CHAPTER XXVII.

Vane put his hand to his head. "You mean that—that she does not love me?" he said, almost inaudibly. Senley Tyers inclined his head. "She does not," he said.

"It is a lie!" shouted Vane. "How dare you—what right have you to say this?"

"Every right," came the reply. "She told me so herself."

Vane staggered and sunk into a chair, and sat with bowed head, silent, motionless, for full a minute.

"She told you?" he said at last, and his voice was like that of an old man.

"Yes. You can not doubt me or her. Why should she go if she really loved you and wished to be your wife?"

Vane's head dropped lower.

"Vane," went on the grave, quiet voice, "I honor her for her courage, her honesty, her true womanliness. Think! A baser, a lower nature would have snatched at the opportunity offered her—would have married you—well, for self-interest, or say, out of gratitude. But this girl is made of finer clay than most women. She would not go to the altar with a lie on her lips. She preferred to take refuge in flight. I repeat, I honor her—I reverence her. To follow her would but to insult her."

Vane rose trembling still, but calm.

"I must follow her," he said, hoarsely. "Where has she gone?"

"You know so much," with stern bitterness, "perhaps you know that. Do not keep anything from me. Do you know anything?"

There was an ominous ring in his voice, a menace in the sudden flash of his blood-shot eyes which made Senley Tyers distinctly uncomfortable for a moment.

"My dear Vane, is it likely I would keep anything from you? Yes, I know where she has gone. Where else should she go but to London?"

Vane seized his hat, then, as if fighting for calm and self-possession, said, quietly:

"Find—and the time-table: I am half blind! See what train I can catch—"

His voice failed him, and he turned his head away.

She did not love him! Had fled to the darkness of the night to escape being his wife! In that moment Vane Tempest tasted the bitterest drop in the cup of life which holds both the bitter and sweet.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Nora went out into the night with no plan or purpose, excepting that of flying from the temptation of marrying Vane, and so ruining him.

Fortunately the weather was fine. There was no moon, but the stars were shining brightly; seeming, to her, like so many cold, pitiless eyes, staring down upon her and mocking her anguish.

For a time she walked on swiftly sustained by the excitement of her flight; but very soon she began to feel tired, her limbs trembled, and she was obliged to sink upon the bank by the roadside and rest.

She lay with her head resting on her arm, her eyes closed for full an hour, too stunned to think; then she rose and went on her way.

She was on the road to Killis; and talking swiftly in a kind of dream, she came in sight of the station lights.

She went into the station and asked a porter when the next train was due, and caused that individual to start when, in answer to his question "What train?" she faltered, "Any."

He told her that a train to Obae would leave in rather more than an hour, and with surly kindness lighted the gas for her in the ladies' waiting-room. But she had not been resting more than ten minutes when it occurred to her that Killis Station was one of the first places Vane would make for in his search for her, and, like some guilty thing flying from justice, she stole out into the night again and walked on in a southerly direction.

The morning broke with a gray mist which would have chilled her but for the fever that burned in her veins, and the mental agony which set physical discomfort at defiance.

She felt now neither fatigue nor hunger, but at a little village some nine miles from Killis she bought a roll of bread and a cup of milk, and as if safety were only to be found in constant motion, resumed her flight.

The mist rolled away and the sun came out, but she took no heed of the weather or the time. All the way Senley Tyers' words rang in her ears like a knell and goaded her on.

She knew now what love meant. She knew that she loved Vane Tempest better than life itself, and she knew that to save him from marrying her and "wrecking his life," she must, if need be, lay down her own.

Every now and then a red flame seemed to shoot up in her heart. It was when she remembered Senley Tyers' assertion that Vane's lady friends would regard her as a leper. Shame and love and a true woman's resolve of self-sacrifice supported her through the terrible day, and toward evening she found herself at Abergeldy.

At another time, and under happier circumstances, she would have rejoiced in the beauty of the place as it lay bathed in the soft blaze of sunset; but now she was weighed down by fatigue and the problem was to where she would find a resting place for the night.

She had not forgotten Senley Tyers' directions, but never for a moment had the thought of following them entered her head. She would as soon have dreamed of following the advice of the fiend himself.

Slowly, with pale face, and eyes dim with weariness and misery, she neared a small place, half inn, half hotel.

Should she go in and ask them to give her a room? She had money; she could show it to them if they were suspicious. But she hesitated. Senley Tyers had completely torn away the veil from her innocent ignorance, and she thought: "Perhaps they, too, will think I am a leper, and will not give me shelter."

As she stood looking at the ivy-colored house, a gentleman came out pushing before him a wicker chair on wheels. A young girl of sixteen or seventeen was seated in it—a girl with a thin, wasted face, in which the dark eyes shone with pathetic vividness. The gentleman—a middle-aged man with iron-gray hair, and an anxious, strained look on his face—wheeled the chair into the patch of sunlight in front of the inn, drew her far wraps up to the girl's neck and said:

"You are sure you don't mind my leaving you, Milly? I shall not be long over my letters."

She put up her face for a kiss, and smiled at him with that gentle smile of patient suffering which we most of us know too well; and with another loving touch or two to the face he went inside.

The girl lay back and closed her eyes, all unconscious of Nora's proximity, and seemed to sleep; but presently, as Nora was trying to find courage to enter the inn, she opened her eyes and shivered slightly. The wicker chair had slipped down; she tried to draw it up again, but as she touched it, it slid over the edge of the chair.

Nora went up to her, picked up the fur, and arranged it in its former position without a word.

The girl started slightly and fixed her eyes on the pale face; and either its paleness or its beauty startled her, for she did not speak for a moment or two, and Nora was pressing on with the thought, "She too, will think me a leper," when the girl said:

"Oh, thank you! You are very kind. I am sorry to trouble you."

"Thank you," she said, offering the handkerchief back. "I—I have walked a long way, and am tired, I think."

"Keep it. But let me put some more on it," said the girl. "There; take the bottle and bathe your lips and forehead. Walked? How far have you walked?"

Nora forced a smile. "I don't know," she said; "a great many miles." (She was on the point of adding: "From Linn," but stopped herself.) "Twenty—thirty; I don't know."

"Twenty—thirty!" exclaimed the girl. "How I wish—Oh, how selfish of me! I was going to say how I wished that I could walk over one! But thirty miles! Why, you must be half dead!"

Why Do Women Suffer
When They Could Be Well?
It is so easy to be well and strong and able to enjoy life, that it is surprising how many women drag themselves through the day suffering tortures from lumbago due to kidney trouble. Miss Wilcox found the way to cure herself and gladly writes about it so that others may be induced to use the same remedy.

