"Captain Blood"

The Greatest Adventure Story Since the "Three Musketeers"

SABITINI RAFAEL

Author of "Scaramouche"

Romance in every line; the glamor of tropical lands, strange seas, fascinating ships, adventurous men and lost gold-these are but a few of the elements which Rafael Sabitini uses to weave his remarkable story, "CAP-TAIN BLOOD," described by critics as the greatest adventure novel since Dumas' "THREE MUSKETEERS."

"Captain Blood" is a story of the redoubtable Peter Blood, buccaneer par excellence, captain of the great ship Arabella, terror of the Spaniard, and undisputed master of the waters of the Spanish Main.

In reading of how Peter Blood. convicted of high treason and sentenced to slavery in the Barbados, escapes on a captured ship, and of his sea fights and desperate adventures as a freebooter, a veteran novel reader will feel a thrill he has not experienced since boyhood dreams of buccaneers and pirate ships, Spanish gold and pieces of eight. The story has glamor and beauty, and is told with an easy confidence. As for Blood himself, he is a superman, compounded of a sardonic humor, cold nerves and hot temper. Both the story and man are masterpieces. Start reading, Captain Blood next Monday, and you will not want to miss a single installment.

Each year for years it had been Sarah's and Carrie's custom to invite some person who would not be otherwise looked out for to share their hospitality, frugal although it was forced to be. This year Sarah spoke for a distant cousin and wondered why Carrie was slow in

Sarah's expression softened at the

THE CLOSING YEAR SAW A GENUINE EFFORT TO ESTABLISH PEACE, BUT THAT PACIFIC MUSIC ENDS ON "A SINISTER NOTE" IN FRANCE

This Is Lloyd George's Conclusion In Summing Up the Great Events of 1922 In Which He Was The Leading Figure.

'PEACE AND GOODWILL THE ONLY HOPE'

The year 1922 witnessed a genuine struggle on the part of the nations to establish peace conditions in the world. During 1919, 1920 and 1921, "the Tarantella was still in their blood." The mad war dance was still quivering in their limbs, and they could not rest. The crackle of musketry was incessant and made needful repose impossible. There was not a country in Europe or Asia whose troops were not firing shots in anger at some external or internal foe. America rang down the fire curtain until this hysterical frenzy had burnt itself out. Was she right?

It is too early yet to give the answer. The case is but yet "part unheard"-many witnessing years whose evidence is relevant have not yet entered the box. It will, therefore, be some time before the verdict of history as to her attitude can be delivered

But 1922 testifies to many striking symptoms of recovering sanity on the part of the tortured continents. Before 1922 you had everywhere the querulity of the overstrained nerve; the slightest offence or misunderstanding, however unintentional, provoked a quarrel. And almost every quarrel was followed by a blow. It was a mad world to live in. The shrieks of clawing nations rent the European night and made it hideous. One distinguished general declared that at one period, I think it was the year of grace 1920, there were thirty wars, great and small, proceeding simul-

Everybody and Nobody.

Everybody and nobody. Mankind had just passed through the most nerve-shattering experience in all its racking history, and was not responsible for its actions. Millions of young men had for years marched through such a pitiless rain of terror as had not been conceived except in Milton's description of the battle scenes when fallen angels were driven headlong to the deep. And when the Angel of Peace led the nations out from the gates of hell, no wonder it took them years to recover sight and sanity.

Cynthia was too busy to cut these out to fill all requests, so an army of volunteer cutters arose.

At the time preliminary steps were being taken in London to build a children's hospital as a memorial to men of Canada, and especially those of Western Ontario, who had given heir lives in the great war, someone had an inspiration to turn the stocking-foot pattern to still better ac-count, through raising money for a mail box subscription.
So the Fund Grew.

When the dimes, shin plasters and dollars showered in, ambition grew to make the contribution a memorial When the $500 for this was ex ceeded, the question was raised, "Why not a cot?" And cot it is to be. True, in the meantime, many other revenue-producing articles have appeared on the Mail Box route, seeds, bulbs, music, crochet patterns. But the stocking-foot still holds its own.

"Old Bill, M.P.," is announced for presentation at the Grand Opera House Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 8, 9 and 10. with Wednesday matinee. This latest work of Capt. Bairnsfather has been running at the Lyceum Theatre, London, for many months, and comes here with the big company of English players that will present it the following week in New York.

