

LLOYD GEORGE COMING TO "THANK" CANADIANS Swims Across Lake Erie In 20 Hours, 15 Minutes

London, Aug. 2.—David Lloyd George will sail for New York late in September on a tour which will take him into many of the cities of the United States and Canada.

His purpose, as he expressed it in making his plans known, is to thank Canada for its "magnificent services" to the empire during the war and to become personally acquainted with the United States, its cities, its people, and its political system.

Britain's war-time premier—outstanding figure in Europe during the world conflict—will make a number of speeches during the trip and will visit America's national shrines. His first address will be delivered in Montreal, where he will go immediately after his arrival in New York.

He will travel by motor as well as by train, as he wants to get close to the people in the cities and towns through which he passes, and, to use his own words, he desires to visit several of the smaller "Main street" communities.

Lloyd George was busy today, sitting thousands of invitations from practically every state in the United States and the provinces of Canada and arranging his itinerary.

This itinerary is tentatively as follows—subject to extension or curtailment, depending on the time at his disposal, which is still uncertain.

He will start for New York late in September, and will leave New York for Montreal the night of the day of his arrival. In Montreal, the first speech of his tour will be made.

Thence Lloyd George will go to Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago, Springfield, Illinois, Indianapolis, possibly St. Louis and Cleveland, and then to Washington.

From Richmond he will go on a motor trip over the Virginia battlefields, and then to Philadelphia, whence he will make a side trip to Scranton, Penn., before his departure for home. The former premier said: "I desire to make it clear that I have only one mission in America, namely, to express my appreciation as prime minister during the war for Canada's magnificent services to the empire."

My only other purpose is to become acquainted with regard to America. I am particularly eager to become acquainted with the great middle west."

The measure provides that the government may continue to hold prisoners charged with active opposition to the Free State.

OHIO SWIMMER COMPLETES TRIP ACROSS LAKE ERIE

Carbis Walker of Cleveland Accomplishes Feat in Twenty Hours.

SWAM 34 MILES
Starts From Point Pelee Light-house, Lands at Lorain, Ohio.

Special to The Advertiser.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 2.—Carbis A. Walker, Central Y. M. C. A. swimmer, landed at Lorain at 5:30 a.m. today, just 20 hours and 15 minutes after he started his swim across Lake Erie from Point Pelee lighthouse, a distance of 34 miles.

Walker completed his swim with only a row boat for company. His only food, after the first few hours, was sugar, a beef brot, taken along by the rowers, spoiled. He had no compass to guide him, only the sun and stars, as the yacht Argus, which was to accompany him, lost him near Pelee Island, and has not yet been heard from. It is feared she is adrift without fuel in the lakes.

An aeroplane, piloted by William Lond of Lorain, is searching the lake for the Argus and its five passengers—Charles D. Solders, commander, Cleveland Yacht Club; his assistant, H. T. Lamers, fleet surgeon of the club, and three newspapermen, Ray Gibbons, of the News; M. F. Ralney, of the Press, and Durlin, of the Plain Dealer.

Accompanied by Rowboat.
The Argus, which was to accompany Walker, left him when he started from Point Pelee at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday. The boat was a 1913 Bay, so details of the start could be wired to the newspapers. Commander Solders promised to catch up with Walker at Point Pelee Island, but the connection was missed.

The swimmer was accompanied the entire distance by a rowboat, manned with five persons. They were A. S. Ulen, his coach, Central Y. M. C. A.; Samuel Shapiro, a member of the "Y" swimming team; Gerald Walker, his brother; Edward Miller, friend of Pittsburgh, and a professional photographer, named Gray.

Walker's nourishment during the swim consisted of beef brot and granulated sugar. After twelve hours the beef brot spoiled and was thrown away, so sugar was his sole remaining means of sustenance.

He arrived near Pelee Island at 11:45 a.m. Wednesday, but halted a while while his trainers looked for the Argus. When the boat failed to appear they held a conference and decided to go ahead without it. This made it necessary to steer Walker by the stars.

At 5:45 p.m. Wednesday they sighted the steamer Argus. The captain instructed them on how to steer their course. At 7 p.m., Walker had no fight a very choppy lake. Two hours later, however, the rowboat crew sighted the Lorain lighthouse. From there on for two hours a heavy fog enveloped the swimmer and his conveyance. Later on the moon peeped out, enabling them to get their directions fixed once more.

On arrival at Lorain harbor at 5:30 a.m. Thursday, Walker, completely exhausted, was sent to bed. He fell into a sound sleep immediately. Trainers Ulen said he would advise the swimmer never to attempt a similar feat again, as the physical strain was almost killing. He said the most fortunate thing about the swim was that Walker must have steered an almost straight course from Point Pelee to Lorain in order to make his rapid time. He characterized this as almost miraculous, because they had no compass to guide them.

