FURROW TRAP FOR WORMS IS BEST WAY TO FIGHT

Conservation Commission of Dominion Tells Farmers How To Cope With Pest That Is Ravaging Farms of Western Ontario.

[Canadian Press.]
Ottawa, July 21.—The Commission of Conservation has issued a special bulletin advising how best to fight the army worm, now ravaging the crops in Western Ontario. It reads: "On account of the crops in some districts being badly attacked by this pest, it is advisable for every farmer to be on the lookout and ready to combat it if it comes his way."
Make Furrow Trap.
"The army worm is about one and one-half inches long when full-grown, and is striped with black, yellow and green, of a dirty appearance and much resembling the cutworm. When detected, all efforts should be centered on keeping the worms out of crops not yet attacked. The best method (several furrows are better) ploughed around the fields with the vertical or steep side of the furrow next to the crop to be protected."

INQUIRY COURT OF SIXTH BATTERY TO START ON JULY 27

Will Be Official Investigation
Into the Petawawa Camp
Liquor Incident.

COMMANDER ONLY CALLED

Major Wood Leonard Will Be Only Officer Up On the Carpet.

Word has just been received here that a military court of inquiry has been called for Monday next, July 27, to investigate the circumstances under which liquor was found in the quarters of the men of the Sixth Field Battery while the regiment was in camp at Petawawa.

The court will consist of two militia officers, Lieut. Col. Mercer, of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, and Lieut. Col. L. A. Smith, of the 5th (Princess Louise) Dragoons, Ottawa, and one officer of the permanent staff, Col. McQuiggin, R. C. R. It will be held in the militia council room at Ottawa and will open at 9 a. m.
So far as the court is concerned Major Wood Leonard, the officer commanding the battery, is the only officer whose conduct is under investigation since, as commanding officer, he is officially responsible for the battery. It may, however, call any of his brother officers as witnesses if he so desires and in all probability he will do so.
Major Leonard was not in the city today and his intentions with regard to the calling of evidence in his own defence could not be ascertained. At Militia Headquarters The Advertiser learned that up to the present he had not given any intimation as to which if any of the officers of the battery he wished to accompany him to Ottawa.

Orang-Outang, A. B.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, July 21.—A dispatch to the Gazette from Boston says: An orang-outang as an able seaman heaved the lines that made the steamship Canada fast to her berth when she arrived here from England yesterday. Attired in a sailor suit, the animal saluted the captain and made the fast to her dock. The orang-outang dined at the head of the crew's table and ate with a knife and fork.

ACTUAL WAR CONDITIONS FOR FALL MANOEUVRES

City Regiments, Marching From Hyde Park, Will Attack
Rural Camps, Whose Base Will Be Goderich Camp—
Five Days of Field Work Planned.

An experiment, which, it is believed, will have excellent results, will be tried this year for the first time in connection with the annual militia training camp, which opens at Goderich on August 17.
Instead of spending twelve days in camp, as in other years, the men will break camp on the fifth day and thereafter will take part in manoeuvres which as nearly as possible will conform to actual service conditions.
The arrangements briefly are as follows:
The rural troops in camp will constitute a force opposed to which will be another force composed of the city's

ROYAL COMMISSION WILL SPEND THREE DAYS HERE

Imperial Investigation To Be in London on Sept. 10,
11 and 12.

E. C. Mitchell, president of the board of trade, will entertain the executive committee at luncheon tomorrow for the purpose of discussing a program of entertainment for the distinguished members of the Dominion's Royal Commission, who will pay London a visit on September 10 and remain until the 12th.

Secretary F. C. T. O'Hara of the commission, notified the board of trade yesterday of the dates on which the party would visit this city.

The commission is on a tour of the Empire to study such questions as immigration, overseas communication, railways, Empire development and organization, the proposal of an Empire development board, and natural resources.

The personnel of the commission is made up of Lord Vincent, Sir Alfred Bateman, Sir Rider Haggard, T. Garne, W. Lorimer, Sir George Grey, Sir D. Campbell, Hon. J. R. Sinclair, Sir Jan W. S. Langemann and Hon. E. R. Bourne. There are five attaches, the wives of four members, and a messenger and valet in the party.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS PLAN 670 MILE BIKE TOUR

Will Circle Lake Erie on Wheels, Visiting the Big American Cities.

The Y. M. C. A. is planning to start its annual bicycle tour this year on the 17th of August. A complete circuit of Lake Erie is contemplated, the distance to be completed in fourteen days.
The cyclists will take in Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Erie, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, the peach district around Welland, Hamilton, Brantford, Woodstock, Ingersoll and London.
Although there were but three who reported in the party last year, they reported an excellent time, exhibited a splendid coat of tan upon their return, and said there was nothing left to be desired unless it were another trip.
The trip this year is to be one of the longest yet undertaken, being approximately 670 miles. It is expected an average of from 50 to 60 miles a day will be made.
No expert cyclists are wanted, only those who want a good time, and are willing to help the other fellows have one, need apply.
Those whose names are already down for this year's tour are: Marshall Macpherson, Harold Bowman and H. A. MacKeracher.

"Come On In—Water's Fine"

SURRENDER WILL STOP FIGHTING WESTERN CHINESE HEADING EASTWARD

Carranza Also Will Declare
General Amnesty for the Federals.

BUT WANTS PLOTTERS

Washington Believes Outlook for Peace in Mexico Is Highly Favorable.

[Canadian Press.]
Monterey, Mex., July 21.—As soon as Gen. Carranza receives official word that Francisco Carbajal, as provisional president of Mexico, has sent a committee to arrange the surrender of Mexico City, he will issue an order suspending hostilities against the Federals throughout Mexico. This agreement was made at Carranza's headquarters here yesterday and was communicated to the representatives of the United States Government.
It was said to be Carranza's intention to meet Carbajal's representatives in Saltillo.
Looks Like Peace.
Washington, July 21.—With Huerta's exit from Mexico and Carranza's expression of readiness to declare a truce with the Federals, pending Carbajal's envoys, administration officials declared today that peace between the Mexican factions was "very favorable."
It appeared probable, however, that in his negotiations with the Federal administration Carranza would stick to his demand that the Carbajal administration surrender unconditionally as a prelude to the transfer of Government.
There would be a general declaration of amnesty for the population in the territory controlled by the Federals, but it was said Carranza would not rescind his determination to prosecute the ring-leaders of Huerta.
It was not believed that the complications would arise from such a policy because most of the men involved in Huerta's sudden ascent to the presidency have fled.
The commission of constitutional sympathizers who left Mexico City had failed to report their whereabouts on the road to Monterey, but it was expected they would reach Carranza's headquarters some time this week. Carranza has assured them safe conduct through Washington's position.
"The American Government's attitude towards the new turn of events could not be indicated," Secretary Bryan said, "until after an agreement had been reached between the two factions. That would vitiate the protocol signed at the Niagara mediation conference, the new administration would be recognized and soon after American troops would be recalled from their vigil at Vera Cruz."
Discussion of the task of rehabilitating the war-worn Republic was heard in Washington today. "The United States Government," Secretary Bryan said, "and the Constitutionalists have given notice that financial transactions of Huerta would not be recognized after October 10, last year, when the Mexican Congress was dissolved. The United States, it was believed, might intercede for European creditors whose accounts antedated that time."

That the Chinese labor situation in the city has assumed alarming proportions, was the statement of a leading Chinese restaurant keeper to The Advertiser today. According to information given, of the 180 Celestials in London, there are more than fifty out of employment.

The financial stringency in the West has been responsible for many of the Chinese employed there coming east. In London, it is stated that the Celestials coming into the city without money and food, are being taken care of by the British Chinese community. It is stated on reliable authority that there are easily fifty Chinese who are working an eighteen-hour day for their board and a place to sleep only.

Are Heading East.
The Chinese thrown out of work in British Columbia are said to be heading east to Ontario, brought on by letters from friends here, who tell of the position they have secured.
From authentic sources it is learned that a general exodus of Chinese from the west is certain. They are now said to be coming east in great numbers. Many are expected to locate in this city, although there is nothing for them to do.
The several Chinese stores in the city are the mecca for the Celestials. Every one harbors a number who are waiting news of employment from outside points or of jobs in London.
Will Become Acute.
The situation promises to become acute within a short time. It is being watched with considerable interest, and further developments are expected.

"Prof. J. H. Bowman, president of the Middlesex County Temperance Alliance, refuses to take seriously the threat of the hotelkeepers to petition for more licenses in the city.
"I think," he said, "that it is just a bluff, or what you would call a bluff. It will not affect our position at all. In any case I am not convinced that the hotelkeepers do not expect that such a petition would help them at all."

Vancouver, B.C., July 21.—At 9:45 the Hindus were served with an ultimatum giving them until noon to decide whether to surrender or fight.

[Canadian Press.]
Vancouver, B.C., July 21.—The Rainbow entered Vancouver Harbor at 8:15 o'clock and took up an anchorage near the Komagata Maru. The Rainbow made a fairly good run up the gulf, but at not more than half-speed. Commander Ross was forced to proceed carefully in the fog. The Rainbow was a welcome sight to H. H. Stevens, M.P., and various officials. Mr. Stevens, with Messrs. Reid and Hopkinson and the military commander, at once made ready to go aboard for consultation with Commander Ross. Arrangements for this meeting had been made by telegraph last evening. At 11:15 conference it was proposed to complete plans for the attack if no should prove necessary. Hopkinson transmitted a final appeal and a notice in writing to Gurdi Singh, this morning.

Anxious Hindus.
At nine o'clock the conference between the officials and Commander Ross aboard the Rainbow was proceeding. As the swarms at anchor her bow is about 300 yards from the Komagata whose bows are crowded with Hindus anxiously gazing towards the cruiser. All day yesterday the Hindus aboard had been erecting barricades of wood and carrying up coal from the cargo in the hold. It is not believed there is more than one revolver aboard the vessel, so that in the way of offence at all events she is not at all formidable, but it was known that nearly every Hindu aboard had a knife or a dagger and there are many other weapons, many home made but none the less effective.

Tell of Shooting of M. Calmette—Defendant's Counsel Scores Heavily.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, July 21.—Mme. Henriette Caillaux was up at seven this morning preparing for the second day's hearing of the charge against her of the willful murder on March 16 of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro. The wife of the former premier and minister of finances took an early breakfast and before eight o'clock was waiting for her husband who, however, did not call at the prison of the congerie till between nine and ten o'clock. The prisoner and her husband conversed for half an hour and afterward she lunched.

"I feel better than I did yesterday," Mme. Caillaux said to the prison warden when he inquired today about her health.

The prisoner had previously looked through a mass of morning papers and had found that, generally, she had been sympathetically treated. The stenographic report of her testimony filled papers, and besides this there were many appreciations of her dexterous arrangement of facts and of the feeling she had put into her plea of acquittal.

The court was a little late in assembling today, and meanwhile Mme. Caillaux talked over her case with Fernand Continued On Page Three.

KING'S CONFERENCE TALKS OF EXCLUDING TYRONE

Great Crowds Watch Gathering of Conferees at Buckingham Palace—Unionists Are Preparing for General Election.

