WOMAN CONFESSES THAT SHE SET FIRE TO NUNNERY WHERE 65 BABIES WERE CREMATED

Mystery Surrounding Fatal Conflagration in Montreal Institution in February Is Solved in the Arrest of Berthe Courtmanche.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—The disastrous Grey Nunnery fire of February 14 last, in which 65 babes were burned to death, was purposely caused by a female orderly of the institution, Berthe Courtmanche, who is said to have periodical attacks of fire mania. The woman was still working at the institution at the time when she was arrested this afternoon.

After keeping Courtmanche under observation at the Grey Nunnery for a week past, Detective Proulx of the provincial police department taxed the woman with the crime and extracted a full confession from her last night.

Her arrest followed early this afternoon, and she was arraigned at the courthouse on a charge of arson.

The woman's confession reveals the mania which must have possessed her at the time of her diabolical act. "I crept out of bed on the night of the fire," she told the detective, "and set fire to a pile of newspapers which I had placed behind the radiator in the room where the babies were sleeping. The curtains caught fire, and then I went back to bed. God knows why I did it."

BRITISH ADVANCE DESPITE INTENSE FIRE OF GERMANS

Enemy Using Great Number of Heavy Pieces To Check Allies.

London, Sept. 19.—Correspondents at the front emphasize the stiffening of the enemy resistance, making yesterday's British advance all the more remarkable. German gunpower is unusually strong, long range, high velocity guns being employed to draw a line of fire almost equal to a barrage across a wide extent of country. Hence for the first time for a long period more British casualties are due to shell splinters than to machine gun bullets. This intensified artillery fire gives an index of the strength of the British effort necessary to clear ridges with numerous fortified villages lying immediately in front of the Hindenburg line in which the Germans are being pushed by irresistible British pressure.

An important feature of the advance is that the British have not merely passed their old line of March 21, but have attained their greatest success near Bellecourt, where the St. Quentin Canal, which is practically an integral part of the Hindenburg line, runs three or four miles underground. This tunnel begins near Bellecourt and ends near the village of Catelet. Lempire Heights, commanding this tunnel is now largely in British hands and the Germans at this point cannot hope to oppose the advance of tanks by flooding the country.

JAP CAVALRY ENTER TOWN OF TCHITA IN THE TRANS-BAIKAIL

Arrival of Allies in Northern Russia Received With Enthusiasm.

Stockholm, Sept. 19.—A contingent of Japanese cavalry, together with troops belonging to the command of Gen. Semenoff, the Cossack leader, entered the town of Tchita, in the trans-Baikal, on September 6. The arriving troops were enthusiastically welcomed.

The entry of Czecho-Slovak forces into Tchita from the west previous to this date has already been reported.

SERB PRISONERS SOLD AS SLAVES TO HUN ALLIES

Captured Soldiers Were Subjected to Disease in Turkey and Bulgaria.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The Serbian Government is in possession of documents proving beyond possible question that thousands of Serbian prisoners have been sold as slaves for a specified period to Turkey by Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary and Germany, according to a Balkan agency dispatch from Corfu. The prisoners, it is said, were delivered to contractors who are engaged in working Asia-Minor and Anatolio. It is said they were subjected to terrible treatment and that thousands have died from typhus, cholera and hunger.

GERMAN GOVT. MUST MAKE STAND AGAINST THE PAN-GERMANS

President of German Reichstag Sees No Ministerial Crisis.

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Constantine Fehrenbach, president of the German Reichstag, sees no reason to expect a ministerial crisis in Germany, according to an interview with him printed in the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin.

Differenes of opinion regarding peace aims no longer exist between authoritative political and military circles, he is quoted as saying, and hence there is no ground for objection to von Hertling retaining the chancellorship.

"No one needs doubt that the chancellor is determined to bring about a peace by understanding," he says. "It will, however, be necessary for the Government to make a determined stand against the Pan-Germans."

MANY KILLED AND HURT IN FIRE IN A VIENNA AMMUNITION FACTORY

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Many persons have been killed or injured in a fire in the Woellersdorf ammunition factory in Vienna, according to an official report received here. After the fire there was a panic among the workers in the shell-making section of the factory.

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Manitoba Great War Veterans will sever their connections with the Dominion Great War Veterans' Association, if the notice of motion approved at the meeting of Winnipeg members this evening is adopted at the next regular meeting. All leading officers favor it.

A CONFESSION OF WEAKNESS

Rome, Sept. 19.—In a long article which is taken as reflecting the views of Vatican officials, if not of the Pope himself, the Corriere D'Italia the semi-official organ of the Vatican, declares that Austria should have been more explicit in her declarations.

The old subterfuges that the note undoubtedly carries, show the desperate need of peace. The article says: "There is no need for secret conferences when President Wilson and others already have set forth the Allied conditions. There is no doubt that the note was inspired by Berlin. With the cannon of Hindenburg unsuccessful, we will now see a return to the subtleties of diplomacy. The note is equivalent to a confession of military weakness. It is a sign that the fatal hour has begun for them when they must submit to the Allies' peace.

"If in the year of 1916 they offered peace, now they ask it." The article continues: "But in what spirit do they ask peace?"

GOVERNOR-GENERAL IS WELCOMED AT ANGLICAN SYNOD

Archbishop Mathieson Reads Address to the Duke of Devonshire.

HIS EXCELLENCY PLEASED

Expresses Hope of Great Results From the Sessions.

Toronto, Sept. 19.—In joint session this morning the general synod of the Church of England in Canada welcomed his excellency the governor-general, and an address was read by the primate, Archbishop S. P. Mathieson, on behalf of the synod.

In his reply the governor-general referred to the work the synod was engaged with and the great problems which it would be called upon to solve.

Confidence in the ultimate success of the Allies in the war was expressed by his excellency, who also declared that when peace was finally declared, a foundation for a lasting peace would have to be laid.

The address of welcome, which was presented by the primate, embodied assurances of the synod's whole-hearted and unswerving loyalty to his majesty the king, and of their earnest prayers for victory.

The address also stated that the visit of the governor-general would encourage the clergy in their work on the great problems before them at the present time.

"The historic Church of England bears a large degree of responsibility in the solution of these problems," read the primate. "We pray that we may be equal to the task."

His Excellency's Reply.

Replying, his excellency declared that the synod was meeting at a time of great anxiety to discuss problems unknown a few years ago. The spirit brought to bear on the work would not only have an immediate effect, but also in years to come.

"When the history of this war is written," he said, "how is it that it will be recorded that in the twentieth century we have seen negation and denial of all true principles on which our civilization rested."

Speaking of the causes of the war, the governor-general declared that the hands of the Allies were clean and the war was none of their seeking, and we should not have been true to our faith and our true principles had we taken any other course than that which was taken.

WHEAT YIELD IS BELOW AVERAGE OF PRECEDING YEARS

Dominion Bureau of Statistics Submits Preliminary Estimate.

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—An average yield of twelve and a half bushels per acre for spring wheat and sixteen and a half bushels for fall wheat for all Canada is given by the Dominion bureau of statistics in its preliminary estimate of average yields per acre for the principal grain crops of Canada during 1918. Last year fall wheat averaged 21½ bushels per acre, while for the ten-year pedlod, 1908-17, the average was 23 bushels.

Spring wheat averaged 15½ bushels last year and 19 bushels for the decennial period.

For other crops the respective averages are in bushels per acre:

Oats 33 as against 33¾ and 35½; barley, 25½ as against 23 and 27; flax, 5¼ as against 6½ and 10½.

For the prairie provinces the estimated average yields per acre are:

Manitoba—Wheat, 17 bushels; oats, 38⅝; barley, 29¾; rye, 15¾; flax, 11¾.

Saskatchewan—Wheat, 11¼ bushels; oats, 13½; barley, 22; rye, 15; flax, 8½.

Alberta—Wheat, 10 bushels; oats, 23½; barley, 16¾; rye, 15¾; flax, 5¼.

About 4,000,000 bushels of wheat, 1,453,500 bushels of barley, and about 15,000,000 bushels of oats remained in stock in Canada at the close of the crop year.

A comparatively small portion of this grain is in the hands of the farmers, the reports indicating an almost absolute clearance by farmers of their 1917 stocks.

WHEAT FLOUR TO BE MIXED WITH 20 PER CENT OTHER CEREAL

BAKU IS REPORTED CAPTURED BY THE TURKISH FORCES

Claim Made at Constantinople That British Have Suffered Reverse.

Paris, Sept. 18.—Turkish troops have taken Baku, according to a Basel dispatch quoting a telegram from Constantinople under date of September 17. It is pointed out by the Temps that the treaty of Brest-Litovsk left Baku to the Russians, but that this does not prevent the Turks from continuing their advance.

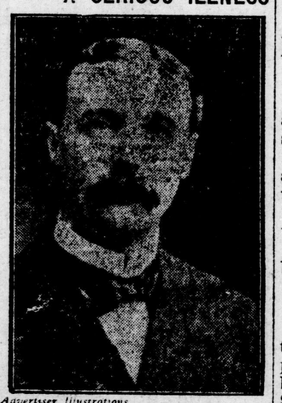

This report from Constantinople would seem to indicate that the British have suffered a reverse in the Baku region. It was reported on August 6 that British forces had entered Baku, having reached that city from their base by the way of Persia. No fighting in the Baku region has been reported recently.

SIAMESE TROOPS LAND IN FRANCE

British Forces Penetrate Foe's Positions In Attack Aimed At the Encirclement of Town — Lempire and Prisoners Captured By the Australians — German Counter-Attacks Repulsed With Losses.

BRITISH CAPTURE 8,000 GERMANS.

With the British Forces in France, Sept. 19.—Field Marshal Haig's forces, up to midnight last night, had captured a lot of more than 8,000 Germans as the result of their drive of yesterday on the Cambrai front. Several thousand yards of the Hindenburg outpost line was in British hands this morning on the Villeret sector, southwest of Le Catelet.

London, Sept. 19.—The British last night made further progress in their drive into the Hindenburg line in the St. Quentin region, aimed at the encirclement of that town, according to Field Marshal Haig's statement issued today.

The Australians renewed their attacks and carried the Hindenburg outposts. Many prisoners and a number of machine guns were taken by them. The town of Lempire was captured, as was Gauche Wood. (Lempire is four miles directly west of Le Catelet.

The Germans late yesterday started a heavy bombardment on the northern part of the battlefront, southwest of Cambrai, between Gouzeaucourt and the Arras-Cambrai road. The fire was of extreme intensity.

The enemy followed his bomardment by a strong infantry attack on a wide front northward from the vicinity of Trescault. He was completely repulsed at all points with great losses.

Yesterday afternoon a violent bombardment from a large number of guns was opened by the enemy on the northern portion of the battlefront, between Gouzeaucourt and the Arras-Cambrai road. Telephone communication with the divisions in line was rapidly cut by the intensity of the hostile fire.

At 5 o'clock in the evening German infantry attacked in strength on a wide front from the neighborhood of Trescault northwards. At all points they were completely repulsed with great loss by troops of the Guards of the 3rd and 37th Divisions. Another strong attack delivered shortly afterwards north of Moeuvre was also driven off with heavy German losses. At certain localities, bodies of the enemy succeeded in reaching and entering our out trenches, where they were overwhelmed by counter-attacks.

BULGARIANS IN RETREAT ARE BURNING HUGE MILITARY STORES

London, Sept. 19.—The Bulgarians are in flight in Macedonia and are burning stores and villages, according to a Serbian official statement received here.

New regiments thrown in by the Bulgarians have been forced to retreat with the others.

The Bulgarians have been defeated completely, and the Serbian troops are pursuing them day and night.

SYMPATHY COMES FROM MANY POINTS TO HOLMAN FAMILY

Flowers and Telegrams Express Feelings Over Death of Citizen.

Alfred D. Holman, the last member of the Holman family, sons and daughters of George and Harrie Jacobs Holman, founders of the famous opera company which bore their name, was laid to rest at Woodland Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Friends and associates thronged to the Holman residence at 572 Talbot street at 2:30 o'clock to pay their last respects to one whom they had loved and honored, and who held a prominent place for so many years in the community life. Heaped about the casket were floral offerings, many of them ordered by wire from Boston, Chicago, Toronto and distant points in Canada and the United States to tell with flowers the story of sorrow and of sympathy for the bereaved wife and son.

By these tokens, musicians, artists, prominent citizens, members of the various fraternal societies with which Mr. Holman was associated, were represented.

The Church of England service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Douglas, assistant rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, of which Mr. Holman was a member and for many years also an official, after which the Richard Couer de Lion Preceptory, Knights Templars, took charge of proceedings. The beautiful and impressive service was conducted by Most Eminent Sir Knight C. W. McGuire, Most Eminent Sir Knight A. E. Carrothers reading the prayers as chaplain of the preceptory. Sir Knight J. W. Metherall was captain of the Mocha Patrol, and the pallbearers, Sir Knight Armour, Sir Knight J. J. Dyer, Sir Knight Charles Alford, Sir Knight Blackwell, Sir Knight Steel and Sir Knight William Ross.

A deluge of telegrams and letters of sympathy arrived on Tuesday from all parts of the country, to which the news had gone of the passing of a member of a family that has represented so much in the development of music and dramatic art in America.

Tuesday night, Mrs. Holman left for Chicago with her son, Arthur Holman, who has inherited the family dramatic talent, and whose stage career has brought further credit to the name of Holman. She will remain there for some months before returning to her own home here.

