NEWS ABOUT HOME.

Mr. James Garrow has sent us a specimen of barley grown on the grounds of the latter. The stalks are considerably over four feet in length, and gave promise of a much longer growth.

Miss K. McIntosh, of North Street, on Wednesday sent us in some specimens of strawberries, the largest of the "Wilson" variety we have seen this season. They were grown on the farm of Mr. C. McGregor, and were as luscious as large.

Excursion.—Arrangements have been made by the Directors of the Mechanics' Institute for an excursion from Goderich to Toronto and return on Monday next 11th inst., good for three days, fare $2.25. The train will leave Goderich at 7.30 a. m.

In the list of graduates in the class of '82 at the commencement exercises of the Michigan University at Ann Arbor, this week, we notice that Mr. R. A. Packwood has obtained his M. D. degree. He is a brother of Mrs. Chas. LeTouzil, of Colborne.

Mr. W. A. Hossie, of the Bank of Commerce, has been removed to Sarnia, and has been succeeded by Mr. A. E. Grassett, of Ottawa. Mr. Hossie, during the short time he was in Goderich, made a host of friends, and was quite a favorite in many circles.

Rev. J. W. Sutton, of the M. E. Church, preached a special sermon to the youth on Sunday morning, taking for his text: Romans 1: 16. The discourse is spoken of as an appropriate one, and was much appreciated by the members of the order present.

The "Maple Leaf" cricket club, of Goderich, Capt. Percy Malcomson, and the "Stars" of Clinton, Capt. H. Stanley, played a match game in Goderich on Dominion Day. Two innings were contested, the Clinton boys proving victors by a score of 90 to 65.

Rev. R. Hicks wishes in behalf of the congregation of St. George's church to acknowledge with very many thanks the handsome donation of $23.25 from Mrs. Fletcher's school, the proceeds of their closing entertainment, a very substantial addition to the building fund of St. George's Sunday School.

A strawberry festival will be held in the school room of Knox Church on Monday evening next, the proceeds of which will be for the benefit of the choir. Doors open at 7.30. Refreshments served at 8. Admission 20c. A programme consisting of music, readings, etc. will also be presented.

ACCIDENT.—A lad named Chas. Simmons, aged about 13 years, met with an accident on Saturday evening, whilst attending the fireworks. A lad pulled a "mine" off the stand too soon, and it exploded in the midst of a group, striking Simmons on the thigh, and causing a painful though not dangerous wound.

OFF THE TRACK.—The train for Toronto on which the Goderich High School contingent for matriculation at the University was on board, last week ran off the track near Acton. No damage to life or limb was sustained, much to the relief of friends of Messrs. E. Duncan, W. H. Clutton, E. Macdonald and others.

The intermediate examination of pupils, which has been in progress in the Court room during the week under the supervision of Inspector Miller, will likely close on Saturday. 54 pupils are writing from Goderich High School and 15 from the outside points. A number of the latter have, however, been Goderich High School pupils in past sessions.

A LADY DRILL INSTRUCTOR.—At the Toronto school drill and calisthenic competition held in the Queen's Park on the 30th ult., the 2nd and 3rd prizes were taken by the 4th and 9th divisions of Phoebe's school. These divisions were instructed in the drill and calisthenic exercises by Miss L. Straubel, daughter of our townsman Mr. C. F. Straubel.

MYRNEAL.—Mr. Wm. Kerr, formerly a merchant in Goderich, has, after a few years' residence in Tennessee, annexed one of the daughters of that State, and persuaded her to change her name. We understand that Mr. Kerr is well pleased with the climate and people of that portion of the South. Some of his old friends would like to see him come up on his wedding trip.

Rev. Mr. Wakefield, the new pastor of North street Methodist church, arrived last week, and preached on Sunday, yesterday (Thursday) evening he was tendered a reception by the ladies of the congregation and others on the spacious and handsome grounds of Wm. McLean, Esq. Strawberries and cream, etc., abounded, and doubtless by this time the new pastor feels perfectly at home.

PHANTOMS FOR MANITOBA.—On Tuesday Messrs. Morton & Cressman, the well-known carriage makers of this place shipped two handsome canopy top phaetons to Winnipeg. Both vehicles were splendidly built, symmetrical and well-finished and are a credit to the establishment that turned them out. We trust that this consignment is but the prelude to a large and steady shipment of carriages, etc., to the Prairie Province, by Messrs. Morton & Cressman. The phaetons were for Messrs. Washbrook & Fairchild, Winnipeg, who will have rigs they may be proud of.

We are informed that over $75 were netted at the strawberry festival on the grounds of H. Johnston, Esq., on Tuesday last, in aid of the building fund of St. George's church Sunday School.

Mr. James McFarlane, gardener to Mr. Johnston, has sent us a specimen of barley grown on the grounds of the latter. The stalks are considerably over four feet in length, and gave promise of a much longer growth.

Miss K. McIntosh, of North Street, on Wednesday sent us in some specimens of strawberries, the largest of the "Wilson" variety we have seen this season. They were grown on the farm of Mr. C. McGregor, and were as luscious as large.

THE POINT FARM.—Miss host of the Point Farm had a busy day on the 1st, visitors from every direction pouring in. The Clinton New Era thus refers to a young man known to many of our readers: On Sunday evening Rev. R. Y. Thompson, of the Winnipeg College, (formerly M. Hallett) preached in William's church. He is one of the most clever young men in the Presbyterian ministry and gave an exceptionally good sermon. He is on his way to Germany where he will prosecute his studies still further.

By publisher's notice printed elsewhere it will be seen that all back subscriptions not settled of once will be charged at the rate of $2 per annum. Fair warning is now given, and if our friends who are behind want to save 50 cents on each year's subscription, they will settle early. Do not wait until next week, or next month, but come in at once, or send the money in registered letter.

The Clinton Methodist Sunday School excursion on Wednesday was largely attended. The school "pic-nicked" in Bingham's grove, and marched to that place from the station with banners flying, presenting a pleasing appearance. Not a little amusement was created by the appearance of the provision wagon, which was heaped with baskets, in the midst of which fluttered a banner bearing the words, "Precious Promises."

COLD HOLIDAYS.—The 1st and 4th of July, days dear to the Canadian and American heart, were each exceedingly cold this year. One of the athletes in the mile race on Dominion day declared that he "didn't sweat a drop." Yet the amount of ice-cream disposed of on that day was considerable; but there are some girls who would inch along for ice-cream on Dominion Day if the thermometer slipped and fell ever so many degrees below zero.

Ashfeld.

ANOTHER OLD PIONEER GONE.—We regret to learn of the death of Mr. James Young, who died June 15th, at his residence in Ashfeld, at the age of 68 years, after a long and painful illness. He came to Canada from Nairn, Scotland, with his father and rest of family in 1835, and settled in Colborne. In 1841 he removed to Ashfeld, and remained there till his death. He leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters to mourn his loss. He was much respected by all who knew him, and his remains were followed to the grave by a large concourse.

Leoburn.

