JUDGES AT WORK AT EXHIBITION TODAY

Awards In Some Cattle Classes and Among The Horses at The Big Fair Are Made

Prospects Are for a Big Record at the Turnstiles Today—The Programme for This Evening and Tomorrow—Orphans Guests of Association at the Dominion Fair This Morning

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMME.

7.30 p. m.—Concert by the Boston Orchestra in main building. 7.50 p. m.—Performance in both amusement halls. 8.00 p. m.—Grand open air concert programme. 8.30 p. m.—Grand programme of amusement features in front of the grandstand, concluding with the magnificent display of fireworks.

Although the exhibition closed last night for yesterday in a downpour of rain this morning dawned bright and clear and the crowds started arriving on the grounds at an early hour. The rain only served to lay the dust and so well as the grounds being drained that they quickly dried up under the rays of the sun.

The management was greatly pleased at yesterday's record attendance and they look for still larger crowds now that everything is in smooth running order. The many counter attractions yesterday were expected to cut down what would otherwise have been probably the largest attendance at any day of a previous fair and it was a surprise that such a large number of local people were present.

This day two years ago saw 11,300 people registered on the turnstiles, and on the same day in 1908 the number was 11,384. Tomorrow, Wednesday, was the record day of the last two shows with an attendance of more than 16,000. This year it is expected to be one of the biggest, though the fact that the exhibition runs for ten days instead of seven as in other years may have a tendency to cut down the figures somewhat.

The appearance of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, in their military uniforms, this week, is likely to result in a largely increased attendance on the four days they will appear. They have drawn immense crowds wherever they have gone through their evolutions.

This afternoon there will be a band concert in front of the grandstand, and the "Swing of Death," and Granada and Fedora. In their high wire act they will be seen for the first time in daylight. Working men were busy this morning at an early hour making repairs to the equipment for the performance this afternoon.

THE WEATHER Fresh to strong northeast to south east winds, becoming rainy.

ELECTIONS BEING HELD TODAY IN VERMONT

White River, Jct., Vt., Sept. 6.—The State of Vermont is today holding an election for governor, other state officers, congressmen and members of the executive. As this is the first state election to be held in the union this year its results will be taken largely as a forecast of the result in other states.

Korean Traitor Stabbed

Honolulu, Sept. 6.—Choy Yong Jo, a Korean, was stabbed in the abdomen, probably fatally, yesterday here by Lee Song In, a delegate to the convention of Korean Patriots in session here to protest against the annexation of their country by Japan.

It is asserted that Choy Yong Jo had incurred the hatred of his fellow countrymen by supplying to the local Japanese newspapers news of the proceedings of the Korean National Society, which is strongly resisting what it denounces as a "Japanese aggression." He had received warning that if he continued to act as a spy his life would be in danger, and appealed two days ago to the police for protection. He was permitted to sleep in the police station.

Choy Yong Jo's assailant awoke in his crime, which he declares was committed for the sake of his country. He regrets only that the wound inflicted did not prove fatal immediately.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER

HIRAM AND THE BEES. The Times new reporter was watching the bees in the hives when Mr. Hiram Hornbeam came along and tapped him on the shoulder. The bees were too busy to pay any attention to visitors. In fact they appeared to have a rush order for honey or something, and were hurrying about it at top speed.

"I s'pose if you took that hive on an showed to them fella that sets up on benches on King Square all day," said Hiram, "they'd throw it firs—wouldn't they?" "Not me," said Hiram. "No, siree! I got a canary bird, a seegar an' a cane. The feller with the three-legged cat tried to coax me up, but I told 'em we had lots o' two-legged calves out our way. Great weather—aint it?"

Families in New York House on Outlook for Burglars—Youthful Boarder Sees Two Forms and Fires With Fatal Results

New York, Sept. 6.—Mistaken for a burglar, Mrs. Louise Geis, was shot and instantly killed yesterday, in the hallway of the house in which she lived in East 118th street, by Curt Weislog, a boarder. The dead woman's husband, Louis Geis, was also struck by a bullet from Weislog's revolver as he stood behind a hall doorway firing at the supposed intruder in the Geis apartment. Geis sustained a bad wound in the arm. Weislog was arrested on a charge of homicide.

Burglars recently visited the house and last night the Geis and Weislog sat up to watch for an expected re-appearing of the marauders. Noises in the Geis apartment at an early hour led to the suspicion that burglars had entered. Mr. and Mrs. Geis entered their rooms to investigate and Weislog hid behind a hall door, when he saw two forms rush out of the doorway in the darkness he fired.

The first bullet struck and wounded Geis. Weislog, who is a youth of nineteen, did not leave Geis and continued firing. His second bullet struck Mrs. Geis in the heart and she fell dead. The shooting occasioned great excitement in the house during which the burglars, if there were any, made their escape.

GERMAN SPY CAUGHT AT WORK AT PORTSMOUTH

Officer of Kaiser's Army Had Sketches of British Forts—Is Detained and Papers Are Sent to War Office

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 6.—A German army officer who was arrested yesterday here and is being held in a cell at the barracks here is detained at Fort Park. The man's name is supposed to be Elmer and he is connected with the construction division of the German land forces. Documents found upon the alleged spy are said to include sketches of the forts all along the hills. The papers have been dispatched to the war office.

What is a complete prohibition for the Zeppelin or other passenger-carrying airships to make trips over this city or vicinity has been decreed by the government. The military authorities feared that foreign passengers might photograph the fortifications and therefore declined to grant landing facilities to the airships.

In consequence of this order, the company which has been running a service from Baden, Baden, will be compelled to return the passage money paid by persons intending to make the trips from Baden, Baden and other points.

CASE OF DREAD DISEASE IS FEARED IN SEATTLE

Seattle, Wn., Sept. 6.—A case of dreaded "Korean earth disease" or "tochil" in this city was reported to the Kings County Medical Society last night. Tochil has been seen but on rare occasions in the United States being brought here from the Orient.

