London Believes Egyptian Move to Oust British From Sudan

MARX CONFIDENTIAL OF FINAL SUCCESS

AGITATORS ARE THOUGHT TO BE CAUSE OF CLASH

Intention Appears to be to Strengthen Hand of London Envoy.

4 DEAD; 15 WOUNDED Troops Which Fired Shots Were Arabs in Cairo Report.

By H. N. MOORE (British United Press Wire) London, Aug. 13.—The political disturbances in the Sudan which recently resulted in 19 casualties in a brush between English and native Egyptian troops are regarded here as insignificant and not as an indication of popular opinion. These disturbances are merely the evidences of the conspiracy against British rule in the Sudan, engineered by Egyptian agitators.

These recent evidences of restlessness on the part of native troops are intended to strengthen the hands of Zaghlul Pasha who is at present paying an official visit to London to discuss Egyptian problems and notably Egypt's claim for the control of the Sudan.

The British Government has already made its position clear by its recent emphatic statement that Great Britain cannot throw off its Sudanese responsibilities.

May Cause Delay. London, Aug. 13.—The London newspapers this morning make a big display of the disturbances in the Sudan, which they attribute to a conspiracy by interested persons in Egypt aiming to oust the British from the Sudan and establish Egyptian rule over it.

The Egyptian premier, Zaghlul Pasha, told the chamber of commerce in London that upon complete evacuation of the Sudan by Great Britain and afterward the British ministers announced in Parliament that the British on no account would renounce their responsibility to the Sudan and the Sudanese.

The editorial writers, while not believing that the present troubles will necessarily have serious consequences, foresee a possible agreement between the Egyptian government and even a conceivable cancellation of the impending negotiations with Zaghlul Pasha. Editorial opinion strongly supports the Government in its Sudanese policy.

The Times says: "Either to admit the Egyptian pretensions to the Sudan or to leave the Sudan to the Sudanese would be an inconceivable folly and inquiry."

Four Were Killed. The latest despatches from Khartoum and Cairo state that the actual casualties in the clash at Atbara were four killed and 15 wounded, that no Egyptian troops were present and that the troops who fired the shots were Sudanese Arabs, acting apparently without orders and under extreme provocation from the rioters. British troops and airplanes are reported to have left Cairo yesterday to reinforce the garrison at Khartoum.

Cairo, Aug. 13.—A demonstration took place this afternoon in the Ezbekiya gardens in sympathy with the recent disturbance at Atbara. Complete calm now prevails throughout the Sudan.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 13.—In a telegram from South Sudbury, Mass., which was verified by Charles Deland, secretary of State, Henry Ford withdrew his name yesterday from the Republican senatorial primary race in Michigan. Earlier in the day, Deland had said that Ford's name, with others to be certified to go on the primary ballot, would be mailed to the county clerk at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The telegram from Ford was received a little before that time.

GLYCERINE ALSO IS EFFECTIVE IN CURE OF DIABETES

Important Discovery At Johns Hopkins Hospital Is Announced.

PARTLY ACCIDENTAL Patient Who Neglected Insulin Treatment Recovers By New Method.

Baltimore, Aug. 12.—An important discovery of the use of glycerine supplementing insulin in the treatment of diabetes, and in some cases substituting for it, has been made by Johns Hopkins Hospital physicians, who are conducting the clinic and research bureau in advance cases of the disease. The discovery, officially announced to the medical world, is the result of experiments and to some extent the result of chance. The element of chance entered when it was discovered that a patient being provided with insulin for daily injections under the terms of the clinic by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was neglecting the treatment. Patient Recovers. This patient, found temperamentally unfit to administer injections of insulin, made no objection when given glycerine as a daily diet in carefully balanced doses. The patient, about to die from neglect of the insulin, made a prompt recovery after taking the glycerine, and now is back at work on half time in domestic service.

The report is given to the medical world as one of the fruits of the nationwide study of diabetes treatment, which has been carried on all the more extensively and industriously since the first reports of insulin miracles were subjected to severe tests and the period of disappointment came from those who hoped for too much.

BIG LIQUOR HAUL

Providence Police Seize 500 Cases, Boat, Auto and 7 Trucks.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 13.—Surprising a gang of bootleggers at work unloading 500 cases of liquor from a motor boat to waiting trucks at the dock of the United States Coal Company, a squad of Providence police seized the liquor, the boat, seven motor trucks and an expensive automobile and arrested six men after an exchange of shots in which one was injured. The seizure is one of the largest ever made in Rhode Island and the combined value of the liquor, the boat and motor vehicles is believed to amount to approximately $50,000. The police, who acted upon information supplied by the night watchman at a lumber company, turned everything over to federal prohibition agents. The men arrested were all armed, and are being held at police headquarters pending their arraignment before a United States Commissioner. It is believed that the motor boat got its cargo from a larger run running vessel, possibly off Block Island.

The fire swept through a five-story apartment house, where the couple were staying, and, according to Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy, had undoubtedly been set by an alcoholic pyromaniac.

St. Stephen, August 13.—John P. Ryder, better known as Jack, is still missing and no further trace of him has been found. At 8 o'clock Monday morning he walked down Main street with Frank Watt, an employee of the fire department, and left him, saying he was going down to look at the new school house. At this time he appeared to be in normal condition. Ryder is a son of Captain George P. Ryder and has been missing since Monday morning. He left his home to go to the train and when he did not return at noon, enquiries were made by his wife. It was found that he had not been at the depot. He had on khaki pants and shirt but no coat when he left home, and it is thought he had no money. About four years ago he disappeared from his home at Newcastle, N. Last week he attended the shooting at Sussex and it is thought the excitement may have affected his heart.

FLIERS MAY HAVE TO CHOOSE A NEW LANDING PLACE

Angmagalik Harbor Is Reported Too Small And Full of Ice.

THE OTHER AIRMEN

Italian Forced Back To Orkneys—Argentine Has Tire Trouble.

K-LEAD ALL FLIERS (By Canadian Press.) Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 13.—After plans had been completed here for the U. S. army world fliers to hop off for Greenland tomorrow, weather permitting, a disquieting report today from Naval Flight Commander Bruce G. Leighton, on board the cruiser Raleigh, off the Greenland coast, caused a sudden change in the schedule.

Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder at once called a conference with Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, flight commander, and Major Clarence E. Crampton, of the Army Air Service. Reports received from Angmagalik after a reconnaissance from the Raleigh stated that the harbor was too small and too nearly filled with floating ice to make it a suitable landing place for the fliers, and that it would be impracticable for them to hop off from it with a load.

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 13.—Uncertainty over the next stage of the U. S. army world flight has been ended by the arrival at Angmagalik, Greenland, of the supply ship Gertrude Blake, which has been locked in the ice off the coast for several days. The vessel reported weather conditions at Angmagalik perfect and Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and Eric Nelson, with their mechanics, today were busy preparing for the Iceland-to-Greenland hop which, conditions permitting, will be attempted tomorrow.

The arrival of the Gertrude Blake assures the flight following the scheduled route. During her imprisonment in the ice and the consequent inability of the expedition to assure refueling and provisioning at Angmagalik various alternatives were considered, including the hazardous one of landing at sea and taking on petrol from the Raleigh, but these plans are now happily abandoned.

The distance to Angmagalik, which is on the eastern coast of Greenland, is about 500 miles, and considerable ice sweeper and 300 fast motorboats were being gathered for the greatest drive against smuggling yet undertaken by the Government.

EARTHQUAKE AT SEA DISTURBS JAPAN

Dishes and Other Articles Thrown About But Nobody Injured.

Tokyo, Aug. 13.—A sharp earthquake centring near Nagoya, which continued for several minutes in the cities of Osaka, Kobe, and Kyoto, and sent people scurrying to the streets in their night clothes, was reported early today, in dispatches from Osaka. The tremor was sufficiently severe to throw dishes and other articles to the floor, but did no severe damage. No loss of life was reported. Professor Nakamura, who several weeks ago predicted the shock, announced his belief that the quake originated in the sea 200 miles southwest of Nagoya.

He Couldn't Catch Fish, But "Lady Luck" Brings Fortune

Caldwell, N. J., Aug. 13.—For years "Specks" Travis was known among the youngsters of this section as the unluckiest fisherman in nine counties. His tough fishing luck was a tradition. But "Lady Luck" is now camping on his trail. "Specks" a freckled high school lad of 15, was working with a road gang for $3 a day to pay his way through school when tragedy threw a fortune of $150,000 in his lap.