VEGETABLES SOLD ON LOCAL MARKET TO BE FULL WEIGHT

Law Setting Standard For Bushel To Be Enforced.

GIVE AMPLE WARNING

Dominion Inspector Promises Prosecution of All Who Fail To Comply.

George Connor, Dominion fruit inspector for this district, has received from the department of agriculture a notice regarding the weights of vegetables offered for sale on the local market. The notice states the correct weight required for each article as well as stating that a penalty will be placed on each person who does not live up to the rules mentioned in it.

Give Ample Warning.

Mr. Connor this morning, in conversation with The Advertiser, said that the farmers would be given due warning regarding the new ruling and a copy of the notice would either be placed in their hands or put in a convenient place where they would be able to see it. After a certain length of time which will be termed sufficient for the farmers to have read the notices, the law, laid down by them will be rigidly enforced, and anyone found lacking in the weights of the articles will receive the penalty and partiality will be shown to none. Mr. Connor also stated that as he was a resident of this city he would be a frequent visitor at the market to see that all abided by the law. A copy of the notice as received by him is as follows:

Lieut. Kennedy, who at the time of writing was at the casualty clearing station, stated that he expected to leave for "Blighty" in a few days, and that it would not be many months before he would be on Canadian soil again.

Lieut. Kennedy, who previous to enlisting was a reporter on the staff of The London Advertiser, left with the 91st Battalion, of which the late Lieut. Joseph Walters also was a member. To the day when he received his wounds he had been in the trenches eight months.

MOTION TO INCREASE WATER CHARGES WILL BE CONSIDERED TODAY

The utilities commission meets this afternoon, and will likely deal with the motion of Commissioner Jarod Vining calling for an increase in the water charges.

It has been the contention of Mr. Somerville and Mayor C. R. Somerville that the water department of the city is not on a paying basis. Mr. Vining asked the commission to have Manager E. V. Buchanan present a report on the cost of supplying water in the city. This was done, and later Mr. Vining gave notice that he would move for an increase in the water charges to enable the department to take care of taxes and other charges, and at the same time allow for a certain surplus being turned over to the city yearly.

Consideration of Mr. Vining's motion has been laid over for a couple of months. However, it is likely that there will be a full meeting of the commission today, and in that event the matter will be disposed of.

GETS 30 DAYS FOR STEALING IN CAMP

Pte. Robert Wamsley of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Garrison Regiment, who was found guilty by district court-martial recently of theft, was yesterday sentenced to serve 30 days' detention for his offence. Pte. Wamsley, who was being transferred to the Siberian Expeditionary Force, pleaded guilty to stealing several articles of kit from his comrades to make up deficiencies in his own equipment.

The sentence was read out at Carling Heights camp by Capt. Lewis, adjutant of the battalion, before the entire unit drawn up on parade in the form of a hollow square.

COMPANY TO MAKE NEW AUTO TUBE IS ORGANIZING HERE

Will Give Employment to a Number of Workers.

A company is being organized in London to manufacture an aero cushion inner tube for automobiles. A meeting will be held this afternoon in the office of U. A. Buchner, barrister, to effect a temporary organization and decide on the capitalization of the new company.

C. E. Judson of Detroit, formerly of Medicine Hat, Alta., is the organizer. He holds the patent rights for Canada on the new tire. This new appliance is said to be a boon to autos in the limited parts of the United States where it is now being sold. It is much the same as a rubber sponge. The promoters of the company contend that it does away with rim cuts, blowouts and, in fact, all tire trouble, and at the same time is as resilient as a pneumatic tire.

The company will employ 25 hands when in full operation. It is proposed to start on a small scale, which will call for about ten hands.

STATUTE LABOR TAX RETURN IN EXCESS OF CITY'S ESTIMATE

Nearly 400 Have Paid—Now After Delinquents.

Despite the call of the war, which has taken young men away from London by the wholesale, the return from the statute labor tax has already exceeded the estimated receipts for this year by $400. The council estimated that there would be 500 residents of the city eligible for this tax. Already 380 have donated their five-dollar bill.

The total of $1,900 will, however, be increased to $2,250. City Treasurer Bell has a list of 70 young men who have not paid their tax as yet. A collector is now calling upon them. Those who refuse to pay will have the same treatment meted out to them as the delinquent dog owners. They will be summoned to the police court.

Since the city treasurer issued his warning to dog owners, through the Tuesday edition of The Advertiser, 37 dog owners have called on the city treasurer and paid up.

ALARMING LETTER SAYS EARL ROBINSON LOST; OFFICIAL WORD LACKING

Soldier Sends Home Belongings of Young Londoner.

Pte. W. Earl Robinson may be killed or wounded, according to unofficial information received by his mother, Mrs. N. Robinson, 459 Central avenue.

Pte. Robinson was formerly employed in the mailing department of The London Advertiser. He enlisted with the Canadian Mounted Rifles in June, 1917, and trained in Hamilton. He went overseas with his unit last October, and went to France in April of this year.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Robinson from a soldier in France with a picture of Pte. Robinson's effects, as well as a few verses of poetry sent to him by his mother some months ago:

Dear Mrs. Robinson.—A few days ago I had some old letters handed to me, which had been taken out of a soldier's kit bag, which I believe is your son's. This man has been either killed in action or wounded. I went through the letters to see if there was anything inclosed you would like. The inclosed is all I found, so I am forwarding them to you.

This is all the news I can give you concerning your son. You will most likely have heard from the war office what has happened to him. Please excuse me for taking this liberty of writing to you, and accept my deepest sympathy in your sad case. I remain,

Mrs. Robinson wired the director of records at Ottawa, and they answered by stating they have not yet received word to the effect that he has been wounded or killed, but cabled England for further particulars.

YO! HO! HO! AND A BOTTLE OF GIN, SING HARVESTERS

Just Then Blue-Coated Bane of Merriment Arrives.

FEMININE FUSS IS AIRED

Glasses Broken in Neighborly Bout Will Have To Be Replaced.

Hard work garnering the bountiful harvest of this year without adequate help undermined the health of a couple of husky Middlesex farmers, and one of them decided to visit a doctor. The physician apparently prescribed too well instead of wisely, for the farmer this morning was fined $200 and costs in police court. His friend, who accompanied him, paid ten dollars and costs for being intoxicated on a public street. The square-faced bottle containing the medicine (gin), which was said to have been purchased from the liquor vendor in the city on a prescription, and which was produced in court, was an imperial quart in size. The men were found last night at the corner of Talbot and Carling streets under the influence of the liquor and giving glad expression to songs of the harvest.

A Sisterly Squabble.

A neighborly feud of long standing reached a climax when one of the principals was charged in police court with assault. She admitted that the charge was partly true. The plaintiff claimed that she had been attacked while on the street last Saturday evening without any provocation whatever. Her ten-dollar glasses had been broken, her seven-dollar blouse had the collar torn off, her hair was pulled, her face was scratched, and she was generally rather badly used, according to her evidence. Defendant denied that she had caused all this damage, but admitted that she had struck the plaintiff. She asserted that she had been called "a dirty, low thing" last Saturday evening when she struck her neighbor.

Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon decided that ten dollars should cover all damages after an examination of the glasses, and accordingly advised the defendant to pay this amount and the costs of the case. The case was adjourned until Saturday, when it will be dismissed if the damage has been made good.

Assaulted His Wife.

For assaulting his wife, a youthful-looking benedict appeared before the magistrate and received some fatherly advice from the bench as to how he should conduct himself. He claimed that his wife did not properly take care of their two children and that his wife threw a fork at him when he remonstrated with her.

His wife admitted throwing the fork, but said she was provoked into it by his fault-finding ways. The case was adjourned for one month to give them another chance to see if they can live peaceably together.

MEMBER OF LONDON'S OWN DIES ON FIELD; OTHERS GET WOUNDS

Samuel R. Evans, a former member of the 142nd (London's Own) Battalion, has been killed in action, according to word received by his father, G. H. Evans, 454 Egerton street, last night. Pte. Evans was 22 years old, and enlisted on September 9, 1915. He had seen two years' service in France before receiving the wound which caused his death.

The young man was employed by the A. B. Greer Company and later in Detroit. He returned to London early in 1915 and signed up with his brother, Fred Evans, in the 142nd Battalion. The latter was discharged after six months' service as being physically unfit. Pte. Evans is survived by his parents, his brother and one sister, Mrs. A. Strangeman.

Although his death was announced as having occurred on September 2, the telegram was the first word of the casualty received by the young man's parents.

Mrs. I. Burtch, 239 Simcoe street, has received word that her son, Ira Burtch, a well-known local boy, was missing since the recent heavy fighting. Pte. Burtch enlisted here last January and shortly afterwards left to go overseas with a draft from the 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment. He spent several months in France, passing through many engagements, and it is hoped by his friends that he may turn up as a prisoner in Germany. Prior to his enlistment he was employed in the J. R. Shuttleworth hat warehouse in this city.

Gunner Clarence Wilson, 421 Rectory street, this city, is listed among the wounded, having been hit on September 4. He enlisted in the 63th Depot Battery and formerly lived in Owen Sound.

Gunner Frank Nicholls is suffering from gunshot injuries in the head, received on September 3, according to word received by his father, Morland Nicholls, 655 Dufferin avenue.

Gunner Nicholls trained here with the 63rd Depot Battery, and has been about 22 months in France. Previous to his enlistment he was employed as a barber in East London.

In today's press casualty list, there is only one Londoner, Pte. H. A. Poulson, No. 803116, listed as "wounded."

Sarnia Man Hit.

Corp. Percy Potter of Sarnia has been admitted to hospital, according to reports received here, with shrapnel wounds in the neck and head. Corp. Potter has been in France for 23 months. He enlisted here in the 33rd, but was later transferred to another battalion in France. Mrs. Sumners of Princess avenue, this city, is an aunt.

Embro Boy Died in Action.

Mr. and Mrs. William Master of Embro have received a cable announcing the death in action of their son, Pte. Lawrence Master, on August 30. Pte. Master enlisted with the 168th Battalion, and spent considerable time in France. He was 25 years of age, and is survived by his parents.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A REPLY TO REV. J. H. BOYD.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The rumor that the Hohenzollern dynasty was about to step down and out, and the announcement that the honorary president of the London Ministerial Alliance was seeking fresh fields and pastures new on October 1st, appearing in the same issue of The Advertiser, may have had no real significance, but it struck us square amidships.

A war-weary world would welcome with ringing cheers the official announcement of Kaiser Bill's abdication, and although comparisons are odious, we would venture to suggest that when a man, be he Boer or Briton, finds himself quoted in the public press as having said that "the immorality of the theatre offsets any aesthetic or elevating influences" that man finds himself faced with the alternatives of pulling his freight instanter from a self-respecting city, or apply in person for a padded cell.

To add to his fanaticism the reverend gentleman further states that "Cards are allied with whiskey, thieves, pirates and debauchers." He may have mentioned others that the press refuses to print, but the foregoing is sufficient indication of the state of his digestive organs. We are willing to allow that the reverend gentleman's anti-dance hall statements will pass muster with right-minded people. But we are quite sure that exaggerated description of the baneful influence of the theatre, will not cause anyone to post themselves as sentries in the foyer of the theatres, and denounce their patrons.

The statement that cards are allied with "whiskey" must either have been a slip of the tongue, a lapse of memory or else the reverend gentleman is six months behind the times, and doesn't know it yet.

In conclusion, please let us state that we are not suffering from anti-sky pilotism from the depths of our soul we salute sky pilots of the Rev. Arthur Carlisle stamp, whose splendid work at the front was mentioned in the editorial columns of The Advertiser on Monday last.

And, by the way, we had the proud honor of standing shoulder to shoulder with those rain-soaked blood-stained heroes of the fighting 18th in front line trenches on Christmas Day, 1915, while the Rev. Arthur Carlisle of the Anglican Church administered the holy sacrament to them. Men who have passed through those experiences place a high value on the church and its representatives who are laboring with zeal and discretion for the temporal and spiritual welfare of humanity.

FRED YOUNG.

LEAVE FOR SIBERIAN BOYS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Keep up the agitation to secure home leave for the London boys of the late 63rd Battery who have joined the Siberian force. It will be a severe disappointment to the relatives of these soldiers if they are not able to say farewell in their homes, and the boys will feel it, too. They are going on a long journey, and who can say what peril it holds for them?

FAIR DISTRIBUTION OF COAL WILL MEAN NONE NEED SUFFER

Coal Dealer Hopeful for Comfort of All People.

RAIL MOVEMENT IS SLOW

Dealers Fill Orders Cautiously and Only One Appears To Be Up to His Demands.

"Why did I ever grumble over the heat of last summer?" is the wail of many a shivering householder, who is pondering the question, "To light or not to light a fire." If the householder is one of those lucky mortals, who has coal in the bin, then it is a matter to decide whether it is better to watch one's death of cold in a chilly, damp house now, or run the risk of freezing later on. The coal oil stove has, to a certain extent, stepped into the breach and never, even in the zero weather of a year ago, has there been such a vogue for the coal oil, gas or electric heater, such a run on the supplies of dealers in these.

Says None Should Suffer.

