COUNCIL meeting next Monday. LENT meetings next Wednesday. THE mild weather has played havoc with the O.H.A. schedules. BOYS' overcoats, 5 to 15 years.—SWIFT'S Clearance Sale. THE Daughters of the Empire will meet at Mrs. Harris' next Tuesday. DON'T make good resolutions unless you constantly carry a repair kit with you. Is your Guide-Advocate paid for to Dec. 31st, 1913? Look at the address label. ABOUT two dozen attended the A.Y.P. A skating party on Wednesday evening. An oyster supper was a feature of the gathering. 20 PER CENT. discount on all horse-blankets, mitts and skates at Howden's. We want the room for spring goods. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, 12th line Brooke, have moved into town and are now occupying their cottage on Huron street. On Sunday evenings during Lent, Rev. S. P. Irwin will preach a series of sermons in Trinity church on "Bible Types of Modern Women."

Mr. HUNTER, Dominion government purchasing agent, was here Thursday getting options on property for the proposed new post office. You can't expect things are always going to go the way you want 'em. If they did, how would the rest of us get any satisfaction out of life. THE new style book and samples of Art clothes for spring are here.—SWIFT'S. An Orillia merchant paid $150 for a page ad for one week in each of the three local papers, and claims it was the best investment he ever made. THERE will be a convention of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance in Massey Music Hall, Toronto, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 26th and 27th. THE Watford Junior O.H.A. have defaulted the remaining games in group 7, so the game scheduled for this evening between Woodstock and the locals will not take place.

FOUR music lovers took the special train to Petrolia Monday night to hear "Patience" given by the Strathroy Opera Co. They report a crowded house and an excellent performance. If you are thinking of building call and let us give you prices. We have our nails and glass before the prices advanced and can save you money.—THE N. B. HOWDEN EST. A SHIPMENT of 2,200 rolls of wall-paper has just arrived at Taylor's. Another lot is held at customs. They are cleaning the balance of last year's stock at just half cost. It is worth while investigating. THERE will be a meeting of the young people of the Presbyterian church held in the school room this (Thursday) evening for the purpose of organizing a Young People's Society. All young people connected with the church are asked to be present. THE case against M. A. Aziz charged with obtaining 43,000 cigars under false representation was called at the Windsor police court on Monday last and adjourned until to-day (Thursday). W. S. Fuller, the assignee of Aziz's estate, is a witness on the case. THE annual meeting of the Presbyterian congregation was held in the school room on Thursday afternoon and was well attended. Mr. W. B. Laws presided. The reports of the different schemes of the church were placed before the meeting and showed all departments to be in a flourishing condition. All the old officers of the congregation were re-elected. SPECIAL Saturday sale of men's suits, see window.—SWIFT'S Clearance Sale. It was expected that the new Trinity Church would have been opened ere this, but owing to the failure of the window makers to have the windows delivered when promised, work is at a standstill. The seats and other furnishings are here but cannot be installed until the windows are put in, and it will be several weeks yet before the edifice is opened for worship. ONE man in a hundred reads a book; ninety-nine in a hundred read a newspaper. Nearly a century ago when the press, which is now a spreading oak, was a green twig, Thomas Jefferson said he would rather live in a country with newspapers and without a government than in a country with a government and without newspapers. Resolve to say a good word for the Guide-Advocate. THE Ontario Corn Show will be held in Windsor, on Feb. 11th to 14th. Prize lists may be had by writing John Hunter, R. R. No. 3, Petrolia. Special prizes for Lambton corn will be given, for which purposes the following donations have been received:—From F. P. Pardee, M. P., Hon. W. J. Hanna, Dr. C. O. Fairbank, D. N. Sinclair and Wm. English $5 each, and A. D. Colter $2, total $27.

PATRONIZE home industry. Convert the heathen at home first. ABOUT the only perfect thing in this world is a perfect nuisance. WE don't care much what others think of us provided they think something nice. POSTMASTER LUCKHAM was confined to the house with illness for several days this week. THE recent census shows 642 poets working at manual labor. In these prosperous days even poets can earn a living. FOR special Saturday selling, 2 lots of hose, 5 pairs for $1.00, heavy medium wool.—SWIFT'S Clearance Sale. "DON'T" some of the decorations on women's hats amuse you? "Yes; the plumes, especially, tickle me very much."

FASHION has been declined as a peculiar influence which makes a woman drape herself in a horse blanket and think she looks stunning. A BILL will be brought before the Dominion parliament now in session making it an offence to use the Union Jack as an advertising medium. THERE will be morning service in Trinity Church next Sunday and a celebration of the Holy Communion. The sermon will be especially for young people. LAQUERETTE for staining and varnishing at one operation. TRY a pin on a piece of furniture and we will refund your money if you are not delighted.—THE HOWDEN EST. JUDGE MACWATT has notified the municipal clerks of the county that he will hold the assessors and clerks responsible if all names not entered in the assessment roll and voter's list in full. A NEW YORK preacher says nothing can get as cold as the human heart. Give, parson! the human feet (four wife's, 1 fiancee) can beat the heart for real frigidity. THERE is nothing new in keeping the vital organs alive after they have been taken from the body. Many a man who had lost his heart is amazed to find that it beats harder than ever. REV. R. STEVENSON will give a chart talk to the members and friends of the Epworth League in Methodist Church, on Tuesday evening next, Feb. 4th, at 8 o'clock. All cordially invited. TORONTO is to have the greatest religious publishing house in the world within two years. The Methodist Book Room board will put up a million dollar building on the site at the southeast corner of Queen and John streets.

A SCHOOL teacher of Talbotville lost her purse containing $15 and advertised a suitable reward for its recovery. The purse was returned to the postmaster at Talbotville with the $15 gone, a slip of paper on the inside contained the words "Kept suitable reward." THERE was a fair-sized audience in the Methodist church on Thursday evening to hear Dr. F. R. Eccles, of London, deliver his lecture on the Holy Land. The lecture was exceedingly interesting and full of information of Palestine and its people, and was listened to with rapt attention by those present. THE Retail Merchants' Association of Ontario are circulating for signatures among the retail trade two petitions, one asking that the fee for the inspection of scales be borne by the Government, the other the amount of laborer's wages exempt from garnishee be reduced from $25 to $10. The former is meeting with considerable favor. ALUMINUM kitchen utensils at right prices. This is the coming thing and is as cheap as enamelled ware in the end.—THE N. B. HOWDEN EST. THE heavy rains during the past few months, especially last fall, which left numerous muddy ponds for hours on some of the side streets, and caused the frequent flooding of cellars, fully demonstrated the fact of the inability of some of the drains to carry off the water as rapidly as they should. The council of 1913 should immediately consider the matter of cleaning and enlarging some of the drains. Two Irishmen were once discussing the respective merits of the sun and moon. "Sure," said Patrick, "the sun gives a stronger light than the moon." "True," said Murphy, "but the moon's the more sensible." "How do you prove that?" says Pat. "Aisy," responded Murphy, "for the moon shines in the night when we need it, and the sun comes out in broad daylight, when a one-eyed man can see without it."

BURGERS entered the Watford post-office on Sunday night but got nothing more for their work than a few cents change and a few stamps, as everything of value is always placed in the vault before closing the office. Entrance was made by breaking the glass in the rear door and then forcing the inner door. It is supposed that the burglars were frightened away on hearing that parties living near had been aroused. The work was evidently done by amateurs. THE ladies of No. 95 L.O.B.A., gave their first annual social evening in the Orange Hall Thursday night, and are to be congratulated on the success of this their first undertaking. The Hall was comfortably fitted, and every one present enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. A program of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and speeches was given, after which a splendid spread was partaken of. Mr. R. Brock filled the chair in his usual acceptable style.