CLAIM CANTEN GOODS SOLD TO OFFICIALS RUMOR OF RUPTURE MAKES FRANC DROP

The British Select Committee Makes Startling Disclosures Regarding Investigations.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 2.—"It is a remarkable circumstance," says the report of the select committee, appointed by the government to investigate the alleged irregularities or fraud in connection with the administration of the canteen funds, whose report was received yesterday, "that most of the goods sold at low prices were sold to former officials of the canteen board, who were friends of those who were directing the disposal thereof."

Evidence to this effect came out some time ago while the inquiry was going on. The committee reported that the goods were sold to former officials of the canteen board, who were friends of those who were directing the disposal thereof.

The British pound, normally 24 francs, opened at 79.70. Quoted in American dollars, the franc at 17.47 made a new low record. The franc was weak even in comparison with Italian lire, the opening quotations being 75.50 per 100 lire.

GREATEST SUGAR BUYER IN WORLD NOW ON VISIT
Toronto Prepared To Entertain R. Just Boyd, Noted Britisher.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 2.—Toronto is to entertain for a few days the man who has bought more sugar than any other man in the world, the man who was sugar controller in Britain during the days of the war when sugar was rationed.

That man is R. Just Boyd, and he does not appear in "Who's Who." In a story told of him, it is said that after the war he was offered him a peerage in recognition of his services, but he told the government to give the title to his son, as he was a merchant.

Mr. Boyd is chairman of the amalgamated board, which comprises many manufacturing companies, of preserves and confectionery in Britain. He bought the sugar for the enormous jam and confectionery output of these firms in addition to controlling the distribution of sugar in the war years, not only for Britain but also for some of her European allies.

PETERS WILL LAY MORE CHARGES IN CHATHAM CASE

High County Constable Will Press Additional Accusations Against Young Men.

CRIMINAL ACTION
Blake McCoig Claims He Pleaded Guilty To Save Girls.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

Chatham, Aug. 2.—Carrying out his promise of yesterday, High County Constable George Peters is laying additional charges against several of the young men who appeared in court and were fined $200 and costs under the O. T. A.

Be Laid Tomorrow.
The informations will be laid tomorrow morning and the summonses served immediately after. The preliminary hearing will probably be held Tuesday, Monday being Civic Holiday.

Clark, lawyer for one of the men concerned, stated to The Advertiser this morning, after a conference with Mr. Peters, that the matter was not yet finished, and that the officer was more than ever determined to lay more serious charges.

According to Mr. Clark, the O. T. A. charges have been finished, although the possibility of charges of supplying liquor to minors, will probably follow on the heels of the next cases.

The charges to come up next week do not involve all the men, but it is expected that all, as well as the girls, will be called on to give evidence. The charges are being laid under the criminal code, and carry the penalty of lashes and imprisonment if the charges are found to be true.

Want Names Cleared.
Nor is it only the officers of the law who want the stories and alleged scandals aired. Two or three of the girls, whose names have been mentioned in connection with alleged beach revels and bathing parties, have told Mr. Peters that they want him to go on with the charges in order that they may have their names cleared.

Black McCoig, son of Senator A. McCoig, who was fined $200 and costs yesterday, stated that he was not guilty of any of the charges laid against him, but that out of consideration for the girls he had changed his plea to guilty. He said that had he gone through with it he could have cleared himself at the expense of the girls.

PROVINCIAL POLICE STILL SEEK BANDITS
Search For Toronto Robbers Greatly Extended, But Efforts Are Fruitless.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 2.—All efforts by the police to locate the gunmen who held up and robbed the bank messengers at Melinda and Jordan streets over a week ago, have proved fruitless. The latest developments have been in response to calls which were received by headquarters detectives from the Leeds and Leeds district. Possession of police investigated but found that they were groundless.

Officials on the case are concentrating efforts on tracing down strangers who have been in local rooming houses recently.

News is sought in connection with suspicious characters who have been seen at local lodgings prior to the hold-up.

Some believe the trail leads north, possibly to the "close to nature" summer resorts, where bandits could spend some time as a party of American tourists without arousing suspicion.

STREET RAILWAY VALUE IS PLACED BY MAYOR WENIGE

His Worship Declares Company's Property Is Worth Not More Than $600,000.

CHEAPER FARES
Says It Should Be Possible For Company To Give Six Tickets For 25 Cents.

Mayor George Wenige sets a rough valuation on the London Street Railway system—about $500,000. "Certainly not more than $600,000," his worship declared today.

