WATER BYLAW WAS FINALLY PASSED

It Is Straight Go Ahead Now With the Artesian Wells Scheme.

READY THIS AUTUMN

People of London Will Have Plenty of Water for First Time in Ten Years.

The concluding chapter of the water problem that has agitated the citizens of London for many years, was written last night when the council gave the bylaw to expend $123,700 for the artesian wells, pumping plant and new mains, its third and final reading.

At the same meeting a letter was read from Dr. Chas. Hodgets, chairman of the provincial board of health, giving the approval of that board to the scheme in its entirety, both from a hygienic point of view and the appliances, were satisfactory.

There is general satisfaction throughout the whole city that the problem has been solved, in apparently the very best manner. The supply in the wells continues undiminished, and the city has plenty for all purposes.

ADVERTISER HAD BODY IDENTIFIED

It Was James Lamplough, of 417 Horton Street, Who Was Killed at Tempo.

A MISTAKE IN INQUEST

Owing to Clerical Error, Jury Were Present, But the Coroner Was Absent—Inquest Tonight.

Through the efforts of The Advertiser, the remains of the man killed by a fall from a traction car at Tempo on Monday night, were yesterday identified as those of Mr. James Lamplough, who boarded at 417 Horton street with Mrs. Lawrence, and who was employed at Leonard's boiler shop, where he was an apprentice to the trade.

At 2:45 yesterday afternoon, the St. Thomas Journal phoned The Advertiser that a lady was in that office, and that from what she had heard of the man who was killed, she believed it was James Lamplough, who boarded on Horton street in London.

electrified without injury, but with startling results to the person who handled them. When a customer appeared the current was shut off.

The other day a party of schoolboys passed the shop and "pinched" some of the snails that were in a basket outside. They had no sooner done so than they set up howls which brought a crowd. Inquiring bystanders touched the snails also and similarly yelled.

The current was not strong enough to kill the snails, but transmitted a shock which made the shocked persons dance. Having recovered, they danced into the shop and went for the shopman. Some of them were dancing on him and others were wrecking his establishment when the police came and rescued him.

But he will be charged, too—the authorities having decided to summon him for having electrified snails to the public danger.

OVER BLIGHTED LOVE Actress Clifford's Marriage Drives Companion of Youth to Death.

Boston, Aug. 2.—A suicide of several days ago was made public today and with it the cause of the act. The man, who took cyanide of potassium, was Reinhardt Steinson, a Swedish mechanical engineer, and the cause of the suicide was the marriage of Camille Clifford, the actress, to the Hon. Henry Lyndhurst Bruce, of England, in 1906.

Camille Clifford came to Boston from Sweden years ago, a lone and penniless girl. Her name was Camille Otterson, daughter of Mrs. Franz Otterson, who did not accompany her to this side. She went to live with a distant relative, Mrs. Schilling, of Roxbury, and there formed the acquaintance of Steinson, which lasted through years of hardship, and after things came easier for her through her work on the stage.

Their friendship ripened into a love affair, and according to the dead man his hope was to marry Camille.

When her engagement and subsequent marriage to Bruce was announced it created a great change in Steinson. He ended it all last Thursday by taking the cyanide and leaving a note in which he gave the cause of the act.

Camille Clifford was little known here, until after she had been discovered in London in the latter part of 1904. For several years she had been a show girl in a number of musical comedies. In 1904 she went to London with the "Princess of Pilsen" company, and attracted much attention to herself through her beauty. Then her name became linked with that of Hon. Henry Bruce, eldest son and heir of Lord Aberdeen, and she was cast for the lead in "A Chinese Honeymoon," after she had made a hit in a good part in "The Belle of Mayfair." Her engagement to Henry Bruce was derided by Lord Aberdeen and led to the young man's virtual disinheritance.

HOW MR. TAFT'S TARIFF AFFECTS THE DOMINION

Free Hides, Prohibitive Schedule on Hay and the Lumber Is Barred.

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—A survey of the Payne tariff bill as now amended, from the standpoint of the United States and in the light of the statistics of Canadian exports for last year, falls to show any very noteworthy reason why Canada should be either elated or depressed over the outcome of the tariff revision across the border. With the exception of three important articles of export—namely, lumber, coal and hides—the situation with regard to the encouragement of Canadian trade with the Republic remains but little changed.

On the great majority of the items of Canadian exports the new tariff, for all practical purposes, is just as prohibitive as the old. The Canadian farmer gains little or nothing. The Canadian manufacturer, except in the case of the lumberman, the coal companies and the exporters of hides, on the whole is left about the same position as he was before in regard to the American market.

The Grain Rates. In respect to agricultural exports the Payne bill does almost nothing to alter the McKinley tariff. The duty on barley remains the same, at 30 cents per bushel. Ten years ago before that prohibitive duty came into force Canada exported annually from ten to twelve million bushels to the States. Last year the exports of barley across the line totalled only 210,000 bushels.

Hay Kept Out. On hay the practically prohibitive duty is placed at $4 per ton. Last year the exports of hay to the States amounted to $236,271. In rye, of which Canada exported last year not a bushel to the States, the duty is increased from 10 to 20 cents per bushel. On butter and cheese the Payne tariff of 10 cents per pound will have a negligible effect, so far as Canada is concerned. Our exports of butter to the American market last year amounted to only $38,399, and of cheese to only $17,732. The Canadian market for these products is open and probably will be for many years, chiefly in Great Britain. On eggs the duty remains unchanged—namely, five cents per dozen. Last year we sent to the States only 2,305 dozen, as compared with from fourteen to fifteen million dozen before the duty was imposed by the McKinley tariff.

