Gallantry and Determination of The Canadians Save The Situation, Says War Office, But Losses Are Heavy Major Frank Magee's Guns Lost But Brilliantly Re-taken

Four Guns Left When Retirement Forced But, In Brilliant Charge, The Boys Gain Them Again And Capture Many Germans

"Their Conduct Has Been Magnificent," is Tribute of Highest Military Circles --Specially Commended by the British Commanders -- Were in Thick of it, Evidently at Famous Hill No. 60

London, April 24—The War Office today gave out the following official note: "The fight for the ground into which the Germans penetrated between Steenstraete and Lange-

London, April 24—Discussing the latest German effort to break through the British lines at Ypres, the military correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The critical moment has arrived. The immediate object of the Germans is the capture of Ypres, which they regard as the key to Calais. For this purpose they have been transported to the Flanders front as evidenced by reported reports from Holland and the elaborate troop movements in Belgium. The British blow at Hill No. 60 was an effort to strike first.

London, April 24—The Daily Mail's correspondent in northern France, in a despatch describing the British attack on Hill No. 60, southeast of Ypres, says: "The British success was due largely to the speed of the tunnel engineers, for the explosion of the British mines anticipated by only a short time a similar move of the German engineers. Hill No. 60 is only 200 yards long. The fighting here has been more terribly concentrated than in any spot in history. The whole hill is mined, trenched, sandbagged and covered. Some of the enemy's trenches are still virtually on the hill within twenty yards of our trenches.

NOT LIKELY TO RECALL THE BRITISH ENVOY TO VATICAN

Scotch M. P.'s Being Pressed to Urge it—Mission to Rome Declared Success

Montreal, April 24—A Gazette cable says that the Scottish M. P.'s have received many demands for the recall of the British envoy to the Vatican following a resolution passed recently by the Presbyterian synods. The agitation will probably be ineffective, as there is good authority for stating that Sir Henry Howard's mission has proved of immense value to Great Britain and the allies.

CATERINO AWAY.

The steamer Caterino sailed this afternoon for London via Halifax.

THE SACRIFICE.

(A. M. Belding.) You saw our heroes march along? My lad was there with the rest, Tall and handsome and brave and strong, Oh, man! We have given our best. But right must triumph and wrong must yield. And Freedom's anchors hold, Though blood of our hearts may reddens the field, And flesh of our flesh grow cold. I have always hated war, and prayed For peace in our time, But now to pray that the strife be stayed Ere the Hun is crushed were a crime. And I could the years but fall away, And give me my youth again, Would stand with my boy in the deadly fray Or lie in the ranks of the slain. For what is life if the soul be blind To the higher stars of the race, To grope in the dark and never find The light of its Maker's face? Ever to grope and be a slave, To crouch and crawl, And lie at last in a soldier's grave— The grave of a numbered thrall. Our fathers fought for the rights we hold In trust for all mankind, And the fruits of the conflict centuries old. Are not to be cast to the wind. No flinch, nor turn aside, To us it has fallen to speed the blow And hunkle a war-torn's side. The hero souls of a thousand years Marched past with our sons today; Nor shock of war nor craven fears Can daunt that stern array. But oh, the pain—the bitter cost, The agony and tears, The hearts that grieve for loved ones lost, —The long and lonely years! When the shivering winter is warned again By the shining rays of peace, God grant these have not died in vain Who died that wars might cease.

SOLDIERS TO FIVE CHURCHES

Notes of the War—Dr. Ryan in Egypt

The church parades of the 8th Battalion tomorrow will include: St. Paul's, Centenary, Cathedral, St. David's and German street Baptist. The training of the battalion today included a route march for the major portion to the vicinity of Silver Falls, where tactical manoeuvres were carried on, while for the headquarters staff, including the signallers, pioneers, transport men, machine gun section, stretcher bearers, etc., target practice at the rifle range was continued.

