Crew of 9 Lashed Three Days to Deck As Waves Sweep Vessel

New York, Oct. 13.—Lashed to ring bolts in the deck of the dismantled barkentine John S. Emery of Boston, Captain E. H. Davis and his crew of nine drifted for three days through pounding seas before being picked up by the liner Samland, which made port today.

For the last twelve hours on board the barkentine, the crew was out of food. Only the lashings kept them from being washed overboard, as every wave passed over the stripped deck. When the storm subsided somewhat for a brief period, the men distilled some water in an old copper kettle, lighting a fire with an emery wheel, cotton waste and gunpowder from a cartridge. When picked up the crew had almost no clothing left.

PLUNGES IN WATERS TO SAVE BABE

St. John Woman Risks Her Life to Save Son From Drowning.

NARROW ESCAPE

Rushes to Likely's Pond When She Hears Little Tot Scream.

Plunging from Long Wharf yesterday afternoon into some five feet of water in Likely's Pond, Mrs. Joseph Harquail saved the life of her 3-year-old son and demonstrated again that no earthly love is like that of the mother for her child.

Today her bravery has its reward in possession of a treasure that had nearly been taken from her, when little Joseph, playing in a dangerous place, fell overboard.

Fortunately she heard the cries of his frightened companions and, running to the edge of the wharf, leaped into the cold water. She could not swim, but that mattered not; her boy's life was in danger. It was a desperate struggle for the frail woman, but she reaped a rich reward.

Nearly Drawn Under Scow.

Joseph is the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harquail. The little chap, in company with other children was playing about the wharf, when he was directly in front of his home in Long wharf, when he slipped off a log and fell into the water, which was nearly five feet deep.

Mrs. Joseph Harquail, who was walking down Long wharf at the time and, hearing the cries of the children, rushed to the scene. The little fellow by this time could be seen about four feet away, slowly being drawn towards some large scow.

With a heart-rending cry she plunged into the water, and, reaching the wharf and by frantic efforts reached her child just before the suction would have carried him under the nearest scow. The child about this time was below the surface of the water, and the mother, although unable to swim, flung herself at the floating babe, caught him, and then struggled to regain her footing and reach the more shallow section of the pond, where her sister-in-law was waiting to render assistance.

The men quit work following a disagreement with the Maritime Workers' League over the rights of each organization in handling cargo at the wharves. The strikers have already destroyed switches and torn up tracks.

OLD COIN SUPPLY NOT EXHAUSTED

Evidently St. John People Have Lot of Ancient Money.

From present indications it would seem that St. John people have more old coins put away than any other people in the world. Times men have been shown collection after collection, but the end appears to be not yet.

A reporter looked over an aggregation belonging to Mrs. George Payne, 47 Broad street this week. It was numerous, but the following were amongst the most outstanding:—
United States—Half cents, 1866 and 1867; cent, 1821 and 1843; two-cent piece, 1863.
France—10 centimes, 1866; five centimes, 1866 and 1864.
Spain—2 centos, 1877.
Italy—5 centimes, 1861 and 1862.
Province of Canada, Quebec Bank token, 1868.
British—Half-penny token, 1815; Demerara and Essequibo, half shilling of George II, 1819; Jamaica half-penny, 1871.

The gem of the collection was an American guinea (21 shillings of the reign of George II, dated 1796).
A lady in the South End also showed a collection of many coins including a copper coin of the reign of Charles III, dated 1782; an N. S. penny token of 1822; an N. B. cent, 1864 and a U. S. half-cent, 1863.

But this is certain, the losers will have to dip down in their jeans this evening and pay the bill for an entire course of dinner, etc., etc. for all the participants.

Appearances in This Case Deceptive

He was an angel-faced child, and as he peered with his head and shoulders above a fence in Carmarthen street with a scrupulous expression on his rosy countenance, he appeared the very personification of innocence. His age would be about five—maybe less.

Mild interest was registered on his features as three well-dressed ladies approached and one was about to remark on the charming picture which was presented to them.

A pudgy fist was elevated above the fence-top and a shower of dust, raked from the street or back-yard was suddenly projected on to the hat and clothes of the lady nearest the fence.

The blow was staggering. The ladies' faith in human nature was rudely shattered. One quietly chided the offender.

"You wouldn't do that to your mother," the lady on the outside of the street addressed the kiddie.

"I would take to chronicle its arrival. And there a Times reporter found it this morning, planted firmly on the book containing the names of the committee workers. In other words, the new arrival was literally on all the committee lists for the occasion—ex officio, of course.

Kind of a Mean Shot.

A small-town constable in an eastern state halted a motorist. "Have you been reading the signs along the road?" "Yes." "What do they say?" "Twenty-five miles an hour on roads fifteen miles through towns." "You should have slowed down," declared the official. "You are now inside our town limits. You admit the signs are plain enough?" "Plain enough," responded the motorist. "But why don't you label your towns?"

CAUSE THE CURE

A CAUSE MUST BE ADJUSTED MADE RIGHT

CHIROPRACTIC is based on fundamental, natural laws. The organs of the body are the motors, the nerves are power lines which carry vital energy or life to all parts of the body. Impingement or pinching of the nerves interferes with their carrying power and disease is the result. The chiropractor aligns vertebrae and the impinged nerves are freed. The flow of life enters the part diseased, normal functions are resumed and health restored. The Chiropactic way is Nature's way.

MONGREL GIVES LIFE SAVING HIS MASTER FROM SAVAGE GRIZZLY

Attack Enraged Monarch of the Rockies as It Charges Hunter.

New York, Oct. 13.—An offer to manage the Boston American League baseball club in 1924 has been extended to Leo Fohl, former manager of the eastern team, by President Robert Quinn of the Boston Red Sox. The signing of a contract in this matter has not been accomplished yet, according to Quinn, but those in close touch with the baseball situation here believe that within a few weeks Fohl will put his signature on such a document.

Quinn and Fohl have long associated from time to time, in the management of clubs both in the major leagues and in the minor leagues. Quinn was business manager of the St. Louis Browns when Fohl was manager. Fohl has been manager of the St. Louis Browns and the Cleveland Indians, and is now manager of the Cleveland Indians.

BURIED ALIVE 90 MINUTES

Builder Rescued From Under Tons of Sand by Squad of Firemen.

After being buried alive for more than an hour and a half beneath tons of sand that kept pouring into his living tomb as fast as it was shoveled, Sam Shell, 37 years old, of Springfield, was rescued by Captain Sherid and six men from Hook and Ladder Company 150 of Hollis, little the worse for his experience.

Shell was working on the foundation of a house he is erecting for his father, when sand, which had been piled high on the edge of the excavation, began to pour in on him. A neighbor who was working for an hour and a half while his wife knelt on the edge of the excavation and prayed for his safety.

74 KILLED IN N. Y. STREET ACCIDENTS LAST MONTH

New York, Oct. 13.—Seventy-four persons were killed in street accidents in New York in September, four fewer than in the corresponding month of last year, according to Barron G. Collier, Special Deputy Police Commissioner. Thirty-six were children under 17, half of whom met death in attempting to cross streets at places other than crossings. Four were skating when run down.