"That is what I would give for the street railway company if I were the purchaser and in a position to talk business," the mayor explained. "And am making that estimate after giving the question considerable thought. I am taking into consideration everything I've seen or heard about the road, and I'm not overlooking the Bunnell report as well."

"And I am also figuring on six tickets for 25 cents. I firmly believe that a reduced fare would be possible."

The mayor insists that he is not opposed to a city-owned street railway, but maintains that the price must be fair. And he adds that a definite price must be forthcoming from the company for presentation to the people in December. Meek while the impression is general that the company will again decline to tender any figure to the city council.

Ald. Douglass insists that the price should proceed at once to consider his recommendation from the last session of the transportation commission. He said that the city's official representative.

Ald. Douglass is conferring with Mayor Wenige this afternoon with a view to a special session of the council to further the street railway project.

Thermometer Hits 111 Degrees in Some Localities—Rain Badly Needed.

Associated Press Despatch.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 2.—Temperatures over Oklahoma ranged above 105 degrees yesterday and a blighting heat wave is sweeping the state. The crops have been badly damaged and in some places destroyed, according to John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture. The corn crop is beginning to need rain, he said.

Tulsa and Okem yesterday reported thermometer readings of 111 degrees, which helped raise the state's average to 105.8.

Some relief is forecast for today.

Farmers of Saskatchewan To Profit Alike By Pool Scheme Involves Return to All Growers of Same Price Regardless of Quantity Shipped by Individual Grower—Sales Organization Will Operate in Winnipeg.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Regina, Sask., Aug. 2.—In its broad outlines, the scheme fostered by the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, for a wheat pool this year, involving the return to all farmers participating of an equal amount per bushel for their grain, according to grade, an immediate payment of a large percentage of the value of the wheat consigned to the pool as can now be obtained upon graded storage certificates, and without financial assistance from the government. There are yet a number of important details to be settled, but the main points of the proposal have been fixed upon, according to A. J. McPhail, secretary of the association.

"In Winnipeg a sales organization will operate. Its activities will likely be confined to advertising the floor of the grain exchange. For this year, at least, export machinery is not likely to be set up," Mr. McPhail said. "The final returns to the farmers participating," continued Mr. McPhail, "will be on the basis of the average price obtained through the season for the grades of wheat with which each is credited. Everyone will be dealt with alike. Whether he has shipped carloads or only wagon loads, he will receive per bushel the average price obtained by the pool."

MANY SEEK POST OF CONTROLLER OF FINANCES

Hon. Howard Ferguson Declares Complete Reorganization Is Intended.

WANT BEST MAN
Ontario Premier Says Appointment Will Be Clear of Politics.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 2.—Thorough reorganization of the treasury department at the hands of the "financial controller" of the province when that office is appointed, will be the first step following the creation of that office by the government. Hon. Howard Ferguson stated this morning.

While several applications for the position have been received by Premier Ferguson, no decision has been made as to who will receive the appointment. Discussing the situation this morning, Mr. Ferguson made it clear that the appointment would be void of politics and the best man fitted for the position will be chosen.

The gradual increase in revenue through various departments of the crown, some of which are practically new, such as the motion picture department, the provincial savings banks, make a general reorganization necessary to bring the department into a closer unit," stated the premier. "This will be carried out on the advice of its controller. For this reason it will be seen that the man securing the position will have to be more than a common man. It will be a post of administration."

INGERSOLL MAN GETS ALBINO GROUND HOG
Heamon Karns Catches Freak Animal in Special Trap.

A pure white groundhog was trapped yesterday near Ingersoll. The animal had been seen on several occasions by W. G. Henderson, as it foraged over his farm. With the idea of capturing the animal unharmed, Heamon Karns set several carefully-prepared traps, and Mr. Groundhog is now in captivity.

Those who have seen the animal describe it as a pure white, with no trace of the usual cinnamon-brown of the groundhog appearing. In fact, the animal shows no color pigmentation either in the hair or the hide. This classifies it as a true Albino, and as far as can be ascertained it is the first albino groundhog caught in this part of the province.

WANT DEPTFORD CATTLE MARKET SOON REOPENED
Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 2.—In view of the trade in Canadian cattle that might be carried on at the Deptford cattle market, strong representations are being made to the London corporation to permit of the reopening of the Deptford market. It is asserted that the war office is paying £10,000 a year to the city as rent, but is employing only about twenty men in the market, whereas if the market was put to its real use it would mean an expenditure of £500,000 a week in wages to the workers of South London.

APPEALS TO LABOR TO AID IN BRINGING ABOUT WHEAT POOL

Farmers' Union of Canada Sends Letter to London Organization.

PROSPECTS ARE BAD
Writer Points Out Losses Sustained by the Grain Growers.

