MAGIC BAKING POWDER

Sweet Eva!

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

"I've had an offer to go to Rhodesia," Philip rushed on. "It's a decent offer—good money, and all that—and I want to go. You won't stand in the way, I know, when I tell you how utterly impossible it is for me to go on as I am." It's not Eva's fault—I give you my word of honour that none of it is her fault. She—she's just as wretched as I am. He tried to laugh. "We were just two blind idiots, walking into a trap, when we got married. . . . I thought it would be all right. I've known other chaps who've done it. I thought we should rub along comfortably. . . ." He drew a hard breath.

"Well, I was wrong—and—and it seems to me that the only way for both of us is for me to clear. It'll give us both a chance to—sort ourselves out. . . ." He raised his head and looked at his mother. "Poor mother!" He lifted her hand to his lips. "You don't understand what it is—this sort of—hash-up, do you?"

He put her gently away and rose to his feet. Mrs. Winterdick sat quite still, her eyes fixed on her son. He had never seemed so pathetically young to her as he did now, and it suddenly came home to her with a rush of exceeding bitterness that she was responsible for this, that it had been her hand that had built the unstable foundations of his happiness.

"If I had only known!" she told

"FLU" NEARLY KILLED HER

"I was so weak that I had lost interest in everything."

Because Mrs. McGregor let herself become run down, read what happened. "Like a great many other people who get the 'flu' a few years ago," she writes, "it left me in a weakened, run-down condition. Nothing seemed to bring back my old strength and energy. I was tired all the time. I had no appetite. I had dull, aching pains all over my body. I suffered with headaches. I was dependent and took no interest in anything. I was nervous. I was irritable and was always looking for slight. I was losing weight. I was in such a nervous, weakened, run-down condition, that last spring I got pneumonia. My family didn't think I would live and the doctor told me afterwards that it was only because I had a strong heart that I managed to pull through. By the time I was out of danger, I was so weak and tired that I had lost interest in everything. I tried several preparations to build me up but none of them did me any good. One day a friend who had been very ill called in to see me, looking the picture of health. I asked her what she had been doing with herself to look so well and fat. She said that Carnol had done wonders for her and advised me to try it. As the evidence of what Carnol had done for my friend could not be denied, I decided to follow her advice. Today I think Carnol the most wonderful preparation in the world. It has made me a happy, healthy, contented woman."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 2-122 know," she said to him recklessly one night. "It hadn't been for you I should have beaten myself to pieces on the rocks long ago."

Philip had never written to her, and after three anguished days of watching for the letter he had promised she had given up hope.

He did not mean to write; she believed that he did not ever mean to come back.

She was too proud to attempt to find out what he was doing, or if he was still at Apsley.

Once she woke up in the night crying and sobbing and trembling in every limb because she dreamt that he had gone to Rhodesia without saying good-bye.

What were people at Apsley thinking, she wondered? What was Philip's mother thinking? And her own mother?

Somewhat it seemed to matter very little; she had lost Philip, and the rest might go, and welcome!

She was afraid to let herself think what this really meant to her; she filled every moment of her days so that she was never left alone, so that she never had time to give way to despair.

She went to more theatres in a week than she had ever been to in all her life before; she hardly ever dined at the flat—she welcomed Kitty's overtures of companionship, and even sought them; she knew that Kitty only cared to be with her because she liked being taken to expensive restaurants and out in the car. She had bought Kitty several presents—she was beginning to spend her money recklessly.

"How much do you think I've spent since I came to London?" she asked Peter one day.

He shook his head, his mouth looked grim.

"Goodness knows! You must have got through a lot. That brooch you gave Kitty cost a good deal, I know." He looked at his sister curiously. "Do you like Kitty?" he asked.

"She amuses me—and I like being amused. I hate being alone."

She dreaded the nights. She would never go to bed till long after midnight.

"I'm not tired," she would declare even when she was dropping with fatigue. "I couldn't sleep a wink if I went to bed."

She invited people to the flat night after night. Kitty had heaps of friends, and she liked to have them entertained for her.

Calligan alone understood her in these days; knew that she had been caught up in a sort of dance of death; knew that beneath her laughter and merriment her heart was breaking and his own heart seemed breaking for her.

"No—I . . ." Their eyes met, and suddenly Philip broke out in an anguish. "She doesn't care for me—I'd give any mortal thing . . . I'd give anything in the world . . . but it's no good . . ."

He pulled himself together almost at once, and tried to laugh. "Well, that's the worst," he said with an effort. "It's a just punishment anyway. She can't stand me—shows her good taste, I suppose."

He fumbled for his cigarettes and lit one; he was horribly ashamed of his momentary breakdown; he could not look at his mother.

"So it's all settled—eh?" he said presently. "I go to Rhodesia and Eva comes here—if you'll have her . . . and Mater . . ."

"You won't . . . you're not blaming her? You wouldn't, if you knew—everything!"

Mrs. Winterdick raised her sad eyes.

"I never have blamed her, Phil," she said gently.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

The days following her husband's departure from the flat seemed to Eva when she looked back on them, like some feverish dream. After the first expostulation Peter left her severely alone; he was kind and attentive to her when he had time to spare from dancing attendance upon Kitty, but she felt that she was losing him. The change was in herself she knew, and not in Peter, but she was powerless to help it; circumstance had seized her in a relentless grip and was whirling her madly on through the days till she lost her breath and had to let herself drift.

Calligan was always at the flat; he went about with her everywhere.

