five, ten, fifteen or even twenty years will make no difference to the hard-as-rock wall of the concrete silo.

CONCRETE SILOS LAST FOREVER

WIND, rain, fire and lightning are alike defied by concrete. You need no insurance against its destruction, because it cannot be destroyed. Concrete silos are best for another reason. The concrete silo is built at an even temperature, so that it "cures" better, and therefore contains more food-value than any other silo.
YOU CAN BUILD ONE YOURSELF

NO matter whether you have ever used concrete or not, you can build a concrete silo. Our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," gives all the information you will need, not only about silos, but about covers of other uses for concrete on the farm. It isn't a catalogue, nor an advertising circular. A handsome, well illustrated, and written for farmers. It is free. Just send your name and address on a postcard or in a letter and the book will be sent free by return mail.

HABITANT FARMER

Victor Sylvestre is a Leader in His Community

In the parish of Clairvaux de Ba got, near the western boundary of the Eastern Townships, Quebec, dwells a habitant farmer whose career is particularly interesting for the reason that he appreciates the importance of the application of science to the practice of agriculture. Born and raised in Quebec, amid surroundings typically "habitant" which inspire progressiveness in every few youths, Victor Sylvestre, upon attaining his majority and assuming many responsibilities resolved to break loose from many of the customs of his fathers and farm his land according to the most approved methods of which he could learn. He is now thirty-one years of age, and, though only a comparatively short time actively engaged in farming, he is hailed as among the first breeders of live stock in the St. Hyacinthe district, as well as the possessor of a well-conducted holding. Apart from his progressive nature, which is the subject of common discussion, not always complimentary, among his fellow-parishioners, Victor Sylvestre is an interesting character. At a young age he insisted upon an education, and his father, yielding to his demands, sent him to the Seminary of St. Hyacinthe and Ottawa University. He made good use of his time spent at these halls of learning, and he is able to produce the Certificates of B.A. and B.Sc. conferred thereupon. With such a background of learning, it is not surprising that Sylvestre persists in his return to the farm. "I love this life better," was the reason he advanced when I asked him why he had not taken to the city. Not only in Victor Sylvestre is to be found a leader in agricultural affairs in his parish, but he is also active in the social and political life of the community.

SHANTYMAN OF CANADA

A Splendid Virile Type That Has Not Changed in Seventy Years
Of all classes of laborers, the Eastern Canadian shantyman—particularly the French Canadian woodsman of Quebec Province—is the most strenuous, while at the same time the most genial of workers.
Skillful in all that pertains to log making and the use of the axe, which he has learned to handle from early childhood, he is ever at home in the forests and wilds. Like the Indian, he is unable to find his main ground before nightfall, he would assure that it was not he, but the camp, that is lost, for he is at home everywhere in the forest, while cold and hardship have no terrors for him, since he can make himself comfortable in spite of it, so at conditions imaginable.
Tracing the history of the shantyman through romantic legends, the impression is gained that those of the early lumbering days were of the roughest and most formidable character—physical giants "with whom the shantyman of the present day would be but miserably contrasted. From tramping, they are romantically portrayed, it is found, however, that those old bushwhackers could not chop more than in a given time, the present-day lumbermen. In fact, the whole system of lumbering in Eastern Canada is, with few exceptions, the same today as it was some sixty or seventy years ago.—British Columbia Magazine.

SEL-RELIANCE

The farm is the greatest training school in the world for self-reliance. The farmer and the farmer's sons simply have to do things themselves. There is no one to depend on to do them. The farm boy early in life learns to do things, and if he can't accomplish the thing which has to be done one way he casts about for another until he finds out how to do it. This makes him resourceful. It develops in him the ability to find way out of the difficulties but him. This training follows him all through life, so that he is more apt to be able to take care of himself in almost any situation than the man who has never had to rely on himself. It is this sort of thing which develops manhood. Unfortunately the boy who is surrounded by luxury and convenience and wealth, for he has little opportunity to learn to depend on himself.

COST COLUMBUS $7,500

Ledgers recently discovered at Pinar, Spain, contain interesting facts concerning the outfit made by Christopher Columbus on his expedition to the New World. The armament of the little fleet cost 34,000 pesetas. The personal expenses of Columbus and his officers were about 2,000 pesetas, and six pesetas a month sufficed for each of the crew, so that 25,000 pesetas, or about $4,000, were spent for the eight months that the voyage lasted. The sum total whereby America was discovered was $5,000 pesetas, or about $7,500.

HORSE WAS SHOCKED

A farmer tied his horse to a telephone pole, about the base of which hoop iron bands had been placed as protectors and the end of a telephone wire had been tied. The latter crossed an electric wire and the horse putting its nose against the post where the iron bands and the telephone wire met became a conductor for the electricity, and lost two teeth, and was put in the hospital. Two men who came to the rescue, mistaking the shocks, but managed to pull the animal away and save its life.

A Marvel of Healing

It does not take long for Dr. Chase's Ointment to prove its magic healing power. A single night is often sufficient to produce the most startling results.

Chas. Gilbert, Haystack, Placentia Bay, Nfld., writes—"I was a sufferer from Salt Rheum for ten years, and had about to despair of ever being cured, so many treatments had failed. Reading of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment, I commenced using it, and was entirely cured by eight boxes."
Mr. Stanley Merrill, Delaware, Ont., writes—"For years I was troubled with my hands cracking, often becoming so sore that I could hardly do any work. I got some of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and happily find that one or two applications of same to the affected parts makes them well. I have had no trouble since using the ointment for some time."

THE TWIN CITIES

An English Writer Sees Great Future For Port Arthur and Port William

Mr. Schell, F.R.S.E., has been writing in The Glasgow Herald a series of articles on Canada, which he calls "A Mighty State in the Making." In one of these articles he says: "Two towns which were included in my journey had special mention, for they originally have a great future. I allude to the twin ports of Port Arthur and Port William on Lake Superior. Some idea of the importance of these places may be gained from the fact that all the grain grown in the West has to be shipped to the East, whence a large proportion is exported to foreign markets. Port Arthur and Port William offer the greatest convenience for covering a considerable part of the carriage by lake transportation, thereby saving the heavy freight charges of a long railway haul. Both towns are preparing themselves for their future with immense spirit and energy. Both are equipped with huge grain elevators. And, separated as they are by a couple of miles, the probability is that they will unite one day to form one great combined city. They have busy streets, wide boulevards, and broad side-walks. In their admirable thoroughfares, prosperous homes and thriving manufactures they bear the stamp of Canada's extraordinary progress. Standing at the gateway between the East and the West, they promise to become the Liverpool of Canada."

CANADA'S PULPWOOD

Discussed in a Recent Bulletin of the Forestry Branch
Over since the Province of Quebec forbade the export of pulpwood out from Crown lands, considerable interest has been taken in the question as to how the price of pulpwood would be affected. A leading paper trade periodical estimated that the price of pulpwood had advanced one dollar per cord. This was corroborated by the bulletin on pulpwood lately compiled by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. According to this bulletin, the average price of pulpwood in Quebec provinces during 1911 was higher by thirty-seven cents than in 1910. In Ontario the price actually fell twenty cents per cord, while in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick the price of pulpwood had advanced one dollar per cord.