The Lumber Schedule. In regard to lumber the new duty of $1.25 per thousand feet for rough lumber is a considerable reduction from the old duty of $2 per thousand. But lumber manufacturers are inclined to think that it is still sufficiently high to prove a barrier to any very large increase in the exportation of Canadian lumber to the States.

On coal the duty has been decreased from 67 cents per ton to 45 cents. Last year from the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia mines there was shipped to the New England and Pacific States markets coal to the value of $4,941,562. The reduction of the duty on coal is one of the most important features of the new tariff from the Canadian standpoint. The placing of hides on the free list is also likely to be of material benefit to Canadian exporters. Last year Canada exported to the States hides to the value of $1,308,551.

The reduction in the duty on agricultural implements from 20 per cent to 15 per cent, is hardly likely to have any effect on Canada. The American market can be controlled by the American manufacturers in any event. Last year our exports of agricultural implements to the States amounted to only $15,459.

The placing of a retaliatory duty on wood pulp is regarded as a stroke against Canada, and one which may be looked upon with comparative equanimity in this country. It will probably lead to the prohibition of the export of wood pulp from Canada with the object of buildings up the paper industry of the Dominion. In any case the American paper consumer must ere long come to Canada for his source of supply. Last year Canada exported to the States wood pulp to the value of $1,354,020. The effect of the duty will be felt principally in Quebec.

Reciprocity With Canada. Washington, Aug. 2.—The tariff bill, which is expected to become a law before the end of the present week, will have a beneficial effect on the foreign trade of the United States. At least such is the opinion of Charles M. Pepper, an expert on foreign commerce, who has travelled extensively as a special agent of the department of commerce and labor.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The tariff bill, which is expected to become a law before the end of the present week, will have a beneficial effect on the foreign trade of the United States. At least such is the opinion of Charles M. Pepper, an expert on foreign commerce, who has travelled extensively as a special agent of the department of commerce and labor.

The approach to reciprocity is made in the provision regarding agricultural implements. The duty is reduced from 20 per cent to 15 per cent ad valorem. This is below the Canadian general tariff on agricultural implements, which ranges from 17-1/2 per cent to 20 per cent. But there is also the provision for the free admission of agricultural machinery from any country which admits it free from the United States.

SUCCESSION DUTIES. Toronto, Aug. 2.—The succession duties received by the provincial treasurer for July amounted to $75,317, making the total for the seven months $497,206, which is $90,000 more than the estimates for the whole year.

A MOTHER DIES TO WIPE OUT HER PAST

Takes the Lives of Daughter Son and Herself by Gas.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Emma Michels killed her two children and herself Saturday when the story of her past was resurrected by her husband's family in a supposed effort to disgrace the mother before her children. Meta, 15 years old, and Gustav, 12, were suffocated with gas as they lay in bed. When their mother had wailed outside their tightly-closed room until she was sure they were dead, she put the tube from the gas stove in her mouth and died as she sat in a chair by the kitchen door.

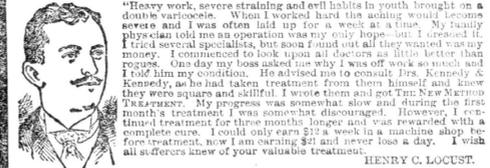

In her farewell letters Mrs. Michels told the story of alleged persecution by her husband's family, and of the husband's refusal to let her see her two children. The bitterness of the family dissension is shown by letters which forbade the husband's relatives to view the bodies even at the funeral.

The three were found dead by Policeman Philip Pilewicz when he entered the house at 690 Osgood street. A year ago Michels left his wife. Later they were reconciled, but three months ago she filed suit for divorce. The love of the mother for her two children whom she was about to kill is seen in the care with which she had them dress. She put clean night gowns on them when she sent them to their room after supper. She placed clean linen on their two beds. She made the room tidy as if for a gala occasion.

She laid a handful of petunias beside the pillow on the girl's bed. She tied new, bright ribbons on the long brown curls and fastened her little pearl necklace about her neck. It must have been after the two children were asleep, smiling in their dreams, that the mother crept into the room and opened the gas jets. They died without awakening, still with the dream smiles parting their lips.

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT. Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become acute and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I consulted to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my loss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my complaint. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, so he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got Tim New Martineau to guarantee my progress. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $31 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment." HENRY C. LOCUST.

THREE CENT FARE LOSES

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 3.—The ordinance providing a franchise to Herman Schmidt, insuring three-cent fares on a part of the city street car lines, was defeated at a referendum election here today by a vote of 30,944 to 34,926. The Schmidt ordinance was fostered by Mayor Tom L. Johnson.

The campaign, which was waged for the last two months, has been pretty bitter. Mr. Johnson, municipal office holder and others, had urged the granting of the franchise. A committee of one hundred business men opposed it.

Now that the Schmidt franchise has been defeated, an attempt will be made to secure the passage of an ordinance for the settlement of a car fight along the line proposed by Federal Judge Tayler. His plan provides first for a reevaluation of the entire street car property by a committee of unbiased

The Man From the West

BY EVERETT GREEN,

Author of "The Marriage of Marcia," "Lady Elizabeth and the Juggernaut," etc.

Mary suddenly laughed. She had the most delicious laugh in the world. Hilda was fain to join in it.

"Poor dear, she is somewhat put out. You see all the years she has lived here we have had such a quiet house."

"I know, I know; and now it's going to be twentieth century—motors and romps, and bridge and fooley, and I don't know what all! O Mary, darling, will you mind much? You see, we none of us knew him, except Dad; and we do like him!"

"Of course you do, sweetheart, and I hope you will have plenty of it, and the right kind, too. But, Hilda, what about you?"

"What do you mean—about me?"

"Why, don't you know you are past eighteen. You've got to learn how to do up your hair and wear long frocks."