Because of the fact that it is incurable and infectious the medical society will investigate the sanitary features of the case. Menelik is Better Addis, Ababa, Abyssinia, Sept. 6.—Although the condition of King Menelik who suffered another stroke of apoplexy this week, was considered critical yesterday, it improved during the day and the danger of an immediate fatal termination of his illness now seems removed.

Paving Investigation Report For the Common Council Today

NO GRAFT, THEY FIND

Will Hold City Engineer and Inspector Carleton Responsible for Defects in Paving—The Hassams Position—Other Council Business

This afternoon's meeting of the common council is expected to be full of interest as they will have before them the report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges of Ensignpector Carleton regarding the paving in Main street, north end. The committee were at work till 11 o'clock last night drawing up the report and a further meeting at noon was expected to put on the finishing touches.

His worship and the members of the tribunal are reluctant as to the findings. It is a pretty safe assertion, however, that its presentation will result in a brisk session of the council. It is understood that the result will be a disappointment to those who have been clamoring for the head of the engineer. As it is, a rejoinder at the worst will be his lot.

It would seem, though, that the document will point a victory for the former inspector, as the report will likely admit that the specifications were departed from in the forward of work, supplementary report of the board of works, report of the board of safety, report of the water and sewerage board, reports of the bills and by laws committee, recommendations of the city engineer on tenders for the paving of German street. Communications and petitions. Application of E. Doherty for a renewal of lease of boat house at Keels Point.

Communications from Gandy & Allison explaining that Messrs. W. H. Thorne & Co. are not delivering to the city the regular Portland Cement called for under their contract.

Communication from Dr. George G. Mevin, chief health official, stating that Mill street, from Main street to the intersection by the C. P. R. and I. C. R. tracks is without a sewer.

Communication from Mrs. O'Leary calling attention to injury received by her by a pane or glass falling from the market building.

A communication from Arthur C. Fairweather, with reference to a claim of Miss Mary Ann Murphy of Rodney street. A letter from the board of school trustees notifying the council that the term of Mrs. Dever as school trustee expired on June 30.

Won Cups for Singing

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—The Gesang section of the Turnverein Germania of Los Angeles was awarded the $10,000 gold cup given by Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany for the best singing in the Pacific Saengerfest, which held its first festival of song in this city for three days last week.

The Franz Joseph Cup given by the Emperor of Austria was won by the "Luzern Harmonie" of Sacramento. A Bulcher of Philadelphia was given the gold medal as the best composer.

OPERA FOR THE MEXICANS

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—Seventy-five operatic artists recruited from the Metropolitan, Manhattan and Boston grand opera companies, arrived in the city last Sunday from New York. They will give twenty-four performances here during the Mexican Centenary Independence celebration.

MURDER THREAT OF FIVE YEARS AGO CARRIED OUT IN STREET

New York, Sept. 5.—Domenico Scarpia, a Bay Ridge cobbler, just out of Sing Sing prison where he served five years for stabbing a woman, walked into a group of Bay Ridge gossip today, shoved them gently aside and shot the man he wanted, Felipe Cranetto, through the heart.

Cranetto's testimony had convicted him and during the trial Scarpia had warned him that he would return from prison to kill him. Cranetto laughed, and he was laughing today as he had been in the court room five years ago when Scarpia singled him out. He pulled when he recognized his enemy and took one step backward; then came the first shot. It was fatal, but Scarpia fired twice more to make sure. Then he walked from the horror stricken group as leisurely as he had come, and disappeared.

"Why?" cried Edith wonderingly. "I understood that our present adventure was at any moment being exciting development."

"I forget the rest of it," Miss Talbot said. "I am sure that the pilot was not a man of his name."

"I don't mean a schooner engaged in the fishing trade, but rather a small vessel chartered for pleasure, taking the place, as it were, of a private yacht."

"I think you," said Edith, "is a difficult port to make." "Oh, no, monsieur. There is no danger of that."

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE GRADUATION
By Phillips Brooks

Each winter is a resting place before every new spring. Each June is a commencement season when the springtime seems to graduate into summer, and every year seems to come to a platform of pause whence it looks toward the perfect year.

Then there is another graduation, namely, that by which one grows to true and earnest feeling. We put this last, because the feeling properly comes after thought and action, and not before.

Our affections of this graduation are the deepest part of us. They are indeed, all through our nature. When they have got down to their deepest and are loving all that is pure and good and true and are hating what is mean and false and cruel, then their intensity comes out; then they become charitable and generous and give us charity and independence; then in their fullest use of human nature.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 6, 1910. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

New Brunswick's Independent Newspapers. These papers advocate: British Connection, Honesty in Public Life, Measures for the Material Progress and Moral Advancement of our Great Dominion.

No Graft, No Deals. 'The Shamrock, Thistle, Rose entwine The Maple Leaf forever.' COURTENAY BAY. The plans of the improvements at Courtenay Bay, which have been prepared by the public works department, provide for a second harbor at St. John, of large area, and with many wharves on both sides as well as at the head.

crop. In Eastern Ontario, the St. Lawrence Valley and the Eastern Townships of Quebec, a falling-off in the quality and quantity is reported as compared with last month. The crop of McIntosh Red, Fameuse and Alexandras will be below the average. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick show no improvement; the crop of apples will be very light. Prince Edward Island will not supply home demands. British Columbia will harvest the largest crop in its history. The specimens in some cases are smaller than usual owing to the dry weather. In estimating the quantity of apples, it must be borne in mind that in no part of Canada are there so many orchards coming into bearing as in British Columbia, so that not only the yield per tree is above the average this year, but the bearing acreage has increased proportionally much more.

MARKETS FOR CANADIAN FRUIT. The report says: "There seem to be a large number of openings for Canadian apples and pears this season. While the Northwest is not buying quite so recklessly as last year, there is no reason to doubt that the aggregate of fruit required will be very large. United States buyers have been making inquiries in Canada, especially for late keeping fruit. It cannot be doubted that the demand from Great Britain will be quite urgent. The better trade relations ought to improve the German market; and, though the crop in France is fair, there is always an opening there, though perhaps not at high prices, for our late keeping Russets, Stark and Ben Davis. Norway and Sweden are possible customers, some sales having been made last season, and inquiries are being made already this year."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to be given a great popular reception at Ottawa on his return from the west. Another notable speech from the prime minister may be expected. We may expect a movement for better street lighting throughout the city as a result of the illumination of the streets from the depot to the exhibition gates.

