THE SUMMER SCHOOL WILL CLOSE TODAY

Interest and Attendance Well Maintained at Sunday School Teachers' Conference, in Rothesay.

Another profitable morning was spent yesterday by the delegates to the summer school and conference for Sunday school teachers at Rothesay. Commencing at 9 o'clock, holy communion was celebrated by Rev. Canon Lewis, assisted by Rev. W. R. Hubbard. At 9 o'clock Rev. H. A. Crawford continued his series of Bible studies on the life of St. Peter, taking up the apostle's denial of his Master. His series of lectures on the presentation of the lesson was continued by Rev. Canon Powell, at 9.30, who dwelt especially on the methods of securing and retaining attention of the pupil. He said that the mind of the child usually absorbs only what it detects as something fresh and new. To take advantage of this, the teacher must seek to present the lesson in a striking manner and must make it pleasing as well as profitable. Among the most important of these methods, he said, that it was desirable for the teacher to stand rather than sit among the scholars, the personal comfort of the scholars and their interest in the subject of the lesson, the ventilation of the room, etc., should be considered, articles liable to distract their attention should be removed from the room, and their interest stimulated by appealing to other senses as well as the sense of hearing. He urged the teachers to concentrate their efforts on raising the will rather than the emotions of the scholars in order to secure lasting results.

At 11 o'clock Rev. G. F. Scovell gave a very practical address on the place of missions in the Sunday school, pointing out the great value of the study of missions in enlarging the outlook of the scholars and giving them a broader conception of life. He advocated the appointment of a special superintendent to look after this work in every school, regular talks on the subject, and the provision of a model lesson on missions in India for a class of boys, nine or ten years old.

Mrs. G. F. Scovell followed adapting the same lesson to make it appeal strongly to a class of girls fourteen to sixteen years old. In the afternoon the delegates were entertained with music and charades in the gymnasium. The subject of the illustrated lecture last evening by Rev. F. McKim. The lecture was given by Rev. R. A. Armstrong, M. A., rector of Trinity church, Egypt. The subject of the lecture was "The exercises in connection with the summer school will be concluded today. The morning will be devoted to the regular senior work. Rev. President Howell will give the last conference.

PAVING THE CORPORATION DAY BILLS

Treasury Board Votes $1000 to Defray Expense of St. John's Celebration of King George's Coronation.

The treasury board met yesterday afternoon and after listening to a lecture from the comptroller, voted $1,000 to defray the expenses of the Coronation celebration. A committee was appointed to interview the minister of public works and ask him to use his influence to secure the city a rebate of the customs duty on the ferry boat. Ald. Hayes presided and there were present Ald. Russell, Scully, Wigmore, McLeod, Codner, Smith and McGoldrick with the common clerk, the comptroller and the chamberlain. Ald. Wigmore moved that an additional grant of $1,000 be made to meet the expenses incurred in connection with the Coronation celebration. This, he said, would make a total of $1,500.

The chairman thought an itemized account of the expenditures should be published in the newspapers, so the people could see where their money went. The comptroller wanted to know who gave the Coronation committee authority to create a liability of $1,000. Ald. Wigmore—Well, the mayor told us to go ahead. The comptroller—That is a wrong principle. Neither the mayor nor anybody else has the right to commit the city to a liability without the authority of the council.

Ald. Russell said he was generally understood that the aldermen would support the Coronation committee. He suggested that the amount of $1,000 placed in the estimates for repairs to No. 4 engine house be devoted to paying off the liability. The safety board would not use the money. The chamberlain said it would be illegal to do this. At this point the mayor was called in and asked for an explanation. He said that in the first place he had advocated a larger grant for the Coronation proceedings, but the matter of increasing the grant had been referred to the treasury board. He appreciated the difficulty of the position in which they had placed themselves, but he did not think the occasion was one which justified any petty squabbling. He thought the general feeling among the people was that any money expended had been well spent.

FEW LIBERALS AT NEWCASTLE Only Two Faithfuls Assembled for Much Advertised Meeting of Newcastle Parish Association.