He had never alluded to their compact; he never spoke of Philip; but he was there whenever she wanted him; she had an hysterical feeling that he was the one solid thing in a world of crumbling disillusionment.

"You're my sheet anchor, you

SASKATCHEWAN WOMAN RECOVERS

Found Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Several Saskatchewan—"I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised for women's troubles and when a friend recommended it to me I tried it and it has done me so much good in the two years in which I have been taking it that I find I am a different woman. I then I recommend your Vegetable Compound as much as I can and you may use my letter as a testimonial."

Mrs. J. Thomas, Melara, Saskatchewan.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subjected.

Mrs. Thomas writes that she is a different woman now. If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Thomas and many other women.

This medicine has been helping sick women nearly fifty years—surely a long record of service.

Rules for Happiness.

Sir Alfred Fripp, a famous surgeon and Surgeon-in-Ordinary to the King, writes on Happiness in the Sunday Express.

"It is certain that success cannot come to everybody, nor can everybody keep his health; but happiness is within everybody's grasp, whether he is successful or not; even whether he is healthy or not," writes Sir Alfred.

"Many of the greatest invalids have been happy and have radiated happiness to others."

"Happiness is an art. Like all arts, it requires fostering by practice till it becomes a habit, and any man or woman may acquire it."

A FEW RULES.

"Let me try to formulate a few simple rules:—

"1. First of all a very simple thing:—Just be yourself happily. Each of you has a personality—an aura—a temperament. Don't try to copy others."

"2. Study the art of being kind and considerate, and trying to help. Always 'remember your next neighbor,' as the captain of a battleship had posted up to remind the men at the wheel that the safety of those following depends upon the course you steer."

"There are many gods and many creeds—And many paths that wind and wind; But all this world really needs is just the art of being kind."

"3. Keep yourself simple and young. Keep your ideals, your faith, your romance, your pluck."

THE SIN OF DESPAIR.

"Look upon yourself, not at twenty, thirty, or forty years old, but as if you were a young boy or girl."

Don't let your sympathy die out, however you may be treated, nor your enthusiasm, nor your optimism. Behind the unrest and selfishness, of which the world of to-day exhibits so much, and which has such paralyzing results, there lurks one of the greatest sins—the sin of despair. As the Japanese proverb says: 'It's the melancholy face gets stung by the bee.' Laugh and the world laughs with you—for happiness is a gregarious instinct.

"4. Don't cross bridges till you come to them—remember that, as the old woman said, 'Of all the troubles in my life three-quarters never happened.'"

"It is almost impossible to exaggerate the unimportance of many things that happen. When real troubles come look straight into the light and the shadows will all lie behind you."

"5. Cultivate the art of suffering fools gladly, and answering them according to their folly. It is extraordinary what a lot of cross ignorance there is to be found in all classes—and even among people who are avowedly nice."

CHOOSE YOUR FRIENDS.

"6. Choose your friends wisely, and then keep them. By your friends you shall be known. Life is so short."

"From quiet homes and small beginnings. Out to the undiscovered ends. There's little worth the wear of winning. Like laughter and the love of friends."

"There are few things more worth keeping than these friendships of our early days. Around them cluster memories which hallow them. As you grow older it becomes less easy to make new friendships that really grip."

Declare Cod Liver Oil Sure Cure for Rickets

Baltimore, Feb. 12.—Cod liver oil as a cure for rickets—the bone disease that has caused deformities of children for ages—has been announced by two experts of John Hopkins Hospital staff, as a result of exhaustive studies. "We feel justified in saying very definitely that cod liver oil brings about a change in the bones which if the diet is not too faulty, amounts to a complete cure," their report declares.

Cheating by Wireless.

An Italian schoolboy who was caught cheating in school has won fame. Two small wireless installations were set up by him. One was controlled by the boy in the school; the other was presented to a well-known professor who was prepared to give suggestions during examinations.

When ever any difficulty arose the professor's advice was sought. It was communicated in various ways to each scholar in the class-room. The boys' general improvement was noticed by the teachers, and soon the secret was discovered.

Recently, Signor Marconi, the famous wireless inventor, called to see the boy, and discovered that the youth's device contained some great improvements on the present wireless system.

Fashion Plates.

A NEW STRAIGHT LINE FROCK.

3837. There are no boundaries to smart versions of this popular style. In this instance the model signifies attractive redingote lines. The effect is becoming to slender as well as mature figures. Tulle and satin could be here combined, or velvet and satin. Velvet with braiding would be nice, or broad cloth, with bands of krummer.

The Pattern is cut in 7 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The width at the foot is about 2 yards. To make the dress for a 38 inch bust, material will require 4 1/2 yards of 46 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c. in silver or stamps.

A PRACTICAL WORK APRON.

3811. For anything that spells service or occupation, this model will prove convenient and comfortable as a protector for the dress over which it may be worn. Gingham, percale, pique, rubberized cloth, sanitas, drill, repp, lawn, crash, cretonne and calico are all good materials for this style. The underarm closing simplifies laundering.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: Small, 34-36; Medium, 36-40; Large, 42-44; Extra Large, 46-48 inches bust measure. A Medium size requires 3/4 yards of 36 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c. in silver or stamps.

Owing to changing and present conditions of business, we are considering this year running our merchandising and selling differently. Part of this change will be the cleaning up of goods of which we have an overstock, or goods the season of which is passing, at prices which will not necessarily mean any consideration of the cost of these goods. Customers will however note that all such prices can hardly be expected to be held indefinitely and they will do well to seek advantage of same early.