His grandfather, Charles Blatt, old-time circus man and killed his housekeeper and then ended his own life recently. "Specks" was his grandnephew and the one-time "man-fish" and high diver of the circus left "Specks" the fortune accumulated over many years. "I need the exercise and I shall not get the money for a while," he says. "When I do, I'll go into business, I guess. I've always wanted to monkey with automobiles."

Nevertheless, the trans-Canada tourist had made good time. His longest day's drive was 323 miles, this being part of the only detour he made into the United States. Dr. Doolittle sent his automobile over the Rockies from Princeton, B. C., to Hope, from which point he drove to Vancouver.

GERMAN LEADER BELIEVES FRANCE ALL FOR PEACE

Says Evacuation of Ruhr Is Necessary Before Settlement.

THE GERMAN LOAN

Chancellor Favors Cancelling by U. S. of Debts Against Allies.

(British United Press.) London, Aug. 13.—"I think the conference will be successful on all points," Chancellor Marx continued, "and for the time—I repeat for the first time—the Allies are treating us on equal terms."

"This is the most important meeting since the Treaty of Versailles, was signed," Marx continued, "and for the time—I repeat for the first time—the Allies are treating us on equal terms. The German Chancellor seemed to consider this the most important factor in making for a successful outcome."

"I am very glad to say," he volunteered, "that Premier Herriot, notwithstanding great opposition in certain political circles in France and even in his entourage, has stood firm. The majority of the French people want peace and quiet."

Evacuation Essential

Asked concerning the all-important question of military evacuation of the Ruhr, Marx said:—"It is essential—so far as we are concerned—and it is closely united with application of the experts' plan. "We hope to sign the treaty tomorrow or at least by Friday morning, but this agreement is only a preliminary for future conferences between Germany and the Allies singly."

"The commercial treaty to be consummated with France," the Chancellor said, "is of the highest importance to both countries. "If the Comité des Ferges, which represents the highest political factor in France, is willing to come to an agreement, the treaty will be one of mutual reciprocity," he added.

Marx, however, evades the question of whether France would be treated as a "most favored nation." He contented himself with saying:—"Germany can never grant free entry of ore and potash into the Ruhr, nor can it make two great concessions in the matter of delivering dyestuffs, etc."

SAYS U. S. ACTION MAY BE FATEFUL

Japanese Say Immigration Bill May Have Grave Consequences.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 13.—The statement of Mr. Hanibara, Japanese ambassador at Washington, that the immigration bill passed by the Congress of the U. S. would have grave consequences not only in his native land but throughout the world was re-asserted by Yusuke Tsurumi, Japanese representative at the Institute of Politics, in the first of his series of lectures here last night.

"Taking as his thesis that war is a menace to civilization, Mr. Tsurumi predicted that in 10 or 20 years Japan would be one of the greatest if not the greatest of all outside factors affecting U. S. progress. The grave consequences" of the U. S. immigration law did not indicate a threat, Mr. Tsurumi said, nor does it mean "that any intelligent person in Japan dreams of going to war with the U. S." It did mark, however, an epoch in the development of Japanese policy, he asserted, in changing the psychology of the Japanese people and the unfolding of a drama of international politics in the first instance on the Pacific states, and in the second on the world stage.

DEATH RECALLS BANDSMEN'S TRIP

M. Farrell Accompanied C. C. Band on Excursion to World Fair.

Speaking of the late Michael Farrell this morning, James Connolly, veteran member of the City Cornet Band, recalled that Mr. Farrell was one of the St. John men who went to Chicago on the excursion to the great world fair in 1893.

Mr. Farrell, said Mr. Connolly, was one of the jolliest members of the party and was always seeking to do some favor for his companions and he endeared himself to all by his kindly manner.

Of the bandmen who went on the trip the following have since passed away: C. H. Williams, Sr., bandmaster; C. H. Williams, Jr., bandmaster of the Princess Falls, killed in France; Michael J. Kelly, bandmaster of the 182nd Battalion, North Shore, and author of several war songs, notably "Well Never Let the Old Flag Fall"; P. L. Quinn, Charles Hazel, J. J. Sullivan, D. J. Gallagher, Patrick McMahon, Charles McLaughlin and J. J. Murphy.

Those living are Mr. Connolly, Robert McCarthy, Patrick McMullin, Fred McDevitt, now of Boston; Patrick M. Higgins, Michael J. Higgins, John McMahon, J. J. Bardsley, P. M. O'Neill, now of Montreal; Joseph Murphy, Vincent McGuire, Ernest Williams, now of Ottawa, and Harold Williams, bandmaster of the St. Mary's Band.

Pleasant reminiscences of the Chicago trip have been gone into at gatherings on several occasions and it was the intention to have a reunion on the 25th anniversary of the journey but for some reason this did not materialize. It was an outing to be remembered said Mr. Connolly, in conclusion. The party traveled in one of the C. P. R. tourist cars, "The New York and Montreal Express," and it was an unpleasant moment on the trip and it came to be regarded as perhaps the greatest and most successful of the many excursions by the band.

Colonel Ham said at the time the party was like one big happy family.

MADE IN ST. JOHN PLAN SUPPORTED

Notable Success in Morning Canvass is Reported by Committee.

The committee working on the canvassing of manufacturers on the matter of taking part in the "Made in St. John" exhibit report that up to noon today they had interviewed twenty-three and of this number twenty had agreed to exhibit. As showing the spirit manifested by the local manufacturers on canvassers reported that when he was told that the entrance fee was $5 he paid in $15.

Judging from the response received from those called on the trouble will not be to get enough exhibitors but to find space to place all exhibits offered. The committee had compiled a list of 140 but this has been increased by druggists who are manufacturing patent medicines and wish to show their wares to the public as made in St. John.

The committee are much encouraged over the result of the morning's work and feel sure they will be able to report on Friday to the general committee that this feature of the exhibition is an accomplished fact.

REGAINS MEMORY

Dundas, Ontario, Professor's Mind Has Been Blank For Two Weeks. Hamilton, Ont., August 13.—As suddenly as he had lost it, Major Alfred Lean, Dundas, last night recovered his memory at St. Joseph's Hospital. For two weeks the well-known collegiate teacher and former army officer had lain in the hospital unable to recognize his wife or his most intimate friends while physicians believed that his mind would be forever a blank as to his life before that time.

Last night he called a nurse to his bedside, and in his first words showed that he had fully regained his powers of memory. In the conversation that followed, he related "an accident in the water," and this, it is believed, was the cause of amnesia.

A fortnight ago a man stopped a local constable and told him that he was unable to remember his own name or anything about himself. He was subsequently identified by a newspaperman as Major Lean and was placed in the hospital for treatment. He showed no improvement until his sudden recovery last night.

GET DETAILS OF SUPERANNUATION

Civil Service Men Here Receive Copies of Federal Act.

Members of the civil service here have received details of the Civil Service Superannuation Act, authorized at the last session of Parliament. This is an important piece of legislation and affects every permanent employee of the service. The superannuation age is 65 years. Retirement is compulsory at 70 years, except for cases of pecuniary fitness and efficiency, in which annual extensions up to 75 years may be granted. The superannuation allowances are as follows:

(a) Superannuation allowance—On attaining superannuation age, one-fifth of the average salary for the last five years for each year of service but not exceeding 35 years. The maximum allowance is therefore 70 per cent of such average salary.

(b) Retiring allowance—On occurrence of disability or on abolition of office, allowance computed on same basis as superannuation allowance.

(c) Withdrawal allowance—On voluntary withdrawal or dismissal (for causes other than misconduct), return of contributions without interest.

(d) Widows' allowance—On death of contributor before superannuation or retirement, one-half the allowance to which he would have been entitled. On death of employee after superannuation or retirement, a continuance of one-half his allowance. In both cases the widow's allowance ceases on remarriage.

(e) Children's allowance—If the mother is alive, allowance to each child in addition to widow's allowance, 10% of employee's allowance, with maximum for any one child of $50, and maximum for all children of 25% of employee's allowance.

(f) Dependents' allowance—If contributor dies in the Civil Service and leaves no widow and no child under 18 years of age, an allowance may be granted to the dependents not exceeding the amount of the contributions made by the contributor without interest.