A letter from the Farmers' Union of Canada, dated at last night's Trades' Council meeting, asking for the support of organized labor in helping to create a voluntary wheat pool for the coming harvest, was one of the most startling communications descriptive of western conditions that has reached this city.

The letter not only asked for the support of the workers from a fraternal standpoint, but put forward an argument which, if carried to its ultimate conclusion, states plainly that Canadian labor will receive a terrible blow if the prairie farmer is ruined by the immense harvest which is expected in the west.

In substantiation of the statement that the west is on the verge of ruin, the letter cited cases after case in detail, showing that last year's moderate crop had overwhelmed the western farmers, and that they were hard up after paying commissions and elevator charges on their wheat. It stated that they were before the harvest. This year's crop, which is almost half as big as last year's, is predicted, prove to be the last straw.

Faces a Deficit.
Last year after the harvest, the letter states, the farmer was given 74 cents a bushel for his wheat. After commission, freight and elevator charges were deducted, it left the farmer with 19 cents a bushel for his crop, to be paid against 90 cents the next year. A deficit of 71 cents a bushel still stands against the majority of the farmers in the west from last year's crop. This year, with a guaranteed price of 60 cents per bushel, the west expects to shut up shop in earnest, unless the wheat pool can be put into operation by the farmers at once.

To show the actual condition prevailing in the west at present, the letter stated that in Saskatchewan alone over two hundred thousand acres had gone under the hammer for arrears in taxes in the last year. Thousands of farmers are leaving the farm to whom the wheat pool can carry, rather than continue the uneven battle against the railways, and stock market, who juggle their crops. One instance of this is the destitution of the colony of Hollanders, who have been considered as established farmers, had found it necessary to leave the country, and abandon their holdings in Southern Alberta, and commence a trek to Oregon, where they proposed to enter the fruit-growing business.

After the letter was read the Trades and Labor Council referred it to the Labor Party, thinking no doubt that that body would be better able to handle the communication. At the same time the matter received considerable discussion, when the matter was reintroduced during a deputation on immigration. One delegate pointed out that talk of immigration was abortive and childish, while Canada allows such unfair treatment of its western farmers that they are actually driven destitute from the country.

WILL CHANGE METHODS AT TORONTO UNIVERSITY

WILL INTRODUCE NEW LEGISLATION FOR UNIVERSITY

Premier Ferguson States Committee's Findings To Be Followed.

FEWER IN SENATE

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 2.—The long and protracted sessions of the special committee of the Legislature appointed last year to delve into the administration of the University of Toronto, following criticisms of the board of governors and senate by the alumni, are to bear fruit. Hon. Howard Ferguson stated this morning that legislation, based on the report of the university committee, of which he was a member, would be introduced in the house next winter when the house convenes.

"Legislation embodying certain features of the committee's report will be introduced early in the session," stated the premier. "I cannot say, at the present, just how far that legislation will go."

"Will the legislation deal with the construction of the board of governors?" the premier was asked. "Undoubtedly," he replied. The premier also intimated that there likely would be a reduction in the number of the members of the senate. One of the suggestions placed before the university committee was that the alumni should have the privilege of electing a certain number of members to the board of governors from their ranks. While no official assurance was given this morning by the premier, it is understood that the proposed legislation will provide for this feature.

ALD. WATT HAS WARM PRAISE FOR MAYOR

Also Scores Aldermen and Others Who Seek To Oppose Wenige.

"George Wenige is the best mayor who ever sat in the mayor's chair." This is the public pronouncement this afternoon from Ald. Peter J. Watt, who decries such attempts in the city council and elsewhere to oppose the mayor. And Ald. Watt is prepared to battle along these lines at any time and place with any or all who may differ with his opinion. "He is not getting the proper support," Ald. Watt declares. "Mayor Wenige is a good mayor, probably the best whom we have ever had. He is working day and night for the citizens and not receiving due credit for his efforts."

"I note that from time to time his opponents are warming up different pitches to take his place, but they need not bother."

CALLS SPECIAL COUNCIL.

The street railway issue is due for a showdown. Mayor Wenige has called a special session of the city council for tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. to consider the recommendation from the transportation commission that Sir Adam Beck negotiate with the company for a price.

CLAIMS 1,185,000 NOW UNEMPLOYED IN GREAT BRITAIN

Minister of Labor Asserts Government Aid Plan Only Old Method Renewed.

