What's in a Name?
If your Heating Stove or Range is made by the Enterprise Foundry Co., you have the best that money can buy.
Have you seen the "Enterprise Hot Blast"?—a most wonderful heater.
A current or blast of hot air descending from the top of this stove ignites the gases which arise from the fuel—these burning gases greatly increase the heat, and entirely overcome the annoyance and danger from escaping gas.
Made in two sizes, $14.50 and $16

Most of the river steamers will probably be taken off the routes for the season next week. Last year the Springfield was the last boat to be taken off and on her final trip she narrowly escaped being hemmed in by the ice near Capetown. Two of the steamers were laid up for the winter on Nov.
1st last year.
Captain Pitt, the well known mariner of the Kennebec, is to have a new ferry system between Gondola Point and Pitt's Landing next summer. The captain was in the city yesterday and said that he would have a cable service ready for the public next year. Capt. Pitt has run a ferry between these points for many years, and to cross the river in that locality, one must go across on one of Pitt's scows.
A large steamer was built by Capt.
Pitt a few years ago and unfortunately it was burned to the water's edge before it made many journeys.
The smallpox patient, Miss Mary
Guy, is reported to be recovering.
There is now little fear of an epidemic.
Fourteen deaths occurred in the city during the past week, resulting from the following causes: Infantum, marasmus, meningitis, cancer, enteritis, phthisis pulmonalis, cholera, infantum, uterine cancer, disease of bowels, heart disease, chronic fever, chronic pyelitis, acute nephritis, dropsy cardiac.
Fred Heans has just completed a large derrick for handling heavy timber at J. A. Likie's pond, North End.
The boom is 50 ft. long and lifts the timber from the pond and places it on flat cars 100 ft. away. An 8 to 10 h. p.
gasoline engine attached to a Beatty hoister furnishes the power, and was supplied by E. Leonard & Sons, of this city.

Store open till 11 o'clock. St. John, N. B., Nov. 3rd, 1906.

MR. BAXTER'S ARGUMENT FOR ANOTHER TRIAL FOR CLARKE
Based on Alleged Improper Admission of Evidence in a Number of Cases, Misdirection and Non-
Direction—Judgment Reserved Until Nov. 22.
The circuit court this morning finished its session and was adjourned until November 22. The argument of J. E.
M. Baxter for a retrial of the Clark case was heard and Judge Landry reserved judgment until the next session of the court, when he will then either order a new trial or pass sentence on the prisoner. Mr. Baxter asked for a reserved case on the following grounds:
Improper admission of evidence.
(1) In recalling Mrs. Ada Clarke and asking her as to a statement supposed to have been made by her to Officer Greer in the absence of the prisoner to the effect that he had been working all day Saturday.
(2) In allowing Officer Greer to be called in rebuttal of Mrs. Clarke and to be asked whether she had said to him that the prisoner had been working all day Saturday. The statement if made by her was made in the absence of the prisoner and therefore not admissible against him. The circumstances of the supposed statement were not sufficiently designated to her. She was asked as to a statement, Greer's evidence was as to a reply, it was in evidence that she had seen Greer twice one day in question and the occasion was not particularized in the cross-examination. Mrs. Clarke's statement was as to a matter not material to the issue and therefore could not be rebutted.
(3) In admitting statements of May Short and Ethel Train made to police officers and to Louis Train and the statements of Louis Train as to the description of the assailant of Ethel Train. Such statements not being part of the case and not made in the presence of the prisoner, and statements made by May Short not being admissible under any circumstances, no attack having been committed on her;
statements made by Ethel Train not being admissible in any case, and no involvement in the crime; only the statement of the first person spoken to by the children after the assault was not admitted; evidence of Louis Train not being admissible under any circumstances.
(4) In admitting the evidence of police officers as to the statements made to them by May Short and Ethel Train and the statements of the assailant; that the officers were looking for a person answering to a particular description given by the children; that in consequence of what they were told by the Short and Train girls they went to certain places and did certain things.
Misdirection.
(5) In telling the jury that there was a presumption against the truth of the prisoner's testimony.
(6) In telling the jury that the only inference they could draw from the testimony was that an attempt at rape had been committed if they believed the testimony at all.
Non-direction.
In not telling the jury that they might find the prisoner guilty of indecent assault.
Mr. Baxter in the course of his argument quoted largely from different cases.
The attorney-general criticized Mr.
Baxter's objections to some extent but Judge Landry decided to reserve the case and give judgment at the next sitting Nov. 22.

NEGRO TROOPS WERE FRIGHTENED TO MOVE
When Sent Against the Wandering Indians.
A Meeting is Being Held Between the Two Parties and the Utes May Go Home
Without Fighting.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 2.—A special to the Miner from Sheridan, Wyo., says:
"The latest report received at Arvada says that the conference between the military and the Ute Indians was still in session last night when the messenger left. The conference is being held between the soldiers and the Ute camp, 15 miles northeast of Moorhead. The chiefs in the band with power to act are Red Cap, Unkahkin and Ponnep. Chief
Blain, chief of the band, is also present.
Before leaving for the council the Utes had a dance in the open and solemnly invited the soldiers to the conference. The chiefs were offered transportation for the tribe and its posses back to Utah and rations during the winter. A promise to consider the matter of allowing them a new hunting ground next spring was also made. The Indian chiefs hesitated over the matter of hunting grounds, and wanted a definite promise that they would be allowed to return to Powder River in the spring. During the council the three chiefs would frequently leave the circle and talk between themselves.
The Indians are favorable to an agreement, as they seem to be yielding to the wishes of Major Grierson, Colonel Rogers and Captain Johnson. It is stated on authority of the white residents living at Sheridan that the Major Grierson on Guffalo Creek that for two nights and one day, the second night of the Ute and the first of the Johnsons, was secreted in the hills eight miles north of Moorhead, the colored troops being in fear of their lives. The fire or lights were permitted during this time, and the horses and mules were driven under a cover of darkness. They remained there until the arrival of Col.

SPORTING MATTERS. YACHTING. PRIZE FOR FISHERMEN. BOSTON, Nov. 2.—As a result of a visit to T. Wharf Thursday, where he was given a great reception by the fishermen, Sir Thomas Lipton will offer a handsome prize for a race between fishing vessels, in Massachusetts bay.

BASE BALL. BIG LEAGUE NOTES. According to a wire from Macon, Ga., Alvin Bayne, one of the star pitchers of the New York State league, has committed suicide. He first attracted attention by his pitching for Macon in 1904, and was a winner in 39 out of 46 games. He averaged eight strikes out per game. He was drafted by Rochester, but owing to a surplus of pitching material was released to Birmingham of the New York State league. He shut out the champion A. J. G. club in his first game. He was drafted and again pitched for Birmingham, but did not shine, as the club failed to make a good showing. Griffith says he knows that Outfielders Dougherty and Hahn are good players, but they were not temperamentally tied to play on his team. There is a story afloat that the ball players will form a union, but if the movement does not succeed more than previous efforts in that line it will be a sorry affair at best. "Take" Stahl says he has no notion of quitting the game, but may try to connect with some other club than Washington. Pitcher Robert Wicker of the Cincinnati was married to Miss Alice B. Chapin of Chicago Saturday night. Schel has also fallen in line, and Miller Huggins will also be married at an early date. Now they have it that Ned Hanlon will dispose of his Baltimore holdings, and be retired from the Cincinnati club at the close of the next playing season and retire from baseball. It is well said that all depends upon the showing the Cincinnati club will make ATHLETIC. The winners of the Marathon road race will receive as evidence of their prowess a gold medal for first place and a silver medal for the second man. A number of entries have already been received and considerable interest is being displayed in the race. It is a long line since a road race has been contested by St. John athletes, and the followers of local sport are rather curious as to what the line-up will be when the starter's pistol cracks on the seventeenth of November.

ON THE ALLEYS. The match game of candle pins, which was to have been played on the Richey alleys last night, has been postponed until next Wednesday night on account of Capt. W. Archibald having injured his hand, which rendered him unable to play. More than the usual interest is being shown in this match, as friends of both sides are backing their team very strongly. The game is called at 8 o'clock sharp. The captains of the opposing teams will be R. Norton and W. Archibald.

FOOTBALL. The local football league closes today with a double header between the Marathons and Beavers and Carleton and St. Peter's. The games should be of more than ordinary interest, as all the teams have something at stake, the Marathons being determined to close the season with a clean sheet, and as they have not yet been scored against, the prospects look bright. The Beavers, however, intend breaking the ice, if possible, and are out to win from the champions and will work for this end from start to finish. The Carleton and St. Peter's game

Its velocity has never been less than fifty miles an hour and at one time reached seventy miles an hour. It is accompanied by heavy rains.

Miscellaneous. CHATHAM, Mass., Nov. 2.—Tug Lang came to the assistance of tug International, which suffered an accident to her machinery, while towing three barges through Pollock Rip and was obliged to anchor her tow. The tug Lang, from Portland, was forced to seek shelter in Truro Bay and came to anchor there about 5 o'clock tonight. One two-masted coaster painted white came in under bare poles and anchored in the bay. The tug Luckenbach, with three light barges, a two-masted lumber laden schooner, also anchored to escape the fury of the storm. TENANT'S HARBOR, Me., Nov. 2.—Arrived, schr Fannie, from St. John for Rockport, Me. (with sails and anchors gone). CHATHAM, Mass., Nov. 2.—Str Navigator, from New York for Windsor, N. S., came down over the shoals today, but returned for an anchorage on account of the heavy sea.

AN ASTOUNDING REPLY. (Lippincott's Magazine.) One day at Latin recitation Johnny Jones was so drowsy that when the professor asked for the conjugation of a certain verb he failed to catch it, and turning to his bosom friend inquired, "What verb?" "Damno," whispered his classmate. "Damno, damno, damno, damno, damno, damno," said Johnny Jones to the horrified professor.

The regular meeting of the Common Council will be held on Monday afternoon. This meeting will be an important one, as the assessment commission will make their report. The street car service on Main street was suspended last evening for about thirty minutes. The cause was attributable to cars No. 29, which came to a standstill a short distance above Douglas avenue and refused to be impelled further.

At a meeting of the directors of the Alexander Gibson Co. held at the headquarters yesterday, J. S. MacLaren was elected a director to succeed his late brother, D. D. MacLaren. Mr. MacLaren is now the representative of Farnworth and Jardine. Lt. Col. McLean was also present. A sale of cloth remnants for men's garments and some for women's and children's coats is looked tonight in the advertisement to commence at M. R. A., Ltd. on Monday morning. It is a clearance of short ends which have accumulated during the fall season. All patterns, new and stylish, colors excellent, and the goods of trans-Atlantic and domestic textures.

The mayor has lately received a communication from Hon. Mr. Emmerson, in which he says that neither the department of public works or the government have any money at the present time available for the purchase of a street car in St. John. In a recent letter to Hon. Mr. Emmerson urged that the department be made on the ground that it is a necessity.

The weather was rather too disagreeable last evening for the St. Stephen's Boys' Brigade to march out, and they contented themselves with drilling in their rooms. Rev. Gordon Dickie was present and addressed the boys, expressing his pleasure at their skill with which they performed their evolutions and warmly congratulated Col. Buchanan on his splendid work. Next Friday evening the boys will have a military tournament in their rooms.

Upon his arrival yesterday a number of "Tip" O'Neill's friends accompanied him to his home and presented him with an informal dinner at which Aid. McGoldrick presided. A number of congratulatory speeches were made and the function, which was a most delightful one, broke up about 3 o'clock. The dining room was very prettily decorated with a magnificent picture of the White Sox, a silk pennant with the picture of the team on it and several other interesting trophies being hung on the walls.

