Geddes' Remarkable Rise.

The appointment of Sir Eric Geddes as first lord of the admiralty is another break with the tradition that a minister should be a member of one of the legislative houses. The new first lord is a railwayman, not a politician. Until recently he was in charge of the whole army transportation; then he became controller of the admiralty, with charge of all naval construction. Such a rapid rise to the position to which he is now appointed is quite remarkable, and another instance of how premier Lloyd George breaks with old political traditions.

Members of the "France's Day" committee in London expressed their growing confidence today that the proceeds from the French Flag Day campaign of last week, organized in the city and district, will amount to at least $10,000. Visitors in the city yesterday from St. Marys stated that $1,200 had been raised there on Saturday, and returns are still to be made from St. Thomas, Chatham and other places, where large orders of flags were sent.

Many Londoners, who were out of town at holiday resorts, manifested their interest in the French Red Cross campaign by making the most of the circumstances in which they were placed in order to raise money to enlarge London's contribution. One lady, who is spending the summer at Beaumaris, Muskoka, held a subscription tea, sending as the proceeds the sum of $34. Revs. Arthur Carlisle, Captain Jeakins and Canon Howard Favorites.

For the first time in many years in London, vacancies are occurring simultaneously in two of the leading Anglican churches, owing to the resignation of Rev. R. W. Norwood, who has accepted a call to a larger field in Philadelphia, and the superannuation of delphia, and the superannuation of Very Rev. Dean Evans Davis, who has been rector for more than forty years of St. James' Church, South London. Under the circumstances a lively interest is felt not only by the Anglican community, but the citizenship as a whole in regard to the choice of successors for two men who hear held. also is rife throughout the Dioce of Huron, many parishes dreading cov-etous eyes that may be cast in the di-rection of their own gifted clergymen. It is understood that the vacant in-cumbencies will be filled without going have been repeatedly mentioned in connection with the rectorship of the Cronyn Memorial Church, those of Capt. (Rev.) AJAX RUBBER AGREEMENT

Just What the City Guarantees and What the Company Is Bound To Do

What the Company Undertakes:

The Company agrees to purchase a site in the City, to erect a factory thereon, to equip it with the machinery and manufacturing accessories at a cost of at least $300,000.00 to build 900 automobile tires daily; to employ at least 250 hands per day, practically all of whom will be men (tire building is too heavy work for women), and to pay a minimum of $250,000.00 annually in wages.

While 250 employees is the number named in the proposed bylaw, the company is planning to begin operations with 400 men or more. This number will be necessary to enable the company to fill the contracts it has at present

What the City Undertakes:

The City agrees to indorse the bonds of the Company to the extent of $450,000.00, or such other less amount as the Company may expend in the purchase of the said site, plant and manufacturing accessories. The City does not loan the Company a dollar—it simply lends its indorsement.

How the City Is Protected:

The City is given complete security for its guarantee. The Principal of the bonds is guaranteed by the deposit of cash or securities (deposited with a Trust Company approved of by the City) in sufficient amount to pay, with accumulated interest, the face value of the bonds at maturity. These securities may be war bonds or City of London debentures, if same are available, but in any event they must be securities in which the Ontario Government authorizes the investment of trust funds. The City is therefore absolutely protected by this means, as far as the Principal of the indorsed bonds, as they mature, is concerned.

The interest on the indorsed bonds is guaranteed by a first mortgage on the entire plant and other assets of the Company.

The City's indorsement is not given until the Company's plant is erected, equipped and paid for, and the cash or securities deposited with the Trust Company.

Why the Guarantee Is Asked:

The Ajax Company will buy its own factory site, and pay for all the water, power and light it requires. The guaranteeing of the bonds does not affect the city's bor= rowing power, but overcomes for the Company the difficulty of floating industrial securities in the present unsettled condition of the money market due to the war.

SAVE THE CHILDREN BY IMPROVING OF THEIR SURROUNDINGS

Dr. Weir Offers Suggestion to Rotary Club.

LESS WORK, BETTER PAY

Establishment of Schools of Domestic Economy and Recreation Parks Urged.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: I see from a report in your paper that members of the Rotary Club intend to interest themselves in the welfare of the children of this city.

