Why Pay More

THAN $50.00, $60.00, OR $80.00 FOR A TYPEWRITER WHEN WE CAN SELL YOU

A REMINGTON FOR $50.00.

AN OLIVER FOR $60.00.

AN UNDERWOOD FOR $80.00.

We have just received another shipment of them, and we have still another on the way. We have sold nearly a half hundred of these machines, and though all of them were sold on a "Money-back-if-not-as-represented" basis, we have yet to have a claim or a complaint. Let us tell you who the purchasers were. Most of them were sold to Water Street firms. Ask for our "Booklet" "What We Do, and How We Do It." It tells how we save you $50.00 to $80.00 on a typewriter. Take a machine, try it for a week or a month, test it in your own office—by an expert if you will—you will then be convinced that you need not pay more than $50.00, $60.00 or $80.00 for your typewriter.

Ask us to send you one NOW.

A Bronchial Cough, Perhaps Weak Throat Use "Catarrhzone"---Dead Sure Cure

Wonderful Success Reported in Thousands of Bad Cases.

How many thousands are there who would gladly pay any sum to be cured of bronchitis or catarrh. Many could be cured if they would just use common sense in selecting their remedy. Bronchitis of course is an inflammation of the bronchial tubes which were made for the passage of air alone, and neither the moisture of an atomiser nor the liquid of a cough syrup can get where the trouble really is. The diseased parts can only be reached by a remedy that can force its way through all the breathing organs. Doctors who have used "Catarrhzone" say it is the only rational cure for bronchitis. It cures by inhalation. You breathe in its healing balsam.

Inhale its soothing antiseptic vapor and relief is immediate.

Simple to use, delightful and pleasant---nothing compares with Catarrhzone which is the cure of the day for all bronchial and throat troubles. Mr. H. B. McLaughlin, the well-known representative of Parks and Blackwell, Toronto, says: "I have used Catarrhzone for years and can honestly say it is the only remedy that relieves me from a painful attack of Bronchial Catarrh. The inhaler for Catarrhzone is always in my pocket and I simply couldn't get along without it. I firmly believe Catarrhzone is a wonderful remedy."

Large size sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed $1.00; small size 50c; sample or trial size 25c. Sold by dealers everywhere.

THE HEIR OF Lancewood

CHAPTER LI.

He went into the nursery. Frank was playing alone, the nurse sewing at the window. The child came up to him and clasped his knees.

"Papa," he said, "I am not friends with Harry and Arthur. I wanted to drive, and Arthur would not let me."

"For Heaven's sake, hush, my boy!" said Lord St. Just. He tried to quiet the horrible emotion that was rapidly mastering him. "Nurse," he said, "where is Master Dorman and---and Master Arthur?"

The woman looked up with a placid smile on her face.

"They are playing in the grounds, my lord. Master Dorman came for Master Arthur some time since."

"Have they never returned?" he asked, hoarsely.

"No, my lord," was the quiet reply. "They have not."

"Do not tell Lady St. Just that I have been here," he said, as he hastily quitted the room.

He went back to the river-side. Two or three of the men were standing now by the bank. They looked at him with wistful, scared faces, and one of them, drawing near, said---

"We are afraid, my lord, there has been an accident here on the river. These cars were picked up under the bridge near Hertion---they belong to the boat---and, my lord---" The man hesitated.

"Go on," said Lord St. Just.

"My lord, one of the keepers says that he saw a boat---our boat---on the river, quite an hour ago, and that a young gentleman and a little boy were in it."

They fell back, scared at the terrible cry that came from his lips, as he fell like one stricken dead to the ground; he lay so only for a few moments, then he rose, shouting wildly---

"The drag---get the drag! But be silent, men---it will kill her ladyship!"

On the swift, clear, deep river, with its reeds and sedges, with water-lilies on its bosom, and willow branches bending over it, on the lovely, laughing, gleaming river the sun was now shining, and the restless water looked like a golden stream.

The men dragged it, while the unhappy father stood by, his white wild face raised mutely to heaven.

Half an hour afterward the missing were found---surely the bright summer sun had never shone upon so sad a sight---little Arthur clasped in the elder boy's arms.

They were laid side by side on the green bank, while Lord St. Just,

A Remedy For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug," says Dr. C. F. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. We are able to give relief and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all disease is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to for, i. e. something to relieve his pain. If we can arrest this promptly, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Anti-kamnia Tablets. Many varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Anti-kamnia Tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neurotic origin, and especially for women subject to painful certain times. Two Anti-kamnia Tablets will give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual. These tablets may be obtained at all drug stores, and for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all pains."

boat with its oars lying idle, had resolved to use it. He knew how to row---it was one of the things Gerald Dorman had taught him. He must have offered the little one a treat; and the child, knowing no better, was probably delighted. They might have rowed on until the boat filled, or---what seemed more probable---the little child might have leaned over to grasp at a water-lily, and, in so doing, have upset the boat---that seemed not unlikely---and the older one, springing after him to save him, perhaps caught him in his arms, and they were both drowned together.

"ECHOES of the Past;"

OR,

The Recompense of Love!"

CHAPTER I.

The woman was still panting, and was apparently incapable of speech; but Clive, whose calmness never forsook him at critical moments, waited patiently. Suddenly she pointed behind him, and gasped:

"Look!"

It was so old a dodge that Clive ought to have been prepared for it; but instinctively he half turned; and the woman wrenched her hand free and darted among the crowd. With a little shrug of annoyance at having been so easily tricked, Clive was about to start in pursuit; but the brain moves more quickly than the feet, and it swiftly struck him that he could only capture the woman with an accompaniment of publicity, row and police; so he contented himself with walking quickly in the direction she had taken. Parliament Street was crowded with carriages, and he had the disappointment of seeing her disappearing on the other side of the road before he was able to cross it.

CHAPTER II.

Clive stood for a moment or two, and pondered over the strange incident. Of course, intoxication, as an explanation of the woman's conduct presented itself; but, though apparently half-beside herself with rage she was certainly not under the influence of drink. Had the man she had seemed about to attack been any other than Lord Chesterleigh, Clive would have been inclined to ascribe her conduct to motives having their root in scandal; but to suggest that there was anything in Lord Chesterleigh's irreproachable life which should cause him to be attacked by a woman in the street was absurd. Lord Chesterleigh had been a widower for some years; indeed, since the birth of early childhood of Lady Edith, and no breath of scandal had tarnished his domestic life; it was impossible to connect the ex-minister for foreign affairs with anything discreditable.

It was more than possible that the woman had mistaken Lord Chesterleigh for some one else, some one who had injured her in the past. Clive dismissed the affair with a little shrug of his shoulders; and, naturally enough, as he walked toward his modest rooms in Burleigh Street, Chelsea, allowed his mind to dwell upon the triumph of the evening. The success of his speech was, in great measure, attributable to his sincerity. Strangely enough, he, the son of "Dandy" Rafterborough, an aristocrat of the aristocrats, a notorious butterfly and trifter in the world of butterflies and triflers, was a Radical and a reformer. During the election he had been called by his supporters "the friend of the people"; and, great as the title was, it was not altogether unmerited; for Clive had made a study of poverty and the poor; had made himself acquainted with the rights and the wrongs of the laboring classes, and had started on his political life with a sincere intention to do what he could for them.

He saw, on one side, the world of wealth and rank and fashion demoralized by luxury, sloth, and self-indulgence; on the other, he saw the great mass of the people fighting for a bare existence; a helpless mass wrapped in abject misery, and struggling in the whirlpool like blind puppies for just enough to keep body and soul together, and often sinking in the attempt.

In London all the materials for such a study are painfully ready to hand. Turn sharply from any of the wealthy, fashionable streets, and you plunge instant into the slums where poverty and dirt, squalid vice and violent crime dance, hand in hand, a devil's carminole.

As the son of Dandy Rafterborough, Clive was intimately acquainted with the life aristocratic; he made himself as intimately acquainted with the life of the gutter; and he had cast in his lot once and for all with the people.

Lord Rafterborough's amazement and indignation, when he was informed of his son's intention to contest Brimfield as an out-and-out Radical, became, in the commonplace phrase, more easily imagined than described; but he was always polished and courteous, even when suffering from the gout, an attack of which Clive's conduct produced, and he dismissed and cut off his son with a smile and a shrug of his shoulders and the following words:

"Of course, my dear Clive, you are old enough to go your own way; and I would not be so rude as to suggest that you are a young fool; but you will permit me to remark, more in sorrow than in anger, that you cannot expect me to countenance this new departure of yours. It is more than wicked; it is absurd. We Rafterboroughs have, I admit, been guilty of some foolish things, but none of us has been quite so idiotic as to pose as a Radical and a friend of the people---I believe that is the ridiculous title that they give you---and I am sure you will not be surprised when I hint, as delicately as possible, that we have no desire to be connected with your enterprise, or to countenance your extravagant political opinions."