Big Losses.
"During the last winter, I was bothered very much with a Weak Back. I was advised by a friend to try GIN PILLS and I did. The first box I found helped me very much and I found when I had taken the second, I was completely cured."
Mrs. F. WILCOX.

Something in the tone seemed to invite a response, and Nora, with downcast eyes, said with a faint smile:

"It was not much trouble. You were not able to do it for yourself." A tinge of color rose to the girl's face.

"I am a cripple," she said in a low voice, and with the cripple's pathetic appeal in her large eyes.

"I am sorry," murmured Nora, answering the unspoken appeal with a glance of sympathy.

The girl smiled up at her, and as Nora made a movement as if to pass on, she said:

"Are you staying here?" Nora shook her head slightly, and the girl covered her with one of those womanly glances which take in the whole figure in an instant.

"No!" she said. "I thought that perhaps you might be a visitor, like ourselves."

Nora shook her head again and took another step, then a sudden faintness attacked her, and with a little sigh she sank down on a bench beside the chair.

The girl uttered a soft exclamation and her hand darted below the wicker chair and started out again with a scented bottle. "You are faint," she said, quickly. "Take some of this quick! There!" She poured some of the scent on her handkerchief, and held it to Nora.

Nora passed the handkerchief across her lips, and struggled against the weakness which threatened to overcome her.

"Thank you," she said, offering the handkerchief back. "I—I have walked a long way, and am tired, I think."

"Keep it. But let me put some more on it," said the girl. "There; take the bottle and bathe your lips and forehead. Walked? How far have you walked?"

Nora forced a smile. "I don't know," she said; "a great many miles." (She was on the point of adding: "From Linn," but stopped herself.) "Twenty—thirty; I don't know."

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Bender's experience.
St. James, Mo.—"About a year ago I was irregular, had cramps every month, headache and constant backache. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and I am relieved of all my troubles and am in perfect health. I shall recommend your medicine to all my friends and you may publish this testimonial for the benefit of other suffering women."—Miss ANNA BENDER, St. James, Missouri.
Another Case.
Dixon, Iowa.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time and it has done me much good. My back troubled me very much. It seemed weak. A People's Government!

For the Fisherman, Lumberman, Mechanic, Labouring Man, and the Man Who Earns His Bread by the Sweat of His Brow.

Editor The Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—The readers of the People's Paper here cannot but be delighted to read in your columns of the triumphant march of the party of Progress and Stability led by our incorruptible and well tried leader, Sir Robert Bond. Particularly is this so in the case of the District of Placentia and St. Mary's. As a voter in that District the writer has read and observed everything referring to the canvass by both sides and has no hesitation in predicting a great victory for the candidates of honest Government, Messrs. Sullivan, Carty and Summers, and this is as it should be for who more worthy to represent the District than her manly son and warm friend—Michael S. Sullivan and his two colleagues. Mr. Sullivan's name is known and respected from one end of the District to the other.

As the Friend of the Workingman. Grand Falls bears ample testimony to this, for has he not ever endeavoured to benefit each and every applicant for employment that approached him when in office here. And the fathers and brothers, friends and others of those benefited will not fail to repay on polling day to the best of their ability, the debt of gratitude. For twenty-eight years the writer has been acquainted with George Carty and can bear witness to his manly and upright character. In him Placentia will have a representative who will act a straightforward part and would scorn to do or say an untruthful or mean word or action. Mr. Summers is well known as a lawyer of ability and experienced journalist. With these in the House, Placentia will again be represented by Men Worthy of the Days of Yore, of the days when such men as Donnelly, McGrath, Shea and Emerson guarded her interests and did honour to their constituents. Of the policy of the Opposition I need not say much. But I will say it is high time to put a Government of the People in power. I mean a Government of the real people—the working people—the fisherman, the lumberman, the mechanic, the man who earns his bread and supports his family and his country by the sweat of his brow. We have such a party before the country at the present time and every thing points to a glorious victory for that party on the 29th. The fact that there are thousands of square miles of splendid timber lands along some of our best rivers lying idle because of the greed and want of energy of some of the supporters of the present Government, should be ample reason why the people should rise in their might and alter this state of affairs.

With the Example of this Town Before Us and the hundreds of thousands of dollars distributed among the people, we should cry shame at ourselves for permitting Morrison and the other timber sharks to tie up the heritage left by our forefathers to ourselves and our children. In view of his vast experience then as Asst. Supt. here, Mr. Sullivan is eminently qualified to properly advise and in our timber and minerals. As manager of the labour bureau he will be in a position better to assist the workmen than ever before. All these should induce any waverers not to hesitate on polling day to cast their votes for the party of Clean Government, the party of the people, the party led by Bond and Coaker and by marking their ballots for Sullivan, Carty and Summers make assurance doubly sure that

Assist in the Proper Development of the Internal Wealth Lying Dormant

BOND CAN'T LOSE!
Yours truly,

A Rainy Day.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Last summer we read a great deal in the newspapers about the injury to the crops from lack of rain, but there was one effect of the drought which somehow failed to appear in the headlines. And that was the mental suffering of humanity for lack of an occasional rainy day.

Is there any more restful and tranquillizing experience after a long stretch of uninterrupted sunshine than to awake in the morning to the music of the steady drip of rain outside the window and the gratefully subdued, cheerfully melancholy light of a rainy morning?

In the first place, there is such a luxurious sense of indefinite duration about a rainy day. It is difficult to realize that a rainy day can be only twenty-four hours long.

It seems possible in prospect to do so many things on a rainy day. That well recommended volume which has lain so long on the library table awaiting a leisure hour—this very day its leaves shall be cut. And of course this is the ideal opportunity to finish that centrepiece. Then, what better chance could one have to banish that abominably fat packet of letters in the "Unanswered" pigeon-hole. And so one goes on and on planning quite enough to fill a day of at least forty-eight working hours.

Then there is the rich sense of seclusion which a rainy day begets. For my part, I somehow like this to be as pronounced as possible. Even the visits of the storeman and the milkman seem unwarrantable intrusions, and although I thoroughly enjoy a friend once she is domiciled, I must say I rather resent her first appearance as a kind of cheapening of my precious seclusion.

Of course, I am not unaware of the bolder joy of getting suitably garbed and sallying defiantly forth in the rain to smell the growing things and catch their spirit, and get one's hair wet and lungs well washed, but this is a pleasure that I am more apt to appreciate the second or third day of a rainy spell after I have had my fill of the delights of seclusion.