Aid. McGoldrick has sold all the machinery of the West End electric light station to the Summerside Power Co. It is the intention of the Summerside people to use this plant for the next five or six months—until the town is built up—and then they intend installing a new and up-to-date system. The plant will be sufficient for the needs of that town, and will be sold at a profit. Aid. McGoldrick realized quite a sum on the sale, although the transaction was doubtless more profitable to the Summerside gentlemen as well.

Mrs. Priddle, the wife of the late Capt. Priddle, is in rather straitened circumstances and will be unable to help herself very much during the coming winter. She has three children, the youngest being but two days old. The members of the different Orange lodges throughout the city will take some action at their meeting on Tuesday night about starting a relief fund for Mrs. Priddle. Lodge No. 14 has already taken action in the matter and has afforded relief to her. Capt. Priddle was at one time a member of the Orange organization.

The regular meeting of the Hospital Commissioners took place yesterday afternoon. Besides the regular routine business which was transacted, Dr. Wm. Warwick was appointed assistant pathologist and bacteriologist of the institution. Dr. Warwick will assist Dr. G. A. B. Addy in his duties in this branch of the hospital work. Dr. Warwick graduated from McGill in 1904. Upon graduation he began the practice of his profession at Westfield, remaining there until last summer. After leaving Westfield, Dr. Warwick left for New York, where he took a special course in the city hospital. Upon his return to this city he opened an office on Charlotte street, where he is at present located.

There was a fair attendance at the York Theatre last evening to witness the Pollards' presentation of the "Belle of New York." The opera was very good in all points, the dancing being particularly well executed. Olive Moore scored a distinct hit as Fifi Foot. Her songs were good and her Parisian accent and coquettish manner was very taking. Fred Hennessey in the polite lunatic was well received. Jack Pollard and Ivor Pollard as the twin Counts Rattato were clever. Teddie McNamara and Marie Pollard as the tough couple were the favorites of the crowd, while Daphne Pollard as the operatic Queen was well received. Jack Pollard and Bronson, Sr., also took his part very well. Tonight the bill is in Town, and a number of the members of the March-aton Club have reserved part of the first two rows, celebrating their capture of the local league in this manner. The Pollards will be in the city all next week, opening on Monday night with the Gelsa. On Friday night they will present a vaudeville of twenty-six numbers which was well received in Halifax.

Real Estate the Basis of all Wealth.

Real estate is the foundation of all wealth. Just as is the farmer the source of this nation's great riches so is the ground which he tills the bulwark on which has been built the great, towering cities and the manufacturing and commercial enterprises the make Canada foremost among the world's nations. Real Estate has been truly called the royal road to riches. More fortunes and more competences have been made in real estate than the combined gold, silver and copper mines of the world have produced. No other investment can be as profitable and so safe. Good Real Estate, rightly selected, is safer than any stock—safer than any bond. In owning a bond you merely possess a mortgage upon some property—when you own Real Estate you possess the property itself. In Saskatoon you will have your money invested in a city with two of the one great transcontinental line of the G. T. P. with its several branches radiating here. The C. P. R. Moose Jaw extension will soon connect Saskatoon directly with Minneapolis and St. Paul. The C. N. R. will soon have a line direct to Calgary, and James Hill will build into Saskatoon from the west, with a considerable distance already graded, will soon put Saskatoon much closer to London and Liverpool than any of the cities through which the wheat of this Northwest is now shipped. Winnipeg, Minneapolis, etc. Far-seeing manufacturers and wholesalers have taken the cue from the great railroads and have already bought in Saskatoon. Others are following them right along. The magnet drawing all these steel rails towards Saskatoon for permanent business investment, is the greatest expanse of unoccupied prairie that will produce more bushels per acre of No. 1 Hard than any other area on the continent and rightly give it the title of "The Bread Basket of the World."

It is because Saskatoon is the natural centre for assembling this product for shipment and for the distribution of the vast amount of every kind of manufactured product which the army of settlers is going to use, that Saskatoon has advanced from a village of a few over a hundred people three years ago to the dignity of the "Baby City of Saskatchewan," an increase of over 600 per cent in population. Those who keep abreast of the times, who see the finger of destiny pointing to their opportunity, to those who see opportunity as it is coming towards them—not after it passes—men whose doling have been cited to you above, the big men who do big things, the men who if you follow will lead you to opportunity, urgent agricultural and manufacturing means opportunity to them. It means the same to you. Saskatoon Centre and Distributing Point of the Canadian Mid-West. The Grand Trunk Pacific steam shovel is working night and day within two miles of the city. Saskatoon is situated in the centre of the hub of the most fertile wheat belt on the globe; the highest average yield and the highest average grade. Saskatoon has the most progressive business men of any city in the West. Saskatoon has seven hotels, affording the best accommodation to the public that can be secured in the West. Saskatoon has six chartered banks, affording unexcelled financial facilities of the growing trade of the city. Saskatoon has a system of schools that have commanded favorable comment throughout the Province. Saskatoon has six churches, representing as many denominations. The Sawyer Massey Co., which is one of the largest agricultural implement manufacturing concerns in Canada, intend locating a large warehouse in Saskatoon, and are considering a site on the Eastern side of Saskatoon, near our property. The Massey-Harris Company also intend to build a large warehouse in Saskatoon. The Munro Wire Works Company of Winnipeg and New Glasgow and the Hill Furniture Factory are also looking for sites. On the 15th of November the building lots we have been selling on the Eastern side of the Saskatoon at $125 will advance to $150 each. Make your reservation now and profit by the advance in price. PIXIE. 5c. OIGAR. 'TIS THE BEST. Made by the NEW BRUNSWICK OIGAR CO., 607 MAIN ST.

The dispute about the street railway tracks running through Queen square, W. E., may be settled by the company giving an undertaking that they will remove this part of the line a year after being notified at any time by the Council to do so. As the complaints are raised chiefly on the ground that it will be objectionable in the future, the matter may be thus amicably arranged. The poles and wires which the company put up will be so placed as to make the line as pleasing in appearance as possible. The company had already begun the work of building the line across the square before the objections against the proposed arrangement were placed before the Council.

MADE IN ST. JOHN.

An industry that is growing in this city is the upholstering department of the Amland Bros., Ltd., Waterloo street, where all kinds of high grade parlor suits, couches, bedlounges, lounges, easy chairs, etc., are being made on their own premises. They are made in the very latest styles and the coverings are of the best materials. Anyone who is going to make their home look attractive can rely on securing good bargains at the above store.

THE WATERFALLS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

An Interesting Paper by Dr. Bailey.

(Published in the Educational Review.)
Who does not enjoy the sight of a waterfall? What boy or girl but will choose a waterfall as the objective point of his afternoon walk if there be one within reasonable distance, and especially if this be only an occasional pleasure, as determined by the melting of the snow of spring? Why, finally, does Niagara attract probably more tourists the year round than any other single locality in America at least. The interest in waterfalls may arise from various causes; partly, and no doubt largely, from their beauty, appealing in ever-varying aspects to our aesthetic sense, as hardly any other natural phenomenon can; partly, it may be, because they are beloved of the fairy tribes as they are by us, and at their feet are often found admirable fishing grounds; partly, perhaps, because, having only an eye to the practical side of things, we become interested in them as possible means for the generation of power; but chiefly, I fancy, because they represent the energy of nature in action, appealing to our imagination much as does any living thing in comparison with what is inert and lifeless.

Quite apart, however, from any or all of the above considerations there are other points connected with waterfalls which, to the student of nature, make them well worthy of careful study. Thus waterfalls are of many different types, and the causes which determine streams with which they are connected or of which they form a part, have well defined histories, never exactly repeated. They are the factors, not only in determining the limit of human navigation, but in affecting the geographical distribution of many forms of life, such as fish, crabs, etc. Drenched by their spray are to be found many beautiful ferns, mosses, liverworts, etc., to be sought in vain among other surroundings. Some of these points may now be illustrated by more particular references. Waterfalls, as regards their origin, are usually due to some obstruction in the continuous flow of a stream, and may therefore be found in any part of the latter, though most common in its upper course, where, owing to the "youth" of this portion of the stream, there has not yet been time enough to wear the obstruction away. In fact waterfalls, as explained in the last chapter, are one of the indications of the youth of a stream. As the latter begins to carve its way it meets with different degrees of resistance. Such rocks as granite, quartz, freestone, slate and limestone, are quite unlike in their hardness and resisting power, and where they are especially from slate to granite, the passage from the one to the other, and especially from limestone to granite, is from very apt to result. Thus at the Grand Falls of the St. John, the "dykes" of black volcanic rock intrude at many points traversing the much lighter and softer calcareous limestone, and have had much to do in determining the features of the river. The gorges and cataracts, and the similar conditions are repeated at the Mouth of the Aroostook, near Aroostook Junction, where the so-called Meductic Falls on the St. John, now artificially reduced to a rapid, the falls of the Miramichi and those known as the Pabineau Falls on the Nepisiquit, and the Rough Waters near Bathurst, are the result of the existence at these points of hard granite. In Nova Scotia a good illustration of a similar relation is to be seen in the falls of Bear River, three miles above the village of that name. But other factors may contribute to the result. Some rocks, like granite, are "massive"; others, like conglomerates, sandstones, slates and limestones, are stratified, i. e. arranged in layers or beds. These latter, however, may have their strata either horizontal, inclined or folded, often in a most complex way. Finally, all rocks, whether stratified or not, are broken up by the occurrence of divisional planes, known as "joints"; and these planes, which, by affording access to the eroding waters, hasten the process of removal as well as determine in a large measure the character of the result.

Perhaps the simplest type of all is that occurring in unaltered horizontal beds. Good illustrations are furnished in the falls of the Nasheweak and in the falls of the Nepisiquit, near Fredericton, both in nearly flat beds of the coal formation. In the Grand Falls of the St. John, on the other hand, and in the tidal falls at the mouth of the same river, the highly tilted, and in the former case the greatly contorted character of the rocks, are conspicuous features, readily noticed by all visitors. The influence in connection with granite rocks, as witness the Pabineau Falls on the Nepisiquit River, and the Pokok Falls in York county. In the former instance the rock is divided by two sets of joints into rectangular blocks, suggesting Cyclopean masonry, and in the case of these one may look vertically downward into the deep channels to see perhaps three or four large salmon resting quietly, but beyond the reach of any of the privileged sportsmen. In the case of the Pokok a similar structure has led to the production of a deep gorge, of which the sides, though arranged in zigzag fashion, are still accurately parallel. This parallelism led our first geologist, Dr. Gesner, to suppose that the two sides of the gorge had been violently rent asunder, but in this, and all similar cases, the continuity of the rock across the bottom of the gorge and the fact that the sides shown no downward convergence, as they would were the chasm due to an earthquake rent, show clearly that the result is due solely to the wearing action of water guided by the natural fissure planes in the rocks.

The effects produced by the varying nature and attitude of the rocks is well shown in the case of the Gordon Falls of the Pollet River in Albert county; just above the falls, named after a former governor of the province, the rocks are slates in a nearly vertical position, and here the stream occupies a deep gorge so acute as to be easily spanned by a highway bridge, while at and below the falls proper the rock is a coarse conglomerate, the wear of which, made more easy by the grinding action of loosened pebbles, at once leads to a considerable widening of the gorge, and the stream occupies a wide, shallow channel. As regards magnitude the Grand Falls of the St. John are by far the most striking of the Pabineau Falls of the St. John, and in the case of the Grand Falls of the St. John, here every stage of their production may be witnessed from slight elevations, the movement of which by the whirling waters is the cause of the formation of great pits or "wells" perhaps twenty feet deep and ten wide, and which may or may not be filled with water, and which are connected with the stream by subterranean channels.

WOMEN NEARLY LYNCHED
THE PARISH PRIEST
They Considered His Appointment an Insult and Tried to Remove Him From Office.