BRITISH DRIVING THEM BACK

Paris, April 24—Heavy losses have already been inflicted upon the Germans in the fighting about Ypres. Despatches from points south of the battlefront state that fighting continues over a front of about eleven miles, but that the German attacks seem to be weakening under the fire of the artillery massed against them and that they are being forced back.

BROUGHT HIGH PRICES

Twenty-four steers from the Experimental Farm, Napyan, commanded an excellent price in the Halifax Market recently. Wyley Baird, superintendent of the farm, disposed of these animals for $8.25 per hundred weight, live weight, while a car load of lambs equalled the market record of $8.00 per cwt. live weight.

GERMANS' SECOND DRIVE TO CALAIS BEGUN; SET BACK IS GIVEN ALLIES

Retreat Admitted By General French And Paris War Office

Russians Again on Move Under General Tactical Plan of Allies and Fighting is Reported Along Almost Entire 800 Mile Battle Line

London, April 24—German troops have renewed their drive for Calais. This is the construction placed by British military experts upon the sudden offensive of the Kaiser's army in Flanders. Their assaults directed against Ypres and the allies' forces on the west bank of the Ypres Canal have resulted in victory for the time being, at least. That the allies have been forced to retreat is admitted by both Field Marshal Sir John French and the French War Office, though they attribute the German success to the use of asphyxiating bombs.

RUSSIA STRIKING

With the Germans on the advance in the west, the general scheme of operations laid down by the allies is again being carried out. Russian hosts are again on the move. Late despatches from Petrograd report action along almost the entire 800 mile battle line extending from the Baltic to Bukovina.

GERMANS RUSH TO FRONT

New York, April 24—A special to the London Daily Express and New York Herald from the Belgian frontier, says: "The entire area west of the Bruges-Courtrai road is said to be literally flooded with Germans. The Germans appear to be staking everything on this tremendous effort."

A STURDY LOT

Uniforms Had to Be Extra Size For Railway Construction Corps

The magnificent physical proportions of the members of the railway construction corps was demonstrated a short time ago when the first consignment of uniforms arrived for them. The lot contained about 520 outfits and of these all but 112 had to be sent back. Only the largest received were big enough and the rest were all too small for any of the members of the corps. Since then the outfitting department has recognized the unusual sizes of the men and less difficulty has been experienced with the recent arrivals of uniforms.

ANOTHER DEPOSIT IN CARD PLAYING CASE FORFEITED

Charles Stevens, charged with being a spectator at a gambling game in a building, No. 13 Dock street, on last Sunday, failed to appear in the police court this morning and his deposit of $80 was forfeited.

Two men arrested on drunkenness charges, also forfeited $80 deposits. One man was fined $8 or two months in jail on a drunkenness charge.

Several prisoners on the remand list were disposed of. James Shaw, charged with stealing a pair of boots from a woman employee of a King square boarding house, was sent up for trial. He pleaded not guilty and made an eloquent address on his own behalf. He said it was true he had disposed of the boots in a second-hand store, but had done so as a favor for another, and did not know that they were stolen.

James O'Dell, arrested some days ago on a charge of creating a disturbance in Chapel street, was ordered sent before Judge Forbes, as he was out on suspended sentence.

Daniel Duggan was fined $40 or six months in jail for drunkenness and assaulting ex-sergeant Baxter. The fine was allowed to stand.

The case against Hoy Lee will be taken up again on next Monday afternoon at 2.15 o'clock.

William Kelly, detained as an inmate of a disorderly house in Sheffield street, was fined $60 or three months in jail. He received a warning and was allowed to go with the fine standing against him.

William Shea was fined $8 or two months in jail.

MOTHER FINED. In the juvenile court this morning a small boy appeared to answer a charge of truancy. He was sent below and his mother was fined $2.

