Opposition to French Annexation of Madagascar from the Paris Press.

Americans Warned to Leave Pekin. LONDON, Oct. 8. - A dispatch from Shanghai to the Central News, says Hon. Chas. Denby, U. S. Minister at Pekin, was warned the American residents in the Chinese capital that the city is certain to be attacked by the Japanese. Minister Denby advises that all the ladies and children shall be sent at once to places of greater, but no estimate is as yet obtainsafety. Already many of the natives are departing, and others are making preparations to follow their example.

Madagascar Matters.

Paris, Oct. 8.—The Matin publishes a letter from Deputy De Loncle in reference to affairs in Madagascar, in which he declares that Great Britain has loyally obeyed the conditions of the Madagascar convention of 1885. M. De Loncle expresses his conviction that England will not alter her policy in regard to Mada-

Emperor William and Marriage.

BERLIN, Oct. 9 .- The Volks-Zeitung publishes today Emperor William's order amending the powers of superior officers to control the marriage of their men. Hereafter an officer's consent may not be made dependent upon the location of the place where the ceramony is to be solemnized. The Emperor thus abolishes the practice of discriminating in favor of Protestants and against Catholics. He wishes to see the fewest possible obstacles in the way of the soldier's marriage. The report that the Emperor expects to visit the Paris Exhibition in 1900 is a fiction. He has not even considered such a trip,

How the Death of Wm. Cain Came About -James Cain and Michael Carroll Were Not on Good Terms with the Prisoner.

Monday Afternoon. The Middlesex Fall Assizes were resumed this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with a crowded court room. Judge Robertsen will hear only one case and that is the charge against Edward Bowers, of Biddulph. Bowers is held for manslaughter, having, it is alleged, caused the death of William Cain in June last. The prisoner was brought up by two constables and wore the suit he had on at the time of his arrest, carrying a straw hat in his hand. He looked careworn and sad, and during the greater portion of the afternoon sat with his elbows resting on his knees, and head bent forward. Now and again Bowers would straighten up, but it would only be for a few minutes. The full complement of witnesses, including the prisoner's wife and family and a score of others residing on the famous Roman line in Biddulph, were present, besides a large number of ladies belonging to the city. Robert Donnelly, whose father, mother, brothers and a cousin were victims of the celebrated Donnelly The late T. M. Harris, Brantford, left tragedy in 1880, is to give evidence in the Typhoid fever is alarmingly prevalent

The selection of a jury occupied considerable time, Mr. McEvoy challenging twelve men-all the law would allow. The following were finally sworn in: Donald Hay, Chas. M. Rolston, John C. Cowan, Peter McMillan, Wm. Vickery, Thomas Impitt, Amos Alderson, John Mair, Walker McKellar, Henry Sutherland, Jas.

Brown and John Knight. Mr. Colin MacDougall, Q.C., representing the crown, began his address to the jury at 2:20 p.m. The charge, he said, was one of manslaughter, and it did not require the showing of ill-will on the part of any person. All that was required was evidence that Wm. Cain was shot and that Edward Bowers committed the offense. Murder was a deliberate act; man-Chief Benoit, of the Montreal fire slaughter, on the other hand, was brigade, is reported dying of cerebral menigitis. He is president of the Fire the taking of a life without premeditation. Wm. Cain, in company with several others, had been to Lucan on the day of the Toronto City Council on Monday evening tragedy, and foolishly got a glass too passed a resolution expressing regret at losing the services of Mr. W. R. Meredith, much. They passed Bowers' house on the way home, and had, it was said, some scuffling in a friendly manner. The men were on the most sociable terms, and after stopping west of the prisoner's farm Bowtyphoid fever. Charles Morgan, eldest ers came on the scene and induced John Frank Westwood, the victim of the mysterious shooting in Parkdale, Toronto, gether the quartet returned to get the on Saturday night, is still living, but death brother, John. They had never left the may occur at any time. No clue to the At Ottawa on Monday Justice Burbidge, and it was while there that Wm. Cain rein the Exchequer Court, refused to amend ceived a bullet in his back, resulting fatally the judgment in the Larkin-Connolly case, a few days afterwards. There was a quesso as to include the terms of settlement tion as to who fired the shot; but it would be shown that Bowers walked out of the In a fit of despondency Wm. Rands, a house, leaving his family, and that as he young man of Shelbourne, threw himself passed the door something glittering was ander a moving freight train early Monday seen in his hand. Following closely upon morning and was fatally injured, both this incident a voice was heard from under a tree, a shot rang out on the air, and Wm. Mr. J. B. McEwan, of the Dominion Cain fell to the ground, calling to his dairy commissioner's staff, has been apfriends that he was shot, and asking for pointed expert in dairying to the New Zeathe priest. It would also be proven that land Government and leaves for the land of when he returned to the house Bowers was asked by his daughter as to what made Street car traffic in Toronto was sushim fire the shot, and the answer came, pended for nearly two hours on Saturday "Merely to scare them away."

Mr. H. C. McBride, architect, described a map of the Bowers premises, The house stood six feet six inches higher than the road, and was 105 feet back from the front openboard fence, and behind an orchard. Several willows were growing among the fruit trees. A person standing at the house had an unobstructed view of the road.

James Cain, the cousin of Wm. Cain, and who laid the information against Bowers, was first examined. He lived on con. 6, Biddulph, at the time of the shooting, but for two months has been in the city. He had known Bowers for six or seven years. Witness was in Lucan on June 22, and while there met the deceased owners and the operatives, the latter and John Bennett. It was necessary for the trio to pass Bowers' house on the way to their homes, and the first time witness the final settlement reached at Fail River saw the prisoner that evening was when witness was 150 feet north of the house. The rig had stopped and John Bennett and Wm. Cain were having a scuffle.

Mr. McEvey objected to Cain's partners being allowed to remain in the court room, and every witness in the case was ordered 4,500 of the Scotch miners who were among | to withdraw.

Witness, consinuing, stated that he had jumped from the rig, when Bowers came up and ordered them to go home. Prisoner took Benrett back to the house just as Mrs. Bowers came in sight and told witness that he should be ashamed of himself for drinking. Witness could navigate all right, and as Bowers was leaving called on him to come back and have a drink out of a bottle. Bowers wanted to fight instead of drink and then soaxed Bennett along with him. The prisoner and Bennett went into the house while witness returned in the direction of the nouse and Wm. Cain went into the front yard, Deceased wanted Bowers to let Bennett come home, but he refused. The two Cains went home, but William soon returned, accompanied by Mike Carroll and James Bennett. The witness joined them and the quartet started for Bowers' place with the avowed intention to secure John Bennett. It was about 10 o'clook when they arrived. They shortly afterwards heard Bowers speak from inside the fence, warning them to "Get out of there." Wm. Cain and James Bennett, who were close to Bowers' fence, ran away-Cain to the center of the road, and Bennett dreams, dimness of sight, parpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headaches, pimples on the face and body, itching or peculiar sensation about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness density in the mission of mill along the fence. Wm. Cain had just got into the road when a shot was heard, and deceased fell, shouting that he was shot. Witness saw the flash of the revolver, and was positive it came from the same direction as the voice which warned them to get away. The wounded man rolled into the ditch and James Cain started up the road duliness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for

Q .- Was there a light in the house at the time? A .- Yes; the door was open. Q .- What happened after the shooting? A. William Cain shouted, "I'm shot, Bowers. Go for the priest."