VIENNA, Nov. 2.—The women of Zabor, near Pressburg, Hungary, have nearly lynched Father Hojovik, who has just been appointed priest of the parish.
Father Hojovik is a Magyar, and his appointment was an insult to their nationality. As he refused to resign, the women and children of the village, who he thought would be more likely than the men to escape subsequent punishment, attacked the priest's residence, which had been barricaded.
For two hours they continued the siege, and finally battered their door down and dragged the unfortunate priest out into the street. He had put on his best, thinking they would spare him personal respect, but the women seized him and rolled him in the mud from one end of the village to the other, belaboring him with sticks till he became unconscious.
Father Hojovik was conveyed home, where he recovered. He still refuses to resign, and a detachment of Hussars and a company of infantry are now quartered in the village to protect him.

FOODSTUFFS ARE GROWING
DEARER IN ENGLAND
People are Complaining of Increases in Prices.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The English are complaining of a rise in prices all along the line.
The Birmingham and Midland Counties Grocers' Association have decided to raise the price of American bacon 1d. a pound, and also to make an advance of 1-2 d. in the price of coupon soap.
An advance on cheese was postponed, though a resolution was passed urging members of the association to make increased efforts to put cheese on a remunerative basis. The question of raising the price of sugar was also postponed, as the state of the market was uncertain.
The president of the association, Mr. G. Keen, said butter and cheese had been affected by the continued drought during the summer.
The rise in jams is to be attributed to the failure of this summer's fruit supply. Foreign oranges and lemons are also very scarce.
Regarding the sugar supply, the Cuban insurrection occurring just when cane was ripe has forced America to seek her supply from Continental beet. Heavy storms in Spain and France have resulted in a terrible failure of the ratoon crop.

DENIED AGAIN.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 2.—There is not the slightest foundation for the report appearing in a French paper recently to the effect that the Sultan of Turkey's illness was the result of a bullet wound inflicted on his Majesty by one of the occupants of his car.

The executive of the Woman's Council will meet on Monday at 3 p. m. at the King's Daughters' Guild.

"It was bad enough when one had to inquire whether a passenger was a polygamist or not, and had paid for his ticket in the American currency, but now the officials who are charged with the issuing of the salmon papers, but I had a sort of a shock to be forced to ask a lady the nature of her complexion."
"It is not always pleasant, either," he added, "when you have to find out the color of the eyes. This is naturally done by observation, but it is rather embarrassing to find the velvet orbs of a lady whose complexion on board you have been to some pains to secure receding your concentrated gaze with withering looks or indignation at your seeking rudeness."

EMPEROR WILLIAM AS AN ALARM CLOCK
How He Woke the British Ambassador and Made Him go Around the House in His Nightshirt.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The Marquis de Noailles, formerly French Ambassador at Berlin, tells a very amusing anecdote of William II, the Emperor of Germany. "One morning," he says, "the Emperor walked straight into Sir Frank Lascelles' bedroom without being announced. The Ambassador was fast asleep and his majesty had to shake him to wake him up. The sleeper objected to being roused, and gruffly asked to be left alone. His surprise on seeing the Emperor stooping over him may be imagined.
His Majesty laughed heartily at his embarrassment and sat down on the edge of the bed. After a prolonged talk with Sir Frank Lascelles he took a cordial leave of him. "Good-bye, my trouble to get up; I know my way."
Sir Frank Lascelles hastily threw a blanket over his shoulders and ran to open the door to his Majesty, who had, however, already descended the stairs.
"Come," called the Emperor to his aides-de-camp, pointing to the staircase figure in the doorway, "come and look at the unusual sight of an Ambassador in his shirt!"
The Marquis de Noailles had himself been the ambassador there and related that it was Sir Frank Lascelles and not himself when questioned by a representative of the Echo de Paris.
"That something of the sort actually occurred is generally believed, but the question is 'what.'"

"MISSING LINK" FOUND.
Woman With Feet Like Hands Discovered in Australia.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The missing link has again been found. According to Melbourne correspondent of the Chronicle, Prof. Klatsch has discovered an abnormal woman at Port Darwin with feet like hands. The professor regards his discovery as being of tremendous biological importance.
LIVERPOOL, Nov. 2.—There have been rumors current lately of a big soap combine. Inquiries, however, show that there is no actual fusion or amalgamation involving absorption of any business, but almost all of the big firms of soap manufacturers have concluded a friendly working arrangement, with the object of counteracting the influence of the enhanced prices of raw material. The capital of the companies concerned runs well into $60,000,000 in the wholesale and retail grocery trade there is a feeling of hopefulness that one outcome of the compact will be to put an end to the coupon system, which is now so extensively applied to proprietary soaps.

MARRIAGE CENSORSHIP.
American Association Proposes that Persons Desirous of Connubial Bliss Be Compelled to Pass State Inspection

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 2.—Wedding bells will ring only for those happy young persons who succeed in passing a state inspection test if the ideas of the American Stock Breeders' Association are carried out. The association has turned for the moment from the consideration of cattle, sheep and hogs to the culture of humans, and it will be the ultimate business of the committee of Eugenics, just appointed, to keep an eye out for ill-mated pairs. A marriage censorship may result if the inspection idea proves practicable.

MOROCCO IS TURNING AGAINST FRENCH RULE
ALGIERS, Nov. 2.—The inhabitants of Tafflet, whose discontent with us has already been mentioned, are at present preparing an audacious coup de main against us. So says M. Andre Meriv, on the basis of further information which he has received respecting the movement of the Alger-Morocco conference on the Atlas-Morocco front. He adds that, as in 1903, the French are acquainted with their position and with the fact that the banks of Tafflet are now being mobilized. This mobilization is not confined to Tafflet, but extends from the Atlas Mountains to the Atlantic watershed. In a word, all Morocco south of the Atlas Mountains has embraced the cause of the enemies of France.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 3, 1900.

BRYAN AT IT AGAIN.

William J. Bryan should never have gone into politics. As a temperate lecturer or a reform orator he would have been a brilliant success for the world of letters and books. Bryan put his foot in it for the second time. His first fall from grace, in the eyes of the Democratic party was in a speech in returning from Europe when he announced his changed belief in regard to government ownership of certain public utilities. Now he has come out as a strong supporter of Hearst in the fight for the governorship of New York. This is not merely a state contest. It is one which has aroused interest in the whole of the United States, and the result will undoubtedly have some influence on the general elections. There is a split in the Democratic party, a difference of opinion which has spread in a greater or less degree of importance, to all parts of the country, and will remain in evidence until the presidential election. Many of the best democrats oppose Hearst. These same men will in all likelihood oppose Bryan, who in spite of his sparkling speeches is still in a precarious position as leader of the party. By his support of Hearst, Bryan may draw more closely to himself that section of the Democrat party which now sympathizes with Hearst, but he will on the whole weaken his own influence.

Bryan seems determined to make a mess of things, to choose the losing side, and to create even among those who would otherwise be his strongest supporters a feeling of distrust. Hearst will be defeated in the New York elections, and Bryan, if nominated, which at this distance appears probable, will lose in the presidential contest.

THE PRICE OF POTATOES.

Merchants in Woodstock yesterday advanced the buying price of potatoes to ninety cents per barrel, an increase of ten cents. For weeks potatoes have been selling in St. John at ninety cents per bushel, or at an advance of one hundred and eighty per cent. over what was paid to the farmer. A proportion of this amount was in paying freight rates, a certain part went to the up-country shipper, and the balance to the various handlers in St. John. Potatoes are now selling at from $1.50 to $1.75 per barrel. They can be bought at Indian town for considerably less, but the cost of truckage has been fixed by an agreement among the grocers so that householders are practically compelled to buy in their own district. Thus the vegetable almost doubles in price per barrel on the journey from the up-river wharf to the consumers' table. In retail sales there is a greater advance, and potatoes sell here for as much per bushel as they do per barrel up river. Still it is claimed that grocers and produce dealers are not making a reasonable profit.

J. M. COURTNEY.

On Wednesday last, J. M. Courtney, deputy minister of finance, passed from the list of public servants, and will hereafter devote his time to private pursuits. Mr. Courtney's career is an example of faithfulness, application and devotion to duty. He has spent thirty-seven years in the service of the country, having first been connected with the finance department in 1863. For the past twenty-eight years he has been deputy minister of finance, has seen governments come and go, and has throughout the whole time retained the respect of those with whom his work brought him in contact. Mr. Courtney is succeeded by Mr. T. C. Boville, for many years an employee of the finance department.

MARRIAGE CENSORSHIP.

The American Stock Breeders' Association is endeavoring to extend its sphere of influence so as to include not only horses, cattle, swine, sheep, etc., but human livestock as well, and as in the case of the dumb animals is trying to improve the breed. This association has taken up the old idea of making all persons who propose marrying, pass a government test by which those who are mentally defective, confirmed drunkards or moral degenerates might be prevented from doing so. Dr. Alexander Graham Bell is interested in the proposition.

The North Pole is still to be reached. Commander Peary has made an able effort but has failed, though the knowledge he has gained will, no doubt, be of the greatest value to him in the next attempt which he will surely make.

The regular meeting of the Natural History Society of New Brunswick will be held on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock when Dr. L. W. Bailey will exhibit and explain the reflectoscope, an instrument similar to the microscope but having greater powers of illustration. A strong programme is promised for next week.

SEEING BENEATH THE SURFACE.

"But can you explain why the strikers refrained from doing you any injury?" asked the reporter.

"At the last moment," replied the strike-breaker, as he glanced furtively around, "they discovered that I was wearing a union suit." — November Lippincott's.

A BLUE OUTLOOK.

Pat—These are terrible times, Mike. Mike—Bedad, they are, Pat; it's a wonder if we'll get out of the world alive what with Carrs and Foles and bombs and tinned meats, and one thing and another.

Pat—(despondently)—I'm afraid we won't even if we had as many lives as Pitucard.—London Tribune.

CHOICE.

The weight that is no burden, and the task that brings no sorrow, I'd choose for easy faring in the land of my sojourning.

LUCKY FOR HIM.

The editor of a paper in western Indiana declares it to be a fact that a "cub" reporter on an Evansville office in describing the murder of a man in an adjacent town wired his paper as follows:—

A BARGAIN.

"The busy shopper paused at the fruit vender's stand. 'How much are your pineapples?' she asked.

"'Eight cent a piece, lady.'

"'Well, I declare, that's too good to be missed; I'll take eight of them,' she said.

The dealer placed them in a bag and said, 'Eight cents—eighty-eight. You can take dem along for eighty-five.'

The lady's eyes sparkled at the bargain price, and she departed in a happy frame of mind—happy until her husband told her to brush up on the multiplication table.

THE REAL TRUTH.

"Jinks, who is your favorite author?"

"O, I don't know, Shakespeare, may be, or else Dante."

"My boy, look me in the eye."

"Search your soul and for once tell the unhampered truth."

"All right."

"Who is your favorite author?"

"Old Cap Collier!"

A REMINDER.

Two girls were going down the street when they passed a man wearing a green vest and a beaver hat.

"Oh!" said the one. "Just see what that man is sporting!"

"Yes," said the other, "that reminds me: I've got to buy some quinine."

"How does that remind you?"

"Oh, just the bad taste."

WORKING SIDE BY SIDE.

Grand Trunk Pacific and C. P. R. Construction Gangs Almost Rubbing Elbows—No Ill-Feeling Displayed

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 2.—Dr. Martin Murphy, resident inspector of railway construction for the government, has just returned from a trip of two hundred miles or more over the grade west of Saskatoon. All of that distance, with the exception of a few miles west of Manitow Lake, is being rapidly closed up by several gangs of work in western districts. He found the forces being strengthened by men who had been at the harvesting, and should favorable weather hold out, great progress will be made during the next few weeks. Perhaps never in all the railroad building of the world has there been a situation quite the same as that to be found at the present time at Eagle Hills. At that point for two or a half miles two railway construction outfits are working on the broad embankment which will contain the rails of the G. T. P. and the C. P. R., two transcontinental lines, and the construction outfit on each are rubbing elbows in the work. In spite of these men are working together, Dr. Murphy says there has not been the slightest sign of friction or ill-feeling displayed.