"O, don't talk about it, Polly. I'm simply can't give up all my fun! What does it matter what age I really am? I can look like fifteen for years still! I'm not a great big hulking girl like some of them grow, thank goodness. I'm not going to stop rky-larking, and be dull and grown-up."

"The grown-ups are not characterized by great sobriety and dignity just now, by what we hear, Hilda dear."

"No, and that's just exactly what I'm going to be a schoolroom kid for all this show, anyhow. Mona and Norma have got to catch husbands before they'll want me on hand! They're just mad to make good matches. I expect they'll have a real tag-rag of rich bidders down here to see what they can do with 'em."

"Hilda, dear, I don't always quite like the way you speak about your parents and sisters."

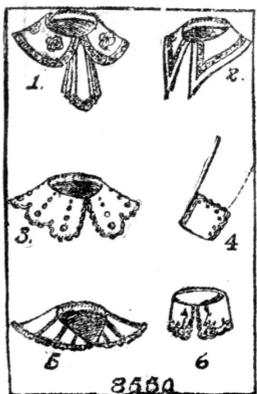

"No, I know it's beastly of me; but Mary, my cousin, you are spilling us for that lot yourself. You're showing us every day what the other kind can be! No, I can't explain things. I can only feel them. I just love to be a Tom-boy whilst I'm in my teens; but I don't want to go on being a great romping, vulgar, slangy, mimic all the rest of my natural life!" And Hilda flung her arms about Mary's neck and gave her a bear-like hug.

"I say, let's have a spin round on the bikes!" cried Bosh, suddenly.

"There'll be just time before tea, whilst Regs and Tatters are made decent. Just the kind of evening for it. Come along, Hilda. We'll not be long gone."

SWEDEN IN THROES OF INDUSTRIAL WAR

One Hundred Workers Are Out and Government Fears a Revolution May Be Attempted.

Stockholm, Aug. 4.—A labor war throughout Sweden that is scheduled to begin today threatens to develop in Stockholm into something approaching a miniature revolution. The trouble will be enormously aggravated by the present general strike and lock-out.

The members of the Young Socialist party are striving to give the movement a revolutionary character and the Government, warned that a political campaign is going on at the same time, has taken steps to nip the disorders in the bud.

The authorities have ordered at first signs of trouble to declare Stockholm in a state of siege.

Soldiers are being quartered in different parts of the city and suburbs, and the entire standing army of Sweden is ready for events. The situation has taken so serious a turn that King Gustav has signed a petition to parliament to Stockholm, and a special session of parliament is expected.

Great consternation prevails in the capital at these unexpected and dangerous developments in the situation. A civil guard composed of members of the protection force, discharged from the banks are closed and carefully guarded. All the ferries running out of Stockholm have ceased operations, and the large steamers engaged in carrying visitors and residents to the seaside resorts in the archipelago have suddenly stopped running, discharged their crews and are being laid up for the winter. Summer traffic is usually continued until the month of October.

It is expected that the present strike of 100,000 workmen will be largely increased by tomorrow, and also anticipated that the cab and car services in Stockholm will stop running Wednesday and arrangements are being made today to run the waterworks and the electric light plants by soldiers.

The bridges leading to the islands adjacent to Stockholm are closed this afternoon. Many stores already have been closed and no milk is being delivered in the city. The sale of spirits, beer and wine has been prohibited in both shops and restaurants.

The labor conflicts that are at the bottom of this trouble originated in a dispute over wages in the woolen and cotton industries. In the beginning 13,000 men were locked out and other industries since have become involved, until yesterday the Employers' Federation declared a lock-out of the iron foundry hands, numbering about 30,000 men.

A total of 80,000 men were reported locked out yesterday, and their numbers are increasing rapidly.

PATIENTS AND NURSES ALL WENT ON STRIKE

Left Tuberculosis Hospital With Superintendent, a Toronto Girl.

Detroit, Aug. 3.—When Miss Almy Murray, superintendent of the City Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Grand Rapids, Mich., left that institution, every patient and nurse in the sanatorium went on a strike and walked out of the hospital with her.

Miss Murray was formerly a Toronto girl. She is a graduate of the Riverdale Hospital, Toronto, and went to Grand Rapids from Toronto three years ago.

Since taking charge of the sanatorium, Miss Murray had many troubles and stormy times. She has never been very financially successful. A few days ago she decided to leave the sanatorium, and go to another hospital, and when the nurses and patients learned of her departure they decided to leave with her, which they did.

Both nurses and patients are much attached to Miss Murray, and they declare they will go with her to any hospital she is connected with.

CLASH WITH INDIANS IS OVER THE LAND

The B. C. Aborigines Object to Whites Taking Up Land Considered Redman's.

Vancouver, Aug. 4.—That there must be prompt and careful handling of the Indian situation at Hazelton if serious trouble is to be averted is the opinion of Mr. P. W. Valleeau, former provincial government assistant commissioner of land and mines at that station.

Mr. Valleeau has just come out with his wife from Hazelton and is conversant with the questions that have caused dissatisfaction among the Indians of that region.

The white people there are not at all reassured with the recent visit of the inquiry commission, consisting of Mr. S. Stewart, of the Indian Department, Ottawa; Judge Vowell, of Victoria, and Chief of Indian Police O'Connell, and rather than run any risk of what might result from trouble with the redmen, are contemplating sending out their families on a petition to the settlers here signed in the name of the inquiry commission, asking for a squad of the mounted police to be stationed there, and consider that the Dominion should take this step at once, as the Indian Department is not responsible for the behavior of the Indians.

