I. O. D. E. FAIR WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Parade Friday Afternoon One of Best Ever Seen in Wolfville

In spite of the fact that both Thursday and Friday were such stormy days the Bazaar and Fair held by the members of the Sir Robert Borden Chapter, I. O. D. E., at Community Hall, proved to be most successful. About a thousand dollars were taken in and after expenses are paid the organization will have over seven hundred dollars to use for its many charitable objects.

The Fair was opened by Mayor Chambers at three o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Horton Phinney, Regent, then presented the I. O. D. E. cup to Grade XI of the Wolfville High School, that grade having had the largest percentage of its members pass the Provincial examinations in June.

A large number attended the Fair that afternoon and evening and the different booths and other attractions were well patronized. The fish pond, under the care of Miss Harry, represented a rocky shore with two light-houses. In the adjoining booth, Mrs. Macklin, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Crawley, attired in bonnets and shawls of the long ago, sold articles for children. The apron table was presided over by Mrs. O. Davidson; the fancy work by Mrs. B. O. Davidson; the white elephant by Mrs. Lawrence Eaton; the flowers by Mrs. Grant Forter; the hot dogs by Mrs. Woodman; the ice cream by Miss M. DeWitt; the art gallery by Mrs. Eugene Eaton; the peanut booth by Miss Helen Starr; the candy table by the Girl Guides.

The Tea Committee, headed by Mrs. Roy Forbes, served an attractive supper and did a record business both days. The Kentville Orchestra furnished music for dancing both evenings and many attended for this purpose, especially on Friday evening, when in spite of the rain numbers came from out of town points.

Several prizes were given. The door prize was won by Mrs. Carl Farnsworth; the number of his ticket being 113. The prize for guessing the weight of the cake was won by Mr. J. D. Harris, and that for guessing the number of beans in a bottle by Miss Ruth MacDonald.

The parade, which was postponed from Thursday afternoon was held on Friday at 2:30 o'clock. The rain having let up for a few hours. Principal Silver, who had the parade in charge, had spent a good deal of time and energy in its preparation, and is to be congratulated on the result, as the parade was one of the best, if not the best, ever held in Wolfville. A large number of floats were entered.

Main street was lined with autos. Capt. Henry Ruffes, properly uniformed and mounted on a white horse loaned by Mr. Frank Gertridge, of Gaspereau, was marshal of the parade, and was followed by the Wolfville Band on a truck. Behind the band was the fire engine and ladder wagon with members of the fire brigade, and then came the school children, a number of decorated cars, 35 decorated bicycles (including one Victorian high wheel), two pony carts, and 25 doll carriages.

The different school grades were dressed to represent different things, as follows: Grade I, "Canada's Best Product"; Grade II, "Autumn"; Grade III, "Sunflowers"; Grade IV, "Wild Flowers"; Grade V, "Circus"; Grade VI, "Christmas Festival"; Grade VII, "Farmers and Dairymaids"; Grade VIII, "Hallow'en"; High School, "Purple and Gold".

The decorated cars and floats were as follows: Wolfville Electric Commission; Mayor Chambers, advertising Fire Prevention Week; Acadia Dairy Co., Ltd.; High School Girls Club Float (car loaned by Mr. Langille); J. D. Harris; Maritime Tel. & Tel. Co. (Wolfville exchange); Dr. W. L. Archibald; "Acadia"; Mr. Arthur Regan; "Mermaid"; High School Boys Club; "Prince of Wales Car" (car donated by W. C. B. Harris); G. K. Prescott. "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More"; Waterbury Co., Ltd.; Mrs. Herbert Johnson; "Hidderhurst Farm"; A. M. Young; T. S. Seward.

The judges were Mr. C. C. Nowlan, Mrs. Osborne and Miss Ruth MacDonald, and they awarded the prizes as follows: High School Girls Club for the best float, and High School Boys Club for the best decorated car. Both of these cars were very handsome. Grade V representing the circus won the prize among school grades. The prize for the best decorated bicycle was awarded to Vernon Brown, while little Babie Harris received the prize for the prettiest doll carriage, which was in the form of a large pumpkin. Honorary mention was given to the Acadia Dairy Co., A. E. Regan and G. K. Prescott cars; to the pony carts containing the bridal party; to a little dog cart and to Grade III.

BERWICK APPLES FOR IMPERIAL FRUIT SHOW
BERWICK, Oct. 9.—Berwick will be well represented by a fine assortment of fruit exhibits at the Imperial Fruit Show, which is to be held next month at Birmingham, England. F. A. Parker shipped eighty boxes on Monday. John Buchanan is shipping seventy-two boxes. The United Fruit Company are preparing a large exhibit and the Rockland Fruit Company will forward a collection of its choicest fruit. The varieties will be chiefly Wagener, Cox Orange, Kings, Golden Russet, Spys, Baldwin, Gravenstein, McIntosh, Stark, Gano, and Greening. The exhibits have been carefully selected and prepared for shipment, and should make a fine display at the big show.

SUCCESSFUL CRICKET SEASON AT WOLFVILLE

Now that the cricket season is over a word of praise is due our cricket team, which was organized last May with Rev. R. F. Dixon as president, A. C. Cox as manager, and Nelson Grant as captain. The club began as the "Wolfville Junior Cricket Club", but later on discarded the "junior" and became simply the Wolfville Cricket Club, ninth-tenths of the old club having left the town.

