NORTH OXFORD CHEERS FOR BORDEN

3000 Hear Him Speak on Wet Afternoon—Quotes Anti-Popean Success With Government-Owned Railways.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—More welcome even than the leader of a political party was a great downpour of rain which began early to-day and thoroughly soaked the parched fields of Oxford.

R. L. Borden came in after the ground had been well moistened, and between showers he was given a reception at the depot by leading citizens and driven to the residence of Thomas Seldon for lunch. The mayor proclaimed a half holiday in honor of his visit. Many drove in from the adjoining townships, and a special train brought a number from Tillsonburg.

The meeting was held in the rink. The downpour was heaviest just before the hour announced, but nearly 3000 turned out and gave the Conservative leader and his platform colleague, Hon. W. J. Hanna, a welcome remarkable for its heartiness, in view of the strong liberal tendencies of Oxford County.

In his speech, which was a strong condemnation of the government for its toleration of grafting friends, Mr. Borden enlarged upon his policy of government ownership of the Grand Trunk and the elimination of political influence from the management of the I.C.R.; touched upon the all-rail project, and described the bungling in connection with construction of the Quebec bridge.

J. A. Couker was chairman, and briefly introduced Donald Sutherland, the local candidate, who said that if the Conservatives were not less modest than their opponents they would be claiming credit for breaking the long drought.

Little Eleanor Nagle presented a handsome bouquet to Mr. Borden, and Dr. Coleridge read an address from the Conservatives of South Oxford.

Mr. Borden, who is hoarse from much recent speaking, began his address by appealing to Liberals and independent men to join with the Conservatives in bringing about a new era in Canada. The Liberal platform of 1898, said Mr. Borden, must be in a good state of preservation, because it was never used. The only pledge laid down in 1898 which had been fulfilled was that they would repeal the Franchise Act, and during the past session they had attempted to go back on that.

Dealing with Sir Richard Cartwright's complaint, that the Conservative government bled the people white with an unjust taxation, Mr. Borden said the present government had increased the taxation 150 per cent. The expenditures had increased beyond all bounds without evidence of any great work having been undertaken. "Look around and tell me where that money has gone," said Mr. Borden. "To the grafters," answered an auditor.

Mr. Borden referred the doubters to the evidence of the civil service commission. The roll call of scandals had become so long that it was embarrassing to the opposition, who did not know where to begin. "Two or three small ones" were given in illustration. There was no difference between taking money out of the public exchequer and handing it over to a few friends to obtain money by highway robbery, was his next point. Mr. Borden said that one at least of the civil service commission was convinced that at least $10,000,000 had been squandered annually by the government.

If the work is finished, said Mr. Borden, every stick of timber in the Northwest will be handed over to party friends. The Quebec bridge was cited as one of the great mistakes of the government. Not only were eight million dollars of public money lost, but the bottom of the St. Lawrence.

The I.C.R. ought to be placed under the management of an independent commission and political pull and interference eliminated, said Mr. Borden, who did not think the people of Canada were any less honest or capable than the people of New Zealand or Australia, who had made a splendid success of their policy of government ownership of railways. The all-rail route project was not the idea of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but of Sir Charles Tupper. The interests of transportation ought not to be sacrificed for any spectacular effect, but the question of cheap freight rates for the farmers and manufacturers, and an adequate system of cold storage, were important considerations that ought not to be lost sight of in carrying out the scheme.

Mr. Borden's statement that "Canada does not desire a preference in the British markets" was attacked by Mr. Borden. He did not believe that the farmers of Canada appreciated the bungling of the government on the question of tariffs. Millions of dollars of German goods were brought over every year into Canada under the British preference.

Mutual Preference Some Day. Mr. Borden believed that the day was coming when a mutual preference would be extended. He knew that many American manufacturers had established industries in Canada every year in order that they would soon be brought about and they would get their goods into England under

Five Cents Saving on Copy Books

New Contract Awarded By Ontario Government Reduces Cost From 7 to 2 Cents Each.

Another important reduction in text books was announced by the Ontario Government yesterday.

The minister of education has just completed a contract with the E. H. Harcourt Company of Toronto for the printing and publishing of the new series of copy books for the schools of the province. These copy books, which have hitherto cost the school children 7c each, will in future be supplied for 2c each.

It appears from the statistics that about one hundred and ninety thousand copy books are sold each year, and of these at least one hundred and forty thousand are purchased in Ontario.

With the new books selling at 2c each, as against the old books at 7c, there is a saving of 5c per book or an average of at least $7000 per year to the province.

Dr. Pyne has signed the contract, the lowest yet awarded after public competition, being the best as regards price and quality. It is expected that the new books will be ready for the schools in a few weeks.

PREMIER WHITNEY HOME AND WILL HELP BORDEN

May Go Into Quebec—Has Had a Busy Two Months of It in London the Great.

Premier Whitney returned home last night after nearly two months' absence in England. He is looking remarkably well after his trip, the naturally a little fatigued after the all-day railway journey from New York yesterday.

The voyage in the Campania had been rough, three days strong westerly gales and more or less fog all the way.

Mr. Whitney was met at the station by A. J. Matheson, Hon. Dr. Pyne, A. H. N. Colquhoun, deputy minister of education, J. L. Englehart and Horace Wallis, the premier's secretary. He received representatives of the press at his residence subsequently and he chatted about his stay in England. He was so busy that he did not visit Scotland or Ireland. He went out from London a few times, but spent nearly all his time in the meetings.

"Yes, I expect to address a few meetings," he said in reply to a question on his engagements for the future. "I don't know where I'll be, but I'll be there." He added, arrangements not having been completed. He admitted that he would be welcomed in Quebec and did not deny that he might go there.

He could not say anything about the hydro-electric power situation until he had acquainted himself with the details. He had been informed of the developments to some extent, but desired to know fully before saying anything. Sir James was more communicative about the immigration question, but even on this he maintained some reserve, recalling the fact that he had stated before leaving that when he and Nelson Monteth returned he would have a statement to make.

"Mr. Monteth is not back yet, and will be a week longer. There is nothing definite yet, and nothing at all till he does come," he remarked. "He did a good deal of investigation and he's busy now about it."

The attention of the public in Great Britain has been drawn towards Canada. Every day I was in London I spent two or three hours interviewing people who came to see me about it and other matters.

"We expect to make a strong effort to encourage the immigration of agricultural laborers and men with some capital to come here and take up land and improved farms."

"Since our arrangement with the Dominion Government stands of the immigrants, we are more free to deal with the selection of them."

"I think we will open an office in London. The office will be in charge of the whole immigration business in the old country. There will be two or three men as at present going about the villages and small towns, distributing literature, giving lectures and showing specimens from the province. Mr. Monteth is looking up proper quarters now. You will get a fuller statement when he returns."

Rev. T. E. Bartley was elected chairman and Rev. E. C. Laker secretary of the Methodist Ministerial Association, which resumed its meetings yesterday.

THOUSANDS HEAR LAURIER IN THE WET

Prime Minister and Party Have Strenuous Day at Jackson's Point—Crowd Under Umbrellas.

JACKSON'S POINT, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Protected by a small bodyguard of Liberal stalwarts, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was for 20 minutes this afternoon protected from injury in a great crush of humanity which overran and crowded to the point of positive danger the platform from which he had been addressing the audience when the steady rain that had been falling suddenly broke into a wind-driven deluge, which the people could not withstand.

Hundreds scrambled over the platform to get under the shelter of the temporary roof which protected it. The prime minister stepped from under the canopy, which no longer afforded shelter, and was followed by Senator Cox, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and others. They were immediately caught in the shoving, pushing, pulling mass of humanity, and the situation was replete with grim possibilities.

This was indicated when a woman behind one of the press tables screamed as she attempted to keep her balance with her feet entangled in an overturned chair. The day was full of incidents. As Sir Wilfrid spoke from the main stand, Hon. George P. Graham stirred the crowd to enthusiasm under a large dining tent. Later Sir Wilfrid finished his address under this tent, tho his voice could be heard not more than 30 feet, because of the incessant clamor of half or wholly drenched people.

City of Umbrellas. Picture thousands of umbrellas covering six or seven thousand people standing in a dreaching rain in a great natural amphitheatre at Jackson's Point, with the minister of justice speaking and faces peeping out here and there with wide-eyed interest. The circumstances rendered possible, and one may have some conception of one of the most extraordinary political assemblages in the history of the present campaign. This vast crowd stood under these conditions for fully 40 minutes while Mr. Aylesworth was speaking the only those crowded close to the stand could hear at all clearly. The crowd wanted to hear Laurier, and waited patiently. Here and there old men without umbrellas stood until saturated, apparently oblivious of the discomfort and possible consequences. As the canopy under which the prime minister was seated began to surrender here and there to the rainfall, he was obliged to edge over from time to time towards the centre pole.

A thousand stragglers found their way under a large canvas dining hall, where Hon. George P. Graham addressed an evening meeting. Cheers from this tent added to the difficulties of hearing from the main stand. This downpour of rain, for which all-mighty God is to be thanked, is not enough to dampen the Liberal ardor," said Mr. Aylesworth at one stage of his address in half-defiance of the elements.

And Then the Deluge. Sir Wilfrid had been speaking probably 15 minutes to the dripping crowd, whose interest in the proceedings was remarkable, when the rain became a downpour and, driven by a wind, put it was a word to a wind, proved beyond their endurance. Over the stand they scrambled, threatening the structure with collapse. The builder had done well, however, and the prime minister suffered only, what he assured many, of having the pleasure of being shoulder to shoulder with his own people.

The affection of these North York Liberals was heightened by the circumstances. One of them shouted: "God bless you, Sir Wilfrid, we'll put you there again."

