DR. DIBBLE

chiefly responsible for the high place which the Andrew Memorial Hospital holds among the best medical schools of the land.

Dr. Dibble is one of the strong characters among the younger members of the medical profession. He received the finishing touches to his literary training at the Atlanta University and finished his medical schooling at the Medical Department of Howard University. In June 1919. He has served as an interne at the Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D.C.; as an Assistant Medical Director of the Tuskegee Institute; as Assistant Surgeon at the John A. Andrew Memorial Hospital, and as Surgeon in charge of the general surgical department of the U.S. Veterans Hospital, located at Tuskegee, Ala. Circuit of Colored Theatres is Formed

Circuit of colored theatres formed. (By The Associated Negro Press) New York City, July—After negotiations that have extended over the better part of a year, I. M. Weingarden of Chicago announces a circuit of theatres that will begin operations on September first. Negro dramatic and musical comedy attractions, the latter type in the majority, will be booked out of a central office into theatres catering to colored people that have heretofore been booking independently. Enough theatres playing to white or mixed audiences have been added to the set to provide fifteen weeks of continuous bookings for the circuit.

Ever since the advent of theatres catering to Negro audiences the managers of these houses have been hard put to obtain attractions. Likewise the producing managers with colored shows have devoted just about as much expense and energy booking their shows, as they did to organizing and otherwise managing them.

The list of theatres identified with the circuit are as follows: The Lafayette theatre, Coleman Brothers, managers, New York; Dunbar Theatre, John T. Gibson, owner and manager, Philadelphia; Globe Theatre, I. Horowitz, Cleveland; Elmore Theatre B. Engleberg, Pittsburg; Howard Theatre, Washington, D.C.; Douglas Theatre, Hornstein Bros., Baltimore; Grand Theatre, Mr. Johnson, Chicago; Palace Theatre, St. Louis.

France Dedicates Monument To Negro Troops

Rheims, July—(By the Associated Negro Press)—In a speech, dedicating a monument which France has erected in honor of the colored colonial troops who fought for her during the world war, Gen. Achinard took occasion to reply to German criticisms of the troops and to voice the admiration which white Frenchmen feel for the brothers of color, declaring that the African soldiers were "terrible to the Germans because they regarded the Germans as savages devastating everything from love of evil and they fought well for France "because she treats them with humanity and justice, on the same footing as her other children."

PRAESTAMUS CLUB WORTHY OF PUBLIC SUPPORT

Various co-operative organizations in social work have recently concluded successful conventions in this city, and those of us who followed their conferences should feel proud of the part our people are taking in this line of work.

It is quite evident that the idea of co-operation has a hold on the public mind. That is to say, people are now recognizing that they must work together if desired ends are to be attained. Desired ends and desirable ends are not always identical. Ends that run counter to the interests of the public may be desirable, in so far as they interest the promoters, but at the same time they are not desired and should be suppressed as much as possible. These co-operative movements for promoting objects agreeable to the selfishness of the co-operating parties are, however, by far the most aggressive and too commonly the most successful, and Toronto has had its share of such movements as these which have been operating under the disguise of social clubs.

For benevolent purposes there exist many organizations depending upon co-operation of the men and women belonging thereto, and one of these in the city is the Praestamus Athletic and Social Club, whose directors now solicit the consideration of the men and women of Toronto, especially the younger element who will be successful men and women of Toronto, of the near future, in the hope and expectation that the work which the club is carrying on will meet with their hearty support. The directors have undertaken, voluntarily and without financial benefit, the direction of the organization.

The Praestamus Athletic and Social Club is endeavoring to provide quarters and facilities for the development of athletes, musicians, elocutionists, and those desirous of becoming public speakers and are especially interested in the promotion of good will and friendship amongst the colored citizens of Toronto. In boxing we have been highly successful in as much as we are represented at the

UNITED STATES GIVES INDIANS HALF A MILLION

Washington, D.C., July—(By The Associated Negro Press)—One of the largest distribution of Indian tribal funds in recent years was authorized when the secretary of the interior ordered a per capita payment to the Choctaw Indians of Oklahoma. The total amount of tribal money to be divided among the individual Indians is $519,975. There are 20,800 enrolled Choctaws and members of the Choctaw Indian nation that will share equally in the distribution of the money belonging to the tribe.