So far as the coal situation is concerned the warning sounded is that it behooves people (who have coal) to husband their resources, both for their own good and the public welfare. Said one coal dealer today: "With a fair distribution, no one should suffer." The inference is that it's up to the fuel controller to exercise authority, and see that no plutocrat is allowed to have his cellar bursting with coal, while others are robbed by his selfishness of their just allottment.

In some respects the situation has been a little better this last few days. Some of the dealers have coal in, but at that, they are only looking after their customers. Alas and alack, for the new person in town, or the one who hasn't been able to afford the luxury of a regular dealer! One merchant has received as much as three carloads.

Take Orders on Invoices.

A man lacking coal and hearing the big news hied him to the dealer only to be told, "We will need six carloads more before we can fill the orders we have on our books. Hereafter, we only propose to accept orders when we receive invoices. If we receive an invoice for 200 tons we will accept only orders for 200 tons."

While a large number of people than ever before in London have in their supply of coal, taking the precaution to secure it in April and May, there are numbers of others who have bought and paid for their coal as far back as June, and are still warming themselves on hopes. They welcome the news that a carload or so is coming in daily or almost daily on each of the railroad lines into the city. If they wait long enough it will come round to their turn.

He's Keeping It Dark.

One dealer is in the happy position that he is able to take care of all his orders, and if things continue to come his way, he may be able to take some more orders. But he wouldn't for the world have his name made public. He doesn't want to have his office bombarded by would be customers. In fact, he doesn't need any such advertising to carry on his business. He would welcome competition rather than otherwise.

That coal is coming in so slowly at this time of the year is attributed by some who are in a position to know to the fact that so much is going up the lakes. One explanation given is that things aren't a great deal better on the other side of the line, and the statement added that such big wages are paid to workers in the mines that they can afford to work only part time.

The customary salutation at present is not an inquiry in regard to health, but, "Have you got your coal in yet?"

The Plutocrat of Today.

Existing conditions are responsible for getting people down to brass tacks. The plutocrat is not the individual with stocks, bonds, a mansion (to heat), and a long bank roll. The plutocrat of today in London is the personage who waxes fat on the possession of several tons of coal and a whole quarter's worth of granulated sugar.

WONDERED THAT SHELLS FROM CANADIAN GUNS DID NOT MEET IN AIR

Londoner Present When Big Bombardment Was Ordered.

Gunner Douglas Hunt, son of A. O. Hunt, assistant manager of the utilities commission, was in the advanced dugout with the officers of the Canadian headquarters staff in France on August 8 when the order was given for the start of the Canadian artillery bombardment which launched the giant offensive still raging against the German's.

Gunner Hunt wrote his father an interesting letter on his experiences. Being a signaller as well as a gunner, he was chosen to go forward with the artillery officers of the headquarters staff to act as signaller to the artillery. He states that they were riding four days and four nights before they go into the position from where the order was sent back.

Touching on the bombardment, he stated that what surprises him is that many of the Canadian shells did not collide in the air, there were so many of them tearing along overhead.

The speed with which the Canadians launched their attack is evidenced by his statement, that 30 minutes after the signal for the bombardment was given, infantry men were seen returning with German prisoners. He remarks that the majority of the prisoners wore a broad smile, and did not seem a mite displeased at being taken prisoners.

August 8 was Gunner Hunt's 21st birthday. He says he will long remember it.

FINE NAME FOR A FARM DAIRY OR A CHEESE FACTORY; MR. GLASS SAYS 'WESTMINSTER' IS FITTING

And Should Citizens Forget That Sir Arthur Currie Is a Native of Middlesex? What Is YOUR Idea of An Appropriate Name?

"I quite agree with The Advertiser, that the name lacks character and would be more fitting for a nice farm dairy or a summer cottage," said S. Frank Glass, M. P., in regard to the naming of the new military hospital, which the city council decided will be known as "London View Military Hospital."

NAME LACKS CHARACTER.

Mr. Glass added that he thought the name lacked character or individuality, as it did not stand for anything, and while he liked the idea of adapting the name of a battle or a notable figure in the war. he believed that considering the situation of the hospital it might well be named Westminster Military Hospital. This would indicate the location, give the place an historical association and would be euphonious.

"I don't much care what they call the hospital so long as it is suitable, but in the name of heaven, I must protest against the colorless title the city council has chosen," added Mr. Glass. "Citizens should support The Advertiser in its effort to have the name of the hospital chosen."

WHAT IS YOUR CHOICE?

The Advertiser believes that the city council will be glad to reconsider the naming of the hospital. and invites citizens to suggest a more appropriate name than "London View Military Hospital," which is shopworn, commonplace and more adapted to cheese factories and country inns.

Let us not forget that Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian forces is a native of Middlesex County!

William Scott died this morning at his home, 10 McClary avenue, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Scott was well known in this city and had a large circle of friends. He has lived here for many years prior to his death, and up to the time of his illness he was employed by a local firm. He is survived by his wife, Margaret, one brother, Joseph, of this city, and five sisters, Annie, Margaret, Mary, Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. George Bolton, all of this city. Rev. James MacKay of the St. James Presbyterian Church will conduct the services at 2:30, following which interment will be made in the Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 3 o'clock.

DEATH OF JOHN NICHOLLS.

The death of Mr. John Nicholls occurred at the Victoria Church this morning after an illness of some time. Mr. Nicholls was in his 64th year, and is survived by two brothers and three sisters—Thomas of Washington, Richard J. of this city, Mrs. James Dobson, Mrs. David Dobson and Mrs. L. Sanders, all of Manitoba. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2:30 to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, where interment will be made at 3 o'clock. Rev. George McKinley of the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church will conduct the services.

FIRST HE KNEW OF IT.—"The first intimation I had that I or my car was in an accident was when I read it in a local paper this morning," said T. G. Meredith, K.C., city solicitor, when asked by The Advertiser regarding the report of a collision between his car and one belonging to David Schram of St. Thomas. "I am glad to know that all the occupants of my car escaped without injury," laughingly remarked Mr. Meredith as the interview closed.

MOTOR TRUCK FIRM TO ERECT PLANT IN CITY; EMPLOY MANY

Officers Expect Plant To Require 800 to 1,200 Hands.

SITE HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Contract of Million and Half to Start With Announced by Manager.

In the near future to the large chain of London manufacturing firms there will be added yet another link, in the form of the General Motor and Assembling Company, which will shortly start a factory in this city. The firm, whose head offices are in Pittsburg, has already chosen a site in this city, according to the officers, and will commence work in reality on or about November 1st, on a contract totaling one and a half million dollars.

At the start the company will employ about three hundred hands, and the factory will cover a space 80 by 240 feet. It was stated today that additions will rapidly be added to this building, until when completed the building and grounds will cover seven acres, and cost over $800,000, and employ between 800 and 1,200 persons, consisting of both men and girls. The output of the concern will consist chiefly of motor trucks, the parts of which will be made at the head plant in Pittsburg, and then shipped to this city, where they will be assembled and the finished car put on the market, under the name of the General Motor Truck.

Local Men at the Head.

T. F. King, the general manager, and T. W. Brown, the sales manager, are both local men, who were connected with the firm throughout Canada before its organization of a new plant in this city. Both men were appointed to the above positions through their ability shown throughout former years. They are energetic and mean to do all in their power to promote the sale of these cars throughout Canada, and already they have 86 agents working throughout the Dominion soliciting buyers for the trucks.

Work will start about November 1st, when four hundred persons will be employed to start with. The trucks manufactured will range from 3-4-ton to 6 tons, and will be manufactured from the best possible material.

The wages paid will be of a high scale and mechanics will receive $5 per day, the day consisting of eight hours. Special wages will also be paid for overtime. Girls will receive from $15 to $22 per week for piece work. Expert mechanics, laborers and automobile workers will be mainly employed.

To Be First-Class Building.

The factory will be built after new plans and is termed to be the most up-to-date in Canada. It will be well lighted and ventilated and everything possible for the convenience and welfare of the employees will be looked after. Wash rooms, shower baths, as well as a plunge, will be installed, in addition to which will be added a large and comfortable rest room for the female help.

Workers are now employed at the building, and every possible effort is being extended to enable activities to commence by the scheduled time.

AMERICAN ACE KILLED

Famous U. S. Flyer Overwhelmed by Seven Foe Machines.

With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 19.—First Lieut. David E. Putnam, of Newton, Mass., American ace of aces, was killed late Wednesday afternoon while on patrol along the American lines. He was flying with Lieut. Wendell A. Robertson of Fort Smith, Ark., when they were attacked by seven German machines. Four of these made for Putnam's airplane, and three attacked Robertson's. The attack was unexpected, and the enemy was able to fire from above. Putnam was shot twice through the heart. His machine glided to the earth at Limey, within the American lines, where he was found by his comrades. Robertson returned safely.

CLAIMS HIS CHICKEN WAS SHORT WEIGHT; SUMMONS FARMER

A charge that he sold a chicken which on the city scales weighed four pounds and two and one-half ounces as a five-pound bird, and charging accordingly at the rate of 25 cents per pound, has been the cause of a summons being issued for the farmer who sold the chicken. The citizen who bought it was dubious of the weight when he bought, but decided to say nothing at the time. When he reached home he weighed it and, finding it under the stated weight, he took it to Market Clerk C. Maker, who weighed it on the city scales, which are there for this purpose. The farmer when spoken to about the discrepancy in weight by the purchaser was quite independent, it is said, and the citizen decided to cause a summons to be issued, which was accordingly done. The case will probably be heard in police court next week.

ALLEGED DESERTER IS ON HIS WAY REJOICING TO JOIN SERBIAN FORCE

Kosta Kostich, a Serbian, forwarded to this city by the military authorities at Winsdor, presented himself at the local mobilization centre Wednesday, accompanied by a long, and what he thought sad, story, and a complete absence of military papers. The man was a former resident of Detroit, and was arrested in the place recently by a Serbian officer, who accused him of being a deserter from the Serbian army. The man had no papers to prove that he was not a deserter, and was forwarded to Windsor for examination. For some reason he was not examined in Windsor, and was forwarded to this city for medical examination. Upon his arrival here he was asked for his papers, and upon being unable to produce them he was immediately handed over to the headquarters of the Dominion police. After questioning the man as to his identity, Capt. Minard, Dominion police inspector for this district, handed the man to Major Spry, A. D. S. and T., who in turn forwarded him to the Serbian mobilization camp at Point Levis, Quebec.

PEACE, NOT STAGNATION.

THE KIND of peace the world gets after the war will depend a good deal on what the world understands by that word. Henry Drummond once drew two contrasting pictures to present the idea of peace, one of a stagnant pool, quiet, dead and foul; the other showing a bird calmly resting on its nest, set in the swinging bough that overhung a rushing torrent. The idea is not inapplicable today, for there is a tendency to regard peace as something in itself instead of regarding it as a result, brought about only by justice and fair play.

The German peace would be a peace of stagnation. That was the idea in over-running France and Belgium, to stagnate those countries for generations to come in order that Germany might profit. The deliberate blow struck at the industries of those countries, the grabbing of their coal and iron, the wanton way in which those resources have been plundered during the war, the sending into Germany of slave gangs of skilled Belgian workmen—all these are designed to produce a stagnant peace. The world would be set back by such an outcome; such a state is absolutely repulsive.

It is a striking fact that from the real leaders of the Allies there has not come the thought of a stagnated Germany or Austria after this war. This does not mean that they shall escape the penalty of their crimes. Justice calls for reparation to Belgium, the restoration complete of that stricken country, with like justice to Serbia and the invaded portions of France. It is only justice that the central powers should be compelled to make good the damage they have done to the world in so far as that damage can be made good in any material way. But when the sentence is pronounced on the culprit it is not to our interest to place him in chains and prevent him working. We may stand guard, indeed we may need to stand guard long, but if Germany stands for barbarism today, as we believe she does, it is to the good of the world that she should be enabled to work out her salvation. Otherwise we but reverse the German peace idea, placing it on other shoulders.

When Grant and Lee met in the old McLeod mansion at Appomatox to discuss peace one day in April of 1865, after the regular terms had been agreed upon, Lee quietly pointed out that most of his men were farmers and that the loss of all their horses would be serious to agriculture. At once Grant added to the terms a clause that each soldier owning a farm should be allowed to take one horse home with him. One wonders if the moral value of that clause was not greater in its influence upon the people of the south than all the labor that was secured out of the beasts that Grant gave over.

A GERMAN PLOT IN 1890.

THE EXTENT of German propaganda in the United States in the years that preceded the war indicates the far ramifications of the Wilhelmstrasse plotting. Exchange professors between American and German universities, German newspapers, German clubs of all kinds now plainly seen to have had but one object—these are things that are seen in a light very different to that in which they were viewed in 1913, or even later than that. It is one of the rude awakenings of the war to all true Americans, that this race of whose achievements in material way they had been proud should, in reality, have been stabbing them in the back all the time, simply playing their part in a desperate game that was ultimately hoped to bring America, as Europe was to be brought, under the domination of German "kultur."

There have been many instances revealed of late where the German hand showed itself—unsuspected, however, in a day when the real character of the race was unsuspected. An interesting incident is narrated in the September number of the Wisconsin Magazine of History, where in Wisconsin, in 1890, the German-American vote united, elected a Democratic governor and Legislature, sent in the succeeding years two Democratic senators and several Democratic representatives to Congress, and gave Wisconsin's vote to Grover Cleveland in 1892. The significance of all this has been realized only today in connection with the present world problems and helps to explain the situation that arose in Wisconsin not long since, and that drew upon that state the opprobrium of being disloyal.