I am very glad to learn of their good intentions, and lest their efforts may to some extent be misdirected and wasted, I feel it to be my duty to offer a few suggestions. I have had upwards to fifteen years' experience in dealing with children and their parents. In that time I have visited a great many homes and have observed their social conditions and surroundings.

I have studied with an open and symathetic mind the causes and conditions of these evils I have had to deal with, and I am forced to the conclusion with, and I am forced to the conclusion that low wages, excessive hours of labor, improper and insufficient food and clothing, ill-ventilated and insanitary dwellings, the result of poverty, sickness and misfortune, as well as vice and ignorance, are the greatest with which the children have to contend. It is all very well for Sir Adam Beck to claim great results from the preventorium, but let me say that in my opinion it is wrongly named. Children are not sent there antil they are already tubercular. After a few months of good feeding, open exercises and sleeping in well ventilated rooms they improve, but they are only "symptomatically cured."

Proper Care Needed.

improve, but they are only "symptomatically curred."

Proper Care Needed.

The germs are still latent in their bodies. I have nothing to say against the preventorium, but it is wholly inadequate to solve the problem. It simply attempts to pick the children up whom society has knocked down, while women are forced to work for inadequate wages to make their employers rich, while children and young girls are compelled to work long hours in poorly ventilated factories, while the money that ought to be spent for solid food, milk, eggs, butter, meat, etc., is expended for confectionery and unnutritious articles of diet. As long as children have to go with wet feet, poorly clad, improperly protected, cold and damp, they will be it subjects for attacks by the germ of tuberculosis or some equally destructive enemy of the race.

A dozen sanatoriums and preventori-some equally destructive enemy of the race.

A dozen sanatoriums and preventoriums would not make strong healthy men and women of children so neglected. After these children leave the preventorium they go back to the same conditions that brought on their trouble, only to fall victims later on to the same complaint.

How Club May Help.

Now, if the Rotary Club wants to help the children of our city, let them move to cheapen food, increase wages, construct schools of domestic economy and hygiene, where 'the science of cooking, feeding, clothing and caring for children may be taught to the mothers of the boys and girls. Try to bring about shorter hours of labor so poor ones can have a little daylight with their families, establish parks, provided with music, for recreation in different parts of the city, where each evening the town mothers and their families could gather for a little diversion without expense, and thus make lite worth living.

These are some of the things that I think should be attended to as soon as possible. There are many other equally important questions, such as the care and feeding of infants, medical inspection of children under and over school 9ge, and proper provision for ldren under and over l age, and proper provision treatment when necessary, sion of the breakfasts for sche provision of the breakfasts for school-children, the Institution of open air schools and provision for the instruc-tion of backward and mentally deficient children.

These matters are being freely discussed and handled in Great Britain and the colonies, and if we wish to keep pace with them and not be behind the times we must do something more than indulge in idle boasting and resolving.

Remember, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

If, Mr. Editor, these few random thoughts should excite discussion and lead others to offer further suggestions, I will be pleased and amply rewarded.

Alleged Profits of The William Davies Company in 1916 on Bacon, as Indicated by Department of Labor to be Five Cents per Pound, Untrue: Actual Profits Two-Thirds of a Cent Per Pound

THE statement issued by the Department of Labor concerning the business of The William Davies Company Limited has been given widespread circulation throughout the country and provoked public unrest.

Whatever the technical wording of the report was, the effect has been that the newspapers have published that "the profits on Bacon alone" of this Company "for 1916" were about "five millions of dollars." This interpretation of the official report is not surprising in view of certain statements that the Commissioner of the Cost of Living makes. The Commissioner is reported as saying that "There were two individual cases of profiteering in 1916 and that had these cases occurred since the passage of the cost of living Order-In-Council, he would consider it his duty to recommend that the facts be laid before the Attorney-General for consideration as to their criminality." The situation created by such erroneous and damaging statements is serious as emanating from a Government official, from whom one looks for not only accurate statements but correct conclusions.

