THE FAIR IMPOSTOR.

CHAPTER XVI. HER SOUL SHINES THROUGH HER EYES (Continued.)

'PAY Gerald a visit,' he said, 'if his head will stand it. And, by the way, Sir Talbot was kind enough to ask me to walk up to the Hall. I think I will go, if—'

'Pray do!' said the duchess, pleasantly. 'And bear our anxious inquiries after Miss Lillian's health. Poor girl! She will be tired out, I know.'

Dawson Slade passed his white hand over his mouth, to hide the faint, flickering smile.

'I will make most particular inquiries,' he said.

'Give her my love,' said the duchess, 'and say please that I shall drive over this afternoon to thank her.'

Dawson Slade bowed, and held open the door for her grace.

Then he came back, and stood by the window, looking out on the lawn.

Yes, it was quite plain. Hilda Fane the actress, was Lillian Woodleigh, the heiress. Her identity was proved by her likeness to Sir Talbot. There could be no doubt on the point. But why—but why had she been so much startled by his, Dawson Slade's, appearance?

As he mused, recalling the moment of their meeting in the greenroom, the strange look of astonishment, dread and defiance, all mingled together, rose before him.

What could it mean but that she had concealed the fact of her being an actress from all?

So rap was he that when the duke crossed over to him and put a hand on his shoulder he was guilty of a slight start.

'Did you bring a gun with you, Slade?' asked his grace. 'Three more days, and we have the first of September. I hope you brought your gun; if not—'

'I think there was a gun case among the luggage,' was the reply. 'But whether it reached its destination or not—'

'No matter,' said the duke. 'You can take your pick from my room. I'm going round the farm—have you seen my new pigs? No, of course not. Well, come round with me when you come back! and his grace trotted out.

Dawson Slade stood a minute longer, then turned and ascended the great staircase to Gerald's room. The door was ajar, and he went in.

The young marquis was lying, head upon arm, his delicate face flushed and feverish.

'Who is that? Oh, Slade! I've been waiting for you. How kind of you to come; I knew I might expect you. Are you very tired? What a night it was!'

'What a morning it is,' said Slade, leaning over the bed and passing his cool, white hand over the hot brow. 'This comes of amateur theatricals, Gerald; beware of them in future.'

"Burnt by Boiling Hot Grease."

HOW OFTEN ACCIDENTS HAPPEN AND NO RELIEF IS AT HAND!

As a remedy for this state of affairs, every family should always keep ready for use a box of Dr. Boyel's Herb and Gum Salve, Nature's Healer for Burns, Cuts, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Pimples, Itches, Corns, Sores, etc. Read the following case.

Dear Sir,— Having received your medicine, I take great pleasure in recommending same to all concerned. Your Gum Salve is worth its weight in gold. Recently I burnt myself badly with grease catching fire, which caused most excruciating pain. Only one application of your Gum Salve was necessary to render immediate relief. Trusting that someone may read this and give your Gum Salve a test, the way I did, and wishing you every success.

Respectfully yours, F. P. TAYLOR, Station Operator, Macoun, Sask.

'No!' cried Gerald. 'I would suffer ten times as much for the delight of such a night as we had last night. Wasn't she glorious, Slade? Glorious!'

'Who?' he asked, vacantly.

'Who?' cried Gerald, indignantly.

'Why, Lillian Woodleigh! How can you ask? Slade, I haven't been able to sleep all night for the vision of her. Oh, how could you look at her, and listen to her, and play at all?'

'Made of different clay to you, Gerald,' he said, smoothing the pillow with a hand as gentle as a woman's.

'Stiffer clay. You are wax, and very excitable wax, too. But she played well.'

'Well? Divinely!' groaned Gerald. 'Well! Did you ever see anything like it?'

Dawson Slade smile gently.

'Once or twice,' he said. 'But what's the matter, Gerald—the old headache? I saw it coming, looming in the distance last night. You ought to be more careful, and avoid excitement.'

Gerald waved him to silence.

'How is she?' he asked, pantingly.

'Has anybody been up to inquire?'

'I'm going now,' said Dawson Slade.

Gerald groaned.

'And I cannot go with you! How I long to see her, and I cannot move; my head is on fire. How splendidly you played last night. And you are going to see her now. Tell her, Slade—tell her—ah! you cannot tell her half what I feel. And Harold—thank Harold for me.'

'Harold, her cousin?' said Dawson Slade.

'A fine fellow, like a giant. Heir to the baronetcy, isn't he?'

Gerald nodded his aching head.

'And the estates?' said Dawson Slade.

Again Harold nodded.

'And Miss Woodleigh takes all the rest, I suppose? Sir Talbot is reputed to be wealthy—is that so?'

'Yes, I think so,' said Gerald; 'but I don't know. He acknowledged Harold as his heir until—until Lillian appeared.'

'And now?' asked Slade.

'I don't know how it stands,' said Gerald, feebly. 'I fancy that Harold and she are to marry. What is the matter?'

For Dawson Slade's hand had suddenly closed on the hot forehead.

'Nothing,' came the low, softly toned voice. 'They are to marry, are they? Your friend, Harold, is a lucky fellow! I see! Keep the money and the estate in the family. Yes—'

if that is so, I can understand the arrangement. And Miss Woodleigh—how is she disposed toward it? Your friend Harold is a fine fellow—'

'Is he not?' assented Gerald, quickly. 'A splendid fellow! Half Hercules, half Apollo, and so frank, and what, if he were a woman, would be called "sweet-natured"! Yes, he is a fine fellow. Is there a girl who could resist him?'

Dawson Slade sat with lowered lids, smoothing the satin counterpane with his white, satiny hands, his face as impassive as a statue's.

'And to reverse it,' he said, raising his eyes, with a faint smile, 'who could resist her?'

Gerald drew a long breath, and his pale face flushed.

'No one,' he said; then he smiled, twisted round to get better view of the statuesque face; 'excepting, perhaps, yourself, Slade; Slade; you are different to most of the sons of men. But if she smiled kindly on you, even you, would be lost.'

'Lost, indeed!' he retorted. 'I am going up to the Hall; let us hope that she will not smile sweetly on me.'

'Go,' said Gerald, with an envious sigh. 'Ah, how I wish I could go with you! Tell her—no; tell her nothing; I must wait until I see her.'

Dawson Slade put his hand on the boy's suddenly flushed face, with a gesture of half-amused pity.

'Poor Gerald!' he murmured.

'No, don't pity me,' said Gerald, raising himself on his elbow, and looking, with large, eager eyes, beyond Slade—beyond the whole world. 'You pity me because I love her! You are wrong, Slade. Yes, I love her, but with a love you cannot understand—a love that sweetens this narrow life of mine, and gives me something to live for. Her face is like a poem, and it moves me as never a poem could do. It is not only its beauty—what it is I can tell—but one seems to see the soul through the deep, clear eyes, and in a smile that plays about the curved lips. It is a face one ponders over, trying to read and understand. It is always changing, too; one moment soft and gentle as a girl's; the next full of a mysterious something which perplexes, almost troubles, me. Are you laughing at me, Slade?'

