Big Class of Graduates At London Medical College

London Students Capture Medals, Special Prize and Two Scholarship.

The results of the London Medical college examinations were made public this morning by the faculty.

LOST IN COMMITTEE

Bill to Annul Boy and Girl Marriages Defeated.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 26.—The bill from the Province of Ontario, introduced by the Minister of Justice, to annul marriages between 14 and 18, entered into without the consent of their parents, was defeated in committee. It was opposed by a large number on both sides.

GUELPH PAVERS AFTER POINTERS

Royal City Aspires to Asphalt, But the Cost Jars Some.

A deputation from Guelph called at City Engineer Graydon's office this morning and had a long talk on the paving question. Guelph is about to experiment with permanent pavements, which means that its troubles are about to begin.

The deputation was composed of Ald. J. Kennedy, chairman of the board of works; City Engineer J. G. Lindsay, and Mr. J. J. Hacking, manager of the street railway there.

Mr. Graydon gave the gentlemen all the facts in his possession, and the deputation did not appear to be reassured on paving matters.

When they heard that London has been spending about $2,000 a year to repair the Richmond and Dundas street pavements, they winced, but they winced more when told that only half the cost per annum, as the street railway paid fully as much each year to keep its track allowance in repair.

Regarding the bituminous pavements here, Mr. Graydon was able to say that the pavement on York street is in bad condition, and it has only been laid a few years, but the Talbot street pavement, which is down a much longer period, is wearing well.

This afternoon the deputation inspected the asphalt pavement on Wellington street, which is wearing splendidly, and also the King street vitrified brick pavement, which is not wearing so well.

THE PLANS FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Mayor Would Have Them Drawn in Engineer's Office and Economize.

Sketches of the idea of the hospital trust in regard to the construction of the new isolation hospital on Ottawa avenue are now being prepared in City Engineer Graydon's office.

These sketches will be presented to the council, and that body will probably refer them to the architect.

Thus the city council will have the plans prepared and will take into consideration all suggestions made by the hospital trust.

It has not as yet been decided who will draw the plans.

Mayor Judd declares that if he has anything to say in the matter, they will be prepared in the office of City Engineer Graydon.

The mayor's idea is to have Mr. Stiles, the gentleman appointed to assist Superintendent Moore, of the waterworks, placed in Mr. Graydon's office, so that when he is not busy on the drawing of the plans, which will mean a saving to the city of not less than $1,500.

Ald. Gillespie stated to the mayor today that local architects are of the opinion that competitive plans should be asked for, and that all architects should be given a chance at the work.

The mayor, however, insists that as the city has a competent office in which the plans can be prepared, the work shall be done there.

Chairman Darch, of the water commission, said today that he has no objection to allowing Mr. Stiles to be placed in Mr. Graydon's office. All he asks is that the water commissioners shall have first call on his services.

COPPER CASE SETTLED.
Boston, April 26.—It was announced today that the suit of the Copper Range Consolidated Company against Alfred C. Burrage, Thomas W. Lawson and others, has been settled out of court.

ROOSEVELT OPENS JAMESTOWN SHOW

Shows Great Interest in Britain's Magnificent Squadron of Warships.

Norfolk, Va., April 26.—The Jamestown tercentennial exposition was opened today by the President of the United States.

President Roosevelt viewed from the deck of the yacht-cruiser Mayflower the war vessels anchored in Hampton Roads.

Then followed the programme for opening to the public the enterprises commemorating the 300th anniversary of the first English settlement in America.

At sunrise the ceremonies were begun by the United States artillery firing a salute of 399 guns to usher in the day.

It was some minutes before President Roosevelt could proceed with his address. The people repeatedly gave vent to their enthusiasm. As he pressed the gold button which formally opened the exposition it was the signal for the unfurling of a thousand or more flags on the various buildings. At the same time a signal was given to the warships and to the gunnery at Fort Monroe, and all fired a salute.

The Mayflower, bearing the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and party, arrived at the head of the column of war vessels this morning almost an hour before the usual call for quarters. The American flag ship Connecticut, Rear-Admiral Evans commanding, boomed out the first guns of the presidential salute, the other American ships and the foreign vessels immediately following.

The Mayflower headed toward Norfolk, passing along the outer line of foreign ships, the crews of which were drawn up in close order along the forward and upper decks and superstructure, and awaited attention.

The first of the British ships encountered was the Roxburgh, then the Hampshire, and next the Argyle. President Roosevelt was especially interested in the flagship Good Hope, and exchanged personal salutes with Admiral Neville, who stood on the bridge.

SEEKS SETTLEMENT OF FISHERIES ROW

Newfoundland Premier at London Striving for Adjustment.

St. Johns, Nfld., April 26.—The Colonial Government officials here say that Sir Robert Bond's conference in London Wednesday with Lord Elgin, regarding the American fisheries question, was only the first of a series of discussions which is hoped will result in the adjustment of the entire matter.

Premier Bond is in telegraphic communication with his ministers, who will consider whatever proposals are made to him, and suggest such amendments as seem wise.

The officials here expect that the negotiations will be protracted, and that a solution of the question will be difficult on account of the firm stand taken by Newfoundland, and the conciliatory attitude of the British cabinet towards the United States.

CANADIANS IN NEW YORK

KAISER FAVORS CLUBS
Also Sport—Remarkable Change in Views of Wilhelm II.

Berlin, April 26.—An interesting note is published showing the alteration in the Kaiser's opinion of club life in Germany. Many years ago when he was crown prince, he forbade the officers of his regiment to belong to or visit the well-known Berlin Sporting Club. He is now the protector of the fashionable Casino Club, the members of which are chiefly aristocrats and military officers.

The Kaiser is also an honorary member of the Junior United Service Club and the Cavalry Club of London, and of the Royal Yacht Squadron of Cowes. The military officers on racing are similarly changed. He now encourages officers to take part in races, while it is understood here that racing is falling more and more into disrepute among officers in England.

ASSAULT CHARGE AGAINST HOTELMAN

A Lemon-Squeezer Figures in the Case—Spitter Let Off With Warning.

William Brown, proprietor of a local hotel, was called on at the police court this morning, to answer to a charge of assault laid against him by Frank Harris, a colored man, who claimed that Brown had struck him on the mouth with a lemon squeezer, kicked him in the nose and abused him in various other ways.

After hearing the evidence the magistrate adjourned the case until Tuesday next when he will give his decision.

According to the testimony given by Harris, the complainant, he had been drinking in the barroom of Mr. Brown's hotel on Wednesday night about 7:30, when Mr. Brown came to him and told him to hurry up and drink his beer and get out, for he did not want him about the place. Harris emptied the beer into a spittoon and told Brown that he would not take another drink in his house.

With that Harris started to leave the hotel, but before he could get out he was overtaken by Mr. Brown, who struck him in the mouth with a lemon squeezer, knocking him to the floor, and before he could get up Brown kicked him on the nose, causing painful wounds in each case.

The testimony of several other witnesses agreed with the story told by Harris, in that he had been asked to leave the hotel and that he had thrown away the beer, saying that he would never drink in the hotel any more.

Although one of them stated that Harris had thrown the lemon squeezer at Harris and missed him, none of them saw the squeezer used as a weapon, but said that all the blows had been struck by the fists and not even by the feet, as alleged by Harris. Some of the witnesses also stated that Harris had challenged Brown to a fight, and that Harris had attempted to do his share of the fighting, but had failed to do any damage.

Harris certainly looked as if he had got the worst of the deal, for his mouth was cut, while his face was badly bruised in several places.

As for Brown, he was apparently none the worse except that his hand was broken in the mix-up.

Spitters Warned.
Several teamsters, who had not secured licenses, were allowed to go after taking out the necessary documents.

A young man who spat on one of the city sidewalks was allowed to go with a warning.

George Hughes, a dealer in junk, was fined $5 for buying junk from two boys who were under the age limit. Hughes put up the defense that he had bought the junk at the request of the boys' mothers; but the court informed him that even if the parents sent a note with their children he must not buy from them.

Four young men who had been standing in doorways on Dundas street, and had refused to move on when requested by a policeman were each fined $1 and costs.

C. W. Treadgold, who was alleged to have stolen an electric light, was bailed out until next Wednesday.

INCREASED PAY FOR POSTMASTERS

Important Announcement by Mr.
Lemieux—Amendments to Subsidies Bill.

Ottawa, April 25.—Rural postmasters will be comforted by the announcement made by the Postmaster-General in the House of Commons today, that the House has decided to increase the remuneration of those officials and that the new scale would be ready in a few weeks.

For several hours the House was occupied by the discussion of an address to his majesty, asking that the constitution should be amended in order that payment of provincial subsidies might be placed on a basis of payment according to population. The address had been recalled from the senate in order that it might be so amended as to provide that the assessment for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta should be on the last quinquennial census. One of the incidents of the lengthy debate which took place before the address was sent back to the senate was an exhibition of temper by Mr. Armand Lavergne, resulting in his being sharply rebuked by the deputy speaker.

Later in the sitting the House resumed consideration of the railway subsidies, Mr. Fielding stating that the minimum amount required would be nearly $3,500,000.

