Re-opening of United Church Marked by Splendid Services and Singing—Outside Talent Assisted in Programme

(The Herald)

The United Church which has been undergoing complete remodelling during the summer, was re-opened auspiciously on Sunday. The first of a series of services were held in the morning, followed by afternoon and evening services. During the week special services are being held, culminating with services next Sunday when Dr. Trueman, of Mount Allison University, will be the speaker.

The pastor of the church, Rev. J. G. Hockin, presided at the opening service, and on the platform with him were Dr. Kent of Pine Hill, the speaker for the day and Rev. W. R. Turner, a former Methodist pastor, who assisted in the service. An interesting feature of the service was the rededication of the church, the dedication prayer being offered by the pastor, and responded to by the choir and congregation. Another feature of the morning session was a baptismal service, conducted by the pastor, assisted by Dr. Kent and Rev. Mr. Turner.

The congregation then had the opportunity to hear Dr. Kent, who gave a splendid exposition of the book of Jonah, with the place it held in Hebrew literature, and the lesson which it was intended to teach the Jewish people, that God loved not only the Hebrews, as they thought, but the whole world. This lesson was applicable to the white race today and the preacher emphasized the fact, that God of the yellow man, the brown and the black man, just as much as of the white man.

A solo was sung by Gilbert Hart of Halifax. Beautiful flowers had been placed in the church by Mrs. G. H. Froom and by Mr. Kilham of Halifax. Among the gifts to the new church was a beautiful communion table, presented by Mrs. J. A. Sponagle, also hymn boards, presented in memory of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Nelly, by their children.

AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Congregations which taxed the capacity of the church, gathered at the afternoon and evening services, people coming in scores from nearly every section of country from Kentville to Bridgetown. In the afternoon the service was musical, with brief addresses by Rev. W. H. Rackham, representing the clergy from outside districts, and Rev. W. D. Wilson, representing the other churches of the town, who congratulated the congregation.

and Whitney survey, are in Halifax, attending the organization of the Association of qualified land surveyors of Nova Scotia.

Splendid Recital At Kingston

The weather man was most kind to Mr. Hurley on the night of his recital at Kingston on November 12th, it being a beautiful warm moonlight night, the rain only coming down after every one had returned home. There was a good audience to greet him, when, after a selection by the Kingston orchestra, he appeared on the platform.

Miss Nelson accompanied him thru his first group of songs, and divided the groups by piano solos, beautifully rendered, despite the fact that she had but recently come through a serious illness.

Miss Hurley, who was with her brother last winter in Toronto, played the accompaniments of groups 2 and 3. The sympathy between singer and piano was very marked, and it was easy to realize they had worked much together.

It would be difficult to say which of Mr. Hurley's selections was the favorite. The program was selected to suit the tastes of all and apparently succeeded in doing so. Exquisitely rendered was his encore song to the first group, "Sylvia," being given with a daintiness and grace that was very pleasing while the little Irish lyric, "Nora," sang after the second group was given, with a whimsicality and abandon to the spirit of the song that made it a favorite.

Mr. Hurley has a voice of unusual power, sweetness and range and the quality is very even. His flexibility as shown in his renderings of "I Hear You Calling Me," and "Dana," was unusually pronounced. Very quaint was the 15th Century song in the second group, a favorite of Caruso's, "Love Me or Not."

The Kingston Orchestra, under the faithful leadership of Mr. Hilton has not been long in existence, but there was nothing in their performances on Wednesday night to proclaim the fact. It is to be hoped they will continue good work. They closed the concert with the National Anthem; a concert enjoyed by all, and that must have been gratifying to Mr. Hurley and his friends, including Rev. A. McLeod, Mrs. McLeod, and the Trustees of the church, who so kindly did all in their power to make it a success. Mr. Hurley, with Miss Hurley and Miss Nelson, received his friends and theirs at the close.