It is intimated that on Hon. Mr. Fielding's return to Ottawa he will shortly take up the question of better trade relations with the United States. The great conservation congress is now in session at St. Paul. President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt are among the speakers. An English aviator has been winning laurels at Boston. No doubt they will show him the Banker Hill monument and tell him about the tea party, let he become inflated with insular pride.

Exhibition visitors are surprised and delighted with the "made in St. John" exhibit. Not only is the extent and variety of St. John factory products a revelation, but the map and the figures telling the story of the growth of the trade of the port convey information that makes a strong impression on the minds of all.

The friends of the Hazen government gravely assert that the bad condition of the roads and bridges of the province is to be charged up against the former government. The old government is not responsible for the failure of the present government to keep its pledges. The roads were to be improved. Mr. Hazen has had ample time to do the work, and it has not been done. Therefore he is the responsible party in the case.

The Bishop of London, in his Labor Day address in Halifax last evening, declared himself very strongly in sympathy with the aspirations of working men. He favors reform in the interest of the workman so that he may have the opportunity to rise from the lowest task to the highest position in the land. Canada, his lordship was glad to say, seemed to have solved the problem that faces England. The laboring men of that country are fortunate in having as an advocate a man of the force and courage of the Bishop of London.

The Toronto News says: "A number of Imperial gatherings, all calculated to draw the citizens of the Empire together and make them better acquainted with each other, are now on the programme. Next year comes the Coronation and with it the Imperial Conference. With the assistance of the school authorities in the several commonwealths under the Union Jack an Imperial Educational Congress is being arranged for next summer. Preparations are well under way for a great British Imperial Industrial Exhibition to be held in 1915. As the sister states make no more develop common interests these gatherings are certain to become increasingly frequent. Perhaps they may point the way by slow degrees to an Imperial Parliament."

Of the late Canadian Commissioner in France, reference to whose funeral is made in the Times special cable today, an exchange says: "Mr. Hector Fabre, F.R.S.C., O.M.G., whose death is announced in Paris, was a scholarly French-Canadian, a brother of the late Archbishop of Montreal, a brother-in-law of Sir George Carter and a warm admirer of Sir John Macdonald, by whose Government in 1882 he was appointed Canadian Commissioner to France. For nearly three decades he occupied that important post to the satisfaction of both countries, and many Canadian visitors to Paris have kind remembrances of the good offices he performed for them in the French capital."

A WORD OF KINDNESS. Drop a word of cheer and kindness—Just a flash and it is gone; But there's a half a hundred ripples Circling on the sea. Bearing hope and joy and comfort On each splashing, dashing wave, Till you wouldn't believe the volume Of the one kind word you gave.

Drop a word of cheer and kindness—Drop a minute you forget; But there's a gladness still a-swell'ing And there's a joy a-swing'ing yet. And you're rolled a wave of comfort Whose sweet music can be heard Over miles and miles of water. Just by dropping a kind word.—Santa Fe Employees' Magazine.

IN LIGHTER VEIN. TAKING FATHER'S JOB. "Why should you beg? You are both young and strong." "That is right, but my father is old and weak and can no longer support me."—Meggendorfer Blätter.

HOW SHE KNEW. Jerome S. McWade, the Duluth millionaire, said in an open air luncheon at his home near Biwabik: "The last time I had my house filled with slum urchins it rained cats and dogs for a week. It was a dreadful disappointment for my visitors. "One rainy morning I heard a little chirp say to me as it flattered his nose against the pane and looked out disconsolately at the dreacher green country-side: "I don't ever rain in heaven, does it, May?" "In course it does, ye little chump!" the girl replied. "That's where it's all a-comin' from, ain't it?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HE DIDN'T PARADE. "It was a fine parade," he said as he came along to where a tired looking man was leaning against the closed doors of a factory. "It surely was," was the reply. "Ever see a larger one?" "Never." "Lots of enthusiasm, eh?" "Oceans of it." "Did you carry one of the banners?" "No, not exactly." "But you marched at the head of one of the unions?" "No-o-o." "But you looked to be all tired out, and I took it that you had been marching." "No, I didn't get time." "But surely, if I had to skurry on such a day as this." "Well, you see how it is. My 40 men were in the parade but I had to skurry about to raise money to pay their wages for the coming week, and so I couldn't get in line. Yes, a fine parade—great enthusiasm—great day for us. I paraded after half a dozen friends of mine, and finally made a loan, and if I wasn't so tired out I would swing my hat with you and cheer for our great holiday."

THOUSAND DOLLAR BILLS. According to the statistics sent out from Washington one thousand dollar bills are not popular.—News despatch. Poor, lonely thousand dollar bill, Come unto me, I pray, Though spurred by other hands, I will be kind to you today. Though other eyes may glare at you And other lips may frown, My friendship is sincere and true, I will not turn you down. My friendship is sincere and true, I will not turn you down.

Though we have never met, poor bill, Of thousand dollar face, With love you'd make my pulses thrill And I admire your grace. I know that you are welcome here, You need not at my threshold sue, Come straightway unto me. I'll care for you by night and day, I'll keep you for my own, For aunts that other men might say I gladly will atone. With some unpopular, perhaps, But never mind these other chaps, You're popular with me.

If you are searching for a friend No farther need you go, My home will be your journey's end A place for you I know. Right gladly will I take you in, My roof, you're roof and true, Unpopular you may have been, But now come unto me.—Detroit News.

WRITING FROM THE SEASHORE. She's got a letter started, It's to her fiance, It seems they sadly parted, The 30th of May. And when her's nothing better On hand for her to do She hustles out her letter And writes a line or two. Of course when yachtsmen whistle, Or send ashore a hail, She drops her poor epistle And goes out for a sail.