Q .- What else? A .- I went north; and met James Bennett. "Do you mean to tell me," asked Judge Robertson, "that you went off and left your cousin weltering in his blood?" "Yes," said the witness, "I did not think he was shot." Witness said Bowers, Anthony and Tom Bennett carried the Phone 743 wounded man into the house. Cain was cross-examined by Mr. Mc-Evoy, and said that all he had in Lucan was about half a dozen drinks of whisky, but a little bottle was frequently opened on the return trip. The little scuffle arose near Bowers' and when time was called Wm. Cain's coat was minus the two tails and John Bennett's jacket was in need of a sleeve. When Bowers came to the rescue the three men were piled in a fence corner. Q .- What did Mrs. Bowers sa, to you?

A .-- That I should be ashamed of myself. Q.—Nothing else? A.—No.
Q.—Didn't she tell you that you should be ashamed of yourself for conducting yourself in such a manner just after burying your mother? A .- Yes. Q.—And that you had broken your mother's heart? A.—Yes. Q .- And did you intend to give Bowers a drink when you called him back? A .--Q .- You were just wanting to tantalize him? A .- That was all.

Q .- You had been in the habit of doing this ?-Yes. Mr. McEvoy then wanted to show that Bowers had been terrorized, but the judge said he would have to prove that it was by the witness or William Cain. Q.-Do you remember being at Bowers' house a year ago? A .- Yes, I do. Q .- And you told him that you would have him on the road before the morning?

A .- No, sir, I didn't. Q .- You went there to see him about the Way he got his land, didn't you? A.-No.
Mr. McDougall raised objections to evidence of an occurrence a year old, which, he claimed, had no bearing on the case whatever. Judge Robertson agreed. Witness claimed that he ran away for fear of being shot by the prisoner.

"You were afraid Bowers would shoot you?" asked the judge.

"Yes, sir," said Cain.
"Oh, well," replied the court, "I will withdraw my previous statement that you were a coward for doing so. I never knew that any bad blood existed between you and Bowers. You did perfectly

Michael Cartoll related the doings of himself and his companions in front of the Bowers house. He heard the voice from under the tree, and thought the speaker was about two rods from the fence. The shot followed about two or three seconds later, and when Cain was struck he had reached the opposite side of the road. Witness got into Casey's field, directly opposite Bowers', before hearing Cain say that he was shot. Witness was also afraid of being shot, and lay down behind the fence. He did not go back to see if Cain was hurt or not.

Mr. McEvoy began his cross-examination by asking Carroll if he had threatened or had ever heard Bowers' life threatened, Bennett to go home with him. The two but Judge Robertson ruled that evidence of Cains-William (deceased) and James-got that description could not be entered into. Mike Carroll and James Bennett, and to- The court allowed counsel for defense to ask Carroll whether he had any reason to believe a mob would attack Bowers, or road. They were on the Queen's highway, whether or not the prisoner's life had been threatened by a mob.

Carroll answered in the negative. Mr. McEvoy desired o show that Bowers was in fear of an attack being made upon himself or his household. An anonymous letter had been received by the parish priest, Father Connolly, in which it was stated that trouble was brewing in the district, and Robert Donnolly was the chief cause of it. The epistle stated that in case the disturbance of years ago were renewed Edward Bowers would be the first to fall. The letter was read from the pulpit by Father Connolly three times, and he had severely denounced such work.

Judge Robertson-Well, the priest has got a way of settling that. I am not going to make it right here.

Carroll admitted he was not on very good terms with Bowers. Q .- Did you hear Will Cain ask Bowers orgivenese? A .- Yes.

Judge Robertson misunderstood the question, thinking that it was vice versa. 'It would be no wonder," said he.
"Cain asked Bowers' forgiveness," said

Mr. McEvoy.
"Yes; and Bowers asked Cain's forgiveness," said Carroll. The court adjourned at 6 o'clock.

NOTES. Judge Robertson threatens to close the doors to the public if perfect order cannot be maintained during the trial. Judge Robertson notified the members of the bar that work had been mapped out in Toronto for him, which would prevent his coming to London on Oct. 29 and completing the docket. The remaining cases will lie over till the January sittings. The jury on the Bowers case were not allowed to disperse, but were looked up for the night. Every comfort possible had been provided for them. Judge Robertson refused to allow newspapers in the room.

South Street Methodist Mission, the object being as much to remind the people in the vicinity that a flourishing school existed in their midst as to make a strong puil altogether for a fresh start after the summer holidays. Excellent addresses were delivered by Rev. W. J. Clark, D. Mc. Dermid and Wm. Bowman. Singing by the school, also a solo by Mr. Wicks and a trio by Misses Skinner and Wright and Mr. Stevenson added to the enjoyment of the proceedings. The attendance was very large, the building being packed. This is one of the most promising mission schools in the city, and it is the intention of the management to erect a commodious and suitable building at an early date, in all probability before the new year.

JOHN MILLS

Tuesday Morning. The inquiry into the cause of William Cain's death in Biddulph township was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning before Judge Robertson. The witnesses were six in number and included four of the Bennett family-John, James, Thomas and

Anthony. James Bennett corroborated the story of Mike Carroll and James Cain as to their movements around Rowers' house. Bowers told the witness that he fired the shot merely to frighten the crowd away. He admitted that it was ugliness on the part of the Cains towards Bowers that made them return for John Bennett. Mr. McEvoy here informed Judge Robertson that the defense was a justification for the act done. "Prove it, then," said the court, "I do not mean to justify the shooting of the man," said the counsel. "I propose to explain how and why it was that he felt it necessary to guard his place."

"No foundation for that," said Judge Robertson. "I cannot allow any evidence like you wanted to put in last night. I can give you several reasons, and they are all against your client. One is that Bowers might have laid out in his yard and fired at any person going by who happened to pull up for any purpose." This ended the matter. John Bennett, whom the prisoner took from the Cains on the night of the shooting, was none the worse for the whisky he had taken that day, and did not want Bowers' assistance. Bowers just "chipped" in of his own accord, and wanted the witness to come away from the Cains as they were bad companions. Bennett denied having gone into Bowers' with the intent of bringing the rest of the crowd back for him. He denied having spoken to the Cains about how Bowers got his farm. The witness told of the scuffle and how Will

Cain had lost his coat tails and was pounding the fence with a club. Bennett could not identify half a fence rail produced as the one with which Cain was wreaking vengence on the fence. Bennett was not very drunk nor very sober either. Thomas Bennett, a brother of John, was sent for by Bowers that night to take John nome. The prisoner remained in the kitchen for a time after Thomas arrived, and was informed by a little son that some fellows were at the gate again. Bowers went out ten minutes later, and in ten minutes more the shot was heard. Bowers was met by the witness, but he had no weapon with him. Some conversation occurred in Bowers' house, John Bennett saying the Cains had ill-used him, that he would get even with them and Bowers

Judge Robertson remarked that the witness was not telling a straight story. Bennett next denied that John had complained of being ill-used. Bowers said he never saw a living sinner when he fired the shot.

criticising Will Cain as the worst of the counsel leading the witness. He thought it was very unfair. "Well, I do not think so," said the court. "He is the most unwilling witness I ever saw. He does not seem to appreciate the nature of an oath.

