The dreadful import of the 18th of December did not seem in the slightest to affect the imperturbability of the convicted lad, for at that supreme moment when the words "to be hanged by the neck until you are dead" were slowly attered, there was nothing on the part of Higgins but perfect self-possession, a matter-of-fact attitude, an interest in what was being pro-

The spectators were one in the intensity of the nervous strain while such was being said and between their condition and that of the judge and lawyers trained to perfect self-control there was not such a wide gulf.

Attorney General Pugsley replied to Mr. Mullin. He pointed out that if there were questions to be brought before the court, the law provided a mode for such. If his honor refused a reserve of the reserve to the court of approach to the court of

He pointed out—not harshly, not hastily—but in the knowledge harshly, not hastily—but in the knowledge that the law having found the prisoner guilty, was going to take its logical course, that the prisoner need not entertain undue hope that sentence would be commuted, that it would be well for him to now consider his spiritual welfare and occupy his remaining time on earth to prepare his soul to meet its Maker.

Concerning Mr. Mullin's second ground for a reserve the attorney-general desired to urge strongly that his honor should not consider the affidavit of Mr. McGrath. It would be detrimental to the administration of justice, if after a trial had been concluded the taking of an affidavit could set aside the result.

When a man went into the jury box, are that his pre-conceived opin-

Promptly at 10 o'clock the morning session opened. In beginning his argument for a reserve of the crown case, Mr. Multin sited four reasons upon which he based his application. The first was in reference to the securing of a jury. When the special panel was ordered he had objected as the selecting of the jury was not as preferibed by the British North America Act. As the Canadian parliament had directed procedure for the selection of talesmen, legislation on that point was exhausted and the action of the local legislature in prescribing the procedure was altra vires.

The Marilia's second contention deait affidavit could set aside the result.

When a man went into the jury box, no matter what his pre-conceived opinions were, counsels and judge were prepared to assume that he would decide by the nature of the evidence adduced.

"Mr. Pooley," remarked his honor, "was not prejudiced, it was a conviction of what he had read."

Continuing, the attorney-general said that a man would be without intelligence if under the circumstances of the park tragedy, or any similar affair, he did not form some opinion or conviction. The fact that Mr. Pooley had expressed his belief did not disqualify him to act as juror.

"The trouble between 'Ding' Doherty, as we called him, and Higgins, dates from the Judge Landry ruled that Mr. Mullur could continue with the reading, which he did to the effect that John McGrath had in John Pooley's banber shop heard Pooley state that he believed Higgins should be hanged and Goodspeed be given his libbroke the agreement and Higgins always This, contended Mr. Mullin, disqualified held it against him.

"On Monday, the 26th, a fellow and I went over to Fairville to see if the boys had arrived. Just as we got to the depot a treight train pulled into the yard and they were on it. I asked where the bag was and they told me the story of their chase. On they had brought with them and Higgie gave me four watches and several knives. I The fourth plea put forth by Mr. Mullin was in respect to a portion of Judge Landry's charge, when he drew the attention of the jury to the prisoner's silence and of the frequent consultations between him and his counsel. The prisoner's attitude was for the jury to observe in determining as to his guilt or innocence. Mr. Mullin held strongly that a prisoner, under the British constitution, had a right to be defended by his counsel and that when there was any consultation between them it should not be made the subject of comment on the part of judge to jury. to Brownville so we spoke freely before things near the corner of Pont and George street. WHY THIS HESITATION?

Andover, N. B., Oct. 8-(Special)—An opposition caucus was held here yesterday after noon by unsigned call. About a dozen gentlemen attended prin-cipally from Andover village, the only outsider being James F. McCluskey from Grand Falls. After a forcible speech from T. J. Carter, on the lines laid down by Messrs. Hazen and McInerney, Messrs. Carter and McCluskey were nominated opposition candidates. At the request of Mr. Mc-Cluskey the acceptance of the nomination was deferred 10 days apparently set in early.

Before the kindly hand of time could efface all memory of the fiasco in the York Theatre the Fairville meeting was called and Mr. Baxter hurried there with the rest of the spell-binders. The Fairville reception may have extinguished the last spark of enthusiasm for when he was of-fered the county nomination at that meeting he declined it in no uncertain terms. Because Mr. Baxter did not agree reason for shifting the responsibility reason for shifting the responsibility of selecting a candidate to a committee.

