ELEVENTH YEAR—No. 108

CALGARY'S BIG EXHIBITION CAME TO AN END LAST NIGHT; ATTENDANCE 96,000

Grand Total is 5,000 in Excess of Last Year, Notwithstanding the Bad Weather; Estimated that It Has Brought 25,000 Visitors to the City

IT WAS THE BEST IN THE WEST BY A HANDSOME LEAD

Twenty-two Thousand Attend Last Day; Record Day Monday When Nearly 37,000 Went Through Turnstiles; 'About the Little Man Behind'

A great crowd attended the fair grounds yesterday afternoon and the promise was bright for a record evening attendance until the rain clouds belched down their enthusiasm-quenching sheets of water. But even as it was nearly twenty thousand passed the gates. With a five-day's fair, two of which were almost entirely useless on account of the heavy rain, the Calgary fair of 1912 beat the five full days' attendance of 1911. During three fairly good days, two marred by threatening clouds and one by a big rain during the early hours of the evening, eighty thousand people entered the grounds. It is a splendid showing. The admission for the 1912 fair was 98.16. This is 5.019 better than 1911. Last year there were five good days and yet the three good days of the fair this year exceeded last year's record. The full total of this year was 56,116. Last year's was 51,097. The attendance yesterday was 10,223.

The showman did a rushing business. The attractions were well liked. The races were the best ever seen in the west. The horse racing horses were well bred and the fields were big. The showman's event, C. L. Thibault's, was a success. The showman's work and gave universal satisfaction. The judges were fair and gave awards which met with general approval, and that is saying much, for the people of the west are not easily pleased. Mr. Osborne, starker in the running races, was undoubtedly the best man in that line who has been operating on a Calgary track. Dr. Eaton did fine work in the harness events. Also the officials in charge of the grandstand, for the benefit of the Regina sufferers. All of the grand stand attraction features have been donated gratuitously by the performers, number of Herbert A. Kline's specialties have also volunteered. A

BENEFIT PERFORMANCE AT FAIR GROUNDS TODAY FOR REGINA VICTIMS' BENEFIT

Big hearted Ben Rosenthal, the showman, has arranged to give a special performance at the exhibition grounds tomorrow for the benefit of the Regina cyclone victims. No admission will be charged at the gate but a charge of 25 cents will be made for seats in the grandstand. All the performers will donate their services, the exhibition company will give the use of the grounds, and every cent taken in will go to swell the Regina fund.

The feature of the benefit performance will be several airplane flights by Jimmie Ward, the clever little aviator whose performances in the air have delighted thousands during the exhibition meet. Practically all of the platform attractions will be shown and a number of the Kline shows will be seen on the platform before the grandstand.

The benefit was arranged by Mr. Rosenthal, who experienced no difficulty in interesting the various showmen in his charitable undertaking.

Those donating services are, John G. Robinson and his elephants, the Davis Familie, the Pedersen Brothers, the Nelson Comie, the Calgary Citizens' Band, the 103rd Regt. Band, Jimmie Ward, the Don Carlos Dog and Monkey Show, Wesley's Trained Seals and Princess Victoria. These latter three are from the Kline shows.

32 CALGARY SHOP-KEEPERS ARE IN TROUBLE BECAUSE OF VIOLATION OF LORD'S DAY ACT

ACTING under instructions from the attorney-general's department, Chief-Licence Inspector Forster, had officers in the employ of the liquor license branch, under Chief Provincial Detective Nicholson and Provincial Detective Hodgkins, last Sunday secured evidence against 32 shopkeepers and merchants of the City of Calgary, for infractions of the Lord's Day Act, by keeping their places of business open and by selling various articles of goods which were not consumed upon the premises.

Prosecutions in these cases will be undertaken by the attorney-general, and the punishment of flagrant violations of the Lord's Day Act will become a question for the magistrates to pass upon. Prosecutions are also being brought under the act at Edmonton and at Lethbridge.

LEAVES FOR REGINA TO AID SUFFERERS

Ottawa, Ont., July 4.—Captain R. J. Birdwhistle, secretary of the St. John's Ambulance society, left for Regina this afternoon to render all possible assistance to the sufferers from the cyclone. It is understood that the question of a Dominion contribution will be considered at a cabinet council to be held today.

BORDEN IS GIVEN GREAT RECEPTION

Hundreds Press Against Barriers on Landing Stage Cheering and Waving Handkerchiefs; Lord Mayor Greeted Canada's Premier

BRISTOL, July 4.—Premier Borden on his arrival here was made the occasion of a remarkable display of enthusiasm, hundreds pressing against the barriers at the landing stage, cheering and waving handkerchiefs. Borden, standing on the upper deck, waved his hand in acknowledgment of the salute of the Lord Mayor, Sir Frank Wills, who was on the quay in his official robes. Speeches of welcome were delivered in the lounge of the Royal George, and Mr. Borden made reply in carefully measured tones, impressive for the feeling in which more than once he used the phrase Motherland.

Ties of Kinship and Allegiance
"It has been truly said here today," he said, "that besides the ties of kinship and allegiance which binds together this Motherland and the great Dominion across the seas, there must also be considered the ties of commercial intercourse which certainly should not be neglected. I trust that we have in the past given and may in the future give every possible evidence of our desire to make, not only the ties of allegiance but the ties of commercial intercourse as well, stronger. I may venture to say today, though really it does not require utterance to any of my colleagues or myself, that those ties of allegiance which bind together the Motherland and the Dominion, are stronger I believe today than ever before."

Lord Strathcona Greeted Premier
On arrival at Paddington station, the Borden party were met by Lord Strathcona, Donald McMaster and a large body of Canadians. The colonial office was represented by Sir Hartman Just and Lionel Earle, the latter being private secretary to Mr. Harcourt. The party proceeded to the Savoy hotel.

AND HER NAME WAS MAUD.

SCATHING INDICTMENT OF SCHOOL SYSTEM IN THE WEST

Winnipeg Preacher Says They Do Not Teach Foreign Children English

Whitby, Ont., July 4.—Rev. J. S. Woodworth, superintendent of All People's Mission at Winnipeg, addressed the Missionary Education Movement conference now in session here, last night Mr. Woodworth said: "In the province of Manitoba alone, there are about 40,000 school children not attending any school. Of 1,200 children of school age, no less than 700 left in the first grade—the parents did not see the need of education, needed the money the children could earn; and then there was no compulsory school law. "They learn their English in the streets, which consists mostly of vulgar and vile words and phrases. In the rural districts the schools are bilingual—French, Ruthenian, German, Polish, etc., with very little or no English. "In visiting the schools that have been opened and supported by the government during the course of several years the superintendent stated that he had rarely found a pupil who could speak to him in English."

TWELVE HUNDRED CALGARY CARPENTERS WILL STRIKE AT 7 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

Decision Was Arrived at Late This Morning at Joint Meeting of the Two Unions; Men Are Asking for Increase of from 50 to 55 Cents per Hour

WILL SHUT DOWN ALL BUILDING OPERATIONS IN CITY

Carpenters Say They Offered to Submit Their Differences to Arbitration and the Builders' Exchange Refused the Proffer

THE big carpenters' strike is on. "It goes into effect at 7 o'clock this morning, and will tie up practically all of the building operations in the city. Primarily 1,200 carpenters, members of the Amalgamated Carpenters and Joiners and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, are affected, but by reason of the cessation of work by the carpenters many other artisans in the building trade will probably be thrown out of employment. The decision to strike was made at 1 o'clock this morning at a joint meeting of the two unions in the Labor hall, and which was very generally attended. The vote was practically unanimous. The carpenters are asking for an increase of from 50 to 55 cents per hour, and a short work day on Saturday. The joint committee authorizes the following statement: "The two carpenters' unions, representing 1,200 men, after having presented an agreement to the Builders' Exchange, calling for an increase of five cents per hour, and after having offered to submit the matter to arbitration, which offer was refused, have by an overwhelming majority, called a strike for 7 a.m. Friday June 5. The Carpenters' Statement "This is a straight strike. No men will be permitted to go back to work until there is employment for all." A joint meeting of the two unions will be held every morning at 10 o'clock. The Brotherhood will meet separately every day at 2:30 p.m. and the Amalgamated at 3 p.m. The strike sheet will be open for signatures every day from 10 to 4.