Four adults who were fatally injured carried umbrellas that obstructed their views, and five children under four years of age probably would not have been killed had they been attended by older persons.

Defective motor brakes were responsible for one fatality and for 83 non-fatal accidents. The police inspected 10,461 motors, 1,686 of which had defective brakes. Operation of motors with unsafe brakes resulted in 270 convictions.

Call U. S. Fleet Inferior to Britain's

Naval Experts Say Warships Are Outclassed in Four Essentials—Ask Higher Gun Elevation.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Renewal of the controversy as to whether the United States can raise the elevation of the guns of her battleships under the terms of the naval treaty appeared certain today when a prominent member of the General Board of the Navy made a statement to the effect that the American fleet is inferior to the British fleet in four main essentials of successful combat.

Capt. Frank Schofield of the General Board, who was in charge of the planning division under Admiral Sims in London during the world war, declared that "our ships today are inferior to foreign ships, our battleships inferior to the British battleship fleet."

This naval expert, who formerly commanded the Texas, enumerated the following points of inferiority:—

1. They cannot shoot so far.
2. They are not so well protected against torpedoes.
3. They are not so well protected against bombs.
4. They do not burn oil.

Capt. Schofield enlarged on these points of inferiority, declaring that the eighteen battleships of the United States thirteen could be badly outclassed as to shooting range by the British fleet, for instance. He urged immediate action to raise elevation as one new battleship would cost as much as a requisite for maintaining the naval ratio. He also urged alterations for protection against torpedo attack, heavier deck armor for thirteen of the ships and oil burners for all of them.

"The entire programme," said Capt. Schofield, "would cost about as much as one new battleship would cost. The complement of the programme would make our fleet probably twice as effective as it is now. In other words, we would probably double the value of one fleet by spending on it about five per cent. of its first cost."

HER JOY RIDE ENDED IN PITIFUL MANNER

Verla Carlisle, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton M. Carlisle, of Douglas, York County, has a punctured lung, broken collar bone and other injuries as a result of being thrown off a wagon loaded with potatoes from a field and had his little daughter, his older son and his brother's children on the wagon. Mr. Carlisle was hurrying to get through when the wagon wheel struck a rut throwing one of the barrels on which his daughter was sitting off the wagon on to the road. He did not know that the little girl had been thrown off until he stopped the horses and found her lying on the road.

ACCUSED OF MAKING GIRL WED HIM AT PISTOL POINT

New York, Oct. 13.—John Savini, an Egyptian, of Pennsylvania, N. J., was arraigned in Coney Island Court on abduction charges. According to the testimony of Miss Helen Barnathan, secretary of the Coney Island Police, Savini called at her mother's home on September 13, 1923, producing a revolver, invited her to choose between death and marriage. Under compulsion the girl crossed over to New Jersey with Savini and was married. Forty-eight hours later Mrs. Savini learned her husband had another wife along with children, and communicated with her mother, who brought about Savini's arraignment.

The Egyptian was held in $1,000 bail by Magistrate Brown to await jury action.

DRUMMER GETS AUTOGRAPH BUT RENFREW GETS PENICIL

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—There is one resident of Ottawa who will remember Lord Renfrew's visit. At the dance given by the Governor-General and the Lady Byng of Vimy in his honor at Rideau Hall just before his departure, the drummer in the orchestra asked Lord Renfrew to autograph his bass drum. The distinguished visitor graciously accepted the request. Borrowing a gold pencil from the cornet player, the drummer handed it to Lord Renfrew, who signed "R.P." on the drum. Then, absent-mindedly, Lord Renfrew put the gold pencil in his pocket and went on with the dance. The pencil was a gift to the cornet player from his fiancée.

THAT TWO-EDGED SWORD.

That there will be no embargo to prevent American anthracite from coming to Canada is now pretty generally agreed, though we shall hear of it from time to time. So long as we can pay the high price at which it is made available to us we are likely to get it, unless some unexpected element enters the case.

Now the airplane multiplies that by four, and this is by no means the end. Faster planes and bigger ships are being turned out steadily by the inventors of the more enterprising nations, and each year they will surpass themselves. Human ingenuity and daring have never been displayed more strikingly than in conquering the air.

The world gasped when Blériot flew the Channel. Today to hop across by plane on business or pleasure is one of the commonplaces. Flying has revolutionized warfare. The extent to which it may revolutionize many of the ordinary ways of peace can only be guessed as yet but enough has been done to make it certain that new wonders will be unfolded frequently in our day. This, in a word, is the flying age.

THE MARITIMES.

The solid value of the Maritime ports to Canada at large is emphasized by the Toronto Globe in commenting favorably upon the Halifax Chronicle's plea for a real and broad Canadian unity. It agrees that the provinces further west should consider what the Dominion would be without the Maritimes.

Recognitions of this need of the Atlantic outlet, and of the enthusiasm and capacity of the Maritime people, should be more general, and it ought not to be forgotten that the spirit of unity, which we try to promote in the part of the country, can be increased in a measure to some extent but to a much greater extent by converting theory into practice.

Our friends in the other provinces cannot expect to promote unity and enthusiasm by using foreign ports at the expense of those in the Maritime Provinces, particularly as our own ports will give as good or better service and their use will attain that object which Hon. Mr. Lapointe says is so desirable, the handling of Canadian products in such a way as most to benefit Canadian railways, Canadian ports and Canadian labor.

There can be no permanent satisfaction in this part of the country until our people begin to feel that they are receiving as much practical benefit from Confederation, broadly speaking, as the other partners. It is reasonable to expect that the shipping industry in Canada as a whole, not only to build up the Atlantic ports but to give ear to the just demand of the Maritime Provinces for their fair share of the Canadian growth and development of the day.

Premier Veniot gives most complete and emphatic denial to the Quebec report in which he was quoted as favoring the Quebec liquor law for New Brunswick and discussing the harbor and this would be spoiled if the industry were located there. Property owners raised objections because of unpleasant odors that they feared would arise from the works. The outcome of the discussion, however, was agreement by the council to comply with the request of the applicants, who agreed to pay a yearly rental of $100. This money was subsequently voted for the purpose of beautifying the grounds in the rear of the present grand stand. The plan outlined included the setting out of trees besides a 21 foot in width driveway for vehicles and a foot path for the citizens.

WHERE THE FAIRIES ARE.

(P. C. Fitzgerald in Ottawa Journal.) I know why Moses' mother went and hid her little boy there, Where Miss Pharaoh went to bathing and the tall bulrushes grew. I know the kind of place it was and everything's a joy there, I have searched there, and have played there, and I love it, so would you.

There are tall yellow flags there and the water-wagtail wags there, There are water lilies golden and water lilies white, And dragon-flies unfastening on their fairy-wings go winging.

There is green and lovely grass there, but how few the foles that pass there, The way is very narrow, and the hedgerows are tall, And the willow-bow from the spring till blossom leaves fall.