Mr. Valleeau states that it is not liquor-selling among the Indians that is causing the dissatisfaction, but the settling up of the country by the white men. Up to the present the Indians have been given a great deal of latitude. They have been permitted to farm patches of valley land away from their reserves. Now the white settlers have come in and dispute with the Indians for the areas that the latter have been cultivating for some years.

Commissioner Perry, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, who is in the city, was seen this morning in regard to the Indian situation at Hazelton. He said that he had heard nothing of the matter. He said that mounted police into the district would require a special arrangement with the Provincial Government. He thought the report of the commission of inquiry would result in immediate steps being taken to remove the cause of any trouble with the Indians, whom he knew to be of an intelligent class, as he had been through the Hazelton region two years ago, and had observed their progress in civilization, their farms, elaborate houses and other marks of advancement.

Commissioner Stewart and his party arrived yesterday by the Cassiar. Mr. Stewart said that several meetings had been held with the Indians, and the latter were found to be friendly and ready to confer with the government officials amicably. He deprecated the alarming reports that had been sent out, and believed that the whole trouble would be settled within a short time.

BRIDGE WILL BE A THOUSAND FEET LONG

It is Said 175 Locomotives and 1,500 Freight Cars Are Ready for Crop Along G. T. P.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—It was announced at the head office of the Grand Trunk Pacific this morning that the steel gang is now well on the way from Edmonton to the Pembina River, 68 miles from the Alberta capital. Until the rails reach the river they cannot go on with the big Pembina bridge, which is to be one thousand feet long and 200 feet high. One hundred and seventy-five locomotives, to which an engine is added every six days, are now ready to couple on to the fifteen hundred freight cars that are ready to haul the wheat from the two hundred elevators along the prairie division of the G. T. P. A goodly part of the grade is two and three years old, well ballasted, and in splendid shape for taking care of its share of the crop.

FINGER PRINTS OF POLICE

Arrest of a London Officer Causes Radical Action.

London, Aug. 4.—The fact that a convicted thief had been acting as a policeman in London since April last has been revealed at the London sessions.

After John Fuller, who joined the force on April 28, went to live at the Kentish Town section house numerous small thefts occurred in the house. Suspicion did not fall on Fuller, but on other policemen. In one case a vest was removed from one locker to another, apparently with the object of casting suspicion on another policeman.

Eventually Fuller was caught stealing a bank book belonging to a detective. His finger prints were taken and it was discovered that in 1905 he was bound over for stealing a bicycle, and that in 1906 he underwent three months' imprisonment.

It is stated that the references he produced when he joined the force were satisfactory, and that he had left the army with a good character.

A detective who had been present when Fuller was previously convicted corroborated the finger-print evidence, and sentence of twelve months' imprisonment was passed.

Fuller, who had strongly protested his innocence, left the dock smiling.

It is understood that in consequence of the case the finger prints of all future applicants for admission to the force will be taken.

Here is a New Kind of Soap

You are now using some soap and naturally think it is good. But here is a kind that is different from any you know—one that has taken us 43 years to perfect.

Try one cake and compare it with what you now use. We welcome such a test as this for we know in advance the result. You will never go back to the other kind. Here is a soap made from vegetable oil pure enough to use on your table. We pay far more for this in France than we might pay. So we get only the best.

Cocanut oil from the isle of Ceylon is brought over 12,000 miles and mixed with the olive oil. Then both are boiled doubly long.

After this we mill them by our own special process. We have scoured the best factories of England, France and Austria for almost half a century to perfect this process. We have combined the best ideas of foreign lands with our own improvements to attain perfection.

When milled, the soap falls like flakes of snow into enormous bins and is then crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Then it passes through granite rollers and comes out in miles of silky ribbon.

After being dried eight times it is pressed into cakes and is simply perfect soap. It lathers into a rich creamy foam and wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin rosy and pink like an infant's. So we call it Infants' Delight.

The perfume is dainty and pure—it suggests only the delicate scent of the roses. Use one cake today and see what a wonderful difference there can be in soap.

CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES IN MODERN STORES

Experience of One London Concern Would Appear to Point Otherwise.

London, Aug. 4.—Is it possible successfully to apply strictly Christian principles to modern commercial undertakings?

The experience of the Christian Business Association in East Ham would appear to point otherwise.

"The first is that the takings have not been what we expected they would be. It was an already established green grocer's shop when we took it over; and the second is that the spirit of competition is so keen, and our Christian principles will not permit us to resort to the 'cutting' practices adopted by our competitors in the same line of business.

"After giving a fair trial, therefore, we are relinquishing the business and the explanation is conveyed to the people in the neighborhood by a little sermonette, written by hand and pasted over the shop front. The circular runs as follows:

"Our effort has been to make business a pious and a completely competitive war with our nearest neighbor, whose cutting prices either compel us to fight with the same weapon or retire."

"We choose the latter course in obedience to that word of Christ, 'Resist not evil.'"

"It is to our successors we may leave the reputation for fair and honest dealing and fearless outspokenness, we thank God and give him the glory."

"May they meet with a kinder consideration and less competitive cutting and war."

"Although we are closing the East Ham shop," continued Lipscomb, "we are still carrying on our other establishments—a boot-repairing shop in Newlands Park, Sydenham, and a laundry in Line Tree avenue, Oakfield road, Penge."

"The Christian Business Association consists of people who have left different denominations, as, for instance, the Church of England, the Wesleyan Church and the Plymouth Brethren. I was formerly a member of the Wesleyan church myself, but left that body on the question of immersion."

"It is our endeavor to apply to ordinary, everyday business the truths and principles of the Primitive Church of Christ."

POLICE AID KIDNAPPERS. Vienna, Aug. 4.—An investigation has been begun by the Russian government to learn to what extent the police have been implicated in kidnaping cases, which have become alarmingly frequent of late, in the Transcaucasus.