The difference in favor between the rainy day and the snowy day is an interesting psychological distinction. There is begotten of both a sense of seclusion, but on the snowy day it is a jolly, hilarious seclusion of the whole family—"all friends shut out, the housemates sit around the radiant fireplace enclosed in a tumultuous privacy of storm." Whereas, on the rainy day one's retirement is more individual and has more of a subdued and dreamy flavor. On the snowy day we make molasses candy, or play games with the young folks, or pop corn. On the rainy day we rummage around in the garret, or sort out old letters, or dream over a book, preferably an old friend with whom we have communed many times before. I know a girl who reads "Little Women" every rainy day and my own "Cranford" is indissolubly associated with the sound and smell of a rainy afternoon.

The Notorious Piccott.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—My interest has always been given the People's Party, as you know, and I was a worker for them since the present campaign opened. I was in the procession yesterday, although I must say I did not like the idea of running away, and not listening to what our opponents had to say at the Court House. But what I wish to refer to is the blackguardly expression of A. W. Piccott, at the K. E. B. Armoury, when told by a hater what the Liberal candidates said about him. In the presence of some school boys he used vile remarks which I dare not put in print, but which I give you for your own information, and you may use it as you think fit. I am now left the party. I would not, Mr. Editor, vote for a man who would use such language before little children, and I call upon all other voters who respect morality, to consider as Piccott the man to "deserve" your votes?

Yours sincerely,
RIGHT ABOUT TURN.

Cold in the Chest

RUB WELL WITH ZAM-BUK!
For bad colds on the chest, rub the chest and between the shoulders well with Zam-Buk at night.

If you suffer from catarrh or cold in the head, just insert a little Zam-Buk at the base of the nostril, and as the balm becomes warm, inhale the healing essences which vaporize.

Sores in the nostril, which are sometimes set up by catarrh, will yield to Zam-Buk treatment.

Mrs. N. S. Babcock, of Matawastchan, Ont., says: "For a long time I had a very disagreeable sore on the inside of the nostril, which gave me great pain and caused much annoyance. I feared it would turn to cancer, and all I tried proved unavailing. I was ordered to try Zam-Buk, and I am glad to say that the sore that defied all other remedies was overcome by one box of Zam-Buk and is now quite healed."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, poison, piles, cuts, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld. Try Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet!

Blunder and Incapacity.

The Most Iniquitous Deal on Record. Public Confidence Forfeited.

Sir E. P. Morris's record has been marked with blunder and incapacity since his connection with our local politics. We say this without prejudice. It will take a long time for this Colony to emerge from the wreck and ruin thrown upon it by the "iniquitous railway deal"—the most outrageous deal that ever cursed any British territory, when Sir E. P. Morris with others signed away a property that cost thirteen million dollars for one-thirtieth of its value. That was opening the flood gates of wrongdoing and bringing upon the Colony almost hopeless ruin.

Any Man Who Would do a Thing Like This, no Matter How Great the Inducement, Never Again Ought to be Trusted with Public Confidence.

VOTERS think for one moment, would you build a vessel to cost twenty-six hundred dollars and then give her away for two hundred dollars? Would you build a house for $1300 and then give it away for one hundred dollars, and not only the house but the land and everything connected with it? "Is too preposterous to think about. One who would do this could do anything—sell the country to Canada, or anything else to suit an emergency and the public should hesitate before running into further danger!"

Minimise The Loss.

Practically farmers may easily minimise the loss due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer. Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 10 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.

We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate and our terms are accommodating. ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT COMPANY, Board of Trade Building, St. John's, Nfld.

This Will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Take two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma, and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in gualacol and all the natural healing principles. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attached great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

SYDNEY, Oct. 22.—The Nid, schooner Annie Roberts was sunk in collision with the Dominion Coal Co's steamer Wabana. In the harbor this evening. Four of the schooner's crew are probably drowned. One man escaped. The missing men are John Bovill, John Fruster, Arthur Coffin, John McDonald. According to the steamer's report, the schooner, so far as could be found out by her lights, was steering a wobbly course, and when it was seen that collision was imminent, the steamer slowed down, and finally came to a stop. The schooner carried forward, probably by the tide, crashed into the steamer, hitting her a powerful blow at the stern. The schooner must have sunk forthwith, as she was not seen again. The rescued man is John Pennett.

SWINNEY, Oct. 22.—Referring to his Land Reform speech, Lloyd George said he today that first of all he proposed to establish a Ministry of Lands with control and supervision of all questions dealing with land in both town and country. The functions of the Board of Agriculture would be transferred to the new ministry. Lands would be taken out of Chancery, and landlords be enabled to improve their lands, despite the silly settlements that heretofore barred them. Three commissioners would operate in a judicial capacity, and have the same power to reduce rents on small farms as the Scottish courts possessed. Large farmers would have the right of appeal for reduction of rents. If the action of the State caused a rise in wages for farm laborers.

Voters, What Do You Think of Finances or Estimates in the Hands of Morris?

Here is a branch railway line, says he, that will cost four million dollars. He was only Four Millions out of his reckoning—that was all! Will you trust to his figures again? If you had a servant, or a book-keeper in your shop that could not do better than that, what would you do with him? Tell him to quit, of course. You will have to do the same thing now if you do not want to invite their ruin upon the Colony. Intelligent people of all classes and creeds ought to speak out with no uncertain sound in relation to this matter. Our country's weal, just now, is too great and too grave a consideration to be trifled with. We must hold personal friendship in abeyance and be actuated by the higher principles that govern human life and speak out for the right. We do not wish to reiterate the cruel wrongs that have been done by the Tory Government, nor to indicate a tendency that is closely observed at the present time in the conduct of our public affairs. Gentlemen, with the franchise in your hands, don't sell your birthright. Bond is not watching for a pretext. The steamer of Gold will turn him aside from the path of duty therefore He Cannot Lose!

Frankie Murphy Gets a Trimming

FROM "EXCELSIOR."