Night Cables Indicate Heavy Fighting
Germans Using Asphyxiating Gas-bombs and Allies Fall Back a Little—Activity in Eastern Theatre Soon

London, April 23, 11.15 p. m.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France and Belgium, communicates the following under today's date:

"Yesterday evening the enemy developed an attack on the French troops on the left in the neighborhood of Blandinot and Langemark, on the north of the Ypres salient.

"This attack was preceded by a heavy bombardment, the enemy at the same time making use of a large number of appliances for the production of asphyxiating gas. The quantity produced indicates long and deliberate preparation for the employment of the device, contrary to the terms of The Hague Convention, which forbids its use.

"The false statement made by the Germans a week ago, to the effect that we were using such gas, is now explained. It obviously was an effort to diminish neutral criticism in advance.

OVERCOME BY FUMES.

"During the night the French had to retire from the gas zone, overwhelmed by the fumes. They have fallen back to the canal in the neighborhood of Beaulieu. Our front remains intact, except on the extreme left, where the troops have had to readjust their line in order to conform with the new French line.

"Two attacks, delivered during the night on our trenches east of Ypres, were repulsed. Fighting continues in the region north of Ypres.

"This morning one of our aviators, during a reconnaissance which he completed successfully, damaged a German aeroplane and forced it to descend. Our flying corps has brought down another German machine near Messines."

The Germans claim that, with a rush they drove the Allies back to the Ypres canal, making 1,600 British and French prisoners, and a number of guns. The French account admits that the Allies had to fall back, but it states that this was due to the use by the Germans of asphyxiating gas bombs.

Paris asserts that in counter-attacks the Allies took many German prisoners and that the Belgians repulsed attacks launched against them. It is believed here that these operations are but the commencement of another battle of Ypres.

Although a despatch received from Holland tonight gives a rumor that the Germans are about to fall back to the canal in order to have troops ready for possible use against Italy should Italy join the Allies, it is considered more likely to signify a tactical retreat.

The newspapers continue to assert that the American policy is one-sided and that it is impossible to arm it neutrally. The news of the day, however, reveals President Wilson's declaration that the sale of submarines is inconsistent with the spirit of true neutrality, and also when it is consistent to draw a distinction between submarines and other armaments.

"When if the American standpoint regarding the export of arms is accepted in principle," the Kreuz Zeitung says, "the American government, by failing to take advantage of the opportunity to force Great Britain to permit foodstuffs to enter Germany by holding up shipments of arms until this is permitted, again demonstrates its non-neutrality."

The newspaper mentions that good will is lacking in the United States, adding, "It can be neutral, but does not wish to be."

BOY SHOT; HIS PLAYMATE HAS HIM IN WHEELBARROW

Paterson, N. J., April 24.—As Mrs. Samuel J. Ross was returning after a shopping trip she saw nine-year-old George Everett, son of George H. Everett, a neighbor, struggling toward her, pushing a wheelbarrow along the sidewalk. As the boy came abreast of her, Mrs. Ross saw that another boy lay face down in the wheelbarrow, and that she stopped George to ask him what was the matter.

The small boy said that Michael Quant, an eight-year-old playmate had been struck by an automobile and he was carrying him to the hospital. Mrs. Ross looked at the boy in the wheelbarrow and saw that there was a bullet wound over his right eye, and that apparently he was dead. Greatly excited she called for an ambulance and Dr. Swan, from St. Joseph's Hospital said the Quant boy had probably been killed instantly by a bullet which entered his brain.

Young Everett had run when Mrs. Ross called the ambulance and Detective William Lord found the boy in his home. He took the child to police headquarters where young George changed his story, and said that he and Michael, who were schoolmates and friends, had been playing in the street after leaving school. He had become hungry and had run home for a piece of bread and butter. On his return he found the young Quant boy dead in the street.

Captain John Tracey questioned the boy closely and young George began to add details to his story telling how the automobile had run down his playmate and how he had tried to get him to the hospital as quickly as possible. Finally he admitted that neither of these stories was true, and said that young Michael had died in the attic of the Everett home. He insisted however that they had not shot Michael and had not touched a revolver, which they had found in an old satchel.