THE A.Y.P.A. met at Mrs. Newell's on Tuesday evening. MR. J. F. ELLIOT has sold his lot on Ontario Street to the Government. A LENGTHY letter from Mr. W. E. Fitzgerald came to hand too late for this issue. THE W. of W. and I. O. F. each passed a resolution of sympathy to Bro. Louks on the loss of his brother. ART clothes, model suits and overcoats, regular $24.00, $22.00, $20.00, sale price $16.50, $14.00.—SWIFT'S Clearance Sale. JOHN H. ANDERSON, reeve of Oil Springs, was elected Warden of the County at Tuesday's session of the Council. DOWDING will hold an auction sale on Saturday, Feb. 1st, 1913, of his entire stock of clocks, watches, jewelry, rings, fancy goods, etc. JANET McLEAV, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McLeay, of Atlanta, Georgia, has been chosen as one of the three most beautiful children in the city. A MEETING to appoint delegates to the Liberal Convention will be held in J. McKecher's store on Friday, Jan. 31, at 8 p. m. All interested will kindly attend. AT their meeting Tuesday night the Chosen Friends passed a resolution of sympathy with Mrs. A. J. Davis on account of her bereavement. Lunch was served after the business ended. COURT Watford I. O. F. held its annual meeting last week. Past High Chief M. G. Mitchell was present. After installing the officers he gave an interesting address showing the many advantages of belonging to this order. THE Tuesday evening services in connection with the Epworth League are well attended and the excellent papers given each week show the deep interest taken in these meetings by the members. A cordial invitation is extended to all. A VERY pleasant social evening was spent in connection with the Epworth League on Tuesday evening. The program was varied, consisting of vocal and piano solos, a quartette, a reading and a debate. After the program refreshments were served. A CONVENTION of the Liberals of East Lambton will be held in Watford on Thursday, Feb. 6th, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the riding in the Dominion Parliament. Prominent speakers from the House of Commons will address the convention after the business is transacted. REV. STEVENSON will have charge of Epworth League service in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th. The subject, "Christ's Second Coming," will be illustrated by means of charts. Mr. Stevenson will understand the subject and the evening promises to be instructive as well as interesting. We hope all who can will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this address. MEN'S old tweed pants for $1.00.—SWIFT'S Clearance Sale. THE annual meeting of the Lambton Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held at Wyoming on Thursday. The auditors' report placed before the meeting shows that the Company is in a very flourishing condition, having assets to the amount of $118,804.35, with practically no liabilities. Among the assets is $10,918.86 cash and $17,000.00 a loan to the Township of Brooke. The shareholders are to be congratulated on this excellent showing which is largely due to the careful and efficient management of the officers. WE would like to impress upon our readers that we want the news and would be pleased for anyone who knows any to bring or send it in. We aim to publish the best small paper in the province, but it could be made still better if we received a little more assistance from our readers. A man said to us the other day, "I take two other papers in this district, and there is more in yours than the two others combined." What would he say if everybody gave us all the news in their possession? A TOWN subscriber sends us the following:—"A prominent member of the Congregational Church received a letter the other day stating that he would be the recipient of fifteen thousand dollars within a week or so. It announced further that on the death of an aged aunt, now critically ill, he would fall heir to a quarter million. The aunt's property is worth a million, but this will be divided with a sister living in California. The Congregational Church has now every reason to rejoice in the prospect of wiping her debt clean into oblivion."

The usual mid-week services will be held in Trinity church, every Wednesday during Lent as follows:— Ash Wednesday—The Rector. Feb. 12—Rev. S. Hardy, Rector of the Church of the Redeemer, London. McCracken, of Wyoming. Good Friday—The Rector. Easter Day—Holy Community at 8.00 and 9.15 a.m. Evening service as usual.

PREBYTERIAN CONCERT SERIES.

Third Concert Wednesday Evening February 12th.

COMING—One of the best entertainments that has visited Watford in a long time is the next Lyceum Course number, the Bergelt Concert Company, of Chicago. Miss Evelyn Bergelt is one of the best eclecticians in the business and is also a great cartoonist, drawing her pictures and at the same time entertaining her audience with appropriate stories. Much of her work is comedy and the Redpath Bureau absolutely guarantees that Miss Bergelt is one of the best entertainers on the stage. With her is Miss Ethel Freeman, one of the most talented violinists in the lyceum world to-day and her playing is sure to be one of the hits of the concert season in Watford. Miss Isabelle Hollinger, the pianist with the company, has studied in Europe and is admittedly an artist that will appeal to all students of the pianoforte. The vocalist with this attraction is Horace Victor Benjamin, who has one of the finest baritone voices before the public. It is expected that the largest crowd of the season will be present on this occasion and everyone is advised to order seats early. Don't forget the date, Wednesday, February 12th. The plan is now open at McLaren's drug store.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. T. G. Mitchell was in Toronto this week. Mr. Norman Rivers returned to Regina Wednesday. Miss Agnes Williams is spending a few days with friends in Forest and Kerch. Reeve Stapleford is attending the session of the County Council in Sarnia this week. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell, Victoria, B.C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Mitchell. On Tuesday Mr. W. E. Fitzgerald attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Jane Hobbs, of London township. The Rev. T. M. Mead was in Court-right this week attending the ordination of the Baptist minister at that place. J. A. Harper and bride have returned to Provost, Alta., after spending their honeymoon with R. O. Spalding and other friends in this vicinity. Misses Helen and Grace Ward, of Chicago, are spending a few weeks with relatives and friends in town on their return from the Stonemen's convention in Toronto. Mr. J. W. Ward, of the Consolidated Stone Co., Chicago, called on relatives, Mrs. Brent and Miss Nesbitt, on his return from the Stonemen's Convention in Toronto, Friday. Dr. N. J. Lindsay, of Calgary, was a Watford visitor on Tuesday and spent the day calling on old friends and noting the numerous changes since he left here nearly thirty years ago. The doctor always looks poor in the house now used as the Methodist parsonage. His many old friends were exceeding glad to see him.

Congregational Church Anniversary Services

On Sunday, 26th inst., anniversary services were held in the Congregational Church, Watford. At 11 a. m. Rev. R. Stevenson, the pastor, preached an appropriate sermon from Deut. 15: 20, "Year by Year." In the evening at 7 o'clock the church was well filled with an intelligent audience, and the pastor, choosing his text from I Chron. 22: 14, delivered a weighty sermon on the subject, "Man's work compared with God's work." In the course of the sermon, Rev. Mr. Stevenson emphasized the fact that even great things done for God always look poor in the sight of noble souls. He said "Whatever a man is, he is poor by the side of what God is. Whatever work a man does it is poor by the side of God's work. Whatever a man gives is poor by the side of what God gives. An example of this was clearly shown in the preparation made by King David for the building of the Temple in Jerusalem. David made one of the most illustrious and magnificent contributions ever made to the kingdom of God, yet, he considered it meagre and unsatisfactory. What is the moral taught in the lesson? If, when we are at our best, we are poor by the side of God, then let us not be less than at our best. If our finest workmanship is poor beside God's, let us take care that we never accomplish less than our best. And if our largest gift is small compared with God's gifts to us, then let us not give less than our largest and our best." The attendance was good at both services, and the collections amounted to about fifty dollars. On Monday evening, 27th inst., the anniversary tea meeting and concert was a huge success. Everybody seemed satisfied with the good things on the table, and the programme which followed was declared O. K. The masterful way in which the various pieces were rendered by the town orchestra showed considerable talent on the part of the players. The Zion quartette ably sustained their well-known record for beautiful singing, and the duets sung by Misses Lou and Ida Richards will long be remembered by all who were present. The money raised at this anniversary, including collections on Sunday, admission to tea meeting and special offering taken at concert, amounted to $238.25. The debt on the Congregational church, occasioned by the rebuilding after the fire, is now a thing of the past. The pastor and deacons extend their heartiest thanks to one and all who contributed in any way toward the clearing of the debt.