Of the fund to be used to make the per capita payment, $273,052 is in the United States Treasury and $246,923 is on deposit in Oklahoma banks. The Choctaw tribal fund has been accumulated through fulfillment of treaties, interest on Choctaw money deposited in banks, and proceeds of labor and unallotted lands.

Freedmen of the Choctaw tribe will not participate in the per capita payment.

Olympic Games in France by Douglas T. Lewis, Canadian Amateur Welterweight Champion, who has been a member of the Praestamus Club since it was first organized. The Club also provides recreation, rest and meeting rooms known as the Big Brother Community Hall, 441 Queen St., West, for the use of its members and others of respectable character.

When the organization of the Club has been completed and its finances put on a sound basis, it is expected that the membership will become interested, as a body, in various matters of Civic and Community interest with a view to the promotion of the common welfare. The colored people of Toronto have no club accommodation of this kind and it is felt that such an organization should exist, not only to provide the facilities for its members as mentioned above, but to provide them also with opportunities for service in promoting the welfare of the city.

You can best aid the directors, and present members, in this work by forwarding your application promptly. Applications from reputable men and women of good standing in the city only will be accepted.

W. A. MARSHALL.

EditorialTHE SIN OF SELFISHNESS

Of the many besetting sins which are prevalent in the world today, the sin of selfishness is the greatest sin of all. It is selfishness which generates wars, which keeps up denominational strife and racial discord. The dispute between capital and labor is begotten by selfishness on the part of the "party of the first part" without any consideration for the interest of "the party of the second part."

It is the selfish spirit which causes us to spend $1.50 per day for gasoline for joy riding when at the same time our grocers, butchers and bakers must wait for a "more convenient season" to collect their long overdue bills from us, who are devout Christians, who dress ourselves and our families in the height of fashion for our Sunday worship, but who will put only five cents on the collection plate for the support of the Master's cause. Many of us spend $500.00 and more for our summer's vacation and in the fall we give $5.00 to the Welfare Fund. Selfishness causes us to lavish every known modern luxury upon ourselves and upon our immediate families, but it refuses to allow us to contribute one penny to a fund which is meant to allow poor children to spend a part of the hot summer months by the sea shore or out in the open country. It is selfishness which causes this world's goods to be so unequally distributed, which has placed in the hands of a chosen few an abundance, but which refuses the masses the bare necessities of life. If there were no selfishness among us there would also be no poor with us. This spirit of selfishness must be curbed before humanity reaches that development which our Creator intended that we should reach. It must be exterminated if civilization would still exist.

However, there are signs which point towards peace. Several agencies are at work combatting this evil. Chief among them are the Brotherhood Federation and the many Social Workers organizations which are doing much to make men realize that they are their brothers' keepers.

When a man proposes to a girl his words have a double meaning.

When a man is too lazy to work he tries to persuade his wife to start a boarding house.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:—

Re an article bearing the name of Wm. Kelly, Windsor, Ont., and referring to the Rev. F. O. Stewart's article of a few weeks past, I judge from the silence of Mr. Stewart that he considers the (Kelly-hundred) article too small a matter for consideration, but sir, it is the small fly and the little foxes that work havoc with the ointment and vines.

If Mr. Kelley was the only person interested, I too, would pass it over, but by his own article, he is either a self-appointed, or regularly elected sponsor, representing hundreds.

I judge these hundreds (if such is true) to be of the same category as the gentleman in question and to them and him I direct this missive.

The "Episcopal Law" referred to, has nothing to do with British Methodism, which under Canadian Incorporation, has its own legal and Ecclesiastical autonomy. Perhaps Mr. Kelley, and not Bro. Stewart, (as referred to) did not know this.

The "Episcopal Law" had its beginning: Who made the first Bishop and how?—hundreds would like to know no doubt.