Of course when she's invited She has to take a ride, The letter isn't sighed— It's only put aside. But when the rain clouds hover And no men are about, She recollects her lover, And gets her letter out. With arbor undiminished, She writes a line or two; And hopes to get it finished Before the summer's through.

GOOD SCHOOL SHOES. Beware of trash! Many stores are crying school shoes at prices wonderfully low. What if the shoes are poor—coarse leather, spongy soles, carelessly made? Economy doesn't lie along that route. Pay as much as you can for school shoes; get Goodyear welt, if possible. It is stronger, easier, holds its shape better and is cheaper, though it costs more. STRONGER, because only the best leather can stand the terrific pounding of the machine. EASIER, because the welt gives flexibility, and because the stitches are side-ways, not up and down; no hard ridge inside and no tacks in the shoe. CHEAPER, because it wears longer and can be repaired better—the new sole can be sewed on—in others it must be pegged or nailed on. Not His Season. The policeman turned a corner to find two men wrangling over some question, and he ordered them to move on. One promptly obeyed, but the other halted to protest: "I don't allow no man to say that I haven't the sense of a hen. I'd have hit him in a minute more." "Do you know who he is?" "No, and I don't care." "You'd have cared if you had met him last month." "I don't see it. I'd call him a liar any day in the year." "My dear sir, that is the ice-man. During the season bankers and brokers took off their hats to him. Had you called him a liar on some of the hot days during the past summer you would have been mobbed by the populace. September is here, and we all returned to three chumps of ice a week, and the refrigerators is never empty. His season is gone, and he is no bigger than the rest of us, and it is the coal man whom we must bow to now." "And I have had a narrow escape," asked the man. "The very closest kind. Watch out for the ice-man and the coal-man in their seasons if you don't want broken bones, but lick the milkman any time you can catch him. He's an all-the-year rounder and don't count." A Common Offence. A certain judge had a fixed form of expression when sentencing a prisoner. The case of a man who had carried away a ship's anchor with the help of a six-horse team and a dray was being tried, but the judge could not keep from using his regular formula when imposing sentence. The sentence he pronounced was the following: "You have pleaded guilty to the crime of stealing a ship's anchor—then slightly amend your voice, but with perfect solemnity, 'the crime of stealing a ship's anchor is becoming entirely too prevalent. I sentence you to three years in prison.'"

The Evening Chit-Chat By RUTH CAMERON

THE end of my space yesterday interrupted me in saying what I'd tell a hypothetical daughter before I let her go on a long journey alone, so I promised to finish it today.

So far I have warned her to dress quietly, to be very careful to avoid the use of cabs or hacks in unfamiliar cities, if she stopped at a hotel alone, to arrive early in the day and engage the room in advance.

In addition to those directions I should, of course, emphasize the dangers on a five day's journey with the strict instructions to speak to no one, man or woman, except officials. I don't think I'd quite have the heart to do that.

It seems to me I'd just have a plain heart to heart talk with her on the dangers that beset a young girl, warn her under no conditions to accept an invitation from a stranger, man or woman, and to limit any acquaintanceship to casual and very dignified conversation.

That she should never drink any kind of liquor, either alone or with anyone, while travelling. I should expect her common sense and previous training to tell her for me, but should probably take the precaution to emphasize.

I should try to select any hotel that she was to stop at, but should warn her that if for any reason she had to spend the night in some city whose hotels she did not know, she should consult either the Travellers' Aid or the Young Women's Christian Association, for proper accommodations.

The Y. W. C. A. had its headquarters. She asked where she should look. He pointed to a certain hotel. She went to it, but found it most unimpressive. So instead of taking a room there, she inquired the home of the minister of her own denomination, hunted him up, told him her situation and asked his advice. He recommended a desirable little inn and she afterwards found that the hotel she had at first been sent to was decidedly shady.

Daily Hints for the Cook

BLUEBERRY PIE
Fill a deep plate or crust on it with berries, nearly a cup of sugar, little salt, sprinkle with cinnamon, and B. H. says then add two tablespoonfuls of molasses. Cover with a nice top crust.

RHUBARB CAKE
Cream together 1 cup sugar and 1/2 cup of shortening. Add salt and spice to taste. 1 cup of raisins; stir 1 teaspoon of soda into 1 cup of unsweetened rhubarb sauce and beat into other ingredients. Now add 1 3/4 cup of sifted pastry flour. Bake in a 9 inch pie pan.

The Kaiser's Power The Remedy for Fear

Times change, though men sometimes do not change with them. After Frederick the Great emerged from the tremendous military contest against most of the continent, and with the succor of England landed Prussia as the first of the German states, though in a titular sense Austria still held that rank, he had a long reign of what was then political tranquility. When old in years, declining in body but virile in mind, he one day was riding in the streets of his capital, and halted to read a manifesto posted on a wall that denounced him as all sorts of a tyrant and usurper. Laughing loud at the scurrilousness, he remarked: "My good people and I are at a perfect understanding. I allow them to say what they please about me, and they allow me to do as I please with them."

But the present Emperor of Germany finds things very different. As firmly as his reprobate ancestor, he believes in "divine right," and "unlimited of heaven," and "passive obedience," but he finds a greater Germany that will not allow him to do as he pleases and that even goes so far as to discipline him when he ventures to say "what he pleases."

There's one thing to be said in favor of the hobble skirt. A woman can't use up more than three seats in the trolley car with it.

With a man his wife depends on herself; with a woman it depends on the dresses she can make her husband pay for.

HOW TOURISTS SPEND MONEY

Britain Gets More Than $60,-000,000 From Americans—All Ocean Liners Are Crowded With Travellers

London, Sept. 6.—The annual American retreat from London is now in full swing, following an invasion which, according to competent judges has eclipsed all records for the present century. It is imperative that many thousands of Americans who have been holiday making in Europe shall be back in the United States for the opening of the "fall" season. So great is the homeward rush that many who committed to book their return passages in advance have had to adopt one of the following unusual courses.—To return by way of Canada. To put up with second instead of first-class accommodation. At great inconvenience to postpone their departure for several days.

