The sentiment of the special committee appointed to dear with the matter of the proposed Strathroy hospital appears to be generally in favor of the erection of such a building, and Strathroy's chances appear very bright This committee, which is composed of A. K. Hodgins, chairman; J. A. Mc-Gugan, secretary; Warden Campbell, George Innes, F. W. Atkinson, and injury fled terror-stricken from their John McFarlane, met last night for the purpose of conferring with a deputation from Strathroy on the matter. This deputation was composed of Mayor Pope, Reeve Atkinson and Deputy Reeve Buttery.

After meeting the deputation, the committee retired behind closed doors. The matter was discussed, but no decision was arrived at, and the committee adjourned to meet at the call The Proposition.

The proposition as presented by the damage was done in this immediate Strathroy representatives was that the county council subscribe $15,000 toward the hospital, while Strathroy would add $12,000 left by bequest. Lord Kitchener was mentioned for the post, but he signified his disinclination to accept it because he himself had made the viceroyship of subordinate military importance, and would have had to undergo the emparrassment of reversing himself had

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Advertiser: Would you give me space for my city council are to meet this week to court house and county buildings and consider the improving of the heat- offices and see that they are kept clean. ing and ventilation of the courthouse If the county council see fit to carry and jail, and also to consider the question of new buildings. In view of a new building, would it not be wise for the county and city to build a furnace in one of the outside yards and heat all the buildings, courthouse jail, county buildings, and registry of fice. I think there would be a saving in cost and the buildings would be much easier kept clean. With regard to new court buildings, I hope the county and city will keep in view the erection | We want all sufferers to test Gin Pills, of a suitable structure on the old site, that will be a credit to both the county and city.

Now a word as to keeping the courthouse clean. The janitor should give his whole time to cleaning and looking after the building and. offices. pay him $500, free house, fuel and light sample, because we think your exper—which is worth $200 more. The coun-lence will be exactly like that of Mr. ty can get men both in the county and city who whould be willing to take the of janitor, and attend to the work. I never could see why the county council should appoint the janitor to be high constable, paying him $200. It is impossible for him to attend to both positions, and I submit it is not using the other county constable fair. Then he has possession of the fail garden.

Freight Rate Injunction. Washington, June 6. - President E. P. Ripley, of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe, President F. A. Delane, of the Wabash, President S. M. Fellon, of the Chicago and Great Western, and cago and Northwestern, arrived here today from Chicago, to confer with President Taft this afternoon regarding the federal injunction suit against the Western Traffic Association's inreased freight rates.

Quite a number of senators and representatives in Congress saw the President today, and it is understood that most of them talked with him concerning the railroad situation. In administration circles today seemed to be the concensus of opinion that the conference this afternoon would not result in a change in the administration policy.

AFTER POLO CUP.

London, June 6.—At a meeting today the committee of the Hurlingham Polo Club definitely decided to challenge this year for the International Cup, now in the possession of the Meadowbrook Club. The team to be sent to the United States ill consist of the twin brothers, R. and Grenfell, the Earl of Rocksavage and Lord Wodehouse.

The Duke of Roxburghe is lending his stable of ponies to Lord Wodehouse, and the ponies will be shipped about July 10. Captain E. B. Miller will accompany the team in place of Captain Lloyd, whose attempt to organize a challenging four failed.

The expeditions are the outcome of a commission which three years ago inquired into this question and reported that navigation ound the northern coasts of Siberia would be easy, provided greater knowledge could be acquired of the ocean eastward of the Yenesei River. Between Norway and the Taimyr peninsula the waterway is already well known. So also is the stretch from the Lena to the Behring Strait, is kept comparatively by the warm waters of the Siberian duct the medical inspection, report on rivers. What is now to be thoroughly examined is the part between the Taimyr peninsula and the Lena delta. It is hardly likely that the surwill establish the practicability navigation of the Arctic shores of Siberia, and not a few of them have come to grief or have been unable to penetrate beyond the Kara sea. In my event, the route could be open only for a few months in summer, and is, therefore, never likely to be of much practical use to everyday commerce.

TECUMSEH.

