BRADLEY TRIAL NOT NEAR AN END.

Scraps of Letters Written by Mrs. Bradley Read to the Jury To-day

Dr. Barton Testifies---Her Children Visit Mrs. Bradley In Jail.

Washington, Nov. 25.—When the trial of Mrs. Annie E. Bradley, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Brown, was resumed to-day, the belief was entertained on all sides that the hearing of evidence would be concluded this week. It is not expected that the court will sit on Thanksgiving Day, and as trials, as a rule, are not conducted on Saturdays, the finishing testimony will same or insane? Saturdays, the finishing testimony will be crowded into four days. The arguents will begin next week, and the in ons now are that the case will go to the jury not later than Thursday December 5. A number of insanity experts on both sides were in court to-day, and their presence added interest to the

The trial was resumed at 10.05 o'clock. The prosecution read to the jury the scraps of letters written my Mrs. Bradley at the Raleigh Hotel the day of the tragedy, and which she tore up. One of these letters, pasted together, read:
"Will you kindly keep these. I may need them, and in case there is need for defence of any rashness, publish them."

Dr. Wilfred N. Barton, of this city, a specialist in neurology and a lecturer in Georgetown University, testified that there was a direct connection between sepsis in the female and mentale derangement.

The hypothetical question prepared by the defence was put to Dr. Barton. There were three of the questions which were only propounded after Judge Powers had presented a complete analysis of the case bringing out especially the points indicative of mental uncoundness o the part of the defendant.

The questions are as follows:

Another overflowing house greeted the Central Temperance Executive at Bennett's Theatre last evening. Every seat was taken, and nothing prevented the ingress of hundreds who would have been content with standing room, but the regulations which it is necessary to enforce. After a preliminary song-service led by Geo. W. Carey, the main meeting was begun at 8.30, Byron Smith presiding. The congregational singing was enthusiastic. The remainder of the musical programme was connected with the stereopticon views, and consisted of the singing of "Where is My Wandering Boy To-Night," by Geo. W. and Abiathar Carey, the audience joining in the chorus, and a violin solo, "Lead, Kindly Light," by Miss Nichols.

It had been intended to throw upon the screen an extensive series of cartoons from the Ram's Horn, by the American artist, Frank Beard. The lecturer of the evening, Rev. T. L. Wilkinson, was, however, obliged to explain that because of action taken by some of the men interested in the sale of liquor, with a view to intimidating the manager of the theatre, he was able to produce only a portion of the seales. He hoped that some day he would be able to return to Hamilton under such as uspices as to be able to give the whole programme.

Witness Against Hitchcock Declared Incorrigible.

New York, Nov. 25 .- Bella McKenzie 18 years old, who was recently put in the House of Detention as a witness in the case against Raymond Hitch-oock, the actor, was brought before Magistrate Corrigan in the Jefferson Market court yesterday at the request of her father, who told Magistrate Corrigan that his daughter was incorrigible. He asked that she be committed to the Protestant Episcopal House of Mercy at Inwood. Magistrate Corrigan committed her for an indefinite term.

When the girl heard that she was to be sent away she raised a row, stamping angrily on the floor, denouncing her father and the court and shouting defiantly.

"Reginald Spaulding."

When Spaulding's rooms were searched by the police last night they say they found almost two hundred answers to the letters, all holding out encouragement of some sort. The wife of a prominent steel manufacturer, it is said, wrote that her heart was set upon being presented at court and having her daughter married to a titled foreigner. If the writer of the letter could arrange it, she would pay him $10,000 on the day of the marriage.

A letter from a Pittsburg millionaire declared that if Spaulding did not cease filling the heads of the women in his family with nonsense he would thrash him. This man called the attention of the police to the matter.

Several letters were found, addressed to Spaulding at the Iroquois Hotel, Buffalo, and the police have sent inquiries, there.

Henry said that he saw the defendant knock Watt down and hit and kick him and he heard an altereation on the other side of a partition the drift of which seemed to be that Simpson wanted Watt put out and Watt denied Simpson's authority to do this.

Mr. Kerr's client did not say anything and he was committed for trial. Bail was fixed in the sum of $200.

Yulca Todorvich, Princess street, was charged by Joe Suger with being disorderly on Saturday night. She pleaded not guilty. Constable Jas. Clark said that he was called to Joe Suger's house on Saturday night and heard the prisoner creating a disturbance, but was poweless as she stayed inside the hous. She ran out after Suger, however, and hit him on the side of the jaw, and the constable nailed her and took her to the station. She aid she wanted some money from suger for whom she had worked for saveral years and had so far never received a cent for it. He refused to give it to her and she started off with a gin bottle in one hand and fire in her eyes. The magistrate allowed her to go, but warned her to be good after this.

Samuel Mulholland, jun., was arrested on Saturday night on a charge of disorderly conduct. He pleaded not guilty. Constable Aiken said he was passing the place when he heard some one say. SERMON FROM THE BENCH. Justic: McMahon, of Toronto, on Friday last, in discharging two lads from custody who had been held on a charge of assaulting a young girl, gave the youths some good advice as well as a warning, and also dealt the parents of the lads and of the girl a stinging rebuke. He said:

"I would advise you not to roam the streets at night after this. If your fathers would take better care of you and see that you were in the house every night and improving yourselves in some way instead of being out attempting to get possession of young girls it would be better. If your fathers were a little stricter with you, and if the mother of this young woman had not yirlded to her solicitations to be on the street long after the hour she should be at large, this wouldn't have happened. I would strongly advise you two to stay at home, because if you're ever convicted on such a charge as this you'll go to penitentiary for a term of years."

The Judge was right. But he should buke. He said:

The Judge was right. But he should have gone further. He should have warned the parents that if they didn't ture they would be sent to the peniten-tiary for a long term. That seems so much bosh. New York, Nov. 25.—Thirteen persons lost their lives and several others were injured early to-day in a tenement house fire at 109th street and Second avenue, All the dead were Italians.

Seven of the thifteen were children. The bodies were found huddled together in rooms on the top floor of the fourstorey building, where the terror-stricken people had been driven by the flames, which rushed up from the lower floors. They had been caught and swept down to death before they succeeded in reaching windows which led to the fire escapes and safety. Some had been envel-toped in the flames and burned alive. Others, overcome by smoke, were spared the agonies of death in the flames.

Claim That Cataract Company Has No Franchise For General Lighting.

None of the City Hall officials seemed anxious this morning to claim the glory for making the "discovery" that the Cataract Power Company had no franchise entitling it to conduct a general lighting business. City Clerk Kent expressed an opinion that the by-law only entitled the Cataract Power Company to distribute energy to the doors of customers and that there its powers ended. The Hamilton Electric Light Company, he said, never had a franchise from the city to erect poles and wires, although it was given permission to do this for evice lighting only, under an old contract. "It is not wonderful! it is an extremely common, every day story—a love affair between a handsome young man and an impressionable young girl.

"Yes, Lord Cardonnel." turning to the earl, with a bright smile of assent; "I quite agree with you. I think Elli Terry's Marguerite is the most beautifully rendered of all characters."

"But you would think it serious," in a lower, but perfectly distinct, tone, playing with the crimson feathers of her fan, as she turns her head toward had destine love affair, wouldn't you?

Then the orchestra is silent, and the great tableau curtains draw aside, revealing sthe cathedral scene, and Lydia Surtess turns away to look at the stage, assuming instantly a gaze of rapt interest—silent in very triumph. the stage, of rapt interest—suence of rapt interest—suence umph.

"Everything prospers with "Everything prospers with voiceless exult in voiceless exult

"Everything prospers with me! There is no fear! I shall succeed!" she mutters, in voiceless exultation. "Even this proud, obstinate old woman is subjugated more utterly than ever my Lady Christabel! Her spirit I cannot bend, but—I can break it." "How have you enjoyed it, Lydia?" Lord Cardonnel asks, solicitously, as they are waiting for their brougham in the Lyceum entrance hall, and smiling down on the fair, upturned face face "Oh, so much!" she replies, with girlish fervor, and with a sweet, little graceful pressure of his arm. "I have never spent a more delightful evening."

ing "Indeed," he says, smiling, bowing "Indeed," he says, smiling, bowing "indeed," he says, smiling, bowing at the same time very graciously to some one who salutes him respect fully—a plain-looking, rather elderly man, with grizzled hair, and a shrewd, thin, lined face—a man whose keen eyes are fixed on the beautiful woman who is leaning on Lord Cardonnels' arm, with a thick, look of inquiry and interest gleaming under the thick, level brows. "So pleased, dearest!" Lord Cardonnel coutinues, blandly, seeing glances of admiration and curiosity directed from all sides at his fair companion, muffled up now in a beautiful operaclonk of white velvet and brocade, with masses of white chenille fringe which stir and toss like snowy plumage in the breeze rushing in at the open doors; "but I feared," with a little, gentle reproach, "that you had seen it so often that it had ceased to interest you. You and Mrs. Mallibrane seemed to be so deep in conversation!"

it half over her face. "What a time they are! Where can the brougham be? Oh, how cold that breeze is!" she mutters, shivering violently, and glancing about in wild restleasness.

"The carriage, my lord!" the groom says, pushing forward through the throng pouring out at the doors.

And ere he has well uttered the words, Miss Surtees rushes past him, almost leaps into the earriage. and, sinking back in one corner, huddles herself up in her cloak and shrouding laces.

"A bare escape!" she mutters, with chattering teeth, shaking from head to foot, as if palsied.

MYSTERY OF A TRIPLE MURDER REVEALED BY AGED TRAPPER.