Striking scenes are to be witnessed at the West End offices of the trans-Atlantic shipping companies which are being besieged daily by Americans clamouring for berths at almost any price. Several of the companies are experiencing the greatest difficulty in finding accommodation for their more exacting patrons, and good berths are at a heavy premium.

Nearly 5,000 people, including 1,200 saloon passengers, left Liverpool on one day this week for the United States and Canada.

The White Star Line Lauroline, for instance, which on her previous westbound voyage carried Chief Inspector Dew in pursuit of Dr. Crippen, had an absolutely full cabin list, comprising 360 first-class and 200 second class in addition to 700 third-class passengers.

The Baltic bound for New York, left with crowded decks the same day, carrying 410 first class, 420 second class and 500 third-class passengers.

The Cunarder Mauretania carried no fewer than 465 saloon, 430 second, and about 1,000 third-class passengers.

"While no definite figures are yet available," said a representative of Messrs Thomas Cook and Son, "I am tolerably convinced that more Americans have visited Europe this summer than at any other time since the Paris Exhibition of 1900."

"I can give no better idea of the great number of visiting Americans this summer than by mentioning that we must have looked about 10,000 Americans for the Passion Play at Oberammergau alone."

In view of the fact that the average American who comes to Europe for the Passion Play must spend at least $250, Oberammergau will indirectly at least, account for an expenditure of not less than $2,500,000 of every money—probably a great deal more.

For several weeks every room has been occupied in many of the leading London hotels which cater for American visitors and the smaller hotels and American boarding-houses have likewise reaped a golden harvest.

"We have been full for weeks," said M. "Gustave" the manager of the Savoy Hotel.

"I do not remember such a rush within recent years. London is coming to be recognized more and more as the holiday centre of the world—particularly of the western hemisphere."

The representative of a London tourist agency which has hundreds of Americans among its clients estimated that no fewer than 100,000 have visited London this summer. Their expenditure may be broad-ly assessed as follows:

Every statement concerning Red Rose Tea is made most carefully. Every claim that has ever been advanced has been fully borne out by the tea itself. You, if you use it, have always found it good tea. So good that no other tea pleases you as well. You may try substitutes but you always return to Red Rose simply because it has the fine quality and full value that pleases and satisfies.

The Bosses He is Hitting

(New York Times)
Theodore Roosevelt announces that he will give the New York bosses all the fighting they want. He will hit them hard and true. But who made them?

Mr. Woodruff was made chairman of the Republican state committee to succeed Mr. Odell at the behest of Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Barnes was made surveyor of the port at Albany by Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Merritt was appointed postmaster at Washington and collector at Niagara Falls by Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. O'Brien was made collector at Plattsburgh by Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Hendricks of Syracuse was made superintendent of insurance by Gov. Roosevelt.

Mr. Ward was made a member of the Republican national committee with Mr. Roosevelt's approval and consent.

Mr. Wadsworth whom Mr. Roosevelt created speaker of the assembly in a new recruit in the company of Ward, Merritt, O'Brien, Hendricks, Barnes and Woodruff, the bosses whom Mr. Roosevelt advanced on the road to power.

Mr. Roosevelt is a practical man. He was never asked to smash the machine in this state before, nor even to refrain from patronizing its leaders. Now there is a great popular outcry to "down" them and "smash" the machine. He expects to smash the machine.

The Late Hector Fabre

Hector Fabre, whose death in Venezuela, France, was announced in the Times on Saturday was the son of the late E. R. Fabre, at one time Mayor of Montreal, and he was a brother of the late Archbishop Fabre. He was born in Montreal, August 9, 1854, and was educated at L'Assomption and St. Hyacinthe colleges, and at St. Salpeux College, Montreal. He studied law with his brother-in-law, the late Sir George Blaisie Cartier, and was called to the bar in 1882. He became editor of L'Ordre, published in Montreal, and was afterwards editor of Le Canadien, Quebec (1883-8), and in 1889 founded L'Evreuilment in Quebec. After being an unsuccessful candidate for the house of commons in 1878 he was called to the senate by the MacKenzie administration in 1875.

He was appointed resident agent in Paris of the government of Quebec, and afterwards became an agent for the Dominion government as well, thereupon resigning his seat in the senate. During his stay in the French capital, he established a French-Canadian paper called Paris-Canada. He was an honorary commissioner to the Colonial and Indian exposition London, in 1883, and in the same year was made a C. M. G. He was a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. Among his published writings are "Equipe Biographique sur Chev. de Lorimier" (1880), "Ecrivains Canadiens," (1886) "Confederation, Independance, Annexion," (1871) and "Chroniques" (1877).

RECORD AT THE FAIR. Attendance. Nearly 15,000 People Visit Dominion Exhibition on First Day.

SOME OF THE FEATURES. Newspaper Men Dined by Executive—Brilliant Scene on the Grounds Last Night—The Grand Stand Vaudeville Acts.

All attendance records were broken yesterday when nearly 15,000 people visited the Dominion Exhibition. Following is a comparative statement of the attendance for the first two days in 1908 and of the present exhibition.

The vaudeville acts in front of the grandstand were by far the best ever shown at an exhibition in St. John. The "death swing" act, by the association, R. O'Brien, manager of the Globe, brought out one of the large tables was filled. A very appetizing repast was enjoyed, after which it was the intention to have some speaking.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND MILE RACE OF BARKS; CIGAR THE WAGER.

(New York Herald) Two barks of six hundred tons register each, of equal age, and carrying equal cargoes left Padang, Sumatra, on April 1st last bound for New York. Throughout the fourteen thousand mile trip, by way of the Cape of Good Hope, the vessels did not sight each other once.

The skipper, Captain Neils Tellefsen, of the Bonanza, the winning ship, and Captain Ansen of the Gaspar, are well-known. Captain Tellefsen is fifty-nine years old, Captain Ansen is sixty-five. Despite his forty-five years at sea, in twenty-five of which he has been master, Captain Tellefsen still is stout and hearty and declares himself fit for another quarter of a century's service.

Both barks are wooden vessels, sixteen years old. Each carried 20,000 bags coffee. The voyage lasted 138 days because calm weather prevailed for much of the time. "Two years ago I made the same trip in ninety-three days," Captain Tellefsen said. Pets on board the Bonanza amused the crew. A cat and a monkey played tag on deck.