Dawson Slade raised his eyes; there was not the shadow of a smile in them.

Kidney Suffering

Backaches and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by using DR. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS.

'There is no treatment for kidney disease which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease.'

There is a reason for this. Dr. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills awaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system.

Mr. S. J. Argue, Kars, Carleton, Co. Ont., writes:—'I have suffered a great deal with kidney troubles and pains in the small of the back and have tried a good many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a splendid medicine as they have proven of very great value to me.'

Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edman's, Bates & Co., Toronto, Refuse substitutes.

'Gerald, you are a poet,' he said, quietly, 'and unlike most poets, you have hit the mark. I was never further from laughing at my life. You have described her best to a nicety. Your friend, Harold, is a lucky man. He quietly till I come back. Let me put that blind down; the sun comes in your eyes. The soul shines through her eyes.' Yes, Gerald, you are a poet. Good-by.'

'Good-by,' murmured Gerald. 'Come to me when you return.'

It was past noon; he could call at the Hall without a breach of etiquette, and he caught up his hat and went slowly across the parklike lawn of the Grange, through the narrow lanes, all sweet with honeysuckle and wild flowers, to the Woodleigh grounds, seeing nothing and lost in thought.

Once arrived at the beginning of the great avenue leading to the Hall, he paused, as if half minded to go back; but his resolution lasted only for a minute, and, with a faint tightening of the well-cut lips, he walked on.

Before him rose the majestic, old mansions its red bricks and time-marked stone half hidden by the rich growth of ivy. He ascended the broad stone steps, up which kings and princes had trodden in the days of old, and entered the hall by the wide open doors.

A servant in the Woodleigh livery, came forward, with that air of respect which long training gives his class, and waited to be accosted.

Dawson Slade took out his card case.

'Is Sir Talbot at home?' he asked.

The man took the card and opened the door of a drawing room.

'I will go and see; will you take a seat, sir, if you please?'

Dawson Slade walked to the window, and looked out upon the sweet gardens, all ablaze with flower beds lying like jewels on the velvet lawn, stretched down to the plantations, and waited.

No one looking at his handsome face so calm and still, and impassive, would have guessed that his heart was beating with suppressed excitement, or have credited that he saw nothing of flowers or lawn, but that a beautiful face blotted out everything in his actual, as well as mind's eye.

Presently he heard—his ears, as well as his eyes, were as quick as a North American Indian's—a door open, and, turning, saw a figure coming, with swimming, graceful step, toward him. It was Lillian Woodleigh. A golden thrill of surprise ran through him.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

That women do not strike out from the beaten tracks and the over-crowded lines of feminine work and find less crowded occupations and professions for themselves half so much as they ought, is a belief I have long held.

The fore- I have occasionally devoted and shall occasionally devote this column to telling some of "the other things" that women are doing in the world.

I hope to bring a suggestion to some of the women who have their living to earn and to whom none of the beaten paths appeal.

I wish any woman who is doing something out of the ordinary line of women's work would let me know about it that I may tell of it in this column.

"If I had my life to live over again I should take an agricultural course instead of a course in the normal school. Out-of-door work is much more healthy for the majority of women, and compared with school teaching, it is much more remunerative."

That's the conclusion of one woman who broke down as a school teacher and became strong and well as a "visiting gardener."

Being a "visiting gardener" means that she took full charge of gardens, planted them and kept them in shape. On a small farm of her own she raised young plants to sell to her patrons and also had something of a market garden. People who had summer homes in the country and wanted their gardens started before they came out from the city were some of her best patrons.

She hired two Italians as assistants and charged twenty cents an hour for her time and theirs.

In seven years she has made a good living and more than half paid for the place she originally hired. She believes there are plenty of opportunities in the suburbs of all large cities for such work.

Another outdoor occupation into which a good many women who are unable to stand the confinement of indoor work have gone is that of mail carrier. It may not be widely known but it is a fact that there are many women who are earning as much as rural mail carriers as they would for school teaching in their respective districts.

Raising Persian kittens was the business into which one girl went to escape being a stenographer.

When she started in with one Persian kitten, bought with the money given her for an Easter hat, all her family laughed at her except her father. He said he thought staying at home and raising sable cats was much better than rushing off to town every morning to sit in an office and bang a typewriter.

Her kittens have sold as high as $500 when suitable for show purposes. She seldom sells for less than $25. She has had to study the subject deeply, and says it has also taken hard work and much time, but she makes as much as a stenographer and enjoys the work far better.

Raising cats might at first seem an unusual occupation but it won't when I tell you how one woman in Granby, Mass., makes her living. How would you like to have a thousand or more mice in your back yard. She has all of that, for she raises mice for a living. Mice, mostly, but also guinea pigs and rabbits. The mice go mostly to laboratories, but some are sold for pets. Rare breeds sell as high as $2.00, but the laboratory kind bring much less.

The animals eat up immense amounts of vegetables and fodder and require great care. She says she works at least twelve hours a day, but she makes a comfortable living and is much out of doors.

Do any of these methods of earning a living appeal to you as preferable to the beaten paths?

Ruth Cameron

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. His correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong,
Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to accept a secret stimulant as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Nickle should be cleaned with whiting and ammonia.

Table napkins and table cloths should never be starched.

To keep flies away, plant a hop vine around the house.

Bristle brushes, if merely dusty, can be cleaned in corn meal.

A small broom made of stiff wire is convenient in cleaning skillets.

A weak alum bath is good for tender feet which suffer in summer time.

Keep a bag of sulphur in the bird cage to drive away lice in hot weather.

Salt sprinkled on a carpet before sweeping reduces the amount of dust that rises.

Cut glass looks clearer when washed in tepid water and brushed with a dry bristle brush.

To clean Japanese trays, rub a little olive oil on and then polish off with a flannel.

When next cooking asparagus, add a little rice. The dish will be found most satisfactory.

To polish stoves, use boiled linned oil on the steel parts. Rub well with a woollen cloth.

Ice cream becomes better if it is not allowed to chill before the can is turned in the ice.

When mosquitoes get into the house, heat a shovel, pour a teaspoonful of carbolic acid on it and burn.

A piece of beeswax tied up in a rag to rub quickly over the bottom of a hot flatiron, will keep it smooth.

A bosom board for fine shirts should be very smooth and but thinly covered; some advise a marble slab.

Do not put milk in the cut glass tumblers. Milk clouds glass so that its original brilliancy cannot be restored.

Some persons keep their vetils in condition by dipping them in alcohol several times and hanging them up indoors to dry.

Apply glycerine to a scald directly the accident occurs, and cover it up with strips of rag soaked in glycerine.

When next serving canned corn, add a sweet Spanish pepper, shredded, and heat it with corn. The flavor is delicious.