UNITED IN THIS

Toronto, April 25.—Hotelkeepers located within the district covered by the prohibitive proclamation of the Dominion Government which deals with twenty miles on either side of the work of the new transcontinental line, will have to refrain from the sale of intoxicants during the time of the building of the railway.

Such was the statement of the Provincial Secretary, Hon. Mr. Hanna, when asked this morning concerning the reported action brought against three saloonkeepers and one shop dealer in Keewatin village, which comes within the specified territory.

There will arise no question as to the power of the Dominion Parliament to enforce their regulation within the boundaries of the Province, as the Ontario Government will stand prepared to assist in any effort to stay such sale of intoxicants as might prove dangerous to life or property where dying on the new railway is going on.

DR. FALCONER FOR 'VARSITY

The Eminent Canadian Scholar and Divine Chosen President.

Toronto, April 26.—Robert A. Falconer, M.A., B.D., LL.D., of Halifax, has been selected by the board of governors for the presidency of the University of Toronto. At the regular meeting of the board yesterday afternoon it was unanimously decided to offer him the position. A cablegram was sent to Dr. Falconer at Naples, where he is this week on his way to Greece. It is expected that he will at once return to Halifax in order to meet the board of trustees of Pine Hill College, of which he is principal, after which he will formally announce his decision in the matter of the Toronto offer. It is believed that he will accept the appointment at an early date.

Dr. Falconer is a Canadian. He was born in Prince Edward Island 40 years ago. His father is the Rev. Alex. Falconer, D.D., of Pictou, N. S., who a year ago was moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. In early life Dr. Falconer spent several years in Trinidad, West Indies, and at that time won the Gieseler scholarship.

Dr. Falconer was educated at Queen's Royal College, Trinidad. While there he passed the Cambridge local examination with first-class honors, in some subjects being bracketed equal with the first in the entire list. He also passed the London matriculation, receiving the Gieseler scholarship, equivalent to 1100 for three years, and at the same time he held the colonial scholarship of £150 for the same period.

Later he studied at the University of Edinburgh, passing for his degree of master of arts with honors in classics. He subsequently obtained from that university the degrees of B. D. and D. Litt. He also won a B.A. from London University, with honors in classics and philosophy. Three sessions were also spent in study at the German Universities of Leipzig, Berlin and Marburg.

Dr. Falconer has received the honorary degree of LL.D. from the University of Fredericton and from St. Francis Xavier University.

Only One of the Board's Organizers, Sir John Carling, Survives.

Tonight's meeting of the board of trade promises to be one of the most interesting held by that body in many years.

In addition to the election of officers, a report covering the history of the board for the past fifty years—it was formed in 1857—will be presented by Secretary Nelles, and it will reveal some facts to Londoners which will make good reading.

A glance at the old minute book shows that a meeting of the businessmen of London was held in 1857 for the purpose of forming a board of trade. The meeting was held in what was then known as the Crystal Block southwest corner of Carling and Richmond streets.

Of those representative at that time of London's business life, and of all who were at the meeting, only one is living today.

That man is Sir John Carling, head of the Carling Brewing and Malting Company; a senator, former minister of agriculture, and postmaster-general of Canada.

Asphalt To Be Repaired By Warrens This Year

Board of Works Goes Back on Day Labor Scheme—Walks To Be Torn Up.

The board of works last night decided to allow the Warren Paving Company to make the repairs to the asphalt pavements this year, instead of attempting to do the work by day labor.

A letter from City Solicitor Meredith was read, which stated that, despite the fact that the Warren Company has a contract to make the repairs this year, the city could, if it was deemed wise, make the repairs itself by day labor.

The committee took the ground, however, that labor being very scarce and dear, it was altogether likely that day labor would cost more than the contract work of the Warrens.

It was also stated that the city would have to buy its asphalt from one of the companies and would have to arrange for the use of a plant to heat the material.

On the whole, it was not deemed advisable to do the work by day labor.

Bad for the Repairs.

City Engineer Graydon asked for the sum of $3,500 to make the repairs this year, but the item was reduced to $2,500 when the estimates were agreed upon.

Consequently, there is not sufficient money to repair the pavements this year.

Engineer Graydon proposed to the committee that the money be used as far as it will go on Dundas street, from Richmond to Wellington, and on Richmond street, from Dundas to the Grand Trunk. The suggestion was adopted.

The Warren Company is expected here shortly to commence work on the pavement between the Grand Trunk and Horton street on Richmond, and the work of repairing the pavements will then be proceeded with.

Will Tear Up Walks.

Engineer Graydon was instructed to have the ward foremen pull up at once a number of board sidewalks which are declared to be dangerous and may result in suits for damages being lodged against the city. Some of the walks are as follows: West side of Wellington street, Simcoe to Grey; west side Wellington street, Ottawa way avenue to this bridge; north side of the Hamilton road, Hill street to Rectory.

It is also likely that the sidewalk on Adelaide street, west side, Bathurst to the Hamilton road, will also be taken up. It was on this walk that Mrs. Charles Depper, of the Hamilton road, tripped and fell, breaking her limb. At the board of works last night it was stated that she has already commenced an action against the city.

Want Drainage.

A deputation was presented from the vicinity of Eva street in East London to press a request for drainage for that section. It was stated by Chairman Matthews that the drainage from the township and especially from the asylum, flows onto the land and floods the cellars there. Consequently he thought the matter should be laid before Hon. Adam Beck, with a view to having the Ontario Government pay a part of the cost of providing drainage.

One of the residents knocked this scheme, however, by declaring that the land is wet at all times of the year through lack of drainage, it being low land.

It appears that in the past the city and country attempted to put down a drain there, but they disagreed as to the proportion of cost which should be paid. The city had offered to pay 50 per cent of the cost, but the country would not agree to pay the other 50 per cent.

Blamed County Engineer.

Councillors Glass and Kimball were present. Mr. Glass declared that the township would never consent to pay the 50 per cent asked.

Engineer Graydon blamed the county engineer for ordering work done some time ago which had resulted in the natural outlet for the water being done away with.

JOTTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

MOUNT BRIDGES.

Mount Bridges, April 25.—The death of Mrs. Mines occurred on Sunday night. She suffered a paralytic stroke on Friday evening, from which she never rallied. The funeral took place from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Reid conducted the service. The deceased, who was one of the oldest residents of this village, leaves six daughters and two sons—Miss Fanny, of Detroit; Mrs. Tunner, of British Columbia; Mrs. Jasper Lipsett, of this place; Mrs. Hully, of Orangeville; Mrs. Sommerville, of British Columbia, who has been spending the winter here, and Mrs. A. Bateman, of the Longwoods road. Mr. William Mines, of Chicago, and Mr. F. Mines, of Fort William, a large number of relatives and friends followed the remains to the Methodist Cemetery.

Mrs. Clapp and her two daughters returned to Harrison this week, after spending some time with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting.

Mrs. L. Fisher is visiting Mrs. (Dr.) Chapel, of London, paid a flying visit to Mr. and Mrs. Small this week.

The Agricultural Society has purchased a piece of land from Mr. D. Small for fair purposes.

Mr. White left here for London this week.

The entertainment in the Methodist Church on Wednesday night was quite a success, there being a good attendance and an excellent programme. Mr. Monteith, of Hamilton, violinist, and Mr.

Finally, after the matter had been discussed for nearly an hour, Messrs. Glass and Kimball stated that the township would be willing to pay the 50 per cent if the city would pay the other 50 per cent of the cost of the new sewer, but the township is to be allowed for half the cost of the tile now in the ground. In other words the city will allow the township 24 cents a foot for the 275 feet of tile mentioned.

Against Opening Street.

City Engineer Graydon reported against the opening of Eva street. He pointed out that the council has passed a resolution against the purchasing of lots, or parts of lots, to open up streets, and that as a consequence the city has no power unless the resolution is rescinded to do anything to open up the street.

Mr. Graydon stated that if the property-owners interested desire the street opened, they should buy the necessary land, as they were aware when they bought property in the district that Eva street was not opened through.

The grant made by the council for making and maintaining the streets already in existence is insufficient for the purpose," said Mr. Graydon. "Therefore, to spend a single dollar to open up new streets would be a reckless waste of money."

It was decided to have the city engineer make a report as to a certain piece of land which, it is said, does not pay any taxes, and which may be utilized as an outlet for Eva street.

A New Street.

Mr. J. W. McLaren asked the committee for permission to open up a 40-foot street off Beaconsfield avenue and running south parallel to the Wortley road. He is opening up a new survey there, and he offered to pay all the cost of grading the proposed street.

The committee refused to consider the proposition, because of the width of the proposed street. Nothing less than 50 feet would be considered.

Mr. McLaren then agreed to remodel his plans and present them to the committee at its next meeting.

Mr. McLaren also requested that something be done toward the cutting down of the hill on Paul street, West London. The matter will be considered.

Dogs in Park.

Parks Commissioner Pearce complained of dogs in the park, especially of the deprecations of a dog owned by a gentleman named Tanner.

Mr. Pearce stated that the canine is as big as a pony, that he steals bones and buries them in the flower-beds until they become toothsome, when he digs them up, and ruins the beds.

Secretary Bell was instructed to notify Mr. Tanner that he will be assessed for all damages caused by the dog.