ECHBE by LOG LIGHT.—A party of lads playing cards by the weird light of a burning log heap was one of the sights hereabout one night last week. The lads shuffled the cards until the grey dawn of day, in order to while away the tedious watch. To a passer by the scene was picturesque.—Com.

VANKOUGHNET HANGED.

The Buck Lake Murderer Pays the Penalty of his Crime.

Kingston, June 28. This morning at twenty minutes past eight o'clock Elijah Vankoughnet paid the penalty of his crime, the murder of John Richardson on the 13th of August last, near Buck Lake.

The facts of the murder have been fully published and it is but necessary to revert to them, in brief. He was a neighbour of Richardson, and at about eight o'clock on the night of the day named he hid himself in the bush on the farm of his victim, and while the latter was going to his house with a scythe on his shoulder he deliberately shot him in his tracks and left the body lying where it fell. He afterwards took Richardson's horse out of the stable and put it in its place, and then

SET FIRE TO THE BUILDING burning it to the ground; the horse was not disfigured sufficiently to destroy its identity. On the following morning he borrowed a buggy from a neighbour, and hitching Richardson's horse to it, he drove to Elgin, where he attempted to dispose of the animal in trade for another. The person with whom he tried to trade desired the ownership to be proven, but while the two were driving along the road to a place where Vankoughnet said he could be identified, he changed his mind about trading and asked the man to buy the horse. A bargain was made, Vankoughnet receiving $27, all the money that the other had. The prisoner then entered the woods, and after wandering through the country he went on an island in Buck Lake, and there remained hidden for some days. No one knew where he was secreted but the members of his own family. His wife took provisions to him by night in a boat. Finally his little four year old girl was influenced by the reception of three coppers to tell where her doomed father was, and shortly afterwards

HE WAS DISCOVERED AND CAPTURED. When approached on the island he drew a knife and threatened to kill himself, but he was persuaded by his captor to give himself up. His captor a few weeks after, met with a fatal accident on the K & P. Railway. Vankoughnet after his arrest acknowledged having shot Richardson, and related the circumstances in detail. He says now that he owed him a grudge for a number of years. A clearer case of deliberate and preconcerted murder could not be imagined. The prisoner now blames his wife for his trouble and impeaches her with infidelity to him. On many occasions he found Richardson at his house when he came home in the evening, but while he had his suspicious he said nothing to his wife. Since this fact became known sympathy for the prisoner had become manifest, and it is said on good authority that if he had made such a statement at his trial he would

NOT HAVE BEEN HUNG TO-DAY. On last Wednesday he says he found peace with his Maker, and since that time a marked change came over him; instead of being given to shedding tears he read the Bible diligently since that date and grew stronger in body and mind. Last evening the prisoner began to show signs of weakness and complained that he did not feel well; he could not eat any supper prior to being locked in his cell at six o'clock; a special guard was placed on him during the night in order to prevent any attempt at suicide. He was sleeping soundly at ten, eleven and two o'clock and about four he awoke and got out of bed. He looked very careworn and haggard, and again complained of not feeling well; after giving himself a good washing, he sat down to his bible. The gaoler visited him and asked him if he would like an egg and cup of tea, but he refused them, saying that it was impossible for him to eat anything. At half-past seven o'clock he drank a cup of tea, after which the Rev. Mr. Jolliffe read three passages of Scripture, and prayed with him until twenty minutes past eight o'clock. He was then told

TO PREPARE FOR EXECUTION, when he removed his boots, and taking a clean, white handkerchief in his hand, announced himself as ready. On reaching the corridor, he burst into tears and sobbed aloud. Holding the handkerchief to his eyes, he ascended the steps to the scaffold arm in arm with the minister, and on he turned round and said: "Is my brother not here, is not that him at the door?" He was answered in the negative when he went on crying bitterly and exclaiming "Oh, my God! Oh, dear me!" He was quite strident and required no assistance to walk. While his arms were being pinioned on the scaffold he told the hangman not to draw the cord so tight, that it hurt him. When all was ready he cried aloud, "My God, have mercy on my poor soul," and repeated it two or three times. He requested the jailer to give his photograph to his mother, who is 70 years of age, and who visited him for the last time yesterday. The clergyman whispered something in his ear, when he said "I'm ready," and spat out a large tobacco quid at the foot of the hangman. The minister then engaged in a short prayer, and while he was saying the words "God have mercy on his soul," the doomed man ejaculated

"YES LORD, DO LORD."

At the ward amen the bolt clicked and he was launched into eternity and his pulse ceased to beat fourteen minutes after the drop. His neck was not broken. Death was caused by apoplexy. He requested that his body be handed over to his mother, which request will be complied with. The whole affair did not occupy over four minutes. There was only one spectator allowed in besides the press and the jail officials.

The execution took place by lamplight. None of Vankoughnet's friends were present not even his wife. She had some words with him when she visited him four weeks ago. Yesterday afternoon George Vankoughnet, brother, and Mrs. Vankoughnet, mother of the prisoner, and a neighbour, Mrs. Darling, visited the prisoner. It was a sad scene, especially the meeting of the poor old woman, who is 70 years of age and much wrinkled, and her boy. The prisoner gave to his friends various articles as mementoes, and cheered them by saying, "I am prepared to die, and when I die I will go to Heaven." He expressed a desire to be buried beside his deceased brother in the country. He also said that when he killed Richardson

HE INTENDED TO THROW THE BODY into Buck Lake, but his heart failed him after firing the shot. He spoke harshly of his relatives by marriage, and said they taught him to thieve, and his poor old mother seemed to hold his wife responsible for most, if not all, of his troubles. The parting was affecting. The son and mother again embraced, and he asked "God to bless her," and she prayed, "that God would be good to him."

LAPORTE HEARD FROM.

Shot While Entering a Michigan Store at too Early Hour.

About eight years ago Daniel Laporte was sentenced to the Provincial penitentiary for five years for stealing pork from the store house of Mr. John Lecik, Brussels. The Laporte mentioned below is evidently the same man, and it would seem that "durance vile" did not cure the fellow of his thievish propensities.

HESSEY, Mich., July 26. - At about 2 o'clock this morning H. T. Snyder, who slept in his store last night, heard a noise at the front entrance. A stone was thrown, which shattered the large glass of the door and fell on the floor near the center of the door. In a few moments another stone was thrown and more of the glass shattered. Then the burglar was heard to pick off the broken fragments of glass, so as to make easy climbing through. The burglar then crawled through, and as soon as he rose to his feet Mr. Snyder raised his double-barreled shot gun and aimed at the dark shadow which he could see between him and the door. The first barrel which was loaded with buck shot, missed fire. He then aimed the second barrel, which was loaded with bird shot, and fired, bringing down his man, who cried out, "I am killed," and asked Snyder to come to him; that he forgave him; that Snyder had done no more than his right, etc. Not knowing but that there might be a revolver in the burglar's hands, and that there might be an accomplice, Mr. Snyder did not go directly to the wounded man, but called his clerk, George Newell, and together they went to him, took him and led him to the jail, which was only twenty-five rods off. Dr. McCollum was then called, and upon examination it was found that the shot had taken terrible effect. The right shoulder was shattered, and the shot had badly scattered, penetrating his face and breast and arms. One shot went in below the right eye and has not been found. If the barrel loaded with buck-shot had been discharged he would have been a dead man. The burglar's name is Daniel Laporte, and he has been known here about four years as "Red Dan." He has been heretofore regarded as honest. He says there was no one with him, but the fact that a harness was stolen from the Richmond House barn and the burglar's hat was found in a buggy at the barn looks as if there were accomplices. At about daylight this morning Mr. Snyder went before Justice Radcliffe and gave bail for appearance whenever he shall be wanted to answer to the shooting, but the confessions of Dan to several persons relieves Mr. Snyder of all blame. This is the fourth time that the store has been entered. The doctor gives some hopes of Dan's recovery, but he is in a critical state. No formal complaint has yet been made against the burglar and none will be until the result of the wounds are more fully known.