If the top of the kerosene lamp becomes loosened, it may often be effectually tightened by applying a little melted alum.

Nutritive Hypophosphites

When a person feels "blue"—"all tired out"—doesn't feel like doing anything—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers—complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good up-building tonic.

Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares overstudy, etc.

Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and have restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

The more you trade here the better you like this store.

Johnson's Boasts Cost Seven Hundred

Chicago, July 19.—Jack Johnson will have to turn some $700 of his wealth over to Cook County as a result of boasts following a recent controversy with George Little, his former manager.

Johnson at that time asserted, in disputing Little, that he had $30,000 in the bank, a valuable auto, and diamonds worth $10,000. The statement was printed and a copy retained by the county board of assessors.

Now he will be assessed on this amount of personal property. His profits of the fight of July 4th are not subject to the tax under the Illinois law, having been acquired since April 1st.

Rickard's $20,000 Offer.

"Tod" in the Boston American says: After a conference at Los Angeles, Saturday, with Jim Jeffries, Tex Rickard sent this despatch:

"I will bet $20,000 that Jack Johnson can beat any two men in the same ring. One man wants to go in just as the other man is through. I don't bar any one, and if it can be arranged I will put up a suitable purse."

TEX RICKARD.

That means that Jeff is out of it. Tex Rickard just now is the strongest Johnson booster there is in the world. I came down from Reno with the big promoter, and he said: "Why, the way Johnson played with Jeff was awful; he's as tricky as McCoy ever was."

The funniest thing that happened in the fight to me was when he let Jeff punch him in the stomach in one of those clinches. He just pulled his right hand away, leaving Jeff's left free, and then told Jim to punch him in the stomach. Jeff did, and then Johnson offered him a chance to punch him there again. Well, Jeff pulled his hand back to send in the other one, but like a flash Johnson snapper cut him on the jaw.

"I don't think there is a man in the world who classes with Johnson, and the only man who will ever beat him is himself. If he takes care of himself he will retire a champion."

Johnson against Burns and Langford would be a hear of a card.

WIRE WOUNDS.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, diluted at first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks the sores have healed, and best of all the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE as is most always the case in horse wounds.

Admiral Markham's Views on Dreadnoughts

New York, July 22.—Admiral Sir Albert Markham, British naval expert and Arctic explorer, arrived to-day by the steamship Adriatic, accompanied by Lady Markham and their ten year old daughter, Joy. Admiral Markham has come over to visit friends in this country and Canada.

Admiral Markham believes the limit has been reached in Dreadnoughts, and that the 20,000 ton battleship is the most practical one.

Evening Telegram

W. J. HERDER, - - Proprietor
W. F. LLOYD, - - - Editor.

Friday, July 29, 1910.

Will This Council Act?

Such is the pertinent enquiry, our correspondent "Reform" puts publicly, in reference to cleaning up the town. "Reform" is outspoken in his remarks about the unsanitary condition of the streets, and rightly so. There is a time to be outspoken and this is one. "This town STINKS" is his outspoken verdict, and it is the unspoken verdict of the many. There should be no delay in cleaning up the streets, and it is a matter of urgency for the Council to act and to act promptly. While the town stinks, danger is in the air, and death-dealing dirt is doing its dire work.

The future of the city depends largely on the health of its inhabitants. In the past it has been stricken sore by an abnormal death rate. This death rate can be cut in two. It is up to the City Council to do it. It has been done elsewhere, and can be done here. The ever present "stinks" are constant reminders of civic negligence. The publication of the death-rate annually is the annual reminder that the community is paying a heavy toll of life for the "stinks" it tolerates. "This town stinks. Will this Council clean it up?"

Seeing is Believing.

The public bought only £56,000 out of the £800,000 bonds issued recently at 97½. When the subscription list closed the underwriters had to take up the £744,000 unpurchased by the public. The Government press assert that the underwriters have guaranteed £98 net for the £100 bond. In view of the fact that the official lists of the London Stock Exchange show that the business done on the Newfoundland 3½ per cent. £100 bonds was done in the week of flotation at prices ranging around 93, the contention of the Government press that the underwriters have taken up £744,000 of the loan at 97½ less 1½ for expenses is not convincing.

As the Government has acquiesced in the contention, let the Government produce the evidence, that the public may see it for themselves and read the full terms. Let the Government produce the text of the agreement for the underwriting, and that for the deposit of the proceeds with "Financial Corporation." If the contention is correct, the production of these agreements will clinch the matter, and may explain the anomaly between the London Exchange quotations and the alleged underwriting net price for similar bonds.

Safe Swimming Pools.

Much discussion is going on in the city in reference to safe swimming pools, and the action of Mayor Ellis is awaited with interest. Many are of opinion that steps should be taken immediately and that by Monday places should be roped in three convenient ponds and a man put in charge of each for the next six weeks or so. The cost would not be heavy and a number of gentlemen are willing to co-operate with others in guaranteeing sufficient money to finance the scheme this season. Others preferred to wait and see what the Council would do to-night. Others again would like to see the City Councilors unite with the Government in providing immediately for this season and taking counsel together for permanent arrangement. One suggestion was that a Public Bath would be a fitting, worthy and useful form for a memorial to King Edward.

To-morrow we shall return to this subject. It should be remembered that boys will resort to the waters, and that the only thing feasible is to provide better for their safety.

Two Bankers Arrive.

The Lunenburg banker Frank H. Adams, Capt. R. Silver, arrived here this morning from the Grand Bank for salt and bait. She has 300 qts of fish for two weeks' work on the Bank, found cod scarce and has 1,600 qts. to her credit for 7 dories. The Lunenburg banker Earl Grey, also arrived this morning from the Banks with 100 qts for 2 weeks' fishing. She has 1,500 qts. for 6 dories. Both vessels report cod scarce, very stormy weather, and that dogfish are a pest on the Banks. Both vessels are being supplied with salt by Job Bros.

An Important Appointment.

A cable was received in the city to-day from New York saying that Mr. John Veitch had been appointed Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Co. This is a very important appointment and an onerous position to fill, but Mr. Veitch is quite capable of coping with the work demanded of him. Mr. Veitch is a native of Holyrood and a nephew of Rev. Monsignor Veitch. He has been in New York 20 years. He is also a nephew of Mr. George Veitch of the Postal Telegraphs. We congratulate Mr. Veitch and his relatives on his success.

Yacht Sunbeam Here.

The historic yacht Sunbeam, the vessel associated with the late Lady Brassey's book, "The Voyage of the Sunbeam," arrived in port last evening from Reykjavik, Iceland, after a voyage of 9 days. She is 38 years old, and is very handsome, well found and a staunch vessel of 560 tons gross, 227 net, and is a steamer which can make 9 knots easily. Sail is used as auxiliary, and she is built after the style of a three topmast schooner. She left Dover on the 9th inst., and after going to Darrook, in Scotland, proceeded to Iceland and thence to St. John's. She will likely leave here on Tuesday next for Bay of Islands, thence to Quebec and Montreal, and after cruising in the St. Lawrence will return to England. Lord Brassey, the owner, is on board, and as guests on his yacht are:—Hon. R. Littleton, Col. Hutchinson and wife, Mr. Follett and Dr. Richardson.