The William Davies Company, being a private concern, has followed the practice of all private corporations, except when it made a bond issue in 1911, in that it has not published reports of its assets and liabilities or profit and loss. The present circumstance, however, in which a Government Official has led the public to salse conclusions, makes it advisable for this Company, for both the public interest and its own interest, to publish particulars of its business as well as point out the error of the statement of the Government Official.

For the last fiscal year ending March 27th, 1917, The William Davies Company bought and killed 1,043,000 head of Live Stock (Cattle, Hogs and Sheep). This, plus purchases of outside Meats, produced 160,000,000 pounds of Meats. The Company handled 6,550,000 pounds of Butter and Cheese, 5,650,000 dozens of Eggs, and manufactured 26,500,000 tins of Canned Goods. The net profits on these were .68 cents (or two-thirds of a cent) per pound on meats, 1.04 cents on Butter and Cheese, 1.04 cents per dozen on Eggs, and .47 cents (or slightly less than one-half a cent) per tin on Canned Goods. These profits include profits on all By-Products derived from these accounts.

During the year the Company served at its retail stores 7,500,000 customers, the average purchase of each customer was 35c, and the net profit upon each sale was 5-8 of 1 cent. The turnover of the Company from all its operations for the last fiscal year ending March 27th, 1917, was $40,000,000. The net percentage of profit upon this turnover, after deducting war tax, was 1.69 per cent., or including war tax 3.45 per cent.

The William Davies Company has assets of $13,385,000, of which $3,865,000 is tied up in fixed investments. To provide the necessary facilities for the increased volume of business the Company expended $750,000 in buildings and equipment during the year. Companies of other character present no more reasonable statement of profit and loss based upon the investments made in the business.

The William Davies Company offered to the Imperial authorities, as well as to the War Office Service (which represents the Imperial authorities in Canada) to place the output of its Factory with respect to Bacon supplies, Canned Beef and Pork and Beans at the service of the authorities, on the basis of cost plus an agreed percentage. These offers were successively declined as the authorities evidently desired to purchase in the open market, and on this basis The William Davies Company has secured War Office business by open competition with the world.

Respecting the Report of the Commissioner on the Cost of Living:-

Last Winter the Commissioner, under authority of Order-in-Council, required packers to submit statements under oath for some years back and up to December 1st, 1916, of incoming stocks of Meats and the cost of such, as well as statements of outgoing product and the selling value. This Company represented in writing at the time that the information as specifically required was not in accordance with Packing House Accounting methods, and invited the Commissioner to send an Officer to the Head Office of the Company to examine the books for any information desired, and to secure a viewpoint as to the best way of collecting data which would be of use to the Government. This offer was declined, and there was nothing to do but fill in the information required as literally as we could determine it. For example, there was no recognition of the fact that a raw product may enter a factory under a specific classification and leave the factory as a finished product under some other classification.

We submitted a series of accurate figures based upon our interpretation of the official requirements which made no provision for charges of any description other than incoming freight and unloading charges to be included in the cost or to be deducted from the selling price. There was nothing in the report which could be read so as to determine a profit and loss statement. The very fact that with only a statement based upon cost of raw products and value of sales in Great Britain a Government Official has deduced "Large margins," "Profiteering" and "Criminality" if it had occurred since the passage of a recent Act. shows too dangerous a trifling and incapacity to be permitted to deal with any important situation. The statements of this Company have been treated by the author of this report as if the outgoing product was identical with the incoming product, and from the series of reports he has singled out two items-the Bacon and Egg reports -and from them deduced an erroneous "margin" which the newspapers have interpreted as "profit." The author of the inquiry shows a strange lack of even a fundamental knowledge of simple bookkeeping and a dangerous inability to co-ordinate figures. The following are specific. and outstanding errors in the report:

The principal item that is causing excitement deals with cold storage Bacon. The term "coldstorage" is not defined, and the public is allowed to make its own definitions. As all Bacon in a packing house is under refrigeration it is really all cold-storage, and therefore this Company's figures of cold-storage Bacon represent the complete quantity of Bacon handled in its entire Plant, whether in freezers or in process of cure for immediate shipment. That some Companies interpreted cold-storage product as "freezer" product only is evidenced by the smallness or entire lack of figures on the Bacon list for some Plants, indicating that many Firms did not submit statements of their complete stocks, as did this Company. An Official of this Company pointed out this cold-storage distinction to Mr. O'Connor and Miss McKenna in Ottawa a few weeks ago, and the failure to make the distinction after having had it pointed out evidences lack of desire for accuracy of the real information desired.