Newcastle, June 29.—Despite considerable advertising all effort to secure a meeting of the Newcastle Parish Association, proved unavailing. Two faithfuls assembled at the hall and they awaited an anticipated appearance of brother members, but to relate none others answered the call. Even President Miller did not attend and Mr. Loggie was also absent. It was supposed to be the annual meeting, but Mr. Loggie got such a reception last year that he evidently decided it best to steer clear of Newcastle and the office seekers. The Liberal party is fast losing ground here, a meeting a few weeks ago had four members in attendance.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CORPSE BURNED BY KIDNEY DISEASE. BRIGHT'S DIETETIC TABLETS. 23 THE PRINCE

EX-PRESIDENT CASTRO IS NOW FULL FLEDGED PIRATE

The Stormy Petrel of Venezuela the Object of Search of Half a Dozen Cruisers--All the West India Islands Closed to Him.

St. Thomas, B. W. I., June 29.—In accordance with instructions from the government at Copenhagen, all steamship agents of St. Thomas have been notified that the government forbids the landing on the island of General Cipriano Castro, the deposed president of Venezuela in the event of his arrival here.

Castro, the exiled ex-president of Venezuela, announced his intention a short while ago of landing in force in Venezuela and calling upon his countrymen to assist him in overthrowing the government. Similar declarations have been made many times before by other South and Central American statesmen, and sometimes they have been followed up by successful actions. In any event, other powers have stood aside and let the two parties most interested fight it out. Beyond seeing to it that the neutrality laws were not broken, they have considered it a matter of domestic politics on the part of the country involved. In the case of Castro, however, Great Britain, the United States and France have taken the unusual course of declaring that Castro is a pirate. If he is caught on the seas by any of their ships he will be summarily seized and taken ashore for trial as a buccaner. In the event of his offering resistance there is the extreme probability that Castro and his ship will be blown up and sunk.

Imprisonment for Castro.

Already several cruisers are on the lookout for him, and at least one vessel suspected of harboring the ex-president has been overhauled and searched. Another suspected vessel is under surveillance and it is plain that Castro has but a slight chance of following out his programme of revolution. He is now a man without a country, and it is on this account that he can be tried for piracy; for one of the offences included in the term is, "the descent from the sea upon the coast committed by persons not holding a commission from any established state." Moreover, the intent to make such a descent is an offence, and it is not necessary, as far as Castro's guilt is concerned, that he should actually make a landing upon Venezuela. Therefore, he may be seized on the mere suspicion of having such an intention, and the crime is not one that can be settled on the payment of a fine. A long term of imprisonment awaits him should he be found guilty by a British court of attempting to carry out what he has already declared his intention to be.

Chinese Pirates.

The good old-fashioned way of dealing with pirates was to hang them at the yardarm, but this measure is no longer adopted and the capital sentence is no longer passed, save for bloodshed on the high seas. Piracy, however, remains as one of the curses of the deep, although it is chiefly confined to Chinese waters. Only a few weeks ago the case was reported of a number of pirate junks attacking the Pacific Mail steamship Asia, which had become grounded on her way from Hong Kong to Shanghai. Her predicament was seen from the land and within an hour she was surrounded by Chinese pirates. Their attempts to board the Asia were defeated by the brisk revolver play of the officers and other white men aboard but the passengers were glad to escape in the boats, leaving the liner to be looted for the fortunate appearance on the scene of a Chinese liner it is likely that the passengers and crew of the Asia would have been murdered, for they were outnumbered a hundred to one by the pirates, and their ammunition was almost exhausted.

Captured by Pirates.

"A Veteran Diplomat," writing on the subject in the Philadelphia Ledger relates a personal experience which a few years ago, when he was on his way from Shanghai to Hong Kong, on board one of the big Peninsular liners. The ship was creeping along through a dense fog, and the writer was standing near the bow, when the fog suddenly lifted and revealed a dozen Chinese junks close to the liner. On the deck of one of them appeared a white man, who, when he saw the other vessel so near, threw up his hands and called for help. Immediately half a dozen Chinese threw themselves upon him and bore him struggling to the deck. Then they dropped down once more and the pirate fleet disappeared. Judging from his call for help and his general appearance, the white man on the junk was an Englishman and it was obvious enough that he had been captured by the pirates in one of their numerous forays along the coast. The remarkable thing was that he had not been killed at once, although it occasionally happens that these refrains take prisoners and keep them as trophies of their exploits.