The finding of what are alleged to be the remains of Tecumseh in negiected grave on Ste. Anne's Island revives the memory of the most valiant and faithful Indian ally England ever had. He was chief or chief-conjoint of the Shawanese, a tribe originally Virginian stock, but which, owing eo the aggression of American colonists, driven back from the seathe territory of Michigan, under Britshowed remarkable qualof education, in the European acceptation of the term, he had learned to control himself. despised plunder and abjured the use of "fire-water." His conduct on the battlefield was only exceeded by his This combination of head and hand won the hearts warriors of many other Indian nahe appeased all dissensions, reconciled of Lord Ripon, of 1895, and said: all interests and united all minds in one common alliance against the Americans, or "Long Knives," as the Indians called them. He had little respect for the superstitions of his people, and "totums" and genealogies

Tecumseh first met Brock a few days before the capture of Detroit, and was present at the surrender. crossing the river Brock from the chief topographical sought information. Tecumseh threw himself on the ground, took a sheet of bark, and with a knife traced a map of the country-its woods, rivers, roads and morasses, which the best officer in the army could not have surpassed. He has been described as about five feet ten inches in height, with a well-knit, active figure, and the eye of a hawk. He was dignified when composed, and his features indicated a lofty spirit. He adhered with stern fidelity to the

The great chief, while an ardent admirer of Brock, evidently mistrusted Proctor. He opposed the British rethe Detroit River in and with Proctor to stand his ground. In parting from that general on the eve of the battle of the Thames Tecumseh said: "Father, have a big heart." The injunction was lost on Proctor. The chief withdrew to direct his own people in a swamp on the left of the battlefield.

The story of the fight in which Tecumseh fell is thus told: Proctor and his force had retreated, and Col. Johnston, in command of the American left division, and twenty of his men dedian fire. Nineteen of the twenty-one fell, but the Indians, elated by their success, sprang from their covert and met, on even ground, a portion of the rifles who had been dismounted and Johnston, himself wounded in four shot. At the same moment his horse, also wounded, stumbled forward, but did not throw his rider. Johnston saw the chief rush at him with upraised tomahawk, and levelled his pistol and being borne almost lifeless from the

Since Confederation, Canada has been always represented in treaty negotiations in matters affecting this country, but the Canadian negotiators played a subordinate part until 1892. In that year the Dominion Government asked the Imperial authorities to empower Sir Charles Tupper to proceed to Paris, and, acting in conjunction with the British ambassador, negotiate with the French Government on certain tariff questions. The suggestion are picked from The Advertiser withwas submitted to the ambassador, Lord out the context which would have Dufferin, and he fell in with it, merely proposing that the late Sir Josephr Crowe, one of the commercial attaches, should be associated with him tion of the artesian well scheme. Just Until Thursday to Order a Ladies' Man-Tailored Suit at $20

Fitted and Made to Measure in Our Ladies' Tailoring Department

After Thursday, June 9th, it will be too late to order a Man-Tailored Suit at $20.00. This price which has been in force for a short time will be withdrawn on that date. The reduction in price is so marked that a great many have taken advantage of it, and many more will wish to do so before the termination of the offer. So we make positive announcement that Thursday will be the last of the $20.00 Suit offer.

A splendid choice of Ladies' Fashionable Suitings and Tailoring Cloths in black and all wanted colors is offered, samples of which are on view in the Dress Goods Section. The $20.00 price includes all linings, buttons, sewings, haircloth, canvas, making and goods. These Suits will be tailored exclusively to your order, fitted and guaranteed, designed and cut $20

Our prices for same Suits in the regular way would be $25.00 to $35.00, so you can estimate the saving in ordering now. Our best work is put into them, and a handsome Suit is assured. Up till Thursday at 6 p.m. orders will be taken at the $20.00 price.

Despite her brave resolve to discrepand Rosamund Laing's unbelievable disregard Rosamund Laing's unbelievable story, a whole legion of doubts and ter-rors now trooped in on her. She asked herself how she could endure to live in the same house as her rival, for five long days, until Arthur's answer came. Would he receive the two letters by the same post? Could there be any real foundation for her rival's boast? The thought made her sick at heart. Fighting down her dread, she turned to Thring hoping to find a momentary oblivion in listening to his cheerful nonsense.

