The Broken Circle!

CHAPTER XIII.

The scene was like a dream to Leah, a dream that never quite faded. The golden flood of light that made everything so clear and distinct, the thousands of lovely fragrant flowers, the magnificent decorations, the grand crashing of the music, the fair faces, the rich dresses, the subdued silvery murmur of laughter and of sweet voices, the rhythm of the flying feet, the admiring eyes that rested on her, the deep voices, that had whispered compliments to her, lived in her memory for years. No other ball in after years was like this.

When they reached home Sir Arthur was surprised to find that his niece looked almost as dainty and as fresh as when she had started. The flowers had not withered in her hand, there was no sign of fatigue in the beautiful face, or of weariness in the dark eyes.

It has been a grand success, Leah, said Sir Arthur, as he bade her good-night—"one of which we may both be proud."

"A grand success indeed," she replied. Yet even as she said the words, a sense of desolation and loneliness filled her heart.

A little later she stood in her luxurious dressing-room. Everything that surrounded her was costly; rich jewels gleaming in their satin cases, fans, slippers, ornaments of every kind, intermixed with choice flowers, made a

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

very confusion of beauty; the delicate carpet of velvet pile was soft and thick; the hangings were of white and pink; a few choice engravings adorned the walls; treasures of marquetry, dainty carvings, and lovely statuettes told of the artistic taste which made the room a gem. She stood in the midst of it, her heart still beating with the emotion she had not been able to control. A success indeed! Yet in the olden days, so far off, when she had been with Hettie for a stroll in the wood or by the sea, or even in the crowded streets of the city, she had felt happier and less lonely than now. She had everything that wealth and affection could lavish upon her, and yet she was lonely. If only the fair, loving sister were here! If only the loving arms were round her, and she could kiss the sweet face! A success? Ay, it was that indeed! But was she really happy? Her maid had gone away, so she drew aside the curtains and stood at the widow, watching the moonlight on the trees.

Was she happy? What were the vague, curious desires that filled her heart?

No girl in this world had a brighter future. True, there was a dark background to the past; but the time to come seemed bright enough. She wondered what would make her happy? Not money; she had already many thousands, and the time would come when she would have more. Money had nothing to do with it. It was not rank or position, title or grandeur. She remembered that but a short time since she had heard the story of a beautiful and beloved young princess who was compelled from political motives to make a marriage of state. She heard of the sighs and moans that sounded at night in the palace, and how, on her wedding eve, the beautiful young princess was drugged to sleep. Ah, no it was not grandeur or rank! The heart of a queen often aches as keenly as the heart of a peasant. There was something far better worth living for than all this.

Some exquisite lines were ringing vaguely through her brain of the desire of a moth for a star. Was she the moth, and happiness the star? There must be a bright, beautiful something higher and better than rank, fame, or gold, something that was the crown of life and the treasure of womanhood. The knowledge came to her, in that silent hour, that nothing would ever content her but "a great love."

CHAPTER XIV.

During the next three years Leah Hatton was the very queen of fashion. She was more popular, more sought, after, more admired, more beloved, more envied than any other woman of her day. Her beauty grew with her years. She was twenty-one now, and the magnificent promise of her girlhood had been fulfilled. Her loveliness had grown richer; the gleam in her dark eyes was brighter; the dainty bloom that had been faint as the hue of a blush rose had deepened; the face was radiant in its own loveliness—men found it more than fair. During those three years she had presided with infinite grace over the large establishment at Brentwood and the magnificent house in town. At Brentwood she had received party after party of guests, including some of the greatest statesmen of the day, and she was considered one of the most attractive hostesses in the land. In a wonderfully short time she acquired the art of entertaining, knew "who was who," and, in fact, was equal to all the requirements of social life. She never made any mistakes. After a few weeks the general found that he could with safety leave everything to her. The servants worshipped her; one word from their beautiful young mistress was law. She was worshipped, too, by the poor around Brentwood, for she gave with a liberal hand; she was loved by all her dependents, for she was both just and generous—by all who knew her for her beauty and talents and winsome grace. At Harbury House during those three seasons she was a queen. The best dinners, the best balls, the most successful private theatricals were given there. There were many other debutantes, but no one ever approached her; the throne she held was entirely her own.

Season after season the beautiful Leah Hatton came back to the gay world with fresh graces and charms. She was singular in many respects. She made many acquaintances, but very few friends. She had no girl-friend to whom she could speak of her thoughts and feelings; her heart grew sad when she thought of any one else

BABY FRANCIS.

"No trouble during teething"

9a, Esme Rd., Sparkhill, Birmingham.

Dear Sirs,— 10.11.20.

The enclosed photograph is of my son, who is nine months old, and I am glad to say it is due to Virol, with cow's milk, that he is such a bonny lad.

He is very strong, and his flesh is quite firm, and he weighs 27 lbs. 3 ozs.

A happier child one could not wish for, and even though he has seven teeth he has no trouble during teething.

It is a pleasure to give you this letter of testimony, and I hope others may benefit by my experience.

Yours faithfully, O. E. FRANCIS.

in Hettie's place. Among the faces of the girls around her she saw not one so sweet and fair as Hettie's; and, remembering this, a coldness came to Miss Hatton which added to the effect of her proud young beauty. She was considered everywhere as the most eligible, the most desirable match of the day. It was well known that she was the general's niece; no one cared to ask whether she was the child of sister or brother. It was also well known that the whole of the general's vast fortune would be hers. She was at the very height of her popularity; people spared themselves no trouble to obtain even a glimpse of her fair face. When she went to the opera, more attention was paid to her than to the stage.

"Beautiful Leah Hatton!" What more in life could she desire than she had—wealth, popularity, affection? Yet she was not happy; her soul had found no rest. Brilliant and gay as was her life, it did not satisfy her. It was but as a dream to one who has infinite longings and infinite desires.

If Martin Ray succeeded in nothing else, he had done this for his daughter—he had taken her out of the common groove, he had made her think, he had filled her mind with a thousand ideas of life. These were always puzzling her. She had the air, the manner, the look of one whose thoughts and aims were higher and loftier than those of others. This added much to the charm of her passionate proud beauty.

Dwelling Burnt Down.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT MR. GRACE'S—OCCUPANTS BARELY ESCAPE.