Policemen Of The Seas.

The narrow escape of the passengers of the Asia would appear to point to the necessity of another such campaign as was carried out some fifty years ago by Sir Harry Keppel and Sir James Brooke, who cleared a thousand miles of China's coast of pirates. The business of policing the waters of the world seems to have been left to Britain, and the capture of Castro is regarded as a mere incident in the day's work. To exterminate the pirates of China would be a much more important and serious undertaking.

THE AVIATORS ARE AT CALAIS

Seven Birdmen Arrive at French Sea Port After Trip Fraught With Great Deal of Danger.

Calais, France, June 29.—Seven of the contestants in the European circuit aviation race have arrived here. The aviators started from Roubaix this afternoon on the sixth stage which called for a flight to Calais and all who reached here safely agreed that the trip was one of the most difficult and thrilling they had yet undertaken. This was largely owing to the violence of the wind.

One of the aviators, Vidart, said that he had covered most of the distance sideways. The official classification for the six stages is as follows: Beaumont, 48 hours, 8 minutes; Garros, 51:48; Vidart, 64:21; Vedrine, 67:23; Gilbert, 75:53; Kimmerring, 76:52; Renaud, not announced.

The Eucharistic Congress Closed

Long And Brilliant Procession Through Streets of Madrid Yesterday—Expected Trouble Did Not Materialize.

Madrid, June 29.—The eucharistic congress closed today with a long and brilliant procession through the principal thoroughfares which were lined with thousands of troops because of rumors that there might be clashes between the paraders and the republicans. The procession moved from St. Jerome church to the royal palace where in the presence of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, Cardinal Aquino pronounced the benediction. The organizers of the demonstration had requested those who took part to maintain absolute silence so as not to afford opportunity for a hostile demonstration. The republican newspapers this evening called attention to the tolerance exhibited toward the Catholics and demanded that the same rights be granted them on the occasion of their open air assemblies.

Rhubarb Delicacies.

Apple and Rhubarb Pudding.

Soak one pint of very fine bread crumbs in one quart of milk until they are soft, then spread a butter dish with pared and cored sour apples cut as thin as a wafer; lay over these some thin slices of rhubarb; beat three eggs with one-half pint of sugar and mix with the milk and crumbs, pouring over the fruit; set in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven to cook until the custard is firm and apples tender. Serve with meringues on top placing a bit of apple jelly in each ring.

Rhubarb Sherbet.

Cook rhubarb without peeling, sweeten it well, add orange juice to taste and a little powdered gelatin in proportion of one teaspoonful to three cupsful of sherbet; strain, add one beaten egg white to every two cupsful of mixture and freeze. Serve in glasses and garnish each one with a slice of kumquat. This dish when once eaten will become a favorite.

Rhubarb Short Cake.

No. 1.—One and one-half cups of flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half cup butter, scant, milk enough to make a stiff dough. Spread thin on a well-buttered tin, stick and cut thin a pound and a half of rhubarb. Add a cupful of sugar and shake well. Pour over this a custard made of a half cupful of sugar, yolks of two eggs, and a cupful of rich milk. Bake twenty-five minutes.

No. 2.—At night set a sponge with three-fourths of a pint of milk, one teaspoon salt, and one yeast cake, flour to thicken. In the morning cream one-half cup of butter, one half cup sugar, two eggs. Add a little nutmeg and a little lemon rind. Add sponge to this, and beat well, then add enough flour to make a thick batter. Put in well-buttered tin; it will make three-and-a-half loaves. One can be used for the rhubarb cake and the other two can be made into coffee cake by spreading generously with butter and sprinkling sugar and cinnamon on top. For the rhubarb cake boil a sauce of two pounds of rhubarb and a cup and a half of sugar. When cool add the yolks of two eggs. Pour this on the dough when raised and bake fifteen minutes. Make a meringue of the whites of eggs and brown lightly; it is much nicer if the meringue is omitted and whipped cream is served in its place on top.

SAINT JOHN, FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 30, 1911.

THE NEW CHINA.

From time to time we have intimations that great changes are impending in the oldest and most populous empire in Asia. Just what they are and how they are to be brought about, is a matter of which we are in the dark. It is a matter of which we are in the dark. It is a matter of which we are in the dark.