On the whole the team, almost entirely composed of young fellows well under twenty, has had a most successful season. They have once defeated both Kentville and Windsor. Another time they played Kentville to very near a tie and in all the matches they have played have given a good account of themselves. The team now contains some first class players including two or three excellent bowlers. They have been excelled from time to time by Messrs. D'Almeida, E. W. Robinson, A. C. Cox and other members of the old team, but the main burden has been laid on the boys themselves, many of whom are expert players of baseball which is an excellent school for cricketers.

The movement started at Bridgetown last summer to promote interest in the game throughout the Valley has been understood with most gratifying success. A meeting of all cricketers is to be held this winter at some place which will definitely organized steps.

ACADIA ACADEMY WINS FROM KING'S COLLEGIATE

Winning the game by a penalty drop within a few minutes of the final whistle Acadia Academy junior team triumphed over the King's Collegiate School foot team by a 3-0 score here Saturday. The features of the game was good punting by members of both squads, and Hamilton of A. C. A. playing the best brand of football in evidence on the field. Both teams were very evenly matched and the punting kept the ball going from one end of the field to the other during the first period. The second half continued much the same as the first, but when towards the end a penalty kick was called near the King's goal line, Hamilton sent a drop between the bars for the only score of the game.

SPECTACULAR SCENE

Dynamiting of Cliff is Shown in "To the Last Man"

The dynamiting of a cliff which caused thousands of tons of rocks and debris to fall nearly 1000 feet, is one of the most spectacular scenes of "To the Last Man", a Paramount picture coming to the Orpheum theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. Five cameras photographed the explosion from different angles, the cameramen remaining at their posts until the last moment before running for shelter from falling stones. The face of the famous "Rim" was blown away by the force of 500 pounds of exploding dynamite and hundreds of trees were carried down in the crash.

The explosion is a sequence in the picture showing the wiping out of a band of cattlemen by cattle thieves. The avalanche closes the entrance to a canyon and kills all but one member of the band.

"To the Last Man" is a Zane Grey production based on the author's famous story of the Pleasant Valley War, a feud of the late eighties, which was fought out literally to the last man. The historic sites of these battles were filmed in making the picture. Besides Richard Dix and Lois Wilson, the principal players are Noah Beery, Robert Edeson and Frank Campeau.

BARNS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Bad Conflagration Averted by Rain Soaked Buildings

At about ten o'clock last Thursday evening as patrons of the fair were beginning to return to their homes, an alarm was sounded in consequence of a fire discovered in the barn at the rear of Mr. F. W. Barteaux's house on Main street. The fire company, which responded quickly with the engine and equipment, soon had four streams of water playing on the burning building through the roof of which flames were by this time bursting.

Soon the fire was under control, the upper story, in which the fire originated, being 5-dly gutted. In the building when the fire was discovered was a horse and rig belonging to Mr. J. B. Wallace. These with a cow belonging to Mr. Barteaux, were rescued while other contents of the building were destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown.

But for the favorable conditions the fire might have been a disastrous one, as the building is situated in a congested section and a high wind was blowing. However, the heavy rain which was then falling prevented the flying embers from gaining a lodgement in surrounding buildings, and the prompt action of the firemen proved most effective in confining the fire to the building in which it originated. The loss was covered by insurance and the building will be rebuilt.

After the fire was over the members of the company were treated by Mrs. Barteaux at the fire hall to coffee and other refreshments, which were duly appreciated.

The fine large barn belonging to Acadia Academy on the property formerly owned by Dr. G. E. DeWitt and now occupied by President Patterson, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday night.

Students who were doing overtime practice in the campus track discovered the fire at about 10:30 o'clock and at once sent an alarm. Quickly responding the firemen found the building a seething mass of flames which had made such headway that it was impossible to do more than prevent the spread of the conflagration to surrounding structures.

A large number of citizens gathered to watch the fire which was a most spectacular one and must have been plainly visible at considerable distance. A very light west wind which prevailed was sufficient to carry sparks and live embers over the business section of Main street and finally these caused a small fire in the roof of Westwood's automobile establishment which was soon extinguished.

The doomed building contained a number of automobiles, one of which was uninsured and destroyed. There was also probably four hundred bushels of oats, unthreshed, and other farm equipment. The building itself was covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is not known but we understand a thorough investigation will be held.

MR. O'LEARY REPLIES

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Dear Sir,—In a recent issue of your paper appeared a letter from Rev. Douglas Hemmon, upon which I should like to contribute a few words of comment. With all due respect to the fairness of Dr. Hemmon's letter it is apparent that he allows the shadow to fall upon my side of the line. With no wish to prolong this discussion permit me to say a few words by way of explanation. There are two pools on the Gaspereau river, below the power plant, designated for convenience, No. 1 and No. 2. No. 1 pool is reserved water while pool No. 2 is open to the public. The two pools are separated by a short run. Dr. Eaton caught his salmon in No. 1 pool and I wish to say that I am not aware of any other person fishing there. If Dr. Hemmon or any other person will give me the name and necessary proof of their doing I will promise a prosecution at once. I will not handle one person bare handed and put on gloves to handle another. I am bound to say in all fairness to the members of the Fish, Forest and Game Association that they did not try at any time to protect Dr. Eaton. A member myself of the association and a believer in the upholding of its principles, I remain

NEW MEMBERS OF ACADIA FACULTY

Have Splendid Qualifications for Their Duties

The new members of the faculty of Acadia University have entered upon their duties with enthusiasm and have already won the esteem of their fellow members of the faculty and of the student body.