On the recommendation of Mr. Pearce the city decided to call for tenders for the rewalling with cement of the lily pond in Victoria Park.

Queen's Park Matters.

The East London Bowling Club was given the use of a piece of ground, south of the poultry shed, on the fair grounds, so far as the committee has the power.

The construction of the cinder path in Queen's Park for the convenience of the G. T. R. car shops men was left to Parks Commissioner Pearce and Engineer Graydon. The G. T. R. is willing to supply free of charge eight carloads of cinders for the path.

The property-owners of Queen's avenue, south side, between Midland and William, asked that the sidewalk there be taken up and a new walk eight feet wide laid.

City Engineer Graydon reported that the city has no power to do the work unless the property-owners pay up in cash all installments due the city on the sidewalk, and that the people were not willing to do this. The matter was laid over for a week.

On the recommendation of Engineer Graydon it was decided to initiate a tile sewer on Lorne avenue, Quebec street to the easterly limit of Lorne avenue.

Miller and others, of Strathroy, were highly appreciated. The party they took while our first-class home talent contributed largely to the success of the very enjoyable affair.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS NOT THE ISSUE.The cause of Provincial Rights will be damaged and discredited if it is not kept clear of humbug and partisan clap-trap. The statement of the case for the federal authorities in the matter of the Petawawa camp grounds shows that Mr. Whitney's use of the words
"robbery," "outrage," and "confiscation," was not warranted by the facts, and that the issue of Provincial Rights has been too lightly raised.The militia department, having decided that an extensive area was necessary for the training of the defensive forces of the country in modern tactics, inspected various sites, the choice narrowing down to one in Quebec, and one in Ontario. The government of Quebec offered crown lands free for this patriotic purpose.The late government of Ontario, in the same spirit, offered a lease of its lands for 99 years at a nominal rental. The offer of this Province, which was formally made in a letter dated Oct. 12, 1904, was accepted by the Federal Government. The tract of land which it was proposed to lease from the Ontario Government comprised 55,000 acres.
The Dominion Government proceeded to buy 20,000 acres of contiguous land, making about 75,000 acres in all, and established the camp ground. In December, 1905, when the militia department applied for the formal transfer of the promised land, the Whitney Government repudiated the agreement of the preceding government, and demanded the camp ground at Petawawa.The question of timber licenses was not raised until April, 1906. The Federal Government had no intention of interfering with the rights of timber licensees. As Mr. Fielding stated in the House, it was not necessary for the purposes for which the land was required that the licensees should be disturbed. When difficulties were suggested, the federal authorities entered into negotiations with the licensees.
One lumber company alone demanded
$38,000 for its privileges. The Dominion Government considered the sum exorbitant, and decided to drop negotiations with the timber licensees and resort to expropriation proceedings.
Mr. Fielding, speaking in the House of Commons, said that if the Government of Ontario thought they had not received fair treatment the federal Government were willing that the Attorney-General of Ontario and the Minister of Justice should decide upon a method of determining the compensation. If the right to compensation existed.The federal authorities have the better of the argument, upon the facts laid before the public. Relying on the good faith of the Ontario Government, they went ahead with a great national undertaking at considerable expense.
The present Ontario Government should have respected the engagement of the preceding one, when assured that the rights of individuals would be protected. The cry that provincial rights have been invaded, under such circumstances, will find no serious response in this Province.

KING EDWARD'S PEACE TOUR.

As was to be expected, the visit of King Edward to Spain and Italy, and his majesty's meetings with the rulers of those nations have been the cause of numerous sensational rumors on the continent, the German press particularly giving voice to the wildest speculation. One rumor has it that an Anglo-Spanish agreement has been arranged in pursuance of which all Spanish ports are to be placed in war time at the disposal of Great Britain, while the latter, on her part, is to give Spain diplomatic support in matters of foreign policy, and financial support in the form of loans. Another story—German, of course—detects a purpose on King Edward's part to disturb the European equilibrium, meaning, evidently an attempt to detach Italy from the triple alliance, thus relegating Germany to partnership with Austria alone. It should be mentioned, however, that the German foreign office took the first opportunity to give out a statement to the effect that this rumor does not in the least reflect official opinion.So far as Spain is concerned, that country has never, until recently, shown any particular friendliness for Great Britain, although she owes to a British general and British soldiers her delivery from the French invader century ago. Part of the money due Great Britain for advances made dur-ing Spain's war for independence remains unpaid to this day. But the marriage of the Spanish King to an English princess has naturally had the effect of drawing both peoples together. King Edward's visit to Spain may therefore be considered as a family matter—particularly in view of the expected birth of an heir to the Spanish throne—than as possessing political significance. With Italy, Britain's relations have long been of the most friendly character, and it is quite possible that during the meeting between King Edward and King Victor Emmanuel at Gaeta, international questions were discussed, but it seems idle for continental newspapers to speculate as to the nature or results of these discussions.King Edward, ever since his succesion to the British throne, has shown himself to be a man of peace. He has done more during his brief reign to promote and maintain peace than any other living diplomatist he king or minister. Even with Germany, Britain's relations have distinctly improved during the past two years, despite bellicose editorial mutterings. It may therefore be taken for granted that whatever agreements, if any, may have been effected during King Edward's present tour will have chiefly in view the furtherance of peace.

CARE OF THE INSANE.

An important departure in connection with the treatment of the insane is at present under the consideration of the Provincial Government.The system at present under contemplation is based upon that in vogue at the Munich psychiatric clinic—a hospital for mental diseases, which has a remarkable record of cures. It serves the purpose of a receiving station or sieve for all cases of insanity appearing in the community. The first duty of the authorities of this institution is to determine whether or not the patient can be cured. Should the case be hopelessly chronic, it is sent to an asylum similar to those in Ontario. If, however, the case yields the slightest hope of responding to treatment, everything possible is done to effect a cure. And most gratifying indeed have been the results of treatment at the Bavarian institution, no less than 70 per cent of the 2,000 patients received in the first year having been restored to reason.
The remaining 30 per cent, having been found to be chronic or incurable were sent to asylums. So complete are the facilities and staff that each patient receives more individual attention than even in a large general hospital. The stay of a patient rarely exceeds a month. There need be no fear that a hospital such as that described would, if established in this Province, interfere with or hamper our present system. The best medical authorities of the present day unhesitatingly declare that the early treatment of mental disease must under no circumstances be carried on in an asylum where there is an indiscriminate mingling of acute and chronic cases.
The function of the psychiatric clinic is to separate them, leaving to the asylums the work of caring for none but the chronic cases.Such an institution would, it is hoped, in a short time greatly relieve the congestion of our overcrowded asylums, save the Government the necessity of adding to present buildings or erecting new ones, and thereby effect a saving to the Province of a no inconsiderable sum. But, above all, it would be the means of saving to families and to society many valuable lives. The experiment is well worth trying.

A FLAG.

[St. Edward J. Reed.]

A flag! Ah, yes, a flag.
Perchance a faded rag upon a stick,
Yet what tumultuous memories gather thick,
And at the heart-strings drag.At view of it! How Fame
At its unfurling grasps her trump and shakes
The drowsy soul to daring life and makes
A wonder of a name!How duty at the sight
Transforms the city waster, country
clobs,
To eager heroes, rivals of the gods,
And bids them fight the fight!How valor at the sign Lights even in the slothful breast a fire
That withers every idle, vain desire,
And makes man half divine!How honor neath its folds Stands forth, extending palm and leaf and crown
To mortals made immortal in renown,
And the wide world beholds!

A HOPEFUL RECORD.

[Ottawa Journal.]

Mr. W. P. Archibald, Dominion parole officer, says that he has followed very closely the lives of the youths released from the penitentiaries of the Dominion during the past three years, and he has not found over two in a hundred who were under the age of 20 so astray under the restraint of a parole. This is the strongest kind of argument for the enactment of the contemplated legislation for the establishment of juvenile criminal courts.

THE BEST WAY.

[Toronto Star.]

On the whole, however, the colonial conference seems to be of the opinion that the best way to knit the empire together is for each of the daughters to tend to her own knitting.

HELPING THE BLIND.

[Ottawa Citizen.]

Principal Gardiner, of the Brantford Asylum for the Blind, states that of the 800 pupils who have passed through that institution since it was opened, less than 2 per cent were unable to earn their living and eventually went to the poorhouse. Thisis a good showing for the institution, because few occupations are open to the blind, and unless they receive a useful training they are helpless and a charge upon their relatives or the public.

GOOD ENOUGH NOW.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

From the very beginning of the movement, years ago, the Spectator has been opposed to the idea of imperial legislation by any body having colonial representatives. Of necessity the colonists would be in the minority in any such body, and the information which the colonial representatives could give is amply provided for in the scheme adopted.

VANDAL AT SHELLEY'S GRAVE.

[British Weekly.]

A correspondent who visited the Protestant cemetery at Rome the other day reports an act of silly vandalism at Shelley's grave. "As we wandered about," says the correspondent, "we saw for about half an hour a young man sitting on Shelley's grave, carefully occupied in cutting the marble with a sharp instrument.
"We thought he was restoring the lettering, but, coming to his side, we found he had cut his own name (which I will not give), 'New Zealand, April, 1907. I love thee,' close to the inscription on the flat white marble surface. He had then soaked with ink his own work, leaving the disgraceful fruits of his vandalism for all who visit this interesting place." How any professing admirer of Shelley could be guilty of such conduct passes belief.