Attired in immaculate white gowns and completely filling the large concert platform at the junction of the three main industrial buildings, Madame Belle Weston Renfrew's Boston Orchestra of fourteen-year-old girls, Malis, this evening proved a most artistic and enjoyable programme.

A visit to the women's department will amply repay one for the trouble. This exhibit is one of the finest in the fair, and is situated on the second floor of the building.

There is also an exhibit of hand-made jewelry by Miss Peters, of Hampton. Madame Melba visited the department yesterday and purchased quite a lot of the work exhibited. The judging of the lace will begin this afternoon at 1:30. Mrs. Cogle is in charge of the department.

Reaching 42,000 Purchasers For Less Than The Price of a Postal. FIGURE out the cost of personally soliciting 42,000 people in St. John and surrounding towns—figure out the cost of printing and distributing 42,000 hand bills. Even postal cards to 42,000 people would cost to the tune of $420.00 and you would only have a space 6 by 3 1/2 in. on which to tell your story.

THE MOTOR CAR AND EQUIPMENT CO., LTD.

In the whole exhibition there is nothing more attractive than the automobiles and as this is really the first time there has been anything worth while of this character in St. John. Here they have twenty-seven Motor Cars and Equipment Co., Ltd., in the transportation building is all the more noticeable.

There are not many people who know that there is such a business house in St. John as the Motor Car and Equipment Co., Ltd., and yet the gentlemen who are behind this new enterprise have, pushed their product big and small, and they already have a large new brick garage right in the heart of the city, on Prince street, between Germain and Charlotte, so near completion that they expect it to be ready for occupancy by the middle of this month.

In addition to this the new company has been appointed agents for some of the best automobile manufacturers and have an exhibit of their products. The automobiles the distinctive merits of the machines the company has on exhibition. These include a thirty-horse power model G. A. gasolene car with torpedo body painted dark green. It can carry five passengers easily. It is equipped with gun metal and brass lamps. Together with a most attractive specimen of automobile making and those who have experimented with cars with different makes are intensely interested in this 1911 model.

Another car shown is the New Dominion, built in Canada, made in Walker, N. B. (Ont.) It is a five-passenger touring car, 30 horse power, four cylinders and is finished in royal blue with French gray running gear, perfectly equipped with electric lights and all the necessary lamps. The company's representatives are much pleased with this car and predict a popular future for it.

The time has not yet passed since the organization of the business that a part of the exhibit is not yet in position. Two Maxwell-Briscoe runabouts are expected Wednesday as well as the North Western Marine engine. But the garage supplies, tires, lamps, etc., are shown in splendid profusion and augur well for what the character of the new auto industry will be. The officials of the company say that it will be the largest and best equipped garage east of Boston. The capital stock of the company is $24,000 and is fully paid up.

Just to the right of the main entrance there is a wonderful exhibit—wonderful inasmuch as it represents the output and the enterprise of a wonderfully successful manufacturing plant in St. John—the Maritime Nail Company, Limited. Here are shown some of the products of iron, the most important of any and it is to the credit of this enterprising company that they have won their way so successfully to the markets of Canada and that they have branches at Quebec and Montreal and a large warehouse in Halifax. Their business extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific and nine travellers are sent out constantly on the road selling the products of the manufacturing. In addition to their Canadian business they have a large export trade with the West Indies and South America, and last year their nail output amounted to 130,000,000. This is more than five times what it was five years ago before the company changed hands. At that time Mr. S. E. Elkin was president and William Johnston secretary of the company, as being a thorough Canadian concern. A spray of maple leaves encircles the overhead sign and

THE EXCLUSION OF ASIATIC IMMIGRATION A WORLD POLICY

Victoria Paper Presents The Matter as Affecting Various Nations—The Relation to The British Empire

(Victoria Colonist)

Among the lines of policy laid down by General Botha, Prime Minister of South Africa, is the exclusion of Asiatic immigration. Thus we find Canada, Australia and South Africa united on this question, and the United States in full sympathy with them. This means that the people of nearly 20,000,000 square miles of the earth's surface, embracing the greatest unoccupied spaces, have resolved that their lands shall be kept for the white race. This is a tremendous fact, the full significance of which we do not think it is intended to apply to the Japanese, who are not sufficiently numerous to make their migration very formidable in a world-wide sense. Just the same objections can be made against Japanese coolie immigration into white communities as are urged against Chinese coolies, but we think the white races must be prepared to see the Japanese educated and mercantile classes go back to their own lands, selecting homes where they choose, in the same manner as people of European stock do.

Against the immigration of Japanese coolie labor we continue our strongest protest as we protest against all coolie labor being permitted to compete with white labor in countries peopled by white men. But we have said the numerical strength of the Japanese is not great enough to make even the migration of coolies a menace to white civilization, and we are strongly of opinion that national unity will lead the Japanese government to discontinue such immigration.

We distinguish between Japanese conquest and Japanese immigration. It is not improbable that the occupation of Australia may be within the compass of the Japanese ambition, but that contingency is too remote to require consideration at present, although the possibility of it will undoubtedly strongly influence the people

PROMINENT WRITER OPPOSES SUFFRAGETTES

Mollie Elliot Seawell, the well known author, is the latest woman of prominence to declare against woman suffrage. In the Atlantic Monthly she has a well reasoned article on the subject, in which she emphasizes a couple of objections to the cause of the suffragettes which are generally overlooked by those who believe women should have the same political rights as men. Arguing against woman suffrage is somewhat akin to the occupation of whipping a dead horse. The call is fast declining, and even without further objection being made to it it will probably perish of inanition in a few years.

The Basis of Physical Force

According to Miss Seawell, the two basic reasons against woman suffrage are:

1. No electorate has ever existed or ever can exist which cannot execute its own laws.
2. No voter has claimed, or ever can claim, maintenance from another voter.