Paul Campbell Young, who succeeds Dr. K. J. Long in the department of Psychology and Education, is a graduate of the North Texas State Teachers' College. His undergraduate work was taken at the David Lipscomb College at Nashville, Tennessee, and at Bowdoin College, Maine, from which he received the degree of B. A. (cum laude). Bowdoin College is widely known as the college of Longfellow. Professor Young received the degree of M. A. in the Department of English from the University of Minnesota, and the degrees of M. A. and Ph. D., in the Department of Psychology from Harvard, where he did his major work under Professor MacDougall, the well known psychologist. The subject of his doctor's thesis was: "An Experimental Study of Physical and Mental Functions in the Normal and Hypnotic States".

At Bowdoin, Dr. Young was Sewell scholar and an active participant in undergraduate activities, especially debating, tennis, and wrestling. At Harvard he was the Townsend scholar and tutor and advisor in Psychology and assistant in the Department of Psychology. He has had four years of teaching experience, the last two of which were spent as Associate Professor of Education and Educational Measurements in the Florida State College for Women.

Professor Young is a forceful speaker, and in the list of extension lectures by the faculty of Acadia offers the following lectures:

- 1. What Psychology can and cannot do.
- 2. Hypnotism, Telepathy, and Kindred Phenomena.
- 3. The Problem of Feeble-mindedness and Insanity.
- 4. Intelligence Tests and Educational Measurements.

Paul Patrick Rogers, who comes to the chair of Romance Languages, has some qualifications for his task. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, with three years of graduate study to his credit and with several years' teaching experience, he combines with a scholarly knowledge of the language the power of fluent conversation in each. Professor Rogers teaches, especially on French, have appeared in the "Hypnotic States" in the "Hypnotic States" in the "Hypnotic States".

Present Messrs. Ginn and Company are bringing out a Spanish text-book, El Trovador, prepared by him. He has also in preparation a volume entitled "Study of Contemporary Spanish Drama" which will be published later.

Equally fortunate was the selection of Ralph Lent Jeffery as Professor of Mathematics. Professor Jeffery is a graduate of Acadia, with several years of teaching experience before graduation. As a graduate student at Cornell he had had a brilliant record. During his second year at Cornell he was elected to the honorary societies of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi. From Cornell he went to Harvard, where he accepted an instructorship and at the same time carried on work leading to the Ph. D. degree. Professor Jeffery combines to a unique degree the qualities of a research student and a successful teacher.

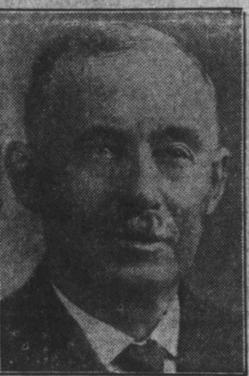

GEORGE E. COX

MIDDLETON, Oct. 13.—The death occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, Frank, of George E. Cox, at the age of 89 years. The deceased was born at Habitant in the county of King's, the eldest and sole survivor of a family of eleven children, whose parents were Edward M. and Mary Pineo Cox.

Mr. Cox lived at Hortonville and Avonport until fourteen years ago, when he removed to Middleton. He was a Baptist in religion, having been a deacon of the former "Free Baptists", was a man of intellectual tastes, widely read, with considerable musical ability, and a character of staunch integrity. He filled the office of Justice of the Peace for many years in his native county, and was also a member of the old County of Sessions. He was known as a "Joe Howe Liberal" in earlier days and followed Mr. Howe into the Liberal-Conservative Party.

He leaves a family of six children, one son predeceasing him a year ago. The others are: Frank, Fred, Florence and Effie, of Middleton; Doris, of Tacoma, Washington; and Ashley, of Avonport. Interment will take place at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon at Pine Grove Cemetery.

MAYOR JUTTEN OF HAMILTON

Who with the other members of the City Council, has decided upon a wide open probe into the city's tax scandals as well as prosecution of all who are believed to be guilty of wrong-doing.

JAMES A. ALLEN

The death of Mr. James A. Allen, of North Grand Pre, which occurred on Tuesday afternoon at Westwood Hospital, was heard of with sincere regret by a large circle of friends. Mr. Allen's health has been in an impaired condition for the past year or more, and six weeks ago he underwent a serious operation. This, while successful, was too late to save his life and very little hope of his recovery was entertained from the first.

The deceased was one of the best known and most highly esteemed residents of this vicinity, a man of sterling qualities and a good neighbor and friend. He was the oldest son of the late Daniel Allen, a prominent farmer of what was then known as Long Island. On his father's death, many years ago, he took over the management of the homestead on which he has resided all his life.

He was seventy years of age and is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Woodworth, of Weston, five sons, Leroy, who resides in Massachusetts but who returned home in time to be recognized by his father; Arthur and Gordon, at North Grand Pre; Alden, at home; Clair, in the West; and one daughter (Lena), Mrs. Thomas Alton, in Alberta.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the late home of the deceased, the service being conducted by Rev. Dr. A. C. Beaudin, of Grand Pre, and interment being at Willow Bank Cemetery.