To Cigarette Smokers.

A little red-headed Italian boy, who gave his name as Frank Clement, and said that he was 8 years old, was brought before Justice White at the Assizes police court yesterday, by an officer of the watch practice, who charged him with being a vagrant. He was barefooted, wore ragged clothing, his head looked as though it had never seen a comb and his face as if it had not been washed for months. He spoke English very imperfectly. The officer said that he found the boy gathering cigar stumps from the gutters and streets and sidewalks, and showed Justice White a basket half filled with the butts of old cigars covered with mud and water soaked. "What do you do with them?" asked his honor. "I sell them to a man for ten cents a pound," replied the boy, "but I don't know his name, and they are used for making cigarettes, like they sell in stores." The officer corroborated the child's statement, and said there were many boys and even girls, scouring the city in search of stumps and half smoked cigars, which were dried and then sold to various parties who used them in making cigarettes. The boy said he lived with his father in One Hundred and Eleventh street, but could give no further account of himself. Justice White thought the case one of the society for the prevention of cruelty to children to investigate, and temporally committed the "cigar-but grubber," as those children are called, for examination, directing that the officers of the society be notified.

Farm and Garden.

To Cool Butter.—A simple way to cool butter for table use in hot weather without ice by means of a large-sized porous earthen-flower pot and a saucer is described by the Golden Rule: "Half fill the saucer with water, set on it a trivet or light stand, upon this set your butter; over the whole invert the flower-pot, letting the top rim of it rest in and be covered up by the water; then close the hole in the bottom of the flower-pot, and repeat the process several times a day, or whenever it looks dry."

MILK AS MEDICINE.—We published recently an item recording the successful use of milk as food and medicine. The Medical and Surgical Reporter adds to the important evidence by citation of instances where the same simple remedy has effected very remarkable results, especially in Bright's disease. So prominent a physician as Dr. Mitchell of New York is quoted as "quite an enthusiast on the subject," and particulars of treatment are thus given: "The milk used is thoroughly skimmed and entirely freed from butter. To procure the best results it has been advised that the patient shall restrict himself absolutely to milk and continue the treatment for a long time. If it disagrees with the stomach (as it will do in some cases) Dr. Mitchell advises that the patient be put to bed, and the treatment commenced with tablespoonful doses, of which lime water is added, until the stomach tolerates the milk, when from eight to ten pints daily should be taken, and absolutely nothing else."

CLEANING.—Coffee grounds for fowls are recommended by the Poultry Yard. An English writer remarks that the men who won at Waterloo were raised on milk and oatmeal. A friend is in the habit of keeping beefsteak and mutton chops in warm weather for three or four days (even longer) by stewing thickly with Indian meal, then rolling each piece up and burying in meal. If you sell a day's labor, and perform in the day what you could without extra exertion do in half a day, you have stolen the value of half a day's labor from your employer just as truly as if you had taken the same value in money out of his purse. The most modern way in training roses is to grow them close to the ground, and peg them down, thus making a carpet and covering the surface of the bed. We shall always want our standard roses, but the pegging down system should be tried in every garden, particularly in warm localities. The fly nuisance in stables is said to be greatly abated by sprinkling kerosene over the floor through a hole in the cork of a bottle. A pint is sufficient for a week's use in an ordinary sized stable. Young turkeys should be fed very little of anything. Their natural food consists of bugs and flies which they pick off grass and weeds, and worms from the ground. Eggs boiled hard and chopped fine mixed with curd made from sour milk are the best food for them when young. It is more important to keep them out of the dew and wet than it is to give them any food other than what they obtain for themselves. They should never be allowed to ramble around when the grass is wet.

FOR THE HORSE THAT BITES.—A correspondent of the Globe suggests this rational treatment of the disagreeable and often dangerous horse that bites. "Horses have been successfully cured of the vice by putting a piece of hardwood an inch and a half square in the animal's mouth, about the same length as an ordinary snaffle bit. It may be fastened by a thong of leather passed through two holes in the ends of the wood and secured to the bridle. It must be used in addition to the bit, but in no way to impede the working of the bit. Rarey adopted this plan with a zebra in the zoo, which was a terrible brute at biting. Mr. Rarey succeeded, however, in taming and training him to harness, and drove him through the streets of London. Animals with this vice should be treated kindly in the stable, and not abused with pitch forks, handles, whips, etc. An apple, crust of bread, a piece of best, etc., and a kind pat, but firm, watchful hand and eye, with the use of the above wooden bit, will cure the most inveterate biter. The fact that he cannot shut his mouth or grip anything soon dawns upon him, and then he is soon conquered."

How it Worked at the Murray House. Among the costliest hotels in Ontario, is the Murray House of St. Catharines, kept by Mr. Thos. Scully, where the writer always stops when in that city. Upon a recent trip, the writer was speaking with Mr. Scully concerning his old ailment, weak back, when Mr. S. observed: "I take sincere pleasure in recommending St. Jacobs Oil to all sufferers. I have found it a most excellent remedy myself, and I know of others who have used it with great success. I would not be without St. Jacobs Oil, nor do I believe any sensible man ought. I caught a cold about three years ago, which settled in my back and sorely afflicted me between my shoulders. The pain was almost unendurable at times, especially at impending changes of the weather; and at such times, I used to be incapacitated for attending to my business. I tried electric baths, salt baths, various strengthening plasters and other such means without success. Finally I tried St. Jacobs Oil, the Great German Remedy, and was cured at once and permanently. St. Jacobs Oil is a most excellent remedy and I would not be without it at any price."

Are Lunches Bad?