It is intended as a sequel to Bairnsfather's former and very successful piece, "The Better 'Ole," and follows the career of the "Three Muskrats," Bill, Alf and Bert, after their return from the war. The same peculiar humor of Old Bill, with his cheerful optimism, still pervades the story, and often, even in the most serious situations, brings hearty laughter rom the audience

ND WE TAKE this opportunity to thank our good friends and patrons for their loyalty while your father 1922 was with us, and we hope, now that you are taking the reins, you will be as good to our good friends and customers as we will try to be. It is our wish that the "LUCKY TWENTY-THRIEE" may be a good omen to all.

THE WORLD IS APPROACHING ANOTHER BIRTH-DAY; many resolutions will be made which have an influence for good, even though many are broken before the new year's chimes have ceased their sound.

Forty-six years ago resolutions were made by this store—they stand today as they were indelibly written then by the founders. They were good resolutions then, and they are better now, because they have stood the test of time. They are short and easy to remember, and we repeat them today: TELL THE TRUTH; OFFER ONLY RELIABLE MERCHANDISE AT FAIR PRICES: KEEP PACE WITH INNOVATIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS; DEAL WITH EMPLOYEES PUBLIC AS WE WOULD BE DEALT WITH. These are the only regulations needed in any well-founded business, and they will endure as long as this shall be a store.

London, Dec. 30.-Prime Minister Bonar Law will take to the Paris conerence of premiers a complete plan final settlement of the reparations problem, it was announced in British official quarters today.

Details of Mr. Bonar Law's repara-tions plan were not available, but it is believed it will set down Germany's total obligations at approximately one-third the Versailles Treaty figures. The British desire that the French give Germany a fair trial under the new scheme, which, if it is not produc-tive of the desired results, would be supplemented by French schemes in-volving coercive methods.

By LLOYD ALLEN. Special Cable to The Advertiser. London, Dec. 30 .- Britain approves ecretary Hughes' proposals regarding a commission to consider reparations, and will try to put the idea into effect if the Paris premiers' conference fails, it was semi-officially stated today. Hughes speech was given prominent display in this morning's papers, and created an excellent impression upon officials and the public.

The impression here was that the American secretary of state was speaking directly at France. The eneral impression is that a nonpolitical commission of experts would prove more successful in settling the reparations problem than have the politicians who have proved themselves impotent in the matter.

U. S. Secretary Hughes Sug-

REVISED ARRANGEMENT

Would Appoint Competent Financial Men on Commission.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 30 .- A suggestion that an independent comnission of men competent in financial affairs could accomplish more than general international conference toward solution of the European reparations tangle was put forward by U. S. Secretary of State Hughes here last night in the first public pronouncement on the economic crisis to come from responsible officials of the administration at Washington.

The secretary, who spoke before the American Historical Association, added that he "had no doubt" distinguished Americans would be willng to serve on such a commission which he said might well be kept free from any responsibility to foreign offices, or any duty to obey political instructions.

The outstanding feature of the plan is a commission of business men and experts representing the principal European governments and the United States, which will make a study of the reparations problem. This commission, which would be free from instructions by premiers and secretaries of state in order to take the problem out of politics would recommend a revised reparations figure up to the limit of Ger-many's ability to pay.

This recommendation then would be submitted to the respective governments for approval. Outstanding pusiness men and financial experta would be selected for the commission in the hope that the peoples and governments of the world would favor acceptance of their findings. Should this be successful the ninisration would be willing to ask congress for easier funding terms for the $11,000,000,000 allied debt to the United States. With the European conomic structure re-established through this plan, this government would give its approval to a loan by private interests to Germany.

Tokio, Dec. 30.-The impression here today is that the privy council's resolution of yesterday, communicating to the prince regent a sharp criticism of the Chinese policy of the Kato ministry, will not come to a cabinet crisis.

Critics point out that while the privy council condemned the government's Chinese policy, it confirmed the Chinese postal agreement.