The senior members of the B. Y. P. U. entertained Tuesday evening the junior members and other young people to the number of a hundred or more, at a banquet in the dining hall of the Baptist church. The tables were decorated with autumn leaves, and an excellent programme was arranged.

A Barbados Bazaar

The season for them is over here, but not so in Barbados. A big one is planned for November in Bridgetown, Barbados. The Committee unanimously asked Messrs. Harold Proverbs & Co. that place to secure Mollis Chocolates for the bazaar.

Mornings like these toast tastes great.

The new Bridge Box is coming into wide use. The handsome package matches the wonderful contents: a full pound of Chocolates, a first class pack of cards, and an ample supply of playing cards. The happy choice for evenings of auction. And prizes as well.

ACADIA LOSES TO DALHOUSIE

In Closely Contested Game of Rugby—Score 3 to 0

The Acadia football team played their first game this season on Tuesday afternoon, when they lost to Dalhousie by the close score of 3 to 0. The showing of the local team was a surprise to their followers as Dalhousie always has one of the best teams in the Maritime Provinces and on Tuesday played their varsity team, some members of which are not eligible for the intercollegiate league. The Acadia forwards put up a splendid game and controlled the ball most of the game. The half line, however, was weak and many chances to score were lost by fumbling the ball. The visiting half line were more experienced and got away with some fine rushes. The Acadia team is made up mostly of new material and with some more practice will make a good showing in the league series which begins next week.

With the wind in their favor the visitors had the advantage in the first half and carried the ball to the Acadia line, forcing Noble to touch for safety. Then Acadia gradually worked the play toward the Dalhousie line but was brought back to centre field on an exchange of kicks. The locals here showed their superiority in the scrum and kept getting the ball out to the halves, who, however, failed to make any gain. Near the end of the period the Dal half line got the ball and Haslam raced across the line for the only try of the game. He failed to convert.

In the second half the locals had the wind in their backs and kept the play within Dal's fifteen yard line most of the time. Acadia was awarded a free kick but the ball went wide when Davidson tried to even the score. Acadia then fought hard on the Dal line, several times coming near a score. Dal touched for safety two or three times. The visitors then relieved the situation by

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

An ASSET OF THE TOWN

THE INFLUENCE of the small town newspaper upon the town and its business is often underestimated by business men themselves. The newspaper represents the town to the outside world, fairly or unfairly. Nothing speaks better for a town than a newspaper that is well supported by the business men, and nothing speaks in louder terms against the town than a newspaper that is struggling for existence and which has little or no advertising patronage from its home business concerns.

If the business man has a good live newspaper in his town he should never let that newspaper go to press without his name in its columns in an advertisement. We make this statement without any selfish motive. THE ACADIAN has a fairly good advertising patronage for which we are indeed grateful, but if every business concern in this community would advertise with us regularly that fact would not make us rich by any means. There is no such thing on the globe as riches for the country newspaper man. He is a kind of work horse for the community that doesn't get and doesn't expect as much remuneration for his labors as other men receive who do not do the town and community as much good as the newspaper is able to do, and as the newspaper does do gladly and willingly.

Lots of men and some business men do not appreciate their local paper as a thing of value except to the owner of the paper, and that is where their vision needs doctoring. The newspaper travels, and is the town's only representative that is always working at the job.

MAKE THINGS SAFE FOR WINTER

A FALL clean-up week is being arranged for by some of the towns of the Maritime Provinces, and the idea is a good one. The object is to dispose of the accumulation of waste material detrimental to sanitary conditions or calculated to become a menace from the standpoint of fires. We would suggest the adoption of this institution in Wolfville and that in connection therewith a thorough inspection be made by citizens of all premises to see that furnace pipes and chimneys are in order so that the minimum of danger may be assured. We are entering upon the season when the most risk of fires prevails. Stoves and furnaces that have been idle during the past summer are liable to need attention and should be looked after.

During the windy nights of fall sparks from chimneys are not uncommon and may alight in the most unlikely places. Any accumulation of dry material is liable to be ignited and perhaps cause a conflagration that may cost thousands of dollars. Most of the fires which occur might have been avoided if ordinary precaution had been taken. Under the best of conditions a wooden town is always in danger, and "safety first" is ever a good rule to follow.

DO UNTO OTHERS

THE THIRD feature of the civic service contributed to our columns by business and professional men of Wolfville appears this week on page three. It makes a strong plea for an application of the Golden Rule in the practical realm of business relations. The case is very fairly made and should appeal to all readers of THE ACADIAN.

With no fear of successful contradiction we venture the assertion that the greatest problem faced by the average business man today is how to collect the numerous outstanding accounts due him by customers. In far too many instances the worry and anxiety due to the difficulty of successfully financing a business enterprise might be averted by a little more thoughtfulness on the part of patrons.

The reasonable business man is always willing to assist a customer if he has assurance that an honest attempt is being made to "play fair". He, however, has his own obligations to meet and must of necessity look to those who owe him for the means to settle with those to whom he is indebted. If not always an easy code to follow the practice of the Golden Rule, on the whole, will be found a very satisfactory solution for most of this world's problems. Try it.