Alternative activity and rest is a law of nature, for every part of the body except the heart and blood vessels, and for the mind also. This law can not be violated without more or less harmful results, whether they are noticed or not. The human stomach must have periods of rest, or it will weaken or finally fail. It is in one sense the grill that supplies the whole body with nutriment. The mill keeps to work as long as there is anything in it to grind. An ordinary heavy meal requires 4 or 5 hours for being dissolved, and sent out to the system; in weak stomachs more time is needed. Then the stomach wants quiet and rest of at least an hour or two to recuperate itself, during which the other parts of the body and the mind may be active. As a rule, not less than six hours should intervene between meals. A lunch of any kind, even milk itself, if put into the stomach before it has disposed of the previous meal, and rested, is harmful. Lunches between meals nibbling at cake, candy, fruit, at anything that must be digested, keeps the stomach at work, and robs absolutely needed. Even beer and sugared drinks have to be digested. The feeling of faintness, of giddiness, experienced in the hay or harvest field, usually comes from the disturbance of a hearty breakfast or dinner; by reason of hard work and depressing heat, is still undigested. The lunch quiets it, but partially unfits the stomach for attacking the next meal; the best way is to do without the lunch; stop work when too weary to go further, and rest at least 15 or 20 minutes before taking food; then rest a little more, and gradually push on to one's full measure of strength. Attention to these matters will wonderfully increase the amount of work, mental and physical, which one can accomplish during a year, or series of years.—[American Agriculturist for June.

Thinning the Fruit.

In articles last spring, we gave all that need be said in favor of thinning fruit, and cited so many instances to show the profit of the operation. Those who thin peaches, pears, and apples, soon after the fruit had set, though at the time they thought they were thinning severely, now that it has increased in size, are surprised at the abundance of fruit on their trees. It is rarely that even the experienced remove enough at the first thinning; novices never do, and it is necessary to go over the tree again when the fruit is half grown or more. At this time we can see, what is not manifest when it is small, any imperfection in the form of fruit. Pears, especially those which grow inclusters, will become one-sided by the crowding, and this should be kept in mind at the latter thinning, and the least perfect removed. In this, as well as all other operations on trees, some thought should be put into the work. Those who are intending to compete for premiums at the autumn shows, should not lose sight of the fact that thinning is a direct and legitimate means of producing "the best six" or "best twelve" specimens of pears or other fruit. Those who have an eye to the prizes offered for grapes should prepare for them now, and not let three clusters grow where a single one is better.—[American Agriculturist for July.

From Rev. E. L. Gilman, of Glover, Vt.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of Wier's Balsam of Wild Carraway about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It has not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints." Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Crooked Officers.

The reason for taking from the Sheriffs and Registrars their ex officio function of returning officers has been disclosed by the developments in Bothwell. It was pointed out at the time that persons removed from active political strife were the proper ones to handle the returns, but the Dominion Government preferred to place the power in the hands of those who are seeking for office, and who are not at all scrupulous as to the means they employ to gain it.—[London Advertiser.

The well-known family medicines of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. have been before the public forty years, and time strengthens the favorable impression with which they were at first received. We have been in the habit of using them ourselves, and recommending them to our acquaintances. Ayer's Pills are a perfect regulator of the system; Ayer's Extract of Sarsaparilla is the best known purifier of the blood; Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a safe and sure remedy in complaints of the throat and lungs; and Ayer's Eucalypti is an effectual cure in cases of Fever and Ague and other malarial fevers. These medicines are compounded with skill and accurate medical knowledge, and they are in no sense to be classed with the cheap nostrums of the day. The formulas from which they are prepared are not secret; but are furnished to all physicians, and are published for the benefit of all interested.—[St. Johns, P. Q. News.

Courting Out.

The game of courting out was played very successfully when Mr. Hayes was placed in the presidential chair, but the circumstance is rather a warning for politicians to be guided by than an example to follow. It is beginning to look as if the game was being introduced into Canadian politics. If the suspicion be well grounded that a candidate who was at first declared to have fourteen of a majority has been counted out to make a place for his opponent, who is now declared to have a majority of sixteen, the fact will justify what has been said as to Sir John Macdonald taking the ballot boxes out of the hands of the sheriffs and handing them over to partisan returning officers. The Mail makes a very significant remark when it pictures Mr. Blake "eagerly scanning the papers from day to day to see if some more of his friends have not been counted out. If as the Mail intimates, Mr. Mills has been counted out and Mr. Hawkins counted in, it will be a glaring outrage on popular representation and a lasting disgrace to the Conservative party.—[Toronto Telegram N. TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

The address-label on the first page will show each subscriber the state of his account with THE SIGNAL, and (it may be hinted) that this is an appropriate season for making an alteration in the figures.

There are other figures in our books, also, which might very appropriately be adjusted before the end of this month.

"Owe no man anything," has been wisely enjoined upon all, and this injunction is especially binding upon all who do business with newspaper men.

A word to the wise is sufficient, and we will say no more at present, for we detest dunning.

J. FULTON, M. D., PROF. TRINITY, Medical College, Toronto, says: "Wheeler's Phosphates and Calaya is a combination of great reliability and efficacy. It has been very highly recommended by the medical profession, both at home and abroad, wherever it has been tried. We have used it in many cases of indigestion, nervous prostration, chlorosis and other ailments, with no hesitation in giving it our unqualified recommendation. We have, therefore, great pleasure in calling the attention of the profession to a preparation so worthy of confidence, and so reliable in the treatment of convalescing patients, and all diseases attended with debility of the nervous and muscular system."

McGILLICUDDY BROS.

The action of the Returning Officer in West Huron, in refusing to make any declaration until all the returns were properly certified, looks as if the position of J. J. Hawkins is untenable.

The Tory press, it would seem under instructions, are vilifying the Mowat Administration, and are using every means to make it unpopular with the people.

THE MANTHOBIANS are to be commended for their noble fight for Provincial Rights. The disallowance of provincial legislation was a thing the men of the North-west wouldn't stand, and the consequence the party of progress and liberal opinions got three out of four contested seats.

ONTARIO NEVER had a Tory administration. The Sandfield Macdonald government was a coalition, and survived but one term. Quebec has had almost uninterrupted Tory rule, the Reform Administration of Mr. Joly having had too short a term of office to accomplish much.

AS WE anticipated last week, Returning Officer Wilson, in the final count in Wingham, on Friday last, declared in favor of Mr. M. C. Cameron by a majority of 29 votes.

DOMINION DAY.

How it was Spent in Goderich.

Large Attendance of Outsiders.—The Yacht Race, Calisthenic Display—Tossing the "Globe" of the Iron Bridge.—The Encampment and Volunteer Parade.—Athletic Sports—Melody from Gode-rich Band—"Dot Schmalz, Leech Baby"—The Grand Pyrotechnic Display—A Good All-Round Day.

On Saturday last a right royal day was held at Goderich. An efficient committee had been appointed to get up a series of athletic and aquatic sports, and so well did the committee work, and so thoroughly was the fact disseminated that Goderich intended to outstrip all previous efforts in the gala day line, that an influx of outsiders from all points was the result, notwithstanding the state of the weather, which during the previous night had been of a heavy rainy character.

THE MORNING also looked dark and lowering, and throughout the entire day rain threatened, but fortunately kept up until the close of the sports, when a "Scotch mist" and Canadian drizzle set in for about an hour, after which fair weather ensued.

THE GODERICH BAND early took possession of their stand on Court House square, and gave forth a melodious strain, to the great enjoyment of the pedestrians, local and foreign, who promenaded the square, preparatory to witnessing the sports. The band has of late greatly improved, and is now in a highly efficient condition.