(g) Dependent's allowance—If contributor dies in the Civil Service and leaves no widow and no child under 18 years of age, an allowance may be granted to the dependents not exceeding the amount of the contributions made by the contributor without interest.

(h) On occurrence of disability or on abolition of office, a gratuity not exceeding one month's pay for each year of service.

(i) On being required to retire on marriage, a gratuity not exceeding the amount of contributions without interest.

(j) On the death of the contributor in the service, a gratuity to the widow or children under 18 years of age, of one month's pay for each year of service. GERMAN LEADER BELIEVES FRANCE ALL FOR PEACE

(Continued from page 1) Marx thinks the proposed loan to Germany and the question of mutual reduction of inter-allied debts are closely combined, and that the best way to restoration and reconstruction in Europe would be for the U. S. to relinquish claims for sums borrowed by the allies.

Difficulty Encountered.

London, Aug. 13.—(Canadian Press)—The conference held by French, Belgian and German representatives this forenoon in an effort to reach a settlement of the Ruhr evacuation problem ended at 1:30 o'clock without arriving at a solution, adjourning till late in the afternoon. In consequence the meeting of the Council of Fourteen set for 4 p. m. at which it was hoped the announcement of a settlement would be made, was called off to enable the conversations to be continued. The next meeting of the "Big Fourteen" will be held tomorrow.

The British Premier withdrew while the attempts were being made to hammer out a settlement of the problems of the Ruhr and proposed commercial treaties. It is understood, however, that the negotiations dragged discouragingly.

U. S. Claims Urged.

The U. S. Government has let it be known that it wishes to be represented at the conference of allied finance ministers which is to convene in Paris after the close of the present gathering.

Allocation of the monies received from Germany is one of the subjects to be discussed and the U. S. is interested in recovering its expenditures for the maintenance of the U. S. forces in Germany and in pressing mixed claims, including those growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania.

In the Old Burial Ground

Today the Times-Star completes publication of the list of those interred in the Old Burial Ground, as revealed by the inscriptions on the tombstones that have survived the ravages of time and weather. Judging by the comments that have been heard and the messages that have been received at this office, the matter has been one of much interest and citizens feel that Commission Harding has done a good thing in having this record made of the people of early St. John who were laid to rest in the city's first cemetery. Following is the remainder of the list:—

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO FRANK CARVELL

Many of Country's Leaders Attend Funeral—Eulogy Delivered.

Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 12.—On the banks of the Meduxnekeag, from the modest cottage which he loved so well, that was mortal of Hon. Frank B. Carvell, late chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada, was taken to his last resting place this afternoon, amid the tears and hearse-felt sorrow of relatives, political friends and opponents. The deep respect in which he was held and general sorrow at his passing were evidenced by the immense concourse of people that assembled to pay the last tribute to this highly esteemed citizen and distinguished statesman.

The funeral procession was the longest seen here in many years. The service at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. R. G. Fulton, of St. John, president of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Methodist Conference; Rev. J. T. Cavers, pastor of the Woodstock Methodist church, and Rev. H. F. Rigby, of St. Luke's Anglican church.

Mr. Fulton, in a brief address, spoke feelingly of his departed friend and many were moved to tears. He said in part: "It is not my intention to speak of Mr. Carvell as a public man. The newspapers and records of the country will give full tribute to the great qualities of statesmanship and outstanding ability he possessed. I want briefly to speak of Mr. Carvell as a friend. Those who knew him, who were permitted to enter into that inner circle, he was a friend of the clearest type. We have many acquaintances but not always many friends. There is a vast difference. My friendship with Mr. Carvell goes back over a period of more than 20 years. I have known him under all the varied conditions of that history-making time. Some think he was always the politician, the campaigner. But it was a delight to enter into his home life, where all the noise and storm of political strife were excluded and there discovered the richness of his mind, his intimate knowledge of general information.

Mr. Carvell was an idealist of the highest order. It was this same failed to understand. I know that what to some was the evidence of unrelenting pursuit of a political enemy was rather his intolerance of the unworthy. It was this, in the first flush of his public life, which attracted him to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He saw in the great Liberal leader the fine qualities he so deeply venerated. Admiration beget association, and then began that friendship which never ceased even in the testing days of Union Government and conscription. I remember how deeply he showed his feeling when telling me of the break when the question of conscription led him to leave his party and become a member of a Government under the leadership of Sir Robert Borden. But it was his life, his consistency to the ideal, which forced him to make that break. He must be true to conviction no matter what the cost, and to him the cost of that break was beyond expression.

"No pen nor address can today do justice to our departed friend. It will need the pages of the historian to show the man's true worth. We mourn the passing of a great intellect, a master in detail, an untiring worker. But for those who knew him best and understood his fine qualities of heart and soul, our friend, worthy and true, treated and tried, has gone from us."

J. M. Dalrymple, traffic vice-president Canadian National Railways, was represented by G. T. Bell, executive assistant. Gerard Ruel, K. C., legal vice-president and general counsel, was represented by C. J. Milligan, regional counsel, Moncton. The Atlantic region of the C. N. Railways was represented by R. W. Simpson, assistant general manager, and A. T. Weldon, traffic manager.

The Governor-General of Canada was represented by Lieut.-Col. J. J. Bull. The Woodstock Town Council attended in a body.

Among the hundreds of telegrams received by Mrs. Carvell were the following: Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 11, 1924. "Lady Byng and I have heard with deep regret of the sudden death of your husband. Please accept our sincerest sympathy." "BYNG."

NEW U. S. AIRPLANE ARRIVES AT PICTOU

Pictou, N. S., Aug. 12.—The Boston II, the substitute airplane that is to be used by Lieutenant Wade, of the world-encompassing United States air fleet, whose original plane was wrecked off Iceland, arrived here at 2:40 o'clock Atlantic time this afternoon. The plane, piloted by Lieut. George C. MacDonald, senior officer, and Victor E. Bertrand, left Eastport, Maine, at 10:40 o'clock this morning and for 40 miles flew through light fog, but after reaching St. John, N. B., had ideal weather. The trip from Eastport to Pictou, 280 miles, was covered in exactly three hours. The Boston II came into harbor practically unnoticed but it was but a short while before pronounced welcomes were extended to the United States fliers by the Mayor and citizens of this town.

Permission to Land.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 12.—The Newfoundland Government, through the British embassy in Washington, has given permission to the United States Government for the airplane Boston II, now at Pictou, N. S., to continue on to Hawks Harbor, Nfld., where it is to be turned over to Lieut. Leigh Wade and his mechanic, Sergt. A. M. Ogden, whose machine was wrecked recently on the flight from the Orkney Islands to Iceland.

Helping The College Girl Pack Her Trunk

Studytime is nearing again and there's a weighty problem to be solved before that time. What does a girl need to take away with her when she goes to this school or that school? We have pondered the subject and can inform you correctly; more than that, we can supply her with most fascinating clothes.

Here are mentioned but a few of the college girl's real needs.

Frocks for Classroom And Social Events

She'll need at least two new class room frocks—one perhaps in the new Black Alpaca trimmed with crystal buttons and bands of colored stripes—and the other it may be in one of the pretty, light weight wool crepes. For semi-formal occasions she'll no doubt look her best in a pleated Georgette frock (we have a real beauty in a rich French blue) and for formal events she may choose from a variety of lovely light and bright colored silks, georgettes, etc.

Hosiery, Hats, Gloves, Important Accessories

And they may all be chosen from comprehensive assortments here. There are Sheer Silk Stockings to match any favored frocks; also warmer variety for sports and outdoor wear. Gloves in kid, suede, silk and fabric are showing with plain or gaudy rows of stitching. Jaunty Felt Hats are in bright, novel sport shades, modest greys and fawns or pure white. Shapes and colors are varied enough to please the most particular.

And We Might Mention

Dainty Dimity Overblouses; Lovely Tubable Lingerie; A Pretty Colored Umbrella; A New Underarm Bag; A Roomy Wardrobe Trunk; Crisp, New Neckwear; A Warm Fur Neck Piece; A New Supply of Handkerchiefs; Lingerie Ribbons; Cash's Woven Names (for marking clothing, etc.), and a glance through our stocks will bring to your mind other items of actual importance to the college girl's fall and winter comfort.