Miss Seawell shows that, to begin with, the women voters could not force their way to the polls in the face of opposition, nor could they enforce their rights by physical means, either by their own or by delegated efforts. Supposing, however, they are able to cast their ballots, they will be called upon to legislate for men upon a subject of which no woman has ever had or ever can have any practical experience. It is true that men now legislate for women, but there is no trade profession or handicraft of which women have a monopoly, and in which no man has any experience. There are many trades and handicrafts, however, that are monopolies of men.

IMPERIAL FAIR PROPOSED

Exhibition Planned for London in 1915—Viscount Hill in Toronto interesting Canadian People

A proposal to hold a British Imperial Exposition in London, England in 1915, is being brought to the attention of manufacturers, merchants and other prominent residents of Toronto and Montreal by the Right Hon. Viscount Hill, who is at present in Toronto visiting family connections, Lord Hill addressed the Board of Trade on the subject; he had a brief conversation with Sir James Whitney before the prime minister's departure for England; he has conferred with Richard Craig, the British Trade Commissioner to Canada, and will see other prominent persons before he sails for England on September 25.

Stratagem Interest

The idea of an exhibition which would include the products of all the countries of the empire rose through the holding of a Christmas exhibition by the Union Jack League, formed four years ago to educate the English public to purchase goods made in Great Britain or in the British Dominions beyond the seas instead of in foreign countries. So great was its success that the larger exposition was proposed by the leaders of the league among whom was Lord Hill, its first president. The idea has grown in popularity in Britain; and this month a committee will be formed to make further preparations for the event. Among those interested in the movement are Lord Seely, Canadian High Commissioner in London; Col. Seely, M.P.; Under Secretary of State for Colonies; Lord Selborne, who succeeded Lord Milner as High Commissioner in South Africa; the Duke of Marlborough; Sir George Reid, High Commissioner for Australia; Sir Peter Stuart Bann, senior member for Cape Town in the South African Parliament. In the beginning of the year duly authorized committees will be sent from Britain to all the over-seas dominions to take up the idea with manufacturers, Boards of Trade and others with a view to securing exhibits for the exposition. The funds for the holding of the exhibition, which is not to be held in order to make money for its promoters, will be raised in Great Britain, and steps will soon be taken to obtain grounds on which the exhibition buildings can be erected.

ON OVERDOING IT

"The tendency of the age," says a modern philosopher, "is to overdo every thing."

The same thought has occurred to the writer many scores of times, when, after swallowing a very moderate allowance of some sauce, he has been left with a palate apparently given over to an endless stinging and burning sensation, calculated to be not to blame at all. That all the fuss and flourish that has been made in the last twenty years as to the cause and offence of the vermiform appendix, and that of such serious disease has been entirely unfounded, and that the colon alone is to blame for all the trouble. Mr. H. P. Sance, a truly original physician, has contended for some time, and his articles have been widely published, that the difficulty lies in the colon in every case, and now, Mr. H. P. Sance of the university of Edinburgh has set his face hard against appendectomy, holding that this organ is absolutely indolent, and is most useful in pouring its lubricating and digestive secretions into the colon, and by this art preventing inflammation of this larger gut. Fatal to this most profitable source of late surgical fees will be this theory, when it is accepted by the medical fraternity.

So convinced was Meachnikov of the correctness of his idea that he advocated removal of the colon as a means of prolonging life. Sir Henry Burdette, an eminent English surgeon, claims that the tendency at the present time is to put the knife into everybody on the smallest possible pretext.

"And now comes Dr. Page of Boston in the Medical Times, and makes a very strong plea against operations on the appendix at all, claiming in the light of above statements and his own experience, that it is just as justifiable to cut off the little toe for a case of inflammation in the calf of the leg; that the name appendicitis is a false name, given to an inflammation of a part of the colon, and that by the simplest measures these inflammations are readily reduced."

EXIT APPENDICITIS?

(20th Century Magazine)

The following from Ellingwood's Thesaurus for June of this year, is of general interest, and affords an admirable illustration of the scientific character of medical practice, even in its most scientific department—that of surgery.

Now it appears that the appendix is not to blame at all. That all the fuss and flourish that has been made in the last twenty years as to the cause and offence of the vermiform appendix, and that of such serious disease has been entirely unfounded, and that the colon alone is to blame for all the trouble. Mr. H. P. Sance, a truly original physician, has contended for some time, and his articles have been widely published, that the difficulty lies in the colon in every case, and now, Mr. H. P. Sance of the university of Edinburgh has set his face hard against appendectomy, holding that this organ is absolutely indolent, and is most useful in pouring its lubricating and digestive secretions into the colon, and by this art preventing inflammation of this larger gut. Fatal to this most profitable source of late surgical fees will be this theory, when it is accepted by the medical fraternity.

SOME USES FOR SALT

It is well to wipe up floors with salt water.

Salt removes discoloration from the carpet.

Mattings should be washed with salt water and wiped dry.

Clean willow furniture by a good scrubbing with salt water.

Enamel can be cleaned by an application of salt moistened with vinegar.

Black and white goods may be safely washed if salt is added to the water.

Copper and brass may be cleaned by dipping half a lemon in fine salt and then rubbing the soiled article.

Oil or strong smelling foods may be removed from cooking utensils by placing them, bottom side up, over salt which has been put on a hot stove.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE

Hawkehow, Sept. 5.—A particularly sad drowning accident occurred here this morning, when Mrs. Alexander Sharp, who has been for some time helplessly insane, ended her life by throwing herself into the river St. John. The lifeless body floated ashore about an hour after the suicide occurred.

The deceased, who was fifty years of age, leaves besides her husband, Alexander Sharp, who conducts a general store here, a family of nine children. Three brothers also survive. The news of the drowning accident has cast a gloom over the community.

No. 5 (Carleton) Battery 3rd N. B. H. B. C. A. will parade full strength under arms at their shed, Window street on Thursday, Sept. 8 at 2:30 p. m. sharp to cross by 3:10 ferry and join the other batteries to attend the unveiling of the statue of Sir Leonard Tilley in King Square. Review order, S. B. Smith, major.