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Notice in the News of the 20th inst. that Frankie Murphy is trying to force himself to the fore in a vain attempt to gain the public eye. If Frankie is looking anything it certainly is not gall. Yes, the lad is the self-advertised President of our Star of the Sea; but Francis, it is the last time you'll ever grace that dignified office. One hundred members have said so. The Star of the Sea Society has always eschewed politics, yet this miscreant would drag in something that may burst our time-honored society. Shades of the late lamented Magistrate O'Reilly, see who occupies your chair. The Rat reports that "the return of three Tories for Placentia is an assured fact." He is lying and he knows it. On the strength of his report a prominent Liberal called at his store and offered to bet anywhere from $50 to $100 on the result. Did he take it? Not on your life. He would not risk a five-cent piece, for he knows the Tories are doomed. No, boy, your chance bid for notoriety will not work in Placentia. What Frank Morris would have done for some one to nominate him had the rat failed is hard to say. Mr. Editor, the Tories have no working committee here. There are not Tories enough here with sufficient enthusiasm for the cause to form such a committee, consequently there is no chairman. That's the number two. Now for number three. The Tories have had no meeting in Placentia, public or private. They are afraid. They never contemplated such a thing. Frankie stop trying to fool the district with your base fabrications. Walsh and others went around flourishing a $150 bet on the return of three Tories for the district. They did not have far to go before it was taken. Now they are whining it was an unfair bet. I wonder where they are getting all the money? All brand new $20 bank notes. They are also trying to make political capital out of an incident (which I shall refrain from mentioning at present). Give them rope and if some of them do not land in jail, Placentia does not know her business. Take warning, Mr. Frank: Mr. Reiliving O'Rourke and others. You are making yourselves obnoxious. Let sleeping dogs lie. You'll never hear on the winning side and never will be; we do not want you. You are considered the political jinkers at present. The North East Arm is sold for the Liberals. At a meeting the other night, the feeling for Liberalism was so great we could hear the cheering in Placentia. Such whole-souled, genuine support was never witnessed in this district before. The Tory candidates are small-time. The smug has left their faces and their hand-clasp limp. They searched the East End for a chairman. They are a trio of the very highest class artists in singing, dancing, etc., and are pronounced the finest coloured troupe in America. ST. JOHN'S, N.F.L.D., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1913.

The Tables Are Turned!

Kilbride Bids Loyal Welcome to Liberal Standard-Bearers.

The People of That Historic Settlement Unite With other Sections of St. John's West and Acclaim Ellis, Cowan and Scott their Future Representatives.

The historic settlement of Kilbride, which was looked upon, particularly by the Big Chief, as the strongest Tory settlement in the country, has decided to host the Liberal banner which was lowered for four and a half years. This was plainly demonstrated last night at the meeting held by Messrs. Ellis, Cowan and Scott, the Liberal standard-bearers. The enthusiasm was wonderful as during the course of two hours tumultuous cheering, which could be heard for a great distance, rent the air for Sir Robert Bond, Ellis, Cowan and Scott and the Liberal Party.

The meeting opened at 8.30 in the house of Mr. Michael Ryan. On motion being made Mr. Edward Connolly—the oldest voter of Kilbride—was appointed chairman and with his usual tact filled that post to perfection. The first speaker introduced was Mayor Ellis, who reviewed the policies of both leaders. He convincingly showed that the policy of Sir Robert Bond was a progressive one and that of Sir Edward Morris, one of recklessness, as the unscrupulous spending of an enormous amount of the people's money during the past four years amply demonstrated. He referred to the two occasions when the Colony was in grave financial difficulties and when Sir Robert Bond was selected to go abroad to get a loan and which he successfully raised after pledging his own money to pay the interest.

Sir Robert Bond, in closing he impressed upon all not to be influenced or carried away by any catch cries and when casting their votes on polling day to mark their crosses opposite the names of Ellis, Cowan and Scott, because

Some Plain Facts and Some Pertinent Questions By "Placentia Bay."

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—I saw by a letter in the Tory papers from W. J. Walsh, that he claims Placentia for his birthplace also a certificate from one Hennessey that Walsh is an honest man. Well, Mr. Editor, we would like to get a certificate of birth from Mr. Walsh, as we all understood from him when he was here, a pack and selling cloth, that he was born in Ireland, and now I see by a letter from Haystack, that when Walsh was there carrying the sack, he claimed England as his birthplace.

I wonder why all this changing of nationalities? Mr. Walsh seems an adept at "changing." A friend of mine from Placentia, told me a few weeks ago that Walsh claimed to have resigned from offering himself as a Tory candidate and "prophesied" that the Tories hadn't the ghost of a chance in this district, and that Walsh and his man Friday, of the Beer House, started to shout "Morris Can't Win," and that Walsh (as the song Killisoe says) took a swift path that he was done with the Tories, comparing E. P. to Patsy, as being unprincipled and unreliable.

Walsh, the prophet, has again changed his "prophecy." Is Walsh an honest man Mr. Hennessey? We have heard how the speaker gave on the west side of this bay was confiscated on a poor fisherman on the s.s. Argyle, and we heard that Walsh had some bottles of gin, but he found out how he got them, and where they came from, what stuff they were made of, and where they were bought, we must ask Mr. Walsh to explain if Walsh can be an Englishman in Ireland, and an Irishman in Newfoundland, what would you call this Tory candidate, if he had a bottle of gin! If Walsh will not explain we can go to M. P. Cashin who should know all about it, and ask Cashin what sort of certificate will he give Walsh.

Mr. Editor, we know Bill Walsh better than Hennessey or Cashin.

Why was the poor fisherman asked to be fined for having a few bottles of gin and the liquor confiscated, while another man goes scot free? This fisherman was a poor struggling man trying to support his wife and family on a poor political graft.

Go away back, Walsh, and sit down. We don't want men of your stamp to represent us. Poor Frank Morris is to be pitied; he scarcely could recognize one of us, this fall, and sure how could he, when he hasn't seen us since we voted for him four years ago. Good bye Frank, we will never see these more as for oldy Dick, Mr. Editor, if he knew as little about book-keeping as he does about district matters (Agriculture included), the wonder is how he held his job at Bonavista so long.

We shipped Dick four years ago, and only that we could get his two years' shipping paper to misrepresent us, we would have fined him six months after.

Why, Mr. Editor, Mr. Sullivan has done more for friends and foe alike during the past four years, than Devereux is capable of ever doing, because Dick's heart is not in the job. Dick treat all alike in this district, or did he favor any particular friends? We hear that Dick got the Old Age Pension for his Uncle John at Placentia. Why was this, when there are scores of old worn out fishermen in this bay who were refused the pension, while Uncle John never did anything the most of his life time but loaf around Placentia, complaining of a cold in his head and cold feet. We hear Dick also got a job from the Heids for his brother-in-law, Joe Kieley, in spite of the fact that the job was promised to another man by the Heids. This kind of representation is not good enough Dick, my boy, and you had better secure a job for yourself. Rumor also has it that Dick recommended raising the Customs salary at Placentia from $650 to $1,000 for Tom Fitzpatrick, while the light keeper at Point Verde, Tom Crocker, had to take charge of the fog whistle without any increase of salary, which is, I understand, $369 per year. The whole year's work of the Customs House here, could be done in a week, while Crocker has to keep his nose to the grindstone day and night and get nothing extra for it. Is this fair treatment to all alike?

No, Mr. Editor, Morris's day is done in this district. Men of St. Mary's and Trepassy, we intend to fall in line with you this time and help you to roll up the biggest majority for the good old Liberal cause that any candidates ever received in this district. Let the try be from Biscay Bay to Rushoon: BOND CAN'T LOSE. The Tory who said in this bay, we will get Salomon and St. Mary's vote because they expect the railway. Don't be fooled by their false promises. Look at Morris's Manifesto, does he promise it in that jumbled up political speech? Of course, W. J. Walsh will promise you the railroad or anything else he can think on.