Constipated Children

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it positively cannot thrive. To keep the little one well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild, but thorough laxative; are pleasant to take and can be given to the newborn babe with perfect safety. Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Nova Scotia Artist's Wonderful Paintings

We are glad to be able to record that the exhibition of Mr. A. C. Wyatt's pictures at the Gibbs Municipal Art Gallery, and at the palatial Francis Marion Hotel, was a great success, being crowded with large numbers of people from all parts of the State.

He has received the thanks of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce, for the publicity given to the beauties of Charleston, by his exhibitions, and he has been asked to illustrate a book on Charleston.

We have received a copy of "Country Life" for March, with four colour reproductions of paintings of Gardens of the East, the Mid-West, and the West. Perhaps the greatest compliment to his work was paid by the educational authorities of Louisiana, who have ordered copies of "Country Life" to be placed in every school throughout the State as "examples of exquisite beauty likely to elevate and form the taste."

He has also received a commission to paint four pictures of "Magnolia Gardens" for the January (1925) number of Country Life.

He has also received commissions from all parts of the States, and a proposal for him to show his pictures and lecture on "English and American Gardens" to a chain of garden clubs from Washington to Vancouver. Probably this will have to be deferred till 1925.

The President of the Gibbs (Municipal) Art Gallery, Charleston, at the opening of the exhibition by local artists said: "The surprising improvement in the quality of the exhibition has been entirely due to you" (referring to the 1923-24 exhibits of A. C. Wyatt).

"Your work has been more than an example, it has been a revelation and an inspiration. We hope you will continue to show in Charleston, which is deeply indebted to you."

Press Notices

"SATURDAY NIGHT," TORONTO, July 29, 1922

"To say that Mr. Wyatt's flowers live and glow that they almost seem to exhale a perfume can convey no idea of their charm. We are familiar to a certain extent with gardens and flowers presented through the medium of pastels, but not as Mr. Wyatt sees them all sparkling with radiance and dew, vivacious in sunshine, sounding a panegyric of freshness, of fragrance, of atmosphere. The brilliance of colour, the sharpness of outline, is striking to a degree, and yet withal, he has a fine sympathetic sense for softness and delicacy. His pictures show a note worthy combination of breadth and minuteness. He has struck a new note in garden painting, and one that is almost revolutionary, but he has found it the same time the essence of art."

"COUNTRY LIFE," July 21, 1924.

"What we want is not impressionistic material, but detailed paintings such as those of yours we used in our issue of March last with such fine effect."

Reginald Townsend,
Editor

"BOSTON EVENING TRANSCRIPT," Nov. 8, 1922

There is a reliance on the traditions of the British School of Watercolour Painting, and it might be said of this work, as it has been of David Cox—that it is "distinguished by an exquisite perception of the great facts of nature and by consequent significance of interpretation."

There is no more unreliable factor in the world than mere good intent.—Mr. George Drammond.

Dear Mr. Wyatt:
Your beautiful paintings are a delight, and I shall prize them very much. There can be no monetary value placed on such work as yours, back of which lie the long years of study and training to gain such results.

Most Sincerely,
C. D. Wyckoff.

OBITUARY

MRS. J. ABNER PHINNEY

At her home at Melvern Square, on October 16, Anna Maria, beloved wife of J. Abner Phinney passing away after weary months of suffering, aged fifty-three years.

Stricken some months ago with an incurable disease, she bore her sufferings with great patience and fortitude, her brave optimistic nature bearing her up to the end.

An exemplary wife and mother, she will be sadly missed in her home, but her quiet christian influence will be felt for years to come.

Very early in life she united with the Melvern Methodist Church, and for many years served faithfully in that church as organist, Sabbath School teacher, and church worker—one of the faithful few, always willing to do her part to aid in her Master's cause.

She leaves to mourn, their loss, a husband, two sons, and a little daughter, eight years of age, also two nieces and a nephew in Florida.