A disastrous fire occurred last night (Thursday), says the Harbor Grace Standard of March 31, when the house occupied by Mr. H. Martin and family, on Stretton's Hill, formerly Capt. Tucker's, was burnt to the ground. The family had gone to bed at 10.45 p.m. and at 11.30 Mr. Martin heard something cracking and on investigating found that the lower part of the house was in flames which were rapidly nearing the stairway. He took his three young children and with his wife barely had time to get down by way of the stairs. With the help of some neighbors and some men who had been attracted by the fire, he managed to save some of the furniture from the ground floor. About $50 was in a drawer in the bedroom, and although attempts were made to save it, it could not be reached. The fire consumed the house and then attacked a large stable immediately east of the house and in a short time it was also destroyed. A horse and some sheep which were in the stable were driven out before the fire reached it. With the heavy wind from W.N.W. the house owned by the Fitzgerald estate and Brae Head were threatened by the sparks and flying flanks. The fence to the east of the destroyed property was on fire several times and a couple of trees in the Brae Head property was also on fire. The firemen present were working on the adjacent houses as Mr. Martin's house could not be saved, but the force of water from the hose from Harvey Street was small owing to the hill on which the houses are situated. The loss of his home and most of the contents is a hard blow to Mr. Martin and he has the sympathy of the whole community.

The need of the central fire bell was clearly demonstrated last night when only people to the east and near the east end bell were alarmed. The people from the central and western parts of the town who happened to be up and saw the reflection were the only ones in that locality to know of the fire, with the result that the number of men at hand to lend any assistance necessary was small. It was remarked by several men present that if the firemen were equipped with ropes and a couple of grapnels for use at similar fires, outhouses might be removed and fires would be better kept from spreading.

N. F. Sailor Killed by Falling Block.

Reporting that William Rice, a member of her crew, had died at sea on February 18, from injuries received when a becket block fell from the mast head, striking him on the head, the Newfoundland schooner John W. Miller, put into port yesterday afternoon (Morning Chronicle, Halifax, March 23). The schooner came here to land her cook, Joseph Pike, of Carboneau, Nfld., who is seriously ill.

According to the story told by Captain Stanley Duder and members of the crew, Rice lived unconscious for three days after the accident. They were oiling the spars at the time he was injured and the block fell, hitting him on the head. Everything possible was done for the injured seaman, and after three days unconsciousness he passed away and was buried at sea.

William Rice was a native of Cape Broyle, Nfld., 26 years of age and single. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Rice and leaves two brothers, one of whom is a police officer in St. John's, and the other on the schooner Jean Campbell.

The schooner, which is out 66 days from Bahla for St. John's in ballast, was within 120 miles of St. John and was forced to sail off shore owing to ice. The vessel passed through three large fields of ice, one of which was over 20 miles long. She endeavored to make Louisburg but could not penetrate the icefields off the Cape Breton Coast.

On arrival here yesterday the schooner was boarded by Dr. Judson V. Graham, port doctor, who ordered the cook taken to the hospital.

The Jean W. Miller was built at Shelburne in 1915 and is owned by Sir John Crosbie of St. John's.

Thirty-two Years Away.

IT TAKES THAT TIME FOR LIGHT FROM SOME STARS TO REACH US.

Many of the stars we see in the heavens to-day are no longer there! They died scores of thousands of years ago. We will go on "seeing" them because the light rays they gave off all that while back continue to reach us.

There is a star called Aldebaran, easily distinguishable from the others because of its bright red colour. We see this star—M. Camille Flammarion tells us, in "Death and Its Mystery"—not as it is to-day, but as it was thirty-two years ago. If it had vanished thirty years back it would still be visible to us to-day, and we should go on "seeing" it for another two years before it finally disappeared from our ken.

The reason for this is that Aldebaran is thirty-two "light years" distant from our earth. In other words, it takes that length of time for a ray of light, travelling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, to bridge the gulf

It's Flavor that Makes the Meal!

And the sauces that the Libby chefs have adapted for you give flavor to the simplest dishes.

It may be eggs, or macaroni, or a cheap cut of meat—an unusual and delicious sauce will make it something you eat with delight and remember with pleasure—because of its flavor.

LIBBY'S CATCHUP and CHILI SAUCE are made from red, ripe tomatoes, grown in the fertile soil of Kent County, Ontario, picked when they are mellowed by the sunshine of long summer days, then rushed to the nearby Libby kitchen.

Here in sunny rooms the tomatoes are cooked with fragrant spices, onions, sugar and the best vinegar—cooked for hours until all the flavors are blended through and through.

Now the sauce is ready to give an appetizing relish to your steaks and chops, or a new piquancy to the meat gravy you serve with your roasts.

Your grocer has, or can get you, Libby's Catchup or Chili Sauce. Use it with your cold meat teas and note how quickly the second helping is necessary.

The delightful flavor of Libby's Beans is due largely to the wonderful Sauce prepared by the skilled chefs. Have you tried them?

that separates us from it. A "light" then Aldebaran would be, by comparison, or distance travelled by a ray of light in twelve months, is approximately 5,761,000,000,000 miles. It is because of this that it looks so small to us. In reality this twinkling star is a fiery furnace many times larger than our sun. More than 10,000,000 earths would be required to make one as big as Aldebaran. Imagine our sun to be only one mile away instead of 93,000,000 miles. Even

Forty-Three Years in the Public Service—The Evening Telegram

A Question for Manufacturers.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Through the columns of your esteemed paper may I ask for an explanation of a matter that is somewhat a puzzle to a great many of your readers. Why is it that so many business men who own or are interested in local factories import so much goods that these factories can produce? For some time past there has been a cry of Buy Home Made Goods. Circulars to this effect have been sent to shopkeepers and clerks. The notice was posted on telegraph and telephone light poles and bill boards. It was also stamped on letters going through the Post Office. Was all this purely a farce? Are not the men who were behind this movement the men who are importing what they should be producing? There is something behind this matter that the public cannot understand. For instance, a well known firm on Water Street imports from New York a pair of boots and sells them for $3.50. They are genuine leather and in style, fit or finish they cannot be excelled. The workman in New York who made these boots was paid one and a half times as much as the local man. The manufacturer in America does not conduct his business at a loss, yet these goods can be sold here at least 40 cents cheaper than the local made. You cannot buy the lowest grade local made shoe for less than $3.90. The same conditions apply to clothing, paint, soap, tobacco, and those who have interests in the local factories are the ones who import these goods. There is need of an explanation on this all important subject. Tyranny, hypocrisy and bluffing caused people in other lands to wake up, and there are signs that the awakening is coming here too. Why do not the men who are shouting "Buy local made goods" come out and tell us why the local goods are dearer than the imported and inferior in quality. This is a time for co-operation and conscientious work.

Yours sincerely,
B.F.V.

THE REAL PEOPLE.
When everything is said and done And all the "isms" talked about, The freaks all counted, one by one, And catalogued and singled out, We settle down once more to find The mass of human folk is kind.