LATER.
London, July 21.—The conference at Buckingham Palace, after being in session for only about one hour and a half, adjourned for the day, but will meet again tomorrow.

London, July 21.—So deep is the interest taken by the public of all classes in the crisis which has arisen over the Irish home rule question that great crowds gathered today outside Buckingham Palace to witness the arrival of the various party leaders who are to participate in the conference inaugurated by King George, with a view to bringing about a peaceable settlement.

The Right Hon. James Lowther, speaker of the House of Commons, was chosen to preside over the conference. He was quickly followed by the eight men who represent the various parties: Liberal, Unionist, Nationalist and Ulsterite. All came in motor cars with the exception of the Marquis of Lansdowne, who walked.

Welcomed by King.
King George with Baron Stamfordham, his private secretary, received the statesmen in the chamber where the privy council always meets and he shook hands cordially with all of them. Probably this was the first time that John E. Redmond and John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist leaders, had ever exchanged greetings with their sovereign, as it had been the practice of the Nationalist members of parliament to remain away from all functions where members of the House of Commons were likely to be brought into contact with royalty.

The meeting of the Conservative and Liberal leaders on such an intimate footing was apparently friendly, but could not have been cordial, as Premier Asquith and Bonar Law had rarely on speaking terms, as Mr. Law accused the Premier in the House of Commons of lying about recent Government plans to suppress the Ulster Volunteers.

Extremes Meet.
The Marquis of Lansdowne, leader of the Unionists in the House of Lords, and David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, two of the other conferees, represent the most extreme aristocratic and democratic schools of British politics, and are generally believed to be bitter personal enemies. At the same time the members of the Irish Nationalist and Ulster Unionist factions could not have felt much pleasure in finding themselves in such close association.

Since personal feelings among politicians in the United Kingdom never ran so high as at present, the atmosphere of the meeting could not have been otherwise than extremely chilly and formal.
After a brief conversation King George withdrew from the meeting at about noon leaving the conferees to their deliberations.

Those Desiring Farm Life
Are More Numerous Than Usual.

"If there is any young fellow who wants a job on a farm and is willing to do a little work there, I can get him a good job in next to no-time," said John Riggs, the Dominion Immigration Agent here.

There are more applications for men who are looking for farm work now than there generally are, but the demand far exceeds the supply. The demand is enormous, according to Mr. Riggs. Farmers are eagerly looking for men and are willing to board them and pay from $15 to $40 a month, even if the men are inexperienced in farm work.

Men of all nationalities and descriptions drop in all day long at the immigration office in the market lane, looking for work. The mixture runs about evenly, English, Irish, Scotch and Canadian with an occasional Russian, Hollander or Swede. Americans are becoming more numerous recently.

AMHERSTBURG MAN KILLED AT PANAMA

Captain David Katt and Three Others Perish in an Explosion.

Panama, July 20.—Four men were killed and 13 others severely injured today by the premature explosion of 4,800 pounds of dynamite in Culebra cut. The dead:
J. F. SMITH, of Philadelphia.
CAPTAIN DAVID KATT, Amherstburg, Ont.
CHARLES SASKETT, of Parkersburg, W. Va.
AN UNKNOWN MAN.
Michael Koenig, of Haapsburg, Md. is so badly injured that he may die.
All the above were white men.
A number of negroes were injured and several of them are expected to die.
A gang of workmen were aboard the drill barge Terezo which had just completed charging the last series of holes with the intention of blowing up the last rock, which was obstructing the channel through the Culebra cut. The explosion wrecked the barge, which sank in the centre of the channel, but the wreck will not impede the work on the cut.

LIBERAL CAUCUS BACKS GOVT.

Resolution Is Passed, Telling
Asquith To Carry Out His Home Rule Program.

[Canadian Press.]
London, July 21.—A Liberal caucus, summoned, as one of the leaders put it, to "back up" the British Government, was attended by upwards of one hundred Liberal members of the House of Commons. A resolution was passed, unanimously, supporting the claims of Ireland as presented by the Nationalists, and an emboldened Irish home rule bill. The gathering showed a determination to see the cause finally won. The meeting further expressed the opinion that it was the duty of the Government to complete its whole program before making an appeal to the constituencies.

DRAGGING IS FRUITLESS IN LAKE SEARCH

BODIES CARRIED AWAY

Believed That Cross Currents
Have Moved Them From Spot Where They Went Down.

After dragging from 7 o'clock this morning till noon, the searching party at Port Stanley aboard Captain Berry's tug returned to the harbor without having found any trace of the bodies of the two Londoners who were drowned Sunday at Port Stanley. Ed Penny and Floyd McPhail, brothers of the drowned men, were with the party that dragged the lake in the vicinity of the double fatality. The grappling irons were let down untravelling. Nothing was brought to the surface as a result of five hours effort.

Search Continued.
This afternoon the search was resumed, but up to 3 o'clock there had been no reward for the persistent efforts. The lake bottom for a considerable area around the spot where dragging operations are in progress is sandy and hard. Any object could be easily picked up by the grappling hooks touched it, it is said.

For this reason it is thought that cross currents have caught up the bodies and carried them away from the scene of the drowning.

At the time of the capsizing of the canoe there was a heavy sea running. That there was a heavy undertow is certain. It was thought by many residents of the lake resort who have studied the maze of currents at the port that the bodies would be brought in and case up on the beach.
If such had been the case they would have been found by this time. A careful search made of the beach for miles had proved fruitless. It is thought now that the bodies until after nine days, when they may float to the surface.

All boats leaving the port have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for drifting objects. Several boats have seen driftwood floating at a distance, but had the appearance of bodies.

Tells Graphic Story.
Edward Penny told a graphic story of yesterday's search to an Advertiser reporter last night, when he returned from Port Stanley. With Floyd McPhail, he spent the entire day at the lakeside.

The search led them to a tent occupied by William Letchford, a friend of the two Londoners and who was summering at the Port. Here the coats of the two missing men were found. There was no difficulty in identifying them as garments worn by the friends when they left the city Saturday afternoon to spend the week-end at Port Stanley.

Letters Aid Identification.
In the pocket of the coat identified by Ed. Penny as that of his brother, were two letters with his name on the envelopes. There was also a notebook that was familiar to the searching brother. A few other trinkets added certainty to establishment of the bodies.

Ten Thousand Dollars To Be Paid For the Solution of "The Million Dollar Mystery"

CHIEF STANDING FOR TRAFFIC SQUAD

Would Have White-Gloved
Officers on Many Corners.

IMPOSSIBLE JUST NOW

Messy Jobs, Such as "Pinching" Drunks, Would Not Go Well With Cotton
Mitts.

Chief of Police W. T. Williams is in favor of a white-gloved traffic squad for London.

If the head of the constables had his way he would have traffic officers stationed at least three other corners where traffic is heavy. The corners are King and Richmond, Clarence and Dundas and Dundas and Talbot.

"With the present number of officers it is impossible to handle traffic with any degree of efficiency," said the chief today. "Certainly a regular traffic squad would be beneficial to the city."

No Other Way Possible.

"There are some of the men who are more proficient than others in handling street traffic. But under present conditions there is no other method possible than the one now in effect."

Accidents Liable to Happen.

"If we had sufficient men on the force I would station officers at several other corners where traffic is heavy. For instance in some respects King and Richmond street crossing is more dangerous than Dundas and Talbot."

There are many factors coming in over King street. Some are not accustomed to traffic regulations. In consequence accidents are more liable to occur."

LABOR THRILLS

Labri, her advocate, in a private waiting room.

Under a Strain.

After Judge Albanel and his associates had taken their places on the bench, Mme. Caillaux entered the prisoner's enclosure without hesitation and with an air of making herself at home. She was dressed precisely as she had been on the first day of her trial. She took off and folded her jacket, and looked quickly around at the crowded court, dark circles under her eyes and her quick, nervous gestures, however, seemed to betray the strain she was undergoing.

Joseph Caillaux, the prisoner's husband, then entered the court and took his place among the witnesses. He was accompanied by two detectives, owing to the fact that a group of bystanders had hooted him and shouted insults at him as he left the prison after his talk with his wife.

Two other boys from the Figue were the first witnesses today. They described the arrival at the office of Mrs. Caillaux. They told how she waited and gave details of her entrance into the room occupied by General Calmette and of their hearing shots.

One of the boys, Adrien Nicot, crouched down on the witness stand and uttered a series of low cries to show how he found M. Calmette sheltering himself behind his desk.

Paul Bourget, the "immortal," who was with Calmette in his office when Mme. Caillaux's card was brought in, told the jury of the incident.

"I cannot refuse to receive a woman," he replied.

Maitre Labri then thrilled the overcrowded court room by reading a dialogue from Bourget's novel "The Demon of the Mid," in which the characters discuss and condemn the publication of the heroine's love letters. Coming immediately after Bourget's eulogy of Calmette, with which he had closed his testimony, the reading of the dialogue by Maitre Labri was regarded by observing lawyers as a masterly stroke.

Maitre Labri's voice was musical and full of dramatic feeling. When he had concluded, Paul Bourget remarked:

"Literature is not life, and I have shown how he found M. Calmette sheltering himself behind his desk."

He agreed, however, that private letters ought not to be published, and said he did not believe Calmette had intended to publish the Caillaux letters.

The scene of the shooting was then reconstructed by a succession of employees of the Figue.

Charles Giraudoux, a reporter, Henri Rousseau, a messenger, and Jean Cerde, a telephone operator, then related portions of their experiences. They said Louis Voisin, of the advertising department, was conversing with Henri Honore, an artist, and Edouard Masson, in the rotunda, when Mme. Caillaux was seeing M. Calmette.

"We never mentioned Caillaux," said Voisin. "As she said yesterday."

Mme. Caillaux here interposed, saying, "I wish to ask M. Voisin whether one of his friends did not say, 'Is the sheet ready,' and whether Voisin did not answer, 'We have a great paper on Caillaux tomorrow'?"

"That is absolutely false," said Voisin.

Mme. Caillaux then heard Voisin say to his friends it costs dear, but we are letting loose the hunting dogs on all sides."

Honore was then called and denied that Caillaux had been mentioned when Masson's deposition was read to the same effect.

By a letter, this fellow had left, but they found out the thief was to come, but their trip was futile, as he had not arrived.

To Properly Treat
Obstinate Wrinkles

Particularly where wrinkles are long and deep, the massage devotee is apt to rub too hard and too frequently. This irritates the skin, causes muscles to sag, aggravates the wrinkled condition—just the opposite result from that sought.
Better than massaging, or anything else, for the most obstinate wrinkles, as well as the finest lines, is a formula well known in England, which you may readily avail yourselves of, as you will have no difficulty procuring the inexpensive constituents from druggists in this country. It is thus: One ounce powdered kaolin, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathe face, neck or hands in this. The effect is really marvelous, not only as to wrinkles, but also in cases of chapped cheeks and chin. Marked improvement is noticed after the very first application. The lotion is cooling and soothing, tending to relieve fatigue and remove "that tired look."—adv.