It is true The William Davies Company, in 1916, exported 97,791,000 pounds of Bacon, but we do not know how the margin of 5.05 cents per pound is arrived at by Mr. O'Connor, as there were no figures to justify such a conclusion. The probabilities are that the margin is arrived at by taking the average cost per pound of incoming product from the average selling price per pound of outgoing product. This may be a rough way of estimating the gross margin when dealing with small figures, but when dealing with figures the size that Mr. O'Connor has to deal with, a very small fraction of a cent per pound of error makes a very important difference in the total, and one must be careful to make sure that the outgoing product is the same finished merchandise of the incoming product reported on.

Allowing it to pass, however, as a rough estimate, we wish to point out-(first)-the inquiry of the Commissioner allowed only for incoming freight and unloading charges, and made no provision whatsoever for operating charges of any kind, such as labor, curing materials, refrigeration, et cetera. Such actual charges on the 97,-791,000 pounds exported were $1,162,000-or 1.2 cents per pound. This amount covered all charges up to the point of placing the Bacon on cars f.o.b. packing-house. In addition to this was the actual cost to land and sell this 97,791,000 pounds in England after leaving the packing house, which involved charges of 2.9 cents per pound-or $2,836,000. This 2.9 cents per pound included inland and ocean freight, landing charges, war and marine insurance, cables, and selling commission to agents. The ocean freight and war risk alone would make up 2.4 cents of the charge of 2.9 cents per pound. This 1.2 cents, plus 2.9 cents-a +otal of 4.1 cents-must be deducted from Mr. O'Connor's margin of 5.05 cents per pound, leaving a margin of .95 cents, or slightly less than a cent per pound, which still has to be reduced because of the error of premises and because of further factors which have to be considered to determine net profits.

It is quite evident some of the other packers did not show selling values in the country in which the goods were sold-a proceeding quite proper, as the forms submitted to be filled in were indefinite and ambiguous, thus permitting without charge of evasion a variety of interpretation as to the information required. It is thus possible that of all the figures submitted by the different packers that no two sets of costs and sales prices are determined at the same common point. It is this difference of interpretation of what was required that accounts for the difference of the alleged "margin" made by the different companies. Common conclusions, however, have been drawn by the author of the report from varying bases of premises.

The figures of the Egg business were submitted on the same basis as Bacon, and similar deductions must be made.

(Second)-The above margin is further reduced in that the author of this inquiry singled out the Bacon figures as an item in which the selling price shows an alleged improper advance over cost, but he did not give us credit for the statements of other products, of which figures were submitted, the selling prices of which were under cost. The reason of this was that through failure to inquire the Department entirely overlooked the fact that product may come in as pork and, through the process of manufacture, go out as Bacon, or, in another instance, enter the factory as beef and go out in the form of canned meats; for example: much of the product which came in as pork, and which was entered on the pork sheet submitted to the Commissioner-about which he makes no mention-was cured and left the factory in the form of Bacon, and was, therefore, entered on the outgoing side of the Bacon sheet-the result is that the Bacon sales are increased by this amount over the incoming stocks of Bacon, and, likewise, the sheet showing sales of pork is reduced by the amount that went out in the form of Bacon. If the Department takes one set of figures that show favorable to the Company they should take another set of figures that show unfavorable, as the principle in either case is the same, and failure to do so looks as if the author of the report was exercising more enthusiasm than sound judgment in his investigations.

(Third)—It is queried in the report, that "if the margin of 3.47 cents," alleged to-have been made in 1915, "was satisfactory, why was it necessary to show increased margin in 1916?" Assuming again for the moment the soundness of the premises in asking such a question based on an erroneous "margin," it will be found that the increased margin is chiefly absorbed in increased ocean freight rates and war risk insurance in 1916, of which apparently the author of the report was in ignorance.