A few there are who go astray, A few live most unhappy lives, Some women tread the scarlet way, Some husbands quarrel with their wives, But millions, when the day is sped, See that their children go to bed.

The drab triangle doesn't rise As commonly as some declare, The average father daily tries To meet with courage every care, He's after things his own can use, His problem's not of sex, but shoes. He lives his life from day to day According to the common plan, A time for work, a time for play, Content to do the best he can, And by his side the average wife Shares all the joys and cares of life.

The happy homes are countless here, The honest men outnumber far The shady, crooked and the queer, On every street good mothers are, So I am deaf to him who shrieks That life is fashioned by the freaks.

Kyle's Crew Take Seals.

SCROONERS SAIL FROM CHANNEL.
Capt. Stevenson of S.S. Kyle reports that on the recent trip to Louisburg the ship passed through numerous seals. They were so thick that in less than an hour the crew killed over 150 and put them on board. One of the ships deck hands got 30 on one pan, while the second Engineer got 11 as his share. The seals average about 55 lbs. and Capt. Stevenson wirelessed the Viking giving Capt. Barrett particulars of the catch. It is learned that a couple of scooners have left Channel and the prospects are good for getting full loads.

Lloyd George Retains Confidence of Commons.

French Premier Also Sustained by Deputies
--Republican Soldiers Stop Collin's Meeting--
Inter-cine Strife Threatened-- Conciliation Board for Nova Scotia.

THE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.
LONDON, April 3.
Premier Lloyd George is to appear before the House of Commons this afternoon and ask an expression of confidence on the Government's policy toward the International Economic Conference at Genoa. He is expected to receive a substantial majority. Mr. Lloyd George is "stick of office," according to the speech of his son, Major Lloyd George, but greatly improved in health after three weeks rest. The Premier's resolution reads: "Resolved that this House approve the resolutions passed by the Supreme Council at Cannes, as the basis of the support His Majesty's Government in Genoa Conference, and that it will endeavour to give effect to them." Notice is given of seven amendments, but that of the Labour Party is given priority. It reads: "While approving the International Economic and Financial Conference, this House regrets that the scope of the Genoa discussions has been so circumscribed that the Conference must fall short of settlement of the political and economic evils which affect Europe, and it is the opinion that a Government which clearly has not the confidence of the country, and which is responsible for a policy whose unfortunate effects are too clear at Genoa, is not competent to represent the country."

POINCARÉ SUSTAINED.
PARIS, April 3.
After a discussion of the Government's foreign policy, the Chamber of Deputies to-night voted confidence in the Poincaré ministry by 484 to 78. The Washington gathering was many times termed a humiliation for France, and the point was urged that the French delegation to Genoa should not be placed in a position similar to the French delegation to Washington.

CONCILIATION BOARD 'RECONVENED.'
OTTAWA, April 3.
Premier King announced in the House late to-day that a conciliation board to investigate the mining dispute in Nova Scotia would be reconvened unconditionally.

FREE STATE RULE DENIED.
MULTINGAR, County Westmeath, April 3.—An incident from which sensational developments are anticipated, occurred this morning when 100 from State troops marched to the gates of the barracks occupied by the Irish Republican Army adherents of Eamonn DeValera and were refused admission.

ANOTHER CHURCH DESTROYED.
MONTREAL, April 3.
The Church of the Sacred Heart was destroyed by fire here to-day, with a loss of $500,000 with $200,000 insurance.

TASCHEREAU'S HINT TO KING.
QUEBEC, April 3.
In face of the Fordney Tariff and high American railway rates on Canadian products, Premier Taschereau, of Quebec, suggested that the Ottawa Government might take note of the fact that 10,000 acres of freehold forest land was being raided in Canada every year to supply one million tons of pulp wood to American mills. The export of pulp wood from Crown lands is prohibited by Quebec.

It is claimed an agreement between eastern and southern members of Congress has been made to sidetrack the St. Lawrence River Canalization project for the present.

A SILLY RUMOUR DENIED.
LONDON, April 3.
The Canadian Press is authorized by a high authority to say that there is no truth whatever in the story appearing in American papers that Lady Patricia Ramsay and her husband have for months been practically separated and living apart.

USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS FOR SICK KIDNEYS.
George Roberts who Suffered from Fall Stones and Rheumatism tells Canadians why he Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Malpas, Cheshire, England, April 3. (Special)—Mr. George Roberts who lives on Church Street here sends a message of cheer to sufferers from Kidney Disease in Canada. His message is "Use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"For 11 years I suffered from acute pains and sickness," Mr. Roberts states "I consulted 12 different doctors and each one had a different opinion. My wife who had used Dodd's Kidney Pills for the same trouble urged me to try them and I did so with splendid results."

"For several years I have been in the best of health and have lost no time through sickness. The rheumatism from which I suffered has also disappeared."

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills for your sick kidneys ask your neighbors about them.

The first evening in the fish the crew killed 900 and during the next couple of days had a load on board. The schooner returned to Port Union on the 27th. Should conditions prove favorable, Capt. White will again go out and seek a load of old seals.

Aroused at Last.

There are several familiar proverbs, all in everyday use, which may be very appositely quoted to-day. Everybody will recognize their applicability, and will agree to their appropriateness under the circumstances. One is "constant dropping wears away the stone." Another "misfortunes like chickens come home to roost," and yet another "even the worm will turn." Abraham Lincoln's expression that "you may fool half the people all the time, and all the people half the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time" is as true to-day as it was on the occasion when it was uttered. The present Government worked and has been working with the fixed idea that it could fool all the people all the time. If proof is needed study carefully its doings and its legislation. All the experience gained in their three sessions of the Legislature has not given the leaders of the administration any wisdom. The rank and file does not need any. They blindly lead. But, as in every case, where tyrannical and unjust laws are imposed on a free people, they rise in indignant protest and often in their might hurl Government from power, so to-day in St. John's—if not all over Newfoundland—the people have begun to slough their apathy, and are awakening from their slumbers. The leaders are aroused, and the sound of the tocsin of alarm will be heard throughout the land. The worm has turned. The weight of the burden placed on the shoulders of demos has been deliberately increased, year after year by those who professed to be apostles of economy in public expenditure. No longer can either the classes or the masses stagger under the load, and if something is not done quickly all will fall by the wayside and the lamp of trade, commerce and production will cease to burn. But a blow is about to be struck: is being struck in fact as these lines are passing through the hands of the printer. The Board of Trade, the highest commercial body in the land, is assembled in session, the object being to arouse public sentiment against the evils and iniquities of the Government. Having long groaned under an intolerable system of taxation, having been restricted in their business by Acts of Parliament, many being near brought to the verge of bankruptcy, some having dropped over the edge, the members of the Board find that they can no longer remain silent, if the best interests of Colony and population are to be served. Therefore they are now engaged in discussing the financial condition of the Colony having regard to (1) The Estimates for 1922-23 as submitted by the Minister of Finance, (2) The Tariff as it is, (3) Fishing Supplies past and to come, and