TWO ACCIDENTS AT GAGETOWN

Gagetown, Aug. 12.—George Mahoney met with a painful accident a few days ago, when he cut his leg quite severely with an axe, while making props for apple trees. The cut penetrated to the bone and five stitches were necessary to close the wound. His brother, Leo, the week before, was equally unfortunate, and has been laid up as the result of getting into his eyes. While working at a new house, being put up here by Fred W. Cameron. The lime caused severe inflammation of the face, but fortunately he is now recovering.

DEATHS

Mrs. Amy Nase Lingley. Many friends in the city and elsewhere will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Amy Nase Lingley, formerly of Westfield, N. B., which occurred at her home in West Medford, Mass., yesterday morning, after a few weeks' illness. She is survived by one son, Robert B. of West Medford, and one brother, F. W. C. Nase, of Nerepis, N. B. The body will be brought to Mount Hope cemetery, Nerepis, for burial. The funeral will be held on arrival of Boston train on Thursday.

Hester Lutes. The death of Hester Lutes occurred at her home, Steeves Mountain, on Friday, Aug. 8, being caused by heart failure following an operation. Mrs. Lutes was 37 years of age and was survived by her wife, formerly Miss Edda Stevens, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Stevens of Prospect street, Fairville, who before her marriage was a teacher in the Winter street school. There also survive three children, Frank, Marion and Kathleen, his mother, Mrs. Charles Lutes, three brothers, Wilfrid in Western Canada, Fred, of Lute's Mountain, and Frank, of Moncton, and five sisters, Mrs. Robinson, of North Reading, Mass., Mrs. Ernest Trites, of Carleton Place, Mrs. Guy Sommers, of Moncton, and Mrs. George McPherson and Mrs. Amos Rogers, of Lute's Mountain. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Sunday afternoon from his late residence. Interment was at the cemetery at Steeves Mountain. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dimock, pastor of the Baptist church at Berry's Mills. A male quartette and choir of the church sang appropriate hymns. Many beautiful floral tributes were received.

PREMIER OLIVER TO RUN IN NELSON

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 12.—Premier Oliver has definitely decided to contest the Nelson seat, and nomination day has been fixed for Wednesday, Aug. 20, with the election on Saturday, Aug. 23. Kenneth Campbell, member-elect for Nelson, resigned.

Excitement.

Nelson, B. C., Aug. 12.—Political excitement prevails strongly in Nelson following receipt of wires by both Liberal and Conservative camps respecting the opening of the seat for Premier Oliver.

Indications point to a straight fight between the Premier and a Conservative as leading Labor men and the Provincial Party have intimated to the Conservative executive that these parties will fall in behind the Conservative nominee.

The parcel post law became effective in the United States on January 1, 1918.

SHAD FISHING TIME EXTENDED

B. B. Brittain, local fisheries overseer, received a communication from Ottawa last evening to the effect that the shad fishing season, Bay of Fundy tidal waters, has been extended to September 30. This extension of time will be very helpful to local fishermen, especially the Lorneville people as they will now have an opportunity, after the salmon season closes on August 15, to fish for the fall run of shad which usually begins around the date of Aug. 15.

ST. GEORGE CHILD IS DROWNED IN BUCKET OF WATER

St. George, Aug. 12.—Laura Julia Wright, aged ten months and six days, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wright, was drowned in about five inches of water in the bottom of a pail at the Wright home here this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock.

At the time of the accident Mrs. Wright was working at the rear of the house. She had left the baby with some older children. Unnoticed, the child crept into the kitchen where there was a pail with a little water in the bottom. It is supposed that, in trying to reach the water with her hands, the little girl slipped into the pail, as she was found standing on her head in the water about five minutes after the house Dr. H. I. Taylor was called but found that life was extinct.

This is the second tragedy in this family, Thomas, aged nine years, the eldest son, having been killed about three years ago in a sliding accident. The little girl is survived by her parents, four brothers and three sons. The body will be taken to Penfield, Charlotte county, on Thursday for burial there. The family is receiving the deepest sympathy of the community in its affliction.

MAYOR INTIMATES PROBE IS COMING

Appointment of S. H. Mayes Is Approved by Council —Vote 3 to 2.

Confirmation of the appointment of S. Herbert Mayes as inspector, time-keeper and checker of materials in the Harbor Department and an initiation by Mayor Potts that an investigation into the Harbor and Ferry Department might come soon featured the meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

A motion of Commissioner Bullock that Mr. Mayes be discharged and the position be declared vacant failed to find a seconder and the motion to confirm the appointment by the Mayor carried on the casting vote of his Worship.

The matter was brought up by Commissioner Wigmore, who moved that the temporary appointment of S. H. Mayes as time keeper, inspector and checker of materials in the Harbor Department be confirmed.

Commissioner Bullock said he did not see the necessity of this appointment, which he felt was more to Mr. Mayes' personal benefit than to the city's, but if such an official were necessary then he, as head of the department, should have been consulted, and he would have seen that a returned soldier was appointed.

The city, Mr. Bullock said, had had some experience with Mr. Mayes to a similar capacity in years gone by which had resulted in considerable friction, when he had made charges against the contractor for the No. 5 wharf. An investigation had been held and the contractor had been vindicated. If such an official was needed he felt a better choice could have been made, but he failed to see the necessity for it, and felt the money paid a needless expenditure.

He stated the report of the Mayor had said the appointment was necessary in order that he, the Mayor, might check up the statement made by reliable parties that material brought with civic money was being used for private gain. This was a serious statement and verged closely toward libel. Such a statement should be accompanied by names of the parties and an investigation should be held.

He then moved that the position now held by Mr. Mayes as time keeper, inspector and checker of material for the Harbor Department be abolished.

APPROVE JUNIOR RED CROSS WORK

Trustees Get Authority To Issue $72,000 25-Year Bonds.

The Board of School Trustees last night passed a resolution expressing the utmost sympathy with the work of the Junior Red Cross and recommending that the matter of organizing branches of the Junior Red Cross in the city schools be referred to the principals. Teachers who wish to establish Junior Red Cross are fully empowered to do so.

The committee had consisted of Mrs. D. P. Chisholm and Acting Superintendent S. A. Worrall. The walls of the Board room were hung with examples of the work of the Junior Red Cross members and with notices setting forth the aims and ideals of the Junior Red Cross organization. There was special comment made with regard to the neatness of the work and the interest of the mothers.

The government authority to issue $72,000 bonds asked at the last session of the Legislature was received. The Board agreed to five per cent interest and a 25 year term and the finance committee was authorized to issue and sell the bonds on those terms. Sept. 8 was decided upon as the date for receiving tenders for the bonds. Authority was given for the finance committee to invest the sinking fund moneys of $21,000.

Seek Positions.

H. A. Porter presided. Others present were Trustees Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, G. H. Green, H. Colby Smith, S. W. Palmer, A. A. McIntyre and E. R. W. Ingraham. S. A. Worrall, acting superintendent and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary.

Applications for positions on the staff were received from the following teachers: Eldon C. Puddington, Clifton; Misses Marion Bustin, Helen England, Gertrude Shea, Kathleen McArthur, Edith M. Lawrence, Mary C. Kirkpatrick, Ruth Hanson and Bertha Campbell.

C. H. Cochran's application for a position as night school teacher was referred to the vocational committee.

G. Thomas Dunham applied for the position of teacher of a second class of grade IX in the new Albert school. Miss H. M. Dale wrote that she would be able to resume her teaching duties on the re-opening of school. Miss E. McInerney thanked the Board for kindness in illness. Miss Bertha E. Estabrook sent her resignation, which was accepted.

Collection of Taxes.

On motion of Mr. Smith Trustees Porter and Palmer were to take up with the City Council the matter of the collection of the taxes of teachers and janitors. At present the school authorities deduct from teachers' and janitors' salaries the amount of taxes due and the money is supplied to the board. As the board had not heard of its coal under the name given, in formation to that effect was to be forwarded.

The Knights of Pythias asked the co-operation of the board in the decoration of buildings while the Grand Lodge was in session in the city. The colors of the order were suggested as suitable for decoration purposes. The communication was ordered filed.

Salary Discussion.

The schedule of salary increases was presented and after general discussion was passed.

Mr. Green said he understood night school classes would now come under the vocational committee which he believed must assume responsibility for the teachers' salaries. He moved the committee be asked to carry on the classes as they had been carried on by the board. This motion carried.