PEOPLE OF CALGARY SHOULD BE PROUD OF THE FAIR AND THE MEN BACK OF IT

Montreal Newspaper Man Says that It is One of the Greatest Exhibitions in All of Canada; Calgary is One of World's Wonders, Alberta is Its Garden

"THE Calgary fair is one of the greatest exhibitions in all of Canada. The people of Calgary should be very proud of it and the men who are responsible for its success." The speaker was J. C. Ross, special representative of The Toronto Globe, who is looking over the West in the interests of his newspaper, and with the idea of locating some really thrilling news stories. He has been in the city for a week, and like everyone else who comes this way, is pleased.

"This is my first trip into the West and I feel like the Queen of Sheba did when the glories of Solomon were revealed to her. Calgary is one of the wonders of the world, and Alberta is its garden. The people of Eastern Canada have absolutely no conception of the wonderful empire of Western Canada. One has to come here and see the big things that are doing, and talk with the men who are back of the big things in order to properly appreciate this great country."

POLITICAL SATIRE

We doubt whether it would be possible to refer in recent years to any example of more brilliant political satire than the parody of "Through the Looking Glass," which has been running in The Evening Post of New York. Its title is "Through the Outlooking Glass" and the egotistic Theodore, as the Red Knight, is made throughout the butt of the satirist's mordant wit. The following is one of the more recent instalments:

"The two armies were now face to face, and the Red Knight gathered his staff about him for a few final words of exhortation.

"Remember men," he said, "Victory is assured. On our side are all the honest men. Against us are all the thieves. We need only win forty of them over to our side and the battle is ours."

"Alice thought that was rather strange tactics, but she said nothing. She gazed with admiration at the Red Knight. He was resplendent in a new suit of armor fashioned out of lithographed photographs of Abraham Lincoln. From his helmet fluttered a copy of the Declaration of the Rights of Man. In his right hand he held a copy of Magna Charta, and with the left he waved aloft one of the Harvester's fattest check books. A mighty cheer broke from the multitude, but the Red Knight commanded silence.

"As you go into battle," he went on, "ask yourself this: Can the practitioners of theft and burglary triumph over the forces of righteousness?"

"Never," shouted the Publisher, like the hero in one of his own magazines.

"Don't be an ass, Frank," said the Red Knight. "Of course they always do, except when I am here to lead the forces of righteousness. That makes all the difference in the world."

"Alice thought she had never seen him in such a logical frame of mind. The men about him felt exactly the same way.

"The Red Knight went on: 'The principal thing when you take up arms is to know what you are fighting for. Do all of you know what you are after?'"

"We do!" they cried in chorus. Conviction was stamped on every face.

"That is very good," said the Red Knight. "So do I. Now we come to our plan of attack. It is very simple. I shall lead flanking parties against the enemy's right and left wing and head a furious charge against the centre. A small detachment of picked men under my personal command will go out in advance and feel out the enemy. As for the rear guard and train, that shall be my own concern. Between operations I shall write a full account of the battle for several newspaper syndicates with which I have signed contracts. Is there anything I have overlooked?"

"It was the Forester who spoke up. 'There's the band music for the triumphal return from Chicago!'"

"The Red Knight smiled indulgently. 'That is already composed and orchestrated. I may revise it a bit while I am dictating terms to the enemy. So that is all. You may go gentlemen.'

"But how about me?" said Alice, of whose presence the Red Knight had been quite oblivious. Her feelings were hurt, and she was on the point of crying.

"Why, sure enough, there you are, Alice," said the Red Knight. "I think you had better go to the rear till it's all over. The fight may last till ten o'clock, and that's no hour for one of your age to be out of bed."

"I will never leave you!" cried Alice. "Under no circumstances. There no one else like you in the whole world."

"The Red Knight smiled and stroked her hair. "Very well, then. I'll tell you what we'll do. You don't ride a horse, do you?"

"I never learned," she said.

"It doesn't matter," said the Red Knight. "No horse could keep up with me, anyhow. We'll get you a taxicab and you can keep right by my side."

"But Alice had her qualms. 'Is it very dangerous?' she asked.

"Dangerous where I am?" laughed the Red Knight. "You'll be just as safe in your own little bed. Nobody ever stands up against me, Alice. At the first sight of me they turn and run. That's what makes the present obstinate behavior of the enemy so peculiarly infamous."

THE NATIONAL SENTIMENT

"It is carrying the nationality sentiment too far when it makes its object to prevent nationhood," says The Montreal Witness in the course of a mild, but none the less firm, protest against the utterances at the Quebec congress to which we referred recently.

It will be remembered that one of the speakers at that gathering urged the French-speaking people of Canada to live as possible apart from their English-speaking fellow countrymen lest they lose their language or their religion.

The protest against this attitude on the part of some French-Canadians is timely, and The Witness does well at the same time to draw attention to the fact that there are representatives of other people in Canada who are not above reproach in this respect. To all and sundry we would venture to suggest that it serves no useful purpose, and may do positive harm, to be constantly shouting "I'm an Englishman," "I'm a Scotchman" or "I'm an American." We would suggest that, if they must shout, they should make it a chorus, in which all can surely join with legitimate pride and fervour, giving full relief to their desire for self-expression in the cry "We are Canadians."

The Frenchman is to be admired for his attachment to his language and religion, and the American and the Englishman need make no apology for pride in the glorious past of the nations to which they belong. The Frenchman, however, needs to remember that he is a member of the Canadian family and that family life is impossible if intercourse among the members is to be confined merely to asking for the necessary things at table. The pride of the American and the Englishman needs to be chastened by the reminder that though each of them is, of course, a citizen of "the greatest country in the world," neither of them were directly responsible for that fact. It is in either case, an honor conferred by the caprice of Mother Nature and not a reward of merit; therefore, something to be thankful for rather than to brag about. For anything that either of them did, or could have done, he might have been a Turk, a Hindoo, a Hottentot, a howling Derwish or nobody that has ever been seen, heard of, or named.

Now, if any of us have any legitimate ground for boasting, it is to be found in the fact that we are citizens of Canada. If we are Englishmen, Frenchmen, or Americans, we are so because we could not help it, while many of us are Canadians as a direct result of personal volition.

We are all citizens of a young country with a clean record, endowed by nature with vast wealth which needs for its development only the effort of man, directed by intelligence. We have an opportunity to make history, which is better than having had a grandfather or great grandfather who won the battle of Waterloo or saved the American Republic. Finally, it is well to remember that we have no good ground for boasting even of the fact that we are Canadians unless we are good citizens of Canada, and then we shall probably spend only a small part of our time shouting the fact.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The grant by the city council of $5,000 to the Regina relief fund will receive the full approval of every citizen of Calgary. It was only fitting that this city should contribute generously to the relief of the immediate needs of her sister city in distress. Reports from the Saskatchewan capital indicate that she will fully justify the prediction made at the time of the disaster, by meeting her misfortune with the characteristic courage of the West and rising from it stronger for the painful experience.

A difficult and delicate task has been imposed upon the civic investigation committee. Their enquiry revealed a condition of municipal management lamentable in the extreme. Somebody is in part at least responsible. It is the duty of the committee to ascertain the identity of that person or those persons. If a cursory examination of the evidence taken would suggest, the system of administration is defective, attention must be called to those defects so that they will be at once remedied. The committee will fail in its duty unless it performs the task of preparing its report with firmness and without fear.

Present indications are that there will be trouble for some city officials when the probe committee makes its report. While they failed in their duty by not prosecuting the inquiry into the gifts of stock to a company seeking a franchise from the city, they made distinctions sufficiently alarming, though not indicating the presence of graft, to warrant a thorough re-organization of the civic administration. The relations of the various city officials should be so defined that when work is done as that of last year is done, the responsibility can at once be fixed. Judging from such expressions of opinion as were given by members of the committee during the course of the enquiry there is every reason to believe that a majority of them fully realize the need for a clearer definition of the duties of the commissioners and heads of departments. If care is given to the preparation of the report of the recommendations of the committee should be of considerable value, and will merit the serious consideration of the council.