To-day Hon. R. Watson called on Lord Brassey on board the yacht, and later came ashore with that gentleman and his guests and paid a visit to the Administrator, Sir E. D. Shea, at Government House. The captain of the ship is J. R. Carter, sailing master, Mr. Kindred and chief engineer, Mr. Cooke. The vessel is partially furnished and fitted up. Mr. Tasker Cooke is supplying her.

Newfoundlanders Own the Mine.

Recently the Daily News quoted an article in a London paper dealing with the anthracite coal deposits of Labrador and stating that a Canadian vessel was going there to locate the claims and prospect them. As a matter of fact these coal claims are owned right here in St. John's by Messrs. J. T. Phillips, Tinsmith, and Jas. Readell, Machinist. The property is located 25 miles inland from Forteau and these gentlemen took out claim for it last November. They prospect it and now hold samples of the coal and if their rights are infringed on by the Canadians, will bring the matter before the courts to protect their interests.

Personal Notes.

Mrs. Walters, wife of Const. Walters, who has been at Manuels the past two weeks, returned here by yesterday's train having enjoyed the outing.
Mr. J. B. Foote, of Grand Bank, arrived here by the Placentia train on business and will remain for some time.
Mr. Thos. F. Armstrong of the electric sub-station left here by the express yesterday en route to Quebec where he will attend the conference of the Knights of Columbus, of which he is a member.

Misses Walsh and O'Rourke, of Holyrood, left there by yesterday's train for Topsail to spend a holiday.
Mr. Augustus Foran, son of the late J. W. Foran, arrived recently from New York and will remain for a holiday. Gus is looking well and enjoying his trip to the old homestead.

The wedding of Mr. Edward R. Goff, of Carbonear, and Miss Mary Houlihan, of St. John's takes place on Tuesday afternoon.
Mr. Chas. Kelly, of Knowling's grocery, who had been spending a week at Bell Island, returned home to-day having enjoyed his vacation.
Mr. Joseph Macnamara, brother of Rev. J. Macnamara and Alfred Macnamara, who has resided in New York the past 10 years, arrived here by the Borna yesterday on a holiday. Joe, as he is familiarly known, has an excellent position in Gotham. He will remain for the Regatta and will spend a holiday with his friends.

The west bound express was at Grand Falls this morning on time.

Borna's Eventful Trip.

When the Borna was coming this way on her run between New York and Halifax on her second day out she narrowly escaped collision with a large three masted schooner. Dense fog prevailed when at 9 a.m. the schr. loomed up out of the gloom and suddenly catching sight of the steamer close inward her captain altered his helm, but such a close call was it from running into the ship, that as the vessel passed by at a 9 knot clip her jibboom scraped the side of the steamer. The crew and passengers could plainly see the men running about the unknown vessel's decks.
Wednesday night at 11:30 in running over St. Pierre Bank the ship found herself in amongst a fleet of fishing boats and schooners. These sent up rockets and fired guns from their decks, blew fog horns and gave other signals to warn the ship of their presence. Capt. Dutton skilfully picked his way through them and avoided accidents.

Colonia Coming With New Cable.

The Colonia which was here last year has been chartered from the owners, The Telegraph Construction & Maintenance Co., to lay a new cable from the Land's End to Newfoundland. The cable is about 3,000 miles long and is valued at $2,000,000. She will convey the cable from the works on the Thames to Land's End, lay out a length, and then proceed to Newfoundland with the bulk of the cable, paying it out from the Newfoundland end.

French Consul Leaves.

The French Consul, Mr. Chorat, leaves here for France, via New York on the Borna to-morrow. He requested the Telegram to-day to thank publicly His Excellency the Governor the business and the professional people of the city for the many courtesies and kindnesses extended to him during his stay in St. John's.

Bell Island Will Row.

A crew from Bell Island will compete in our Regatta and these will appear in the Red Lion in the Fishermen's race. Their names are: D. Dwyer, Coxswain, J. Dwyer, E. Butler, Fitzgerald, (2) Patk. Kelly, and J. Kelly. No other crews will come from the Island.

A Youthful Stowaway.

There returned by the Borna from Halifax a lad named Malone of this city, aged 12 years, who on the last trip of the Florizel went by her to Halifax as a stowaway. He was looked after by Capt. Clarke and on the run here was treated well by captain, crew and passengers. On the ship's arrival last evening his mother went on board and welcomed him back.

Train Notes.

The Bruce express left here at 6 p.m. yesterday taking Mrs. Sprudling, J. Fahey, Mrs. Jno. Browning, Miss Browning, T. F. Armstrong, R. H. White, C. Hogg and wife, Mrs. Farou, and 50 second class.
The local arrived at 9:25 last night bringing T. P. Connors, S. Ryall, W. Stranger, Miss K. Cole, Mrs. W. Slater, Miss Galway, Rev. Fr. Galway, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, J. Angel, several Christian Brothers and 20 others.
The incoming express left Port aux Basques at 8:20 this morning and is due here at noon to-morrow.

In the police court to-day a drunk was discharged. Several civil cases were adjudicated in the Central District Court.

The fishery on the North Shore, especially at Adam's Cove, Western Bay, and nearby places will be better than last year especially for traps which have now under salt from 100 to 150 qts. Boats are also doing fairly when squid is obtainable.

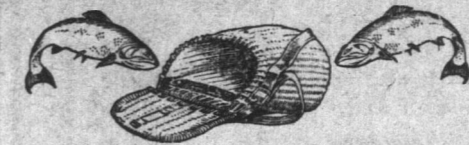

The full Battalion of the Methodist Guards will parade at Headquarters on Sunday, 31st inst., at 10 a.m. sharp, to attend Divine Service at Wesley Church. By order O.C., E. S. AYRE, Lieut. and Adj.—July 29, 1910.

BORNU'S OUTWARD PASSENGERS.—The Borna sails at 1 p.m. to-morrow. Her passengers are: Mr. Page, Mrs. Page, E. S. Booth, Mr. Vookees, Mr. O'Connell, M. Chorat, H. Kettel, Miss Hoskins, Mr. Morales and Col. and Mrs. Seddon.

Lands 32-Pounder.
The fishing on Little River has been exceptionally good for the past week, and some fine catches have been made. Mr. Steren, of Kingston, N.S., one of the seventeen guests registered at Tompkins, succeeded in landing a thirty-two pounder on Wednesday last, and Mrs. Steren a 12 pounder. Western Star.