Bennett farther stated that Bowers exressed sorrow for having free came.

Mr. McEvoy objected to the crown

Witness was not sparking the prisoner's daughter. "What was the appearance of the wound?" asked Mr. McEvoy. "I want to prove the direction in which the bullet

The Judge-Well, for goodness sake, do not ask such a witness as this. He does not know very much about the case, and his evidence cannot be relied upon." Anthony Bennett was the last of the quartet of that name to be examined. He was in Bowers' house, having come to take his brother John home. He remembered young Bowers coming into the house and saying that the crowd was at the front again. The prison walked out and as he did so held something in his right hand near the hip which shone very brightly. Bennett could not swear it was a shooting iron and could not identify the revolver produced by Mr. McDougall as the article which Bowers carried. When word reached the house that men were at the gate Bennett picked up a flat-iron to protect himself. John Cain, father of the deceased, testified that William was 22 years of age. No ill-feeling existed between the witness or his son and Bowers. Daniel Joseph Quigley, a 13-year-old youth, was at Bowers' place on the night Cain was shot. He heard Bowers say that Wm. Cain was the biggest blackguard of the pair. Mrs. Bowers was in the same room and said that if they (the Cains) came back it would not be well for them. Young Quigley remembered Bowers going out and returning. The shot was heard during his

PENITENT WOMEN.

They Steal Cutlery From David Sare's Restaurant

And Are Sorry for It-Had Been Drink ing-An Ingersoll Weman Concerned -Minor Cases Disposed Of.

Sarah Evans, alias Mrs. Delameter. came to London yesterday from Ingersol) to visit Mrs. Ellen Owens, alias Mrs. Barney, She saw Mrs. Owens, and they had such a good time together that one of their capers brought them into the arms of the law and they slept in the police station last night. They went to Sare's Restaurant yesterday and took supper. When the couple had gone Mr. Sare found that they had taken more than their supper. He missed $12 worth of cutlery. Detectives Rider and Nickle found the women at McCue's Hotel, Richmond street. At first they denied the thefe; then admitted it and produced the articles. Mrs. Evans, or Delameter, is a barber's wife and dresses in the height of fashion. But a gaudy hat, sealette sack and a rich satin dress did not become her sorroundings and her complex. ion and hair that was meant to be curly was not improved by the night's lodging in the cells. Mrs. Owens, or Barney, wore a pink shawl and an ordinary hat. "Are you guilty, Mrs. Owens?" Mrs. Owens nodded her head.

"And you, Mrs. Evans?" "I am guilty and very sorry," sobbed the Ingersoll woman. Mr. McKillop for the crown stated the facts of the case, and said that the women, though not drunk, had evidently been drinking. "I have two little children at home," sobbed Mrs. Evans, and no one to take care of them. The youngest is only 2 years "That is always the way," said the magistrate. "The innocent always suffer with the guilty." Mrs. Owens, or Barney, said that she was "grass" widow and had two children just entering their teens. Mr. Sare said that all the articles stolen had not been recovered, but the women both protested that they had given up all they had taken. Mr. Sare was not inclined to press the charge and with the consent of the crown the women were released on suspended sentence. It was their first appearance and they were severely lectured. Mrs. Mary Rogers and Pat Typan came up on remand and were discharged. The abusive language case of George

Jackson against Ann Cooper was with. drawn by Jackson, who said he was in the heat of passion when the information was laid. Although Mrs. Cooper could not hear what was said she commenced to mutter audibly, "Would you listen to that now; I wonder does he ever expect to go to heaven." She was silenced by the court. When Jackson came out of the box Mrs. Cooper made for it to give her side of the story and was rather surprised to learn that the case was disposed of. Charles Cole wore a red coat, a much battered nose and a pair of black eyes. He was drunk last night and the marks on his face were made by a fall. He was kept until an escort could be sent for from the barracks.

BOTHWELL,

Last week was a gala one for bridal parties, as witness the following: On Tuesday, Miss Maria, daughter of Mr. Thomas Mara, section boss, G. T. R., was wedded to Mr. Harry Holman, operator and station agent, C. P. R., at Tilbury. Rev. Father Cummings performed the interesting service.—On Wednesday, Miss Marshal, of Zone, became the wife of Mr. Alex. Calderwood, merchant. The puptial knot was tied by Rev. John Davidson, Presbyterian minister .- On Thursday, ex Mayor Richards gave away his eldest daughter, Sarah, to Mr. James Hand, a well-to-do farmer in Brooke, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. Fansher, paster of the Metho-

Mrs. Ostrander, of St. Thomas, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Couse, for the past three months, also Mrs. Matthew, sister of Mrs. Couse, accompanied by Mrs. Dingwall and child, all left on Tuesday via St. Thomas, from whence they proceed by the M. C. R. to Detroit. Mr. Robert Fleming, a former resident of Bothwell, but for the past six years a successful miller at Stirling, Kan., who has heen visiting his parents and many warm friends, returned home on Thursday, "happy to meet, sorry to part and happy to meet again." Well done Robert. Mrs. Charles McRitchie, aged 75, passed away on Thursday at the residence of her son, Mr. James McRitchie. She was s resident of the Longwoods road before Bothwell was.

Business is very dull except in apples, the immense yield this year having glutted the evaporator and caused a staving trade for the cooperage, which has turned out several thousand barrels during the past few weeks.

There is a project afoot to reduce the area of the town somewhat in proportion to the population which has dwindled away from 5,000 down to about 900 according to last census. If representation by popula-Mon were carried out, the eleven wise men who constitute the body corporate would then each represent about 80 souls big and little in place of 450 as in the days of the Laird o' Bothwell. Taxation goes on all the same as it there was a populous city, originally intended, according to its acreage, to vie with Chicago.

Interesting Reunion at Ingersoll-Serious Outcome of a Nutting Expedition.

BRANT.

An old couple named Drake appeared at the Brantford Police Court Saturday on the charge of keeping a disorderly house. They were given four months apiece in jail, when the woman started to sneer at the police magistrate. For this her sentence was made six months in the Mercer.

A Brantford youth named Alfred Patterson was out nutting Friday with some companions, and they had a rifle in the crowd. The boys first started firing at a target, and then one of them tried to hit the mark with his back turned towards it while holding the rifle over his shoulder. He succeeded in hitting Patterson in the thigh, and the bullet has not yet been extracted.

Capt. Duncan C. Rose and Judge A. D. Thomson met at the New York Police Gazette office the other day, posted $100 and arranged a mixed wrestling match for $200 a side between Ross and George Pierre, of Strathroy, either side to allow $100 for expenses, match to be contested within

Owing to his ill-health, W. Scott, of Westminster, has retired from farming and sold his 100-acre farm for $5,000. Mr. Ettis, while shooting at Pond Mills the other morning, had a narrow escape from losing his $100 gun. After bagging two ducks he was rowing swiftly after some others. The water being rather rough, the Vests are now in. These vests are a boat capsized. Luckily, however, he seized specialty with us. You could not tell the gun, and after some dexterous swimming he managed to push the boat and gun to shore. He retreated to one of the nearest farm houses, where he was treated to a dry was about 55 years of age. M. S. Schell, apple buyer, of Norwich, says this year's crop in Oxford county is an enormous one, and that the yield is much heavier than was expected. Already in the different sections he has purchased between 12,000 and 15,000 barrels for shipment to the old country markets.