Three Canadians by a Hunter Forty Years Ago—Confession Made on His Kineo, Mc., Nov. 24. — From the Village of St. Mary's, Canada, comes a report that Pierre Le Chance, an old-time trapper, when on his deathbed had revealed to the parish priest his knowledge of a triple murder that occurred just forty years ago last September. Le Chance, at the time of the murder, was known as Peter Lashon. He was one of a number of hunters who frequented the big woods at the upper end of Moose Head Lake at the time of the murder, and while all who knew him were confident that he did not have a hand in the killing, he was reported to have said on several occasions that he could tell something about it, but did not do so for fear of death.

The victims of the mysterious murder were James and William Owen, of St. George, Canada, and Louis Duval, of St. France, a neighboring hamlet. All three had been working in the lumber camps in this vicinity and left Greenville on September 13th, 1867, bound for their homes, with about $1,000 between them, the season's earnings. At St. Frances, awaiting Duval, was his sweetheart, Salena Veilleux, the acknowledged belle for miles around.

The three lumbermen were going through to their homes by canoe, but when they failed to arrive after a wait of some weeks, a party of Canadian neighbors came down to Moose Head to search for them. Early in November, a short distance in the woods, the bodies of the three men were found under their blankets on a bed of fir boughs. The remains were in an advanced stage of decomposition, but it was found that they had been slain by blows of a hunter's axe while they slept, and robbed of their earnings.

The podies were taken to Canada for burial and the case reported to the authorities, but has never been cleared up.

Salena Veilleux died of a broken heart soon after the discovery of the murder.

It is reported heer that Le Chance told the priest he was an eyewitness of the murder, and accused a certain trapper who died near here about fifteen years

The Proposed Changes in Carnegie Pension Fund.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—Principal Peterson of MeGill returned to-day from New York, where he was attending the third annual meeting of the Carnegie Pension Fund Committee, of which he is a member. In an interview he told of the work and future plans of that committee. At present State and Provincial universities are not allowed to share in the benefits of the fund, the founder holding that if the State can establish a university it ought to be able to maintain it. The committee, however, find that about half of the colleges in America are under State or Provincial control, and to exclude these from the benefits of the fund is to divide the colleges into two factions. With the idea of standardizing education and putting all the professors on an equal footing the committee have decided to recommend that professors of all colleges shall be treated alike. This will be finally decided at the next meeting of the committee.

Principal Peterson pointed out that if decided at the next moving and that if mittee.

Principal Peterson pointed out that if this were done the professors of Toronto University would shares in the fund, and institutions like McMaster and other sectarian colleges would also be benefited.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR THE SEED DEPT. AT THE WINTER FAIR

The official premium list for the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, to be held at Guelph in December, contains a splendid offering of prizes for the various departments embraced by this rapidly growing institution. The development of this Fair has not been a one-sided one, but has taken place along all lines which conduce to promote the general agriculture industry of the Province. Of all the various departments perhaps none had a more humble beginning than did the seed department, yet no department has had more rapid growth in the degree of intelligent interest taken in the cause which it champions. This speaks well for the far-sightedness of the live stock men of the Province, who are quite engineering the contains two general divisions. One division provides accommodation for exhibits of ordinary farm seeds, which has not received any particular attention apart iron would aim to give. men of the Province, who are quite eng-nizant of the fact that while the live stock industry of the country is relative-ly the most important, yet the success of this industry really depends upon our ability to successfully grow suitable and adequate grain and lodder crops.

The losses that arise from sowing mixed and inferior grains and the dan-ger from sowing weed seeds are coming to be recognized more and more each year, and as a result the seed depart-ment at the above Fair, as an institution designed to assist in alleviating the pre-vailing difficulties, has an important first division are provided out of the general funds at the disposal of the Fair Board. This year a number of special prizes, each valued at about $100, at e offered, as follows, viz.:

The Hodson Cup—A handsome silver cup offered by Mr. F. W. Hodson, ex. Live Stock Commissioner, Temple building, Toronto, to the member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association making the most creditable showing of selected seed for the whole exhibitions. This cup will not become the permanent property.

Italians Sign Wrong Names in Savings Over Four Hundred Accidents Reported in October.

Italians Sign Wrong Names in Savings Bank Book.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—A letter to the Toronto postal authorities from Barbato Cannio, an Italian living at Merritton, stating that he had lost his savings book, which showed an amount of $120 put by, led the postal authorities to advertise the less, and in consequence of the attempt of Emilio Picariello and Giaconvino Conia to obtain the money both are now detained on a charge of forgery by signing the absent, man's name. Picariello, who is foreman in charge of a gang of Italians working on the water mains excavation, called at the postoffice at Elizabeth and Queen streets with Cannio's book, saying he wished to withdraw the total amount of his savings. Inspector Henderson took the matter up and instructed that Picariello should be notified at the address he had given, 25 Centre avenue, and told to call again at the branch postoffice, when Detectives Tipton and Sockett would be in waiting. He did not call there, but on Saturday evening a week later walked into the General Postoffice and asked for the money and made his mark after Cannio's signature. Then he and Conia were arrested on a charge of forgery. Picariello stated that he was just drawing the money for another Italian. He it was who pointed out Conia to the detectives

ZION REVIVAL.

The revival campaign at Zion Taber nacle opened yesterday under very aus-picious conditions. Evangelist McHardy was the speaker at both morning and evening services, and he addressed large congregations. At the evening service congregations. At the evening service many expressed a wish for salvation.

In the morning the service was for church people, and the sermon was based on two texts. Malachi iii. 10 was the first: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in my house, saith the Lord of Hosts, and I will open the windows of Heaven and pour you out blessings that there may not be room enough to receive it." His second text was from Ezekiel xxxiv. 26; "And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing, and the showers shall come down in their season. There shall be showers of blessing." On these two texts he preached a very interesting sermon.

RE INCARNATION.

William Strong Gave Address on it Last Evening.

William Strong gave an address last night in Green's Hall on "Reincarnation." The points made were that Scrip ture instead of being final truth is only dispensation teaching. Great truths are taught incidentally. The text was: "I saw an angel come down from heaven having the key." Reincarnation, he said, is taught incidentally in the Scriptures. Jesus clearly intimated that John tures. Jesus clearly intimated that John the Baptist was a return of Elias the prophet. Before the cycle of experience is complete, every individual will have passed through all the experiences of life. Thus will life's disciplinary work be done and each prepared for the wider employment of the continued existence in higher spheres.

Mr. Piercy gave tests of spirit return before the audience was dismissed.

Clew's Review.

New York, Nov. 22.—Somewhat improved couditions prevall in the financial district. Hysteria has at last disappeared and is now giving way to a sober recognition of the fact that conditions have radically changed, and that the sooner business begins to readjust itself to these new conditions the sooner will it be started on the road to real recovery. Of course the abnormal stringency in money is still the chief source of difficulty. The panicky feeling so prominent in Wall Street two or three weeks ago has now extended in modified form into general business. Merchants are often seriously inconvenienced by the contraction in credit, buyers seek to cancel orders and values are frequently weakened in consequence. On the Stock Exchange there was continued depression owing ckiefly to high rates for money and to further liquidation. Time money is exceedingly scarce, rates being from 8 to 12 per cent and even higher. These are times of great opportunity for the geautine investor; since, while prices may touch a lower level in case of further. for the ganuine investor; since, while prices may touch a lower level in case of further difficulties in the money market, the decline will surely be temporary in the better class of stocks and bonds. New York, Nov. 25.—The market dur-New York, Nov. 25.—The market during the morning encountered some foreign offerings with bear houses, placing new short contracts on evidences of smaller demand for stocks in lean crowd, and absence of adequate commission house buying orders. With exception of good absorption of Northern Pacific, the buying was not particularly important, and prices were permitted to reflect scattered liquidation in evidence, also it bonds. An official of American Smelting says from all appearances there will be no change in the dividend rate at the coming meeting. It is estimated that American Sugar, aside from earnings of its copper and banking business, is earning 15.1 per cent. on the common stock for 1907. The company controls 60 per cent. of the total cane and beet sugar output of the country. An analysis of relative merits of Northern Pacific and Great Northern shows respective earnings of 15.1 per cent. against 12.5 pes cent. for these issues, but within the next year Northern Pacific will have $248,000,000 stock, while Great Northern will have only $210,000,000, representing a larger mileage than that of Northern Pacific, and the latter will have a bonded debt twice that of Great Northern, while liens ahead of the stocks are largely offset by current or collateral assets in treasury.

In past four years Great Northern ng the morning encountered some for-in treasury.

In past four years Great Northern Ins expended over $61,600,000 to improve physical condition, against $32,300,000 by Northern Pacific. The currency premaium is declining. New bank circulation and gold imports are retrieving the situation, and such liquidation as must ensue will be controlled.

REPUBLIC FOR PORTUGAL MAY BE NEXT MOVE THERE.

Carlos Refuses to Dismiss the Premier and That May Cost Him His Throne.

Paris, Nov. 25.—Reports representing that Portugal is on the eve of revolution are received here with caution, as dispatches coming directly from that country have ben censored and these indirectly from across the frontier are held more or less under suspicion. Both reports of the banishment of the Crown Prince and under suspicion. Both reports of the banishment of the Crown Prince and the mutiny of the fleet are denied by the Portugal embassy here. Nevertheless, arrests the suspension of newspapers and other repressive measures taken by what Premier Franco terms "an administrative dictatorship" seems to show conclusively that affairs in Portugal have entered a critical phase.

This condition undoubtedly has been precipitated by the interview with King Carlos, published last week, announcing his absolute faith in Premier Franco and his intention to allow the Premier to choose the time of the holding of the election to the Cortes. The parliamentary op-

ANOTHER MARE'S NEST.