So even in the day there the fairies they might play there, I shall sit upon a tree stump and shall know and love them all.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

Don't Hesitate. Young Curate—May the minister always kiss the bride after the performing the ceremony? Old Clergyman—Yes, but not too long after.

Reason.

"Men are so much more reasonable than women," declared Mr. Grouch during an argument in which he was getting the worst of it. "Yes," replied Mrs. Grouch, "I have noticed that, especially at a ball game, where a man is always so reasonable that he thinks every time the umpire makes a decision against the home team he is a thief and robber and blind as a bat."

A Poor Luck Emblem.

Wife—Look, dear, I picked up this horseshoe today. We're in for some luck. Hub—Nothing to it. A horseshoe's very shape shows how stupid it is to connect it with luck—it can't make both ends meet.

Not The Only One.

The speaker waxed eloquent, and after his peroration on women's rights he said: "When they take our girls, as they shrewdly away from educational colleges, what will follow? What will follow, I repeat?" And a loud masculine voice in the audience replied: "I will!"

Dime Lacking.

The man who entered the doctor's waiting-room was very seedy looking and down at heels. The minute the medical gentleman saw him he inquired for he knew that he would get no fee out of him.

"What is the matter with you?" inquired the doctor when he had time. "My eyes are inflamed," replied the other.

"Bathe them twice daily with water in which has been dissolved as much boracic powder as you can put on a dime," said the doctor.

"Thank you," murmured the patient turning away. A moment later he re-entered the waiting-room.

"Tell me, doctor," he said, with an ingratiating smile, "where do I get the dime?"

Letters To The Editor

LOWER COVE BOULEVARD. To The Editor of The Times.—Sir—Under the old aldermanic regime, an application was made by the directors of the Canadian Oil Company for a site at the Barrack Point, upon which to locate their works. A strong protest was made to the Common Council against the granting of this privilege.

There was much discussion in the council over the project, and several delegations for and against it were heard. Those in favor urged that the establishment of another oil industry would be the means of reducing the price of kerosene and for the reason that if for no other, the applicants should be favored. On the other hand, it was contended the site asked for was a very popular resort for men, women and children during the summer months, who enjoyed themselves by breathing the cool breezes of the Bay or watching the movements of vessels, full freighted, either entering or leaving the port. On the other many persons, both old and young, could be seen leaving the bathing houses erected near by, for a plunge in the rippling waters when the tide was in. All these things were enjoyed up to the outbreak of the war, in the year 1914, when the grounds were enclosed and all interest included the setting out of trees for vehicles and a foot path for the citizens.

When the works was completed the Barrack grounds (so called) became a very popular resort for men, women and children during the summer months, who enjoyed themselves by breathing the cool breezes of the Bay or watching the movements of vessels, full freighted, either entering or leaving the port. On the other many persons, both old and young, could be seen leaving the bathing houses erected near by, for a plunge in the rippling waters when the tide was in. All these things were enjoyed up to the outbreak of the war, in the year 1914, when the grounds were enclosed and all interest included the setting out of trees for vehicles and a foot path for the citizens.

It is for restoration of these privileges that a delegation of citizens will call on the Commissioner on Monday. To me the appeal is not an unreasonable one, and should be granted, as it probably will be, when the members of the delegation tell their story.

Yours truly, JOHN B. JONES. St. John, Oct. 12.

Mr. Dooley On The Custom House

By FINLEY PETER DUNNE

"Hannigan's back" said Mr. Dooley, "I didn't know he'd ever been away." "Oh, he has that," said Mr. Dooley, "he's been makin' what Hogan calls 'the grand' tower. He's been to Cork an' he see his relatives, an' now he's come home fr to try to get even. He had a grand time, an' some day, I'll get him in here an' have him tell you about it."

"Did he bring anything back?" asked Mr. Hennessy. "He started to," said Mr. Dooley, "but he left Queenstown he had to go fr to see that th' infant industries fr Railway don't get th' worst of it fr th' pauper labor fr Europe," he says.

"With that, a chief inspector comes up an' says he: 'Misther Hannigan,' he says, 'On yer wurruv fr honor as an Irishman an' an American citizen, he says, 'have ye anything in that box that ye culdve paid more fr in this country?' 'On me wurruv fr honor,' says Hannigan.

"I believe ye," says th' chief. "Swear him. Ye do solemnly swear he th' an' he that ye have not been lyin' all along an' he says: 'Open that trunk,' he says. 'Cut th' rope,' he says. 'Boys smuggler has in th' box,' he says. 'What's this? A blackthorn cane! Confiscate it. A bottle fr whiskey. Put it aside fr evidence. A coat! Miscreant! A pair fr pants! Ye perjured ruffian! Don't ye know ye can get nearly as good a pair fr pants fr twice th' money in this country?' Three collars; Hyvnel! A bar fr soap. An' this man calls himself a patriot! Where did ye get that trunk? It looks foreign. I'll take it. Open yer mouth. I'll trouble ye fr that back tooth. Me man,' he says, 'Ye have taken a long chaste,' he says, 'but I won't be hard on ye.'

"That's why I can't make it out," said Mr. Dooley. "Why do they stick up? Maybe th' secret in th' threasure-try is gold in to what Hogan calls th' linyery business an' is gettin' information on th' fashions. But I wonder why they make thin swear to affidavit."

"That's wrong," said Mr. Hennessy. "We're an honest people." "We are," said Mr. Dooley. "We are, but we don't know it." (Copyright, 1923, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Home-made Remedy
Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family remedy easily and quickly made. Saves about $1.
You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.
And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and, in a few minutes, soothes and quiets the inflamed membranes that line the throat, and soothes the inflamed membranes that line the throat, and soothes your cough stops entirely. Sore throat, bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.
To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

GIVE SPEECHES ON SPECIAL CLASSES

Dr. Mabel Hannington and Miss I. Jamieson Talk to Teachers

Dr. Mabel Hannington and Miss I. Jamieson addressed the opening meeting of the Teachers' Association held last night in the Natural History Society rooms with W. T. Denham, the president, in the chair. They spoke of the special classes for retarded pupils which have been organized this year in the St. John schools.

After a very interesting account of what is being done in the United States and elsewhere along similar lines, Dr. Hannington gave a somewhat detailed account of the standardized Binet-Simon tests which are regularly employed for determining the mental ability and special aptitude of individual pupils. She said that it was more and more recognized today that a pupil deficient along some lines may yet have special aptitude along other lines and it is pre-eminently the province of the special classes to develop the special aptitudes. She told about the organization of the special classes in St. John and outlined what it was aimed to accomplish.

In addition to the regular scholastic work the pupils in the special classes would be trained in along practical and vocational lines. She told of the handwork, manual training, knitting, sewing and other subjects which the children would receive training in. Miss Jamieson, who followed, dealt particularly with the course of instruction which she and the five other teachers of special classes had received at Harvard University and Brookline during the last summer under the direction of Dr. Prescott, Dr. Dearborn and Miss Coveney, director of special classes in Boston.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the two speakers on the motion of Miss Stella Payton, seconded by Miss Mary Gunn. The addresses were very well received and much appreciated, as was also the opportunity afforded those present of asking many questions in regard to this new work. The teachers were greatly interested in hearing of the branch of educational work which has so recently been established in St. John.