THE CALISTHENIC PROCESSION made its appearance about 10 a. m., and was beyond all question a most grotesque affair. The grand marshal was gotten up in the style of a circus clown, and bestowed a prancing speech of considerable length on the assembly, who were assisted by a sable lieutenant with a collar so high that he was constrained to stand in the stirrups to see the spectators.

THE PROCESSION drew up at the corner of East st., where the judges awarded the prizes as follows: "Mantoba Emigrant Party," done to life; then a representation of "G. T. R. lorry-men" in full working order; after these were "Kid's Heavy Draughts" at work packing salt; a burlesque of the "Goderich Laundry" in full operation; a "Chinese Laundry" in full operation; a "Mantoba Emigrant Party" in full working order; after these were "Kid's Heavy Draughts" at work packing salt; a burlesque of the "Goderich Laundry" in full operation; a "Chinese Laundry" in full operation.

The minutes of the last day's meeting were read and approved. The Warden addressed the council, stating that he had called them together for the purpose of testing the bridge before opening it to the public, as Mr. Lockman had informed him he would have the bridge ready for testing on the 29th inst., and the contract finished with the exception of painting. The Warden also called the attention of the council to the necessity of furnishing iron beds for the jail, the removal of the sheds in the jailer's yard, and the fencing of the county property south of the jail walls, as required by the Inspector of Prisons.

A communication from Mr. Sands, stating that the new iron bridge was about completed, was read and ordered to be filed. Two tenders for erecting parapet walls at the new bridge were read and referred to the Jail and Court House Committee.

The council then adjourned for the purpose of testing the Matland bridge, to meet again at 7.30 p. m.

FRIDAY EVENING, 7.30 o'clock. The council resumed its session, the Warden in the Chair. A letter from Mr. Lockman, Superintendent of the work on the new bridge, stating that it was now ready for testing and travel, was read and filed.

A letter from Mr. Jamieson, in reference to the payments for the bridge, was read. Moved by Mr. Cook, seconded by Mr. Weir, that the Warden, Road Commissioners and Clerk be authorized to pay Mr. Jamieson for the iron bridge when he completes his contract and makes a satisfactory settlement with this council in connection with the bridge contract. Carried.

The account of John Hisslop, for stone work at the bridge, amount of $12, was read and ordered paid. Moved by Mr. Kaine, seconded by Mr. Elliott, that the tender of John Hisslop for building the parapet walls be accepted. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Kaine, seconded by Mr. Elliott, that no action be taken at present in reference to the report of the Inspector of Prisons relative to the removal of the jail buildings and the furnishing of iron beds, but that the Clerk make enquiries as to the cost of beds. Carried.

The account of Henry Doid, for balance due on contract for furnishing flooring joists for iron bridge, was read, and referred to the Warden, Road Commissioners and Clerk with instructions to pay if found correct.

Moved by Mr. Kaine, seconded by Mr. Wilson, that the Clerk furnish a detailed statement of the total expense of the new Matland bridge at the next meeting of this council. Carried. Moved by Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Miller, that Thos. Gillespie be paid $24 for three months' board of Mrs. Gordon of Blyth, an insane indigent. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Young, seconded by Mr. Allan, that the Road Commissioners be instructed to have a plank about one foot wide inserted between the sidewalk and curb on each side of the Matland bridge. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Walker, seconded by Mr. Kay, that Mr. Hardy, Road Commissioner, have an iron superstructure built on the new bridge at Chisholm, Egl. road, provided the cost do not exceed $400, and the township of Hibbert pay one-half the cost. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gibson, seconded by Mr. Beattie, that this council, having seen the bridge tested with a number of heavily loaded teams, going over the bridge first at a smart walk, and afterwards at a rapid trot, while a large number of people were on the bridge, have much satisfaction in stating that the bridge appears to be fully entitled to the confidence of the traveling public. GUITEAU GONE.

Garfield's Assassin Hanged on Friday.

Washington, July 1, 1882.

Guiteau was buried this afternoon in the corridor of the jail. As far as known the remains will be there undisturbed by any future spelunker.

At four o'clock the coffin was borne from the chapel upon the shoulders of six jail prisoners, and without any service or ceremony, lowered into the grave.

Shortly before 4 o'clock Mrs. Scoville arrived at the jail and implored the warden to be allowed to see the remains and witness the burial. The warden refused permission.

She left a few moments later, and returned to the city. Arriving at the grave the coffin was lowered to its place. After the earth had been replaced and the top of the grave levelled, John Guiteau placed at the head of the grave a crown of white immortelles.

Not a word was spoken; not a tear shed. Papers were read when John Guiteau pleaded with the President in behalf of the assassin the President positively declined to interfere. John got mad, and said that the President owed his office to the assassin, and it was unmanly for the President to turn his back upon him. The President then

ORDERED GUITEAU FROM HIS PRESENCE

Corrie a crank from Chicago, who passed through New York yesterday as route to Washington said he had been contended by God to avenge Guiteau's murder. He made terrible threats against Arthur.

Rev. Dr. Hicks says Guiteau was a remarkable man and his case will never be fully understood by the people. He was not insane, but brilliant, cultured and eloquent. If some of the contents of my journal were only open to the public there would be several startling developments.

Dr. Lamb, in reply to the question if Guiteau's brain was found in a normal condition, stated that it was, as far as the condition of the brain was concerned, but that it was found to be unhealthy, and will be examined closely. The condition of the brain was no surprise, so he had no expectation in regard to it. He simply examined the brain with a desire to find as much as possible its condition.

Dr. McDonald said the brain could hardly be in a healthier condition. The membrane was not healthy and its condition might or might not be diseased. Microscopic examination will determine it.

Washington, July 3.—Dr. McWilliams, assistant physician at the jail, does not think that Guiteau showed all the firmness in his last hour with which he has been credited. He says: "I visited the jail on Thursday night and found him sitting on the bed staring into vacancy, the most perfect picture of despair I ever beheld. Next morning the guard reported he slept none during night. He would occasionally go into a doze and start out of it with an inarticulate sound. The officers say he ate nothing for breakfast. He may have put something in his mouth, but it amounted to nothing. It was the same way at dinner when he was said to have eaten a hearty meal. I learned from the guards that he broke down into actual despair during the morning and kept freely, and it was necessary to make every exertion to keep him up. When Crocker read the death warrant, Guiteau was evidently greatly agitated, but was able to stand. When he reached the top of the scaffold he faltered, not stumbled. In reading his prayer he wavered. It is excessive, that Crocker at one time was anxious to stop it. I was just back of the scaffold, and could hear him catching his breath, struggling to control it. It was dreadful.

Mc Williams says it is not true that Guiteau's brain was found to be soft and yielding, and the adhesion in places of the membrane to the skull proved nothing. In Daniel Webster's case the whole brain adhered to the skull. A prominent physician who carefully examined Guiteau's brain says it was healthy and free from exciting or irritating causes as the brain of the sanest citizen of Washington.

THE SCOTT ACT.

The Act Declared Constitutional by the Highest Authority in the Empire.