The ingenious fakir of the Herald, ness in life seems to be to try to forward the boasted "war" against the Cataract Power Company by false hood and misrepresentation, and to deceive that paper's unfortunate readers as to the facts and conditions of all ed, tried a new one on the public on Saturday. Here it is:

Has the Cataract Power Company any franchise for a house and commercial lighting business? This is the point that has been raised, and municipal authorities this morning expressed the opinion that the company has no right to engage in the lighting business outside of street lights. The contention is that the Cataract Company simply took over the business of the Hamilton Electric light Company, which never had a franchise for anything but street lightning, and that therefore the Cataract has no right to engage in the private lighting business.

The importance of this discovery is that it will place the City Council in a position to have a say as to the rates of the company.

The next move was to send this fake story to the Toronto papers as an illustration of the company's impertinence and a cause of gratification to the "ownershippers" who seek to destroy such institutions operated by private

There are other clauses which clearly rice the company the right to sell light ind power to customers other than the city, and one which requires the company sell power to the corporation at ices "when shall not be higher than he rates charged to others using a similar amount of power in the city of Ham-ilton." The by-law could hardly be ore definite and explicit, and it is not asy to credit the statement that any unicipal authority" (save the mark!) sunderstood it, many and absurd as als have made in this connection.

But, fortunately, the discovery of ne lack in the by-law is not necessary o secure to the council "a say as to the ates of the company." That is amply ovided for by the law, and every aldman knows it. The law enables the of rates at any time, and the compan ust submit. It is all in the Mayor's and aldermen's hands, but they refuse o use their power. What is the inferce to be drawn? Either that they do ot regard the rates as excessive, or that they refuse the cheap and ready remedy n order to betray the people into the cheme of spending hundreds of thousands of dollars (is there graft in it?) nd a 30 years' liability for hundreds of thousands of dollars more to aid system which is primarily intended to lace other towns in a more favorable osition to compete with Hamilton. Dr. Roche spoke Announcing as his text, "This is the house of God," Dr. Roche spoke of the reverential awe that impressed one upon entering a Catholic Church. Touching on hersacrifice of the mass offered there daily, he pointed out, that everywhere in history, in everytime and every place sacrifice was prominent. The pagains had offered sacrifice to their pagains had offered to the mass offered in Catholic churches the world over from the rising to the setting of the sum was a fulfilment of the admonition of the Saviour at the last supper when He broke bread saying to His apostles, "Do ye this in commemoration of me." Dr. Roche contrasted the fathomiess love of Christ with the cold indifference of man and concluded with an urgent appeal for assistance in beautifying the church. The people, he said, were under an obligation to contribute liberally because the church was the house of God, for whom nothing could be too good and because it was the cathedral church of the diocese.

London, Nov. 24.—George Wilkins, son of E. L. Wilkins, of Delaware Township, met with an accident yesterday that will no doubt cause him to bear through life a repugnant horror and fear of that well-known and popular domestic animal—the log.

Wilkins was assisting in the slaughter of some hogs, and several had been already killed. One hog in particular, a fat, mild-enough-looking and acting swine before the blood of his fellowswill grizzlers had commenced to flow, was transformed by the slaughter into a dangerous and also frightened porker.

However, Wilkins jumped into the pen and caught his prey, throwing it on its back. He half turned and called pen and caught his prev, throwing it on its back. He half turned and called for a knife, when, with a quick vicious twist, as he was taken off his guard, the desperate animal turned and bit a train near Kenora.

Rev. J. W. Graham, M. A., in Hamilton Yesterday.

Sunday School Anniversary at Wesley Yesterday.

Gordon Melvin Takes Charge of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. W. Graham. M. A., of Toront

Graham said: There is one thing we, as a church should do. We should have a residence for our young men in every university city in the land—a home where our young men, 400 at Toronto University this year, can dwell together. Then we want a theological school near the provincial university. There was a time when parents were afraid to send their sons to the universities for fearthey would come back drunkards, but thank God that time has passed, and now I have heard of parents expressing a fear about sending their boys and girls too, to our colleges lest they, in a few years, should be going into the foreign mission fields.

Mr. Graham made a very strong plea for trained preachers, trained teachers and trained missionaries and gave a brief outline of the work being done by Victoria University, Mount Allison, Wesleyan Theological College, Wesley University at Winnipeg, Alberta College at Edmonton, Columbian College at New Westminster, and Albert College. He mentioned, incidentally, the winning of Rhodox Scholarships and of many other scholastic honors by boys of the Methodist Colleges, and also told about the new system adopted for helping students by sending them out as paid missionaries in the summer months to enable them to earn enough to put them them the money. This year the department will require $44,000 from the various circuits where it got only $27,000 last year.

Wesley Sunday School.

The celebration of the 66th anniversary of the Sunday school of Wesley Church was held yesterday, morning, afternoon and evening. There was a very large attendance of the congregation and scholars of the Sunday school, and the proceedings were bright and instructive. Rev. A. E. Lavell, of Niagara Falls, occupied the pulpit at the morning and evening services, and Rev. I. Couch and Rev. Dr. Nelson spoke at the afternoon session.

At the morning service the entire Sun At the morning service the entire Sunday school occupied the centre pews. Rev. Mr. Lavell confined his remarks almost totally to the younger portion of the school, and his clear, simple, and forceful remarks were easily understood. By means of a number of illustrations, which he drew himself, Mr. Lavell brought out the meaning of his text in a very interesting manner. His text was: "Blessed are they that do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled."

and thirst after righteouaness, for they shall be filled."

Rev. Mr. Couch spoke in a very instructive strain to the children at the afternoon open meeting, which was held in the church. He took as his subject a watch, and then divided the word to make each letter represent something that would apply to daily life. For the letter "W" Mr. Couch asked the children to watch their words, and see that they are always kind words and not ugly, disagreeable words that would likely cause anger. For the letter "A" he advised them to watch their actions. The letter "I" called for them to watch their actions. The letter "I" called for them to watch their thoughts, and to see that only pure thoughts were in their minds. If a bad thought crept in, its influence would spread to others and be disastrous. For the letter "C" Mr. Couch asked the school to watch their character, as it was the most important thing in one's life. The letter "H" called for them to watch their honor.

Rev. Dr. Nelson congratulated the school on its attainment of the 86th anniversary, and said he considered it an honor to speak before such an old established school. In a short address, Dr. Nelson spoke of the necessity of keeping our lives clean and to be gentle and kind at all times, that everyone might be honored among each other.

The church was filled at the evening service to hear Rev. Mr. Lavell. He dealt with the life of Peter, contending that he did not comprehend the power and the renounced Him. Peter was a good man at heart, as was shown by his great works after Jesus had assenced to heaven, but the, trouble lay in the fact that he had been brought up under the strict Jewish doctrine. In referring to the Sunday school work, Mr. Lavell laid particular emphasis on the need of the parents to assist the teachers in the Sunday school. He contended that the theological world was undergoing a greater change than in the days of Martin Luther. There is nothing that will hold the boy and girl of to-day to the faith of Jesus Christ like a clear, intelligent appeal to them to accept the religion of Jesus Christ.

During the offertory Miss Estelle Carey sang with admirable expression, "Th: Shepherd of the Fold," by Barnard.

This evening the anniversary enter-tainment is being held in the church. It is given by the scholars of the Sunday school.

Rev. J. W. Graham, M. A., of Toronto, who was assistant secretary of the Educational Society of the Methodist Church during Dr. Potta' time, and who succeeded him as General Secretary, was in Hamilton yesterday conducting educational Society in the morning he preached in First Methodist Church, and in the evening in Simcos Street Church. Grenfell, Sask., Nov. 24.—The inquest following the death of Robert Braithwaite, who was fatally wounded by Corporal Dann, of the Mounted Police, while resisting arrest, was concluded here yesterday. Evidence showed that Braithwaite had fired three times at the policemen, as they were approaching him. Afterwards he barricaded himself in the house, and was deliberately aiming at Constable Moses, who accompanied Corporal Dann, when the latter shot Braithwaite, inflicting a wound from which he died a few hours later.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that Dann had fired in solf-defence while performing his duty.

to higher things through teaching them how to help those who could not help themselves, and in doing so their sympathies were broadened, and they were obeying the command of God. The highest type of goodness was that which placed men at the service of their fellows.

Because of the high purposes of the order he felt honored by their presence and extended to them a hearty welcome on behalf of the officials and himself. His purpose was to speak on the origin, principles and aims of the order, as amnounced by its founder. Its principles embraced the purest and sincerest motives that men could have. These were to wait at the bedside of the sick to comfort the dying, to help the needy and sustain the orphan and the widow. These were spoken by the founder of the order at Washington, and he made friendship its keynote. Aristotle said friendship was the ideal of the individual life, and if this were taken into the hearts of men many of the problems of the day would at once be settled. One could not read the classic story of Demon and Pythias without being thrilled by the beautiful friendship of these men. Selfishness was false to nature and to history, and society refuted it, It was man's duty to give and to serve, and the members of the Knights of Pythias should rejoice that they had the opportunity of disseminating these principles. The men who loved and should rejoice that they had the op-portunity of disseminating these principles. The men who loved and served received a blessing better than life could give, and it seemed as though the garment of Christ had touched them. True friendship was stronger than death. God meant all men to be friends and had established numberless relations between men, but of life.

Mr. Russell then spoke on the limitations of friendship. Each person, he said, had his own path to follow, his own burdens to bear, and these raised barriers that his fellows could not pass. Friendly intercourse could not be permanent because death interveged and the human heart had a relationship which could not be met by man. God only could enter there, and He was the friend of all who took Him into their hearts.

CONVENT SCHOOL BURNED.

Two Hours After School Was Dismissed Building Was Found in Flames.

Belleville, Nov. 24.—The Convent School, the chief Roman Catholic school in this city, was gutted by fire this evening. It was used as a Sunday school for the children of St. Michael's Church, and this afternoon the classes met as use. 19. When they left at 4 o'clock things were apparently all right, but shortly before 6 fire broke out. In about two hours the building was completely gutted. The loss will be between $20,000 and $25,000, with an imsurance of $7,500.