Stories of the Streets

Aviator "Jimmie" Ward was making his third successful flight yesterday afternoon at Victoria Park when an old Georgia negro discovered the bi-plane in the heavens.

"Mah boy," he exclaimed excitedly, "what kind of a bird am that?"

W. J. Puffer, M.L.A., standing close by, explained that it was a bird of the duck species, to be exact, "an aeronautic canvass-back."

The old colored man was silent for some time and then he murmured: "That's the first anatomical canvass-back duck I ever saw. It's bigger than the American eagle and if it keeps goin' higher, it's liable to turn into a bird of paradise."

R. H. Hanauer, the well-known real estate man and editor of The Ce Pec As Weekly Bulletin, is reported to have had journalistic ambitions before he became a sensible man. Hanauer was a short story writer of more or less note—get that "more or less" but don't abuse it—and he wrote a number of clever fictions.

"Were you successful as a magazine writer?" inquired an aspiring journalist recently.

"Very," was the reply.

"Well, I've had bad luck; can't seem to sell a story," said the climber.

"Neither did I," said Hanauer.

"And yet you were successful? Rather strange."

Hanauer paused in a sort of contemplative manner and then explained: "I didn't sell any stories to magazines but I succeeded in raising Calgary from a third to a second class post office with returned manuscripts."

UNCLE WALT

The Post Philosopher.

STICK TO YOUR TRADE
I found in the years that have past that switching around in no way, for the cobbler should stick to his last, and the tailor should stick to his goose. In winding a clock I exceeded; no others could wind as I wound—at least so my parlous held—and still I kept fooling around at tasks of a different kind, for which I had no sort of knack. When I was stupid and blind! Oh, walt! Alas and alack! I worked for a while in a store, I tolled for a time in a mill; I dug out some valueless ore from the side of a vitified hill; I wrought with a track laying crew; I windled a made on the street, and poorer I grew, until I had nothing my necks. I said: "I'll go back to my trade; when it comes to the winding of clocks, all rivets are put in the shade." Since then I have prospered, you bet, and 'Twe my own wisdom to thank; I haven't a care of a debt, and I have a

A TACTFUL CANDIDATE

How He Helped Out the Up-All-Night Young Husband

(Washington Co., Springfield Union)
In the midst of his campaign for congress Stephen G. Porter of Pittsburg, went to a big ball in that town. Before the affair was over he was called on for an impromptu exhibition of quick-wittedness that stamped him as a real major league tactician. A young man, whom he knew only slightly, walked up to Porter and said:

"Mr. Porter, let me introduce you to my wife."

But the moment the man had made the proposition he seemed to think of something began to look pale and became as ill at ease as a bigamist.

While Porter was shaking hands with the wife the man was standing behind her making frantic signs that Porter could not interpret, but he knew he must be tactful and noncommittal.

"So you're the Mr. Porter that's running for Congress, are you?" inquired the young woman.

"Yes," admitted Porter.

"And don't you find it exceedingly trying having to be up all night so often?"

"Up all night! Oh, ye-eh, yes! Indeed it is. Should say so. You have no idea how trying it is," replied Porter, with fine diplomacy, but wondering where she got her up-all-night notion.

The young husband was still making queer signs, though he looked somewhat relieved.

"And what does your wife think about your being out all night three or four times a week," the woman pursued.

"Madam," replied Porter, solemnly, "a woman who has the confidence in her husband that a woman should have doesn't think anything at all when her husband is out all night."

And the young man looked as if he earnestly desired to shout.

It seemed that the man had been sitting at home how he was helping Porter in his campaign.

Your life's batting average will not be very high if you always wait for a base on balls.

One April Dusk in England

By Arthur Stringer

ONE April dusk in England when the rain Fell warm on field and woodland and the night Came in with odorless silence, and my soul Was sick for home, and all the loneliness.

Of all the world seemed eating at my heart. Out of the warm wet woodland and the gloom Of shadowy hillsides came a sudden burst of song.

I knew it was the nightingale, Waking the valley, voicing all the ache Of all the loneliness that earth had known. I knew it was a nightingale that made The mist-emerging moon seem beautiful.

And crowned with sudden rapture all the gloom And touched with calm the heart of troubled youth. I knew what bird it was; yet never before Had I once hearkened to its alien throat.

They told me this. Yet long ago and oft My straining ears had heard this selfsame note, My breast had known this selfsame balm of song. Had known the mournful music and the moon That left memorial their hills of dusk.

And made me wonder in what far-off times I had known other lives and was at home With all my dark and half-remembered ghosts!

What is the Woman's Council?

The annual meeting of the Canadian Women's Council took place this year in London, England, and next year it will be held in Montreal. The International Council is made up of women of international ideas, women of all countries who are alert to the interests of their sex, their children, home and country.

The following countries have national societies: United States, Canada, Germany, Sweden, Britain, the Netherlands, Australia, Switzerland, Hungary, Norway, Greece, Belgium, Bulgaria, and Finland. Each one of these councils meet once a year, while the International Council will meet in Rome in 1914.

In referring to its work, Miss Besse Refoigne in the Canadian Magazine, says the following:

"As surely as something good originates in any one of the aforementioned countries, it is sent to the International Council, who embodies it in the year's report, and it is read by members in every country and becomes a sure stream of information and inspiration to each National Council."

"One is struck by the different aspects of woman's condition. Some countries have been threshing out the betterment of womanhood in a militant way; others have gone on gently and persistently. Each method has resulted in a measure of success, so that for an instant one is troubled to judge which way is correct, but one concludes that the condition of the country alone can change our viewpoint. Methods in England would not do at all in the United States of Canada, and Indian men have a wholly different idea of women and their brain power than have Englishmen, consequently English women are endeavoring to give their own voice in their interests in their own way."

At the first annual meeting at Ottawa, in 1884, there were embodied eight local councils and the nationally organized societies. Today we have twenty-seven local councils and eight nationally organized societies, forming a chain from the Atlantic to the Pacific. They meet in various cities by invitation and at their annual meetings, which last one week, the mornings and afternoons are devoted to conferences, the evenings to the public, when only noted speakers take part and different aspects of women's work are discussed.

In the past the accomplishments of the National Council through its local councils have been the establishing of manual training and domestic science in all schools; the appointment of women factory inspectors where women are employed; the extension of the appointment of women on boards of school trustees. Very desirable changes have been made in the arrangement of women prisoners in various places, and there have been also the organization of Boards of Associated Charities in several centres, the establishment of hospitals in some of the smaller towns and cities of the Dominion, and the organization of the Victoria Order of Nurses. The Council has spread knowledge of sanitation by means of health talks to mothers. It has worked for and obtained medical inspection in schools. It has worked to suppress impure literature and to supply people with sound books. It has inquired into the laws for the protection of women and children, and laid before the Minister of Justice recommendations which have been adopted in reference to criminal law. It endeavors to plan for the better care and wiser distribution of women immigrants. It has pledged to co-operate with the medical authorities in respect to tuberculosis. It has furthered the establishment of "Women's Welcome Hotels" from which others are springing up in various places. It has striven with success for vacant schools and supervised playgrounds. For years it has worked in forming public opinion in favor of the custodial care of the feeble-minded of greater leniency to the juvenile courts, of pure water, the care of the aged and infirm poor, agriculture for women, peace, by arbitration, safeguarding of public health, higher general education, and last but not least, the suppression of the "white slave traffic" in the world.

The work of the local councils naturally varies a great deal owing to the fact that some of them are formed in large cities, others in small districts. At this year's annual meeting in London, some of the most brilliant pieces of work ever prepared by women in the history of the Dominion were presented.

To the work of the nationally organized societies, I refer you to the Council's year book, these societies specialize, and their scope is tremendous.

I once heard Lady Aberdeen remark many years ago, "What a pity we do not read them now, especially university and college bred women, the only duty to keep up with the question of the day. The work lasts from October to May, and in returning to the autumn many questions of great interest will be dealt with."

Medical inspection in schools now seems to be generally accepted and is being carried out throughout the Dominion. This has been the special work at Ottawa, and it has been taken up by the newer councils with great zest. Hamilton closely follows Montreal with its milk inspection and milk depots; the city having expended over seven thousand dollars alone on the latter during the last year. One also notices that Hamilton has been the pioneer in appointing a morality officer, one who is most rigid in the inspection of maternity homes.