The building owned by the Patton estate on Prince Wm. street has been purchased by the Salvation Army. The building has been occupied by the Army for several years and has been called the Metropolitan. The deal was closed during the visit of Commissioner Coombs to this city. The building will be thoroughly renovated. The new barracks to be erected on the present site of the Charlotte street hall will be called the Citadel and will be built of stone and brick.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE.

"TO THE MANOR BORN."

It takes many generations of careful rearing to produce the ideal man and care, and in in life there is someritary cowardice that is the peasant strain asserting itself. The great grandfathers were beaten and abjugated into a craven. If there had been no coward blood in his veins, if he had been the "Manor Born" he might have been beaten but he would have fought until the end.

If the man's courage fall him in the some stretch that is the cart-horse strain asserting itself, if he had been thoroughly thoughtless he would have until his heart broke.

When men or women "clothed in brief authority" take advantage of their position and snub and make it uncomfortable for their subordinates in office, or home, that is the mental and asserting itself. Their great grandfathers were field overseers on plantations and the cruel overseers were not white. The parvenu is always conscious of his plate and jewels for he bought them. Those to the manor born rarely think of theirs, for they inherited them.

The self-made man deserves credit for the good work he did out of the material he had, but he is often too proud of his job.

The cowboy is picturesque and sometimes beautiful in his war paint, but in evening dress he is a caricature. Some brides look their worst, when they want to look their best—on their bridal day—they are not used to such fine clothes and they are so conscious of them that "The bride eyes not the bridegroom, but her dear bridal dress."

It is as easy to tell the newly educated as the newly made rich. Grammar school boys are always conscious of their new clothes and they are so conscious of them that "The bride eyes not the bridegroom, but her dear bridal dress."

The government, recognizing the danger in the growth of agitation over the matter, has at length ordered the prisoners to be treated as first class misdemeanants.

Some of them are now ill from the rigors of their imprisonment. It is contended that they are really political offenders and are entitled to be treated as first class misdemeanants, which would give them privileges of comparative comfort, even to the employment of a servant.

SYMPATHY FOR SUFFRAGETTES

Government's Harsh Treatment Resented—Life Made Easier for Prisoners.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Although public opinion favors teaching the suffragettes a lesson, the action of the authorities in treating as common criminals the women who created a disturbance in the lobby of the House of Commons on Oct. 23 threatens to raise the prisoners to the levels of martyrs and to secure them a measure of public support which they would never obtain otherwise. Some of them are of gentle birth and bringing up. One is a daughter of the late Richard Cobden. The harsh treatment of all has aroused an outcry and indignation protest.

When they were sentenced to two months' imprisonment they were stripped naked and searched. They were then provided only with plank beds and the coarse prison diet, and were not allowed to correspond with their friends.

THE ATLANTIC CITY ELECTRIC RAILWAY WRECK IN WHICH SIXTY PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES---PHOTOS TAKEN AT THE SCENE OF THE ACCIDENT

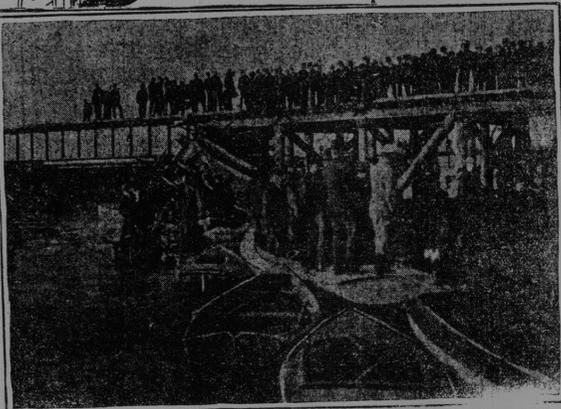

End of Rear Car Hanging on Bridge

How the Train Plunged over the Bridge

WRECKING TRAINS ON BRIDGE AFTER ACCIDENT.

CROWDS WATCHING RESCUERS GRAPPLING FOR BODIES. SCENES AT ATLANTIC CITY BRIDGE, WHERE MANY LIVES WERE LOST.

Above are photographs and a sketch made at the scene of the horror at Atlantic City. A train of three electric cars plunged off the drawbridge crossing the Thoroughfare, and the occupants of the first two cars were drowned as if in steel traps. The rear end of the third car hung on the bridge, which was responsible for saving many lives. After the accident the bodies of the drowned were grappled for with oyster rakes.

BURGLAR KILLED WHEN BLOWING OPEN A SAFE Went to See Why the Charge of Gunpowder Did Not Explode—He Found Out.

NORWAY MAY TAKE HOLD OF SPITZBERGEN The Island Would be a Rich One if Developed, But is Now in a Sadly Neglected State

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—One of the burglars who attempted to break open a safe in the office of a large mantle manufacturer here has met with a singular death. He and his accomplice, finding their tools not sharp enough or tempered enough, determined to burst open the safe with some explosive. They stuffed the lock full with the explosive, presumably gunpowder, and attaching an ignited fuse, waited for the result. As the fuse burned slowly one of the robbers approached the safe to hasten matters. At that moment the gunpowder exploded, and the door of the safe flew open, smashing in the skull of the burglar. His accomplice escaped, and as the explosion made hardly any noise nothing was known of the affair till next morning.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 2.—A portion of the Norwegian Press is at present agitating for the annexation by Norway of Spitzbergen. The island is an absolutely lawless state, and crime is very frequent. There are neither laws nor officials to administer them. A large portion of the population which consists chiefly of miners, whalers and fishermen, is said to be leaving the island owing to its lawless condition. The possession of Spitzbergen is likely to be an immense economical importance, as it contains vast deposits of valuable minerals. It is announced from Vardoe that Russia is preparing a fleet of five ships in the White Sea, which is intended next year to visit Spitzbergen and the Northern European coasts.

EMPEROR WILLIAM CRITICIZED; HE IS THE DUPE OF FLATTERERS

Is Called a Jack of All Trades, Estranged from the Nation by His Habit of Talking Too Much.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Count Reventlow, the well known authority on naval matters, who is also a conspicuous Imperialist politician, has written a remarkable book calling attention to some of the unfavorable features of public life in Germany. The book, which will shortly be published at Munich, is entitled "Kaiser Wilhelm II. und die Byzantiner." Briefly, Count Reventlow's Byzantinism are the sycophants whose existence and power are the canker of German politics. Although the writer disapproves of the Kaiser's policy, he, as a Loyalist, abstains from any direct offensive criticisms of his Majesty, but he allows it to be inferred that the evils of which he complains are owing to Wilhelm's susceptibility to flattery, by which his political judgment is badly influenced by servile satellites around the throne. This state of affairs, he says, has produced estrangement between the Kaiser and the nation, and the latter's interests are seriously endangered. The author condemns the Kaiser for indulging in extremely versatile interests instead of devoting his whole time to State business, as his grandfather did. The result is that, despite his Majesty's good intentions, he cannot possibly discharge his monarchical duties efficiently. His undoubted oratorical gifts have produced the most injurious effects. He has been encouraged by the exaggerated praise of mendacious flatterers to say many things that were better unspoken. The Kaiser is subject to many changes of mood, and his speeches reflect those changes. So it is a great mistake to attach excessive importance to the Imperial utterances. A speech delivered by the Emperor reflects most his mood of the moment, and a comparison of his speeches de-

BUILDING NEW BARRACKS FOR BRITISH TROOPS IN EGYPT

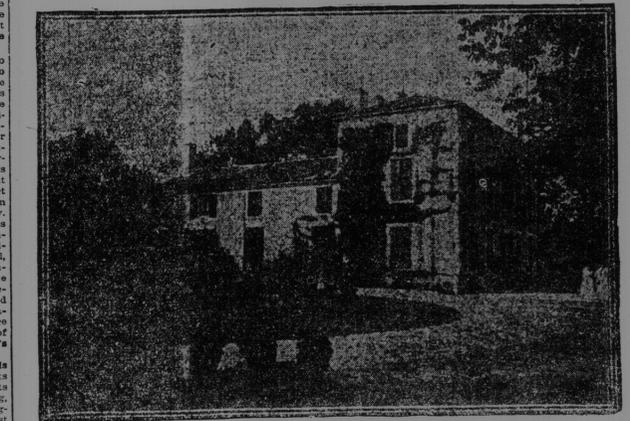

CAIRO, Nov. 2.—It is learned on good authority that barracks are to be planned at Abassiyeh, a suburb of Cairo, for the accommodation of our British battalions. As soon as the building is completed the headquarters of the army of occupation will be transferred there. This appears to lend color to the opinion that the British troops in Egypt are to be gradually increased on account of threatened troubles with the natives.

EMIGRATION FROM IRELAND IS AGAIN ON THE INCREASE

Over Thirty Thousand Have Come to America This Year—Miss Emma Parnell Home After Fifteen Years Absence.

DUBLIN, Nov. 2.—After almost fifteen years of exile, Miss Anna Parnell, sister of Charles Stewart Parnell, is at present in Ireland, and is staying with friends in one of the Dublin suburbs. Miss Anna Parnell is intellectually closer to her brother Charles than any member of her family. Her sister, Miss Fanny Parnell, was a most enthusiastic Nationalist, and no one can ever forget her wonderful poem about "The Destiny of Ireland," when she anticipated only too soon, her own early death, and asked: Shall mine eyes behold thy glory, Oh, my country? Miss Anna Parnell had not so continuously identified herself with the National movement as her younger sister; but that she felt the same indignation of Swift about the misgovernment of Ireland by England was fairly well known when, as a young girl, she took hold of the bridle of Lord Spencer's horse in Westmoreland street, and asked him why he allowed poor peasants in the West to be thrown on the roadside. The incident at the time created a tremendous sensation. It was almost as if a bomb had exploded in the vaults of Dublin Castle, or if a new "Titan Oakes" discovery had been discovered. Since that dramatic incident Miss Parnell has not taken any kind of prominent part in connection with Irish politics, but a letter which she wrote a few years ago in connection with the visit of Queen Victoria showed that she still held the opinions of the early eighties, when she was one of the most energetic members of the Ladies' Land League. Miss Parnell visited Glasnevin three months after the death of her brother, in order to see his grave, and since then she has not been in this country. "There is a tradition among the survivors of the literary staff of the 'Irish People' Newspaper," says Mr. T. P. O'Connor, in his Parnell Movement, "of a young lady, heavily veiled, coming with a contribution to the office of the journal during its troubled career. This was Miss Fanny Parnell." There was not a member of the family, from the mother to the youngest daughter, who had not this intense love of her country. The emigration returns for the nine months ended with September just out shows a big increase. During the first three months of the year there was a substantial decline, but with April there began a rush of emigrants which has swollen the tide to a figure much beyond previous years. The number of emigrants to date is no less than 39,031, as compared with 28,215 last year. The increase, strange to say, is less in Connaught than in the other provinces. Ulster has contributed nearly 1,700 of the increase; 8,336 of the emigrants had their passage paid for in America. The facts discountenance the belief that the measures so far taken to give Irishmen a fair chance in their own country are effective. If the increase is maintained till the end of the year thirty-five thousand Irishmen will have gone during the current year.

THE COUNTRY HOME OF PRESIDENT FALLIERES.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Photo shows M. Le President's Country Home, M. Fallieres' Loupville property. At Loupville, near the village of Villeneuve, the President of the French Republic spends his holidays among his family and friends. There, too, are his vineyards, and there is nothing which gives him greater pleasure than to discard the pomp and circumstance of his position for the more homelike life of the winegrower. This year's yield from the President's vines produces some six hundred barrels of wine.