New York Has Them!
Also a Sure Death

[Special to The Advertiser.]
NEW YORK, July 20.—The army worm has invaded New York. He does not stay long in one place for the feed does not last long. In a few hours a lawn is made to look as though a six week's drought had parched it.
Dr. E. B. Southwick, city entomologist, has given a formula which he says will instantly destroy the worm. Here it is:
For a large lawn, dissolve ten pounds of arsenate of lead in one hundred gallons of water. Spray the grass and gardens with this, using an ordinary watering pot. One pound of arsenate of lead in ten gallons of water will suffice for a small patch of grass.
Dr. Southwick says cats and dogs should be kept off the grass and out of gardens as they might lick their feet and meet sudden death.

SUSPECTS FIREBUG
IN LISTOWEL TOWN

Timely Arrival of the Night Watchman Saved Three Business Places.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
LISTOWEL, July 20.—Two more mysterious fires have occurred here in the past two days, and the general opinion is that both were of incendiary origin. It is only due to the fact that since the firebug scare a night watchman has been employed by the municipality, that three or more places of business, instead of part of one, were not destroyed.
The watchman discovered a blaze in the front part of the woodwork shop owned by Dr. Nichol on Wallace street, at an early hour this morning. The town firemen were promptly in their responses and found that the flames had secured a good headway in the frame structure. Two other frame buildings, a blacksmith shop and a paint shop stand close up to the burned building, but by dint of most effective work, neither was allowed to burn.
The loss of the woodworking shop and contents is estimated at $800, with insurance of $500. Owing to the fact that the fire originated in the front part of the building near where there had been no fire for the operation of the plant, and nothing that might cause spontaneous combustion, the affair looks suspicious.
Another dubious-looking fire occurred just on the border of the town at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, when the driveshed of A. G. Arnold, also on Wallace street, burned down. Two buggies and a large amount of farming machinery were destroyed here. Insurance will probably cover the loss. The cause has not been established.

DROWNING AT TORONTO.
TORONTO, July 20.—Wm. DesJardines, 15 years of age, of Montreal, who has been working in Toronto for some weeks past, was drowned at the foot of Fortland street this morning. DesJardines was employed by the A. Claremont Company, contractors of the Canadian Stewart Company.

LABOR AGAINST THE CONFERENCE

Objects to King Taking Hand in Ulster Trouble—Situation Is Acute.

[Canadian Press.]
LONDON, July 20.—The parliamentary Labor party strongly disapproves King George's intervention in a political controversy, even with the laudable object of settling the Irish question, and have asked Premier Asquith to inform the King what they think of his action. The Laborites held a private meeting tonight, at which they passed the following resolution concerning the conference:
"The members of the Labor party having heard the Prime Minister's statement that the King has considered it right to summon a conference of representatives of the British and Irish parties to discuss the outstanding points in the problem of Irish government, and having been unable to express their opinion in the House of Commons, owing to the delay in the statement being made, though strongly wishing for a permanent settlement, protest against such a conference having been issued regarding any matter of political controversy as being undue interference on the part of the crown, and calling for the statement of the purposes of the Parliament Act."
Reference to Rebels.
"They further put on record their surprise at the two-day conference, and that the representatives are practically rebels under arms against the constituted authority, and regret this indication that in future the organization of force will be to be officially considered as most effective in industrial, as well as political disputes."
It was decided that a copy of the resolution be sent to Premier Asquith, with a request that he communicate it to King George. It was also decided that a copy of the resolution be sent to the Nationalist leader, Captain James Craig to whom the resolution referred as "practically rebels under arms."

CERTAIN CONCESSIONS MADE BY NATIONALISTS
LONDON, July 20.—No authoritative account is available of the proceedings of a meeting of the Nationalist members of the House of Commons tonight, but it is stated that after a rather stormy debate there was a surrender concerning the limit to Ulster's exclusion from the operations of the home rule bill and on the consent of Antrim, Londonderry, Down and Armagh, the Nationalist bloc instead of by counties on the question of exclusion.
No further concessions were possible, it is said, and the Nationalist party will refuse to consider the exclusion of Tyrone or Fermanagh from the provision of the bill.

RAZOR-SLASHING CASE
DISMISSED AT SIMCOE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
SIMCOE, July 20.—Tony Klopea, the Italian arrested on a charge of slashing James Macha, of Toronto, across the face with a razor, was dismissed when the case was called to day before Magistrate Jackson. Macha failed to put in an appearance, and as there was no evidence offered against Klopea, the magistrate let him go. The fight started when Macha asked Klopea for some money he had borrowed, and Klopea said he couldn't pay him just then.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS
BLAMED FOR ASSAULT

TORONTO, July 20.—Victor Heintz, an employee of the Toronto Carpet Works, on his way home from the factory with a fellow-workman, was this evening assaulted by several men, believed to be sympathizers with the strikers at the Ontario Metal Works on King street west, under the impression that he was a strikebreaker. More violence is anticipated.
Tonight some one threw a can of dark-colored liquid believed to be an explosive, into the factory.

Soft, Fluffy Hair Aids
Beauty and Personality

Girls and women of all ages want to be charming, beautiful and attractive—it's their birthright—but stringy, thin and lifeless hair destroys half the beauty of a pretty face.
If your hair is not beautiful, is falling out, streaky, full of dandruff, too dry, or if the scalp itches and burns, use Parisian Sage. Rub it well into the scalp. It will go right to the hair roots, nourish them, and stimulate the hair to grow strong, and lustrous. Parisian Sage removes dandruff with one application and cleanses the hair of dirt, dust and excessive oil. It will cool and invigorate the scalp and make the hair doubly beautiful.
Parisian Sage is a scientifically made preparation that gives the hair just what is needed to make it soft, fluffy, thick and gloriously radiant. It is not a cheap perfume, it is inexpensive, and can be had at all drug and toilet counters or from W. T. Strong.—Adv.

FINAL MEETING OF ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

General Committee Finds All the Reports Are Most Satisfactory.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WOODSTOCK, July 20.—The final meeting of the general committee having in charge the arrangements for the Presbyterian general assembly, which was held here in June, was held tonight. Reports of the most favorable nature were received.
The most important report came from the finance committee, which reported a small balance on hand after all expenses had been paid. The total receipts amounted to over $1,500. From the other reports it was shown that the other committees had kept well within their estimates.
A resolution thanking all those who in any way contributed to the success of the assembly was passed.
Another resolution was carried expressing the committee's deep sense of the privilege of entertaining the supreme court of the Presbyterian Church and expressing the belief that the meeting of the assembly here had made a deep impression upon the life of the whole community and had given the Woodstock Presbyterians a greater vision of the magnitude and solidarity of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.
"The visit of the commissioners to our homes has been profitable and many new and rich friendships have been formed," concluded the resolution.

"She is Elsie Chetwood. I remember seeing her pictures. She is a society girl, very wealthy, but something of a snob."
Martha's ears tingled. A snob, indeed, because she minded principally her own affairs!

"I think because they belong to the exclusive sets they can break as many laws of convention as they please. Well, they always have. There's always some scandal in the papers about them. There was some rumor of her being engaged to the Duke of West-Isle-Name, but it fell through because she wouldn't settle a fortune on him. Only sensible thing she ever did, probably. A devil's humbug! And did you notice who sat next to her at luncheon?"

"A gentleman with a past, Mr. Craig tells me."
"I dare say, Miss Chetwood has a past, too, if only she knew. To travel alone like this!"

"Busybodies! Martha rose indignantly and returned to the other side of the deck. Meddlers! What did they know? To peck like daws at one so far from home, so divinely free! Her natural impulse had been to turn upon them and give them their medicine. She longed with Elsie not to have learned self-repression, and that the victory is at last won. But she stooped not to answer. Nevertheless, she was alarmed.

"Elsie said was: 'My dear Martha, in a few days they will be the tit-tattle will pass out of my existence, admitting that they have ever entered it. I repeat, my life is my own, and that I am concerned with no one but myself. I wish to retain as my friends, whom I wish to retain as my friends, the shibboleth of the mediocre, which was of old. I do not meddle with, and thank heaven, for dinner Elsie discovered a note on the floor of her cabin. The writing was unfamiliar. She opened it and sought first the signature. Slowly her cheeks reddened, and her lips twisted in a grimace. She read the note, and the natural keenness of her eye caught the name of Warrington. She tossed out the portfolio. What a vile thing the man was! He had a vile thing to sign his name. He must be punished."

It was as late as ten o'clock when she and Warrington went up to the box and gazed down the cut-throat. Never had she seen anything so weirdly beautiful as the ribbons of phosphorescence which fell away on each side, luminously blue and flaked with dancing starlike particles, through which the fire spun outward like tongues of flame.

"Beautiful, beautiful! This is the one I have never seen this before. All have been darkened and dimmed by silence and darkness. What a wonderful fire for bringing me here. I should not have known what I was missing. This is the one when I was stoking, during an hour or so of relief, I used to steal here and look down at the mystery. And I will ever be a mystery to me. And I don't need any more comfort."

"Are you religious, too?"
"In one thing, that I demand that every man shall have faith in himself. How deep his voice was as he frowned at Arthur!"
The rippling magic. Why was she in the present moment, it was a significance that she had never before, not understanding the name of Warrington, she said, "I advise you to beware of him."

"Who introduced him to you?"
The anger in his voice was very agreeable to her ears. "Who dared to?"
"No one. He introduced himself on the way up to Mandalay. In Rangoon I closed the acquaintance, such as it was, with the aid of a hat-pin, us, with the aid of 'What did he say to you?'"

"Nothing that I care to repeat. Stop! I am perfectly able to take care of myself. I do not need any valiant champion."

"He has spoken to you about me?"
"A letter. I saw only his face. I overtook him. I tore it up and threw it overboard. Everything seems spoiled. I am sorry I spoke."

"I shall see that he does not bother you again," ominously.
They returned to the promenade deck in silence.

When Warrington found Craig the night was heavily indicated. He lay sprawled upon his mattress, and the kick administered did not stir him. Warrington looked down at the sudden wretch moodily.

Craig's intoxication was fortunate for him, otherwise he would have been roughly handled; for there was black murder in the heart of the broken man standing above him. Warrington relaxed his clenched hands. This evil-breathing thing at his feet was the primal cause of it all, and a man's weakness. Of what use his new-found fortune? Better for him had he stayed in the jungle, better have died there, hugging his poor delusion. Oh, abysmal fate that had been!

CHAPTER X.
The Cut Direct.
It was after five in the morning when he was helped to get Craig to go down to his room. With the dull opportunity of a drunken man he refused to stir; he was perfectly satisfied to stay where he was. The three brown men Caught! Scooped! Blanketed!

Covered as completely as a butterfly beneath a bonnet!

That's what the most startling story of the year—Lieut. Porte's transatlantic flight—found itself, when The London Advertiser hired Philip D. Rader, newspaperman, cameraman, birdman extraordinary, to write up especially for The Advertiser readers the world-engrossing over-ocean voyage.

Rader is the ONE man in America—not excepting Lieut. Porte himself—who is best qualified to tell about the trip of the Twentieth Century Columbus.

First, Rader is a photographer, A FAMOUS ONE.

Second, he's a writer, TRAINED and TALENTED.

Thirdly, he's an aviator, AN EXPERT who knows and has played the air game in all its risks and phases—and LOVES it!

