Tourist Business May Mean Industrial Development For Caspe Coast

TO ORGANIZE FOR PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

NEW INDUSTRIES MAY RESULT FROM VISITS OF TOURISTS TO THE GASPE PENINSULA

Past Season One of the Best on Record in Tourist Business at Bay Chaleur Summer Resorts—Many Believe That Outside Capital May be Interested in Commercial Possibilities of the Peninsula—Colonization Outlook Good—Many Inquiries from States and Various Parts of Canada

Last year's increase in tourist business in the Gaspé Peninsula will eventually lead to development of some of the resources of the counties of Bonaventure and Gaspé, was the opinion expressed by a prominent merchant on the coast in conversation with our representative last week. The yearly increase in the number of summer visitors to the scenic Gaspé Peninsula is clearly indicative of the fact that this section of country is steadily becoming better known as a vacationland for tourists and with this influx of health and pleasure seekers there is bound to come business men, promoters and representatives of capital who will become interested in industrial possibilities of one kind and another on the Gaspé Coast.

With the proportion of the peninsula is now worth a good many thousands of dollars per year but the extensive advertising this section of country is getting through this business results in creating an interest in the country from an industrial or commercial standpoint, the benefit to this territory in years to come will far exceed that of even the thousands of dollars left here each year by summer visitors.

In the minds of many there is no doubt but what this development will come about. Those connected with the Department of Colonization have enquired on file which substantiate such a belief. These requests for information have come from Montreal, various parts of Ontario and the West and also from the United States and ask for information about agricultural and other opportunities on the coast. With the completion of the new colonization road down the north shore of the Peninsula there is at least the most picturesque part of the province of Quebec.

If this prediction materializes the Gaspé Coast may see a new era of development and progress. Its geographical position, away as it is from the Metropolis of the province, has no doubt contributed to its hesitant growth in past years but if the hopes of the more optimistic are realized this great undeveloped territory with its many potential possibilities for industrial advancement may yet become one of the most valuable and productive sections of Eastern Canada.

A Busy Season
With the approach of autumn and the recent sudden change in temperature most of the summer visitors to points along the Gaspé Coast have returned home. The last fortnight has seen a more or less steady stream of vacationists—homeward bound and the Gaspéan summer resorts are once more robbed of the activity which was theirs during July and August. The past season has been a busy one in tourist business on the coast. A much larger number of auto tourists visited the peninsula this year and in addition to this some of the hotels report record business during the summer months.

The White House Hotel at Carleton Place and the White House Hotel at New Carlisle, both of which cater to summer visitors have had a good season and their proprietors anticipate even more activity next year. The management of both these hotels have added large new annexes to their regular buildings and are yearly becoming better equipped to handle the increasing numbers of summer holiday guests.

ARE SENT UP ON THEFT CHARGE

Three Dalhousie Boys are Defendants—Stole Money From Loggie Store

Three juveniles ranging in age from 12 to 14 years were sent up for trial after the preliminary hearing of their case here on Monday afternoon before Police Magistrate Macdonald on a charge of theft.

The defendants are Raymond Arsenault, Vincent Laviolette and Gerald Thivierge of Dalhousie. The case is the result of theft from the Loggie Store at Dalhousie. Some time ago it was discovered that money in small amounts was disappearing from one of the tills in the above store. Suspicion fell upon outsiders and Constable G. Ross was requested to go down and investigate. On Saturday night last Constable Ross and the proprietor went on watch in the store remaining until Sunday forenoon. Nothing happened until about 11:30 Sunday morning and then two of the three youngsters appeared, gaining entrance through the rear window. They were arrested and taken to Campbellton.

The third youth was apprehended the following day. Arrangements are being made to have Judge McLatchey hold a Speed Trial for the hearing of these cases. J. Allan LeBlanc will act as counsel for the defendants.

OSWALD SMITH DIED SATURDAY

Deceased Who was in 84th Year—Was Well Known Citizen

In the passing of Oswald Smith whose death occurred at his home on Water Street here on Saturday afternoon, Campbellton mourns the loss of an aged and well known citizen.

The late Mr. Smith who was in his 84th year was born in Kent County and for some years carried on a lumbering business. About twenty-eight years ago he came to Campbellton and for some years continued in the same line of business in this district. He was prominent in the life of the town during his active years and was warden of Christ Anglican Church. The deceased is survived by his wife who was formerly Miss Helen Caldwell, one brother in Bay du Vin and numerous nieces and nephews. The funeral services held on Monday afternoon were largely attended. A brief service at the bereaved's late home at 2 o'clock. Revs. A. Brock Humphreys and W. W. McNair officiating. At 2:30 the funeral cortege proceeded to Christ Church where the Rev. Mr. Humphreys conducted the service. At this service the deceased's late wife paid a high tribute to the departed and referred in feeling terms to the keen interest the late Mr. Smith had taken in church work. Interment was made in the Campbellton Cemetery. The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. The pallbearers were: Messrs. James P. Jardine, W. H. Miller, W. S. Richards, A. McG. McDonald, J. S. Benson and Max M. Mowat.

BODY OF MISSING MAN FOUND

Remains of Dominique Arsenault Found Near Government Wharf This Morning

The lifeless body of Dominique Arsenault, who had been missing for the last week was found this morning near the government wharf here by men who were at work about the steamer.

The remains were identified by papers found in a pocket of the coat. It is likely that a verdict of accidental death by drowning will be returned.

WILL PUT ALARM SYSTEM RIGHT

Council Authorizes Moving System to Fire Station—Wants Food Inspector

A meeting of the Town Council was held Friday evening His Worship Mayor McKay presiding. There were present Councillors Armstrong, Cool, Patterson, Moore, McDonald and Savage.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The Town Solicitor submitted draft of lease of I. N. R. right of way from Roseberry St. to Glenoe. It was explained that the C. N. R. authorities did not wish to give that portion of the right of way in the town limits only.

Councils moved that the Town Clerk write the C. N. R. authorities that the Town could not over lease as made out, but would like to have such right of way in town limits for street purposes. Carried.

The regular order of business was suspended to allow Mr. E. B. MacLachy re-matter of Toronto Type Foundry Co. assessment.

It will be remembered that last year the proprietor of the Tribune refused to pay his assessment on a typesetting machine claiming that he did not own same. This year the assessment placed the Toronto Type Foundry Co. on the list as owning two machines in town, one in the Tribune office, the other in the Tribune office, and valued them at something over $600.

Mr. MacLachy for the company went on to show that these machines were purchased under a contract of sale much the same as a piano or any price of farm machinery, which were taxable in the name of the purchaser.

After hearing the argument the matter was referred to the town solicitor for his advice.

The M. A. Pratt wrote complaining that agreement made by town in obtaining right of way for pipe line had not been lived up to. This was referred to Water Sewerage committee.

A number of applications for reduction of assessment were referred to the assessment and appeals committee.

A deed from the Campbellton Development Co. conferring certain streets to the town was received and read on record.

Dr. Donnelly applied for an auctioneers license. Referred to Police and License committee.

The Secretary of the School Board wrote asking that the lot on Prince William Street be let to the School Board for school purposes.

On motion this lot was ordered to be leased to the School Board.

The usual departmental accounts were ordered paid.

Mayor McKay brought up the matter of the building of a new Court House. He said that this expenditure was unwarranted at the present time.

A committee composed of Councillors Armstrong, Moore and Savage was appointed to go throughly into the matter.

NEW DISCOVERY IN POTATO CULTURE

Ontario Gardener Boasts of a Stalkless Variety He Has Grown

Elmira, Ont., Sept. 16—A few weeks ago an Elmira gardener, August Vaisin, was boasting of a new variety of potatoes, a stalkless variety which he had grown in his garden with the idea of abolishing the potato bug nuisance by starving the bugs to death. Now, however, announcement is forthcoming of the discovery of a variety that will eliminate the arduous task of digging the "spuds."

Rev. Mr. Prudham, of the near-by village of Drayton, is exhibiting several potato stalks which had a number of perfectly formed potatoes growing on them several inches from the roots. In the hills there was only one large potato. Mr. Prudham intends to keep a number for seed and will see what his new discovery will bring forth another season.

Local opinion leans to the view that the two varieties might be crossed so as to produce a plant the stalks of which would be underground so the latter would be cooked ready for eating when gathered.

C. N. R. OFFICIALS HERE YESTERDAY

Visit Dalhousie and Leave for Inspection of I. N. R. Division

A large party of C.N.R. officials were here yesterday, and were driven to Dalhousie by auto. It is thought that possibly this important delegation may have gone down river with the intention of looking over proposed summer hotel sites.

The party was made up of General Manager W. U. Appleton, Chief Engineer A. P. Stewart, Vice-President S. J. Hungerford, Mr. McKenzie of the right of way department, Ottawa and others.

It was hoped that these officials might visit Black Point, where it was proposed to build a large summer hotel if the necessary land could be purchased at a reasonable rate, but the fact that some of the owners will not listen to reason and are asking large figures for their property may go out of the railway officials to let matters rest.

The party returned to Campbellton and left by special train for Edmundston at three o'clock.

The Graphic understands that this party went to Dalhousie where Mr. W. S. Montgomery met them and showed them the piece of land he has offered as a site. They were considerably impressed.

We are also informed that while the officials favor the Black Point location, they will not pay the prices asked by a few individuals. We have it on good authority that the railway will pay $100 per acre for all land they require, and where buildings are to be removed or torn down, they will amply compensate in such cases.