This Bay, Mr. Editor, is three-fourths for Sullivan, Summers and Party, and I hear that Argentina, Dussville, Placentia and surrounding places will give them a large majority. Hurray for Sir Robert Bond, the incorruptible leader of the Liberal standard. We will show you by the majority your candidates will get in this district how we appreciate you. Come on Sullivan, Summers and Party, you are our men and we intend to sweep the Graballs out of this district, stick lock and barrel. Our slogan is "Bond Can't Lose!" and Must Win to Save our Country.

Yours truly, PLACENTIA BAY MAN. Placentia Bay, Oct. 17, 1913.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom House, good friend. It's only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well, you did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. Too late then to talk of prudence; too late then to say: "If I had only, etc., etc." that "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen to protect his home and thus provide for those within it. Is it any more than his duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible? Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this argument is to carry insurance with Percie Johnson's agency, the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.

Obituary.

MRS. ANN MEARNES. At 2.30 last evening, at Balmoral Cottage, Patrick Street, after an illness extending over a year, Mrs. Ann Mearnes, widow of the late Captain Andrew Mearnes, of Montrose, Scotland, passed peacefully away at the 83rd year of her age. The venerable lady was the third daughter of the late Mr. John Bates. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Walter Clouston and Mrs. M. Davidson, of this city, and two sons, Mr. Alexander Mearnes, Fish Curer of Montrose, and Mr. Mearnes Taylor, of Sketmorlie, Scotland. To these and the other relatives of the deceased we tender sympathy in their bereavement.

SAVORY ROASTER.

Our many customers who had the pleasure of examining and trying our sample of this very useful household article will be pleased to hear that we have just received a shipment, so that all orders can now be filled. What is a Savory Roaster? It is such a good thing that it must be seen to be properly understood. A Savory Roaster is a Pan for roasting meat, but it is more than this. It is a self heater. No torment or burning your fingers removing it from oven to baste the meat. You simply place your roast of meat in the roaster, close the pan—trouble no more about it until it is cooked. The meat is really steamed all through. None of the nutritious properties of the meat can escape. It is a marvel and the price is within the reach of everybody. $1.50.

Daily Investment News

St. John's, Oct. 23, 1913. An Investment Bureau for Women Investors

Women of to-day are, as a rule, well-informed on almost all subjects except investment. While the majority have some knowledge of investment matters, it is just enough indeed, without a thorough understanding of the rudiments, to be a source of danger rather than of safety.

With these thoughts in mind we wish that more women knew how well equipped we are to furnish them reliable information and advice about investments. Not alone information and advice—but helpful plans of payment, enabling women who save to start an investment with an initial deposit of as low as $20 and monthly payments of as little as $1.00. We will gladly send a select list of investments and some interesting literature about our easy payment plans. Write to Mr. Power for this.

Mr. McKay Refutes a Falshood.

Special to the Evening Telegram. HR. GRACE, To-day.

A telegram from this town in today's News claims that 800 people were at a funeral here on Monday last. That is a down right falshood as only one hundred and sixty persons, mostly Bay Roberts men, were there, counting some doubtful ones, that were passing in the same direction at the time. That number included undertaker Parsons, Dr. Cron and all the other necessary officials. They, the Government, no doubt had the sympathy of eight hundred people in their death, when so successful a career was before them, but then love for graft could not keep them within bounds. When such bare faced falshood must be resorted to, to try and boast up a cause it must be rotten indeed. But no person believes them. I challenge contradiction that there were more than one hundred and sixty in that procession. "BOND CAN'T LOSE!" W. A. MCKAY.

Quite recently he had the offer of a splendid post in Laurel, Miss., which he accepted. He is now Organist and Choirmaster of St. John's Episcopal Church, Laurel, Miss. This is a large new church with a new organ and has the wealthiest congregation in Laurel, which is a large lumbering city, and one of the wealthiest in the South. His friends in Macon, Georgia, were very sorry to part with Mr. Bastow, as during his stay there he had greatly improved the standard of music in that city, and all assured him of a hearty welcome should he desire to return. Bond Can't Lose!

Special to the Evening Telegram. CAMPBELLTON, To-day.

On Tuesday afternoon the D. P. Ingraham was seen approaching Campbellton and the people of the place knowing Sir Robert Bond and Colleague were on board, soon had flags flying to the breeze and on arrival hundreds of people flocked to the wharf to bid them welcome and amidst the roar of musketry and stream whistles and the cheering of the gathered throngs they landed. Sir Robert announced a public meeting for 8 o'clock and long before that time the large Orange Hall was packed to overflowing. On arrival of the great Liberal chieftain Sir Robert Bond—Mr. Clift and Mr. Jennings, the audience practically cheered themselves hoarse. The meeting opened and continued for three hours, uninterrupted save for cheers as the several candidates rose to address the audience. At the close of the meeting the cheering for the Liberal Union party was deafening and everyone here has decided that Morris must go "BOND CAN'T LOSE!"

Special to Evening Telegram. GANDER BAY, To-day.

Hallyard held meeting here last night and got wonderful reception. Great enthusiasm. The speaker was applauded continually. Guns firing in all directions. Grabbalism is buried with Unionism. The hall rang with cheers for Hallyard, and the President of F.P.U. and Sir Robert Bond. Gander Bay will cast seven eighth vote for the Liberal Union Party candidate, and he left for St. John's this morning. The sound of musketry did duty, while men and women cheered and waved their handkerchiefs in all directions. Grabbals must go for Coaker says Chairman, L. A. FRANCIS.

Special to Evening Telegram. LAWN, To-day.

The Liberal candidates Gear and Bartlett held a splendid meet here on Saturday night, and met with rousing welcome. Bonfires blazed on the hills of Lawn. The hall was beautifully decorated in the Liberal colors and the speeches of both candidates were listened to with rapt attention. The meeting closed with cheers for the Liberal Party. Count Lawn solid Liberal.

Special to Evening Telegram. BELL ISLAND, To-day.

Last night's meeting was the greatest ever held here. The audience was wild with enthusiasm for Bond and Party. Tories had to quit the hall; they are down and out and they know it.

On Tuesday last the public telegraph despatches to the outpost, said that the Daily News Telegram was to be stamped by political catch cries, started between now and polling day. We thank the Daily News for this warning and we electors will pay strict attention to it, for we know the ingenuity of P. T. McGrath to generate catch cries and fire their broad cast over the country by wire. Yesterday the public message said James Hare, who shot at Bishop March, is said not to be insane at present and his rash act is attributed to socialism. Is this another of P. T. McGrath's catch cries? We believe that the generator of the "Godless School" catch cry is capable of anything in the shape of catch cries, but we will not be influenced by him. Thanks Daily News.