He knows the problems which Porte will face. He's faced them himself! He knows the Curtiss hydroplane, which Porte is flying. He flies one himself! And he's right on the ground with it, now, at Hammondsport—or, rather, soaring in the air above—ready to pounce on every last interesting detail, and to tip us off about it.

Philip D. Rader is the son of a newspaper editor who wrote for a San Francisco newspaper. When Phil grew up his father made him a reporter. He was a good one. Moreover, he could make photographs and pen-and-ink sketches, and that increased his value to his paper.

One day an aviator came to, San Francisco, and Phil was assigned to take a ride with him and describe the sensations.

The young reporter carried out instructions, but the sensations got him! He wanted to be aviator himself. So he threw up his job and went to Glenn Curtiss's aviation school in Southern California.

There he became one of Curtiss' most skillful men, and when Curtiss decided to make flying boats in his factory at Hammondsport, N.Y., he brought Rader there to become an expert flyer of the hydro-aeroplane.

Rader has navigated the flying boat in air and water for more than two years and knows all about it. He understands like a book the problems Lieut. Porte is up against, and will be the most interested onlooker as well as the most interesting writer during the days between now and when the great ocean voyage will be started.

The London Advertiser's flying boat, said Rader today, "cannot be capsized in air or water, if the pilot's ability is good. And it has the best engines in the world today."

Reporter-Aviator Rader Cranking Up The Daily Advertiser's Flying Boat, the Speedy Hydroaeroplane.

"I am so confident of my ability as Newfoundland shores, observing the navigator that I know I shall have no trial trips and final departure of Lieut. accident when I am scouting about the Porte."

BATTLE SCHEDULED FOR TODAY IN HARBOR OF VANCOUVER

Hindus Have Barricaded Themselves On Vessel and One Thousand Men Will Attempt To Rush Them.

[Canadian Press.]
VANCOUVER, B.C., July 20.—Upwards of five hundred men, from the Sixth Regiment, Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, the Highlanders, and the newly formed Irish Fusiliers, were called out tonight by a special order, signed by Colonel Duff-Stewart and Col. George C. McSpadden. They will parade Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, fully armed, and expect at that hour to go on board of the Rainbow, which is due from Victoria.

A small army of men should be on board of the warship when she goes out early tomorrow forenoon to take possession of the Komagata Maru. Unless the Hindus suffer a violent change of mind during the night, they will show a stubborn resistance and a bloody fight may result.

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Myrtle H.—Perhaps it is the face powder you use which is causing your complexion troubles. Many cosmetics do this by clogging the pores and preventing natural circulation. Don't worry. Your skin will be healthy and clear again at once to this simple treatment, which is also a beautifier.

Mary M.—That "stubborn" hair and unhealthy scalp are probably due to improper washing. You should never use soap on your hair. The alkali makes it dry and brittle. Hair that is faded and streaked is usually the result of soap shampoos. The ideal shampoo is the simple and ever reliable preparation made by stirring one teaspoonful of carboxin in a cup of hot water. It cuts away all the dirt matter, removes all dandruff, and leaving the hair soft, fluffy and lustrous. If your hair is thin, get some quinquina from your druggist. It makes a splendid tonic.

Nellie E.—For your wrinkles there is no better remedy than this simple homemade one. It will support and strengthen the muscles of the face and cleanse, heal, stimulate and smooth the skin. Obtain from the druggist an ounce of alcohol, dissolve in ½ pint of cold water and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir briskly and let stand overnight. Rub the preparation into the skin night and morning. It is a splendid preventative of blackheads and rough skin. For which see answer to Myrtle H., and keep the blood and system clean (see answer to Cora K.).

Cora K.—With spring fever comes complexion troubles. You must purify your blood before you can help the skin much by external application. Tone up your system with a good tonic to remove the cause of the skin troubles. I highly recommend the following reliable homemade preparation: Get ½ pint alcohol and 1 ounce crow was this evening taken off the ship and will remain off until such time as the Rainbow bluejackets have the matter under control. Gardner Johnson, agent for the owners, and Sir Charles H. Tupper, counsel for the owners, had a mid-day conference and the lawyer had addressed another letter to the Hindu committee on the Komagata Maru, pointing out that the ship has all the water she needs and assuring them that plenty of provisions would be sent on board for the trip across the Pacific. The letter goes on to point out the fact that the Hindus will have to turn and that therefore they might as well go peacefully.

Hindus Behind Barbed Wire.

The Hindus are not preparing for peace, however. They are preparing for war. Today the forward and well decked on the Rainbow display wooden barricades, backed up with coals, and it looks as if they are prepared to make a vigorous defense. With a message from the Governor-General, H. H. Stevens, M.P., and Immigration Inspector Hopkinson, the wire was cut at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The wire was from the Duke of Connaught to the Hindu passengers on board the ship. No one appears to know just what was contained in the message to the passengers on the Komagata Maru in reply to their message of a day or two ago, but it is quite apparent that it was nothing definitely satisfactory to the passengers. The probability suggested is that the Governor-General simply said that the question was being taken up by the departments concerned. This, at all events, would seem to be the reply which might be expected.

Hindus Name Terms.

Mr. Hopkinson had quite an interesting conversation with Gedit Singh, the Hindu leader, and Gedit Singh's secretary, and no doubt officially represented the passengers on board in the conference with the immigration man. Mr. Hopkinson talked on the Maru itself, apparently having no fear of the Hindus, although made the object of such a deadly attack during the night attack. Gedit Singh, beside him, and Mr. Stevens, on the immigration launch, gave advice to Mr. Hopkinson when the latter was reported on the terms desired by the Hindus. Gedit opened fire with the proposition just as the message was received from Mr. Hopkinson. He said that the passengers were willing to leave if the provisions were put aboard at once; if medical attention was furnished for those injured in the night fight, and if they were given a chance to hold a talk first with some of the Hindus on shore in order to say good-bye to them and to ask forgiveness for all the trouble which they had caused.

Mr. Hopkinson came back with a counter proposition. He said that if the Hindus allowed the Japanese crew to get up steam and agreed in writing to permit the ship to go on board and proceed to sea five hours after steam was up, the immigration people would start putting the $5,000 worth of provisions on board. Arrangements would also be made to permit the secretary of the Sikh Temple and Rham Singh, one of the alleged charterers of the Maru, to go on board and talk to the passengers. Mr. Hopkinson demanded to see some of the Hindus and to have been hurt the other night, but Gedit Singh did not care to produce them.

Wanted Provisions at Once.

Gedit further refused to agree to the suggestions and said that the provisions would have to be put on board at once. This was so manifestly unfair that after Mr. Stevens and Mr. Hopkinson consulted for a minute or two and unhesitatingly refused it, saying that an agreement in writing would have to be made, and before any provisions would be put on board steam must be up. They pointed out that if the provisions were put on board now from the Sea Lion the Hindus, with their large supply of water and $5,000 worth of provisions, could take life easy and laugh at the immigration officials.

Then you can send thousands of soldiers with us if you wish, declared Gedit Singh dramatically. "We would sooner die than go to see unless we get provisions right now. See our shore friends and have our sick attended to."

Several helmets were picked up floating in the bay this morning and were returned to the police station by a man who had been on board the ship. The man, who was named Dan McLeod, however, will not likely wear his hat again, for it was carried onto the Komagata Maru by the stream of water. Inspector McLeod was bending over the hose when the water brushed his hat off his head and carried it over the rail of the ship. This morning a friend of his was coming in on the West Vancouver ferry saw a big bearded Hindu strutting around the deck with the panama perched on top of his turban.

Huerta Leaves On German Boat Off to Jamaica Departure Without Incident; No "Good-byes" Shouted.

[Canadian Press.]

PUERTO RICO, July 20.—The German cruiser, Dresden, with former President Huerta and his family, and former War Minister Blanquet, Senor Blanquet, and their daughter, aboard, sailed at 7:30 o'clock this evening for Jamaica.

The departure of the former president was without incident, there not being even any shouts of "good-bye" to him from the dock.

CIRCULARS SENT OUT OF ALLEGED WIRETAPERS

MONTREAL, July 20.—Twenty-five pictures of each of the ten men arrested in an alleged wire-tapping room on Dorchester street last Friday night are being sent out tonight by the police department to the chief cities of the continent with a view to possibly finding out something about the suspects by this means.

Now Looks as If All Sections of Western Ontario Will Be Invaded.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINGSTOWN, July 20.—Army worms have invaded South Essex. Only a few days ago they began their ravages in the township of Gosfield North. This week they have shown up in Gosfield South township, about two miles from the town.

On the second, third and fourth consecutive farms of Wm. Kennedy, Aaron Jacobs, Percy Sandford, Wm. Dalton, Geo. Coghill, and several others in Gosfield South, and at Albert Newman's and Ames Gammon's, about half a mile east of Cotton the worms attacked oat fields, and do not hesitate to trim up onions and tomatoes, or other green crops.

One farmer, Mr. Cox, on Wm. Kennedy's place, tried an English remedy, and from his oat field, he took common sulphur, and in the evening, just as the dew was settling down, put out little piles of it about six rods apart, on the windward side of his field, and then with a little litter, set fire to the piles. The dew falling kept the fumes down, and drove every worm through the oat field, drove every worm out of it.

The worms were working north through the field, but the smoke turned them. It is sixteen years since the worms have operated here.

DESTROYS OATS NEAR AMHERSTBURG.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

AMHERSTBURG, July 20.—The dreaded army worm has made its appearance here. In Malden tonight, it was identified by Wm. McKenna, of C. C., as the pest which has destroyed ten acres of oats on the farm of Orval, in the Atkins settlement. Now that the farmers know what the trouble is, they will take every means to stop the worms spreading.

ALL OXFORD COUNTY FIGHTING THE PERIL.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, July 20.—The army worms are still on the rampage in the county. The Ontario Department of Agriculture, notified them of fresh outbreaks of the worms. New cases were reported today. If this keeps up much longer, there will not be any pasture left in Oxford County. The farmers all over the county are fighting the pest, but up to the present the work is very discouraging.

The Department of Agriculture experts are about to go from one place to another to assist and advise the farmers in their battle. Everything possible is being done to exterminate the worms and prevent new outbreaks, but despite all that is being done, every day new cases are being reported. The worms have practically ruined acres and acres of good pasture fields, besides a great many fields of corn and other farm produce, and if they are not soon checked, it is going to mean the loss of thousands of dollars to the farmers.

Many Cases Not Reported.

There are a great number of cases that have not been reported to the department, where the loss has not been very great. The following farmers have reported that the worms are on their farms: Walter Schell, on the stage road, just outside of the city; E. C. Smith, on the thirteenth line of East Zorra; H. Dibble, on the fourteenth line of East Zorra, and Harley Mayberry, who resides a short distance out of Ingersoll.

It is reported in the city this afternoon that there are a great many other cases all over the county, and some exceptionally close to the city.

According to these reports the worms are following the Thames River and all the farms that are near the river are infested.

TRENCHES EFFECTIVE ON KINTORE FARMS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

THIASBORO, July 20.—The largest farms in this district, those of George Fures and Dr. McMillan, at Kintore, six miles north of here, have been invaded by the army worm. The insects were noticed first on Saturday night, and at once a call was sent in for the Oxford County representative of the Agricultural Department, and on the latter's advice, deep trenches were ploughed around those parts where the worms already were.