The occasion of Wisconsin's German citizens showing their real character arose in connection with an act known as the Bennett law, which was simply a compulsory educational act aimed to correct a distressing state of illiteracy existing in the state. The contentious feature of the bill was a clause providing for instruction "in the English language." The Germans in Wisconsin were nearly all from the part of Prussia that constitutes the very home of junkerdom, and their coming to America was merely a change of residence, not of thought. The tendency of the younger generation was to break away from home customs and thought, and it was upon the Lutheran Church and the school system that the older people depended to maintain their racial exclusiveness. There were children by the hundreds in Wisconsin who knew not a word of English. This was the condition the Bennett law sought to modify. The German communities were always settled around a church and a school. The German language alone was used. German books only were read, German songs sung, newspapers printed in German alone were read. Sometimes there was an arrogance in the communities that angered their American fellow-citizens. The German language was not a foreign language, they declared. "Hold fast to the German customs and manners and the dear German tongue," was the appeal made to Wisconsin German voters by their press.

This was the character of the people who found danger to their racial aims in the Bennett law, and led on by their church leaders, their Lutheran synods and by their newspapers, they declared war on the bill and proceeded to fight it. Anti-Bennett-law clubs spread over the state. Thousands of German leaflets were prepared, songs were prepared whose refrain was "Unser Sprache und Sitten, die geben wir nicht hin" (Our language and customs we'll never give up). Individual voters were solicited by the clergy. The result was that "Germandom" swept the state. At the legislative session of 1891, the Bennett law was repealed, the result of the Germandom campaign.

The real issue was unsuspected at the time. It is only in the light of events of today that the meaning of this agitation in Wisconsin in 1890 is understood. Evidently more than a quarter of a century ago the kaiser's friends on this continent were preparing for the blow that some day was to come. It was to hasten "der tag" that the events above described took place.

WESTERN ONTARIO'S BIRD SANCTUARY.

DOWN IN THE lower part of Essex County a long, needle-like point of land juts far out into Lake Erie, the remains, perhaps, of an old isthmus that once connected with Pelee Island to form a peninsula, but that now makes a long, narrow cape with the island.

On this point at all times of the year there is a variety of bird-life not to be equalled anywhere else in Western Ontario, and at certain seasons of the year there is a profusion of varieties that only a few places on the continent would match. Point Pelee is one of the great resting places for the birds in their migrations north and south. Coming up in the spring they land on Point Pelee after their flight across Lake Erie and rest there before going further on to their breeding places. Returning in the fall, the point is again their resting-place before they start on the long flight across the lake that will continue them on their southern journey. Few places in Canada offer better opportunities for the student of our native bird-life to make acquaintance with the many varieties that are with us for shorter or longer periods during the year.

It is announced that the Provincial Government will make the point a game preserve, permitting no hunting or shooting save of noxious birds or animals, and of ducks, which, of course, are already protected by law. The decision of the Government is the result of a long agitation, begun originally by Essex County people, but backed up by bird-lovers all over the country. It is a fact that the attractions of Point Pelee from the naturalist's point of view, are better known in the United States than in Canada. For many years past the point has been visited by scientists from American universities, who have found it one of the most fruitful of places for investigations. A few Canadian naturalists have made similar visits with results that added to our store of knowledge of our own wild life.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Daily query received at German headquarters from divisional commanders: "Where do we go from here?"

For horror, hopelessness and general misery some of those Russian revolutions make Dante's celebrated circles appear joyous as a merry-go-round.

The announcement that Lenine will recover has started a widespread and healthy hope that he will some day meet a better shot than Dora Kaplan.

It's a safe wager that the news from Macedonia will not hasten the discharge of Ferdinand from that German sanatorium. The Fox is sure to have a "relapse."

No doubt the study of Spanish in the schools of Ontario will enable the children to enjoy and appreciate the Spanish influenza when father brings it home some night.

Col. Watterson, grand old man of American journalism, who recently retired from active service, declares that he will continue to consign the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs to the sultry side of the Satanic kingdom.

A noted military critic says that Metz cannot be stormed. The same thing was said of the Somme, Vimy Ridge and the Hindenburg line. Going by the book all these strongholds were invulnerable. Never has there been a war where the accepted principles of warfare have been so consistently upset as in the present struggle.

NO CLOCKS IN THE TRENCHES.

[Previdence Journal.]

Employees who are tempted to strike should take thought of the boys in the trenches. They should ask themselves what the American soldier who is clearing out a machine-gun nest in a forest in France or striving up a steep slope in the face of the enemy's murderous fire, or keeping lonely watch on an exposed patrol would think if he heard that they were planning to leave their work for the sake of easier hours or higher pay. "There are no clocks in the trenches; no schedule of hours is observed where the troops in khaki are pressing the soldiers of the kaiser across the bloody salient between the Marne and the Aisne.

THE STARLINGS OF ENGLAND.

[London Chronicle.]

One can readily believe the report that the starlings in the wooded country about Souchez are imitating the whistling of rifle bullets. For the starling is the most imitative of birds. I have heard him imitating a blackbird so closely that a casual listener might have been deceived; and the blackbird's song is not an easy thing to imitate. The talking starling seems to have gone out of fashion, for which lovers of birds should be duly thankful. He has his place in literature. No one can forget the caged starling in "The Sentimental Journey," whose pathetic cry, "I can't get out, I can't get out," moved Stern to one of the truest and tenderest of his episodes. Sterne's starling and the raven in "Barnaby Rudge" are the two birds in English literature that survive.

LOOK OUT OF THE WINDOW.

[London Daily Express.]

The English are the victims of a false modesty. It has become a habit to say of everything that it is something that they do better abroad. Because Jeremiah draws down the blind and refuses to look out of the window he is sure that he can't do this and he can't do that. When, however, an Englishman does look out on the world he discovers that there is nothing that he cannot do and very little that he has not already done. The way to cure Jeremiah is to unbandage his eyes. The sober truth is that no nation, during the whole history of the world, has ever equalled the achievements of the British nation during the past four years. Mistakes have occurred, because things had to be done in a hurry, but it has been proved that there is nothing that Germany can do that Great Britain cannot do better.

THE EXACT TRUTH.

YOU KNOW LITTLE BROTHERS. BY VINCENT G. PERRY.

Morton Harthway was careful in his selection of the roses. They had to be of a certain shade of red, and the buds had to be at a certain stage of bloom. At length he was satisfied with his choice and ordered them sent to Miss Caroline York. He repeated the name and address a second time to impress it upon the florist. The florist spoke it aloud as she wrote it down to convince Morton that she had it correctly. He did not blink an eyelid when she named the price of his purchase. He handed out the bills as if they were pennies. What difference did a few dollars make when he considered whom they were for, and besides, he could well afford to pay for them. Just as he was leaving he remembered to leave a note to inclose with the flowers. He watched to make sure that the florist put it in the box, and then as he saw her tie the bouquet he gave a breath of satisfaction.

When he arrived back at his office he started the work that was piled up before him with a vim. He was going to finish it in time to go to the dance with Caroline. It would be a surprise to her when she got his note with the flowers saying he would be able to go after all. He was too busy to call her by telephone, but she would understand from the note.

He had to go supperless that night to get dressed in time for the dance. When he arrived at Caroline's home he was fifteen minutes late.

"Why, Miss Caroline left half an hour ago," the maid told him when she answered his ring. "She didn't leave no message for you either, sir." She had shut the door very unceremoniously before he could question her.

Morton stood on the veranda and wondered what it meant. Caroline had never done a thing like that before. He wondered if she had received his flowers and the note inclosed. She could not have done so, or she would have waited, no matter how late he was. Unconsciously he glanced down to the veranda floor where the light from the street was shining, and there, as if in answer to his question, he saw the green ribbon he had seen the florist tie around the box of roses. He picked the ribbon up and looked at it closely. The light was poor, but he could distinguish the florist's name printed on the ribbon. So Caroline had taken the flowers from the deliveryman herself. The evidence was in his hands. She would tell him why she hadn't waited when he arrived at the dance. He hurried away, eager for an explanation.

The minute he arrived at the ballroom he caught sight of Caroline. She was dancing with some man whose face he couldn't see. He secured a partner and went out on the floor. He chatted idly to the girl he was dancing with, but his mind and eyes were on the girl he loved. As her partner whirled her past him, Morton caught sight of Caroline's bouquet. It was of white roses. That wasn't the only surprise either. Her partner was Jimmy Dale, the man she had been engaged to before she knew Morton. Morton could hardly wait for the one-step to be over. Caroline had caught sight of him and smiled at him, but he did not smile back. When she smiled up into the face of Jimmy, Morton felt like going over and snatching her from him. No sooner did the music stop than he led his partner to a seat and made for the cloakroom. He could not stand it another minute. He banged the door as he left, but of course Caroline did not hear that.

When he answered Caroline at the telephone the next morning he was ready for her.

"Weren't you well last night, Morton?" she began in her same natural sweet tone.

"It does not interest you, does it?" he asked as gruffly as he could. It was not what he had planned to say, but it fitted in.

"Oh!" It was just a quick note of pain from the other end of the line, and then the receiver was hung up in his ear. Perhaps he had been a little too brutal, he reflected, but anyway, it would teach Caroline a lesson. As far as he was concerned, he was through with her. A girl so fickle was unworthy of his affection. He would show her how easy it was to forget her.

A month later found Morton still trying to forget. It was not such an easy operation as he had imagined. He was coming home late from the office one evening when he heard a familiar little voice call out: "Mawton, take me home to Callie. I'se lost." It was Caroline's three-year-old brother, Sammy.

"Why, Sammy!" Morton exclaimed, as he picked him up, "What are you doing here? Don't cry; that's a good fellow."

"A naughty, bad boy stole my twain of tars an' I'm 'ooking for him," Sammy sobbed. The tears started again, and Morton had to comfort him all over again. There was nothing for it but to take him home, he could see, but he wished there was some other way out of it. What if he had to meet Caroline?

On the homeward journey Sammy told him all about it. Morton translated from the queer little story that a boy had stolen Sammy's train of cars and the little codger had gone in search of them and wandered too far from home.

"Sammy!" came the glad cry from the veranda as Morton and his little charge started up the walk. It was Caroline's voice, and it was too late for Morton to turn back. He had to stand there, first on one foot and then on the other, until she almost smothered her little brother with kisses.

"Where did you find Sammy?" she asked at last. "How good of you to bring him home."

Morton explained very coolly. "You would much rather have had Mr. Dale find him, of course," he couldn't help finishing with sarcastically.

That aroused Caroline instantly. "Mr. Harthway," she said as she drew herself up disdainfully, "thank goodness I was enlightened in time. Your petty jealousy over nothing unmasks your true character. The idea of your acting so, just because I danced with a person for whom you know I care nothing. Did you expect me to miss all the pleasure of the evening because you had told me you could not come?"

"But you went to the dance with him and wore his flowers instead of mine. Why didn't you wait for me?" Morton protested.

"I do not understand you. I did not go to the dance with Mr. Dale and I wore flowers that my father bought for me. As for your flowers—you did not send me any. How was I to know you couldn't possibly attend that dance?"

"But I sent a note with the flowers. You must have got them. The string was on your veranda."

Before Caroline could reply there was an interruption.

"Doody! Doody! Somebody's bringed back my twain of tars! Sammy waved a pasteboard box, with holes cut in the sides to represent car windows, before them jubilantly. Morton took the box from him eagerly.

"Where did you get this box?" he asked excitedly.

"Man's give it to me, long time ago."

"Were there flowers in it?"

"Flowers are on kitty's grave. I likes twains better'n flowers."

Morton was kneeling down and looking under the steps where he knew the pet cat of the house had been buried some months before. In a minute he had pulled out a bouquet of withered roses. He untied a note from them and handed it to Caroline. She read it in dismay. Instantly she knew the reason for Morton's strange behavior.

"Sammy, you bad little boy," she began, but Morton stopped her.

"It was the fault of the delivery man to give them to such a child," he said. "Perhaps, dear, it has been for the best, for it has shown me that I cannot be happy without you."

"Don't kiss me here, dear, Sammy is watching, and you know little brothers," she laughed, as she put up a restraining finger.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advt.

SAFE TO USE FRUIT RINGS SHOWING AN ODOR OF CARBOLIC

Provincial Board of Health Shows Result of Investigations.

Much concern has been caused among the housewives of Canada, owing to the report that carbolic acid had been used in the manufacture of rubber rings, and that consequently the fruit would be unfit for use. A statement issued by Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general, as a result of an investigation in the matter, will put at ease anyone who may have had doubts about using the fruit.

The statement issued is as follows:

"After a conference between the chief officer of health for the province and representatives of the rubber company by which the rings were manufactured, the Dominion Glass Company and the food controller, the following facts were adduced:

"Phenol or carbolic acid is used in the manufacture of some of the rings supplied to the glass trade. Some 3,000 gross of these rings were placed on the market. In the preparation of the rings in question .017, or seventeen one-thousandths, of a grain of phenol is used in each. In their further preparation the process used is of such a character that even this trifling quantity would ordinarily become evaporated. In some cases it appears that the phenol has remained in the rings, and in the process of preserving may have communicated its odor, which is very penetrating, to the fruit. A number of chemists, including the chief chemist of the board, have given as their opinion that although odor may have been communicated to the fruit in some cases, there is absolutely no danger to the user of the fruit. These views are supported by the fact that the medicinal dose of phenol is one to three grains, while the maximum amount in a ring is only .017 of a grain. Of that the chairman of the Canadian research council says:

"'Traces of carbolic acid were found all right, but the quantity was so small that a humming-bird might have swallowed the whole amount in one of them and not have suffered even a headache.