DENY THEY WANT OTHERS ASSESSED

The following signed statement was made public last evening by residents of East St. John: "One of the candidates who has been nominated for election for councillor for the parish of St. John is telling the voters that the whole of the parish is paying for street lighting at East St. John and also that the residents of East St. John are trying to have hydrants installed and assess the whole parish for the expense of the fire protection they would provide. The executive of the East St. John Community Club wishes to correct these statements. The lights that are already installed were supplied entirely at the expense of the City. The residents of East St. John, in their petition for fire hydrants, requested that a fire district be established including only 1400 feet from the main water pipe and this district only was to be assessed for the hydrants provided. (Signed) R. G. Magee, C. E. Weldon, J. A. Robertson, F. E. Josselyn, P. E. Groves, J. J. Lawson, T. Banks, R. Fallon, S. J. Withers."

DRYS CRITICISE LIQUOR HANDLING

Resolutions at Montreal Conference—Quebec Law Amendment Asked.

Montreal, Oct. 12—Seven resolutions were passed at the closing sessions of the provincial convention of temperance forces, held here this afternoon. These included requests that only one bottle of liquor should be sold to a purchaser in any one day according to the letter as well as the spirit of the liquor law; that the liquor stores be required by the commission and the Government to carefully observe provisions against sales to persons under eighteen, to any convicted of drunkenness, and to any person who habitually drinks to excess.

The convention strongly disapproved of professors and teachers taking a stand publicly in favor of drink habits and customs, urged the Government to co-operate with the United States Government in preventing run-run establishments in any college town or place where there was a returned soldier hospital of any liquor stores; asked that the Government amend the law to stop shipping of liquor into dry areas; and objected to the practice of hotel keepers of delivering beer to rooms in the hotel or of serving wine there.

ANCIENT ANDIRONS LOANED TO SOCIETY

The Natural History Society has been fortunate in receiving as a loan a set of old hand-made iron andirons for burning wood which have an undoubted pedigree and have been in the possession of one family for at least a century and a quarter. The andirons have evidently given good service during that time as the wood bar has been burned out and more iron welded on not once but several times.

The different layers of iron clearly record these mending processes. They have been loaned to the society by Mrs. D. L. Keffer, a great-granddaughter of the original owners. In the letter which accompanied the andirons Mr. Keffer told their history. They were brought from Scotland in 1804 by Mary Macpherson Robertson, wife of Charles Robertson, of Robertson, Kings county, and before that time had been owned by Mary Macpherson's mother, who had given them to her daughter. They later passed into the possession of Mrs. Elizabeth Robertson Campbell, a daughter of Charles Robertson, and Mrs. Campbell's daughter, Mrs. Fraser, gave them to Mrs. Keffer, who is a great-granddaughter of Charles and Mary Robertson. The andirons are of graceful design and not very heavy.

KIPLING SAYS FIRST SPEECH LIE

Believes That Premier Liar
Wed World's Second
Ranking One.

St. Andrews, Scotland, Oct. 13.—Rudyard Kipling was installed as rector of St. Andrews University this week, and he and the distinguished persons who accompanied him received an uproarious welcome from the men and women students. His cousin, Prime Minister Baldwin and Field Marshal Earl Haig were among those in the party.

Mr. Kipling told the students that "the first use man made of the power of speech when he evolved from the monkey was to tell a lie."

"That was a frigid and calculating lie," he continued. "Most unfortunately we have no record of the meeting of the world's first liar with the world's second liar, but from what we know of their descendants today they were probably of opposite sex and married at once and began a numerous progeny." Mr. Kipling's feat was from Robert Burns—"The Glorious Privilege of Independence."

The students, in red gowns, ran riot throughout the inaugural ceremony, singing and firing toy pistols and taking liberties with the celebrities, according to the custom of British universities, in a manner unknown to American colleges on such occasions, and frequently bursting into song. Rudyard Kipling succeeds Sir James J. Barrie, who made a noteworthy recital address last year with evident shyness and who today announced his retirement from public life. In replying to an invitation to make an address at Glasgow, he wrote: "I will never under any consideration speak in public again."

SAYS SWISS WRONG

France Makes Declaration Relative to Free Zone Between The Countries.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The Swiss Federal Council having announced its rejection of the spirit and letter of the French Government's decree which will do away with the free zone between France and Switzerland established by the treaty of Vienna, its decision to submit the question to the Hague court if necessary, the foreign office declares in a note last night that the Swiss interpretation of France's action is wrong.

The French Government, says the note, has no intention of breaking off negotiations for settlement of the question in a manner satisfactory to all the parties; the measure was taken solely to safeguard the interests of the inhabitants of the zone pending attainment of that settlement. It is maintained further by the foreign office that the measure is fully in keeping with the stipulations of the Versailles treaty and that there is no reason for recourse to the international court since the diplomatic conversations have not yet ended.

THE DEPLETED COLLEGE EDUCATION

(London Advertiser)

Hazing operations are being very much curtailed in some schools, and in others the ban has been put right up to the top.

At best it is a poor idea, although when the young chaps start off to college for the first time they may be in need of something to impress upon them the superiority of other people.

Being painted and kilted, powdered and gummed, smitten with reminiscent eggs and over-matured tomatoes, may pave the way to a very good education, the only trouble being that an increasing number of college heads fail to see the connection. The absence of these things will give the old college man a good chance to sit back and in superior way talk of the time when he went through in the days of giants who had to be hit on the head with bricks and run over with a loaded wagon before they could be subdued.

HEALTH AND THE LAW

"A court decision important in the annals of health legislation" is the way the United States Public Health Service at Washington characterizes the recent ruling of the District Court of Appeals, Second District, Division 1, of California.

Marie Clements arrested and charged with conducting a disorderly house, petitioned the court for a writ of habeas corpus, setting forth that she was being illegally detained and restrained of her liberty by the chief of police of the City of Los Angeles, acting under instruction from the health department of that city not to release her until she had submitted to an examination ordered to be made by the health department for the purpose of determining whether she was affected with a contagious or infectious disease.

The District Court of Appeals held that information that a woman is not only conducting a house of ill-fame, but also personally participating in the unlawful acts carried on therein, furnishes reasonable ground to believe that she is affected with an infectious disease, authorizing the health department to enforce quarantine measures against her. The woman was remanded to the custody of the chief of police.

As far back as 1919 the United States Public Health Service, in a bulletin prepared by direction of the Surgeon General, V. D. Bulletin No. 93, advocated a model city ordinance which provided that all persons reasonably suspected of having a social disease in the infectious stage be examined by the health officer or under his direction. Whom might be considered a reasonable suspect in such cases has been a point of controversy in many localities. The recent decision in California, says the Public Health Service, helps to clear up this much debated question.

How the Money was Lost

"You see I had only a few thousand dollars left after the estate was settled—and my brother borrowed some to help him along; of course that went and then—

It is all so simple and effective!