The prettiest light effect produced by the special illuminations for the exhibition period is on King Square, where double rows of small incandescent lamps of red and white are strung along the walks converging on the fountain. To persons coming up through the Old Burial Ground the square in the evening seems a veritable glimpse of fairyland.

A member of the crew of the schooner "Rhonela," called at the police station this morning and enquired for one "Jesse Milligan," a young sailor who came ashore last night, and had not returned this morning. His shipmate became anxious about him, and had sought news of him in the guard room.

A very enjoyable time was passed yesterday at Chapel Grove on the Kennebecasis at a picnic conducted by Rev. Joseph Borgmann, C. S. R., in aid of St. Bridget's church there. A large number of young folks went to the grove on the steamer Hampton yesterday morning and spent the day in resting at the various resorts returning to the city last night. During the afternoon a successful pie social was held, John O'Brien acting as auctioneer.

The August sittings of the county court were resumed this morning in chambers, with Judge Forbes presiding. The non-jury case of Laporte Martin & Co., Ltd. vs. Josephine LeBlanc, was taken up. C. S. Hanington was on the stand up to the time of adjournment. This is an action for liquors claimed to be sold and delivered by the plaintiff to the defendant. Adjournment was made until the thirteenth instant. A. A. Wilson, K. C., and C. S. Hanington appeared for the plaintiff and John A. Barry for F. M. Robitseau, solicitor for the defendant.

The Sydney Record of Saturday has the following:—"A party of prominent ladies and gentlemen who went out on the train last night for St. John to attend the Dominion Exhibition included Stipendiary Magistrate, A. Gordon Forbes, E. E. Fraser of Fraser Co., and the Misses Fraser. Their dainty little niece Dorothy, who has been the guest of her uncle, also accompanied them. They will, before returning in about ten days time, visit several points of interest throughout the maritime provinces.

TEAMS COLLIDE NEAR SUSSEX; MRS. AITON INJURED
Sussex, N. B., Sept. 6.—(Special)—An unfortunate driving accident occurred last night about 10 o'clock just outside the town limits when teams driven by Col. H. M. Campbell and Mrs. Aiton collided. Both were wrecked. Mrs. Aiton is now under the doctor's care with two ribs broken and she is badly bruised. The night was very dark and the drivers did not see each other until they struck. Sylvester Ryan is well to do farmer of Kings county, died suddenly this morning at his home, three miles from Sussex. He was aged fifty-two years. Stomach meningitis was the cause of death. He had been ill only since last Thursday.

Mr. Ryan was twice married. The children of the first union are Jeanie of Quebec, Annie A., teacher in Carleton county; Mary and Agnes, at home; and Thomas and George, of Sussex. The surviving brothers are James, of British Columbia, Daniel, of Malden, Mass., and George, of Sussex. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 10 o'clock interment in Ward's Creek R. C. cemetery. Rev. Father Byrne will officiate. Relatives will act as pall-bearers.

James Powell of Waterford, who was in Sussex yesterday celebrating the holiday was placed in the cooler. Today he paid a fine of $8 and out.

The Diving Girls

The act of the Annette Killman Diving Girls was greeted with such enthusiasm last evening at the Aquarium's rink. Unfortunately but one performance was given, owing to the diving tank being insecure. This was objected to a water pressure of 800 pounds and was not strong enough to stand the immense weight. The repairs will be completed today, when it is expected that the full performance may be witnessed.

Leon the Great

The Queen's Rink will open this afternoon with the renowned magician, the Great Leon, who has charmed with his illusions the audience of the continent. SAYS SHE HAS BEEN WITH CIRCUS

Seventeen Year Old Girl Arrested for Theft Says She Stole But Was Intoxicated at the Time

According to her own story, young Margaret McDonald, or Munroe, as she has sometimes been known, had quite an interesting time of it since parting company with her mother in Halifax some months ago. She says she has been traveling with circuses, and was here with Howe's London shows in the capacity of an equestrienne when that circus visited here in August. She left the show in Sydney, C. B., and after a while, came here and was given employment in the restaurant kept by James Barclay, in Pond street. While working there she said she became under the influence of liquor, although she claims to be only seventeen years old, and it was while in an intoxicated condition, she says, she stole a gold bracelet, an undershirt and a pocket-book containing about $7, from another girl, Anelise Allen, who is also employed by Barclay. She confessed to the theft, after being arrested by Deputy Chief Jenkins yesterday. She appeared in the police court this morning, and in a low voice, but apparently undisturbed by her surroundings, told the court of her experiences. She says the cause of her leaving home was trouble with a step-father. She was remanded until further enquiries are made concerning her.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS IN SESSION

Welcome by Mayor Frink at Opening of Annual Meeting of Maritime Association

The eighth annual meeting of the Maritime Funeral Directors Association was opened this morning in Foresters' Hall. President M. Louis Brennan called the meeting to order, with appropriate remarks and welcomed the members to the city. Rev. Dr. Flanders opened the meeting with prayer. The president then called upon Mayor Frink to address the meeting.

His worship spoke of the aims and objects for which the association was founded. Speaking of St. John he said it was the great shipping centre of eastern Canada. He commended the Maritime Funeral Directors for the work they had in hand and contrasted the ancient funeral methods with those of our day. He handed to the president the keys of the city and as spokesman they would be returned to him as spokesmen as they were given.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY LECTURE HERE THIS WEEK

The general secretary of the Archaeological Institute of America, Prof. Mitchell Carroll, Ph.D., of Washington, will lecture here on Friday evening, September 23, in the rooms of the Natural History Society, Union street. Men, You Don't Get The Most For Your Money If You Don't Buy Oak Hall Clothes

It stands to reason that we must be able to do better for you than any other store, else why would we be doing by far more clothing business than any other store?
And why shouldn't we be in a position to do more for you than anyone else, being the manufacturers we consequently have no middlemen's profits to pay—something that every other store has to do?
The saving of this profit represents the difference between our prices and theirs—just about 25 to 30 per cent. And besides the saving, you get clothes as stylish and as satisfactory as any that can be made.
Is there really and plausible reason why any man should buy his clothes outside of Oak Hall? Think it over.