This has proved effective in preventing the pest from spreading, and preventive measures have been taken promptly, it is hoped that all the worms may be exterminated before they have done any very great damage and before they have had an opportunity to invade other territory.

Already thousands of them have been killed in the trenches and the numbers seem to be rather less than at first. The farmers are now remitting any of their efforts, however, realizing that continued vigilance is necessary to keep the plague under control.

BRAN, MOLASSES AND PARIS GREEN USED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

QUELPH, July 20.—The army worm has carried the war into Africa. Those who have fought them in other parts of Ontario have come from the Agricultural College. Now the worms are on the edge of existence right on the college property in a dairy, bush and barley field on Edinboro road.

When The Advertiser's reporter saw the scene of the army worm's ravages this afternoon on the farm of Admiral Story, molasses and paris green were being used to keep them back in thousands. In these trenches in the field, being burned with oil and other methods had failed to stop them.

Stopped momentarily.

Admiral Story tried this method first, and burned over thirty gallons of oil on the Edinboro road to exterminate the worms. It stopped them, but only for a moment.

On College avenue, which crosses Edinboro road, the reporter saw the army worm in the road and fought the worms with every conceivable weapon to keep them from entering their fields. The worms have been successful, as the great bulk of the worms seem to be working west, away from the College property.

The farmers are hopeful that they have the outbreak well in hand. There is a tendency to criticize the agricultural department in that they have not tackled the problem in a big enough way. One farmer stated to The Advertiser that the department should send out a body of men who understand the best methods of fighting the pest, and they should take with them all necessary equipment.

GREAT ALARM FELT IN WEST OXFORD.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

INGERSOLL, July 20.—Farmers of West Oxford have become alarmed because of the appearance of the dreaded army worm, which has wrought such havoc in other parts of the county. The worms were discovered on Sunday on the farm of Willard Scott, near Pipers Corners, and early today action was taken with the hope of preventing them from reaching the crops. In the vicinity of Salford the worms have been discovered on several farms, although only in a few cases is the damage serious. On the farm of Joseph Groves, they have attacked an oat field, but prompt action was taken to prevent them from making further progress. Conditions were investigated this afternoon by District Representative G. R. Green.

TEN-ACRE FIELD OF BARLEY RUINED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, July 20.—The army worm has been discovered within a few miles of Galt. In a ten acre field of barley on the farm of James Currie, about six miles from town, there are thousands. When Mr. Knapp, of the Agricultural Department at Galt, visited the Currie farm he found the army worm was confined to one ten-acre field of barley, and it was easily seen that any effort to save the crop would be useless. Mr. Knapp advised Mr. Currie to plough the field around the field so as to stop their progress to other parts of the farm.

OTTAWA EXPERT ADVISES TRENCHES.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, July 20.—The army worm continues to advance from Brantford, and today they were seen in several parts of the city, including at the Mohawk Institute and Grand Trunk depot.

Mr. F. Hudson, an agricultural expert, is here from Ottawa, and advocated the digging of efficient trenches. J. H. Fisher, M.P., is in the city and has been working in the interest of those farmers affected.

Coal oil has been effective in ridding several pastures of the city of large numbers of the worms, as they have disappeared.

KENT IS FREE OF THE PLAGUE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, July 20.—J. T. Johnson, of the Department of Agriculture, of Chatham, left for Kent this morning, to investigate the reports of the army worm in the neighboring country on the border of Kent County, to investigate the reports are that the army worm has not yet visited Kent, but the local department is going to take no chances, and if it does appear, immediate steps will be taken to prevent its destructive work.

BOYS WITH LEE BEFORE HE DROWNED

State They Were Afraid to Tell It Before—Some Puzzling Features.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

MERLIN, July 20.—An inquest into the death of David Lee, whose body was found in the reservoir here, after he had been missing for some days, will commence on Tuesday morning before Coroner Dr. Bell, and the outcome is being awaited with more than usual interest all through this district.

There are a score of wild rumors in circulation, based largely upon the fact that three Taylor Brothers, aged 12, 14 and 16, who at first denied having been in swimming at all, have admitted that they were with Lee. The lads told a relative that they were afraid they would all be hanged. The fact that Lee's clothes, neatly folded in a pile, were fished from the reservoir, is puzzling the authorities. All efforts to locate the body have failed. The fact that his hat and shoes had been found, has been searched thoroughly. As a last resort the authorities may decide to drain the water off.

There is a rumor that Lee fell off a raft. There are other rumors that he did not. Lee was a strapping youth of eighteen, well built and very powerful, standing over six feet in height.

Just what happened to cause his death, the coroner will endeavor to ascertain on Tuesday. Crown Attorney Smith has been asked to be present, and H. C. Constable Peters. The latter has been very busy investigating the various stories, and it is stated will have much new evidence to present.

LITTLE FELLOW TOOK SICK WITH DIARRHOEA WAS 30 MILES FROM A DOCTOR

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry Cured Him

Mrs. Fred Schoffp, Pennant, Sask., writes: "I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry when my boy was not expected to live. We were 30 miles from a doctor when the little fellow took sick with diarrhea. He at first would sleep all day, and at night would be in pain, and would have a passage every five or ten minutes. This went on day and night until he began to pass blood, and night after night he would pass blood, and after he had taken it for a short time he was relieved and up and playing with his toys, and is now as well as ever."

There are a number of preparations on the market today, claiming the same curative power as "Dr. Fowler's," and also calling similar names, so as to fool the public into thinking they are getting the genuine.

Remembering that can take the place of "Dr. Fowler's."

There is nothing "Just as Good." Price, 35 cents. The genuine bears the name of The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEething, with THE CHILL, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for diarrhea.

It is supposed that after the fish were cleaned he started up the bank, as that was where he was found with the cleaned fish beside him. Drs. Ferguson and Aiken, of Courtwright, were called, and said he had died of heart failure and had been dead about four hours.

Mr. Maynew had been warned two years ago that it was unsafe for him to go fishing or in any other dangerous place without somebody being with him, but as he had nothing else to do and lived alone he spent a great deal of his time in fishing.

Mr. Maynew leaves a son, an undertaker in St. Clair, who took charge of the body and took it to St. Clair for burial. He also has two sons at Sarnia, and one at Detroit. The funeral takes place in St. Clair Wednesday.

Mr. Maynew, of Courtwright, is a brother.

LONDON, TUESDAY, JULY 21.

BELFAST RIBALDREY.

SPENCER LEE HUGHES, of the London News and Leader, has a special genius for discovering obscure folly and ignorance. Not long ago he quoted from a parish magazine, whose reverend editor thought that Providence sank the Empress of Ireland because the home rule bill had just been passed by impious legislators at Westminster! Another find of his is a broadsheet of songs for Ulster Covenanters.

Here is a gem from a song in which is narrated an attempt to hang Carson's Orange Cat:

"But every time they tried the rope, It yelled, 'Hill roast the Pope.'"

Some of the stuff Mr. Hughes confuses to be "too appallingly vulgar" for quotation. Of one snatch that he does report the most is rather too warm to be reprinted here, but the following elegant couplets may be extracted, with apology to the laws of decency:

"I'll destroy your beads and scapulas, I'll worry dirty Joe!
 I'll chase your priests from Ireland, And expose your holy show."

The above is from a sort of campaign hymn, "Carson's Bulldog." The militant Ulsterites take a primitive pleasure in animals, one of easy companionship. Their songs seem to arise from a backyard zoo. Who is this "dirty Joe"? By a pleasant familiarity the phrase seems intended for Hon. Jos. Devlin, Nationalist member for West Belfast.

The direct vigor of the pronoun "I" in the above selection is refreshing. The cries of Belfast have commonly abounded in talk of kicking, yelling, hanging. These are the heart utterances of a faction that professes to be making a stand for religion and scripture.

THE ASPIRATIONS OF ASTOR.

LONDON cables inform us that William Waldorf Astor, the American millionaire, has offered his two newspapers for sale.

Behind this act lies an interesting story of social climbing. For twenty-five years Astor has been seeking a title. But it was no mere knighthood that he was after. He aspired to nothing less than a peerage of a dukedom that would place him on a level but one removed from royalty. Through his papers and magazines he claimed descent from the ancient Spanish house of Astorga, but his claim was treated with ridicule. He tried to bring about an alliance with one of the great ducal families of England through his daughter, but that young lady upset things by falling in love with and marrying a poor army officer of little social standing.

He placed his immense wealth at the service of the "gentleman's party," but the Unionist leaders, from Salisbury to Bonar Law, failed to reward his liberality with so little as a baronetcy. Now that Asquith and Lloyd George have set to work to democratize the House of Lords and shatter the ancient exclusiveness of the aristocracy, he probably realizes that there is not now enough in a title to make it worth the money.

TOO MANY PEOPLE.

DURING the Liberal administration the tide of immigration into Canada flowed steadily in an ever-increasing volume. Business was good, work was abundant, and we were rapidly assimilating the new material for our population. But there seems to have come a change. With the advent of the Conservatives to power, there has been a reaction. Trade has slackened, business is dull, the cost of living has increased; men and women are wandering about the streets of some cities without work, and without the means of living.

A dispatch from Montreal a few days ago said that "ten thousand able-bodied men are walking the streets in Montreal, unable to obtain employment. The situation is regarded as serious, considering that it is only summer; and what the autumn and winter will bring forth is a problem that few citizens care to contemplate." The Toronto "Mail and Empire" of the 15th inst. said that "although at the present time there is a great deal of construction work being carried on in the city, the number of laborers without employment is startling. It is estimated that no less than 2,000 foreigners are without work in Toronto." On the same date a dispatch from Ottawa said: "The Government is being inundated with applications for the deportation of stowaway men, who are without employment. Today there are thousands of such men in the country. It has been semi-officially stated that the exodus of people from Canada would be greater this year than the influx."

Of course, there is little doubt that many of these people could get employment in the harvest fields if they were willing to take it. But that would only tide them over the summer months. What will be done with them during the long winter? If these people are unable to support themselves they will either become a burden on the municipalities and on private charity, or they will have to be deported. Either alternative is an unpleasant one to contemplate. By deporting them we will certainly ease our own burdens. But then it is very unfair treatment for the men and women who have been urged by Government officers and steamship agents to come to Canada, who have given up their homes, broken their domestic and national ties, and spent probably all they had in the venture, that they should be shipped back to the places from whence they came. It will be a poor advertisement for Canada.

We began the twentieth century with brilliant prospects. An energetic yet cautious immigration policy was adding to our population as rapidly as we could assimilate the material. Under a wise administration, local interests were fostered, and at the same time foreign trade was developed. As conditions began to change the Liberal Government prepared to modify its fiscal policy so as to meet the changes in prospect. But the people were misled and alarmed by the tactics of a discordant combination of partisan politicians. They defeated the Government and placed the management of their affairs in new and untried hands. A Conservative Government, submissive to monied interests; tied to a policy of restricted trade; characterized by a conscienceless extravagance, is now in charge. And we suffer the consequences.

THE WEEK-END TOLL.