George said they had gone to his home after school to play. They were in the attic when Michael noticed a satchel and asked what was in it. George said that he had replied that it was none of Michael's business and had started down stairs with his back turned to his companion when he heard the report of a shot. He returned and found Michael lying on the floor. He said he could not raise him, so took the boy on his shoulders, carried him downstairs and got the wheelbarrow, intending to take him to the hospital. He said he had returned to the attic after Mrs. Ross had appeared, and put the revolver back in the satchel.

As the youngster talked he grew very sleepy and when he had finished telling about the revolver he fell asleep in his father's arms. Mr. Everett was allowed to take the boy home on his promise to have him in court. There are several marks on the forehead of the dead boy, and the police contend that marks would have been made had he shot himself.

MARRIED IN THE MAKING

Have you ever noticed that half the troubles of the young housewife are of her own seeking? She will take the nice little bit of cold roast beef or mutton, back to the kitchen, and spend as much as two hours in turning it into a tough, colorless, overcooked, over-peppery dish. She is anxious all the time she is cooking it, most anxious of all, as the husband, upon whom she has waited all her endeavors, tries to make light of the failure, and bites his tongue in an attempt to repress the wish that he had left the meat cold, and merely set it on a clean dish, with a sprig or two of parsley as a garnish, and a bottle of H. P. Sauce as a relish.

But young housewives are learning to do better. They are learning to come back to their honored place in the homey little family—and not only so, but in houses where they are so much as when the joint can no longer be served cold. H. P. takes all the responsibility of favoring off the shoulders of the inexperienced cook.

H. P. is a rich, thick sauce, not hot, but piquant and fruitly flavored; it is made of the choicest tropical fruits and spices and pure malt vinegar.

When you must hash, or mince, or stew, you see for yourself what a difference it makes to the dish by the addition of a teaspoonful of this delicious sauce, but be sure it is H. P.

JAMES O'NEIL WINS COURT ACTION

Has Rights To "Monte Cristo" in the Movies

MARION LEONARD BACK

Violet Fleming in Film-Plays - Jess Willard Popular in Pictures - Variety of Notes of the Studios

Judge Shearn, of the Supreme Court, granted a decision last week in favor of James O'Neil in the suit arising from the production of "The Count of Monte Cristo" in pictures released by the General Film, granting O'Neil an injunction and ordering an accounting of the profits.

The Fletcher version of Alexander Dumas' novel was acquired by James O'Neil in 1908 from John Stetson, of the Globe Theater, Boston, and since that time O'Neil has played the principal role for over five thousand times.

It was contended by the defendants that, as the novel of Alexander Dumas was common property, the General Film Company had the right to distribute their photoplay, taken from the novel.

Marion Leonard is back in the movies again after an illness which caused an involuntary retirement of seven months. Her return is complicated with other ill.

Following "Mrs. Dane's Defense" the company will put on "Zira," "Hearts Aflame," "The Great Divide," and Clyde Pike's "Truth."

It is reported that Marshall Nelson, who has been playing opposite Mary Pickford at the Famous Players studio, will join the Selig Polyscope Company.

Violet Fleming, who has been playing an important part in "The Lie" at the Harris Theater, and now playing in "Under Cover" at the Cort Theater, has been secured by the Pre-Eminent Films.

Running for a mile and a half along the brink of a steep promontory which rises in the beach 100 or more feet below, is "The Leas," which holds the reputation of being the finest marine promenade in the world.

Between the Leas and the beach are also the Marine Gardens and shelter, a favorite lounge with an excellent sea view.

About fifteen miles from Folkestone is Canterbury, which is well known, its cathedral having a world wide reputation. The town is a popular week-end attraction.

Another popular "port of call" is Dover, seven miles along the coast, which at the present time holds much of the visitor, being one of the havens of the British Channel fleet.

