Motive for Killing Remains a Mystery, However—Indian Was Found Dead a Short Distance From Door of His Home

WANT GOVERNMENT TO BUY LONG POINT

Public Opinion in Norfolk County Opposes Private Ownership

NAVY LEAGUE NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent) Simcoe, Sept. 12.—The suit in court over 40 rod water lot at Turkey point granted by the Hardy Government for the consideration of a paltry $15, and the offering for sale of the Long Point Hunting grounds has been a subject of some discussion locally. It is within the confines of moderation to say that in this county public opinion is opposed to the private ownership of Long Point or any section of the water front of the bay, and that the time is opportune for the Government to buy back the point as a public park.

NAVY LEAGUE SUPPORT—VOLUNTARY

Subscription to Supplement Municipal Grants. The chairman of the finance committee of the Town Council was named to present the Navy League Campaign at the local Theatre last evening. He led up to the subject by expressing his personal satisfaction with the cheerfulness with which the citizens had accepted the announcement of the 25 mill rate and praised the citizens in general for the splendid industry of all classes including women, boys and girls, and the magnificent aid given to agricultural producers in the matter of husbanding and harvesting fruit and vegetables.

"It has been said," he continued "that before the war about one fifth of Simcoe's population was actually producing, while to-day that idle class in our midst is not much in a violence as in past consequence. In industry and thrift, he thought had already balanced off the unusual tax rate.

"Rule Britannia"

"From youth we have sung 'Rule Britannia,'" and she ruled; ruled till some 30 thousand men acted in peace, on the merchant marine. When war broke, this number was promptly increased to 100 thousand and now numbers 240 thousand. Through the sway of the fleet and merchant marine our men crossed over safely, every man of them; our factories produced and our citizens, who otherwise would have been idle had the fleet failed. To-day we are pinched for sugar. The break in supply is said to have been caused by the loss of a cargo from Cuba at the hands of Hun U-boats. Our agricultural produce has found a market through the supremacy of Britain's fleet. Your representatives have already voted 25 cts per $1000 assessment to the cause of the merchant marine, and you council offers you the opportunity to contribute anything that your gratitude prompts you to further than by taxation. All should be handed to the treasurer W. C. J. King, this week or next." This was the purport if not the exact words of the five minutes' address, and the audience was attentive and apparently appreciative.

AMERICANS ARE AT ARCHANGEL

More Troops Sent by Allies for Campaign in Northern Russia

Washington, Sept. 12.—American troops have landed at Archangel to assist the other allied forces there in their campaign for the re-establishment of order in northern Russia. This announcement was authorized yesterday by Gen. March, Chief of Staff.

For military reasons the number of soldiers landing was not revealed, but it was clear from where they had embarked. It was assumed, however, that the soldiers had been sent from English camps, where American are training.

Crisis Has Come

Archangel, Sept. 12.—More allied troops are urgently needed if the Russo-allied campaign in northern Russia is to be carried out with any success, in the opinion of virtually every officer and civilian observer here.

The Russian winter will soon be at hand, and before that time it is hoped to reach the hard-pressed front against the German and Russo-allied line of communication from Vladivostok to Archangel, through Vologda. The available forces have been insufficient to defeat such superior numbers of Bolsheviks, but it is pointed out that the necessity for more troops is not a question of maintaining the front as of impressing the peasants and convincing them that sufficient power is at hand to insure victory.

The peasants for the most part are extremely friendly to the allies and anxious to aid in the movement, but they are loath to join because they are apprehensive that the Russo-allied forces are not sufficiently strong, and that the peasantry organized and waiting for a movement would be slaughtered if by any chance the Bolsheviks were victorious.

The Russo-allied leaders feel certain of success if the troops at their disposal are sufficient. When they reach the thickly-populated provinces there are large Russian forces organized and waiting for a movement, but while they are manoeuvring through the thinly-populated swamps of the north the chief reliance must be upon the allied troops themselves.

The Austro-German direction of the Bolshevik forces is daily increasing in scope. Near Kotlas there are known to be twenty German officers organizing the artillery.

White Guards Take Vologda

Stockholm, Sept. 12.—Vologda, a town on the Volga, 110 miles north of Yaroslavl, is reported in despatches from Moscow to have been captured by Russian White Guards consisting chiefly of peasants who approached the place from Paris. Before leaving Vologda the Russian Red Army is said to have burned the town.

Nijni-Novgorod, the town on the Volga, 265 miles northeast of Moscow, which was recently taken by the Russian White Guards, was represented by the Bolsheviks to be one of their strongholds, as it is a large industrial centre. The workmen there, however, the advisers say, were disaffected because of food conditions and unemployment. Recently there were many strikes at Nijni-Novgorod.

Siberian Front Gone

Vladivostok, Sept. 12.—The Siberian front has disappeared overnight. In the words of an American authority, it has "moved 4,000 miles to the westward." Communication has been completely established between Vladivostok and Irutsk. Czech-Slovak forces have broken through from Lake Baikal in the direction of Tchita, under Captain Gaida, while General Semenov's Cossacks, supported by Czech-Slovaks, have approached the trans-Baikal capital from the Onon River.

The Bolshevik forces, seemingly overawed by the presence of Entente allied troops, have scattered. Some of them have gone in the direction of Kiakhta, and others are supposed to be fleeing northward by way of the Amur railway.

Military officials say it would not be surprising to find that the Bolsheviks had dissolved into non-combatant groups intent only on seeking amnesty from the Entente powers.

What Tokio Reported

Tokio, Sept. 12.—An official statement issued yesterday by the Japanese war office, reporting military operations on the Usuri front in Siberia, says: "Our cavalry reached Bolchalovo on Sept. 2. Bikan, 150 miles west of Vladivostok, was reached on Aug. 31, and our vanguards entered Iman, 40 miles south of Bikan, on Sept. 1. The railway bridges at Iman and Bikan were not damaged by the enemy. "Many Austro-Hungarians and Germans participated in the engagements at Kinefsky between August 23 and 25."

NEW HUN PROJECTILE.

By Courier Leased Wire With the British Armies in France, Sept. 11.—(By The Associated Press)—Just before the British launched their attack this morning on the enemy trenches north of Pierriese below Gouzeaucourt the German troops employed a new kind of projectile in an effort to drive the New Zealand troops from nearby positions.

The projectiles, which were about the size of oranges, were fired at short range in salvos of from 200 to 300 each and were sprinkled over an area of close to three miles. These projectiles burst into flames as they hit the ground and gave off gas.

RECRUITS FOR SIBERIA.

Kinross, Sept. 11.—Capt. Dinsdale, who is recruiting for the Siberian expeditionary force, proceeded to Brockville and Ottawa to-day. He reports that the number of recruits is growing, and there is every prospect that M.D. No. 3 will send its quota, as it has met every call made in the past.

PUSHING ENEMY BACK ON HINDENBURG LINE

French Have Outflanked La Fere With the Capture of Travecy and Adjacent Heights—Allied Progress Continues.

By Courier Leased Wire

New York, Sept. 12.—The Associated Press to-day issues the following: With the capture of Travecy and the heights dominating the country to the south, General Pétain's forces have outflanked the important German position at La Fere. This advance by the French over a narrow front of only two miles passages the evacuation of La Fere by the Germans and general weakening of their lines before the vital stronghold of St. Quentin.

Slowly the Allies are pushing the enemy back on his Hindenburg line defenses from La Fere to St. Quentin, slight advances being made by both the French and British armies fighting in this area. The French have taken and passed Hincourt and retained their hold on Essigny-Grand, four miles south of St. Quentin by repulsing enemy attacks. The British in their drive for St. Quentin have reached Vermand, about six miles east of the Hindenburg line running through Cambrai, which, with St. Quentin, form the central pivots of the German defenses between La Fere and Ypres. Counter attacks launched by the Germans in an effort to prevent the British from driving a wedge between Cambrai and St. Quentin were repulsed near Gouzeaucourt. Unfavorable fighting weather has served as an aid to the enemy, but despite the rain and the stiffer resistance of the foe, Field Marshal Haig's men continue to make progress towards the Hindenburg line.

Artillery activity continues in the St. Quentin sector and also between the Aisne and the Vesle, where the Germans are making a valiant effort to retain possession of the St. Gobain and Chemin des Dames strongholds and prevent the Allies from forcing them to fall back all along their line east of Rheims. In the region of Laifaux and in the Aisne area, enemy attempts to approach new French positions were repulsed, the Germans losing 150 prisoners.

In Flanders the British have advanced their lines northeast of Huldin and made progress west of Armentieres, which the Germans took from them last spring. In the Hartwood wood sector the enemy artillery is active. At Gouzeaucourt the British have re-established their lines after repulsing the Germans who gained a foothold in one of the most bitter local engagements since the rapid drive was helmed by bad weather conditions several days ago.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

BRIAN IS JEALOUS OF ARTHUR MANDER, RUTH'S EMPLOYER. Chapter XXI.

The next morning Brian made no allusion to the subject which they had discussed the night before. But he was rather quiet for him, answering in monosyllables when Ruth spoke.

