CAR AND RENDERED UN-CONSCIOUS.

On Monday evening about eight o'clock as Charles Everett was driving home in his car he noticed a man lying on the road at Tupperville, Stopping up he got out and found it was Ed. Bauckman, unconscious with a cut over his left ear from which con siderable blood had come. He removed the man to Mr. F. H. Willett's the nearest house, and doctor Armstrong was summoned. He dressed the wound which was a severe one but Bauckman did not recover consciousness till Tuesday morning. It appears that he went down to Round Hill in Milton Brooks car and Mr. Brooks states he brought him back to Tupperville hall about half past seven. What transpired after that does not appear to be very clear but Mr. Bauckman states he was struck by a car passing along the road nearly a mile below the hall.

MARRIED. Venning-Simpson.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Brown, Amesbury, Mass., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Sept. 17th at 6.45 when Richard S. Venning, Jr., of Richmond, Virginia, was united in marriage to Miss Lucy Baptist Church The floral decorations were very beautiful and were arranged by Mrs. Frederick L. Rice. Gladioli, dahlias and hydrageas were extensively used.

J. Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

John W. Simpson of Victory, N. S.,

by the Rev. S. J. Cann of Marlborough

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Edith True, pianist and Miss Adelaide Tigh, flutist, as the bridal party entered the drawing room. The bride wore a dress of white Canton Crepe trimmed with Chantilly lace with tulle veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern.

Miss Isabelle Simpson, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and was dressed in yellow georgette trimmed with satin baby ribbon and carried a bouquet of asters and maiden hair fern. Little Francis Bartlett acted as flower girl and looked charming in white organdie.

The groom was attended by his brother Edward Venning.

Mrs. B. G. Pillsbury and Mrs. Clarence R. Hines presided at the table in the dining room, which was decorated in pink, white and green. A dainty buffet lunch was served by Miss Violet Cress of Annapolis have young lady friends of the bride and also by her sisters, the Misses Mary, Annie and Bdith Simpson of Somerville, Mass.

After an evening spent with music, Mr. and Mrs. Venning left amid showen route for New York, Washington, and thence to Richmend, Virginia,