REQUEST LARGE LOAN

By HENRY SOMERVILLE. Special Cable to The London Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent. Copyright. London, Aug. 2.—The minister of labor stated the government's proposals for dealing with the unemployment yesterday, instead of being a bold, comprehensive plan, as fore-shadowed by the cabinet sub-committee, was nothing more than a renewal, with some small extensions, of measures already in operation. There are now 1,185,000 registered unemployed, and the minister's own estimate is that his proposals will find work for only three hundred thousand, but he gave hints that the government would develop its program during the autumn as extent of the need manifested itself. The dominion attitude on the proposal to give the British Government financial assistance to the empire development schemes has not yet been defined, and this appears as one of the many questions which are awaiting the imperial conference for settlement.

An interesting feature of the debate was Labor speakers like Lansbury and Sidney Webb joining hands with the big manufacturing interests in asking a government loan to aid big domestic development schemes, like electrification of railways. Lansbury wanted a loan of a hundred million pounds. The minister of labor says he was much interested in the proposal and would like to examine it. Dr. McNamara, minister of Labor in the Coalition Government, wanted more money to make the migration movement go faster. Empire settlement was the key to the solution of the unemployment problem.

RUMOR WINNIPEG MEMBER TO BE SOLICITOR-GENERAL

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Aug. 1.—Suggesting that E. J. McMurray, M.P. for North Winnipeg, will shortly be appointed solicitor-general for Canada, local papers forecast a by-election in Winnipeg with a three-cornered fight as a prospect. Dr. M. R. Blake, former M.P. for North Winnipeg, is declared, will be the Conservative candidate, and John Queen, leader of the Labor group in the provincial house, will represent Labor.

Next Fortnight Will Decide Quality of Western Crops

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Aug. 1.—The quality and quantity of the western crop depend to a large extent upon the next two weeks, according to the fourth fortnightly report of the Union Bank of Canada, which is based upon 171 returns. This points out that the promise is still heavy. Actual damage from rust, saw flies and heat has been more or less localized, although enough points have been affected, it would appear, to indicate a lessened total yield. The harvest is expected to become general from August 15. In Alberta all grains are well advanced and will undoubtedly give a heavy yield. Lethbridge district has probably

DAIL OPPOSES RELEASE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS

Irish Free State Government Passes Public Safety Bill.

Associated Press Despatch. Dublin, Aug. 1.—The Dail Eireann this evening passed the public safety bill under which the government may continue to hold prisoners who are charged with having been actively opposed to the Free State government.

The measure was presented to the Dail for urgent action, owing to the fact that the court of appeal in a decision today in habeas corpus proceedings declared that a state of war did not exist and granted a writ returnable tomorrow. If the bill, as passed tonight, received the assent of the government, it is believed, it will prevent the release under habeas corpus proceedings of large numbers of men and women now in prison.

SWANSEA VETS PROTEST MEMORIAL TO HEROES

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 2.—Memorial tablets put up in Swansea, Wales, in honor of the Swansea men who gave their lives in the war, may be thrown into the sea by indignant ex-service men of that town because the tablets bear the names of living aldermen, councillors and officials of Swansea. The ex-service men threaten to cast the tablets into the sea if the names of these civic representatives are not removed from them.

SAYS RIGHTEOUSNESS IS ONLY WAR REMEDY

World Peace Is Subject of Closing Address At Poplar Hill.

Special to The Advertiser. Ideopolis, Aug. 1.—The last of the season's union services was held in Memorial Park, Poplar Hill, on Sunday evening, and was well attended. Rev. N. A. Campbell had charge. The services were under the Poplar Hill Baptist and the Melrose Methodist Churches. Two laymen took part. Carling Gray, Melrose, read the lesson, and Charles Zavitz of the Poplar Hill church led in prayer.

Rev. M. Creacy of St. John's preached, his subject being "World Peace." He said that any person who wished to start another war should be put in a madhouse. The peace sentiment was all the time growing. The tremendous cost of war had made many countries bankrupt. War was folly because of its horrors, and some of the wounds were not yet healed. Righteousness was the only cure remedy.

Rev. N. A. Campbell spoke briefly on "War, Its Cause." The large orchestra gave several selections and the following sang solos: Mrs. Mac Campbell, Mrs. Blair Grey, and Dr. Jones of St. John's.

AUTOMATIC CONTROL MAY PREVENT WRECKS

Pennsylvania Railroad Tests System Designed To Stop Train Collisions.

Associated Press Despatch. Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—Tests of an automatic train control system, under practical operating conditions on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Lewistown Junction and Sunbury, Pa., justify hopes that the system may provide a successful solution of the problem of preventing train collisions automatically, regardless of human failures, the company announced tonight.

The control system is a combination of electrical, pneumatic and mechanical devices applied both to the track and to the locomotives. These devices automatically slow down, or, when required, bring to a complete stop any train which approaches too closely to another on the same track whether going in the same or opposite directions, or when switches are improperly left open. Protective track sections of any length, suited to local operating conditions, may be established.