We open our "Different Selling" Campaign with the following Reductions and Bargains:

THE OLD PROMISE. New statesmen rise, at every shift, and seem as slick as wax; of fluent tongues they have the gift, and they denounce the tax; if they're elected they will hit the burden from our backs. Oh, we are taxed, we helpless slaves, our load is sad to see, and ever greater grow the weights that cripple you and me; but there are always candidates who'd gladly set us free.

London Press in Doubt.

Much Comment on Ard Fheis Decision—Sir Eric Geddes, M.P. Resigns Seat—Nova Scotia Schooner Caught With Contraband—Big Seizure of Liquor by United States Coast Guards.

REFLEXED BY ARD FHEIS' DECISION.
LONDON, Feb. 23. The decision reached yesterday by Ard Fheis, in Dublin, gets a mixed reception in the London morning newspapers which seem puzzled at the unexpected outcome of the Convention. Some condemn the arrangements by which Irish elections are set for three months, while others praise it as a matter affecting practically the Irish themselves. These say the unexpected decision disappoints supporters of the Anglo-Irish treaty, and believes those who wish lasting peace in Ireland will regard it as a public opinion which will watch the matter, which yesterday's decision will not tend to diminish, the few course of Irish events. The Morning Post says yesterday's developments show that the Irish Republican Army controls the situation. The Daily News says the agreement is a tribute to the practical common sense of the Irish people, and a genuine movement toward unity and good will. It thinks the whole situation is radically and dramatically altered and altered much for the better. A member of the British Government expressed an opinion on the action of Ard Fheis, but it is understood surprised the Cabinet were surprised somewhat perplexed.

How Japanese Tea is Made.

Almost everybody drinks tea, but very few people know how it is actually "made."

The tea plant belongs to the same family of evergreens as the camellia, and has small white flowers, slightly fragrant. As a rule the seeds are planted on terraces on gentle hill slopes, but level ground may also be used provided it is kept drained. The shrub is not allowed to attain a height of more than three or four feet.

It is ready for picking in its third year, but is at its best from the fifth to the tenth year. The first picking takes place at the end of April, and lasts three or four weeks. There is a second picking in June or July. This work is generally done by girls.

As soon as possible after being picked, the leaves are placed on a round tray, with a brass wire bottom, over boiling water. This process of steaming, which is completed in half a minute, brings the natural oil to the surface.

The next and principal operation is the firing, which is done on a wooden frame, with which Japanese paper stretched across it, charcoal well covered with ashes being the fuel employed.

This first firing is done at a temperature of about 120 degrees Fahrenheit. Meanwhile the leaf is manipulated for hours by men who roll it into balls with the palms of their hands.

The final result is obtained when each leaf becomes separately twisted, and changes its color to a dark olive green. Two more firings at a lower temperature follow, after which the leaf is allowed to dry until it becomes quite brittle.

When this process is complete the tea is kept strictly dry, as moisture destroys its aroma. Tea so made is the genuine Japan tea or what is commonly known on this side of the Atlantic as "green tea."

Well Nourished Bodies Radiate Attraction

What Thin Frail People Need to Build Firm Flesh and Restore the Charm of Youth is a Course of Tanlac

THERE is a certain irresistible attraction about a well-rounded, healthy body. It is the coloring that tells of boundless health and capacity. It attracts the healthy because of their instinctive desire to associate with others having like vigor to their own, and it attracts the weak because the more one needs health, the more evidences of its possession by others appeals to them.

Oh, the heartaches, the disappointments and the bitterness that are the lot of the under-nourished, thin, emaciated, angular men and women. Not only have they usually lost most of their physical attraction, but too often their minds have also become embittered, and warped so that they are not desired as companions by normally healthy and cheerful people. They look out on life through dark spectacles, missing the thousand joys that crowd each moment for the more fortunate ones. And if only they knew it, their whole trouble is starvation—just simply famishment of their bodies and brains, often in the midst of plenty.

In such cases Tanlac has time and time again demonstrated its true worth. No other medicine has ever been so universally proclaimed and endorsed by people in all walks of life. It quickly tones up the whole digestive system so that it is ready and eager to again perform its important duty of supplying energy and building material to the whole body.

You should be hungry nearly all the time. The thought of food should arouse your keenest desires at any time except right after a hearty meal. If your appetite isn't that good, then it should be, and you are not as healthy or as vigorous as nature intended.

The measure of health is the quantity of nourishment extracted from your food and passed on to the millions of cells of your body to build and energize them. When your digestive system is in perfect condition, it takes some mighty serious accident to bother you, and the attacks of germs that would kill a weak, under-nourished person, are thrown off without even knowing there was such an attack. It is probable that thousands of persons who die from infectious diseases would not have been even sick had their bodies been prepared to meet the disease as a well-nourished body would.

Anybody can now gain this degree of health. Tanlac will restore the organs of digestion and of elimination to their normal condition. If you are under weight, suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, had headaches, get a bottle of Tanlac today from your druggist. Start at once the Tanlac treatment. It will do for you what it has already done for so many thousands of others.

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Sewing Machine English Invention.

The first sewing machine of official record was made by Thomas Saint, on which a patent was granted in England July 17, 1790. It is not known whether more than an experimental machine was made; only the drawings on file in the English patent office, together with a full description of the machine in the specifications of the patent, are in evidence. It shows to what extent success was attained. The first sewing machine put into operation was made by Bartolomeo Thimonnier, patented in France in 1830.