Yukon Concession. The minister of justice received an ovation. The main feature of his address was the reply of the government to what The Mail and Empire has termed the Rael and Bronson gold mining concession scandal.

"A concession was granted to 'these gentlemen,'" said Mr. Aylesworth, "and it happened to be friends of the Liberal party. The most dangerous Tory scandal was the one which had some of the elements of truth."

The minister went on to say that the government did cancel this mining concession in the Yukon because the conditions had not been lived up to, notwithstanding that they were political friends.

"Then Mr. Belcourt and his friends brought an action in the courts. The government fought the case and in the court we defeated the claim. The supreme court of Canada reversed this in this fight against their friends' No. On the advice of my department we took the case to the privy council, where we were refused leave to appeal. That decision was final, and the Mail's charge against the government was absolutely false."

The Conservatives had challenged them to bring on the fight and they had accommodated them. The prisoner in jail was always calling aloud for a new trial because, like the opposition, whatever the result he could not be worse off. The policy of the Liberals still was "Trust the people."

Mr. Aylesworth referred to his contest in Durham. The campaign there, he declared, had been a pleasure. Referring to his statements then respecting the Trent Valley Canal, he said it was something to be proud of to set a great enterprise before the people.

STRIKE MAY END WITHIN 48 HOURS

Conferences Now in Progress Between Officials and Men at Winnipeg and a Settlement is Expected.

There is "a feeling in the air" that the C.P.R. strike is nearing its end. Bell Hardy secretly and suddenly rushed from Montreal to Winnipeg and word from the west, as well as local information, is hopeful.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—While no definite announcement has been made, there appears good grounds for expecting that the next forty-eight hours will bring about a settlement of the C.P.R. mechanics' strike.

Bell Hardy of Montreal, chairman of strikers' union, has for some days been here quietly conferring with Second Vice-President William Whyte, and the transference of negotiations to the western management appears, a good indication of the disposition of the company to reach an early settlement.

The company has so far succeeded in holding its own and replacing strikers that it can make concessions with good grace, and the move would no doubt be popular generally, as well as highly gratifying to political interests, both federal and provincial, which much desire a speedy settlement.

It is probable that the men would consent to go back to work conditionally on the whole question being reopened later at 6 o'clock to be opened, and on the status of their union being safeguarded.

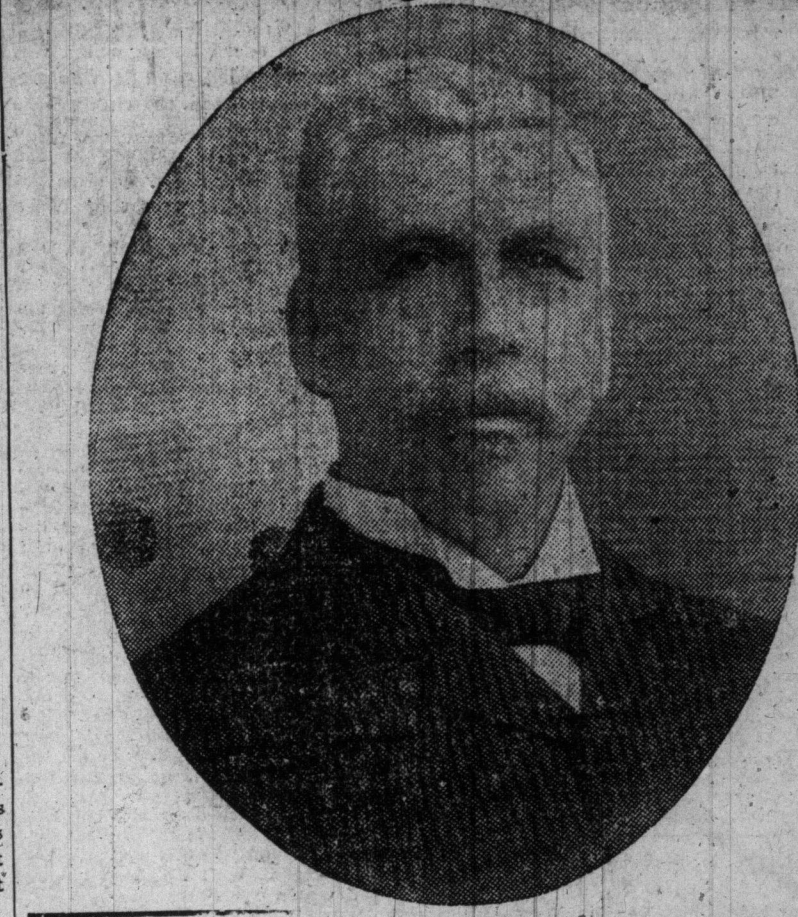

With the exception of one regrettable incident the strike generally has been conducted here with moderation and courtesy on both sides.

A Calgary. Alta., despatch to-night says: That the settlement of the C.P.R. strike is likely to be reached about Wednesday or Thursday is the general opinion among the striking mechanics in this city. One of the leaders among the strikers said to-day:

"Things look more favorable toward a settlement at present than they have since the commencement of the strike. A C.P.R. official who attended the smoker given by the trainmen of this city on Saturday night, congratulated us on the clean and gentlemanly manner in which the strike had been conducted, and assured us that there was something good to happen about Wednesday. Altho he did not say what we concluded that the company had

The second vice-president of the C.P.R., who is in charge of the western lines, has been in conference with strike officials. His policy always is for peace. THIS MAN LIKES FIRES AND SAYS HE BURNED HOTEL AT BOND LAKE

Wm. Ross, Released From Central After Serving Sentence for Arson, Claims the Credit Now for Fresh Outbreaks.

"Some men get drunk, some men like fast horses—I like fires!" This is the explanation offered to the police by William Ross, who was released a day or so from the Central Prison, where he served a year for burning Policeman Young's bathhouse at the foot of Bathurst-street, when, according to his own story, he burned a large barn and a vacant hotel at Bond Lake and also a stable at Scarborough Beach Park.

He was arrested in Albert-street yesterday afternoon by Detectives Macle and Murray. He went cheerfully with the officers and as cheerfully admitted these crimes.

Ross says he is 29 years of age and appears to be insane. He regards everything about him as material for a fire. When taken to the court-street station he looked about him curiously and finally declared himself: "This place is no good," he said. "It won't not burn, no use setting fire to it."

Ross, who is an Englishman and was a soldier, is both in England and in Canada.

There is one weakness in his confession. He misplaces the date of the Bond Lake fire. As a matter of fact the Scarborough Beach fire was set at about 7 o'clock on the evening of Saturday, Sept. 19, and the Bond Lake blaze in the early morning of Tuesday, Sept. 22.

Ross' story is that he was tramping from Newmarket to Toronto on the night of Sept. 17 when he came upon the large barn in the lot of which was stored a quantity of hay, the property of the Metropolitan Railway Co. There

WIFE MURDERER LEAPS INTO SEA

Lee Johnson, Who Slew Ontario Woman in Alaska, Eluded Police and Jumped From Steamer.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Joel Warren, formerly chief of police of Spokane, now special agent of the department of justice for the Second Alaska District, who is in the city with Mrs. Warren visiting friends, has received advice that Lee H. Johnson escaped from his guards while on the way from Seattle to Nome by jumping overboard from the steamship Victoria while going thru Unalakleet, 700 miles north of Nome.

It is not believed the man reached shore, as the pass is 12 miles wide. Johnson was run down after a chase of three years by Special Agent Warren on the charge of having murdered his wife, who was formerly Belle M. Gilchrist, of Gengarry, in the Province of Ontario, at Nome in October, 1905.

Johnson maintained when arrested that his wife committed suicide by taking cyanide of potassium, and that he had concealed the body and the fact of her death in accordance with her request, contained in a note which she left. He confessed that he cut up the body and hid it under the shack in which they lived, and that the next spring he took the remains and buried them. He partly destroyed the fragments by saturating them with kerosene and setting fire to them.

Johnson kept up a line of deception nearly three years to make his relatives of the dead woman believe that she was alive and well. He wrote letters to them purporting to have been dictated by her. At Nome he told friends his wife had gone to the States, and when he was out of Alaska he said she was there.

With a power of attorney, afterwards declared a forgery, made apparently to him by his wife, he sold a house belonging to her in Ontario, and by a written order which he made in her name on an attorney in Butte, with whom he had left $4000 to invest, he secured the money. It was while attempting to get the balance of his victim's property that he was taken into custody. He was at the time living at Seattle with Cora Tasch, who he pretended was his wife.

"I am sorry that Johnson finished his career before the government could do it for him," said Mr. Warren. "I sent him from Seattle for Nome in charge of two guards on the Victoria, which left Sept. 6. I cautioned the guards to be careful and give him no chance. The woman, Tasch, said to him just before he was taken aboard the Victoria: 'If you are guilty, Lee, jump overboard.' While I believe that Johnson drowned, there will always remain an uncertainty of it."

GIRL SHOTS HERSELF THEN BECOMES MOTHER

Italian at Welland Was Despondent Over Desertion—Is Now Doing Well Towards Recovery

WELLAND, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Carmela Barsella, an Italian girl, aged 20, tried to commit suicide by shooting herself in the chest with a revolver. A few minutes afterwards she was delivered of a son. To-night she is making satisfactory progress towards recovery, tho the bullet ended her left ear and is now lodged in her neck.

The young woman came from Italy only three months ago. Deserted by her lover she joined her father and brother here. The latter went out for a walk, and in their absence the girl pried open a trunk and took out the weapon.

The child is quite strong and healthy.

AFTER THE STOCK YARDS.

Railway or Packing Firm Said to Want Union Property.