Shocked out of its long sleep by the reverses of the Japanese war in 1894-5, in which the little island empire, which had drawn its knowledge and arts from the larger nations, proved easily victorious, China, though stunned for a time, seemed to leap to the conclusion that the time for awakening had come.

With equal facility and promptness the conclusion was reached that what China needed was re-organization on the basis of western ideas, in education, in industry and in her political system.

Today China is within sight of the incursion of European forces in 1900 seemed but to deepen these resolves. Parliamentary government on a representative basis, is making considerable progress in providing better means of internal transport and in re-organizing her industrial system, and has brought about what amounts to a revolution in her educational work.

The latter is the most interesting and far-reaching of all, as of course it is fundamental to national reconstruction. To change the ideals of education among a people so numerous and of such ancient historic traditions is a most formidable undertaking.

The history and progress of outside nations were sealed books. No schools were provided by the government, whose obligations seem to have been limited to the holding of competitive examinations and the conferring of degrees, which denoted the successful scholar, and opened to him the way to office and honors.

In 1905 the system of education was made national with primary schools in the villages, grammar schools in towns, a middle school in each prefecture, a normal school and college in each province, and an imperial university in Peking.

Such was and is the scheme. But the working out has met with almost insuperable difficulties. It is not easy to change the standards of two thousand years, nor speedily graft western ideas on the moulded methods of long ages.

China has failed to get as good foreign teachers as did Japan, chiefly because she needs so many more and the expense is therefore so much greater, and she has not retained the services of those for so long a period.

Officialism, the curse of China, loads the schools of higher grade with mere place-fillers who do not pretend to knowledge. The Chinese language which is not alphabetical is a clumsy machine which vastly handicaps the learner.

China has failed to get as good foreign teachers as did Japan, chiefly because she needs so many more and the expense is therefore so much greater, and she has not retained the services of those for so long a period.

can tell, but it is fair to assume that there will be a shrinkage in the extravagant ideas that have heretofore prevailed that China would open up an unlimited market, for the products of European and American labor.

Japan and China may be depended upon for a world challenge to present economic conditions, and every year will see it backed by the rapidly growing reinforcements of mechanical and scientific resources widely and skillfully adopted.

The Liberal challenge to the Conservative party to force an election with Reciprocity as an issue has been taken up. In declarations that are characteristically explicit, Mr. Borden says that he and his party are ready for the contest and prepared to take the responsibility, if such there be, for bringing it on.

Commenting on the effect of Mr. Borden's trip, the London Free Press points out that the reception which he is receiving is as disappointing to his political opponents as it is cheering to his supporters.

As for the resolutions from the Grain Growers' Associations, they may be taken at the worth that that of those appointed to present one of them placed upon it, declining to read it because it had been presented several times in identical form.

The customs duty on Canadian barley has been changed three times during the last twenty-one years. The fluctuations in the price during that period afford an excellent illustration of the loss which would result to the farmer under Reciprocity.

It will be noticed that instead of the Canadian farmer getting an increased price for the barley he sent to the United States as a result of the reduced duty the price came down in the United States.

More and more it becomes evident that Mr. Borden's frankness in telling his downright convictions was only rounded to his credit and advantage.

A telephone has been installed near the pulpit of a Kansas church to enable the congregation to hear the sermon without going to church.

China's official determination to observe Sunday as a day of rest in all governmental matters is a sign of the times. It means conformity on the part of the most ancient of existing nations to the practice of the Christian world.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY TO KINGS CO. RESIDENT

Mrs. Fanny Erb Passed Away at Her Home, in Kiersteadville, on Sunday Morning Last.

Kiersteadville, Kings County, June 27.—This community was very much saddened and shocked by the sudden death on Sunday, 25th inst., of Mrs. Fanny Erb, wife of W. A. Erb of this place.

Dr. Fraser of Hatfield's Point was hurriedly summoned, but he at once pronounced the case total paralysis and hopeless. Mrs. Erb was 64 years of age, and was a daughter of the late David Hatfield, of Springfield, Kings County.