The cabinet, although censored. got what it wanted. The resolution is interpreted to have been, in effect, a warning for the cabinet not to sign agreements before procuring the privy council's assent. The White-Mitchell cyclone of a week or two back should be excelled if both Rocky and Charlie are in tip-top shape, for the winner of the coming affray will be in direct line for meetings with Lou Tendler and Benny Leonard. Rocky says he fell below par early last year, and has been coming back slowly, trying himself out against second and third raters. But now he feels himself again, and expects to prove it to the assembled multitude the last of next month. In the meantime, he will take on one or two bouts, he says.

As a matter of fact, the fight menu which is just coming from the oven to be served in the next month or so contains many dejectable dishes. Take the New York, Dec. 29. - When Rocky which is just coming from the oven to be served in the next month or so contains many delectable dishes. Take the go that is coming in the shape of the Pepper Martin-Jack Bernstein fight one week from today. Martin is all that his first name could signify when he gets into the ring, and Bernstein has shown in the past few weeks that he soon will be graduated to the toppest of topnotch ranks, if he holds up the way he has been fighting. Bernstein's manager told the writer that he had been letting the Yonkers boy take a rest for a while, which was good sense, especially in view of Bernstein's bad left hand that he got when he laid it against Elino Flores' chin at the Garden several weeks ago.

One reason why Harry Wills has not been active of late has been that his hands, which he injured upon Clem Johnson's rock-ribbed features, have not as yet come back into shape. As to Dempsey and Wills, an interesting point is the growing objection to all concerned in the fight game to the meeting.

They are not sure that the mixed bout would injure the game, but the chance that it might frightens them.

In the passing of Jim Bagby from the Cleveland club, the American League loses one of the unique characters of the game.

With Jim Bagby there was a reason for everything. He enjoyed nothing for everything. He enjoyed nothing better than a friendly argument. During the playing season, Bagby lives baseball—talks it incessantly.

Jim is always willing to take the second guess at some play if he feels it will start a discussion as to what should have been done. Most of the heated discussions on the Cleveland club, which were usually of a friendly nature, had Bagby at the bottom of them.

VALGAR WINS POWDER PUFF BOUT AT DETROIT

Detroit, Dec. 29.—Outboxing Ted Marchant from the start, but never showing anything that looked like a real punch, Benny Valger of New York was declared winner of a 10-round go here tonight. While he won, Valger falled to impress the crowd as a great lightweight. He was always a powderpuff boxer, standing off and "sharpshooting"; he hit Marchant with every known kind of punch without even raising a wrinkle on the Englishman. Marchant was all at sea from the start. He never was able to figure out how to block the pecking attack of Valger, and he seemed uncertain when or where to lead. He tried a few times and missed, and then endeavored to hold to Valger when they clinched.

VILLA GOES OUT OF CLASS AGAIN, WINS

Is Extended To Limit by Hard Hitting Terry Martin.

New York, Dec. 29.—Pancho Villa, American flyweight champion, again went out of his class and defeated Terry Martin, Providence bantamweight, in a sensational 15-round contest at Madisson Square Garden. The Filipino reng ceived the judges' decision after a bout that kept the crowd on its feet from start to finish. Conceding more than four pounds to his opponent, Villa was extended to the limit by the rugged, hard-hitting New Englander. Villa outboxed Martin, and at times drove his opponent about the ring with the cyclonic force of his attacks, but Martin retaliated with body blows that staggered the Filipino.

Both set a fast pace throughout. In the eighth round Villa had Martin in distress with a terrific onslaught to the head and body. Martin's best round was the tenth, when he drove the little brown man to the ropes with hard smashes to the body.

Villa's title was not at stake Martin weighing Fl5½ pounds, considerably over the flyweight limit of 112 pounds. # I he iviotor Dus Question

There has been considerable paper talk of late relative to the above. It is very apparent that there is an unseen force trying to annihilate the men who have invested their all in a business which has been a veritable boon to the working man and woman. It is preposterous to compel these men to pay from three to five hundred dollars in fees and insurance under existing conditions in the City of London. Even if there were anything to be gained, it is too much money, and if they could pay this amount they get no franchise; they are subject to the will of our Council or Police Commission and liable to receive orders at any time to cease operating.