It is currently reported that since the recent fire a proposition has been made thru the medium of a local broker for the purchase of the Union Stock Yards at West Toronto.

It is understood the offer emanates from some of the railway or packing firms and if such be the case it is to be hoped that the best possible use will be made of these splendid yards towards concentrating the live stock trade at Toronto instead of letting it gradually drift to other centres.

BRIDGE WAS BURNED AND THEN COLLAPSED

Official Statement Made — Telephone Franchise is Held Back For a Fortnight.

HAMILTON, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The inquiry into the T. H. & B. accident Sunday morning in which three trainmen lost their lives will be held Tuesday evening. E. E. Fisher, the superintendent of the railway, gave out the following statement concerning the accident.

The lamentable accident at the bridge, west of Mineral Springs, was due solely to fire, which burned the floor system and plating between the passage of a light engine at 11:40 p.m. Saturday night and the arrival of train No. 60 at eight minutes after 6 a.m. Sunday.

The bridge was 45 feet in length, consisting of three openings and of standard construction for wooden trestles, and had a large factor of safety beyond that which would safely carry the heaviest engine or car loading run on this line.

In conformity with an order of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, this and all other wooden trestles on this line are inspected twice daily. Very much heavier engines than No. 20, which went through the bridge, had been run over it regularly during the past summer. The report of the explosion of the boiler is incorrect, as the boiler in the locomotive was not damaged. Three box cars loaded with apples and onions and flat cars loaded with gravel. The leading seven cars were piled up on top of the engine and the three box cars, which were carrying the three occupants. The debris caught fire from the burning bridge and fire in the fire box of the engine. The cause of the fire was the engine, which was covered with gravel, thrown down after the engine went through the bridge, protecting them from the fire. The cause of the accident was fire.

The few bones that remain of the victims will be distributed in three weeks and buried in a plot, a Catholic priest joining in the ceremony.

Engineer McFadden was a prominent Conservative, and a warm personal friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald.

Phone Bylaw Held.

The bylaw giving a five-year exclusive franchise to the Bell Telephone Co. was given a two weeks' hold at the city council this evening by a close vote. For $4000 a year and 150 telephones for the use of the city and $25 a year each, the company asked for an exclusive franchise. Hugh Baker, manager of the company, said the company would not reduce its rates of $40 a year for business and $30 a year for house phones. The following nine members of the council voted to refer the bylaw to the mayor, Mr. Stewart and Ald. Evans, McLaren, Allan, Farrar, Anderson, A. J. Wright, Jutten and Lewis. They had but one of a majority. The firemen's request for one day off duty in every six instead of every eight days was approved of and three new men will have to be appointed. William Southam was given permission to complete the consumption of the city hospital grounds. Ald. Crerar and Sweeney got a motion through appointing a special committee to consider the advisability of building a freight spur connecting the city and other dock property with the various steam and electric railways. Ald. Jutten remarked that since a company had already staked out a right of way it looked as if the Ald. Crerar and Sweeney wanted to help that corporation to get a spur line. A special committee was also appointed to devise a suitable way of recognizing the honor done to Hamilton by the elevation of Col. Gibson to the office of lieutenant-governor. A waterworks system will be installed on the mountain at a cost of $28,000.

Sudden Death.

Malachi Sager, an old resident of Beverley, died to-day.

The board of health this evening agreed to notify the Canadian Cotton Co. that it must discontinue the practice of emptying dye water into the bay. Medical Health Officer Roberts was instructed to devise some system whereby garbage receptacles will be removed from the street after being emptied by the scavengers. Referring to the fact that the milk bylaw was held up in the since a company had already staked out a right of way it looked as if the Ald. Crerar and Sweeney wanted to help that corporation to get a spur line. A special committee was also appointed to devise a suitable way of recognizing the honor done to Hamilton by the elevation of Col. Gibson to the office of lieutenant-governor. A waterworks system will be installed on the mountain at a cost of $28,000.

Another reason advanced for canceling the series is that they were timed to begin just in the heat of the Dominion election campaign, and it is feared that politics will overshadow them.

NOW THE UNEMPLOYED HOLD A CONVENTION

Delegates From Many Places Assemble in New York—Prominent Speakers Decline to Attend.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 28.—An extraordinary gathering began in this city to-day made up of delegates from various parts of the country to take part in a four days' conference, which had been arranged for their welfare.

Unlike delegates to ordinary conventions, however, these delegates had no special trains, but came instead on brake buses, beneath freight cars, on the "blind baggage" of a swift express or struggled in over dusty roads. They constitute the "first national convention of the unemployed."

"The national committee of the unemployed" is the official name of the organization, at the head of which is J. Eads How of St. Louis, who has come to be known as the millionaire hobo. It was thru How's efforts that the plans for the convention were completed, and it was How who welcomed the delegates when they straggled to the committee headquarters at 20 Duane-street.

Many prominent men were invited to deliver addresses before the committee, among them President Roosevelt, W. J. Bryan, Judge Taft and John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, who is at present in this country, but all four have excused themselves on the ground of other engagements.

The health of the unemployed was the principal subject for discussion at to-day's meeting.

GEORGE IS HOME AGAIN.

In a Peculiar Boy—That's Why He Acted Peculiarly.

Madame Marthe Gendens says her little son George is a very peculiar boy and she cannot account for him absconding himself from 502 Church-street for a week, except that he feared being chastised if he came home late, and because "he is very, very peculiar."

On Monday afternoon last week she sent George after a paper and she did not see him again until she ran across him accidentally on the Sunny-side walk at 11 o'clock Sunday night. He was so worn out that he has been in bed most of the time since.

He had been sleeping in a vacant building on the exhibition grounds, he said, and several people in that neighborhood had given him food.

Madame Gendens says she has whipped him a little sometimes when he was not good, but will overlook his misdemeanor because she is so glad to have him back.

George is 12 years old.

TWO MEETINGS AT GALT TO HEAR R. L. BORDEN

Leader Speaks From Hall Mottos as Texts For His Address—Other Speakers.

GALT, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Galt to-night gave R. L. Borden one of the best receptions of his tour.

A great crowd gathered at the C.P.R. depot at 8 o'clock and escorted the visitors to the opera house, which was already overcrowded, and it was necessary to throw open the rink across the way to accommodate those who could not get within reach of the main meeting. And not only were the two meetings large, but they were enthusiastic.

F. S. Scott was chairman at the opera house. There Mayor Patterson welcomed Mr. Borden on behalf of the citizens, and Walter McCutcheon read an address from the Conservative Association.

George Clare, the candidate, made the boast that he had always looked after the interests of Liberal and Conservative alike at Ottawa.

Mr. Borden took for his text some of the mottoes on the walls. "Give work to the unemployed and bring back prosperity" was the first. Sir John A. Macdonald's conception of the N. P. was to foster home industry that our workmen would not be driven into competition with the cheap labor of other countries, and in this connection he spoke of the alleged scandal of immigration. We should see to it that the quality of our immigrants was of the highest and most desirable type. On his tour of the west he had seen men who were most desirables.

Another motto was: "Has the Laurier government made you rich?" It was asked up to whom the question was addressed. If to the western land grabbers or the middlemen in the east the answer would be in the affirmative, but if to the great mass of the people they would have to return a decided "No."

This was a government of a hundred scandals, said Mr. Borden as he quoted some of the records.

Referring to the Roblin-Macdonald controversy Mr. Borden said the Globe had begun to realize that it had made a mistake in attacking Roblin, and had made an appeal to Mr. Borden to stop him. Mr. Roblin was capable of hitting back and had called attention to that which was undoubtedly a scandal, but which in the multiplicity of later scandals might never have been mentioned except for The Globe.

Mr. Borden related the circumstances of the Crow's Nest Pass deal, and passed on to a discussion of the National Transcontinental Railway, with which he closed.

J. P. Downey was sandwiched in between Mr. Borden and Hon. Mr. Hanna. He made a humorous and effective speech. While he did not grudge Sir Wilfrid a peaceful departure, his best wish and belief was that his government might depart in pieces.

What were the virtues that Mr. Borden preached and that Sir Wilfrid scoffed at? Was it a transcendent virtue, to be scoffed at, to say that the public lands should not be alienated, but should be administered, as the Whitney government had done, in the interests of the people, or that the ballot boxes should be protected?

Mr. Downey also gave an explanation of the Japanese question.

Mr. Hanna dealt with provincial rights and immigration in the same manner as at Ingersoll.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

NO SPRING TILL NOW.

No spring till now--tho in its hushing voices
The garden warned me of the year's decline;
"Not here," they said, "the springtime of thy choice is!"
And in the falling star I read a sign.

The long night thru, I followed at Its warning,
And now--the mocking fires and pitfalls passed-- Footsore and faint I wait the soul's white morning
Upon the threshold of the spring at last.

No spring till now! O heart, stay yet thy gladness!
Ere yet thou leav'st the crags and marshes drear
Where thou hast won thy way in toil and sadness
One last farewell--turn thou and blest them there!

Yea, Hope supernal o'er my brow un-clothes
The golden vials of a perfect day;
And see, my gaping wounds all turned to roses;
My soul a lark that wings upon its way!

A La Directoire.

The influence of the directoire style is to reign over our tailor-mades, as well as over our afternoon and evening toilets this coming autumn.
All the latest tailor-mades are made with the broad directoire revers and collars. These collars and revers are of satin or velvet, chiefly the former.
Large buttons to match are made of the same material. The tailor-made skirts are notable for their extreme plainness, long sweeping lines being the modiste's ideal. To attain this object the skirts are modeled after the well-known corset design. The coats are cut away in front, with long con-tails, and are really boleros revived in a new form.