OXFORD. A sudden death occurred at Innerkip Friday while Mr. and Mrs. J. Hall were being driven to the C. P. R. station to take the train for their home in Brampton. When her husband, said, "I have something to tell you," and immediately expired. Deceased reference.

On Saturday evening the residence of Mr. Charles Dundas, Harris street, Ingersoll, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering, the occasion being the anniversary of the 71st birthday of Mrs. Dundss. The affair was a total surprise to Mrs. Dundas, the arrangements having been most successfully carried out by Miss Sadie Dundas, to whom much credit is due. At 6:30 the gentlemen were requested to select their partners and to proceed to the spacious dining-room, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, the prevailing colors being pink and white. The table, which was lighted by wax candles in old-fashioned brass candlesticks, was spread with tempting viands. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, which was served on the Europeon plan and to which the guests did ample justice, Rev. A. G. Harris, pastor of the Bentennial Methodist Church, London, led off in an informal speech full of congratulations and pleasant recollections, followed by Rev. J. S. Williamson, D.D., pastor of Charles Street Methodist Church, Ingersoll, who made some very happy remarks appropriate to the occasion. Other speeches folbriate to the occasion. Other speeches followed by several of the guests, after which that well-known hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," was sung, Mrs. A. G. Harris presiding at the piano, and prayer was offered by Rev. A. G. Harris. The affair was one long to be remembered by those present. The guests present were as follows: Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Williamson, Mr. Wm. Dundas, Mrs. Dundas, Miss Nellie Dundas, Miss Martin and Mr. E. Doty, Ingersoll; Mr. Melville R. Doty and Mrs. Doty, Chicago; Mr. El Gatloway and Mrs. Galloway West, Orford, Mr. S. Mrs. Galloway, West Oxford; Mr. Simeon Sherwood, J.P., and Mrs. Sherwood, Ostrander; Rev. A. G. and Mrs. Harris, London, and Mr. Geo. L. Harris, of the Evening Star, Toronto.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

Continuation of the Conference at Petrolea.

PETROLEA, Oct. 8.—Elder J. H. Lake, president of the Conference of the Church of Latter Day Saints of Jesus Christ, was the speaker Saturday evening at 8 p.m.

On Sunday the Saints met at 8:30 a.m. for prayer service and also to receive the sacrament, which was administered by Elders Lake and Green, at which meeting the two persons baptised on Saturday were confirmed members of the church. The deed of the church with an address from the secretary of the board of trustees was read to the conference, showing a clear sheet. Elder Green, of Appledore, then offered the dedicatory prayer. At 11 a.m. Elder R. E. Grant, of Michigan, addressed a large congregation on the pre-existence of Chief Roe's Opin on cf London's Fire Alarm Boxes.

They Cause Trouble-System Working Satistactorily-Number Three Committee Doings.

At No. 3 committee's meeting last night Chief Roe presented a report on the condition of the fire department. It said the system was divided into four circuits, converging at the central station. The replacing of a large amount of wire in addition to building the South London circuit and ordinary repairs, had been done since the discharge of the former superintendent in February, 1891, and these changes resulted in a marked improvement. There were 50 street boxes, in addition to those at the three fire halls and the chief's house. Fifteen boxes had been in use since 1875, and 35 were put up since 1879. Four different styles were in use, and this was sometimes very perplexing to the policemen when called to send in an alarm. For many reasons Chief Roe thought the boxes should be uniform in working and non-interfering in action. This had been recommended to the council several times, but no action has been taken. The boxes were in good working order, but new ones in the stations were necessary. From Sept. 1, 1892, to Oct. 1, 1894, 302 alarms were received-186 over the wires, 90 by telephone and the remainder still alarms. Thirty-three alarms were given irregularly-fourteen being for fires, and five cases of extra damage resulted from these delays. In concluding the report Chief Roe stated that considering the age of some of the apparatus the system has given fairly good satisfaction, much of the credit being due to the department forman, Mr. A. McMurchy, who has been untiring in his efforts to keep the system in good order. The report was discussed very briefly, and tenders will be called for a new gong for the Central Station. The report will be taken up again with a report from the Fire Underwriters' Association on London's standing in reference to fire pro-

Thos. Hall, of Delaware complained that he was unceremoniously and abusively removed from the market last Thursday because he had a number of baskets for sale. Clerk Wilson explained his action in the case, and quoted the city bylaws as his authority. There was an alderman following him (Wilson) around the market of late, and he had to do his duty very carefully. No abusive language was used.

Mr. Wilson was exonerated from all blame. Mr. A. J. Greenaway, a local electrician, proposed to repair the fire alarm system at a crifling expense. He heard that the system was working poorly, and he was convinced that repairing by a competent man was all that was necessary. Filed for

Ald. Parnell, chairman of a sub-committee, reported in reference to swimming baths. The river had been examined at several places with the view of establishing free baths. Easy access could be obtained to the Thames at the foot of Hill street and also at Mill and Mount Pleasant streets. From the eastern portion of the city the committee had found a suitable spot at the foot of Colborne street. The report was referred to the committee for future reference.

Engineer Graydon informed the committee that proceedings in the case of Messrs. Whitehead and Kent, charged with breach of the fire limits bylaw, had, at his request, been stayed for three weeks. Adam Beck & Co. had applied for a permit to exect an addition to their works on Albert street. The addition was to be one story brick and the second story frame and covered with galvanized iron, but on account of the present condition of the bylaw the permit could not be granted. The amended bylaw had not been passed through the committee and nothing could be done. A special meeting will be held on Friday night to consider the document, and it will be sent to the council on Monday. The market clerk claimed to have a clear case of infringement of the bylaws against a huckster and wanted to know whether he had better carry out the law. He was ordered to prosecute.

Ald. Scarrow moved that the inspector prepare a list of persons paying license fees. Carried. Ald. Parnell left for New York last night on a five weeks' business trip. He invited the committee to Boomer's confectionery, where an oyster supper was served and a pleasant time spent. Ald. Scarrow will act as chairman during Ald. Parnell's absence. Present: Ald. Parnell, W. Heaman, Nutkins, J. Heaman, Scarrow, O'Meara, Secretary Bell, Inspector Bell, Chief Ros and Market Clerk Wilson.

Over here we have a school of politicians who work early and late to make the people believe that they should tax themselves w erely to provide means to trade with other places, and then consent to the placing of heavy taxes on imports to prevent trade coming our way! The wonder is that anyone believes them.

When natural gas from Welland county was piped across to Buffalo, it was taxed 20 per cent, as a mineral product. Subsequently this duty was reduced to 10 per cent ad valorem, and the latest ruling on the subject by the United States Treasury Department is that the Canadian gas is free as an unenumerated, unmanufactured article. A POOR EXCUSE.

A contemporary high tax organ excuses the enormous increase in the debt of the Dominion in recent years on the ground that money can be borrowed at rates so low now that really the increased debt is not of the slightest consequence. This is a prodigal's apology. It is true that money has never been so cheap as it is now. The rate of interest is lower than it has ever been in recent years. But that is no excuse for unnecessarily adding to the burdens of the people. They have a right to expect that their rulers will lessen rather than increase the public debt in times such as these, when the receipts from products of the soil are so low. But still it is being the Tecumseh House last evening. The piled up, and Mr. Foster has gone over to Great Britain to give it another hoist. He, too, probably reasons that the extravagant and corrupt expenditures which necessitate increase in the public debt are all right so long as money can be borrowed cheaply. Are they? The hard-beset Canadian taxpayer will answer at the polls.