The funeral service was conducted at her home by her former pastor, Rev. Mr. Hockin, assisted by the present pastor, Rev. Mr. Distant, and was largely attended by sorrowing neighbors and friends.

Appropriate music was furnished by the Melvern choir, the old familiar hymns being used, and interment was made at the Melvern Square Presbyterian cemetery.

She has been called from pain and hurt and strife,
From all the ills which fall to flesh and clay,
She has been raised unto an ampler life,
Nor should we mourn who still may stay.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) C. N. Haslie

"NEWS and COURIER," Charleston, May 19, 1924

Last year we drew the attention of Charleston Artists to the extraordinary brilliancy of colouring in Mr. Wyatt's pictures of Magnolia, and advised them to study his methods. His present exhibition at the Francis Marion Hotel fully carries out our contention. It is brilliant to a degree, full of mystery and charm. A large new picture "Azeleas by the Mchanted Lake" surpasses everything Mr. Wyatt has done. The gorgeous colouring of the Azeleas, and the deep gloom of the mysterious lake is all depicted with a mastery hand: one feels the festoons of Azeleas so lightly poised that one can see them quiver and the dappled shadows on the path dance. It is the work of a master, and great colourist.

"OTTAWA CITIZEN," May, 1922.

"One cannot speak too highly of the sheer loveliness of Mr. Wyatt's water colours. To see his lawns and delphiniums, daffodils and roses, climatis and sunflowers, is a pure delight. He has reached the ultimate in the exact transcription of Gardens. Note the Rhododendrons and Larkspurs in "The Garden of My Heart's Delight" and the delphiniums in "Highland Park, Rochester"—they are Simply Gorgeous."

CHEERFULNESS

I sometimes think the world's a place

All blue and white and gold;
I meet with so much happiness
For one small heart to hold
Oh! then my only care is this:
To share with fellow-men my bliss.

I sometimes think the world's a place
To weep about and shun;
I hate to see the ugly clouds
Blot out the splendid sun!
But, if he always shone—why, then!
What man on earth could stand the glare?

A few days ago a farmer had sold a pig to a neighbor, he chanced to pass the neighbor's place, where he saw their little boy sitting on the edge of the pig-pen watching its new occupant.

"How d'de do, Johnny!" said he. "How's your pig today?"

"Oh, pretty well, thank you," replied the boy. "How's all your folks?"

Chinese War Spoils Royal and Ancient Game

This Shanghai News Bulletin Shows How Additional Hazards Were Created

In the opinion of Canadian Pacific officials stationed in China, the cessation of hostilities in that country will, in all probability, be followed by a remarkable development of Canada's trade with the Orient. From letters received at the Montreal headquarters of the great transportation company, Canadians, Europeans and other foreigners did not take the Chinese war quite as seriously as did the Chinese themselves. Business was affected a little as travel to and from the interior was somewhat restricted, but at no time did the foreigners feel apprehension as to their own safety, even though, at times, the actual scene of the fighting was not known but was quite close. The main things worrying the Europeans in Shanghai were the possibility of a food shortage and the fact that the city's best gold links was in the fighting zone and had, therefore, more than the usual hazards; but trafficking and travel may now be said to have returned almost to a pre-war basis.

To the Chinese, however, the war was a farmers' war, as will be seen from the accompanying reproduction of a news bulletin published at Shanghai and forwarded from that city by one of the officers of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, to Montreal. The whole of the bulletin is taken up by war news. Pictured in the centre are Generals Chi and Su. At the top left one sees how General Kay, finding no time in which to escape from the Chekiang troops after the defeat of the Su soldiery at Law Hoo, was forced to jump into the river, where he was finally captured. Below that, he who understands Chinese hieroglyphics reads that recruiting workmen for station work and the transportation of munitions at Jarbark was comparatively easy as many who volunteered for this work were fearful of being forcibly recruited for service at the front if they were found to be without employment. Underneath the portraits of the contending generals, the artist has endeavored to show how Mit Gee Pong of the Su army fired on the Chekiang troops at Wong Doo, forcing them to retreat, and, at the right, how the Chekiang troops, by entranching themselves round Law Hoo, and by remaining quiet, tricked the Su army into thinking that the town had been evacuated, being thereby enabled to vanquish General Kay, who sought to occupy it.