HIGH COST OF TRANSPORTATION

WHOEVER is to blame commerce is seriously handicapped today because of the excessive transportation charges that prevail as well as to the tardy manner in which goods are delivered. An instance of how this works out was brought to our attention recently when THE ACADIAN printery was called upon to pay a freight charge on a package received from Montreal which amounted to fully eight per cent. of its value. While it may be that transportation companies are not receiving more than their due in view of existing conditions, it is certain that unless a change in the situation is soon made there is little hope of reaching that state of prosperity experienced before the war.

MAKING BETTER CITIZENS

OUR FLAG should fly over every school throughout this country every school day. Childhood and impressionable youth should know their nation's colors, and something of that flag etiquette designed to express proper respect. But true appreciation of the flag rests on a broader foundation. There must be understanding of the ideals for which it stands; comprehension of the struggles and sacrifice that have sustained it in emergency, and knowledge of all the worthy principles it symbolizes. That is a large lesson for the schools to teach, but it is a part of their purpose of making better citizens.

BRAVE MEN

THE ARTICLES which appear from time to time in the columns of THE ACADIAN from the pen of Rev. Dr. Shearer, the devoted secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, are well worthy of careful perusal. They deal with matters of vital importance. Such men as Dr. Shearer and our own Rev. H. R. Grant are fighting a brave battle against influences which are calculated to break down and deprave national life, and in future days will be appreciated as they well deserve.

THE STARRS OF STARR'S POINT

(By E. D. Haliburton in The Farms Guide.)

There are few names as well known in the Annapolis Valley as is that of the Starr family; there are few localities as attractive as Starr's Point, the home of the Starrs; and it is doubtful if any family playing such a major part in the development of the apple industry in Nova Scotia has been so continuously prominent among the Valley growers.

More than 150 years ago, the great, grandfather of the present older generation, Major Samuel Starr, came to Nova Scotia. That would be shoddy after the expulsion of the Acadians, and he took up all the land about the locality which now bears his name "himself and others". His son Joseph, imprisoned during the Rebellion in New England, where he had returned to be educated, later escaped and returning planted out trees which are still bearing fruit and which must have been among the first to be set out by the British settlers. There were then bearing French orchards, but it is difficult to ascertain how extensively they had been planted. Probably just enough to supply apples for their own use. At that rate what were known to have been French trees have died out within the memories of the older growers and even yet one can find old trees which, it is claimed, were planted by the Acadians.

Joseph's son, Colonel Richard Starr was the first real orchardist of the family. About this time, early in the 18th century, the Hon. Charles R. Prescott bought an adjoining farm and spent the remainder of his life experimenting with new varieties of fruit and testing out those best suited to the local soil and climate. The two became close friends and the enthusiastic theorist and equally enthusiastic practical grower worked a good deal together. Their work has left a lasting imprint on the industry. It was Prescott who introduced the Gravenstein apple into Nova Scotia, where it is said to give better results than anywhere else in the world, even though the popular on Continental Europe. He gave scions of this variety to Richard Starr and through them, having become exceedingly popular, it was grafted on bearing trees over the three counties.

C. R. H. Starr
The oldest of the Starr family today is popularly known as "C. R. H.". He is Colonel Richard Starr's grandson and although the owner of a large orchard farm on Starr's Point, has retired from active farming for the past 30 years during which he has been the representative of Nothard & Lowe, English apple buyers and one of the first firms to buy apples in Nova Scotia.

Few men are as familiar with the situation in the days when apple growing loomed ahead as a commercial proposition, as is Mr. Starr, and after hearing him tell of the early difficulties which confronted the grower, one is inclined to look upon modern conditions as making the grower's life a picnic by comparison.

He recalls that while he was a boy his father sold one year, 300 barrels of apples and at that time it was looked upon as a marvellous crop and not another orchard in the country produced anything like it. All these apples were graded as 1's and 2's and sold for $3 and $2. They were packed in flour barrels for which the country was scoured and it was not until later, when increased production rendered this source absolutely inadequate, that barrels were made especially for apples. This in itself entailed labour which would make the price of the package prohibitive today. It was before the general advent of the sawmill. The barrels were made by hand. The staves, were sawed to the required lengths, split by hand and then shaped with the draw-knife. These barrels began to be made about the '60's and sold for 20 cents or less. Hardly half the price the Nova Scotian grower has to pay this year for the machine made barrels requiring a minimum of hand labour.

English Interest Aroused

Soon after the railroad from Windsor to Halifax was completed in 1855, the Prince of Wales visited Canada. From Halifax he went over the new line to Windsor where he took a gunboat for St. John. He made a brief tour through the section which was to become famous as an apple growing centre, and yet that visit had an effect as far-reaching as it was then unlooked for, if, as suggested, it was the cause of bringing Nova Scotian apples before the English market and giving potential growers a hint of what was possible.

That autumn, Mr. Starr's father packed three half-barrels of selected apples and shipped them from Halifax, one to the Queen, one to the Prince of Wales and one to the Duke of Newcastle, who was then Secretary for the Colonies. These were supposed to have been the first apples shipped to England, except for a few which had been taken over by a home-going clergyman as samples.