(4) The Proposal of the Government to add further to the taxes already being collected. Other matters arising out of these four subjects will also be dealt with intelligently and squarely. The Board of Trade represents no political party, neither has it as an organization any political predilections. The personal views of its members on political matters do not come into the range of discussion. The benefit and advancement of Newfoundland is the prevailing idea, and the backing of the people, if not in St. John's then in the outports, should be given. The strength of the sixteen electoral districts outside St. John's East and West, should support the Board of Trade in the uphill work that they have to-day voluntarily undertaken. True they have been a long time making up their mind, but better late than never. With public opinion behind them, strengthening their determination and decision, it may be made possible for the bright light of prosperity to be made shine forth from the present darkness of depression. Public sentiment, public spirit, public opinion, needs to be aroused. All that is wanted are leaders. The Telegram backs the Board of Trade, in the present movement, and will do all in its power to place facts and particulars of to-day's meeting before the public of Newfoundland.

Twenty Years Ago To-Day.

(Evening Telegram, April 4th, 1902.) Quite a number of schooners from the westward arrived in port to take supplies for the fishery. Landmen between Cat Harbor and Western Arm hauled 700 seals ashore. Hadda Mullah, a fanatic with 5,000 armed followers, marched on Cabul Afghanistan, to make trouble for the British. Cecil Rhodes body taken to Rhodesia.

The Society of United Fishermen, of which two Lodges are already formed in Cape Breton, one at Sydney and one at North Sydney, is planning to broaden out by the establishment of three more Lodges in the district. The Sydney and North Sydney branches are now in flourishing condition and rapidly gaining membership. Star of the Sea Forms Ladies' Association.

The lady friends of the Star of the Sea Association met in the spacious meeting room of the Star of the Sea Hall last evening. The meeting was largely attended. Several letters were received from lady friends regretting their non-attendance owing to previous engagements but expressing their sympathy with this deserving movement and their willingness to become associated with the project at the first opportunity. The Executive of the Association was present. Rev. Dr. Greene, President Martin and Treasurer T. Kelly made short addresses. Much enthusiasm was displayed and the ladies entered into the movement in a manner that assures success. The balloting for the different offices showed a keen interest in the selection, and the following were elected amid much enthusiasm: President, Mrs. D. Dempsey; Vice-Pres., Mrs. M. J. Leonard; Treasurer, Mrs. G. F. Trainor; Secretary, Miss Kitty Payne.

Seals Seen Off Pouch Cove.

700 MUCH SEA FOR OPERATIONS. The easterly wind prevailing the past couple of days has driven heavy ice in on the land and from Cape Spear around to Conception Bay the coast is now blocked. Should the ice pack together it is not improbable that the landmen in this vicinity will make a haul.

The Budget.

HIGHER POSTAGE FORESHADOWED. It is expected that the Budget Speech will be delivered in the House tomorrow afternoon. No major alterations are expected in the tariff. Higher postage on foreign letters is foreshadowed. This recommendation will be made by the Minister of Posts and will suggest that the postage on foreign letters should be raised to four cents, which is the rate now in force in England, Canada and many other countries. This might possibly mean a substantial increase in revenue. Other means whereby the Government hopes to augment their revenue are the Income Tax and Business Profits Tax, both of which are now before the House in the Committee stage, and in the form of Resolutions. The Income Tax Resolutions will form an important point in the discussion which will be taken place at to-day's meeting of the Board of Trade.

The Tariff Commission.

AN UNWELDY COMMITTEE. It is understood that the personnel of the Tariff Revision Committee will be announced in the House to-morrow afternoon. The Commission consists of nine members and Hon. H. J. Brewin, Minister of Finance, will be the Chairman. Mr. H. W. LeMessurier, Assistant Collector of Customs, will be a member, and other members are Messrs. J. V. O'Brien and Fred Angel. The latter is representing the Manufacturer's Association. The Commission will begin its activities as early as possible and from time to time will make recommendations to the Governor in Council. The whole tariff will be considered. The revision was that of 1898. Since then there have been occasional amendments, particularly with regard to classification. Several questions of policy will have to be decided by the Commission such as matters of protective tariff and kindred questions. These matters could be dealt with more easily by a smaller commission as it is doubtful whether the one to be appointed will have the right to decide them.

West Coast Fishery.

SCHOONERS HAVE POOR FARES. The fishery report from Rose Blanche to Hermitage for the week ending March 11th gives the total as 440 and altogether 4,300 qts. The report states that there was good fishing on the outer banks, but nothing worth while on the usual fishing grounds. On Tuesday, March 7th the boats and schooners on the outer bank found fish plentiful and many of the boats averaged 10 qts. or 20 cwt. per day. The following Wednesday and Thursday drift ice was over the ground. On the Tuesday mentioned the schooner did well and one hauled for 120 qts. for the day's work, others ranging from 60 to 100 qts. On the whole the schooners are poorly fished for the length of season they have been prosecuting the voyage.

The Boatman's Pay.

FIVE MEN DOING WORK OF SEVEN. As estimates have been tabled it is noticed that in at least one department there has been a reduction. This department is the Boat House. The decrease in boatmen's wages here has been made possible by making 5 men do the work formerly done by seven. Whilst this principle could be applied with benefit in many directions, it is not fair that those called upon to do the extra work should not receive better pay. The boatmen have a most responsible job. They work 16 hours per week for 265 days a year and receive $61.50 per month. Surely men holding positions where temptations are frequent are deserving of better remuneration. SABLE I SAILS.—S. S. Sable I, sailed for Halifax at 10 a.m., taking the following passengers: J. H. Our Local Happys