MADE GOOD SHOWING.—The young chap Green who came second in the Mount Cashel Marathon Race is only 18 years old and is a son of Mr. Robert Green, engineer. He had no training, cycled from the city to the grounds Wednesday and had no idea that he would win second place. He deserves credit on his pluck and perseverance.

CAPE REPORT.
CAPE RACE, To-Day.
Wind W. N. W., fresh, clear in shore but dense fog at sea; nothing heard passing; too much sea for shore fishermen to get out. Several western schooners here. Bar. 29.52; ther. 56.
The s.s. Bonavista left Sydney yesterday for this port and is due here to-morrow.

BEGIN MATCHES EARLIER.—It would now seem necessary to begin the remainder of the League football matches earlier, say about 6.45. Last night for about 10 minutes before the game closed spectators could hardly see the ball.
Entries for the Swimming Race on Regatta Day will positively close this evening. J. L. NOONAN, Secy. Regatta com. 11.

Regatta Ripples.
Each evening now crowds go to the lakeside to watch the boats at practice, and the man with the stop watch is working overtime.
The Guard, the new boat, is a beauty, in very speedy and will certainly be heard from on Regatta Day.
With four boats so well matched as the Blue Peter, Pink-Un, Red Lion and Guard, this year's Regatta promises to be more interesting than any of its predecessors.
The Highlanders will not row in the Brigade Race. The C.C.C. crew are very young chaps but are very good oarsmen.
The Fishermen's Race will be very interesting. Torbay will row the Guard, Outer Cove the Peter and Bell Island the Red Lion. It is unlikely that Logy Bay will compete.
The Torbay men did the course in the Guard yesterday in 10.02.
The Society Race will be a good one as four boats will enter, crewed by the N.B.S., C.E.T.S., Star and People's Club. They row the Guard, Lion, Peter and Pink-Un respectively. The N.B.S. are the favorites with betters.
A crew of Torbay juveniles will row the Red Lion in the Juvenile Race and Mr. Jno. Day will steer for them.
Mr. John Flynn, the cooper and veteran oarsman, who won so many laurels in recent years, will stroke a crack crew of coopers in the Trades Race in the Peter. Peter Brown strokes the Lion in the same race with a splendid crew before him, and a strapping team of shipwrights will row the Guard.
The Western truckmen, who fell out of the race last year, are a good team and hope to retrieve their fallen fortunes this year.

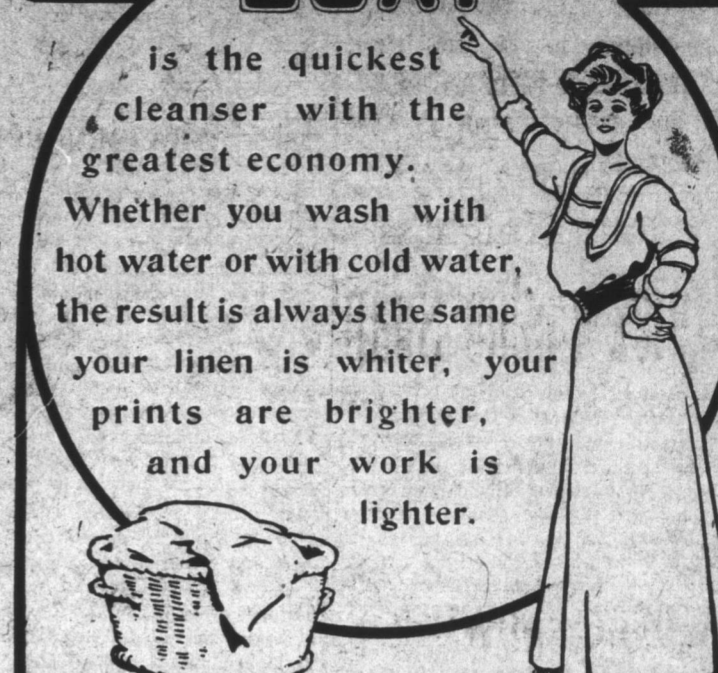

Bannerman Park Notes
(For the People's Paper.)
With delightful weather prevailing last evening the opening band concert for the season by Bennett's orchestra was a grand success.
The view that presented itself to me while seated by the Park house previous to the concert was pleasing.
The landscape for miles around, stretching from Neagle's Hill to Sugar Loaf, has the appearance of a vast park. I am convinced that no prettier sight could be seen in any part of the world towards sunset.
Thousands of citizens last night seemed to fully appreciate the grandeur of the surroundings.
"Music hath charms" was evidenced by the applause given after each item of the programme was rendered. This must have been pleasing to the performers, and especially to the leader.
Councillors Mullaly and Myrick will see that several seats are placed under the shady trees on the west side of the Park.
The lavatory is under way. The concrete walls are now completed. It is situated in rear of the Colonial Building. Contractor Penney is losing no time in the construction.
The presence of Councillors Coaker, Mullaly, Myrick and Ryan holding a long confab at the lower portion of the Park gave rise to the rumor that a few more electric lights are about to be installed in this section. I trust the rumor is true.
VISITOR.

Is Rapidly Improving
Inspector General Sullivan, we are glad to learn, is rapidly improving, and after a few weeks will be able to resume the duties of his important office. Mr. Sullivan has an efficient and able aide in Supt. Grimes who has charge of the police department since Mr. Sullivan became ill.

Brought to Hospital.
Wednesday night Mr. Matt. Kelly, cabman, drove with the ambulance to Bay Bulls where a woman named Brien, of Cape Broyle, was taken on board and brought here to hospital. She is dangerously ill, and on arrival was looked after by the members for the District.

A Dangerous Practice.
Of late it has been noticed that grown up boys who go swimming in the ponds and rivers indulge in the dangerous practice of throwing smaller and younger children into the water and then jumping in after them. The excuse for this conduct is that they wish to teach such youngsters the art of swimming. It is a highly dangerous custom and parents whose children are subject to such treatment should have the offenders summoned and punished.
WILL PLAY MONDAY.—The delegates of the Football League met last evening after the match and decided that the Casuals-C.E.I. match take place Monday evening. The C.E.I. as already stated in the Telegram, wish to qualify one of their team for the football race, and this enables them to do so. The Highlanders and Guards play Tuesday evening.

Municipal Matters!
WILL THIS COUNCIL ACT?