A delightful model in sage green cloth has this new style bolero. The sleeves of the directoire coat were as tight-fitting as possible, and were adorned with a row of black satin buttons from elbow to wrist. The revers were also of black satin, while the long coat-tails reached to the hem of the skirt. The latter fell in plain graceful folds, being untrimmed but for a row of large black satin buttons and loops of black satin piping down the left side.

Florence Gear's costumes in "Marrying Mary" are from Paris, modeled upon the most approved directoire lines, but minus the objectionable sheath skirt. Miss Gear, who plays the leading part of Marrying Mary Montgomery, is responsible for this change, claiming that the directoire gown is one of the most becoming ever invented.

"But why," she adds, "should we vulgarize it by wearing the sheath skirt? Mary Montgomery is a leader of fashion. Why should she violate

Countess Who Champions Barmails.

One of the most talented and interesting of the women who are taking active part in the "Votes for Women" campaign in England at the present moment is the Countess Markievicz.
The countess is a comparatively young and exceedingly pretty woman who has made herself the acknowledged leader and champion of the 200,000 and more barmails whose existence as such is seriously threatened by would-be reformers. She has frequently taken the public platform, both in England and in Ireland, her native country, in their defence, and being a capital speaker, with a ready wit, she is popular with her audiences. It was the countess who organized and was the chief speaker at the big demonstration in Trafalgar-square recently on behalf of the barmails and as a protest against their threatened wholesale dismissal.

The countess, among her other accomplishments, numbers that of being a good whip. As an ardent suffragette her contribution to the campaign of publicity while the women's societies have been carrying on in England for some years is to drive a four-in-hand, the coach of which is profusely decorated with banners, along the streets of the large cities. On the occasion of the big Albert Hall meeting she piloted a four-in-hand thru the maze of traffic that was to be found in the Strand, with a skill that excited the admiration of even the bus drivers, a class of men who have a superlative opinion of their own superiority in the handling of the reins. The countess also made her appearance on the box of a coach at the now famous by-election in Northwest Manchester, where Winston Churchill lost his seat in the house of commons when he presented himself for re-election.

Countess Markievicz is Irish by birth being the daughter of the late Sir William Henry Gore-Booth, Bart.
of Lisadell, Sligo. She is an artist and actress, and many other things rolled into one. It was while she was studying art in Julien's in Paris, that she met the Polish count, Casimir Dunin de Markievicz, with whom she fell in love and whom she afterwards married. The countess's pictures have been exhibited at the Paris Salon and at the Dublin Academy. Her husband is also an artist and, in addition, a playwright, and it was in one of his plays that his talented wife made her first appearance on the stage.

Besides being a capital whip, the countess is a fine horsewoman, and for some years was the only woman permitted to ride in the point-to-point races of the Sligo Harriers. She is very popular in Irish society, before her marriage living with the Marquis and Marchioness of Zetland, the latter being her cousin.

Picturesque Boys.

It is rare that an attempt is made to convert a small boy who takes part in a wedding procession into something picturesque. But it has just been done at a smart wedding in London, so brides-to-be take notice!
The costumes of all the children preceding the bride were copied from a picture by Hoppner.
The costumes of the girls were not remarkable, altho they were quaint and charming. They wore thin white frocks in the Kate Greenway style, with very short waist, long, scanty skirts, blue sashes under the arm and blue ribbon wound in the hair.
The boys wore the little old-fashioned picture suits, with high-waisted trousers that went to the ankles, made of white nankeen and pale blue shirts.
The effect was said to be very pretty.

Georgina House.

The attention of citizens is called to the excellent and humanitarian idea of the "Georgina House" movement.
As is known, this is a movement towards bettering the condition of girls coming to the city alone and practically unprotected, as is the case in a great many instances, when young girls seek employment in the big departmental stores and factories. The Georgina House is a residence at 106
Beverly-street, where for a nominal cost girls can secure a homelike room and board. The house is self-supporting, as are similar ones in London, England, and New York. The plan is to have besides comfortable sleeping accommodation and good food, all laundry conveniences, small sitting rooms, in which friends may be received, and a large reception-room, a library, chapel and indeed everything that makes up a refined and healthy freedom. The work is a noble one and one that should appeal to all civilized people.

Further information concerning the movement may be had from Mrs.
Georgina Broughall, 96 St. George-st., or from the board of directors, composed of the following men: Rev. Canon Welch, Rev. the Provost of Trinity College, J. A. Kammerer, Noel Marshall, Dyce W. Saunders.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SUNDAY

To Be Observed This Year Thruout the Whole World.
The Ontario Sunday School Association committee is issuing to all the evangelical churches of Canada the call of the World's Sunday School Association that the third Sunday in October be observed thruout the whole world as Sunday School Sunday and that a chain of prayer on their behalf to encircle the globe be offered.

well suited for practice for $75. Something a little better for $90, and again

THE THUNDERSTORM.

An Extract From "Summertime,"
By William H. Taylor.

When June, July and August scorch the plains,
The sun, life's Sultan, then reviews the field
Where spirits of the air their forces wield.
With balanced strength, These southern demons ride
On horses winged with fire from Aetna's side,
To meet the Greenland robins breathing hate--
Now harvest trembles in the scales of fate.
Grim Thor's great meteor-chariot grinds and roars
From blue-black clouds with red volcanic shores.

The waiting whirlwinds vanish down the road,
With leaves and dust and straw--a spiral load;
The wind appears to die, then breathes again,
Like suffocation's heaving, strangling pain.
Then gasping hard, its leathern lungs expand,
When from the South Boreas waves his wand.
His western trumpets call across the hill;
The east wind blows the conus shells of the sea,
And Nature's hushed by his mad minstrelsy.
See! there they meet upon that angry lake,
Their battle-blows big yeasty maelstroms make;
But white sea-horses from the northern side
Charge roughly on, and then triumphant ride;
The sun retreats behind an Alpine cloud
Of ghastly whiteness, like a witch-weave shroud,
Its edges change to gold as red and grey,
Then sable plumes obscure the god of day.

There booms the opening gun, and then another.
All living things now run to Earth--their mother.
The cattle huddle in the thicket's screen,
The silent birds fly to the densest green.
Of lapping cedar boughs, and squirrels peep
From hollow knot-holes, where their stores they keep.
And won the race, a safe canoe for him
Is that old dought, overtured in no time-- Diogenes, the cynic, had no more;
Did those fool yachtsmen swamp, or overturn?
To turf their sails, such lubbers never learn.

Hurrah! old Tom and Jerry; you're the team
That never failed. You yanked beneath the beam
This hurried load, now safe upon the floor--
Now, boys! be quick! and shut the big barn door;
Unhook the horses, Will, and rub them dry;
We'll give them feed and water by-and-by.
The women, too, have gathered from the line
The weekly wash, now dry and white and fine;
They shut the windows, and the cats retire
Beside the chimney's smoky kitchen fire.
The brave old dog has lost his martial air,
And sneaks along the woodshed to his lair.
The darkness thickens, sulphuretted gas
Comes from the mouth of distant thunder's base;
The footsteps of the Lord--His voice is near.

Great single drops upon the shingles beat
And splash the dusty yard like Pussy's feet;
They are the skirmishers who lead the way,
And then the infantry begin to play.
A steady volley from yon dripping cloud:
A flash of blue-white lightning, then a loud
Report from Thor's big gun reverberates
From hill to hill, from earth to Heaven's gates.
The deluge has arrived, the sheets of foam,
Swift sheets of water from the battered doors
Of those cloud-mountains, hidden now from view,
The sky and earth seem Chaos-horn anew.

The torrid heat-waves quiver in the gloom,
When suddenly an ice-wave fills the room
With frigid air, and then we know that hail
Has been evolved from that wet pom-pom tail!
It rattles on the windows like the hand
Of midnight ghosts from terror's spectre-land,
It trails across the lake its sheets of foam,
And smites friend Gardener's crop and vineyard home;
His greenhouse roof is splintered with the crash,
His hopes and labors vanish in a flash.

The battle shifts along the horizon,
Gun answers gun, the combat is not won
Until the batteries have tumbled down.
The watery mountains on the earth's dry crown
An hour has passed, and Nature smiles again.
The thirsty earth has drunk the copious rain;
The water-bells chime praise from brook and rill,
And birds sing psalms to God--their Father still.

Evening Classes for Young Women.

The class work for the season 1908-09, at the Y.W.C. Guild, 19 and 21 McGill-street, will begin Monday evening, Oct.

friends of the gymnasium department will be held in Guild Hall on Friday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m. The medical examinations in connection with the physical culture work are now being held. Classjects: Arithmetic, English, entrance dery, china painting. The Y.W.C.G. offers a splendid opportunity to the young woman who is desirous of self-improvement, as all class fees are placed at a very nominal figure. Not only does the Y.W.C.G. offer the above induc-ments to all young women, but there is a public reading room provided for all who wish to make use of it. There is also a circulating library for the use of gulf members, and bright, warm parlors where young women may enjoy a good parlor game. Social gatherings are held monthly, at which all young women receive a cordial welcome. The Y.W.C.G. is a work for young women by young women, and has for its object the improvement of the physical, social, intellectual and spiritual condition of all young women.

ECZEMA AGAIN OVERCOME.

Zam-Buk Cures a Case Which For Two Years Had Defied Every Remedy Tried.

A FARMER'S GRATEFUL TESTIMONY
No case of eczema, skin disease, or ulceration should be despised of until Zam-Buk has been applied. The case of Mr. Francis Renoit of St.
Anne's (Man.) is a powerful illustration of Zam-Buk's efficacy. He says:
"I suffered from eczema for two years,
and tried a great number of remedies.
None of them, however, seemed to do me any good."