TWO WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.---"I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor claimed I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and she did and feels fine now."---Mrs. M. R. KASCHNICK, 1488 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case. Dayton, Ohio.---"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my side that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. It has certainly saved me from an operation. I will be glad to assist you by a personal letter to any woman in the same condition."---Mrs. J. W. SHERMAN, 126 Cass St., Dayton, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

1382---A VERY ATTRACTIVE AND PLEASING MODEL.

Ladies' Costume in One or Two Piece Style, With or Without Chemisette, with Vest cut High or Low, and with Two Styles of Sleeve.

As here shown embroidered crepe and chuney lace are combined. The vest and broad collar and the crush girdle are of soft satin. This style is lovely in any color combinations and nice for lawn, organdie, voile, batiste, grenadine or tub silks. It lends itself nicely to gingham or chambray and is also good for taffeta. The Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 8 yards of 36 inch material for a 38 inch size. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the lower edge.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

1370---A PRACTICAL MODEL.

Ladies' Petticoat, with Gathered or Habit Back, with or without Yoke and Flounce.

This style shows several ways of development each equally practical and attractive. The model is cut on new lines. It may be made with habit back, with or without the yoke, or with or without the flounce and if desired with gathers at the back. The design is good for saten, lawn, cambric, muslin, crepe, seersucker, moire, taffeta or linen. It is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. It requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for skirt with flounce, or 3 1/2 yards for skirt without flounce. For flounce of embroidery 3 1/2 yards of 17 inch material will be required. The skirt measures about 3 1/2 yards.

OFFICIAL.

LONDON, Sept. 13.
 The Governor, Newfoundland:
 There have been further air raids on the East Coast.
 The French Government reports continued artillery fighting. Attempted German attacks have been checked at various points.
 The Russian Government reports a German advance on the road to Divinsk and Russian retirement. At the Niemen salient near Tarnopol, the Russians captured over 4,300 prisoners and nine machine guns, obtaining minor successes at other points.

BONAR LAW.

LONDON BUDGET.
LONDON, Sept. 13.
 By one of those battering offensives which although costly in men and munitions, have invariably been successful, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army has at last set foot on the Rovno-Petrograd Railway between Vilna and Drinsk. The whole of the Austro-German forces have been striving to gain this railway since the fall of Warsaw. The offensive which began towards the end of the last week was carried from three directions upon Drinsk and the railway on either side of the town, while further south the invaders advanced toward Vilna. The Russians, before superior forces, supplied with the usual mass of artillery, were yesterday forced back to the lake district which the railway penetrates, and are now making a stand there. Simultaneously the Germans pushed their way eastward towards Slonim Pinsk, both of which are on the roads which join the main railway line, while the Austrians, with whom there are many German units, are fighting hard to reach Rovno, the southern terminus of the line. With this railway partially in the hands of the Germans, the Russians will probably be compelled to make a further retirement, although their offensive in Galicia, which continues, might save them by compelling the Germans to send reinforcements to this region. There is now no doubt of Russian successes in this district, as, following the Austrian admission of their retirement, the Germans to-night announce that after repulsing Russian attacks they occupied a "favorable position situated some kilometres west of our former positions." The conditions under which the troops are fighting in marshy country in the centre on the southern end of the line, are described by German correspondents as most terrible. The country is practically all under water, through which the Austro-Germans have to advance against well prepared Russian positions. The eastern bank of the Sereth, from which the Russians are delivering their counter-attacks, is a veritable fortress, from which the Russians emerge every time their opponents approach, taking heavy toll of them in killed, wounded and prisoners. According to Russian accounts nearly 30,000 prisoners have been taken in the fighting along this river.

Operations in the west are marked by the continuance of a great artillery battle from Belgium to the Ardennes. The duel between guns of all calibres along the entire front has been particularly violent around Arras. In the Argonne and Champagne after a heavy bombardment, attempted to storm the advanced trenches of the allies, but French reports say these attacks all failed. Fighting of a somewhat similar character is proceeding along the Austro-Italian front.

The session of the British Parliament, which opens on Tuesday, will be chiefly occupied with arrangements to finance the war. This will include the levy of new taxes. However, under the British system, whereby ministers can be questioned and debates raised, many other matters will be discussed. Compulsory service is certain to come up for consideration, and on this the cabinet is said to be divided.

ALLIES AND FINANCE.

PARIS, Sept. 13.
 Pierre Bark, the Russian Minister of Finance, in Bucharest to-day, according to a telegram received from that point. The Roumanian Government placed at his disposal a special train to take him to the Bulgarian frontier. M. Bark is on his way to Paris and London, to confer with Alexandre Ribot, the French Minister of Finance, and Reginald McKenna, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer.

BERNSTORFF CONFERS WITH LANSING.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.
 Count Von Bernstorff was back in Washington to-day for a conference with Secretary of State Lansing on the situation developed by the sinking of the Arabic. The Ambassador, it was understood, would begin an informal discussion with Lansing, which would be supplementary to the German note on the Arabic, with the hope of opening the way to negotiations for an amicable adjustment. The German view, it was said, was that an agreement could be reached to arbitrate the question of reparations for American lives lost on the ship, inasmuch as the Berlin note has renewed assurances that submarine commanders had been ordered not to attack peaceful liners without warning.

VIOLATED INSTRUCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.
 Germany's explanation of the unsuccessful attempt to destroy the Cunard liner Orduna, on July 9th, is that the submarine commander violated his instructions, which were not to attack the liner, but that because of the weather he was unable to do so. The character of the nationality of the Orduna was bound from Liverpool to New York with some 200 passengers, of whom twenty-two were Americans. She was attacked by a torpedo, which barely missed her, and then was shelled by the submarine until she was out of range. The German explanation, which comes in the form of a note, was laid before President Wilson to-day by Secretary Lansing.

REGARDS SITUATION AS GRAVE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.
 President Wilson to-day expressed his view of the gravity of the international situation which confronts the United States, to a delegation of Virginians. Declining their invitation to visit Manassas battlefield late this month, he said: "We are all hoping and praying that the skies may clear, but we have no control of that on this side of the water. It is impossible to predict any part of the course of affairs."

THE DUMBA CASE.

GENEVA, Sept. 13.
 Vienna morning newspapers are replete with leading articles and news concerning Dr. Dumba, the Austrian Ambassador to the United States, considering the affair one of vital interest. From these articles it would appear that the request for his recall has divided Austro-Hungarian statesmen into two camps. Those of the party of Baron Burian, the Foreign Minister, apparently are persuaded that Ambassador Dumba acted under the influence of Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador without orders from the Home Government. The Hungarian party, on the contrary, believes that Dumba did his duty, in order to prevent arms and ammunition reaching the Powers of the Quadruple Entente. It is gleaned from newspaper articles that Emperor Francis Joseph was displeased when he learned that action had been taken by the States. It is declared likewise that telegrams somewhat bitter in tone have been exchanged on the subject between Foreign Minister British and Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Chancellor. The question of a diplomatic rupture with the States is being discussed in the press.

URGENT APPEAL ISSUED.

SOFIA, Sept. 13.
 An urgent appeal to the nation has been issued by a group of Bulgarian men of note, to support the opposition demand for convocation of the Bulgarian Parliament, "with a view to preventing action contrary to the country's centuries old traditions." The centuries long traditions of the Bulgarians, as of other Balkan nations, have consisted of uncompromising opposition to the Turks as the usurpers and tyrants of Europe. As there have been many evidences of late that the Bulgarian Government, presumably under the leadership of King Ferdinand, is leaning strongly to the side of the Germans and Austrians, and necessarily, therefore, on the side of the Turks, it would seem that the opposition in parliament, demanding the convening of the chamber, is opposed to giving any assistance to the Turks. Only since the second Balkan war has Bulgaria become so violently opposed to Greece and Serbia, as almost to forget her age-long hatred of the Turk. It could hardly be said, therefore, that the centuries old traditions spoken of refers to this more recent policy of the opposition to other Balkan nations.

GENERAL DISMISSED.

LONDON, Sept. 13.
 A despatch from Amsterdam says that Emperor William has dismissed General Von Kluge, Commander of the Eighth Division, who was held responsible for the Austro-German check by the Russians on the Sereth River, in East Galicia.

PERICARIOUS POSITION.

ATHENS, Sept. 13.
 An American citizen of standing in Athens, has received advices from Constantinople, which he says are trustworthy, to the effect that the situation of the Turkish army and Government is unfavorable. According to the information, the position of the Turkish forces, defending the Dardanelles, is precarious. It is said the Turkish front is thinned by the heavy losses which the fighting has entailed on both sides, and is finding it increasingly difficult to hold the lines against the French and British.