HOCKEY.

The local O. H. A. team went to Ingersoll on Monday to play the schedule game, but failed to make good. Ingersoll winning the game by a score of 17 to 3. The ice was good, although somewhat thin. During the first half our boys got 2 goals to their opponents' four, but in the last half Ingersoll resorted to very rough playing, and showed their inability to play good, clean hockey, and some of the Watford boys got badly battered up by being hit with the sticks in the hands of the Ingersoll players, and this disabled them to such an extent that they could not pull off much combination work, and had to play on the defensive. Watford boys were greatly handicapped by the large sheet of ice, many shots being sent from a long distance off the goal. The Ingersoll players are the heaviest team in the group, and showed their size and weight fine in their style of playing. The line-up:— Watford. Ingersoll. Trenouth.....goal..... Todd Rogers.....point..... Jackson Lamb.....cover..... Moulton Dunlop.....center..... Cline Dadds.....cover..... McDougall Brown.....left..... Henderson Hicks.....right..... Davey Referee—Lorne Fraser, Paris.

The West and East Peewees played a game on Saturday morning on Fowler's rink. At half time the score was 2-1 in favor of the West Enders. In the last half the West Enders gained up ending with a score of 11-4 in favor of the West enders. The line-up:— S. Bruce.....goal..... N. Trenouth B. Trenouth.....point..... J. Irwin E. From Old Subscribers.

R. Gibson, M.D., of Moose Jaw writes:—"We are having quite a cold snap here just now but not much snow. It seems to be moderating to-day. They keep on laying brick here with a fire pot beside each man, anxious to have buildings up before spring. Moose Jaw is likely to boom this year. It has more than doubled in size since I came west."

The Daughters of the Empire in Amherstburg, are installing a piano in the new Carnegie library in that town, while the Women's Institute are installing chairs in the auditorium.

Those cousins out rest—or back east—on don't hear from them as often now. You each have new friends, new interests. But after all, blood is thicker than water and your picture and the pictures of the other members of your family would be welcomed by them—especially at this time of the year.

ENT ASTHMA. A most characteristic of this debilitating disease is the persistence with which attacks come to sap away and leave the sufferer in a state of continual exhaustion. No attention can be taken than that at hand a supply of Dr. J. D. Asthma Remedy, famous as the most potent remedy for eradicating asthma from the tender air passages.

Freed From That Weak, Languid, Always Tired Feeling, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Thessalon, Ont.—“I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a blessing to women, and I cannot speak highly enough of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others.”—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, Thessalon, Ont.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Peterborough Examiner.—Put them down—under the ground—telegraph, telephone and electric wires of all kinds. It is the only way that will prevent the agency of the greatest public utility from being a gigantic nuisance in the way of obstruction of the streets, a menace of fires and a danger to life.

In order to encourage a flourishing Michigan industry the legislature has reduced the trial fee of divorce cases. It used to be $7 for a contested case, now it is $3. A pro confesso case which used to cost $4 now costs only $2. The fee for starting a divorce suit has also been reduced, from $5 to $3. Result—one divorce to every eight marriages in Wayne county and the ratio steadily growing.

Striking Evidence of Canadian progress is shown in the customs returns for the year just closed. For the nine months of the past fiscal year $85,296,039.00 were collected, compared with $63,670,058.00 for the corresponding year ending December 31, 1911. This gives an increase of $21,625,981.00, which is a remarkable evidence of the wave of prosperity which is now sweeping Canada. At the present rate of progress the revenue from customs alone for the fiscal year ending March 31 next, will be in the neighborhood of $115,000,000.00, or, in round figures, an increase over the last fiscal year of $25,000,000.00. For the month of December the customs receipts for the Dominion were $8,770,255.00, an increase over the corresponding month of 1911 of $1,436,906.

Ontario spent for colonization roads last year about $850,000, and on bridges about $250,000. Local municipalities spent about 1,110,000 days of statute labor, and $1,400,000 in cash. The advisability of doing away with statute labor altogether has been frequently urged, yet a great many municipalities stick to it. In 1911 the expenditure under the highway improvement act was 711,000, of which the province contributed one-third.

The International Peace Committee having in charge the matter of arranging a suitable peace memorial to mark the one hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking peoples, has presented a lengthy report in which, among other things, they suggest that a tunnel be constructed from Windsor to Detroit for public use. The committee recommends strongly that the Canadian-American frontier and border cities be beneficiaries of a permanent memorial. The "Year Book" issued by the national committee outlines an extensive scheme of international boulevards, parks and driveways, with a tunnel under the Detroit River for the use of the public. In speaking of the suggestion that there be international co-operation to put through the plan, the book suggests "That there be erected at such of the local points as the Niagara frontier and the Detroit frontier, permanent monuments, such as water gates, on either side of the Detroit River and border monuments along the United States-Canada frontier of 3,840 miles."

FOR BURNS—ZAM-BUK

Stops Pain at Once

This is the verdict of all who have tried Zam-Buk. The woman in the home knows best its value. A burn from the stove, from a flat-iron, or a hot pan, is instantly soothed by Zam-Buk. When the little ones fall and cut or scratch themselves, Zam-Buk stops the pain and incidentally, their crying. The best proof of this is the fact that children who have once had Zam-Buk applied come for it again.

For more serious burns, too, it is unequalled. Mr. John Johnston, of 734 South Marks Street, Fort William, a moulder in Coppis Foundry, says:—"Some time ago I burned the top of my foot severely by dropping some molten iron from a ladle I was carrying. A large hole was burned through my shoe and into the top of my foot. I was taken home, and Zam-Buk was applied to the burn directly. It was surprising what relief this balm afforded. The burn was so deep and so serious that it required careful attention, but Zam-Buk prevented other complications arising, and as it was daily applied, soothed the pains and allayed the inflammation. In the course of two weeks the hole burned in my foot had been quite healed."

Mr. W. B. Gibson, of Belleville, writes:—"We have tried Zam-Buk often on cuts and sores, and I think there is nothing that can equal it."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Decision on a Will.

When Mrs. Jane McGill, a widow, of Ekfrid Township, Middlesex County, died last January, she divided by her will a small estate among her six daughters. To five of them she left small sums totalling $130, but to her daughter, Margaret, she left $645. In it is said that this was done because the mother thought she could not get along as well as the other girls. At any rate the bequest to Margaret was guarded by a provision that the executors should retain control of the principal and pay to Margaret the interest until such time as she could use the bequest "providently and well." The executors presumed to act in accordance with the terms of the will and refused to pay over the principal to Miss Margaret. Having become 21 years of age, Miss Margaret brought suit to recover her legacy from the full amount, which is now $869.52. Justice Kelley, of Toronto, gave judgment at Osgoode Hall in the young lady's favor. He Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Until expelled and the system cleared of them, the child cannot regain its health. The body of the late Bruce Rodgers, the Kerwood boy, who was accidentally drowned in the wilds of Northern Ontario last fall, was brought home for interment on Saturday, the funeral taking place from Tanton's parlors to Strathroy cemetery. Rev. Mr. Kannawin officiated and the casket was carried to its last resting place by Messrs. Smith, Fuller, Pole, Denning, Fisher and de Gex. The body was recovered from the water shortly after the accident and temporarily buried near the scene of the fatality—said to be more than a week's journey from the nearest railway—until instructions could be secured from his parents.—Strathroy Age.