It is reported that the fire started from the furnace, but the authorities say the furnace was first class. The school, while controlled by the separate school trustees, was in charge of the Sisters of Loretta Convent.

sia viii 41: "We are verily guilty eo cerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear, therefore is this distress come upon us." When a man has once gone down in the social scale to the lowest strata, it is then that he needs the symapthy of kind friends to throw about him the manule of chartity and in some way be a help for him to get on his feet again, and to ever show forth the spirit of forgivenesas to those who have rallen into sin and disgrace. In speaking of the criminal classes in Canada he showed that the methods adopted in our prisons were a stimulus to improve the lives of those in them. They have trades, industries, and educational and religious training, all of which have a distinctive helpfulness in making men and women better. He spoke of the encouragement that should be given to criminals on their release from the prison life, not the "frosty mit." as the criminals call it. The speaker pointed out the good done through the parole system, which many thoughtlessly were inclined not to favor. When a person is given a ten-year sentence, he may be released in seven years, or on a five-year sentence in three years. During eight years 1,645 were out on parole, and of this number only thirty-two had been sent back to prison, showing that only two per cent, of this large number had been returned, which speaks well for the parole system. The child question, said the speaker, is one that should interest our minds and hearts. The neglected children get much of their education on the streets. They are given their own way, because their parents are lax in requiring obedience. There is always danger ahead to the parents who have no control over their boys and girls when duty demands it, so that evil tendencies may be controlled. He gave illustrations of the interest of self-preservation and of the noble impulse of self sacrifice. The true Christian takes his life into home and duty.

WATER RATES.

The Householder Should Not be Robbed Through Them.

To the Editor of the Times: Dear Sir,-I believe that it is the inention of the Waterworks Committee to bring in a by-law again on Monday evening meeting of the City Council pretty much on the same lines as before. I would like to submit a few reasons why it should not pass without considerable modifications, If manufacturers are to receive water at 8½ cents per 1,000 gals. There should be considerable reduction to household users, the great majority whom at least are paying four times that price. The great majority of the manufacturers are also enjoying special privileges in fixed or reduced assessment, whereas the great majority of houses are assessed to their full value. I have before me a water rates paper of Toronto upon a dwelling that is assessed at $3,500; rates are payable half yearly. The amount payable, if paid before the 31st of May, is $2,50.50 cents extra for the summer months if hose is used to bring in a by-law again on Monday whose indian name appropriately meant two sticks crossed, signifying double strength.

Some half dozen chiefs, several warriors and a large crowd of Brantford citizens—assembled around the memorial in Victoria Park yesterday. In an English speech, remarkable for its choice of words, Chief A. G. Smith reminded the audience of the occasion, and then called upon Chief Jacob General to go through with the aboriginal ceremony. Chief General recited the ritual in the Upper Cayuga 'dialect of the redmen's tongue, the applause being in the shape of occasional grunts from the surrounding chiefs and warriors.

Brief addresses were afterwards delivered by Superintendent Smith, Mr. F. O. Lott, of the Provincial Secretary's Department, Toronto, and Judge Hardy.

Life of Brant.

Life of Brant.

In the course of the service in the Mohawk Church this morning Rev. Dr. Ashton, Superintendent of the Mohawk Institute, took the opportunity to correct some misapprenensions regarding Joseph Brant. He stated that the church had not been built by Brant, but under the direction of king George III. in 1785. "The great chief, said the speaker, "had received a fair education, and had translated the Gospel of St. Mark into the Mohawk tongue, not the Gospel of St. Matthew. This translation," said the speaker, "had been printed at the order of the King in 1784, and the books had been sent to the present church. Because of Brant's visit to England the present hand-carved coat of arms in the church had been sent out. The three tabiets, which are instead of arms in the church had been sent out. The three tabiets, which are instead of arms in the church had which bear the apostles' creed, the ten commandments and the Lord's prayer in Indian, which were translated by Brant, were sent out in 1786." Rev. Mr. Ashton further stated, that Brant was much ahead of his time. Over one hundred years ago it had been the great chief's idea to restrain the tribe from wandering and leading an aimless life. It had also been Brant's purpose to have white men teach the Indians agriculture, but'because the authorities thought Brant was trying to get lands for himself, the scheme had not been taken up. In the church were also the pupils of the wholawk Institute, who are the descendants of the men of Brant's time.

It is also of interest that the collection was taken up in a piece of silver plate which was sent to the Mohawke realso.

It is also of interest that the collec-tion was taken up in a piece of silver plate which was sent to the Mohawks in New York State in 1712 by Queen Anne, but which was brought by the tribe to Canada on its migration to this country.

This is the advice of a well-known authority and should be heeded by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription and if taken in time it will prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Here is the prescription which any one can mix: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce. Compound Syrup Srasparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

These are mostly vegetable ingredients and can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

The Compound Kargon in this prescription acts directly upon the eleminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood, the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that the sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splepdid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weaknesses and rheumatism pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every afflicted reader.

INSPECTION OF HOGS.

armers Want Modification in the Act by Which the Inspection Can be Done Nearer Home-Minister Shows How Necessary to Canada's Export Trade the Measure is.

Chatham, Nov. 24.-Through the instrumentality of Mr. A. D. McCoig, M P.P., a largely-attended meeting of M P.P., a largely-attended meeting of farmers and others interested in hog production was held in the Opera Hopse here yesterday afternoon, when the new meat inspection act was thoroughly explained by Hon. Sydney Fisher and discussed by the Minister and those present to determine how the act should be modified so that it might not be irksome to producers and others.

Chairman J. G. Kerr stated at the commencement that the matter was non-political.

some to producers and others. Chairman J. G. Kerr stated at the commencement that the matter was non-political.

After brief speeches by Messrs. D. A. Gordon, M.P., East Kent, and A. B. McCoig, Mr. Fisher was introduced by Mr. Kerr as a man who had done much for the agricul. Lists of Catada. Mr. Fisher in b... indicated the necessity for the regulation. The Chicago exposures had arisen because there was no law applicable to the packing of meats for local trade as was the Federal law for export products. Since some seven years ago United States hogs had been shut out of Germany. The exposures led to suspicion on the part of the foreign buyers, and while this especially affected United States products, it served to affect sales of Canadian products abroad also. Since the Chicago exposure the United had a most severe regulation law. The Canadian law, which was complained of in Kent and Essex, was applicable to all Canada, yet from nowhere else was heard a complaint. That was the reason, and because Kent was such a large producer of hogs, that he had taken a run down to address the farmers and determine how the regulations might be modified to eliminate the irksomeness without affecting the stability of Canadian trade abroad, which would undoubtedly perish if a guarantee could not be given to the foreign buyers that our products were the best possible. The matter was strongly called to his attention by a declaration some time ago by the M. H. O. of London, England, that if Canada could not give assurance that its products were equal to requirements Canada would be debarred from the market This was the beginning of the present law, as it was felt that it was virtually necessary to maintain the foreign market for Canadian products. He indicated that the regulations complained of applied to foreign and interprovincial trade only, not to the local trade. This last was under the jurisdiction of the municipal authorities through the Provincial law. Prices for hogs had been on the verge better during the eign and interprovincial trade only, not to the local trade. This last was under the jurisdiction of the municipal authorities through the Provin cial law. Prices for hogs had been on the average better during the past few years than ever before, and this was owing to the standing of Canada in the foreign markets. That standing should be protected, as was being done by regulations.

On the Minister asking for suggestions, a reply was made by a farmer in the audience that the inspection, to which he had no objection, should be made nearer home, at the place of shipment. Another suggested inspection at the wagon. He thought the inspector could notify the farmers where he would be 24 hours ahead, and go from place to place. Another thought there were too many stations for shipment in Kent for this to work satisfactorily.

Mr. Fisher thought there might be difficulty because of the number of inspectors required for this. It was urged that shipments were inspected during the hog cholera outbreak. The local inspection aimed at by the suggestors was to prevent the organs, which according to law, must be left in dressed hogs, spoiling or damaging the hog cholera outbreak and have the animals inspected, then remove the organs, which must be left in till the inspection is finished, and then go ahead and sell them to butchers and private customers on the markets.

Mr. Fisher was impressed with the anxiety of the farmers to maintain

Mr. Fisher was impressed with the anxiety of the farmers to maintain the dressed hog trade, local and otherwise, and have the inspection made nearer home.

INSURANCE BILL.

POLICYHOLDERS' DIVIDENDS EVERY THREE YEARS.

Penalty for Rebates—Publicity of Investments Will Be Insisted On— Recommendations of Commission May be Modified in the Interests of the Companies.

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—The new insurance act, which promises to be the piece de resistance of the legislative menu for the coming session of Parliament, is now practically ready for presentation to the House. It is the Government's intention to have the bill referred to a select committee of the Commons, where its provisions will thoroughly be thrashed out.

committee of the Commons, where its provisions will thoroughly be thrashed out.

The chief debate will be upon the investment clauses of the bill. The recommendations of the Insurance Commissioners in this respect, as embodied in the draft bill submitted with their report last session, have, it is understood, been modified to some extent in the bill as now drafted. It is estimated that some of the more drastic changes recommended by the commissioners and objected to most strenuously by the insurance companies have been re-cast with a view to allowing a little more latitude in investment powers, while at the same time the interest of the policyholders are adequately guarded against any dabbling by the companies in speculative securities.

Rebates will be made illegal, but the penalty recommended by the commissioners of $1,000 fine on the directors of any company whose agent has allowed a rebate is changed for a more logical and at the same time quite as effective a penal clause. The companies themselves are agreed as to the advisability of stopping the rebate evil, but strongly object to the penalty suggested by the commissioners.