Special to the Evening Telegram. CLAREVILLE, To-day.

The Liberal-Union candidate, addressed a crowded meeting here last night in the Orange Hall, George Richards presiding. The meeting was a triumph for the Liberal Unionism, the waste of public money by the Government, free and compulsory education were dealt with in an able manner. The speech was punctuated many times with great applause. Meeting closed with ringing cheers for Coaker, Grimes and the Liberal Party. This makes the second Warren fort fallen to Liberal-Union forces. Warren's supporters now admit defeat.

Special to the Evening Telegram. PLACENTIA, To-day.

Murphy's statements at the Tory meetings in St. John's, that Fox Harbor, Ram's Island and other sections of the district had previously been liberal had gone Tory is a deliberate falshood. We know Frank here and would not trouble his statements only others who do not know him might possibly believe it. It is common talk here that somebody clipped a grip on poor Frank. His taking off his coat means sure defeat for the Tories and it was unfortunate for the Liberals he did the same for them four years ago. Sir Edward must recognize defeat certain or he would not be forced to solicit the aid of outpost heilers to bolster up his cause by trying to gull the people of St. John's. The barrel must be of great dimensions. Reliable information from all parts of this District indicates a bigger victory than in 1900 for the Liberals. Tremble, tyrants, tremble for the "BOND CAN'T LOSE!"

WESLEYVILLE, To-day.

Wesleyville received President Coaker and his colleagues in king-by style. The reception began on Saturday and was continued on Monday. As Coaker passed from Pool's Island to Newtown and returned yesterday. The candidates visited Pinchard's Island, Pound Cove and Brookfield yesterday. A splendid arena was erected here, one at Pinchard's Island and one at Pound Cove. Hand-dreds turned out to welcome the visitors on arrival here. The excitement here and at the other places is hard to describe. The mass meeting was held in the new church hall which was overflowing, many could not secure an entrance. About 800 were present, some came from Cape Cove, Newtown, Pound Cove Fox Cove and Brookfield. Capt. Geo. Bishop presided over the meeting here. John Abbott spoke for forty-five minutes, again surprising the audience by delivering a splendid address. Robert Winsor also delivered a good speech covering 45 minutes of time. The candidates then addressed the meeting. Capt. Geo. Bishop was cheered as they arose to speak and again at the close of their speech. President Coaker spoke for twenty minutes, delivering an eloquent address full of fire and vigor which had a wonderful effect upon the audience. He was enthusiastically cheered. Scores of non-Union men present were converted to Unionism and are admirers of Coaker to-day.

Special to Evening Telegram. BRANCH, To-day.

The Liberal candidates, Sullivan, Summers and Cartwright, made an entry into Branch last evening. Half a mile on the St. Bride's road a large contingent of voters met the candidates and greeted them with volleys of cheers and guns; horses were unharnessed and the people pulled the carriages containing the candidates. The large procession, headed by the Liberal Branch, accompanied all the way by cheers and musketry, equally deafening. Women and children were at the windows with smiling faces and waving flags. When the procession halted near Mr. John English's, another assembly was gathered and united their voices with the hills resounded. Such a magnificent reception was never entered before to any person in Branch. When the meeting opened at 7.30, with Andrew J. Nash in the chair, the large schoolroom was literally packed, three hundred being present. Sullivan, Summers and Cartwright delivered speeches, scoring the members on the misdeeds of the Government and Godless schools. Such scenes of intense excitement and spontaneous cheering were never witnessed in Branch to this day. The truth of above is testified by the following notes of Branch:

Special to Evening Telegram. SPANARD'S BAY, To-day.

Grace another victory in Harbor Grace District for the Liberal-Union team. The winning team held a very successful meeting here last night getting a good hearing and making their own headquarters. Mr. Jesse Gosse acted as chairman. Spaniard's Bay has always been regarded as a Tory stronghold, and the Liberal Party has never been able to engineer a meeting there, such gatherings usually breaking up in disorder. Much interest, therefore, centred round last night's affair and the fact that it was entirely uninterrupted speaks volumes for the change that has taken place in this section of the District.

It was understood that a Tory plot was being engineered to break up the meeting, and subsequent events lent a great deal of color to the rumor. Gordon did not speak at the meeting, but he received a message from Harbor Grace that his wife who has been ailing some time was dangerously ill.

Mr. George Gosse delivered his first address, and excelled all his previous efforts, excellent though these have been. He spoke for over an hour and gave an account of the grand record of the F.P.U., also outlining the progressive policy of the Liberal-Union Party. He eulogized Coaker and Bond and the meeting responded with ringing cheers for these public men and when the speaker concluded his remarks he was wildly cheered. Spaniard's Bay is justly proud of George Gosse.

Dr. Mosdell followed with an eloquent address which lasted an hour and was well received. J. F. Sheppard ventured to ask the speaker a question as to whether or no the F.P.U. Trading Company was a trade combine. Gosse jumped to his feet and fattened him by reminding him that he had been talking Liberal all this summer and most of the fall. "You are the last man who should butt in here, Sheppard," said Gosse, "for every man here knows the fishermen had to get together to protect themselves from the high prices charged by such as you." The audience cheered this retort to the echo. Dr. Mosdell then explained that the Trading Company was a co-operative association of fishermen to protect themselves from extortion on the part of a few selfish business men. He closed his speech amidst rounds of applause.

SELLING OUT Bargains in Crockeryware. JOHN B. AYRE.

from forty or fifty cowardly Tory heilers who slunk about outside in the vestibule and on the steps of the Hall. There was absolutely no response from the hundreds inside.

The people of the district are highly indignant over the actions of the Tory heilers who have their headquarters at the "Hooligan Temple" in Bay Roberts. They accompany Pickett and his colleagues everywhere making up three-fourths of all his filthiness.

The ring-leader is one "Whitehead," the Bay Roberts mailman, who is ably assisted in his riot-raising by Parsons, the mailman of the Kyle, who got off on the plea of sickness and is feeling for Pickett all the time. Then Martin Sharpe, of motor boat picnic fame, is also to the fore with the rowdy gang and an individual known as "Keeffe." Several of them, particularly "Whitehead," took part in the assault on President Coaker in January last. They are toolies who shut because of the hand-outs they are getting from A. R. It is most disgraceful that Government officials should be permitted to take such a rabid partisan part in elections.

The account of the Nomination Day proceedings in the News and Herald, is a lie manufactured out of whole cloth. At no time was the combined strength of Liberals and Tories present four hundred, not to mention eight hundred; and as to marching, it was six deep. The Tories, led by Pickett, scurried away like a flock of Morris's fabled sheep. Their number did not exceed one hundred and forty.