THE loss of two bright, young London men in Lake Erie on Sunday afternoon brings home forcibly to this city the ever-increasing week-end toll of the waters of Ontario. Scarcely a Sunday passes without the death by drowning of two or a dozen of Ontario's citizens, and very frequently the list is lengthened by automobile tragedies. Last Sunday Port Stanley, Niagara and Oakville each reported a double drowning, while other instances were reported from other parts of the province.

People may talk about recklessness, thoughtlessness, dare-devilry, but the death toll grows. Is it because the youth of the land is becoming more reckless or thoughtless, or is it because of the ever-increasing activity of a busy age? Not many years ago the most exciting day in the year was when the Sunday school picnic was held in the neighboring woods. Young men and women found pleasure in ways that today would seem dull and stupid. This is a day of extreme activity in business, and it must have a corresponding activity in means of pleasure. When the bicycle was introduced it was considered extremely unbecoming to ride it on Sunday, even to church. The day of the bicycle has given way to the more swift automobile; the motor boat has replaced the rowboat.

It is difficult to judge present events by the standards of the past. The world is changing, and with it the habits of men and women. People may condemn a Sunday canoe ride, just as in the last generation people condemned a Sunday stroll along the country roadside. We can afford to be charitable in our reference to those who lost their lives spending their time in following the customs of the age. If the young man hazards his life on a stormy lake he is not doing what he is obliged to do every day in his business life, challenging the seemingly impossible, risking everything in an effort to win.

"They should have known better," is the common comment, and yet, in not knowing better, they were exemplifying the dominating spirit of young Canadians. At any rate they were not cowards.

Those Hindus appear to be British Columbia's hoodoo.

Give all the fishermen a holiday and see how quickly those worms will vanish.

It is said Huerta took $5,000,000 with him. To be rid of him, any price would be cheap.

Eat little and live long, advises a noted physician. This is sad news for persons who live to eat.

To some people the extreme of ill-luck is not having a home to mortgage in order to get an automobile.

The general misbehavior of those Hindus strengthens the belief that they would make undesirable citizens.

As a punishment, a New York judge has sentenced a man to be married. That's one that Nero never thought of.

Man borrowed $10 from a woman, and 30 years later sent her $30,000 in payment. Don't try to collect any money you have loaned.

London's Great has also its problem of a university site. The other civic universities of England have been going ahead of London. But it is now proposed to provide for an enlarged metropolitan university a dignified and permanent home. Lord Rosebery is the chancellor.

A proposal was lately made in the British Parliament, to amend the budget changes, that titles might be specially taxed. Mr. Asquith could not see his way to adopt this suggestion. Certainly, if titles are a tangible asset for securing American heiresses, they should be taxed. Titles are as good money as old plate and pictures.

NOT PROPHECYING.
 [LONDON PRESS.]
 The ball team came back yesterday, but the weather is still too hot to venture any rash prophecy.

WHY?
 [Le Devoir.]
 Our detachment (at Blaisy) is composed entirely of English Canadians. We would like very much to know why it is that for fifteen or twenty years, or perhaps more, there has not been a French-Canadian in the team at the Blaisy rifle ranges. The something is noticeable at the matches of the D. T. A. at Ottawa. Why is this? We find it very difficult to believe that

---and the Worst Is Yet to Come

We have not excellent riflemen among our people. We have had them before. Why should we not have them today?

SPOILED HER AFTERNOON.
 [Montreal News.]
 The neat and natty Nettie Nettles. Strolled the fields to pick pink petals. On some nettles (ouch!) she settled! That got Nettie Nettles nettled!

MRS. PANKHURST'S PUPIL.
 [Ottawa Journal.]
 Have we any suffragettes in Canada? We may have. A young lady of London, Ontario, dealt a "masher" a blow hard enough to render him unconscious for a considerable period of time. This might indicate that the young lady had received her training with the Pankhurst army.

AT THE OLD PEOPLE'S HOME.
 [Elly Giff Alexander.]
 When Cupid gets tired, as he does now and then,
 He deserts the young women and
 And discarding his arrows he slips through the gloom
 To a place where he's welcome—the Old People's Home.

He scales the walls quickly; catches sight of a group
 Of old folks who are sitting around on the stoop;
 Then slowly draws near like a shy little bird—
 They smile when they see him—but say never a word!

Each thinks that Dan Cupid's unseen
 Each summons the memory of one that's loved best,
 Though Cupid does nothing but sit there and smile
 He's the best entertainer in many a mill!

HOW TO SETTLE IT.
 [Christian Guardian.]
 When it comes to fighting, however Caranza does not seem to have the same stomach for it that his subordinate, Villa has, and when the two come to settle as to who shall rule Mexico it is more than likely that the better fighter will win. Just what the American forces are doing, and just where they will come in in the final settlement, is hard to say. Probably President Wilson himself wonders what they had better do.

NO LONGER TRUE.
 [Catholic Register.]
 The Nashville Lumberman says that the aviators have knocked sawdust out of that old proverb—"There is safety in flight." A good many of the old adages are getting leaky these days!

PREPARING THE WAY.
 [Lippincott's.]
 Claude had disobeyed his parents and his mother knew it. "I am afraid," she said, "that when I tell your father what you have been doing this forenoon he will punish you severely."
 "Have you got to tell him mother?" asked the boy.

"Yes," was the reply: "I shall tell him immediately after dinner."
 "Well, mother," said the boy, "give him a real good dinner, won't you! You might do as much as that for me."

WORK AND BE SANE.
 [Ottawa Citizen.]
 Harry Thaw is considered sane enough to handle $100,000 left him from his father's estate. But if Mr. Thaw hadn't been left so much money in the past there would never have been any doubts as to his sanity. Young fellows at work for a living have no time to get crazy.

SLAVES OF FASHION.
 [Ottawa Journal.]
 Once in a blue moon a man will be found with sufficient sense and courage to defy ridiculous fashion, but on the whole most men are its abject slaves. During these sweltering days men are dragging up and down Sparks street wearing hot, stiff linen collars and heavy wet suits. This is unhealthy and stupid.

WHERE HAVE THEY GONE?
 [Peterboro Times.]
 As this is the beginning of the second half of the year we find ourselves wondering what has become of all the good resolutions that were made at the beginning of the first half.

PRaise FOR THE SOPRANO.
 [Liverpool Mercury.]
 "So he praised her singing, did he?"
 "Yes, he said it was heavenly."
 "Did he really say that?"
 "Well, not exactly; but he probably meant that. He said it was unearthly."

UNSUNG MARTYRS.
 [Detroit News.]
 Day after day men give their lives willingly for the cause of science. They wear no uniforms and they fly no flag except the invisible white banner of truth. No battleship brings them home to the last resting-place. Yet they are heroes. Perhaps even greater heroes than the soldiers who give their lives for the heroes of the laboratory and the expedition expect no fanfare, ask none. They are content if they but increase the world's store of knowledge by one jot and successful, they are content that they have not lived in vain.

UNDER BORDEN'S RULE.
 [St. Thomas Journal.]
 A citizen of a foreign country placed in charge of the intercolonial other men of the same country put over the heads of trained, efficient Canadians in the management of the road's affairs, orders given to foreign companies for coal while Canadian companies would gladly have supplied if given a fair chance to do so, foreign laborers given the preference over Canadians of both races when there was work to do about the railway shops and yards—this is a part of the record under the Borden Government. It is a record that will not appeal as meritorious to the Canadian people.

DR. ANDERSON'S PROTEST.
 To the Editor of The Advertiser:
 In your issue of today you have an article headed "Executive to Handle Patronage in South Essex." The article is a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end. The meeting did not take the patronage from me, and passed no such resolution.

No resolution asking that the request for M. W. Scott's resignation be withdrawn was passed; but, on the contrary, I was thanked for the work I had done for the Conservative party and they expressed confidence in me.

Ed Note.—The writer of the article to which reference is made asserts that all information which appeared was secured from persons in attendance at the meeting.

MOTOR TRUCKS MENACE TO COUNTRY BRIDGES

Majority of Bridges in Middlesex Built to Support Six Tons Only.

The wide increase in the use of heavy motor trucks in all parts of the country has in several cases caused serious damage to bridges.

The motor trucks which are at the present time in use in the county of Middlesex are not of sufficient weight and size to cause any material damage to any of the bridges. At least, no damage from such a cause has as yet been reported. The Engineer Charles Talbot. It is believed, though, that any person who drives a truck of sufficient weight over a bridge to damage it should be held personally responsible, and made to pay for any damage he might do.

For the past seven or eight years, all bridges built in Middlesex County have been put up to withstand a pressure of fifteen tons, but previous to 1890 they were built to withstand but six tons, and previous to 1900, but ten tons. The majority of bridges in the county were, of course, built previous to 1900, so that it is only the newer bridges that are of the 15-ton type.

At the present time, motor trucks would come under the statute, which covers the use of tractors on public roads and bridges, but eventually the legislative body will have to take the matter up and pass special laws, which will more fully cover this kind of traffic.

BEEF PRICES SCHEDULED FOR SUBSTANTIAL RISE

Veal, Lamb and Pork Prices Are Also on the Up-Grade.

According to retail butchers, it is probable that beef prices will advance shortly. The price of beefs has increased about fifty cents per hundred-weight in the last week on the market.

No increase in the wholesale price has been made yet, but if the present high prices continue the butchers will be forced to raise their prices. At this time of the year, a slight decline is generally looked for. Beef, veal, lamb and pork have all taken a jump in price recently.

According to the farmers in this vicinity, the stock-raisers are killing all the calves, as they find much more profitable where the whole milk is sold. This produces a shortage in cattle. The northern States are experiencing high prices for all meats now, and this affects greatly the Canadian markets.

Dealers believe that beef prices specially will probably rise higher, in which case the butchers will also boost prices.

There's A Big Reason Why
 Paragon Typewriter Ribbons are the best

WE realized years ago, when we first started to make Paragon Ribbons, that they had to be the best—at whatever cost.

There was a special reason—the Remington Typewriter. We make the Remington and we make the ribbon. We started to make the ribbon for the Remington. No writing machine can do better work than its ribbon, therefore none but the best ribbon is good enough for the Remington Typewriter.

So you see that Paragon Ribbons had to be the best—not only for their own sake but for the machine's sake. This double incentive has produced the best ribbon—the ribbon that outsells them all.

Of course there are other reasons for Paragon Ribbon leadership. We are the typewriter ribbon manufacturers with the best facilities, and the most complete knowledge of the qualities in a ribbon that typewriter users want and how to produce what they want. But all of these reasons have followed from the first. It was Remington leadership which demanded and produced Paragon leadership.

But do not think that the Paragon Ribbon is simply a Remington affair. What the Paragon Ribbon has done for the Remington, it has done, incidentally, for every other writing machine. Paragon Ribbons, of absolutely uniform quality, are made for all makes of typewriters.

DR. ENGLISH IS NEW W.O.B.A. PRESIDENT

Election of Officers Took Place Last Evening.

SECY. TILLMANN RESIGNS

Meeting Approves of Formation of Controlling Body to Govern Tourneys.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of bowlers that ever graced a W. O. B. A. annual meeting was present last evening at the Tecumseh House, when the association met to elect officers for next season and deal with several important matters pertaining to the game and the W. O. B. A. tournament.

Regretted Secretary's Resignation.