The clause compelling the payment of to the penalty suggested by the consistency.

The clause compelling the payment of dividends to policyholders annually instead of every five years, as at present, is said to have been changed in the present bill to make payments compulsory at least every three years. It is thought that this will adequately overcome the evil now claimed to exist in the present method of deferred dividends, namely, the application fo surplus earnings of older policies to the securing of new business.

The recommendations of the commis-sioners with regard to insuring adequate publicity of investments, etc., in the re-turns made to the Government stand with but little change, and will be un-likely to call for much opposition from the companies. In full publicity the Government sees the greatest safeguard to the policyholders.

WEDGWOOD.

Something About a Ware That Artists All Admire.

Wedgwood achieved his great fame as the inventor and producer of jasperware. This invention was the result of his great love for the classic art and classic history, to which he was introduced by history, to which he was introduced by Bentley. Wedgwood was intent on widening the field of ceramic art and longed to imitate the cameos of Greece and Rome. After years of patient and secret experimenting he produced in 1775 the jasperware so inseparably connected with his name and through which mugh of his fortune was acquired. This ware is of an extremely delicate texture. Its ingredients are sulphate of baryta, carbonate of baryta, clay and flint. In the earlier pieces the entire body was stained with the metallic oxide used for coloring. This is known as "solid jasper." In 1777, in order to secure uniformity and evenness in the coloring of the fields, the later forms received merely a wash of the metallic oxide, and are distinguished by the term 'jasper dip.' Every stage of the process needed the most careful attention. Much depended upon the grinding and mixing of the much legistim grade in the most careful attention. Much depended upon the grinding and mixing of the moulded objects. The process was apparently simple, when it was mastered. The best modellers were employed to make the original wax models, many of which were made from life, others from paintings, prints and medals. Clay moulds were made from the wax model and fired. Into these the plastic clay was pressed. The Bentley. Wedgwood was intent on widmade from the wax model and fired. Into these the plastic clay was pressed. The reliefs obtained therefrom were placed in their colored bases, and while still soft were gone oyer by a modeller, who retouched them when necessary and did a certain amount of the "undercutting" which is so beautiful a feature of all of the jasperware of Josiah Wedgwood's period. The pieces were then fired. It was not until 1777 that Wedgwood perfected his processes and became absolutely sure of his results. Danger in firing was obliterated and great height in reliefs made nossible.—From "Josiar of the plant of the processes and great height in reliefs made nossible.—From "Josiar of the plant o firing was obliterated and great height in reliefs made possible.—From "Josiar Wedgwood: American Sympathizer and Portrait Maker," by R. BEAUCHAMP AND HIS TWO SONS ARRESTED AT MONTREAL.

Detectives Traced Wheelmarks From Three Were Carousing With Champagne, and Took Them All.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—One of the smartest captures made by the Montreal police for some time past happened early Saturday morning, when Captain Bellefluer and Detective Lemieux arrested at 73 St. Timothee street Alphonse Beauchamp and his two sons, Joseph and Rudolph, on a charge of beaaking into a Grand Trunk bonded freight car and stealing twelve cases of champagne and a case of fancy paper, the whole valued at $600.

of fancy paper, the whole valued at $800."

Late on Friday night Capt. Bellefleur received a telephone call that a Grand Trunk car, opposite the Leyland Line wharf, had been broken into. On arriving at the scene the officers found wheel tracks in the balf-frozen ground. They followed the trail through Beaudry Tunnel, across Craig street, up St. Hubert street, along Dorchester street west, up to 73 St. Timothee street, where the tracks led into the yard. Here the officers found in a four-wheeled wagon ten cases of champagne and a case of fancy paper. On looking ground the yard they saw lights in Beauchamp's house.

Opening the door, the officers walked in and found the trio singing and drinking champagne. Half a dozen empty bottles and straw covers were scattered over the place, and three other bottles had just been opened when the officers entered.

They appeared before Judge Lafonting of the strain of the strain and straw covers were remanded.

The Public Ownership Mania One That Will Not Last.

A WANING CRAZE.

(Toronto News.)

There are no doubt many sincere advocates of public ownership in Toronto. But at best they constitute a minority, and there is reason to thing that the and there is reason to thing that the minority is dwindling. At the convention of the American Federation of Labor a declaration for public ownership of railways was defeated by 150 to 58. Canada, like the United States, will be slow to adopt public ownership as a principle. It will be adopted simply in order to destroy corporate combination and to check the abuses of private ownership. A civic lighting by-law must command thousands of votes outside the strict circle of public ownership if it is to be adopted.

SURE TEST OF DEATH. X-Rays Prevent the Possibility of

Burial Alive. Paris, Nov. 24.—According to a report of Dr. Vaillant, of the Lariboisiere Hospital, presented at the Academy of Science this week, all danger of burial alive has been removed by the use of X-rays. Dr. Vaillant has discovered that after numerous experiments with radiographs the living and the dead present numerous differences.

the living and the dead present numerous differences.

In the radiograph of a living person the viscera is invisible and the abdominal organs are in constant movement, and so leave no trace on the photographic plate. In the radiograph of a dead person, on the contrary, the stomach and intestines are clearly marked—this being the case even when the radiograph is taken only a few minutes after deata.

Dr. Bordas, whose experiments with radium on the color of precious stones radium on the color of precious stones aitracted so much attention recently, made a report to the same session of the Academy, in which he showed that practically the same results could be secured by submitting the gems to the influence of the X-rays.

In the presence of the assembled scientists a pale ruby was placed under a Crookes tube; forty minutes later it was found to be a dark, brilliant red and greatly enhanced in value. radium on the color of precious stone

In Julian Rose, who will be seen at the Savoy Theatre, heading this week's bill. Hamilton theatregoers will be afforded an opportunity of seeing one of the best monologue artists playing, vaudeville to-day. Rose was starred with great success for several seasons in Al H. Woods big productions, and since his entry into vaudeville hg been making a solid hit with his monologue, which is said to drightly of gay good humor and sparkling fun. Rose has a knack of getting his audiences laughing right at the start, and keeping them in that humor throughout his act.

The Dankmar-Schiller troupe of acrobats should prove one of the best attractions of that class seen here this season. The troupe is made up of three boys and three girls, the former doing the big part of the work. The girls do many feats, requiring remarkable strength, and the work is both new and sensational. One of the most pleasing novelties is promised in the appearance of Newhold and Carroll, and Englishteam, in a parallel bar acts. The number is staged with special scenery and introduces many novel ideas new to the variety stage. The sudden collapse of a bridge over which a "summer girl" is crossing gives the act a lively opening, and is followyed by a clever routine of tricks. Williard Newell and company will present a conedy sketch entitled, "Last Night," and credited with being a genuine laughing hit. Mr. Newell is a clever comedian and he has the support of capable artists. Mme. Emmy's pets will appeal especially to animal lovers and young folks. This is undoubtedly the prettiest animal act in vaudeville, and the work of the dozen or more fox terriers used is exceptionally clever, Sidney Gibson, the singing comedian, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaw, a clever dancing team, and Josephine Almsley, a pleasing singing comedienne, who will introduce some new song hits, are other numbers on the bill which will be closed by the kinetograph, showing interesting motion pictures. kinetograph, showing interesting motion

"Pa Takes Up Physical Culture" was one of the laugh producers. It showed him receiving instructions from a professor and in trying to follow directions he makes a hole through the floor and breaks up things generally. "An Avful Skate" showed two boys learning to roller skate in the house, but they made such a commotion and broke so much furniture that their skates were taken away from them, and a tramp securing them, makes numerous people feel uncomfortable in his attempts to travel on rollers. "A Quiet Hotel" showed two employees playing tricks on the guests, and the proprietor didn't find out why the guests were leaving until they had all left. "Satan at Play," "The Puper's Dream of a Workhouse," "The Red Spectre," "A Crazy Quilt," "A Fish Story," "Soat in an "Arizona Desert," and "A Life for a Life," were others which helped to make a good programme.

Opera Singer's Suicide.

Berlim, Nov. 25.—Theodore Bertram, the celebrated opera singer, committed suicide to-day at Bayreuth. He had been despondent since the death of his wife whre was drowned on Feb. 21st last in the Wreck of the steamship Berlin off the Hook of Holland. Bertram's most-auc cessful roles were Wagnerian, and hamade his greatest reputation at Wotan.

At Bennett's Theatre,

A bill par excellence is what vaudeville lovers will lind at Bennett's theatre this week. The chief attraction will be "The Military Octette and The Girl With the Baton," Jessel L. London, Nov. 25 .- Nationalist unity appears to be on the eve of accomplishment. Communications have been pass ing between the leaders of the party and William O'Brien, member of Parliament for Cork. Speaking at Ballycullan, Wexford, to-day, he expressed the belief that all nationalist representatives soon would be brought under the same flag. Timothy Healy, Nationalist member of parliament for the north division of Louth, wrote also expressing his approval of the suggestive terms of the agreement, but requesting that the question of his re-admission into the party should be deferred.

Mr. O'Brien, referring to this letter said that "it would be ungracious to delay Timothy Healy's readmission."

It is understood that the terms of the proposed agreement are that the chief work of the coming session of Parliament should be Chief Sceretary Birrell's new university bill, that the agrarian agitation in Ireland should be to a great extent suspended and the efforts of the party devoted to securing an amendment to the land acts through further conferences with the landlords, while preparations should be made to raise the home rule question on Gladstonian lines at the next general election.

A RETORT COURTEOUS.

A RETORT COURTEOUS.