"He doesn't believe I'm going to do it," Ruth said aloud, as she went into the kitchen for some more cream for his coffee. "But I am!" she added with decision.

"Brian, I am going to take my position this morning," she said quietly, as she put the cream jug beside his cup.

"You are determined to do this, when you know I am opposed to it?"

"Not because you are opposed to it, dear. But because you need the money. You will see how much more comfortable we will be, after a few weeks, than we are now. It will give us more to go out with, too—to the theatre, etc." she knew his passion for the theatre.

"I should rather never go, than to have you disgrace yourself and me by letting others see that I can't support you. It is galling even to talk of it," he finished impatiently as he rose from the table.

"The hours are short, from nine or half-past until five," she told Brian. "I shall be home when you get here. Why, unless I had told you, I might have worked there indefinitely and you would never have known it!" The thought flashed across her mind that perhaps she would have been wiser had she kept quiet until she had proved herself.

"So you are going?" he asked again.

"I hope you may never regret it," Brian Hackett said, that her mind was made up; that she would at least try her wings as a wage earner —and all because he could not give her all the luxuries to which she had been accustomed. He scoffed, in his heart, at a love that could not endure privation, when that privation meant only the going without the things he never had had. He took no stock of her bringing up; the disgust she must feel at doing work she had always seen relegated to the many servants her aunt employed. He had no thought of how it affected her when she saw her hands reddened and roughened with menial work; or how she longed for the flesh-pots—the comforts she had in the South. She was a married woman, this wife. It was only her part he had asked her to do. To make a home for him. He would earn the money.

Yet, even as all these things ran through his head, he flushed as he remembered how very little he had earned. Perhaps, had he not told her they would have to take a cheaper flat she would not have done this thing. But what could a man do? He scarcely ever was able to bring home more than a hundred dollars a month. Thirty-five was too big a proportion to pay for rent. No wonder he had been obliged to borrow.

That thought recalled the check Mrs. Clayborne had given Ruth, and which he had used. It was a big check; she, of course, had not been quite truthful when she told Ruth that it was no more than she would give a professional, but as long as she had declared she would not help them, she had saved her pride by giving it to her in this way. It was all nonsense for Ruth to think she could earn such checks as that; it was preposterous. But—twenty dollars a week and the promise of more. He knew the firm by reputation, had heard Arthur Mandel spoken of as a keen business man. They were not paying people any more than they earned—not nowadays.

Suddenly another thought came. This man Mandel had seen Ruth. He had thought her attractive. Perhaps that had something to do with it. Once more he asked, this time in a voice tinged with his latest emotion:

"You have decided?"

"Yes. Please don't be angry, Brian. Believe me, it is for the best."

"What kind of a looking man is this Mandel?"

"Oh, just an ordinary man as far as looks go, perhaps better looking than the majority. Why?"

"Maybe he has fallen in love with you and that's the reason he is willing to pay you—raw help—twenty dollars a week."

"Nonsense! As to my being 'raw help,' I am not. I have studied for years, just the things that will help me in that position. I know many things that it takes years to learn about period decorating, etc. You never have been interested in the subject or you would have realized that I did."

"Well, all I've got to say is that you do it against my wishes! That I am unalterably opposed to your doing anything outside of our home. If you weren't so impatient, and would give me time, I would be able to give you all you wanted. That's what it amounts to! Giving you all the gags you want; and letting you play lady with servants to wait on you."

When Brian finished his tirade he flung himself out of the house, for the first time neglecting to give Ruth a parting kiss.

To-morrow—The Head Clerk at Mandel's instructs Ruth as to Her Duties.

ANARCHY RIFE IN PETROGRAD AND IN MOSCOW

An Unprecedented Reign of Terror Throughout the Whole of Russia

BEYOND ALL CONTROL

Mob Law Supreme—Massacre in the Public Streets

Stockholm, Sept. 12.—July and August were months of horror which never will be forgotten by persons who watched Russia's two great cities, Petrograd and Moscow, pass through the mad attempt of the Bolsheviks to shoot or imprison all persons who disagreed with their wild effort to control the Russian Empire.

September probably will be worse, for the opposition parties are gaining strength through the streets.

The lives of the non-Bolsheviks are unsafe and everywhere in Russia self-defence is forcing unwilling persons to take up arms against the ruthless madness of the so-called commissions for the suppression of a counter-revolution, which shoot down the bourgeoisie by the hundreds.

Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik Minister of War, evidently is determined that his dictatorship of the proletariat shall not repeat the history of the former Provisional Government and fall through being too merciful.

Ex-Premier Kerensky refused to impose the death penalty, and his Government fell almost without the loss of a life, but the observers of the Russian political situation say no one but a madman could come to the Soviet republic. It has given no quarter, and it will receive none.

establish a monarchy or to support any other new government friendly to them.

Turning to Allies.

The Russians are helplessly pleading for outside assistance. Democrats and other Bourgeoisie friendly to the Germans are now turning to the Entente allies since the defeat of the Germans on the western front and the successes of the Czech-Slovak Murman and Vladivostok movements.

The Constitutional Democratic party and the other parties of the Extreme Right, however, are in such disfavour with the great mass of Russians of the Centre that foreign diplomats are not willing to take them seriously.

The Czech-Slovak movements beyond the River Volga has gained the support of factions favoring a Constitutional Assembly, and it is making the more reactionary programmes impossible, as Siberia generally is conceded to be the key to reconstruction in European Russia.

Somewhere among the Social Revolutionaries, probably among those of the Right, a leader is expected to develop who may eventually crystallize the opposition to the Bolsheviks.

M. Tcheneroff, former Minister of Agriculture and chairman of the suspended Assembly and General Boris Savinkoff, former military Minister of War in the Kerensky Cabinet, are the most conspicuous Social Revolutionaries at present. Their whereabouts is unknown, but General Savinkoff is reported to be in Siberia.

BRITISH DRAWING STILL NEARER TO HINDENBURG LINE

Progress Recorded Yesterday Toward German Defence System

FOE PRESSED BACK

By Courier Leased Wire.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Associated Press today issues the following:

The British were again moving forward to-day toward the Hindenburg line in the one sector where they are still some distance from it, near the centre of the Allied battle front.

Some progress was made during the night in the Verdun region, where Field Marshal Haig's forces are closely in upon St. Quentin in the north, where the French are pushing up from the south. Further north the British were reported to-day to have gained a foothold in the twin town of Pelizieux and Epehy, two and a half miles from the Hindenburg line opposite Le Catelet. The Germans are retreating strongly here, as this section of the line forms part of the defences of Cambrai on the south.

Their resistance in this sector is also taking the form of strong counter attacks at Couzeaucourt, just to the north. They gained a lone British post in hard fighting here last night, but otherwise were completely repulsed.

The defense of Cambrai is likewise being carried to the aggressive side by the Germans along the canal Du Nord, where the British stand firm inside the Hindenburg line after having broken the Quent-Drocourt switch.

In this aggressive movement, the enemy last night sharply counter attacked near Moeuvres, just to the east of Quent, and at Ecourt-St. Quentin, north of Arras-Cambrai road. In both cases the British held their ground, repulsing the Germans in stiff engagements.

The French drive in upon Le Fere, a northerly defense of the St. Gobain bastion, is reported to-day to have made notable progress with the capture of the town of Travecy, on the Hindenburg line, two miles directly north of Le Fere. The holding of this ground would result in the outflanking of Le Fere on the northerly side.

The Germans have also been attacking desperately on the French front where the line runs north from the Aisne towards the St. Gobain massif. They are attempting to drive the Franco-American forces there off the Mont Rouge plateau, the Allied occupation of which is threatening the flank of the line far to the east. All their efforts, however, have been fruitless.

WILL WINTER AT BELLEVILLE

Kingston, Sept. 11.—It is understood that about 200 men now with the Depot Battalion at Barrfield Camp will be stationed at Belleville for the winter, being quartered in the Amories there. It is probable that before men are sent to other points they will remain there until the barracks at Barrfield are completed or until they go overseas.

WORK NIGHT AND DAY.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—"Canadian troops are working day and night to lick the Germans," said Sir Edward Kemp to-day on his return from England, where he has been Overseas Minister of Militia.

"No matter what the conditions are there is never a kick or growl. When I saw them east of Arras they were in fine shape and before I left they had gone beyond the Hindenburg line and were in fact the first troops to penetrate the Hindenburg switch. The corps is probably the most mobile at the front. Despite all equalities the corps has been kept up to full strength."