"Phenol is commonly used as an internal remedy in the dose already mentioned. The fatal dose is about half an ounce.

"The provincial board of health, having these facts in view, desire most confidently to assure the public that preserved or canned fruit of any kind showing the odor of phenol may be used with perfect safety."

BOBBY SKUNK'S STUMP SPEECH.

Bol Skunk wasn't afraid of Mr. Hootrl. Oh, my, no! Bobby stayed arou that tree, and dug up a lot of big ite grubs for his supper. And Bobbskunk said to Quilly Porcupine, who d just come down from a high poplatree, where he had been tearing the tender bark for his supper. "Qui it's no magic about that New Poss family; for I've been looking at th tracks, and I should say, from the spot-prints, that there must be at lt twenty-five brothers in this newossum family. All the footprin are the same size. There must be many as twelve and one-half twins Jimmy Coon says."

A Bobby Skunk and Quilly Porcupinecided to call a town meeting at t big hollow Oak Tree the next nig And Bobby asked Peter Rabbit to ite all the little people of Mirror Pond and the Great Wood. Peter was the eatest inviter you ever saw. And he t so fast to invite everybady; and he ocked so hard on their front doors, that he wore all the fur off his right hand glove.

And when the moon rose over the tops of the big white birches, everybody was on the bank of Singing Brook, at the Bend of the Stream, where the Old Hollow Oak Tree had cast its lovely shade, on hot days for over one hundred years.

At the town meeting, it was voted that Bobby Skunk should be the chairman. Bobby Skunk jumped upon an old hemlock stump, and he made a stump-speech as follows, "Ladies and Gentlemen, Jimmy Coon has told us neighbors that a new Possum family has moved into town. Now all in favor of compelling Jimmy Coon to introduce us to the father and mother of this wonderful family, say aye."

And it was funny to hear all the little people in squeaks, and howls, try to say "Aye." There were some very funny voices in that crowd. It made Quilly Porcupine very jealous to see Bobby Skunk chairman of the town meeting. Quilly was one of those fellows who just dote on holding some office. You have seen such people. They think they will surely die if they are not president, or secretary, or treasurer of some society. Quilly just rushed up to knock Bobby Skunk off the platform. Now Bobby Skunk is just as pig-headed and stubborn as Quilly, and they had an awful fight; and Quilly fell off the stump, but Bobby Skunk clung to the stump and continued his stump-speech.

Who Finds Washday Easy?

Dear Miss Grey,—So many come to the Mail-Box with their troubles that I thought I would bring mine, too. My biggest trouble is my washday. Can you tell me how I can make it easy, or can some experienced reader tell me? I will sign myself,

SLOW BUT SURE.

Ans.—I am sure you will not appeal in vain to our home-makers. A year or so ago a reader very woe-begoned voiced the same plea—washday was such a bugaboo! And to the rescue came our helpful members with some "fifty-seven varieties" of how to make washday easier. So I'm hoping they'll do the same kindly act this time for your Slow but Sure.

"Fresh as new, my dear—
and I washed it myself"

"It's my old georgette—another tussle with the washer-woman and I believe it would have fallen to pieces. So, of course, as we must all make the old things do and save our money for Victory Bonds, I thought I'd wash it, myself, with Sunlight. Or rather—let Sunlight wash it, for there's no need of any rubbing—just soaping and rinsing. And see—isn't it just lovely? Fresh as new, isn't it? I'm delighted."

UNION MOTHERS' CLUB DRAWS UP PROGRAM FOR COMING YEAR

Club Members Suggest a Stricter Observation of Motor Speed Limit.

The executive of the Union Mothers' Club of this city met yesterday afternoon in the Alexandra school to make plans for the coming year, Mrs. Geen presiding in the chair in the absence of Mrs. Tutt, the president. Great enthusiasm was shown in the launching of the year's work. It was decided that the clubs should confine themselves more to the aims outlined in the constitution, thus expending their efforts on the home, the school and educational matters. It was thought that by confining their efforts, and not attempting to undertake activities outside of their special sphere, they would accomplish more for the community in the end. The decision was also arrived at that the meetings themselves should consist entirely of discussion, and a speaker, all musical numbers being omitted.

Another matter of interest which was brought to the attention of the meeting was the suggestion that the mothers' clubs advise the city council to more strictly enforce the observation of a motor speed limit in the city. Every club was represented at yesterday's meeting, and a most interesting program was drawn up for the coming year. The subjects suggested were as follows: "Library Advantages for Juniors," which subject would be taken up by members of the Public Library staff at the various mothers' clubs. Fred Landon being anxious for the junior children in the schools to take greater advantage of the opportunities afforded by the Public Library; "Round Table Talks," on topics of interest to mothers and teachers, both mothers and teachers taking part in the discussion; "Elementary Agriculture," or garden talks by teachers especially trained along this line; "How to Make Our Girls Honor Motherhood, and How to Teach Our Boys to Respect It"; "Tuberculosis," to be discussed by some city doctor; "How to Create a Public Conscience," or "Children's Part in Civic Housekeeping"; "Domestic Science Demonstrations," to be given by domestic science teachers in the various schools, along food conservation lines; "Instincts in Children, to Limit or Encourage"; "Truthfulness in Mothers," which will provide plenty of scope for discussion, bringing in the Santa Claus story, etc.

Miss Nora Little of Guelph has returned to the city and will resume work at her studio.

A quiet wedding took place at St. George's Church, West London, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 18, when Miss Willa Snetsinger, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Snetsinger, was united in marriage to Rev. A. R. D. Garrett, of Hensall, Ontario, son of Mrs. Alex Garrett of Hale street. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. John Taylor, and was unattended. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. R. E. Charles, the young couple left by motor for their new home in Hensall.

The marriage took place quietly on Wednesday afternoon of two well-known Westminster Township young people, Margaret Weatherston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Flowers of Glanworth, and Robert E. Elliott, elder son of the late John H. Elliott and Mrs. Elliott of "Lilac Dale," Westminster. Rev. J. W. M. Crawford, minister of St. Andrew's and the First Presbyterian Churches, Westminster, performed the ceremony, the young couple motoring into the city immediately after the service and taking the 4:20 p.m. train for the east. After a short honeymoon spent in Toronto and other points, they will take up their residence at "Lilac Dale," the Elliott family home, which was previously the property of the groom's grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McColl. They will be at home after October 15. The bride, who was unattended, was married in a traveling suit of navy blue, brightened by a corsage bouquet of tea roses, with which she wore a becoming hat of taupe velvet.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the parsonage of Grace Methodist Church, Essex, by Rev. J. W. Hibbert, when Miss Grace Jerry was united in marriage to Clifford Jeffery Wilson. The bride was assisted by Miss Carrie Wilson, and the groom was supported by Samuel Totten, a cousin of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for a trip to Erie, Pa., and other eastern points, and on their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Maidstone.

LEAMINGTON.—Mr. Andrew Johnson, who lately came here from Lethbridge, Alta., and bought the Jeff Foster farm on the fifth concession of Mersea, presented the Leamington Chapter, I. O. D. E., with a beautiful calf, to be sold for patriotic purposes. The usual crowd was in town on Saturday, and keen interest was taken in Darling Nightingale, on exhibition in front of the Royal Bank. Tickets amounting to $281 were sold, and promptly at 10 o'clock Mr. James Ainslie drew the ticket giving the calf to Mr. Ham Whittle of the ninth concession. Mr. Johnson has two sons serving across the seas, and the proceeds will be given to the Navy League.

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL-BOX

Two "Soldiers' Girls."

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed you will find the words and music of "My Old New Hampshire Home," and I hope Fat Fifteen receives them all right.

I wrote to Pte. Mills some time ago, but have not received any reply yet. I saw where Sunshine, Lillian, Daintimaid and Lonesome Reader were wanting to correspond with me, but as yet I've not received their addresses. I believe another reader signed her pen name the same as mine, so we are maybe getting mixed up. I have some Sweetheart coupons for Lonesome Reader, and will send them as soon as I receive her address.

I hear from my lonely (Lassie's brother) quite often. He's a grand correspondent.

I have been a farmerette this summer too, and I liked it fine, although it is hard work.

Hoping I receive addresses from you soon, and I will sure write to them. No doubt Lonesome Reader will think me slow, but if she happens to see this it will explain all things. I remain as before, SOLDIER'S GIRL NO. 1.

Ans.—There is another correspondent bearing the same pen name, and, dear me, being a busy woman, I may have got you mixed. But, oddly enough, while I have her name and address listed as desiring correspondents, I have no record at all of your having written since some time in February. Did you write me recently? I'm sorry, but it's impossible to send you any of the addresses (except that of Lonesome Reader), as they were forwarded to S. G No. 2.

For the Sailors.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed please find $1 for families of the brave sailors, this being Sailors' Week. Hope everyone remembers by giving. Kindly forward, as I did not know where else to send it. Trusting our grand old province will not be found wanting.

ANNIE LAURIE.

Ans.—Your letter, along with five or six others, evidently got sidetracked on somebody's desk—no, is wasn't mine!—instead of being delivered to me. This accounts for my not acknowledging your donation previously. I have sent your inclosure on to Navy League headquarters, where it will be used to aid the good work.

A Canadian Now.

Dear Miss Grey and Readers,—I saw in Mail-Box that "Capt. Ura Kidd" had the address of some American soldiers. Am sending an envelope for two, if she will let me have them, please! You see, I'm a "Yankee" myself. I have lived in Canada four years though, and like it very well. I live on a farm of 250 acres, and have been working in the field all summer. Guess I'll soon be cutting corn now.

Do you get any letters from here, Miss Grey? Also, what do you think of my writing? (I know it's horrid!)

YANKEE FARMERETTE.

Ans.—Surely after four years of Canada you belong to us. Yes, quite a number of letters are received from your town and district, but we always welcome "one more."

V. A. D. Nursing.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please give an address where I can write and get particulars about V. A. D. nursing? Thanking you in advance, I am, as ever, A SOLDIER'S SISTER.

Ans.—Write to Mrs. J. F. Thomson, No. 4 Nursing Division, St. John Ambulance Corps, 404 Talbot street, this city.

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1918.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

Fruits of the Christian Life.—Matt. 25:14-30; 5:1-12.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

12. Verses 24-27.—Wherein did the man with one talent falsify the facts?

13. Verses 28-30.—How can you prove that God really does give to those that have, and take away from those that have not, the little they have?

14. State in plain language your own conception of the nature and duration of the punishment of the finally unfaithful.

Golden Text—All things are yours; . . . and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.—1 Cor., 3:21b, 23.

TRUE FRIENDS ARE OURS.

Every Christian has the infinite satisfaction that he has one friend who sticketh closer than a brother, a friend who will never leave nor forsake him, who will stand by him in success or in failure, in early life and in old age, and that is Jesus. But besides this, the friendship and fellowship of Christian people are always ours. I do not know any better earthly comfort than Christian fellowship. To be able to talk and compare experiences with those who have like precious faith, who have the same glorious hopes and experience is a benediction to the soul; its price is beyond adequate computation. Such friendships are stimulating, comforting, and inspiring to us in the work of life, and they help make life one grand song.

POLY AND HER PALS.— By Cliff Sterrett.

LOCAL COLLEGIATE WILL ENTER TEAM IN RUGBY LEAGUE

London will be represented this year by at least one rugby team in the O. R. F. U. Football enthusiasts of the London Collegiate met last night, and although no definite action was taken, it was practically decided to enter a team in the junior series of the O. R. F. U. The opinion of those present was unanimous that football should be promoted to its utmost among the high schools despite the war and the pronounced curtailment of sport throughout the continent.

The boys have made a flying start, having got in their initial practice last night, and if the calibre of the available football material is an indication of what the locals will do in the forthcoming series they should reach the top of the gridiron ladder or very near it.

The series will comprise London, St. Thomas, Sarnia and Woodstock teams. The winning aggregation of this groupe will probably play off with the leaders of the Hamilton-Toronto section. At least ten old colors will be on deck for the opening game and several new players have shown promise of becoming valuable assets to the team.

Principal W. H. T. Mooney was chosen honorary president of the fourteen, C. K. Bluett, president; E. Dennis, treasurer; G. Louis, secretary-treasurer and E. Masuret, B. McCormick, H. Hicks and M. Campbell, representatives of first, second, third and fourth years respectively.

Practices will be held on the Western University gridiron. Capt. J. J. Symmes will look after the coaching of the boys until a capable man is obtained. McLean, Gillies, Bryant, Campbell, McDonald, McCormick, Hicks and Weld turned out to the first practice in addition to several new players. Those who fail to make the representative collegiate team will likely be formed into a junior aggregation which will play exhibition matches with district high schools.

The services of Jack Dochstader and Arnold Wheeler will not be available, as both of these boys have recently become attached to the Royal Air Force.

THE PLEASURE IS OURS.