Another site has been proposed and if the few Black Point owners will not listen to reason, this summer hotel may go out of the country entirely. This would indeed be too bad.

SHOCKING DEATH OF MILL HAND

Piece of Piercing Flew From Saw and Edged Eye to Brain

Fredericton, Sept. 16—Word was received here about noon of the death of Walter Jones, who was killed in the sawmill of the Doaktown Lumber Company this morning. He was working at the edger and about 8:30 a splinter flew back, piercing one eye and penetrating to a depth of about five inches. Despite all efforts to save him he died about 27 minutes after being struck by the splinter.

Mr. Jones was 33 years of age and was one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of Doaktown and the community.

He is survived by his wife and one child. He had been employed at the mill for about three years and was popular with his fellow workmen.

PROVINCIAL ASSOCIATION FOR PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS WILL BE ORGANIZED HERE

Large Public Meeting Being Arranged for at Opera House Next Thursday Afternoon—Dr. Roberts, Minister of Health and Other Physicians Coming—Many Representatives of N. B. Towns and Cities Also Expected—Dr. Pinault, the President, To Preside.

GASPE CROPS ARE MUCH BETTER

Hay Grain and Potatoes All Exceed Last Year's Yield

If the market for potatoes and other farm produce is at all favorable this fall and prices reasonably firm the position of farmers along the Gaspé Coast will be much more favorable than in recent years. Taken as a whole the year's yield in the peninsula is far ahead of last year when crops in some sections of that territory approximated no failure.

The hay crop this year has been good as compared with the very light yield of 1923. In some localities this season's crop has not come up to what was anticipated of it but along the majority of the coast this year's yield was very satisfactory.

Harvesting is now well under way all along the coast. During the past week the wet and unsettled weather has somewhat imperiled the grain harvest owing to the large quantities of grain out and in stock. Weather conditions have thus made it difficult to make progress in harvesting but in all sections the grain fields promise a very satisfactory crop.

While potato-raising has not assumed anything of the proportions it has attained to in Restigouche the yield per barrel of seed sown promises well. Potatoes in nearly all sections are reported of good quality and size and fairly plentiful per stock. If fall market conditions prove reasonably attractive the outlook for the farmers on the Gaspé Coast should be much more satisfactory this year than last.

ADJOURNED COURT MEET TUESDAY

One Jury Case Tried at Postponed Sessions of August Circuit

The adjourned August sitting of the Restigouche Circuit Court met Tuesday morning in Dalhousie, Mr. Justice LeBlanc presiding in place of Chief Justice McKeown, who was called to Ottawa on important business. Before leaving Judge McKeown granted an order releasing Donald M. Silas from jail on the payment of a $200 fine.

The only case tried by Mr. Justice LeBlanc was a civil jury case concerning pulp wood, Harquail vs. Arsenault. The amount sued for was over $100, and a verdict for $250 was awarded the plaintiff with County Court Costs. Geo. Gilbert, K. C. appeared for the plaintiff and J. Allan LeBlanc of Campbellton for the defendant.

An important case that of John Wyers against the Sydney Lumber Company involving an amount in excess of $5,000 had necessarily to be postponed again as the new judge was the solicitor on the record for the defendant company.

The Chief Justice not knowing when he would return no date was fixed for the trial, and the Court adjourned sine die.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT

During the week ending at noon today there was a slight improvement in the weather. This is a slight improvement over last week, but it is far short of the objective which we had planned. We trust that the weather will improve.

greater increase. There are still about a thousand of our readers whose subscriptions expired in July and August who have not yet renewed.

On Thursday afternoon of next week a meeting which should prove of great interest to citizens generally and particularly all those interested in the promotion of public health work will be held here when the organization of the New Brunswick Tuberculosis Association will be undertaken. Plans for this meeting its programme and its objective are now being arranged by Dr. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health for the Province. Local arrangements will be made by Dr. L. G. Pinault, President of the Association and the Secretary Mr. H. M. Armstrong.

This meeting for organization is being held in Campbellton owing to the fact that the president and secretary reside here. It was originally planned to hold this meeting on Thursday evening but owing to a central company arriving here on that date and beginning a series of shows on that night the meeting will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Opera House.

Dr. Roberts Coming
Dr. Roberts, Minister of Health will be here for the meeting and will address the gathering on Public Health from a general standpoint touching on the subject of tuberculosis and its prevention.

Interesting Programme
The programme of this meeting should be interesting and will doubtless be very instructive. Two other prominent physicians will also be in attendance. These are Dr. Ferris, Supt. of the St. Joan County Hospital and Dr. Collins, Supt. of the River Glade Hospital. Both these doctors will speak on tuberculosis, and its prevention and cure, a subject with which they are both familiar. As president of the Association, the organization of which will be completed at this meeting, Dr. L. G. Pinault will deliver an address of welcome to the gathering.

A large and representative meeting is hoped for. It is expected that at least a dozen representatives from the province will be in attendance as well as all local physicians and those from neighboring places.

As explained by the president, Dr. Pinault, it is the purpose of the association to get the general public more actively interested in health work as it relates to the prevention of tuberculosis and for that reason the various working committees will be composed of laymen. It is likely that a committee of one or more with power to add to their numbers will be appointed for the various centres throughout New Brunswick.

On a similar note, it will later be organized to develop in this territory. This official who will be in all likelihood cover the province, visiting the different health centres and co-operating with the various committees in their work among tuberculosis patients. Through this means a great preventative work will be carried on, particularly among the children.

In nearly all provinces of the Dominion similar associations for the prevention of this dread disease have been formed. Splendid results are attending the efforts put forth. The meeting here next Thursday will doubtless reveal much valuable information in this connection and help to familiarize the public at large with this vital department of health work. It is hoped that all teachers, school pupils of the advanced grade and citizens generally will make a special effort to attend and stand ready to co-operate and help this splendid movement in every way possible.

Public Learns To Love Music From Vaudeville

Mort Downey, Irish
Singer, Says One Million People Get Ideas of Melody from
"Two-a-day"

Where does the public get its taste for music? Why, from vaudeville. At least, so insists Mort Downey, Irish Adonis of the footlights.

"One million persons to-day," declares Mr. Downey, "absorb musical ideas from the 'two-a-day' of the operatic or concert star who is to reach the real public, I honestly advise trying vaudeville, with some good American song like the waltz-ballad 'When Lights Are Low,' that is easily understood, that has charm, appeal and melody."

Mr. Downey practices what he preaches, for he recently turned down an offer abroad to sing at home in vaudeville. He says the heartiness of applause in vaudeville houses is another reason he likes to sing there.

"They know what they want. Most people who go in for vaudeville are willing to split a glove to show you that you have pleased them," he adds.

"Moreover, the inveterate 'two-a-day' fan knows good music from bad music."

Canada at Wembley

During the visit to London the Canadian editors spent considerable time at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, and with one accord they were loud in their praise of Canada's showing at the great fair. The following article, which is not original, but covers the exhibition very thoroughly is published by request:

"This time Canada has beaten everybody. I defy anyone to visit the Canadian Pavilion without wanting to ride off to Canada by the next boat."

So wrote the great publicist, Lord Fraser, after his visit to the Canadian Pavilion at the Empire Exhibition at Wembley.

As a matter of fact his distaste has been endorsed by everyone, and Canada's contribution is recognized not only as the greatest effort at Wembley by any country, but as the most striking object lesson in Empire of the whole Exhibition.

The reason is not far to seek. In magnitude of structure, in tone, in atmosphere, in utility and art, the Canadian Pavilion at Wembley presents the Dominion as a living entity of industrial activity and as an unexplored field of vast potentialities and untapped reserves. The glory of work is veiled in the glamour of Romance.

Proudly and distinctively Canadian, the Dominion exhibit breathes the spirit of Empire, told in moving panorama of her marvelous resources, in the rich display of all the gifts of nature, of fruit and food, of gold and silver, of iron, copper and timber, and in the telling exposition of her industrial energy and manufactures.

The Building

The Canadian Pavilion is an imposing building in the Neo-Eclectic style in a dominant position. Flanked on the west by the Canadian National Railways and on the east by the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Pavilion at once commands attention, covering as it does with the two smaller pavilions, 5.34 acres. At the opening of the Exhibition, Canada was the only country ready and waiting, and this fact rebounds all the more to the credit of Mr. A. W. Tormie, the Canadian Exhibition Commissioner and to Mr. J. O. Turcotte, Canada's designer, from the fact that during the building the weather was most severe, and on the top of that were 45 strikes.

One particular point with regard to the Pavilion is that everything entering into the construction of the Exhibit, except glass and cement was grown or made in Canada—timber, nails, bolts, linoleum, paint, paint-brushes, hardware, electric lamps and fittings, cold storage machinery, furniture, carpets, etc. In short the whole Pavilion is Canadian effort, for there were no sub-contractors, and the work of the Pavilion is a fine example of the use of water-power in the Dominion. Thus it is that the erection and arrangement of the Canadian Pavilion is not merely an exhibition of Canadian resources and products, but of Canadian resourcefulness and efficiency.