Just a few dollars set aside regularly, and the Canada Life will guarantee to your home a continuous monthly income.

What a relief to know that no matter what may happen, the monthly cheque that never fails, issued regularly by the Canada Life, will come to your home!

"Your present Life Insurance will perhaps "clear the mortgage," pay off the obligations of your estate, and leave something for your family, but

Consider This :

Financial problems should not be thrust upon a woman who is not used to business deals.

Therefore in addition to a "lump sum" of money, you should provide a definite income that cannot fail—

Because a weekly, or monthly income is the natural thing for most people—

And a woman can keep a family together on even a small income, provided it is regular.

Moreover, the hands of unscrupulous men are always outstretched for money held by the unwary.

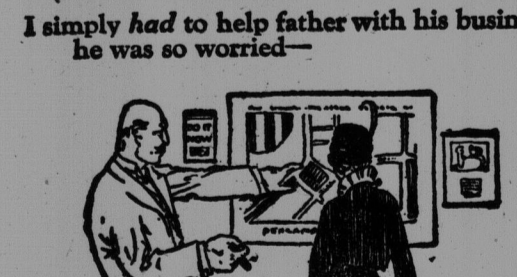

I simply had to help father with his business, he was so worried—

YOU Put the Vulcanite Hexagon Slab Through These Severe Tests—

SEND the coupon below for a sample of the Vulcanite Hexagon Slab Shingle. You put the sample to the tests listed here. Do your best to harm it. You never saw a roof which will stand up like Vulcanite.

- ### These Tests Prove Vulcanite Quality
1. Lay the sample on a hot radiator for 12 hours—see if it will melt or dry out.
 2. Lay the sample on ice for 12 hours—then pour boiling water on it. See if the sudden extremes of temperature affect it in any way.
 3. Soak the sample in water for 12 hours—see if its weight shows any absorption.
 4. Immerse the sample in nitric, sulphuric, muriatic or other ordinary acids—see if it is affected.
 5. Lay a glowing hot coal of fire on the sample—see if it sets fire to the sample.

Then you will realize that in its heavy, rigid toughness; its fire-resisting and weatherproof qualities; its beautiful and distinctive appearance—lies the solution to your roofing problem.

Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs, because of their exclusive, patented design, insure double protection everywhere—a tight seal against any weather—a deep tile effect and a heavy shadow line. More square inches of roofing than in any other slab shingle. Made from tough, long-fibre, pure rag felt, impregnated through and through with finest asphalt. Quickly and economically laid over roof boards or right on top of the old shingles. Finished in green and red crushed slate.

Vulcanite Roofing of the same high quality also comes in individual shingles, four-in-one slab shingles, and in rolls, both slate surface and smooth finish—for home, farm and industrial buildings. You can identify the genuine by the Vulcanite name and the Beaver Trademark.

SAYS MEASLES IN CHILD MAY MEAN HEART DISEASE LATER

Evans Says Diseases in Pre-School Years Bring Troubles Later.

Boston, Oct. 13.—Dr. W. A. Evans, former president of the American Health Association and author of "How to Get Well," a daily column in The Herald, speaking at the Parent-Child Institute, a part of the Boston Health Show in Mechanics building, on the physical welfare of the child of preschool age, declared that diseases contracted then, may result in heart disease and Bright's disease when men and women reach the age of 50. His address was broadcast from WGI station, Medford Hillside, last night.

contract disease. The important part of this lack of immunity is not the immediate sickness that it may mean, it is the after-effects.

Serious After-effects

"Some of these after-effects are heart disease and Bright's disease. A large part of these diseases of men and women who get to be 50 are due to the fact that when they were children their mothers didn't protect them.

"There are several reasons why a mother should not subject her children to contagion if she can help it. One is the older the child grows the less severe disease will be. Every year she can put it off will mean the milder the disease will be if it comes. Even if she thinks it impossible to keep her child from having measles, she should keep it from having the disease as long as she can.

Another subject of Dr. Evans' that proved of interest was growing pains. "A great many women thought that growing pains were of no consequence," said he, "and that they might even

COAL MINERS IN N. S. SHOW GAINS

Sydney, Oct. 12.—Coal production from the mines of the Dominion Coal Company this year will show quite a substantial increase over 1922, and to date the output is within a month's tonnage of what it was for the whole of last year.

For the year 1922, the total production was 2,845,000 tons, and for the nine months period of this year the output was 2,772,000 tons. The total shipments in 1922 were 2,400,000 tons and for the nine months of the present year they were 2,340,000 tons. The greater portion of this amount was shipped up the St. Lawrence.

The production for the nine months of 1923, has exceeded those of 1922 by 660,000 tons, while the shipments have increased 675,000 tons for the same period.

The increased St. Lawrence shipments have been the direct cause of the dull times at the collieries during the past few weeks. President Roy Wolvin stated on Thursday morning, "the storage facilities have become choked" for the time being. The congestion, however, is now being relieved, and during the present week shipping to Montreal and Quebec has been increased.

be good for children. Children ought to grow, they felt, and as growing pains were a sign that they were growing, then they were good things. At any rate, they felt the children would outgrow growing pains if they were let alone. They must get such ideas out of their heads. Growing pains have nothing to do with growing. They are signs of rheumatism, and rheumatism is an infection, and the child with growing pains is an infected child. This kind of infection is very liable to hurt the heart, and what makes it especially harmful is that the harm may not be recognized until 20 years afterward."

TWO MORTALLY INJURED IN TRAIN CRASH NEAR CHICAGO

25 Others Hurt When Racing Suburban Electric Hits Stalled Express.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two persons probably were fatally injured and twenty-five others hurt, half of them seriously, when a crowded Chicago, Aurora and Elgin electric express train speeding to Chicago at fifty miles an hour crashed into the rear end of another train of the same line, which was stalled near Hillside, sixteen miles west of Chicago.

The rear car of the stationary train and the front car of the speeding train were demolished. Most of the injured passengers were riding in these cars.

The front train was stalled when an air hose burst, automatically applying the brakes. The rear train bore down on it before the speed was reduced appreciably, according to passengers.

Nearby residents rendered first aid and many of the injured were removed to hospitals at Oak Park or brought to Chicago on Chicago & North Western trains.

C. HEBURN FINDS ONLY STREET NAMES FAMILIAR

Proud of Progress Native Place Has Made in Half Century—Here From British Columbia—Was Once Reported Dead in Egypt.

St. John has nothing to be ashamed of in its development during the last half century, according to Charles Hepburn, a former resident, who is now visiting relatives here after an absence of nearly fifty years.

Mr. Hepburn was in St. John for the first time since he left here a young man of twenty-two and but for the street names found a city which was almost as strange to him as a city in which he had never set foot before.

Mr. Hepburn is now located at Blue River, C. B., where he is engaged with the C. N. R., and he is now on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Angus Cameron, 288 Pitt street.

Mr. Hepburn yesterday visited John Sloan, stone cutter, at his place in Queen street, whom he knew well before leaving St. John.

It was before the great fire in 1877 that Charles Hepburn left his native city and consequently King Street, nearly half a century brought many revelations to him.