The Company does not challenge either the legal or moral right of the Government to investigate business enterprises when public interest directs such an investigation should be made. If an investigation of the packing and meat business is ordered, the Company will place at the disposal of the Government not only the data it would be required to supply under Orderin-Council directing that inquiry be made, but will place the experience of its officers at the disposal of the investigating committee, if it is considered they can render any service which will be of value. The Company has not now-nor at any time during the fifty years of its operation-anything to conceal in method or practice of carrying on its business. It does, however, claim the right to conduct its export business without abusive comment from Government civil servants-especially when the conclusions drawn from the data asked for are improper and false.

One of Canada's chief export industries is the packing business. It is essential to the live stock industry, and, along with other export industries, it maintains the financial stability of this country and should, providing it is on a sound basis, receive encouragement and not slanderous abuse. In view of the publicity given to the report of the Commissioner on the cost of living, the Company demands the same publicity in having an official Government investigation of this report to determine the truthfulness or untruthfulness of its conclusions. We do not seek public consideration as a company, but we do say that untruthful official statements, or statements the effect of which is to create an untruh, adversely affect the live stock industry of this country, which is so valuable and essential a wealth-producing power and, in the long run, are harmful to the very people that the statement seeks to benefit.

If the passing out of existence of a corporation such as The William Davies Company, or if nationalization of packing houses would materially and permanently reduce food prices, then in view of the present world tragedy it ought to be consummated without delay. The fact of the matter is, however, that with millions of people in Europe turning from producers into consumers because of war, and the tremendous destruction of food products incident to war, there is no remedy for the high prices of food while such conditions last, except the remedy Long before there was talk of a Food Controller in the United States or Canada The William Davies Company urged the Government at Ottawa, in writing, to appoint a Food Controller with full power to do what he saw fit, as we realized at that time the upward tendency in the price of food commodities unless checked by official effort. At the most a great deal cannot be done in reducing food prices while currency is inflated and until the scale of prices of all kinds of commodities declines also. What can be done can only be done by a Food Controller. We wish to point out that nothing at all can be accomplished unless the data secured are accurately and clearly made and the deductions therefrom sound. Only public harm arises from dangerous incompetency in the haphazard collection and careless use of important figures.

As far as The William Davies Company is concerned this terminates all public statements of the Company, and it will pay no more attention to speculative and haphazard statements made either by newspapers or civil servants. The only further statement that will be made will be at an official investigation.

A charming set was observed the other morning at a seaside resort. A red and white striped gingham dress, toned down by a deep white skirt border and collars and cuffs on the blouse, was marked up with the underbrim of the large hat and parasol. The stripes were half an inch and about two inches apart, so the effect was not as daring as it possibly sounds. Red flaunts itself quite conspicuously in many summer sets, and when one observes it combined with black a real poster effect is achieved. A black sweater accompanded a red linen frock and a black raffia hat lined with red crepe de chine also served to form the scarlet dalsies with black and orange centres. Perhaps the wearer was a Belgian sympathizer.

Save on Tobacco.

Dear Miss Grey.—I am another interested reader of the letters in your department. I would like to ask what you think of young ladies going along the road puffing away at cigarettes. I suppose they have as much right to do so as a man, but, all the same, it was a sight I didn't care for.

By the way, in the matter of saving in war time, I am wondering why some of the men never think of saving their tobacco money for something more useful. Besides, the ground which grows tobacco could be used to grow food. No one can say tobacco is a necessity—it is a luxury, and according to some medical men, is positively injurious to the health.

YOUNGSTERS MAKING CARDS FEARED CLUB

Huggins and Rickey Work Wonders With St. Louis Team.

It's a sprightly aggregation of Cardinals that is running third in the National League at present. The St. Louiseans may not win the pennant, but certainly credit is due to Miller Huggins for the improvement he has wrought in a club which few believed would withstand the pace of first-division teams after the first spring flash.