In nearly every local council throughout the Dominion the question of the distribution of garbage from time to time has been dealt with, the guarding of the house fly, which all are prepared to wage war against. London has three supervised play-grounds, the outcome of the Women's Council London's magnificent tree give an added pleasure; there, too, we notice that the "Boy Scout" movement is a pet hobby making this a specialty. Winnipeg feels the need as indeed does all of Western Canada, for the educated immigrant, and has connected itself with the Canadian Intelligence League of London, which is sending out direct a large number of their educated poor. It was from the Canadian Club of Winnipeg that the great movement started for the re-opening of the home-land law as regards women.

Home gardens have been vigorously pushed in Halifax, which also also in the face of this, the National Council of Women stands for the admittance of the sick women who are wives of men already here.

Toronto has a club-house for women, and presentation to the Provincial and Dominion Parliaments. It must pause a moment and pay tribute to Mrs. Huettner, Mrs. Langway, Dr. Margaret Gardner, in which is due the preparing of this massive work, which is practically a re-visit of the criminal code as regards women, and is composed by legal lights to be one of the most brilliant pieces of work ever prepared by women in the history of the Dominion.

Toronto, July 4.—Justice Kelley issued an interim injunction today restraining Gideon Miller, E. W. Goulding, G. W. Henry, and J. S. Higgins, directors of the Brockton Shoe company from transferring Miller's interest in that company to E. C. Corbell, of Montreal.

The injunction followed writs issued by M. S. Burrows, who claimed that Miller had promised to sell him 50,000 shares, sixty per cent of his fifty shares in the company, which is made up of a total of 86 shares.

BATTLE NOW RAGING MAY END WAR IN MEXICO

At Rebel Front, Bachimba, Mex., July 4.—The battle of Bachimba, which may determine the outcome of the Mexican revolution, had been raging for two hours at 1 p.m. The Federals have been directing a heavy artillery fire at the rebels, a point two miles southwest of here, where General Del Toro is commanding a large force of rebels.

Federals Retired. A Federal column of 800 came up from the east shortly after 1 p.m., meeting a heavy detachment of rebels under Gen. Campos. The Federals lost several men and retired a short distance.

At 1:30, Gen. Ornelazo and officers reached the battlefield. The rebels began using their small mountain artillery, as well as the heavier guns. At this time the Federals were using but their battery of heavy artillery, while the rebels were using but two.

FRASER RIVER CLAIMS FOUR MORE VICTIMS

Vancouver, July 4.—Four more victims have been claimed by the upper Fraser, according to a statement of arrivals from Fort George this morning. The steamer B.N. which left Fort George Saturday, forty hours ago, was marooned on a log jam in the Fraser, just below Fort George Canyon fifteen miles from the town. The crew were A. O. Ostry, J. P. Johnson and Andrew Johnson. They had been on the jam 38 hours without food and were suffering intensely.

Joseph Gosley, of Toronto, was taken off an island where he had been marooned 36 hours. He had been accompanied by six other men, of whom he was certain that four were drowned. Two other of the four were named Mitchell, others were a Scotchman, 19 years old, and Thompson, an Englishman. The names of the other two are not known. All had come from Winnipeg recently. They had been swept off a raft incoming through the Narrows—Gosley alone escaping.

A THOUSAND MINERS AND LABORERS DROP TOOLS IN WYOMING

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 4.—One thousand miners and laborers went on strike in the Wyoming valley today. Five hundred men, employed by the Susquehanna, quit work at Nanticoke, Pa., because a number of men refused to join the union. The union men have issued an edict that if underground workers want to enjoy the benefits secured from the operators by the United Mine Workers, they must join the union. At Butler colliery, 900 miners quit work because the foreman discharged a slate picker.

AUTO SKIDS; 3 DIE; 2 INJURED AND 1 ESCAPES

William White, Miss Gladys Richardson, Langford Madigan Dead

Charles Fitzgerald is Thrown Clear of Wreckage and Escapes Injury

Duluth, Minn., July 4.—Life was instantly crushed from the bodies of Mrs. William White, Duluth; Miss Gladys Richardson, Bridgeport, Conn., and Langford Madigan, Duluth, the latter a chauffeur, at about midnight on a country pike near Duluth, when the touring car in which they were returning home skidded from the road and overturned, pinning its occupants underneath.

William White, Jr., was seriously injured about the back and is in the local hospital. Miss Mamie Turish, daughter of Henry Turish, the lumberman, was severely shocked, and lay apparently lifeless at the roadside until carried to a nearby farmhouse, where she was resuscitated.

Charles W. Fitzgerald, the sixth member of the party, was thrown clear of the wreckage and escaped without injury. Gaining his feet he found an effort to move the heavy automobile fruitless. He then ran along the road to a farmhouse and secured four men, who piled the car from the bodies. The women and chauffeur were dead.

The point at which the tragedy occurred is about four miles from Pike Lake. The pike descends in a gentle sweep from higher ground to an abrupt turn. When the car arrived at the turn it was travelling at about ten miles per hour. The surface of the road slopes to the left with a narrow ditch at the base. The heavy car skidded from the track and when the front wheel struck the ditch, the equipment prouetted into the air and landed bottom side up.

The party had spent the afternoon and evening as guests of Miss Turish and Charles Fitzgerald, at the latter's cottage at Pike Lake. The car is the property of Henry C. Turish, the lumberman.

Miss Gladys Richardson was 20 years old and her home is in Bridgeport, Conn. She was the guest of Miss Turish and had been at her home for some days.

Mrs. White was 55 years old. She was the wife of William White, a prominent retired merchant.

Langford Madigan was the son of Mrs. Nellie Madigan, manager of a well-known local employment office.

SHAVIAN THRUST FOR CENSOR

Shaw Says German Officials Surpass Shakespeare et al.

Berlin, July 4.—George Bernard Shaw's report to the German Free Stage Society contains a sarcastic commentary on the censorship of plays by the chief of police, President Dr. von Jagow. Shaw says:

"The police censorship would be ruinous to England because our police understand nothing about literature and are inclined to consider all art as indecent. But since we are assured that all German officials enjoy the highest contemporary culture and are much more far-sighted than Goethe, Wagner, Strauss, Shakespeare, Tolstoy or Ibsen, I feel sure you safely placed control of the German intellect in their hands with the conviction that whatever they disapprove or fail to understand is either worthless or surpasses the limits of human intelligence." "There are," says Dr. von Jagow revisiting England, "I feel sure that either Oxford or Cambridge will seize the opportunity of making him a doctor of civil law."

Two World's Champions Defended Titles Yesterday

JACK JOHNSON PROVES THAT HE IS ALONE IN HIS CLASS WHEN HE TOYS WITH THE PUEBLO FIREMAN AND GETS THE DECISION IN NINTH ROUND

Police Interfere When Referee Fails to Stop Deliberate Foul- ing by Flynn, Who Jumped Off the Ground and Tried to Lay Out Champion by Butting; Scarcely a Scratch on Johnson After the Bout Was Finished LAS VEGAS, N.M., July 4.—Jack Johnson successfully proved today that he was alone in his class when in the ninth round of the scheduled forty-five round bout he was declared the winner by Referee Smith, after he had administered a terrific punishment upon Jim Flynn and the police had interfered.

Flynn's face was chopped and cut frightfully by the champion's deliberate and well-timed blows, and in the ninth round Captain Cowles pushed his way into the ring to stop the affair, Referee Smith, through the announcer, then awarded the bout to Johnson.

For three rounds Flynn had realized his inability to protect himself and had consistently fouled the champion by butting, sometimes leaping as much as a foot off the ground to get the champion in the jaw with his head. Time and time again the referee warned the fighting Pueblo fireman against such tactics but failed to discipline the white man. Flynn simply said that the black was holding him, this being his only excuse.