Speaking of the Canadian Air force, he said the personnel would be about 400 including all ranks.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 12, 1918

THE SITUATION.
 It is announced in today's despatches that British forces have effected a crossing of the Canal du Nord to the northwest of Havrincourt and this constitutes a further menace for Cambrai as the canal at the point named forms the main defence of the place named on the southwest. The French armies also continue to forge ahead in the face of driving storms. Fresh divisions have been placed by the foe on the Hindenburg line—men who have not yet been in battle—but the hammer blows and successes of the Allies do not seem likely to be halted. Lieutenant Reppington, the noted military critic, who has been very free in some disparagements, now ventures the belief that the changed aspect of affairs presages the end of the struggle in 1919.
 More American troops have been landed at Archangel. The number for strategic reasons is not given, but without much doubt the force will be of a size to materially help the Allied cause in that region, where the inhabitants apparently need to be shown that German and Bolshevik influences can be mastered before they will openly join with the deliverers. Meanwhile wholesale murder continues to run riot in the new republic, where Lenin and his associates are seeking to maintain the upper hand by an unbridled reign of terror. The London Express states that it has reliable information that the entire family of the ex-Czar has now been wiped out by the assassination of his wife and four daughters and there is only too good reason to believe that after much humiliation they have been ruthlessly done to death.

THE CZECHO-SLOVAKS
 The official head of the Czecho-Slovak forces is Dr. T. G. Massaryk, President of the Czecho-Slovak National Council. He is at present in Washington. A writer in the New York Times points out that up to the time of the recognition by the United States, he was technically, as a citizen of Austria-Hungary, an enemy alien, and he held a more dangerous authority than was ever in the possession of a private individual in the United States, for he was commander of three armies, one in Siberia, one in France and one in Italy. By the recognition he ceases to be an enemy alien and becomes not merely an ally but the head of a new nation.
 Dr. Massaryk is described as one of the great scholars of Europe. He was formerly professor of philosophy at the University of Prague, but he gave up his position and risked his life to become the leader of a revolution against Austria. He has faced death several times, and is now under sentence of death passed upon him by Austria. It is not expected that Austria will have the satisfaction of carrying out the sentence.
 The new Czecho-Slovak nation, according to Dr. Massaryk, will embrace Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia, with their historical boundaries. A glance at the map of Europe will show these countries in the northwest corner of what is now the Dual Monarchy of Austria-Hungary. To these is to be added Slovakia, that is, the northern part of Hungary, extending as far south as Presburg and as far east as Ungvar. The total extent of territory is about four times greater than Belgium and the population is about twelve millions. Of these about ten millions are Czechs or Bohemians and Slovaks. The rest are minorities. Czechs and Slovaks are members of the great Slav family. The Czechs inhabit Bohemia and Moravia chiefly. The Slovaks are located chiefly in northwest Hungary and Moravia, though some are to be found in southern Austria.
 According to Dr. Massaryk the constitution of the new country will provide for a president and two legislative chambers. There will be an elaborate system of local self-government as a means of insuring protection against centralization and as a guarantee to the national minorities of the right to govern themselves. Even the new nation will have its problem of national minorities and mixed races, and the aim will be to work out such a solution as to leave by means of local self-government the management of their own affairs in the hands of the minorities, as far as possible.
 Second Lt. R. L. Jacks and Cadet H. W. Bousfield were killed in an airplane accident at Beamsville.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED
 By Courier Leased Wire
 Toronto, Sept. 12.—Mr. Justice Middleton today granted a new trial in the case of Alexander Barrell, convicted at Brantford, on a seditious literature case, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and be imprisoned for six months. An application for a new trial in the similar case against Artin Kusmitch was dismissed.

 labor of love and he has fulfilled our expectations in that he has been a "True Minister of the Lord Jesus." Not only in the church, but outside he has taken a large part in patriotic, Y.M.C.A. and all movements for the bettering of the community. He has been a dear friend to all soldier boys and their relatives, by whom he will be sorely missed. We unite in wishing him and his family great success in the city to which he goes, and pray that his labors may be richly blessed by the Great Head of the Church.
 Passed at the meeting of the church this eleventh day of September, nineteen hundred and eighteen.
 Geo. A. Winter, Joel Dawson, Church Clerk, Chairman.
 At the close of the reading Mr. Cook stepped forward and presented Mr. Brown with a handsome cheque.
 Mr. Brown after remarking that it was the largest cheque he had ever received in his life started to return his heartfelt thanks but was so overcome that he was unable to finish. Mrs. Secord sang and the ladies served fruit.
 Before the crowd dispersed those present shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Brown and wished them God speed in their new home.

POLICE COURT.
 The first case on the list at the police court this morning lasted for two hours. It was against Frank Bryans, who was taken into custody for being drunk in a garage on Brant street in company with a woman who was also under the influence of liquor. The party in the garage became noisy and Bryans ordered the police called as a bluff. No one was more surprised than Bryans himself when P.C. Dowling demanded admittance to the garage. He was refused and the door was finally forced by a crow bar. Liquor was found in the garage and it was said to be the property of several Hamilton men, whose names no one knew. The case was finally settled by Bryans being fined $200 for having liquor in an unauthorized place, $5 for disorderly conduct and $10 and costs for being drunk. Emilia Rising, the woman in the case, was fined $10 and costs being run over by an automobile for being intoxicated. A case of a quarrel between mother and daughter was left to be looked after by Mr. Axford.

OBITUARY

HALSEY LUDLOW
 Word was received by Mr. A. G. Ludlow, Murray street, this morning of the death in Rochester, Minnesota, of his nephew, Halsey Ludlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Ludlow, of Mount Vernon. The young man was 31 years of age, and was born and raised in Brant county, being a graduate of the Business College here. Five years ago he went west, and settled on a farm, but he was taken ill a year ago and since that time underwent several operations in Stanley hospital, Rochester, Minnesota, finally passing away on Tuesday of this week. The body will be brought to Brantford for interment. In addition to his parents and his uncle, the late Mr. Ludlow is survived by one brother, Fred, and one sister, Vera, at the parental home, Mount Vernon.
WATEROUS—CHAVEN
 The Church of St. James the Apostle, Montreal, was the scene of a very pretty wedding to-day when Miss Murel Chaven, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Craven, Westmount, was finally settled by Bryans being conducted to the bride of Mr. C. L. Watrous, of this city.
 Mrs. Gosnell of Byron was killed by a near her home.
 Five persons, if not more, lost their lives in a fire, which destroyed the Iroquois Falls Hotel.

EMPLOYED CHILDREN, FINED.

 St. Catharines, Sept. 11.—The Independent Rubber Company of Merrittton and Kinleith Paper Company paid fines of $12 and $10 respectively to-day for having children under 14 years of age in their employ.
 R. Home Smith is to be appointed Fuel Commissioner for Ontario in succession to R. C. Harris.

A Bad Boy. The principal of a public school asks for advice in dealing with an incorrigible boy. I do not think there is any such a boy that is, one beyond the possibility of reform. Every very bad boy has in him the potential power of becoming a very good boy and of making a success in life. The boy with enough force to be the terror of the school, and the teacher, has great possibilities, and it will pay to take infinite pains with him. Chum with him, take him home to dinner, play games with him, get his confidence and you can make him a ruler of this world and the next.
Playing Billiards at Home. A member of the church has put a billiard table in his home and his pastor asks my advice. I advise you not to meddle with it. It goes without saying that a man runs a great risk in teaching his boys to play billiards. Theoretically there is no more harm in billiards than in croquet, but for some reason the former generally leads to gambling, while the latter ends in innocent amusement. When you meet the man point this out to him.

BRITISH ELECTIONS.
 "I'm going back to the most momentous election there ever was in England. Between nine and ten million new voters will take part in it, and over six million of these will be women. This is the election that is going to decide the war. If David Lloyd George is returned to power with a War Cabinet behind him, we'll win. I'm going back to fight for that."
 She pictured the horrors of the future, should the war end in any compromise.
 "So far as I and my associates are concerned, we are going to have those six million women solid for a win-the-war cabinet. It's going to be neither Liberal nor Conservative nor Labor, but just winning the war. Then, when it is won, men and women together as equal citizens are going to build up a new and splendid civilization such as we had very little conception of before the war."
 These were the striking words of the world's woman orator. Hear Mrs. Panhurst to-morrow night at the Y.M.C.A.

The Merchant Marine
 You remember the uncertainty as regards trade when the war broke out? We finished 1913 with a balance of $293,000,000 against us. We wondered ———!
 Then the British Navy swept the German flag from the seas, but the submarine remained and the Floating Mine. Death lurked in the path of every vessel that carried the products of our farms and factories.
 None but Heroes of the finest type would have faced such dangers. But because the men of the MERCHANT MARINE did face them, we finished 1917 with a trade balance of $314,000,000 in our favor.
 We were able to fill war orders amounting to one billion, eight hundred and twelve million dollars ($1,812,000,000) from 1914 to 1917.
 But at what a price? 15,000 seamen of the Merchant Marine have fallen a prey to the U-Boat and the Hellish mine. No government provision is made for the widows and orphans of these heroes. Isn't it up to us?

BOARD OF WORKS.

The Board of Works will meet to-night to discuss several minor matters at the City Hall.

WORKING ON OLD WORK.

No new work has been commenced by the city engineer's department, the men being busy completing work begun some time ago.

THE CHAIRMAN.

Mr. Aemilius Jarvis of Toronto has been secured as chairman on Monday for the opening at the Y. M. C. A. of the suitors and British Red Cross Campaign Fund Week.