The Main Corridor—A Wembley Wonder

While the exhibition covers every phase of Canadian activities, it may be said to be divided into two sections—the scenic and the industrial. The Main corridor which presents a marvelous picture in itself is the home of the scenic exhibits. Its vast size, its beautiful decoration, and artistic conception make the Main corridor one of the Wonders of Wembley. All the embroidery on the mural festoons, on the coats of arms and panelings, on all the landscapes of cornfields and 'home-steads' and forest in the walls, every particle of color and material is composed entirely of Canadian seeds and grains of many colours, while below on a level with the eye are magnificent panorama depicting everyday activities of Canadian life.

The Western Prairies

These panoramas, in themselves works of art, have from the beginning attracted so much attention that at times movement in the Main Corridor has been attended with difficulty. The first panorama on the left deals with the Western Prairies and while presenting a most beautiful picture, tells the story at a glance of how Canadian grain is transported. Everyone knows that Canadian railroads have the best facilities in the world for handling grain, but the point is brought forcibly home how it is exactly done. The Panorama shows the far stretching Western Prairie Belt, 900 miles long and 300 miles wide, with Port Arthur and Fort William in the distance.

Modern railways, working to scale, demonstrate how the gradual encroachment of the farmer on the prairies is kept pace with in the collection and delivery of grain. The whole life of the farming pioneer is vividly shown.

The railways are seen loading up at the elevators, of which there are many, both public and private. The British public is also informed that all grain is graded, so that the farmer can take cash at once or store the grain as crop of higher prices. Another striking panorama is that of

The Canadian National Parks

This is a realistic picture in the Rocky mountain districts with rushing rivers, and falling cascades, set in a background of exquisite colour and primitive grandeur. Tala panorama to thousands of people in England was the first intimation that Canada was not only a possible place for a holiday, but is the finest possible place of all at a cost within the reach of a man of moderate means. As a result, the enquiries for information as regards Canada as a tourist and holiday country have been very satisfactory.

The picture has also conveyed a vivid idea of the foresight of the Canadian Government in safeguarding the rights of the people, because in England every beautiful spot has been swallowed up by private property years and years ago.

The Importance of Vancouver

Next to the National Park panorama is the harbour of Vancouver and emphasizing further Canada's facilities for handling grain by sea. In this picture freight steamers are seen plying their trade, while all around the giant elevators are hard at work. Everyone in England now knows that in 12 years time there is no doubt Canada will raise one billion bushels of wheat, and the point affecting England is that it is safe to say one third of this will go by the Pacific route at a rate of five cents a bushel less than by the present, via Liverpool.

Fruit

At the Eastern end of the Main Corridor is what has been voted the finest exhibition of fruit at Wembley. It represents the various fruits of the Dominion, beautifully displayed on a rich green meadow, with apple orchards in the background. All kinds of Canadian Apples are everywhere, in baskets and clusters, and peaches and other fruit in glass jars. As a consequence the enquiries for Canadian apples have been enormous.

The Prince of Wales

Close by the fruit, is the Dairy Exhibit, but the cynosure of all eyes is the huge glass case 60 feet long in which the Prince of Wales, with his favorite charger, has been modelled in butter, with the buildings of his ranch in the background. Two and a half tons of Canadian butter were used in this work. The Prince has visited the exhibit and at the Dominion Day dinner notified his intention of paying another visit. "I am certainly going there again," he said, "if only to see how I am faring in the hot sun. I want to see if my hat has acquired a dangerous angle or whether myself or my horse is going at the knees."

"There is no better way of recalling happy days in Canada and learning a great deal that is new at the 'most' time, than by visiting the Canadian Pavilion at Wembley."

There is no fear of the butter in the Canadian Pavilion melting from the fact that a first rate Canadian refrigerating plant was brought over and one of the finest refrigerating engineers in Canada is in attendance every minute of the day with his staff of Canadian experts watching every move of the treacherous English weather.

Experimental Farms

A panorama on the opposite side of the Corridor to Vancouver is one that has attracted great attention and in it a Canadian experimental farm is set out in meticulous detail. Everything in connection with farming that experience has brought is shown with speaking clearness, and many intending to go farming in Canada have been given valuable information.

Niagara

Another picture which arrests the eye and at the same time serves as a valuable object lesson is the majestic Falls of Niagara. Canada is second only to Norway in the utilization of water power, but nevertheless only 7 per cent of Canada's available supply has been utilized. A fine example of the use of water-power is given in the panorama of the working model of a Canadian pulp mill.

Making Newspaper

A typical Canadian Pulp Mill. This panoramic exhibit shows a Canadian mill engaged in the manufacture of wood pulp by the grinding process. Prepared logs 12 feet in length are floated down the river from the forest to the boom above the dam, where they are lifted into a small building and cut into 2 feet blocks. The blocks are then placed in a revolving drum where the bark is rubbed off and stored for use as an occasion requires. When wanted the blocks are carried on a conveyor to the mill where, after being cleaned they are held by hydraulic pressure against grindstones, revolved by water power. The pulp is washed from the grinders and freed from knots and other extraneous matter. The fine pulp is then made into sheets which are pressed and baled for shipment.

Canada exports more newspaper than any other country.

Pulp and Paper

In the pulp and paper section is shown the biggest continuous newsprint in the world—12 ft. 2 in. wide and in the same exhibit are many diverse and wonderful products of forestry.

2000 blocks of Douglas Fir 10 feet high and practically 6 feet square.

A segment of Douglas Fir 11 feet in diameter.

A timber 60 feet long, 8 inches wide and 16 inches deep without a flaw. Wood for churches, doors, violins, pianos, aeroplanes, canoes, window sashes, tubs, panelling, moulding soft pine logs, hardwood, porch columns, red cedar, cottonwood and the various distillations from wood.

The British Columbia Manufacturing Co. Ltd., the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers Association, Vancouver, and the British Columbia Woodworking Association, Vancouver, present the wonders of Canadian woods.

The Mineral Section

The Mineral section is situated at the Western end of the Main Corridor, and it is admitted that, in comprehensiveness, arrangement and classification, this exhibit has no equal in the whole of the Empire Exhibition. On the right of the section is the last but not least of the panoramas, showing a realistic picture of the nickel mines in the Sudbury district of Ontario.

Practically the whole of the Canadian output of nickel is obtained from Sudbury, and only a relatively small amount is obtained elsewhere. The Alexo mine, near Porcupine, and from the cobalt district. Canada is responsible for 90 per cent of the output of the Empire, which supplies about four-fifths of the world's requirements.

Samples of nickel-copper ores, and smelter products and manufacturers of nickel and copper are shown in the section, and at Canada is practically the Empire as regards nickel, exhibits are also shown in the British Government Pavilion.

So important is the Canadian mineral exhibit that it would require many newspaper columns to cover a mention of the various minerals and their finished products. Suffice it to say that it has called attention to Canada as one of the greatest mineral producing countries in the world, and that, in addition to leading the Empire in the production of silver, and with coal reserves only exceeded by the United States and China, she has developed mines of nickel, zinc, gold, asbestos, talc, feldspar, mica, graphite, etc. that are among the richest in the Empire.

When the King visited the Pavilion with the King of Italy, he took particular pains to show his guest round every case that was in the mineral section.

The Silver Nugget

Attracting much attention at the entrance to the mineral section is a block of silver ore taken from the Red Lake mine, the mine camp of South Lorrain, Ontario.

Dimensions—3 feet long, 3 feet high, 2 feet wide.

Weight 4402 lbs., with silver at 32.14 per cent, the total value of the silver is estimated at $5,549.28 pounds.

The Fish Exhibit

On either side of the tobacco exhibit which represents the Canadian tobacco industry, are two cases of the various fishes found in Canadian Waters. No. 1 case contains specimens of immense Halibut, Bass, striped Bass, all the members of the cod family, including Tunny Cod and Rock Cod, Sturgeon, Mackeral and Blue Fish.

No. 2 case contains Maskinonge, Pike, Salmon trout, Black Spotted trout, Speckled trout, Dolly Varden or bull trout and ten famous Salmon family—Sockeye, Pink, the Giant Spring Salmon, Coho and Chum.

Round the corner the British Columbia Canned Salmon section, representing the Canadian Manufacturers Association of Vancouver, show all those kinds of Salmon in tins, with a fine specimen each of the Coho Salmon and the Chum showing at the stand.

The Industrial section is eloquent of the remarkable growth of Canada's manufacturing industry. Blankets, hats, shoes, silks, furniture, steel products, castings, motor cars, canoes, the products of the Canadian Miller's Association, foods of all kinds, cold storage, flannels, velour, overcoatings, electric machines, ranges, stoves, agricultural implements, rubber, machinery of all kinds, newspapers and wool—everything in fact that can be manufactured for the use of man.

Poultry

His Majesty the King, was pleased to accept a trio of Canadian Poultry—Barred Plymouth Rocks—which were exhibited at the British Poultry Exhibit. They were three of the 34 Canadian birds which travelled 6,000 miles to take part in the Second World Poultry Congress at Barcelona, and their arrival at Wembley were laying as usual—a fact that speaks volumes for the stamina and constitution of the Canadian stock.

Silver Fox

The Silver Fox pelts which are on view at the Canadian Pavilion are the finest that have ever been seen on Exhibition. The breeding foxes in Canada have now been put upon the same basis as the breeding of any prime bred live stock. Foxes are now registered under the Canadian National Live Stock Act.

Wool—The King's First

Although wool does not figure in Canadian export, there is a fine exhibit at the Canadian Pavilion. When the King came to the wool case there was a ring of pride in his voice when he said to the King of Italy, "This wool was grown on my son's ranch in Alberta, Canada." In addition there is shown a web of grey tweed which was specially manufactured, under the supervision of Dominion Government officials, in Canada, from wool from the same ranch.