HIS DIARY. April 3rd.—Mr. Jennings, that is Minister of Public Works, waits upon me in the morning and would have me represent to the editor the Telegram news sheet how it did incorrectly report him about his discourse in the Parliament. Sat at the office all the morning and there heard a mighty amusing tale, being of a man that did work at shovelling snow for relief and makes complaint that his overseer did dismiss him, being that he did no work. A most strange thing, and hard to believe, although I think it to be true. The House all of the afternoon and some part of the night on the business of the Loan Resolutions. Some opposition there was to them. Great high words upon Sir R. Squires making a speech, but the Resolutions pass the House at long last. I met Mr. Ashbourne, Mr. Cheeseman and others and we did fall to discourse of the situation of the country, which is indeed, ill and little like to recover for many months. THE WORK OF QUEEN'S COLLEGE. A large audience listened with keen interest to Dr. Facey's lecture on Queen's College at the Synod Hall last night. His Lordship Bishop White was present and in a brief address explained the object of Dr. Facey's lecture. He referred to the shortage of clergy and the need of training men for the vacant missions. He congratulated Dr. Facey on his energy and initiative on behalf of Queen's College. Dr. Facey's address was a masterpiece. He first dealt with the history of the various Bishops and the past they had played in the building up of Queen's College and the Diocese. He referred in particular to Bishop Field, the great statesman Bishop. The lecturer pointed out the great necessity of endowing Queen's College as the best way to solve the difficult problems of the supply and training of men. The College had already given 140 priests to the diocese. The address was illustrated by 50 lantern slides. His Lordship proposed a vote of thanks to Dr. Facey and his excellent lecture. He then brought the proceedings to a close with the Benediction.

At the House.

MAIN RESOLUTIONS PASSED ON DIVISION - PREMIER REPLIES TO OPPOSITION CRITICISM - HEATED DEBATE - HOUSE ADJOURNS TILL WEDNESDAY.

After a debate which lasted through four sessions, including three special sittings, the Loan Resolutions were passed by the House on a strictly party vote. The last day of the debate proved most exciting as the Prime Minister, when replying, was frequently interrupted, and a heated discussion took place. Several members of the Opposition replied to the Leader of the Government before the Resolutions were allowed to go through. The House was then adjourned until Wednesday afternoon.

A QUESTION OF QUESTIONS.

In replying to Mr. Bennett's question concerning Dr. Campbell's attendance at the Fever Hospital, the Prime Minister took up upon himself to rebuke the Opposition press because these naughty papers would only publish the questions asked and not the answers. Unfortunately, Sir Richard forgot that even reporters are only human, and to attempt to take down the answers read by him is a difficult task. If he is so anxious to have all answers to questions published he should see that the press is furnished with copies. The answer to Mr. Bennett's question took the form of a reprimand for that member who had dared to ask a question based upon an anonymous letter. The Prime Minister said there was absolutely no truth in the charge against Hon. Dr. Campbell nor did he think that the Minister had on any occasion neglected his duty.

Mr. Bennett resented the tone of the reply as it had not been his intention to make any insinuation against Dr. Campbell. A serious charge had been made and he thought it merited an investigation.

A SEA OF TROUBLES.

Upon the House going into Committee upon the Loan Resolutions, the Prime Minister "took arms against a sea of troubles" but instead of ending them, he found himself floundering deeper in the mire before he had finished. He said that he did not propose to reply to personal attacks upon himself. His motto for many years had been "Never explain; your friends do not need it, your enemies will not believe it." He had acted upon that for the last ten years and would not depart from it now. This called forth a trite remark from Mr. Higgins to the effect that considering the state of the country, it was a safe course to take. The Prime Minister continuing, referred to what he termed "deliberate misrepresentations" on the part of the Opposition. He even went so far as to quote "You hear the truth, twisted by knives to make a trap for fools." This called forth a storm of protest from the Opposition benches and for several minutes the debate waxed hot. The Opposition attitude, according to the Prime Minister, was responsible for the existent depression.

Mr. Higgins—"Is that what is causing the Board of Trade meeting to-morrow?"

Sir Richard attempted an explanation of last year's loan, and of the increased estimates for this year. He said Supplementary Supply would not exceed $750,000. He also had not the slightest fear that the required revenue would be obtained. He believed that the Badger-Hall's Bay road would be an asset to the country, and concluded his speech by laying stress upon the need for co-operation.

GOVERNMENT APATHY.

Mr. Higgins replied to the Prime Minister. A wholesome energetic effort on the part of the Government was needed if anything were to be done to relieve the situation. This effort the Government had not attempted to make. It would be impossible to obtain increased taxation. The estimates for the public service were the same as last year. The country would on July 1st, embark on an expenditure it could not afford. It was the bounden duty of the Government to decrease the estimates. The Opposition asked them only to carry out the programme on which they had been elected. The charge that the Opposition had opposed last year's loan was ridiculous because it was the suggestion of that party that the amount was raised from four to six millions. If we could not curtail expenditure we were unfit to govern ourselves.

NO INCONSISTENCIES.

Sir Michael Cashin refuted the charge of inconsistency brought against him. He had by no means made mention of all the Government scandals upon which he had information. He referred particularly to the matter of sessional pay of members of the House. In spite of the Civil Servants' Salaries Reduction Bill, every member of the House had had his full pay sent him. He asked if the same had not been done in the case of the Judges of the Supreme Court, where other reductions had been promised. He said that he believed the Government were planning to bring the country into Confederation or to make a Crown Colony of it. All the Government thought of was spending money and raising loans.

ON PARTY VOTE.

Mr. Fox objected to an attempt by the Chairman of Committees to hurry the resolutions through. He announced his intention to oppose the resolutions for three reasons:

- (1) Unwarranted and wasteful expenditure of public monies.
- (2) Because many of the appropriations had been made by Committee of Council, which meant a violation of the privileges of the House.
- (3) As a public protest against the actions of the Government.

He concluded a lengthy speech, carried the debate into a night sitting, by stating his belief that public opinion which had so long been dormant, had at last been aroused.

Mr. MacDonnell also announced his intention of voting against the Resolutions.

A division was challenged and the Resolutions were carried by a party vote. Similar divisions were accorded the passage of the Bill. Adjournment was then taken until to-morrow.

Memorial Billiards.

MASONS SUFFER FIRST DEFEAT.

The Masons suffered their first defeat in the Memorial Billiard Tournament last night, but are still well in the lead. Seven games were played yesterday. The best break for the day was 37, known as the "City" was defeated by Pearce (C.E.I.) in the first game by 85 points, but playing in the next game he made up for this by defeating Strang (Saints) by 149 points. The third game was between Newbury (Guards) and Power (K. of C.) It was very close, and the former won by the small margin of five points. In the evening, Edwards gained another victory for the C.E.I. by defeating McLoughlin (City) by 70 points. Fox (Masonic) played in the next game, and beat Carbery (Star) by 124 points. The next game was a surprise one, for Rabbits (Masonic) who had previously been unbeaten, was defeated by French (B.I.S.) by 83 points. In the final game, McFarlane (Saints) defeated Moakler (K. of C.) by 68 points. Ten games more have yet to be played. The standing of the Clubs is now—

Very Unsatisfactory.