But the war is about over now, and on this side of the Pacific we are just left to ask, "What did it all mean?" The Canadian Pacific has included Shanghai in the itinerary of the "Empress of France" round the world cruise which is to commence at New York on January 14th, 1925, and to the participants in this cruise the late Chinese war may mean a few battlefields to visit or a few more souvenirs to buy, but that is about all. Amid all the charm and beauty, mystery and intrigue of the Orient, a little thing like a war is soon forgotten, by the average visitor to the country at least.

Margaretville People Remember Their Fallen Heroes

Margaretville, the little rugged village with its sea-kissed shores, on the Bay of Fundy, has withstood the onslaught of the Atlantic in her most boisterous moods for many years. The climate of this spot is such as to develop a sturdy race of people. So that when the war clouds broke, it was not to be wondered at that this place in proportion to population, gave more of her stalwart sons than any other time in Nova Scotia.

The place has now come when it is felt that a fitting memorial should be obtained to commemorate the sacrifice of those who now lie resting beneath the poppy rows on Flanders fields. Some time ago, a number of the people of this community gathered together and decided that the form of memorial deserved was something that rendered service rather than just something to please the eye. Consequently they are going to equip and maintain a room in the Memorial Hospital at Middleton. A canvass was made that brought a ready response. This was supplemented by a supper and concert, given in the Loyal Orange Lodge Room on Saturday, November the eighth. For this occasion the rooms were taxed to their capacity to hold the large number that gathered. Those responsible for the supper, ice cream and candy, being Mrs. H. Downey, Mrs. H. Carey and Mrs. A. Hudgins, who proved themselves to be very efficient hostesses. Miss George Balcom arranged a "grab" which was a winner. The concert was certainly one of the best ever given in Margaretville. The East Margaretville, Margaretville and Forest Glade school children rendered a program of very high order. The way the children deviated themselves indicated the amount of patient and efficient training they had received from the teachers of the different districts. Interspersed thru the program were musical numbers, which added greatly to the rounding out of a very enjoyable evening. The proceeds amounting to $32.62.

LAKE PLEASANT

November 10th - Mr. Primrose Tutts has greatly improved the appearance of his bungalow. Miss Ruth McNay is spending the Thanksgiving holiday with her sister, Mrs. E. A. Whynt of St. John. Mrs. R. T. Lohnes and sons of Lunenburg, are visiting Mrs. Amy Young. Mr. O. D. McNay has gone to Jordan Falls where he has a position with Miller Bros. as wood's foreman. Freeman and Co's. mill has about completed its cut for this fall. Messrs Grimm & Allen are repairing their mill and getting ready for the winter's cut. We wish them the best of success in their enterprise. Mrs. L. M. McNay is still confined to her bed, but slowly improving. Our local sports of this village have not been as lucky as Mr. Hugh Mason, just home from New York, and Mr. Clarence Mason home from college, took a steal around LaHave Lake and came across two bull moose in a sparring match. The boys opened fire and were successful in dropping both of them. We fancy both parties were somewhat surprised. Mr. Eldon Acker is busily engaged in repairing his house.

Those are necessarily the greatest virtues which are most useful to others. Justice, Courage, Moderation, Magnanimity, Liberality, Gentleness, Reasonableness, Wisdom.

What most we wish, with ease we fancy near.

Men do not realize how great a revenue thrift is.

Here and There

The Earl of Leitrim, Irish peer, who has been touring Canada, was much struck with the resemblance between north-west Ireland and the maritime provinces, with their wooded hills, sandy beaches and plenitude of fish and game, as playgrounds for the tourist.