The election of officers was one of the most important things on the program. The resignation Secretary-Treasurer "Tony" Tillman, who has held that office for some years and filled it with splendid satisfaction, was accepted with considerable regret, and only after he had consented to filling one of the vice-presidencies and still acting on the executive board, he was heartily cheered for the good work he has accomplished in the past, and a vote of thanks tendered him.

The Officers.

The officers elected are as follows: Patron—Sir John Willson, Toronto; Canadian, Chaplain—Rev. W. D. Collins, Exeter; Hon. Pres.—Peter Bowden, Ridgeway; President—Dr. English, Hamilton; 1st Vice-President—James Smiley, Paris; 2nd Vice-President—A. Tillman, London; Secretary-Treasurer—John McPherson, London; Auditors—J. Louhead and C. B. Edwards, London.

Retiring President Peter Bowden, the popular Ridgeway bowler, was also tendered a hearty vote of thanks for the splendid services he rendered while holding the office.

C. O. Knowles, of the Toronto Granite club, read a splendidly prepared paper, covering the tour of the British Isles made by the Canadian bowlers last year, and it proved highly interesting.

He was voted a hearty vote of thanks at the conclusion.

The association approved of the formation of the Dominion of Canada Bowling Association for the purpose of placing the game under the control of one big body made up of members of the various associations throughout the province. The question was discussed thoroughly, and it was recognized that such a body was needed.

Three delegates of the W.O.B.A., Peter Bowden, Dr. English and Ed. Weld, were named as a committee with power to attend the meeting in Toronto, when this association will be formed.

The matter of kiddy tappers for the next tournament was left in the hands of the executive committee.

LACROSSE TEAM'S BUSY WEEK.

The London lacrosse team will practice this evening at Queen's Park. Practices will be held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings also, in preparation for Saturday's game at Brantford.

EEL DIRECT THIRD IN EDWARD'S STAKE

Peter Stevens Won Classic in Straight Heats.

GRAND OPERA ELEVENTH

Opening Day at North Randall Drew Five Thousand—Belwin a Winner.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 20.—Peter Stevens won the $3,000 racing purse, the Edwards, today, at the opening of the Grand Circuit races at North Randall. Peter Stevens won in straight heats, the only close contest being in the first heat, when Little Bernice got out in front and led nearly all the way. Just before the wire, however, Little Bernice broke badly, and the favorite won easily in 2:05 1/4.

Omar won the first heat of the 2:07 race in 2:08 1/4, outstriking Grand Marshal and Newzel, the latter the favorite, in the stretch. Grand Marshal won the second and third heats and the race, however.

Belwin captured the 2:24 class trotting event in three straight heats. The race was for the best three heats in five. Belwin was the favorite and led all the way in the first heat, as in the second and third.

Farmer Spears was also a straight heat winner in the last event of the 2:11 trotting class. He was never headed.

About 5,000 persons saw the opening day's races. The track was fast and nothing occurred to mar the day's sport.

OHIO CIRCUIT RACES OPEN AT TOLEDO

This Week's Short Ship Meet Should Be Best of Season.

LONDON HORSES ENTERED

Single G. Will Race in Free-for-All Today—Rea Leads Winning Half-Milers.

[BY SCOTTY.] There're off at Toledo, Ohio, today these trotting and pacing campaigns of the half mile circuit, and with an entry list far greater than any of the meets yet held—a class of horses and drivers, who are known to race for top money. A fast track and a program that calls for four days' racing, but which will take five days to run off, as some of the events will be raced in two divisions this meeting, bids promise to be the best of those held to date on the short circuit.

Single G. in Free-For-All.

Single G. the sensational four-year-old pacing stallion that set a world's record of 2:07 1/4 on the half mile track at Saginaw, makes his debut as a free-for-all pacer today on account of his not being eligible to the Toledo stake. In this race he stacks up against Nutmeg, McKinney's First, Great Onward, Tackles Present Queen, King Ben, Lord Seymour and other of the large field that have entered the 2:20 pace.

Owner Refuses to Sell.

W. H. Barford, of Cambridge City, Indianapolis, owner of Single G., turned down an offer of $10,000 last week and refused to place a price on this stallion that has sent more than one bookie hustling to cover. It is understood that a prominent Detroit horseman is after Single G.

Single G. is one of the most talked of four-year-olds in the country. This horse has won the last five races he started in, and they were all $1,000 races. He is now staked in fourteen races.

The Moose Entered.

After the improvement shown in his racing at Saginaw, owner John Cook has decided to ship the Moose to Toledo, where he will race on Wednesday in the 2:25 Pace.

Moose in charge of Trainer Frank Caris, of Detroit, and the latter will pilot the horse in the 2:25 Pace. The contract was made as the result of driver Lewis being suspended for the Saginaw judges for alleged in different driving. Lewis was set down for thirty days.

The Winning Drivers.

Rea, Whitehead, Jamieson and Malloy to date have been the most consistent winning drivers on the half mile circuit. Rea, the leader, Rea, of a wealthy Pittsburgh family, is in the race for the short but hard season. He has driven home in front so often that the purses have added considerable to his stock of money.

2:10 Trot, purse $1,000—Great Onward, Melwood Grattan, Margie Hal, Kewanee Spade, Allen, Dillard, Gail Armstrong, Doctor S. SPEAKER'S HIT IN SIXTEENTH GAVE RED SOX THE VICTORY

When It Scored Leonard in a Game That Tigers Made But Seven Hits—Leonard Held Detroit Batters Hitless for Seven Innings.

BOSTON, July 20.—Boston and Detroit battled today into extra innings, the home team winning in the sixteenth, 3 to 2. In that inning Manager Carrigan was given a base on balls by Reynolds, the last of four Detroit pitchers, and was forced at second by Leonard. Hooper cracked his fourth hit to left and Scott was hit by pitched ball. With the bases full, Speaker sent a hit between left and center field and Leonard's home, Coumbe, a youthful left-hander, held the pitching burden for Boston until Crawford's double and two errors gave the Tigers two runs and tied the score in the ninth. Then Leonard was called upon, and for the remainder of the game held the Tigers hitless, striking out nine men. Score:

Batteries—Wellman and Leary; Keating, Brown, Warhop and Sweeney. Second Game.

CARDS. BUNCHED HITS

ST. LOUIS, July 20.—St. Louis, by bunting extra base hits with Brooklyn's errors in the early innings today, obtained a lead Brooklyn could not overcome and won 7 to 6. Salles went to pieces and the visitors scored four runs on three hits, a pass and two sacrifice flies. In the eighth inning while sliding into third base Dolan was spiked, being replaced by Rigger. In Memoriam.
ZAVITZ—In memory of our dear sister, Mrs. Jonas Zavitz, who departed this life July 19, 1913, just one year ago today.

Love is the golden chain that binds
The happy souls above.
And she's an heir of heaven that finds
Her home glow with love.
She has gone to bright regions,
Safe from every grief and care;
We shall meet you up in heaven
And nevermore part there.

Angels guard our darling sister,
May your harp ring loud and clear,
Leaving notes of love behind you,
To the ones that loved you dear.
—Your Loving Sister and Brothers

OPTOMETRY
PAST AND PRESENT
methods of selling eyeglasses and spectacles are vastly different. Bargain counter methods belong to the days of antiquity. People generally have come to realize that if defective vision is to be remedied, a thorough examination by a competent optometrist is necessary. We make these examinations by the most approved, scientific methods. Then we fit you with lenses that will positively correct your defects of vision, if any are found.

NEWS

London Old Boy Back—Frank Carter, of the Washington Times, is the first member of the Washington old boys to arrive in London. Mr. Carter will be in the city several weeks.

Approval Held Up.—The city approval of the plans of certain platted property in Chelsea Green and near West street, south of the Hamilton road, is being held up on the ground that some of the streets in the plat come to a dead end. The board of control in withholding its approval declared that there should be some outlet on these streets for the people who may build homes there.

Building Permits.—T. A. Faulda took out a building permit today for a two-story brick dwelling in Bellevue avenue to cost $3,400. Other permits issued went to Cohoon & Patterson for a brick addition to their store on Central avenue, to cost $2,200; to Robert Pring, for a frame building on Linwood street, to cost $1,200 and to W. Wakeling, for a two-story brick dwelling at 24 Campbell street, to cost $11,200.

DEATH OF SAMUEL PIPER.—Samuel Piper, a well known retired farmer of Westminster Township, died Sunday at the age of 74 years.

The funeral services are to be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his former home on the Gore road. Rev. Mr. Cranston will conduct the services.

Interment is to take place in the Scottville Cemetery.

Says City Can Borrow $1,000,000

Controller Moore Apparently Puts Little Faith in Auditor's Statement.

Debtors Debt Discussed. — The statement of the city's debtors debt, prepared by Auditor Frank G. Jewell, and published in The Advertiser last week, has caused considerable comment among ratepayers. Members of the board of control made a few references to the statement yesterday, by declaring that the city was nowhere near its borrowing capacity. Mr. Jewell's statement indicated that the city could borrow about $300,000 before exceeding its borrowing limit. Controller Moore thought, notwithstanding this statement, that the city was not within a million of its borrowing capacity. The controllers are well satisfied with the construction work they have under way this year, and it was intimated that they would not initiate any other large jobs.

NO NEW PASTOR WILL BE CALLED UNTIL SEPT.

St. Andrew's Church Special Committee Will Not Meet Before Fall.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church special committee appointed to call a new pastor to succeed the late Dr. Ross, will not meet until September. It was stated last night by a member of the committee. Many members of the congregation are disappointed at present, and it has been thought advisable to leave the situation as it is now, until the fall, when efforts will again be made to secure a pastor.

RESTAURANT KEEPER MULCTED OF $100

Is Fined for Having Liquor in Her Possession.

Judgment in the case of Mrs. M. Matthews, 239 Clarence street, on whose house a raid was made by License Inspector Alfred R. Galpin and a detachment of police several weeks ago and a quantity of liquor confiscated, was given this morning by Magistrate J. C. Fidd in police court. The fine imposed was $100 and costs, or three months in the county jail.

In imposing the sentence, the court stated that it was the lowest penalty he could inflict. The fact that the woman had kept a rooming-house and a restaurant made the case more serious, and it was for this reason that she was found guilty.

An attempt will probably be made to secure time for payment.

CALL TO REV. ADAM IRWIN

Rev. Dr. Munro, Moderator at Hyde and Komoka Session.

The call to a new minister for Hyde Park and Komoka Presbyterian Churches, at which Rev. Dr. Munro, of this city, moderated on Monday, came off unanimously in favor of Rev. Adam B. Irwin, B.A., a recent graduate of Knox College, who at present is supplying for Rev. Dr. Day of Simcoe.