RAILWAY SHOULD BE SCRAPPED.

(Harbor Grace Standard)

The facts and figures, given in the report of Mr. Morgan, of the Railway System, show that the whole business is in a very unsatisfactory condition. Mr. Morgan among other recommendations advises the abrogation of the contract, the increase of freights, the purchasing of new equipment and general remodeling of the whole system. Does the country's need require the undertaking of new obligations in order to put a non-paying venture on a safe footing? The original idea of making Newfoundland the highway to and from the United States to European points, which was the chief inducement in the building of the cross-country railway and which was boosted for all it was worth at the time of the starting of the proposition, has been exploded and there are few men now who care to express a favorable opinion on the result. The fact is that the whole railway policy has been not only beyond our means but beyond our needs as well. The highway of our country is the water, and the building of the branch lines was but a vain attempt to show off the wisdom of would-be statesmen and Empire builders. Unfortunately the people have to pay for the experiments made, pay for the mail subsidies, pay excessive freight and passenger charges, and then pay for the rehabilitation of a worn and rundown narrow gauge line. Nearly two million dollars of the people's money found their way into the hands of those who were in charge of the system last year, and now the modest suggestion is made that further contributions will be given by the people to place the system on a paying basis. Scrap the whole arrangement. Build motor roads throughout the whole country by which the traffic that cannot be handled by the water route will be catered to, and with greater satisfaction and at less cost than the narrow gauge line of the Newfoundland railroad at present exists.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

THEY ALL GET THERE.

REGINA, Sask., April 4. Premier Martin, of Saskatchewan, placed his resignation in the hands of Lieutenant-Governor Newlands last night. It is expected that Hon. Charles Dunning, Provincial Treasurer, will succeed him. Premier Martin is slated for a judgeship in the Court of Appeals, Saskatchewan.

THE LESSER EVIL.

TOKIO, April 4. The immediate evacuation of Siberia has been decided by the Japanese Cabinet, according to Tokio newspapers. They attribute this decision to the activity of the Reds, which one newspaper says places Japanese forces in the position of having to fight Soviet troops, or make peace. In either case Japan would suffer, say the newspapers.

BIG WIN FOR L. G.

LONDON, April 4. It was an overwhelming victory for Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons yesterday, when he was given confidence of the House by a vote of 372 to 84. This had the effect of a quick, violent thunderstorm in clearing the political atmosphere. Apparently stung by intimations that he was dodging a direct vote of confidence in presenting his resolution calling for the support of the Government's policy towards the Genoa conference, the Premier threw down the gauntlet early in the debate, and declared the Cabinet would stand or fall on the result of the division. The result left no doubt as to the strength of the Government. The Opposition centred its attack behind a Laborite amendment. When that went down in an avalanche of "Nays" the issue was as good as decided, and the debate became perfunctory.

ANTI-LABOR COALITION.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 3. Anti-Labor Coalition is assured by the New South Wales elections, Anti-Labor forces having gained six seats.

CUSTOMS INCREASE.

HALIFAX, April 3. Customs import duties, and other customs collected for this port, during March was $405,860, compared with $368,773 last year.

CHANGE IN FRENCH ATTITUDE.

PARIS, April 4. The French attitude toward the Genoa Conference has undergone a great change in the last forty-eight hours, the coolness and skepticism previously shown in official circles having given way to a sentiment that something must come out of the Conference, and that the French delegation must go to work wholeheartedly to that end. Premier Poincare has definitely decided to go himself, as soon as his official duties permit.

NEARLY one million people live in Montreal and suburbs. More travellers and tourists pass through, and stay there, in one month, than stay in any other Canadian city in six months. It is also the coming Convention City of Canada.

Yet there are less fireproof hotel bedrooms in Montreal than in one hotel—The Billmore—New York. Less than one thousand, in fact, whereas Cleveland has 5,000, Buffalo 2,000, although neither Buffalo nor Cleveland are ocean ports or railroad terminals.

Then, remember, that the Hotel will be operated by the United Hotels Company of America. This company has made a financial success of every hotel it has managed. It turned the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, from a losing proposition into a profitable enterprise for investors.

Consider these facts, therefore, in the light of making an investment in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, at par and interest, carrying a 30% Common Stock Bonus.

CHEER UP, IT ISN'T REALLY.

"My life" is a and not least, she has a wonderful self discipline which makes her endure serenely and cheerfully circumstances which would make nine women out of ten irritable and resentful.

Unqualified Success. Shouldn't you think that woman would have every reason to feel as if her life were an unqualified success?

And yet in a moment of despondency she said to me "My life is a failure."

That is the way the blue glass of despondency can distort and color facts.

Of course there is seldom such a wide discrepancy between the truth and the way it looks as there was in this particular case, but at least it suggests how easy it is to go to the extreme of self disgust in one mood, just as we go to the extreme of self approval in another.

As I intimated before, I don't suppose there is anyone worthwhile in the world who has not said at some time "My life is a failure."

Do you remember St. Paul's "For what I would that I do not; but what I hate that do I."

If we do not realize how far we were from the ideal we aim at we should be fools and blind. But there is some comfort in knowing that others have felt the same way and yet have been accounted good, and even great, by mankind.

Legislative Council.

MONDAY, April 3rd.

The House opened at 4 p.m. Following the reading of the minutes the acting leader of the Government, Hon. M. G. Winter, tabled the report of the Select Committee on the Delinquent Children Bill.

The Bill "An Act to amend Chapter 75 of the Consolidated Statutes entitled "Of Sufferers from Marine Disasters" passed the third reading without amendment.

A Bill "An Act to regulate the Importation, Exportation, Manufacture, Sale and Use of Opium and other dangerous drugs," and a Bill "An Act to amend Chapter 22 of the Consolidated Statutes entitled "Of the Customs," were given final reading. Slight amendments were made to these bills when in committee and the House of Assembly was notified accordingly.

The House went into Committee on a Bill "An Act for the Disposal of surplus funds collected for Hospital Cots." When the clerk read that an to endow a cot owing to having a hospital in Jerusalem, Hon. P. Templeman took exception to the vote. He said he did not think that we were so well off here that we need send money as far away as Jerusalem, and he wanted to know the explanation.

Hon. Mr. Winter who had charge of the Bill, stated that such allocation of the surplus funds was desired by Mr. L. E. Emerson.

Sir P. T. McGrath, whose participation in many phases of war work brought him in contact with the work of the Ambulance Corps, explained that after the capture of Jerusalem by General Allenby, it was proposed that all the dominions should endow for all time a bed in the military hospital. It was made possible for this Colony of their contract and exemption from surplus to the credit of our cot fund.