The strict observance of Sunday filled me with awe and amazement. I had lived most of my life in Paris, where everything gay and bright was reserved for that day, and could not understand the voluntary, nay, deliberate, gloom and depression in which every one indulged. Three was then no Queen's Hall to while away a wet afternoon and improve one's knewledge of good music. The fashion of going to the country for the week-end was not known, and it was not until well on ir the eighties that people began to give dinner parties on Sundays. Very few people had out their carriages, and, as Randolph objected to the practice, our modest brougham was replaced by the common cab. On one occasion we dined at Marlborough House. As it was a very hot night in July, and the party a small one, the Prince of Weles accompanied his departing guests to the door. At that moment a footman in stentorian tones announced, "Lady Randolph Churchill's carriage stops the way," whereupon a Him.

Rome, Nov. 24.—The Pope yesterday received his niece, Gilda Parolin, who came from Riose, where she keeps a general shop, fearing that her uncle was not well. The Pope, who cherishes her among his other relations, although he has never done anything to raise her from her humble station, entirely reasured his niece. He said he had never felt so well in his life. The air of Rome seemed to be excellent for the gout, and his attacks here were less frequent and weaker than in Venice, where the dampness evidently contributed to aggravate the disease. His Holiness added jokingly that the only thing he regretted was the impossibility of returning to Venice to see his friends, but he was happy to say that many of them came to see him in Rome.

decrepit Rosinante, dragging the most dilapidated of four-wheelers, well filled with straw, crawled up to the door. As I prepared to get in, our royal host chaffingly remarked that my conscience was better than my carriage. Not to be outdone, I retorted: "Is it not, sir, the Queen's carriage? How can I have a better?"—"The Reminiscences of Lady Randolph Churchill" in the December Century.

ANCIENT FALSE TEETH. Dentistry as Practised by the Greeks

Dentistry as Practised by the Greeks and Romans.

Cicero, in his treatise "De Natura Deorum," ascribes the invention of tooth drawing to AEsculapius, third of the name. The first mention of dentistry is found in Hippocrates, who in several parts of his writings has a good deal to say about toothache. Long before the dawn of Greek civilization, however, dentistry seems to have reached a high degree of perfection. From the Phoenicians the art found its way to the Etruscans. At the International Congress held in Rome in 1900 Prof. Guerni exhibited several specimens of dental art which proved that something very much akin to bridge work was practiced in ancient Italy so efficiently that it has lasted thirty centuries: Artificial crowns have also been found in Etruscan tombs. Artificial dentures go back to a remote antiquity. Dr Deneffe states that in the museum of the University of Ghent there is a set of artificial teeth found in a tomb at Orvieto with jewels and Etruscan vases; he gives their date as from five to six thousand years a before Christ. In a collection of antique surgical apparatus made by Dr. Lambros there is an artificial denture found in a tomb at Tanagara, near Thebes, which is believed to belong to the third or fourth century before the Christian era. Teeth stopped with gold have been found in Greek teems.

near Thebes, which is believed to belong to the third or fourth contury before the Christian era. Teeth stopped with gold have been found in Greek tombs. In the Temple of Apollo at Delphi there was, accordingto Erassitratus, a nephew of Aristotleand physician to Seleucus Nicator, King of Syria, 354 B. C., a leaden instrument which was used in the extraction of teeth; obviously an instrument of lead could have been used only for loose teeth.

In the laws of the Twelve Tables made by the Roman Decemvirs in 450 B. C. it was expressly forbidden to bury or burn gold with dead bodies, except when used for wiring the teeth. In the construction of false teeth recourse was had by the ancients to bone and horn; sometimes human teeth were employed. Benzoni found in some mummies artificial teeth made of sycamore. In the first century of our era false teeth were very common among the Romans. The name of a fashionable dentist is enshrined in a line of Martial:

"Eximit aut dentem Crescentius aegrum."

Elsewhere he ungalantly twits a tal:

"Eximit aut dentem Crescentius aegrum."

Elsewhere he ungalantly twits a lady with removing her teeth as she takes off her clothes at night. He says rude things of the teeth of two other ladies:

"Thais habet nigros, niveos Licania dentes.

Quae ratio est? Emptos haec habet, illa suos."

Dentistry shared in the decay of the arts during the Middle Ages, and we read that when St. Louis died in 1270, although he was only 5, he had but one tooth in the upper jaw.

French surgeons. notably Ambroise Pare, took a leading part in the revival of dentistry. Louis XIV.'s dentist used only instruments of gold in operating on the teeth of his august patient. From the time of Pare onward the highest dentistry was in the hands of surgeons, extraction being left to barbers and quacks.—British Medical Journal.

LONDON THIRTY YEARS AGO. A Season of Glories From the First of May to the End of July.

of May to the End of July.

The London season of thirty years age was far more prolonged and its glories more apparent than they are now. It was looked upon as a very serious matter which no self-respecting persons who considered themselves "in society" would forego, nor of which a votary of fashion would willingly miss a week or a day. Religiously on the first day of May, Belgravia—the Belgravia described by Lord Beaconsfield—would open the doors of its freshly painted and flower-bedecked mansions. Dinners, balls and parties succeeded one another without intermission till the end of July, the only respite being at the Whitsuntide recess. A few of the racing people might go to Newmarket for a week, but the fashionable world flocked only to the classic races world flocked only to the classic race market for a week, but the fashionable world flocked only to the classic races—the Derby, Ascot and Goodwood.

Parties were arranged for Hurlingham to see the pigeon shooting, or for the fashionable flower shows then held at the Botanical Gardens, or again to Wimbledon to see the shooting for the Elcho Shield, which in those days was a feature of the London season. To be commandant of the camp was a coveted port, and I remember Lord and Lady Wharncliffe living in large tents and entertaining for a whole fortnight in the most sumptuous manner. We used to drive down on coaches in Ascot frocks and smart-featured hats, and stay to dinner, driving back by moonlight. "The Reminiscences of Lady Randolph Churchill" in the December Century.

addest accidents in connection with Lake Ontario navigation for the season lake Ontario navigation for the season of 1997 occurred about ten miles down the lake from Port Dalhousie last night, when the tug Escort was sunk by colliding with the barge Harrison and three lives were lost.

Early in the afternoon word was received in port that the steamer Westmount. Captain Milligan, had left Kingston with the barge Harrison in tow. All season there has been keen rivalry between the Welland Canal tugs, and about 7.30 o'clock the tugs Escort, Captain Marry Dunlop, and Golden City, Captain McCoppen, set out in a race towards Niagara, with a view to landing the prize, the Harrison, which was expected to be about the last tow of the season. The race was close for several miles, but as the Westmount with the barge in tow, was seen the Golden City took a slight lead on the Escort, and was the first to approach the barge. She made a circle and came up beside the vessel, which was moving at at rate of ten miles an hour, and the Golden City could no more than keep up with her.

The Escort did not make the usual circle, but crossed over the course of the Golden City, with the evident intention of swinging around on the bow of the Harrison. Whatever Captain Dunlop intended, he evidently miscalculated the speea of the barge. The tig struck the mighty steel tow line, which carried off the top of the pilot-house and checked her speed. In an instant the Harrison struck the tug amidships, turned her oye; and within a few seconds the staunch little tug went to the bottom.

The accident no sooner happened than the Westmount slackened speed and the crew of the Golden City prepared to render aid. Life lines were quickly utilized, and three persons were rescued. They were Mrs. Bartlett, cook, Dunnville; a boy named Herman Cook, and Melvin Barnes, fireman, Port Colborne. Captain Dunlop, his brother Albert, who was enginer, and Charles Christmas, canal helper, who had made the trip with the captain, were never seen, and their bodies are believed to be imprisoned in the sunken tug.

After a diligent but fruitless search for the hodies or wreekage the Westment continued on to port, and was followed by the tug Golden City, with the Harrison in tow. All went up the canal early this morning.

What the Spectators Saw.

What the Spectators Saw.

Captain McCoppen explains the race for the Harrison, and says that the Golden City reached her first, but no line was thrown out, and the tug continued alongside of the vessel. The Excrt whistled for the Westmount to be go of the tow line, and he heard someone call for the line. The Excort then struck the cable, which lifted off the pilot house. He then heard "jinglers" to go ahead, and in an instant the Harrison struck the tug, and he saw her lights go out, and she at once we to the bottom.

Barnes, the fireman, said he was Barnes, the fireman, said he was standing outside the door of the engine room and saw that the tug was in danger, and shouted to the engineer to reverse. Just as he did so he heard a signal to go ahead, which the engineer at once obeyed and the crash followed. He jumped for the how line of the Harrison, but missed it, and fell into the water. Twice he came up and struck something, which he believes to have heen the Harrison. He was then thrown a line, which he caught hold of, and was taken on board the Golden City. He claims to have seen Captain Dunlop in the water close to him.

Mrs. Bartlett's Injuries.

Mrs. Bartlett's Injuries.

Mrs. Bartlett's Injuries.

Mrs. Bartlett is now at the Murray House, Port Dalhousie, under the care of Dr. Thompson. She has two broken ribs, and her body is badly bruised. She was standing on the deck when the accident happened, and does not know exactly how she escaped. When she was picked up she was clinging by her feet to one of the fenders from the doomed tug. How she got hold of the fender cannot be explained.

The boy, Herman Cook, was on the top of the cabin, unlocking the Escort's life raft. When the crash came both the boy and the raft were woshed overboard, but he ckung to the raft and when it came to the surface he was on top of it, and his rescue was easy.

Capt. Hovey's Statement.

Capt. Hovey's Statement.

Capt. Hovey's Statement.

Captain Hovey, of the barge Harrison, which was loaded with plupwood, is a Norwegian. He says he was standing forward and saw the two tugs, evidently racing for the barge. The Golden City was in the lead, and swung round and came up alongside, while the Escort crossed over on the bow, and Captain Dunlop asked for a line. Captain Dunlop state of the tow line, and he heard 'linglers' to go ahead and the next thing he saw was the Escort swing in and cross the tow line and the barge struck her and she went to the bottom. Captain Hovey then gave eight or ten short whistles as signals of danger and at once gave orders to lower the life boats and to throw out lines over the bow of the barge, which orders were executed with unusual promptness by the crew. While the crew of the Harrison eaved no lives, those on board the Golden City say they never saw such rapid work as the manner in which the barge's lifeboats were placed in the water.