THE SHOWS SUPREME

The superiority of the great Leon Washburn Shows, which will shortly be in this city in conjunction with the coming celebration of the Old Boys' Reunion, to be held in this city during the week of August 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, is being advertised in the best that have ever been put upon the road as a travelling aggregation, and contain more really meritorious exhibits than any other show of the kind previously organized. They are clean, moral and high-class in every particular and embody every late American and European feature, yet extend. Headed by the great Trained Wild Animal arena, with the educated lions, tigers, hyenas, wolves, bears, leopards and other denizens of the forest and jungle, the American Athletic team, the best physical culture show, the Barrel of Fun, the most hilariously laughable attraction, the Hippodrome with the wonderfully trained ponies, dogs and monkeys; the Progressive Girl Show, a wonderful series of illusions, illustrative of the evolution of the modern girl and a host of other features—there is nothing like it in America today. The Ladies' Military Band is the pleasing feature, as is the daring, death-defying high dives of Alvin, the daring Venus, who leaps from a high tower into a shallow tank of water. There is the riding elephant, Gyp; the camels and ponies for the ladies and children to ride, and all sorts of other amusements and diversions. At night the shows are a veritable fairyland of light and animation and resemble in their brilliancy that great American pleasure resort, Coney Island, at which many of the attractions have won big success.

PRINCESS THEATRE MUSICAL COMEDY

One of the finest entertainments ever brought to the Princess Theatre is under way there this week. It takes the form of a tenebrous melange, entitled "The Music Hall Girl." The sketch is presented by Edwin Niner, and it includes some musical comedy, and it is clever and witty, and includes a charming little story, while it is interspersed with good musical numbers, which comprise solos, duos, trios and sextettes, besides the general chorus. Perhaps the greatest hit is the excellent comedy work of Edwin Niner, as a German comedian. There are some clever character impersonations by members of the company, and the whole melange goes with a swing which leaves no intervals. The duets by Miss Niner and Farnum, and the song "Glow-Worm" by Grace Farnum, are worthy of special mention.

ALDERMEN DEMAND "PAY-UP" FIRST

Want to See Color of Its Money for Federal Square Before Calling for Plans—Controllers' Recommendation Knocked Out.

The council last night turned down a recommendation of the board of control to call for competitive plans for a new city hall on the Federal Square site. Members of the council in voting down this recommendation were determined that the city should not go too far on the Federal Square project without getting the $130,000 promised by the Government when the people voted on the question.

The recommendation that was defeated called for competitive plans for a building not to cost more than $250,000, and it also contained a provision whereby the city offered three prizes to the competitors. These plans were to have been submitted in completed form within three months.

The council did adopt a report which authorized the board of control to acquire the remainder of the property for the Federal Square site. There are five pieces of property on the square that are needed. The council adopted this report so that the city could complete its part of the agreement with the Government and make itself eligible for the balance of the $130,000 grant.

"Hundreds of people voted for this Federal Square plan," declared Alderman Merryfield, "believing that the Government was to give $130,000 toward the expense. Only $50,000 of this amount has been given so far. I am not opposed to going on with this work as fast as it can be undertaken, but before I support it, I want to see the Government's money first."

Ald. Tancock: It's a mistake to call for plans and go ahead with this work until we get this money and all the property is reacquired."

Government Will Pay.
Mayor Graham: We don't need any guarantee. We have the word of the Cabinet Ministers for it, and they have already given us $50,000, showing their good will. This opposition all emanates from the north end of the city. But you can do as you please, gentlemen. The council can do anything it wants, to, to thwart the will of the people.

Ald. Merryfield: The north end is just as fair as the south end in this matter. There is no plan here to block this project. The people believed they were going to get certain things, and I want to see we get them.

Mayor Graham: I heard some aldermen say early in the year that they would block this matter when it came up.

Ald. Merryfield: Not me.

Ald. McDonald: Nor me either.

Mayor Graham: Well Ald. Tancock was one.

Controller Coles: There is no question about our getting the money gentlemen. Five cabinet ministers have approved it. The newspapers are urging us and public opinion is urging us to get this matter under way, so why do you want to block it?

Laughter is Laughter.

After the vote in which this recommendation was turned back, the board adopted a report that the board of control be authorized to acquire five pieces of property on the Federal Square site, which are needed to complete the deal. This, in view of the fact that the other recommendations were turned down, Alderman Merryfield: There is no need to laugh. What does the board of control want anyway? The aldermen are not fools entirely. We have given you what you asked for, the power to acquire this property, and there is no need to laugh at us. I can stand for a whole lot, but this is going a little too far.

Mayor Graham: But you wanted to hold this up until we get the money from the Government.

The board will proceed to acquire the property, and it is in a position to demand the balance of the money from the Government, at which time the recommendation for competitive plans will be again before the council.

The Garbage Question.
Mayor Graham declared the board was investigating the garbage question, and would have a report for the council at the next meeting. Two important opinions from the city solicitor were read, in which he stated that the collection of garbage was not binding on the city, and could be terminated any time on notice of the council. The other opinion stated that the churches were not liable for the garbage tax, as they had not received proper notice of their assessment.

West London Breakwater.
The council also turned back the recommendation of the board of control for the purchase of a concrete breakwater for the West London breakwater, with instructions to get one equipped with an electric motor so it could be operated by hydro. Ald. Tancock was the champion of hydro in this instance, declaring a neighbor of his used hydro at one-third the cost of coal. Mayor Graham instructed him to speak slow, so the cheapness of hydro would not be lost on the audience.

The city engineer's estimate of the cost of the breakwater is $25,000.

To Pave Talbot Street.
A recommendation to pave Talbot street from Hamilton to Pica, at an estimated cost of $24,000, was adopted. A similar pavement for York street, from Richmond to Wellington, and on Adelaide street, from the creek to the Wharfedale road, will be presented at the next meeting, with amendments.

New Storm Sewers.
The board was authorized to call for tenders for storm sewers on Tecumseh avenue, from the creek to Wortley road, and from the creek to Wharfedale road, and from the creek to the Wharfedale road. Tenders will also be called for sanitary sewers on Waterloo street, from Victoria to Regent streets; Wray street, from Canada to Wortley road, and Southgate street, from Methuen avenue to Emery street.

Will Appear in Parade.
The council accepted an invitation from the Old Boys to appear in the civic parade on the afternoon of August 2, during the Old Boys' reunion, and will meet in the council chambers at noon to make preparations.

Smoke Nuisance.
The smoke by-law was amended so that only 90 days' notice need be given in place of 150 days' notice to factories guilty of maintaining smoke nuisances. The amendment was urged by Alderman Merryfield.

The question of an increase in street laborers' pay was referred to the board of control. The mayor and city clerk were authorized to sign the annexation agreement with London township, the matter of entirely with the township, as the city can only collect $112 in taxes while the township collects about $400. A disagreement over the amount to be collected was the signing of the agreement for some time.

HIS HEALTH IN A TERRIBLE STATE

"Fruit-a-tives" Healed His Kidneys and Cured Him.

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913.

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys were not doing their work and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory.

"Their action was mild and their result all that could be expected. My kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old-time vitality. Today, I am enjoying the best health I have ever had."

ST. JOHN'S AMBULANCE CORPS HOLD FIELD DAY

Program of Outing at Springbank Includes First Aid Demonstration.

Members of No. 15, McClary's division, and the Y.W.C.A. nursing division of St. John's Ambulance Brigade, held a field day and picnic at Springbank Saturday afternoon.

About 40 members of the brigade were present and spent a delightful afternoon at the park. Superintendent William Loveday and Miss Chatham were in charge of the outing.

Refreshments were served in the early evening by the nursing division under the direction of Miss Davis.

Besides the usual amusements of the picnic, the brigades brought their knowledge of field work into play in a demonstration of first aid work. Several "scenes" were staged on the grounds of the park. A runaway horse was supposed to have knocked unconscious a man who attempted to stop it. The correct methods of examining the injured man, treatment, application of bandages, were all carried out to the minutest detail, under circumstances usually found in an accident case.

The method of caring for three patients injured in a wrecked building, was another opportunity for the corps to demonstrate first aid to the injured. The field day was a decided success.

BLAMES DRINK FOR CRIME

But Prisoner is Still Responsible for Theft, Says Judge Elliott.

William H. Martin, alias George Davis, was sentenced to eleven months' imprisonment yesterday morning in the court of Judge Edward Elliott for the theft of a diamond ring from Miss Selma Fisher, of London Township.

The sentence will run concurrently with the four months given him recently by Police Magistrate Judd for the theft of bicycles in the city. Martin gave drink as an excuse for his crime. Judge Elliott declared that this did not relieve him from responsibility.

CROUCH-HENDERSON.
A quiet, pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Hendry, St. George's apartments, when their only daughter, Elsie Agnes, was married to Harold Pattison Crouch, by Rev. W. J. Knox, of the First Presbyterian Church. The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly gowned in a dress of ivory duchess satin with sequined train, trimmed with rose point lace and seed pearls. She wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Maude Ruanian, wearing a dainty gown of pale blue pink chiffon, hat to match, and carrying pink and mauve sweet peas. The groom was attended by Basil Wooley, and the wedding march was played by Miss Norma Crouch, sister of the groom. Miss Hilda Keene sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride's mother wore a beautiful gown of mauve satin with touches of purple and real lace. The bride's going away costume was of navy blue corded silk with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Crouch left Saturday evening on their wedding trip to include New York and other eastern cities.

PROPOSED LABOR PARTY WOULD NOT BE SUCCESS

This Is Opinion of Ernest Ingles, Secretary Workers' Local.

The idea of an independent labor party in politics, as is proposed, according to reports from various parts of Ontario, would not be a success, is the view of Ernest Ingles, secretary of the electrical workers' local.

"Trades unionists," he said, "are not sufficiently educated for such a movement to be practicable at present. A movement to educate labor along lines which would enable it to take a more intelligent part in politics, would be all right, but I think any attempt to form a separate political party representative of labor, would be doomed to failure.

"The fact of the matter is," he added, "that labor men will vote generally for one or other of the main political parties already in existence, even when an independent labor man is in the field."

NEW PARK DEAL CLOSED

Amusement Company Buys Tract Near Springbank.

Plans for a new amusement park, to be located at Byron, just south of the city's Springbank property, are being completed. The transfer of the real estate, namely, the Coombs farm, having a frontage of 800 feet on the Commissioners' road, being made on Saturday. The price paid for the property is said to have been close to $15,000.

The syndicate, composed chiefly of local men, is seeking incorporation for $40,000, and work on the improvement of the park will be commenced at once. The park will be fully equipped, and ready to open early in the spring of 1915. Part of the property will be laid out in walks, drives, and recreation grounds, and part of it will be leased for amusement park devices of the Coombs Island variety.

QUEEN MARY APPOINTS BECHSTEIN HER PIANOFORTE MAKER.

Added Triumph For Bechstein Piano.

Queen Mary has added her testimony to that of King George, Edward VII. and Queen Victoria by appointing C. Bechstein, of Berlin, her pianoforte manufacturer.

The patronage of the Bechstein Piano by almost all the royal houses of Europe signifies the acceptance of the highest quality of the great German musicians in favor of the Bechstein Piano.

One of the most gratifying features of the Bechstein Piano, so far as Canada is concerned, is the way in which the magnificent tonal qualities of the instrument have resisted the trying climatic conditions, especially throughout the West.

Gourlay, Winter & Leeming are honored with the Canadian representation for the Bechstein Piano, and have been extremely successful in placing this eminent instrument throughout the Dominion with appreciative lovers of music.

Gourlay, Winter & Leeming have supplied many Bechstein Pianos in and around London through their local house at 261 Dundas street.