REPORTED NAVAL BATTLE.

ROME, Sept. 13.
 A battle between Italian and Austrian naval forces, the former assisted by French submarines, occurred on Thursday last in the Adriatic Sea, the Ministry of Marine announced to-day. One Austrian torpedo boat was damaged seriously.

BRITISH STEAMER LOST.

LONDON, Sept. 13.
 Lloyd's reports that the British steamer Ashmore has gone ashore and sunk. Four of the crew are missing, the remainder are saved. The last report of the steamer Ashmore in available shipping records was that she sailed from Monte Video on August for St. Vincent, Cape Verde.

NEUTRAL SHIP FIRED ON.

LONDON, Sept. 13.
 An attack with gunfire on a neutral ship by a German submarine, is reported in a despatch from Christiania. The submarine is said to have fired upon the Norwegian ship Presto, with a cargo of wood on last Friday. The crew was saved.

THE MIGHTY BARD.

Bill Shakespeare spent his toilsome days producing deathless pomes and plays; brought h i m twenty pounds a year, which barely bought his cheese and beer. As actor, in the after times, he piled up quite a roll of dimes, but in his early years he felt an aching void beneath his belt. No doubt the alecks used to say, as they watched William go his way, "It is an evil thing, in sooth, to see him fool away his youth! His pen he ought to cease to jerk, and start to do some useful work. He has a hundred chances now; the farmers shriek for men to plow, the tanner raised a frightful yelp this morn because he can't get help, the landlord of the Blue Boar inn needs an assistant dishing gin, the owner of the chow-chow works is howling for a dozen clerks. And still that trifling Shakespeare sink does naught but fool with pen and ink! 'Tis shame that he is running loose; he should be in the calaboose." In every clime, in every age, has genius heard the alecks rage. To-day, when some one tries to write, or paint a picture out of sight, the sad bystanders rise and say, "He should get busy baling hay!"

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?
 "Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."
 "That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."
 Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Your Boys and Girls.
 There are many people who expect children to be naughty when the restraining influence of the parents is removed. But what is the matter with those children who are just as good when the "cats away" as they are at other times? You might think there is something uncanny about such children. But really they are quite normal and full of fun. I know them myself and can say that they have the same instincts for play and mischief as other children. Yet there is a difference.
 And the difference is in the attitude of the parents, especially of the mother, toward the play of the children. The mother has learned to suppress her own instinct to say "don't" every time one of the children starts to do something that is not on her program. The children have the impulse to do a thousand things that seem foolish to you and me, but most of them are quite harmless and need not be stopped unless the adults are very selfish and irritable.

The Bulgars and Their Czar.

It would be a strange irony of fate were we to find eventually Bulgaria fighting side by side with Turkey and supporting the Turkish hordes which oppressed them for five centuries. Over thirty years ago Mr. Gladstone made the world ring with his denunciation of what was then called the Bulgarian atrocities, which were in fact horrible deeds of massacres and unspeakable crimes committed by the Bashe Bazouks or Turkish irregulars against the Bulgarian men, women and children who then occupied the territory known now as Roumania and Bulgaria, which was then divided into Turkish vilayets under Turkish governors and was part and parcel of Turkey in Europe. Russia championed the cause of the Bulgars with her arms and eventually two nationalities emerged from the struggle, Roumania and Bulgaria. Both countries owe their freedom from Turkey to Russia, and it would be a strange outcome of the present conflict if Bulgaria should provide soldiers to aid Turkey against Russia and her allies. "With a view to preventing action contrary to the country's centuries old tradition" an agitation has been started in Bulgaria. Germany and Austria have been working on the susceptibilities of the Bulgarian Government, which considers itself outraged at the way she was treated after the Balkan League had defeated Turkey. Serbia and Greece quarrelled with her over the Turkish spoils. Roumania intervened against her and Turkey turned and received back from her Adrianople. She was forced to agree to the Treaty of Bucharest, which gave to Serbia and Greece Turkish territory she coveted. It is on this soreness, Germany and Austria have been working, first to stop the formation of a new Balkan League against Turkey; second, to obtain a benevolent neutrality; and latterly to turn that benevolent neutrality into active support of Turkey. The central powers have an agent to hand in the Czar of Bulgaria, who was a German princeling, born in Vienna in 1861, and the youngest son of Prince Augustus of Saxe-Coburg one of the Duchies of the German federation. He has this bitter remembrance of the Treaty of Bucharest to work

The Archbishop at St. Mary's.

Special to Evening Telegram.
ST. MARY'S, To-day.
 The Archbishop and party arrived here last evening. The harbor was en fete, the houses being illuminated and the morning revealed an elaborate display of bunting. A large congregation assembled for the Archbishop's mass. His Grace addressed the people thanking them and their good pastor for their reception and intimated that next year he would again visit them for an extended parochial visitation. After a visit to the schools, the episcopal party left for St. Joseph's in the afternoon.

Serious Trouble on Norwegian Ship.

Weapons Used.—Two Men Wounded.
 From a party who reached the city by yesterday evening's express we learn of some serious trouble that occurred quite recently at Little Bay on board a Norwegian steamer, which was loading pit props in that section. The alleged trouble was the outcome of a breach of that part of the Game Laws prohibiting the killing of caribou in close season. In a big row that occurred two men were wounded and later the ship went ashore. The name of the Norwegian steamer is thought to be the Karlsbrook, as this vessel was reported this morning to be ashore at Little Bay Island, according to a message received here by the Deputy Minister of Customs LeMessurier. The story is told that on last Thursday morning a fireman and another man, who was coast pilot on the ship, killed two deer with an axe and brought the venison aboard the ship. The Game Warden around there was put wise and soon hiked it off to the ship and seized the meat and acquainted the two men who had killed the deer that they had broken the law, as it was close season, and that he intended to take action. After the Game Warden had left it transpired that someone on board had acted informant for the Warden and then the row began. A Norwegian seaman was stabbed with a chisel and was brought to Little Bay Hospital while another seaman who committed the deed was arrested by Const. Dewling under a warrant sworn before Stipendiary Magistrate Wells. When this trouble had abated awhile another seaman was struck with another instrument by some one else on board and seriously injured. It is not unlikely that more arrests will be made and the prisoners brought on to St. John's.

Reception of a Religious at Hr. Grace.

Bishop March Delivers Eloquent and Impressive Sermon.

(By H. F. SHORTIS.)

On Wednesday last, 8th inst., the Feast of the Nativity of Our Blessed Lady, the postulant (Miss Mary Hipditch, of St. Kyran's, P. B.), was received by His Lordship Bishop March at the Convent, Harbour Grace. The sermon preached on the occasion was a touching one, wherein His Lordship explained fully the nature of the religious vocation, giving as examples the calling of the Apostles to follow Him, which act Divine Lord so lovingly did—the winning over of St. Matthew from his occupation of money-making, and lastly the sad story of the rich young man who could not follow his vocation, because he could not forsake his all and give up his riches.

The young postulant was then reminded that in order to enjoy the advantages of the religious life she must truly and sincerely forego the advantages and privileges of the world. His Lordship earnestly exhorted the young postulant to study well the holy rules and practices of the Order of which she wishes to become a member at holy profession after a period of two years, so that she may find the yoke of the Heavenly Spouse sweet and her burden light.

The beautiful discourse ended by His Lordship putting forth in most consoling words the very great reward allotted to those who love and serve the Divine Spouse faithfully.

The young postulant took the great St. Colum-Kille for her holy patron, and will be known in religion as Sr. Mary Columba Joseph.

The ceremony took place at noon on Wednesday, and those present were deeply affected by the solemnity of the occasion, as also by the impressive sermon preached by His Lordship Bishop March.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, uncle and aunt of the young lady, Mrs. O'Neill and Miss March, whilst the Rev. Thomas O'Neill, nephew of His Lordship, assisted the Bishop.

Tedious Journey.

Miss Cantwell, of Cape Spear, suffering from appendicitis, was conveyed to the General Hospital yesterday evening to be operated on. She was brought from her home at the Cape on an express wagon to a short distance beyond Blackhead whence she was transferred to the ambulance which took her to the Institution.

How to Protect the Skin.

To keep the skin delicate and transparent, as to show its natural coloring, protect it by using Nyal's Face Cream.

Before going out wash with Face Cream Soap, then rub the Cream well into the pores, and you can spend a day out of doors without the slightest injury to the skin.

For a few days, with every 25c. crock of Nyal's Face Cream sold, we will give a trial size cake of Nyal's Face Cream Soap.

PULP AND PAPER CARGO.—The S. S. Granley left Botwood yesterday for Glasgow and Manchester with 4,100 tons of pulp and paper.