Councillor W. J. Dean, of Musquash, is in some circles mentioned as a possible mate for Mr. Anderson. Whether they would "match" in harness is conjecture are people who have prospered wonderfully within the last three years. Lies have comfortable houses, good stables and abundance of good water and hay close at abundance of good water and nay cose at hand. Their style of dressing is strange. They place the oat sheaves on the ground in a large circle and then go over it with horses drawing large corrugated log. When they consider the oats are threshed out with forks they pitched the whole int: the air and the wind blows away the deaf and others and they are fall to the and then Mr. Dean may be a man of wisdom like Mr. Baxter. Coun. James Lowell, of Lancaster, is another possibility or rather he was, when this alleged opposition boom started, but it is under-stood he would not be satisfactory to all the factions, and his name is not heard as often now as it was some weeks ago.

Meanwhile Mr. Anderson is enjoying ground. They then gathered them up and put them in sacks. They are certainly not splendid if frosty isolation.

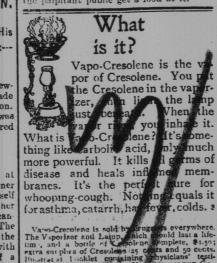

In the city, the opposition camp is wrapped in a stillness, deep and profound. Even Mr. Hatheway and Mr. Mc-found. Even Mr. Hatheway and Mr. Mc. Inerney, the so-called nominees of the labor party, have gone into temporary retirement. Mr. McInerney has not been heard from locally since the jollification in Fairville while Mr. Hatheway "took his corner" right after the York Theatre meeting and has evidently remained there, or, if he has ventured out he's not saying a word. True, Mr. Wilson visited the Loch Lomond fair, but he wasn't even asked to speak. Perhaps he had no ulterior designs in going out after all, but merely wanted to see the big pumpkins and the rock maple socks. Mr. Wilson is, however, a very busy man at any time and it may be that just now his extensive business is occupying all his time. Mr. Shaw is evidently not lying awake nights thinking what his chances of re-election appearance of a large village. They informed me that they intend building a mill shortly. They had no complaints to make and were very well satisfied with the careful." thinking what his chances of re-election are. Maybe he is so confident that no thought is necessary, but at any rate the grand tide of revolt against the iniquitous government which the opposition spell-binders said was almost at its flood seems to have subsided

MONCTON.

Moneton, Oct. 7-(Special)-Moneton has been somewhat startled during the last few days at a series of attempted robberies and burglaries of a most during character. A few nights ago Mrs. Thos. Hogan was waylaid by a couple of men who attempted to rob her and this morning a bold case of house burglary was reported to the police.

The house of Mrs. Bourgeos, Westmorland street, was entered during the night, but the burglar was fortunately detected and frightened away before he had time

CHATHAM.

Chatham, Oct. 7—The monthly meeting of the town council was held last evening. Alderman Maher read a report recommending that the town wharf be rented to the Miramichi Steam Navigation of the Miramichi Steam Na tion Company for five years at $75 per year, and that said company be allowed to erect such buildings as they deemed necessary, under the approval of the town superintendent. This was carried.

Alderman Nicol reported four Scott Act cases during September.

Alderman Maher gave notice of change in the water hy-law to allow churches 25 per cent discount.

The alderman of the water and light committee reported the electric light expenditure for September to be $502.56 and the net revenue $429.27, that 10 additional water connections had been made making a total of 111 up to September 30th; that three additional man holes had been made, making a total of 22, and that five additional sewer connections had been made, making a total of 79. The treasurer's quarterly report showed that will be given next Sunday evening, the $11,966.63 had been received and $9,799:19

The ladies auxiliary of the A. O. II. held their first regular meeting last evening in the C. M. B. A. rooms, There was a large attendance and 10 applications for membership.

st. Martins, Oct. 7—The home of Coundard frightened away before he had time to secure any valuables. He had entered the house through the back window and had reached an up-stairs room where Mrs. Bourgeos' two daughters slept and where a purse containing $75 lay on the bureau, when his presence was discovered and he made his escape.

Mrs. Carmon Brown, a milliner of Main street, reported to the police this morning that her house liad also been entered last night, but the burglar awoke her little girl, who gave the atarm, frightening him away. The shop of John Beaton, Main street, was broken into a few nights ago, apparently the work of boys; It is believed that all the depredations reported are the work of a local gang of young lads. These escapades have created a feeling that Monoton has a gang to deal with similar to $5$, John's tan-yard gang.

WOODSTOCK!

Woodstock, Oct. 7 There was complaint of the careless use of firearms by citizens. Recently a shot came dangerous-ly near wounding Mrs. Baird, of Grafton, filed from the town side of the river. Sub-equently a shot entered the verandah of Samuel Olmstead, Grafton, close to where his child was standing. The fine against the careless discharge of firearms will be enforced in future.