Johnson was the victor from the time the first blow was struck and could have ended the battle long before the police interfered but it was apparent that he wanted to give the moving picture men a chance. Johnson held himself in check while Flynn was doing his worst fouling. The black was constantly grinning and taking things easily. At one time he threw Flynn away and clapped his hands gleefully much to the annoyance of the challenger and to the amusement of the vast throng of spectators who had come from all over the world to see the bout.

Flynn was backed by a big following of Colorado sport lovers but the odds were all on Johnson, ringside bets being registered at 10 to 3. Johnson himself offered to bet $10,000 at this figure and could not get his money covered.

Round One.

"Will you shake hands, Jack?" queried Flynn, as he opened the battle by rushing into a clinch. "No," retorted the black. Flynn kept his attempts and flung a stiff left to the ear. The champion pushed his man to the ring and hooked his left to the ear, and a moment later flung a hard short-arm jolt to the chest, which Johnson constantly and fought with great care. Flynn backed the negro against the ropes, and with a right that cut a deep gash under his left eye. Round all Johnson.

Round Two.

Flynn rushed Johnson simply grasped him about the shoulders and held him at bay, all the while grinning like a madman. Johnson punched at the fireman's face with left leads, and they clinched. Johnson uprooted Flynn twice heavily with rights to the jaw. The champion toyed with Flynn, twice more shooting right under the chin, twice more shooting right under the chin, twice more shooting right under the chin.

Round Three.

Flynn cut short a remark of Johnson by twice hooking his right to the jaw. This nettled the black, and he cut loose with short-arm uppercuts. Johnson bled brightly from the mouth as he emerged from a mid-ring mixup, but Flynn spat blood in a stream as the champion cut his mouth with a volley of rights and lefts.

Round Four.

Flynn rushed in close and was met with the customary rain of right and left uppercuts to the face. At that it seemed as if the champion was in for himself in check. He shook Flynn with a few stomach taps, scarcely trying to protect himself from Flynn's attacks. Johnson constantly shoved his stomach and invited him to blaze away, which convulsed the spectators. Flynn elicited a great cheer when he rushed the black to the ropes and planted a solid left to the jaw. The round ended with Flynn's face covered with blood.

Round Five.

Flynn rushed in close and was met by Johnson, who turned his head to the spectators and hardly noticed his white antagonist. Flynn banged away at the stomach, but this time Johnson covered up and shot four lefts to the face in quick succession, varying it with a left uppercut to the jaw. Flynn cut close range, but half a dozen importation from Seattle, had the edge on Hayes of Bassano in the twelfth department, and that the Bronks had the better of the argument as far as the hits were concerned, and that the Bronks had fewer errors. In the first two innings, the score, and the game, was pretty even.

Round Six.

Flynn again tried to butt, and was this time warned. He was helpless in the champion's hands, and the time in this round was wasted by the attacks. Johnson constantly shoved his stomach and invited him to blaze away, which convulsed the spectators. Flynn elicited a great cheer when he rushed the black to the ropes and planted a solid left to the jaw. The round ended with Flynn's face covered with blood.

Round Seven.

Johnson landed fully a dozen rapid fire rights and lefts to the fireman's face, and at the same time cut himself in a position to withstand Flynn's butting tactics. "Wait a minute," cried the champion, "you're holding me," was Flynn's cry. Johnson landed a volley of straight lefts and right punches to the left and right jaw, apparently with a view to prolonging the contest. Flynn's seconds also warned him to cease butting, when he sat down.

Round Eight.

Flynn again tried to butt, and was this time warned. He was helpless in the champion's hands, and the time in this round was wasted by the attacks. Johnson constantly shoved his stomach and invited him to blaze away, which convulsed the spectators. Flynn elicited a great cheer when he rushed the black to the ropes and planted a solid left to the jaw. The round ended with Flynn's face covered with blood.

Round Nine.

Johnson held the fireman at arms length in an attempt to guard himself against the fireman's constant butting. Flynn in close and with the aid of the air and landed with the top of his head against the negro's jaw. Captain of Police Cowles, realizing that the referee seemed loath to end the contest on a foul, jumped into the ring and brought the battle to an end. Referee Smith thereupon gave the decision to Johnson. Johnson was given a terrific cheer.

HURLEY'S FIGHTERS IN LAST ROUND BEAT OUT ESKIMOS

Northerners Were Comfortably in Lead But Went Up in Air

Ferdie Manning Whiffed Dozen of the Opposing Batters

Eskimos Played Errorless Until the Eighth Inning, Which Was Last

Edmonton, July 4.—Somebody remarked "tough luck" when the Birds lost last night's game with Red Deer, after having scored what should have been the winning run in the last of the seventh. It was not tough luck; it was poor playing that lost the game.

Probably the game should not have been allowed to go another inning as it was getting very dark, but nevertheless, the Birds should have been able to hold their lead, especially as the visitors were batting against a dark ball.

Ford hit the first man up, Godfrey, and then Clementson bounded one to Dudley. This usually reliable player, just overstepped himself a trifle, in endeavoring to be foxy and made a move to throw to second, where there was no chance in the world to catch Godfrey. Finally, when Dudley did make the play to first, Clementson had crossed the base safely and the balloon was up. Before the Birds had settled down and retired the side, three runs had been scored, giving Red Deer a margin of two. It was a heartbreaker to the fans, who had been so wildly enthusiastic a few minutes before.

Bunie Buntings came to the relief of Dave in the eighth inning, but the game was already lost beyond repair. The Bronks' scoring was limited to two runs. In the first, Wells' double scored Flanagan and Dean, and in the ninth, Bill Barenkamp opened up.

Ford and Manning were the opposing mound men. Ferdie pitching the better ball of the two, though his support was at times rather spotted. He fanned twelve men; Ford coining four times, and Tangany three. He was found for nine hits, Mackin, Whisman and Povey being the hitting scamps, while Ford yielded ten bases getting a pair each. One of the incidents brought forward by last night's game was that Sully needs a little course of instruction in taking a ball to the plate, on a return from the outfield. Twice he let the ball get away from him on a perfect throw, accounting for the two runs. This again is some more of that "hard luck" which in reality is poor playing. But at that Sully is the best looking receiver the locals have had this season, and with coaching will develop into a regular fellow.

The roadsters got away in the lead, scoring two in the second. Clementson hit safely, and Gay was hit by a pitched ball.

Dunn moved them along by a perfect inning, scoring single, while Mackin and Westcott fitted to short. Whisman and Westcott scored. Mackin, and took second on the throw to the plate. Povey scored Whisman by a single, and stole second and came home on Borleski's safe hit through the box.

The scored in the sixth when Godfrey singled, went to third on Gay's hit to left, and was scored by Dunn on a sacrifice fly.

There was great enthusiasm in the seventh when the locals again went to the front, Whisman singled over Gay's head, and Povey doubled, sending Whisman to third, from whence he came in on Borleski's sacrifice fly to short.

Dunn upon, but let it be understood that Red Deer took three and also the game.

WOLGAST AND RIVERS BOTH KNOCKED OUT IN GREAT LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE; WOLGAST GIVEN DECISION

Wolgast Fouled Mexican, Who at Same Instant Sent Upper Cut to Champion's Jaw; Referee Welch Picked Up the Champion, Declaring Him the Winner; Referee Charged With Unfairness

VERNON ARENA, Los Angeles, Cal., July 4.—Ad Wolgast, with the aid of Referee Jack Welch, retained his claim upon the lightweight championship today in the Vernon arena when he was given the decision over Joe Rivers of Los Angeles in the thirteenth round. Rivers had practically the better of every round save one or two in which Wolgast had a slight shade.

In the thirteenth round Wolgast tired and bleeding profusely suddenly struck Rivers a vicious left in the groin. At the same instant Rivers right landed flush on Wolgast's jaw and the champion went down and out. Disregarding claims of a foul made by Rivers' manager, Referee Welch called the Mexican youth out and then turning picked up the unconscious Wolgast and declared him winner.

Round 1—Called at 6:42. Rivers led the fight and they clinched. Rivers landed three lefts to the face in quick succession and Wolgast covered. Rivers was much faster and his blocking was better than the champion's. In a clinch Rivers sent in three stiff rights, jarring Wolgast. It was Rivers' round.