The following extract from a recent issue of a large New York paper is very interesting:

"Traffic tongestion has reached such an alarming state that municipal traffic authorities such as Police Commissioner Enright of New York City admit that they are unable to cope with it, and state that most large cities are sadly hampered through having allotted at least one-third of certain downtown streets to the uses of the street railway companies. The street cars are nothing more than short haul traffic carriers, yet this is the very field to which, because of their inflexibility, they are least suited. Short haul traffic in areas of great congestion can be handled efficiently only by vehicles that are free to adjust themselves to the fluctuations in that congestion and which, through their flexibility, are able to relieve congestion instead of aggravating it.

"This is, of course, rank hersey in the eyes of the street car man, yet they cannot fail to be aware of the logic of the situation, since every day's operations supply physical evidence of the truth of the view presented. One has but to observe street traffic in large cities from an elevated position to obtain first-hand information of the ultimate form city transportation must take. The tendency is unmistakably in the direction of greater speed and flexibility and in such a development the street car does nothing but obstruct. The motor bus is the one vehicle that can meet the demands of the situation without exacting the heavy toll in money and time now being borne because of the street car's inability to fit in with modern transport conditions.

"One of the most prominent electric railway executives in the country estimates the profitable life of the street railway under present conditions of motor competition at five years. A few years hence, he claims, motor busses and private motor cars will have absorbed all local traffic, and the steam railways will have monopolized through traffic."

We feel the motor bus owners in the city are entitled to some consideration. They are not getting any. They stepped into a breach in our transportation system, they have served the public while the street railwaymen were on strike, are serving districts in the city that would otherwise be isolated, and they are not breaking even on the game. The fact that street car service has improved considerably wherever busses are running is sufficient evidence that people are patronizing the busses in preference.

It has been suggested by our incoming mayor that a blanket policy of insurance be used, covering, as we understand it, an insurance of fifteen thousand dollars to protect the patrons of these busses. We would think a proposition of this kind would be well received by the bus owners. The cost of same being distributed among the bus operators would not be a burden that they would not be able to handle, at least we would think it would be in keeping with good business.

On the other hand to ask or demand from the bus owners of this city a protection covered by an insurance policy of fifteen thousand dollars, costing in the neighborhood of four hundred dollars each and an additional burden of five dollars per seat, as well as limiting the carrying capacity of the busses, would seem to us to be entirely out of proportion to the liability that might

There are any number of taxis operating in the city during all hours of the day and night. What difference is there between a taxi and a bus—they are both passenger-carrying vehicles, one no more liable to accident than the other. Why let the taxi men off practically scot free and burden a well-organized bus transportation system to such an extent that they would be compelled to get out of business?

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Dec. 29.—Considering the usual reluctance of the trading element to engage in new ventures at the close of the year, today's stock market displayed a surprising animation. Proof was given both on and off the stock exchange that the markets were not worrying about the apparent impending break-off of the Lausanne conference or about the possibility of unpleasant developments in Turkish affairs over the New Year's holiday. Fluctuation in the exchange were very alloby with the company.

WALL STREET REVIEW

New York, Dec. 30.—The closing stock market session of the year opened with the main tendency of prices upward. Cash sales, obviously to establish tax losses, were again in evidence. North American advanced nearly a point to a new high record for the year. Copper shares were in fairly good demand, but the early gains were largely fractional. Endicott-Johnson established a new top peak price on a ret gain of 1 point, and good buying was noted in California Petroleum, United States Steel, Baldwin and Dupont. Prospect of Unfavorable Near East News Causes Much Activity.

Montreal Dec. 29.-Alternative buy Montreal, Dec. 29.—Alternative buying and selling movements, the former based apparently on fears of unfavorable Near East developments over the holiday, and the latter upon the manner in which the New York market ignored such possibilities, resulted intoday's volume of trading on the local stock exchange nearly doubling that of yesterday. Sharp price fluctuations were registered, prices yielding easily and coming back almost as rapidly. Papers were most prominent. and coming back almost as rapidly. Papers were most prominent.
Abitibl again led in activity, and closed at 69¼, down %. Brompton came second, and was off ½ pont at 38½. Laurentide sold down as low as 92¾, but recovered to 93½, ex-dividend, at which level it lost 1¼ points. The weakest of the papers and of the whole market list, was Howard Smith, which was off 3½ points to 76½. The Spanish River issues were outstanding for their recuperative powers, the preferred

N. Y. BOND MARKET

Foreign Issues Almost Neglected. While Government Securities Advanced.