Sporting Editor, London Advertiser:

Dear Sir,—The Tillsonburg Lawn Bowling Club wish to thank you most heartily for the appropriate trophy you so generously donated to our club for the Scotch double event. It was surely appreciated. Yours truly,

A. S. RENNIE,

THROWER PILOTS THE WINNING QUARTET AT ASSOCIATION TOURNEY

Ninety-eight local rinks turned out to the annual bowling tournament of the London Lawn Bowling Association, held on the L. R. C. greens yesterday. Arthur Thrower's quartet being returned the winner, with three won games and a majority of 28. The weather in the afternoon was ideal, but a light rain at night marred the play.

A. D. Heffernan's four won second honors, coming within one shot of tying Thrower's score. Norman Keene's men took third prizes, being eight points behind the victorious combination.

A tidy sum was collected for the patriotic fund as a result of the large number of trundlers attending.

Jack Griffith's rink came fourth in the list of winners. The 96 players were classified for the various positions on the teams, and placed on rinks according to the manner in which their names were drawn from the hat.

C. G. R. OFFICERS TRIM NON-COMS AT HEIGHTS

played at Carling Heights camp yesterday afternoon between the officers of the Canadian Garrison Regiment and the N. C. O.'s of the same unit, resulting in a victory for the former by the score of 29 to 17.

Lieut. H. McCrimmon pitched stellar ball for the victors, receiving excellent support from his infield. Major E. B. Nelles as catcher gave an excellent exhibition of inside work, almost winning his game by threatening the umpire with a district court-martial for raw decisions.

For the vanquished team Corp. Oullette pitched fine ball, but received ragged support. Features of the game were a home run by Major Nelles, McLeod's spectacular slide to second base uprooting Capt. McTaggart, and Capt. Gerald's one-handed catch in the ninth inning, picking a speedy foul from the vicinity of third base. The defeated heroes have challenged their superiors (in baseball and military law) to a return game, and a great contest is predicted.

DIRECTORS FOR THE C. N. R. ARE CHOSEN

MacKenzie and Mann Are "Gone, But Not Forgotten" —Hanna Is Chief.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—The reorganized Canadian Northern Railway directorate will consist of: D. B. Hanna, president; Robert Hobson, Hamilton; Frank Jones, vice-chairman of the war trade board; E. R. Wood, Toronto; A. T. Riley, Winnipeg; C. M. Hamilton, Weyburn, Sask.; A. J. Mitchell, and Major Bell, deputy minister of railways.

Mr. Hanna, the president, Mr. Mitchell and Major Bell are already on the board. The other five are additions.

So the board of directors of the Canadian Northern Railway has been "constituted." At least, that is what the Government claims. Mackenzie & Mann have gone, but the influence of Mackenzie & Mann remains, and the Mackenzie & Mann domination over the "people's road" has been perpetuated.

OUTSIDER ANNEXES AQUEDUCT FEATURE; SURPRISES GALORE

Veteran Barrow Shows Flash of Old Speed in Handicap.

New York, Sept. 19.—H. P. Whitney's veteran campaigner, Borrow, one of the best handicap performers of his day, furnished one of the many surprises at the Aqueduct track yesterday, where for the second day in succession not a favorite won on the flat. Borrow was the outsider in the handicap, in which the added starter, Naturalist, was made an odds-on choice on the strength of his ability to run in the mud. There was mud enough yesterday, but for once Naturalist took a dislike to the mixtures of sand and water.

There was another shock for the form players, when Little Nearer, which until this year had almost a monopoly of races at a mile and five-sixteenths, was soundly beaten in a selling handicap at that distance by Gamecock. The victory of Circus completed a good day for Jockey Robinson, who won with all three of his mounts. Besides the Whitney horses, Robinson piloted Syrdar yesterday, the victor in the first race for 2-year-olds. The steeplechase was a real cross-country affair, in which the three contestants took their time and did the job well. Brooks led all the way, but nearly lost the race when Bush eased him in the last few strides.

First race, 2-year-olds, claiming, purse $600, 6½ furlongs—Syrdarya, 108 (Robinson), 4 to 1, 2 to 5, 7 to 10, won; Antonelle, 106 (Kelsay), 7 to 1, 2 to 1, even, second; Earlocker, 118 (Lyke), 13 to 5, 4 to 5, 1 to 3, third. Time, 1:21 1-5. Umbella and Hindoostan also ran.

Second race, steeplechase, handicap, 3-year-olds and up, $700, about 2 miles —Brooks, 148 (Bush), 11 to 10, 1 to 4, won; Crest Hill, 135 (Powers), 2 to 1, 1 to 2, second; Mex Meadows, 133 (Byers), 7 to 2, 7 to 10, third. Time, 4:14. Only three starters.

Third race, 3-year-olds and up, non-winners of $1,500 at any time or three races of any valuation since April 30, 1918, purse $600, mile—Assume, 120 (Ensor), 18 to 5, 6 to 5, 1 to 2, won; Kashmir, 109 (Hughes), 7 to 2, 6 to 5, 1 to 2, second; Valor, 115 (Thurber), 18 to 5, 6 to 5, 1 to 2, third. Time, 1:40 flat. Buckboard, Chief Lally also ran.

Fourth race, handicap, $1,500 added, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs—Borrow, 114 (Robinson), 9 to 2, 4 to 5, won; High Cost, 107 (Schuttinger), 4 to 1, 7 to 10, second; xNaturalist, 124 (Knapp), 1 to 2, out, third. Time, 1:14 1-5. Only three starters.

(x)—Added starter.

Fifth race, mile and five-sixteenths, 3-year-olds and up, handicap—Gamecock, 100 (Walls), 8 to 5, 1 to 2, out, won; Little Nearer, 114 (Loftus), 3 to 5, out, out, second; Conduit, 110 (McCrann), 7 to 1, 6 to 5, out, third. Time, 2:15 3-4. Only three starters.

Sixth race, maiden, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs— Cirrus, 115 (Robinson), 5 to 1, 2 to 1, even, won; Hurricane, 115 (Schuttinger), 12 to 1, 5 to 1, 5 to 2, second; Tableau d'Honneur, 115 (Rice), 6 to 1, 5 to 2, 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:00 1-5. Joe Joe, Sinn Feiner, War Smoke, Austin, Leading Star, Donado, L'Effaire, Tapageur, Grande, King Plaudit, Clare Booth, Miss Frisby, Maggie Maitland also ran.

EXCITING RACES AT STRATFORD FAIR; RAIN A DETRIMENT

STRATFORD, Sept. 18.—Stratford fall fair closed this afternoon, its success severely curtailed by heavy rains. After a threatening morning the weather cleared and there was a good attendance this afternoon, aided by the half-holiday in the city.

A feature of the afternoon was the presentation of S. O. S. and farm service badges to 51 boys and 66 girls by R. C. Sidenus.

The bankers' specials went to George Hyslop, John Keller, Joseph Dunsmore and H. Famme for cattle, and to Adam Wood and Joseph Dunsmore for hogs. The light horse classes were large and heavy horses fair, cattle slim, and swine fair.

The two harness events at the fair this afternoon provided a fund of excitement. In the 2:10 pace Tramp Quick, owned by Grosch, Milverton, won, with Alfreda, owned by Fawm of Mitchell, a close second. A tie heat between these horses in the third necessitated a fourth heat. Grosch's Miss Peter Gilbert and Litt's Free Bond had a merry battle in the classified race. Four other entrants withdrew and let them fight it out. The former won. The last quarter of the final heat was trotted in 32½ seconds.

The summary:

VETERAN LYON TRIMS U. S. GOLF CHAMPION

MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—George Lyon, champion of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association, defeated W. E. Truesdale of New York, twice champion of the American seniors, in the international tournament, being played at the Royal Montreal Club course at Dixie today. Mr. Lyon led both coming and going, his total score being 76, compared with Mr. Truesdale's 87.

AMERICAN GOLFISTS BEATEN BY CANUCKS; GEORGE BROWN WINS

MONTREAL, Sept. 18. — Canadian golfers this afternoon won the International match from the United States team in the game, which concluded a most successful first annual tournament of the Canadian Senior Golf Association. The point score was 23 to 19.

Considerable interest was evoked amongst the golfers on the club veranda after the luncheon, when the last player of the International golf match pairs were seen approaching the 18th hole.

At 2:30 the last cards were handed in by Dr. Ross of the Royal, Montreal, who was one of the last pair to finish.

There was great applause when Canada was declared winner by 4 points. The principal match was between the Canadians, Champion George S. Lyons of Toronto and the American captain, W. E. Truesdale, the scores being:

Lyon	Out	6	5	4	5	5	3	5	3	3—39
	In	5	4	5	4	4	5	5	4	3—37—76
Truesdale	Out	7	5	4	5	4	4	5	4	5—43
	In	6	4	5	5	5	4	5	6	4—44—87

The Americans were severely handicapped by the match conditions which prohibited coaching, also by the strange and wet ground and the fatigue which followed traveling.

Mr. Lyon won the governor-general prize, which was handed over by Lord Richard Neville, and also Lord Shaughnessy's cup, which Lady Shaughnessy presented personally.

BRANTFORD DROPS FIRST IN O.A.B.A. SEMI-FINALS

BRANTFORD, Sept. 18.—Hamilton Beavers copped the first game in the O.A.B.A. semi-finals against Brantford here today by the score of 6 to 4. The game was smartly contested. The visitors did not have much trouble against Johnson, the Brantford pitcher, who was protested before the game started because of not being a signed player with the Pratt & Letchworth champions before August 1. Sullivan started to pitch for the Hamiltonians, but got into trouble in the third inning. He was replaced by Stewart, who proved effective for the remainder of the game. The Beavers thus secured a two-run jump on the Brantfords for their home game in Hamilton Saturday. Hamilton sent a big crowd of supporters to help their amateurs win.

HE GAVE ALL
—his Mother, his Home!

OUT 'mid bursting shell and battle's roar; out in the awful abyss of a man-made hell; in a strange land, thousands of miles from home, a brave Canadian mother's son is, this minute, fighting, bleeding, dying—enduring all the agonies of this terrible conflict that the world may be free. There, amid the victorious cheers of our men, the maddening curses of a savage foe, the cries of the stricken and the wails of the dying, his mind goes back to Canada, to the land he loved so well; to a dear old mother's home, to the comforts he found there. He sees her bent in longing for her boy "Over There," and his heart aches to comfort her with a letter of good cheer. Hear him, in a voice with anguish filled, calling, pleading, praying to those for whom he fights, to furnish him with the comforts that they themselves would want.

We carry to YOU this plea from far across the sea, from your loved ones "Over There," that they may have a few of the comforts that YOU daily enjoy.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! A SMALL BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, for a few cents, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre, and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. —Advt.

In the treatment of all skin troubles bathe freely with Cuticura Soap and hot water, dry gently, and apply Cuticura Ointment to the affected parts. These fragrant super-creamy emollients tend to prevent little skin troubles becoming serious if used for every-day toilet purposes.

For sample of each free by mail address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. N, Boston, U.S.A." Sold by dealers throughout the world.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating, are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation, and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people, who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How You Can Help Us All By Saving Your Doctor's Time

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG.
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

Recently Mr. Geo. Creel, head of the committee on public information, announced that the first United States soldier to be killed in the war, and the first to be wounded, were both in the medical corps. This fact must have impressed you with the serious risks which are taken by the army doctors. Before we entered the war the bravery and sacrifice of our medical officers at the front had probably been too little appreciated.

The officers and enlisted men in the medical corps are the only soldiers who go into No Man's Land with no defence whatever. The tireless work on the battlefield of the stretcher-bearers, all of whom are in the medical corps, is full of danger. No profession has volunteered its services to the country more generously than the medical profession. About 24,000 physicians, or nearly a fourth of the eligible physicians of the country, have expressed their willingness to resign practice and go to war. Some have already received their training and gone to France; some are now waiting to be called, and about 2,000 are in the camps receiving the special instruction that will fit them for a military life.

When a physician receives word that his offer to join the army has been accepted he is ordered to report for duty at once at one of the two training camps where army training schools are located. One is at Fort Riley, Kan., and the other is at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. The doctors live in barracks at these camps just like any other soldier. The course of training lasts three months.

War's Call For Doctors.

During the first month they drill and command companies of men, they study the organization of the army. The second month is occupied with the special duties of medical officers, and they are taught the new conditions and problems which confront an army on the battle fronts. The third month they concentrate upon some special branch of medical work. About 10 per cent go into head surgery, 10 per cent into X-ray work, 35 per cent into general surgery, and another 10 per cent into heart practice.

Another 25,000 of our best physicians and surgeons are expected to volunteer, and will shortly be needed for our fourth and fifth million of men. Twenty-five thousand additional nurses are needed.

What you are expected to do is to learn and apply as much medical knowledge as you can to relieve the few doctors who must remain in civil life from the burdens of overwork, night calls and minor complaints.

At a medical meeting not long ago the doctors discussed night calls. It was discovered that 95 per cent of the summons from their much needed slumbers were for fears, hysterias, cramps, colics, toothache, neuralgia and other pains, discomforts and anxieties which the silence of night usually exaggerate.

In other words, only five in every hundred medical calls and visits after midnight reallly and truly required that the doctor be roused from his much-needed sleep to dress and go out into the night.

Meeting Simple Emergencies.