INTERCESSION SERVICE.—The weekly Intercession Service at St. Thomas's Church for our soldiers and sailors has been changed from Thursday at 10.30 a.m. to Wednesday at 10 a.m.

MINES DISPOSED OF.—It is said that the Bett's Cove mining property has been disposed of to an American concern and that an expert is expected to arrive here shortly to examine the property.

BASEBALL.—The sporting fraternity are hopeful that the Baseball League are arranging a game for tomorrow. If the Cubs, Red Lions and Shamrocks would meet for second place, it would be an interesting double header; or the Wanderers (champions) play a picked team from the other three.

MORE TYPHOID.—Infectious disease is on the increase both in the city and outskirts as well. Every day there are new cases of typhoid or diphtheria reported and the authorities are kept busy trying to check the spread of the disease. The Fever Hospital is practically filled with patients while a number of patients are being treated at home.

Veteran Police Officer Honoured.

Last night a deputation of the police force called at the residence of District Inspector William Collins, who has just retired from the Constabulary, after 43 years of active and faithful service, and presented him with a handsome meerschaum pipe and tobacco pouch. Sergeant Noseworthy, senior officer of that rank, read the address and made the presentation.

The recipient thanked the donors heartily for their unexpected gift, not so much for its intrinsic value, but for the good motives accompanying it and he assured his late associates that he would always cherish their gift. The address follows:—

St. John's, Sept. 13th, 1915.

To William Collins, Esq., District Inspector.

Dear Mr. Collins,—On this the occasion of your retirement from active duty, we deem it expedient and opportune to express our appreciation of the many qualities of head and heart, which rendered easy the discharge of the very onerous duties, which in the course of a long and faithful service you were called upon to perform.

Your kindness, and affability of disposition have made it easy to other members of the Force in the discharge of their obligations and duties to the general public, and you combined the qualities of an efficient and fearless officer of the law, and those of an esteemed and popular citizen; and you leave behind you a greater respect for discipline, a splendid condition of order, and a general feeling of regret at your retirement, which personally we all share.

We therefore hope that you will accept this small token of our regard, not for its intrinsic value, but as a slight recognition of your sterling worth.

SEE AMERICA FIRST — PUGET SOUND.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Sivash." Puget Sound was constructed many millions years ago, but lay in a neglected and disheveled condition entirely surrounded by pine trees until the early seventies of the last century.

It forms the northwest corner of the United States and makes this country look as if someone had bitten a chunk out of it in a moment of great ill-feeling. It is about 150 miles long, but it does not appear to be very wide. A strong man can see across it anywhere. This, however, is because Puget Sound is decorated on both shores with mountains of great size and dignity. One of the pleasantest tasks in America is to stand at Seattle or Tacoma and look across Puget Sound at the Olympic Mountains. Owing to the fact that they are covered with fog in winter and with forest fire smoke in summer, this is a rare privilege. Old settlers in Seattle date events from the last time they saw the Olympics.

Puget Sound is a beautiful and harmonious collection of waters. It is famous for being the most peaceful body of water on the globe, which accounts for the phenomenal growth of Seattle and Tacoma. They have been populated by travelers who are subject to seasickness and have gazed upon the calm sound waters after having endured $135 worth of ill health with tips extra on the Atlantic.

The greatest forests left in America came down to the edges of Puget Sound and the buzz-saw and salmon cannery work overtime along its shores. The United States almost went to war over this collection of wetness in the forties and then forgot all about it for thirty years. Now it is lined with roaring cities which grow two acres every night and like nothing better than to cut down a 300-foot tree and built a 400-foot skyscraper in its place. Over six hundred thousand people now live around the Sound, though forty years ago the traveller who dropped his matches in these waters would have had to travel 150 miles to find the nearest cigar store.

Steamships from China, Japan, Europe and Alaska jostle each other in Puget Sound and more motor boats than can be found anywhere else on earth navigate its waters. It would take an industrious man 100 years to seek out all the beauty spots in this region with a motor boat, and many earnest, enthusiastic skippers are putting off their deaths indefinitely for this reason.

The little girl's party dress should be short waisted, but her school dress should have a normal waist-line or the low-belted effect.

At Less Cost

There's more nutritive value that the system will absorb in Grape-Nuts than in either meat or bread.

A remarkable fact.

Weight for weight, a package of Grape-Nuts supplies one-third more nourishment than a roast of beef and at about half the cost. A roast of beef is about twenty per cent waste and there is a shrinkage in cooking. Grape-Nuts comes ready cooked—and not a crumb need be wasted.

Think it over!

Then there's bread—white bread lacks certain elements essential to building brain and body. Why? Because in milling white flour, four-fifths of the precious mineral content (all important for health and life) is thrown out with the brancoat of wheat, to make the flour look white and pretty.

Grape-Nuts

not only supplies all the brain-and-bone-building, nerve-and-muscle-making phosphates of the wheat, but all the rich nutriment of malted barley.

Besides, Grape-Nuts is easily digested—generally in about an hour—white bread and beef require about 2½ hours.

Grape-Nuts comes in germ-proof, moisture-proof packages—ready to serve with cream or milk—a delicious ration, economical and highly nourishing.

Fishery Report.

Sept. 11th.—From W. White (Port Rexton to Trouty)—Sixty boats are fishing but the trap season is ended. The hook and line work, following a slight improvement in the supply of squid, is a little better than last week and a few fish are being taken on trawls. Three schooners have arrived from the Straits. The total catch is 4230 qtls., and for last week 900.

Sept. 11th.—From T. Hogan (Carbonara to Western Bay)—All the traps were taken up yesterday and prospects are poor, as there is no bait of any kind. The catch to date is 2755 qtls., with 30 for the week. This latter was taken out of traps, nothing being done with hook and line.

REMAINS REMOVED.—The remains of the late Timothy Sullivan were removed from the Morgue to his late residence on Livingstone Street last evening and will be interred tomorrow afternoon.

Making Economy Concrete!

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

The little boy who would put too much sugar in his cocoa had been called to task over and over again by his mother.

She had showed him the sugar which remained in the bottom of his cup, explained to him that the extra sugar which the cocoa couldn't take up didn't make it any sweeter and therefore might just as well stay in the sugar-bowl instead of going into the dishpan and making the dishwashing a little harder.

The little boy acknowledged the justice of all this, but it was hard for him to fix his active young mind on such an important matter and so he kept forgetting and loading in three times the sugar he needed.

Finally his mother had an idea. You see, she wanted to break Billy of that habit, not because she had to scrape and save to make ends meet, but because she didn't believe in uselessly extravagant habits and she didn't want Billy to acquire even this minor one.

"Making Candy Out Of Wasted Sugar." "Bill, boy," she said, "if that sugar that you waste every day and that Norah has to stop and dig out of your cup were kept in the sugar-bowl I think we'd have enough to make vinegar candy at least twice a month oftener than we do."

Billy's eyes opened wide. That was a new way of looking at it. Saving sugar just for the sake of abstract economy hadn't appealed to him, but saving for a concrete end, that was different.

"Can I make the vinegar candy if I don't waste any more sugar?" he asked eagerly.

After That He Didn't Waste Any More Sugar.

"You may," said Billy's mother. "If Norah doesn't find any sugar in your cup for the next two weeks you may make vinegar candy Saturday."

That was some time ago. Billy is a big boy now and doesn't make vinegar candy any more, but his mother says he still has the good habit he learned when she helped him get a concrete idea of what he was wasting.

It seems to me it would be infinitely acquire for all of us, big and little, to acquire the saving habit if we only would learn to sense what we waste, to translate it into something definite and concrete.

A New Angle On Five Cents.

For instance, I heard one man joke another about walking a mile to save carfare. "I've got plenty of time," he answered; "it's good for me, and as for five cents, well, it takes a dollar a year to earn that much."

Just five cents doesn't sound much, but it sounds bigger when you get that angle on it, doesn't it?

"I hate to wait for two cents change," says the woman who has just made a ninety-eight cent purchase and paid with a dollar bill.

"Two cents will send a letter a thousand miles," answered her sensible companion, "or raise three loaves of bread. And two cents will almost take you home on the car."

Misirliness is such a universally despised vice that people are apt to look on carelessness about little sums of money as rather a virtue. If we would only visualize and translate these small sums I think we might be less foolish about them.

Three Dead as a Result of Explosion on Hiawatha.

Newfoundland Schooner Loaded With Oil Burned to Water's Edge in Bedford Basin Early Friday Morning—Hubert Clarke, Master of Vessel Among the Dead.