The scene of the Wreck.

The scene of the wreck was three miles from Niagara Point, and three miles from the land. It is practically the same spot where the steamer Oriental went to the bottom some years ago, no lives being saved and only one body being recovered. The water is twenty fathoms deep, and it is feared that no trace of the missing bodies will ever be found. The scene was visited today, but nothing could be seen, not even a particle of wreckage, though that is not surprising, as the tug carried no loose pieces, and it is believed she sank intact.

The Escort was owned by Dewitt Carter of Port Colborne. An accident similar to that of last night happened off Port Dalhousie harbor a few weeks ago, when the Escort was struck by the oil tank steamer Imperial in exactly the same manner, but no serious results followed.

The Golden City is owned by Captain McCoppen, and there has been continual competition between the Escort and Golden City and other privately-owned tugs for some time, and fatal results have been feared by marine men about the village.

Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—Geo. Webster, Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—Geo. Webster, in whose Grand Trunk Pacific construction camp north of Dryden the terrible accident occurred last week, returned to the city to-day from the scene of the explication. He says it is quite impossible to learn how it happened, as the man responsible for it was killed. The foreman and assistant were charging three holes, ten teet deep, in a ledge overhanging the great cutking, 42 teet in depth.

I'wo charges had been placed, and the foreman went away to get some detonators to complete the work, and it was while he was gone that the explosion occurred. However, Mr. Webster is certain that it must have been due to carelessness. A number of men were at work in the cutting below, and great masses of rock were heaved over on them without a moment's warning.

There were probably two or three hundred tons of rock displaced, and it is remarkable that any escapel alive. Seven men were killed and three finjured. All of the latter will recover, and reports that two of them had died is incorrect. There is an excellent hospital at the camp, where they are receiving every attention.

The killed are: James Forbes, teamster, of Oule, Perthshire, Scotland; Pete Khezovic, D. Galovitch, Mike Kosard, Frank Cocilit, Joe Fournan and Tony Ouleavitch, the latter six all Austrians. The injured are: W. Connell, George Varlovic and Mike Marco.

The foreigners were buried at the scene of the tragedy, and Forbes was interred at Dryden. He has a brother farming somewhere in the west, but his address is unknown. Relatives in Scotland have been notified. in whose Grand Trunk Pacific construc Rejoicing.

Rome, Nov. 24.—The birth of Princess Giovanna has not only been the cause of national rejoicing, but has served a good purpose in patching up the quarrel between the King of Italy and the family of Queen Helena, which, it will be remembered, began in a dramatic manner by King Victor refusing to stand sponsor for the very numerous purchases of Prince Danillo, his brother-in-law, in Rome.

From that time to the present the Petrovich family has had no communication with the Quirinal, but when Princess Giovanna's little person came into being her Montengrin grandmother sent a telegram of congratulation, which olive branch was met half way by a return telegram of thanks signed by the King. This, however, does not mean that Victor has receded from his position. He never does, and his brother-in-law must find someone else to foot his bills.

Says the Most Obstinate Case of Stomach or Liver Trouble is Quickly

Dartmouth, N. S., Nov. 25.— There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum, of Pleasant street. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away, he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave the tone and strength to my stomach that it craved for. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly, enrevated man, and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy.

others were wounded, during the conservation of a new Roman Catholic Church at Chernova.

A Slovak priest named Hlinka had been removed from the parish for political intrigues, and the priest of a neighboring church was appointed to perform the consecration ceremony.

As it was known that the peasants sympathized with the expelled priest, a magistrate and 15 gendarmes accompanied the officiating priest.

When the party arrived at the new building they were received by a hostile mob of the parishioners. Stones were showered at the priest and gendarmes, and women in the crowd poured boiling water on the intruders.

The magistrate and the officer in charge of the gendarmes were thrown down, and the officer drew his revolver and fired. The gendarmes then delivered a volley among the attacking party.

The volley checked the advance of the mob, who turned and fled. The leader of the demonstration was arrested. An inquiry has been ordered by the authorities. ed. An inquiry has been ordered by the authorities.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Two years in Kingston and two whippings of twenty lashes each was the sentence given by Mr. Justice MacMahon to William Ecles on Saturday. A verdict of guilty was returned against the prisoner on Priday after trial at the assizes for a very serious offence against a five-year-old girl. Eccles is a cab driver, and was living at the time with the child's parents. In sentencing him his Lordship referred to the manner in which he had taken advantage of the absence of the parents to commit a most dastardly offence, while his duty as a man was to protect the members of the family of which he was, by his position in the house, almost one.

Church. Italians contend that the Holy See is now in the hands of a Spanish coalition.

All this conflict, however, is carried out with methods of such apparent obsdience and harmony that the most vague exposition of what really goes on calls forth emphatic denials from all quarters—even from those who have taken the most determined attitude against Cardinal Merry del Val. For if Cardinal Oreglia, who, by the way, is the only living Cardinal to have received the "berretto" from Pius IX., quotes Cicero, the Vice-Chancellor of the Church, Cardinal Agliardi, designates the forty-two-year-old Secretary as "quel" ragazzo" (that boy.)

In private conversation with their intimate friends these Cardinals cannot conceal their dissatisfaction with the present organization's management of the affairs of the Church. They and their Roman colleagues complain of being entirely ignored in any important affair dealt with at the Vatican. One of them said:

"Why even the Consistories are dedieted for the wilful murder of Mms. Fonteneau, a gamekeeper's wife.

Biollay last year hired on lease from the Count de Lavilharmois a furnished hunting box, known as the Manor of Coadaut, a wild and picturesque place twenty-five miles from the town of Chateaulin. He was accompanied by his wife, and gained such a reputation for truculence and brutality that the Breton peasants nicknamed him the "Wild Boar of Boadaut."

peasants nicknamed him the "Wild Boar of Boadaut."

Biollay fell four of Count de Lavilharmois' gamekeeper, a man named Fonteneau's and sought to get him dismissed. He failed, and set himself to make Fonteneau's life unbearable by continual insults. At last Fonteneau summoned him, and Biollay was fined $15. Subsequently he went several times a day to the gamekeeper's house, threatening to murder him and his wife and daugthers.

Not long ago Biollay called at the gamekeeper's cottage as dusk was falling and beat Mme. Fonteneau with a stick. Fonteneau ran up, and Biollay drew a revolver and tried to shoot him. After a terrific struggle the gamekeeper got possession of the revolver. He and his wife and children barricaded themselves in the cottage, while Boillay went double-barreled gun and pushed the muzzle through the cottage window.

Fonteneau himself cautiously approached the window to try to secure possession of the gun, when suddenly Giollay succeeded in covering one of the children, a little girl of three. "Aht" he screamed, "this time I have got you. Now watch me kill the little brat." Just as he was about to fire the gamekeeper's wife threw herself in front of her child, and instantly fell dead, shot through the heart Biollay and his wife soon after disappeared, but were arrested at a rail-way station.

The Tigers II. will meet the Montreal II. winners of the meet the Montreal II., winners of the intermediate series of the Quebec Un-ion, here, next Saturday, for the internediate championship of Canada. Saturdays' game was witnessed by the largest crowd that ever attended a Rug-by battle in Dundas. About 1,000 perns were at the Driving Park, when the teams lined up, and about 200 more persons arrived on the 3 o'clock cars from this city. Fully 500 persons from Hamilton were on the lines to cheer for the yellow and black.

The crowd extended right around the

The crowd extended right around the gridfron and the police had a hard job in keeping them out of bounds. One of the officers was on horse back and his activity was resented by some of the Hamilton fans, who are not on to the ways of the Valley Town blue coats. They scon learned, however, that the police in Dundas must be obeyed.

The field was slippery and in the vicinity of the western goal a large quantity of the western goal a large quantity of sawdust had been spread to make the footing better. The game was a rather rough one and although the referee was lenient several players were in the hands of the penalty timer. Two of the players had to quit the game—Baldwin, of the Tigers, and Mason, of the Dundas team 'Inere were two new faces on the Valley Town line-up—Clark and Quackenbush, two juniors: Young Clark played full back and Brady was moved out to half in place of Nelson. The other man who was off was Gillespie. His place was taken by Quackenbush, a younger brother of Quackenbush, who played well in red and black two seasons ago. Both youngsters played a rattling fast game, particularly Clark. There was no change from the previous Saturday in the liger seconds' team. The line up was as follows:

Snortly after the second quarter started Baldwin was knocked out and the game was delayed for about ten minutes. He insisted on staying in the game. Binkley kicked to Avrey, who was pushed into touch at Tigers' 20.

Smith and Harrison exchanged punts with Clark and Brady, and Smith was tackled near the line, and Dundas got possession on offside. Craig went over for a try, which Mason converted, making the score 6 to 2. At this juncture Baldwin gave out, and was led from the field by Triends. The vacancy was filled by Wark, who went to right half, and Harrison to centre. was poorer than the Parkdale wing.

The Parkdale boys played a good game. They have revived all the old plays and their criss cross runs were their strong point.

The Hamilton men were not satisfied at their defeat, and the manager, Guy Long, made a big protest before Secretary Joe Hay, claiming he had the better team, man for man, all through.

W. J.—Morrison, of Toronto, was referee and Bert Brown, also of Toronto, was the umpire, and several times his decisions were questioned. Joe Hay was timer. All the officials, in fact, were Toronto men—the old story—and much dissatisfaction resulted.

Parkdale 10, Y. M. C. A. 6.