How to be Miserable.

In the first place, if you want to be miserable, be selfish, think all the time of yourself and of your own things. Don't care for anybody else. Have no feeling for anybody but yourself. Never think of enjoying the satisfaction of seeing others happy, but rather, if you see a smiling face, be jealous lest another should enjoy what you have not. Envy everyone who is better off in any respect than yourself; think unkindly toward them and speak lightly of them. Be constantly afraid lest some one should encroach upon your rights; be watchful of it and if any one comes near your things, snap at him like a dog. Contend earnestly for everything that is your own though it may not be worth a pin, for your "rights" are just as much concerned as though it were a pound of gold. Never yield a point. Be very sensitive, and take everything that is said to you in playfulness in the most serious manner. Be jealous of your friends lest they should not think enough of you; and if at any time they should seem to neglect you, put the worst construction upon their conduct you can. Thus you will keep yourself unhappy.

SOMETHING MORE THAN A PURGATIVE
To purge is the only effect of many pills now on the market. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are more than a purgative. They strengthen the stomach, where other pills weaken it. They cleanse the blood by regulating the liver and kidneys, and they stimulate where other pill compounds depress. Nothing of an injurious nature, used for merely purgative powers, enters into their composition.

NOTABLE SURRENDERS
SCENES WHICH STAND OUT IN THE ANNALS OF WAR.

The Meeting of the Victor and the Vanquished is a Dramatic Moment and Has Been Marked by Episodes Which Show the Calibre of the Great Warriors—Napoleon Surrendered in State.

In the story of war there is no chapter more thrilling than that which tells how, a generation ago, a comparative handful of Turks held the village of Plevna for five months against a quarter of a million of Russia's picked soldiery.

Again and again the Muscovites hurled themselves against Osman Digma's trenches and redoubts, to be swept back again and again, leaving thousands of slain behind them. And it was only when hunger and disease had this band of heroes in their grip that the gallant Turkish leader made his desperate and historic effort to beat his way through the enemy's lines—a "forlorn hope" which ended, as it was bound to end, in failure.

But not until the Turks were surrounded by the Muscovites in overwhelming numbers and Osman himself was seriously wounded, did the white flag at last give the signal of surrender. When, later, the vanquished hero was led before the Russian Czar, carrying himself as proudly in defeat as in victory, Alexander, with a cordial hand-grip, gave him this generous greeting: "Sir, I congratulate you on your fine defence. It was one of the most splendid feats in the history of war."

It was with still a bolder front that Mahmud met his conqueror, after his Jewish army had been wiped out of existence on the banks of the Athara River. When, his hands tied behind his back, he was conducted into the presence of the Sirdar, it was with his head carried high and a mien of defiance. "Are you Mahmud?" asked the Sirdar. "Yes, was the answer; and I am the same as you." "Why did you come to make war here?" "I came," answered Mahmud, proudly, "because like you I was told to come."

For five months, in 1855, the Turks under General Williams, held the mountain fortress of Kara against a Russian army more than three times their number, and only when food and ammunition both were exhausted, and further defence became hopeless, did the brave English leader even think of surrender. Then it was that the Russian General, Mouravieff, wrote to him one of the most generous messages ever sent to a defeated enemy. "General Williams," he wrote, "you have made yourself a name in history; and posterity will stand amazed at the endurance, the courage, the discipline which this siege has called forth in the remains of an army. Let us arrange a capitulation which will satisfy the demands of war without disgracing humanity."

When General Cronje, after his brave fight on the bank of the Modder River, was compelled to surrender to Lord Roberts, with 4,000 of his army the bitterness, as he afterwards said, was taken out of his humiliation by the gracious words addressed to him by his victor, who, with a warm hand-clasp, said to him: "Commandant Cronje, you have indeed made a gallant defence, which will win the admiration of the world."

The first Napoleon, after the crowning disaster of Waterloo, finding escape impossible, surrendered to Captain Maitland, of the Bellerophon, on July 15th, 1815. As he stepped on board, his breast ablaze with decorations, and escorted by an imposing retinue of officers and servants, it was almost with the air of a conqueror that he addressed the captain: "Sir, I come to place myself under the protection of your King and your laws."

Much more abject was the downfall of his successor, the third Napoleon, that September day in 1870, when he was compelled to resign both crown and sword. Stranded in Sedan by an overwhelming host of the enemy, 50,000 of his men dead or taken prisoners, his army demoralized under a deluge of death from five hundred guns, he realized that the end had come. Then, with the white flag of defeat fluttering over his citadel, he wrote to the Prussian King this pathetic note: "Brother—Not able to die at the head of my troops, I place my sword at your Majesty's feet.—Napoleon."

But France was not yet beaten. Marshall Bazaine still had a large army under his command; but he, too, was in a perilous plight, for he was shift up in Metz, by a German force as great as his own. When sortie after sortie was repulsed with heavy loss and he realized that escape was impossible, he tried to save his army by surrendering Metz. But to his overtures Bismark returned the haughty answer, "I occupy France with more than a million men, and I make no peace with a marshal. The surrender must be unconditional."

And on October 27th Bazaine capitulated, and 173,000 men laid down their arms and became prisoners of war. For Bazaine a worse fate was reserved; for he was later tried by court-martial and sentenced to degradation and death—a sentence which was commuted to one of twenty years' imprisonment.

Economical to the Last.
There was once a Scotsman who was down in the world without hope, with only threepence in his pocket. He decided on suicide and, entering a chemist's shop, asked for threepennyworth of arsenic. "What do you want it for?" demanded the chemist. "Twopence," said the Scotsman.

Threshed Out 40 Bushels Wheat to the Acre

J. Sercombe, of Theford, Ont., writes: "I am sending you a photograph of my wheat field which I think shows a very good crop indeed for it yielded 21 loads of sheaves on 9 acres and threshed out 40 bushels to the acre. In growing it we used 200 lbs. of Homestead Bone Black Fertilizer without any other manure. We also had another field of 20 acres which threshed out 34 bushels to the acre."

Homestead Fertilizers are manufactured and sold by the Michigan Carbon Works, Detroit, Michigan, who will send free to any farmer their book on fertilizers with a handsome calendar postage paid. They want agents where they are not now represented. Address, Michigan Carbon Works, Postoffice Drawer 814-A, Detroit, Michigan, asking for terms.

BABY WOOD DUCKS.

The Journey to the Water When They Leave Their Lofty Nests.

Somebody, Burroughs, I believe, said "the notion that the mother duck takes the young birds one by one in her beak and carries them to the creek is doubtless erroneous." I could not see how else it could be done, writes a contributor to the Youth's Companion, and I spent several valuable days of several different years in trying to find out how it was done.

The thing that puzzled me was how the mother wood duck (Alx sponsa) managed to get her numerous progeny down from their lofty cradle and upon the water without injuring them. I was not alone in my ignorance; some very eminent ornithologists have wondered about the matter as well.

After a five mile pull one hot June day I let my boat lie in the shade of some lofty cottonwoods that grew on the lake shore, while I lay back and watched the play of shadows on the calm water.

A splash near by attracted my attention, and I looked round to see a mother wood duck just alighting. There was a little one by her side, but I did not see how it got there. In a moment the old duck rose, circled a few times to gain altitude, and made direct for a hole in a large dead tree a few rods away. The hole was at least sixty feet from the ground. The duck squeezed her body through the opening and disappeared. She came back in a few moments with a duckling in her mouth. After resting for a moment she came sailing down and placed this baby beside the first. One after another she carried down the entire brood of eleven little yellow and black fluffy balls. They flapped their tiny wings and fluttered in the water as if that were not the first time they had ever been in swimming.