Three instances have been positively proven in which the authorities have divided the spoils with a band of Caucasian criminals who are believed to be responsible for the kidnaping epidemic, and 17 members of the Tiflis force, including six inspectors and sub-inspectors, have been dismissed and sentenced to varying terms of imprisonment.

Dozens of kidnapings have occurred in the past year, the victims in some cases having been restored to their friends on payment of ransom, while others are still missing and have probably been killed by the outlaws.

The state railway authorities have decided to add a completely equipped first-aid hospital to each train running through Prussia and Hesse. It will contain three coaches and an instrument case and a complete dispensary.

The New Woman Made Over by Quitting Coffee.

Coffee probably wrecks a greater percentage of Southerners than of Northern people, for Southerners use it more freely.

The work it does is distressing enough in some instances; as an illustration, a woman of Richmond, Va., writes:

"I was a coffee drinker for years and for about six years my health was completely shattered. I suffered fearfully with headaches and nervousness, also palpitation of the heart and loss of appetite."

"My sight gradually began to fail, and finally I lost the sight of one eye altogether. The eye was operated upon, and the sight partially restored; then I became totally blind in the other eye."

"My doctor used to urge me to give up coffee, but I was willful and continued to drink it until finally in a case of severe illness the doctor insisted that I must give up the coffee; so I began using Postum and in a month I felt like a new creature."

"I steadily gained in health and strength. About a month ago I began using Grape-Nuts food and the effect has been wonderful. I really feel like a new woman and have gained about 25 pounds."

"I am quite an elderly lady and before using Postum and Grape-Nuts I could not walk a square without exceeding fatigue; now I walk ten or twelve without feeling it. Formerly in reading I could remember but little; but now my memory holds fast what I read."

"Several friends who have seen the remarkable effects of Postum and Grape-Nuts on me have urged that I give the facts to the public for the sake of suffering humanity, so, although I dislike publicity, you can publish this letter, if you like."

Read "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

BALDWIN AND M'CURDY WILL TAKE AIR AGAIN

Undaunted by Accident Will Fly With the Baddeck on Saturday.

Petawawa, Ont., Aug. 4.—Notwithstanding the wreck of the Silver Dart yesterday morning, M'Curdy and his men are hard at work on the Baddeck No. 1, and will have her all put together and ready to be tried by tonight. The first pieces of the new machine were joined, and three machinists and a number of the officers of the Royal Canadian Engineers, and Capt. Bogart, camp engineer, are lending a hand, and things are being rushed.

Both Mr. Baldwin and Mr. M'Curdy were at work bright and early in the morning, but after staying a while Mr. Baldwin left for Fort William, just across the river, as he has not fully recovered from the fall when the airship Silver Dart was wrecked. He still limps a little from the blow he received on the leg, but outside of that he is none the worse for his experience. Mr. M'Curdy is at work and bears a badly cut nose, and of the wound of the wound the blood still oozes.

The Baddeck No. 1 has already taken shape, and the truck which carries the engine and to which the wings are fastened is already put up and men are working on the wings, so that when the truck is taken out they can be attached, and when the engine is installed the Baddeck No. 1 will be complete and ready to fly.

"When will you make the tests with Baddeck No. 1?" "Well, if we get ahead like we are doing now," said Mr. M'Curdy, "we will be ready by tonight."

"When will you make the tests with the Baddeck No. 1?" "We expect to fly about Friday or Saturday."

The Baddeck No. 1 is built of an entirely different plan from the Silver Dart, though the principle is the same, and it bears the improvements, the result of the three hundred odd flights. She was sent from the factory in a complete form, that is, the Silver Dart, and it is fitted so that all the joints need only to be made and tightened. She is much larger than the Silver Dart, and stronger and with greater air surface, and the wings are about ten feet longer than the famous Silver Dart, and the body is lighter and made of a composition of aluminum and iron, strong and light.

The rubbered silk is stronger and thicker, and very light, and all the struts are strengthened with copper wire stretched taut, and instead of the wood used in the Silver Dart, aluminum and steel wires, very light, capable of supporting enormous weights, are used.

SUICIDED IN WELL. Woman's Feet Showed Above Water After Death.

Arnprior, Ont., Aug. 4.—Late Sunday night the body of Mrs. G. A. Tough, aged 48, wife of G. A. Tough, traveller for the Sanitaris Company, Limited, was found in a well here. The woman was mentally deranged and was in the asylum at Kingston until quite recently. When no one was watching her she jumped into the well and was found head downwards with her feet sticking above the surface as there was only a few feet of water in the well. She will be buried at Pakenham today.

HOTEL MADE FAMOUS BY DICKENS IS CLOSED. Saracen's Head, of "Nicholas Nickleby," Did Business Nearly Four Hundred Years.

London, Aug. 4. The Saracen's Head Hotel, Snow Hill, made memorable by Dickens in "Nicholas Nickleby," has been finally closed. The hotel has been in existence for between 300 and 400 years.

According to Dickens' story, Squeers, at Dotheboys' Hall, "an academy for young gentlemen," used to visit the Saracen's Head, and there interviewed the students who were to be "accidentally educated" at his school.

In the days of mail coaches, the hotel was of considerable importance, being one of the recognized stopping places. The coaches passed through an archway under the hotel into the spacious courtyard. Visitors at the hotel were in the habit of collecting on the balconies, which surrounded the courtyard, to watch the scenes connected with the arrival and departure of the coaches.

Lord Nelson, when he left his home as a youth to join the navy, broke his journey at the Saracen's Head, and passed the night in the historic building.

The reason alleged by the proprietors for the closing of the house is "increased taxation."