Mrs. Erb became united with the Baptist denomination seven years ago in the Woodlawn Baptist church, Chicago. A thoroughly loyal friend to the few who enjoyed her complete confidence, she was held in the highest esteem by all classes.

That is very well, but why should we, in British dominions, hail it as the "glorious fourth?" Now, sir, it seems that there is considerable lack of propriety exhibited in such things, and the public could not be harmed by giving it thought.

FINANCIAL WORLD

STOCK MARKET ON HIGHER LEVEL

New York, June 29.—On a small volume of trading the stock market swung back toward a higher range today, following yesterday's effective bear raid. The lower section of the established yesterday attracted a sufficient amount of buying to lift quotations easily at the outset. Stocks of the coolers and Harriman roads went the strongest, with gains of a point or more. The bull party made no attempt to extend the movement, however, and the market became listless, drifting through the greater part of the day with few further changes of moment. The end of the session found prices generally higher although the advances were generally fractional.

The movement possessed little significance as an index to financial conditions or speculative sentiment. No new influences were brought to bear to lend an impetus to the market and it remained largely in the hands of professional traders, whose reluctance to engage in extensive operations was evident. Reports which have been heard frequently of late in the financial district, bearing upon possible trust proceedings of an important nature by the government were circulated more positively today and may have been responsible in part for the restriction of business. These intimations seemed to find no response in the stock market, although in the last hour there were evidences of selling pressure. Prices recovered their brief period of weakness in a manner which seemed to demonstrate the underlying strength of the market.

Among the industrials the American Tobacco securities were the strongest. The brisk rise in the preferred stock and the bonds was almost coincident with the issuance of the supreme court's mandate in the tobacco case. American Smelting was prominent by reason of its strength, recovery a part of its recent loss. Toledo, St. Louis and Western was the weak feature of the railroad list, both the common and the preferred receding on the report that its dividend policy might be influenced by the suspension of payments of Chicago and Alton preferred, which it controls.

The money market remained undisturbed today, although the report remains before the advance of July with its unusually heavy disbursements. A sharp decline in the Bank of England's discount rate, which was reported in the weekly report of that institution, was strong firm. American Tobacco bonds were firm. American Tobacco stock was up 1/2. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

New York, June 29.—With the government report to be published on Monday and Tuesday a holiday in the American markets and with the cotton crop facing the most critical stage of its growth, there seemed every incentive to refrain from new commitments and to even up speculative lines over the week end. Such operations were in progress on a moderate scale throughout the day and as the market was apparently somewhat over-sold the balance was thrown somewhat to the buying side before the day was over.

ments of officials of the U. S. Steel Trust for a breach of the Anti-Trust Law had little effect upon the steel stocks. In this connection it will be remembered that the extreme penalties imposed by the courts thus far under this statute have been relatively small.

With the current market in a normal and seasonal one. The crop outlook as a whole is still above the average and if this prospect is fulfilled there is every reason to expect higher prices later on. Mesquite prices will likely be influenced to a more or less degree by the nature of reports from the West and Southwest.

WOLGAST-MORAN GO IN FRISCO THE NEXT CLASSY RING CARD

YOU WILL ALWAYS ACCEPT BUT ONE GIN ONCE YOU HAVE ORDERED COATES' PLYMOUTH GIN

We are still in second place, but we do not intend to stay there long. The Tigers have quite a little lead on us, but they have held the lead ever since the season opened, and three weeks ago it looked as if they were going to lose it.

I'll admit that we were not expecting such a setback. We figured that Boston might take one or two games, but we were not expecting at least three out of the five games here.

Some people might figure that the next western trip will tell the story, but I don't reckon just that way. For the other western trip after that, even, and anybody's deuce is liable to go wrong.

Other Teams Stronger. You know we did not last year. I think the team is every bit as strong this season. The reason the race is so much closer now is because many of the Highlanders are better, I think; so is Detroit, and the White Sox are a team that every other club must reckon with.

In reviewing the bantams, mention must also be made of Harry Forbes, the former champion, who has made such a remarkable showing as a "comer" in the Johnny Daly fight.

There is also some talk of matching Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion of the world, with Bombarrier Wells, the heavyweight champion of England, and another "dark horse" as far as his ability is known in this country.