What is believed to be the largest salmon ever caught, by hook and line in waters adjacent to Vancouver, B.C., was landed at Horseshoe Bay, Howe Sound, recently by A. C. Cohen. The fish measured four feet, one inch in length and weighed 64 pounds. It took 35 minutes to land it.

Irwin S. Cobb, the famous American humorist, has been hunting in the St. Maurice valley, served by Canadian Pacific lines. This is by no means his first trip to Canadian hunting and fishing centres, as he is a keen sportsman and has visited the wilds in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Among the passengers landing at Quebec from the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Scotland," recently was Miss Margaret Bondfield, M.P., a member of the Cabinet of the Macdonald Government of Great Britain. Miss Bondfield is in Canada to study conditions as they affect female immigrants.

Some interesting facts were made public by E. J. Belleisle, superintendent of the fish and game department of the Province of Quebec, when in Montreal recently. The province is now teeming with wild life, he says, mainly because of its conservation policy, whereby preserves are reseeded to fish and game clubs on the understanding that they appoint wardens. There are 500 such clubs employing a total of over 1,000 wardens.

The Trans-Canada Limited, crack transcontinental express of the Canadian Pacific Railway, completed its last run of the season on September 17th, and will not be operated again until next May. The train, which is the fastest long-distance express in North America, covered 758,748 miles in the season, or three times the distance between the earth and the moon, in its 238 runs, and carried the equivalent of 96,000 passengers for varying distances.

The new wing of the Chateau Lake Louise, the Canadian Pacific Railway's hotel at Lake Louise, one of the choicest beauty spots in the Rockies, is now under construction to replace that portion destroyed by fire some months ago. It will be a nine-story, fire-proof, steel-frame structure of stucco, brick and stone, richly furnished in the best style of a mountain hotel, and will contain 280 bedrooms, bringing the total in the hotel up to 390.

The hunt for fur is extending northward each year, according to officials of the Hudson's Bay Company and Revillon Freres. They have already despatched their steamers on their annual tour of the northern posts which each season are being located farther and farther north as the field of the pelt hunters is extended into the Arctic. The Hudson's Bay Company now has a numerous chain of posts in Baffinland and other areas north of Hudson Strait.

Poetical Sketches

THE 1924 VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.

Under a spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy sits;
A classed building stands there now
With pumps of reddest paint,
And the smith is one of big business man
With methods far from quaint.
His muscles aren't what they were;
The strength in them has thinned;
His waistline, too, is forty-one
He now is double-shouldered;
Gone is his smithy figure but
He hauls the money in,
Weekin, week out from morn till night

You can hear the grunts of pain
As the patron stop to fill their tanks
And see him count his gain
The stuff he sells is gasoline
But the price is for champagne
And handia filling home, from work
Gaze on with envious look;
They love to see his methods and
To put them in the book
For an old man has a system 'that's
A joy to any crook.
He goes on Sunday to his Royce
To some exclusive club
To go with friendly millionaires
Immune from any snub;
(For what he makes on Sunday Gives Morgan's gross a rub.)
The caddies stop and point to him
And whisper "See that bold!
He used to be a blacksmith" at a
Least that's what I hold,
But would he shoe a horse today?
Say, kid, don't be absurd!
Oiling—rejoicing—amassing it—
Onward through life he goes;
Each morning sees his gas price rise

Delivered through a hose;
And his gallon is a full pint short
As everybody knows.
Each week the oil trust does announce
"Another gas price cut!"
The smith he laughs just like a horse
And bellows "Tut tut tut!"
And boasts his price a full three cents—
The smith he is no nut!
Thanks, thanks to thee, my oily friend
For the fine technique you show;
You stage a thousand holdups crude
Each day and grab the dough;
And you do not merely rob us
But you make us love it so—