MONTREAL, June 23.—This afternoon news was received here that the Privy Council had decided in favor of the constitutionality of the Scott Act. It will be recollect the Temperance Act of 1878 was objected to by many anti-temperance people and all the saloon keepers. Though the Supreme Court had decided in its favor, there were many who still believed it to be ultra vires. It came before the Privy Council in May last in this wise: A Fredericton saloon keeper named Russell was convicted of selling liquor against the law, the Scott Act being in force in the county at the time. Upon being convicted he appealed upon the ground that the Dominion Parliament had not the right to pass the Act. The High Court of New Brunswick also seemed to have been seized with the same belief, and although they decided against the appeal, they made it plain that they did so only because the Supreme Court of the Dominion had so held in a previous case before. They gave it as their opinion nevertheless that the Act was ultra vires. The result of the decision was that the appellant obtained special leave to carry the case to the Privy Council. Accordingly, on the 3rd and 4th of May last the case was argued before their Lordships. J. P. Benjamin, Q.C., of London, for the appellant, attacked the Act as an interference with the powers of Local Parliaments in four points. 1st. Municipal investments; 2d. property and civil rights; 3d. the right to get revenue from licenses; and 4th, as being private and local. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., of Montreal, appeared for the supporters of the Bill. Their Lordships at once decided against the first three points, and asked Mr. McLaren to answer to the last. Having heard the argument they reserved their decision until to-day, when they decided in favor of the Act upon all points, dismissing the appeal.

Garbaid.

Mr. Attrill's farm has been all activity during the past few days. Haying on the flats was begun last week, and the negroes working amongst the long rows of corn reminded one of the scenes of Southern life described by writers. The darkies prove good citizens, being steady, civil and industrious.

WILD CAT.—Mr. Harvey Green on Tuesday last shot a large wild cat in his bush. Mr. Green is evidently going in for the extermination of "posky varmints," as he has recently killed a fox and a number of polecats, ground hog, etc. He is a good shot and has lots of pluck. Our ladies breathe freer now that the wild cat is slain, and look upon the young sportsman as a public benefactor.

GUITEAU GONE.

Garfield's Assassin Hanged on Friday.

He Gives the Signal for the Drop—A Miserable End to a Wretched Life.

WASHINGTON, June 30, 1882.

THE MURDERER OF GARFIELD.

Charles Jules Guiteau was of Huguenot descent and the grandson of Dr. Francis Guiteau, jr., who for many years resided in Utica, N. Y. He was born about forty-one years ago in the State of Illinois and led a wandering life till some six years ago, when he set up as a lawyer at Chicago in a very poor way. He was known as a man of fair acquirements, but of bad reputation, and an accomplished hotel dead beat. Further inquiry into his career proved him to be a thorough hypocrite and a blackmailer. After living in a precarious fashion for some years in Chicago, he went to New York, only to return to the former city in 1876. He sank lower and lower in the social scale, every now and then being heard of in some new line or another, for instance in 1879 he published a book in Chicago, entitled, "The Truth, a Companion to the Bible, by Charles J. Guiteau, lawyer, theologian and lecturer, a book for every one to read." The book, which was a crazy production, a mixture of blasphemy and hypocrisy was a failure, but few copies having been sold. About 1880 he disappeared from Chicago and did not re-appear in a public character till July 2, 1881, the day on which he fired the fatal shots at President Garfield in the Washington depot of the Baltimore and Potomac railway.

Guiteau was very restless during the last part of the night, not sleeping more than two or three hours at a time. Towards morning he fell into a sounder sleep from sheer exhaustion. He rose a few minutes after 5 and breakfasted at 6.30, eating steak, eggs, potatoes and other dishes. When the cook took his breakfast into the cell, Guiteau told him to bring dinner at 11 promptly. Hicks, who remained at the jail all night, was called into the cell soon after the prisoner rose, and held conversation on religious subjects with him. At 8 Hicks saw the prisoner again, and the latter made a request for a bath and asked Hicks to go and see the scaffold. Guiteau desired him to arrange with the warden to as soon after twelve as possible. He also expressed considerable anxiety lest some accident should occur, and insisted that Hicks should see that the scaffold and appurtenances were in proper and safe condition. After Guiteau disposed of these matters he read a poem composed by himself which he calls "Simplicity, or Religious Baby Talk." Guiteau then talked some time about his future. "I don't think," he said, "I can go through the ordeal without weeping; not because of any great weakness, for the principle in me is strong; but because I am nearer the other world. I held to the idea that God inspired me." Guiteau subsequently asked that in his books all complimentary remarks about President Arthur and his administration should be eliminated. Shortly before 11 o'clock Guiteau called for paper, and for twenty minutes busied himself making a copy of his prayer upon the scaffold. At 11, contrary to general expectation, Mrs. Scoville arrived at the jail and besought admission. She appeared laboring under great excitement. Crocker declined to admit her unless the prisoner specially requested it. John W. Guiteau, in the retunda was informed of his sister being outside and at first started to go to her, but after a moment's hesitation decided not to interfere, saying, "I will leave the whole matter with Crocker." Guiteau was not informed of his sister's presence. After a short conference with the warden, John W. Guiteau went outside the jail to see his sister. He found her in great excitement, bordering upon hysteria, but he soon calmed her and dissuaded her from an attempt to gain admission. She acknowledged the propriety of such a course, but said she could not possibly remain in the city during all these wretched hours of the morning. She brought with her the flowers Guiteau asked for, and they were taken to the prisoner. At five minutes past 12 Crocker read the death warrant to Guiteau in his cell. While Hicks was in the cell Guiteau made some requests as to his execution and having copied a prayer, poem and other writings, tore up the originals. He sent for the jail bootblack and gave him his shoes to shine for the last time. Dinner was brought and he ate with much relish. The dinner consisted of a pound of broiled steak, fried potatoes, four slices of toast and a quart of coffee, of which very little was left. Shortly before 12 o'clock Guiteau seemed to break down completely, burst into tears and sobbed hysterically. Hicks fanned and vainly tried to calm him. At 11.30 preparations began to be made for the execution and at 11.50 a detachment of artillery was formed on the east side of the retunda and brought muskets to parade rest. At that time about 250 people were in the retunda. Hicks was with the prisoner engaged in prayer.

GUITEAU SHOWED GREAT NERVOUSNESS and appeared greatly startled when he heard the rattle of muskets on the stone floor of the retunda. From that moment Guiteau appeared to be thoroughly overcome by emotion. He wept freely and seemed to be in great anguish. After the death warrant was read the prisoner became much composed and turning away began to brush his hair with his old apparent swaggering sang froid. At 12.25 the steamwhistle sounded at the workhouse near the jail and two minutes later the iron gates at the end of the corridor clicked, the warden appeared, and a moment later Guiteau. The latter's face was pallid, and the muscles about the mouth moved nervously. The procession moved quickly to the scaffold. Guiteau ascended twelve somewhat steep steps with as much steadiness as could be expected from a man whose arms were tightly pinioned behind. Guiteau was placed immediately behind the drop facing to the front of the scaffold. There was a slight delay, while 250 or more spectators were pushing through the door from the retunda to the corridor at the lower end, near which the gallows was placed. Guiteau gazed upon the crowd looked upon the beam overhead and quietly surveyed all the dread paraphernalia. As soon as the crowd entered Crocker waved to them to uncover.