The Canadian Authorities are more than satisfied with the Exhibition as a medium of trade. It is a cardinal point with Canada that her entire exhibit is to demonstrate in no uncertain manner the resources and potentialities of the Dominion, and that her sectional stands are not mere tinker's booths for catch-penny trade. Consequently no actual sales take place in the Pavilion. What passes out is given away as samples.

It is too early, therefore, to talk of cash transactions, but as a result of the Exhibition there have been thousands of useful enquiries, not only from the chief cities of Great Britain and the Empire, but from all parts of the World. Negotiations as a consequence are in progress between the Canadian agents and the parties concerned.

Business enquiries with regard to Canadian produce of all kinds (cheese, butter, eggs, preserved milk, canned fruit, etc.); Canadian Labor saving devices in the home; Canadian household goods, furniture, wood turning, Canadian dishes of all kinds and well manufactured parts. In fact, for all Canada's export goods, have come from Amsterdam, Hamburg, Buenos Aires, London, etc.

Another satisfactory point brought out by the exhibition is the recognition of the fact that Canada is being the only Country in the world to stand alone, her live stock guarantee "Canada Approved" guarantee without demerit. Not one egg, and Canadian eggs are sent out on their native quality only—leaves Canada without the Government guarantee. (And another result of the exhibition is that everybody wants to go to Canada.)

OPEN SEASON STARTED MONDAY

Moose Cannot be Legally Killed
Until Oct. 1st—Deer Very Plentiful

The open season for deer hunting in New Brunswick, as well as for ducks, geese and brant, opens on Monday of next week. The open season for moose, partridge and woodcock begins on October 1st.

Partridge is the only game bird under the control of the provincial authorities, the others including woodcock, coming under the migratory birds' convention.

Although the British Empire Exhibition has attracted many Americans and the presidential elections will likely keep many non-resident big game hunters at home, the season gives promise of being a fairly successful one.

Non-resident hunting licenses, which give the privilege of shooting one moose and two deer are issued for $50, while a resident license, which allows the same quantity of game to be killed, costs $25.

Chief Game Warden Gagnon stated today that he expected that at least as many resident game licenses would be sold as was the case last year.

In regard to non-resident licenses he was hopeful that there would be an increase over 1923.

Game Plentiful

Most of the guides have engagements that will keep them busy during the month of October and they are hopeful of getting some business for November.

Deer are reported to be exceedingly plentiful, especially near the settlements, and there has been no falling off in the number of moose.

The open season for partridge was fixed by order in council and will be for the entire month of October with a limited bag.

The dry season has been favorable to the young birds and they are reported to be fairly plentiful. Ducks are reported to be very numerous along the river, particularly in the County of Sunbury and Queens.

USES SMALL SEED GETS LARGE CROP

James Baxter, Westfield, Advocates Planting of Whole Potatoes Far Apart

St. John Telegraph: James Baxter, a farmer of Long Reach, Westfield, has a method of potato planting that is said to be greatly different from the one generally followed. He claims that his crop is better and larger than does the generally accepted method.

He is a great advocate of "round seed" planting, or placing whole, small potatoes in the ground instead of the more usual plan of cutting the seed into three, four, or more pieces. He said recently that he had been highly successful with his crops for the last 25 years and that he had planted the whole potatoes during all that time.

He also recommends giving the roots plenty of space to spread out, saying that he plants his seed 30 to 36 inches apart instead of the customary 11 to 12 inches. All these ideas are the results of experience in growing potatoes gathered during many years spent in the business.

Mr. Baxter said he had formerly sold potatoes direct to customers in the city and that he had numbered among these many of the best families of the district. He was still planting the same kind of seed in the same soil as he had 25 years ago.

"By planting small potatoes and putting them a long distance apart," he said, he was averaging a peck yield from four of the seed. In one case he had 27 table-sized potatoes from one small tuber weighing only an ounce. He had weighed one seed and found it to be an even crop then weighed the yield and discovered that he had 80 ounces of potatoes.

This year he had weighed out a pound of seed containing 88 small tubers and had planted according to his own method, with the result that he dug up 124 pounds of good sized potatoes this fall. This summer he only planted two barrels and two bushels of seed and had a yield of 156 bushels in the fall.

He had been laughed at years ago when he suggested the planting of small, whole potatoes while at a meeting of growers, he said, but he thought that the results he gained should speak for themselves and prevent any such reception of his idea in the future.

MUTILATED BODY OF GIRL FOUND

Remains Discovered on College Grounds Identified by Jewellery

Kingston, N. B., Sept. 15.—The mutilated body of a young girl, identified by the discovery of a ring and other pieces of jewellery on her hand, was found on the grounds of the college in Kingston, N. B., on Monday. The girl, who had been missing from her home since August 12, was found today on the St. Joseph's College ground near Lake Umbagog.

There was a bullet wound in the left temple of the girl's head, and this is believed by detectives to have caused her death.

Identification of the girl was made through records of clothing about the body and jewellery on her hand. Detectives said the body was badly decomposed, and they believed the girl had been dead since shortly after her disappearance.

The body was found by the caretaker of the college in a clump of bushes about 100 yards from the main building. It was removed to Hubbard's morgue, New Brunswick, where an autopsy was to be performed later today.

N. B. MANUFACTURERS WHO BELIEVE PROTECTION IS OVERDONE IN DOMINION

Mr. A. McLean of Bathurst Writes Interesting Letter on a Very Important Question in the Maritime Provinces.

(Telegraph-Journal) The chief difficulty facing the Maritime Provinces is the high cost of production brought about by too much protection on Canadian-made goods. This is the idea expressed by Angus McLean, of the Bathurst Company, Ltd., in a letter to the secretary of the Maritime Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, replying to a circular sent out by the association prior to the recent unemployment conference in Ottawa.

Mr. McLean says he finds that almost invariably the Canadian manufacturers charge the Canadian consumer the foreign price plus the protection they enjoy under the tariff.

The text of the letter from Mr. McLean is as follows:

In connection with the Unemployment Conference which is to be convened in Ottawa early this fall, I have received a letter from our head office stating that our association has been requested to send four delegates to the conference.

In preparation for this I have been asked to get some figures showing the effect of inadequate tariff and tariff reductions on industry in general throughout the Maritime Provinces—the idea being to show that importations on certain lines amounted to such and such, and such and such a proportion of goods could have been made in Canada and that if they had been made in Canada, work would have been provided for such and such a number of employees.

If your industry is being detrimentally affected by the present tariff regulations, will you kindly give me any information you can which will assist in the preparation of material for the use of our delegates at the Unemployment Conference.

What we have here is a very little unemployment in our locality. Fortunately the basic industries of New Brunswick, and in fact of the whole Maritime Provinces, are not dependent on a tariff for existence and are making a splendid fight to overcome the many handicaps they are working under. I have no doubt that they will succeed. The principal difficulty we have to face is the high cost of production brought about by too much tariff protection on Canadian-made goods.

We find that almost invariably the Canadian manufacturer charges the Canadian consumer the foreign price plus the protection they enjoy under the tariff. Until the Canadian manufacturer is brought to realize that this is taxing the consumer in the most unfair way and changes his ways we are going to have to struggle and work hard to carry on business in the Maritime Provinces. Our chief products are from the farms, forests, mines and seas and we must find a market for these products outside Canada.

What we must have to become prosperous is an opportunity to buy our requirements cheaper than we can now under our present Canadian tariff and then we need broad markets for the things we produce. We cannot get this broader market in Canada for two reasons. First, owing to our geographical position we cannot reach the Canadian markets where the chief consumption takes place, as our railway freight rates are too high, and secondly, every part of Canada produces goods similar to our own and is also looking for a market for them.

As already stated we must find our markets outside Canada and it is up to the people of the Maritime Provinces to speak up and demand a lower tariff on what we have to buy in exchange for a lower tariff on goods we have to sell from the countries.

What we should do is to use pressure upon our Federal Government, showing the necessity of securing advantageous reciprocal trade arrangements between Canada and every country in the world that will buy our goods.

The Canadian manufacturer who makes goods for the Canadian trade should stand on his own legs now and he should be able to do so if ever he will. There is absolutely no danger of the Canadian consumer buying foreign-made goods if he can buy the home-made article as cheaply and as good.

ASKS BOY TO CHOP HEAD OFF

Sister Lays Head on Block While Brother Plays Executioner

Lafayette, La., Sept. 15.—Lying on her back in a sanatorium here, Anastasia Boudreaux, 18 years old, wept yesterday and declared she "didn't know why" when pressed for an explanation of her command to her little brother to chop off her head.

"Just naturally tired of living," was declared by informants to have been the cause of it all. According to them—Anastasia does not want to discuss it—she and her five year old brother were left at home alone.

This seemed to the life-sick girl, to be the opportune moment to end it all, so calling her young brother from play, she directed him to chop her head off.

The little boy demurred, but Anastasia was insistent and placed her head on the chopping block. The child obeyed and began his feeble hackings on his sister's neck.

Perhaps his strength was slight or his eyes misty, but anyway he brought the axe down on the throat on the chopping block only three times.

Anastasia fainted, and the small executioner ran crying from the house.

Anastasia was rushed to the hospital, but physicians held out no hopes for her recovery.