Mr. Green said he believed next year there was to be the largest graduation class in the history of the city and it would be necessary to put in as classrooms the lunch room and two other rooms on the top floor of the High School. He requested that the visitors to the building have authority to get these rooms painted was acceded to. These rooms have not been approved by the Board of Health and the lunch room at present is fitted up as a room where pupils can prepare cocoa or other warm lunches in winter time. Mr. Worrall said lunches were prepared only out of school hours and it would be easy to have the sink in the room screened off and curtains put on the shelves where dishes are kept.

TO ENFORCE CURFEW.

Two young boys were charged in the Ottawa Journal with loitering on the streets after nine o'clock at night and given a severe lecture by Chief Probation Officer A. G. Cameron. It is the intention of the officials, says the Journal, to enforce the curfew law for all children under 16 on the downtown streets, as many of the cases brought before the court are directly attributable to that habit. The authority for such a step is found in the Children's Protective Act.

Social Notes of Interest

A child's kindly thought was the origin of the successful and delightful bridge, tea and sale held yesterday afternoon in the lovely home and grounds of General H. H. MacLean at Robbessy in aid of the Lady Byng summer camp for undernourished children. With so happy a sponsor it was not to be wondered at that the event proved one of the most pleasant of the summer season's social entertainments. Miss Jean Stetson had wished to hold a party in aid of the camp funds and from her party there gradually developed the larger plan which yesterday was so greatly enjoyed. Her mother, Mrs. H. N. Stetson, and Miss MacLean took charge of the bridge and tea and Miss Jean in her role as Punch and Judy show. There were very many guests and the party was a success. The proceeds amount to more than $120. The children who assisted the little organizer of the party were Elizabeth Lewin, Betty Stewart, Vivian Stewart, Gerald Emerson, Robbie Emerson and Katherine Mullin. The wares which they offered for sale included currants, gooseberries, raspberries, vegetables of all kinds, flowers, ice cream, pop corn, candy and grab bags. The ice cream was a special gift from Mr. J. M. A. Currie. At the tea hour Miss Melkjohn, supervisor of the Lady Byng camp, and Mrs. Franklin Stetson presided over the tea cups and Mrs. George Binard assisted. Miss Frances Stetson was the treasurer of the afternoon. For bridge those who had tables and their guests were Mrs. Bruce Burpee, with Mrs. A. K. Harvie, Miss Mary White and Miss Kathleen Sturder. Daniel Mullin, with Mrs. Fred Keator, Mrs. Keator, Montreal, and Mrs. G. S. MacDonald; Mrs. Thomas Guy, with Mrs. R. H. Anderson, Mrs. R. Hutchinson and Mrs. Kenneth Golding; Mrs. Richard Hooper, with Mrs. M. A. Currie, Mrs. Hooper, Bell and Miss

Hooper; Mrs. Colin Mackay, with Mrs. F. M. Stevens, of Montreal, Miss Simpson, of Halifax, and Mrs. Malcolm Mackay, Jr.; Mrs. A. Orr, with Mrs. H. O. Clark, Mrs. Joseph Key and Mrs. Leslie Peters; Mrs. G. K. McLeod, with Mrs. Heber Vroom, Mrs. Walter E. Foster and Mrs. H. Hansard; Mrs. Charles Taylor, with Miss C. O. McEwen, Miss Edith Gilbert and Miss Florence Gilbert; Mrs. Andrew Blair, with Mrs. Page, Mrs. McMurray and Mrs. McCollough, and Mrs. F. D. E. Lewin, with Mrs. Horace Porter, Mrs. William Vassie and Mrs. John Sayre. At Mrs. George McAvilly's Mah Jong table were Mrs. Frank Fairweather, Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. E. R. Turnbull; at Mrs. Hugh Mackay's, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, Mrs. Percy Turcott and Mrs. Gerald Furlong, and at Miss Maid Addy's, Mrs. Fred Harding, Mrs. Wells Merritt and Miss Scobaria. Others playing bridge were Mrs. B. Lambourne, Mrs. C. B. Allan, Mrs. Horrold Robinson, Mrs. McCallum, of Ottawa, Miss J. Hainford, Mrs. Deb. Carrite, Mrs. Paul Blanchett and Miss Mabel Gilbert. The prize winners were for bridge, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell and Mrs. J. M. A. Currie; for Mah Jong Mrs. Stevens, of Ottawa. Amongst those who came for tea were Mrs. James F. Robertson, Mrs. A. M. Peters, Mrs. Robert Puddington, Miss Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, of West St. John, Miss Helen Thompson, Mrs. L. P. Farris, Mrs. H. Schofield, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, Mrs. William Pugsley and Mrs. Gilmore Brown. Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Bridges have returned from a week-end stay at Campbellton. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Driscoll, 25 Rodney street, West St. John, are visiting Mrs. Driscoll's sister, Mrs. R. J. Perry, in Quebec. Miss Grace Green and Miss Bertha Green, of Boston, are visiting their sister, Mrs. John Robson, 256 Rodney street, West St. John. The members of the Young Men's Guild of Trinity church to the number of about 30 met last night at the residence of Miss L. J. Nelson, Duke street, and honored Miss Helen Bailey in the presentation of a life membership, the occasion being the eve of her departure for the mission field in China. The presentation was made by Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, the rector, who voiced the Guild's good wishes and its warm regard and esteem of Miss Bailey, who has been a very valued member of the Guild. Mrs. John M. May, diocesan Dorcas secretary, was present. This evening was pleasantly spent with social enjoyment and refreshments were served. Miss Bailey expects to leave for Toronto early next week and is awaiting definite instructions from the Mission Board. Mrs. Sydney Bishop, of St. James street, accompanied by her children, Roland and Virginia, left yesterday for Grand Manan to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Macdonald, Grand Harbor, Grand Manan. Mrs. Richard Challer, of London, England, who has been the guest of Mrs. Harry Machum at Fair Vale, will leave shortly for Montreal where she is planning to take up residence. Mr. and Mrs. Weir, Miss Frances Weir and Miss Viola Gustafson of New York are visiting Mrs. Weir's brother, Charles Moore, 178 Wright St. Miss Gertrude MacAllister left yesterday afternoon for Parrsboro, N. S., to visit her friend, Miss Mary Gavin, during her vacation. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family of the late Mr. Heuro Lutes, of Steeple's Mountain, near Moncton. Mrs. Lutes was formerly Miss Edda Stevens, a daughter of Mrs. J. W. Stevens, of Fairville, and before her marriage was a teacher in Winter street school. Mrs. Stevens and her daughter, Miss Marton and Miss Seldie, went to Steeple's Mountain for the funeral and Mrs. Stevens is remaining with Mrs. Lutes. BETTER HEALTH FOR WOMEN. Any woman who will stop and consider the results of a questionnaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, of Coughing, Ont., will in all fairness admit the value of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Fifty thousand replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 women stated they had been benefited or restored to health by its use. This means better health for women in America. It will surely pay any woman who suffers from any ailment or weakness peculiar to her sex to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. Left-over Potatoes. Do not pile left-over cooked potatoes together, as they will soon sour. Spread them out on a platter.

FAREWELL SERVICE FOR MISSIONARY

Canon Armstrong Speaks on Occasion of Miss Bailey's Leaving for China. A farewell service for Miss Helen Bailey, missionary-elect, who is to leave shortly for the China mission field, was held yesterday afternoon in her parish church, Trinity, and was conducted by Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, rector, who in his address spoke feelingly and expressed the high hopes and earnest prayers of the congregation. The service which was presided at by the rector was marked by depth of religious feeling. At the close personal greetings were extended to Miss Bailey by her many friends at an informal reception in the vestry. For the text of his sermon, Canon Armstrong had Acts 20:22. "I commend you to God and to the word of His grace" words which he said had been spoken by the great apostle Paul at his farewell meeting when he was about to cross over to Europe and undertake that missionary work which he had undertaken in the foundations of European Christianity. Canon Armstrong expressed the belief that it would hardly be possible to equal the pathos and fervency of feeling of the words of Paul at that time. Miss Bailey, he said, would be following in the steps of Paul and in the steps of Christ and it was fitting that she should be remembered by her fellow worshippers. The important part of the service he held to be the acts of worship, of praise and prayer and these he hoped she would always hold in deep remembrance. He said that while many blessings came through the uplifting of the Spirit to God, Paul in his admonition had spoken specially of the word of God. The word of the grace of God was indeed sufficient for the soul and for the enlightenment of each individual and of the church itself. It was to be Miss Bailey's inestimable privilege to preach the word of God, to speak of God's grace to those who had never heard them, and he besought God's blessing upon her. The rector's address was a strong point out how fruitful might be the commendation of friends to God in the time of sorrow or the time when temptations were to be faced, and he closed with the invocation of God's blessing on behalf of Miss Bailey.