The mother duck returned once more to the tree to make sure that she had not overlooked one, came back, placed herself at the head of the procession, called softly to her babies and swam away, followed by the entire family, in single file.

WATFORD, JANUARY 31, 1913.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

One of the latest flowers to bloom is a Canadian Coffin Combine. The aim of the combine is to get bigger dividends upon their investments by charging higher prices for coffins. Canadian people are now pursued through life, but henceforth even the grave is no escape. Where will it end?

To a correspondent who asks for the pronunciation of the word Xmas the Montreal Gazette says the answer might be given that there is no such word. This would be quite correct. To show how absurd it is to write the word Christmas Xmas, it is only necessary to try the same so-called abbreviation on some other words, for instance, Xian for Christian. Nobody would ever think of doing this. Then why should an attempt be made to make X stand for the Redeemer of the world.

Accept the inevitable fact that you are growing older every year. To become old is not necessarily to grow "old." There are young old people, as well as old young people. Don't brood over the past; it is gone. So let it go. The only proper use of the past is to get a future out of it. Live a useful life. Do something for somebody. Do it now.

By unanimous vote the Saskatchewan Legislature on Saturday passed an important amendment to the Education Act defining the obligations of Separate School supporters in Saskatchewan. Henceforth, all members of a religious minority that has established a separate school will not be taxed for public school support.

Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, has given notice of a bill which he will introduce providing that the sum of ten million dollars be appropriated for the purpose of aiding agriculture. The resolution follows:—"That it is expedient to provide that a sum not exceeding ten million dollars be appropriated and paid out of the consolidated revenue fund of Canada during the period of ten years, beginning with the year ending March 31st, 1914, for the purpose of aiding and advancing the farming industry by instruction in agriculture, including the work carried on by veterinary colleges.

The Meat Problem

A son of the great railroad builder, James J. Hill, himself a man of affairs, states as an active cause of high food prices that there are 30,000,000 more people in the U. S. than when the census of 1900 was taken, 11,000,000 less beef cattle and 5,000,000 less hogs and sheep. In other words, meat prices present a mere question of demand and supply. With 30,000,000 more people looking for meat, and 16,000,000 less animals to be slaughtered to meet the demand, the price of meat advances. This leaves crooked manipulation of meat supply entirely out of account. Nevertheless it presents a leading cause of high prices.

The cure for this condition is the raising of more stock. One of the causes of shortage in the supply of cattle, hogs and sheep is the cutting up of the great cattle ranges and large holdings adapted to profitable stock raising. This land subdivision is conducive of better farming conditions generally. It encourages scientific farm methods and greatly increases the ability of the land to support families of men, women and children. It is certainly a step in advance.

But how is the resulting shortage in beef, mutton and pork to be supplied? Either the supply will continue to maintain an inverse ratio to the increasing population of the country, or a back-to-farm movement will come as a result of aggravated conditions in the cities. This back-to-the-land movement will be attended by intelligent, intensive methods in which limited stock raising will have a well-defined place in the farm economy. In addition to that, it may be later discovered that beef and pork are not as essential to the human ration as they have been supposed to be. At present the slaughter pen is apparently as necessary to human contentment as the cemetery.

FODDER

By Department of Agriculture, Petrolia

In a previous article we made mention that some foods are rich in protein and some in carbohydrates and fats. Such foods as alfalfa hay, oil cake meal, cotton seed meal and pea meal are rich in protein, while corn, wheat, silage and roots are poor in protein but rich in carbohydrates. For economical feeding it is necessary to have a balance between these two constituents of the fodder and about 6 times as much carbohydrates and fats as there is of protein, is the best proportion.

Succession is another requisite in winter feeding and the following ration combines all the various requirements in such a way as to make it approach an ideal daily allowance for a good sized dairy cow:

- Clover Hay.....10 lbs
- Roots.....30 lbs
- Silage.....40 lbs
- Brum.....4 lbs
- Oats.....3 lbs
- Oil Cake.....1 lb

Out of this 88 lbs, there will only be 27 lbs of dry matter. The remainder is water which makes the food palatable and resemble summer conditions.

Roots or silage are almost indispensable in winter feeding but where they are not available, wheat-bran, perhaps, is the cheapest substitute.

W. H. PORTER.

Mr. Armstrong on the Transportation of Fruit.

The Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons at its opening session on Thursday decided to make a thorough investigation of the production and marketing of fruit. The member for East Lambton spoke on the matter as follows:—

J. E. Armstrong (East Lambton) said that a great improvement could be made in the methods of transportation of fruit, and called attention to the fact that Lambton County this last fall shipped out over 60,000 barrels of apples. Yet enormous quantities were left on the ground to rot for lack of proper transportation facilities. He called attention to the fact that many carloads of apples were handled so carelessly in transportation that the hoops of the barrels were broken and they arrived at their destination with the sides swelled, leaving the tops open. They were examined before they left by Government inspectors, but were in a damaged condition when they reached their destination. When it came to shipping apples or perishable fruit in any form in the refrigerator cars, the railroads were unable to supply anything like the quantity needed. This had prevented many shipments from Lambton County. Small shippers were also very much handicapped by the fact that the roads would only handle apples in carload lots. Mr. Armstrong said that he had himself shipped twelve carloads of apples to jam factories, placing the fruit loose in cars. He purchased them at from 15 to 20 cents per hundred pounds, delivered at the cars. By the time freight was added the factories paid from 30 to 35 cents a hundred. He had made no profit on this himself but did it to assist the farmers in getting rid of their surplus. There was no attempt to separate the fruit into classes but most of it was sound.

Mr. Armstrong also took up the question of demonstration farms and said that there should be one established in every county in Canada. It was impossible to expect the provinces to furnish sufficient farms. The Federal Government should take lead of this work. He also advocated furnishing pure seed and in greater quantities to the farmers.

COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. John Anderson, Oil Springs, Elected Warden.

When the Lambton County Council met at the County Buildings yesterday the wardenship had been apparently decided without question, the only name before the council being the reeve of Oil Springs, Mr. John Anderson, who was the unanimous choice. Mr. Anderson is well-known throughout the county, and is a prominent oil operator. He has represented Oil Springs for a number of years.

Good roads will be the subject of some action in all likelihood at this session. There is no lack of interest in good roads but the trouble is that the cost of construction of roads is very high in the south part of the County, down in the clay, and the demand for roads principally comes from there. The north part of the County is not enthusiastic. They can get gravel cheap, and do not snap at the idea of paying a share of Dawn and Sombra expensive roads in return for some cheap construction in the north.

Alvinston, Jan. 29.—The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Walkerdine, relict of the late David Walkerdine, held from the family residence on con. 5, Brooke, today to the Baptist Church, was largely attended. Judging demonstration of the East Brooke Farmers' Club will be held at Mr. Jas. Hair's on Tuesday, February 4, at 1.30 o'clock. Mr. Porter and the District Representative of the Department of Agriculture of Middlesex, will take charge of meeting.

There are very few people who live to see the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage, but there is a happy couple living on the 12th line of Brooke, who have passed this milestone. We refer to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lucas, who, on Sunday last, January 26th, celebrated their diamond wedding, spending the day quietly and thankfully at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas were married sixty years ago in St. Mary's Church, Warwick, by the Rev. James Mockridge, and

In memory of Miss Iva May Clark, who died Sunday, January 12th, 1913.