THE FROZEN STIFF

(An Allegory)
By William Wallace Carey
A man there was upon a time,
Who dwelt for years in a frigid clime
Where snow and ice abound supreme,
His frozen life seemed like a dream
And for his drink had frozen air.
He had icicles for his hair
He longed for movement, warmth and sense
With longings that were most intense
But silence cold, and frost bound cliff,
Gave back his prayer; and, frozen stiff

He stood a statue of despair
With pallid face and frosty hair
Then slept he thought, the sleep of death;
But dreamed he felt an angel's breath
Breathed in his face; his eyes opened wide
And seeing a being by his side
With fair sweet face; and love-lit eyes
Whose depth showed power to sympathize.
His vision met her melting look,
Which pierced his frozen orbs and took
A circling round within his veins
And warmed his blood to life again
Till movement, warmth and sense once more
Were his, as they had been before,
Who blames the frozen man who takes
The chance to look if looking makes
His frozen blood leap forth once more
And flush the cheek that paled before?

HE'S LIVING YET
Ole Mistah Billy William Goat
Had all de whiskers he could tote,
And when he tucked and shaved 'em off
He got pneumonia and a cough.

He sent for Doctah Rambo Sheep
Who said, "Dat cold am mighty deep,
But says he, "maybe you kin pull
Through if you wrap yo'self in wool!"
Then Doctah Gander come alone
And say, "Dat cold am mighty strong;
My opinion is you shor' is dead,

"Eczema on My Face Completely Relieved"

Miss Winifred Ernest, Box 46, Blockhouse, N. S., writes:

"Ever since I was a little child, I suffered with eczema on my face. At times my face was completely covered with large sores, and I tried nearly every kind of medicine that I heard of with no results. This lasted for over twenty years, until one day I asked the advice of my druggist, who bade me give Dr. Chase's Ointment a trial. After using the Ointment for a few days, the sores began to heal, and soon I was completely relieved of the disease."

1,000 - YEARS - OLD TREASURE FOUND

Coins of Early English Kings Found in Peakland Cave—Erie Exploration

LONDON—Discoveries of a well preserved collection of Saxon coins covering a complete century of West Saxon kings, along with other gold and silver, which have probably lain undisturbed for 1,000 years and are likely to be of great historical value, have just been made in a remote Peakland, Derbyshire, cave" by the Rev. G. H. Wilson, superintendent Primitive Methodist minister of Chorlton-cum-Hardy and Disbury Churches, Manchester. Mr. Wilson has an apartment of a considerable group of people. His latest discoveries have been made, he believes, in the sleeping chamber of some notable person probably a Mercian ruler of ten centuries ago.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION

He came tripping merrily into his tiny hall one day, and almost fell, stumbling upon someone's rubbers left lying about. "Those ferry boots are those in the hall!" he asked angrily, when he entered the drawing room. "Ferry boots!" exclaimed his mother-in-law, indignantly. "Why those are my rubbers. Ferry boots, indeed!" "My dear, good ma," he said hurriedly, "who said ferry boots? You misunderstood. I said fairy boots—you know fairy boots!" And then he went out and wiped the cold sweat from his brow.

Its Uniform Quality is due to Infinite Care

YOU know how impossible it is to judge flour quality by a mere inspection.

Different flours may cost the same and look the same, yet give entirely different results. Then, too, you will often find a good flour, that varies in quality—a success in one baking and a failure in the next.

Your only real safeguard in buying flour is to select one that has been tested and proven in advance—and is guaranteed uniform in quality. Maple Leaf Flour is made from the finest selected Canadian hard wheat, skillfully blended and milled. Exact tests at every stage of its milling makes possible its sale under a definite "money back" guarantee of uniform quality and satisfaction. You can depend on Maple Leaf Flour for unvarying baking results—always.

Ask your dealer about a wonderful course in "Cookery Arts and Kitchen Management" FREE to every user of Maple Leaf Flour.