New York. Dec. 29.—Prices in today's bond market displayed a decidedly strong tone with the demand for St. Paul and New Haven Railroad mortgages as the particular features.

The sharp upturn in St. Paul and New Haven bonds seemed to lend confirmation to the belief that the recent weakness grew out of selling to establish tax losses. St. Paul convertible 5's and New Haven 6's and the so-called French 7's of that road each moved up more than three points.

of that road each moved up more than three points.
Foreign bonds were virtually neglected, although Mexican government 4's and Cuban Railroad 5's moved to slightly higher ground, while Columbian 6½'s dropped sharply. Except for losses of 8 and 10 cents on $100 respectively in Victory 4%'s and the first 4½'s, all the United States government securities moved to higher ground. Liberty 3½'s touched $101 for the first time in two months and closed 18 cents higher, the second 4½'s advanced 26 cents; the third, 20 cents; the fourth, 28 cents, and the new, 2 cents. third, 20 cents; the tourdi, 25 cents, and the new, 2 cents.

Marland Oil 8's and Chile Copper 7's, each up two points, led the advance in active industrial mortgages.

Total sales of bonds, par value, ap-proximated $14.662.000.

General Tone of Toronto SATURDAY MARKET POORLY ATTENDED

Geese Were Principal Offerings and Met With Good Demand.

For a Saturday the local market was very small, with geese the feature. July These birds were abundant, and were all fine fat specimens, selling at about 22 cents wholesale and 23 to 25 cents Turkeys were not so plentiful, no

Turkeys were not so plentiful, nor was the demand so keen. The price, however remained fairly steady at from 40 to 42 cents a pound for hens and from 30 to 35 cents for gobblers.

Chickens and ducks were scarce and sold at 25 and 22 cents, respectively.

Rabbits were again on the market, and were offered at 50 to 60 cents a pair, without, however, meeting a very strong demand. Pigeons at 30 cents a pair were also offered today.

New laid eggs are still high in price, as far as the buyer is concerned, at from 70 to 85 cents a dozen, though this is not out of the way for the man who has to supply feed for the hens. Some sellers were asking as much as 90 cents and $1 for these new laid eggs, without, however, getting any buyers.

Butter remains steady at from 40 to 43 cents a pound for the best quality of dairy, and honey, which is rather a drug on the market, sells at 70 to 75 cents for the five-pound pail.

Whipping cream goes at 40 cents a pint, and at the same stall there is Devonshire cream in various sized sealers.

Succeed In London

Succeed With London

The New Year will be with us in just two more days, and along with it will come high hopes for the future for every citizen of the city of London. The past year has been a period of comparatively unsettled conditions, due to the length of time taken by the country at large in recovering from the business depression, which came as an aftermath of the great war. But happily there are now certain and positive indications of the return of normal conditions and prosperity to the country in

From many sources we hear merchants and wholesale dealspeaking of the improvement in trade, and they all seem optimistic regarding the prospects for the year of 1923.

The surest way for the people of this community to bring quicker and more lasting prosperity to the city is to buy London-made goods and thus boost the business of the many local manufacturers and other dealers whose articles advertise the city throughout the world. Let this be the first of our New Year resolutions-to support home industry and work together to make the city of London, Ontario, a bigger and a better place for all of us to live in.

POULTRY A FOOD. NOT A LUXURY

Lower Prices Should Promote General Use From Economic Standpoint.

(Experimental Farms Note.) Poultry meat has dropped in price to such an extent that its general use should be more seriously considered. Viewed from the economic as well as the scientific standpoint of nutrition, it is worthy of a higher place and more frequent use in the daily diet, than it has been ac-corded. It should be regarded as an essential part of our diet rather than as a luxury. The question of the value of poultry meat for food has been given at-tention by chemists at various times. Results of their researches have been published from time to time. Analyses have been made of the flesh of prac ically all kinds of domestic fowl, and these fernish a basis for compariso of poultry meats with other articles of human food. A comparison of poultry meats with beef, veal, lamb and pork show that the refuse in poultry is somewhat less than in the the other meats. Furthermore, the carcass of fowl can be used as soup stock, thus rendering available a large amount of nourishment which would otherwise be lost, and which in the case of other meats is often dis-carded. The amount of water is about the same in poultry as in other meats, but the amount of indigestible nutrients in poultry is small. Summing up these differences poultry shows a slightly higher proportion actually available for nourishment than other meats. As fats furnish nore heat per unit weight than pro teins or carbonydrates, and since poultry meat is somewhat lower in fat than other meats, its fuel value is correspondingly less. To state this in another way, poultry meat furnshes more tissue forming, but less of the heat forming, elements, and be borne in mind that as