"The ailment was mostly in my legs, and both these were actually raw from the knees down. A small sample box of Zam-Buk was given to me, and even so small a quantity as that did me a little good. I then obtained a proper supply, and by the time I had used a few boxes I was completely cured."

Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves and embrocations in containing no animal oil or fat. It is compounded from rich, healing, herbal essences, and is an ideal natural combination of power and purity. It is highly antiseptic, and instantly kills bacilli and disease germs, which, settling into wounds and skin diseases, set up feverish, blood poison, etc.

For cuts, burns, bruises, ulcers, abcesses, pimples, boils, skin eruptions, scalp sores, spreading sores, children's skin troubles, chafing sores, etc., Zam-Buk is unequalled. It also cures piles.
All druggists and stores at 50c a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 3 boxes for $1.25.

Piano Evidence That Tells.

When an artist like De Pachmann tells us that in all his world-wide travels he has found no piano that has so completely met his needs as the Heintzman & Co. piano, the average layman is safe in making this piano his choice. And De Pachmann's high estimate of this instrument has been sup-

FIELDING AT SARNIA.

Ridiculous the "Adequate Protection" Policy of Mr. Borden.

SARNIA, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Fielding spoke at a meeting held in Victoria Opera House to-night in the interests of F. F. Pardee, Liberal candidate in West Lambton. There was a fair attendance.

The minister said he would not attempt to meet the scandal charges, as these had been disproven in the committees of the house.

He dealt at some length with the finances of the country and instanced the postoffice with its surpluses as an example of successful management.

The progress of the country under the Liberal regime was shown, he held, by the growth in population, the increase in the value of land and the growth in the country's trade and commerce.

He touched on the tariff question, ridiculing Mr. Borden along the lines of adequate protection.

Dr. Logie of Sarnia acted as chairman, and other speakers were Dr. Fairbanks of Petrolia, Liberal candidate in East Lambton, and Robert I. Towers, who opposed Hon. W. J. Hanna in the last provincial contest.

THE WEATHER

What the Weather Man promised yesterday was about as near actual delivery of the goods as he ever got.

And if there ever was a conglomeration mix-up of Canadian weather it was certainly handed to Toronto yesterday.

Everything was on tap, except Old Sol, which gentleman, weary of the abuse that has been heaped upon him in the past week or two, quietly retired to some nice, downy cloud, away up high, to rest and cool off.

In the early morning the rain copiously announced that the drought was over. Having proclaimed that fact, Jupiter Pluvius took a rest, to gather up reinforcements and make arrangements for the carrying out of the regular fall program as far as possible.

All the rulers of the air seem to have held a consultation, and the result will be, no doubt, autumn weather for the future—so put on the heavier wraps.

Through the morning a gentle Scotch mist caused many an unpleasant thought in the mind of those who had to go to work, but she had to take her medicine, for it was wet practically all morning. The afternoon wasn't so wet, but it was noisy with the wind which drove over the tops of the trees.

Towards evening the thunderstorm came along, just to back up the given promise of the Weather Man. There was an occasional flash of lightning, showing that the elements were acting quite in union.

In the evening, lo and behold you, the dear old rain came, and smiled once or twice, as if he would say, "Well, folks, how d'ye like it?"

We needed this day's rain, people, every drop of it; and if it had rained last night and to-day, nobody would have anything to kick over—that is, nobody with the welfare of the country at heart.

Anyway, what kind of weather we get to-day will be "all to the good," let's all cheer up and be happy.

ANGELICANS TO IMPROVE SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

Commission to Be Appointed to Organize the Teaching — Hymnal Royalties.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—When the resolution of the upper house, urging strict observance of Sunday, came up for discussion in the lower house of the General Anglican Synod to-day, Lansing Lewis of Montreal entered a protest against the clause urging parents at summer recess to attend the heated season to hold daily family prayers.

Mr. Lewis opposed family worship on the ground that it tended to alienate the affections of children from their parents, who insisted on making them uncomfortable on a hot summer day. He said he had discussed the proposed resolution with the people of Ottawa and they were unanimously against it. He for one would not think of reading a sermon to his family on a hot Sunday night. It was a preposterous resolution.

Justice Fitzgerald of Charlottetown was not in sympathy with the stand taken by Mr. Lewis. He himself always held family prayer at his summer home.

Mr. Lewis moved non-concurrence with the resolution, but further discussion was postponed.

On the motion of F. E. Hodgins, seconded by Dr. J. A. Worrell of Toronto, the contract with the publisher, Frowde, for the publication of the hymnal was ratified.

Objection was raised to a proposal to guarantee Frowde a thousand pounds on the grounds that the royalties in the last five years might not amount to that sum, and thus the publisher would put in a claim against the royalties of the first years. It was decided to give the royalties for missionary purposes for the next three years, and that the money might then be diverted to other funds if it should be deemed advisable.

Feasibility of S. S.

At the afternoon session Dr. R. Rexford of Montreal, seconded by Rev. Canon Ingles of Toronto, moved the adoption of the report and recommendations on Sunday schools.

Owing to the movement for religious instruction in the public schools, Dr. Rexford, the attention of the synod was drawn to the possibility of the Sunday schools. The question as to whether the lessons should be given by the teachers or by the parents, which occupied the attention of the synod, was generally held to be unsatisfactory. The committee recommended the publication of a Sunday school paper and the appointment of a general secretary for the province.

A resolution passed by the committee and forwarded to the theological colleges urged the authorities to have all candidates for the ministry take a course in the art of teaching. Owing to the possibilities offered by the education of the minister of religious instruction the church had determined to put Sunday school work on a satisfactory basis.

Will Appoint a Committee. The church was presented with serious difficulties in providing for the instruction of children on account of the enormous numbers of children attending the Sunday schools, eleven thousand teachers and 100,000 pupils. Out of the half million children of the province, only 100,000 are young people. The Sunday school was the weakest side of the church, as it had been left unorganized and the matter of the religious instruction of every diocese in Canada. Some of the parents had no more regard for the historic old Anglican book than the children of the Southern Railway tried without success to get some one interested in the proposition. We were the only Liberal in the province who had not been converted, and I may tell you that were it not for the The Mail and Empire and The Telegram boomed the cause of the British Empire, the Liberal would be still holding it. But both those papers devoted considerable space to the property, and what they did divide into sections. The members of the commission will be appointed by the bishops, by the prolocutor, and others chosen from each diocese.

To-night the delegates were tendered a reception at the civic library.

A FIDDLE CHURCH VANE.

One of the most curious vanes to be seen on any church in Great Britain is at Great Gonerby, a parish adjoining Grantham.

It is in the form of a fiddle and is unusually large. Its history is curious. Many years ago a peasant resided in Great Gonerby who eked out his meagre existence by performing on an old violin which was almost a part of his life. At last he decided to emigrate, and out in the west prospered and became a rich man.

One day he sent to the clergyman at Great Gonerby a sum sufficient to build a church, and attached to the gift the curious condition that a metal replica of his old fiddle and bow should be on the summit of the edifice. The gift was accepted, and the vane may be seen on the church—London Standard.

SIX GREATEST WOMEN IN AMERICA.

Who are the six greatest women in America is the question being discussed just now by the clubwomen of the United States. The women whose actual achievements and widespread influence give them precedence over other women. It is explained. In one list Julia Ward Howe has been chosen as one of the six because of her long life of patriotism and usefulness. Jane Addams because of her helpfulness and practical reform among the poor; Helen Keller, for her wonderful perseverance in overcoming obstacles; Maud Ballington Booth, for her work in uplifting the fallen; Frances Plomes Cleveland, as the embodiment of American inviolable and motherhood; Helen Gould, for her philanthropy.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

Editor World: Concerning the political situation, and not the politicians, some of the publications of your contemporaries are read to one's disgust.

It is not possible to find in the parties contending for power, one individual who is man enough to stand right up and give a speech that would appeal to the electors? In a candidate who would do this every confidence would be reposed. He would be returned all right, and as a representative we should feel our interests to be in safe hands.

Further, a manly speech, coming at a time when "mud slinging" is the order of the day, would indeed be refreshing.

A few lines in your journal for the insertion of this letter would be esteemed a favor.

A. J. D.

Other speakers were Controller Harrison of Toronto, and the Liberal candidate, J. S. Deacon, and John D. McGregor.

Following his meeting last night in Brookville, Hon. Mr. Roblin comes west this morning to Cobourg, where he will to-night address a mass meeting in the largest hall in the town. On Wednesday night he speaks in Oshawa, and after the meeting will be brought to the city by auto, leaving by the earliest train on Thursday for Winnipeg.

R. L. Borden will be at the Carleton County Conservative nomination on the afternoon of Oct. 5, and in the evening will address a mass meeting in Ottawa. On Oct. 6 he will speak in Brantford.

The report that H. B. Ames, M.P. of Montreal, would cancel the balance of his Ontario tour is incorrect. Mr. Ames addressed a large meeting in Port Huron last evening. To-day he goes to Welland; on Wednesday, to Wingham; on Thursday, St. Thomas; on Friday, Leamington; and on Saturday, Newmarket. All these meetings will take place in the evening.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held by the Toronto Conservative Club was held last night in the Temple Building. The little discussion that apparently existed during the last provincial elections has passed away, and a united front will be presented to the enemy.

In doing this the club is to the advantage of the Conservative cause for the good government of the Dominion. Bright brief addresses were given by Mr. L. Borden, J. W. Deane, Mr. H. J. Macdonald, R. Rogers, W. D. Earney, J. T. Loftus, F. G. McEwen and others, all expressing confidence in the Conservative front.