The half-barrels may be said "to have borne fruit" for the Duke of Newcastle expressed a desire to see Nova Scotian fruit at the coming International Exhibition of 1861. As a result a group of enthusiasts among whom the Starr's, as practical growers, were prominent, met in Halifax and formed the Nova Scotia Horticultural Association, the same being later changed to the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Association because of the objection of the Halifax Horticultural Association to the use of the former name.

That autumn the newly formed Association called for an exhibition of Fruit in Kentville, from which was made up an exhibit which was sent to Crystal Palace, and Nova Scotian fruit may be said to have made its debut.

First Commercial Shipment
Soon after this the first commercial shipment was made in the shape of a small cargo from Annapolis. They did not turn out at all well however, probably because of the long voyage across in a small sailing vessel and the lack of ventilation in her hold. But thereafter apples were regularly exported. The harder varieties in the Cornwallis valley were loaded on schooners and freighted to Windsor for shipment to Halifax. The soft apples were carted to Windsor. The present Richard Starr says that many a time he has left his home on Starr's Point at midnight with 10 barrels of apples on a one-horse rig and caught the morning train for Halifax, from Windsor, about 22 miles away.

A little later the shippers chartered space in a regular line of lumber vessels from Halifax. They found that the tween decks beneath the poop made a good place to store them as being cooler than the hold and free of the steam given off by the lumber. Still a few years later the first large shipment was loaded in Halifax and was consigned to Nothard & Lowe.

INTRODUCTION OF PESTS
By this time the wide awake farmers had realized that orcharding had a future. They were beginning to plant (Continued on Page 7.)

Do Unto Others---

Paying your bills promptly is one of the best ways to follow the Golden Rule.

First--in fairness to the merchant or professional man who has invested cash and time in the merchandise or service you have received, you should reciprocate the favor of credit by taking care of your obligations in reasonable time.

Your merchant or professional man does not require security. He demands no interest--yet he is actually loaning you cash.

Second--in fairness to your own good name and reputation, your bills should be paid on time.

You are granted credit according to your past record. Your character is the basis for confidence in your ability to pay.

Do your part. Pay your bills promptly. If you can't pay all at once, pay half or whatever you can and see to it that your creditor knows you are playing the game square.

That's one way we can all add to the good name of Wolfville.

Appetizing Displays Have Revived Custom of Eating Apples in Public

(From the Grand Forks (B.C.) Gazette.) A London correspondent reports that the apple trade has been considerably stimulated by the attractive and appetizing displays of British Columbia apples. The custom of eating apples in public is said to have been revived. The question is asked: "Why should an apple lover be forced by custom to carry his bag of apples hidden under his arm to his inner office and eat them unseen, as if he were violating the Eighteenth Amendment? cream cones and oranges are devoured publicly by the millions and nothing is thought of it. The Bank of North America gives out the amazing figure that metropolitan New York is now consuming yearly sixty pounds of oranges per capita. Friends of the apple should swing into defensive action. The apple has many advantages. Its iron content is right close up to that of spinach; as a "snack" between meals it is unexcelled; and, what's more, it can be eaten in public view with more grace than can the orange or the grape. So London has decided!

B. C. APPLES FEATURED

LONDON, Oct. 11.—British Columbia apples were a feature of a dinner given at the Mansion House by the Lord Mayor to the Fruiterers' Company, one of the city guilds. Several baskets of apples had been sent from British Columbia by old London men now farming in that Province. One of the speakers said he had just returned from British Columbia and that its citizens were anxious to demonstrate that it could grow as good fruit as the United States.

YES-They all know you're in business

That is, they did know—you have told them so in times past—but do they all remember it? We all know that Ivory Soap floats, and that Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, and that children cry for Castoria and the kind of soap that makes a skin you like to touch, etc., etc.—and we're not going to forget about them for a minute, because the manufacturers spend millions of dollars a year telling us about them, day by day, and week by week, and month by month. They take no chances on being forgotten. How about your business? Isn't it just as important that you be kept in mind by the buying public in your territory as it is to the national advertiser that his product be remembered? You can cover your trade territory more easily, more cheaply in proportion, and more thoroughly than the national advertiser can cover the whole country. But you've got to keep it up to get the results that he gets. And you can't expect to advertise in flush times and live on the memory of it when you're hard up.

ENGLISH DOCTOR ADVOCATING SUNSHINE INSTEAD OF DRUGS
Sir Bruce Porter, the distinguished English physician, joins in the recently developed demand for the use of natural sunshine in preventative and curative medicine. In an article in Reynolds' newspaper he says:
"Sunlight is the greatest curative agent in the world. When this fact is understood and acted upon the health of the whole nation will improve.
It cannot be too strongly emphasized that there is no age at which sunshine, real or artificial, will not only help to cure, but also help to prevent disease. The great point to be remembered, however, is that it very often takes a large dose of sunshine to cure what a small dose would have prevented. In this country, it is true, we do not get enough sunshine, but very few of us take advantage of the little we do get.
Children should be taught the value of sunshine from the earliest possible age, that is to say, parents and guardians should make it their bounden duty to see that the child gets the fullest benefit to be derived from simple, inexpensive sunlight treatment."