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—THIS TOWN STINKS! There is no question in the world about the fact; nobody dreams of denying it, the senses of everybody confirm it a hundred times a day and in all parts of the town. The place reeks with stenches. You say that it is a terrible thing to say that the whole town stinks. Granted! But I must ask you to acquiesce with me in a statement, which is more terrible still. I say, that though everybody knows that the town stinks, nobody says so. Or, if anybody does venture to allude to so disgusting a state of affairs he does it in language of the nicest propriety. This is a desperate condition of affairs. When people suffer nastiness in their midst and only speak about it in delicate language, it is a certain sign of degeneracy in morals. When not the thing itself but the word that expresses it must be clean and nice we see a sure token of moral perversion. The first sign of a revival of public decency is the tendency to speak of ugly things in coarse and opprobrious language. We shall do well if we now begin, when we have to speak of nasty things, to strip our language of its niceties and delicacies and to give an ugly fact the ugly name that rightly belongs to it. I therefore say that THIS TOWN STINKS. I shall be very glad if others will follow my example and say the same thing, and I shall be particularly pleased if they will say it, and say it often, to the members of the Municipal Council, for it is these gentlemen, and these only, who can cure this nasty evil. In this connection I think that a word of thanks is due to the person who had charge of the late Municipal election, for in selecting the booths where citizens should record their votes he was particularly, so far as my observation went, to choose localities where cess-pools or festering drains lay directly in the way of every voter entering to exercise his franchise. No better way could have been hit upon of bringing home to the electors the necessity of cleaning up the town. The last thing that impressed itself upon the senses of the elector before he recorded his vote, and the first thing that forced itself upon his attention after he had done so, was the stinking, festering corruption which lay under his nose as he went to the poll. In going from booth to booth on that day every candidate must have gained full knowledge of the peril and the nastiness which besets the citizen as he pursues his ordinary avocation in every part of the town. The day, it will be remembered, was neither a bright nor a hot one—it was as cool as the sentiment of the city towards the candidates, and as dull as the public sense of civic duty. Nevertheless, though there was no particular cause to stir up the fetid odours of our drains, the nostrils of every voter were assailed by stenches which, if he were not used to them, would surely deter him from any attempt to exercise his franchise. What would have happened if it had been a hot, muggy day? The smells would have increased in virulence and cried aloud against the old Councillors, and Mr. Martin, at least, would have had a greatly diminished vote. For I repeat, that this town stinks because the Councillors will not keep it clean. I wonder whether they realize the duty which lies upon them, or the effects which their negligence in the discharge of this duty have had, and

The Irish Question.
Stands in the Way of Better Relations Between England and the United States, Says Roosevelt.
London, July 25.—T. P. O'Connor, President of the United Irish League of Great Britain, referring in the course of his regular contribution to a Sunday paper to the rumor that the Irish question will form a part of any settlement reached in the inter-party conference over the question of the Lords' power of veto, says:
"I know that Mr. Roosevelt brought to the attention of the leading men here the vast necessity for a settlement of the relations between England and Ireland from an American viewpoint, and Mr. Roosevelt is convinced that until the Irish question is settled there will always be an element of soreness among the large masses of Americans, which must stand in the way of better relations between the two nations."

LONDON, July 28.

The leading tower of St. Mark's, with its eight tiers of marble colonnade, is threatened with the same fate that overtook St. Mark's Campanile, in Venice. A Royal Commission of experts, as the result of a thorough investigation, reported that instead of being a massive, spacious base as it was generally supposed to be, the foundation consists simply of a ring of masonry exactly corresponding to the huge cylindrical mass superposed thereon.

Shannahan at Mount Cashel.

Bent on getting there seemed to be the only phrase in the English language, as I know it, to describe the people awarming out to Mount Cashel on Wednesday evening. 'Twas the king of garden parties that was on, for Mount Cashel garden party is acknowledged by all as being 'it.' Rich (if we have any really rich people in the country), and poor, actually tumbled over one another in the scramble for carriages, and the quiz man who owns a garden on the outskirts of the city and also a horse on the stand, smiled his day of the races smile. We are getting a couple of cabmen around us now. The day for recklessness seems to have gone and no more you strike a drive for half nothing. Times are changing all round and 'tis just as well for the cabmen to fall in line.

Mount Cashel is a very picturesque spot and under the blazing sun it shone to beat the band. Before now an orphan had a different brand of sympathy bailed out to him, now he is looked upon as having struck it all right, and while we are satisfied to help him out by getting the worth of our money in tea and sandwiches, yet we fail to shed a tear over his hard luck. For me to praise the work of the Christian Brothers in connection with the Orphanage would be like painting a rainbow in the hope of improving on the colors; so I'll say no more than that the children showed that they were being looked after in first class style, both by their healthy appearance and their tidy clothes. Thanks be to goodness the day has passed when orphans should have to endure being rigged up in a different kind of clothes from the rest of us, for it must have been a hindrance to the youngsters in enjoying their childhood days.

All the footballers turned out in good form, and these young men of the different clubs deserve the thanks of the public, for they are ever ready to lend a hand or a leg for sweet charity's sake. Mr. Higgins referred the games with the sun in his face and had some very difficult points to decide, but with the usual diplomacy he managed to make all feel that they were being treated right. Jim Vinicombe was there, where is he not?—and carried off the big prize. No one objects to Jim winning all he can, for he is made of the proper stuff that helps to make all around feel glad.

The ladies worked energetically and 'tis simply wonderful the amount of work they accomplished. The cigar vendors should go "on the road," for if they displayed the same energy selling cubsens that they did in the cigar line, Tom Harris would have to take a back seat.

Jimmy Crotty and Nix Vinicombe worked the bottles of pins very successfully, and the wonder is that some of the ladies didn't win. They would, I know, if Mr. Crotty could disclose the secret.

The skittle-alley was patronized liberally and our friend, Jno. P. Grace, hustled in the pickaxe. Billy Bendell, the lad who sells the Telegram, worked hard rolling down the ball and sticking up the pins. Coming on to tea time Billy got a kind of shaky, and when the scent of bottled ham wafted across the gallery, 'twas too much for William and he made tracks for Mrs. Summers' table. The shooting gallery was ably looked after by our military bearing friend, Charlie Vaughan. He hustled the crowd and gave them pointers as to how to hold the gun. Shannahan came along and was invited to take a shot.

"Close one eye," said Vaughan, "and point for that little round spot away down there."

Just as he was aiming who came along but Mrs. Tucker.

"Stop firing," she yelled. "Surely," said she, "you're not after forgetting yourself that far as to give a gun in the hands of a man like that. Take the gun from him," said she, "or order that boy down there into the next field."

I fired and the boy pointed up near the bullseye and told me that's where I struck. But I had been there before and knew a Mount Cashel boy would even tell a fib in order to rush business.

Banquet's band played fine. I don't care what others say, my time is Johnnie Bennett. Why the "Banks of Newfoundland" would be a thing of the past if it wasn't for Johnnie and yet we hear a lot about patriotism, but scarcely ever hear our national soul-stirring anthem. The only time you do hear it is at election times, and then it is played as a speaker to arouse interest in a milk and water candidate.

Bunning from Forbay may be considered sport, providing people liked it. Shannahan has no use for it, for he dislikes the sight of a man tottering around on a hot day insensible.

MARSHALL BROS.

Robson at The Hague.

(Daily News Message.) THE HAGUE, July 28.