CHARGES FOREIGN RUM CONSPIRACY

New York Dry Leader Alleges Attempt to Influence U. S. Elections

New York, Sept. 16.—Arthur J. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, in a statement issued yesterday charged foreign liquor interests with having formed a conspiracy to influence coming American presidential elections.

The plot, Mr. Davis asserted, is centered in the United States at present but the conspirators are active also in England, Sweden and Canada.

A special agent of the interests, according to the dry leader, is in this country for the purpose of influencing Americans to make changes in the prohibition laws favorable to the foreign liquor producers.

Mr. Davis said the plot may be traced to a French group known as the Exportation Commission of French Wines.

YOUNG PARIS GIRL AVENGES MOTHER

Stabbed Stepfather with Kitchen Knife for Ill-Treating Mother

Paris, Sept. 15.—Sobbing bitterly, a pretty fair-haired girl of 17, Yvonne Raynal, presented herself before the police commissary at one of the Montmartre districts saying: "I have just killed my stepfather with a kitchen knife because he continually ill-treated my mother."

The girl then related the circumstances. It appears that about two and a half years ago Mme. Raynal, whose husband had been killed during the war, married M. Vandezande. The couple occupied a little bar in Montmartre district, in which Yvonne helped.

The husband, it is alleged, had a violent temper, and scenes were frequent in the bar. M. Vandezande is also alleged to have made unwelcome advances to his stepdaughter.

Recently a more violent quarrel than usual broke out between M. and Mme. Vandezande. The girl said that the man, after threatening her with a chair, threw an alarm clock at her, cutting her head.

He then went out. The girl, after taking her mother to a hospital, returned home. Before going to bed she picked up a large kitchen knife and put it under her pillow to defend herself in case her stepfather tried to assault her.

Vandezande returned and asked Yvonne where her mother was. The girl answered that she was in hospital, whereupon the man declared: "I shall manage to get her out and then we shall see."

Yvonne brooded over the incident all night. In the morning she took the knife from under her pillow, and entering the room where her stepfather was asleep, she plunged the weapon into his heart.

The man struggled up and tried to run after the girl, but he had hardly reached the landing when he fell downstairs.

Yvonne fled from the scene and was arrested by the police.

A COMMON SENSE VIEW

Attention is called to a letter in another column from Mr. Angus McLean, Manager of the Bataurst Company, Limited, in reply to a circular sent out by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on the question of unemployment. Mr. McLean delivers a solar plexus blow straight from the shoulder to the advocates of a tariff of the Hama's galloway type who appear to dominate the affairs of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in other words he seems to have known a bombshell into their ranks. The case for New Brunswick is put in a nutshell by Mr. McLean when he says:

"Fortunately the basic industries of New Brunswick, and in fact of the whole Maritime Provinces, are not dependent on a tariff for existence and are making a splendid fight to overcome the many handicaps they are working under. I have no doubt that they will succeed. The principal difficulty we have to face is the high cost of production brought about by too much tariff protection on Canadian made goods."

With respect to the Canadian manufacturer Mr. McLean says:

"The Canadian manufacturer who makes goods for the Canadian trade should stand on his own legs now and he should be able to do so if ever he will. There is absolutely no danger of the Canadian consumer buying foreign made goods if he can buy the home made article as cheaply and as good."

In commenting on Mr. McLean's statement the St. John Globe, an independent paper which always takes a sensible view on tariff matters, expresses public sentiment pretty well in this province when he says:

"Mr. McLean has put into a few forcible sentences the thought upmost in the minds of most people who some time or other throughout the year have brought home to them a realization of the very heavy price exacted for Canadian manufactured goods, in comparison with prices asked in countries producing similar goods. He has also emphasized most emphatically the relation of the Maritimes to industrial development. Nobody in these provinces who thinks seriously can be satisfied with the progress of the years. Eloquently as the protectionist may argue he cannot convince even himself that Maritime development has met expectations or is likely to meet expectations in the future. A new hope has been kindled by the prospect of industrial development following in the wake of the harnessing of our water powers but as Mr. McLean points out our chief products are the farm, the forest, the mines and the sea, and for the marketing of these we must have trade encouraging arrangements with the buying world. Mr. McLean has given the politicians, the manufacturers and the electors of Canada something to think about. What a pity it is that the Acting Minister of Finance did not have a copy of his letter in his hands when the small politicians at the unemployment conference were doing their tariff sniping for party purposes. It would have added a new interest to the discussion, but it still stands for all Canada to ponder seriously."

Canadian manufacturers have enjoyed the benefit of protection for nearly half a century, and as Mr. McLean truly says, it is about time now that they were in a position to stand on their own legs. The industries with which Mr. McLean is connected are not of the paper sort, but have to depend on world markets for their prosperity. It is very important in the interests of the great basic industries of New Brunswick that the cost of production should be cheapened as much as possible that outside competition may be met and overcome. This is the policy adopted by the Government of Right Hon. MacKenzie King which last week was heartily endorsed by the electors of the industrial constituency of St. Antoine and by those of the rural constituency of Rimouski, and which we have no doubt will next month be approved by the electors of Northumberland-Mail.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

In view of its objective the meeting to be held here next Thursday afternoon when the New Brunswick Tuberculosis Association, a society for the prevention of tuberculosis will be organized, is obviously one of vital importance to every citizen. In recent years very progressive strides have been made in public health work in this province. Good work has been done through the Red Cross Society and Public Health Nurse in Campbellton and interest has grown steadily if slowly. The organization of a provincial society for the prevention of tuberculosis is a most progressive move in this splendid work and while new to those unfamiliar with health work it is a vital part of the program of the Public Health Department, the need of which is clearly realized by all who are in a position to estimate its value. New Brunswick is now practically the only province in Canada which is not organized for the prevention of tuberculosis and it is earnestly hoped that next Thursday's meeting will be a success and that the work in this province may be started auspiciously and that hearty co-operation will be forthcoming from all sides. It should be remembered that this is a province-wide movement, a provincial association and Campbellton is expected to contribute her active support and co-operate with other towns and cities of the province. While it may be unfortunate that the meeting must be held in the afternoon there should be no reason why a large number should not attend. If all come who can get away from their work for a few hours and the golf links are forgotten for that afternoon the meeting will prove a gratifying success.

A LETTER OUTLOOK

The wheat growers of the United States, says the New York Herald-Tribune, are safe for this year. There is a total indicated yield of 2,000,000 bushels, compared with a 700,000,000 bushels estimate in June, and wheat remains above $1.20. Prices, the Herald-Tribune says, are firm.

What is true of the United States growers is true of those in Canada. With firm prices the crop is large enough to yield an enormous amount of money, which will help to pay off old mortgages and create a demand for manufactured produce which will stimulate eastern business. The railways will also profit by an enlarged movement of freight, and there will be fewer idle cars and train crews.

It is well to keep the facts before the people at large, to counteract any degree of doubt about the soundness of the business situation and outlook. Canada is moving toward better times and the 1924 crops will be a very important factor in putting more money in circulation.

In New Brunswick the position of the farmers is generally satisfactory this year, and that means much to the business houses of cities and towns. It also appears that logging operations in the woods may not be as restricted as was feared, although there is clearly no inducement for such extensive cutting as that of last winter. The fisheries have been very successful this year, and while there will be some unemployment to reckon with during the winter season, that is an annual problem. The whole situation is such as to inspire confidence after this doubt regarding the favorable outlook in this province.

THE LIBERAL CHOICE

Since the elevation of Mr. A. T. LeBlanc to the supreme court, Judge-ship there has been considerable speculation among supporters of the local administration as well as those in opposition, as to who will be the choice of the convention which at some time in the future will be called for the purpose of naming a successor to Mr. LeBlanc.

The Graphic has talked the matter over with many supporters of our present government and many who are not supporters.

Without exception the man favored has been Hon. C. H. LeBlanc of Dalhousie.

In years gone by Mr. LeBlanc has proved his strength, and we feel sure that should he be the choice this county will be safe for the government in the next election.

WHY NOT RESTIGOUCHE?

Restigouche, one of the greatest revenue producing counties in this province, has never had one of her sons appointed as a senator for this province. When the claims of other counties and men are being pushed, let this be remembered.

Of course up here in Northern New Brunswick, so near the Quebec border, we are apt to be forgotten and it is necessary to make more noise to get results than those nearer the centre of the political fireside, which is said to be located somewhere near St. John.

Perhaps if we could all agree upon a man for the position, and then shout long and loud enough we might reach the ears of the mighty chiefs who sit about that fireside.

Or does it take an "antie" to get into the game?

LET US ACT

At a recent Sunday morning service at Wesley Methodist Church, Rev. Wm. Godfrey made a strong plea that some means of healthful recreation be provided for our young people of Campbellton. He suggested a community hall with all modern facilities. Is this suggestion which aroused considerable favorable comment, to be allowed to go by without some action being taken? Campbellton surely has some one progressive enough to take the lead in this matter. If a start is made we feel confident the citizens will get behind and help push it along to success.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

Of what a Halifax man who made a complete circuit of the province thinks of New Brunswick roads the Maritime Merchant says: "His verdict is that New Brunswick has excellent roads. The work they have done on their highway is showing splendid results, he says, and one can now travel practically everywhere in the province

MANY CANADIAN CITIZENS ARE NOW RETURNING FROM THE U. S.