This machine was so far a success that in 1841, it is said, slightly of them being used for making clothing for the French army, were destroyed by a mob, as had been the Jacquard loom and other labor saving devices years before. Thimonnier made another attempt in 1848 to introduce his machine in France, but was again defeated by a mob.

He obtained a patent in the United States in September, 1850, but his machine had no important features that were of value as compared with the sewing machines of that date.

Several patents on sewing machines were taken out in England and the United States up to 1846, but none of them contained the essential features necessary for success.

In September of that year Elias Howe, Jr., obtained a patent in the United States on a machine that had new and important features. As a result his name stands among the great inventors of this age of inventions.

Blow Restores Soldier's Memory.

Losing all memory of his Canadian home and associations when beaten and robbed on the streets of Bordeaux, France, in April, 1919, Company Quartermaster-Sergeant William Ball of the Canadian Forestry Corps did not regain knowledge of his home and family until he found himself a member of the Spanish Foreign Legion, in a jail in Refa, Morocco. Sergeant Ball declares that he was struck over the head with a rifle-butt wielded by a Spanish officer. He is now in Ottawa to report to the Dominion headquarters of the Great War Veterans' Association, which has been conducting a search on behalf of his wife for the past two and a half years. At the time of his disappearance Ball was engaged in showing moving pictures to the troops on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. After his disappearance he was declared a deserter. His home is in Port Hope, Ontario.

BISHOP, SONS & COMPANY, LIMITED, ST. JOHN'S.

St. Bonaventure's College.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT — CASINO THEATRE, FEBRUARY 23, 1922.

On behalf of the Brothers and boys of St. Bonaventure's I wish to welcome His Excellency to our Distribution of Prizes as well as to thank him for honouring the occasion by his presence. Ever since he arrived in Newfoundland we have realized that he has been a very sincere friend of the College, and we avail of this opportunity which probably may be the last to assure His Excellency that we appreciate to the full his unvarying kindness. For long the name of Governor Harris will be affectionately remembered by the boys of our various classrooms.

I desire also to extend a most cordial greeting to His Grace the Archbishop, St. Bonaventure's most distinguished ex-Pupil. With him we rejoice that his health is now fully re-established, and we pray that for many decades to come it may be all that his friends wish.

To me it is a matter of regret that the duty of making this annual report does not still devolve on my very genial predecessor—Bro. Ryan, who for the past nine years has been able to tell of the onward march of the College in religious, literary, and scientific development. His work speaks for itself hence were I to dwell at any length on his many great qualities of head and heart it would be but an attempt at gilding refined gold. We were indeed fortunate that though his term of office of Superior has expired, he still continues with us to aid us by his wise council as well as to continue the great work in which he has now been engaged for eighteen years.

If any one thing has impressed me more than another since my arrival at the College it is the highly religious and moral tone prevailing among the boys. It requires but faith to realize that this is of paramount and incomparable importance, for as the broad sails of a well rigged ship wanting ballast are a certain means of her destruction so does knowledge without religion not only lead to inevitable ruin, but renders its possessor more potent for evil. With such a hallowed atmosphere prevailing, I am not at all surprised to find that in Rome, in Ireland and in Canada no fewer than thirty-three ex-Bonaventurians are studying for the Priesthood.

To His Grace it must be a source of unalloyed joy to find that though compared with older countries the day of the church in Newfoundland has but dawned after a night when she too had to bear the brunt of Penal Laws, which those of the same race had to endure in other lands, yet through an extraordinary wealth of vocations she will soon be in a position not only to supply this Dominion with a most zealous and learned priesthood, but to take her stand by the side of those missionary countries in the evangelization of Pagan Nations. For this happy culmination we must bear testimony to the zeal of the Archbishop, Monsignor, and priests who give every facility for the fostering of a spirit of piety and reverence among the students.

The annual report is evidently a perennial and fruitful source of much lasting good. Fr. Pippy who was the last to give the Spiritual Exercises, has the thanks of the boys for his deeply interesting discourses with which he delighted his listeners, and I am confident he was rewarded in a large measure by the attentive earnestness manifested by his youthful audience.

Generally speaking the day-pupils represent the city and nowhere in the world can finer types of manly youth be found. Our boarders, too, who have come from the North, the West, and the South are boys of whom any country should be proud. Their being under our constant supervision and almost hourly companionship gives us an opportunity of having an intimate knowledge of their many fine traits of character. Since I have come to know those fine outport boys Newfoundland has grown much in my estimation.

The C.H.E. Exams afford some mode by which the work of a school may be estimated. I say some means because it is not always a correct one. Never in the history of the College have the C.H.E. results been better—in the Senior Associate—an exam equivalent to first year in Canadian Universities, six passed in the Honours Division and obtained 23 Distinctions. Twenty-three passed the A.A. Grade, which has the same rank as Matriculation. Of the twenty-three, twenty were found in the Honours Division and had to their credit seventy-two distinctions.

The work of the Intermediate was fully up to that of the two higher Grades. Masters A. Knight and B. Summers won Scholarships. Thirty-nine of our boys passed this exam and twenty-one of them got honours. One hundred and twenty-seven distinctions were obtained.

The results of the Preliminary Class were in line with the standard set by the seniors. Here there were thirty-eight passes—eleven with honours, eighty-four distinctions and one Scholarship won by Master G. Brownrigg, who also obtained the much coveted Alumni Scholarship of $50. Had the advancement of some pupils been sacrificed in order to bring more honour to the College by an increase in the number of scholarships our results in that direction would appear better, but a clever boy no matter how certain of prizes is never satisfied but is advanced with his class, hence to-day we have pupils doing A. A. Grade who are young enough to compete for scholarships in Intermediate and Preliminary grades. The Brothers conviction is that the sooner a student reaches advanced work the better even though first places be his for the waiting.