Common or domestic fowl contain fore refuse than average poultry, is bout average in protein but richer a fat. Turkey contains relatively little refuse, about 2 per cent more protein, and the same proportion of fat. Goose shows the lowest pro-portion of refuse of the poultry meats, a lower proportion of protein and much higher fat content. Combined with this is a certain prejudice against goose which has a ten-dency to lower the market price. This has resulted to make goose one of the cheapest, most wholesome and autritious foods on the market. Duck by contains relatively large amounts of refuse, little protein and large quan-

Poultry as a whole (especially chickens and geese), with the low price and high muscle forming proprties, the easily digested and pak table qualities makes the ideal mea food for everybody, particuarly for those in offices and for invalids and children.—F. London a R. C. Separate School trustee in Ward 3 on The voting will take place at St. Mary's School There will be an election for a R. C. xt Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1923. The votin tween the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Meetings of the electors will be held as follows: 1. St. Mary's Hall, Monday, 8 p.m., Jan. 1, 1923; 2, St. Patrick's Hall, Tuesday, at 8 p.m., Jan. 2, 1923. The candidates are P. J. Sweeney, M.D., and Jeremiah O'Loughlin, Esq. I am appealing to you for your votes for the first time in order to return to the sovereign people a right which has not been exercised by them for nearly twenty-five years. Before deciding to enter upon a contest with our respected yearesentative, Mr. O'Loughlin, I considered his length of service on the R. C. Separate School Board and the voters who elected him then. My conclusion was that many of them have since passed away; conditions have changed and a new generation has grown up in Ward 3.

I am convinced that the voters of Ward 3 will not object to exercising a right which has always been theirs under the law by selecting their own representative which has always been theirs under the law by selecting their own representative.

It will be my first consideration if elected, to give my very best services for the promotion of education in this city. Proper sanitary conditions in the schools for both teachers and pupils. Adequate accommodation for all school children, so that there will be no hardships on either teachers, parents or children. To represent the people on the school board in a way that will be acceptable to aff. Your support and influence is earnestly requested.

SLIGHT REVIVAL Commodity News

LEATHER. Philadelphia, Dec. 29. — Aside from a demand for sole leather and belting butts the leather market is quiet to-day. Raw goat skins are about 50 per cent more active than a year ago. Prices on all grades of leather held steady, with expectations of an improved demand early in the new year.

GROCERIES. GROCERIES.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 29. — Wholesale grocers here stated today that their business was fully 30 per cent above that of the corresponding period of 1921, and the increase has been equally divided between city and country trade.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS. New Orleans, Dec. 29.—A large whole-sale distributor of musical instruments reported today that instalment plans sales on the more expensive instru-ments had fallen off somewhat, and that difficulty is now experienced in securing large enough first payments.

LUMBER.

Chicago, Dec. 29. — Lumber dealers here stated today that the present lull in the lumber market is only momentary. Railroads and car builders are in the market with heavy demands and inquiries for spring deliveries are increasing. Country dealers are buying in unusual quantities.

Seattle, Dec. 29.—Five large logging camps which have been closed down have reoponed with encouraging effect on markets for supplies and forest merchandise here. Peak log production is expected by February 1.

Boston, Dec. 29. — The New England cotton mills are pretty well sold up through the first quarter of 1922, and manufacture is proceeding at close to capacity production,

STEEL.

Pittsburg. Dec. 29.—With steel plants in the Pittsburg. Youngstown and Wheeling districts operating from 80 to 85 per cent the industry is making a better showing than at any previous time in the year. Stability in the market is encouraging more confidence, and all signs point to a prolonged run.

Cleveland, Dec. 29. — Total iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes this year reached 42,613,184 tons, as compared with 22,300,726 in 1921.

COKE AND COAL. rule the former are the more ex-

BEFORE MARKETING

At Present Prices Thin Poultry Will Not Pay Cost of Handling.