In Warwick Tuesday morning
Many eyes were sad and dim,
Many hearts were aching sore,
As they sang the funeral hymn.
Little schoolmates too had gathered
Around the corpse, with tearful eyes,
And the game kept her longer
From her home beyond the skies.
Dearest, Iva, we do miss thee
Each day at prayer we kneel,
And those long, long days of sorrow,
Your absence keen we feel.
And bright angels stood there waiting
And they waited not in vain,
Schoolmate Iva now has joined them
And left this world in pain.
See has left a blank behind her,
She has left a vacant room,
She with all her youth and beauty,
Now lies sleeping in the tomb.

since that time have lived a peaceful and happy life on the farm where they now reside. No doubt they have had their share of the ups and downs of this life, and in their younger days met with many of the trials of the pioneer, but with indomitable perseverance they overcame all drawbacks and were rewarded with a fair share of this world's goods. Both of them are still hale and hearty and are enjoying life to the full. Rev. S. P. Irwin, rector of St. James church, had the honor of dining with them on their anniversary day.

The regular meeting of the North Brooke Literary Society was held in Chambers Presbyterian church on Friday evening, January, 24th. The president, Mr. Archie A. Fisher, acted as chairman. Instead of the regular debate the programme consisted of speeches, readings, solos, instrumentals, violin and mouth organ selections, etc. The captives for the evening were Miss Mary Fisher and Mr. Nairn McVicar. Miss Fisher was ably assisted by Miss Minnie Walker, Mrs. Roy McGregor, Miss Hazel Dolbear, Ray Smith, Cameron Corestine and James Dempsey. Mr. McVicar's assistants were Mrs. W. Shugg, Miss Ada McGugan, Archie Walker, Archie Lindsay, Mr. Hamilton, Dan McIntyre. At the close of this programme, Rev. J. Ure Stewart gave a very pleasing address, after which the judge, Mr. Alfred Dar-

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nanale E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor, and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular, and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night, and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was reading of a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system, and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor, and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which his profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarhozone, Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Dark of the Honeymoon

Showing the Difficulty of Working in Double Harness

By M. F. ARCHIBALD

A newly married couple have often been compared to a team of horses yoked for the first time in double harness. It is an excellent comparison. The start is made when the wedding journey is over and the couple enter upon the routine of ordinary life. Their expectation usually is that the billing and cooing will last so long as they live. But lovers are elevated upon an emotional plain that cannot be maintained any more than one can listen to music or look at beautiful works of art or read poetry day in and day out without doing anything else.

On starting upon a united journey they find that one has been accustomed to go at one pace, the other at another. One has one gait, the other a different one. But it is the coming down from the antenuptial roseate condition that often brings about the breaking in to traveling double on life's turnpike.

Phil Ormsby and Rosalind Scrimser returned from their wedding journey to enter their cozy little home. Rosalind was nineteen and Phil was twenty-eight. Rosalind was at an age where a newly married person, especially a woman, is not prepared for a sudden descent from the courtship condition.

Phil was naturally practical and old for his age. The season of preparation for the wedding had come upon him when he was actively engaged in business, and the two together had worn upon him. Then came the honeymoon, and, though at first it brought a delightful rest, before it was finished he desired to get back to some important matters which he had left unfinished. The result was that when he found himself at home he was pleased to return to a normal condition both in his private and business life. The first day on coming home from business he greeted his wife with just a trifle less of a lover's exuberance than he had been in the habit of showing, and, throwing himself in an easy chair, took up an evening newspaper and began to look it over.

His wife eyed him askance. They had entered upon the collapse of the courtship honeymoon period, the beginning of the real matrimonial life. Unfortunately both had not reached the portal of their new companionship at the same moment. As in the case of a span of newly yoked horses, where the one has settled down to a trot while the other is still carcoling—so had Phil entered upon the affairs of ordinary life, while Rosalind had not left a world of romance.

Phil went on reading his newspaper. He was somewhat tired, but this was not the prime course of his disposition to glance over the news of the day. He half expected that his young wife would say whatever she might have to say, while he read, but she didn't. Finally he looked up. There was a cloud on Rosalind's face no bigger than a man's hand.

"Anything especial happened during the day?" he asked.

"A great deal has happened, but you have been so occupied with your newspaper that I supposed you took no interest in your home."

"What's gone wrong?"

"My dear, how can you say that? Anything that concerns you interests me."

"So I thought, until you came home the first evening after our return from our wedding journey and took more interest in the world's news than in your own household."

Phil didn't reply to this at once. For months he had been very much pleased at any reproach for any inattention to his love. Now he wondered why this one annoyed him.

"Tell me, sweetheart, what has gone wrong today?"

"Oh, nothing that you need worry about. I dare say the cares of business have been quite enough for you to endure. I can bear the rest."

"Tell me one thing you have had to bear."

"Well, in the first place, I telephoned the butcher to send a porterhouse steak and he sent a sirloin."

"That's too bad. What else?"

"There are mice in the house. One came out today and ran along the baseboard."

"We'll put traps about."

"Or a cat."

"That's a good idea."

He drew her down onto his lap and there was a little cooing, but somehow now that they could coo as much as they cared to, there didn't seem to be the same zest to it. At any rate, Phil was not sorry when they were summoned to dinner.

A fortnight passed during which there were many recurrences of such scenes, though the husband did not succeed in maintaining his serenity as well as upon their first spat. During these two weeks the bride was rapidly coming to the condition of one who assumes that in her marriage a terrible mistake has been made, that her husband doesn't love her, and the bottom has dropped out of the universe.

One afternoon, returning from business, Phil found his abode empty and a note from his wife stating that she could not stand the existing status any longer. She had gone to live the rest of her life with her mother and would never return to him.

Most men would have looked upon this kicking of the matrimonial traces on the part of his running mate as a very serious matter and would have gone after his wife to try to pacify her or to upbraid her; but, as I have said, Phil had an old man's head on a young man's shoulders. He did nothing of the kind. Rosalind expected him to follow her and either beg for pardon or reproach her. She looked for him as soon as he had had time to come after reaching home. She kept her eyes on the clock, watching the dragging minute hand, thinking at times that its movement had ceased, and every minute after Phil had had ample time to reach her was one of agony. She stood at a window, where she could look out on the street and watch the clock at the same time, and every time she heard a footfall on the sidewalk her heart began to beat like a drum. The day died, darkness fell, and no repentant husband.

When her father came in he was informed by his wife that their daughter had been driven out of her home by a brutal husband. He had "been there" himself when a young man and did not take so radical a view of the matter. When his wife urged him to seek Phil and either bring him to reason or horsewhip him he said:

"I will have nothing to do with the matter, and my advice to you is to keep out of it yourself."

For two days Mr. Scrimser held the two women down—he said afterward it was like sitting on the lid of a boiling kettle—and then a terrible looking communication came for Mrs. Ormsby with an awful triplet of names in the left hand upper corner, "Crawshaw, Brinkerhoff & Snaffield, Attorneys and Counselors at Law." Rosalind collapsed. Her mother fanned her and put a smelling bottle under her nose. Her father was not in the house.

Finally the young wife started up and tore the envelope to tatters. There was enough of the contents hanging together to show that the firm had been retained by Philip Ormsby, her husband, to enter a suit against her for divorce on account of desertion.

Mrs. Ormsby put a hat on her head—wrong end forward—jabbed a spike in it and in as quick time as she could get there was in the office of Messrs. Crawshaw, Brinkerhoff & Snaffield. After sending in her name she was ushered into the private office of Mr. Snaffield, of whom she had heard her husband speak as one of his acquaintances.

"I came to ask," she said, plucking up an appearance of severity, "the nature of these proceedings for which you have been retained."

Mr. Snaffield tapped a silver bell. A hungry looking clerk with a complexion as yellow as paper a century old came in and was instructed to bring the papers "In re Ormsby versus Ormsby."