Mr. Hepburn yesterday visited John Sloan, stone cutter, at his place in Queen street, whom he knew well before leaving St. John.

After leaving St. John, Mr. Hepburn went first to Nova Scotia, and then, after wandering about the world, finally settled fourteen or fifteen years ago in British Columbia where he was engaged with the C. N. R. and is still with that corporation.

Mr. Hepburn yesterday visited John Sloan, stone cutter, at his place in Queen street, whom he knew well before leaving St. John.

None of the old landmarks which Mr. Hepburn knew as a boy remain in the city. As he walked up King street on the day of his arrival he looked for the old bell tower of King Square, which was gone.

Mr. Hepburn yesterday visited John Sloan, stone cutter, at his place in Queen street, whom he knew well before leaving St. John.

A visitor recalled that at the time he left St. John, the only train cars in operation were a couple of horse-drawn cars which were operated from the foot of King street and Indiantown.

Mr. Hepburn yesterday visited John Sloan, stone cutter, at his place in Queen street, whom he knew well before leaving St. John.

Whereas there was a rarity and where the Ballast Wharf now stands there was nothing but a beach. In those days the main reason for St. John was lumber and vessels would come to boats in the harbor and their cargoes would be towed out in scows and thus loaded into the vessels.

Mr. Hepburn yesterday visited John Sloan, stone cutter, at his place in Queen street, whom he knew well before leaving St. John.

GASOLINE FROM GAS!

Natural Cooking Fuel Affords Billion Gallons for Auto Power Annually by New Process

Washington—Gasoline, more gasoline—and still more!
Gas from the oil fields. Gas from shale. And gas from just plain, natural cooking gas.

Do you wonder there's a surplus of this auto fuel here, and that the price can be lowered so much?
Of course, most gasoline comes direct from the oil fields. And the shale deposits out west are being held for the time when the oil fields give out.

But did you know that for the last score of years gasoline has been derived from the natural gas drawn out of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and other gas fields?

Big Business.
Facts and figures revealed by the United States Geological Survey here show the gasoline production of the country has been increased lately at the rate of a billion gallons a year, by this means alone! Which makes the natural gas field quite an important factor in the supply of the automotive fuel.

It was not until comparatively recently that gasoline has been extracted in sufficient quantities from natural gas, although the first gasoline of this kind was produced in 1904. The big jump in the production of this gasoline came with the invention of what is called the absorption, or sucking process.

Before this new method was used, gasoline was obtained from natural gas by the compression or squeezing process. If the natural gas had at least one gallon of gasoline to its 1,000 cubic feet it could be treated profitably by the older process. Now, by absorption, the amount of gasoline in the natural gas may be drawn even to a point in every 1,000 cubic feet, and the extraction would be profitable.

The New Way.
G. N. Saybolt of Hastings, W. Va., is the man who perfected this absorption process. An oil, which has the faculty of absorbing gasoline from natural gas, is sprayed downward through a tall pipe or tower, while the natural gas is forced up. The natural gas coming out at the top is practically without gasoline, while the oil at the bottom has absorbed it. Then by a simple process of distillation, the gasoline is derived from the oil, and the oil goes through the same operation again.

A good sized plant, say survey officials, can treat 80,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas this way, and obtain at least 8,000 gallons of gasoline a day.

And when the natural gas, bereft of the gasoline, is used by the holder, it is maintained, it gives just as good light and just as much heat as it would with the gasoline in it. In fact, absorption of the gasoline makes the cooking gas so much cheaper, because it was the gasoline that destroyed the rubber in the pipe lines, caused gas leakage, and raised the operating costs.

The benefit is two-fold: Cheaper auto gas and cheaper cooking gas.

DANGER HOUR 5 P. M.
Five o'clock in the afternoon is considered the most dangerous hour for automobile traffic of the day and night. The Connecticut department of motor vehicles counted the machines on heavy traffic streets during the day and came to this conclusion.

WINDOWS FOR SIGNALS.
Stormy or cold weather keeps all the windows shut in a sedan, yet the driver may put out his left hand for signaling without discomforting the people within. All he does is push out a small lower section of the front window, which is made especially for this purpose, as shown.

PULL REMOVES DUST CAP.
Instead of bothering with a wrench and taking several minutes to unscrew the dustcap, all that is needed with this new form of cap is pull it off. A specially constructed nut screws down over the tire valve stem and the cap is so pressed down on it that a spring within the cap holds it firm. All that it needs is a pull to remove it.

USE GUM FOR SCULPTURE.
As the closing event in the rally week observations of the Portland Methodist church the Young People's Society held a social evening last night in the school room with about 150 young people present.

A. C. Power, the president, was in the chair, following the opening devotions, a pleasing programme was given in which there were the following numbers: Piano solo, Miss Vicare McLaughlin; reading, Miss Laura Fanjoy; vocal solo, Miss Elsie Spence.

An amusing animal making contest caused much enjoyment. The members were required to make animals out of chewing gum. The prize winners in the contest were Miss Genevieve Chown, Miss Audrey Breen, Glen Cunningham and Mrs. H. A. Goodwin. The new pastor, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, gave a short address. Refreshments were served by a committee of young people.

GIVEN NOVELTY SHOWER.
A novelty shower was given for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Munford last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Munford, 72 1/2 Spring street.

There were 60 guests who enjoyed the evening of cards and dancing with refreshments served at a late hour. The gifts were brought in a large basket and received by Mr. and Mrs. Munford with expressions of pleasure for the kindness of their many friends.

FORCED TO WEAR PLASTER CAST.
Plaintiff testified that she slipped on the stairs while descending the stairs last May to reach a C. P. R. train for Hamilton. Her spine was seriously injured and she has been forced to wear a plaster cast for several months, and may have to continue doing so. She was corroborated by other witnesses in her emphatic statement that she was wearing a commonsense shoe with low heels at the time of the mishap. Her head slipped by reason of the metal step.

The defense sought to show that Mrs. Strowger slipped by reason of the type of shoe she wore. Mr. Connors, a conductor for the Pullman Company, who said he saw plaintiff carried past him and into the berth of a car attached to the Hamilton train, was called to the witness stand.

Like a Miniature Still.
"Is this the sort of shoe Mrs. Strowger wore at the time?" asked Mr. McGeorge, who exhibited the patent-leather slipper in question.

Witness swore that it was. It had a narrow heel about four inches high. It was adduced in subsequent testimony that Mr. Connors was instructed after the accident to go and purchase a pair of shoes similar to those he saw Mrs. Strowger wearing when she fell.

Mr. Bell, in his address to the jury, scored the tactics of the defense. He held the jury that the witness, Connors should be punished for producing such a shoe when he had sworn that Mrs. Strowger wore a low-heeled, commonsense shoe when she fell.

Mr. Bell's charge, and said the defense had not willfully tried to "take" anything. Connors had been instructed to go and buy a pair of shoes similar to what he had seen plaintiff wearing.