Clifford Sifton, Attorney-General of the Province, a former resident of this city, Hon. Jas. A. Smart and Mr. C. Adams, M.P.P. In the afternoon, over 2,000 persons, many from a distance, attended the great mass meeting. Hon. Mr. Sifton opened the proceedings with an elequent and convincing address, and Mr. Laurier followed with an effective plea for trade freedom and honest, economical government. At the close "he was given a tremendous ovation," in the words of the telegrapher. Able addresses were also given by Messrs. Fisher, Gibson and Fraser, M.P.s. In the evening Mr. Laurier and his friends were entertained at a banquet in the city hall, which was also a great success. Manitoba is aroused in favor of emancipation from class law.

Some of our contemporaries express surprise at the significant remarks made by the London (England) Times upon the offer of a prize of 1,000 guineas by the Statist newspaper for the best plan of a Tyler and crossed the line nearly a second customs union between Great Britain and her colonies. To those who are cognizant of all the facts, and are disposed to face them fairly, the attitude of the Thunderer will occasion no unusual sensation. The Times merely takes the ground that any customs union which would exclude the unworkable. The reasons it adduces are:

"We are customers of the United States of America for exactly half of their domestic produce, and it may be assumed customer without being willing to make concessions in the direction of a mutually from Great Britain to the United States, believed by some economists to be occurring, is another serious reason in favor of commercial union. The conditions are such that the United States and England must either compete for or unite to possess the command of the world's commerce. United, we might safely defy competition from any source. LONDON PRESBYTERY.

An Adjourned Meeting-Sympathy With Rev. J. A. Murray-Rev. Mr.

Lawrence Examined. An adjourned meeting of London

Presbytery was held in the lecture hall of the First Presbyterian Church, city, at 11 a.m. this morning, Rev. Mr. Miller, of Mosa, moderator, in the chair. W. J. Clark moved, and A. Henderson seconded a resolution of sympathy, which was passed, in connection with the illness of Rev. J. A. Murray, pastor of St. Andrew's Church,

An application from Newbury was made for liberty to mortgage the church property to raise money to pay their share of building a manse. The application was granted on the understanding that Wardsville is satisfied with the security obtained by Newbury.

Mr. A. Thompson, of South London, asked that the Presbytery would appoint W. J. Clark as interim moderator of South London congregation, to act in place of Rev. J. A. Murray, who is at present unable through illness to perform the duties of that office.

It was agreed that, provided the session of Mosa consent, the moderator, Rev. A. Miller, be permitted to give supply to North Ekfrid station as long as possible during the winter, Mr. Henderson, of Appin, and Mr. Young, of Glencoe, to confer with the session regarding the matter. The Presbytery adjourned at noon and resumed in the afternoon. Notice of motion having been given by Mr. Cook, chairman of the committee to strike stand ing committees, to revise the report handed in at last regular meeting, the revised report was presented by him and the changes suggested were passed. Mr. S Lawrence, who had accepted the call to Vanneck, appeared and was examined in the various subjects prescribed by the rules of the church. He also read a lecture and popular sermon, Mr. Lawience will be ordained shortly.

The League Paseball Champions Lose Four Straight Games.

A Hamilton Boy Radly Hurt at Football-General Sporting News.

THE CHAMPIONS NOT IN IT. NEW YORK, Oct. 8 .- The New Yorks have won the Temple cup and will receive 65 per cent of about $22,000 after all expenses have been paid. The champion Baltimores were never in the game at the Polo grounds this afternoon and were badly thrashed. It was New York's fourth consecutive vistory, and 11,000 persons went wild with delight. Meekin pitched a magnificent game, and but for errors by Fuller and Davis the champions would have been shut out.

Hawke began pitching for Baltimore, but after four innings, in which he was pounded hard, he gave way to Kid Gleason, who was easy to find. In all Ward's men rolled up twenty safe hits.

The Baltimores scored two runs in the first inning on Kelley's base on balls, Fuller's fumble of Keeler's grounder, Brouthers' out and McGraw's single. Burke scored a run for New York on his base on balls, a steal, Hawke's error and a wild pitch.

In the third the visitors got another run ou Davis' two errors, Brodie's out and Reitz's single. The New Yorks also made a run on hitz by Meekin, Tiernan and

After the champions had been blanked in the fourth, Ward's men rolled up three runs and took the lead. Van Haltren, Fuller, Farrell and Meekin made singles. Burke sent a long fly to Brodie, and Fuller in a double steal

In the fifth inning the New Yorks clinched the game. Davis got a base on balls and took second on a wild pitch. He scored on Doyle's double, but Ward forced Doyle at third. Van Haltren got four balls, and Fuller's single scored Ward. Van

In the sixth Doyle made another run on his single and steal, an error by McGraw and Ward's out.

The home team piled up five more runs in the seventh. With one out, Farrell singled and Meekin flied to Brodie; Burke | but will recover. made a hit, sending Farrell to third and stealing second himself; Tiernan got a base on balls and Davis received another, forcing in Farrell; Doyle put a single in center, bringing in both Burke and Tiernan; Ward's hit scored Davis, and Doyle ran in on McGraw's failure to step Brodie's throw

In the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth inning the visitors were helpless before Meekin, and when the New Yorks had retired in their half of the eighth the game was called on account of darkness. Van Haltren was presented with a silver bat as the result of a voting contest in a New York paper for the most popular player in the New York and Brooklyn teams. Score:

GREAT GAS EXPLOSION

In the Bank of Commerce at Waterloo. WATERLOO, Oct. 8 .- A serious explosion occurred here this morning at the Waterloo branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. At the hour for beginning the came in on Farrell's hit, while both Fuller day's business Ed. Kreutziger, junior and Farrell connected on Meekin's baser to clerk, was in the act of lighting clerk, was in the act of lighting the gas to illuminate the vault when a deafening explosion took place, knock-ing him with great force against the counter. He was badly burned and lacrated on the face, neck and hands, the skin hanging in shreds in several places,

A serious fire was averted by Teller Snyder rushing in and putting out the flames which had already caught the books. The heavy plate glass windows were badly wrecked, having been blown out and across the street against the opposite building by the force of the concussion. The cause was a leak in the pipes, allowing gas to escape into the vault.

MACHINE made men's shirts are produced by a remarkably economical and effective adaptation of means to ends. The device of cutting out the parts by wholesale from the material is nicely calculated to avoid waste, and great sewing machines, 100 or 200 or 300 together, run cheaply by a single steam engine, sew together the parts, make the buttonholes and sew on the buttons, aided only by a touch here and there from the hands of 100, 200 or 300 earning from $4 to $7 a week each.