BUILDING SLACK.

Building this month has not been up to the standard as compared with other months. Only ten building permits have been issued since September 1st, and most of these have been for small buildings of minor value.

FOR BELGIAN FUND.

Col. H. F. Leonard has received a communication from the editor of "Pro Belgica," a magazine which is being used to advocate aid from Canadians for the Belgians. The call comes for subscriptions for the Queen of Belgium's fund.

IS GRAND CHAPLAIN.

A high honor was conferred on the Rev. G. A. Woodside of this city, pastor of Zion Church, when he was elected Grand Chaplain of the Sovereign Great Priory of Canada, A. F. and A. M., at the convention at Belleville yesterday.

POSITIONS VACANT.

The scarcity of men is becoming more and more apparent every day and public utilities are suffering as a result. At the present time there are two vacancies on the Police force and one on the Fire department for which no applications have been received.

GRANT FOR ARMY HUTS.

A deputation from the Knights of Columbus will wait on the Finance Committee of the City Council tomorrow night, and ask for a grant of $1,000 toward the local fund for the Catholic Army Huts campaign to be held early next month. As a larger grant was made the Red Triangle Fund last spring, it is expected that the sum asked will be voted, for the work done by these two organizations among the men overseas is practically identical.

CONDITION STILL CRITICAL.

The condition of John Squire, the aged janitor of the post office who had a stroke yesterday, is still critical, he being in about the same condition as yesterday.

ACTING PASTOR.

Rev. Mr. Alexander will be acting pastor of the First Baptist church until a successor to Rev. Mr. Brown is appointed.

GOES TO KINGSTON.

County Constable Taylor left last night for Kingston, accompanying Clarence Brackenbury, who was yesterday sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for highway robbery.

FIREMEN GET A REST.

The fire department is now enjoying a quiet season. For over two weeks there have been no calls from fires, which is a very good record, and the ambulance has been out only once this week.

STORY HOUR.

The story hours at the Public Library that have always been so popular with the school children are to be commenced again on Tuesday of next week.

PURCHASE DIGGER.

Alderman Burrows stated today that the eighteen acres of potatoes that are on the city farm at Harley are now ready to be dug and this necessitated the purchase of a potato digger for the work.

POTATOES GOOD CROP.

The results of five hills of potatoes dug on the City Farm at Harley by a couple of the Aldermen are on exhibition at the office of Alderman John Burrows. The spuds are of a good quality, free from scabs, and have few small potatoes in them. From the five hills, between six and seven quarts were taken.

WOUNDED.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wrecks, 93 Northumberland St., formerly of Harrisburg, have received the sad news that their son, Pte. Wilfred Wrecks, has been admitted to Fort Pitt military hospital, Chatham, Sept. 1st, suffering from gunshot wound in the right leg. Pte. Wrecks went overseas with the 52nd western battalion, and has been three years overseas.

UNIQUE STORE WINDOW.

Considerable interest is being attracted by the new picturesque rustic window of C. J. Mitchell. The work was opened to the view of the public to-day and the crowds which gathered to gaze upon it showed the appreciation felt. The scene includes live rabbits and many other features and to be appreciated to the fullest extent it must be seen.

THE MARKETS.

The number of purchasers that gathered on the market this morning was very small as was the number of farmers present. The rain descended at times and many of the marketers that were not prepared for this hindrance there were large quantities of potatoes and tomatoes, while pumpkins, cabbage and plums were also offered for sale in smaller quantities.

Between 700 and 1,000 acres of grain were stooked in 1917 by the "Citizen Stooking Gangs" of Portage la Prairie, Man. This year the stores in the town close at four o'clock to enable the employes to go to the harvest fields on the Portage Plains.

WELL EARNED REST FOR CANADIANS

Troops Have First Breathing Spell in Six Weeks

(By J. F. B. Livesay, Canadian Press Correspondent.)

With the Canadian Forces, Sept. 10.—The Canadian sector is quiet and many of the troops are enjoying a well earned rest. Some of the infantry battalions have been on the go steadily for six weeks, marching when not fighting, with never an hour to write a letter or darn a sock. The front line is not yet stabilized and is very active as the enemy controls a harassing fire from both north and east, while his snipers are particularly busy. The land is in favor of him at this passing stage of our general advance. Behind the lines goes on the ceaseless activity of field ambulances, casualty clearing stations and hospitals. The devoted work of the former is lightened now as with marvelous celerity and method the wounded are passed back to the forward hospitals, thence to be cleared, when necessary to the base and evacuated to "Blighty." During the heat of the fighting advance dressing stations staffs worked without cessation day and night in their effort to cope with the casualties. And well they succeeded. A Canadian hospital lies now behind Arras with a line of huts, bare and spotless. Our wounded first reach the hands of Canadian nurses. "Well, sister, you don't know how good it is to have a woman around again," said one of the men and he said it in no depreciation of the stretcher-bearers, who are gallant men, and have given freely of their lives in the recent fighting. They have dogged the steps of our fighting infantry through barrage, through wire and the hail of machine gun bullets. To see a woman's face again after a month of battle and flame is in itself an inspiration and a comfort. They are the picked women of Canada. It has been their good fortune to be selected from the nurses who have volunteered at the base for this forward work. It is the nearest any woman may get to the front line. They will unflinchingly suffer heart and body for their reward is the long train of evacuated soldiers going to "Blighty" with a chance for their lives.

Germany Ready
press my warm thanks as the country's father, to the women, as well as the girls and the boys, for their self-sacrificing performance of their duty, despite their harassing cares. No one amongst our people should imagine I am not conversant with this. In my dealings through the land, I have spoken with many a widow, many a peasant, many a member of the landwehr and the landsturm whose hearts were heavy with cares but who were first of thought of duty first. I have been touched by your cares to the depths of my heart. What paternal suggestion could do to diminish the burden so far as possible has been done. Much could have been done otherwise and it is no wonder there is dissatisfaction here and there. "But to whom, after all, do we owe this? Who speaks for the beginning of the starving old German women and children? Who was it who introduced terrible hatred into this war? It was the enemy."
"Everyone of you in the remotest corner of the fatherland knows that I left no stone unturned to shorten the war as far as possible for you and your people and for the entire civilized European world. In December, 1916, I presented the enemy public with a peace and unambiguous offer of peace in the name of the German empire, and my allies. Jeers, mockery and contempt were the answer."
"He up above knows my sense of responsibility. Repeatedly during the past month, the responsible leaders of the Imperial Government have unambiguously beseeched me to understand, to everyone who wishes to understand, that we are at all times ready to offer the hand to peace."
The Emperor declared the activities of Germany's enemies was the outspoken will to destruction, the disintegration, the crushing of Germany.
"To make peace," he added, "two are needed. If either is unwilling, the other cannot, presuming that he does not overthrow the other. Thus, we are confronted with the enemy's absolute will to destruction, and against this absolute will to destruction we must place our absolute will to preserve our existence."
"Our brave army out there has shown you their will and deed. Whether in assault, by withdrawal, or trench fighting, the only thing that matters is that the enemy should lose as much as possible. That has occurred and continues to occur."
"Our death-defying navy also has proved that. It beat the enemy at the Skagerrak, despite his great superiority. Our U-boats, like a consuming worm, gnaw at the enemy's vitals more than our enemies will admit."
"Yes, Yes, Go On."
"Even though the opinion of many among you, it is lasting too long, every German and every German woman must, in witnessing these incomprehensible deeds of our army and navy, be aware that we are fighting and struggling for existence, and that we must make the time pass as quickly as possible, not only through the work, but as regards the thoughts of our people."
"Many among you have often asked themselves during this long war: 'How did such a thing happen? Why did we have to undergo such a thing after forty years of peace?' Think it is a question worthy of an answer and which must be answered for the future—for our children and grandchildren."

DRIVING STORMS DO NOT HALT THE FRENCH ADVANCE

Troops Still Pushing Ahead—Foch Has Enemy Guessing

Paris, Sept. 11.—Bad weather continues over the battle front, hampering the operations from Rheims to Ypres. Nevertheless the allies have kept moving in the teeth of the storm and despite the stiff German resistance and to-day are at several points appreciably nearer the Hindenburg line. The French have made notably useful gains, as the result of which they outflank St. Quentin from the south and threaten the St. Gobain massif from the rear.

Numerous raids are reported to have been made by the enemy in Champagne, the Argonne Forest, the Woivre, Lorraine and Alsace, which indicates that he is trying extremely hard to find out what Marshal Foch is going to do next. Ludendorff evidently realizes that Foch, with the ever-growing American reserves behind him, is able to strike at several points simultaneously or in quick succession.

That the Germans do not intend more than a temporary stand on the Hindenburg line is inferred from the fact that they are burning La Fere and are removing everything from the Douai arsenal and the aviation centres at La Biayelle and Lecelles, near St. Armand. The last-named airfield is that from which the Gothas have flown to London.

In military circles here it is believed that the enemy eventually will fall back from a line running from Lille to Metz, behind Lens, Douai, Cambrai, La Fere and Laon.