A Plaintiff Wins.
Justice Mowat sympathized with the plaintiff. He said, in referring to the patent leather slipper, that such a resort was a very bad thing to bring a case on. Any woman who would wear such a fantastic-looking creation did not deserve the attention of a jury. He deemed Connors to be a plaintiff witness, tilted for the defense.

His Lordship said that the jury, however, must not be over-generous toward Mrs. Strowger. It was true she had been seriously injured, and was entitled to something. The jury should be reasonable, and not unreasonable. The plaintiff's injury was incurable, according to the testimony of Doctors Edgar and Hess, and she was entitled to some compensation for her loss of comfort in life and the additional ex-

SON SEEKS FATHER MISSING 3 YEARS

The services of the Post Office have been called upon by a son who is seeking to locate his father, who has been missing for three years but who is supposed to be in or about St. John. Postmaster J. S. Flaglor has made inquiries through the postal employees but the man sought is unknown to any of the carriers. The son's name is Heriberto Corbett and the missing father's name is David Corbett. The son writes from Attleboro, Mass., and says that he formerly resided in Alberton, P. E. I. His father left Alberton about three years ago and he has not been able to locate him from that time.

A short time ago he heard that his father was in St. John and he wrote to the postmaster thinking he might be able to furnish his father's address or give some other clue as to his present whereabouts. The father is described as being about five feet ten inches in height, weighing 150 pounds, having blue eyes and hair of a medium brown color. While resident in Alberton he was engaged in the fish business.

At the Glen Falls Community Club fair Mrs. David Watson won a prize for an exhibit of vegetables.

HIGH HEEL SLIPPER FAILS TO DEFEAT LADY IN LAW COURT

Wins $8,371 Verdict Against C. P. R., Hurt in Toronto Station.

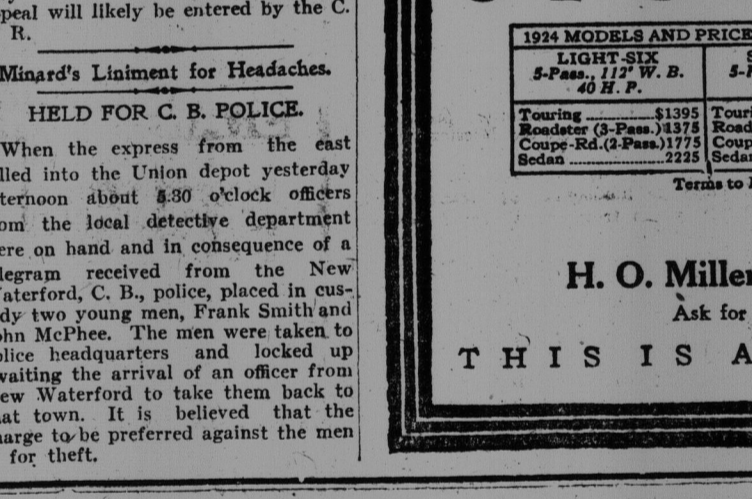

Hamilton, Oct. 12—A fantastic patent-leather high-heeled French slipper was employed without success by counsel for the C. P. R. in the assizes here in the case of Mrs. Dorothy Strowger, who injured her spine in a fall on one of the stairs at the Toronto Union Station and sued for $20,000.

The jury awarded her $8,371. Of this sum, $6,000 in damages and the balance represents a sum of money which the injury had imposed upon her.

Moved Pictures Barred.
The moving picture film produced by the defense to show the thousands of persons passing up and down the steps, without mishap were viewed by his Lordship and counted yesterday afternoon after court rose. His Lordship would not permit them to be exhibited to the jury today, as, he held, what they showed was expost facto. An appeal will likely be entered by the C. P. R.

Married Man Alleged to Have Fired Three Bullets While Riding With Her in Automobile—Stray Shot, He Says.

Jefferson, Me., Fred L. Post, a marine engineer of New London Ct., was held without bail in Lincoln Municipal court late today on the charge that he murdered Mrs. Sybil Estelle Hamilton of Rockland while riding with her near Flanders Corner in North Waldober yesterday afternoon. She was shot three times through the right side by a weapon held so close holes were burned through her motor coat. Post was committed to Rockland jail to await the action of the grand jury Oct. 23. He pleaded not guilty and was defended by counsel, who cross-examined some of the eight witnesses who testified for the state. These included Mildred Hamilton, the 12-year-old daughter of the dead woman and the late Clinton J. Hamilton, a hotel keeper at Rockland and other places in Maine and Massachusetts. No witnesses were called for the defence. Post, according to the officials, was infatuated with Mrs. Hamilton, who

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NEWS.

St. Andrew's Church has launched with real enthusiasm into the fall and winter's work. Last Sunday the Moderator of the General Assembly, the Right Rev. Dr. Gaudier, preached a strong sermon on the "Challenge of the Hour." At the evening service the minister of St. Andrew's spoke on the "Challenge of a Great Work." Among other things he said that the need of the hour was for courage and faith; only by meeting the great problems of the day with a clearer realization of the infinite resources in Almighty God and of their own responsibility could they hope to succeed. St. Andrew's choir has been greatly strengthened within the week or two. It made a fine contribution to the services of last Sunday. In the morning St. Andrew's sang "Beyond the Dawn," and seldom has her contralto voice been heard to better advantage. The congregations have been steadily growing from Sunday to Sunday and last Sunday night the church was almost filled. The Young Men's class led by the minister is attracting a good number of the young men. They hope soon to organize for week-night activities as well. The Sunday School attendance is also increasing and everyone is looking forward to the big rally day service. Last Wednesday there was a record attendance at the Bible study discussion group. Problems arising in the study of the life of Jesus are being freely discussed, large number took part in the discussions. All the societies are organizing for the coming months and every individual points to a very successful winter's work. The new church bulletins with a list of the sermon subjects for the month was distributed last Sunday.

LOST DIAMOND FIVE DAYS AT A CITY STREET CURB

Five Days After Her Loss Mrs. L. A. McAlpine Sights Gem.

While thousands of people and hundreds of automobiles and other vehicles passed over and around it, a valuable diamond, lost from its setting in a man's ring, lay in a tiny depression in the pavement of one of St. John's busiest thoroughfares for five days and nights, only to be discovered and picked up by the wife of the owner this week.

Dr. L. A. McAlpine stopped at the tobacco store of Charles Baillie in King street, last Saturday night, to purchase and got into his automobile in front of the store. On his arrival home he discovered that the diamond setting had disappeared from his ring.

On Thursday evening, the doctor and his wife stopped their car again outside the same store, while the doctor entered to make a purchase. After getting in the car again, Mrs. McAlpine suggested that the diamond might have been lost in the Baillie establishment, and the doctor returned to make enquiries. While he was on the sidewalk near the curb, some examination of the curb, which, on examination, proved to be the missing gem. Its sudden recovery caused as much surprise as it did gratification to the doctor to have his valuable property returned.

GOOD ROADS MEN HERE NEXT YEAR

T. P. Regan Tells of Quebec Meeting—N. B. Roads Compare Well.

The Canadian Good Roads Association will hold its next annual meeting in New Brunswick. This was the unanimous decision of the executive of the convention this week in Quebec.