A WISE PRECAUTION.

[Toronto Star.]

Before deciding just what caused these mysterious fires at McGill, it would be well to inquire whether Professor Leacock left any of his burning thoughts lying around loose.

MULISHNESS.

[Washington Star.]

"Don't pride yourself too much on your own opinions," said Uncle Rhon. "A mulish generally has his own way, but it don't make him popular."

HARD ON SECESSION.

[Oshawa Vindicator.]

This cold, backward spring must be hard on the secession movement in New Ontario.

ONE THING LACKING.

[Milwaukee Sentinel.]

"If it wasn't for one thing Tompkins would be the most successful liar I ever met."
"And that?"
"No one ever believes his lies."

A VERY GOOD FUEL.

THE OLD APPLE WOMAN.

[F. A. Daly, in the Catholic Standard.]

Wild her candies an' cakes an' wan thing an' another.
But the best thing she brings to commin'
her to you
Is the smile in her eyes that no throuble can smother.An' the wit that's at home on the tip of her tongue
Has a freshness unknown to her candy an' cake.Though her wares had been stale since old Nora was young,
There is little complaint you'd be carin'
to make.Well, I mind, on a day, I complained of a worm
That I found in an apple, near bitten in two."But suppose ye had bit it, an' where'd the harm?
For, shure, this isn't Friday," said Nora McHugh.O' Nora McHugh, you've the blarneyin' twist in you,
Where is the anger could dreme o' resistin'
you?Faix, we'll be spilin' you,
Blind to the guile of you,
While there's a smile in you,
Nora McHugh.It was Mistress De Vere, that's so proud of her name, Fell to boastin' wan day of her kin in the peerage.Though there's some o' thim same, years ago when they came To this glorious land, was content wid
the storage.An' she bragged of her ancestry, Norman an' Dane,
An' the like furrin ancients that's thought to be well."Now, I hope," said old Nora, "ye'll not think me vain,
For it's little I care fur ancestry, messy."But wid all o' your pedigree, ma'am, I believe
'Tis messel can go back a bit further than you.Fur in me you perceive a descendant of Eve,
The first apple woman," said Nora Mc-Hugh.O' Nora McHugh, shure owdacious trivity!
How can you dare to be jokin' the quality?Faix, we'll be spilin' you,
Blind to the guile of you,
While there's a smile in you,
Nora McHugh.

BOTH IN LONDON.

[Chicago Tribune.]

The Londoners have cheered Boths whenever he has appeared in public. They are always ready to applaud a brave soldier, even when they fought against him. They cheered Boths, but they mobbed Gen. Haynau, the woman fighter.A good deal of credit naturally attaches to the individual in this case. The recognition of the honorable and the willingness to adapt oneself to the situation is praiseworthy. Oftentimes the true greatness of a man is shown by the way in which he accepts results and changes his own life to them. A disoriented leader of a lost cause may make himself a constant source of irritation to the authorities. When he takes the opposite attitude and works for success in a changed condition recognition of his abilities is natural.But, after all, the greatest credit for the transformation belongs to the British Government. It has placed the management of Transvaal affairs in the hands of the men who were fighting opponents only a few years ago. It believed they would not be undeserving of the confidence reposed in them.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

Has Guided Thousands to Health. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Fred Seydel.

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only.

Many thousands of cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as she has been.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, of 412 North 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Over a year ago I wrote you a letter asking advice, as I had female ills and could not carry a child to maturity. I received your kind letter of instructions and followed your advice. I am not only a well woman in consequence, but have a beautiful baby girl. I wish every suffering woman in the land would write you for advice, as you have done so much for me."

Just as surely as Mrs. Seydel was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills. If you are sick, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helpful.

Out of the Darkness

"Oh, Austin, I could not help it; she would do it," she exclaimed. She was deserting her friend very treacherously, but the vicar would not let her finish.

"Answer for yourself, Mary; am I right in supposing that you drew this money from Miss Maturin?" But Mary would not answer calmly.

"I couldn't help it, Austin; I could not, indeed; she would make me tell her what was troubling me. I think she noticed how worried you looked, dear, and then there was nothing for it but that she would pay the whole bill. I did not like taking it at all; Austin; but, indeed, I could not refuse her."

"That is because you are so soft-hearted, Mary. It never occurred to you, I suppose, that you might tell your husband before you took upon yourself to pay his bills?"

"Yes, it did," returned Mary, who was nearly broken-hearted at this unexpecting reproach; she really believed that Austin was looking at her for her want of confidence. "I wanted to tell you directly, dear, but she was so afraid you would refuse to take it."

Now all this was very dreadful to Rotha, and this time she looked at the vicar earnestly that the vicar interpreted her thoughts at once.

"No; don't go, Miss Maturin. I have something to say to you both."

"If you will only hear me first," pleaded Mary.

"But I will not; I mean to punish you for your silence. Who ever would have believed you could have been such a little traitor!" But there was a sorrowful vein running through the vicar's jest that robbed the words of their sweetness. Rotha was almost sure now that she had pained him; tears sprang to her eyes at the mere thought.

"I will not ask you again, as I did just now, for whom you are putting in all those delicate stitches," he said, laying his hand again on her work. "It may be that I am not so blind as I appear. Shall I tell you a few things that have come under my notice?"

"No, no; please do not," she pleaded, lifting her eyes to him for the first time, but his look soon sent her to her work again. She knew now why naughty children never could stand the vicar's eyes.

"Last Sunday the boys showed me their new boots, and Laurie, who was very communicative, told me that he and his brother had gray-flannel shirts, the same as Bob Travers's; that we admired so, Mary. There was a hint of a new suit for Art."

Mary gave a little gasp of surprise, but Rotha worked on harder than ever; her cheeks were flaming.

"But that is not all. The other evening, in the twilight, I took out my old coat for Mary to repair—she is a neat hand at binding—but when I got to the light I found that my old coat was transformed into a new one. I was slightly surprised, I confess, but I hung it up again, feeling that some benevolent fairy had been at work—the same fairy, I suppose, who had put the wadded dressing-gown across my arm-chair, and who, I found, had visited Art with big brown parcels containing toys, sweetmeats, and other heterogeneous articles dear to childhood."

Art is not one to keep a secret, mind you; he does not take after his mother in that, darling a look at poor Mary. Oh, if only Rotha could hold up her head! "And then Art is such a listener. I had no idea before that there was so much truth in the proverb, that little pitchers have great ears; but he's a tremendous fellow at listening. Sometimes he comes to me and tells me his dreams; though, by the way, he will have it that they are true."

He had a wonderful dream the other night of a grand new carpet, like the softest of moss, which he declared was for mamma's room, and curtains with real flowers running over them; but that was nothing to the funny dream when he saw Uncle Gar and mamma and Miss Maturin all covered with white wash, with their arms full of cobwebs and bottles. And the worst of it all, the rogue evidently believed it to be true."

"I call Miss Maturin 'Santa Claus,' father," he said once, "because she rains sugar-plums on my pillow. Last night I woke up and found a big drum—and I was in the matter, Mary?"

"What is the matter, Mary?" For Mary, that mildest and softest of criminals, had crept up to his side quite unabashed.

"Oh, Austin! how could you—how could you?" was all she said. Then she veiled took down the little hand from his shoulder and drew her toward him.

"Say, Mary, I should rather say, how could you?" he demanded, still gravely.

Then Rotha, whose cheeks had hung out every possible sign of distress over the vicar's speech, could bear it no longer.

"Oh, Mr. Ord, I cannot believe that you are really angry with me!" she exclaimed; "but if you would listen to me a moment." And as she spoke she came a little nearer to him and looked appealingly in his face.

"Well," he said, turning toward her. "It seems I must put both of you on your defense. Mary's silence has pleaded guilty, am I to say the same of you?"

"Yes, if you like," she answered, gently. "I shall not deny your charges. I suppose Art's dreams were all true."

"Well," he reiterated for the second time, and then again that appealing look came into her eyes; she looked like a child scarcely penitent, yet longing to be forgiven.

"If I have offended you," she began again, and then paused—"If I have offended you, I am very sorry. But no, I will not believe that I have; it was all so beautiful, and we were so happy, that everything cannot be spoiled for us like that."

"No, indeed," ejaculated Mary. She began to understand dimly the workings of her husband's mind; but Rotha again interrupted her.

"Mr. Ord, supposing you had a sister," and then she stopped—"a little sister, and she had all the good things of this world given to her, and you were left out in the cold; and supposing—hesitating again—"all these good things had come to her by a dreadful mistake, which, when she thought of it—which she did continually—always made her feel very unhappy; and here for a moment Rotha's voice grew troubled.

"Well, my child," said the vicar encouragingly.

And she went on. "And suppose, in her unhappiness—the little sister's, I mean—God put a thought into her heart, which took away all her pain, and made her feel quite warm and comforted, and supposing, coming a little nearer, and touching him softly on the arm, 'she—this little sister, I mean—came to me.'"

"Come to me!" repeated the vicar, as she hesitated again.