Mr. William Robson, continued his address to-day. He refuted the assertion of American Counsel that, after the decision in the Arbitration case at Halifax, the United States had only paid indemnity to Britain, after having received an assurance from the British Government that Britain had no right to exercise jurisdiction over American fishermen. He then dealt with the doctrine of international "servitude" whereon the United States based its claims to its rights to fish without being subject to British laws. Counsel argued that no one would pretend that the subjects of a foreign state, to whom had been accorded the right to enter the ports of another state for the purposes of commerce, were freed from local laws. No logical reason had been advanced by the United States to justify an exception in the case of the Fisheries. The States had in no way proved that when the Treaty was concluded the doctrine of international servitude was universally admitted. In conformity to the desire of the Tribunal, Secretary Root has submitted a note, embodying the clauses in the Canadian and Newfoundland laws, whereby the States raises objections. The proceedings are expected to terminate on August 10th, Root delivering the closing speech.

The Hudson Bay Route

There is an active movement in the Northwest of Canada this year to push on the railway either to Churchill or Nelson. The terminus of the line has not yet been settled. Great vested interests are opposed to this new route, but the voice of the Northwest is unanimous in its favour, and the Dominion Government has been literally forced to push it ahead. I have written on this subject for the Manitoba Free Press, but by far the best paper is the one I now send you, by William Beach. Newfoundlanders are interested in this subject. If the Canadians are wise, for the initiation of this project, they will make use of our splendid sealing steamers and Newfoundland masters—the best hands in the world for dealing with ice navigation. It is most important that the new route should have a successful commencement. July 29, 1910. D. W. P.

Annual Meeting

Of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. At the annual meeting of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, held last Tuesday, July 26th, 1910, at the St. Vincent de Paul Hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. Chas. W. Ryan, President; Mr. James T. Martin, Vice-President; Mr. Wm. J. Kiely, Asst. Vice-President; Mr. William O'Brien, Treasurer, and Mr. Michael Walsh, Secretary. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring President, Mr. M. Malone, whose untiring zeal and faithfulness to the principles of St. Vincent de Paul Society was of such a nature that commended itself for example. A vote of thanks was tendered the Rev. Monsignor Roche, V.G., who acted as Chairman during the election. The rev. gentleman then addressed the body on general matters. He said the St. Vincent de Paul Society in St. John's should be much larger than it is. In England this society is very large and very strong. He read from a paper recently of a meeting of the society in London where the Lord Mayor of the city spoke these words: "I am not here in my official capacity but as a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society." This is an illustration of the strength of this great body on the other side. The rev. gentleman intimated that His Grace the Archbishop has been thinking of a means of broadening out the channels of activity of the society. More than likely on his return he will take the matter up.

Take a short cut to prosperity

Two Leap to Death.

New York, July 14.—Two extraordinary suicides marked the night in the environs of New York. An unknown man, about 25 years old and well dressed, sauntered across the Williamsburg Bridge across the East River, sat down on a bench in the centre span to read the racing chart in an evening paper, offered a cigarette to a neighbour, smoked one himself with seeming enjoyment and then began rapidly to climb the iron lattice work of one of the piers. Before his chance acquaintance could run to call a policeman the stranger had mounted to the top of the pier, 250 feet above the foundations, and leaped off. His body did not clear the roadway, which is 135 feet above the water, and he was picked up lifeless. Another unknown man climbed on to the stone parapet of the Hudson boulevard in North Bergen, N. J., tonight and leaped to the rocks 25 feet below. His corpse was found with almost every bone in it broken.

League Football.

St. Bons Defeat Feildians 3 goals to 0.

Though a large audience was not present at St. George's Field last evening there was an interesting football match between the St. Bons and Feildian football teams in the regular League match. It was an ideal evening for a game, there was not a breath of wind, and both teams gave a fine exhibition. They lined up as follows, the St. Bons playing one new man, Shortall.

Feildians—J. Volsey, goal; H. Rendell, Rev. Hewitt, backs; A. Tait, R. Tait, R. Simms, halves; E. Pinsent, E. Rendell, H. Dickinson, G. Hunt, J. Rendell, forwards.

St. Bons—W. Vall, goal; W. Firth, J. Higgins, backs; J. Rawlins, W. Hearne, M. Power, halves; R. Burnham, L. O'Dea, H. Meehan, W. Templeman, S. Shortall, forwards.

The St. Bons won the toss and played from the western goal. When the leather was set in motion some fast play was witnessed for a while in mid-field, when the St. Bons got the ball east and secured a fruitless corner. A foul was then recorded against them, and for a while the lads in blue and gold bombarded their opponents goal and sent in shot after shot which, however, went wide of the mark. The Feildians soon returned the compliment, but their shooting also was at fault. The St. Bons now made a determined run down field, when O'Dea, their active forward, sent a beauty right into the net and scored the first goal for St. Bons.

The Feildians now worked with might and main to equalize, but the back division of St. Bons, especially Firth, played a fine game and effectually prevented scoring. Just before the half time whistle sounded the St. Bons had several tries for goal and did not score owing principally to erratic shooting. The teams crossed:—St. Bons, 1 goal; Feildians, nil.

Re-centering the ball the College lads got it up and kept Volsey busy saving for several minutes. Both teams now played a fast game, St. Bons giving a nice exhibition of passing and playing good combination. Some fouls were recorded for both, when Burnham made one of his famous runs up the left wing and centered to Shortall who placed in No. 2.

The Feildians now put on a good spurt, and Vall saved some difficult shots. Soon the College lads dashed up field with the leather, Templeman passed to Shortall and he deftly headed the leather into the twine, scoring the 3rd and last goal for St. Bons. Shortly after the game closed, St. Bons, 3 goals; Feildians, nil.

Mr. W. J. Higgins refereed.

Football Possibilities.

The result of last night's football match gives St. Bons' team the second place in the series. To-night's match is between the Stars and Casuals. If the Casuals make a draw of this game the St. Bons and Stars are equal on points and must play off for the championship. Should the Casuals beat the Star team St. Bons will take first place and the championship cup. The St. Bons are a hard working team and their record this season is an excellent one. To-night's match should therefore draw a big crowd.

Portugal Cove Tragedy

The tragedy enacted at Portugal Cove yesterday forenoon was a sad affair indeed. Edwin Miller, the unfortunate man who took his own life, was well known here and almost daily drove passengers from the Cove to St. John's. For some time past his mind has been affected and he seemed to suffer from melancholia. The man yesterday shortly after 11 o'clock left his house and going to the barn near climbed up to the loft. There he cut his throat from ear to ear with a sharp scythe with which he had been cutting hay. His wife, who happened to go into the barn shortly after, was horrified to notice blood flowing through the seams of the floor above and falling to the boards below. She then heard the moans of pain coming from her husband, and calling his brother the man found the unfortunate lying in a pool of blood which issued from the awful gash in the throat, while the implement which had inflicted the injury lay near his feet. As stated by the Telegram yesterday, Dr. Chaplin was quickly at his side but saw that the case was a hopeless one and that death was inevitable, and it came quickly. Judge Conroy with Supt. Grimes and Sgt. Byrne went to the scene yesterday afternoon, viewed the remains and fully investigated the case, after which the body was taken charge of by the relatives. The poor wife and children are distracted with grief.