The names of the late Nazery, Hawkins and Washington, now passed into history, have served the Church in Canada in a legal and Episcopal realm and were considered authoritative in her courts while they lived: Who then is this Mr. Wm. Kelley and his (claimed) hundreds of us, whose minds must yet be satisfactorily settled before they can say "Peace be to thy ashes."

I fear our good friend Kelley is straining at the gnat and swallowing the camel. The great questions are—Has the Church made progress, under who ever, or whatever kind of leadership she has had; and are our friends pleased to note this progress? Mr. Kelley admits his pleasure, but with difficulty he gets the hump of the camel down his throat.

If doctrinal indigestion has not become chronic in the case of the Kelly-hundreds, I would suggest that they put back their swords in their sheathes; and with the word of God and the sword of His Spirit, co-operate and affiliate in the advance movement of the Church in a united attack upon sin and cease to allow the evil mother and son-in-law spirit to hinder the progress of this present day church. Our watchword must be onward and upward.

T. H. JACKSON.

In 1801 an old sea captain named Randall, decided to make his will. He consulted Alexander Hamilton, that brilliant Negro of the Virgin Islands, an old first Secretary of the Treasury, in regards to the matter, and Hamilton thought it would be fine for an old salt like Randall to found a home for sailors.

Randall's estate consisted of $7,000 and a farm on Manhattan Island, in the outskirts of what was then the little town of New York. A will was drawn up providing that the sailors' home be established and that the income from the farm be used for the support of this home, and for no other purpose.

But that "farm" is now in the heart of New York City. It is "real estate" now; and is estimated to be worth about $75,000,000. It is all built up, of course, and the income from it is more than $1,000,000 a year.

Down on Staten Island is Snug Harbor, the sailors' home. But it has every possible comfort and attention with but only 100 inmates. And yet only half of that million-dollar income is spent each year. The rest goes on piling up.

WHY?

(By S. E. G. Allen)

God made us for Himself, what does that mean?

Just a few toys to play with for a time?

Then cast aside as worthless or unclean?

Such certainly would seem to us a crime.

What do the ymean who say, this life ends all?

Such thought degrades the Master Mind above,

For we, if we but listen to His call May dwell with Him in endless light and love.

To lordliest and to lowliest, each was given,

A mind to greet, expand and recognize

The good, and choose it, and not henceforth driven

Like sheep before a shepherd, each a prize.

But rapturous thought, we are so made that we May choose the right, the wrong refuse at will;

The true nobility of life to see,

With Love to watch our steps and guard us still.

Oh love Divine, we pray incline each heart,

To choose the path that leads to Thee at least,

We need Thy guidance to fulfil our part,

And all our powers at Thy feet we cast.

Toronto Reception For Newly Weds

On Monday evening the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson was thrown open: and in their usual hospitable manner, they received about sixty guests. The occasion was to present their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Simpson, who were married in St. Louis, on June 18th.

The rooms were fragrant with cut flowers. At the entrance to the drawing room the guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Simpson Sr., the latter wearing a gown of orchid charmeuse with gray radium lace overdress draped at the left side where it was caught with a corsage bouquet of orchids and wore a long string of pearls.

The guests of honor received near window. The bride looked very girlish in her simple, but beautiful wedding gown of cloth of silver. The sleeveless bodice was plainly made, the skirt being shirred at the waistline and draped at the side end held with a buckle of rhinestones. Her hosiery and slippers were silver and she wore a string of pearls.

With them were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson.

The guests passed on to the dining room, where a very dainty buffet luncheon was served by several young ladies.

Among those present, we noticed Mrs. Sayers and Mrs. Stephens, of Chicago, daughters of the late Dr. Abbott of this city. They are guests of their sister, Mrs. F. L. Hubbard. Also, Mrs. Mason of Montreal, who is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Day.

The happy young couple left to take residence in St. Louis, where Mr. Simpson has purchased a home. Mr. Simpson is executive Secretary of the Urban League of St. Louis. Mrs. Simpson has also been actively engaged in social service work.

We wish them the heartiest congratulations.