Three men are dead as a result of an explosion which occurred early yesterday morning on the Nfld. schr. Hiawatha, which, loaded to the hatches with oil and gasoline, was lying at the Bedford Basin pier of the Imperial Oil Company awaiting a favorable wind for sailing to St. John's, Nfld. The dead are James Saunders, seaman, William Hooper, seaman, whose charred bodies lay on the deck of the destroyed schooner, and Capt. Hubert Clarke, master of the ill-starred vessel, who was taken to the Victoria General Hospital and expired there shortly before noon. Two other members of the crew, Fred Kirby, seaman, and Thomas Farrell, cook, are at the hospital, one with fractured leg and severe burns and the other with only minor injuries. Sidney Hussey, the mate, escaped uninjured. All the members of the crew hail from Burin, Nfld.

"We were going to sail this morning for Newfoundland," said Farrell, the cook when a reporter of the Chronicle visited the Victoria General Hospital yesterday morning. "and I had gone forward into the galley to get breakfast for the boys. We had not been able to sleep in the fore'ste, the night before, because of the fumes from gasoline, which had settled there. I went to light a fire in the stove, when suddenly there was a sharp explosion and the fore'ste was a mass of flames. I leaped for the companion way and got through safely, but just in the nick-of time. I jumped overboard, and escaped with minor injuries. Kirby, who was leaning on the starboard rail at the time, was thrown to the deck by the explosion, and he, too, jumped into the water.

In doing so he fractured his leg. I think that Capt. Clarke also jumped from the ship but cannot say definitely. It all happened so quickly that it was hard to give a clear idea of what each man did. Poor Saunders and Hooper were caught in the flames and perished."

This morning a reporter from the Chronicle visited the scene of the accident. The Hiawatha now lies stranded on a reef near the pier, burned to the water's edge, her deck caved in and the ribs protruding from what is left of the hull.

The watchman at the Oil Company's plant and men on a warship who were in a position to see the commencement of the Hiawatha's destruction, say that at about half past six o'clock in the morning they heard an explosion and looking towards the pier where the schooner was lying, saw a sheet of flames sweep along her deck and up the masts and rigging. A naval boat put out to the scene and the watchman ran down the pier. The flames had then taken full possession of the ship and it was impossible to board her. The cries of the men who had jumped overboard were heard and they were quickly brought to shore. The mate had also made his way to land, so that there were only two more to be accounted for. In the meantime a message had been sent into the city for assistance from the Fire Department and men and apparatus were despatched to the scene. The manager of the Imperial Oil Company also secured the services of C. S. Campbell & Co.'s tug Togo, which responded very promptly to the call. Thanks to the work of the tug and the city firemen the blaze did not spread to the company's tanks from the water. The schr., however, was totally destroyed. There was no possibility of saving her. A portion of the pier, of an area about thirty feet by fifty feet, was burned, before the fire was fully checked.

A squad of sailors performed excellent work, and the survivors of the disaster were placed on board a launch and taken to the dockyard, whence they were transferred to the Victoria General Hospital. It was at once seen that the condition of Capt. Clarke was critical and little hope was held out for his recovery. He had suffered terrible burns and was in a very weak condition. At ten minutes before noon he passed away. Thursday afternoon the Hiawatha's cargo for St. John's, had been fully loaded. The schooner then had in her holds four hundred barrels of gasoline, one hundred barrels of oil, and one hundred cases of gasoline. Capt. Clarke who has had considerable experience in carrying cargoes of this sort was always considered a very careful and reliable man, in the matter of lights and matches, when he had such a cargo. Thursday night the crew found that fumes from the gasoline had made their way into the fore'ste and, as they could not sleep comfortably there, all hands went aft to the cabin and there remained for the night. It was planned to set sail yesterday morning for Nfld. if weather proved fine, and when the cook went forward to get breakfast several others of the crew were up and dressed. The two men Saunders and Hooper were not so fortunate, and when the explosion came, they had no opportunity of getting away.

The cause of the explosion is said to be the accumulation of gas in the galley, from fumes from the gasoline, which, when a match was lit, promptly exploded.

The value of the Hiawatha is estimated to have been $5,000 and the cargo, which as far as is known, was not insured, was worth about the same amount.

The schooner was registered at Burin, Nfld., and was owned by Captain Clarke. She was a ship of 98 tons net and was built at Lunenburg, N.S. —Halifax Chronicle, Sept. 11.

11.00 A.M.

FROM ATHLETICS TO MUNITIONS.

LONDON, To-day. The stadium erected at Shepherd's Bush for the Olympic Games of 1908, is being turned into a munitions factory.

TO AVENGE CRUCIFIXION.

LONDON, To-day. Rev. R. J. Campbell, Pastor of the City Temple, stated in a sermon last night he had met one grim young Canadian who had been wounded, who longs to return to the front to avenge the death of two sergeants whom he had seen Germans crucify.

CATCHING SUBMARINES.

LONDON, To-day. The Paris Figaro's naval critic, after visiting the British fleet, writes: German submarines are hunted not only with guns, explosive bombs, but also with nets. When they leave port their commanders know the chances for their destruction far exceed those of their return to port.

DEMAND REPRISALS.

LONDON, To-day. Since public opinion forced the Government to intern aliens and declare cotton contraband, public meetings are being organized to demand reprisals on German towns for Zeppelin raids. It is pointed out there were no such raids for two months after the French aviators bombarded Karlsruhe. Bonar Law advocates compensation for damage caused by Zeppelins from enemy alien funds now held by public trustee.

AEROPLANE CHASED OFF.

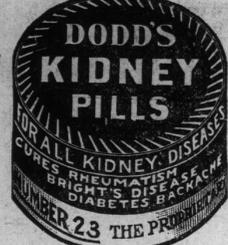

LONDON (Official), To-day. A hostile aeroplane passed over the Kentish coast this afternoon and dropped some bombs which resulted in a house being seriously damaged and four persons injured. The aeroplane was chased off by two naval aeroplanes.

WANT A BILLION DOLLARS.

NEW YORK, To-day. The present plan of the Anglo-French financial commission, it was reported to-night, is to borrow one billion dollars in the United States with straight British and French Government bonds without any collateral whatever. If this vast sum of money is obtained, it was said, it is to be spent in the last penny in the United States in payment of wheat, cotton, meat and other commodity shipments, including munitions of war. It will therefore, in the opinion of financial authorities, be classified as a commercial loan. Whether the neutrality of the States will be questioned in the case of bankers financing a big loan, should be kept in mind. The French Government notes as their security, has been given serious consideration. It was said, financiers familiar with the plan, have every reason to believe the Washington Administration would not interfere. "We are not in a position to make a statement at the present time," Lord Reading said to-night, "because we are studying the conditions in New York and elsewhere in relation to American exchange on London and Paris."

THE DISPUTE BETWEEN THE STATES AND GERMANY.

WASHINGTON, To-day. The conferences yesterday between President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing and Count Von Bernstorff, German Ambassador, brought the situation growing out of the German submarine activities to the following status: (1) The German Ambassador has been furnished with evidence of officers and survivors of the Arabic, all agreeing that the liner was torpedoed peacefully when torpedoed. The Ambassador has been advised the United States desires a disavowal of the attack and reparation for American lives lost. (2) Evidence will be sent by Count Von Bernstorff to the Berlin Foreign Office, which has not been available before. Probably ten days will elapse before Berlin can be heard from. In some quarters it is believed possible that the Foreign Office upon examining the evidence may change its position and disavow the action of the submarine commander, who it was claimed in the last note sank the liner because he thought she was about to attack him. (3) The States has all information in the case as it now stands at hand and is ready to decide upon its course, but action may be delayed until Count Von Bernstorff has had time to exchange communications with his Government. (4) While the States will not consent to arbitration of principle nor on the question, involving the safety of American lives, she has accepted Germany's assurance that peaceful liners will not be torpedoed without warning. If Germany desires to arbitrate on the amount of indemnity and the question whether the Arabic actually attempted to attack the submarine, or whether her actions justified the submarine commander believing he was about to be attacked that probably would be agreed to. The President and Secretary Lansing were in conference for nearly an hour. Later Count Von Bernstorff spent half an hour with the Secretary. No announcements were made.

ROUMANIA GETS READY.

ATHENS, To-day. It is reported in diplomatic circles here that there has been heavy mobilization of Roumanian troops, including several regiments of cavalry, to face an unexpected concentration of Austrians, which is directed presumably against Roumania. Railroad traffic on Northwestern Roumania is declared to have been suspended in favor of troop movements. All horses have been requisitioned and the second series of reserves are now with the colors. It is asserted the Austro-German explanation is that the concentration is directed toward the suppression of espionage in Transylvania but this statement is not taken seriously.

GRAND DUKE ACTIVE.

PETROGRAD, To-day. (Official). In the coastal region on Saturday there was cannonading and rifle firing in the direction of Olti. Near Arkhil, our patrol dislodged the Turks from the rocks. No change on the remainder of the front.

HEAVY WAR TAXES EXPECTED.

