LABOR CANDIDATE JURY'S MEETING IN EAST TORONTO.

The Young Liberals Appeal to Their Constituents in the East Toronto About the Campaign in the City-Nomination in Leeds and Grenville.

A labor meeting in the interests of Candidate Jure was held in Copeland's Hall King and Sherbourne-street last night. About 200 persons were present.

Mr. John Armstrong, a member of the Royal Labor Commission presided. He has been doing a lot of educational work on the outside lately, and after introducing each speaker he quietly closed off into a peaceful meeting. A noisy man was disturbing the meeting and Mr. Armstrong was warned that he might repeat the offense. He started up, ground, and was unable to locate the culprit.
After looking severely at two or three persons who were smiling, he was glad to shake his finger at the interrupter, who once more made himself heard.

Mr. W. Wright spoke first, and he was followed by Mr. Phillips Thompson. The latter urged that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail. If they succeeded in electing their candidates, they would support impetus all over Canada and the United States.

Mr. Jure was loud and cheerful. He said he felt confident that the Government would do anything to make workmen lose the good opinion they had of him. He advised that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail. The continued agitation of matters relating to the subject of the eight-hour system is a good thing, because they are being forced upon the attention of either the political or the industrial public.

Mr. J. Dickson followed with a fine exhibition of rhetoric, in which he gave many strong reasons why his hearers should vote for Jure.

Mr. J. L. Blain, who said he came from Leeds, he thought that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail. A vote was passed pledging Mr. Jure the support of the meeting, and a resolution was adopted that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail. Mr. Armstrong responded in eloquent phraseology, and advised that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail.

Mr. Elgin Schell was in harmony with the Labor platform so far as the platform of the meeting was concerned. He thought that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail. A vote was passed pledging Mr. Jure the support of the meeting, and a resolution was adopted that the Government should work on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail. Mr. Armstrong responded in eloquent phraseology, and advised that the Government should work
on the outside, and that the eight-hour system should prevail.

A DUEL IN GEORGIA.

Two Colored Men Settle Their Differences on the Field of Honor.

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 7.—Messengers arrived here last evening for Dr. Alfred and Dr.
Davis to proceed to Columbus where a duel was awaiting their attention. It seems that in that village live two colored men, Merrick Heppard and Stephen Rucker. They have some education, and have long prided themselves upon their prowess as fighters.

The preliminaries were quickly arranged.
Heppard was to use a revolver and Rucker decided to use his shotgun. At the break of day the men were on the ground. Fifteen paces were stepped off and at the drop of a handkerchief the firing began. Heppard fired first, emptying his chamber in a moment.
Before Rucker could get his shotgun to work two pistol shots struck Rucker, one in the chest and the other in the back.
Rucker was falling mortally wounded. He was taken to the hospital, but he died before he could be revived. It is believed that the man who shot Rucker was the doctor who was sent to him.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE.
The Prospect of a Settlement Remotely Plenty of Help Offered.

New York, Feb. 7.—The riotous and unpleasant strike presented a Sunday morning, and there was no change in the condition of affairs. Monday is usually the busiest day of the week at the docks, but there was no blockade of the dockside. The strikers are not more than fourth the number of trucks, which usually block and choke South and West streets, being out. Most of the piers were open to receive freight, but little came as compared with the anti-strike times. Few masters say that one experienced hand can do as much as three or four of such men as have taken the places of the strikers, but the new men show some promise.

The prospect of a settlement between the longshoremen and steamship companies and the dockworkers is not very bright. Each side being confident of coming out of the trouble a victor. Both sides promise reasonable development. The strike is dark and gloomy.

All the piers are well supplied with hands, who are new to the business.

Brooklyn much suffering effects from the lack of coal. The dockworkers get new wages except in a few cases. Grocers sell coal for 30 cents a bushel. The piers and docks

THE FISHERY QUESTION.
A Statement Regarding it in the House of Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Sir James Fergusson has announced that the correspondence between Great Britain and the United States relative to the fisheries question would in a short time be before Parliament. The correspondence, he said, contains full information about the history of the whole affair down to a very recent date. The despatch from the Dominion Government containing suggestions as to a modus vivendi between Canada and the British States was now on its way, and the Imperial Government could not therefore send proposals to Washington until the Canadian despatch was received and considered.

GREAT DAY IN MONTREAL.

THE FOURTH WINTER CARNIVAL
NOW IN FULL BLAZE.

The arrival of the Governor-General and Lady Langford. The city was decorated and crowded with visitors from all parts of the country.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—The fourth winter carnival was inaugurated today with great success. The weather was magnificent, a typical Canadian winter day, just cold enough to give a zest to enjoyment, and not too mild to mar the success of the celebration. The citizens have taken a hint from St. Paul and have decorated their residences and shops more than on previous occasions, and the night is a mass of bunting, streamers and lights.

A large number of visitors have already arrived, the contingent from the States putting in an appearance to-day in great force, while Toronto and West are well represented. The hotels are full to overflowing, the corridors of the Hotel Rembrandt, the New York Exchange on a panic day, but the arrangements made by the Eastern Committee with private housekeepers have rendered it easy to find comfortable quarters.

The ice palace was of course the great attraction of the day and was visited by thousands. The most enthusiastic of its visitors, particularly in the evening, when it was lit up with brilliant lights, is generally admitted to be the chief attraction of the carnival, surpassing in beauty of design, and in the variety of all its predecessors. In the forenoon the various toboggan slides were opened, and were thronged with visitors, who attended to by the members and initiated into the mysteries of tobogganing.