With nearly 50 per cent of the best doctors at war, this means the unnecessary exhaustion of many of those who remain at home. Do you consider it just and fair to help destroy the very men you may urgently need? It is like the cry of "Wolf!" to bad boy who guarded the sheep. At last, when you will really need the physician, he may not be able to answer your summons.

An earache can generally be relieved by applications of heat. Cramps, colic and stomachache can be alleviated with a hot soapsuds enema, a glass of hot water and a mustard plaster over the seat of pain. If this does not suffice, one-half teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in water will quiet the pains until the doctor is awake and comes in the course of the day's round. For the toothache, two or three drops of creosote on a pledget of cotton will suffice.

The fears, hysterias and emotional excitement of the wee sma' hours can be greatly abridged by the administration of 30 grains of bromide of potash in a glass of hot milk

Answers to Health Questions

D. K.: Q.—Before being operated on for adenoids is the patient made unconscious?

2. How long do you have to stay in a hospital after such an operation?

3. Does the nose become normal in size?

A.—Most patients are given ether when being operated on for adenoids.

2. Some can go home a few hours after the operation

3. The nose is normal after the operation.

J. B.: Q.—Please tell me the medicinal qualities of the fresh orange.

A.—It is that of many fresh fruits, laxative, vitalizing and nourishing.

MRS. A. F. B.: Q.—Please give me something for superfluous hair on the face.

A.—Remember that there are few, if any, methods to "kill the roots." Most expedients are to be frequently repeated. About twice a week, or when needed, some of this may be used:

Calcium sulphide ..... 2 parts
Zinc oxide ..... 1 part
Starch ..... 1 part

When you are ready to use this make a paste with water and apply to the parts. Let it remain on the skin for about five minutes and then wipe off gently with a soft cloth.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20.

The sidereal forces ruling this day make for great activity and enterprise, with the energies alert and ardent on all planes of human relations. Moon and Mars are trined, bringing initiative and quick action into all undertakings, condition exaggerated by a Uranian transit which impels to sudden moves, journeys, etc., all of which should result fortunately for those operating in independent channels. The day is not a fortunate one, however, for those in employment, who should act discreetly and conservatively. The martial fever will also be translated with domestic, social and love affairs, making for activity and ardor in these matters; but here a note of caution must be introduced, lest the fervency lead to danger by exaggerated expression.

Those whose birthday it is should have an active and pleasant year, but must be circumspect. A child born on this day will be proud, energetic and dominating in affairs, business and social.

The Origin of Famous Sayings

Miguel de Cervantes. 1547-1616.

Of good natural parts and of a liberal education. —Don Quixote.

Ants differ greatly in various parts of the world, you must know. In Australia there is an ant which looks like a tiny silver fish, and this ant has the most peculiar habits. One thing which he is fond of doing is boring his way, with amazing perseverance, through all sorts of thick substances. For instance, this ant will eat his way through the side of a trunk or box, bore straight through whatever is within and emerge on the other side. Behind him he leaves a tiny, clean, straight little tunnel right through the whole thing—wood or wool or what not. Australians are wise enough to line their boxes and trunks with tin.

Sun Burned Skin

You want a healthy summer tan. But sometimes you get it too quickly and then there is a few days of suffering.

The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the stinging and burning and leaves the skin delightfully soft and smooth.

Because it is equally effective in relieving stings of insects and ivy poisoning, as well as chafing and skin irritations, it is invaluable in the summer camp.

Tea

The drink of the intellectuals

De Quincey, who was somewhat of a connoisseur, described Tea as "the drink of the intellectuals"; because "it disposes to genial conversation and interchange of ideas."

But be sure that the TEA is LIPTON'S, because the quality and flavor is guaranteed.

We grow it, blend it, pack it and sell it ourselves.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Madge Learned in Katie's Room.

As the taxicab whizzed away after depositing us at the gate a man walked from the end of the shrubbery and passed us with every appearance of a casual passer-by.

But I noticed that he was in reality giving us what Dicky always slangily terms, "the once over," and just as he passed us, Lillian spoke a single word in a low tone, which brought him to a sudden halt, his hand at his cap in respectful salute. I realized that this must be one of the guards that Lillian had caused to be placed around my Marvin house.

"What's the trouble here?" Lillian asked peremptorily.

"Somebody's ill, an accident, I think," the man replied. "Of course, I haven't questioned anyone, but the windows have been open, and from what I've heard I think somebody by the name of Katie fell down the cellar stairs. At any rate, the doctor's there, been there two or three times today."

"Oh, poor Katie!" I gasped, gazing at Lillian horrified, remembering the girl's condition. "Let's hurry in."

"Go on ahead, Madge," Lillian said kindly. "I must give this man some instructions. Send William out for the bags."

William, looking more Caliban-like than ever, opened the door guardedly in response to my ring, leaving the barring chain on.

"Who's there?" he demanded, not venturing to poke his head from behind the shelter of the door.

"It is I, Mrs. Graham, William," I returned, and then as he uttered a joyful, relieved exclamation, he unbarred the chain, a broad grin overspreading his ugly visage.

Katie's Serious Injury.

"Oh, Mis' Gramie!" he said heartily "I'm so glad you've come. We certainly have had turrible times here since you've been gone, folks prowlin' around an' tryin' to git in, and poor Katie she nearly killed herself."

"How is she, William?" I asked ruthlessly interrupting his flow of information.

"She's awful sick, Mis' Gramie," he returned soberly. "The doctor didn't think the fall hurt her so awful at first, but she must have been hurted somewhere inside he didn't know about, for she was took turrible sick this afternoon, and the doctor's been here twice —he's here now."

"I'll go up right away," I said, mounting the stairs as I spoke, my heart heavy with anxiety for my faithful Katie. Poor old William's childlike mind had missed the significance of Katie's injury, but I feared the worst for the little life Katie was so joyfully expecting.

Madge Is Overcome.

I met no one in the hall, but as I reached the top of the stairs I heard Katie's voice, hoarse, almost unrecognizable, in pain-wrung moaning. The door of her room, which was brightly lighted, was open, and as I passed the threshold I saw my mother-in-law, Cousin Agatha and the old physician who had attended Mother Graham's broken arm bending over her.

My mother-in-law saw me first, and hurried to the door.

"What has brought you home?" she demanded crossly, and I detected grave anxiety in her voice. "I thought you agreed to stay away while all this performance next door was on."

"Lillian has closed her house and is here with me, for reasons that she will tell you later," I said in a low voice, but Katie heard me, raised herself up in bed, a horrifying sight, for her face and arms were covered with bandages, hiding the havoc made by her terrible fall.

"Oh, Missis Graham, my darling Missis Graham!" she called agonizingly. "I tink you never come back to me. I tink I die and never see you again. Please, you come kiss me, hold my hand joost once."

I knew Katie's theatrical emotionalism well, but there was real tragedy in this cry. I crossed to the bed, took my little maid's bandaged hand in mine, stooped and gave her the kiss she had asked for.

Katie's face was flushed as if with fever and her eyes glittered. But the face of Cousin Agatha upon the other side of the bed was white, and she was more subdued than I had ever seen her. She gave me no greeting save a perfunctory nod, but I noticed that she was looking at me fixedly, as if she saw something surprising in my face.

I felt an unaccountable faintness steal over me, heard the physician's voice, gravely courteous, yet insistent.

"I fear you are not well, Mrs. Graham. You shouldn't remain here."

I loosened my hands from Katie's feverish clasp, and walked unsteadily toward the door.

As I turned into the hall Katie's voice rose from low moaning to a shriek, shrill, piercing. And at the sound I felt myself falling, and everything went black before me.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

Why Black and White Offer Unlimited Possibilities in Stunning Effects.

We're turning to the sober blacks and blues, not only because dark colors are more in keeping with these serious times, but because they're a conservation measure.

Many women who used to spend their allowances recklessly on light, glaring colors that made them distinctive anywhere are mending their ways entirely. They no longer seek the vivid shades that mark them apart, but last for so short a time.

Light colors mean duplication of costumes, having more of a supply than one actually needs, and, therefore, wasting. It's true that black is by no means soil-proof, and some women seem to injure black fabrics as quickly as the lighter ones. This, however, isn't because black actually shows spots more quickly than light fabrics, as people sometimes claim. It's a matter of habit, in a sense.

We are inclined to be more careless about black or dark clothes. We don't make a determined effort to protect them from dust and dirt, don't cleanse the tiny spots as quickly as we do the injured light-colored clothes. The spot on the light garment clamors for immediate attention and gets it. But the spot on the dark blue or black frock sometimes remains in modest invisibility, and only when it has reached conspicuous proportions does it receive due attention.

Black remains the most serviceable of all colors, and it presents so many possibilities for beautiful development that some of the most fastidious women are sticking to black and white combinations in all of their new frocks. And yet each model is tremendously different. Fur or lace, or a dash of chiffon or georgette combine well with almost any black fabric, and even if made up most simply produce a beautiful ensemble.

Smart Costume of Black Broadcloth Trimmed With Braid and Sealskin.

The illustration shows black broadcloth made up with braid and sealskin. The sombre coloring is relieved by the accompanying blouse, which is of cream-colored marquisette, and soften the heavy black.

The coat is loose-fitting and very youthful in cut. Sealskin is used for the deep collar and cuffs, and a firm, tailored line is given the coat by the banding of black braid around the entire edge of the coat. A row of buttons from neck to edge of coat finish it simply.

Like all the modern skirts, this is narrow and undraped, and has only one bit of trimming to take away from its stiff line—the large, square pocket, matching the pocket in the coat.

This is a three-piece costume, and the blouse accompanying it is of cream-colored marquisette tucked crossways. In order to give it some "body" there's a panel of heavy, straight, Irish lace, dyed cream-colored, to match the marquisette. The waist fastens down the front with a row of tiny pearl buttons.

When the coat is worn open, fastened only at the top button, the blouse is revealed and the entire costume has a careless outdoor effect that's charming.

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Silvey

Illustrated by Greville

Once there lived in Fairyland an old cobbler and his beautiful daughter.

She was so vain and proud that no one dared go near her. She always dressed in the very best of gowns and shoes, and felt so far above her poor, hard-working, elfin father that it almost broke his heart.

One day, when he couldn't stand it any longer, Cobbler Elfin went to confide his troubles to the Fairy Queen.

Proud Fairy was called into the throne room and banished from Fairyland.

"Labor that is honest is not to be made fun of," said the Fairy Queen. "You are both proud and vain and must go down into the meadow and dwell with the folks there until you have learned the lesson of usefulness." And before Proud Fairy knew what was happening she was whisked through the air and set down in the meadow.

"What shall I do?" she sobbed, sitting down on a pebble. "If I live in this meadow I'll spoil my pretty clothes, and there's nothing I can do to be useful."

"Rum! Rum! Rum!" laughed a hoarse voice, and Mrs. Hop Toad hopped up beside Proud Fairy. "We don't class folks down here according to their clothes."

Proud Fairy Before the Queen.

"It's the one who can work and make herself useful that stands high with the meadow folks," croaked Mrs. Hop Toad. "I guess you wouldn't have any use for me if you knew my work lay in cleaning out the bugs from other folks' vegetable and flower gardens; but here in the meadow they think a great deal of me. My old green gown is covered with warts and I'm dreadful ugly, but I'm useful, and that counts more than beauty."

"But what can I do?" exclaimed Proud Fairy. "I've never worked in my life."

"Never too late," laughed Mrs. Hop Toad good naturedly. "If your father was an Elfin Cobbler, then why not put up a shop in the garden and fashion fairy slippers, for the Fairies have been complaining of the grasses sticking in their tender feet. Pink and white slippers like the ones you are wearing would set all Flower Land wild."

Proud Fairy wiped her eyes and followed Mrs. Hop Toad over to the garden, where they gathered pink and white petals, and before evening Proud Fairy had fashioned hundreds of tiny pink and white slippers and hung them upon a green plant.

When the Fairies spied them they were charmed with their beauty and soon took all Proud Fairy could make. She grew to love her work so much that when her elfin father came for her she coaxed him to remain in the garden.

And now you may see them in most any old-fashioned garden, all dressed in soft green leaves, making pink and white blossoms into tiny slippers, and passers-by call them lady slippers.

No one but Mrs. Hop Toad, Proud Fairy and you and I know how the little cobblers of Fairy Land came there, and we're not going to tell.

The business of tea blending is peculiarly British. For 100 years Mincing Lane has blended tea for the whole world, and brought the work into the region of an exact science.

The first Moro girls ever graduated as nurses received their diplomas as members of the class of 1918 from the Philippine General Hospital. The three young women passed their examinations "brilliantly," according to the Philippine Review, which says: "The administration of the department of Mindanao and Sulu is to be congratulated in the assimilation of modern civilization in the department, after so many centuries of forced intellectual darkness. There should, indeed, be no limit to Moro possibilities, if only given due chance—and chances are given them plentifully today."

The German potash output for 1918 is estimated at 1,056,100 tons, of which 918,600 tons are for home consumption, and 137,500 tons for export to neutrals. Last year the output was 701,000 tons.

U. S. WILL HAVE ARMY OF 4,800,000 TROOPS, NET, IN FIELD BY NEXT SPRING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—An army of 4,800,000 by next July, after all deductions have been made for casualties and rejections, is what the enlarged American military program calls for, General March explained this afternoon to the House appropriations committee in discussing the new seven-billion dollar army estimates.

There are now about 3,200,000 men under arms, General March said, and the plan is to call 2,700,000 of the new draft registrants to the colors between now and July.