T. P. Regan, who attended the Quebec meeting and returned home last evening, told The Times-Star this morning that the Quebec meeting was a wonderful success, and quoted one enthusiastic delegate, who said: "We are making road history at the rate of a mile a minute."

Mr. Regan left here on Oct. 8, was joined at Fredericton Junction by Burton M. Hill, and proceeded to Montreal, where they met Premier Veniot and Hon. Joseph Robitaille, the last named having motored from Edmundston. The other members of the association were there, and a meeting was held in the Old Colony Club in the Windsor Hotel, with Hon. J. L. Perron, honorary president, in the chair. Others present were the four Premiers—Taschereau of Quebec, Ferguson of Ontario, Veniot of New Brunswick, and Stewart of Prince Edward Island; Hon. W. C. Chisholm of Nova Scotia; H. R. McKean of Saskatchewan; Hon. J. A. McDonald of P. E. Island; Hon. G. S. Henry, Hon. Chas. McCrear and Carroll Hale of Ontario; Hon. Joseph Michael and B. M. Hill of New Brunswick; and J. L. Boulanger, S. L. Squires, William Findley, Major Dauchastel, T. P. Regan and Geo. McNamee, members of the executive.

The whole party motored over the tarmac road from Montreal to Quebec, 180 miles, with a stop for luncheon at Three Rivers. They were entertained at dinner by Hon. J. L. Perron at the Chateau Frontenac, and the four Premiers and Hon. W. C. Chisholm and other spoke.

The conference next day dealt with federal aid for roads, vehicular traffic, lights on all vehicles, road-building material, maintenance, signalling, camps sites, Trans-Canada highway, urban financial responsibility for road building, and safety on the highways. N. B. Roads Compare Well.

Mr. Regan remarked incidentally that the roads in New Brunswick measure up well with those of Quebec. He was much impressed by the remark of Hon. Mr. Perron that it was useless to build roads for tourists unless they had hotels to accommodate them, and Mr. Regan added that it was unfortunate that St. John would not have a hotel to accommodate the Good Roads Association next summer.

With regard to the road to St. Stephen, from this city, Mr. Regan said it was hoped to have the short section through the New River bog brought up to the standard of the rest of the road early next season.

While in Quebec the visitors were entertained by the Rotary Club. At an oyster supper given by the Reform Club to the New Brunswick visitors Mr. Regan was able to remind them that they were eating Buctouche oysters. The party were shown over Quebec and visited the Quebec bridge of politics. The best of good feeling prevailed. Mr. Regan was much impressed by the personality of Premier Ferguson of Ontario, whose democratic manner and geniality made him popular with all the delegates. He was very happy in his replies and in the addresses he delivered.

Mr. Regan is president of the Automobile Association.

Mrs. Christie has been identified with this work for a considerable number of years. Mrs. Christie of Trinity church, 302 Germain street, is also receiving contributions.

The port of St. John has been taking a prominent part in this Chinese citizen movement and as a result during the last twenty-five years some of the Chinese pupils have been converted to the Christian faith and some have become active in Canada and in China in preaching the gospel. Delegates to the Kingston convention are communicating with R. H. Ward of 355 Alfred street in that city.

DRY DOCK WILL BE OPENED AT 3 O'CLOCK ON 29TH

Definite Announcement and New Word of Plans—A Warning.

F. M. Ross, manager of the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company, announces that the opening ceremony at the dry dock will be at three o'clock on the afternoon of Oct. 29.

At one o'clock a luncheon for visitors and invited guests will be given by the directors of the company, and in order that as many as possible of the public may hear the speeches by the prominent men who will speak, several amplifiers will be installed.

On the grounds, five or six booths will serve free ice-cream for the children. A platform for the bands will be erected.

Mr. Ross points out that the question of police protection will be very serious one, and Com. Thornton told The Times-Star this morning that special police, salvage corps men and some firemen would be furnished for this work.

Several buglers will announce the arrival of the Governor General fifteen minutes before the dock-opening ceremony begins. Mr. Ross says it must be impressed upon everyone that they must not go where the signs are marked "no trespassing," and they must keep outside the roped areas. "Very few people," he says, "have probably seen what happens when a large dock is being opened; consequently they may find themselves, if they trespass, in a position which may very much restrict our operations and endanger their own lives."

Parking space will be provided for motor cars, and the company is ready to provide power to run railway cars out from the city if the C. N. R. team to send its heavy locomotives over its track.

All the whistles of the plant will blow when the dock is opened, and arrangements will be made by the Mayor for the sounding of all whistles in the city at the same time.

Com. Thornton said this morning that every effort will be made to cooperate with the company to insure both convenience and safety at the opening of the dock.

HOPE FOR BIG CUT IN N. B. FIRE LOSS

Fire Marshal and Secretary to Sussex for Prevention Demonstration.

If the same success in fire prevention that has marked the year so far is continued until the end of December, there should be a decrease of $1,000,000 in the fire losses in the Province, so Hugh H. McEllan, fire marshal for New Brunswick, told a Times reporter this morning.

Mr. McEllan and Charles Robinson, secretary of the N. B. Fire Prevention Board, left this morning for Sussex to take part in a fire prevention demonstration there this afternoon. It is planned to turn out the entire fire fighting apparatus and have addresses on fire prevention measures delivered to the people assembled before the station.

Mr. McEllan said that demonstrations of this kind brought home to the people the significance of the great fire losses suffered every year, much of which might be avoided by the proper precautionary measures. The fire loss in Sussex during the whole of 1922 amounted to $150,000, while for the first six months of this year, the total had reached nearly $218,000. The people were now alive to the situation, he said, and were taking hold of it in fire shape. The women were particularly active and had done a great deal towards the installation of modern and adequate fire fighting apparatus.

GOOD SHEPHERD W. A.

Mrs. Amy Benn presided at the first meeting of the W. A. of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, of the season. Following a Scriptural reading by Mrs. W. P. Dunham, the treasurer, Mrs. Charles Hill, presented her monthly report, which was a balance sheet showing Mrs. Thomas Pyle reported on "The Living Message." Mrs. T. Mitchell gave some data with reference to the E. C. D. fund. Mrs. Hill, who had been a delegate to the diocesan W. A. in Fredericton, gave an interesting report.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I was lost in that remarkable smoky fog that filled the city streets on Thursday night. I could look up and see the stars, but I couldn't see the next street lamp. I walked around myself three times under the impression that I was going straight ahead. It was worse than a London fog. Can you explain it?" "Yes, sir," said Hiram. "This town is gittin' to be a fog factory. You're suffocated. You don't know where you're at. You're the children of darkness where you are to be the children of light. I'm sorry for you. So's Hiram. So's everybody out to the Settlement. Hiram's makin' a lot of fat candles. She says after we git that there fund for Japan ris we'll have to do somethin' for St. John. She's been singin' 'Throw Out the Life Line an' Let Your Lower Lights Be Burnin'—an' I guess you ain't count on her when the time comes. Fireworks in City Hall an' them other places is all right—but fer a good steady light you want somethin' else—gas—yea, sir."