STEEL WORKERS BRING STRIKE TO CLOSE

STEEL WORKERS RETURN TO WORK

Strike Comes To End Following Mass Meeting of Employees.

CENSURE PEOPLE

Associated Press Despatch. Sydney, N.S., Aug. 1.—The Sydney steel strike is over. A mass meeting of steel workers at union headquarters tonight about 65 per cent of those present voted to end the strike and return to work. The union executive will notify the British Empire Steel Corporation accordingly.

In their resolution, which formally ends the strike, the steel workers complain that every man's hand is against them, and they censure people, courts, police, newspapers and the federal and provincial governments.

The Steel Company stated that 2,500 men were working at the plant out of approximately 3,000 who were there when the strike began.

The strike began on the morning of June 27, for a 20 per cent wage increase and the "check-off" system of collecting union dues, which would involve recognition of the union.

Disturbances Followed. Disturbances followed in the course of which a number of police were stoned and a magistrate hit and practically stunned by the missile. As a result of the disturbances, provincial police, and about 100 men from all sections of Canada, occupied the strike district.

At midnight, July 3, the 8,000 miners of Cape Breton came out in sympathy to force withdrawal of the troops and police. On July 6, the miners' leaders, J. B. McLachlan and Dan Livingstone, were arrested on charges of sedition and on July 18 they were deported by John L. Lewis from their respective offices as secretary and president of District 26 of the U. M. W. of America.

Meanwhile, increasing numbers of steel workers returned to work, according to announcements given out by the company.

Adopt Resolutions. The resolution adopted at tonight's meeting reads in part:

"Since the strike commenced the workers have been fought by all the power of the federal and provincial governments, the corporations and the press, machine guns, bayonets, and the provincial police have been used against us to cow us, unrestricted prosecutions have been commenced against our members, and the courts against our members, and bail refused them to break their spirits, false and malicious stories have been broadcasted in the press, propaganda against us and outrages have been committed and falsely laid at our door; the press has also suppressed news of the peaceful and true statements made of us."

"Our funds having been exhausted some of our low-paid members have been driven to return to work by the threat of starvation of their families. "Everyone's hand is against us in our effort to obtain enough food to sustain our wives and families and enough clothing to allow our children to go to school."

"We resolved, therefore, that we return to work, though none of our grievances are disposed of, but on the contrary are carried on to the future, and many of our best workmen will, probably, as a result of the strike, again obtain work in the industries of Cape Breton, and so must leave the country."

"We further resolved, that the officials of our union forthwith notify the corporation that this strike is now ended."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ENTERTAIN ORPHANS

Fruit and Candies Distributed At Three Homes In City.

Furthering their work of instilling a little sunshine into the gloomy side of life apparent in every city of size the members of the London Council, Knights of Columbus, visited the children's homes in the city, entertained them and distributed fruit and candies.

The members made personal calls to the Protestant Orphans' Home and Mount St. Joseph's, where the prizes of the sort that children reach out their hands for were given, followed by a treat. A special hamper of dainties was sent to the Children's Shelter.

Charles Finney, E. C. Killingsworth, James Murray, James Aylward and Grant Gleason composed the Mount St. Joseph's party. The children, Delaney, John Walsh and William Murray saw that the children at the Protestant Orphans' Home had a good time.

Associated Press Despatch. Newark, N.J., Aug. 1.—The first day of the strike of 6,000 trolley men in the lines of the Public Service Railway Company serving 147 communities in North Jersey ended tonight with the transportation of more than 1,500,000 daily travelers handled with comparatively little confusion.

Although not a trolley wheel turned in the seven counties affected, traffic supervisors indicated that buses, automobiles, the railroads and makeshift conveyances had succeeded in absorbing the excess traffic without serious difficulty.

More Difficulties Beset Path of Chatham Citizen Fined For Breach of O.T.A.

George Pritchard Charged With Using Grossly Profane Language To Photographer.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter. Chatham, Aug. 1.—Troubles of George (Bud) Pritchard don't seem to come singly.

This morning the young married Chatham man was fined $200 and costs for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling in contravention of the O.T.A. after he had pleaded guilty. The case was said to be connected with alleged beach "parties" into which the names of a number of young Chatham girls had been dragged. He was told by the magistrate that he deserved a jail term, and would get one on his next appearance. This afternoon, Fred Davis, Toronto press photographer, charged Pritchard used grossly profane language toward him.

Approached Home. The latter misdemeanor is alleged to have occurred when Davis, in company with J. C. Rowan, London Advertiser staff representative, and A. Vincent, London Advertiser photographer, approached the home of R. L. Brackin, counsel for the young men in the case which has caused the breath of scandal to invade some of the best Chatham homes.