HICKS PRAYED AS FOLLOWS: Father, out of the depth we cry to Thee; hear Thou our supplications for the sake of Jesus Christ our Saviour, who made full propitiation for us. Behold this thy servant; we humbly pray Thou wilt deliver him at this supreme moment of his life. Let Thy light shine upon him. Liberate his soul from prison, may he appear before Thee also veiled by Thy great mercy, from blood guiltiness; deliver him and us. God have mercy on us; Lumb of God that takest away the sins of the world have mercy on us. Amen.

During the prayer Guiteau stood with bowed head. Hicks opened the bible, Guiteau firm tons said, "I will read a selection from the tenth chapter of Matthew from the 27th to 41st verse inclusive." He then read in a clear, strong voice with good intonation and showing little if any nervousness. Hicks then produced the manuscript prepared by the prisoner this morning, and held it before him while Guiteau read. While Hicks was arranging the manuscript Guiteau exhibited a slight nervousness and moved several times from one foot to the other. He soon recovered his composure, and said, "I am now going to read to you

MY LAST DYING PRAYER." He then read in a loud tone, with distinct deliberative emphasis, the following: Father, now I go to Thee, and Saviour I have finished the work Thou gave me to do, and I am only too happy to go to Thee. The world does not yet appreciate my mission, but Thou knowest that Thou knowest Thou didst inspire Garfield's removal and only good has come from it. This is the best evidence of the inspiration that it came from Thee, and I have set it forth in my book that all may read and know that Thou, Father, didst inspire the act for which I am now murdered. This government and nation by this act I know will incur Thy eternal enmity as did the Jews by killing Thy man my Saviour. Retribution in that case was quick and sharp, and I know thy divine law of retribution will strike this nation and my murderers in the same way. The diabolical spirit of this nation, of its government, and its newspapers toward me, will justify Thee in cursing them, and I know Thy divine law of retribution is inexorable. I, therefore, predict that this nation will go down in blood, in that my murderers from the executive to the hangman will go to hell. Thy laws are inexorable. Oh! Thou Supreme Judge, we unite to the men that violate Thy laws, only weeping and gnashing of teeth awaits them. The American press has a large bill to settle with Thee, righteous Father for their vindictiveness in this matter. Nothing but blood will satisfy them and now my blood be on them and this nation and its officials. Arthur, the president, is a coward and an ingrate. His ingratitude to the man that made him, and saved his party and land from overthrow has no parallel in history, but thou, righteous Father, will judge him. Father Thou knowest me, but the world hath not known me and now I go to Thee and our Saviour without the slightest ill-will toward a human being. Farewell, ye men of earth.

When he finished reading he again surveyed the crowd and said in a firm voice, "I am now going to intended to indicate my feelings at the moment of leaving this world. If set to music they may be rendered effective. The idea is that of a child babbling to his mamma and his papa. I wrote it this morning about 10 o'clock." He then commenced to chant these verses in a sad doleful style:

I am going to the Lordy, I am so glad I am going to the Lordy, I am so glad I am going to the Lordy, glory hallelujah, glory hallelujah, I am going to the Lordy.

I love the Lordy with all my soul, (glory hallelujah). And that is the reason I am going, glory hallelujah, glory hallelujah! I am going to the Lordy.

Here Guiteau's voice failed, and he bowed his head and broke into sobs. But he rallied a little and went on with the chant.

I saved my party and my land, But they have murdered me for it. And that is the reason I am going to the Lordy, glory hallelujah, glory hallelujah! I am going to the Lordy.

Here again his feeling overcame him and he leaned his head on the shoulder of Hicks and sobbed pitifully, and still he went on.

I wonder what I will do when I get to the Lordy, I guess I will weep no more when I get to the Lordy, glory, hallelujah! I expect to see most splendid things. Beyond all earthly conception, When I am with the Lordy.

(raising his voice to the highest pitch he could command) glory hallelujah, glory hallelujah, Hicks gave Guiteau the final benediction and farewell, saying "God Father be with thee and evermore."

THE AUTOPSY. The physicians who performed the autopsy were Lamb, Hartigan and Savers. Dr. Bliss and a number of other prominent doctors were present. The brain was found in normal condition and weighed 49 ounces. The heart weighed a little over 9 ounces and was healthy, as were all the other internal organs. Dr. McWilliams said there was nothing abnormal about the brain as far as he could see. The general viscera he said were in perfect condition. The physicians were disinclined to go into details regarding the results thus far reached. Dr. Hartigan took with him Guiteau's brain. All the physicians agreed that there were lymph in the dura mater. None care to express a positive opinion until the examination is completed. Numbers of physicians and surgeons repaired to the army medical museum late this afternoon, where the autopsy was continued. It was the intention of the surgeons to make a plaster cast of the brain with a view of its configuration and external characteristics, but the organ was found so soft and yielding as to render this impracticable. Resort was therefore had to photography. A number of negatives were taken from various points of view with more or less success. The anatomical examination which will include a careful microscopical study of the tissues and structural characteristics of the brain will not be finished before to-morrow afternoon and may occupy several days. The surgeons pledged themselves not to make public any individual conclusions in order that the official report may have full weight and value as representing the conclusion of all the examining physicians.

A Wise Precaution. During the Summer and Fall people are liable to sudden attacks of bowel complaint, and with no prompt remedy or medical aid at hand, life may be in danger. Those whose experience has given them wisdom, always keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry at hand for prompt relief, and a physician seldom required.

The exemption of several individuals from Typhoid Fever, which recently prevailed very largely in a Western town, was directly traced to the fact that they maintained an excellent state of health by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and may be had of all Druggists. Price 50c. G. Rhynas, agent for Goderich.

The most delicate, small, and least showy ruches are sewed in the neck and sleeves of French dresses. These are of lace and muslin more often than of the fragile crepe lisse formerly used, and are usually composed of three rows very finely pleated.

Mr. R. W. Carmichael, Chemist and Druggist of Belleville, under date of May 31st, 1882, writes as follows:—"Your Burdock Blood Bitters have a steady sale, are patronized by the best families here and surrounding country, and all attest to its virtues with unqualified satisfaction."

Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia and Constipation relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. Try them. They are safe and effectual. Sold by all Druggists. Geo. Rhynas, agent for Goderich.

Changeable weather is trying to the system, rendering it more liable to disease. As a preventative of sickness use Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. They purify the blood, cure all Bilious Stomach and Liver disorders, and give tone and strength to the system. Price 50c. For sale by all druggists. Geo. Rhynas, agent for Goderich.