LONDON, To-day. When Parliament reassembles, its principal concern will be schemes of new taxation to help providing for the expenses of war. An increase and extension of the income tax is expected in most quarters. An attempt to restrict the volume of imports is urged by many public men and most likely to be made in this direction and large additions to the duties on tea, tobacco, wine, sugar, petrol and possibly new duties on luxuries of various character. Other taxes which have been suggested are upon tickets for theatres and motion pictures, autos and carriages, employers of domestic servants. An increase charge for letters, telegrams and telephones, all of which are under Government control is a further possibility, but the greater part of a half billion dollars or so, which the Government proposes according to the well informed from income tax. Most authorities are agreed that the income tax must be broadened and the minimum exemption presumed to be made for assessing wages of as many workmen and small business men as earn more than a flat minimum demand necessary to support existence. It is estimated the total income of inhabitants of the British Isles is $12,000,000,000 a year. Of this less than five billions of dollars are now assessed for taxation. New Legislation is expected to reach at least three and a half billion dollars more. With small workmen it is proposed that the collection of tax may be made weekly by installments by means of stamps affixed to weekly war tax cards. With the modification of the income tax law which Regina McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is expected to introduce into the new budget will come the opportunity for a general revision of the methods of collection. Many influential newspapers and members of Parliament advocate this course, providing that a tax payer may make his payments by easy installments instead of as at present in one annual lump sum.

SUNK GERMAN SUBMARINE.

PARIS, To-day. A German submarine has been torpedoed and sunk by a French torpedo boat patrol between Mytilene and Tenedos, says an Athens despatch to the Journal.

INSURRECTION IN PORTUGAL.

PARIS, To-day. A new insurrectionary movement has broken out not only in Lisbon, but in the principal Provincial cities of Portugal, says a despatch to the Journal from Madrid.

TURKISH TOWN IN FLAMES.

LONDON, To-day. The town of Phocaea, Asia Minor, 25 miles northwest of Smyrna, is reported in flames, according to a despatch from Athens, which says it is inferred that the Turks are destroying the coast towns and retreating into the interior in the expectation of the fall of the Dardanelles.

ROUMANIA BEGINS MOBILIZATION.

LONDON, To-day. A partial mobilization of Roumanian troops has been ordered, in preparation for eventualities, following the concentration of Austrian forces in Transylvania, according to a report from Bucharest.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GAGGET IN COWS.

ANARCHY IN PERSIA.

LONDON, To-day. Anarchy prevails in Persia, according to the Teheran correspondent of Reuter Telegram Company. The Government military forces have been defeated in a series of engagements with tribesmen and a number of Swedish officers who were in the service have been killed. British and Russian colonies at Ispahan, with French and British women missionaries have been forced to leave for Teheran. Ispahan is said to be controlled by mobs.

VIEWS FUTURE WITH CONFIDENCE.

LONDON, To-day. Since General Polivanoff, Minister of War, reviewed the position of the Russian armies a fortnight ago, telegrams the Petrograd correspondent of the Times, no single event has occurred which can be construed as an advantage to the invaders. Nowhere have they inflicted either a tactical or strategic blow, calculated to alter the military situation in their favor. General Polivanoff is satisfied that the increase in the supplies of rifles and ammunition is being well maintained, and that the Russian armies are in a position strong enough to view the future with confidence.

GERMAN SUBMARINE IN BLACK SEA.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch to the Morning Post from Petrograd, says that a Turbo-German submarine of a new German type, was sighted in the Black Sea by the Russian post on Kerch Peninsula in the Crimea. The submarine came up to reconnoitre and exchanged shots with the shore before retiring at full speed. In view of the size and type of the underwater boat, it is evident it made its way by sea to Turkish waters.

SCHOONER TORPEDOED.

CHRISTIANIA, To-day. A Norwegian motor schooner, with pit props for England, was torpedoed on Sunday by a German submarine.

12.45 A.M.

WILL PAY DAMAGES.

LONDON, To-day. The German Government has informed the Norwegian Government, according to a Christiania despatch, that it could not recognize any responsibility for the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Stein Jarl on July 9th, as the steamer was not provided with any sign showing that she was neutral. However, twelve of her crew having perished, and in order to show its friendly disposition towards Norway, Germany agrees to make up for the damage done and asks Norway to nominate an expert, who, with a German expert will fix the amount of damages.

STEADY PROGRESS ON PENINSULA.

PARIS, To-day. The Allied fleet has succeeded in locating the Turkish batteries along the Asiatic shore of the Dardanelles, according to a Journal despatch from Athens. Observers in a captive balloon spied out the Ottoman artillery, which was silenced by shells from British and French guns, with the result that the camps of the Allied troops are now more tenable. Advances from Mytilene received at Athens are to the effect that large bodies of Franco-British troops are disembarking on the Gallipoli Peninsula and steady progress by the Allies is reported to be causing consternation in Constantinople.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT PROTESTS.

HAVRE, To-day. The Belgian Government has protested to the neutral States against the action of the German administration in tearing up and transporting to Poland the tracks of the Belgian railroads. The protest is based on an article of the Fourth Hague Convention, which stipulates that the occupation of invaded territory shall constitute only an occupation de facto.

BULGARIA AND TURKEY SIGN AGREEMENT.

ATHENS, To-day. The situation on the Russian frontier is not considered immediately menacing by persons in official circles here, especially in view of the fact of Roumania being not yet fully prepared for eventualities. The tenacity of the front has been tremendously helped by a closer understanding between Greece, Roumania and Serbia with a view to eventual action in the event of an Austro-German attack. Bulgaria has not been included in these negotiations, for it is now admitted that the Turko-Bulgarian agreement finally has been signed and that Bulgaria will not accept Serbian concessions.

CAUSED BIGGEST SENSATION OF YEAR.

NEW YORK, To-day. The report that the Anglo-French Financial Commission contemplated borrowing a billion dollars here without collateral of any sort and solely on Government notes of Great Britain and France, caused the biggest sensation of the year in the New York financial district. The consensus of financial opinion is that the commission would find its task tremendously more difficult than would be the case were the proposed credit loan secured by a collateral of American bonds and stocks as at first suggested.

MUNITION WORKERS TO VISIT TRENCHES.

LONDON, To-day. The Press Bureau announces that it has been decided to send eight parties of munition workers on a four days' visit to the trenches. Arthur Henderson, Labor member of the Cabinet, who has charge of the preliminary party, reports that he was impressed with the need of an overwhelming supply of munitions. A vast preponderance of projectiles, he says, is required for shortening the war.

REVIVED INTEREST IN WAR NEWS.

Those who have been complaining that the public of late have shown a lessening interest in war news should now be reassured when there are unmistakable signs all round of a re-awakened concern in what is passing in every department of the war area. This is accounted for not only by the substantial items of intelligence concerning events on land, sea, and air, but by a very general feeling that these may lead very speedily to greater results. The entry of Italy into the Eastern field of action by declaring war against Turkey, though long expected, is regarded as of great significance, not merely in its possible bearing on the Dardanelles operations, but of its influence on the Balkan position, and the growing tension between Germany and the neutral countries—the arch-enemy having within a single week succeeded in offering striking affronts to Norway and Denmark, as well as the United States—being observed with keenest regard. An access of interest in every detail that affects the general situation is, therefore, to be observed all round here.

PLAY AND SONG AT RULHEBEN.

I have just seen more letters from the great internment camp at Rulheben, and a good deal is said in them about the musical and dramatic societies which have been formed among the prisoners. The letters betray an undertone of irksomeness which no arrangements for giving pleasure within a confined space can altogether remove, but the men enter with zest into the programmes of the theatre and the concert hall. The dramatic society's productions have included Stanley Houghton's "The Dear Departed," Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion" and "Captain Brassbrone's Conversion," and Galsworthy's "Strife." Shakespeare has not been forgotten, and a rather startling account is just to hand as to some scenic effects employed in producing "As You Like It." A group of Irish players is also at work, and several of the better-known items of the new Irish theatre, like "Spreading the News," have been presented with skill. These further particulars of life at Rulheben emphasize the need of gifts of plays and song-books.

AN ETYMOLOGICAL WAR PUZZLE.

The French word "Boche," applied as a term of opprobrium to the Germans by our Allies across the Channel, has gained wide currency during the war. The Germans, who are mostly concerned in the matter, though they fully appreciate that as applied to them, the word has a meaning the reverse of polite, are as puzzled as anyone to determine its exact etymological import. A young Alsatian girl who lives in Metz, and who has been guilty of using the term, has, through the German military authorities, been made the means of raising a test action on the matter. But apparently the case was not so simple as it may have appeared at first sight to the German Government, for they first of all charged the girl with espionage, reducing it later to a simple charge of using the word "Boche." The accused and her advocate contended that the use of the word in itself constituted no offence, and further asserted that it was legitimate to use it "to describe every person who speaks German, including the Swiss and the Luxemburgers." The knotty point was considered with great gravity by the learned judges who formed the court, the President suggesting that in his opinion the word meant an abscess, but by a majority it was decided that the term was a flattering one, and the court dismissed the complaint. The sequel is the best joke of all, for the learned professors of the University of Strausburg have been instructed to nominate a philologist expert capable of reporting to the authorities what it actually does mean when a German is called "Un Boche."