Round 2—Rivers opened a deep gash in Wolgast's neck. The blood spurted in a stream without a return and then put a stiff left to the stomach. Rivers put a stiff right to Wolgast's nose, starting a new flow of blood. Wolgast fell short while Rivers never missed once. Rivers' round.

Round 3—Wolgast took a stiff left to stomach and head. Fighters exchanged fearful rights and lefts. Wolgast missed a right swing and Rivers put in another left to the wind. They fought like gladiators. Wolgast went to a clinch and covered. Both were covered with blood in a clinch. Rivers opened the wound in Wolgast's neck. Round even.

Round 4—They clinched and Rivers sent Wolgast's head back with a right. Wolgast clinched but could not land at close range. Again Rivers rocked Wolgast but the champion broke in, and Tangany three. He was found for nine hits, Mackin, Whisman and Povey being the hitting scamps, while Ford yielded ten bases getting a pair each.

Round 5—They went into a clinch and both held on. Wolgast put left to jaw and missed a right. In a neutral corner Rivers put a right to the head and received but a light right to jaw. There they stood in the middle of the ring looking at each other. They clinched and Rivers nearly won Wolgast with a right to the jaw. Round even.

Round 6—They clinched. Wolgast missed and was nearly upset again. Then Rivers put a stiff left to jaw and hit safely, and Gay was hit by a pitched ball.

Dunn moved them along by a perfect inning, scoring single, while Mackin and Westcott fitted to short. Whisman and Westcott scored. Mackin, and took second on the throw to the plate. Povey scored Whisman by a single, and stole second and came home on Borleski's safe hit through the box.

BATTING RALLY IN THE 13TH HILLHURST CRICKET CLUB WON FOR RAYMOND JOINS NEW LEAGUE

Gruelling Pitchers' Battle in Southern Alberta League Game

Football Devotees Will Enlarge Their Athletic Sphere; Look for Strong Team

(Special The Morning Albertan).

Raymond, July 4.—On a rather sloppy diamond, Warner and Raymond played a league fixture here today before six hundred fans on the bleachers and in the grand stand. After playing gruelling ball for thirteen innings, Warner succeeded in putting two runs on ice in a rally, in which they batted Duggan all over the garden, the final score being 7 to 5. It was a splendid game, being the fastest exhibition of baseball ever seen in Raymond.

O'Brien twirled ten innings for Raymond, pitching winning ball. He struck out fourteen men and was pounded for nothing better than two batters. Berg did the heavy lifting for the visiting team, and although he did effective work, he was outclassed by his opponent. He was given errorless support by the team.

Raymond played a fine game, displaying a decided improvement over former games in the league this season. The other league fixtures were called off on account of rain.

SYDNEY WINS AT LONDON FOOTBALL POSTPONED

LONDON, July 4.—In the Grand Challenge cup, first heat, Sydney, New South Wales, was first and the Argonauts of Toronto second.

The Canadians were slightly in the lead up to the island, and were leading by half a length at the end of the first quarter of a mile. It was a great race, the Canadians rowing the faster stroke, 46 to the minute, against Sydney's 40. They were leading at the half mile mark. The Australians then secured the lead and were in front at the three-quarters of a mile, and won in 7 minutes 4 seconds. One and a quarter lengths separated the two crews at the finish.

LOVE THE BEAT CANADIAN RECORD AT FORT ERIE CENTRALS PRACTICE THIS EVENING

FORT ERIE, Ont., July 4.—Love the horse, beat the Canadian record for a mile and seventy yards and captured the Fourth of July handicap, the featured race of the holiday program provided at Fort Erie this afternoon. Love, the carrying 126 pounds and ridden by Schuttinger, made all the pace and beat Plate Glass by a neck in driving time. The time was 1:42, which equaled the American record made by Princess Gallopway at Latonia last season. A big holiday crowd was present. Love was the only favorite to win. Star Actress, Wilgreen and Sacchilli were played quite heavily. The Rump was another good thing put over at 16 to 1. Jockey Martin was fined for rough riding on Buskin in the first race.

VALUABLE HORSE DEAD CIVIC CRICKET CLUB

BRANDON, Man., July 4.—King Pym, a valuable three-year-old thoroughbred racehorse owned by Thomas Goggin, a wealthy farmer of Carberry district, met with an accident at Exhibition track here yesterday and had to be destroyed. The horse was being exercised when it stumbled and broke its shoulder. King Pym won the two-year-old stakes at Winnipeg exhibition last year, and was looked upon as the probable winner of the Centennial Futurity to be run at Winnipeg next Wednesday. Mr. Goggin is one of the best known race horse owners in western Canada.

Famous "Bonehead" Plays on Major League Diamonds Explained by Leading Baseball Players to

Hugh S. Fullerton

BY MORDECAI BROWN
The Three-Fingered Twirler Who Pitched His Club Into Three Pennants

It depends a whole lot upon what you call a mistake. There are mistakes and mistakes. The pitcher has about 150 chances a game to make mistakes and I guess he makes them about one-third of the time. If he didn't they'd make him pitch from second base, so the batters could hit harder, and the worst mistake I ever made was on a game for me. I threw Chief Meyers a fast straight ball above his knees and inside the plate and he was so surprised that he struck out swinging at it. I believe the big part of all mistakes made on the ball field come from the fact that the player who makes them is thinking of something else. I think that the mistake which I consider the worst I ever made in my life in a ball game came from this.

It was in a game at Pittsburgh several years ago. Pittsburgh was three runs behind us and everything was running along smoothly until the ninth inning, when they started and it looked as if they hit everything safe. The worse they seemed fooled the more the ball went safe. They popped them over and pushed them safe until they had men on second and third with two out and Fred Clark at bat.

Clark waded into the first ball I pitched and slammed a cooking hit to the centre. I watched the ball and, turning, saw Clark turn first base and then go back. Hofman fired the ball on a line to Evers, who bluffed at throwing to first and drove Clark back. I took it for granted that two runners had scored, and as they had scored one run before, I thought the score was tied. I watched Clark and decided he was going to try to steal on the first ball pitched. I determined not to pitch the ball at all, but to try to grab him off first base. I went onto the slab and not into position, being careful not to make any move that might be called a balk. I just stood and watched King, waiting for a signal that Clark was to be far off first, intending to make a throw. I was surprised that King, who was catching, did not signal and looked over toward first. Clark was just starting top speed for second. He saw me look at him, stopped and before I had moved at all he commenced to yell that I had balked. I had him twenty feet off first, their dirt around. I just trotted over toward him, blushing at making a show, and ran up to him. He dodged a couple of times, and then I jumped for him and tagged him out. Just then I looked up and saw Jap Barbeau going across the plate at top speed. If I had tagged him with Clark half a second longer the run would have counted. The fact was, I thought Barbeau had scored on Clark's hit, and did not know he was on third at all until after I touched Clark out. He might have walked to the plate before I took up if he had known. The funny thing about it was that some of the Pittsburgh papers gave me credit for pulling off a great play in clever style. You never can tell. If Barbeau had touched the plate first there would have been a different song on our bench.

Little Stories About BASEBALL

(By W. A. Phelan)

THE SINFUL MCGRAW
When the giants were spending their early spring at the salt-petre mines of Marlin, Texas, life hung heavy on their hands, and would have become an awful drag for all of them but for one thing—the tricks, performances, and capers of their great leader, the only John McGraw. But for John and the things he engineered, the boys would have minded their lives away, as it was they had a fairly pleasant time, and scores of people sat up every night for fear they would miss something that McGraw might plan.

The climax came when McGraw gave a chicken dinner, to each man a whole chicken and a small bottle of light, harmless wine. When the gay company gathered around the gay table, the board all went well, except with Artie, who was somehow or other somebody or other had slipped Artie a chicken that had ceased chattering about the time Broadway ceased to be a promenade for Peter Stuyvesant, while Artie's bottle of wine had been emptied and carefully filled with soap suds.

Artie sank his fangs into the "chicken" and broke two front teeth. Feeling somewhat agitated he took a deep pull at the bottle, and then declared war. He snorted John Devers into the "chicken" and was about to whack Beala Becker with the bottle, when all hands camped upon his bosom, and the noise of riot died away.