JOINED THE STRIKERS. Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—The strike situation at McKee's Rocks today assumed more serious proportions, when 155 of the men sent here by the Hudson River Company to complete a number of cars for use in the new Manhattan subway joined the strikers. There was no disorder connected with the acquisition of the latest recruits to the ranks of the strikers, but the satisfaction of foreigners was expressed by the shouts to the extent that the deputies on guard were called from their watch places to quell a riot should one occur.

HARRIMAN BETTER. New York, Aug. 3.—Private cable advices received here today stated that E. H. Harriman's health was greatly improved, his condition being better than for several years. It was learned that on account of a change in his present plans, Mr. Harriman will reach here from his trip abroad about Sept. 19. He has booked passage for Sept. 4 on the return trip, it was stated.

THESE WOMEN ENGAGE IN A SMOKING BOUT

Society Dames of London Puff Cigarettes for Prizes.

London, Aug. 3.—Repeated deluges of rain ruined the Goodwood races last week. On the rainiest day the only fashionable who enjoyed themselves were Mrs. Tennant's guests in her marquee at the course.

The Grand Duke Michael of Russia and his morganatic wife, the Countess Torbey, did their best to make everybody forget the frightful weather. Luncheon began at noon; the gay party did not leave the tent for three hours and a half. Grand Duke Michael started cigarette-smoking, the women being the competitors, he providing cigarettes. The first match was at blowing smoke rings, the grand duke being the judge. After earnest efforts only two contestants were left.

One was Mrs. Samuel Sloan Chauncey, formerly of New York, who was Alice Carr, of Louisville, Ky. The other contestant left was the beautiful Mrs. Rupert Beckett, born a Paget, and so connected by marriage with New York women.

Between these two the grand duke was unable to award the palm. Then, amid breathless, if not smokeless excitement, Mrs. Chauncey, summoning the aid of a cigarette case to the lady who would consume a cigarette in the fewest whiffs without taking the cigarette from her lips. Mrs. Chauncey won again, for she inhaled the smoke.

Among the competitors were some of the most swaggers in society—Lady Newborough, Lady Essex, Mrs. Newborough, Mrs. Willis James, Lady Wolverton and Mrs. Hall Walker.

GOES 6,000 MILES TO SEE FACE ON CARD. The Strolling Photographer Sly Cupid's Agent in Pretty Romance.

London, Aug. 3.—A bridegroom who travelled six thousand miles to see a girl whose face he had seen on a picture postcard, has just been married at Tregehan, a little village near St. Austell, Cornwall.

A strolling photographer was Cupid's agent in the matter. He took some photographs of the village festival last summer, and in one of the groups, which appeared subsequently on a picture postcard, there was the photograph of Miss Rosina Harper, a laughing girl of 16 years.

The next move was made by Mrs. Phillips, one of the villagers, as her picture also appeared on the postcard, she sent a copy to her son, working in a miners' camp in British Columbia. It passed round the camp, as postcards from home are wont to do, until it reached "Tony Metassa, a handsome, well-to-do, naturalized British subject.

Even "the lady passing by" of whom Herrick sings, could not have captivated her swain more suddenly than the picture of smiling Rosina Harper captivated young Metassa. He asked his friend Phillips whether he might send a line to Cornwall in the next letter home. Phillips readily consented, and so Miss Harper received her first letter from her unknown lover. There were other letters to and from the miners' camp.

At last there came one to Cornwall which spoke of a coming visit to England. Metassa told how anxious he was to see the sights of the country; but when he landed close in the wake of the letters, he visited the Tower of London and Stratford-on-Avon. Instead he hurried down to Tregehan.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments. The Public Are Warned To Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling, Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as the white ammonia liniments, in his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the indorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 25c bottles of Nerviline.

which is quite out of the track of the ordinary tourist. It was not very long afterwards that Tregehan was formally told what it had known all along, and preparations began for a good, old-fashioned village wedding. The village this week was a mass of flags, fancy mottoes and confetti, and the whole population was at the church to see the bridegroom from abroad take away his Cornish bride. There will be a week's honeymoon, and then Mr. and Mrs. Tregehan will return to British Columbia to lay the foundation of his fortune and to get a little home ready for his bride, when she follows him out.

WIFE NO REAL PARTNER IN LIFE

Lady Troubridge Says Women Are Too Ignored by Businesslike Husbands.

London, Aug. 3.—"I am of the opinion that the majority of English husbands do not consult their wives enough on matters of importance."

Lady Troubridge, the well-known authoress, expressed the above interesting view apropos a recent law court case in which an aggrieved wife declared that her husband did not consult her or take her into his confidence.

"Marriage in its noblest form should be an equal partnership," continued Lady Troubridge, "and what business could be expected to prosper where one of the partners was kept in semi-ignorance of important transactions that must affect their common interest?"

"It is no wonder that so many men complain of the silliness of women when they ruthlessly circumscribe their sphere of thought and action."

"Husbands should not only consult their wives, but they should put business situations or financial problems clearly before them, so that there may be no excuse for subsequent misunderstanding."

"We would hear less of wives' extravagance and the way they overstep their husbands' incomes if this were done."

"Women have sharper powers of intuition than men; their perceptions are more delicate; and how can men expect their daughters to cultivate wisdom and self-reliance when they see their mothers treated as nonentities?"

"They certainly do these things better in France," said a business man with a foreign experience. "There the wife is the trusted companion of the husband in matters of business as well as home affairs. Practically they are partners in the firm of 'Husband and Wife, Limited.'"

"I have been helped out of a difficulty many a time by my wife, though she has no business training."

COUNT AS LEADER OF CLEVER CROOKS

Son of Ex-Minister of Austria-Hungary Escapes to Germany.