German counter-attacks around La Fere were repulsed by the French to-day according to the War Office announcement to-night.

Three Divisions Believed. The Associated Press correspondent with the French armies writes: "The Germans have relieved several of their tired divisions in the region of Vauxaillon, on the front north of the Aisne, and with some of their best troops are making a strong effort to stop the further eastward progress of the French. The attempt has been without success, however, as the French forces took some additional lines of trenches in this region to-day, gaining ground also to the northeast of Laffaux.

Repeated counter-attacks in this vicinity were repulsed. The enemy reacted violently north of the Oise, but also without stopping the progress of General Humbert's troops towards the road from La Fere to St. Quentin, which they now hold from La Fere the two miles northward to Travecy. The wooded region of Vendeuil also fell into their hands.

The Germans have been attacking desperately on the French front where the line runs north from the Aisne towards the St. Gobain massif. They were attempting to drive the Franco-American forces there off the Mont Rouge Plateau, the allied occupation of which is threatening the flank of the line far to the east. All their efforts have been fruitless.

CZAR'S FAMILY ALL MURDERED

Both Ex-Empress And Her Daughters Slain, London Hears

London, Sept. 12.—The Daily Express claims to have unquestionable information that the former Empress and her four daughters have been murdered by the Bolsheviks. The paper prints the following: "The Express understands from a source which is beyond doubt that the Empress of Russia and her four daughters have been murdered by the Bolsheviks. The whole immediate family of the late Czar has thus been exterminated.

"It is further understood that the Dowager Empress, who, with her daughter and son-in-law, the Duke of Oldenburg, has been staying at Yalta, was recently attacked by Red Guards, who sought to kill all three. Sailors of the Black Sea fleet intervened and fought the Red Guards.

"For a fortnight the fight continued, until the Red Guards were beaten. It is now understood that the Dowager Empress is safe."

PRETTY GIRL OF 22 IS ASSISTANT TO MCDADOO'S ASSISTANT

Miss F. H. Brady Assists to Run the Railroads of the United States

He was a big fellow and quite self-important, and he swept into the office in Washington with an air. And he had a big voice to match his big body. He keen glance swept the room and centered upon a very pretty, remore-looking girl of 22.

"Which chief?" the girl asked. "Why, the assistant to the assistant."

"I am she," said the girl with the suspicion of a smile and a dimple. "You're what?" he exclaimed.

"Assistant to the assistant to the director-General McDadoo."

seminary. Then the war was brought very close to her. Two brothers, both college men, expert engineers volunteered for the Army Engineer Corps and sailed for France, the one as first lieutenant and the other as corporal.

Then it was that Miss Brady, up and spoke to her father, Colonel T. G. Brady, saying that she was as good a "man" as her brothers any day and was going to do her bit by going to work.

Her father was much amused until he learned that his daughter had secured a job as secretary to Oscar Price, who at that time was private secretary to the Director-General McDadoo. Price and the girl broke all records for long hours. They were at their desk early in the morning and it was often 8 and 10 at night when McDadoo, finally announced "good night." Recently their reward came. Price is now assistant to the director-general. And Miss Brady is assistant to the assistant.

Boston, Sept. 12.—Taps for professional baseball for the duration of the war was sounded at Fenway Park yesterday when the Boston American League pennant winners won the first war-scarred baseball championship of the world by defeating the Chicago National League titleholders in the sixth game of the series by a score of 2 to 1. This gives the Red Sox a series of six victories for the ownership of the baseball world in as many starts, and as the Boston Nationals won the championship in 1914, it brings to the city seven world titles without one blot on the escutcheon.

Third Was Disastrous
The momentary wavering of the hard-clawing Cubs in the third inning gave the Red Sox their big opportunity, which they seized with characteristic keenness. Tyler, after the inherent rief of southpaws, indulged in a brief fit of wildness. He passed Mays, the first man up, on four straight balls. Harry Hooper, then poked an irritating, slowly meandering roller towards Tyler, the ball being so cleverly placed that the Cub pitcher could not get it to second in time to head off Mays. Hooper, however, was put out at first. Dave Shean, one of the most patient waiters for free transportation to first in the series, was also passed. Two men were on and only one was out when Amos Strunk came to bat and sent a very bad bouncer to Flack at second base. Flack had his troubles handling the ball, finally getting Strunk at first. Mays and Shean in the meantime reaching 3rd and 2nd respectively. This brought up Whitman, the dark horse, and one of the big stars of the series, and the crowd sensed the break of the game coming.

Waiting for a ball to his liking, Whitman got one of Tyler's fast shoots on the end of his bat, the ball going on a line to short right field.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness, that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or objectionable hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Flack sprinted in fast, thrusting out both hands at full reach. The ball hit one side of the gloved hand and bounded to the ground while Mays and Shean raced over the plate bearing between them the keystone for Boston's world series arch of triumph.

Sox Were Steadier.
It was tough for Tyler, a great pitcher, and hard for Flack, a sterling fielder, to stumble when they did. But it was just this difference in steadiness between the Red Sox and their opponents at critical periods all through the hectic season which returned the Boston men champions of their league and of the world.

Mcinnis, anxious to keep the ball rolling, got an infield hit, but Whitman, in a gallant try for third base was thrown out. Hollocher to Merkle to Deal. In the next inning the Cubs, wounded and sore, went after victory like a menagerie run wild. The first man up was Flack, overflowing with rage at himself for his unfortunate miff, and he vented a heavy percentage of his spite on one of the balls that Mays kept curving about his knees. The ball went screaming over second for a clean base hit.

Cubs Tried Hard, But—
Hollocher did his duty by tapping a slow roller to Mcinnis for a sacrifice. Flack having ample time to reach second. Mays putting on an extra head of steam, shot in a fast, low one on the inside corner, but the ball was too far inside and hit Mann on the leg with a terrific thump. The husky outfielder dropped as if shot and rolled over in agony, but pluckily gathered himself up and limped down to first base, Flack going to second. Here Boston exhibited some of its fancy sharp-shooting around the bases, which has played an important part in the series. Schang watching Mann on a few halting steps off first, shot the ball down to Mcinnis and the Cub, to his intense indignation was put out.

Mays then gave one of his two passes of the game, Paskert strolling to first. Flack taking advantage of the diversion, made a clean steal of third. Fred Merkle then rose to the occasion by smashing a single to left on which Flack scored. Paskert stopped at second within easy scoring distance, and it looked as if the game would surely be tied up when Flack sent a hard low line drive to short right field. It was the same kind of a hit that Flack had fumbled off Whitman. Harry Hooper, king of right fielders, rushed in at top speed, reached out at full length and the ball stuck fast. Chicago's last chance had come and gone.

More Lamplight for Whitley.
In Boston's half of the fourth it seemed as if they intended to make it a massacre when they filled the bases. But the Cubs refused to go up the air, and the Red Sox were retired without a run. With Scott and Mays on third and first, respectively, through infield hits, and Schang on second through a pass and the inability of Deal to diagnose quickly Mays' hunt, and with only one out, it looked like a big best-feat. Merkle, however, stepped into the breach by sharp handling of Hooper's grounder, forcing Scott at the plate. Deal then made a hard play off Shean's sizzling drive down the third base line. He managed to stop the ball with one hand, finally recovered it off his balance in time to touch this and force out Mays. It was a cool-headed, tight defence and brought a big cheer from the crowd. In a game that was full of dazzling stops and throws, a catch by Whitman in the eighth, when the plating Mays was rushing in his artillery reserves, was easily the feature of the contest and probably of the series.

Barber, batting in place of Deal, hit one of those hard, low line drives to left field. Whitman, before the series hardly known to baseball fame, rushed in with the ball dropping faster and faster, grabbed the sphere below his ankles and took a clean somersault, the great momentum rolling him up on his feet again. He staggered dizzily, but with great elation slammed the ball to Scott, and the ball went flying around the infield as an expression of the joy of the Sox in such a remarkable catch.

Also Deserve Applause.
It was the same kind of spectacular play that Joe Jackson made in the world's series for the Chicago Americans last year. Whitman waved off the anxious enquiries of his mates as to whether he had been hurt and took his position, but he was obviously badly shaken up, and after O'Farrell had filed out to Scott, Manager Barrow sent in "Babe" Ruth at left field. The game was held up for two minutes, while the crowd gave Whitman the greatest ovation in the series. Scott next clipped in with his daily feature by a spectacular catch of McCabe's foul fly.

With Hendrix pitching spitballs in Boston's half of the eighth, the Red Sox, unaccustomed to right-hand twirling in this series, went out one, two, three. Chicago's last chance for glory came in the ninth.

GERMANS FIGHT DESPERATELY TO SAVE HINDENBERG LINE

French Are, However, Slowly Overcoming Resistance in Their Drive for Laon—Allies Likely to Make Short Work of the Enemy Defences

By WIL COOK
Paris, Sept. 11.—Between the Somme and the Oise the French have advanced beyond Hinnacourt, despite strong enemy resistance. Southwest of St. Quentin, Gibeourt has been captured and progress made toward Esigny-le-Grand. The plan of encircling St. Quentin is being steadily pursued.