McGraw sent the "chicken" and the bottle to an irascible old woman who was acting the housekeeper of the hotel. On the breast of the iron bird he placed a card, "with the compliments of Bossman Bulker," the well-known baseball scribe. The good lady attacked the "chicken" but her few remaining teeth right took in the gums, took an agonized drink from the fatal bottle, and then described a bee-line for Mr. Bulker's rooms. Mr. Bulker and his wife were entertaining Sid Mercer, another scribe, and Mrs. Mercer. It took all four of the "chicken" and the old woman till an willi could be established, and when she was convinced that Bulker didn't do it she reasoned—quite justly—that probably John McGraw could have committed such a crime.

By this time, the chicken dinner had broken up, and everybody had turned to bed. McGraw was just pulling off his coat when the bottle crashed against the door. The "chicken" followed with a heavy thud, and then came the furious voice of the good old woman: "Come outa that! come outa that, ye Irish rep-tye! come out and meet me in this hall and I'll show you, you APA, you Fardown, you Orangeman—I'll show you whether you can play such tricks on a respectable lady! Come outa that room, you big fat coward, you dirty son of Satan!"

And it cost McGraw $5 in perfectly good money before he could coax her to see it as a joke and leave his door.

WEATHER BAD AT HENLEY

Henley-on-Thames, July 3.—The annual regatta, which on Saturday next is to be honored by the presence of King George and Queen Mary, who are coming in the old state barge which has been renovated for the occasion and is to be manned by the king's watermen in their historic costumes of the middle ages, opened today under the most oppressive weather conditions. The attendance, too, was the smallest recorded for years.

Later in the day, however, the weather became brighter and the sun continued to favor the most important aquatic sporting and society event of the year, the week held under royal auspices, is expected to be a brilliant one.

The Latest Triumph Of The House Of Kuntz

THE famous old House of Kuntz have scored another brewing triumph: Their latest success is a very fine light lager known as Kuntz's Old German Lager. Drop into a cafe or hotel and try a bottle of this new brand of Kuntz's lager, brewed by masters of the brewing art. The flavor will win your enthusiasm. Many, indeed, have conceded it superior to the most famous light German beers. American lagers cannot be compared with it.

Kuntz's Old German Lager sets a new standard—and a higher standard—for Canadian lagers. It is brewed by the expensive in which the House of Kuntz are adepts. The very finest ingredients are used. The barley is the best that Canada grows. The hops are the most expensive Bohemian. The water is from the famous Kuntz Springs, renowned for purity and refreshing vigor.

Such ingredients are quite different indeed from the corn, rice and other malt adjuncts from which American beers are brewed. Yet you are asked to pay as much or more a bottle for the inferior American beers.

Order a case of Kuntz's Old German Lager sent to your home. Treat your wife and your friends to a lager brewed by the Old German Process. A lager aged in glass-enamelled steel tanks and in spacious rooms where the air is artificially cooled and purified.

Be sure you get the real new Kuntz's. Look for the words "Old German Lager" and the name "Waterloo" on the label.

CURRY-OUT FOR ROOSEVELT

Ex-Governor of New Mexico Says He Cannot Support President Taft

In Paso, Tex., July 4.—George Curry, Congressman from New Mexico, elected on the Republican ticket last November, today wired from Washington to friends here that he had decided to quit the Republican party and support Roosevelt. Curry is also ex-governor of New Mexico, having been brought from the Philippines by Roosevelt, who he was governor of a province, prior to that he had been chief of police in Manila and a captain in Roosevelt's Rough Riders.

"I am going to call a meeting of the New Mexico delegation and announce that I will have nothing more to do with the distribution of patronage for New Mexico," Curry wires. "I will soon make a public announcement that I will not be a candidate for re-election. I have been asked to support Mr. Taft, but I cannot do it. I believe the Democrats will carry New Mexico this year, if they nominate Bryan or some other progressive."

JAPANESE SHOW INTEREST

Tokio Papers Print Long Accounts of Conventions

Tokio, July 4.—The increasing concern of the Japanese in American political affairs is shown by the lengthy special despatches which the Tokio papers are printing on the political situation in the United States.

The proceedings of the Republican convention at Chicago were watched with keen interest here, both President Taft and Col. Roosevelt having many adherents among the Japanese. Almost as much interest is being felt in the result of the Democratic convention.

ANOTHER FLY CONVICTED

Second Species a Cause of Sleeping Sickness in Africa

London, July 4.—Reports received from the commission on sleeping sickness working in Rhodesia say that it has been proved beyond doubt that the tsetse fly, known as Glossina morsitans, is a carrier of the disease.

The commission was despatched to Africa in consequence of the appearance of the disease in regions where Glossina palpalis (the species of tsetse fly which up to the time had alone been regarded as a carrier of sleeping sickness) was non-existent. The guilt of Glossina morsitans has been proved not only under laboratory conditions, but also in nature. Certain animals can act as the host of the virus without suffering thereby.

WOMAN WOULD BE A JUDGE

Mrs. Ellen S. Mussey is out as rival of DeLacey; Term of Latter at an End

Washington, July 4.—The term of Judge William H. DeLacey, of the juvenile court, expires Sunday, and much interest developed yesterday as to whether he will be reappointed or another man will be named to the position.

When the first American occupation of Cuba occurred on January 1, 1899, General Menocal was entrusted with the organization of the first police force of Havana, and he performed the duties of his office creditably.

Cuba, however, is actually a Liberal country, and support of the province of the candidate of the minority party, which polled, at the last elections, (1908) 124,964 of the total vote.

Paris, July 4.—Ernest Charles, one of the serious dramatic critics of Paris, having written a two column article in the 'Globe' in which she introduced the 'Gaby' into the 'Blas' and the 'Blas' into the 'Gaby'.

The article in question, which is really not likely to have such a far-reaching effect, says the dancer represents the monstrous extravagance of the 'Blas' and the 'Gaby'.

After referring to one of Gaby Deslys' combing, Anglo-American sentimentality and international profligacy, Mr. Charles regrets that she sacrifices herself to the 'Blas' and the 'Gaby'.

DEPARTMENT; PLATT
ANDREW IS OUT

Washington, July 4.—A. Platt Andrew today tendered his resignation to President Taft as assistant secretary of the treasury. A spirited row in the treasury department which has been going on since the resignation of Mr. Andrew was reported to be due to the attitude of Mr. Andrew toward many of his subordinates. It contains a scathing arraignment of Secretary McVeigh's administration of the government affairs and created a profound sensation in official circles.

GUARD PANAMA POLLS
Baricades Erected—Both Sides
Charge Repeating.

Panama, July 4.—Extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent trouble at tomorrow's election. Baricades have been constructed around the polling places, which have been provided with narrow entrances permitting of the admittance of a single voter at a time. United States soldiers will be in full charge of the voting booths. The election tomorrow will be for municipal councilmen only. It is expected, however, that the result will indicate the strength of the respective candidates for the presidency at the election on July 14. Both the Diaz and Ferras partisans claim a victory tonight. Charges of repeating on the names on the registration lists, despite the close scanning by the American supervisory officials, are made by representatives of both parties. The registration in Panama City was 7,000. It is claimed that there are not more than 4,000 legal voters in the municipal limits.

LONDON TITANIC INQUIRY IS CONCLUDED

London, July 4.—The board of trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster concluded today and Lord Mersey, the presiding judge, announced that its report would be produced within a reasonable time. Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney-general, in his closing speech, said he had been anxious to find, if possible, an excuse for the inaction of Captain Lord of the Californian, but he has regretfully come to the conclusion that there was no excuse for him. The court, he said, must find Captain Lord's evidence unsatisfactory. Lord Mersey suggested that if Captain Lord saw the signals of distress and did not go to the relief he was possibly guilty of a misdemeanour. Unnecessary Risk. Sir Rufus Isaacs asserted that utterly unnecessary risks had been taken by the Titanic, and that the cause of the disaster was a bad lookout and excessive speed.

"You mean those politics and divorce. Not for me."