If the Cardinals play as well in the days that lie ahead as they have thus far they should have no difficulty in maintaining their present status. Defensively they have produced as fine a game as any team in the circuit. There is the earnestness and determination of youth in the Cardinals of today. Huggins has instilled into his array a spirit that knows no master. It is playing to win, first, last and all the time.

The Cardinals have only a few veterans now. With the passing of Bob Bescher, who has been shipped to the American Association, there are left only Tommy Long, Mike Gonzales, Jack Miller and one or two others. Huggins is combing the minor leagues for promising young players. Already he has converted Hornsby into a great infielder, and now he is putting Douglas Blair, recently with the Pirates, through a course of instruction. Baird promises to become just as efficient an infielder as the youthful Texan. His batting and play afield recently have been factors in the success of the team.

Weak at Bat.

The Cardinals are not setting the world on fire with their bats. They rank seventh in club batting, but daily come new signs of improvement. The Cards have only two men batting in the 300 class. Cruise, with 352, and Hornsby, with 319. But the next highest is Jack Smith, with only 288.

Despite the batting deficiency, however, the Cardinals have been able to extract more distance out of their few hits than some of the clubs that have been batting at a rapid clip. The Cincinnati Reds, for instance, are leading the National League in batting, yet they have not yet learned the knack of inserting hits when needed most, nor has their base-running been judicious. It is estimated the Reds have lost more scoring chances because of fallure to deliver a hit with men on bases than any other club in the league.

On the face of the club averages the Cardinals are producing a much better brand of play than any of the other western clubs. They have a margin over the Reds, in fourth place, and unless they sudden reversal in mann, the Socialist leader, demands, however, that Herr Michaelis immediately and unequivocally make clear his attitude on the Prussian franchise reform and the peace formula.

The Lokal Anzeiger also reckons with a deferred presentation of the chancellor's program and instances the question of parliamentizing the Government as one of the problems Herr Michaelis will avoid, because it cannot be approached until after exhaustive discussion by the federated governments. If appears unnecessary for Chancellor Michaelis to burn his fingers with this question at all, because the Catholic Centre Party has already changed sides and explains in an inspired article that the Clerical party interpretation of parliamentarism is merely the bringing of the Government and parliament into intimate touch—not the introduction of a parliamentary regime to which the centre is now as always opposed. The centre merely wishes to change the system that at present hinders a member of parliament from entering the Government. The National Liberals have also adopted a "closer touch" theory.

market today, and prices practically remained unchanged. The crop outlook is not altogether promising, the result of the excess rains being problematical. Hay is three weeks behind time this year, and with the continuation of rainfalls, it will likely be some time before hay is on the market in large quantities. Farmers are loath to begin cutting before dry, warm weather makes an appearance, and from present indications hay and oats will be cut at the same time. If the rains continue with the prevalence of last week the moisture will play havoc with crops. Hay has aiready become heavy and soggy as a result of the wet, and clover is in such a condition that even a week of continuous dry weather will not be sufficient atonement for the damage done it by the weatherman. mained unchanged. hension that when the sphinx finally becomes bad within a short time, unless preaks silence he will speak with a decided pro-German accent.

Herr Michaelis' putting forward of Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Gen. Ludendorff to discuss German peace conditions with members of the Reichstag, his failure to consult parliamentary leaders on prospective new an-conditions with members of the Reichstag, his failure to consult parliamentary leaders on prospective new appointments to the Imperial Prussian cabinet, his antecedents' previous environment, and openly avowed satisfaction of the conservative National Liberal party men with the change in chancellors, contribute as Tuesday's German newspapers show to the marked uneasy feeling in Liberal and Socialist circles on what the chancellor's maiden speech Thursday will show.

Want Peace Formula.

The speech is not expected to go exhaustively into questions of reform or peace, as the time is too short for Chancellor Michaelis to elaborate a definite program. The Socialist agency reports that in all probability he will ask six weeks' grace to inform himself, and work out a detailed policy. The agency undoubtedly speaking for Herr Scheidemann, the Socialist leader, demands, however, that Herr Michaelis immediately and unequivocally make clear his attitude on the Prussian franchise re stag, his failure to consult parliamentally.