According to the reports just issued in London by the Government Board of Trade, it would appear that the safest place where a man can be is in an express train on an English railroad. For not a single passenger of all the 400,000,000 conveyed by rail during the first six months of this year was killed while traveling in the train. Considering that the English lines are more crowded than any others in the world and that the trains run at a higher average of speed, this may be considered as a marvelous record. DR. PARKHURST is trying to organize the women of New York for good city government. He said recently: "Just see what the women of the South accomplished against Breckinridge. There is no reason why they should not do as well in New York. The women are far more persistent than the men. They will hang on longer and will gain their end where men would fail. They can attack where no others can reach, and they are never discouraged. They do not lose hope. I believe that if you get the women aroused they will win the victory.

PLUMS and damsons are so abundant in many parts of England as to be a positive glut in the market, writes a correspondent. Boiling down is being resorted to, no sugar being used. While quite hot, the fruit is put into ordinary wooden casks. carefully corked and air contact prevented. As fruit is needed in the following summer, a cask is opened and the contents boiled with sugar in the ordinary way, the resulting jam being excellent. Pears are the chief orchard crop of the year in the southern counties, though considerable variations in yield no doubt prevail.

AN EDUCATION of the eye, such as the kindergartens undertake in the case of is often of great value to girls that have to earn a living. Nice color perception is absolutely necessary to the girl that is to have the highest success in artificial flower work, in feather working, and, of course, in silk matching. The difference between mere mechanical skill and the highest development of needed faculties in these trades may eventually mean a difference of $25 a week in wages, for the poorest workers receive less than $10 a week, while the best, who rise to be forewomen, may earn liver, stomach and bowels. They are unmore than $30.

THE income of merely the principal charitable institutions having their headquarters in London amounts to £7,000,000 per annum, or $35,000,000. The area occupied by the tribe is not more than twenty miles square, but in it during the past 40 years more than 12,000 murders have been committed for the sake of these gastly trophies.

CANDIDATES for poet-laureate still abound. An Edinburgh bard lately wrote to the First Lord of the Treasury that he was fully competent to fill the post, and that he was willing to do the old work at the old salary. Another aspirant, known as the Aberdeen Loonie, recently placed his services at the disposal of Lord Rosebery in a letter with this postscript: "If you should happen to have another man in your eye for the laureateship, I will be thankful for a Government post of any kind in the meantime, or a suit of your cast off clothes, for that matter." The letter was acknowledged by Lord Rosebery, who knew better than to wound a poet's sensitive feelings. The result in this case was a so lively celebration on the part of the applicant for the laureateship that he was brought into the police station. In answer to the charge, he said: "Exlittle children, writes the New York Sun, cuse me, I had a letter from Lord Rosebery, and it went to my head."

Mr. Edward Blake allowed himself to be funny in his recent speech at Bowmanville. The remark of the Lieutenant-Governor that in the early days one of the text-books was the looks of the young ladies drew from the member for South Longford the quotation: "My only books were women's looks, and folly all they taught me." Then, inforder to be gallant to ladies present. Mr. Blake expressed his appreciation of the new edition of those books which he saw before him, and added that he was bound to confess they were even better illustrated than any former edition, and certainly very much better bound. All of which goes to show that a visit to Ireland does not hurt a man's sense of humor or gallantry.

Local Market. Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son.

London, Tuesday, Oct. 9.

There was a quiet session today and little or to change of values of any consequence. Oats cold at 75c to 80c, with the bulk of transactions no change of values of any consequence. Oats sold at 75c to 80c, with the bulk of transactions at 78c; red wheat was 80c to 85c, mostly 82c to 85c; no good quality of white wheat offered; the price was about 85c; barley was quiet at 80c for feeding samples; 85c for malting; one small lot of very poor rye sold at 95c. Butter was steady at about the same prices as Saturday; e.gs quiet and unchanged; chickens plentiful, steady at 40c to 6J per pair, according to size; ducks active and in good demand at 50c to 75c per pair; turkeys quiet and slow at 10c per pound. The supply of all kinds of meat was good, and the demand steady, though limited. Prices did not vary any since Saturday. Offerings of dressed hogs improving, sales mostly made at $5; some odd hogs brought $6.25. Fruit steady at about Saturday's closing values. The trade in imported fruits is about over, grapes being the only line offering in any quantity. The supply of vegetables was good. Potatoes sold at 50c by the load, 70c by the bag. Cabbage brought 50c to 69c per dozen. Tomatoes, ripe and green, 25c to 43c per bu. Hay was slow owing to extra heavy receipts, sales mostly $8. General values as follows:

A Betting Case Settled.

The ADVERTISER Ottawa special says: The Supreme Court gave judgment today (Tuesday) in (Sim.) Walsh vs. (Fred T.) Trebilcock, the London election betting case, allowing the appeal of Walsh and dismissing the action taken by Trebilcock with costs in all the courts. Justice Taschereau dissented. The chief justice held that the stake-holder, Walsh, was guilty of a misdemeanor in holding the money, and therefore Trebilcock could not recover the money. There could be no withdrawal of the stake, and the money could not be recovered. The judgment of the court was to allow the appeal, with costs, and dismiss the action in the courts below with costs in the court of first instance and also in the Court of Appeal.

"What money has gone out with her?"
It was a question that she had no right to put. Richard answered it, however. "At present, not any. Tomorrow I shall rive Rane a check for two hundred pounds. Time was, madam, when I thought my eister would have gone from us with twenty thousand.

what is," said madam, an unpleasant sneer on her face. "Mr. North — to hear him speak—cannot snare the track — and the world did not suspect that this returns were so small. speak-cannot spare the two hundred." "Quite true: Mr. North has it not to spare," said Richard. "It is I who give it to my sister. Drained though we constantly are for money, I could not, for very shame, uffer Bessy to go to her husband quite penniless."

"She has not gone penniless," retorted madam, brazening the thing out. "I hear the Hall has been dismantled for her." "Oh, mother!" interposed Arthur in a rush of pain.

"Hold your tongue; it is no affair of yours," spoke Mrs. North. "A cart-load of turniture has gone out of the Hall."
" raid Richard. "It was Bessy's own," said Richard. "It was her mother's; and we have always considered it Bessy's. A few trifling mahogany things, madam, that you have never condescender to take notice of, and that never, in point of fact, belonged to you. They have gone with Bessy, poor gir.; and I trust Rane will make her a happier home than she has had here.'

"I trust they will both be miserable," flashed madam. Equable in temper though Richard North was, there are limits to endurance; he found his anger lising, and quitted the room abruptly. Arthur Bohun went limping after him; in any season of emotion, he was un-

"I would beg your pardon for her, Dick, in all entreaty," he whispered, putting his arm within Richard's, "but that my tongue is held by shame and humiliation. It was an awful mifortune for you all when your father married her.

"We can only make the best of it, Arthur," was the kindly answer. "It was neither your fault nor mine."

"Where is the good old pater?"
"Hiding somewhere. Not a doubt of it."
"Let us go and find him, Dick. He may be the better for having us with him today. If she was not my mother — and upon my word and honor, Richard, I sometimes think the is not - I'd strap on my armor and do brave battle for him."

The bride and bridegroom were settling down in their house. Bessy, arranging her furniture in her new home, was busy and happy as the summer day was long. Some of the mahogany things were terribly oldfa-hioned, but the fact never occurred to Bessy. The carpet was bright; the piano, Richard's present, and a great surprise, was beautiful. It was so kind of him to give her one - she who was only a poor player at best, and had thought of asking madam to be allowed to have the unused old thing in the old schoolroom at Dallory Hall. She clung to Richard with tears in her eyes as she kissed and thanked him. He kissed her again, and gave his good wishes for her happiness, but Bessy thought him somewhat out of spirits. Richard North handed over two hundred pounds to them; a most acceptable offering to Dr. Rane.