A Drop of Blood

Or a little water from the human system when thoroughly tested by the chief chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., tells the story of impoverished blood—nervous exhaustion or some kidney trouble. Such examinations are made without cost and is only a small part of the work of the staff of physicians and surgeons under the direction of Dr. R. Y. Pierce giving the best medical advice possible without cost to those who wish to write and make a full statement of symptoms. An imitation of nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous force is used when you take an alternative and glyceric extract of roots, without the use of alcohol, such as

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Which makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment. Get what you ask for!

BONAPARTISTS FAVOR CONSULAR REPUBLIC NAPOLEONIC HEAD

Five Thousand Applaud the Utterances of Marquis de Dion

French People are Believed to Be Ripe for Another Revolution

If Man of Horseback Were Alive This Would be His Opportunity

(By A. W. Lamoureux)

Paris, July 4.—The general uneasiness which the presence of Socialism, the increase in the price of living and the general political discontent in France had brought with them encouraged the Bonapartists, who have been quiescent recently, to hold a meeting at the Salle Wagram the other evening. The Marquis de Dion was the principal speaker. Five thousand people listened to him and applauded to the echo his plea for "a consular republication, the object of course, was that Prince Napoleon would be the consul. Although there is little likelihood of a monarch, an empire or even a consular republic in France in the immediate future, there is no doubt whatever that the French people are ripe for another revolution. Nobody is quite satisfied with the present form of government. Everybody feels, no matter what class he belongs to, that he is over-taxed and over-ridden. There is a general feeling that the real rulers of the country (who are not merely the government, but members of the two chambers, and far too many of their friends, are much too expensive a luxury.

If General Boulanger were alive there might easily be a coup d'état tomorrow. By turning out the congress, the nominal rulers of France have set the stony-headed in power and they are harder masters than either the priests or even the nobles of the day. The people are suffering, suffering animal, but he is beginning to kick against the pricks. The Socialists at present have a head, but that the demands are rapidly becoming more than the bourgeoisie will stand, and in France, when unrest has become a general fact it is now becoming a fire-up is inevitable.

A well-known politician said the other day that there was one kind of another must break out in France in the next few years. His meaning was that if war with another nation did not come the French people would be driven from their homes, troubled with war with or without bloodshed, a revolution, peaceable or otherwise, would be a necessity.

Passengers from London to Paris will be delighted at the news that the journey on French soil will be in all probability free of duty. France is merely thousands of hideous advertisements that at present line the railway. M. Klotz, minister of finance, has recently proposed a law by which a prohibitive tax is to be placed upon all such defiling billboards. Whereas at present these signs are merely subject to a fixed tax of from 25 to 50 cents each, henceforward, according to the proposed law, the tax will be changed into an arbitrary one of 75 per cent of the value of the advertisement. The tax will be doubled or tripled if the advertiser fails to comply with the regulations. Moreover, the tax upon the land on which the signs are erected is to be increased by the amount of profit which the advertiser derives, allowing their erection, so that all possible inducement to let space for the purpose is removed.

The French senate is at the present moment discussing an interesting recommendation of a commission which has been conducting an inquiry into the sale of absinthe in France. The proposal amounts to the suppression of the sale of absinthe in France. At present, the substance called "absinthe" will be sold, it would be comparatively innocuous by the side of the liquor at present sold. Absinthe is made of a variety of herbs, hyssop, fennel, sage, aniseed and many others, some of which are an extraordinarily dangerous effect which could be discharged, epilepsy and convulsions. Scientific inquiry has established beyond a doubt that the most serious trouble derives from the presence of a common element, "thuyone." According to M. L. Marcellin, the author of the proposal, this scientific fact is the basis of the method of combating any deleterious effect which may result from the vast quantities of absinthe which are consumed in France—namely, by the abolition of the manufacture of any beverage containing "thuyone." If the suggestion be adopted, France will be merely following the example of Switzerland, Belgium and Holland. The problem will remain, "When is absinthe not absinthe?"

A midnight row at Argentueil, a suburb of Paris, resulted in the death of one of its number, as well as the killing of one policeman and the wounding of another. Revolvers were freely discharged, a sort of pitched battle took place, and the most violent of the workmen, a certain Brocard, was himself badly wounded in the leg. The man had been imbibing rather freely and got into a dispute near the station. Two policemen, one named Quinnes and the other Borne, intervened and tried to quiet the quarrelers. The workmen moved away, continuing their squabble, and the two policemen followed them at a short distance. Suddenly the man fired his revolver at each other and one of them, Quinnes, was struck by a bullet, which cut his jugular vein, and he fell down and died in a few minutes. The other policeman, Brocard, seized the man who is supposed to have fired the shot, and he in turn was shot in the leg. The man then disappeared, and in the course of a search during the night one of them was found dead in a field. He is supposed to have dragged himself to a field where he expired. At six o'clock the next morning Brocard, who is alleged to have shot the policeman, was arrested at Argenteuil in a cafe shop, whither he had gone to get attendance for a bullet wound in his leg, which he believed to have received during the row.

DOG RESCUES WOMAN WHO HAD BEFRIENDED HIM

Paris, July 4.—A few months ago a woman named Lebond—who had been given charge of a level crossing at Meuhin, in the Cher department, on her husband's death, and who lived alone in a little house beside the line—was rescued by a stray dog from a tramp who tried to murder her. She took the dog to live with her. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Lebond saw that her dog, which was quite used to trains, was sleeping on the line. She noticed him just as an express train came thundering along, ran on the line and rescued him, but was herself knocked down by the train and killed.

THREATEN TO RETALIATE ON WEST INDIES FOR ENTERING PACT

Toronto, July 4.—United States merchants threaten retaliation on the British West Indies for entering a preference pact with Canada.

WEALTHY CHICAGOAN FINED $10,000 FOR SMUGGLING

Chicago, July 4.—Nathan Allen, a wealthy Chicagoan, who was fined $12,000 by the federal court last fall on his confession that he had smuggled into this country $250,000 worth of jewels and goods for his mistress, was refused immunity from the service of a subpoena yesterday by decision of the appellate division of the supreme court in a suit brought by John R. Collins, a coal operator from Allen on the ground that he or his secret agents despoiled her of securities, jewelry and other personal property contained in a safety deposit box to which the defendant had access. The smuggling charge was made against Allen after Mrs. Jenkins had quarreled with him and had furnished information to Collector Loeb regarding the smuggled goods.

SUICIDE STATISTICS OF THE JAPANESE

Tokyo, July 4.—The Kokumin Shimbun has been examining the statistics of suicide in Tokyo during the last year, and reports that the number of male suicides exceeds the female by nearly 100 per cent. This may be ascribed to the "greater daring" of the masculine sex. Among the men hanging proved the favorite method of ending life, while a large majority of the women preferred drowning, which the paper explains by saying that "even in death our women choose the gentler way."

$7,000 BONDS RETURNED THROUGH THE MAIL

Bank Received Papers James Taylor Reported Having Been Taken From Store in April

Chicago, July 4.—Seven negotiable bonds valued at $1,000 each, said to have been stolen April 25 from a safe in the store of James Taylor, 1243 West Madison street, were returned recently through the MIA-City Trust and Savings Bank, 301 West Madison Street.

Taylor told the police that burglars forced an entrance by breaking a skylight, and stole the bonds which were held by Morris & Co. packers. The bonds the police were informed were owned by Taylor's sister-in-law. Two days ago a stranger entered the bank and inquired of D. B. Kennedy, assistant cashier, the value of a bond. This bond proved to be one of Taylor's. The man took back the bond and said he would inform his friend who paid $200 for them, that the bonds were stolen property. The bonds were placed in an envelope and mailed to the bank.

WOMEN OF GERMANY IN THE PROFESSIONS

Berlin, July 4.—The Berlin University authorities recently instituted an inquiry as to the progress and prospects of women in professions necessitating, in Germany, university education. The most prosperous professions, judging from the replies, are apparently the medical and dental. In January, 1911, there were in Germany 112 certified women doctors. From 1869 to 1909 forty-five German women had taken the American dental course, but in the decade ending 1912 sixty took the German course and obtained the official German license. All the replies showed that the professional prospects are very satisfactory, and apparently there are openings for more. On the contrary, there are few openings and unsatisfactory prospects for women taking jurist or national economic courses. Only twenty-three appear to be in positions where they are definitely utilizing their diplomas.