"Period" Ideas Blend in the New Gowns

WITH the advent of the fall bride have come some fascinating gowns, with Empire and Directoire ideas blended into the prettiest something as far removed from the extreme of either as the woman of either period is from the woman of today.

feeling that her "something old" is almost sacredly so. Brussels lace, for that matter, is being relegated to matrons and older women. One exquisite gown of crepe de chine had quantities of it disposed about the heavy hand-embroidery, which was done in flat, Japanese fashion upon yoke and sleeves and skirt.

More decollete gowns are worn by bridesmaids than we've seen for many a season. This is the day of the decollete gown, for that matter, for its simplest version is donned for any sort of an informal affair—to the very things to which a year ago only high-necked dresses were worn. White holds first place, of course, and pink—a sort of cross between the palest pink and an equally pale orange—is very good. The old "babyish" combination of pink and blue has come back into favor, and in the light chiffony stuffs, which make nine out of ten gowns, lose the sharp contrast, fading into each other in a way that suggests sunset clouds paling into white.

Various Notes of the Fashions

This is to be a button year, if one can judge from the quantities of them to be seen in the stores and on the most up to date of the new gowns. This does not mean, however, that we are to fasten our waists in the good old-fashioned style of our grandmothers, as in nine cases out of ten the buttons are for ornament solely. They are put on strappings, revers and at the waist.

Well do these new buttons fulfill this mission. Really, they are more like handsome bits of jewelry than anything else, and often cost nearly as much. It is no uncommon thing to find a dozen of them unscarable for less than a $20 bill; but, then, one or two of them are all that is necessary to put just the needed finish to a dress or wrap, or even fur coat; so the price is not so staggering as it sounds.

Velvet and Broadcloth for Going-Away Suit

VELVET and broadcloth, broadcloth and velvet—it's a toss-up which you get, if it's for a "going-away" suit or one equally important. Whichever it is, it is moderately certain to be finished off with some of the interesting buttons which are so marked a feature of this year's suits.

Little touches of gold and silver—another marked feature of new styles—are on many of them. But, like the prettiest of the party dresses Paris has sent over, both gold and silver are used with the lightest possible touch; the suggestion of metal must be there, but the hard, bright look must be kept away from. Often the only touch of metal is in the rims of buttons. This quieter use of gold and silver is in keeping with the tendency toward more sombre effects.

Short coats and long ones. Etons and pony jackets—it's a case of choosing the style that best suits your figure, for all of them are good, and no one style dominates. On some of them, the cloth is cut and seemed to describe a bolero, or the high belt of the Empire, the coat conforming to fitted lines, and only

Hints for Well-Dressed Women

SPANGLED jet ornaments in graceful festoon designs now come with alternate right and left figures, greatly simplifying the work of the dressmaker.

Velvet forget-me-nots in delicate tints and wavy silk ribbon foliage form a lovely decoration on a narrow white silk braid, with a wavy edge.

Less gaudy white net-shaped trimmings have white embroidered flowers with occasional gold and silver bugles, paillettes, or white flowers outlined in black and gray silk with silver bugle centres.

A unique buckle, suitable for a dressy afternoon gown, was a large oval of graceful gold filigree border surrounding and half concealing an oval stone like a huge opal.

For edging a decollete gown, if you wish to be very luxurious you might choose some of the fancy pendant trimmings with a shaped edge of braid, gold and embroidery in pastel tints finished with a fringe of white silk with overhanger in colors to match the body of the trim-

Opalescent and gold spangles with raised gold figures and tiny gold beads and colored embroidery outlined in gilt beads are much used on net. These come in the very narrow edgings.

Colored silk embroideries on white silk muslin in intense greens, blues and purples, with conventionalized scrolls brightened by touches of gold and silver, are most effective.

GALLANT LITTLE JAPS.

Drift Thirty Miles Down Fraser on an Upraised Boat.

After having drifted all night on the bottom of an upraised fishing boat, during which time, perished with cold, which took right hold of their bones and paralyzed them, two Japanese fishermen were picked up yesterday morning just as the day broke, by a couple of the employees of the Fraser River mills, says the New Westminster News.

The plucky little brown men had to be helped into the boat by their rescuers, but as soon as they had secured their upraised skiff, took hold of the oars and helped their rescuers to row back against the strong current to the landing, where they thanked them, and with their assistance righted the boat and continued their journey to this city.

The story the Japs told was that they were fishing in the vicinity of the Mission bridge about dusk, when suddenly as they put up their sail, a squall caught them broadside and upset their boat. They were both pretty good swimmers, and in spite of the swiftness of the current, they succeeded in assisting each other on to the bottom of the upraised boat. By this time they had drifted for a considerable distance, and although they yelled so vigorously as they could for help, the wind howled so loudly through the trees and the waves splashed so noisily along the banks, that the cries were not heard by their friends on shore, and the swift current carried them away into the night. The darkness settled down upon them, and sometimes the boat drifted so close to the bank that they could almost reach it. But their hands and feet were so numb that they dare not release their hold upon the keel of the boat, to which they clung for dear life with a persistence worthy of the race which made the Russian bear turn tail and run. The surprising part of the story is that after fourteen hours' exposure to the bitter cold the two Japanese should be able to help themselves and their rescuers. They vanished on leaving Millside and did not even leave their cards, so that the names of the little brown heroes cannot be handed down to posterity.

BEST LEGAL COUNSEL FOR NEWFOUNDLAND

Engaged to Prepare the Test Cases Against Colonial Fishermen on American Vessels.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 2.—In order to avoid the possibility of any legal defect or technicality vitiating the proposed test which the Newfoundland government intends to bring against colonial fishermen employed on board of American herring vessels to determine whether the modus vivendi arranged between the United States and Great Britain is valid or otherwise the government will send competent legal counsel to the west coast to arrange for these prosecutions, to draft the necessary papers and to oversee the enforcement of the government to carry these cases to the privy council if necessary arises.

STR. TURRET BELL IS IN A DANGEROUS POSITION

Crew Cannot be Landed Owing to Heavy Seas—A Wrecking Plant Being Brought From Halifax.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 2.—The storm still rages at Cable Head and the heavy seas prevent the landing of the crew of the steamer Turret Bell, or the boarding of the vessel from the shore. The captain sent ashore a message in a bottle asking that the Inverness Coal Co. and her owners, McKenzies & Mann, be advised of the occurrence and that assistance be immediately sent. He did not report any casualty among the crew. Lloyd's agent, F. W. Hyndman, is now on the scene. He has been instructed by the underwriters to look after the vessel. A powerful tug and other wrecking apparatus has been ordered from Halifax, where the tug is expected to arrive tomorrow. There is little change in her position today. She is still lying on a rocky ledge, about one hundred yards from shore, where she was driven when enroute from Montreal to Port Hastings, C. B.

MCGARRY FAILED TO APPEAR FOR THE FIGHT

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—The fifteen-round fight scheduled for last night between Andy McGarry, of New York, and "Doc" Russell, of Philadelphia, did not take place. McGarry forfeited his appearance money because of injuries to his hand in his recent fight with Despie. Though entirely unprepared Kid Sullivan, of Washington, agreed to go on with Russell for twelve rounds. He made a splendid fight but Russell's superior condition told and in the tenth round, about one hundred yards from shore, where she was driven when enroute from Montreal to Port Hastings, C. B.

Troops All Withdrawn from Napoleon's Island Prison.

JAMESTOWN, Island of St. Helena, Nov. 2.—For the first time in its history since it became a British possession St. Helena today is without a garrison. All the troops have been withdrawn as a measure of economy. The guns and ammunitions have been removed, and the island is left defenceless. The outlook for the islanders is dark, as they practically lived off the garrison, and will now have no market for their produce.

A pathetic sight was witnessed yesterday as the chain gang wended their way from the day's work to the jail. It was while the gang, handcuffed together and guarded by two officers, were marching up Sydney street that they were joined by two little girls who caught hold of one of the prisoners, Arthur Hoyt, and walked with him to the jail. At the jail door there was a brief halt while Hoyt kissed the two girls who proved to be his daughters and then then passed within the stone walls with the other prisoners. Hoyt is serving a six months' sentence for being an inmate in a house of ill fame on Sheffield street. Despite all pleadings and warnings the man had deserted his wife and family for a colored woman's company and both are now serving a long sentence. It is said that some friends of Hoyt are endeavoring to secure his release.

HINDUS ON THE COAST PIANOS!

Unwelcome Immigrants are Sikhs and Former Soldiers. In Some Cases They Have Failed in the Work Given Them, but in Others the Employers Think They Will Do All Right.

VICTORIA, Nov. 2.—Eastern Canada must now be convinced that British Columbia will always have a labor problem on her hands no matter what restrictive measures are adopted. For a quarter of a century it was the Chinese, and now that the Mongolian has been practically excluded through the legislation of the Laurier government, the Hindu has taken his place as the bane not of the British Columbia labor guild. These newcomers are now familiar figures on the streets of the coast cities. They are strapping men of six feet or more, with the straggling black hair of the Asiatic, and when in mufti wearing thin clothes of calico or similar material and turbans. They are all ex-soldiers and occasionally one may be met who persists in wearing his service tunic and medals. The advantage of the Hindu is that he comes to this province at a time when every pair of rough work boots can be set at rough work helps to relieve a perplexing situation. He is not idle, or lazy; some say he is dirty, and it is also alleged that he is diseased. He does not readily adapt himself to local climate and conditions. A gang of them was taken to Carlou and used to sit around the camp fire in the evenings shivering in their thin native rags. In order to save the clothes issued to them by the company in which they were employed, they constitute a bridge ideal workmen, they constitute a bridge over a perplexing condition of affairs. One mill manager says that if half the energy expended in fighting the Hindu were employed in helping to solve the scarcity of labor problem it would be better for all concerned. All who have come are British soldiers, and according to an educated countryman of theirs who has been studying their condition here, they are in India farmers in a small way, earning from $8 to $12 a month. This emigrant states that there is no organization bringing them to this country, but that they are attracted here by the stories of high wages. Although a great deal of opposition to the Hindu has developed in British Columbia, and some employers have declared him to be a failure as a workman, this is by no means the universal opinion. Some employers declare them to be fairly satisfactory and entreat them to be fairly satisfied and that they will be a desirable class as unskilled workmen. At the cement works of the Portland Cement Company at Tod Creek, near Victoria, a large number of unskilled Chinese are employed, and the bulk of these are Chinese, not because they are cheaper for the management think they are not as profitable as white men, but because no considerable number of the latter can be obtained. Even Chinese are now hard to be obtained and it was in order to fill his contracts that the company made a trial of the Sikhs. About thirty of these men are now employed at the works and Secretary Ross states that on the whole they have been satisfactory. The company put them on a job for which the Chinese had an aversion—the sacking of the cement, and piling the sacks on the wharf ready for shipment. It is a dusty job, and as such sack weights between eighty and ninety pounds it is no light task to pile them head-high. At first the Hindu made

SMUGGLING OPIUM TO CHINESE IN THE RAND

LISBON, Nov. 3.—The Portuguese Government has been informed that the demand for opium among the Chinese coolies on the Rand has led to extensive smuggling of opium between Lourenco Marques and Johannesburg. The Portuguese authorities have already confiscated a considerable quantity. An Englishman named Cummings has been arrested at Johannesburg and heavily fined for engaging in the trade. He was betrayed by a Chinese smuggler at Lourenco Marques, who accused him of breaking faith.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Whalebone at £3,000 per ton is the prospective result of the failure of the Davis Strait and Greenland whale fisheries. Dundee whalers have just returned almost empty. ### SET UPON BY JAPANESE Russian Officer Assassinated and His Command Wiped Out.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—The foreign office has now received full reports of the killing of Lieut. Sotnikoff, a Russian officer, and twelve Kamchatkans by Japanese fish poachers Lieut. Sotnikoff and his party arrived at the depot of the Kamchatka Trading Company, a mile from the mouth of the river Vorovskaisk, and found five Japanese fishing schooners there, their crews being encamped across the river, with stores of flour and rice and about 10,000 salted fish. Sotnikoff confiscated two nets and the flour and rice and demanded the payment of a fine of 1,000 rubles. The leader of the Japanese, a physician of the name of Sakhi, who formerly was a prisoner of war at Vladivostok, approached Sotnikoff and asked him whether he intended to release the schooners. Sotnikoff replied that probably they would be detained. Thereupon Sakhi fatally stabbed Sotnikoff and the Japanese rushed upon the twelve Kamchatkans and killed them all with knives and clubs. The report is forwarded by the civil chief of the Vorovskaisk district and is published only now, though the tragedy occurred in August last.