The system of education in Newfoundland may have its advantages or its drawbacks. Undoubtedly it has both. But one thing is absolutely certain and cannot be gainsayed, namely that whether a Newfoundland boy goes to European, Canadian, or U.S.A. Universities he can more than hold his own with those of the same age in any of these countries. I happen to be in a position to know that from the Atlantic to the Pacific, for literary or moral worth no students command more respect or admiration than those who go from our rockbound shores.

It is truly said that Reading makes a full man, Debate a ready man, and Writing an exact man. In the college each of these receives due attention. During the winter months each year a regular series of debates is gone through giving all who take part an ease and facility in expressing themselves. The Physical Culture exhibition given on Sports Day is proof abundant of the daily attention given to correct physical development.

In the Inter-Collegiate games St. Bonaventure's still holds premier place. For the ninth time the Football Trophy has been captured, and every year for the past six the Hockey Cup has been brought to the College. This season's matches are not yet finished, but the team are quite confident of ultimate success as three times they have met their friendly rivals and three times has victory crowned their efforts. If the players returning triumphantly from the arenas of the games give way to jubilation we pardon them as we know that it is the outcome of loyalty to their Alma Mater rather than that they have defeated many opponents. Every pupil and ex-pupil of the College will be pleased to know that very soon a serious effort will be made to erect two ball-alleys and possibly a skating rink may materialize.

Though many boys have through lack of room been refused admission yet our numbers are record, and the day cannot be very far distant when the problem of procuring more school accommodation will have to be solved.

Willst our senior students receive every attention possible, we realize that the future of the establishments depends on the Junior and Preparatory Classes. These are under the care of some of our most experienced teachers, who for their youthful charges endeavour successfully to make each day one of perfect sunshine as well as rapid advancement.

Let me offer sincerest thanks to the Past Pupils Association for their much valued scholarship to His Grace the Archbishop, Rev. Msgr. McDermott, Rev. Fathers Jas. McGrath, Pippy, Enright, Dinn, Murphy, Flynn, Brother Ahern, Judge Morris, Messrs. W. Carroll, W. R. Howley, C. J. Fox, J. J. McGrath, F. J. Doye and Capt. English for their beautiful gold medals. To the winners these will be perpetual reminders of the generous donors, who year after year manifest much interest in the success of the classes.

Before I finish I should like to add a word of thanks to you—parents who co-operate with the Brothers in every effort made for the advancement of your fine boys, and if these be and are all that we wish we attribute it largely to the fact that they have come from ideal homes.

Without desiring to detain you longer I now ask His Excellency the Governor and His Grace the Archbishop to distribute the prizes.

$1.00 PACKAGE OF GENUINE YEAST VITAMINE TABLETS from your drug store today.

IF YOU ARE THIN AND EMACIATED AND WISH SOMETHING TO HELP YOU PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT.

Yeast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless, as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood. Just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes through your body without doing you any good.

Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

LECTURE WELL ATTENDED.—Last night, for the third time, Nangle delivered his lecture on the Newfoundland Regiment and the Spill Campaign, before an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. Padre's graphic descriptions of the nature of the country over which fighting had to be done and the manner in which this and other difficulties were overcome, could not fail to attract and keep the attention of hearers. The Methodist Church played several selections during the evening in a pleasing manner.

"Briton" as a Reformatory

THE CHANCE OF A LIFETIME.—Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—It is extremely gratifying that many tenders will be put in for H.M.S. Briton which has been recently offered for sale. Would it not be a good idea if the Government were to take the ship over, bring her out to some convenient position in the harbor, and use her as a reformatory and frequently girls, sent to the reformatory because the Magistrate had no other place to which he might send them. On the Briton, there is plenty of accommodation and a large number of youths, who have become bad, much through their own fault, through the lack of proper upbringing could receive a training there which would fit them for the battle of life and teach them to be honest and law-abiding. The chance of acquiring the ship for use as a reformatory is one which may not recur and is well worth consideration of the Government. Yours faithfully, OBSERVER

Passing of a Pioneer.

BELL ISLAND, Feb. 23.—There passed away, on Monday, Daniel Dwyer, aged 75 years, one of the pioneers and one of a large family of brothers and sisters. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated this morning by his nephew, Rev. Fr. McLaughlin, assisted by Rev. Frs. McGrath and Moran as Deacon and sub-Deacon respectively. Father Rawlins assisted at the Choir.—R.I.P.

Big Game To-Night.

CHAMPIONS VS. ST. BON'S. Although the Feldians are now League Champions, great excitement is being centred in the game between the 1922 Champions and the St. Bon's, which will be played to-night. The combination of both these teams is considered very fine. The chief cause of the interest manifested in this game however, is the spirit of rivalry which has existed since the players on both sides were playing Collegiate series, either in the Inter-Collegiate series, or in the Inter-School series. It is not likely that the spirit of a good game will be disappointed.

C.C.C. DANCE Kindly remember the total receipts go towards the Band's upkeep and Hall rent; therefore show your appreciation by attending in large numbers; when you get there the two Orchestras will do the best.—Feb 24, 11

Eddie McGinley Lands the Laughs.