FUNERALS IN WAR TIME.

Years ago the popular time for funerals in working-class London was Sunday afternoon. The undertakers and cemetery authorities combined to abolish Sunday funerals, and they are now starting a movement to do away with funerals on Saturday afternoon. The reason given for this attack on the customs of the poor—the Saturday afternoon holiday is naturally the time chosen in every working household for the funeral—is that the undertakers must have a half-holiday in the week. At the cemeteries there are complaints of "an unseemly rush" on the Saturday afternoons—in fact, the proposal originated with the cemeteries. It is thought that working people would be willing to lose half a day in the week for the sake of attending funerals. There is another painful argument to the effect that it is highly desirable, on sanitary grounds, that funerals take place more quickly after death. As it is, interment is often postponed for more than a week in order that it may happen on a Saturday afternoon. Since the Shop Hours Act came into force there has been a tendency to choose Thursday afternoon. As there is always fortune for someone in national misfortunes, one would have thought that the war would have benefited the undertakers. But soldiers' funerals from hospitals are usually paid for at contract prices by the army authorities. And, although all the materials of the trade have gone up sharply in price, people will not pay more for funerals than before. There is also a shortage of labor. The undertakers' roll of honor is a long one. The best black horses have been commandeered for the army, and as they came from Belgium no more can be got. The average London family has a funeral once in ten years, and it is said that the tendency is to spend much less than previously. Cases of absurd extravagance over funerals, a favorite theme with county court judges, are now rare. There is still a good deal of drinking on the way back from the cemetery, but the lavish "hospitality" in the home is a thing of the past. A sad thing about London funerals in war-time is the great increase in stillborn children of soldiers' wives. The undertakers' theory is that these still-births are due to anxiety and shock.

GERMAN FILMS.

"Flicker Alley" is never long without excitement. To the Charlie Chaplin craze has succeeded the great German film scare, which is being fiercely pursued in the columns of a halfpenny evening paper. There are serious warnings that German films are being foisted on unsuspecting English picture palaces by hyphenated American films. Inquiries in the "Alley" to-day suggest that the whole of this is—well, a film that has not taken. Trade opinion is that there are no films taken in Germany on view here. However willing Americans might be to disguise them with fresh trade marks and so on, the films would inevitably give away their German origin. For one thing, the girls in romantic German films are usually about fifty years old and unmistakably American. We should all, of course, be quite pleased to see German films if they were available—always assuming that by so doing we did not put money into German pockets—which they are not, as relieving the eternal monotony of American cowboys and the twirny of Charlie Chaplin's big boots. There have been stories recently of an attempt of a Danish firm, now amalgamated with a Berlin concern, to circulate the official German war films in neutral countries as propaganda. Here again one would be only too pleased to have a chance of seeing them. The complaint against the control of the British film market by American producers has more in it. If the average film in our picture palaces could talk, it would talk unmitigated American. The reason is simply that in America the film-producing business is much bigger and better organized than with us. The money put into the business in America and the enterprise shown are far greater than in British film production, though that is fast making progress. I am told that some of the best-known English firms are controlled by Americans. As to war films, I hear that the War Office has at last agreed to sending out two British operators to record the doings of our army—in belated imitation of the French and Russian Governments.

THE "HUN" LIFE.

Seven of the German steamers which have been taken over by the Admiralty for the service of our Government are hosed in the new edition of Lloyd's Register under sound British names every one of which begins with "Hun." Thus the Lantefels is now the Hungerford, and the Arrived is the Hunsford. This is one of the best jokes of the war, and has a sort of grim justice about it which is very satisfactory. The Germans will be more indignant than ever at our British levity. The joke would be underlined if a submarine sent one of the "Hun" boats to the bottom.

EIGHTY-EIGHT NEW V.C.'S.

In view of the comparatively few opportunities which members of the senior service receive for the display of personal bravery, the ten Victoria Crosses which the Navy has received during the present war—the six just announced for heroism during the landing on the Gallipoli Peninsula bringing the total to this figure—form a highly creditable proportion of the eighty-eight conferred upon all members of the forces since last August. The percentage is considerably higher than that shown in previous records of the decoration. In all, 610 V.C.'s have now been conferred, and of this number 51 have been secured by sailors of all ranks, besides four granted to marines. The present war's "awards for valor," by the way, already exceed by ten those given during the South African campaign.

AUTUMN PUBLISHING SEASON.

London publishers are sadly troubled just now as to what to do about the autumn. If they bring out new books will they sell? The general desire is to make something of an autumn publishing season, but the difficulties are great. The fact is that most new books published in recent months have lost money. There has been no elasticity in the book market, no real disposition on the part of the public to buy, and it is feared that this state of things may continue up sharply in price, people will not pay more for funerals than before. There is also a shortage of labor. The undertakers' roll of honor is a long one. The best black horses have been commandeered for the army, and as they came from Belgium no more can be got. The average London family has a funeral once in ten years, and it is said that the tendency is to spend much less than previously. Cases of absurd extravagance over funerals, a favorite theme with county court judges, are now rare. There is still a good deal of drinking on the way back from the cemetery, but the lavish "hospitality" in the home is a thing of the past. A sad thing about London funerals in war-time is the great increase in stillborn children of soldiers' wives. The undertakers' theory is that these still-births are due to anxiety and shock.

MEN'S GARMENTS.

Although the summer is not yet over, those responsible for the clothing of the men who are unable or unwilling to follow the prevailing fashion of khaki, have made all their preparations for the coming autumn. From a sartorial point of view, the season will undoubtedly be a gray one, for owing to the shortage of dye stuffs it is impossible to secure any great quantity of cloth dyed to any other color. Grey will be a matter of choice but of necessity. Of course there will be some browns and blues, but they will be comparatively few in number, especially blue serges, the cheaper qualities of which have nearly doubled in price since the war. No change of style worth noting will characterize the average man's suit or overcoat, for the manufacturers have been too busy on khaki work to give much attention to such matters and they are finding no difficulty whatever in selling what goods they are able to make up. In fact, the supply is considerably less than the demand, so that although it would be rash to say that there will not be sufficient new suits and overcoats to go round, it is certain that there will not be a great surplus, and the public will have a much reduced selection to choose from. The stocks of garments made up for last autumn and left unsold owing to the war and the resultant rush of men to the colors, would in the ordinary course have been available now, but the Government bought up most of the surplus overcoats and also such old stock for the new armies last winter, while as regards suits the extensive contracts recently placed for discharged soldiers' suits have absorbed the bulk of those which were left over. A number of clothing manufacturers announce that they are already sold out of suits and overcoats at popular prices.

VOGUE OF THE OVERALL.

One of the most flourishing branches of the dress-trade at the present somewhat critical juncture in the world of fashion is that devoted to overalls. In the days before the war there was a steady demand for overalls on the part of the housewife, who took to these enveloping cotton garments when doing her own household work as a convenient method of protecting her dress without donning the white starched raiment of the domestic servant. Lately, however, the overall has entered upon a new phase. It has been given a department to itself at the large stores, and expert designers have put such ingenuity into its fashioning that it has become the garment par excellence of the war service woman. There are special overalls, for instance, for munition workers made of good stout drill and other fabrics, warranted to wear, smartly cut, and belted with black patent leather. Navy blue is the favorite color of the munition worker, green for the woman gardener or other worker on the land, white for the woman doctor and the grocery girl. Designs and colors vary, however, like those of more conventional garments of fashion, but generally speaking the prevailing mode in overalls fastens down the front from neck to hem, and is accompanied by a hat to match made very much on the lines of the chef's cap. The great vogue of the overall is giving employment to many workroom hands who would otherwise have been out of employment as a result of the decline in the wearing of evening gowns.

THE SPRINGBOKS' BADGE AND THE ROYAL WARWICKS.