FLORENCE INAUGURATES "OLD GIRLS" REUNION

Fifteen Ladies Gather at Home of Mrs. Elllott to Renew Acquaintances.

FLORENCE, July 17.—A unique gathering was held at the home of Mrs. James Elliott in the form of a "girls' reunion" of those who were once and now are residents of Florence. The entire party of fifteen of these ladies arrived by auto at the home of their hostess at 11 o'clock, and began to renew old acquaintances. At 12 o'clock a delightful fowl dinner was partaken of in the spacious dining-room.

At the close of dinner the ladies prepared to have a pleasant afternoon, both by playing games and relating reminiscences. At 6 o'clock a dainty strawberry tea was served, after which the guests departed for home.

Those present were: Mrs. John W. Young and Mrs. Robert Greenfield of Detroit, Mrs. D. Wright and Mrs. H. G. Webster of Chatham, Mrs. Kribbs and Miss Annie Graham of Bothwell, Mrs. A. McDowell of Thamesville, Mrs. McCrary, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Beatty, Miss Helen Unsworth, Miss Nerva Drew and Miss Mame Webster of Florence.

overseas Vote a Problem.

In an election it was impossible to say what proportions of the 300,000 Canadians overseas would be able to have the opportunity of casting their votes. That would depend upon the character of the field operations at the time. It would be unfortunate if any of the men at the front were denied the right to their say on the parliamentary representation of the country they were serving.

He feared that the proposal would have to be abandoned unless extension were agreed to.

Britain and New Zealand furnished precedents for the granting of extension in Canada. In Australia disturbed political conditions had made extension impossible. Every self-governing nation

The events of the day following this request made it clear that there will be no extension, but what there is likely to be is dissolution of Parliament within a few days, and election as soon as it can be brought on.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared against the extension resolution. Only 6 of the 26 conscription Liberals voted for extension. The Government carried the resolution by the majority of 20. The vote, combined with the declaration of the prime minister, makes election certain.

In asking for extension of the term of Parliament, the prime minister stated that he would not pass the request on to the British House for enactment unless the Canadian House was practically unanimous for extension.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared against the extension is were approaching that figure. In the past two months they had totalled 12, 600. In dealing with the extension it was necessary to realize that the foundations of civilization were in danger.

sir Sam Hugnes' correspondence and for the blood of Canadian soldiers killed through the failure of the Ross rifie. He, therefore, was opposed to extension of the power of the Government.

This means an election, and Laurier's speech sounds like the opening of the campaign.

Sir Wilfrid alleged he stood upon the constitution, but he drew his constitution from Britain, which had extended the term of Parliament more than once. The issue before the Canadian people should be, "Win the war," but Sir Wilfrid desired to make it, "Win the elections." Those who were doing their best office to win the war were to be forced into the turmoil of election that certain selfish ambitions might be satisfied. We are going to have election." said Dr. Clark, "The leader of the Opposition has got his work in early; he constitutes of the decision."

The premier said a year ago.

union government, from which all politics would be eliminated. From the outbreak of the war there had developed problems that required handling by men with but a single eye to the national interest, and today these problems were larger and more numerous than ever."

"Had it been possible to form a union government, a national government, or any other kind of government.—I care not what you call it—of the best brains of Canadian men, chosen not from one party or the other, but chosen purely in the interest of Canada and war winning without regard to party. I would be its sincerest supporter, but regretfully, and, I fear, irrevocably I am led to believe that in view of the different and conflicting elements on both sides of this House of Commons a national or union government at this time is not possible."

Unlon Government Impossible.

Unlon Government Impossible. The announcement impossible.

The announcement that union government was off was received with profound interest by the House.

"One of the reasons that it is not possible," continued Mr. Pardee, "brings us back to the proposals before the House. The Government has overstayed the time allotted to it by the people. The mandate of 1911 has expired. "Conditions are not what they were the pronouncement of the people. So far as this House of Commons is concerned there are now 43 vacancies, one-fifth of Canada is unrepresented.