It is by experiments such as these, by the microscopic examination of the chromosomes, that most of the recent progress in the science of genetics and heredity has been made. Chemical Reactions. There is a tendency to over-emphasize the value of the "respiratory quotient" in studying the chemical reactions going on in the animal body in the opinion of Dr. E. P. Cathcart, F. R. S., professor of chemistry, physiology and zoology in the University of Glasgow, who addressed physiologists today. In the respiratory quotient, the amount of oxygen inhaled for the combustion of the fuel stored in the body is related to the amount of carbon dioxide breathed out, and thus it is taken as an index of the type of foodstuff which is being utilized. Fats, if used exclusively, give a definite figure for the respiratory quotient, distinct from that obtained when only sugars are burned. A mixed diet furnishes an "R Q" intermediate in value. He amount of burning or combustion which taking place in the body can then be related to the corresponding output of energy. PYTHIAN DELEGATES REACH TORONTO. Toronto, Aug. 12.—More than 1,500 Knights of Pythias delegates assembled here to the 33rd biennial international convention today listened to speeches of welcome from the local entertainment committee. Mayor W. W. Hiltz, who welcomed them on behalf of the city, Jos. Harris, P. M. on behalf of the Dominion and Hon. J. S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, who welcomed them on behalf of the province. F. W. Lemon, Grand Chief of Ontario, also delivered a welcome. Supreme Chancellor George C. Cabell, Norfolk, Virginia, responded to the welcome extended on behalf of the delegates. FORMER DRY AGENT SLAIN: WIFE IS HELD

Says He Told Her He Had Been Stabbed in Street Fight. New York, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Frances Evelyn McMullin, 38 years old, was locked up on the charge of stabbing to death her husband, Stewart N. McMullin, 35 years old, in their apartment late Saturday night. McMullin, an ex-convict, formerly was a prohibition agent. He shot an alleged bootlegger to death in 1920. Federal Government authorities defended him when brought to trial by the State authorities. He was acquitted. Mrs. McMullin is known to the police as a prisoner taken some months ago in a Greenwich Village raid and as having been questioned with her husband about the murders last year of Patrolmen Ronanelli and Reynolds, who were shot to death in Second Avenue by a taxicab party that had sped from Queensboro Bridge. Mrs. McMullin, by a previous marriage, is the mother of a 6-year-old girl, Shirley, now in the country with relatives. The woman insisted during several hours of questioning that her husband had been stabbed in a street fight. The police said that the stabbing was done with a potato knife belonging to Mrs. McMullin. Search for the murder weapon during the night had been futile, but yesterday morning the daylight disclosed it in a rear yard at the rear of 641 West 138th street. Police Question Boarder. The police last night questioned Arthur Dempsey, a boarder in the McMullin home. He is employed as a telephone operator for the Pullman Company in the Pennsylvania Station. The police said he had had nothing to do with the crime but was questioned about the rows between the McMullins. In a statement to the police last night, Dempsey said that when the McMullins began to exchange epithets he returned to his room. From there he said he heard them quarrelling over a suggestion by McMullin that his wife, because he was out of work, find a means of livelihood. McMullin's suggestion, according to Dempsey, made the row even more violent. He said that when Mrs. McMullin returned from the police station she slapped his face for not aiding her against her husband. BURNED MAKING A RESCUE. Policeman Saves Roomer Whose Cigarette Set Bed Afire. New York, Aug. 13.—Ericker Allen, smoking a cigarette in bed, set fire to his furnished room on the second floor of a five-story rooming house. Patrolman Samuel Rosenblatt rushed into the burning room, helped Allen down to the street, awakened the rest of the roomers and burned his hand throwing burning furniture into the street. An ambulance surgeon of Harlem Hospital attended Rosenblatt and firemen were able to confine the blaze to Allen's room.

LENGTH OF LIFE IS SUBJECT AT SCIENCE MEETING. The average length of life, and success in reproduction and lactation, depend on the extent to which the amount of the vitamins known to science under the name, Fat-Soluble A. This was announced by Prof. H. C. Sherman of Columbia University at a joint symposium on vitamins held by the chemistry and physiology sections today. For ten years it has been known that this constituent of butter and cream is an essential growth and maintenance of eye disease, but its importance for other functions has, hitherto, not been recognized. Diets, in which it is present in relatively small amounts, fail utterly to support successful reproduction and lactation, and the individual may be enjoying apparent good health. It is believed, also, that susceptibility to lung disease is due in part to the absence from the diet of sufficient quantities of fat-soluble A. Professor Sherman pointed out, that deficiency of vitamin in what are considered normal diets cannot be taken for granted. Enormous variations may occur in the plant tissues, from which the cows, and in turn, the human beings, obtain their store of this important substance. Measures must be taken to ensure the presence of amounts which provide an adequate sufficiency. Skeletons 1,000 Years Old. Six human skeletons unearthed during the course of excavations for a sewer in the outskirts of Los Angeles are to date the oldest evidence of the existence of human life on this continent, according to Dr. A. Hrdlicka, curator of the United States National Museum, who discussed man's antiquity in America in the anthropology section today. "Findings of fossilized human remains in Ecuador, the Valley and parts of the U. S., especially in California have stimulated research on the early inhabitants of this continent," Dr. Hrdlicka said. He inferred that a geological antiquity for man's habitation in America has still to be proved, despite the fact that some of the remains have been found under conditions which strongly suggest it. "According to indications, man's antiquity here is still not geological; it is not an age to be measured in tens of thousands of years; it can probably be estimated in thousands of years. Thus the specimens found in America are relatively recent in comparison with latest to be unearthed in Europe, which date back tens, and possibly hundreds, of thousands of years. Wars on Parasites. Foresters have only scratched the surface of the study of the elimination of disease to trees in timberlands, according to the report of Dr. J. H. Paul, professor of pathology at the University of Toronto, who described methods for warding off the attacks of certain parasites in a paper delivered in the agriculture section today. "At the outset we are confronted in Eastern Canada with a multiplicity of diseases of which even the cause is unknown," said Dr. Paul. Methods have been developed for coping with diseases afflicting white pine and the pulpwood. Huge quantities of timber, prematurely diseased following on injuries from fire, have been left unharvested and the amount at present considered unit amounts to 50 per cent. in certain areas. Experiments are being pushed which aim to make this

Hallisey and Short Favored For Tennis Doubles Title.

(Special to The Times-Star.)
Sackville, Aug. 12—Play at the New Brunswick championship tennis tournament today was witnessed by a large gallery that applauded the many brilliant bits of action. Rain caused cancellation of a few matches which will be run off tomorrow or Thursday. The doubles match between Short and Hallisey and McInerney and Jones was the day's feature, the former excelling and being favored for the title.
Ryan and Miss Costley, of Deery Cove, won from Mc and Mrs. H. H. McLean, Jr., of Hatheway, in mixed doubles, the playing of both ladies being exceptionally good.

CONCRETE MIXER LIPSETS.
A concrete mixer belonging to the Maritime Construction Company came to grief last evening as it was being taken through Main street toward downtown. It took a crew of men some hours to get the machine back on four wheels again.

CLOCK WORK This Minor League Star Hasn't Missed a Time at Bat in Nine Years.

RAY WOODWORTH
The Everett Scott of the minors. That's what the fans are calling Ray Woodworth, second baseman of the Bloomington (Ill.) team of the Three-Eye League. Woodworth, steady as a clock, hasn't missed a single inning of play or a time at bat in the nine years he has played ball, beginning with his high school days.
The Trojans scored their first soccer victory in the game played last night on the Barrack Green when they won from the Garrison team by five to two. The steady rain did not dampen the spirits of the players and the game was fast with the Trojans holding the upper hand throughout. Evans, captain of the Trojans, did the hat trick scoring three goals for his side and Clark added two more getting one goal from a penalty. The scoring for the Garrison team was done by Curtis.
SALISBURY WINS.
Salisbury, N. B., Aug. 12—The Salisbury side defeated the Petticoat baseball team Thursday evening at Petticoat in one of the fastest games seen here this season. Good pitching by Trueman of Salisbury and heavy hitting by Trueman and Lewis, Salisbury, featured the game.