"Yes, and, speaking in her reverence and love, told you of this beautiful thought that grew in her heart day by day, and prayed you not to despise her little gifts, because they made her so very, very happy; and supposing that the little sister—coming still closer, and clasping her hands together—"begged you, out of your great tender heart, never to hurt her again as you have hurt her just now, but, if she has made a mistake, put it all down to her ignorance; but be sure that she will never offend so again."

"God bless the little sister!" finished the vicar solemnly. "Ay, and she shall be blessed; child, I will not have you cry like that. It is you who have been breaking my heart all this time with your love and gifts."

He talked to them presently when Rotha was a little calmer, and drawing his wife very tenderly to his side, he told them both the bitter battle he had fought with his pride, and how his heart had been very soft toward them all the time Mary had believed he had been reproaching her with want of confidence.

"My own Mary, do you think I have not blessed the little sister over and over again for making your dear face grow so much brighter day by day?"

"You see your name will stick to you, Rotha," he said, presently, calling her

Gluten and Cellulose

both enter largely into the composition of a grain of wheat. The object of the scientific miller is to retain as much of the gluten as possible, whilst extracting all the cellulose from the flour.

Gluten is the real strength giver and is contained in the inner "skin" of each grain of wheat. Cellulose is a hard and almost pure white fibre surrounding the gluten and starch cells. It is absolutely indigestible, but its presence in flour cannot be detected except by special chemical tests.

In the milling of "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR, the flour passes through special purifying processes which, although they remove all the cellulose and waste matter, retain all the gluten and nutriment unharmed. Consequently, this brand is more nutritive and more economical than ordinary flours.

for the first time by her Christian name. "Whatever you may be to Mary, to me you will always be 'the little sister.' I hope that you like your new title."

"My 'little sister' brought gifts," returned Rotha, meaningly, but blushing a little over her words.

"And so may this little sister, but not too often; she may carry them now and then to her great big brother out in the cold, though it is to be, and he cold as she supposes it to be," and he looked fondly at the dear woman whose love had shed such sunshine over his life. "There are others far more cold and dreary than we are, Mary."

"Ah! true, there is poor Belle," said the happier sister, echoed Rotha, and the vicar added rather sadly:

"Yes, and poor Robert."

And after that Rotha went home. These were golden days with Rotha. "The little sister," as the vicar often called her, was never for many hours absent from the vicarage; she and Mary were still hard at their work, and there seemed at present no end to their labor. Garton or the vicar would come and read to them sometimes, but Belle persevered in her unbecoming habits.

"I do wish you would come and sit with us downstairs," Rotha said one day when she and Belle were together for a minute. "It feels almost as though I were separating you from your sister"—which was partly true, as her constant presence had afforded Belle an excuse for her tactfulness.

"Why should I come?" Belle had answered. "I don't think that either you or Mary can want me." She was in a sick sullen humor this afternoon; but Rotha, who saw she was suffering, was very patient to her.

The Two Theatrical Syndicates Said To Be About to Become One.

Cincinnati, April 25.—The rumors of a merger of the Klaw & Erlanger and the Shubert theatrical syndicates, were confirmed tonight by George Cox, the Cincinnati politician, who holds about $300,000 worth of stock in the Shubert properties.

This will mean the end of a bitter war which has been waged by the Shuberts and their allies, including David Belasco, Harrison Gray Fiske and others, against the syndicate, of which Klaw & Erlanger are the administrative head, and which includes Charles Frohman, Al Hayman and Nixon & Zimmerman.

Up to a few years ago the Klaw & Erlanger syndicate, which had built up an enormous circuit of first-class theaters, had a complete monopoly of this branch of the amusement business. It was next to impossible for a producing manager to play his attractions throughout the country unless he booked them through the syndicate booking agency, the keystone of the combination, for nearly all theaters were under contract to accept only the syndicate attractions. So bitter has been the war that no one ever expected that a combination would be possible. It is not known whether the agreement will include all of the Shubert allies. The theaters in New York controlled by the Shuberts are the Casino, Hippodrome, Princess, Herald Square, Lyric, Majestic and others. The combination will mean, of course, that Klaw & Erlanger will have a number of extra theaters in their hands. They have provided for this in that they have recently made arrangements to enter the vaudeville field.

DRINK COSTS MIND

Inventor of Hammond Typewriter Sent to Asylum.

New York, April 25.—James Barrett Hammond, inventor of the Hammond typewriter and president and practical owner of the Hammond Typewriter Company, was committed to Bellevue today for five days for examination as to his sanity. T. F. Hammond, his brother, who is in the cash register business and lives at New Rochelle, declared that he was a habitually drunkard and insane, a mental and physical wreck from the effects of drugs and alcoholic stimulants used to excess for the last year.

James B. Hammond is a man of 65 years. When he was driven up to the west side court in a coach this afternoon his condition was so bad it was impossible to bring him up into the court room. Magistrate Walsh, with his stenographer, therefore, held court on the curb in front of the court house, while old Mr. Hammond lay back in his carriage seat with a vacant stare in his eyes.

LOVERS AT 100

Separated for Years, Will Begin Life Afloat Over at the Altar.

St. Louis, April 25.—Two sweethearts whose love remains ardent and youthful, though youth has left them both far behind, will be married on August 25, which will be the one hundredth birthday of the bride. Her lover was 101 years old April 1.

When both were young, John B. Bundren and Rose McGuire were sweethearts in Tennessee. Though separated, they were true to the romance of their early days, and neither has known any other love through a long life. Relative to John B. Bundren, who after a stay of several years in St. Louis left recently for his home, announced the approaching marriage, which will take place on the Bundren estate, near Tatesville, Tenn. Bundren, who is of his 101 years, is active and vigorous, and as eager as a lover in the twenties, left for Tennessee the day he won Miss McGuire's consent to the marriage, to make ready for the coming of the bride, who lives in England.

PROMISE AMAZING TALE

Big Boston Financier and Politician About To Be Arrested.

New York, April 25.—The Herald today says the identity of the man who engineered the raid on the securities of the Trust Company of America, for which two men, W. O. Clark, and Oliver M. Dennis, a broker, are under arrest, has been disclosed and that his arrest is expected shortly. He is stated to be a Boston man, well known in financial and political circles. A statement from Douglas is looked for soon, and the Herald says he will furnish the evidence on which the Boston man will be arrested. When the man is arrested, it is declared there will be told the most amazing story that the financial district has heard in years.

BRITISH FLEET AT JAMESTOWN

Arrives to Take Part in the Opening Ceremonies of the Exposition.

Norfolk, Va., April 25.—The day before the opening of the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition on Hampton Roads finds the management of the big enterprise straining every energy to put the grounds and buildings in presentable shape for the inaugural ceremonies.

Several thousand laborers were engaged today in clearing the streets which are to be traversed tomorrow by the President and his party and the military organizations that will participate in the land parade.

Notwithstanding the rush of work being carried forward today the exposition will be far from complete. Temporary railroad tracks, debris of all sorts and unfinished sidewalks are the rule throughout the grounds, while the inclosure of scaffolding. Many of the buildings will not be open tomorrow, the management having determined that progress can only be made by excluding the public during the time the workmen are still engaged in their labors.

The feature of the opening day will be the naval pageant in Hampton Roads. President Roosevelt, on board the yacht Mayflower, will review the ships of the nations now at anchor, and the spectacle will be witnessed by thousands of persons from the shores. Pleasure craft and excursion steamers by the score will frame the anchorage grounds of the fleet and the water show is expected to surpass anything ever seen in this country.

The management expects to have the exposition completed by May 15. The British and Austrian squadrons arrived in Hampton Roads today and joined the American, German and Argentine representatives, which had already arrived. Heavy salutes were exchanged and the British and Austrian ships took up the anchorage in the roads which had been assigned them.

PRINCE EITEL BUMPED

Kaiser's Second Son Gets Tumble From Horse at Potsdam.

Berlin, April 25.—Prince Eitel Frederick, Emperor William's second son, fell from his horse during a cavalry drill yesterday evening on the Doberitz grounds, near Potsdam. Alarming reports were spread here this morning regarding his condition. It was alleged that the prince was suffering from concussion of the brain, and that he had also been kicked in the face by his horse. Later, however, a telephone message from Potsdam said that the first reports of the accident were exaggerated and that there was no cause to fear serious results.

Advertiser Correspondence

The Water Problem.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I have time and time again called the attention of the water commissioners to the fact that they can get practically an unlimited supply of pure spring water. Now, Dr. John D. Wilson, whom no better authority need be, states that this water is chemically pure, and he knows whereof he speaks, as he has for some years medical health offices for West London. He also knows that there is an abundance of water there. I know from 26 years' practical experience on the spot that there is more pure water there than the city would need for 50 years to come. I am prepared to wager $1,000 that 3,000,000 gallons daily can be obtained, at a trifling cost, compared with other schemes, and that the supply can be easily increased to 10,000,000, 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 gallons as needed by the city's growth. Dr. Wilson says, excavate a basin of necessary size to collect the water. So I have said before. As this underground current of spring water is only about fifteen to twenty feet below the surface, in gravel strata, a lake or pond could be made to hold a supply of 50,000,000 gallons, always pure, because running water. No use to bore an 8-inch hole; let Engineer Moore dig a well, say, ten feet in diameter. That would soon test the quantity at a trifling cost.