"I care nothing about the horrid papers," said the lady, knocked from her equanimity at the mere mention of the "in re." "I wish to know whether this suit has actually been begun in the courts."

"Our business is very extensive," replied the lawyer. "It is impossible for us to keep track of all our cases. The papers will show."

"I wish an interview with my husband."

"An interview between you and the plaintiff can only be arranged with his consent, and we have at present no instructions on the subject. Meanwhile if you desire to transmit any proposition for either reconciliation or settlement out of court to Mr. Ormsby it can be done through our firm."

"Do you suppose," cried the wife fiercely, "that I would approach my wedded husband through a firm consisting of three men with such a frightful string of names as Crawshaw, Brinkerhoff & Snaffield?"

"Pardon me, madam, you forget that we are Mr. Ormsby's attorneys and are in duty bound to protect him."

"Protect him! Do you suppose I wish to tear him to pieces? Oh, my goodness gracious! I shall go wild with all this horrid law formality."

"By no means, madam. But we must have rules of procedure, and cannot have a special rule for each case. Some of our clients in the divorce courts would not meet a husband or a wife on any account. We do not know that Mr. Ormsby would wish to avoid meeting you, but—"

"I demand to see my husband. I don't wish to create a scene in his office, and I would not be likely to find him at our home. If you don't arrange—"

The door opened and Phil Ormsby entered.

"Hello! Snaff, what's required?"

"Oh, Phil," exclaimed his wife, "how can you treat me so?"

"How treat you so?"

"Begin this horrid divorce business. Do withdraw it and let's forget and forgive. I dare say I've been very unreasonable."

"So unreasonable, sweetheart," taking her in his arms, "that I have thought you should be taught a lesson. This divorce business is a put up job, to show you what may be the result of domestic quarrels. I asked my friend Snaffield to show you how a real divorce would feel. Come home with me and we'll forget all about it."

"It will always be like a horrid dream to me."

So they kissed and made up. That happened ten years ago. The Ormsbys have long ago got used to the humdrum of life and with their children make a happy family.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A happy event occurred at the home of David Shannon, Uttoxeter, on Wednesday, Jan. 8th, when his brother, Gordon Wilson Shannon, of Petrolia, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Jessie Chrichton Webster, late of Dundee, Scotland, by the Rev. R. J. Garrett. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present.

There can be a difference of opinion on most subjects, but there is only one opinion as to the reliability of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is safe, sure and effectual.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an ironclad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

No man is Stronger Than his Stomach

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. answers hosts of delicate questions about which every man or woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing.

LET the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his strength will soon fail. One's stamina—forcefulness and strength of mind or muscle depend upon the blood, and the blood in turn, requires a healthy stomach, for the stomach is the laboratory where the food is digested and such elements are taken up—or assimilated—which make blood. In consequence all the organs of the body, such as heart, lungs, liver and kidneys, as well as the nervous system, feel the bad effect if the stomach is deranged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to digest food properly, starts the liver into new activity, removing the poisons from the blood, and the various organs get rich, red blood, instead of being ill nourished. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over 40 years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, and a trial box will be mailed you.

THE FRENCH FAVEROLLES. Our French artists do beat the Dutch turning out fashions that are extraordinarily rince, picturesque and peculiar and among these is that rooster with whiskers, the Faverolle, a breed that is gaining ground in this country with those who want birds for beauty as well as utility, and Mr. Muffie Chops for both does fill the bill.

The varieties of the breed comprise French Salmon, French Black and French Blue, English Salmon and English Ermine Faverolles. Their origin is France, but the English rooster tinkers claim to have made some improvement and thus attach their trademark to two varieties. The distinctive characteristics of the breed are the whiskers, five toes and feather leggings.

The whiskering does not grow up over the eyes to obscure the vision as in some bearded breeds and is a distinct advantage in winter, as it protects against cold. The fifth toe is not so useless as with the Houdan and Dorking, but is useful for extra licks in garden destruction.

Faverolle chicks are hardy and mature rapidly, the pullets maturing early and making heavy winter layers.

The French and English are very enthusiastic over the Faverolle as a mar-

Don't cast your pearls before swine. This refers to pigheaded people.

tioner. The more some make the more they break.

Don't take much stock in the man who advertises himself as a great genius. He is a great ass, but he doesn't know it.

Don't mix poultry and politics, but it is not out of place to allow a few tough roosters to enter the ministry occasionally.

Don't glory in another's failure. The person who glories in the misfortune of others should go way back and sit down with his parental gorillas 'n the savagery of uncivilization.

Don't take the credit for your success from your faithful wife and not that she gets her part of the cash wise.

Mr. John Scott, Petrolia, inspector of gas and oil wells, reports that 397 wells were abandoned during 1911 in the Lambton county and adjacent oil fields. There were also 637 wells from which the pumps had been removed, about half of which were being baled.

A LINIMENT FOR THE LOGGER—Loggers lead a life which exposes them to many perils. Wounds, cuts and bruises cannot be altogether avoided in preparing timber for the drive and in river work, where wet and cold combined are of daily experience coughs and colds and muscular pains cannot be eschewed. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, when applied to the injured or administered to the ailing, works wonders.

Missouri and Iron. Missouri was the first state west of Ohio to mine and smelt iron, a small charcoal furnace having been erected in 1815.

Lefty Golf Course. Gyantse, in Tibet, boasts the highest golf course in the world. The next highest is the course at Gulmarg, in the Himalayas, which is 8,500 feet above the sea level, but Gyantse, standing at a height of 13,100 feet, easily bears off the palm for golf at a high altitude.

Costa Rica's Beggars. In Costa Rica the beggars are privileged characters on Tuesday—that is, they are allowed that day of the week in which to beg from shop to shop.

Numbered Houses. Four hundred years ago the idea of numbering houses originated in Paris, though it was not until 1789 that the system became general. The first known instance of a London street in which houses were numbered is Fleet Street, but the practice did not spread far until 1764.

Rhodesia. Rhodesia has an area estimated at 440,000 square miles. It is therefore equal in size to the states of Texas, Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio and Kentucky combined.

Men and Horses. The strength of five men is equivalent to that of one horse.

Pineapples. The ripening of a pineapple may be tested by pulling its leaves. If they do not pluck readily the pineapple is not ready to be used.

"Bells of Shandon." In one of the dormitories of the Irish college at Rome there is a space on the wall left unpapered and unpainted, whatever repairs the rest of the room may undergo, for there, carelessly scrawled, is the first rough draft of Father Prout's "Bells of Shandon."

Clogged Sink Pipes. A tablespoonful of washing soda and a cup of vinegar poured down the sink will clean out the most stubborn of clogged pipes.

YOU NEEDN'T DESPAIR

Here's an Offer that Should Interest Sufferers of Skin Irritation.

First of all we want to explain that the remedy we are about to tell you of carries our promise of money back for the mere asking to anyone not thoroughly pleased with its use. That should unquestionably establish the sincere faith we have in it.

Parasites or germs cause eczema, and eczema is probably the most prevalent cause of all skin ailments. To overcome them, the remedy must of necessity destroy or remove the parasite or germ before relief can be obtained.

Possessing remarkable antiseptic, germicidal, cleansing, soothing and healing power, the curative value of Rexall Eczema Ointment is very pronounced in the treatment of eczema and allied skin diseases, whether of the dry scaly sort, the weeping type, where there is a flow of ill-smelling excretion, or the intermediary kind, such as pimples, blotches, discolorations, ringworm or acne. It is very useful for treating bites, nettle rash, insect bites and wounds. It is ideal for the skin ailments peculiar to children.