Pritchard is alleged to have rushed from Mr. Brackin's home and used profane language toward Davis. Mr. Brackin does not think his client is guilty. Davis' companions, however, said that the language was far from decent.

The charge was laid by Davis before Chief of Police Groves.

Case Adjourned. The case was called for 5 o'clock, but Mr. Brackin obtained an adjournment until Friday.

Although Mr. Brackin has stated that he does not believe High Constable Peters will lay further charges against the young men, he has this morning, the head of the constabulary, declared that he would press any further charges to the limit and that settlement would not be possible.

Crown Attorney H. D. Schell, after his determination to prosecute to the full extent of the law, if additional charges were laid.

Mr. Brackin is trying to pick the constable's brains for laying further charges, but added that he would fight to a finish any accusations made.

THOUSANDS WAIT ON OCEAN LINERS

Nearly 2,000 Immigrants Added To United States Population Yesterday.

QUOTAS EXHAUSTED

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Aug. 1.—Nearly 2,000 immigrants were added to the population of the United States today at the port of New York, between 12,000 and 13,000 other aliens watched the towering skyline of Lower Manhattan from liners in the bay as they waited to pass through Ellis Island.

They came from twenty-two countries in Europe, Asia and Africa and spoke of eighteen different languages. The confusion of sounds was no greater than the confusion of statistics at Ellis Island as the hopes of aliens were being examined.

Immigration Commissioner Curran with what he stated was a distressing sight, the sight of the thousands of immigrants who were being processed, he urged them to pass the immigrants through the station with the least possible delay or inconvenience.

The immigration bureau was said to be handing at the island in one day, he said, was 2,000. At this rate many of those who have already arrived will be forced to remain aboard their ships for a week. Other thousands were reported racing for port.

Four liners reported by wireless that they would arrive either tonight or Thursday, and at least three others with approximately 1,500 passengers each will appear Friday.

The commissioner estimated that between eight and a dozen August quotas of small countries were exhausted tonight.

At Ellis Island and in the harbor there were many scenes combining the tragic and comic. Fifty Syrian and Armenian "picture brides" arrived on the Madonna from Mediterranean ports, and a dozen August quotas of small countries were exhausted tonight.

On the America was the family of Morris Golubchick, an American citizen of Russian origin, who have been trying for the past seventeen months to get into the United States, but have arrived each time after the quota was filled. When the mother and two children finally were passed through the island and landed at the Battery the father was almost overcome with joy and relief.

FORMER MAYOR WILL BE CALLED

Finance Committee Seeks To Clear Up Authorization of Bunnell Report.

APPEARS MYSTERY

Members of the finance committee of the city council decided to invite ex-Mayor Cameron Wilson to attend its next meeting, in an endeavor to throw some light on the question of who authorized the Bunnell report on the London Street Railway, for which the city has been billed for $1,000.

Apparently none of last year's council can tell who authorized the spending of $1,000 for a report. It was understood, they say, that the committee selected to get a report was composed of Messrs. Wilson, Haydon, and others.

It was recommended that the procedure bylaw be changed to make it compulsory to give 12 hours notice of the meeting of the council, unless a two-thirds vote of the council decided otherwise in cases of emergency.

The contract for the printing of the voters' list was awarded to The Hayden Press, the price being $1,250.

On the suggestion of Ald. Greer, the mayor was instructed to ask if the price for the Hayden Press will bring in a report on salaries.

Protest Rent. J. F. Thompson and J. Gramlick protested the raising of the rent on basement tenants at the market house. They were promised further consideration as the increase was higher than that imposed on the tenants on the main floor.

It was recommended that the by-law respecting the operation of poolrooms be changed so that the boy under age who goes into a poolroom can be prosecuted as well as the proprietor. The by-law was proposed to change it so that the proprietor would have to know the boy to be under age to be liable. The present law was unfair, it was stated.

GOVERNMENT MAY DEPORT SLAYERS

Immigration Department Will Probe Story of Murderers On Trip To Canada.

GOVERNOR'S "AIDES"

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Informed tonight that a despatch from Toronto stated that Governor Donahay of Ohio, with two convicted murderers in his party, had been in the Cobocook Lake district of Victoria county for some time, officials of the federal immigration department expressed surprise and claimed that if the information was correct immigration regulations had been violated by entrance of the party.

It was pointed out that once criminals crossed the border they were no longer amenable to the discipline of the penal institution in which they were serving time, nor were they under the laws of the United States. Under these circumstances they could fight extradition if they felt like it.

"This case will be thoroughly investigated tomorrow and any action that will be taken will follow the investigation," stated Dominion Immigration Commissioner W. R. Little. He said that the case had not been officially brought to the attention of his department.