DULL TIMES ON THE RAND.

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 3.—Depression on the Rand is still bad, and it is reported from the East Rand that several mines have closed down, including the Cloverfield, the Driefontein Deep, and the Beemol. The uncertainty as to the labor supply is said to be the cause. Responsible men fear that the Rand is faced by another dismal year, even worse than the present. A number of large shops are now closing, and retrenchment is everywhere in evidence.

THE UTE INDIANS STILL

HOLD THEIR POSITION

No Fighting Yet, but the Red Men Refuse to Go Back to the Reservation.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Nov. 2.—A correspondent in the field denies positively that there has been a clash between the Cheyennes and the soldiers. Fort Keogh troops are now patrolling the Tongue river valley, between Birney and Ashland, and have not seen any Cheyennes. Reports of the burning of a ranch building at the "O. W." ranch received here, via Hiram, are not credited, although it is known that the Indians were in that vicinity. The Ute chief, Appar, is reported disposed by his tribe because he favored a powwow with the troops.

SPRINGHILL MINE ON FIRE.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 2.—There is no doubt now as to the nature of the trouble in No. 3 mine at the Springhill collieries. The location of the disturbance was discovered yesterday and the unmistakable presence of smoke told of the fire which must be there, although up to now unseen. Stoppings were at once put in and the inspector of mines again sent for. Dr. Phipps and General Manager Cowans visited the mine this afternoon, but the result of their inspection is yet not made known.

She insists that he is still her husband, despite the fact that Brown has married the "most beautiful woman in Iowa," and has procured a divorce from wife No. 1 without her knowing anything about it. The Mrs. Brown shown above is wife No. 2. The marriage was performed in an original way, the bride and groom being seated on horseback.

A BULL RELEASED BY SPANISH CROWD

MADRID, Nov. 3.—An unusual occurrence is reported from Valladolid, a bull being released at a bullfight. The bull, which was a particularly fine animal and called Aleano, fed out of the hand of his keeper and followed him about like a dog. These facts became known to the public, who applauded Aleano when he was led into the arena. The keeper cried bitterly that his friend would be killed, and his sobbing distracted the matador during the fight, that the torador became nervous, and instead of killing the bull with a blow of his knife, only wounded him in the shoulder. The audience hissed the clumsy fighter, and then demanded that the bull's life be spared. So great was the uproar that the president of the bullfight was obliged to declare that Aleano should not be killed.

A WOMAN WHO HAS SEEN FIVE SOVEREIGNS

Mrs. Lamb, of London, is 104 Years Old, Being Born in the Reign of George 3rd.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—There is at present living in the St. Pancras Union Infirmary in Gray's Inn-road a venerable lady, Mrs. Sarah Lamb, who has just celebrated her 104th birthday, and is believed to be the oldest subject of the King living in the metropolis. She was born at Ramsgate, and when a little girl was brought to London, where she has resided ever since. Her most cherished recollections are that she has seen five sovereigns who have reigned in this country. As a child she remembers being told by her parents that she was the oldest subject of the Queen Victoria, each of which occasions she recalls clearly. When the present King came to the throne," she said, "I was in the St. Pancras Workhouse, and not free to go where I liked, but I felt that I must see him as I had seen all the others, and so I got them to take me to Buckingham Palace in a cab, and I saw the King as he came out."

ASTONISHED THE DOCTOR

MRS. EATON RECOVERING, ALTHOUGH HER PHYSICIAN SAID SHE MIGHT DROP DEAD AT ANY TIME.

"My trouble began four years ago with a weak heart. I was often afraid to draw my breath, it pained me so. I was bothered with nervousness, shortness of breath, dizziness, loss of appetite, and other ailments, and I could not sleep. Sometimes a great weakness would seize me and I would have to lie down to keep from falling. My hands and feet would seem to go to sleep and a sort of numbness would come all over me, and perhaps immediately after the blood would rush to my head and a series of hot flashes would envelop me. I took all kinds of medicines, but kept gradually growing worse until about eight weeks ago, when I began using Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill. From the start I improved until now my appetite has returned, I can sleep well, and have no nervousness, dizziness, palpitation, faintness or any of my other troubles. They have all entirely disappeared. I feel much stronger, look better, and altogether Anti-Pill has made a new woman of me. "I am entirely cured and cannot say too much for this wonderful remedy. I would heartily recommend Anti-Pill to anyone suffering as I did."

A BULL RELEASED BY SPANISH CROWD

MADRID, Nov. 3.—An unusual occurrence is reported from Valladolid, a bull being released at a bullfight. The bull, which was a particularly fine animal and called Aleano, fed out of the hand of his keeper and followed him about like a dog. These facts became known to the public, who applauded Aleano when he was led into the arena. The keeper cried bitterly that his friend would be killed, and his sobbing distracted the matador during the fight, that the torador became nervous, and instead of killing the bull with a blow of his knife, only wounded him in the shoulder. The audience hissed the clumsy fighter, and then demanded that the bull's life be spared. So great was the uproar that the president of the bullfight was obliged to declare that Aleano should not be killed.

FREIGHT RATE WAR GOES ON IN AUSTRALASIA

Australia-New Zealand Trade Affected—Cuts Are Made Only One Way.

SYDNEY, Nov. 3.—Not only in the shipping business between the New Zealand ports and the United Kingdom, but also all over Australasia, there is at present raging a fierce war of rates among the several important shipping companies doing business between Australasia (particularly New Zealand) and this country. The cutting of rates is not confined to freight, but includes also passenger fares. An interesting point in this war of rates is that it cuts only one way—namely, from New Zealand to the United Kingdom, the outward freight and passenger rates being quite unaffected. Since the beginning of the present year, when the New Zealand government invited the Federal-Houlder-Shire combination of steamship lines to enter the New Zealand carrying trade, the trouble has been in active operation, and at the present moment, according to the managers of the several companies principally involved, there is not the least sign of any cessation of the war, or any intimation of a desire to effect a compromise. The fact that the Federal-Houlder-Shire combination are now carrying the bulk of the New Zealand government's freight from this country to New Zealand in no way lessens the bitterness of the fight now in progress.

BRITISH PRESS SEES TROUBLE

Newfoundland Situation is Very Critical.

Difficult to See How Foreign Office can Find Solution—Christian Brothers' Case

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The privy council today dismissed without costs the appeal of the Brothers of Christian Schools v. the Minister of Education of Ontario. The appeal on which the privy council has just given its decision originated in the Ottawa separate schools, where the question of the qualifications of Christian Brothers for teaching in the schools was raised. Referring to the resolve of the Newfoundland government to test the validity of the modus vivendi, the Daily Graphic says it has placed the imperial government in an awkward predicament. The incident is a significant illustration of the levity and carelessness with which the modus vivendi was negotiated. It is difficult to see what the home government can do by way of fulfilling its pledges to the United States if the Newfoundlanders stand firm. The Evening Globe says it is no longer possible for the colonial office to attempt to minimize the unpleasantness of the situation. It has hitherto been the custom to surmise any expression of indignation emanating from our colonies in consequence of the action of the home government, but now the case has arisen where a colony claims the right to be heard, and what is more plainly intends that it shall be heard. The Post says complication has entered into the controversy already difficult to guide which, unless skillfully handled, may be productive of unpleasant results. In fact it calls for no straining of imagination to conceive that in certain circumstances the action just taken by the Newfoundland government may have grave consequences. The Post concludes by saying it is not easy to see how the foreign office is to find a solution should Bond and his ministry obstinately determine to pursue their present tactics.

PARLIAMENT OPENS NOV. 22.

Debate on Address Expected to be Short.

Finance Minister Will Lay Down Budget Immediately Afterwards—New I. C. R. Office

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—Parliament has been summoned to meet on November 22 as intimated some time ago by your correspondent. It would be expected that the debate on the speech from the throne is concluded and the address adopted the finance minister will bring down the budget and present the new tariff on which he and his associates have spent several months. The debate on the address should not occupy more than a week and if that is the case there will be three clear weeks before the holidays in which to discuss the new tariff. It is not improbable this will be sufficient time for the completion of the budget and tariff debate. If the expectations of the opposition immediately after the holidays and can continue on this work and on legislation until prorogation which is hoped for in April and which will probably be reached in June. The auditor general will have a portion of his report in the hands of the members on the opening of the session and all of it will be ready before Christmas. Good progress is being made with the other departmental reports, so there will be no occasion for delay in the work. The government wants the business of parliament put through with reasonable dispatch for many reasons, but chiefly in order that the prime minister and the leading men of the government may be able to leave for England to attend the colonial congress, which will be held in London in May. S. Leonard Shannon, accountant of the department of railways and canals, has been appointed controller and treasurer of the government railways and will leave Ottawa on Monday to take his new position in Montreal. The office is a new one, and has been created by the minister of railways as a part of the new system of accounting which is being adopted for the government railways after an exhaustive examination into the old system. The office of treasurer and accountant of the intercolonial has been abolished. W. C. Little is promoted to be accountant of government railways in succession to Mr. Shannon. Graham A. Bell becomes assistant accountant. Thomas C. Boullie is gazetted deputy finance minister. He succeeds E. M. Courtney who has been granted superannuation.

PEARY MISSED POLE, BUT GOT FARTHEST NORTH

American Explorer Heard From—Missed Pole by About 200 Miles.

But He Broke All Records by Reaching Latitude 87 Degrees 6 Minutes—Party Is Returning Home After Great Hardships—Once Nearly Starved.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Commander Robert E. Peary, of the U. S. Navy, has given to his native country the record of having penetrated "farthest north"—87 degrees and 6 minutes. News of the fact came tonight. The intrepid Arctic explorer failed to reach the North Pole, as he had confidently hoped to do, with his specially constructed vessel, the Roosevelt, but he penetrated nearer to the pole than the Duke of Abruzzi's expedition, which had held the Arctic record—86 degrees, 34 minutes. What Commander Peary did and his experiences during the past year in the frozen north are rather briefly, but certainly vividly summarized in a communication received tonight by Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic Club. This communication follows: "Hopedale, Labrador, via Twillingate, Newfoundland, Nov. 2. "Roosevelt wintered north coast Greenland, somewhat north of Alert winter quarters. Went north with sledges February via Hecla and Columbia. Delayed by open winter before reaching Hecla and beyond six days. Gale disrupted ice, destroyed caches, cut off communication with supporting bodies and drifted due north latitude, over ice, drifting steadily eastward. Returning after six days. Drifted eastward delayed by open water, reached north coast Greenland in straitened circumstances. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship. Two supporting parties driven on north coast of Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt, sledged west, completing north coast Greenland and reached other land, near 100th meridian. Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storms and headwinds. Roosevelt magnificent ice lighter and sea boat. No deaths or illness in expedition. (Signed) PEARY."