A lot of kicking was indulged in for a while, and the teams were about even at this. Parkdale got the ball at Hamilton's ten and started to buck, but Glassford got the ball on a muff. Ross, of the visitore, made a 45-yard run, but was downed at the last ditch by Cromar. Carey kicked after the Y. M. C.A. lost ground on two bucks, and the ball reached the dead ball line.

Parkdale 10, Y. M. C. A. 7.

Harper kicked out of dangerous territory once, but in the lown Cromar tried a run. Smith made for him, and he passed to one of the other players, whom Smith immediately picked up and carried over the line. The ball was brought back and given to the visitors for a forward pass.

Smith caught a kick from Killaly behind the goal and made the run of the day, covering 60 yards easily. Cromar brought him down at midfield.

On an interchange of kicks Carey muffed an easy one behind the line, and Taylor fell on it before he could recover, scoring a try, which Scully failed to convert.

HARTLEY BEAT REYNOLDS.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—David Hartley, of Peterboro, defeated James Reynolds, of Port Hope, in the 12-hour walking match at the Mutual street rink Saturday by one mile. Hartley covered 58 miles and 6 laps, and Reynolds 57 miles and 6 laps. The track was 15 laps to the mile, and the performance of both men are remarkable. Reynolds is 57 years of age, and Hertley is 54, in build they are very dissimilar. Reynolds has the sturdier physique, weighing probably 169. Hartley weighed 128 just before the race started. Hartley's style was the prettier, and conformed to the strictest interpretation of the heel and toe regulations. Reynolos's gait for the first two or three miles, when Hartley set a terrific pace, set the spectators talking, but he eventually settled down, and after that there was not the slightest complaint against his style.

New York Horse Show Was Financial Failure.

New York, Nov. 25 .- The Horse Show New York, Nov. 25.—The Horse Show closed Saturday night; a success from the viewpoint of the horse lover, but a failure on the financial side. Over 1,400 horses, comprising the best classes ever shown in any of the 23 exhibitions by the association, were shown during the the Giants next year.

en. Secretary Clark said that he had never Secretary Clark said that he had never seen horses of such rare excellence as had been shown this year. He said: "The best horse shown, I think, was Mrs. J. Harriman's Lady Dilham, that won the English Hackney Challenge Cup last night. The best team was Judge Moore's Pride of Prides and King of Kings." A fair-sized crowd attended Saturday, though the weather was inclement. The chief event Saturday was the winning of the Gold Lack Cup for single horses by Judge Moore's Menilla, which took blue ribben honors from C. W. Watson's Lord Baltimore.

ngh the City Council will not Although the City Council will not have Mayor Stewart's guiding hand to pilot it to-night the regular session will be held, and it promises to be a long one. There is sure to be a prolonged one. There is sure to be a prolonged discussion over the waterworks by-law, which was sent up by the Fire and Water Committee with the recommendation that the & tax on baths be struck off. This means a reduction of over $10,000 in civic revenue. There will probably be a discussion too over the $225,000 by-law for the proposed municipal lighting plant, some of the members taking exception to the amount. The $50,000 by-law for electric pumps at the Beach will be given another reading and the report re the sandsucker investigation will be presented.

It is not likely that the by-law for a switch on Main street to Lake & Bailey's premises will come up at to-night's meeting. Some of the aldermen insisted on an application being made in the regular way from the company and the Brantford & Hamilton Railway Company has complied with the request. One or two of the members think that when it comes to binding the company down to a cast iron agreement protecting the city from all damage that the company will object.

Dr. Roberts, the Medical Health Officer, announced to-day that there was no longer any doubt the suspected case of smallpox in the east end, reported to him, on Friday evening, is the real thing. It is only a mild case, however, and the doctor does not think there is much danger of the disease spreading, in view of the precautions taken. The victim is John Patterson, 390 Cannon street east. The only persons who have come in contact with the patient is his sister from Ancaster and a nurse, both of whom will be kept under quarantine until the neubation period is past. Arrangements have been made to move Mr. Patterson to the isolation hospital in the west end to-day. Dr. Roberts says the only theory be can form as to how the patient conto-day. Dr. Roberts says the only theory be can form as to how the patient contracted the disease is that he got considerable produce from farmers in the neighborhood of Cayuga and Caledonia, where there are a number of smallpox cases now. The Board of Health will consider what is to be done with the groceries in Mr. Patterson's store.

The letter received from J. Reid Hyde, President of the Colonial Engineering Company of Montreal, which has offered to instal producer gas plants in a number of Canadian cities and guarantee cheaper power than any of the electric companies are now quoting, is as follows: "We take it for granted that your desire is to obtain all possible light on the question of cheap power for your city.

We also take it for granted that, if we can furnish satisfactory evidence that a producer gas engine plant—to be owned by your city—is better, cheaper and more reliable than the Hydro-Electric plan (as it now stands), you would be open to an alternative proposition from us, We, therefore, beg to say:

1. That we are now under contract to

2. That we are prepared and thor city of Chatham, Ont.

2. That we are prepared and thoroughly equipped to furnish a similar plant for your city, and on the absolute guarantee that—

(a) Your street are lighting will not cost over $30 per annum per lamp, including all operating costs, maintenance, interest and depreciation, on entire continuent.

You can sell current for domestic

(b) You can sell current for domestic lighting and power purposes on a meter rate basis of 1½ to 2½ cents per 1,000 watts (that is, per kilowatt) at a handsome profit to the city.

According to the Hydro-Electric proposition your arc lamps will cost between $40 and $50 per annum per lamp, and your meter rates will not be less than 5 cents per 1,000 watts.

In view of this enormous saving to your taxpayers, we beg to ask the opportunity of our chief engineer addressing a public meeting in your city before a bylaw is submitted to your people."

Robert street, between James and Mary streets, has just been put in good shape, a liberal coating of macadam being rolled into an excellent foundation of large mountain stone, the whole being good a job as can be made with the quality of the metal available, and it will probably draw off some of the heavy traffic that Barton and Cannon streets carry. Foreman Nelligan is naturally proud of the job, and of the gratifying fact that it was completed considerably within the department's estimate.

City Clerk Baker, of London, has forwarded a form to City Clerk Kent asking that Hamilton co-operate with other municipalities in petitioning the Legislature to enact legislation which will insure a standard weight for butter, base of potatoes and fruit sold on the markets and in stores.

The Smart-Turner Company, which has several times complained about the nuisance caused by the smoke and dust from the city's asphalt plant, has again sent a letter to the city insisting that some action be taken.

Kerr & Thomson, on behalf of A. Alderman, 2 Greig street, have written to the city complaining that in grading the street the water pipes have been left uncovered so as to freeze.

Building permits were issued this morning to Charles Kidd for a brick house on King William street, between Wentworth and Ashley streets, to cost $2.000, and to Alex. Biddle, for a brick cottage on Wentworth street, between King William and Main streets, for Geo. Witherhall, to cost $1,200.

Ald. McLaren is acting Mayor to-day.

Only two changes have been made so far or the lists of deputy returning officers for the next municipal elections. The names of two Liberals have been struck off and the list now stands Conservatives 38, Liberals 33.

He is said to have been mentally unbalanced over some trouble, and fellow-workmen of the missing man at the Otis Fensom Co. say he acted strangely while working around there.

Patrick McInerney, for the past 65 years a respected resident of this city, passed away at his late residence, 135 Strachan street east. Deceased was an old employee of the Grand Trunk Railway, and was one of the workers on the first bridge over the Desjardins Canal. His wife predeceased him twenty years ago. Mr. McInerney retired from active life about twenty years ago. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning to St. Lawrence's Church, thence to Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

FRAWLEY · CASE

ster Detectives Here Hunting Up Woman's History.

Detectives O'Brien and Dwyer, of the tochester force called on the Hamilton police Saturday to get some informa-tion about Mrs. Thomas Frawley, who is being held in Rochester on the charge of murdering Fred Kissenmaker on Aug. 24.

It is said that Mrs. Frawley was living in a house in Rochester with Kissenmaker, and that they had had trouble, after which she shot him. Mrs. Frawley was formerly Miss Coghlin, of this city, and she and her husband resided on Inchbury street until about four years ago, when she went to Rochester.

The Rochester detectives are gathering information as to Mrs. Frawley's history in this city to be used at her trial, which will take place within a month.

trial, which will take place within a month.

The local police say that Mrs. Frawley was with a young man in Rochester and persuaded him to buy her a revolver. He is alleged to have been on the scene a few minutes after the murder, and, it is said, will be the State's chief witness. It is supposed that the first lusband of Mrs. Frawley still resides in the city.

PETERSON-WATSON.

PETERSON-WATSON.

St Paul's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a fashionable wedding on Saturday afternoon, the contracting partics being Mr. Charles W. Christian Peterson, of Calgary, and Miss Elizabeth Winnifred Watson, daughter of Mrs. Watson and the late Mr. James Watson. It took place at 3 o'clock, Rev. D. R. Drummond officiating. Only the relatives and a small circle of close friends were guests. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Theodora Watson, and Kenneth Dewar, of Orangeville, was groomsman. After the service the bride and groom received at the home of the bride's mother, where the wedding luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson left in the evening on their weddign trip, and will make their home in Calgary.

TORONTO COAL.

Toronto, Nov. 25 .- (Special.)-In the near future Toronto may see a thorough investigation into the methods used by the coal dealers here . Some time ago some of the local papers made charges against the nine important dealers of against the nine important dealers of being members of a close combine. The dealers immediately rushed into print to deny the allegations, and asserted that their profits were never any more than 25 cents a ton.

The matter seemed then to have dropped, but investigations have been carried on quietly since, and it is said that a mass of evidence has been collected which would amply justify an investigation. This, it is understood, will shortly be placed in the hands of the Attorney-General.