The adoption of the springbok as the device to be worn on the caps of units of the South African contingent which is now being recruited for service in Europe, is of particular interest to the Royal Warwickshire Regiment, which for the past two centuries has included the antelope among its badges. There is not likely to be any danger of confusing the wearers of the South African variety with the old "Sixth," for, doubtless, the men from the sub-continent will also display the initials "S.A.," just as their comrades who have gained fame for the sample cmfwy shrd etallo shrrr the maple leaf have the word "Canada" on their shoulders. Curiously enough, the Warwickshire's antelope, according to tradition, comes from Africa, for the badge was given them after they had captured thirty standards at Sargossa, among them being one bearing an antelope taken from a Moorish regiment in the Spanish war.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Remand until Monday next at 12.30 p.m. was granted the defence when the case of the four former cabinet ministers came before Magistrate P. A. McDonald again this morning. Sir Rodmond Roblin, J. H. Hodson and C. R. Coldwell appeared before the magistrate at the court house.
Hon. Dr. Montague was unable to appear through illness, and is still at his summer home at Kenora.

British Export Trade Unusual Recovery.

Goods Sent Abroad Increase $41,000,000 in August, Mostly in Manufactured Articles.
London, Sept. 7.—The Board of Trade figures for August disclosed an unusual recovery in foreign trade. Imports increased $135,770,000. Exports increased $41,135,000.
The principal increases in imports were $55,000,000 in food, $30,000,000 in raw materials and $45,000,000 in manufactured articles.
Compared with the last corresponding month before the war—August, 1913—imports increased $65,000,000, but exports decreased $55,000,000.

Hamburg Line is Fined $700 for Contempt.

Refused to Answer Questions in the United States Federal Court.
New York, Sept. 11.—A fine of $700 for contempt of court was yesterday imposed on the Hamburg-American S. S. Company by Judge Veeder of the Federal Court in Brooklyn, for refusing to answer questions in a suit for damages, brought by the commissioner of two other S. S. Companies. Two of the questions which the Hamburg-American Line declined to answer were:
"Did the Hamburg-American Line load and dispatch from this and other ports of the United States, colliers with cargoes destined for German cruisers in the Atlantic?" and "Did Capt. Beyer, naval attaché of the German Embassy, direct the seizure of these colliers, to divert the German naval reservists, themselves vessels from their stated course so as to meet with the German ships of war?"

WILL ENDEAVOR TO PREVENT PLACING OF BOMBS ON SHIPS.

New York, Sept. 9.—It was learned yesterday that Secretary of State Lansing had taken up with Governor Whitman the matter of the placing of bombs on British ships, sailing from this port, and that the Governor asked the Mayor to see to it that every possible preventive measure was taken, as the name of the state was at stake.
Governor Whitman's letter to Mayor Mitchell was written on August 31. In it he said that Secretary Lansing had written him with reference to the matter and had enclosed three notes and a memo from the British Embassy, and a despatch from the American Consul at Havre, all dealing with specific instances of the concealing of bombs or other explosives on ships, with a "malicious purpose to destroy them and the lives of persons on board."

Vigorol

VIGOROL, the Great French Tonic, is opposed to disease; therefore it finds it out and drives it away. Your nerves are toned-up. Your bowels made healthy and strong. Your blood purified. The kidneys and liver cleaned. Headaches, biliousness, and that heavy, tired feeling, will go. You will feel like a new person. Don't be fooled—get VIGOROL, and you will never regret it. Sold at all drug stores.

The Untiring Energy of the Wolf is proverbial. Practically no energy is required where SUNLIGHT SOAP is employed. SUNLIGHT SOAP is energy itself. The Wolf is the enemy of mankind; is the enemy of all dirt. It is the friend of the housewife, and is made for her profit. To the housewife it means less labour, less dirt, more leisure, and time and money saved.

Sunlight Soap

SUNLIGHT SOAP does away with needless rubbing and scrubbing, and so preserves the clothes.

MOTHERS

REMEMBER! The ointment you put on your child's skin gets into the system as surely as food the child eats. Don't let impure fats and mineral coloring matter (such as many of the cheap ointments contain) get into your child's blood! Zam-Buk is purely herbal. No poisonous coloring. Use it always. 50c. Amusements.

EXCELLENT PICTURES AT THE POPULAR CRESCENT

A glance at the advertisement of the Crescent Picture Palace in another column of this paper will convince you of the excellence of the pictures shown to-day, they are all leaders of their respective class and selected with a view to please the patrons of the popular Crescent.

Mr. Harvey Collins sings "Dear Old Girl," a beautiful ballad, a favourite with St. John's picture house patrons. Don't miss this show at the Crescent to-day, it's a very fine one.

BRITISH THEATRE.

A most appetizing and thoroughly enjoyable programme was offered to patrons at the "British" yesterday. Special reference may be made to the delightful singing of Madame Olive Timmons and the magnificent two reel feature entitled "The Grip of the Past." Madame Olive Timmons sang both of her numbers in an irrefragable manner—her rendition of "Mighty Lak a Rose" being especially good. The entire entertainment is one of very high calibre and is both instructive and entertaining. It is one which everybody ought to avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing.

CHARMING SUBJECT BY VITAGRAPH COMPANY.

Delighted audiences attended the Nickel Theatre yesterday afternoon and last evening. The pictures were splendid especially the Vitagraph 3 reel story, "Mother's Roses." This is one of the prettiest subjects ever shown at the Nickel Theatre and was very favourably spoken of by all.

Messrs. Huskins and Cairns sang solos and were most enthusiastically applauded. This evening the splendid show will be repeated. To-morrow is a big day at the Nickel as there will be a holiday programme including "The Million Dollar Mystery." This story is now nearing the close but it is more interesting than ever. The performances to-morrow begin at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Go early to get good seats.

IAN MACKENZIE COMPANY—INSTANTANEOUS SUCCESS.

Last night the Rossley Theatre was crowded and Ian Mackenzie, the world renowned Scottish baritone, met with immediate and unprecedented success, his magnificent voice and magnetic presence raised the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm and he received repeated recalls. Besides singing such well known ballads as "Loch Lomond," "Annie Laurie" and "Eileen Allanah," he recited Scottish humorous talks with quite pawky style that created genuine laughter and good feeling. His partners on the bill, Miss Ashton, a soprano vocalist with a voice of great range and purity captivated the audience, not only with her fine singing but also her simple and unaffected manner. Mr. William Wallace, a young and promising violinist, rendered solos of a very high class order with a breadth of feeling remarkable in so young a performer, he is only 17 years of age but is certain to make a great name for himself in his profession. Mr. A. Crocker presided at the piano with great acceptance to the artists and also played with great discrimination and good taste the music to the pictures.

$1,000 Reward

FOR A CASE OF INCURABLE CONSTIPATION

To any person who cannot be cured of Constipation by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the above reward will be paid. No medicine gives such lasting satisfaction or effects such marvellous cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Relief instantly follows their use. That blinding headache goes forever that feverish feeling in the skin is soothed away, bilious fits and stomach disorders are stopped. Don't be nervous about using Dr. Hamilton's Pills; use, yet certain and effective in action, in the most chronic cases. Get a 25c. box to-day; they bring and keep robust good health.

Intercession Service.

The day and hour of the weekly Intercession Service for our Soldiers and Sailors, which for the past three months has been held at St. Thomas's Church, have been altered. The Reciter announced Sunday that in future the service will be held every Wednesday at 10 o'clock, instead of on Thursday at 10.30, as heretofore. As our brave lads are now on active service there will no doubt be an extra large attendance to-morrow, when business places in the city will be closed. The offering each week which is voluntary, is given to the Women's Patriotic Association.

Salvia Hair Tonic Makes Hair Grow

Ladies should have radiant hair. There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair, who do not try to improve it. In England and Paris women take pride in having beautiful hair. Every Canadian woman can have lustrous and luxuriant hair by using SALVIA, the Great American Sage Hair Tonic. SALVIA is a beautiful, pleasant, non-sticky Hair Tonic. 50c. a bottle.

Real Good is the verdict passed on Kismet Blended.

If you have not already tried a box of Kismet BLENDED Cigarettes you have no idea how delightful a cigarette really can be.

Every user up to the present time has pronounced KISMET BLENDED REAL GOOD. Unlike the ordinary TURKISH cigarette they are not too strong. They do not bite the tongue or parch the throat. To the constant smoker they have a pleasing taste.

KISMET BLENDED CIGARETTES are packed ten in a box, including a valuable lace insert. Every woman will be charmed to receive a quantity of those inserts. Each box also contains a circular showing the different patterns obtainable and also many of the articles that can be made up from same.

Ask your dealer for KISMET BLENDED the next time—the box with the valuable lace insert enclosed.

Fads and Fashions.

Borders of black ribbon velvet appear on the black grosgrain costumes. One-piece princess effects make a new and becoming feature for autumn models. Dark plaids faced with scarlet are among the most delightful autumn dresses. Bodices with bolero effects have long fitting sleeves slightly puffed at the elbow. The turban with velvet crown and a brim trimmed with cut jet flowers is a favorite. Astrakhan and gray ermines are among the prettiest furs for the new Russian blouses.