Eddie McGinley is becoming more and more popular each night at the Grand Theatre. Last evening he had an audience rocking in their seats with merriment with his characteristic impersonations, songs and funny stories. He took his audience by surprise by springing a few unexpected jokes to-night. However, he will introduce a partner, who is none other than the well known local "Paddy, Harold Cole" (hereafter with the avowedly). Eddie McGinley will appear in a diversity of fun, entitled "A Lesson in Concentration." This is a roar from start to finish. He's got Hughie Mack beaten to a frazzle and is right there with the goods. Here is a great combination of Paddy Cole and Eddie McGinley appearing together—come prepared for good laughs, because you're sure to get 'em.

Another Splendid Program at the Nickel.

Patrons will hear a choice programme of their most popular selections to-night when Miss Ruth and her troupe will give "Good-bye" and "I Hear You're a Dream." The songs sung by Mr. Hilde are "I Hear You're a Dream" and "Believe Me." The picture attraction is a Vitaphone special, featuring Antonio Moreno, entitled "The Streets." One of the most expensive casts ever assembled for a picture production was engaged to support the star in this picture, an intricate dramatic photoplay of love, mystery and thrills. There are several scenes in the production which require over a hundred players. Part of the action was filmed at the Ontario State Penitentiary at Florence, Ontario, and the governors of the State were so impressed with the picture and the message it conveys that they allowed the prisoners to take part in the photoplay. The current "hit" of the "King of the Kings" is also shown.

C.C.C. DANCE—Special attraction; hear The "Majestic" Orchestra, 6 instruments the very latest Fox Trots, One step, etc. at the C.C.C. Dance to-night.—Feb 24, 11

WEEKLY MEETING.
The weekly meeting of the Municipal Council was held yesterday afternoon. Mayor Cook presided, and Councillors Martin, Outerbridge, Vinicombe, Collier, Ryan and Dowden were present.

A communication was read from the Prime Minister, in reference to the widening of the South Side Road, stating that he would communicate with the Minister of Justice, with a view to taking up the matter with the Council, so that the formalities necessary to acquire said land may be completed.

Inspector General Hutchings wrote in reference to the pressure of water during the fire on Freshwater Road, on Sunday last; he also submitted a list of pressures taken at the Central Fire Hall on Wednesday and Thursday, at hydrants on Freshwater Road, Bonaventure Avenue, Garrison Hill, etc.

The report of the City Engineer in reference to pressures was also tabled, and it was decided that, as the matter was of considerable importance, a Special Meeting be held, at which the Inspector General will be invited to be present.

Philip Templeton, Duckworth St., and M. A. Shea, Angel Place, wrote with regard to opening of surface drains on these streets. Both matters were referred to the City Engineer.

City Solicitor Carter reported in reference to the claim of Returning Officer Doyle, in connection with services rendered in the late Municipal Election, and advised that the amount claimed in Solicitor Howley's communication, namely $528.00, be paid. It was ordered accordingly.

Mr. Patrick Mallard, Pleasant St., asked that he be allowed some compensation for the inconvenience caused him through overflow of drain. This matter has already received the consideration of the Council, and on the Solicitor's advice, they acknowledge no responsibility.

Plan of dwelling submitted for Dr. D. P. Smith, Bates Street, was passed, subject to the City Engineer's approval.

Specification of repairs to Job's Bridge was tabled.

It was brought to the notice of the Board that there are still a few occupants of buildings, and owners of vacant land, Water Street, who have not, as yet, complied with the regulations by removing snow and ice from sidewalks fronting their premises. The Inspector has already handed in the names of some of the delinquents, and proceedings will be taken forthwith.

The question of arrears was again the subject of a lengthy and thorough discussion. The City Clerk reported that delinquents in this respect had been written, and reminded of their indebtedness, and given until the 28th of the present month in which to settle up. Already the clerks are preparing statements of amounts due, so that action can be taken after the expiration of the time allowed. It would, therefore, be well for those who have, so far, ignored the notice sent them, to make arrangements with the City Clerk for settlement, on or before the 28th instant.

While going through the Pay Rolls and Bills for the week, several bills were presented for stationery, books, etc., and it was decided that, if this work can be satisfactorily performed in the City, future orders be placed with local printers.

The Sanitary Committee submitted their report on visit to the stables, and were of opinion that present conditions are not at all in keeping with the Municipal Regulations. They strongly recommended that the present stables be demolished, and a more up-to-date and suitable building constructed. The Committee, together with the Engineer and Sanitary Supervisor, will give the matter further consideration. Plans, specifications, and estimates of cost are to be prepared and submitted to the Council for approval at an early date.

The reports of the City Engineer, Health Officer, etc., for the week were tabled. Accounts presented were ordered paid. The meeting then adjourned.

Personal.

The many friends of Mr. Fred Mitchell who passed on from Queen's College to St. Augustine's, Canterbury, England, last September to complete his training for the priesthood, will be glad to learn that he is doing well in the old country. In the Christmas Examinations he gained 70 per cent. in Latin and 60 in Greek. It is needless to say that at the hands of English examiners these are very high marks and places Mr. Mitchell among the first men at St. Augustine's. We congratulate him and his old college.

SIDE TALKS.

SNOBBISHNESS.

Not a snob in any sense or relation of the word is very rare.

Would you dare say that you were not in any way a snob? The older I grow the more I am impressed with the realization that a person who is not a snob in any sense or relation of the word is very rare.

Of course there are many people who are not snobs about money. Though I suspect that many who think they could claim that distinction would not be granted it by a court which could judge by thoughts and feelings as well as by words and acts.