Commander Peary's Polar steambship, the Roosevelt, left New York on her long journey in search of the North Pole July 16, 1905. The Roosevelt was built in Maine and came to New York, where she was refitted before starting. The vessel, for which funds were furnished by the Peary Arctic Club of New York, was designed by Naval Architect William E. Willard particularly for Arctic exploration. She cost $100,000. The vessel had a crew of 29 men, under Captain Bartlett. Commander Peary did not go with the ship from New York, but joined her later at Sydney, C. B., where she took on coal and additional supplies. The ship sailed on July 28, the sea was next reported at Dohini Run, Labrador, July 29, from which point she crossed to Greenland. The vessel was next heard from at Etah, North Greenland. She passed Cape York August 7 and reached Etah August 12. The expedition's auxiliary steamer Erik in the meantime had visited various settlements on Greenland and had secured natives and dogs for the explorer and turned them over to Commander Peary on August 20. At Etah the Roosevelt overhauled her machinery, took on board her last supply of coal from the Erik and thence proceeded north with Equimauk to the number of 23 on board and with about 200 dogs. When nothing had been heard from the ship last July, friends of the explorer who had expected a message of some kind in May or June, began to worry at the long delay. This anxiety, however, was not shared by the members of the Peary Arctic Club who then said they did not expect to hear from Peary until October or November. It was expected that his only way to get news down from the north was by whaling ships. Peary planned to make his headquarters 200 miles north of Cape Sabine. From that point he intended to make his actual journey to the pole, a distance of 600 miles, across the desert of ice and snow. This final dash, he expected to make in a month or six weeks from the time he left headquarters. Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of the commander, has been spending the past summer in Maine.

ANOTHER FREAK PIANIST

Turns up in Spain

MADRID, Nov. 3.—Latest among the "infant phenomena" is the wonder-child—little nine-year-old Pepto Arriola. This young Spanish pianist is so tiny that a special piano has been built for his baby fingers, and the keys of the instrument are considerably narrower than those of a full-sized piano. But although so small in this respect, the tone is full and brilliant, and little Pepto is certainly one of the most robust of all prodigies. He is attracting the greatest attention throughout Europe. His appearance is a typical dark-skinned, black-haired, little Spaniard. Besides being a pianist Pepto is also a composer; he has written a march which has been accepted by the King of Spain.

POLICE ASSAULT TORONED UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—"Any person who is able to give information regarding the trespassing of police from No. 2 division in charging on the university grounds last night is requested to do so at once. One man was brutally assaulted by a policeman, and investigation will be held."

The above notice is posted on all boards at the university, and an inquiry was commenced this morning by the police to ascertain the names of the persons who were examined and gave their evidence very clearly to the effect that the police interfered without cause or provocation, and inflicted serious injuries on several of the party. Asked as to what action the authorities were likely to take, the president said: "I do not quite know what we shall do. There is no doubt that the police ought to have interfered and we wanted them to, but they refused to do anything more than take upon themselves to behave in this way."

McGILL AND COCKBURN IN POLICE COURT

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Charles McGill, former general manager of the Ontario Bank, appeared in the police court this morning, but when the arraignment, the case being remanded till Tuesday, November 6, Bondman A. J. Gough, Peter Larkin, Thomas McGilre and W. T. Fairweather were all present, and bail was renewed as formerly. McGill's own security for $2,000 also being taken. The name of George R. Cockburn was also called, but he was not present. The hearing of the case was remanded till the same date. E. F. B. Johnston, acting for McGill, asked to see certain accounts of the Ontario Bank, and permission was granted.

$3,000 BAIL FOR O'NEARA

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—J. W. Curry, K. C., waited on Justice MacMahon this morning and secured from him a bail order on behalf of John O'Neara, the London witness who is held on the charge of perjury. He was released on bail of $3,000.

Diamond Dyes

Are Used by All Wise and Economical Home Women. Failures in home dyeing are caused by the use of imitation and adulterated package dyes, which are ruinous to goods. Ladies who value their garments and materials should never risk imitation and worthless package dyes. The colors of such dyes are always muddy, blotchy and lifeless. Storekeepers sell such trashy dyes simply because of the larger profits they bring, and care little for the trouble and vexation their common dye cause the women who use them. DIAMOND DYES are the only successful, pure, fast and brilliant dyes sold for the selling this morning of hundreds of coal laden vessels, bound for foreign ports. Fifty steamers left the Bristol Channel alone.

Russell Sells La Presse

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—At Montreal the documents were signed today by which David Russell and his associates return control of La Presse to Hon. J. R. Berthiaume from whom they purchased the paper just prior to the general elections of 1904. The price given for the property was not given out but it is stated to have been in the neighborhood of a million dollars, or a trifle less than was paid for it. It is stated that the political policy of the paper in the future will be more independent.

JAPANESE WANT ADMISSION TO SCHOOLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The government at Washington has taken steps to aid the Japanese of San Francisco in their fight to procure admission to the public schools. Attorney General Moody has instructed T. S. District Attorney Robert T. Devlin, it was learned today, to lend his aid to Attorney M. H. North, James M. Miska, representing the Japanese community, in the injunction proceedings that have been brought in the circuit court to compel the board of education to allow Japanese children to enter any public school of San Francisco to which white children are admitted.

Attorney Miska said that he has gone before the circuit court and requested that proceedings instituted by the investigation now making by the secretary of commerce and labor be suspended pending the result of the investigation now making by the secretary of commerce and labor.

FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

BELLELEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 2.—The jury in the Klingbeil murder trial brought in a verdict about 3 o'clock this afternoon, finding the prisoner guilty of manslaughter. Judge Britton reserved sentence. The verdict looked on as a just one here. The old man beat his wife to death with his fists in a jealous rage.

WELL, WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

THE DEATH took place at 63 Almon street, Toronto, on the morning of the 29th of October, 1906, of Mrs. Louise Dean, aged 53 years, wife of John Dean. The cause of death was poisoning, and the medical examiner gave a certificate to that effect. Late Thursday night Mrs. Dean's family heard a strange moaning in her room, and on investigating found that she was suffering from poisoning, having taken a quantity of "Rough on Rate." A physician was called, and although he did everything possible to save her life, she passed away a couple of hours later. It is believed that some time after she was in her room she went to the mantel to handle a powder and by mistake swallowed a quantity of the poison. She is survived by a husband and three daughters, who will have the sympathy of their friends in their sad bereavement. —Halifax Record.

MISS ISABEL MONROE, A RESPECTED RESIDENT OF PORT ELGIN, PASSED AWAY

Tuesday very suddenly, heart failure being the cause of death. She is survived by one brother, Cyrus Monroe of Port Elgin. Deceased was fifty-four years of age. She was much esteemed, and a large circle of friends mourn her departure. Funeral took place on Thursday and was largely attended.

THE DEATH OF MRS. HENRY N. PRATT

occurred yesterday at her late residence, 550 Main street. Mrs. Pratt was in the eighty-fifth year of her age. During the past few years she had been an invalid, but the illness which resulted in her death was only of short duration. The deceased is survived by two daughters and five sons. The daughters are Mrs. Benjamin Roden of this city and Miss Pratt, who has been residing at home. The sons are Henry, Edward F., Captain John H., of the United States Army, of Cambridge, Mass., and Albert, of Whitesville, Mass. She also leaves one brother, Andrew Myles, of this city. Deceased was born in Enniskillen county, Ireland, and came to St. John with her parents when she was in her thirteenth year. Mrs. Pratt was a consistent member of the Methodist Church throughout her life. She was very well known and her death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

NO MONEY FOR OTHER SUIT

Counsel for Defense Asks For Witness Expenses

More Witnesses Swear to Having Expended Money in London Election

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—The scope of the investigation of the alleged conspiracy in elections in London, West Edin and Brockville today. Brock Cowan, deputy returning officer in the Brockville election, admitted having received $20 for having switched ballots. He could remember no names. Another returning officer named Ford, Liberal, declared he had detected a bogus ballot and held it out. John O'Malley of London swore that he had secured two five dollar bills from a furniture dealer named Bennett and used them for purchasing ten votes for Hyman, Edward Croden of London, who at the request of Reid went to West Edin and there acted as D. R. O., said he had not heard that he had been reported by the judge for corrupt practices. He declared that there had been nothing irregular done at his booth, although the ballot box had been placed inadvertently that he could see how some votes were cast. He knew nothing of any evidence Fritchett may have given against him, and believed the latter would tell the truth. He had, in fact, given the witness lessons in the thumb nail system of marking ballots, but Croden declared he had never used it.

When the court resumed after luncheon George White, counsel for George Field, made application to the magistrate which led to a keen exchange of courtesies between counsel and bench. He asked that the defense be allowed expenses of certain witnesses whom he believed would supply information of corruption. The counsel for defense would be willing to pay the cost of serving subpoenas, but it was unreasonable to ask the individual to assume the expense of bringing all the witnesses to Toronto. The magistrate intimated he had no control over the financial part of the case, and that he made a similar application with regard to witnesses from Brockville, South Ontario and West Edin. Mr. Vermet said he intended bringing Hutchinson back, but so far as the other witnesses were concerned there was the proper place to lay charges. So far as this investigation was concerned if the defense had any witnesses who would throw light upon the question he was quite content to call them. White suggested that the magistrate had extended the investigation and taken the position that he would investigate wrong doing by whoever committed. He had done that so far as the defense were concerned and all that was asked now was that like measure be met out to the other side. He was afraid the crown was more deeply interested in the present prosecution than they were likely to be in any future prosecution of the other side. DuVermet promised to lay the application before the attorney general, with whom he has an appointment for tomorrow. If the defense could bring in evidence reasonably supporting a charge of conspiracy similar to that under investigation he would undertake that prosecution would be entered.

A London witness named Duffield, manager of the gas works, denied all knowledge of envelopes having been left at the gas works for employees of the company. He admitted having paid Charles Depper, grocer, who was an influential man on the Conservative side in the neighborhood in which he resided, $400. The money was paid out of his own pocket because he desired to see Hyman elected, and his personal friend, elected. The bargain was made that if the majority against Hyman was reduced by that division, which was a bad one for the Liberals, by forty he was to get the money. The majority was reduced by nearly fifty and Depper got $100 before and the balance after election.

Evidence of having been bribed in London election was given by Thomas Milton, who got $5,000. A. Adolph, who got $5 for voting reasonably and handed the money over to the secretary of the Conservative Association; Thos. J. Crooks got $5 from Mrs. Hulbert, Jr., and W. J. Day refused to accept bribes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—It was announced today that John D. Rockefeller had made to the American Baptist Home Mission Society a conditional gift of $75,000 toward the rebuilding of destroyed and injured Baptist churches in and about San Francisco. The condition is that the society shall realize as much more by April 1.

SCHOONER ADRIAT IN CUMBERLAND BAY

Waluia From St. John for Parrsboro Abandoned by Crew, Will Likely Go to Pieces

PARRSBORO, Nov. 2.—The schooner Waluia, Captain Perry Winters, from St. John to this port in ballast, in Cumberland Bay. The vessel anchored yesterday under ballast, the captain thinking she would ride out the storm, but after she was anchored a white sea sprang a leak, commenced to fill and drag her anchor. As the wind was blowing a gale and liable to take her down the bay, and in her helpless condition likely to roll her over, the crew left her and landed near Eatonville. The vessel will likely go to pieces on the New Brunswick shore. The Waluia was built in 1884 at Chipman, N. B., is 25 tons register and is owned by her commander. She was insured. The schooner Sparhawk, which went ashore a short time ago about 7 miles from here while on a voyage to this port with freight from the St. John still remains ashore. The cargo was landed in a badly damaged condition and sold by the underwriters.

JUDGE MADORE DIED LAST NIGHT

MONTREAL, Nov. 2.—Judge Madore of the supreme court died tonight. Joseph Alexander Camille Madore was born at Blue Bonnets, near Montreal, in 1832. He was educated at St. Mary's College and McGill University. He was called to the bar in 1851 and practiced for some time with Hon. R. La Plante, afterwards with Edward Guerin. He was one of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's most devoted followers. In 1896 he was returned for Hochelaga, defeating Dr. Lachapelle. He was known as a clever debater, a forcible and even eloquent speaker and a sound thinker.