SCREEN EXPOSES DIVORCE PROBLEM

At the Orpheum Next Monday and Tuesday

There is no more vital question before the public today than the divorce problem. Why are men and women afke reaching the point where marriage is no longer regarded as sacred and no more thought given to the severance of the marriage bond than in discarding old, worn-out clothing?
Chester Bennett has seized upon this great, vital question as the basis for his great drama, "Divorce". While the photodrama conveys a great message, yet at the same time, it serves merely as a vehicle for introducing a deep, powerful love story. "Divorce" strikes at the very foundation of this great, throbbing question of legal separation. The spectacle, "Divorce", is shown in its beautiful, gilded setting, then stripped of all the tinsel and false glamour and shown in all the hideousness of sublime despair.
Jane Novak is starred in "Divorce" with John Bowers playing the leading maelocine role.

EATING FOR HEALTH

Correct eating habits will practically do away with doctor bills and therefore should be given some thought and study.

Everyone needs protein foods, such as meat, cheese, eggs, peanut butter, beans, milk, etc. Growing children need it to supply bone and muscle tissue. Adults need it to repair tissue used in living, breathing and working. One-fifth of the meal should be protein.

Fats, such as salad oil, oleomargarine, butter, etc., are needed to give heat and energy, and should be about one-fifth of the meal.

Carbohydrates are very necessary. These will be found in potatoes and starch vegetables, cereals, sugar, honey, canned or fresh fruits. They also supply heat and energy, and should be about two-fifths of the meal. This means that heat and energy foods should comprise three-fifths of the meal.

Minerals are needed in bone, teeth, hair and nails. Foods strong in minerals are yolk of egg, milk, meat, rolled oats, fruits and fruit juices, vegetables, which regulate body processes. The body also needs a generous amount of good drinking water.

A well-balanced meal would consist of some food in each class, but many times living conditions make it better to strive for a balance on a whole day's meal than to attempt to balance every meal in the day.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

Vancouver Morning Sun.—The Bulgarian peasant who eats rye bread and the Highland crofter who lives largely on oatmeal and oatmeal cake are better nourished than the well-to-do townsman for whom miller and baker combine to make the whitest possible bread.

And that is one reason why peasant and crofter escape cancer, while people who live in luxury show an ever-increasing liability to the disease.

Wheat and other cereals are ideal foods when left in their natural condition; they become debilitating and dangerous when all the husks and body-building material have been extracted.

For these husks contain certain substances which promote the natural processes of digestion and enable the body to throw off the poisons that accumulate in the intestines as a consequence of the artificiality of much of the food eaten by civilized mankind. Equally, possibly more important, are the vitamins, of which the flour is robbed by the miller.

Ellis Barker, the well-known English writer, in a recent book, has shown that while it may not be possible to cure cancer, it is possible to prevent a great deal of it.

Mr. Barker is not a doctor, but his book is likely to do greater service in the prevention of the disease than dozens of medical works. He demonstrates first of all that cancer is a disease of civilization and the more civilization progresses, that is the farther away people get from foods in their natural state, the greater the spread of the disease.

Then he goes on to show how we remorselessly kill off the vitamins, the life-givers, by overrefining and overcooking; and how, if we are to extricate cancer, we must abandon the white loaf for the whole-wheat loaf and our over-boiled vegetables for green stuff in salads and other forms.

"Eat whole-wheat bread," he says, "that is the way to ward off cancer and other diseases." And Sir Arbuthnot Lane, the great British surgeon, who probably knows more about the human digestive tract than any man living, agrees with him absolutely.

GOOD MANNERS

Without a doubt you have at some time or other sat opposite a man or woman on a diner or in a cafe whose table manners were charming. Again, you have noticed in just such places people who draw attention to themselves by their questionable use of silver, napkins, china, or water goblet.

There are many, many books on etiquette; and regardless of the jesting about reading such books, how many times those who joke about it are found sadly lacking in the knowledge of correct table manners as well as other rules of etiquette!

In the matter of etiquette, table manners occupy the position of most concern. Regardless of our positions in life, we have a responsibility in the matter of pleasing-table manners whether for ourselves alone or as the mother or father of a family. A wise mother considers good manners as essential in the lives of her children as clean clothes, wholesome food and correct speech.

Providing the table is set correctly, we shall find the napkin at the left of the plate (although some authorities say the right), with the fold at the extreme left. Being seated, our chair should be drawn to the table until the chest is about eight inches from the edge of the table. The body is erect, but not stiff, and feet on the floor. The napkin should be picked up and unfolded lengthwise once and placed across the knees. In using the napkin to wipe the mouth use only the corner.

TESTED RECIPES

Snones.

Two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, a piece of butter the size of a walnut. Some milk, part of a beaten egg. Mix the powder and flour; very lightly rub in the butter, and mix to a light pliable dough with fresh milk. Lightly roll out, cut into convenient shapes and size, brush over with beaten egg, and bake at once in a quick oven.

Parkin Cookies.

One cup sugar, one and one-half cups oatmeal, one cup white flour, one-half cup molasses, one-half cup butter or lard, one teaspoon soda in half a cup of milk, drop egg in last, adding a little salt, raisins and nuts. Drop from teaspoon into pan.

Bacon and Cabbage.

For each serving allow a cup of shredded cabbage. Crisp slices of lean bacon, remove, mince and sprinkle over the cabbage. To the bacon fat add one teaspoon vinegar, a little salt and pepper and pour over the cabbage. Serve at once or cover for a few minutes before serving.

Mixed Sandwich Filling.