The country is full of "white hopes" who are being groomed to knock the crown from Jack Johnson's head, but it is going to take a lot of grooming and the present material is one too classy.

For all that we know of Bombarrier Wells he is one of that type known as a "British bruiser," the slugging, boring-in fighter who depends on his ability to stand punishment rather than to get away from it.

NOTES FOR THE BALL FANS IN THE N. B. AND ME. LEAGUE

There were two games scheduled yesterday in the N. B. and Maine leagues. One at Frederickton between the Frederickton team and the Marlboroughs and the other at Woodstock between Woodstock and Calais.

This league contest looks as if it would prove very warm between the season is over. With the Marlboroughs in their present good shape, with Manager Page, of the St. John's bringing new ones every day or two, and with the other teams through the circuit stiffening up to meet the competition.

The St. John's new pitcher, Paquette, of Montreal, who was expected to arrive a couple of days ago, joined his team in Woodstock but did not play there. He may be seen in action in the games on Saturday between the St. John's and the Marlboroughs.

LANGFORD'S PECULIAR POSITION

Joe Woodman states that he has several engagements for Langford in a view to meeting Jack Johnson in the immediate future for the world's championship. Joe believes that soon after the change will have to be considered Langford. Many clubs have already made overtures towards bringing the two wonderful blacks in the same ring, but so far none has been successful.

Joe has an idea that public opinion will either force Johnson to give Langford a chance or compel him to relinquish the championship. It is public clamor that recalled Jim Jeffries from his pugilistic grave.

Langford's case at present is somewhat similar to that of Jeffries. Jeffries was the only white fighter that was believed to have a chance against the mighty black. Now it is being as tangibly recognized that Langford is the only fighter worthy of giving Johnson a real fight.

Special to The Standard. Chatham, N. B. June 29.—On a wet wicket St. John defeated Chatham in a cricket match today by an innings and 10 runs. Rain fell frequently during the game and the state of the ground was all against high scoring.

In a minority of 29 the home team opened their second venture, but failed to make much headway against Sturdee and Young, the latter in particular proving very destructive. G. Perry made 7 and Jordan 5. The innings closed for 19, leaving the St. John team winners by an innings and ten runs.

He Was in the Right Place. A young man who has for some time been a soldier in the Salvation Army held forth on the corner of Brussels and Waterloo street, near the Haymarket square last evening and had a hard time while preaching the gospel to about a half hundred people, who were mostly boys. The boys were very disorderly, some were smoking cigarettes and their language was not of the class generally heard in a parlor. At times the preacher had to stop in his discourse owing to the loud noise that the boys were making, and at the close of his address and prayers he was cheered by the youngsters.

NEW PATROL WAGON IS ABOUT READY NOW

City will Take Delivery of it this Day Week — Wagon is Creditable Production of Local Firm.

The Coronation entertainment given in the St. Philip's church last night was largely attended and was much enjoyed by those present. The pastor of the church presided and the entertainment opened with the singing of the National Anthem. Then to the music of a march rendered on the church organ the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, who were attired in their regalia, marched about the aisles of the church and were loudly applauded for their excellent appearance.

Following this, Herbert Bree and Mrs. F. McAleer took seats on either side of the pulpit and represented the King and Queen. Mrs. McAleer was attired in a snowy white dress and the King to be, was a neatly dressed in black clothes and wore white gloves. Rev. Mr. Pearson placed on their heads, black cocked hats trimmed with gold, and announced that the crowning of the King and Queen would take place at the finish of the programme. A male and female chorus then sang that touching chorus, "Steel Away" which was followed by the chorus "We'll Die in the Field."

Reuben McIntyre was then called on and delivered an inspiring address, taking for his subject "The British Empire and What It Stands For." Rev. W. B. Pearson also delivered an address on the same subject. Charles Hamilton was greeted with loud applause and gave an address on the Army and Navy. Mr. Barkley gave an address on "Our Queen" and after repeated calls "Timothy" Donovan of West End, took the platform and gave a patriotic address which was received with cheers.