Mr. Bartram's Proposal.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Permit me to add a few observations on the water question. It is the duty of the commissioners to procure a sufficient supply of good water for household purposes and for all other purposes. If the mode of doing so is not sanctioned by the ratepayers when they appear for debentures they should resign and let someone else take up the job. The average citizen has not the time or inclination to form a reliable opinion as to the means, and is only interested in the end of being supplied with a sufficient supply of spring water for all purposes for which cold water is required.

People who require water for heating, baths, or manufacturing purposes, should store rainwater in their own interest.

A sufficient supply of spring water can be obtained from several, not one or two artesian or drive wells within the city limits, and on the Springbank property along the bank of the river, apart from the springs now used. It is not necessary to drive wells 100 feet or more, because then, if water is obtained, it is likely to be mineral water of some kind. All spring water is rainfall, draining into some depression, probably more filthy than the Thames, because it forms in a marsh, and there vegetable matter and dung are washed into it, and have no chance of being purified, as in the case of a running stream.

This dirty water filters naturally through some 25 feet more or less of earth, until it reaches a fissure or quicksand, when it becomes an underground rivulet of spring water. When water is filtered through 100 feet or more it is impregnated with the soil through which it passes, and is not potable—e. g., sulphur water. A drive well of about 20 feet deep within 100 feet more or less of the bank would supply spring water, naturally filtered, and would never fail. Of course, one well would not supply the city, but I venture to say that such a well would supply water for any four blocks in the city.

Dr. John D. Wilson's solution of the question is sound as to the supply from that source, but I venture to think that an open receiving pond or reservoir is liable to vitiate the water. I am therefore not in favor of any reservoir other than the one at Springbank, which, with the ponds there, should be covered.

As water can be pumped directly into the mains, it appears to me to be the clear duty of the water commissioners to provide out of the current revenue for adding wells from time to time without incurring any expenditure requiring the issue of debentures to increase the city debt.

I drank excellent spring water at Port Stanley from a pump on the lake shore, situated about 30 feet from the water. I have drunk spring water from the small pumps on the grounds at Springbank, unconnected with the springs which supply the city.

I suggest the flats in West London, on which there are no houses, lying west of Douglas's canal, as a suitable place to drive a well, which will give an inexhaustible supply of spring water, or, if desirable to be nearer the mains, the Tecumseh Park grounds would furnish a similar supply. The reservoir should be kept full for fire purposes from the Springbank supply. Meters should be gradually introduced to prevent waste.

SCARED BY "HONK, HONK"

Young Lady Goes into Hysterics From Noise Made by Boys.

Last night about 8:30 as a young lady was crossing Richmond street, near the corner of Hymen, she was startled by hearing the harsh "Honk! Honk!" of what she took to be an automobile. Turning quickly, she saw a queer-looking machine without lights, approaching her at a high rate of speed, whereupon she became excited, and, losing her head completely, stopped directly in the path of the vehicle. "Honk! Honk!" warned the chauffeur, "Honk! Honk!" And the lady gave a little scream, ran across the street, and fainted, just as another passer-by seized her and prevented her from falling.

In a few moments the young lady regained consciousness, and was much mortified to learn that the machine which had so frightened her was merely a couple of youngsters on roller skates being towed by two boys on bicycles. The toise of the skates on the pavement, and the chorus of "Honk-

NEW PUBLIC OWNERSHIP THEORY

One of the Live Issues of the Day Taking on a New Phase.

The multiplicity of investigations being held and commissions appointed to look into telephone, railway, license board matters, railway affairs and power transmission and control, is evidence that the people are wide awake to public interests. The one thing about which no marked excitement has been experienced in Canada, but is attracting very earnest attention in many other countries, is the question of the public health. In the United States, England, and European countries, this question occupies the same position in the public mind that the public ownership question does in Canada. The question arises, "Why is Canada not more alive to the importance of public health?" One of the most wide-awake concerns of the day upon matters of public health is the Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, who are truly accomplishing a great work in the interests of this vital question. Their remarkable remedy, Psychine, one of the most scientific and valuable remedies ever placed on the market as a disease and germ destroyer, is certainly making for itself a great record, if we may judge by the number of people who are giving the most emphatic and honest testimony of what this remedy is doing, not only in breaking up stubborn coughs, and colds, but in curing bronchitis, catarrh, la grippe, pneumonia, chills, night sweats, and lung trouble as for conditions and consumption. Its mission is to overcome diseases germs in the blood, and build up a strong, vigorous body that will be disease-resisting and proof against the attacks of the bacilli that everywhere float in the air.

"Blue Devils"

GET RID OF INDIGESTION AND THINGS WILL LOOK BRIGHT AND JOYOUS.

Even in the present era of prosperity and good times everything appears black to those people who are suffering wretchedly from some form of indigestion. Where digestion is quick, complete and easy there is a joyous and hopeful outlook, but indigestion causes depression.

The want of a safe, effective cure for sick headache, indigestion and stomach troubles, was always felt until the prescription known as Mi-o-na stomach tablets was put up in popular form and proved its invariable success in all many forms of indigestion. After a few days' use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets the headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, distress after eating—all these symptoms of a weak stomach—will disappear and perfect digestion and a good skin will show that the vital machinery is once more running smoothly.

Mi-o-na is to be taken before each meal and it will stimulate the secretory and digestive juices and strengthen the whole of the digestive system so that the unpleasant full feeling will be absent and indigestion prevented. Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold only in a neat metal box convenient for the vest pocket and cost 50 cents. W. T. Strong has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na stomach tablets that he gives a guarantee with every box that the money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction.

SATURDAYS Cars leave

Horton Street Station hourly from 6:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The balance of the week every two hours, from 6:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

A runner named Mustill, entered in last night's three-mile open race at the Jubilee Rink, evidently thought he was in a steeplechase contest. At all events he tried to make the other runners do the hurdle act by knocking over the chairs which were placed at the turns, thereby forcing the other competitors to jump or run around them. The party in question toppled over four chairs and was nearing the fifth one when Manager Trafford put him out of the running, amid a round of applause from the big crowd present.

Here is the cruellest blow of all: In view of the way the Toronto people have gone mad over Tom Longboat's victory in the Boston Marathon, it would be interesting to know what would have happened had a Toronto white man won the Marathon at Greece?—Hamilton Times.

A local lacrosse player remarked last night that the game would go in London if it only received enough support from the newspapers. For two whole weeks a notice of a lacrosse meeting was published in both local papers, and when the affair came off there were not enough enthusiasts lined up to start a young poker game.

Poor old Barracks! They got it in the solar plexus again yesterday. Kick up, sojers, kick up.

Tomorrow afternoon the Soccer League leaders—the McClarys and Y. M. C. A. teams—meet at Carling's Heights. The bout will doubtless prove highly interesting, as both teams are very anxious to win the trophy. Much depends on the result of the coming game. A good crowd is expected.

Owing to the cold weather the Y. M. C. A. lacrosse players will not turn out for practice tonight.

Hamilton, the home of Marathon winners and Rugby stars, is to have no baseball the coming season, according to all accounts. The City League has been disbanded, and Toronto won't consider an inter-city proposition. Now the "bluff dwellers" are talking big league ball.

But five Canadian horses have been entered for the Buffalo Grand Circuit meeting next August. H. H. James, of Hamilton, will have three in the events, Robert Lee, 2:06 1/4, Belgrade and Quinell—while the other entries are furnished by Johnston brothers, of this city, who enter Geary, 2:09 1/4, and Billy Cole.

THREE-MILE OPEN RACE AT JUBILEE

Billy Amos Gave Competitors Good Handicap, But Beat Them All Out.

Last night's three-mile open running race at the Jubilee Rink was one of the best events of its kind pulled off in a long time. While "Billy" Amos won out without much difficulty, the second and third positions were very keenly contested.

Amos gave the other boys, seven in number, a lap and a half of a handicap, and regained the distance after a mile and a half of going.

At the start-off "Crow" Carrothers, the speedy Horton runner, set the pace, and a good one it was, too. Then E. Mustill took the lead, and began to tip over the chairs at the turns. Of course, it is possible that the acts were accidental, but to the spectators they looked deliberate, and Mustill was roundly routed. Manager Trafford took him out of the race amid rounds of applause.

After two miles were reeled off, the runners began to drop out, one by one, and at the wind-up only four were left, the order of finishing being: Amos 1, Jones 2, Carrothers 3, Short 4.

The entries were: A. Kingsmill, J. McKellar, E. Mustill, C. Jones, A. Carrothers, W. Amos, F. Short, and E. Gandier.

FAILED TO WIN ON FAVORITE

Jack Martin Rides First Race Since Reinstatement—Redeems Himself.

New York, April 25.—Jockey Jack Martin had his first mount since his reinstatement at Aqueduct today. He was on Grapple, his employer, Frank Farrell's horse, in the Flushing stakes, at a mile, and although Grapple was made a prohibitive odds-on favorite at 1 to 6, Martin failed to land him a winner. Campaigner won by a head from Grapple. Martin was given a rousing cheer as he passed the grandstand. Martin redeemed himself in the fifth race, however, when he landed Jacquelin, at 6 to 1, an easy winner by two lengths.