U. S. TO SELECT THEIR POLO TEAM Will Endeavor To Get Strongest Combination For Big Series.

New York, Aug. 13.—With the British ponies stabled on Long Island and the British players on their way across the Atlantic, followers of polo are beginning to realize the nearness of the international matches for the historic Challenge Cup, and with that realization comes a bit of anxiety over the fact that the American team has not yet been selected. But there need be no worry as to the ability of the United States to send a four on the field capable of meeting the invaders on at least even terms. Six players have been produced in the trial matches at Meadow Brook who are capable of holding their own in any sort of competition, and from those six or seven undoubtedly the four will be selected on whom will rest the defence of the trophy.
J. Watson Webb, Eric Pedley, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Malcolm Stevenson, Robert E. Strawbridge and Deverux Milburn have come through the trial matches with a display of international strength, and it will be those six undoubtedly who will form the squad which will represent the United States. The group includes two strong men for each position. Webb and Pedley have been playing on practically even terms at No. 1, despite the fact that Webb is rated at nine goals and Pedley at six. Should anything happen so that Hitchcock is unable to play, No. 2, Pedley will be able to fill in without costing the combination much strength. In fact, one of the leading polo experts in this country, himself a player of international ability, recently remarked that Pedley could be moved into Hitchcock's place and the difference in the strength would be unnoticeable. For No. 3 position there are Strawbridge, an eight-goal player, and Stevenson, a nine-goal player, with little to choose between them, and should the great Milburn be forced out of the international, Strawbridge is capable of playing a splendid back.
So the United States is well equipped with players to defend the trophy, and what may be in the way of accidents. The problem which now confronts the Defence Committee is in selecting the strongest combination from the six players and developing the team work so essential to a winning four. Various combinations have been used in the trial matches of the past two weeks. Both Pedley and Webb have played in front of Hitchcock. Evans, captain, is a miss something unforeseen happens, and both Strawbridge and Stevenson have had their opportunity to play in front of Milburn, the greatest back of them all. It might be well, just in order to prepare for the worst that could happen, to put a combination on the field for one or two games composed of Webb, Pedley, Stevenson and Strawbridge, and see how they do before the first game is played against the British.

PUT CANADA EAST ON BASEBALL MAP

'Sportlife' Pays Tribute to Joe Page in Sketch of Interest.

Under the title "The Man who put Eastern Canada on the Baseball Map" there is an article of much interest to St. John sport followers in the August number of "Sportlife," formerly "Sporting Life," published in Philadelphia and very widely read. The article is written by "Jim Naskim" and deals with our friend Joe Page, of the C. P. R. who has done much for the advancement of St. John in sporting matters along several lines. After some paragraphs referring to the influence for good that sport has on a country and its people the writer goes on to say—

When Lacrosse Ruled.

The time was when Lacrosse was the national summer sport in Canada, hockey being its national winter sport as it is now. Nothing has yet appeared to take the place of hockey as the national sport of Canada in winter time, and owing to natural reasons it probably never will. But when, back in the spring of 1889, an American baseball player moved to Montreal and established a residence there, it was the first step in the beginning of the end of Lacrosse as the national summer sport of Eastern Canada and in the spread of baseball northward.

That American baseball player was Joe Page, now connected with the passenger traffic department of the Canadian Pacific Railway and president of the Quebec, Ontario and Vermont Baseball League, last year's Eastern Canada Circuit, who prior to his moving to Montreal in 1889 had been a player in the old Michigan State League and other organizations, and only a few years before had been signed by the Indianapolis team, then in the National League.

Becoming afflicted with a severe attack of rheumatism that kept him in the hospital all winter, Page, instead of reporting to Indianapolis in the National League in the spring of 1889, went to join his family that had just moved from Chicago to Montreal, residing in Montreal on Crutcher's on April 2, 1889. And to that attack of rheumatism Montreal and Eastern Canada owes its first impetus in baseball and the baseball map owes this valuable acquisition to its territory.

At that time one could travel all over Eastern Canada and see nothing but Lacrosse being played. It was their national game, and shop workers took their Lacrosse sticks to work with them and during the dinner hour would pass the ball around from one to the other as American shop workers do with their baseball and glove. During the course of a day a thousand juvenile Lacrosse games were in progress throughout the city of Montreal any day in the week, and when the championship matches took place, generally on Saturdays and holidays, there would be from ten to fifteen thousand spectators in attendance.

Being a baseball player, even though a baseball player on crutches, Joe Page became homesick for a sight of a baseball. To him it was strange to see them playing this strange game and not even a couple of kids throwing a baseball around anywhere.

Cheered Him Up.

One day in June, of 1889, still hobbling on his crutches, Page was taking a walk several blocks from his home and looking down St. Martins street he almost fell over from surprise when he saw two boys playing catch with a baseball. Hobbling down on his crutches where these two Canadian kids were catching baseball, Page perched himself on a doorstep and sat there for more than an hour watching them. Explaining his feelings at that sight now Page says: "I have seen probably as many world's series as any man alive, from the St. Louis-White Stocking and Detroit series of 1885-86 to the Temple Cup Series of 1891-93 and practically all of the National and American League world's series, but I can honestly say that I have never got the thrill of satisfaction out of the game that the sight of those two kids in Canada playing catch back there in 1889 gave me."

"And thereafter, day after day for a period of probably several weeks, weather permitting, I had my bleacher seat on St. Martins street to watch these two kids playing catch. Finally they got to sizing up the guy with the crutches who came every day to watch them catching, and then I made bold to speak to the pitching end of that battery and to coach him on several ways in which he could improve his delivery. Then came a day on which decorated only "the dark unfathomable cave of ocean." Melvil Dewey, President of the Lake Placid Club in the Adirondacks, discounting the poet's philosophy of despair. He believes that the world can be saved by its potential geniuses, and proposes to find them instead of allowing them to bluish unseen. Backed by his club, which he founded 30 years ago, he is not only offering training to "aged" "intellectuals," but planning to seek out gifted youth with a possible contribution to the world. In short, chartered by the State of New York, the Lake Placid Club has recently established an Educational Foundation that through bequests or gifts already amounts to $1,000,000. Unadvertised and unheralded this enterprise, which at first seemed merely quixotic, is actually beginning. A "new school" in the best sense, with picked teachers and picked pupils is to be the outcome at Lake Placid Club within the next few years. Dr. Dewey was a well known educator long before he founded the Lake Placid Club as a poor scholar's retreat three decades ago. The humble little retreat has grown into a great private resort, and the founder is not satisfied with mere success. Here is the way he puts his dream.

Gifted Youth To Be Given Chance Lake Placid Club's Educational Plan

"Most competent authorities now agree that the millennium can never be brought about by soldiers, police or legislation. We must make people prefer to live better and want the best, and this can only be done by education. Our greatest economic mistake is in scrapping a many of the world's teachers before they have rendered their full service. The course of the world is shaped by its millennial men. But this potential millennial man is often lost to the world because he has been found and trained for his great possibilities. We propose to find these millennial men through whom the world can change the future of the world." The Lake Placid Club plan means a new center of education, a sort of super-school.

I offered to catch him myself, standing on crutches, in order to better explain my points, and that day on which I donned that big mitt and started to catch this young pitcher, whose name was Albert Woods, was the happiest day I had known in Montreal up to that time."

Clubs Organized.

Later, as Page became able to hobble around without his crutches, P. J. McCullum, sporting editor of the Montreal Herald and an officer of the Clipper Baseball Club, one of two recently organized ball clubs in Montreal, who had heard of Page and his coaching, came and saw Page and arranged for a ball game to be played in which Page, if able, was to do the catching. During the winter of 1889-90 Page had been coaching, was to do the pitching. Page caught that game, hobbling to his position on crutches, while the opposing team allowed another player to run for him regular ball games ever played in Montreal. Page's team, the Clippers, defeated the Comets 27 to 3. Woods, Page's young pitcher, striking out 15 of the bats, was the star of the game.

Only 50 Attended.