Out-of-Town Firms Get All Contracts For New Hospital

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Contracts for the London military hospital have been awarded as follows: Convalescent and active treatment wards to A. B. Colwan, Toronto; service and dining-room to Canadian Construction and Builders, Limited, Brockville; administration building to Bate, McMahon & Co., Ottawa. This is officially announced by R. C. THE WAR SITUATION

New York, Sept. 19.—The Associated Press this morning issued the following:

In an attack, described as local in character, the British and French armies facing the Hindenburg line north and south of St. Quentin won important successes on Wednesday. At two points, one north of St. Quentin, and the other in the area near where Gen. Byng made his sensational advance last October before Cambrai, the allied forces appear to have reached the main positions of the Germans. On this front the best maps fail to show the difficulties attending even a minor advance. For 17 months the Germans have been strengthening their positions, which they consider as being almost invulnerable. The fact, therefore, that the British and French succeeded in storming entrenched heights and strongly defended towns indicates that the blow was one in which large numbers of men were engaged, and may have been designed as of at least the preliminary step to a move of more than ordinary import.

On the Macedonian Front.

French, Serbian and Greek forces have continued their advance on the Macedonian front and have taken a number of strongly defended points in the mountainous regions east of Monastir. The front is now nearly twenty miles in length, and the advance has reached a depth of over six miles. It is said that the defence of the Teutonic troops was very strong at first, but that, as the Entente armies have smashed their way forward, the enemy has appeared to lose his taste for close fighting. The progress of the Allies, however, would not appear to indicate any general giving way of the Bulgarian forces, which are being assisted by German units, according to a Berlin dispatch.

The fighting has been going on since Sunday, and the progress is such that there is now a real threat toward the city of Prelep, which is said to be one of the principal bases of the Teutonic troops on this sector of the Macedonian front.

Consolidating New Lines.

American troops are engaged in consolidating their new lines across the base of the St. Mihiel salient, which was wiped out by them last week. The Germans are reported to be feverishly working to strengthen their lines in this sector, but it seems improbable that a new American assault will be made at once in this region.

"PEACE TALK AT THIS DATE FUTILE," SAYS BISHOP M. F. FALLON

Men Who Favor Such Proposals Enemies of Cause.

"ON AND ON," THE SLOGAN

His Lordship Sounds Note of Warning to Canada on "After the War."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

HAMILTON, Sept. 18.—That this was no time for peace and that the man who talks of peace now is an enemy of the common cause, was the emphatic assertion of Right Rev. M. F. Fallon, Bishop of London, during an address tonight before the Canadian Club on his experiences during his recent visit to the battlefront.

"It is my firm conviction," said his lordship, "that any peace for months to come would be a futile peace—a peace without any basis. This is the time for every man to grip his hands and say "On and on," until this war shall end with right triumphant and wrong so low in the dust that it shall not raise itself for centuries." Applause.

Sounds Note of Warning.

His lordship sounded a note of warning in speaking of the reconstruction period after the war, when he stated that it would be a time for Canadians to use vision and patience in order that the British commonwealth would be as strong as ever. "If we do not sink our personal interests and work towards this end, then the war, despite the fact that we conquer the Germans, will be worse than lost," he said.

Referring to the magnitude and marvel of the Canadian effort in the war, his lordship stated that the Canadian medical, forestry, railway and fighting corps had been described as "second to none" by high English authorities, and that the railway units had shown the world how to evolve the problem of expeditious transportation.

New Aspecto to War.

A new aspect to the war was given by his lordship, when he said: "I found in the Canadian pay office in England that out of expenditures of $100,000 for about three months we were paying 72 per cent in wages to our soldiers for the saving of our skins."

His lordship made a plea for funds for the army hut campaign which the Knights of Columbus are now conducting throughout the Dominion. "The huts are urgently needed over there, and I can assure you that there is no distinction made so far as creed is concerned."

Regarding tobacco for the boys, his lordship stated that he had no sympathy for those who wished to keep cigarettes from the soldiers. "I know they need their smokes in order that they may for a time forget the dangers which surround them."

HOW THE BOLSHEVIKI BETRAYED RUMANIA

Exposure of German Intrigue in Stricken Country.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The betrayal of Rumania and elaborate advance plans of Germany and her Russian Bolsheviki tools for suppressing and murdering loyal Rumanians, Russians and Poles, are exposed in detail by today's chapter of the astounding secret Russian documents which the American Government is giving to the public.

Other installments of the series have described how the Bolsheviki leaders, Lenine and Trotzky, and their associates were bought by the Germans for millions in gold, and engineered their bloody overthrow of Russia for the benefit of their German masters. Now the story is told of how, while the Brest-Litovsk peace conference farce was still in progress, the Bolsheviki were sending hired agents into Rumania to disorganize the armies of Russia's ally, dethrone the Rumanian king, and turn lose the German armies occupied there for service in a great offensive on the western front.

Wholesale Murder of Loyalists.

The second phase of the latest disclosure shows the Bolsheviki, at German direction, undertaking not only to kill refractory Russian generals, but to shoot individually and wholesale Polish soldiers who were refusing to be sold to the Germans, and patriotically keeping the field against their enemies.

One of the documents transmits orders from the German intelligence service to "take most decisive measures, up to shooting en masse, against Polish tropos," and to institute surveillance of institutions and persons, including the Roman Catholic Polish clergy.

Explanatory notes by Edgar Sisson, who obtained the documents, add many details lacking in the papers themselves, including a story of how the Rumanian minister barely escaped assassination after being arrested by the Bolsheviki, and released through the efforts of United States Ambassador Francis and other diplomats.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Opening: Corn—September, $1 55; October, $1 52⅞.

Oats—September, 72⅝c; October, 73⅝c.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Frost predictions resulted today in a decided upward swing of the corn market. The frost area was expected to include territory further south than heretofore, notably in Missouri and Kansas. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c to ½c higher, with October at $1 52⅜@1 53, and November at $1 49⅝@1 49¾, were followed by a moderate reaction and then by a brisk new advance.

Oats rose with corn. Bears were handicapped by the continued demand for the Government. After opening a shade to ¼c to ⅜c higher, with October at 73½@73¾c, the market scored further gains.

COTTON.

Liverpool, Sept. 19.—Cotton—Futures closed steady; September, 23.78d; October, 23.43d; November, 23.24d; December, 23.12d; January, 23d.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 19—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Changes were unusually narrow at the opening of the stock market today, with the trend definitely upward, soon crystalizing into a more positive show of strength among some of those stocks which were conspicuous during yesterday's advance. American Sumatra Tobacco continued to reflect retirement of an over-extended short account, and both Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company achieved still higher levels. Speculation in steels, coppers, equipments and important railroads was on a limited scale, but Marine preferred was absorbed on reiteration of reports that the long-pending deal for the transfer of the British tonnage would soon be consummated.

Original Mr. Gloom Now a Member of City Police Force

Stopped a Reporter and Told Him to Stop Whistling.

There is one cop in the city who carries a grouch that could be likened unto that of von Hindenburg these days. At any rate he strode forth from the shadows at the corner of Park and Queen's avenues at 11:45 Tuesday evening, and demanded in a loud voice that a member of The Advertiser editorial staff cease whistling, as he gayly wended his way home from work.

"Since when has it been against city bylaws to advertise your cheerfulness?" demanded the scribe in hurt tones.

"Well, never mind, young feller, about that. You just tone down that there whistle of yours or I'll give you something to whistle about," returned what is undoubtedly one of Chief Williams' latest finds in the Philo Gubb line.

"The chimes of St. Paul's Cathedral make a lot more noise than I could ever hope to," observed the reporter, "and just listen to that rattletrap," he went on as an alleged motor car went grinding by.

"That don't make no difference," continued the tall sleuth. "You're making too much noise."

"Calling me a public nuisance, eh?" queried the reporter, who doesn't like the truth being brought home in such a forcible way.

"Well, hardly that, but I'm a-telling you that you gotta tune down that song of yours. This ain't no time to whistle," said P. C. Gloom.

Bad enough to have your sugar cut down, taking most of the sweetness out of life, and now a fellow can't even show a sign of cheerfulness. Wonder if Mr. Cop would let us cheer if the Canadians registered another great victory? Who can tell?

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE," SAYS CITY TREASURER

Threat of Prosecution Arouses Dog Owners.

"It pays to advertise," says City Treasurer James Bell.

Tuesday he announced through the advertising columns of The Advertiser that dog owners who had not paid their dog tax would be prosecuted in the police court. The result was fruitful. Before the city offices closed at night several delinquent dog owners appeared and donated for a dog license. There were several others on hand before the offices opened in the morning, and by noon sixteen persons had appeared and purchased their tag and license.

William Garlick was an active member of the local command of the Great War Veterans' Association. He spent fourteen months in France, and returned to Canada 22 months ago. He has been employed at the London street railway for the past sixteen months.

The members of the night staff of the London Street Railway Company presented Garlick with a pipe and tobacco and also a purse of money on Tuesday night. F. Near made the presentation and J. Outhouse read the address. Garlick was very popular among the men with whom he worked, as well as with the Great War Veterans.

A. Goss is a returned soldier, and a member of the G. W. V. A., and has a son who was wounded recently, now in a hospital in England. He has another son who returned to Canada recently.

Both Garlick and Goss re-enlisted with the Canadian Siberian expeditionary force a few weeks ago.

GREEN CROSS TO MARK CARS OF MEDICAL MEN

Doctors of Ontario are to have a passport for their automobiles on gasoline conservation days.

Doctors must use their cars on Sundays in case of a hurried call. Persons not knowing them are liable to criticize and adopt the attitude of "if he can use his car on Sunday, so can I."

This situation was brought to the attention of the executive of the Ontario Medical Association after Canada had adopted the gasolineless Sundays. It was decided to adopt a distinguishing motor badge in the form of a green cross to be displayed by all doctors on the windshields of their cars. These will be supplied to the practitioners of the province by the secretary at 149 Close avenue, Toronto.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A TENANT'S COMPLAINT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I have had my rent increased twice in three years, and again lately. I live in a house with a deep lot and a closet in the middle, which is always kept clean and no nuisance to anyone. The inspector lately ordered an inside closet, and, of course, my rent was again increased. There are no vacant houses to move to, and my wages are not enough to pay this high rent.

Does the inspector know there is a world war on and all unnecessary expense should be curtailed? Many tenants will feel the pinch if this state of affairs is allowed to continue.

SANDWICH QUESTION HARD ON LUNCHERS

"The sandwich edict of the Canada food board has proved a popular proposition with the easting-house proprietor," remarked a young man who lives in a rooming-house and eats downtown.

"The five-cent sandwich has been legislated into memory," he said, "but the restaurant man can let you have a 'plate' of cold meat and a couple of slices of bread for twenty cents. Then the sandwicher can make his own sandwich, if he wants to consume the ration in that manner.

"To my mind," remarked this clerk, "this sandwich legislation leads more to profit for the restauranteur than it does to food saving. I know three girls who live at home and carry their lunches, including a wagonload of sandwiches the kind that mother used to make. They figure out that the aggregate cost of their three lunches is twenty cents a day. It would be over a dollar in an eating house. Undoubtedly the food board legislation was a good thing for the restaurants."

THOUGHT POSTMAN WAS DELIVERING BABY SENT THROUGH PARCEL POST

"Do you suppose it is being shipped by parcel post?"

"I shouldn't wonder, for I have often seen those things done in the movies and they turn out all right, so it is about time that someone was starting to try them."

"I don't see how anyone could have the heart to do such a cruel thing as to trust such a dear, sweet little thing as that to a stranger, and of all persons to a postoffice and a mail man."

Such ejaculations, including many more of the same variety, came from two ladies on Dundas street west yesterday, when they witnessed one of the local postmen carrying a small child in his arms. The youngster, clad in a white dress and a colored sweater coat was sitting quite contented in the arms of the "postie" in answer to his "cooing" words, and was a source of attraction to many of the passing pedestrians who thought that it might possibly have been shipped by parcel post. Their thoughts and worried looks as they thought of the person who would be so cruel as to do such a thing were soon brought to an end when a friend of the postman, who was by this time becoming nervous under the inquiring stares, stopped the man, and from what could be learned from the conversation the postman was merely performing a favor for "friend wife" by carrying the child down the street. "But after all those stares I hope it will not happen again, that is when I have my uniform on," said he.

BRITISH OFFICIAL ASKS INFORMATION RE TRADE WITH LONDON FIRMS

Closer Co-Operation With Canada After the War Wanted.

The Department of Overseas Trade is working keenly in an effort to bring about a closer co-operation between Canada and the motherland in trade matters after the war. This is the statement of His Majesty's Trade Commissioner for Ontario, F. W. Field of Toronto, in a letter to the London Board of Trade.

Mr. Field is compiling information which may be useful in furthering this movement immediately the war is over. He has asked for a large volume of information about London trade.

In his query to the board of trade, Mr. Field states that he would like information regarding importers and agents for United Kingdom manufacturers. He would like to know the position of imported manufactured goods on the London market today as compared with 1913. Also details of the export conditions. How exports have been reduced by the shortage of shipping facilities. What stock has been accumulated because of this condition. He asks detailed information as to the iron, steel, hardware, electrical plant and appliances, glass, china, earthenware, paper and leather trade. He also wishes to know what public works are held up.