"Thank you, Richard," he heartily said, grasping his brother-in-law's hand. "I shall be getting on so well shortly as to need no help for my wife's sake or for mine." And Richard knew that he was anticipating the period when the other doctor should have left, and the whole practice be in his own

It was on the third or fourth morning after their return, that Dr. Rone, coming home from seeing his patients, met his fellow surgeon, arm-in-arm with a stranger. Mr. Alexander stopped to introduce him. "Mr. Seeley, Rane," he said. "My friend and successor. Had a shot been fired at Dr. Rane, he could scarcely have felt more astounded. In the moment's confused blow, he almost

'Your successor! Here?" "My successor in the practice. I have sold him the good-will, and he has come down to be introduced. Dr. Rane bowed. The new doctor put out his hand. That same day Dr. Rane went over to Mr. Alexander's and reproached him. "You might at least have given me the refusal had you wanted to sell it."

"My good fellow, I promised it to Seeley ages ago," was the answer. "He knew I had a prospect of the London appointment; in fact, helped me to get it."

What was to be said? Nothing. But Oliver Rane felt as though a bitter blow had again fallen upon him, blighting the fair vista of the future. "Don't be down hearted, Oliver," whispered Bessy, hopefully, as she clung round him when he went in and spoke of the dis-appointment. "We shall be just as happy with a small practice as a large one. It will all come right - with God's blessing on us." But Oliver Rane, looking back on a certain deed of the past, felt by no means sure in his heart of hearts that the blessing would be upon them.

PART THE SECOND. CHAPTER I.

Bessy Rane sat at the large window of her dining-room in the coming twilight. Some twelve months had elspsed since her marriage, and summer was round again. Her work had dropped on her lap: it was that of stitching some wristbands for her husband; and she sat inhaling the sweet scent of the flowers, and watching Jelly's movements in Mrs. Cumberland's dining-room, facing her. Jelly had a candle in her hand, apparently searching for something. Bessy leaned forward to pluck a sprig of sweet verbena, and sat on tranquilly.

At the table behind her sat Dr. Rane, writing as fast as the waning light would permit him. Some unusual and peculiar symptoms had manifested themselves in a patient he had been attending, and he was making them and the case into a paper for a medical publication, in the hope that it would bring him back a remunerative guinea

"Oliver, I am sure you can't see," said Bessy presently, looking round.
"It is almost bindman's holiday, dear. Will you ring for the lamp?"

Mrs. Rine rose. But, instead of ringing for the lamp, she went up to him, and put her hand on his shoulder persuasively. "Take a quarter-of-an-hour's rest, Oliver. You will find all the benefit of it; and it is not quite time to light the lamp. Let us take a stroll in the garden." "You are obstructing what little light is left, Bessy; standing between me and the paper from him with a sigh of weariness, and they stepped from the window into the garden. Bessy passed her hand within his arm; and, turning towards the more secluded paths, they began to converse with one many a twilight half-hour had they thus paced together of late, talking together of what was and of what might might be. The first year of their marriage had not been one of success in a pecuniary point of view; for Dr. Rane's practice did not improve. He earned barely sufficient for their moderate wants. Bessy, as cash-keeper, had a diffi. culty in making both ends meet. But the fact was not known; never a syllable of it transpired from either of them. Dr. Rane was seen out and about a great deal, going

The new surgeon, Seeley, had stepped into Mr. Alexander's practice, and was flourishing. Dr. Rane's, as before, was chiefly confined to the lower classes, especially those belonging to the North Works; and from certain circumstances, these men were not so supplied with funds as they had been, and consequently were not so well able to pay him. That Dr. Rane was bitterly mortified at not getting on better, for his wife's sake as well as his own, could not be mistaken. Bessy preached of hope cheerfully; of a bright future yet in store; but he had lost faith in it. (To be Continued.)

Anna Eva Fay in Trouble.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Oct. 8.—Anna Eva Fay, the spiritualist who has been exploiting her supernatural powers here, has gotten into a controversy with Rev. Mr. Wilkinson. pastor of the Grand View Avenue Methodist Church, who declared she once gave an entertainment at his church in another city, and declared at the close that she was not a spiritualist. He has challenged her to put up $5,000 to be forfeited to Dubuque charities if he proved his assertion. Judge Husted, of the District Court, is to be referee.

Father Burke Vindicated.

SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I., Oct. 8.—The new cause celebre brought against Father Burke, of Alberton, for destroying the liquor of an itinerant rum seller who invaded his tea party last July, was heard in appeal here Saturday before Judge Fitz-gerald. The decision of Magistrate Wright was reversed with costs, thus vindicating to the full the action of the priest. The judge commended Father Burke in the highest possible terms, whilst in scathing language he condemned the rum seller and magistrate. The decision gives unbounded satisfaction and is a splendid victory for temperance. Attorney-General Peters appeared for Father Burke.

Quack Advertisements Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom | prudent. of pain, penetrates to the nerver, soothes them into quietness and affords prompt and that can move int permanent relief.

pepsia."-Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville. writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but littie hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 79 years of age I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am well-known in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case.

Statements Made in Favor o Paine's Celery Compound Always Ring With Honesty.

A Marvelous Cure in Virden, Manitoba.

A Minister of the Gospel Can Inders the Testimony.

False statements, like counterfeit coin. for a time will pass current and undetected.

The false statements made in connection with a host of common medicines have duped and disappointed thousands of our suffering people in the past, and at the present time there are many who are being deceived from day to day. These worthless and deceptive medicines, with all their false assertions about ouring disease, are new being posted on the black list in all well-regulated communities, and are carefully avoided and abhorred by the wise and

It is only the powerful lever of truth peoples. This mighty lever is Paire's Celery Compound, an agent that has never had an equal in the history of medicine for the curing of the sick and diseased, Every statement made in favor of Paine's Celery Compound rings out with honesty and truth. The letters of testimony come from our own Canadian people, whom doubters may interview or write to for particulars.

Paine's Celery Compound has thousands of records of victories over rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, kidney and liver troubles, general weakness and lost vitality. The marvelous cure of Mr. James Leverington, of Virden, Manitoba, by Paine's Bros., Celery Compound, after the failures of House. dectors and other agencies, should be sufficient proof for all fair-minded men and women who are honestly seeking for health, strength and new life. Mr. Leverington writes as follows about his success with the world's best medicine: "I think it my duty, without solicitation from anyone, to write in the interests of other sufferers, and give you a testimonial in favor of your (to me) almost miraculous remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. For more than a year I was suffering from the agonizing pains of sciatica; and after trying all that medical skill could devise, and asing many remedies, patent and otherwise, I concluded to try the Hot Springs of Banff. Under the able superintendence of Dr. Brett, I took the treatment thor- lish, Canadian and American Dr. Brett, I took the treatment thoroughly and carefully for six weeks, and came home at the end of that time racked with pain and weighing 43 pounds less. At this juncture, when hope had almost fled, I heard of Paine's Celery Compound. It seemed suited to my case, and I sent to my druggist, Mr. J. W. Higginbotham, of this place, and asked about it. He recommended it to me, and I took a bottle. I soon began to feel better, and after taking a second bottle I was a cured man, and threw away my crutches. "I keep a bottle on hand in case of any return of the complaint. I am now 58 years old, and I feel as spry and healthy and free from pain as I ever did in my life. I was born in Nortolk, England, and came to Canada when only 3 years old. I was brought up in the township of Cornwall. Ontario, and came to Manitoba eight years ago. Have always been a farmer, and am as able to do hard work now as ever I was. "With a heart full of gratitude for the benefits derived from the use of your remedy, and a wish to influence others who may suffer, I gladly and freely indite this