The first game was played with the strong Toronto University team, of Toronto, and though it was played on a beautiful day with no counter attractions and the newspapers had advertised it well, less than fifty persons attended. The Munges winning this game by a score of 7 to 5, which fact was carried in all the papers, and two games between the same two teams being scheduled for the following day

TO DEAL STERNLY WITH FOUL RIDING

Strong Demands that Jockey Club Enforce Penalties on Jockeys.

One of the most serious problems confronting the Jockey Club this season is the elimination of rough riding, and all that is embraced in that racing term, says the New York Times. It has come to such a pass that life and limb of jockeys and horses are constantly endangered. George Cooper was sent to the hospital at Yonkers, his life despaired of. Earl Sande, whose name is known throughout the world as a foremost rider, lies in the Saratoga Hospital and only the most optimistic can hope that he will ride again. The rules relating to foul riding are sufficiently explicit, and vigorous measures should be taken to enforce them. Despite repeated warnings from the stewards of the Empire City and Saratoga meetings the rules have been grossly violated. The most severe punishment should be imposed—not because of Sande's sufferings and pecuniary losses, but as a warning to all jockeys that the laws of racing must be observed for the insurance of safety to all who participate.

William Keating's accident in the steeplechase on Friday emphasizes the necessity of a rule of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association making the wearing of protective skull caps by jockeys in steeplechase compulsory. Such a rule is in force in the United States, which would be in the nature of a fair exchange.

It might well be that what Eastern Canada owes to Joe Page for its baseball during the summer months these United States may yet owe to him for its ice hockey to fill the gap in its sports which now exists during the winter months.

And to have fixed a major national sport of two countries is no mean accomplishment when the influence that sport has over the people of a nation.

JOHNSON PITCHES 106TH WHITEWASH

In Only Big League Game Yesterday Chalks Up 3,180th Strike-Out.

New York, Aug. 13.—The Indians and Senators managed to find a dry spot in the nation's capital in which to stage a ball game yesterday, while all the other major league games were forced by the rainy weather to seek recreation in indoor sports. In shutting out Cleveland by 4 to 0, Walter Johnson registered his 106th white wash and raised his all-time strike-out total to 3,180.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

At least one arrival on the British Association special last evening, says the Toronto Globe, came prepared to shake hands with "Our Lady of the Snows." His name is Professor Victor Coffman, and, though a Rumanian by birth, he is from the Department of Physical Chemistry in University College, London. Over his military uniform he wore knee-high sheepskin, with thick woollen stockings rolled down over the tops. From his shoulder was slung a bulging pack-bag, from his belt dangled a water bottle, on the other side hung a pair of field glasses. A thick scarf kept his neck reasonably warm, but, apparently in desperation, he had thrown away his hat, for it was nowhere visible. In addition to his heavy attire, he carried a smart military case. On being questioned, Prof. Coffman stated that he was planning to visit Northern Ontario on several months' prospecting tour, following the convention.

GIANTS-CUBS GAME ORDERED REPLAYED

President Heydler Sustains Protest—Interesting Point In Baseball.

The protest by the Chicago Cubs of the game won by the Giants in Chicago on July 15 has been allowed by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, who ordered the result of the game stricken from the record. It will be replayed in Chicago on Aug. 25.

At the same time Mr. Heydler denied a protest by the Pittsburgh club of a New York victory on July 19 in Pittsburgh, where it was claimed that Umpire Charley Moran misinterpreted the playing rules and mistakenly called a balk on Pitcher Lee Meadows.

The Chicago protest was based on one of the most intricate and interesting points ever brought up in baseball. With runners on second and first and three balls and two strikes on the batter, Umpire Bill Klem called the next pitch a ball. The runners were off with the pitcher's motion and Cotter was run down between third and second. When Klem, after appealing to Field Umpire Wilson, reversed his decision and declared the batter had swung and was out, he also called Cotter out.

The point at issue was whether Cotter was entitled to the protection of the umpire's original ruling and should have been allowed to go back to second. In allowing the protest, President Heydler reversed Umpire Klem.

Overrules Umpires.

"In the last half of the second inning of the New York-Chicago game at Chicago on July 15, neither team having scored, the first two batsmen (Cotter and Friberg respectively) reached first on four balls each. "With the count three and two on the next batsman (Grigsby), the next pitch was wide of the plate, and Umpire Klem called ball four. Catcher Snyder threw to third, and Cotter was run down and called out by Field Umpire Wilson. "Jennings, Frisch and Snyder in turn protested that Grigsby had struck at the ball and requested Klem to appeal to Wilson, which he refused to do. Finally, on a further protest from Gowdy, he did appeal to Wilson, and the latter ruled that Grigsby had struck at the ball. Klem then reversed his decision, and both Grigsby and Cotter were called out. The protest is based on the decision of Cotter. "The Chicago Club contends that, when the umpire called ball four, the runners were automatically entitled to advance without liability to be put out. The New York Club holds that both runners had started with the pitch; that they were running at their own risk, and that both decisions were correct and had no bearing on the final result of the game, which was won by New York by 9 to 4. "If it were here the purpose of sustaining the umpires, right or wrong, it would be desirable to accept the proposition that the play resulted as it normally would have resulted. To do so, however, would be pure assumption. "The outstanding fact of the dispute is that, with a runner legally advancing from one base to another, under the protection of the rule and with the call of four balls still in full force and effect, he was mistakenly called out, and that thereby Chicago's chances for scoring were affected. "The protest, in my judgment, is justified by the playing rules, and it is hereby allowed. The result of the game played July 15 will be erased from the record, and the game is ordered replayed in Chicago on Monday, Aug. 25 next."

MORGAN YACHT VISITS ST. JOHN

Private Ship of New York Banker Comes Into Harbor Here.

The million-dollar private yacht of J. Pierpont Morgan, famous United States banker, here from St. Andrews, N. B., and Bar Harbor, Me., dropped anchor in the harbor at 7.30 o'clock last evening and is to leave again this afternoon for Digby and Halifax, N. S. The multi-millionaire banker was not on board, being in England at present on business, but Hon. Herbert L. Satterlee, formerly connected with the United States Navy Department, Mrs. Satterlee and her family are on board. The yacht is commanded by Captain W. B. Porter. Captain Porter said the cruise might be extended through the night, but that would depend largely on weather conditions. Mrs. Satterlee is a sister of Mrs. Morgan.

The "Corsair" resembles the bay steamer Empress in build, but is much larger. She is 1,132 tons gross and her engines have a 4,800 horsepower. She is an oil burner. On her smokestack, the "Corsair" proudly displays two service stripes—granted her for service during the war. For losing his magnificent yacht, Mr. Morgan received the sum of $1 a month. She was badly damaged during the war and it cost her owner a small fortune to repair her. She carries a crew of 45 men and is handsomely appointed throughout. The yacht can make 18 knots an hour under pressure, but her cruising speed is 12 knots an hour. She draws 16.4 feet of water.

TRAVELED FAR

Four Year Old East St. John Child Found In Carleton.

To be missing from her home in Edith Avenue, East St. John, and to be found in Queen Square, West St. John, was the experience of little four-year-old Rena McCrossin. Yesterday her mother notified the city police that she was missing and it was thought that she might have got on a street car and not been noticed by the conductor. Instructions were sent out to the policemen to be on the lookout for her, and one of the patrolmen in West St. John found her in Queen Square. The police are unable to figure out how she could have worked her way on the cars all that distance without attracting attention. In order to get to Queen Square she would have to transfer at least twice. As soon as she was found her mother was notified and she was soon back under her care.

As Hiram Sees It

"It looks," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeak to The Times reporter, "as if old England might be some more trouble in Ireland."

"It does look like that," said the reporter. "Looks as if she's gone to have some trouble with Egypt, too," said Hiram.

"The situation is rather ugly," said the reporter. "Them there Arabs is makin' a kick again her, too," said Hiram. "Quite so," said the reporter.

"It's always some fuss in India, too," said Hiram. "It is chronic," said the reporter. "Well, sir," said Hiram, "when I think of them big fellows settin' there in London—with a map of the world in front of 'em—steekin' pins in the places where trouble's brewin'—an' then aggerin' out how to satisfy everybody without things goin' to smash—an' when I think how well they've done considerin' the different kinds o' people they had to deal with—I want to take off my hat to Old John Bull—yes, sir. He's the daddy of 'em all—By, Hen!"