The Authorities at Woodstock, Ont., Report That Many Houses Vacant in the Early Part of the Year Are Once More Occupied

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 12.—The return of many citizens of Woodstock who went to the United States within the year, is indicated by the report of the city assessor on the number of vacant houses in the city. When he made his rounds in the early part of the summer he reported that the number of vacant houses was the largest he had found in the city for years. To-day he completed a second round of the same houses and reported that the majority of them had again been filled up, the reason being that many families which had been in the United States and Windsor in the early part of the summer had returned to the city.

$800 LOSS IN TUESDAY'S FIRE

Blaze Broke Out in Dwelling of Mrs. D. A. Sullivan Early Tuesday Morning

Fire which broke out in the dwelling of Mrs. David A. Sullivan at the corner of Leandowne Street and Gerrard Lane at 2:15 Tuesday morning occasioned a loss of about $800. The blaze appeared dangerous for a time but the fire brigade, promptly responding to the alarm quickly got the fire under control. One wall of the building was burned through and one bedroom gutted.

The loss was covered by $2200 insurance, $1800 on the dwelling and $800 on the furniture. The cause of the blaze is unknown but it is thought that it may have originated from a pipe leading from the kitchen stove.

After the ceremony a quiet supper was served at the bride's home, and the bridesmaids and the groom's friends attended.

Many presents have been received by the young married couple.

SQUELCHED

Public opinion was so aroused by the action of Coun. W. S. Montgomery of Dalhousie, who succeeded in the very last minute of the session of the semi-annual session of the Restigouche Municipal Council held on the second of July, to crowd through a resolution authorizing the erection of a new court house that we understand the Warden and a majority of the Finance Committee have decided that nothing shall be done in this matter until it is fully dealt with at the January session of the Council.

RELIGIOUS PROFESSION
At the Hotel Dieu Hospital yesterday morning Miss Marie LeBlanc, second daughter of Mr. Peter J. LeBlanc of Gascons, P. Q., made her profession and took the habit of the Religious Hospitaliers of St. Joseph. She is the second daughter of Mr. LeBlanc to take her vows within the year, her sister Bernice having entered the same order in the month of December last. The new sister will be known in Religion as Sister Jeanne Mance. Rev. Father Lantier was delegated by His Lordship Bishop Chas. to perform the ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. James LeBlanc, brother of Miss LeBlanc, and the sermon was preached by Father Legacy, Parish Priest of Balmoral.

The father and mother of the new Sister were present as well as her aunt, Miss Nan Des of Duluth, and many relatives and friends.

STORY JUST OUT
A year ago Mr. Fred Kerr who lives during the summer season at his country place, Maple Green, missed several of his fine cabbage and other vegetables from his garden. He arranged several phosphorus traps to nip the thieves and the night they were set out brought results. These traps are used to protect poultry houses, and in the large poultry districts of California, where thieves used to always be feared are now no longer troubled from this class of gentry as they have a wholesome dread of these deadly protectors. The burns they inflict even through gloved hands are too much for the poultry thieves and so it was into these traps that Mr. Kerr's garden thieves stumbled. The results were only divulged a few days ago when an out of town doctor informed Mr. Kerr that he had a badly burned patient to care for and it took several weeks of rest and care to get him back into condition. Mr. Kerr has some fine poultry on his farm but he is not worried that he will be troubled from sneak thieves. His silent policeman is a sure and safe servant and a prick from those horrible little protectors is sufficient to stop the boldest prowler.

YOUNG-ADAMS COMPANY COMING

Maritime's Most Popular Road
Show To Play Here Next Week

Campbellton theatre-goers, and particularly those who prefer the spoken word drama etc., will no doubt be glad to hear that the popular Young Adams Company will open a three day engagement at the Opera House commencing next Thursday September 25. With a carload of scenery fresh from the Studios, a lot of novel effects and a splendid repertoire of all new, bright and clean, shows these people have only but recently started out on their regular fall and winter tour. "Better than ever" is the promise of Mr. Young who writes most enthusiastically regarding his line-up for this season.

New talent has been engaged to help handle the particularly fine bill of plays which the Company have procured, at big expense, for the season's run and the vaudeville members which have always been a strong feature on their program are all new and sprightly.

As usual Mr. Young carries his own orchestra and this attractive contributor to an all round good show has also received strengthening attention.

All in all the Young-Adams Company are out to set the pace this year and it certainly looks as though they have the goods to do it with.

The opening play in Campbellton will be "Thumbs Down" and reserved seats will be on sale at the Box Office for this, as well as the other bills, starting Wednesday Sept. 24th. Mail orders with remittance enclosed will be received now and reservation made in order of their receipt. The reserved seat price is 75c. Any seat in the house plus the usual government Amusement tax of 5c. Intending patrons would do well to procure their reservation as early as possible as it will be remembered that this Company had a record-breaking engagement here last year. With a thoroughly rejuvenated show it is altogether likely that the S. R. O. Sign (standing room only) will be greatly overworked next year.

OBITUARY

The Late Charles Maisey
In the death of Saturday night Campbellton sustained the loss of another old and respected citizen. The late Mr. Maisey was born in LeBlanc, Lower, Gloucester, England in 1848 and came to Canada in 1881. The following year he became coal contractor for what was at that time the Intercolonial Railway, a position he occupied for some twenty-eight years. The deceased was a resident of Campbellton for the past forty-three years.

The late Mr. Maisey's wife whose maiden name was Elizabeth Rose, preceded him about six years ago.

The deceased's death came as a climax to a potential period of ill health due to internal trouble and extending over a number of years, he never having fully recovered from an operation which he underwent about eight years ago.

Besides his son, Hubert, C. N. R. engineer, with whom he resided, he is survived by one brother and one sister residing elsewhere. He was an adherent of the Methodist Church and an honorary member of the Oddfellow and Orange Lodges. Owing to the nature of his ailment, funeral and the funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, under Oddfellow auspices, Rev. Mr. Godfrey conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were John Giller, James Duncan, Malcolm Pratt, James Sargeant, James Thompson and Harry McLennan.

A particularly sad feature of the late Mr. Maisey's death was the fact that his little grand-daughter, the five months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Maisey, died on Friday, the 12th inst., and the remains of the little one were conveyed to their last resting place along with those of the grandfather.

Among the many floral tributes to both may be mentioned—Oddfellows, a wreath; Mr. and Mrs. John Giller, wreath and spray; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steeves, wreath and spray; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Baird, wreath; the family, a wreath; Mrs. H. Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Armstrong and Miss V. Steeves, sprays.

Mr. and Mrs. Maisey have the sympathy of their many friends in their double bereavement.

Geo. Hugh Allison Duncan
With deep regret, we record the death of George Hugh Allison, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Duncan, Roseberry St. West, at the age of 2 months and 11 days.

Dadling George was taken suddenly ill about a month ago, and with all that loving hands and skillful nursing could do he passed away on Thursday morning Sept. 11th. The funeral service held at St. John's was conducted by Rev. Mr. Godfrey.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved parents in their loss of their little one. The floral tributes were wreaths, Mother and Father, Miss Libby Duncan. Sprays—Mrs. D. C. Duncan, Mrs.

FOR JOY OF GOOD HEALTH

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back ached so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter and I hope some one will be helped by it."—Mrs. Jos. E. Kidd, Box 56, Crandall, Manitoba. C

EVERY WEEK

PERSONALS

Mrs. Wm. McKean, Halifax, N. S. spent the week-end at her home "The Birches" Dalhousie, the guest of her two sisters, Mrs. Fullerton and Miss Gert Barberie. She was on her return from Toronto, where accompanied by her husband, they took in the Exhibition, and speaking with our correspondent, Mrs. McKean said that it was astonishing to see the articles that are manufactured in our own country, and that the attendance from all parts of Canada was tremendous.

Miss Nan O'Connell, Campbellton, spent the week-end in Dalhousie, the guest of Miss Agnes Barberie. Mr. J. F. Roy is replacing Mr. Edgar J. Melanson at the Provincial Bank, who is on his wedding tour. Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hamilton and children were visitors to Dalhousie on Saturday.

The Misses MacKenzie, Upper Charlo, were visitors in town on Saturday. Miss Mary Blanchard, a successful nurse in New York, is spending a few days at her old home in Dalhousie, the guest of her parents, Sheriff and Mrs. S. Blanchard.

NEW PARISHES ON GASPE COAST

Two New Parishes Established Quite Recently—Fine Farms Opened Up

A very important event took place during the last week in August, which was reported at great length to the Quebec press and that was the blessing of a Bell for the Chapel-School of St. Elzear, in the County of Bonaventure, P. Q. In the great parts of the province the opening of a new parish is not considered of ordinary importance; but in Gaspesia, where the pioneers of the place and their descendants till recently, made a point to live near the Bay or Gulf, the inauguration of a new parish in the interior, enters in the domain of history.

Two new parishes have been established during recent months, one in the Perce district, County of Gaspesia, where a fine plot of level land was discovered, and with the soil adapted to the growth of wheat and barley, Rev. Father Poirier, parish priest of Cape Despair, undertook successfully the foundation of a new parish.

Behind the parish of St. Bonaventure, of which he was the priest, Mgr. Elzear Matte, P. A. V. G., during a trip he made to visit a sick parishioner, remarked a fine piece of ground extremely favorable for cultivation, and there and then he decided to establish his flock.