"Rev. Mr. Talbot, Methodist minister, of Elkhorn, can confirm my statements, and will do so if written to.' Mr. Higginbotham, the successful and extremely popular druggist of Virden, vouches for Mr. Leverington's statements as follows: "I have known Mr. Leverington for two years or more, and can confirm what he says in regard to his cure by Paine's Celery Compound. Ever since his cure he has been sounding its praises, and he is a perfect enthusiast on the subject of Paine's Celery Compound. I believe him to be thoroughly reliable."

Less of a Trading Vessel-Thirteen Persons Drowned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 .- The Herald prints the following from St. Kitts, under date of Oct. 1: "A terrible disaster occurred in the harbor of Barrettere within a stone's throw of the shore, by which thirteen persons were drowned. During the height of the recent storm one of the traders between St. Kitts and Neris, in which were a number of passengers and crew, found-ered. Heroic efforts to rescue the struggling passengers were made in spite of the furious wind and sea, and those rescued from the ill-fated craft as well as from other boats in distress exceeded largely the number drowned.

Margaret L. Reasted. The Margaret L. Shepherd Company appeared before a slim audience in the Opera House here Thursday evening in "Tried as by Fire," the story of Mrs. Shepherd's life. If the story is true, Mrs. Shepherd should be ashamed of it instead of parading her filthy record for the gratification of the vulgar. There can be no excuse for this outrage against propriety; for the only moral which this play teaches is that if a woman is bold as well as bad, she can impose successfully on a certain class of the community. Mrs. Shepherd as an actress is a failure. She possesses no dramatic talent whatever. Her leading man, Martin Cheworth, can only be described as a ridiculous barn-stormer. The play is without a redeeming feature. Any person who sits it cut will certainly be "tried as by fire."-[Port Hope Times. To Help the Deserving Poor.

Miller, the superintendent of the home (of the Salvation Citadel, Clarence street), will be pleased to wait on the citizens to receive subscriptions either of money or things necessary to fit up the home, so as to get the institution ready for the opening. It is not the army's intention to pauperize, but to help a man to help himself.

Mantell Tonight, There are few plays of the modern school of drama which have held the stage longer than the "Corsican Brothers," which the great Dumas evolved while at the height of his popularity. Although he has written an almost countless number of romances, yet in none of them do his marvelous gifts as a novelist appear to better advantage than in this stirring dramatic romance of the twin brothers, del Franchi. Revivals of the drama have taken place every few years, and the latest will be that offered at the Grand tonight with the clever and painstaking young actor, Robert Mantell, in the dual role of Louis and Fabien del Franchi. In this play Mr. Mantell has an excellent opportunity to display his abilities as a romantic actor, and his sudden changes from the melancholy Louis to the gay and light-hearted Fabien have gained him the favor of the most captious critics. The version of "The Corsican Brothers" used by Mr. Mantell, as well as the mechanical effects, visions, vampires, tricks, traps, apparitions, scenery, costumes, etc., is similar to that presented a few years ago by Henry Irving at the Lyceum Theater in London, and differs considerably from the one formerly played here. This version is divided into six acts and tableaux, and opens with a scene at Louis' Chambers in Paris, ending with the death of Fabien at their Corsican home. That Joyiul Feeling. With the exhibarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanitness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not

As Resident Paster of the First Congregational Church-Addresses by Rev. Dr. Wild and Rev. Mesars, Hay and Silocx. Rev. J. R. Adams, of this city, is now the official resident paster of the First Congregational Church, being assistant to Rev. Dr. Wild. The impressive ordination Br. Wild. The impressive ordination services were conducted last evening before a large number of the congregation. Neighboring Congregational ministers met in council yesterday afterneon at 3 o'clock, the following being present: Rev. Messre. Dr. Wild, Hey, Silcox, Claris and Messrs. Cannom, Langridge and Marshall. Rev. Mr. Hay was appointed chairman and Rev.

Mr. Siloox secretary.

Rev. J. R. Adams was examined; his papers were found to be exceedingly satisfactory, and he also gave a verbal statement of his doctrinal belief. Mr. Adams ment of his doctrinal belief. Mr. Adams, being requested to withdraw, Rev. Dr. Wild moved, seconded by Rev. Mr. Claris, "That this council has heard Mr. Adams with reference to his call to the ministry, doctrinal belief, etc., and that we report him entirely satisfactory, and we proceed with the ordination service," In the evening Rev. Mr. Hay occu-pied the chair and called on the secretary to read the report of the council. Rev. J. R. Adams was asked the following questions by Rev. R. Hay: 1. Why are you a Christian? 2. What led to your seeking the Christian ministry?

3. What has led to your connection with this church as pastor? Mr. Adams replied in a satisfactory manner to all questions. A scripture lesson was then read by Rev. Mr. Silcox, and Rev. Dr. Wild delivered the sermon to the new pastor, taking as his text I. Corinthians, xiv., 3: "But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification and exhortation and comfort." Dr. Wild's remarks were earnest and to the point. He spoke of the change in ministerial work, and told his assistant to preach what he believed, to be cheerful, to be a man, a keeper of secrets, and a thoroughly trustworthy pastor.

Rev. Mr. Claris made the ordination prayer, and at its conclusion tendered prayer, and at its conclusion tendered Rev. Mr. Adams the right hand of fellowship for the council and the congregation. An address of welcome was given by Rev. Mr. Silcox. Rev. Mr. Hay very briefly delivered the address to the process. The Misses Mutch and Mack sang people. The Misses Mutch and Meck sang a duet during the offertory. After the visiting elergymen had been invited to the tea meeting this evening the assemblage broke up with the doxology.

A mother's statement as to how her baby's life was saved may induce many mothers to pause and consider the import-

Escape, INGERSOLL, Oct. 8 .- W. H. Bailey, of West Oxford township, claims to have escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was effected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured him completely. Another Spot Cash Transaction THE POWER OF MONEY!

Was fully exemplified the other day when our Mr. T. Edward Mara purchased from the owners a large consignment of

adies Jackets & Mantles

Consigned to the Bankrupt Firm of

Raton James

And stopped in transit at the port of Montreal, by the owners. This consignment cost us, laid down, about

Less than any of the other large dealers in this city can possibly lay them down for, which fact enables us to sell at the price our competitors are paying for their goods, and yet we will still have enough margin for our profit.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Oct. 9.—John Ravell, a miner, last evening put half a box of dynamite in the kitchen stove to thaw it out for use in the morning. The family con-

Is now one of the most complete in the Dominion, but this purchase, in addition to our other stock, makes us

TOO HEAVILY LOADED,

And we will therefore commence the slaughter at once. FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED!