Harbor Grace for Bond and Coaker. They can't lose.

Bishopric Wall Board.

BEATS LATHS AND PLASTER. MADE TO LAST.

Bishopric Wall Board is made by imbedding kiln-dried dressed lath in hot Asphalt-Mastic, under a pressure of 500 lbs. to the square inch. The other side of the Asphalt-Mastic is surfaced with smooth, heavy sized cardboard.

Bishopric Wall Board saves 75 per cent. of the labor cost and about a month's time in finishing walls and ceilings. With it there is none of that expense for repairs and re-decorating that you incur so often when plaster cracks or falls.

DRYER AND WARMER. The layer of Asphalt-Mastic in which the laths are embedded is absolutely air-tight and damp-proof. It blocks all drafts, and keeps the inside of the house dry, warm and cosy.

RAT AND VERMIN PROOF. These pests find it impossible to gnaw or bore through the tough, gummy Asphalt-Mastic.

EASILY DECORATED. Bishopric Wall Board is surfaced with heavy sized cardboard, which forms the ideal surface for Wall Paper or Burlap. Artistic panneling adds to its attractiveness.

THE ONLY WALL BOARD MADE WITH LATH. Laths are positively necessary to back up wall board and Bishopric is the only Wall Board that has them. They make it rigid and substantial and prevent it from working, cracking or pulling away at the joints.

Whether you intend to build or remodel, don't overlook this opportunity to get a better house—in less time—by using Bishopric Wall Board. Ask your dealer for information. Write or 'phone for sample and descriptive circulars to

Will You Have Honesty in PUBLIC Men?

It has been shown how Morison, Minister of Justice, stooped to forget a law (prohibiting the cutting of timber without a license) which ordinary laymen like Michael Parrell and Bernard McGrath, his own clients, would be ashamed to forget. Morison's cunning forgetfulness, depraved though it be, is only exceeded, perhaps, by the ingenious face of Premier Morris when he put the stamp of approval upon Morison's lying deception.

If Premier Morris will say publicly that he was deceived by Morison, then he will have proven his honesty of purpose in regard to this matter—though not his sagacity. If he says nothing, or insists that Morison really did forget the timber law, then the charge is that he as Premier is as bad, if not worse than, Morison. Plain words cannot be too plain when we have a Minister of Justice and a Premier of a Country attempting to cover up gross rascality by worse dishonesty.

It is not conceivable that either Premier Morris or his Minister of Justice could have penned those letters to Governor Williams without an intention to deceive—unless, of course, they intended to exhibit themselves as ignorant fools. They are not fools, and both of them know they are not regarded as such.

What does the boasted cleverness of Premier Morison, as a politician, consist in? Is it clever to be deceived by a Minister of Justice who writes an abominable lie about forgetting a law that has been acted upon by his Premier and himself almost every week since they have been in power? Is it clever in Morison to approve what he knew to be a lying deception? If he was not deceived, or if he did not know, is it clever to even appear to be a fool, politically or otherwise?

The needs of a country are often sufficient justification for changes in policy. But when a compromise between honesty and dishonesty is sought, in an effort to shield a Minister of Justice's rascality, if it cannot be made without worse rascality, let it, at least, be made with such cleverness that the electorate cannot detect the taint. Even cleverness could be admired—though not the dishonesty it would conceal. Rewards for such may come hereafter.

Even though the dishonesty of the Minister of Justice has been made so apparent, Premier Morris may still retrieve himself in this regard by insisting upon Morison's dismissal. If he does not insist on that, then he merits and should get the scorn of the community. If the "ideals" of which the noble Sir Edward Morris boasted, have not received a shock, then we challenge him to read Morison's brazen plea again, and to read it without a blush. Here it is:—

"I had a license," said Morison, "to cut timber over 80 square miles of land, on which land I paid bonus and rent to the Crown for every square mile therein—and no more—according to law. I knew that I could not, by law, purchase logs, cut by others, on adjoining Crown lands, but I thought the law allowed me to go on the adjoining Crown land and cut the logs myself." In other words to steal the logs. Those are not Morison's exact words, but that was Morison's actual plea, which he put up to Governor Williams, the King's representative here. That is what Premier Morris told the Governor his Minister of Justice thought. That is what Governor Williams believed, being assured by Premier Morris that he might do so.

Morison invented the lie, and passed it on to Premier Morris. Premier Morris approved the lie, and passed it on to Governor Williams. The Governor handed their letters to the people, and said Morison was an honest man! An honest man in face of the law that Morison, as Premier, and Morison, as Minister of Justice, acted upon every week since they have been in power—the law which said that no timber shall be cut on Crown lands without first obtaining a license therefor, and paying bonus and rent in respect of every mile.

If Morison did not wilfully deceive Premier Morris, if Premier Morris did not wilfully deceive Governor Williams; then let both of them be written down as fools, and be done with. There is no further need to beat about the bush.

Yet the noble Sir Edward Morris says, "Pay no heed to what you hear!" It were just as well for him to say, "I am an honourable man. Look at my feet!" Morison, with his cold, hard, ascetic nature, says nothing. He stands condemned, though with a cynical composure. It is matter of notoriety that no voice that utters words, no type that spells them, can penetrate his impervious callousness. His mind is not acute enough to be sensitive, though it is not too dull to be brazenly cunning.

If it was Premier Morris's "political sagacity" that prompted him to unblushingly and indecently approve the shameful conduct of his Minister of Justice, then it is difficult to resist the conclusion that his "ideals" are the product of the same noble sagacity. What great wisdom did he exhibit when he made a miscalculation of anywhere from two to six million dollars in the cost of the Branch Railways? Whence came the inspiration that prompted him to pay that political angel, John C. Crosbie, the scalding price of $2200.00 for two "fourteen dollar spars"? When Sir Edward Morris assumed to himself "high ideals of statesmanship," as he did in his Manifesto, he should have added: "Pay no heed to what you hear!"

Nevertheless, it was in such a manner that Premier Morris claimed smug pretensions to virtue and raised the issue upon high ground: Will you have honesty or dishonesty in public men?

Will you have Morison, as a Minister of Justice, who advised a man to steal timber against the law, and then wilfully and brazenly deceived Governor Williams by PRETENDING he forgot the law?

Will you have a Premier who knew Morison's plea was a lying deception, and who yet approved? Will you have Piccott, as a Minister of the Crown, WHO TRIED TO CHEAT A POOR MAN out of his share of the proceeds of a timber property? Will you have John C. Crosbie, of spar notoriety, whose Company gets the APPALLING PRICE of $30,000 a year for 12 years for carrying mails in two small steamers?