Brussels, Aug. 1.—The arrest at Ostend of the young Count Andor Pestetics, son of an ex-minister of Austria-Hungary, practically rounds up a gang of successful crooks who have troubled the continental police for some time, which included three Austrians, one Englishman and one Italian who is now locked up in Paris.

The young count is a black sheep and forsook diplomacy for the career of Chevalier d'Industrie. He spent his time in gambling houses and developed extraordinary skill in the manipulation of cards and methods prove so profitable that he extended his sphere of operations and formed a partnership with other clever rascals, all of whom frequented only the best clubs in Europe, into which Pestetics, because of his distinguished family connections, obtained admission.

The owners of gambling houses often found it advantageous to employ the services of these up-to-date swindlers, the terms being a division of the spoils. When times were dull in the clubs and gambling houses, Pestetics and his gang worked the fashionable hotels, occasionally indulging in the vulgar sport of pocket picking.

The French police recently captured Pestetics' associates, but he escaped to this country, where he has just been caught at his old tricks, interrupting his career for a time at least.

Harris Heavy Pressure Bearing Metal Is Perfection in BABBITT METAL SOLD BY LONDON ENGINE SUPPLY COMPANY, Manufacturers of CANADA METAL CO., LTD. TORONTO, ONT

We make Sunshine Furnace firepot in two sections—so constructed with fins that they throw off every unit of heat, so constructed with straight walls that it is impossible for ashes to gather and intercept the heat, so constructed that the upper section can expand independent of the lower, thus making it impossible in a Sunshine Furnace for any heat to loaf around the fire-pot, any heat to be nullified by ashes, any cracks to take place as a result of the shock following contraction or expansion. This fire-pot has greatest weight & longest life. The fire-pot naturally bears the brunt of a furnace's work, and it bears it just in proportion to its original strength. Because steel is more powerful than gray iron, we make Sunshine Furnace firepot of semi-steel. This is an exclusive feature, and indicates that in Sunshine Furnace firepot alone you find smooth-as-glass surface, secure maximum fire-resisting strength, can rely on only minimum disintegration and can be assured of long life. # JEFFRIES WILL NOT FIGHT SAYS JACK JOHNSON

JIM JEFFRIES WONT FIGHT

So Says John Johnson While in London on Auto Tour.

TOMMY BURNS SMALL, BUT VERY GAME

Black's Manager, George Little, Does Not Look at Things in Same Light as Boss.

(BY COVERPOINT.) Jack Johnson, champion of swat, beamed upon us for a brief space yesterday.

For more than two hours the gent who cuffed Tommy Burns, our erstwhile countryman, into the discard, looked in upon our favored city. The larger portion of this time was spent in exploring the internal workings of his racing machine, but as he was with us in the flesh, we felt honored.

Had Little to Say.

The Senegambian had little to say. He was as hard to interview as Carrie Nation, but even at that Jack did not appear as a fluent talker. He would answer all questions and then delve into the innermost recesses of his machine.

Wasn't Boastful.

Time was when Mr. Johnson was a rapid talker, and threw out his enormous chest and defied the whole world, and then some, with bad grammar. Success seems to have chastened the spirit of John, proving him to be mortal, and there was evident lack of boastfulness and braggadocio so characteristic of him in his earlier days.

Mr. Johnson is rather a big person. He is much over six feet in height and has shoulders broad enough to carry pianos. He is a well-built man, about as fine a piece of architecture as one could wish to see. There is strength and poise in every movement and he is fast for a big man.

Is Very Black.

As would be imagined, Mr. Johnson's complexion is somewhat dark. In fact, he makes the ace of spades look like a whited sepulchre. If Egyptian darkness has anything on Jack, we would prefer to remain in nights.

He has the thick lips, flat nose, and flat feet of his race, and a head that would do justice to the King of Zulu-land. It is large enough at the base, but it shoots up into space like a cathedral spire. It looks like the original bulge.

Doesn't Look the Butcher.

However, John's countenance is not unkindly, and he has nothing to denote a brief but bloody career. The patience of his race may be traced in his looks, but there is no doubt that the real man comes out when the stroke is pronounced. He is as hard a man to handle as can be located.

What Little Thinks.

He was confident of but one ending, and that was not favorable to the Boy Blacksmith at any time, and that his money was up, ready to cover Mr. Jeffries' tort.

About Jeffries.

"Jeffries will never fight me," said Jack. "That is my honest opinion." A majority of the rest of us were of the same opinion, but Jack insisted that it was because Jim was afraid of that the proposition; but we figured it out that both of these distinguished Americans were cheating on the whole proposition.

George Little, Johnson's manager, is of the opinion that the pair will fight.

This is merely to illustrate that even in the best families there is somebody who is not of one mind with the master. It looks as if they will fight," he told the interviewer. "Jim seems bent upon scrapping, so we are ready."

What Little Thinks.

He was confident of but one ending, and that was not favorable to the Boy Blacksmith at any time, and that his money was up, ready to cover Mr. Jeffries' tort.

A Little Hefty.

Johnson looks a trifle fat, and must weigh, as he says he does, 225 pounds. His eyes is not as clear as one would imagine a demon with his world's best title. There is not enough flesh to say that he could not get into fine condition in a short time.

The whole of Johnson's time was spent in a garage here, having his racing machine looked over.

His ambition at the present moment is to be a race driver, and he has a fast machine as has travelled down the Continued on Page Four.

Both contests were played under circumstances that made good baseball a thing out of the question. The first game, with "Joe" Wood in the box, managed to nose out Detroit with a Killian twirling, by a score of 2 to 1. A. B. R. H. O. A. E.

