Duke of Connaught Pays Lightning Visit to Washington—Calls on President Taft and Receives Him in Return.

FIRST ROYAL VISITOR TO CAPITAL IN YEARS.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—The Duke of Connaught went the "American pace" in his visit to the national capital today. Arriving late in the afternoon he was whirled first to the British Embassy, spent 40 minutes in the White House, where he was received by President and Mrs. Taft, was then motored back to the embassy, where he was the guest of honor at a dinner to which most of the prominent members of the diplomatic corps were invited, visited the national press club, and then, tired but delighted as he expressed it, sought his private car. He left midnight for New York.

Altogether the chief executive of the United States and his vice-regal visitor were together for a little more than an hour. The Duke had no official message to bear from England and the President had none to give. Their conversation was of the most general character and the only formal welcome to His Royal Highness was that extended to him when he left his private car at the Union Station, by Major A. W. Butt, President Taft's personal aide.

The reception in the White House lasted only fifteen minutes and unceremonial as state department officials and the British Ambassador could make it. The Duke was presented to the President by Ambassador Bryce and then Mr. Taft presented him to Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen Taft. The members of the cabinet and their wives were presented by Major Butt.

Wyman, commander of the barge. Captain Wyman belonged in Thomaston, Me., and De Graff shipped from Philadelphia. The indictment is drawn in the quaint phraseology of the federal court and it charges that "De Graff, without the fear of God in his heart and moved and instigated by the devil, did kill and murder Charles D. Wyman, against the peace of God and of the United States." February 6th was set as the date for the trial and counsel was assigned to defend the prisoner.

Liberals Attempt to Hold Up Government for 3 Months Salary for Retiring Transcontinental Commissioners.

Widespread Dissatisfaction With Work—Instances of Excessive Charges Winked at by the Commission.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The House spent the afternoon in a furious debate. The opposition held up the course of legislation for the purpose of forcing the government to pay $1,750 each, $5,250 in all, to the three national transcontinental commissioners whose resignation has been demanded. The three commissioners were paid $7,000 each, or $21,000 a year in all. The chairman's salary was $8,000 so that the annual salary bill was $29,000. When Mr. Cochrane became Minister of Railways, the chairman, Mr. Parent, resigned and Mr. Cochrane appointed Major Leonard as chairman. Later Mr. Cochrane asked the remaining commissioners to resign and did not replace them. Thus Mr. Cochrane saved $21,000 a year. Today the government sought to put through the bill which sanctions the change. The opposition fought tooth and nail to force it to give the outgoing commissioners a gratuity of three months' pay, that is, each man on leaving office should get $1,750, or $5,250 in all.

Demanded a Bonus.

The opposition took advantage of Mr. Cochrane's way of putting it and put in a demand for a $5,250 bonus to the men he was dismissing. Mr. Kye of Richmond, N. S., first put the demand. It grew out of a remark of Mr. Cochrane's that some of the commissioners were demanding an allowance for holidays. Mr. Pugsley joined in and for a while the opposition had the best of it. Then Arthur Meighen broke in with a protest. He opposed any such gift of money. There was widespread dissatisfaction, he said, with the work of the dismissed commissioners had done. Led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier the opposition declared that satisfied commissioners had done well.

Mr. Fowler Takes a Hand.

E. M. MacDonald accused Mr. Middlebro of "mixing and muddling" the facts. The discussion drifted along, G. W. Fowler charging Mr. Lumsden charged that there had been an excess payment of $2,750,000 on district F. alone. Under Mr. Lumsden's successor the contractor on investigation had voluntarily relinquished $260,000. The dismissed commissioners had approved the paying over to J. D. McArthur of that $260,000, which he under investigation had relinquished. Mr. Fowler Takes a Hand. E. M. MacDonald accused Mr. Middlebro of "mixing and muddling" the facts. WEST END RESIDENTS MADE STRONG PROTEST Resolution Against Ferry in Crease Passed at Lengthy Meeting Last Night—Ald. Kierstead Only Dissenter.

Alderman Kierstead was the only one of the east side members of the city council who had the temerity to attend the meeting called in west end last evening to protest against the increased rate of ferry tolls, and he was given the opportunity to judge of the strength of the feeling against the proposal. A resolution protesting against the increased rate was offered to the meeting and debated by several speakers. It was carried with only the vote of Alderman Kierstead being recorded against it and when the alderman left the hall he was given rather a warm reception by some of the men in attendance, who did not share his opinions of the subject on which Carleton feels keenly.

Important to Mothers!

Mothers should know just why Zam-Buk is so effective in cases of rashes, scalp sores, pimples and eruptions of babies and young children. Most ordinary sores contain animal oil and fat. Every housewife knows that if animal oil or fat be left exposed to air for any length of time putrefactive changes must occur. These changes occur not for the less even if they are hidden by soot.