Sir Patrick regretted that the Bill had gone through the Lower House without any comment on the great effort made by the Ambulance Corps during the war. Altogether $130,000 had been raised for cots for the wounded, and of this amount $118,000 had been expended, and it was a portion of the balance that was being set aside to establish and endow in perpetuity the cot at Jerusalem.

Hon. Dr. Campbell agreed with the view expressed by Hon. Mr. Templeman. He thought that every dollar in Newfoundland was needed here. There were a large number of our own soldiers who needed constant hospital treatment and the money could be used in that direction.

Hon. Mr. Templeman again stated that he would not support the Bill. He thought it was uncalled for, and would not be agreed to by those who subscribed to the fund, some of whom had to borrow the money. "It is absurd, scandalous and ridiculous to send money to Jerusalem for a hospital cot when people no farther away than Bonavista were dying because they could not get hospital treatment," said the speaker. "We are not fit to handle money at all," he concluded.

Sir P. T. McGrath regretted that hon. members were taking a wrong view of the matter and would lead one to believe that he had taken sole care of our soldiers in hospital. "The fact is we did not do, and could not do. It had cost Canada and Australia millions of dollars to care for its wounded in hospitals. It took all our efforts to finance the pay roll. The British Government fed and clothed our men and it is also contributing a substantial amount to the pensions of the Naval Reservists. In view of these facts I don't see how this vote should be challenged, said Sir Patrick. The Bill comes up for a third reading to-morrow.

A Bill "An Act to amend the Law Society Act," passed the Committee stage but not without some debate. The Bill makes it possible for a law student to enter the profession without a University course. Several of the members objected on the ground that there was already too many lawyers.

Hon. Dr. Campbell thought that the Law Society should be affiliated with some University that specializes in the training of law students, and that students should qualify and pass specific examinations before being admitted to the bar.

The second reading of Bill "An Act to amend the Act Geo. V, Cap. 6, entitled "An Act to confirm a Contract between the Government and the St. Lawrence Timber Pulp and Steamship Co., Ltd." was deferred on request of the Minister of Agriculture and Mines.

This company is seeking an extension of time for the fulfilment of the terms of their contract an exemption from taxation for a further period.

The House adjourned at 5:30 until this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

"FLU" NEARLY KILLED HER

"I was so weak that I had lost interest in everything."

Because Mrs. McGregor let herself become run down, read what happened. "Like a great many other people who got the 'flu' a few years ago," she writes, "it left me in a weakened, run down condition. Nothing seemed to bring back my old strength and energy. I was tired all the time. I had no appetite. I had dull pains all over my body. I suffered agony with headaches. I was dependent and took no interest in anything. I was nervous. I was irritable and was always looking for slight. I was losing weight. I was in such a nervous, weakened, run down condition, that last spring I got pneumonia. My family didn't think I would live and the doctor told me afterwards that it was only because I had a strong heart that I managed to pull through. By the time I was out of danger, I was so weak and tired that I had lost interest in everything. I tried several preparations to build me up but none of them did me any good. One day a friend who had been very ill called in to see me. Looking at the picture of health, I asked her what she had been doing with herself to look so well and fat. She said that Carnol had done wonders for her and advised me to try it. As the evidence of what Carnol had done for my friend could not be denied, I decided to follow her advice. Today I think Carnol the most wonderful preparation in the world. It has made me a happy, healthy, contented woman."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

when a man steps down the street a cloudburst lifts him off his feet, and drags him through a yellow flood, and slams him in a bank of mud. "And now," methought, "the booster gets will surely feel like fourteen cents; all chilled by frost and soaked by rain, they'll cease their glad and wild refrain. I'll chase me down to their retreat, and note their cold and clammy feet." And lo, the boosters cried "Odsfish! What more could any mortals wish? These showers that soak the sea and would are worth their weight in minted gold. The frost and snow will prove, gee whizz, how versatile our climate is! Oh, hither come," the boosters cried, "where every weather curve is tried! We spring some feature every hour, a squall, a snowstorm or a shower!" I sighed, while joggling back through town, "You cannot keep good boosters down!"

A Child's Guide to the Professions.

"THE POLITICIAN." He is a very wily bird. He must be hard to be; He must do things that seem absurd. Perhaps, to you and me.

His talents must be versatile. If for success he strives; He has to have a pleasant smile For other people's wives.

He must not mind if he's abused; His skin must needs be thick; He always has to seem amused. Although he's rather sick.

He must know how to use his tongue. And talk for many hours; He never hears his praises sung— Though always singing ours.

He must at all times be prepared To share his hard-earned pay (If there's enough left to be shared) He can't say voters, Nay!

He often has to turn his coat A dozen times a week; And if he wants to earn a vote He must be very meek.

A politician's life is hard. Avoid it like the plague; My child, all thoughts of it discard. Or, let them still be vague.

FAMOUS COMEDY STARS AT THE NICKEL

What was considered one of the finest high-class comedies seen in a long while, was witnessed at the Nickel Theatre last night. The picture is entitled "Twin Beds" and it is starred by Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven, formerly well known vaudeville artists of Broadway fame. To the fine acting of these leaders, to careful attention to atmosphere on the part of Lloyd Ingraham, the director must be attributed the exceptionally good entertainment provided by "Twin Beds." The picture as a whole is developed along pleasing comedy lines and will add to the two stars' growing reputation. It makes a favorable appeal and affords excellent entertainment. To those who like good comedy, they will get it in abundance in this feature. The other attraction is of course the current interesting chapter of "King of the Circus" featuring Eddie Polo, the king of aerial stars. To-night the show will be repeated.

Government Disregard For Economic Law.

Review of the Past Year --- Demoralizing the Fishermen.

last year, I had occasion to attempt to review the economic situation of the country, and now, encouraged by your effort, I propose to outline the situation which exists at the present time. As I said before, no man is now, I am by no means a pessimist, but that does not prevent me from seeing that Newfoundland is in a worse condition, economically, than ever before in her history. There are some who believe that an optimistic who is forever looking through coloured spectacles, and who completely overlooks any signs of disaster. That is an entirely erroneous for in my opinion, optimism consisting of seeing misfortunes when they are, and doing one's best to combat them. The people of Newfoundland have united effort, economy and only united effort, through the crisis of our financial difficulties.

FISHERY SUPPLIES.