The following resolution was unanimously passed: Moved by R. A. Rogers, seconded by H. J. Macdonald, "That this club in meeting to-night, in hearty accord with the candidates now in the field in the different Toronto constituencies, and pledge ourselves to render every assistance to secure their election."

The club will hold a smoker in Victoria Hall on Friday night, Oct. 16, at which all the Tory nominees will speak.

ROBLIN TO MACDONALD

Manitoba's Premier Explains the Order of the Day. (Special.)

BRANDON, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The feature of the Conservative mass meeting here this evening was the scathing denunciation of the Globe editor by Hon. R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba, who likened him to Judas Iscariot. He said:

"Mr. Macdonald, when he talks about me being a coward, does not know his man, for I repeat the charges and the records will prove what I say."

"I have the same fear of J. A. Macdonald of the Globe that I did when I was a boy of a small black animal with a bushy tail and white stripes down its back, whose habits were to rob the chicken-coop at night and the hen's nests by day when no one was looking. This animal, like J. A. Macdonald, when disturbed in its acts of piracy, was content to make its defence with a malodorous smell, the only result of which was to make one sick at the thought."

"I class J. A. Macdonald and his vituperation in that class, and he will remain there a discredited, demoralized and discredited editor, fit only for the sewer work of The Toronto Globe."

On the authority of W. B. McGinnis, Liberal candidate for Vancouver, he called the Globe a newspaper of cant, without a principle, and called upon him to take his sentence of condemnation from the public like a man, as the people of Canada deserved a shivered hypocrite.

Under the sanctity of the Christian name, Mr. Macdonald had defended every crime that the Liberal government had committed, from the stealing of franchises to the destruction of moral and material values in the Yukon and in the northern waters of the Hudson Bay.

The Laurier government, he claimed, had added public opinion in the lowering of the standard of morals in public life, and for this alone it deserved punishment and defeat.

COOL WOMAN BAGS BURGLAR.

Ernest Griggs, 26 Bruce-street, was arrested by P. C. Clark (238) at 1.30 this morning charged with attempting to break into Stephen Bell's house at 87 Dundas-street.

Miss Bell was awakened by a noise at the back of the house and looked out of the rear window. She saw two men getting a ladder ready to climb up to the window. She made no noise, but called her mother to telephone for the police. This was done, and P. C. Clark was sent from the West Queen-street station.

He caught Griggs getting down from a shed at the rear, but the other man had fled. The men had broken in the back kitchen door in an effort to enter the house in that way.

THE HAUNTED RIVER.

By shining creek and silent hill The glittering water runs the ridge; It passes dripping water-mill, And hark! the plash of oars unseen That sounds the curfew's call to bed.

By sandy coves the river winds, Marked with the print of sea-birds' feet, And o'er the water's surface glides Above the spray and pasture meet, And lo! a boat with sail of brown, Unleashed by mortal hand, floats down.

A light wind in the hedgerow stirs The glides above the hidden form, Of buried canal and homely cot, And chimes of a silver bell Rings upward from the fairy well.

From mountain stillness, mountain storm, By flowery mead and homely cot, The glides above the hidden form, Of buried canal and homely cot, And chimes of a silver bell Rings upward from the fairy well.

Traders Try to Force Prices Lower, But Meet With Considerable Opposition.

World Office Monday Evening, Sept. 28. A quiet, steady and firm undertone pervaded the markets for the mining issues to-day. Traders attempted to bring about a further reaction, but efforts to bring out stock were without avail. The tactics of short operations served to keep prices from assuming any special buoyancy, and at the same time supplied a splendid foundation to values. There was a general all round absorption of the active issues to-day, and the market was about the only one in which loss of profit was not taking place. The market was about the only one in which loss of profit was not taking place. The market was about the only one in which loss of profit was not taking place.

RED ROCK LIQUIDATES.

Company Unable to Pay Obligations of $10,000. At a meeting of the Red Rock Mining Co., yesterday morning it was decided to go into liquidation because of a $10,000 debt, which could not be paid. The present company had for its directors F. B. Chapin, president; A. E. Dymont, vice-president; R. N. Green, secretary-treasurer; R. R. Gamney, A. E. Osler and N. L. Thompson. The company was capitalized for one million dollars. The stock was all issued and sales were made yesterday at 60 per share.

MAKES LARGE SHIPMENT.

Another Good Shipment Made From the Silver Queen Mine. Silver Queen was in good demand, both in Toronto and New York, on Saturday and yesterday. This mine shipped out over 60 tons of ore last week, and the mine is said by those who have recently inspected the property to be looking better than ever. On its present dividend, Silver Queen shares are expected to get very much closer to $2 than they are even after the recent advance. This mine has only recently received a large shipment of ore caused by the fire and regular shipments are promised from now forward.

IN THE HEART OF THE CAMP.

Chambers-Ferland Shares Will Assert Their Value in the Market. "You might notice," remarked one of the most conservative and wealthy of Toronto brokers to The World yesterday, "that the knocker has already made his advent in regard to Chambers-Ferland. I am not an enthusiast usually regarding mining stocks but Cobalt of the right stripe are much more of an investment than very many other securities. We are now satisfied that most of the shipping mines have several times the amount of their capitalization in sight and with this fact acknowledged the speculation is only in regard to the possibilities of future discoveries. Now, with regard to Chambers-Ferland, this company has 124 acres in the very heart of the mining district surrounding the celebrated La Rose mine. It is surrounded by itself by such celebrities as Nipissing and O'Brien. I am informed that another car of high-grade ore was shipped from the Chambers-Ferland mine on Friday last; this makes five cars of ore from a property which has scarcely yet started to be developed. There is evidently a strong belief among the holders of the stock to sell their shares, by small brokers who are short of the stock and want to cover their contracts with as little loss as possible. The value of this property will assert itself in the market price of the shares at no distant date despite the opposition of the small 'pikers' was the closing remark of one who, evidently felt keenly the attempt to keep a good thing in the back ground.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

Toronto Broker Says Some Ore Deposits Deserve Description. S. B. Playfair of Playfair, Martens & Co. has just returned from Cobalt and brings a good account of conditions at the mines. He was accompanied by Dr. J. McP. Scott of W. H. Martens of this city. Although they were short they visited quite a number of the mines, including Temiskaming, Beaver, Shamrock, Silver Leaf, Kerr Lake, Crown Reserve, Nova Scotia, Chambers-Ferland, Temiskaming and Hudson Bay. Mr. Playfair in conversation with The World last night said: "I was much surprised to see the great strides made in development work in the mines down around the Temiskaming. The Temiskaming itself is now thoroughly equipped with an excellent plant and buildings. The Beaver is also in splendid shape and although not as yet a shipper it looks very much as though it would be in a very few weeks now. The Shamrock is a new one to most people, but is fast coming to prominence and will be heard from in any other month or so. The ore on the Crown Reserve is beyond description, and I will not try to tell you what we saw. It is impossible to describe the richness of some of the ore; it would not sound plausible to any except those who have seen it. All I can say is that those people who want to know Cobalt is to go and see for themselves and while there take a look in the Crown Reserve ore house and then they can believe almost anything. It is reported that a rich vein of native silver was struck on the Rochester property the other day. The

The Severe Drought Curtails Dairying and Stockers Rushed Out

Canada is Now in the Pinch of Drought - Milk Supply is Falling Off - One Million Cattle Short in the States - Heavy Dews and Dust Affect the Surface Moisture Content.

The severe drought is beginning to be seriously felt by the farmers, particularly the dairy men and stockmen. The milk producers in the townships surrounding Toronto are already losing considerable in their supply.

Pastures are burnt up completely, and feeding corn has to be generously resorted to. Even some are using ensilage now, which is by far the cheaper way where feed has to be taken from the winter's supply.

Wells are giving out in some parts and streams are dried up which makes the work of the busy farmer much harder, where there are a lot of live stock to take to water.

Full plowing has been seriously interfered with. The ground has been so warm that farm teams cannot do much with the stiff clays. Many single plowing have been sold to try to overcome the hardness, as a single plow will take hold of the soil where a twin one would not. This where a twin one would not. This where a twin one would not.

Conditions are very dry in the eastern part of the province also. Learning from last year's experience, there farmers planted more to corn and millet this year. Thus they have the feed to meet the present dry spell.

In the western parts of the province, the dry weather has not been so long continued, as several showers were received at intervals during the month of August.

American Dairy Felt It.
The severe drought is beginning to be a factor in the butter situation not previously noted. The American Dairy Review, which has been in the market for some time, says that the absence of rain, pastures "burning up," and the heavy shrinkage in the flow of milk, the eastern and northern belt of our country and much of Canada has been exceeding dry for some time past, but the drought has since extended all over the central west and out into the dairy sections of Iowa and Minnesota.

There are localities where local rains have kept pastures fairly green, but the force of the drought is being felt over an unusually wide area, including some of the best producing districts in this country. This means short grass for the rest of the fall, as we are too near frost to expect much good from the pastures in the event of general rains. In a good many localities, the milk supply has been kept up unexpectedly well by feeding roughage and sowing corn, but the scarcity of water is telling severely on the stock.

The wet weather of this month has hastened the maturity of the American corn crop so that all except a small portion is now beyond danger of frost damage. The final government estimate of the crop is likely to be about the same as last year, and notwithstanding the lateness of the crop, new corn is likely to begin coming to market earlier than usual, owing to the dry weather this month, says The Live Stock World.

Cattle Being Sold.
Altho Canada is not selling cattle as was the case during the panic of last year, yet many stockers are coming on to a poor market here.