John Blizard, who has an excellent baritone voice was heard in a couple of choice selections. The pastor of the church then announced that he would proceed with the crowning of the king and queen. There was a craning of necks and every eye was focused on the lady and gentleman who were to receive the honors of the evening's entertainment. The pastor removed the cocked hats from their heads and, amid the loudest applause that has been heard in St. Philip's church for many years, he placed on their heads brilliant crowns, constructed of bright red and gold paper. Unfortunately the crowns were rather small to fit properly or perhaps, owing to the great honor being imposed on Mr. Bree, his kindly nerve was shaken, for, at all events, he arose and bowed an acknowledgment, his crown tumbled off his head and bounced on the platform. The pastor picked it up and placed it on the monarch's noble brow, but with every move of the king the crown would tumble off. Mr. Bree was not alone in his endeavor to hold his crown, for although Mrs. McAleer sat very still, her headpiece would not stay in position. Hat pins were sent from the ladies in the audience to the platform and the queen's crown being skewered on her head, was made secure.

The ceremony was greeted with loud clapping of hands, stamping of feet and cheering, and one of the audience was heard to call, "Long live King Herbert." After the crowning Rev. Mr. Pearson announced that the members of the ladies' aid would pass fruit and ice cream among the audience. The refreshments were sold and a neat sum was realized for the benefit of the church. The entertainment was voted by all as being one of the best held in St. Philip's for some time, and the committee in charge deserve much credit for the able manner in which the programme was carried through.

NEW PATROL WAGON IS ABOUT READY NOW

City will Take Delivery of it this Day Week — Wagon is Creditable Production of Local Firm.

The police patrol wagon will be ready to deliver to the city a week from today and its construction reflects credit on the firm of Graham, Cunningham & Naves, 46 Peters St., and shows that they are a firm most capable of performing such class of work and there is no reason for sending outside of the city to have such a vehicle constructed.

The above firm are at present putting the finishing touches on the new "Hurry Up" wagon, and its delivery will mark an end to the dragging of unfortunates through the streets when an arrest is made. The new wagon is most substantial looking, built of white wood and ash with brass hubs and a brass railing on the sides and at the rear. The underwork is of the coach pattern and very strong. The upper section of the patrol is built with seats in it and covered over. The seats are upholstered in green leather and on each side are three large windows which are supplied with roller blinds. There is also a small window looking out to the driver's seat and an alarm bell over the driver's head can be used by the officer inside of the wagon for signalling purposes. The driver also has an alarm gong on the top board of the wagon. The body is painted green and carmine and along the side in gold letters are the words "Police Patrol." The underwork is painted in carmine with black stripes. The new patrol will be hailed with delight by the policemen of the force.

ST. VINCENT'S REUNION SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION

Keith's Assembly Rooms Thronged, Last Night, by Happy Young People — An Enjoyable Programme.

The 9th annual reunion of St. Vincent's alumnae which was held last evening proved a most enjoyable affair and excelled all previous reunions of the kind held by the society. The reunion was attended by over 125 and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed. Keith's assembly rooms were the scene of the happy gathering, and the three hours spent in renewing and strengthening the ties of friendship formed in school days, and in happy reminiscences of the "years that are away," proved most delightful. Besides the members of the society the streets were present as the guests of the alumnae. As befitting the occasion the rooms and tables were tastefully decorated, and the colors of the association occupied a conspicuous place in the color scheme. The entertainment began with a dinner, the catering being done by J. S. Vincent who served an excellent menu. Miss Ellen T. Reed, president of the society presided during the evening. Following the dinner an excellent programme including addresses, musical and literary numbers was carried out. The address to the class of 1911 was given by Miss Reed, who in well chosen words congratulated the graduates on the attainment of their goal, and on behalf of the alumnae extended the hand of welcome. Miss Mary in response, did the honors for her classmates. The toast of the evening, Our Teachers, was entrusted to Miss Florence O'Regan, who capably fulfilled the trust committed to her. An orchestra composed of members of the society contributed a goodly share to the enjoyment of the evening. The following programme was carried out after the dinner: Address—The president. Solo—Miss Florence O'Regan. Reading: Hiawatha—Miss Genevieve Dever. Vocal duet—Miss O'Regan and Miss Mullin. Vocal solo—Miss Agnes Scully. Selection—Orchestra. Solo—The president. The singing of Auld Lang Syne appropriately concluded the delightful evening.