Despite the hindrance of wind and rain storms yesterday considerable progress was made between St. Quentin and the Oise. We are closing in on Esigny-le-Grand village where the enemy are toughly resisting along the line of Esigny-le-Grand and Hinnacourt.

Further south our patrols are progressing without serious opposition in the direction of Travecy. We are well in touch with the Hindenburg positions on the bank of the Meuse and Sambre Canal. South of the Ailette the enemy's artillery and machine gun resistance is becoming heavier.

TROOPSHIP SUNK BUT NO LIVES LOST

2,800 American Soldiers Are Landed Safely in England

By Courier Leased Wire
London, Tuesday, Sept. 10.—A troop ship with 2,800 American soldiers on board has been torpedoed. All hands were saved. The troop ship was beached. In order to save time, instead of launching the boats the men clambered down ropes to destroyers which swarmed around the stricken vessel and came close alongside. This operation was greatly facilitated by the fact that the sea was not rough. The troop ship was a member of a large convoy approaching the English coast. The vessel was torpedoed 200 miles from shore at three o'clock on Friday afternoon.

Majority Safe.
An Inland Rest Camp in England, Tuesday, Sept. 10.—(By The Associated Press).—The majority of the 2,800 American soldiers from the troop ship which was torpedoed last Friday off the English coast, but was not sunk, and upon which there were no casualties, have arrived here none the worse for their thrilling experience. The men are finding some consolation for the loss of their vessel in the assurance that the submarine

WANT ISAACS CASE INVESTIGATED

Trades and Labor Council Are Still Going to Take Action

Rain played havoc with the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council held last evening in the Labor Hall. The attendance was small and the meeting was not called to order till long past the opening hour but the spirits of the few that were in attendance were not dampened by the descending showers.

The Isaacs Case. The Isaacs case was the first matter to be discussed.

Delegate Neal read communication received from the widow of the unfortunate man. This did not apparently agree with the letter received from the Indian department which stated that all parties concerned were satisfied. Mrs. Isaacs proposed that action be taken against the party who mutilated the body. Delegate Neal recommended that the T. & L. Council back Mrs. Isaacs in the proceedings. Delegate Neal then made a palpable hit at the local press for not giving sufficient backing to the case.

Delegate Armstrong expressed his opinion on the subject. He thought that if a white person had been subjected to like indignities everyone would be up in arms; because it was not one of our race people thought it should be dropped.

Delegate James moved that the matter be left in the hands of Del. Neal for further investigation. This was finally decided upon as the only course to take.

Delegate Neal then commented upon the advances amongst the local churches of unionism in both union printing and a sermon on union subjects.

A communication received from the City Clerk was then read announcing that the city council had passed on the matter of allowing the T. & L. Council to send two representatives to the committee re-pastorization of St. Michael's.

Delegates McGratton and Neal were appointed to do this work and their names were ordered forwarded to the City Clerk.

A letter was read from the Chairman of the Board of Education on the problem of the congestion of the public schools. It was moved and seconded by Del. Armstrong and Belshaw that the Chairman of the Board of Education be asked to address the Council at the next meeting on the subject.

A letter was received from the committee in charge of the defence of Tom Mooney now in the death cell on charges of murder, although the witnesses were proved to be perjurers. It was decided to appoint a committee, Del. Kite and Neal to take care of this matter. This committee will draw up a resolution to be sent to President Wilson.

The Future Highway. Discussion then began over the question of the proposed highway through Brantford from Hamilton to London. The discussion on this question lasted till a late hour with nothing definite being done. Finally after much discussion the following resolution was passed:

"That the Brantford Trades and Labor Council place itself on record as favoring the Brantford route for the provincial highway as being in the best interest of this city of the highway and of the province at large.

WONT CHANGE EMBARGO. By Courier Leased Wire.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—A definite announcement is made by the Department of Agriculture that there is no possibility of removal or modification of the embargo on the shipments of apples and other fruits to Great Britain until shipping conditions change for the better. "Every foot of available steamship space," says the department, "is required for the transportation of men, munitions and food. The Canadian apple as well as many other articles of food, is not considered essential and, until shipping facilities are in a much more stable condition than at present, all efforts to modify the apple embargo must be futile."

FRENCH GAINS WORTH WHILE

Win Important Observation Points Along the Oise River

FOE FIGHTING HARD

Paris, Sept. 10.—Between the Somme and the Oise the French have advanced beyond Hinacourt, despite strong enemy resistance, according to the War Office announcement today. They are almost in touch with the Hindenburg line, which here lies along the highway upon the west side of the Oise leading from La Fere to St. Quentin. The French object is to break in between La Fere and St. Quentin, leaving open the opportunity for an enveloping movement against either of these two towns. The capture of Fort Liez gives the French a commanding position on the lower part of this front with wide observation over the valley of the Oise.

The statement says: "Further progress has been made by us between the Somme and the Oise, despite strong enemy resistance. We have passed Hinacourt and repulsed a counter-attack from Esigny.

"North of the Aisne we repulsed several counter-attacks in the La-faivy region."

The earlier statement says: "To the east of the Crozat Canal French troops have captured Giberfont and have made progress in the direction of Hitacourt and Esigny-le-Grand."

"South of the Ailette River we repulsed two enemy counter-attacks in the region of Nanteuil-la-Posse."

"Enemy raids in the Aronne and in the Vesces were checked, and the raiders driven back."

A belated Monday night official report reads: "North of the Somme we captured the villages of Etroillers and Reuvy. Beyond the Crozat Canal we have taken Soracourt-le-Grand, Ciestres, Montecourt-Livrolles and Reuvy. Our advance elements occupied Hill 102, south of Compoint Station, Esigny-le-Grand and Hill 117."

"North of the Oise we took the Fort of Liez, the wood northwest of the Canlers Farm and the Rouge Farm."

"South of the Oise we have taken Rieucourt and the Servais Station. Elsewhere we improved our positions north of Laifary and also between the Aisne and the Vesle in the region of Clennes."

NO SHORTAGE. Pittsburgh, Sept. 11.—There will be no shortage of coal or food this winter on account of transportation congestion, according to Director General McAdoo, who is here today to attend a meeting of the regional directors of eastern and Allegheny valley railroads.

Mr. McAdoo declared there will be no repetition of the last winter's traffic delays. He said there is no dearth of cars at mines and will be no undue shipping delays unless essential railroad operatives are straggled.

PRESIDENT ISSUES STATEMENT

With Reference to the Strike of Dominion Expressmen

By Courier Leased Wire. Halifax, N.S., Sept. 11.—A. R. Mosher, grand president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, made the following statement regarding the strike of employees of the Dominion Express Company:

"The strike of Dominion Express Company employees should properly be called a strike for their right to organize and negotiate through their elected representatives, wage schedules and rules governing working conditions. They did not want to have forced upon them schedules and agreements supposed to have been concurred in by employees but which in reality are purely and simply concoctions of the officials of the company in which the 95 per cent. of the employes had no voice."

"If the confederation spreads and thousands of railway employees quit work, the Dominion Express Company by its attitude against bona fide labor organizations and the government by not assisting the Canadian Brotherhood in its efforts to bring about a settlement of the dispute must bear the blame."

BRITISH GAIN ON LYS FRONT

Progress Northeast Neuve Chapelle and West of Armentieres

London, Sept. 10.—Further slight progress for the British near Neuve Chapelle and Armentieres and local engagements in the centre of the line in the vicinity of Epehy and Gouzeaucourt, southwest of Cambrai, are reported by Field Marshal Haig in his communication to-night. Stormy weather still prevails on the battlefield.

The communication follows: "Except for local fighting in the Epehy and Gouzeaucourt sectors, in which we secured prisoners, there is nothing of special interest to report from the battlefield south of the Scarpe."

"On the Lys front our patrols have made slight progress northeast of Neuve Chapelle and west of Armentieres."

"Stormy weather continues." The text of the day statement reads: "Yesterday evening the enemy launched a second counter-attack against the positions gained by us during the morning west of Gouzeaucourt. He was completely repulsed. Our line has been advanced during the night south of Hinacourt."

"Progress was made by us northeast of Neuve Chapelle and west and north of Armentieres."

Deny Allied Advance. Berlin, Sept. 10.—(Via London). "Renewed British attacks south of the Peronne-Cambrai road and French partial attacks on both sides of the Ham-St. Quentin road have been repulsed," says the German official communication, issued this evening.

"There have been local engagements on the Ailette."

Music and Drama

"THE GARDEN OF ALLAH." Never before has there been transplanted to a playhouse a scene so rich, so sumptuous, so wonderful a stretch of land as the man-made oasis—Court Anton's garden—a scene in "The Garden of Allah," which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House on its sixth annual tour, starting Saturday, Sept. 14th, for a limited engagement of two performances, matinee and night. Here nature will be seen tamed to the use and comfort of man. And in the next scene of this drama, nature seems wild and beyond the power of man to subdue—the sandstorm in the great Sahara. The imaginative Mohammedans with their simple creed: "There is no God, but God and Mohammed is his prophet—I proclaim it," call the Sahara the Garden of Allah. They believe it is possible for man to get closer to God there.