Tomorrow the racing shifts to the Jamaica track, with the Excelsior handicap as the feature.

ALTROCK ONE OF HARDEST TO BEAT

Cubs' Twirler Gives Baserunners No Chance Whatever to Steal on Him.

"Nick Altrock is one of the hardest pitchers in the world to beat, because he doesn't give baserunners a chance to steal on him," says Frank Selee, the former manager of the Chicago Cubs. Mr. Selee, who has always been one of the closest observers in baseball and one of the most interesting talkers on the national game, pointed out in conclusive manner the big advantage Altrock has over an opposing team.

"In the first place," says the veteran manager, "Altrock has almost perfect control. That means you have got to hit the ball to get to first. Secondly, you can't steal on him, because he watches first like a hawk and has a wonderful snap throw to the base which does not permit a runner to get more than two steps away from the base without great danger of getting caught."

"There are several pitchers in the game who have more speed and better curves, but Nick makes up for his lack of speed and curves by his great fielding, his accurate control and his attention to men on the bases. It has been the same for years. Good left-handers who kept the runners close to first were always winners."

"Against that habit of pitching a team is at a horrible disadvantage. You can't steal bases and the hit-and-run play is easily broken up. When the runners are kept hugging first force plays at second base occur with greater frequency and the infielders are given more time to pull off double plays."

"When a team can't steal bases it isn't going to win very often, and there are mighty few runners who can pull off second on Altrock. Doc White, of the Sox, is almost as good in watching the bases, although his throw to first is not as good as Nick's. Where White shines is in his deceptive delivery. He delivers the ball to the bat very often in such a puzzling manner that the runner on first is fooled into going back to that base, expecting a throw there from the pitcher."

"Not enough pitchers cultivate that short throw to first. There are several good left-handers who watch first as closely as Altrock, but they don't catch the runners off there, because it takes them too long to throw the ball. If they would shorten up their throw baserunners wouldn't dare take any bigger lead off them than they do off Altrock."

GANS WILL AGREE TO NELSON'S DEMANDS

Chicago, April 25.—Joe Gans is about to give in to the demands of Battling Nelson and meet him at 133 pounds ringside with fighting toes on.

Tex Rickard this morning says that he has offered a $40,000 purse for a battle between Gans and Nelson in Ely, Nev., July 4, or Sept. 2, and that he has posted $20,000 with the First National Bank, of Ely.

A telegram sent by Gans in reply to Rickard's proposal states that he is willing to give in to Nelson on the weight question, but that the purse must be split 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser; also that before he decides definitely, he would like to hear what the public opinion on the matter is. Nelson, who is at his home in Hegewisch, today stated that should Gans decide that he will sign at 133 pounds ringside with fighting toes he will sign at once.

Unless public sentiment turns Gans from his present intentions, it is certain he will sign before May 1.

Members of the London Hunt and Country Club are notified that the first monthly golf handicap will be played on Saturday. The greens are in excellent shape, and some great sport is anticipated. The club has procured a professional coach, winner of the Tait medal at St. Andrews in 1903, to give instructions, and it is felt that much improvement will soon be seen in the playing of the members.

John Carling,
Adam Hope was the first president, and J. C. Macklin was the first secretary.

It was not until 1866 that incorporation was secured, the bill being assented to on the 15th of August of that year.

Board Incorporated.

The board of this act states that: "Whereas the Honorable Elijah Leonard, the Honorable John Carling, Walter Simson, Charles Hunt, C. P. Smith, Frederick Rowland, Charles J. Hope, Frank Smith, W. C. Menzies, Andrew Cleghorn, E. W. Hyman, Robert Reid, Lewis Leonard, David Farrar, Henry Strathey, Thomas Churcher, and others hereinafter named, resident in the city of London, have, by their petition to the Legislature represented that they have associated themselves together for some time past, for the purpose of promoting such measures as they have deemed important, towards developing the general trade and commerce of this Province, and the city of London in particular, and have further represented that the said association would be more efficient in its operations should an act of incorporation, conferring certain powers on them and their successors, be granted; and whereas it is expedient that the prayer of the said petition should be granted. Therefore her majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of Canada, enacts as follows:

Charter Members.

"The said, the Honorable Elijah Leonard, the Honorable John Carling, Walter Simson, Charles Hunt, Charles P. Smith, Frederick Rowland, Charles J. Hope, Frank Smith, W. C. Menzies, Andrew Cleghorn, E. W. Hyman, Robert Reid, Lewis Leonard, David Farrar, Henry Strathey, Thomas Churcher, with Thomas Whan, John McIntosh, John Beattie, Thomas Wilson, H. Chapman, Charles Dunnett, A. T. Chapman, W. Wallace, Andrew Chisholm, John Alanson, D. Currie, Edmund Reid, and such other persons, resident in the city of London, as are or shall be associated with the persons above named for the purposes of this act, in the manner hereinafter provided, and their successors, shall be and are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate, by the name of the "London Board of Trade," for the purposes mentioned in the preamble, and may, by that name, sue and be sued, impleaded and defended, and be defended, in all courts of law and equity, and in all other places whatsoever, in all matters of action, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever, and by that name they and their successors shall have perpetual succession and may have a common seal, and the same may make, alter or change at their will and pleasure, and they and their successors shall have power to purchase, take, receive, hold and enjoy, any estate whatsoever, real or personal, and alienate, sell, convey, lease or otherwise dispose of the same, or any part thereof, from time to time, and as occasion may require, and use all other powers which may be necessary for carrying out the purposes of this act, and provided also, that the said corporation shall not have or exercise any corporate powers whatsoever, except such as are expressly conferred on them by this act, or may be necessary for carrying out the same into effect, according to its true intent and meaning.

The Officers.

"The said Walter Simson shall be president, the said Frank Smith shall be vice-president, the said Thomas Churcher, the secretary, and the said W. C. Menzies, A. Cleghorn, E. W. Hyman, E. Beltz, A. T. Chapman, Charles Hunt, Charles James Hope, Robert Reid, L. Leonard, Thomas Whan, David Farrar, D. Currie, and H. Strathey, the other members of the council, until the first election to be had under the provisions of this act, and the council hereby appointed shall, until the said election, have all the powers assigned to the council by this act."

Thus the board has been in existence for 50 years, and has been incorporated 41 years.

It is expected that Ald. Samuel Sieve, vice-president of the board, will be elected tonight to the position of president, an honor for which he is well qualified.

It is further understood that Mr. Adam McMahen will be chosen vice-president.

There is a move on foot to change the formation of the standing committee, and reduce their number, so that they will be more widely, and may prove of greater benefit to the board in the future than in the past.

We always have on hand a large assortment of used Square and Upright Pianos at $50 to $150, payable 50 cents per week. Heintzman & Co., 217 Dundas, corner Clarence.

We are the introducers of the famous White House Coffee. Sold in 1 or 2 pound tins, 40c per pound. F. E. Smythe, grocer, Phone 121.

ASKING CLEMENCY FOR CONDUCTOR THOMPSON

A Worthy Petition Being Circulated Throughout the City.

Petitions are being circulated in London praying for clemency for Conductor "Joe" Thompson, who was in charge of a train wrecked at Guelph in September last, and who was convicted of violating the rules of the company, thereby causing the accident.

Already some thousands of signatures have been secured, and the work is still going on.

Thompson is very popular in London, and those who are circulating the petitions declare that they have not as yet met a man who has refused to sign the appeal for clemency.

He was always a careful conductor, and his mistake of Sept. 22 cannot be accounted for by his friends.

The traveling public, with whom Thompson was well acquainted, is taking a particular interest in the matter, and the petitions are being filled with names.

REFUSED TO PAY DOCTOR

Curious Counter Claim Put in by the Defendant in Case.

A rather peculiar case came before Judge Macbeth at the division court this morning. Dr. Henry Meek, the well-known local physician, sued E. D. Dunnigan, a farmer residing near Theford, in Lambton County, for a $100 medical fee for an operation on the defendant's wife. It appears that the defendant, but only retained the plaintiff's fee of $100, alleging that under the terms of agreement the operation on his wife was to be a private one, and that instead the plaintiff had allowed a number of medical students to be in attendance.

When the case was called it was learned that Dunnigan himself was not present in court, but that Mr. E. W. Seathard was acting for him.

The evidence showed that the only persons present at the operation were Dr. Meek, and his assistant, Dr. Grant, the defendant's family physician; three nurses. The jury found that the plaintiff's fee of $100 was reasonable, and was the price agreed upon previous to the operation. It was proven that Dr. Meek not only performed the operation in a satisfactory manner, but that he attended the plaintiff's wife in the hospital for one month during the period of her recovery. The costs of the case were also placed on the defendant.

Mr. McKillop, crown attorney, acted for the plaintiff.

Mr. Dunnigan, the defendant in another action of a similar nature brought by Dr. Grant, his family physician, at Theford. The case came up at that place in February, and was adjourned until June at the defendant's request, he paying the costs of adjournment. The amount asked for is $60.

THE MOCK TRIAL

A Most Amusing Entertainment Given at the Auditorium.