The whiskey question is simply a question of fact. If the saloons of a state or city do more good than they injure; if they build up more honest voters than corrupt ones; if they build up more families than they degrade; if they make more honest men than criminals; more wealthy men than paupers; then the man is not honest, not fair, not manly, not worthy to be a voter if he refuses to vote to continue the saloons. If a saloon is a blessing, a man is an enemy to the commonwealth and civilization if he opposes it or votes to destroy it. But if the reverse is true—if the saloon is an enemy to society; if it corrupts voters; if it fills prisons; if it crowds poor-houses; if it breaks warm hearts, if it beggars children, how can we vote for such a curse? A vote to place men in office or keep those in office who wink at the existence of saloons is simply a vote against law, against good order, and against good morals. The whole question is: What is the relation of the saloons to society. Only this and nothing more.

There is no more wholesome or delicious fruit on earth than the Wild Strawberry, and there is no more effectual remedy for Cholera, Dysentery, Cramps and other summer complaints of infants or adults, than Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Saving Coal Ashes. There are many good uses for coal ashes which readily suggest themselves but one which we saw recommended recently is worth remembering. It reads thus: "It pays well to pass coal ashes through a fine sieve—a flour sieve for instance. This sifted ashes when perfectly dry, is one of the best substances with which to mix London purple, Paris green or hellbore for the destruction of potato beetles, fruit slugs, current and gooseberry worms and like. Being lighter than plaster or flour, it does not fall so quickly, but settles upon every part of the plant—the stem, the under part of the leaf as well as the upper part. It may be said also that it adheres to leaves for a longer time, and is not so readily washed off by the rains.

HALK'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER. Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE. THE TEN COMMANDMENTS. We have at great expense got up something which we feel every Christian Family should have. No Sunday-school teacher or scholar but should have one. Agents will find it a most profitable and valuable article ever placed upon the market. We will endeavor to give the most favorable description of this work of art. THE TEN COMMANDMENTS have been made the subject of a stone engraving, size 10x24, the elegance of which has been fully appreciated. It is in all the choicest styles of carved type, and the Ten Commandments are in the center to be seen the figure of Moses descending from the Mount of Sinai and standing in his hands the tables of stone. Upon each side the picture is supported by a figure representing the pillars of the temple, and the whole is supported by a figure representing the pillars of the temple, and the whole is supported by a figure representing the pillars of the temple...

The Lawn in Summer. In the spring months, when there are frequent showers, and the grass is in rapid growth, the lawn-mower may be used as often as once a week with decided benefit. But in our climate, with its extremes and uncertainties, such fixed rules, as "mow once a week," will lead to trouble, if followed. With the first drouth the grass on the lawn shows a diminished growth, and is often really at a stand-still. At such times, nothing worse can be done to the grass than to cut it. All that there is above ground is needed to sustain the root, and incidentally to shade the surface. In the treatment of the lawn, as in all other gardening operations, some thought should be given to the present condition of the plants, and the object to be gained by any operation. The kind of grass varies the time or frequency of cutting. A fine, thick bottom-growth of June-grass, or Blue-grass, may be kept pretty closely shaven. But many front yards and lawns have a Timothy or Herdgrass sod, and if this is allowed to grow 8 to 12 inches high and then cut, it will have a woody stubble, and if dry weather prevails, it will be a long time before a new growth from the roots comes up, the plot in the meantime having the appearance of a burned over surface, or a dry stubble at best.—American Agriculturist for June.

Phosphatic. Is a wonderful thing, yet so natural, so reasonable. Why? If you have feelings of goneness; too weak and dragging to rally; too nervous to sleep; an appetite hardly sufficient to keep body and soul together; headache, with pains across the back; the whole system relaxed; perhaps coughs and sore lungs; and will use one to six bottles of Dr. G. I. Austin's Phosphatic as the case may demand; it will not fail to make you an enthusiastic friend. Why do we say this? Because Phosphatic supplies a want, the very properties the system is lacking and yearning for. It is not a medicine, but nutriment instantly converted into blood, bone and tissue. It is also delicious to the taste. Try it. The result is as certain as that cause and effect go hand in hand. All druggists. Low-dex & Co., Sole agents for the Dominion, 55 Front St. East, Toronto.

Going to His Grave. There he goes again direct to a saloon and pours down another heavy draught of strong drink, not so much because his appetite demands it, but for the artificial buoyancy it produces—the after effects of which leave him more miserable than before; it is this dreadful practice that is daily sending thousands to their graves. A remedy for all this is found in the true friend of temperance,—the best and purest of all medicines,—Electric Bitters. Sold by Geo. Rhynas at 50 cents.

Bad Blood. The blood is the true essence of vitality. Without pure blood there can be no healthy action in the system. Boils, blotches, pimples and the various humors and blemishes of the skin are only symptomatic of bad blood—that needs purifying its fountain head, to render its tributaries pure. Burdock Blood Bitters effectually cleanse the blood from all humors, obtains a healthy action of the liver, bowels, kidneys, skin, etc., and strengthening while it regulates and purifies.

PAIN-KILLER. FARMERS AND MECHANICS. Provide yourselves with a bottle of PAIN-KILLER at this season of the year, when summer complaints are so prevalent; it is a prompt, safe, and sure cure. It may save you days of sickness, and you will find it is more valuable than gold. Be sure you buy the genuine PERRY DAVIS PAIN-KILLER, and take no other mixture.

I have been selling Perry Davis' Pain-Killer for the past 3 years, and have much pleasure in stating that its sale in that time has been larger than any other patent medicine that I have on my shelves, and in those years I have never heard a customer say aught but words of the highest praise in its favor. It is an article that seems to have combined in it all that goes to make a first-class family medicine, and as long as I have a house and store, Perry Davis Pain-Killer will be found in both. Yours, &c., J. E. KENNEDY. Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Price 20c., 25c., and 50c. per bottle.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The mid-summer examination of the pupils of S. S. No. 5, was held on Tuesday last, commencing at 10 o'clock.

Robt. Mege, George Sturdy and John Stalker have returned from Manitoba. They have no intention of going back.

The annual picnic of the C. M. Sabbath School of this place was held on Lawson's Island. A pleasant time was spent. Blyth concert band was in attendance.

Our townsman Mr. D. Cummings was one of the 1st prize winner at the quoin-tourney in Goderich on Dominion Day.

Mr. Tobin is not one whit taken aback by the offer of Mr. Hugh Chisholm. He is not only confident of holding his own in fall wheat, but will give Mr. Chisholm a brace of fowl if he can show as large a yield to the acre of spring wheat this season.

Mr. H. Hazlewood, a leading farmer of Hullett, is the guest of Mr. R. Bean.

There is a rush for THE SIGNAL here every Friday, and each paper circulates widely among the neighbors.

And art thou gone, Oh Flora, dear! Art thou gone and left us here? Shall we look for thee no more? Where thou wast wont to be before.

Thou wast young and thou wast fair, Young to leave this world of care; But thou art no longer here, In this world of grief and tear.

As in the past we often played Together 'neath the schoolhouse shade, I little dreamt so soon to see Thee laid beneath the graveyard tree.

Yes, thou art gone—thy days are past, With all their cares and trials at last, Thou art consigned unto the clay, There to await the judgment day.

For we all shall follow soon, To that lonely narrow home; And thou art only gone to show That our time is short below.