The missionary of the diocese made a trip to this section in August, 1923 and in the forest planted a cross. The inauguration of the new parish, which was the beginning of the new colony. The blessing of the Bell for the new parish of St. Elzear, was held in the church at Bonaventure, on Sunday afternoon, August 24th. A large number of people attended the ceremony from all parts. In the front pews were present Hon. Charles Marcell, M. P. Henry, Mayor, Dr. Desjardins, Dr. Houde, A. Desjardins, I. C. parish priests of the neighboring parishes to the number of ten assisted in the choir. ## NEW HOMES ARE BEING ERECTED

Some Evidences of Progress Shown in Shiretown—Lots Being Leased

Building operations have been practically at a stand still since the war started in 1914. The summer of 1924, ten years after Canadian troops began to rally to the call of the empire, a returned soldier in the person of Mr. H. N. Travers, a native of Bonaventure Co. P. Q. built a very pretty bungalow on the corner of Adelaide and Renfrew Streets, exactly opposite another fine bungalow built recently on the opposite corner by another young Dalhousie man, who rendered splendid service overseas, Mr. Andrew Wallace. The progressive action of the two returned men, seems to have encouraged others to cast their lot in the shiretown, which cannot be surpassed as a residential town with its wide streets, good water and lighting systems, a most healthy town and splendid market. It is encouraging to see our working population putting up nice little homes, showing that they have confidence in the future of Dalhousie, and why should it be otherwise with our great harbor, our four mills and others to come, our three large fishing concerns, and the prospects of the town being before long one of Canada's greatest summer resorts. Several new houses in addition to the above are under way, and many homes and stores are being improved this summer, and several lots have been leased for future building.

MARITIMES HAVE LOW CRIME RECORD

So Says Chief Page of C. N. R. Investigation Department in Chatham Recently.

(Chatham Gazette)
A visitor to Chatham recently was Herbert J. Page, chief of the investigation department of the C. N. R. Mr. Page came in his private car attached to the morning express and spent the greater part of the day here. In reply to a question from a representative of The Gazette, he stated that his visit was being made while on tour of the whole system and there was nothing of much publicity value that he could touch on locally.
He wished to say however that crime in connection with the railway was less per ton mile in the Maritime Provinces than any other section of the whole vast railway, which stretches from ocean to ocean and had its ramifications throughout the length and breadth of the Canadian continent. As a Maritimer himself, born in St. John in the old Barracks in the days when these were occupied by soldiers of Imperial regiments, he was proud to be able to state that this was a proven fact. More-over crime even here is on the decrease along the railway and the showing is improving each year. They have a fine body of men on the C. P. R. and they take a pride in their railway and their work and he declared that the general sobriety of the whole gigantic force that made up the C. N. R.'s 100,000 army of employees was really wonderful. He was in the department that dealt with these matters and this statement was a true one.

"What is a 'wooden wedding,' Jack? Do you know?" Mary said.
"Of course!" her brother replied. "It's poles getting wed."

Of Interest to Women

The Salad Plate Luncheon

The salad plate-luncheon is rather a new idea and one well worthy the housewife's serious consideration. Heavy luncheons are not always appreciated and are a lot of extra work, which makes having guests a matter of painful endeavor, instead of the pleasure it should be.

First, a cold clam broth or a jelly tomato or chicken broth, on an ice-dressed lettuce, and a half-dozen little rosy radishes. Then plates of bread and butter sandwiches, cut thin, olives, sweet pickles, tea or tea punch, and the salad plates should follow. Each plate may contain five salad mixtures served on lettuce leaves, and in the centre, in a lettuce-cup, a half-dozen little rosy radishes.

One salad may be fish mixture, one a potato salad, one chicken or sweet-bread salad, one asparagus or mixed vegetables and the fifth may be a jelly salad. These salad plates may be followed by an old-fashioned strawberry shortcake. All of the salads should be prepared in the morning early, in bowls which may be placed in the ice-box until needed. Only the dressings have to be added. The shortcake may also be made and set aside. Lettuce and relishes washed and set to chill can be made ready in a minute. The buttered sandwiches should be made, covered with a damp, linen cloth and placed in a cool place until it is time to serve them.

The table should be simply laid with Chinese vases, painted old-fashioned unbleached linen or other dollys quite as simple. Decorations may be of available flowers of the sweet, pickable kind which are never too gay in color to be inharmonious when prettily combined. This sort of luncheon is especially suitable for your woman's club, graduation classes, the card-club farewell of the season or just for a social affair.

The very daintiness of the luncheon appeals to women and it is quite hearty enough for the mid-day meal as each salad is dressed with a suitable dressing, is rich and substantial. If liked, the sandwiches can be made of whole wheat and white slices together, or of gluten and white bread. Some prefer Boston brown bread lightly spread with cream cheese, but plain bread and butter is more suitable for the mixed salads.

In making vegetable salads it is better to use vegetables that have been cooked at home rather than canned or macedoine mixtures. Cook those grown above ground in fast-boiling water, uncovered to keep their color, cooking them tender but not soft. Those grown underground should be cooked well covered, in enough fast-boiling water to cover them, with a little salt added.

In making fish salads, freshly-boiled, home-cooked fish makes a lighter and daintier salad than the canned fish, the texture of which is made firmer and more solid by the canning process. The chicken should be boiled the day before. The white meat may be used for the salad, while the dark meat may be creamed for family use. Skin, bones and trimmings should be thrown into the water the chickens were boiled in to make a good strong bouillon, or into the regular soup-stock pot.

The jelly salad may be made with jelly foundation and may be poured over deviled eggs that are highly seasoned and placed in a cup mould to be jellied. In making the potato salad, if the onion is grated the salad will be more delicate. A pleasing addition is a seeded cucumber diced or minced fine, which gives a very pleasant flavor with the right dressing. This may be a boiled dressing or a mayonnaise made with the addition of one stiffly-beaten egg white and a little heavy cream, no mustard being used.

Another salad that may be used is made of about a quarter of a pound of calf's liver, boiled and finely minced, blended with cream cheese, onion juice, pepper, salt, a tiny bit of sugar to remove the raw flavor of the onion and enough well-seasoned mayonnaise to make a paste, so that small balls can be made of the mixture. Four or five of the balls placed on a lettuce leaf are sufficient as they are very rich and flavorful. In making the shortcake use the biscuit dough and save enough of the juice to add a cupful of light sugar syrup in order to provide extra juice in serving.

Solving the Problem of Gifts for Invalids

Illness seems to draw out the fine, kindly qualities of neighbors and friends. They are immediately actuated by a desire to do something, to send something, to cook something for the afflicted one that will lighten the housewife's task. It is regrettable that the effort is so frequently wasted on things that are totally unsuited to the occasion. If the energies of good friends were directed into the right channels their help would be valuable and as useful as their kind thoughts wish it to be.

As long as friends confine their attention to flowers, news books or magazines, a little choice fruit, and not too insistent inquiries at the door, all is well. But when masterpieces of fancy cookery begin to arrive, things one would eat sparingly of in perfect health, then it is that trouble begins.

Common sense would tell many of us if we would stop to think that these things cannot be eaten by an invalid, therefore must either be eaten up by the well members of the family, or thrown away.

Reform, ye well sisters! Cast your eye over this list of things that would be welcome in almost any household where there is an invalid: First, consider the illness and after classifying it think what the family needs may be. If the housewife has to care for the family and the cooking as usual besides sharing the care of the invalid, there are many things to send which will lighten her burdens. A rice pudding, a pound cake, a simple well-made salad, a loaf of fresh bread or pan of biscuits, rusks or brown bread, a pan of baked beans, a saucepan of freshly-made spaghetti, or a pair of flavored hot soup—any of these things will help out the family dinner and save the woman's effort in cooking for the well ones. These things are easy to make and are inexpensive but helpful and they taste especially good to the workers because they have not had to stop to cook them.

Fresh eggs are always welcome, especially if they are rather difficult to get. Rich milk, or pure cream, is welcome when the days of convalescence come, or some fresh oysters in the shell, or a pair of sweet-breads, or a fresh squab, or a prime broiler. But avoid jellied or whipped-cream dainties, pastries or pies as you would any other class of trouble makers.

If the weather happens to be cool, or cold, a soft, fine extra blanket is a welcome gift, for one rarely has too many of such comforts. Again, a soft little down or feather pillow may prove a comfort. A pretty bed jacket of simple make, French flannel, ribbon-bound, loose and easy to get on and off, fills a need. Do not send a fancy thing all lace and ribbons, for when the invalid gets to that stage of appreciation she usually prefers to make her own selection. A pair of white worsted bed-socks made to draw on like a stocking, without soles, made of lightweight worsted, are a comfort. A waterless hot water-bag is among the new sick-room conveniences, and it has many advantages over the old kind, for it retains its heat during many hours and does not get "frog-like" in bed.

Drinking ducts, deep-bowled spoons, covers for medicine tumblers, attractive night lights, a wooden tray with folding legs, a hot water dish that keeps the food warm for a slow ester, a toast plate with a cover, a pint vacuum bottle, a small enamel double boiler, a tiny white saucepan for heating milk or broth—any of these things makes an acceptable gift and often fills a real need.

Our European Trip

A Brief Account of our Pleasant Experiences with The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Party on our Trip abroad
By H. B. ANSLOW

Paris, June 27th, 1924.
At nine o'clock sharp we are again on our way by motor buses, through Paris on our way to Versailles.

It is again a beautiful morning, one of the really warm days we have enjoyed during our trip. Versailles is about ten miles out from Paris, and in motoring out we passed many places of historic note.