Philadelphia broke even in a double-header today, the first game, which was a victory for the locals, lasting eleven innings. The winning run was made by Elberfeld, who singled and reached the plate on Laporte's double. Both Quinn and Bailey did fine relief work in this game. In the second contest, which the visitors won, Ball was ineffective, and Brockett, who succeeded him, was poorly supported. The score:

St. Louis broke even in a double-header today, the first game, which was a victory for the locals, lasting eleven innings. The winning run was made by Elberfeld, who singled and reached the plate on Laporte's double. Both Quinn and Bailey did fine relief work in this game. The death occurred on Tuesday evening, the 3rd inst., at her residence, Ridout street, South London, of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Main, widow of Charles M. Main. Her many friends will receive the news of her death with great regret. Two daughters, Mrs. G. P. Collyer, of South London, and Mrs. J. C. Kennedy, of Vonda, Saskatchewan, and one son, Mr. G. E. Main, of this city, and Mr. G. E. Main, of Hamilton, survive their mother. The funeral, which will be private, is to be held on Thursday afternoon.

Q.—Did you see the stallion out? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did you think your father let him out? A.—Yes.

The Daughter's Evidence.

Miss Annie Jenkins was next called, and said she was at home last Friday morning.

Q.—Was there any dispute between your father and mother? A.—Yes, there was a quarrel.

Q.—About what? A.—Because father would not get groceries for the house.

Q.—Before or after breakfast? A.—Before.

Q.—Was there anything else she wanted? A.—A washing machine.

Q.—Who was angry? A.—Mother. He said he would go to town and get a washing machine.

Q.—Did he come back after going to the barn? A.—Yes, he came back and said he would fix up the fence and then go to town.

Q.—What did your mother say? A.—All right.

Q.—Did you see your father after he came back from fixing the fence? A.—Yes.

Q.—Where were you? A.—I was helping mother clean the milk cans.

Q.—Did anyone go for a castor oil bottle? A.—I went first and then he went.

Q.—Did you see him when he came back? A.—Yes.

Q.—Where did your mother go? A.—Round to the south of the barn to empty the whey at the pig pen.

Q.—Where did you go? A.—I stayed there till she came back. She told me to go to the house, and went around the barn with the last pail of whey.

Q.—Why were you asked to go to the house? A.—To get the dinner.

Q.—Did you see her any more? A.—Yes, she went around to the barnyard again with a pail of water.

Q.—Who would she get the water? A.—From the driveway pump.

Q.—Did you see your father? A.—No.

Q.—Do you know where he was? A.—I thought he was around there some place.

Q.—What did you do? A.—I went on getting the dinner until Louis called me.

Q.—How long before had you seen your father? A.—I didn't see him after he went to the drive shed.

Q.—Were your mother and father in the house after he came back from repairing the fence? A.—Yes; after he brought the team.

Q.—Had you been to the stable? A.—No.

Disagreed in Forenoon.

Q.—Did you know of any disagreement? A.—They disagreed in the forenoon.

Q.—Did you notice how the gate from the driveway to the yard was? A.—It was closed.

Q.—Did you see any eggshells? A.—Not a sign of one.

Q.—Had you ever seen them had there been any? A.—Undoubtedly.

Q.—Was anything there of hers? A.—Her hat with the crown knocked out was lying opposite the stall.

Q.—Was there anything else? A.—Her false teeth were lying on the sill of the barn right behind where she lay.

Q.—They must have been placed there? A.—They must have been, as they were two feet above the stable floor.

Q.—Were the clothes soiled? A.—They were pretty close under her. One hand was down beside her, and the other was lying on her breast.

Q.—Which boy came over for you? A.—Louis. He was crying so that when he came over we could not understand whether he said it was father or the horse killed mother. Annie came over and said the horse killed mother.

James Ardell.

Mrs. William Ardell on Friday morning last heard loud talk over at Jenkins' about 11:30. Witness could not understand the language, but could tell it was a man and could see him just outside the house, walking toward the barn. Witness had heard talking on several occasions and took it to be Mr. Jenkins' voice. Some time ago there was a difference between Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins and she went away for a time, said witness.

Q.—Had Mrs. Jenkins been at your house a few days before her death? A.—Yes.

William McNaughton.

Mr. William McNaughton stated that when he arrived at the stable Mr. Morrow was there, and Mrs. Jenkins' body was up in the stall. Mr. Jenkins did not say anything about how the accident occurred. Witness did not see any eggshells. There was a lot of chaff in Mrs. Jenkins' hair.

Mrs. Wm. Ardell.

Mrs. William Ardell said she went over to the Jenkins' home after Annie came over and told her mother was hurt. Mrs. Jenkins was not dead when she got there, Mrs. Jenkins had been over to her place on Tuesday last. About a year ago Mrs. Jenkins said her husband had scolded her. She said also that her husband hit her sometimes.

She said if he hit her to injure her there would be more about it. Some months ago she said her husband had shoved her over on a stone pile and injured her shoulder.

Mrs. Thomas Morrow.

Mrs. Thomas Morrow was also at the Jenkins' house on Friday. Louis Jenkins came over and said: "Ma is dead."

Witness asked him how it happened and she thought he said, "Pa did it."

Q.—Have you any doubt in your mind about that statement? A.—I couldn't be sure, as the boy was crying and I was excited.

Witness had heard loud talk about 11 o'clock. It was a man's voice, but witness could not hear what was said. Mr. Jenkins and Charlie were standing near the drive shed. Witness had heard similar sounds on other occasions.

Inquest Adjourned.

The coroner called Mrs. Sherbrooke who lives on a lot adjoining the Jenkins' home. She, however, was not in the hall and as it was close to midnight it was decided to adjourn until Wednesday night, Aug. 10. The medical evidence, which is of great importance, will be heard then.