Pale Anaemic Girls

Find New Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There must be no guesswork in the treatment of pale, anaemic girls and children. If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath after slight exertion or on going up stairs, if she has palpitation of the heart, a poor appetite, or a tendency to faint, she has anaemia—the medical name for poverty of the blood. Any delay in treatment may leave her weak and sickly for the rest of her life. Delay may even result in consumption, that most hopeless of diseases. When the blood is poor and watery, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, coupled with nourishing food and gentle out-of-door exercise. The new, life-giving blood which follows a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stimulates the nerves, increases the appetite and brings the glow of health to pale cheeks. Mrs. W. E. Armour, Havelock, Ont., says:—"My little girl got into a very poor state of health. She was weak, very much run down and as the doctor did not seem to do her any good, I thought I would try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking six boxes of the pills she got nice and rosy and strong again. I would recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone weak and run-down."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail post-paid at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OBITUARY

Our community was saddened on the morning of October 29th, when it became known that George E. Watson had passed into the Great Beyond.
Mr. Watson was born in Forest Glade in Sept., 1885, and except for brief periods, had lived there all his life.
"A man taking a keen interest in the questions of the day, he was firm in his conviction for right. A devoted husband and father, and a kind neighbor, he was always ready to lend a helping hand.
All that medical skill and loving hands could do, was done to arrest the disease, but without avail. And for nine weeks altho realizing he was playing a losing game in the struggle for life, he put up a fight such as only one of his nature could do.
But when the final call came, he answered "I am ready."
He leaves to mourn their great loss, a widow, one son, four daughters, and one brother.
The funeral was largely attended, being conducted by the Rev. Thomas McFall, of Somerset, assisted by Rev. M. B. Whitman, of Margareville. Special music was beautifully rendered, led by Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Whitman. Interment took place in the Presbyterian cemetery, Melvern Sq. The floral tributes were beautiful and included:
Wreath—Wife.
Crest—son and four daughters.
Wreath—Friends of Forest Glade.
Wreath—Boys of Milton and Field's Corner Car Team.
Pillow—from the Ratem Club.

AWAY

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you—oh you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return.
Think of him fairing on, as dear
In the love of There, as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same. I say,
He is not dead—he is just away.
We praise the female virtue highly and pay it poorly—Mr. Bernard Shaw
There are as many hen-pecked husbands in Tokyo as in London.—

PROTECTING THE INVESTMENT

Abraham Lincoln humorously said of a poor neighbor's assets, "He has a wife and two children which I should think were worth fifty thousand dollars to any man."
A family is indeed a golden investment and needs the same protection and care that any investment requires.
For three generations the editors of The Youth's Companion have felt the same responsibility to the families of subscribers as if those families were their own. In taking a subscription they have accepted a trust; they have done their part to see that the family investment increased in value through the development of character and a taste for the good things in life.
The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorial, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe Now and receive:

Our Christmas number is under way. We would like each of the clergy to write a short Christmas message for this paper, and to have the copy in our office by Monday next at the latest. Several have already responded. If you are in the district served by The Outlook write a message, say of 100 or 200 words. Your people would like to hear from you. Do it today.

The day will come when a man rather than build a great house for the overflow of a mighty hospitality, will give himself in the personal labor of outgoing love, to build spiritual houses like St. Paul's—higher not than any of our inventions. O my brother, when it is not for thee to have a hand in making thy brother beautiful.—George Macdonald.

The best little hen that ever laid an egg—that's the kind Miss Belle Wiswall, South Farmington has. The little hen has laid 5 days out of 6 since last November, and recently, it laid in 7 days, 6 eggs, each one weighing 3 1/2 ounces, being 6 inches in circumference one way and 10 in the long way.

It has been so long that we have seen an egg here, that we felt like asking Belle if she wouldn't mind lending us that hen until after Christmas.