We were driven to the Palace known as the Grand Trianon and the Petit Trianon and shown through them.

We saw the rooms that formed the suites of Napoleon I and the apartments of the Empress, at which the Empress and the Emperor, the furniture and the fittings all being here.

These with the original furniture and many pieces of antiques are all very carefully preserved, and hundreds of tourists pay a small fee and are allowed to view them. Here also we saw many priceless paintings.

We were also taken to the ancient coach house where are stored the many state coaches used by the French Kings and Emperors. The guided coach used by Napoleon Bonaparte is there in all its beauty.

We enjoyed a walk through the extensive grounds adjoining the palace, and visited the ancient Villa, the King's Hill and many other interesting features. Here large ponds swarmed with fish which came into the shallow water to be fed by the tourists.

The water lilies were in bloom and were wonderful. On returning some of our friends strayed from the main party and were lost in the spacious grounds, until an attendant led them to the gardens. These grounds contain several hundred acres, and are beautifully wooded.

The gardens surrounding the palace contained many wonderful flowers and shrubs. Roses in great variety abounded—hundreds of them trimmed up about five feet high, having a stem an inch or more in diameter like a small tree, with a crown of leaves with clusters of roses. A beautiful lake is to be seen at the left with ornamental approaches.

Lunch was served on the park style about five hundred feet long, the roof supported by beautiful columns on both sides which gave a welcome shade, for the day was very warm. It was a most sumptuous meal, and we received special honors as this was the first and only time that a social function and luncheon were given at this place.

The mayor of the city of Versailles presided. In his speech he told us he was born in the place where Jacques Cartier, the discoverer of Canada, first saw the light of day and that on this anniversary Jacques Cartier presented the two Indians he brought back from Canada with him, consequently it was fitting that we, the later natives of that great Dominion should be shown a like honor.

At the close of the banquet a French actress who succeeded Sara Bernhardt, after some persuasion made a speech, in which she eulogized Canada, which she had visited quite recently. The lights occupied at this time were almost two and a half hours.

After lunch we were immediately driven to The Palace and were shown through. Unfortunately our time was very limited and we could not do justice to the many interesting things to be seen.

Here among other places we visited the Hall of Mirrors where the Peace Treaty was signed, and saw also the table upon which this historic document lay when it received the signatures.

Here also we saw hundreds of art treasures, in paintings, tapestries and antiques of various kinds, some of which are priceless. Besides our party there were hundreds of tourists in the palace and about the grounds.

As we had a very important function on for the evening, when Marshal Foch was to welcome us to France at a dinner, we were obliged to leave for the hotel rather earlier than we would have wished, in fact we would have enjoyed a day or two to look around.

At 8.30 we went to the beautiful quarters of the Interallied Union Club where we were to be the guests of La Benvenue Française, a national club much after the style of our Canadian Club.

The special attraction was the presence of Marshal Foch, who was Commander-in-Chief of all the forces during the last part of the war. M. Benast represented the French Government. Many representative men of France were also present, also many French ladies who were noted for pleasing and vivacious manner. After the ten course dinner Marshal Foch made a most pleasing reference in his speech of welcome to the valor and earnestness of the Canadian troops who fought so valiantly in every engagement, including Passchendaele, Vimy and many others—the first to be tested by the horrible and deadly chlorine gas and who stood out against it and held their ground.

It was a great pleasure to cheer time and again the grand old General. After the banquet there was an hour of pleasant social intercourse in the garden, the General passing here and there through the crowd conversing freely with all that he met. About 11 o'clock there were indications of a coming thunder storm and the party quickly dispersed, hundreds of taxis being available. The rain was not heavy and no one suffered from the first touch of moisture we had encountered since we sailed from Montreal.

One of the features of this dinner was an interpreter, who took the speeches down and as soon as they were completed, read the English and French interpretation which ever it happened to be. A number of flashlight pictures were also taken, these appearing in the French and indeed in some Canadian journals.

Saturday was spent in different ways sightseeing, shopping, etc. A visit to a newspaper office by a party was quite interesting. The plant was up-to-date in every respect but the papers quite insignificant as compared with Canadian journals—four, six and eight pages—no more.

Advancements, very little news, either local or general—leading articles largely of a political nature signed by the writers—but the circulation—oh boy some of them running over the million mark.

The one redeeming feature in newspaperdom was the European editor of the New York Herald, daily published in Paris in English, the largest paper of the lot and containing quite a good variety of United States and Canadian news.

Of the points of special interest the Louvre held first place. The collection of paintings and sculptures by the best artists was wonderful. One might well spend a month here with profit. An experienced guide at a small cost showed us in course of an hour a selection of the choicest paintings, the finest sculpture and many old historic relics.

The Pantheon which is the burial place of the illustrious dead, the Tomb of Napoleon I, the Eiffel Tower, the University, the parks and gardens of Luxembourg all claimed a number of Canadian visitors.

At 6 o'clock everyone was on hand at the Palace. The new President of France M. Doumergue held a reception for the Canadian Press party. It was a very pleasant affair, quiet, dignified, but democratic—no special dress; we just appeared in the togs in which we travelled and toured the city.

We were ushered into a very large and beautiful reception room in the Palace. After a few moments the President came in attended by two officials. He made a short speech of welcome. President Edy however they were in the beautiful garden attached to the Palace before returning to the hotels.

After dinner at our hotel some of our party decided we would like to visit the Latin quarter, by night, and if possible see something of the night life of gay Paris, so we got in touch with the Cook's Agency, and about 9.30 a pleasant party left for a tour such as we desired. It was quite an educational feature. We saw the students, all kinds and classes of them, in their quarters and their was considerable fun when our guide was "ragged" by the young men and women, who crowded the cafes and beer gardens along the streets.

Very orderly crowd and the "ragging" was of a good natured sort. Hung upon the walls of many of the cafes we saw the pictures of the poor artists, offering for sale to enable them to continue their studies. Throughout the bright light districts the streets were crowded, and all seemed to be enjoying themselves. Our tour occupied about three hours and was most interesting.

We left for London at 9 o'clock in the morning, baggage had to be packed and in the hands of the transportation office at 7.30 in order to be on our train. The coaches were reserved for our party and were not overcrowded. At 1 o'clock we reached our port on the channel, Dieppe. All had to produce passports before going on board, a vessel of considerable size. Dinner had been arranged for. The tables were twice filled before any others were served. We pulled out at 3 o'clock into quite a sea, a breeze blowing from the southeast catching us on the quarter which gave the boat kind of a spiral motion which is likely to produce stomach trouble. As we went on the breeze increased and the water was coming over the bow in sheets when we pulled into our harbor, New Haven, on the south coast of England.

Ontario Man Says it Put Him in Such Fine Condition 2 Years Ago, He Hasn't Needed Any Medicine Since.

"Well, sir, it looked like I was going to have to give up my job, but Tanlac kept me on the payroll and, of course, I'm strong for it," is the striking statement of Wm. Cranker, 84 Louis St., Brockville, Ont., who for 30 years past has been employed by the Canadian National railway.

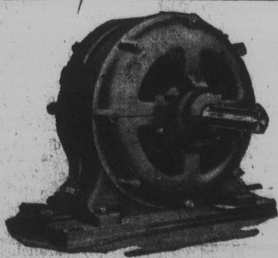

"My stomach went wrong 10 years ago and then I gradually got out of fix in lots of ways. I couldn't eat or sleep to do any good for nervousness and indigestion and had got to where I simply had to drag myself to the railroad yards in the mornings.

"I could feel the good effects of my very first few doses of Tanlac clean to my finger-tips. This was two years ago and three bottles put me in such good shape that I have not had to spend a cent for medicine since. I can sleep fine, never miss a day's work any more and feel fine. You just can't beat Tanlac."

MUST VACCINATE ALL EMPLOYEES

Ships, Camps and Factories Under Ruling, Dr. Desmond States

Moncton, Sept. 12.—Dr. Desmond, chairman of the Westmorland sub-district Board of Health, was in the city to-day in connection with the collection of certain outstanding bills insured in the treatment of small-pox cases last winter.

Dr. Desmond, before leaving for Newcastle this afternoon said that he wished to call attention to the clause in the Health Act of New Brunswick which says that it shall be necessary that every person before being employed in any camp, ship, factory, or other place wherein employees come into frequent close or prolonged contact with one another, to produce a certificate to the effect that he has been successfully vaccinated, or that he is immune to the disease through having been a victim of it or because he is immune to vaccine as proved by three consecutive non-successful vaccinations.

If this is not done, Dr. Desmond says, that the employee contracts smallpox when so employed or if he is employed within fourteen days prior to the inception of his sickness, in such a camp, ship or factory then the employer shall be liable to pay all costs incurred by the Board of Health in protecting the public and the board may sue for the recovery of the same within six months of the outbreak.

ASTHMA NEVER CAME BACK

Since Taking The Fruit Treatment in "Fruit-a-tives"

Read this letter from Mrs. J. M. Pennington of New Rockland, P. Q. "In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered during the winter. I began having choking spells and would just gasp for breath and could not speak. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

In the spring of 1920, I started taking "Fruit-a-tives" and soon the choking spells became easier and I have not had one since May 7th, 1920. It is such a relief to be able to go to bed and have no thought of having to get up in the night for an hour or more as I did all that winter, but never have to now, all because I take a "Fruit-a-tives" tablet every night.