(Experimental Farms Note).
At no time does it pay to market oultry in an unfinished condition, and his year, when the prices offered are usually low, this applies more than weight of the birds when killed being 348 pounds.

The birds upon going into the crate were worth on the market 15c per pound or $40.20. The price received for thems when fatted was 25c per pound, or 3 total of $87. With the cost of feed deducted there was an actual gain of $36.98. It took a trifle over three pounds of the dry meal to make one pound of gain in flesh, and of the five rations used the best results were secured from a mixture of equal parts finely ground oats (hulls removed) cornmeal, and ground buckwheat, mixed with double the amount of mik. In this feed the cost of one pound gain was 6.2 cents, and the average gain per bird in the three weeks was 2.5 pound.

These figures show that it pays to crate feed. A feed cost of $.7c, made 25c worth of flesh and the finishing increased the value of the whole lot from a 15c per pound quality to a 25c per pound quality.

Note-For further information write Note—For further information write the Poultry Division, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, for bulletin No. 88, "Pre-paring Foultry Produce For Market." F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Hus-bandman, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

New York, Dec. 29.—The raw sugar market was dull early today, with spot Cubas quoted at 3%c, cost and freight, equal to 5.65c for centrifugal. No sales were reported.

There was only a quiet trade in raw sugar futures, but the undertone was firm, and prices were I to 2 points net higher on buying for trade account.

The market for refined sugar was unchanged, at $7 for fine granulated. In refined sugar futures there were only a few transactions, at unchanged prices.

PETER GIVES SOME GOOD AD-ADVICE. By Thornton W. Burgess. Good advice is always needed, But, alas! is seldom heeded.

-Peter Rabbit. "Have you ever spent a winter in the North before, Welcome Robin? Welcome looked sadly out over the edar swamp in which Peter Rabbit had found him and shook his head Had it not been for that accident wouldn't have thought of such thing. "Did-did Mrs. Robin stay ou?" ventured Peter.

"I should hope not!" replied Welmargin: a smell on the wind had led him the rest of the way. Like a ghost he had glided almost to the edge of the firelight, lingering there—until he had made up his brute mind in regard to the strangers in the camp. But he had waited only until he saw Ray kick the helpless form before him—that of the god that Fepris for all the wiid had "Do you suppose I would allow her to stay up here in the cold just because I must? She did stay until I made her go. She was with the last of our relatives to start for the Sunny South."

Peter became very thoughtful. He sat scratching a long ear with a long hindfoot. He scratched and scratch

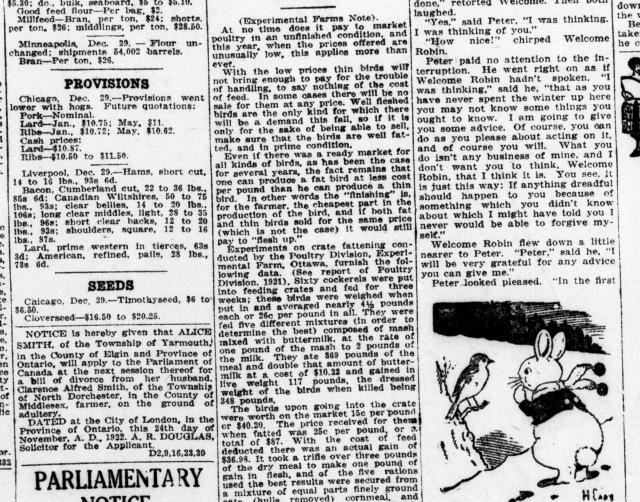

"Is there something the matter with that ear of yours?" Welcome at last asked.

And Peter chuckled. "No, Welc said he. "That ear is quite all right.

I am thinking, that's all."

"I have heard of such a thing, but until now I didn't know how it was done," retorted Welcome. Then both

Also, when the fierce winter storms come you will be better protected here than anywhere else. You know how to watch out for your enemies in summer, but in winter is a very different matter. Any time now Terror the Goshawk may appear and he is a terror, and no mistake When the weather gets very bad up in the Far North Whitey the Snowy Owl is likely to come down this way and he hunts by day as well as by night. Then his big cousin, Hooty the Horned Owl, is more to be feared in winter than in summer, for is scarce and he is sure to be hungry all the time.