Will you have a Premier who thinks so much of his name that he takes libel actions for being charged with making a deal in timber, and insists on the members of his Government doing the same, but who will not now offer any justification, excuse or palliation in behalf of himself or in behalf of the knave and the cheat he so indecently puts up for re-election?

And lastly, will you have a Premier whose very Ministers of the Crown have their names on a false and fraudulent prospectus, which document was got up for the purpose of defrauding innocent people, and which is a stinging blow to the credit of Newfoundland abroad?

Decency compels the answer that such men must be banished and that

MORRIS MUST GO.

Mr. Grace Notes.

Messrs. Young, Parsons and Piccott—for the Tory Party, and Messrs. Gordon, Modell and Gosse—for the Liberal-Union Party, were nominated at St. Paul's Hall yesterday. The only apology we make for putting the Tory candidates first in this note is that the first shall be last, and the last shall be first, for Bond can't lose here.

The betting bluff is not being worked much here now. When a man offers to bet that three, two or even one Tory will be returned here his money is quickly covered, and he sees his own or somebody's else's money go from him forever.

During the past few hours we have learned from members of the family of the young man Hare who is now in prison waiting his trial for attempting the life of His Lordship Bishop March on Sunday, that he has been untiringly and mentally afflicted for the past four years. His brothers were continually thinking about how to act, and watching him as much as possible, but they had no idea that his trouble was so grave or they would have had him in safe-keeping. We, with all our citizens, sympathize with his poor old mother, as well as his sister and brothers in their great trouble.

We were very pleased indeed to see His Lordship Bishop March about town yesterday, the best assurance that his congregation and all other citizens could have that he was not seriously injured by his terrible experience of Sunday morning.

Mr. Abram Morgan, of Bryant's Cove, while returning home on Friday night came near meeting an accident that would likely end fatally. In a sleep and dangerous part of the road leading to his home a stout rope had been securely fastened on each side of the road, with the intention no doubt of tripping his horse and precipitating both himself and the animal over the cliff—a distance of about 20 feet. Fortunately for Mr. Morgan, a woman in the Cove was taken sick, and the messenger for the doctor detected the trap and unfurled the rope a few minutes before Mr. Morgan came along. Mr. Morgan is a pronounced Liberal-Union man, and is known to be working hard for the return of his party. But is that any justification for such a dastardly attempt on a man's life? Every effort should be made to find out the guilty party and he should be punished most severely, no matter what his political opinions are.

Mr. E. Sheppard has his motor ferry on the harbour. There are 3 of a crew in the boat, which is a guarantee that the work will be well and truly performed. Enough said.

10 Cent "Cascarets" Straighten You Up

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then, and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret-to-night straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never sicken or sicken.

Nickel Theatre.

STOLEN SYMPHONY.

Hundreds attended the Nickel Theatre last night to see the picture "The Stolen Symphony," and all were delighted with it, pronouncing it the best ever seen in this city. The story is of a masterpiece having been stolen by a celebrated pianist who gave out that it was his own composition. It is by the Lubin Co. and the principal actor is Arthur V. Johnson. It sparkles with superb photography, and Mr. Kinoy was warmly complimented on it. This evening it will be repeated and we strongly advise all our readers to attend and see it or they will miss a great treat. The other pictures were also interesting.

BOND CAN'T LOSE.

That's what the People say

After October
We'll Know Him
No More.

Shout out and be gritty, you men of the city.
And you in the outports, the big and
the small;
Be up and be doing, the battle is brewing.
And soon you will cheer for the Graballs' downfall.

Your old foe the Tory, so famous in story.
For greed and oppression on New-foundland's shore;
No more shall deceive you, or give cause to grieve you.
For after October we'll know them
no more!

We'll make Morris suffer, the big Tory bluffer.
We've seen through the game which he played in the past;
He'll find in November, which he will remember,
That his day it is ended for grabbing,
at last!

His bluff and his bluster have all
lost their lustre,
He thinks more of Reid than he does of the poor;
Himself and his Tories in whom Edward glories,
Now after October, we'll know them
no more!

Graft was the hobby of Donald and Bobby,
Of Mickey and Johnnie, and all of the crew;
Railway arbitrations and jobs for relations, Likewise timber grabbing thrown in with them too!

Our gold it was squandered, and on
it we've pondered,
One conclusion we've come to, and
and that is, I'm sure,
That their day it is over, devouring our clover.
For after October, we'll know them
no more!

So arise and be gritty, you men of
the city.
The Outports are solid, the big and
the small;
For they have concluded that they were deluded,
And now they will vote for the Graballs' downfall!

The Tories are wicked, the grips are on Piccott,
The spits will "kill" Croable down
on the North Shore;
They're sick of Reids' rulin' and Morris's foolin'.
So after October we'll know them
no more
FOR CERTAIN.

Kind Words.

For Miss Ida M. Tucker.
Editor The Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Although nothing has been published in your paper about this little settlement, yet I am quite sure that we are not behind in school matters. To prove my statement, I will give a synopsis of the work done the past school year. Shortly after September 1st, 1913, our teacher, with the help of her pupils, started a concert the results of which went towards fuel for the school and other school expenses. A short while after the little band of women held a soup and tea party. A splendid map of the world was provided for the classroom and many other things for the school that space will not permit me to mention. Again, in May, an entertainment was gotten up by the women who are always to the front, the room. The 27th of August under the proceeds of which went for tar for the building and a beautiful set of lamps was arranged on both sides of the supervision of our teacher a Sunday School treat was held; our thanks are due to Mr. Arthur Tucker who very kindly lent us his field.
The children marched from the school with flags flying and shouts of cheering to the field where a very enjoyable day was spent. Thanks to all who gave assistance and to the general public, especially to Mrs. Geo.
F. Bell who so kindly provided prizes for the little ones. On Oct. 7th in the little schoolroom a soup and tea entertainment was held the proceeds of which will go towards coal for the winter. Our teacher for the past 12 months has been Miss Ida M. Tucker, whom we have the pleasure of admitting is a native of our own settlement. Too much praise and good will cannot be bestowed upon her for such interest as has she shown in her work since taking charge here. We can now boast of a nicely furnished school and fulfilling as far as possible hygienic rules; she has also given her valuable services as organist during the Rev. Canon Smith's absence. May God bless and assist her in the wish of her many FRIENDS.

Dear Sir,—I beg to say from experience that the Fairbanks Morse Engine you sold me last spring has given me every satisfaction. I was delighted with its simplicity in working, also at the speed derived from her together with the advantage derived from working her on kero. oil, if required. It has indeed exceeded all my expectations and for the future business I cannot too strongly recommend her to all intending to buy an engine.
Yours truly,