The Chicago Live Stock World in speaking of the live cattle markets, says that lately cattle have been coming into market in excessive numbers, due mainly to the shortage of pasture and the scarcity of water. It has been a good many years since the drought was so prolonged and so far-reaching. It seems to cover nearly the whole country. In the east, everything is burnt up and water has to be hauled to supply stock. In the central west it is nearly as bad. In many localities, there has been no rain of any consequence in six or eight weeks. This condition has been responsible for the big liquidation of cattle, which is pretty certain to continue as long as the weather is dry.

It is generally conceded that the supply of cattle in the country is not large and the marketing of so many light and immature cattle now will surely mean a distinct shortage of desirable steers later on. At the five principal western markets for the year, thus far receipts show a falling off of 700,000 head, compared with last year, and it is believed that this decrease will reach the million point before the year is out. The high price of corn promises to modify the feeding business, so there is not much prospect of getting many fat, well-finished cattle for some time. As long as the rangers are coming freely, which will be for two months yet, there will be plenty of cattle for immediate sale. Altho the land is hard to turn over, yet in many places the soil pulverizes easily. Where the land was plowed early and cultivated, wheat, the moisture content has been induced to such an extent that the wheat has germinated and is almost ready for the harrow. The lesson that cultivation costs for as much as manure is being illustrated in another of nature's object lessons.

Heavy Dews and Dust.
Strangely enough, the young clover seeds show a surprising vitality. The ground has since cracked as one would expect to find it and it is remarked by many that the way the land is acting in crumbling into dust, has been a good thing for the clover seed. ONTARIO'S CLAY BELT HAS A BRIGHT FUTURE

Prof. W. H. Day Writes About Products of Station Near Lake Abitibi - Temperatures Extreme.

Professor W. H. Day of Guelph, who is perhaps more favorably known to agriculturists of Ontario, than his excellent work in farm drainage, has just returned from the Black River in the clay belt, and writes to The World about the temperatures of the place.

While it will be noted that frosts occurred during every month, it must be kept in mind that settlement has always had a modifying effect on the climate, as the climate of the west illustrates.

He says: Some of the readers of your farming and live stock pages may be interested in a note regarding the agricultural possibilities of the "great clay belt" of New Ontario.

When the minister of agriculture selected a site for a northern experimental station on the banks of the Black River near Lake Abitibi, about 350 miles north of Toronto, as the clay belt, the department of physics and the department of geology, with an observing station with the necessary thermometers, rain-gauge, etc. Throughout the summer we have been receiving reports and with the last ones, Mr. McLaren, the observer, sent us samples of the potatoes, cucumbers, tomatoes and peas. They are all fine samples, the potatoes being especially well filled with plump heavy grain.

In commenting on the samples, Mr. McLaren says: "The seeds were planted at the end of May, with exception of the tomatoes, which were planted late in June. We had ripe tomatoes to-day, Sept. 13th. We have also had lettuce, peas, beans and parsley."

From our temperature records we make the following comparisons:

Guelph	Max. Min.	Abitibi	Max. Min.
May 23	29	23	17
June 30	40	33	26 (11th)
Aug. 1	40	33	26
Sept. 1	40	33	26

From the above table it will be noted that Abitibi had frost in every month but August, the July frost not being sufficient to do any damage. Season without killing frost from June 1st to September 3rd, 83 days. Guelph has 145 days free from killing frost.

(2) At Abitibi, maximums are higher and minimums lower than at Guelph. The latter is much more extreme. It had higher maximums in June, July and August than had Guelph.

Further honors came to Waverley Farm breeding in the extraordinary performances of Messrs. Crow and Murray's fine team of carriage horses, also first in the harness class, and a decidedly handsome and promising filly.

In the four-year-old class, shown to harness or rein, the Beith stables won first, second and third on Lonsdale Road, a beautiful chestnut, 5 years old, standing 15.5 hands; Yaphank Lily, also first in the harness class, and Beith has an animal to be justly proud of and one that will yet make her mark.

Brigham Ruth, a chestnut filly, won first in her class, shown to rein and harness, and the Beith stables won a decidedly handsome and promising filly.

SEN. BEITH'S HACKNEYS AT OGDENSBURG FAIR

Waverley Stock Farm and Other Canadians Carry Off Prizes - Big Show of Light Horses.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 25. (Special.)—Canadians have won distinct honors at the Ogdensburg fair, which closed here to-night, Senator Beith of Waverley Stock Farm, Brownsville, who will be known to all Americans as owner of the celebrated Robin Adair, of Saxon and of On Guard, carried off a long list of awards.

While it is all the more creditable as the attendance of horses at this fair was the largest in its history. Many visitors who have attended horse shows, were heard to remark that they never saw a larger list of excellent horses at one fair. Millionaire Paul A. Sarg of New York City, the Allison and Farm, Brooklyn, T. H. Sarg of Millbrook, Crow and Murray Co., Toronto; John Stewart of Montreal, Dr. W. J. Young of Toronto, E. H. Weatherbee and George W. Kearney of Montreal, A. B. Gillis of Syracuse, besides several individual exhibitors had fine horses.

When Hon. Mr. Beith and other Canadian exhibitors were induced to show at this fair there was little competition, but now excellent stables and prize lists have drawn out New York stables. Immense crowds attended the last three days of the fair.

In four-year-old Hackneys shown to harness or rein, the Beith stables won first, second and third on Lonsdale Road, a beautiful chestnut, 5 years old, standing 15.5 hands; Yaphank Lily, also first in the harness class, and Beith has an animal to be justly proud of and one that will yet make her mark.

39 CARS AT UNION YARDS GOOD CATTLE SELL STEADY

Common Grades Are Easier - Sheep and Lambs Easy - Hogs Sell at 25c. Per Cwt. Lower.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 39 carsloads, composed of 756 cattle, 63 hogs, 537 sheep and lambs, with 23 calves.

The quality of fat cattle generally was not up to the usual standard at this market, but several good loads were on sale. Trade, considering the light receipts, was slow, but prices were not any lower for the best, and common were easy at last week's quotations.

Exporters.
Trade in exporters was dull, with prices easy; in fact, some of the drovers refused to export, stating that they would ship to the British markets themselves. Export stags ranged at $4.40 to $5, but only one load sold by McDonald & Halligan reached the latter price, the bulk selling at $4.50 to $4.75; bulls were quoted at $5.50 to $4 per cwt.

Butchers.
Picked, choice steers at $4.75; loads of good, $4.15 to $4.40; medium, $3.75 to $4; common, $3.25 to $3.50; cows, $2.50 to $3; canners, $1 to $2 per cwt.

Stockers and Feeders.
Messrs. Murby & Halligan were on the market for feeders, and prices quoted ranged at $3 to $5.

Veal Calves.
The bulk of veal calves sold at $3 to $4, but a few extra choice quality sold at $5 and $6.

Sheep and Lambs.
There was a fair supply of sheep and lambs. Prices were easy, as follows: $2.50 to $3; ewes, $2.50 to $2.75; lambs, $4 to $4.50.

Hogs.
Guns, limited, quote a drop in price of 25c. Selected, fed and watered, $6.75; f.o.b. cars at country points, $6.50. the preference that would be extended to Canadian products.

Answering Sir Wilfrid's North Bay speech, in which he said the accumulated surplus of the government was $112,000,000, Mr. Borden pointed out that the debt was $273,000,000, an increase of $20,000,000.

"They are willing," said Mr. Borden, "to take credit for property and they are willing to give Providence credit for any depression."

"The supreme issue was the issue of decent administration of the public domain against the exploitation of the public domain in the interest of a few favorite Liberals."

He was confident of victory. It would not be a Conservative victory, but a victory of decent Liberals.

Hon. W. J. Hanna made a reply to some charges of The Toronto Globe, that he was the solicitor of the Standard Oil Co. and that he had been engaged as counsel in the oil company.

He had never been in the employ of the Standard Oil Co. and had never received a cent of their money. For many years he had been the solicitor of the Imperial Oil Co., but in the past ten years it had not been before the courts of Canada.

As to his position as drainage courts, he would deal with that when he went back to his electors. He would give that to his electors. He would give that to his electors. He would give that to his electors.

It was in the discharge of a public duty that Mr. Hanna was on Mr. Borden's platform. He had seen promoters and franchise-grabbers go to Ottawa and obtain privileges that were refused to them by the Ontario Legislature and while they were not entitled to. He had a right to say to Sir Wilfrid that he should not lay hands on the rights of the provinces.

Immigration. The provincial secretary proceeded to discuss the asylum statistics given in a former speech and the argument that the admissions in a single year should not be set against the immigration of the year. He held that they should and declared that 77 admissions to the Toronto Asylum last year were new-comers to Canada within two years, and some of them were deported the day they landed.

The acute situation with regard to the increase in lunacy in Canada was due directly to the Dominion Government, which gave good Liberal friends hundreds of thousands of dollars to scour the slums of Europe for immigrants at so much per head.

That member of the North Atlantic Trading Co. who said if his name were disclosed he would go out and hang himself had a better appreciation of the crime he was committing.

MAGISTRATE ELLIS ADJOURNS DALEY CASE

West Toronto School Board Have Red Hot Wrangle—Big Grist of News From County.

NORTH TORONTO, Sept. 28.—"I want to meet an Englishman who wants to increase his present prospects in an honest and safe way, and who is open to make an outlay of $75 to $250. The proposition is likely unequalled anywhere. No time nor services need be given. Not likely any proposition elsewhere, involving, say, thousands of dollars, and both time and services would give better prospects. No agency, no money, no mining stocks, nothing trifling."