Memory of Saint George Is Enthusiastically Honored

Observance General Throughout City—Patriotic Entertainment in Imperial Theatre Under The Auspices of St. George's Society

The observance of St. George's Day was more general throughout the city yesterday than usual. Large numbers of flags were flown, much bunting was displayed and many of the merchants had special window displays of an appropriate character.

The chief event of the day, of course, was the big patriotic celebration held by the St. George's Society in the Imperial Theatre last evening. On account of the war the society decided to relinquish the usual formal dinner or dance and substitute something more in keeping with war times and the patriotic entertainment was the happy solution arrived at by the committee.

The Imperial programme was shortened and the house turned over to St. George's Society at 8 o'clock and a few minutes everything was ready for the entertainment. The national anthem opened the programme and the president, F. E. Hamilton, was then heard in an opening address.

Supper was served by the Loyalist Chapter, I. O. O. F., the ladies having been fixed up for supper rooms and the delicatessen were served by efficient committees. Mrs. George Hamilton was in charge of the supper committee, and the others convenors were Mrs. Hugh Mackay, Mrs. J. C. Bellows, Mrs. W. A. Lockhart, Mrs. Eber Turnbull, Mrs. M. White, Mrs. James McAuliffe, Mrs. Harold Schofield, Mrs. the Hon. Alexander Fowler, Mrs. William Vassie and Mrs. Kimball.

The rich herbal essences of which Zam-Buk is composed penetrate right to the root of the skin troubles, kill disease germs, and stimulate the tissues that new healthy skin is quickly formed.

Mr. O. M. Smith, of Edmonton, Alta., was troubled with a blotchy, irritable skin. He tried Zam-Buk and now says: "My skin was very blotchy and irritable. I used various remedies, but nothing gave relief until I tried Zam-Buk. It quickly stopped the irritation, and after perseverance with Zam-Buk, I am pleased to say, my skin is again perfectly clear and smooth."

In addition to the ordinary spring skin troubles, Zam-Buk is without equal for serious cases of ulcers, eczema, etc., which have defied all ordinary remedies. A PRAYER THAT NEVER GETS OLD. Oh for a lodge in some vast wilderness, Some boundless contiguity of shade, Where rumor's oppression never goes, Of unsuccessful or successful war. Might never reach me more. My ear is My soul is sick with every day's report. Of wrong and outrage with which earth is filled. —William Cowper.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Sussex, N. B., April 23.—Last evening a large number of the Masonic fraternity gathered at the Masonic hall to farewell Past Master Neales, who leaves this past week to take up his duties as dean of Christ church cathedral at Fredericton. The Very Rev. Dean Neales was presented by the members of Zion Lodge with a Grand Lodge past master's apron and the following address. He very feelingly replied and many of the brethren followed, expressing their regrets at his departure. During the evening refreshments were served.

Zion Lodge is meeting a great loss in your departure; we shall miss you at our regular communications where your voice has always been an inspiration to our officers and members and we feel a personal loss, the loss of a true friend as well as a brother. Still we venture to hope that our loss will be the gain of a sister lodge under the jurisdiction of our own Grand Lodge of New Brunswick and in a larger community where your practical and charitable Masonry must work out for the good of the fraternity. We feel proud, as a lodge, that the advance step to which your bishop has been pleased to call you is entirely merited by you and after all is strictly Masonry where beneficence is only reached by merit.

On behalf of the officers and members of Zion Lodge. Fraternally yours, J. T. KIRK, P. M., S. CRAWFORD, P. M., A. E. PEARSON, Secy. Committee.

At a largely attended meeting, at which both political parties seemed to be equally represented, in Toronto last evening, a resolution was adopted in protest against the possibility of an election during the war. Professor Wrong led the movement and, as one of his arguments, pointed out that the question of soldiers' votes would be a vexed one and liable to disgrace Canada in the eyes of the world. The postponement of the election would avoid such a possibility.