You or I may not crudely base our friendships on the possession of money, but tell me this. Do we or do we not feel an unanalyzed pleasure when we are in company with some friend and we meet our millionaire acquaintance and he shows us a cordiality which evidently impresses our friends? Do we or do we not feel a half acknowledged desire to explain when we are walking with the very cheaply and gaudily dressed person who once went to school with us, and who now works in a stock room, and we meet our newest and smartest friends?

People's Opinions.

In that second instance you may say it is the gaudiness and not the cheapness that we want to apologize for. But suppose that it is—is this not just another form of snobbery? This girl who went to primary school with you went to work from the sixth grade. She had little school education and her home was not the one in which she would have any chance to develop taste. Yet you who have had all the advantages of education and background and association look down upon her for the lack of it and do not like to have people think she is a friend of yours.

I have known a great many intellectual snobs. They could forgive poverty, they were not greatly interested in a person's antecedents, but they felt a vast superiority to anyone, no matter what his or her other qualifications, who said "ain't" and "I was," and could not talk their particular patter.

Has to Feel Superior.

Perhaps the family snob is the commonest next to the money snob. Usually the most virulent family snob is someone who comes from a good family but has little else to be proud of. So he makes family his sine qua non. He just has to, you see, to give himself a right to feel superior, and it is one of the keys to the understanding of human nature to realize that practically everyone is possessed of a cosmic urge to find some way in which he can regard himself as superior to others.

We can only twist facts to a certain extent but we can twist standards indefinitely. And so we do.

You Can Recognize Your Superiority

Of course you may say that a person who has excellent taste, or comes from a fine old family, or has an exceptional education can hardly help realizing that he is in those points superior to those who have not had his advantages. But that realization is not necessarily snobbish.

Do you remember the Pharisee who thanked God that he was not as other men? He was a religious snob. And it is just that conspicuous, self-gratulatory, other-people-scorning kind of superiority that makes snobbish.

The exact opposite was John Wesley who saw the drunkard in the gutter and said, "There but for the grace of God lies John Wesley." He knew he was superior but he wasn't a snob.

Flowers Worth Fortunes.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED GUINEAS FOR A SINGLE BLOOM.

There was shown recently before the Royal Horticultural Society in London a beautiful star-shaped gold and white odontoglossum orchid. This plant, bred by chance, was afterwards sold for 300 guineas. A large sum, but by no means a record.

Perhaps the greatest orchid enthusiast that ever lived was the late Baron Schroder. His collection was the finest in the world, and he established record prices for his plants. For a long time the 310 guineas which he gave for a tropical "lady's slipper" orchid from Sarawak was the largest sum ever given for such a flower.

Baron Schroder "remembered" his gardener in his will. This man had become as expert as his master in orchid collecting, and, on being given his selection of the orchids, chose with sound judgment the noted Bee Odontoglossum. Soon afterwards he sold it for 1,000 guineas.

WHY PRICES ARE HIGH.

Twenty years ago orchid collecting was at its zenith. Many were the friendly fights between rival orchidists. Thousands of guineas changed hands in the London salerooms. At Cheapside a wonderful spotted variety of orchid, Odontoglossum crispum, was put up for sale. Baron Schroder bid high, but was beaten by Mr. H. T. Pitt, who secured this unique bloom for 1,600 guineas. It was a tiny plant of only one bloom.

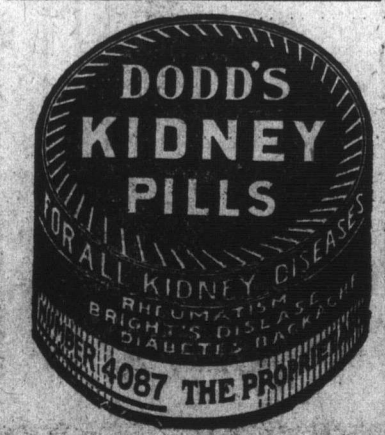

At one time orchid collecting was essentially a rich man's hobby. But of late years this has changed. It is now possible for the ordinary man to secure two or three blooms of no particular value, and by careful attention secure a plant that may bring him in a small fortune.

From time to time a perfectly new orchid appears in the salerooms. As often as not this has been cultivated by a poor man. In fact, to-day orchidists no longer belong to the very wealthy classes.

The Royal Wedding.

TO WEAR MORNING DRESS WITH HATS.

It has been decided, in view of the cold weather and the prevalence of influenza, that the Princess Mary's wedding, on the 25th, will wear morning dress with hats also orders and decorations for the ceremony will be ready at 11.30. Princess Mary's bridesmaids will wear pure white dresses. Probably, as was the case with the dresses worn by the bridesmaids who attended Queen Mary's wedding, it will finally be decided to introduce a touch of colour into the wedding. The bridesmaids will be fitted with the same as the prosaic foundations on which the lovely frocks will be bought. This all-white routine will have a delicate effect, in Westminster Hall, on the eight bridesmaids who will surround the bride. The Princess Mary in all her silver, loveliness up to the waist, before the wedding day there will be rehearsals in the Abbey, presided over by the principals, the Lord Chamberlain's assistant will direct "people" who take part in the ceremony until the perfect to the last bow and the last curtsy. The secret of Princess Mary's wedding-dress has been kept, but during the week a number of dress representatives who were invited to the wedding, had a hint of it. From various parts of the Empire, the process of weaving, and in the great sunlit rooms there were white and silver. Behind it was a mass of what looked like a wheel, rim-winding silver that was exquisitely fine and as strong as steel. It was for the Princess Mary's wedding. The warp was all white silk, threads wide, and every second of the web was silver. It was with a white cloth as it was in the loom. Then the weaver's work, loosened the lovely and turned it to show the silken as the light touched it. The white silk. It was a silk satin shot with silver, and in the second edition—the under-lying of the piece that has already the Royal dressmakers, and should any unforeseen accident happen to the first piece, will be presently to take its place. For the fabric has been in production. Mr. Thomas H. Bump, who made the original piece, which is three yards long and 52 inches wide as well as the emergency piece, is the same length, is one of the most highly skilled weavers at the firm. He has had 23 years' service with the firm. A yard a day is the average, if all goes well in the loom. Princess Mary, who has pattern, is delighted with the idea. She decided that a design should be embroidered on it by the hand. The fabric for her dress is from the Queen's store of things. The Queen had the dress made for her wedding-dress made in the loom, and she came down with her mother, the Duchess of Devonshire, for her coronation robe the King's pallium were also made by Warner's weavers.—News of World.