The question of supplying for the fishery will soon demand the attention of the Government, and it yet remains to be seen whether they propose to continue the absurd policy which they adopted last year, and which tended more than anything else to the utter demoralisation of the people. In a sense, it was worse than road work or snow shovelling, and it will probably be years before the full effect will have worn off. Last year, the sum of over $400,000 was given out in supplying for the fishery. Even if the catch had been bigger than it was, the then ruling prices the fishermen would have barely wrought a year's existence out of the season, and would have had nothing left to recompense the Government for the money loaned. True, some of those who bought supplies with Government money, did sufficiently well to enable them to make a return of all or some portion of the amount given them. Here, however, we see the results attendant on a breach of an economic law. Jevons, in his introduction to his work on Political Economy says "much of the poverty and crime which now exist have been caused by mistaken charity in past times, which has caused a large part of the population to grow up careless, and improvident, and idle." This then is what we in Newfoundland have to guard against, for the seed of unjustifiable charity bore such fruit that those who could afford to reimburse the Government for supplies, refrained from so doing. Out of the $400,000 spent, returns were made to the extent of $25,000.

THE ONLY COURSE.

The fish merchants have already stated their unwillingness to supply this year. Under the circumstances, the fishermen will naturally turn to the Government and will expect the same treatment as they received last year. As I have previously stated, I do not know what action the Executive will take, but there is only one right course open to them. They must refuse to supply. But, it may be argued, that will only make things worse than ever. The people will not be able to exist. That is not likely, I believe it would be better to feed them at the public expense until such time as conditions got back to normal, rather than that the Government guarantee more money for supplies. It is a well known fact that a great many fishermen have money in the Banks. Those who have, if the Government does not supply, will be compelled to use it, as they ought. In the case of those really too poor to purchase their own supplies, some other method of assisting them than that of giving them money, for supplies, may be found. I shall not, however, deal further with this matter now. The problem is an intricate one, and there had been proper supervision to see that no man received more wages than he was justly entitled to, there would be no cause for complaint. Unfortunately, the incompetence of the present administration was responsible for the waste of every cent spent on road work last year. So much for that. In the matter of the cutting of pulp wood and pit props, there was an excellent possibility of substantial returns. Here, again, the incompetence of the Government is clearly evident. No judgment was used in the distribution of the work, little effort was made to see that value was received for monies expended, and the ultimate sale of the wood cut did not receive proper attention. It is not yet too late for something to be done in this connection.

EVIDENT INCOMPETENCE.

Road work had been confined to districts in which, it would be useful; if, instead of building roads, repairs had been effected on the old ones which badly needed still need them; and with this, will require careful consideration, but I shall close my few observations by reiterating the statement that the Government must not supply.

A QUESTION OF TARIFF.

Upon approaching the question of tariff, we find another instance of the complete disregard by the Government of the laws of economics. The people of Newfoundland are to-day groaning under an enormous burden of taxation which has prevented them from benefiting by the reduced prices of commodities abroad. Not alone are the tariff rates enormous, but they are applied in a manner out of all proportion to the value of the commodities as necessities of life. In other words, where necessary articles of food pay duty at the rate of over 100 per cent. many luxuries, which may well be done without, pay less. An immediate revision of the tariff is necessary. One fact that the Government has completely lost sight of is that decreased tariff means increased importations. From this, it will be seen that the revenue will be the same in the end, if not more, while the people will be able to live at far less cost than before. I have taken up more space now than I had at first intended, and yet, there are many points on which I would have liked to elaborate. In conclusion, I again state that I believe the country can recover from its economic distress, but this depends upon the Government and the people themselves. Economy must be practiced and all must do their utmost to help in the common cause. Would that it could be said of Newfoundland when she was at a crisis in her economic existence "Then none were for a party, and all were for the State." It is the one solution.

Harbor Grace and the Sealfishery.

LOCAL HISTORY AND STATISTICS SHOULD BE PRESERVED.

We have much pleasure in republishing the following communicated article taken from the current issue of the Harbor Grace Standard. The writer clearly appreciates the research work done by Messrs Shortis and O'Mara, two gentlemen of the pen to whom the columns of the Telegram are open at all times.

The spring of 1872 fifty-four vessels cleared from Harbor Grace, including two steamers, Messrs. Punton & Munn had 30 vessels, Mr. Donnelly 9, and Messrs. Hilday & Sons had 14. Messrs. Punton & Munn's catch was 97,085 seals. Seventeen of the vessels supplied by them had a total of 66,524 seals, namely:—

Rescue—S. Daves	3,348
Glengarry—Hannah	10,000
Glencoe—Dave	4,935

Total	66,524

The Telegram has republished the article written by M.J.O.M. in 1913, on the sealfishery, in which the result of that fishery is given for the year 1887. The writer refers to Mr. Shortis' letter and states that Harbor Grace is given perhaps a little too much prominence, Mr. Shortis wrote of the facts and figures as he knew and heard of them, for the purpose of putting on record the work done in the old days by a class of men who were in no way second to those of other places, who showed foresight, judgment, discretion and tact in prosecution of the industry. The writer also states that the financial backbone of the country and the very life of the communities in which they lived. These men were recognized as being in a class by themselves for hardihood and knowledge—a class that is to-day, unfortunately for us, very little known. Were the same enterprise and industry shown to-day in all branches of industry as was shown by those men in the prosecution of the sealfishery, the present state of the country and its future prospects would be much brighter. But to return to the purpose of this article. "M.J.O.M." in his lengthy and interesting letter concerning the catch of 1887, states that that spring twenty-four vessels out of St. John's brought in 120,000 seals—a large and valuable catch. In the spring of 1872, Messrs. Punton & Munn had thirty vessels out, including one steamer. The catch was nearly 100,000 seals—a fairly good return, and one that compares favorably with the catch commented upon by "M.J.O.M." Mr. Shortis and "M.J.O.M." have given their time looking up and placing in cold type the history of the sealfishery years ago, and for their work deserve and are entitled to much credit. Their records are valuable, and it is to our discredit that the history of the old times, the fishery and other matters, has not been given greater activities.

Upon His Honor as Minister of the Gospel
REV. W. A. THOMPSON WRITES OF DR. F. G. KINSMAN'S HEART TABLETS.

I had heart trouble severely for fifteen years and had many doctors to treat me with no discernible effect. I had become so low that I could scarcely walk fifty steps. At night I was troubled with fluttering of the heart, and by no means had a night's rest for that length of time. I had pains most excruciating and could not lie on my left side even for a moment. I tried five boxes of your Heart Tablets and can now truthfully say that I am well. I am a Minister of the Gospel and upon my word as such, I believe I could not have lived had it not been for your remedy. I am not, generally speaking, willing to give testimonials, but I fully owe this or more to you as owner of the Heart Tablets.