ANGLICAN SYNOD OPENS IN TORONTO

Triennial Meeting Entered Upon Its Labors Yesterday Morning

By Courier Leased Wire. Toronto, Sept. 11.—With solemn service of morning prayer and holy communion in St. James Cathedral this morning, the triennial meeting of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada entered upon its labors which will probably continue until the end of next week. At 10:00 a.m. the bishops and delegates gathered in St. James parish house and at 11 the procession to the cathedral began. First walked three clergymen, followed by forty lay delegates, then two and two, fifty more clergymen. Following them, twenty-six archbishops and bishops, each attended by his two chaplains. These included Bishop Duvernet, Metropolitan of British Columbia; Archbishop Thorlaco of Nova Scotia, with Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, archbishop and metropolitan of Rupert's Land and Primate of all Canada, bringing up the rear.

No primatial cross or pastoral staffs were carried in the procession, but the "Reverend fathers in God" presented a brilliant spectacle, all but two being vested in their scarlet convocation robes and wearing their petoral crosses.

The procession moved up the aisle of the cathedral singing "The Church's One Foundation" and when placed in the nave of the church and the prelates with their chaplains had taken up their positions in the choir stalls, the service of morning prayer began.

The sermon was preached by Right Rev. J. N. McCormick, Bishop of West Michigan, U.S.A. and the celebrant at the communion office was the primate, Archbishop Matheson.

The Synod will hold its first session in St. James parish house this afternoon at three o'clock.

Hardly Excusable Even in a Child

IF a child were to enter one of our aeroplane factories and interrupt a workman with a request to have a kite made—the workman would smile indulgently—and proceed with his aeroplane.

You yourself would condemn the man if he stopped his vital war work to build a toy.

Condemn yourself, then, if you employ labor and material to make such goods as cater only to your self indulgence.

Every time you buy a thing you do not need, you interfere with Canada's war work.

Every dollar you spend on goods not strictly necessary, is a dollar—not merely wasted—but used to employ labor on things that have nothing to do with our efforts to win the fight for freedom.

Too many of us, in Canada, are flying the "luxury kite." Too much of the time of Canadian workmen is being purchased by us to make the things that are for show and pleasure. Too great a quantity of material that our soldiers could effectively use against the foe, goes into the making of superfluous things for us, whom they are so valiantly defending.

Stop the reckless spending. Stop acting like children. This war we are fighting calls for men and the brains of men. If you cannot fight—at least do not interrupt the war-work by buying the things you merely want and do not need.

The money you have been spending wastefully—with no result but to divert labor from war-essentials—will make a worth-while sum.

Use that money to build up a fund, that you can lend your Country, when your Country calls.

HOW "UNCLE" WALT MASON CAME BACK

Down And Out at Age of Forty-Five, the Famous Poet of Emporia Has Since Made a Big Success of Life.

(Continued from Yesterday) In a few days I would have to leave the boiling hot institution, and had no place to go. Mr. White was in Colorado, and my letter had been forwarded to him, so there was a delay in getting a reply. Somehow I had counted on a favorable word from him, and as day after day went by, and the mail brought nothing, my hopelessness became absolute. Then when I had ceased to expect a reply, there came a long generous letter telling me to go to Emporia and make myself useful until he returned home, and then we'd discuss ways and means together.

I believe that was the gladdiest hour of my life. You have to be down and out and well stricken in years, and ashamed that you are alive, to understand the joy of having one more chance.

And so, one October evening, as the sun was slowly sinking behind the western hills, a solitary horseman might have been seen pushing his jaded steed into Emporia. The next morning I reported for work at the Gazette office, and a small corner was cleared for me in Mr. White's private office.

I have said that I had a reputation as "a hog for work," and I lived up to it now. Work had become a sort of passion with me. It enabled me to forget for a while that I was forty-five, and dead broke, and starting in again at the foot of the ladder, in worse shape than when I first entered a newspaper office. I was a superfluity in the Gazette office; there was no real place for me; a place had been made, just to give me a chance, and of course the wages were small.

Making Good in Emporia. But I wrote so much stuff the printers were in a panic, and I was at my job by sunrise, and worked at it in the evening by lamplight. After two or three weeks Mr. White came home, and I'll never forget his hearty greeting. I had never seen him before, but he acted as though I were the long-lost Charlie Rose.

"You're been writing wonderful stuff, Walt," he cried. "Come up to my house to-night. I want to have a talk with you."

I went and we had the talk, and my wages were raised, and I was assured that there was a place for me on the Gazette as long as I wanted it. This was balm in Gilead.

A heart-breaking time followed. In my days of riotous living I had plied up a mountain of debts. They had never troubled me when I had stayed with flagons; but when my creditors heard that I was working and earning money, they came down on me, not as single spies, but in battalions. There were lawyers and bailiffs and collectors hot on my trail all the time, and I saw that it would take me ninety-nine years to pay them all, and the weight of discouragement oppressed me again.

Had it not been for the cheery sympathy of Mr. White in those dreary days, I'd have given up trying. His sympathy wasn't the easy stuff that exhausts itself in words. In fact, he never talked about my worries; but I know he understood them, and he let me know he was ready to help me out in any way, at any time. But he preferred to see me work out my own salvation. It was by manifesting his confidence in me that he kept me to the mark. I admired him so much, and was so hungry for his approval, that I was determined to make good if it were in me to do it.

And all the time the fleshpots were calling. If I quit work for an hour I could hear the march of the prodigal sons, and yearned to be with them. A Fund of Rhymes. There was a day when the managing editor wanted a stickful of stuff in a hurry to fill a corner on the front page. It was a Saturday and I sat down and wrote a little rhyme in prose form, urging people to go to church next Sunday. I had been writing such little rhymes for years.

When working for the Atchison Globe I used to write the advertisements of grocers and coal merchants in verse, and throughout my newspaper career I employed the talent indiscriminately. I always could write verse as easily as prose.

The rhymes form themselves in my head as fast as I can write them down. I am never stuck for a rhyme. If there is a word in any corner of the language that will rhyme with another, it bobs up in my mind without effort.

The verse I wrote for the Gazette was printed with a border around it, and caused some comment. So I wrote another on Monday, and a third on Tuesday, and so on. The verses became a feature of the first page. In the beginning they treated of local topics, exclusively, then they had a wider range, and newspapers all over the country were copying them. It never occurred to me that the rhymes had possibilities as money-makers.

But one day Mrs. White said, in that friendly way of his, "Walt, it's time we began to figure on getting you something for those rhymes. I have been waiting to see if you could keep your lick before talking about it. You seem to be an inexhaustible fountain of verse, and I believe you can keep it up indefinitely. The newspapers are using the rhymes everywhere, and I'm sure they'd pay something for them. Now I am going to write to a friend of mine who syndicates things, and I feel sure he will sell these verses so you'll have quite an income from them."

Then he wrote to Mr. George Matthew Adams, with the result that the latter agreed to syndicate the poems. He hadn't much faith in the proposition, for poetry has always been regarded, by publishers and syndicate men, as something to be touched with a ten-foot pole. At the beginning of the experiment Mr. Adams paid me eighteen dollars a week for six rhymes, and this, added to my wages from the Gazette, seemed opulence and restored some of my natural optimism. I began to think that perhaps God was in His heavens after all.

The rhymes caught on, and every month or two Mr. Adams added something to my pay. That was more than eight years ago, and he has been at the same trick ever since. I have never asked him to add a dollar to my pay. He has kept on increasing the stipend with untiring generosity, and at the present time he probably pays me more than any other man ever received from rhyme alone.

A "One Shirt" Democrat. It is ten years since I came to Emporia, with my extra shirt and my nurse to me, and I expect and hope to potter around under her ancestral elms until Joe Dummar's motor hearsse. Since prosperity overtook me I have received flattering offers from Chicago and New York—even London. But little old Emporia is good enough for me. The people here know me for the stuffed prophet I am, and won't allow me to get swelled up with false pride. When I begin to feel important, and realize that my hat is too small, I meet Carl Ricker or Harry Peach, or somebody else who knew me when I had only an extra shirt, and I know that I can't get by with my pose. I feel that this chastening of the spirit is good for me, so I remain in Emporia.

I have an automobile with all modern improvements, and sometimes when I am jaunting along the road I begin to feel that the sun rises and sets somewhere in my neighborhood.

Then I see a landmark that my weary eyes beheld ten years ago, when I had only one extra shirt, and I quit trying to look like Washington crossing the Delaware. Such things are good for me, for I don't want success to give me the idea that I am not a false alarm; so I remain in Emporia.

Sunday, towards the close of the Jewish New Year, scores of Toronto Jews went to the water's edge for half an hour and prayed that their lives be kept clean and uncontaminated as fresh water. It is an ancient custom practised nowadays by the most religious Jews. Photo shows the scene at the foot of York street, Toronto.