Five tablespoons butter, five tablespoons minced cold boiled ham, eight tablespoons minced cooked chicken, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon minced parsley, one-quarter teaspoon paprika. Work butter to a cream with a fork. Add remaining ingredients and mix smooth. Spread on thin slices of bread and press firmly together.

Brown and White Sandwiches.

Cut thin slices of brown and white bread and shape to match. Spread with creamed butter and fill with cream cheese, minced olives and nuts worked smooth with a little cream. To two tablespoons cream cheese add one tablespoon each of olives and nuts.

Tactae.

This popular candy is made by boiling a cupful of sugar and three tablespoons of water to the hard-ball stage and then stirring in three quarts of popped corn and making up into little rolls wrapped in waxed paper.

Think before you speak, and then remember that it isn't always wise to say everything you think.

NEW C. N. R. DIRECTOR

Matthew Lodge, of Moncton, N. B., has been appointed to the directorate of the Canadian National Railways.

SIMPLE AND HANDY

A great many motorists have the hood cover connected by means of a string into the inside of the car so that the radiator may be covered or uncovered at will without the necessity of the driver going around to the front to do this. By having a register set in one of the toe boards of the car or what is simpler, install another board with a large section cut away, an immense amount of heat will come up into the radiator cover is controlled so the radiator cover is close to the hood to keep the water up. Then, when the minimum temperature, immediately cover is stopped, in power plant with radiator and the time.

If a part of the cooling system is frozen so that the water will not circulate, the car will be unable to start a very few minutes after the engine is started, the water in the radiator will be frozen. This is a very serious matter, and the driver should be prepared to deal with it. The radiator should be covered with a blanket or a heavy coat, and the car should be started in a warm place. If the engine is started, the water in the radiator will be frozen, and the car will be unable to start. The driver should be prepared to deal with this emergency.

The little trouble required to watch of the temperature of the radiator and control the radiator covering cord will well repay the driver in satisfactory results by more efficiency in the car.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, especially if you carry a big stick.

Capt. and Mrs. A. McDonald, in company with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Felton, of Halifax, enjoyed a motor trip through the Annapolis Valley last week.

Rev. Dr. McDonald, of the faculty of Acadia University, supplied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday. Rev. C. A. Munroe, of Burlington, was in charge of the service in the Methodist church on Sunday evening. At this service Mr. R. G. Burns rendered very effectively "The Watchman", by W. H. Squires.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Davison were week end guests of Mrs. B. Davison. Miss Myrna Gertrude, of the Prov. Sanatorium, Kentville, spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gertrude, Hantsport.

Mrs. W. Barron, of St. Catherine's, Ont., is visiting her mother, Mrs. T. Trefry.

Miss Giffin, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, for the summer, left recently for Grand Pre, where she will visit relatives before leaving for B. W. L., where she will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Morris returned from Port Greville recently and are visiting at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Morris.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On Friday afternoon the local Women's Institute held their regular monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. Asaph Newcombe. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Reports of various committees were satisfactory. The cemetery committee reports that Mr. G. Stevens, of Conip, had recently donated $50.00 to be used for the improvement of the cemetery.

Ways and means of raising funds for carrying on the work of the organization were discussed. It was moved and seconded that the Institute hold a supper on the ninth anniversary, sometime during the first of November.

The subject of the literary part of the meeting was Autumn. Meeting closed by all joining in singing the Institute Ode.

DAVISON-ROSS

At one o'clock on Wednesday, Oct. 9, St. John's church, Halifax, was the scene of an interesting event, when Miss Christine Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ross, became the bride of Ernest Davison, son of Capt. and Mrs. B. Davison, of Hantsport.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was becomingly gowned in ecru crepe de chene, with Ostrich trimmer hat to match, and carried a bridal bouquet of Ophelia roses. Both bride and groom were unattended. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by girl friends of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Y. McKinnon, assisted by Rev. D. C. Ross and Rev. W. C. Ross, uncle and brother of the bride. A gowned choir rendered impressively "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden". Mrs. E. Y. McKinnon played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home, which had been artistically decorated, the color scheme in the dining room being carried out in pink and white. There were about fifty guests present at the reception, those from out of town being Mrs. B. Davison, Miss Phyllis Davison, mother and sister of the groom, Mrs. E. N. Forsythe, Mrs. A. B. Dickie, Mrs. T. C. Marston, and J. W. Polker, Hantsport, and Rev. W. C. and Mrs. Ross and Rev. D. C. and Mrs. Ross, and Miss Ella Hogg, Stewiacke. The groom's present to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the organist a gold piece and Masonic emblems to the ushers. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the happy couple left by automobile for a three weeks' trip through the province, going first to New Glasgow. We extend best wishes for a life of wedded happiness.

ONLY MATTER OF TIME

A young woman who was reared in an eastern Kansas town read in a poultry journal that poultry-raising was remunerative, so she decided to try it. She purchased a hen and set her on thirteen eggs. She wrote to a poultry journal that poultry-raising was to her liking and wondered how long the hen should remain on the eggs. The paper wrote back: "There weeks for chickens and four for ducks". Later she wrote to the poultry journal as follows: "Many thanks for your advice about the setting hen. She remained on the nest three weeks and at the end of that time there were no chickens hatched. As I did not care for ducks I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."