COMMANDER PEARY

After furnishing the contents of Commander Peary's missive to The Associated Press, Mr. Bridgeman said that the receipt of any news from the explorer now was quite a surprise to him, because he had supposed it had become too late in the season for Commander Peary to send news of his venture. Mr. Bridgeman added that the message spoke for itself and that since he did not know more of the results of Commander Peary's efforts to reach the pole than the public did, he could hardly comment upon the despatch. There was little doubt, however, he said, that Commander Peary was coming home. This seems to be borne out by the routing of the despatch. Hopedale or Hopedale is a Moravian missionary station on the east coast of Labrador. Twillingate is a port on the west coast of Newfoundland. Mr. Bridgeman said the message was probably mailed by Commander Peary from Hopedale as the most accessible cable point.

She passed Cape York August 7 and reached Etah August 12. The expedition's auxiliary steamer Erik in the meantime had visited various settlements on Greenland and had secured natives and dogs for the explorer and turned them over to Commander Peary on August 20. At Etah the Roosevelt overhauled her machinery, took on board her last supply of coal from the Erik and thence proceeded north with Equimauk to the number of 23 on board and with about 200 dogs. When nothing had been heard from the ship last July, friends of the explorer who had expected a message of some kind in May or June, began to worry at the long delay. This anxiety, however, was not shared by the members of the Peary Arctic Club who then said they did not expect to hear from Peary until October or November. It was expected that his only way to get news down from the north was by whaling ships. Peary planned to make his headquarters 200 miles north of Cape Sabine. From that point he intended to make his actual journey to the pole, a distance of 600 miles, across the desert of ice and snow. This final dash, he expected to make in a month or six weeks from the time he left headquarters. Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of the commander, has been spending the past summer in Maine.

LENOX, MASS., NOV. 2.—MORRIS K. JESUP OF NEW YORK, WHO AIDED COMMANDER PEARY GENEROUSLY IN FITTING OUT HIS EXPEDITION, WAS AT HIS COUNTRY RESIDENCE IN LENOX TONIGHT. HE SAID THAT HE HAD JUST HEARD FROM SECRETARY BRIDGEMAN, WHO READ TO HIM OVER THE TELEPHONE THE MESSAGE WHICH HE HAD RECEIVED FROM COMMANDER PEARY.

"It would be useless to deny that I am disappointed that Commander Peary failed to reach the pole," said Mr. Jesup. "But I am glad to know that he went so far, and especially that he is returning safely. Until we get more details of the voyage, it will be impossible to discuss it more particularly."

ROBERT EDWIN PEARY WAS BORN IN 1854. HE IS A CIVIL ENGINEER IN THE U. S. NAVY. HIS FIRST TRIP TO THE ARCTIC REGION WAS MADE IN 1882. IN SEPTEMBER HE REACHED LATITUDE 84.17 NORTH. HIS WIFE, JOSEPHINE DIETHELM PEARY, ACCOMPANIED HER HUSBAND ON THREE OF HIS EXPEDITIONS AS FAR AS THE WINTER QUARTERS.

The previous record for the point nearest the pole was made by Captain Cagni of the Duke of the Abruzzi expedition, who reached 83.34 north, or within 27 statute miles of the pole. The point reached by Peary, 87.6, places him about 203 miles from the pole.

LENOX, Mass., Nov. 2.—MORRIS K. JESUP OF NEW YORK, WHO AIDED COMMANDER PEARY GENEROUSLY IN FITTING OUT HIS EXPEDITION, WAS AT HIS COUNTRY RESIDENCE IN LENOX TONIGHT. "But I am glad to know that he went so far, and especially that he is returning safely. Until we get more details of the voyage, it will be impossible to discuss it more particularly."

After furnishing the contents of Commander Peary's missive to The Associated Press, Mr. Bridgeman said that the receipt of any news from the explorer now was quite a surprise to him, because he had supposed it had become too late in the season for Commander Peary to send news of his venture. Mr. Bridgeman added that the message spoke for itself and that since he did not know more of the results of Commander Peary's efforts to reach the pole than the public did, he could hardly comment upon the despatch. There was little doubt, however, he said, that Commander Peary was coming home. This seems to be borne out by the routing of the despatch. Hopedale or Hopedale is a Moravian missionary station on the east coast of Labrador. Twillingate is a port on the west coast of Newfoundland. Mr. Bridgeman said the message was probably mailed by Commander Peary from Hopedale as the most accessible cable point.

The owners of the ship Wandrian will appeal from the recent decision of Judge McLeod in the admiralty court in the case of the owners of the Helen M. vs. the ship Wandrian. A handicap race will take place at the Victoria Roller Rink tonight at 8 o'clock, for which twenty entries have been received. The band will be in attendance.

C. P. R. S. S. Empress of Britain sailed from Liverpool at 10 p. m. yesterday with 114 sailors, 219 second cabin and 499 third class passengers. The C. P. R. S. S. Lake Michigan landed passengers at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Those who witnessed the novel features at the bachelors' concert, and listened to the excellent concert given by the "Bachelor Chorus" of the Exmouth street church, will not want to miss the entertainment to be given under the auspices of the young men in the lecture room on Thursday evening, 15th inst.

The monthly meeting of the slaughter house commission was held yesterday, when considerable routine business was transacted. The inspector's report showed that the following animals were slaughtered during October: John McCarthy, 290 cattle, 415 sheep and 4 calves; Kane & McCreath, 228 cattle, 138 sheep, 10 calves and M. J. Collins, 17 cattle, 10 sheep and 5 calves.

J. E. Irvine, formerly of St. John, now of Calgary, Alberta, is a member of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association in that city. He writes that the contract for the new $25,000 building has been signed and the work begun. The needs of the large number of young men in Western towns and cities are very great and these cities of refuge can't go up too quickly.

The committee selected by the general meeting of the Westfield Sports Association has already held several meetings. A constitution and by-laws have been drafted, and will be put up in proper shape. There are a number of other matters left to this committee to decide, but as all concerned in the proposition feel that there is plenty of time between now and next spring, they are not attempting to rush the business, so it will be some time before another general meeting is called.

A day or two ago, suit was brought by the F. E. Sayre Co. against Quinn & Co. for payment of $1,150 due for a piece of timber purchased some months ago by the defendant. Joseph J. Quinn writes to the Star stating that soon after the suit was brought he complained to Mr. Sayre that it was not sound, and asked that it be taken back, offering to pay the cartage both ways. This offer was refused, and finally Mr. Quinn carted the stick back himself. He declined payment on the ground that the timber was rotten.

ESCAPES FROM DEATH WERE MIRACULOUS

Farmer's Wagon Struck by Train--Driver Unhurt.

Man Fell From Barge but Hook in His Hand Caught on a Trailing Rope--Other Accidents.

During the past week Chipman, that stirring little town of Queens County, has had quite a chapter of accidents, and in several cases the victims had narrow escapes from death. Probably the most miraculous escape was that of a man by the name of Green, who was driving from his home at Coal Creek into Chipman with a load of coal on his truck. The truck was going at full speed struck his wagon, throwing the potatoes for nearly a hundred yards from the place where the wagon was struck. The wagon itself was broken to splinters, but much to the surprise of those who witnessed the accident, Mr. Green was practically unhurt.

Another lucky escape was on Sunday night when Charles Springer, of Jemseg, while going through the Grand Lake on his way to Chipman, fell from a hay barge into the water, but managed to get back on board without assistance. The peculiar feature of the accident was that the barge being towed along at a slow speed when Mr. Springer was thrown into the water, and as the night was very dark, it was almost impossible to see any object from a distance. But as Mr. Springer came up to the surface he was managed by good luck to catch, with a hay hook, which he held in his hand when he fell in, a rope trailing after the barge. By the aid of the rope and with much difficulty he managed to pull himself on board, where he was found later by the members of the crew in an exhausted state.

On Monday a well known resident of Chipman while coming down the stairs, fell. The result was that the victim of the accident is now confined to his home with a badly broken nose. A fourth person to be injured in the week was a young fellow by the name of Hanson, who while working in Kings' saw mill had two of his fingers taken off. Several other minor accidents were also reported.

SURVEY IS HELD UP WAITING DECISION

Final Location Finished on Two Sections of G. T. P.

And Nothing More Can be Done Until Either the Central or River Route is Chosen--Gangs Called In.

The survey on the eastern section of the Grand Trunk Pacific is in this condition: All but one of the surveys have completed their work, the final location between the Quebec boundary and Grand Falls has been finished. The survey between Grand Falls and Moncton which the first location surveying has been done. This was completed some time ago and the engineers are now awaiting the decision as to which of the two suggested routes will be chosen. Whenever the decision is reached, the final location survey on this section will be commenced, as many gangs as possible will be put on and the work will be pushed. The time which will be required for the completion of this will depend to a large extent on the number of gangs that can be found convenient to work and also on the weather. If the decision is announced soon, surveys will go out at once and will continue as long as possible through the winter. It is hoped that the survey can be finished inside of two months.

SEARCHING FOR CAPT. KIDD'S MONEY

Segoe's Have Been Digging For Over Thirty Years.

The Connors' Rope Walk is the Scene--Old Bayonets Found, But no Gold in Sight Yet.

Is Capt. Kidd's treasure concealed in the soil of Pokok? This question is at present being asked by many North-enders, who are talking of John A. Segoe's one hunt for gold.

Only recently did it become generally known that this gentleman for the past thirty years has been digging at Pokok for a treasure which he feels sure is hidden there. A Star representative called on a relative of Mr. Segoe's and was told the following story: John Segoe's father, now deceased, when a young man found traces of a hidden treasure on a hill in rear of the Connors' rope walk at Pokok and he worked with pick and shovel on the spot for many years. When Mr. Segoe, sr., died his son took up the search, and for thirty years he has gone out to Pokok day after day to dig for the treasure. A trench sixty feet long by twenty wide has been dug and Mr. Segoe claims to have taken from the soil a number of old relics such as French bayonets, etc. A peculiar feature of Mr. Segoe's search for wealth is the way in which he has kept his work to himself. Two prominent merchants were called upon a short time ago by Mr. Segoe, who invited them to go to Pokok with him and have a look at the "treasure ground." One of the men accepted the invitation and after a visit to the place told Mr. Segoe that he would undoubtedly become the possessor of unlimited wealth. The merchant was not sufficiently interested, however, to pay for a steam drill and other necessary equipment to make a thorough investigation of the ground.

Mr. Segoe has recently decided to get a company interested in the search who will furnish the required capital. The relative of Mr. Segoe who was seen by the Star, says that went to Pokok with Mr. Segoe about a week ago. A mineral rod was taken out and it worked wonderfully. A rod, however, as explained is often attracted by stone or water.

"Has Mr. Segoe as much faith as you?" "More than ever," was the reply. "He has often said that he will keep on digging as long as he lives."

One thing that is certain is that Mr. Segoe has found several relics in the soil at Pokok. The French bayonet which he unearthed bears date of over a century ago, and he has also found part of a statue which was made of a composition of some sort. Stones bearing strange impressions have also been dug up. It could not be learned how Mr. Segoe's father was persuaded to know, never found anything in the soil. Mr. Segoe is of the opinion that Captain Kidd did not hide his million dollars on the Florida coast, but deposited them in the soil of Pokok. Mr. Segoe will probably start on another digging expedition next week.

Miss Lottie E. Lawson, daughter of the Rev. Wm. Lawson, Methodist minister of this province, has won the first prize as trained nurse at the Toronto General Hospital. Fourteen trained nurses graduated. Miss M. A. Snively, lady superintendent, presented her 25th annual report, showing that 44 nurses had graduated from the institution. During the year there had been 84 applications for admission, of which 53 had been accepted. J. W. Flavin, chairman of the board of trustees, who presided, paid a high tribute to the training school, and to the efficiency of Miss Snively. Among the graduates were Miss Lottie E. Lawson, Claire E. Irene Freeze, Donkton, N. B.