The rhymes form themselves in my head as fast as I can write them down. I am never stuck for a rhyme. If there is a word in any corner of the language that will rhyme with another, it bobs up in my mind without effort.

The verse I wrote for the Gazette was printed with a border around it, and caused some comment. So I wrote another on Monday, and a third on Tuesday, and so on. The verses became a feature of the first page. In the beginning they treated of local topics, exclusively, then they had a wider range, and newspapers all over the country were copying them.

It never occurred to me that the rhymes had possibilities as money-makers. But one day Mrs. White said, in that friendly way of his, "Walt, it's time we began to figure on getting you something for those rhymes. I have been waiting to see if you could keep your lick before talking about it.

You seem to be an inexhaustible fountain of verse, and I believe you can keep it up indefinitely. The newspapers are using the rhymes everywhere, and I'm sure they'd pay something for them. Now I am going to write to a friend of mine who syndicates things, and I feel sure he will sell these verses so you'll have quite an income from them."

Then he wrote to Mr. George Matthew Adams, with the result that the latter agreed to syndicate the poems. He hadn't much faith in the proposition, for poetry has always been regarded, by publishers and syndicate men, as something to be touched with a ten-foot pole. At the beginning of the experiment Mr. Adams paid me eighteen dollars a week for six rhymes, and this, added to my wages from the Gazette, seemed opulence and restored some of my natural optimism. I began to think that perhaps God was in His heavens after all.

The rhymes caught on, and every month or two Mr. Adams added something to my pay. That was more than eight years ago, and he has been at the same trick ever since. I have never asked him to add a dollar to my pay. He has kept on increasing the stipend with untiring generosity, and at the present time he probably pays me more than any other man ever received from rhyme alone.

A "One Shirt" Democrat. It is ten years since I came to Emporia, with my extra shirt and my nurse to me, and I expect and hope to potter around under her ancestral elms until Joe Dummar's motor hearsse. Since prosperity overtook me I have received flattering offers from Chicago and New York—even London.

But little old Emporia is good enough for me. The people here know me for the stuffed prophet I am, and won't allow me to get swelled up with false pride. When I begin to feel important, and realize that my hat is too small, I meet Carl Ricker or Harry Peach, or somebody else who knew me when I had only an extra shirt, and I know that I can't get by with my pose. I feel that this chastening of the spirit is good for me, so I remain in Emporia.

I have an automobile with all modern improvements, and sometimes when I am jaunting along the road I begin to feel that the sun rises and sets somewhere in my neighborhood.

Then I see a landmark that my weary eyes beheld ten years ago, when I had only one extra shirt, and I quit trying to look like Washington crossing the Delaware. Such things are good for me, for I don't want success to give me the idea that I am not a false alarm; so I remain in Emporia.

THE END

Rippling Rhymes

VIEWING WITH ALARM. There's always some one going round with weird predictions, dark and grim; his accents have a doleful sound, the future is a frost to him. He wets the landscape with his tears, and says we'll never win the Hun, in less than forty-seven years, and we'll be broke when it is done. He hears of victory and scowls; "the worst," he says, "is yet to come; your loud hurrahs will change to howls; the news will soon be fierce and blunt." I've seen him wander down the street and queer the town in half an hour, with tales of ruin and defeat, and forecasts drivelling and dour. No doubt if some one said, "Old soon does Wilhelm pay you for this graft?" he'd act like some one going daft. He is a patriot, you bet! For Uncle Sam he'd lose a limb; it's just his way to scold and fret, and show that things look black to him. In times of peace he used to show how government was slipping cogs, and pointed out, in grief and woe, that we were going to the dogs. In times of peace he cut no grass, his doddertings could work no ill; but now that war has come to pass, he is a help to Kaiser Bill. If you're inclined to scold and mope, just can that stuff a little while, and hand out packages of hope, all decorated with a smile.

Fifty Against Two. It is not reasonable to expect two weeks of outing to overcome the effects of fifty weeks of confinement. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It refreshes the blood, improves the appetite, makes sleep easy and restful.

RAIN CUT BOWLING TOURNEY SHORT

Play Abandoned at End of Third Round Yesterday Afternoon

ST. KITTS, WINNERS Visiting Rink Carried Off First Prize in Patriotic Competition

Rain, which started early in the afternoon and soon gave indications of its intention of making a day of it, drove sixty-eight bowlers to cover at the end of the third round of the one-day patriotic bowling tourney played on the local greens yesterday, and forced a distribution of the prizes without a final play off between the six leading rinks, as had been planned. A St. Catharines rink carried off the first trophy in the tourney, a Hamilton quartette the fifth, and the other prizes fell to local bowlers.

Bowling was commenced sharp on time in the morning with seventy-two rinks scheduled to play and only four defaults. The contestants were divided into sections, or flights, which played alternately, and it had been planned at the end of the third round, to match the leading rinks in one section against the leaders of the other. By noon the first round had been completed, and the second was played through early in the afternoon. Rain fell during the third round, but the majority of the bowlers were able to finish. It was found necessary, however, in view of the condition of the greens, to call off the final round, and the prizes were awarded as follows:

- First prize, set of electric stoves, J. L. Pattison, F. J. Graves, J. M. Intosh and A. M. Ecclestone. St. Catharines. Plus score of 33 in three games.
Second prize, electric lamps, W. J. Muir, E. Corey, A. Ames, D. Thorburn, Pastimes; plus score of 32 in 3 games.
Third prize, smoking sets, D. Hubbard, D. McPhail, T. McPhail, Dr. Wiley, Heathers; plus score of 31 in 3 games.
Fourth prize, N. McIntyre, D. Cooper, F. Reid, J. A. Grantman, Heathers; plus score of 29 in three games.
Fifth prize, L. Sixsmith, H. D. Hahn, C. Smith, F. Small, Victorias, of Hamilton; plus score of 23 in 3 games.
Sixth prize, R. T. Whitlock, J. W. Shepperson, W. Lahey, H. B. Booklet, Heathers; plus score of 22 in 3 games.
At all three greens lunch was served at noon, and tea at the conclusion of the day's play, by the ladies of the Women's Patriotic League, who gave their services in aid of the Sailor's Fund. The presentation of prizes took place at the Brantford Club at six-thirty p.m., and the bowlers dispersed after singing "Rule Britannia" and the National Anthem.

Yesterday's tourney was the second annual one held under the auspices of the county association, and high credit is due to those concerned for the success achieved in the face of untoward weather yesterday. In particular, commendation is due Mr. F. S. Blain, the association's indefatigable secretary, who once more proved himself a glutton for work, and discharged more duties in connection with the preliminaries and actual supervision of the tourney than any other three men could have undertaken. Brantford bowlers are fortunate in having a man with such a capacity for organization in charge of their affairs.

A GRAIN EMBARGO. Buffalo, Sept. 12.—A grain embargo won't be affected on all wheat entering Buffalo from the west. A heavy rail movement of wheat from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan was the cause, according to Charles Kennedy, vice-president of the Food Administration's grain corporation. About 1,600 cars of wheat are held up in the railroads yards because of inadequate facilities to get them to the grain elevators. The embargo does not affect the movement of grain by lake, which began last night with the arrival of the steamer M. Warner, with a cargo of 225,000 bushels of wheat.

NAVAL OPERATIONS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Sub Shelters And Enemy Work Shops Raided With Good Results. By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 11.—British naval air forces between September 1 and September 10, made four attacks on German submarine shelters and work shops on the docks at Bruges, according to an official statement issued today by the British Admiralty. Several hits were observed. The Ostend docks and a motor boat depot at Blankenberg were also attacked with good results. The text follows: "The operations by royal air force contingents working with the navy during the period from the first to the seventh of September have been considerably hampered by unsuitable weather conditions. "Submarine shelters and work shops at the Bruges docks have been attacked on four different occasions, direct hits being obtained. The Ostend docks and the coastal motor-boat depot at Blankenberg were also attacked with good results, and a large fire was started. "Enemy mine sweepers also were harassed with bombs and machine gun fire. More than fourteen tons of bombs were dropped by day bombing squadrons, one machine falling to earth. "In engagements with hostile aircraft nine machines have been brought down and nine driven out of control. Three of our machines are missing. "In home water, anti-submarine and convoy patrols have been maintained. Submarines have been sighted and enemy mines have been located and destroyed."

CRY FOR PEACE IS HEARD IN HUNGARY

Useless to Dream of Victory, Says Count Karoly. Basel, Sept. 11.—President Wilson's program as a basis for negotiations for peace are endorsed by Count Michael Karoly, president of the Hungarian Independent party. A despatch from Budapest, quoting from an open letter written by Count Karoly to his electors, to whom he recommends an early peace, says: "A decisive military victory, despite its success, is a dream which is useless to pursue. The prime condition of peace negotiations is the democratization of nations and the abandonment of Imperialists' theories. A second condition is that we should not become slaves to the ideas of a Middle Europe, either military, economical, or political, and that we should not strengthen our alliances with Germany, which would form the first step towards the realization of this Central Europe. "We ought to accept as a basis for negotiations President Wilson's program."