GOOD FISHING THERE.—Fish struck in plentifully at Upper Island Cove, Saturday, and boats there loaded. Since then daily they had been doing well and will secure a fair voyage.

Gladstone and the Slave Trade.

A FRAGMENT OF HISTORY.

Mr. T. R. Job, senior of the old firm of Job Brothers, now once more amongst us, was the first to set me on the track of Gladstone's early career. Discussing with Mr. Job the subject of early cargoes from Newfoundland to the Brazil, he told me that he had found information in their old books of cargoes of codfish sent down in 1819 by his grandfather, John Job, to Demarara to feed the slaves on John Gladstone's plantation there. In the earliest records of the old Newfoundland School Society I find John Job and John Gladstone, M. P., closely associated in the work of the Society—Gladstone, as chairman, and Job as a leading member of the committee; Bulley, who was also connected with the Jobs, being a liberal benefactor. Every schoolboy will remember Macaulay's Essays and his review of young Gladstone's "Church and State." The great critic referred to him as one of them and un-bending Tories. He was still, more, the son of a great slave owner, the upholder of a system which the great writer's father, Zachary Macaulay, and Wilberforce the abolitionists afterwards destroyed.

It is the irony of fate that Gladstone who began as an extreme Tory should end his days an extreme Radical and the destroyer of the English Slave Church in Ireland.

Gladstone first entered Parliament in December 1832 as member for the pocket borough of Newark, owned by the Tory Duke of Newcastle. On the 30th June, 1833, Gladstone made his first speech in Parliament. Lord Howick, afterwards the celebrated Lord Grey of the Reform Bill, cited reports on Sir John Gladstone's slave estates in Demarara, how more had died on this property than any other. William Ewart Gladstone in defending his father was forced to admit the unusual number of deaths on his parent's plantations, but said it was due to the young age of the slaves rather than to any peculiar harsh treatment. Young Gladstone from the very first made his mark in the House of Commons. His fine action, his splendid voice, and his eloquence captivated friend and foe alike. His double first at Oxford was completely eclipsed by his brilliant career as a statesman and member of Parliament. Sir John Gladstone, Bt., and his family were amongst the founders and liberal supporters of the well known Collegiate Schools, Liverpool. Amongst modern institutions the Liverpool schools have won great distinction specially in the teaching of English and modern language. Twelve times out of twenty it has won the gold medal of the Royal Geographical Society for the teaching of Geography. An elder brother of the great statesman, Robertson Gladstone, was the chairman of the School Council. Bishop Jones and I are now amongst the last survivors of the school pupils. I have a lively remembrance of William Ewart Gladstone's speeches on prize giving days at the school. Once I remember his coming in late, he threw off his palmeto coat which Mrs. Gladstone held on her knee during his eloquent speech. I shall never forget her look of rapt attention and admiration as she gazed up at her husband.

Oarsmen, Take Notice!

Absolutely the last meeting of the Regatta Committee before the races come off takes place to-night in the T. A. Armoury, when the boats and crew must enter for the different contests. The Committee will not hold another meeting and the crews who do not enter cannot row. All should therefore come forward and enter to-night.

ROWING.

When a very powerful Leander crew defeated the Belgians at the Olympic Regatta, some people concluded that it showed the superiority of the English stroke. Others, and the writer was one, thought the Englishmen won because they were individually finer athletes, and had put in more years of rowing, besides being in a position to devote more leisure to training. Several Englishmen oarsmen have been experimenting with the Belgian style since 1908 and with very satisfactory results. A Belgian coached the Thames Rowing Club eight, and to such purposes that the Londoners gave Jesus College a tremendous race in their heat for the Grand Challenge Cup, the Cambridge men only winning by two feet in 7 mins. 26 secs. Another Thames crew had a capital race with the Winnipeg R. C. four in the Stewards, the Canadians outstaying their rivals and so qualifying to meet the Mainzner Rudder Club of Germany in the final. Another feature of the Regatta was the capital four of the Anglian crew, which has improved out of all knowledge since taking up the Belgian style, and to reach the final of the Thames Challenge Cup, was indeed a triumph for the club.

Owing to the illness of his little daughter, A. McCulloch had to withdraw from the Diamond Sculls, which greatly reduced the opposition against the foreigner—R. Lucas, of Germany. The first heat saw the overthrow of J. Cosgrove, of Canada, the over-seas Britisher being easily beaten by Edye, who in turn went down before Lucas, leaving the German to meet W. D. Kinnear, of Kensington, in the final.

THE FINALS.

The Englishman proved equal to beating Lucas by two lengths in the final of the Diamond Sculls, while Winnipeg easily scored over the German four in the Stewards. Both these victories are naturally pleasing by all who wanted to see the Britishers score over the foreigners. It may be added that the Stewards has never before been won by a visiting crew, and the success ought to induce other over-seas Britishers to try.

Anghan's victory over Merton College in the Thames Cup was a big triumph for the Belgian style of rowing.

ing and other English crews will, no doubt follow the example of the Putney Club.

Magdalen's victory over Jesus College in the Grand was expected, as also was the success of Eton over Balliol College in the Ladies' Plate. The German pair proved no match for the Leander men in the Goblets, so the foreign invasion was well met.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

Some splendid shooting was seen in the contest for the Empire Cup at Bisleigh. When Australia won the trophy in 1907 (in Australia) the Commonwealth marksmen set up a record score of 2,104. The conditions could not have been much worse for the latest contest, wind and rain making matters very trying, and yet the team representing Great Britain won with the new record score of 2,177 out of a possible 2,400. Sgt. Major Wallingford was top scorer with 284 out of a possible 300; Lieut. Morris, 264, and Capt. Forest, 264, doing best for Canada, while Grant, 271, for Australia; Lieut. Alexander, 270, for India, and Capt. Phillips, 263, for Singapore, were the highest scorers for the other teams, which finished as written, Canada scoring 2,105.

Boy Had Fits For 6 Years

Druggist advised DR. A.W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD—Cure complete and lasting.

Mrs. J. D. Palmer, 38 Park St., Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "When six years of age my boy began to have fits. They came on in the night. He would make strange noises, stiffen out, froth at mouth, face would twitch and some times turned purple. After the fit he could not talk. The family physician said all he could do was to keep them down some what. The second physician pronounced trouble Jeffersonian epilepsy, but could not cure him. He suffered for six years and before beginning the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food had three fits in about five days. Our druggist recommended Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. He has taken seven boxes and has no more had the symptom of a fit since. His color has greatly improved; he is no longer nervous and irritable like he used to be and we consider his cure complete. Such results are only obtained by the use of the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food—not from imitations or substitutes. 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