Rexall Eczema Ointment is grayish-white in color, has a pleasant odor, and is very cleanly for use. If you are a sufferer of skin irritations or eruptions in any form whatever, we urge you to try a box at our risk. At the mere hint of dissatisfaction you may have your money back. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Remember, it is only sold at our store—The Rexall Store, I. W. McLaren, Watford.

Toronto.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—At the Union stockyards to-day the receipts were 96 cars, with 1,814 head of cattle, 59 calves, 692 hogs and 184 sheep and lambs. A comparatively light run of cattle offering to-day helped the market, checking the declines which set in last week. Trading was a little more brisk, the cooler weather, encouraging buying, while prices are favorable. The demand, however, is not too brisk, after the recent very heavy supplies, and the general average of prices, while good and steady, were not any higher than last week's closing market. A few extra choice cattle sold strong at $7.10 to $7.20, but these were in a small class by themselves, and not many of them offering. Good butchers were selling freely around $5.90 to $6.40. Light stockers were easy to steady.

WHAT A REAL TONIC WILL DO

Strikes at the Root of Disease and Gives New Health.

If you look in your dictionary you will find the word "tonic" defined as "a medicine that increases the strength and vigor of the system." That tells why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a real tonic. Thousands of men and women are ailing to-day, not sick in bed, but without strength and ambition, utterly tired out after a day's work. No one organ seems to be at fault, yet the whole system is lacking in health. They do not sleep well and are always tired and nervous, many have headaches, backaches and stomach trouble. All these people need the tonic help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The beneficial influence of this medicine reaches the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do more than relieve the symptoms, they actually remove the cause of the trouble. The case of Mrs. J. H. Sharpe, London, Ont., is one in proof of the above statements. Mrs. Sharpe says:—"I was so run down and weak that life was a burden. The least exertion would exhaust me so greatly that I could hardly breathe. If going up stairs, I would have to rest several minutes when I reached the top. My heart would palpitate until I felt as if it would choke me. I was extremely nervous, in fact a complete wreck, and would sometimes have to remain in bed for a couple of days or more at a time. I found no help from medicine until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and my experience with them was that they made a complete cure. I gained in weight and my friends tell me I look younger than I did ten years ago—I know I certainly feel younger. I feel sure that what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me they will do to other women if given a fair chance."

If you are at all unwell do not fail to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and you will find new health and strength. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Opening of New Calvary Baptist Church

Sunday and Monday, January 19th and 20th, were indeed great days for the friends at Calvary church. It was in June last that the old frame building was taken down, built some thirty-seven years ago when Rev. J. A. Baldwin, now living at Arkona, was first pastor. Now, after many months of anxious waiting and great sacrifices by some, it was a great joy to meet on Sunday in the new church. The new church is built with cement block foundation finished with white brick and gives a very fine appearance. The interior is covered with metallic very prettily designed. The painting was done by Mr. Jones, Wyoming. It has a seating capacity for 200, seats are made of clear cypress and very comfortable, the side seats being made on angle and so giving greater convenience. This work was done by Sedwick Bros., late of Watford, at the Laidlaw Lumber Co. Works, Sarnia. The platform is so arranged with choir in front, a very cosy vestry for pastor on south side, and all on north side for choir, giving entrance to basement. It is heated by a McClary furnace put in by T. Dodds & Son. The ladies have taken a large part in the work. Cork matting for aisles, pulpit and choir chairs, new organ, lamps, etc., tell of their valued services and generous giving.

On Sunday morning when Dr. Thomas Trotter, of MacMaster University, a great preacher of gospel, took charge of service, nearly every seat was filled, but in evening church was filled to utmost capacity. The sermons preached by Dr. Trotter will long be remembered. The singing by the Misses Richardson added much to the success of services.

On Monday the weather was very unfavorable and prevented many from attending supper and concert. The ladies certainly spread a full table of good things, and all present had a good time. The concert was greatly enjoyed. The solos by Mrs. Workman and organ recitals by Mr. Workman were excellent. Rev. R. Stevenson added greatly to joy of the evening by his fine instrumental selections on different instruments. Addresses were given by Rev. H. W. Wright, of Arkona, who made an excellent chairman, and Rev. R. Stevenson. The report by Treasurer, Mr. Russell Johnson, showed actual cost of new church amounted to $2,500, giving great credit to building committee. Over $100 was raised at opening services. It is a great joy to be in our new church, with better conditions for carrying on the work, to meet great opportunities with courage and in full assurance of success in days to come.

T. M. MEAD, Pastor.

Address and Presentation

A very pleasant time was spent on Monday evening, Dec. 30th, when the members of the Wanstead Methodist S.S. went in a body to the home of their superintendent, Mr. Fred Sanders, Ketch, and presented him with a gentleman's leather upholstered rocker. The party was in the form of a surprise. The early part of the evening was spent in games and other amusements. The "surprise itself" coming about eleven o'clock when Mr. Sanders was called before the gathering and the following address read by Mr. Basil Ramsay:—

To Mr. Fred Sanders, Ketch.

Dear Mr. Sanders:

We, the members of the Wanstead Sunday School, have gathered here this evening at the close of another year to express our appreciation of your services as superintendent of the Sunday school. You and your estimable wife have ever been faithful in your attendance and in the duties involved you have always shown sincere thought and earnest endeavor. There may have been times when your work seemed irksome, but the fruit of your labors like bread cast upon the waters shall be seen after many days. As a slight token of our esteem we ask you to accept this chair with our wish that in it "when the days are done and the darkness falls on the wings of night" you may enjoy many happy hours, and that you may be spared to continue for many years your services in the Sunday-School. Wishing you the brightest of Happy New Years.

(Signed) ETHEL RAMSAY,
 MARY McLAUGHLAN,
 EARLE MORNINGSTAR,
 ORVILLE RAMSAY.

The presentation was made by Mr. Earle Morningstar. Mr. Sanders thought taken completely by surprise—"dumfounded" as he, himself, expressed it, replied in his usual happy manner, after which lunch was served by the ladies. The gathering broke up in the wee sma' hours, the crowd singing "For he's a jolly good fellow" as they drove away.

Address and Presentation

Last week the friends and neighbors to the number of about 200 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, 12th line of Brooke, to spend a social evening before they moved to their home in Watford. A short program was introduced by the Rev. N. Campbell, of Inwood, who acted as chairman. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were the recipients of some beautiful presents, Mr. Taylor receiving a gold ring and cuff links, and Mrs. Taylor a silver tea service. The choir of the 10th line St. Andrew's church also presented Mrs. Taylor with a beautiful mantel clock.

The following address on behalf of the friends and neighbors was read by the Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., of Watford.

Sutorville, Jan. 15th, 1913.
 To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor.

Dear friends—

It was with deep feelings of regret that we heard awhile ago of your intention of moving to Watford, and, as the time draws near, we more fully realize the loss which we as a neighborhood are about to sustain. You came here about thirty-six years ago, when this was quite a new settlement, but through your labor and industry you are now permitted to enjoy the fruits of your labours by taking life somewhat easier. Your influence has always been for good, the young people of Sutorville owe you a great deal for the interest you took in their spiritual welfare by your faithful work in the Sunday school. Both of you have always been ready to rejoice with those that rejoice and weep with those that weep, for we all know something of your sympathy and kindness in the time of sickness. Rest assured, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, that you go from our midst followed by the prayers and best wishes of the whole community, and now we ask that you and Mrs. Taylor accept these gifts, as a slight recognition of the high esteem in which you are held by all your old friends and neighbors. It is our wish that the future may be full of happy days.

Signed in behalf of the committee:
 WM. MORRIS,
 JAS. O'HARA.

Mr. Taylor made a very feeling reply, thanking one and all for such a token of good will.