The mock trial at the Y. M. C. A. last night proved to be one of the most amusing and best entertainments ever given in the city. The affair was under the direction of Col. Newton, of Worcester, Mass., and was highly successful. The Auditorium was crowded to capacity.

The case in court was the suit brought by Mrs. Jerusha R. Perkins, a widow, impersonated by Miss Jessica Hambley, for breach of promise of marriage, against Mr. James Gray. The heart-rending and tear-starting experience which the plaintiff told in a way that convulsed the audience. The prosecution was supported by testimony given by Rev. James Livingstone and Miss Katie Elliott. The chief witness for the defense was the accused, Jean Carmichael, as Miss Jerusha R. Perkins, niece of the plaintiff. Dr. H. A. Kingsmill gave expert testimony on bromism, monomania, kleptomania, dipsomania, and all other ailments to which widows are heirless.

The court officers were: Clerk, Mr. A. M. Hunt; sheriff, Mr. Ben Waterworth; court officer, P. C. McGregor. The jurors were: F. E. Perrin, F. J. Darch, Thos. Rowe, Wilfred Mara, W. E. Saunders, John Gunn, Charles Glass, John Graham, E. R. Dennis, Dr.

There were 16 loads of hay offered today; sales were brisk and prices were firm, at $14 to $15 per ton. It is expected that hay will be lower in price next week. Oats were in good demand and prices were firmer, at $1.35 to $1.35 per cwt. There have been only one or two loads of straw marketed so far this week.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

Toronto, April 25.—Manitoba wheats have advanced about half a cent. Ontario winter wheat is steadier, with but little offering. There is a persistent demand for barley, but prices have not advanced materially. Quotations are:

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Toronto, April 25.—The run at the city cattle market today was 93 loads, with 1,473 head of cattle, 113 sheep and lambs, 1,500 hogs and 45 calves.

The market was a little slow and dragsy today, and not quite so firm as at the beginning of the week. The export demand is easier on account of no early sailing of cattle boats, as well as from the general lowering of the export markets in England in the past week. Anything very choice in the way of exporters may sell well, but there is no rush just now to pay fancy prices. Good short-keep cattle, about 1,200 lbs., sold today at $4.75, which shows a little easing off for this class of cattle.

Choice butcher cattle are firm, light get heifers being scarce and difficult to get at almost any price. A small bunch of very nice choice heifers, about 1,000 lbs., sold at $5, and more of the same kind are wanted. For the ordinary run of mixed butcher cattle the market was barely steady, with just a little easier tendency.

Hogs are unchanged; market steady to firm. Heavy feeders and good short-keepers are firm at $4.50 to $4.75.

There is a demand for light stockers of good quality. Sheep and lambs—Market steady to firm; good graded lambs are quoted at $7.50 to $8 per cwt; common lambs at $7.50 to $8 per cwt; spring lambs, $3 to $3.50; export ewes, $2.25 to $2.50; bucks, $4.50 to $5.50.

Exporters—Market easy and demand not very active; medium, $4.75 to $4.90; choice, $4.90 to $5; extra choice, $5.10.

Butcher—The market is firm for choice picked butcher cattle, at $4.75 to $5, and steady for ordinary to good, at $4 to $4.50.

Heavy Feeders—Steady demand for good feeders, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs., at $4.50 to $4.75. Calves—The market is steady, at $3 to $3.50 each.

Hogs—Market steady at last decline; selected, $6.40; lights and steady to firm, with a good demand for heavy milkers, at $4.50 to $5; common, $2.50 to $3.

A SURE CURE FOR HEADACHE.—Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alternative, and in neutralizing the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

Dr. Hauthal, a German savant, has put forward a startling theory concerning the remains of a gigantic sloth, related to the great magisterium and the mylonodon, recently found in Patagonia. In his opinion these animals, whose race is now extinct, were kept in a domesticated state by the prehistoric Patagonians.

All the World Bows Down to Beauty

Where is the woman to be found who does not long deep down in her heart to be beautiful? That a thing so feeling as beauty, and only "skin deep," should hold such an absorbing and fascinating interest for Mother Eve's daughters is nothing to their discredit.

If short-lived, it must be guarded jealously—this precious gift which has stayed the world to its own sweet will ever since time began.

The woman in touch with the times knows just what steps to take in order to present to friends at home and abroad her most attractive side, and she hasn't the slightest patience with the indifferent one who is content to drift into an ungraceful old age.

She realizes, this wide-awake disciple of toilet arts, that the sister whose Nature has shabbily treated may be practically made over—that is, if she is really an earnest seeker for wrinkles, and she follows her lead—it is a good one—and see how cleverly the dainty toilet devices of the moment will aid you in keeping Father Time at bay.

Each night and morning after a face-bath, she uses a little of the new skin food—"Hazel-Rose"—the best preparation for all facial blemishes. It prevents wrinkles, keeps the face and hands soft and velvety, and gives health, vigor and beauty to the skin.

There is nothing so good for promoting a clear and brilliant complexion, or as an aid to beauty. Only 25 cents, from —The London and Western Trusts Company has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late John Horn, of the Township of Keppel, County of Grey.

A handsome silver cup put up for competition by the different basketball teams, was last night presented to Court Stella by High Chief Ranger Walter Richards, of the A. O. F.

—The Ladies' Aid of High Street Methodist Church will hold their annual concert on Tuesday evening next. A splendid programme has been arranged for, and an excellent time is expected.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. Munro and Miss Munro left yesterday evening en route to Great Britain and the continent for a three-months' trip. They sail on Saturday via the steamship Canada from Portland.

—Miss Richardson, of this city, was among the guests who attended the marriage in Brantford yesterday, of Miss Ethelyn Creighton Steele, of that place, to Mr. John Riddord Bunting, manager of the Bank of Toronto at Yorkton, Sask.

—Among the passengers on the C. P. R. express which was recently wrecked near Chapleau, were Mrs. R. H. Ennis and daughter, and Mrs. D. Norton and two children, all of St. Thomas. The coach in which they were riding was completely overturned, but they all escaped with a few slight injuries.

—The following building permits were issued today: Percy Wilkins, for 12-story, brick-veneer dwelling, and James Wilkins, for brick-veneer cottage on the Wharfedale road, West London. Both houses are to be built in West London.

—The London and Western Trusts Company are the executors named in the will of the late Leonard Perrin, of Pasadena, Cal., and notice is now being given in the Gazette of their intention to apply to the surrogate court of the County of York for probate of the will. The estate, which is a large one, consists principally of real estate in the city of Toronto.

WHIST WINNERS.

There was a record attendance at the weekly whist match of the South London Liberal Club, held in the clubrooms last night. Two handsome prizes were donated by Mr. T. H. Purdom, K.C., first prize going to Mr. Harry West, with a score of plus 22, and second to Mr. Gideon Elliott with a score of plus 20.

MUSIC CLUB CONCERT TONIGHT.

At the concert to be given in the Masonic Temple tonight by the Ladies' Orchestra of the Women's Music Club, Miss Brenda Snellie, contralto, of Toronto, will sing Amy Woodford Pinder's charming cycle of Indian love songs, "By Jhelum River." Miss Mina Taylor, soprano, and Mr. W. Cosby Jones, baritone, will be heard in new songs. Miss Lilian Boomer will play the Mendelssohn G. Minor Concerto, with second piano by Mr. Jordan. Madame Kneyhoff, a talented pianist, will also play.

WILL WED A MILLIONAIRE.

The engagement is announced of Miss Cora Tracy, daughter of the late John Tracy, of this city, to Mr. C. E. Morris, of Montana. Mr. Morris, it is understood, is a millionaire rancher, and one of the best-known and most popular men in the middle American west. Miss Tracy will be remembered as the charming contralto seen here with "Red Feather" a couple of seasons ago. She was born in London, but was a resident of Kansas City for years. She is a convent trained, and it was from Kansas City that she was

TRAIN AND BARN IN RACE

Big Structure, Blown Over by Wind Crashes Into Rear Car.

Lexington, Ky., April 25.—Engineer Scammon, of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight, was the hero this afternoon of a thrilling race between a train and a barn, with several lives at stake.

Scammon was passing a trolley at the Station, near here, at a good rate, when the high wind which was blowing lifted a big tobacco barn from its foundations and started it rolling down hill toward the railroad, half a mile away.

Scammon saw the danger and immediately threw the throttle wide open in an effort to outrun the barn. The heavy train was on the down-grade and soon attained great momentum, but just as it looked as if the peril would be outrun the big barn crashed into the caboose, smashing it. The impact also shattered the barn, which collapsed on the track. Trainsmen on the caboose saw their peril in time to escape by jumping.

NO UNDERSTANDING YET.

Toronto, April 25.—"The Ontario Government has had no negotiations with the Grand Trunk or any other railway regarding the transmission of power—yet," was the perhaps significant response of the Prime Minister to a query today in relation to the statement of General Manager Hays denying that the way had been opened for negotiations with the Government for the building of Government transmission lines along their right-of-way.

Hon. Mr. Whitney had no statement to make at the present time as to the plans of the Government and commission, beyond the remark that the Government was well pleased with the progress made by Hon. Adam Beck and his colleagues.