And the sauces that the Libby chefs have adapted for you give flavor to the simplest dishes.

It may be eggs, or macaroni, or a cheap cut of meat—an unusual and delicious sauce will make it something you eat with delight and remember with pleasure—because of its flavor.

LIBBY'S CATCHUP and CHILI SAUCE are made from red, ripe tomatoes, grown in the fertile soil of Kent County, Ontario, picked when they are mellowed by the sunshine of long summer days, then rushed to the nearby Libby kitchen.

Here in sunny rooms the tomatoes are cooked with fragrant spices, onions, sugar and the best vinegar—cooked for hours until all the flavors are blended through and through.

Now the sauce is ready to give an appetizing relish to your steaks and chops, or a new piquancy to the meat gravy you serve with your roasts.

Your grocer has, or can get you, Libby's Catchup or Chili Sauce. Use it with your cold meat teas and note how quickly the second helping is necessary.

The delightful flavor of Libby's Beans is due largely to the wonderful Sauce prepared by the skilled chefs. Have you tried them?

DAY'S MESSAGES.

CONTRIBUTION EXPRESSED.
DUBLIN, Feb. 23.
Satisfaction seems to be expressed in Southern Ireland over yesterday's decision of the Anglo-Irish Treaty. The people will be glad to see the Anglo-Irish Treaty. The decision is not unanimous, however, as regards the agreement of the Republican victory.

MORMON DEMONSTRATIONS.
PLYMOUTH, Feb. 23.
A number of Mormon missionaries were dispersed through the streets yesterday by an angry mob, because of their presence in Market Square. The missionaries were dispersed by the mob. Some of the missionaries have been conducting a campaign against the Mormon religion throughout the city. Many of their meetings have been broken up in thickly populated districts.

DELFON EXONERATED.
BELFAST, Feb. 23.
The Belfast Daily Express has yesterday exonerated Leslie Delfon, a retired British officer, who was charged with the murder of a woman. The court found him not guilty. The woman was killed by a bullet which was fired from the door of a house when she was admitted.

FRUIT GROWERS.
OTTAWA, Feb. 23.
Information of a bureau of fruit growers within the Department of Agriculture of Canada, was given consideration at the sixth annual meeting of the Fruit Growers' Conference.

SATURDAY NIGHT.
A weekly paper published in public interest, will issue Saturday night. Price: 2 cents.

Grace Notes.
A very enjoyable "At Home" was given at the Academy Hall Wednesday night, by the members of Dalton High School. The evening was very pleasant and for the large number who were present at the affair.

Unusual delight.
The friends of Mr. James Moore, son of Mr. T. J. Quintin, who was very severely injured on Wednesday last, Mr. Quintin who is now recovering from his injuries, are about there with two or three of the above mentioned, to see the edge of a cliff, the result of the snow gave them a distance of some 100 feet from the man who had a company, seeing that they reached the fallen man by means that by boat, set out some and with assistance after about three or four days to do so. The ice company presented the boat from the injured man sooner than on their return to land, one was called and it was that Mr. Quintin had broken his fall, and was a heroic feat. It is hoped that he will fully recover from the injury. Jim is one of our most promising young men.

Why Blame the Rat?
"Some days ago, in Paris, a rat gnawed through a lead pipe, the gas escaped, somebody lit a match in the cellar where the leak was, a tremendous explosion followed, and twenty-three persons were injured in the restaurant above," writes Frank Crane in Current Literature.
"Everybody blamed the rat."
"The art of blaming seems to be the most clumsily and amateurishly practiced of all the arts."
"In fact, blaming is usually an expression of our prejudice, our desires or our passions, rarely of our judgment."
"The loafing workman who gets fired lays it to the favoritism or tyranny of the foreman."
"The idle, incompetent and contentious blame 'society,' or maybe 'capitalism.'"
"The woman who goes wrong, the thief who breaks into your house, the weakling who gorges alcohol, the child who flies into a tantrum and screams, all blame anything and anybody except their own lack of discipline, their unbridled lust and their weak character."
"It would seem that it might be a good thing to establish a course in 'Who to Blame?' in our schools."
"And usually it is ourselves where in the blame lodges."
"The one to blame for the explosion in the restaurant was not the rat but the dishonest plumber who used defective piping."

The Influence of Money!

When funds are scarce interest rates rise and investors loan their funds on mortgages and bonds for the high return, but when money is plentiful interest rates naturally decline and surplus funds are put into good stocks causing them to advance in price.
The latter condition exists in America. That country has accumulated the lion's share of the world's goods, and this surplus money is seeking higher earning power than bond interest offers. We suggest buying good stocks now for advancing prices.