The monthly meeting of the town council was held last night. Receipts for September were $1,118.63; expenditures $1,195.02; for nine months receipts $19,195.02; for nine months receipts $1,195.02; for nine months receipts 517,33, expenditures $19,887.34; debit bank alance $4,918.29.

Ex-Councillor James Carr had a com-munication and bill before the board. He claims, while acting in the interests of the town in 1897, he put down 35 feet of granite curbing on Main street, and had received no payment for it.

It was shown by other councillors that at that time the late R. B. Ketchum was chairman of the streets and he only had the right to contract such bills. matter was referred to the street committee to report at next meeting.
George Brown and Karnes Brophy were appointed field drivers.
The finance committee was instructed to collect taxes due by fire and life insurface companies to the town, aggregating $1,000. Some of the agents claim that the town could not enforce the payment legally. A test case will be made against one of the companies which owes $400. Woodstock, Oct. 9-(Special)-The St. John murder case has evoked interest everywhere in the province. Arrest of Edward Hamilton on Suspicion in Connection With Setting Fire to Queens County School

Word was received yesterday that Edward Hamilton, aged 23, had been arested at his home at Hamilton Mountain, Queens county, on suspicion of being im-plicated in setting fire to the school house

Warrants were out for him and his younger brother, Walter. Yesterday morning Constable George Golding, assisted by Moses Moore, parish court commissioner, arrested the elder Hamilton and took him to Gagetown. His examination will be conducted by Magistrate Wm. Harrison, of New Jerusalem. Judge Ebbett, of Gagetown, will represent the crown.

The information in the case was laid by the school trustees' secretary, George Derah, and Joseph Moore. They had first asked Attorney-General Pugsley about the with deep interest.

this lease to the Campbells. I took the ground then and I still hold it that those timber lands were then standing idle not bringing one cent into the provincial treasury, and that if any company or promber land and pay mileage, even if they did not operate to the full requirement of the law, it would be so much gain to the province, and the valuable lumber on those lands would be still reserved

Now siry I take the oppositionfist thet own word. The extra money paid by the umber operators of Restigenche in mile ge-net including the $9,649.63, which hey have paid in stumpage-must amount

In fact, if you take a look at the mber in the Restigouche boom in the onth of July you will conclude with me people of Restigouche nor the lum men of the county are at all anxiou From this you will see the two-face olicy of the opposition. At the time the ase was made to the Muskoka Lumber Company, the opposition appealed for the sympathy and support of the Restigouche lumbermen on the ground that the government was increasing its revenue at their expense. Now the same opposition, or what is left of it, says that the trea-sury has lost thousands of dollars by the Now about the transfer of this lease. It s acknowledged surely that under the conditions of the lease, the land belongs o the company until the expiry of the 20-year term, when it reverts to the government. The Muskoka had the privilege of either keeping the lease and lum bering on the land or transferring it to others, and certainly it can make no difrence to the government whether the mpany made little money or much out of Restigouche county and especially to the residents of Campbellton would be who got the Muskoka limits and where it intended that the lumber should manufactured. It was the intention of the Muskoka Company to build a mill at Escuminac, in the province of Quebec. By the transfer those limits have fathen into the hands of one of our best lumber. en Mr. Kilgour Shives Hand he is to build a large mill right in the vicinity of Campbellton to manufacture the lumber. In conclusion let me say that the people of Restigouche, by a very large majority, feel that the interests of the county are safe in the hands of the Hon. C. H. La pillois, who with Mr. McLatchy for colleague, will be perfectly able to look after them without the necessity of any worry on the part of either Mr. Mott or the St. John Sun..

Small Craft Suffer.

The boats labored hard under the stiff breeze and keeled over in good style, presenting a fine view to the large number of persons along the harbor front. The following shows the time of the yachts crosson the harbor and made the craft heel over in good style.

The starting line was off Reed's Point wharf, where a small boat had been moored and the course then ran to a buoy moored off Anthony's Cove, on the Eastern shore, thence round the Black Point automatic buoy in the Bay and back to the starting line, a distance of about 10 miles.

The Start

It was 12.45 o'clock when the preparatory flag was hoisted on the official ug Dirigo. At 12.55 the first gun was fired, which gave the boats just five minutes before the flying start was made across the limit to the mainsail, pounded about in good style and had her jib torn badly. This sail was tied up and the craft sailed into port under the double-reefed mainsail and tied up at Reed's Point wharf.