This was a memorandum which J. J. Daly gave to Walter Preston, and it was exhibited in court before Magistrate Ellis yesterday. Daly was appearing on a charge of vagrancy, on which he was arrested in North Toronto last week. It is thought, however, that he has been trying a "con" game.

Chief Constable Collins of North Toronto, in his evidence, said that he had seen Daly walking the streets from early morning till late at night for the past three months with no visible means of support, and that he owed $45 for board. The chief stated that he seized a large bundle of papers, which were in the form of agreements and advertisements, also a number of letters addressed to B. J. Kitchener, box 78, Eglinton, which box was rented by Daly. Daly had interviewed about forty townspeople, trying to do business with them.

T. Hopkins said Daly owed him $6.05 for board. He did not know Daly's business.

Harry Hyde stated that Daly came to his shop and asked him if he knew some Englishmen with a little ready cash to be invested in a good agricultural proposition.

George Keith, of 52 Birch-avenue, Toronto, knew the defendant by his several calls upon him to find some man with a little cash to invest in his proposition which business venture Daly would not disclose to him, but tried to get $25 from him for agricultural purposes. Daly explained to him: "All you need to do is to pay the cash, sign an agreement to file away, which will become valuable some time at some place."

The magistrate: Did Daly explain the proposition to you? Witness: No. Daly (aside): Because I didn't think you had any money.

An adjournment until Thursday was made.

tees to go into the matter with the architect and the contractors and see what decision can be arrived at. The board of works met to-night and made arrangements to have Keele street macadamised from Dundas to Annette street, and a cement curb laid, with two catch basins. It is proposed in this connection to sell the gravel on Keele street to delay the expense of the Keele-street improvements.

The board also passed a number of accounts. The camp fire which was to have been held at High Park-avenue Methodist Church to-morrow evening has been postponed indefinitely.

WESTON. Women's Institute Plan an Aggressive Season. WESTON, Sept. 28.—The re-opening meeting of the Weston Women's Institute was a great success, over 200 sharing in the luncheon provided by the Shreded Wheat Co. Mrs. J. H. Taylor, the president, gave a short address, and Mrs. Marie McGill, Miss Hazel Hathaway and Mr. Hill, all of West Toronto, sang most acceptably. Others taking part were Katherine Ingles, and the Mandolin Club. The toast of "Our Home and Country" was proposed by Miss Savage, and responded to by Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. G. M. Lyons. Mrs. Coon proposed the toast, "Our Guests," responded to by a number of the gentlemen present.

WESTON, Sept. 28.—Herbert Dixon, son of Oliver Dixon, concessioner, Etobicoke Township, accidentally shot himself in the hand with a revolver while withdrawing a bullet from a deer. MALVERN. Home Team Are Recipients of Many Congratulations. MALVERN, Sept. 28.—General jubilation prevails among football enthusiasts and Scarborough people generally over the decisive victory of the local football team over the All Saints of Toronto. The score was 2 to 0 in favor of the Malverns, and the fact that the All Saints had not defeated a superior team in many seasons adds to the prestige of the locals.

The match was the first of the home and home games for the Ontario Football Association, and the match will be played next Saturday.

DEER PARK. Funeral of Little Daughter of Aid. Bredin Took Place Yesterday. DEER PARK, Sept. 28.—The Deer Park public school was dismissed at noon to-day in order to give an opportunity to the pupils to attend the funeral of their schoolmate, Emily Maud, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bredin, of 124 York street. The flag at the school building was at half mast. The funeral took place to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and Rev. J. H. Pickett, pastor of the Church of the Messiah, officiated, and was assisted by Rev. D. C. Hosack, former pastor of the Deer Park Presbyterian Church, and Rev. T. H. Pickett. The floral tributes were many, and besides those from the immediate relatives, others were from the public school, teaching staff, employees and office staff of the Bredin Bread Co.

Larry McCann elected to be tried by a jury in this afternoon's police court on a charge of aggravated assault in biting one Abe Robinson, hostler at the Deer Park Hotel. McCann conducted his own case. Constable Dalby, No. 120, of the city force, gave evidence.

CHESTER. Quarterly Sunday School Meeting in the Baptist Church To-night. CHESTER, Sept. 28.—The Toronto Baptist Sunday School Association will hold their regular quarterly meeting in Chester Church to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, Sept. 29, at 8 o'clock. Among the speakers will be G. R. Roberts, H. L. Stark, and D. A. Atkinson.

Take Broadway cars to end of track and walk north a short distance. UNIONVILLE. Movement on Foot to Secure a Better System of Lighting. UNIONVILLE, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The passing through Sir Wilfrid Laurier this morning in his special car and the short detention at the railway station was made the occasion of a pleasing little ceremony. He was presented with a magnificent bouquet by Mrs. William Carmichael. Sir Wilfrid, who was standing on the rear platform, graciously acknowledged the thoughtful act. The premier was warmly received and both here and at Markham Village a big crowd of admirers boarded the excursion train for Jackson's Point.

Now that Unionville has achieved the status of a police village a movement is on foot from which it is hoped that some system of street and house lighting may be evolved. The village possessing in all other respects the attributes of a fine residential town should be in darkness is not generally regarded as satisfactory. Since becoming a police village Unionville has greatly improved the sidewalks and roads, and the pressing need of the village is a good system of street and house lighting. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harrington left this morning for a visit to friends in Haldimand County.

Rev. Mr. Poverly is making slight progress towards recovery. EAST TORONTO. East Toronto annexation will be dealt with by the Ontario Railway Board at 11 o'clock this morning. The Weston bylaws were validated by the board yesterday.

WILL COMPANY EXTEND? Rumor Credits Them With Desire to Expand Lines. A great deal of interest attaches in the rumor—whether well founded or not—that the Toronto & York Radial Railway Co. will shortly begin the building of a new line, tapping one of the other or both of these municipalities. Assuming that the rumor is well founded and the company manifests a desire to undertake the work, the route to be chosen will be the subject for a strong fight between two rival districts, the north end and the south end. The route to be chosen will be the subject for a strong fight between two rival districts, the north end and the south end.

The other rumor credits the Toronto & York Radial Co. with considering the building of a line diverging from the present line on Yonge street, somewhere about Langstaff, and running east, tapping the villages of Dollar, Brown's Corners, Unionville, Markham, Boxgrove, Whitelake, Brougham, etc. Representatives from the Scarborough Council have already approached the railway company, espousing the cause of the Scarborough route, in all of the thickly-populated district in Markham Township a strong feeling prevails that the road being built to set forth the merits of the Yonge-street and Langstaff routes.

Officially no definite announcement has been made as to the route, but in the event of the project going thru, the company would have to charter, preferring, as in the case of the Jackson's Point extension, to buy the right-of-way thru private property.

The Yonge-street route offers a rich and practically virgin district, with little in the way of traveling facilities, with few engineering difficulties, and would prove a big revenue-producer from the beginning.

COOKSVILLE. Everything Promises Well for the Big Fair Next Week. COOKSVILLE, Sept. 28.—The Cooksville Fair, which takes place on Wednesday, Oct. 7, bids fair to outstrip any of its predecessors in the number and quality of exhibits generally, while in the matter of draught and light horses and exhibit second only to the National Exhibition now seems assured. J. K. Morley, the energetic secretary, is delighted with the outlook as to the directors. A feature which will add very materially to the success of the fair is the splendid train arrangements provided. On that date a special train will leave the Union Station at 1 o'clock, calling at all intermediate stations, and making the run in order to be in Cooksville at 4 o'clock. Citizens who want to see a purely good, clean agricultural show ought to take a run out to Cooksville on Oct. 7.

YORK MILLS. YORK MILLS, Sept. 28.—Harvest thanksgiving services will be held in St. John's Church on Thursday, Oct. 1, and on Sunday, Oct. 4, at 11 o'clock. The services on Sunday will be at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. and 7 p.m. The preacher at the morning service will be the Rev. T. W. Paterson, M.A., of Deer Park.

Streetville Fair. Come to Streetville Fair Wednesday, Sept. 30. Special train leaves Union Station at 1 o'clock. Great day's evening. Grand show of horses of every class. Entries pouring in fast. Best band in Ontario. Band of the 48th Highlanders will play at fair and give concert at night. Come to this fair and we'll guarantee you a grand time. J. W. Miller, president; W. J. Graydon, secretary.

Auction Sale. Dave Beldam, Scarborough Township's well-known auctioneer, will sell by public auction on Saturday, Oct. 3rd, at Woburn, 25 fresh-calving cows and ten forward calves, some of which are well bred. Sale at 1 p.m.

EAST TORONTO. EAST TORONTO, Sept. 28.—The town council will for the most part be represented at the annexation conference at 11 o'clock in the legislative buildings at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. It is not known that any special counsel will present the claims of the town, but the northern end of York Township interested will be represented by A. P. Lobbs. He will also present the views of the Balm Beach Ratepayers' Association.

Oliver Cantler reports that he was held up by highwaymen a night or two ago and ordered to give up all his money, $5 of which he did. No clue.

BOYS BURGULARIZE CHURCH. KINGSTON, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—In broad daylight, boys climbed thru the window of Bethel Church, broke open the box and made off with the contents. It is the fifth time that the box has been rifled.

Wheat Goes via New York. MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—Owing to the high rates charged by the Canadian route, over one million bushels of Canadian wheat is now in transit to Buffalo, and about four million is booked. The rates via Montreal are 61-4c to this port and 2s 2d to England. The rates by Buffalo are about the same overland, and 1s 4d to England.

Didn't Want His Boy on Exhibition. KINGSTON, Sept. 28.—Saturday night a hypnotist put a lad to sleep in a store window on Princess-street. Soon after this the lad's father came along, and with the crowd stood before the window. When he saw what was on