Why Have an Overheated Kitchen in Summer?

When the sultry days come and the coal range makes the kitchen almost unbearable and cooking a dreaded task, put out the range fire and try the newest method of cooking in hot weather—use a

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

What a contrast! The kitchen no longer is stifling hot, the work is now done with comfort, and the housewife is not worn out with the heat.

She saves her strength, keeps her health and is better able to enjoy the summer.

The New Perfection does everything that any other stove can do-all the family cooking, baking, washing and ironing. No smoke, no dust, no odor. Heat is applied directly and not wasted. A turn, and the flame is out.

The New Perfection stove has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for the coffee pot or saucepans, and nickeled towel racks.

It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove very attractive and invites cleanliness. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners: the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet. Every dealer everywhere; if not at yours, write for Descriptive Circular to the nearest agency of the

THIS IS THE CAGE THAT HELPS THE BATTING EYES

"MATTY" McINTYRE PRACTICING BEFORE TIGERS' BATTING CAGE.

Batting cages first introduced in big league circles by Hughey Jennings, are becoming more popular. Other managers have learned to their sorrow that the Tigers almost always clout the ball hard and timely, and Jennings has said the batting cage was, in his opinion, the cause of the splendid hitting of the members of his team. As will be seen in the accompanying picture, the cage is simply a wire network on wheels, which can be set up in any part of the field. No catcher is needed, and in this Jennings says the cage increases its value, as it does away with the danger of a catcher being injured in practice. Then every man on the team can take his turn at the bat, and the pitchers can use all the speed and curves they want, as no matter how wild a pitcher may be, it is not probable he would fail to land his ball in a net offering as large a target as the closed end of the cage. It also does away with the danger of a foul tip getting away and hitting someone in the stands. Jim McGuire has ordered one of the cages for his Naps, and college players have been using them for years. For teams in need of batting practice the cages appear to be just what is needed.

GLASGOW, June 6.—Edward Watson & Hay is coming in freely this week on the local market. Yesterday 25 loads were brought in and today about 20. The ground is too wet to allow the farmers for the farmers of them.

tions were from $12 to $14.50 a ton, with the majority going around $14 a ton. Choice wheat straw is now commanding a high figure. Three loads were delivered this morning for $7.50 a ton.

Several Toads of oats were sold at prices much the same as yesterday. Oats have been suffering a decline and are now quoted at $1.08 to $1.17 a cwt.

Very little wheat is being offered and the price is firm at 90c a bushel.

Big Meat Supply.

There was a big supply of meat brought in this morning, but it was almost entirely confined to one kind and the butchers were able to get very little else but veal. In consequence, the price declined somewhat. Sales were made from $1 to $10 a cwt.

The supply of dressed pork was fairly good and a slight slump took place. While five flogs flave been demonsted almost the same, and a further drop may be looked for. Last week's figures were firm at 12 50 per cwt. A number of loads sold or $12 a cwt. this morning. Quotations are from $12 to $12 50.

Potatoes are Scarce.

Potatoes are very scarce and the price is correspondingly high. The majority of farmers have practically none for sale, while those who have carefully husbanded their stock through the winter are reaping the benefit of their fore-

COUNCIL RUSHES WITH NEW WORK

All Sorts of Local Improvements Were Authorized at Meeting Last Night.

ALD. RICHTER PROTESTS

Said the City Should Be Allowed to Catch Its Breath - Alderman Saunders Says London Is Not a Village.

Ald. Richter protested vigorously against a wholesale initiation of local improvements in the city.

At the meeting of the council last night the board of works initiated four sidewalks, three sewers and an asphalt pavement at one swoop. 'This is too much!" declared Ald. Richter. Pretty Cuts much good if he's hungry-unless the pretty cuts are well selected cuts of choice beef, lamb, mutton or ham. That's what we supply-good meats properly cut, boned and trimmed, and delivered to your home in time for your dinner.

Remember, we never sacrifice quality to make a low price, nor do we try to give as little as possible for the money, but just as much as possible. A trial order from us will convince you that what we say is true.