Instructions were issued this morning by federal immigration authorities to watch border points for the trustees said to be accompanying the Ohio governor. It was understood at that time that the party had not entered Canada, and for that reason the information that they were already at Cobocook occasioned surprise.

Pending official reports upon the matter, federal officers declined to say what steps would be taken, but they said the incident would be thoroughly investigated.

EXPECT NO TROUBLE. Associated Press Despatch. Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 1.—Without word from Governor Donahay and Warden P. E. Thomas of the Ohio Penitentiary, who, with the governor's sons and the warden's son, accompanied on a fishing trip into Canada Monday, attaches of the executive's office this afternoon were trying to figure the outcome of international complications which have arisen by the presence in the governor's party of two prisoners from the state prison taken along as cook and chauffeur.

Advices from official Canadian sources today were to the effect that the Dominion government prohibits the entrance of criminals into its domain, and that steps may be taken by Canadian immigration officials to deport them.

It was presumed at the executive's office here tonight that Governor Donahay was not yet aware of the "complications."

Price Russell, former executive clerk to Governor Donahay and recently appointed chairman of the state board of clemency, expressed the opinion that there are no "complications" as these two prisoners were not only in the custody of the warden, but also of the governor himself, and that the two Ohio officials would have in a foreign country the same rights of an ambassador.

It was suggested by others at the executive office that the governor could have tested the waters by restoring full and unconditional pardon and restore them to citizenship. In this connection it was pointed out that the governor does not surrender any of his duties and powers as chief executive of the state by going outside the state, or even entering a foreign country. The general belief was expressed that the two Ohio officials would not be molested by Canadian authorities.

WILL NOT PLACE TAX ON IMPORTED BARLEY

Britain Cannot Adopt Measure Without Changing Commercial Treaties.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Eng., Aug. 1.—Sir Robert Sanders, minister of agriculture, replying to a question in the House of Commons today, said the government had been advised that it was impossible to impose an excise duty on imported malted barley without a modification of the provisions of certain commercial treaties with foreign countries. The government, therefore, was considering the alternative method of imposing a customs duty.

He regretted that it would be impossible to introduce legislation in connection with the matter before the harvest.

The interests concerned, the minister said, were being consulted, and pending the result of discussions on the question he would be unable to announce the date when the government's proposals would be submitted to parliament.

EMBRO MISSION BAND HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Special to The Advertiser. Embro, Aug. 1.—The Mission Band held its regular meeting Sunday, when Helen Lane told a Bible story. The president, Gertrude Holmes, continued her story on "Chinese Girls," and Mrs. Lane also continued her story on "Chums." After the collection the meeting closed by all saluting the flag.

"Perhaps by the time you come out you will have learned not to do that sort of thing," commented the magistrate for leading the girl astray with the understanding that he would marry her and later leaving her with the money he had won in a game at Niagara Falls, Ont. Wicks gave no excuse for his conduct.

Both pleaded guilty to the charge of the theft of $3,000, and both elected to be tried summarily. Considerable time was occupied in the straightening up of the money, which was left behind by Wicks when he was taken to Kingston.

Mr. Schriber inquired of Crown Attorney Dyre where all the money had gone.

Wicks got a full $3,000. One thousand and seventy dollars was spent for food and a considerable amount for extras. He had $900 in travelers' checks, which he indorsed with the name of W. J. Williamson. There was $180 in cash and $9 in a gold ring.

Wicks said that he paid two visits to Buffalo, and once while he was there he lost $400 gambling. Although he was twice safely returned to the United States, he did not take the opportunity to stay away from Canada. When the affair is settled, Schriber will probably be the loser of about $1,000. He was very strongly advised to secure some other means of keeping his thousands than in a case buried under a bush.

The magistrate figured out that the interest on money for five or six years would have amounted to about $900.

Canadian Press Despatch. Milton, Ont., Aug. 1.—F. E. Merton, aged 42, and H. C. Mendosa, aged 32, brokers of Toronto, who at the county court here on July 6 were convicted of impersonating and of conspiracy to defraud Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Chase of Burlington by obtaining a $1,000 Nuko fuel bond and a $1,000 Victory bond in exchange for 30 shares of K. & S. stocks, were today sentenced to six weeks each in jail.

KWANIS CLUBS FROLIC AT PORT

London Organization Defeats St. Thomas Softball Team In Epic Struggle.

STAGE MANY EVENTS

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter. Port Stanley, Aug. 1.—Just while St. Thomas was congratulating itself on the fact that it had effectually arrived on the baseball map, the London Kiwanis Club lured the St. Thomas Kiwanians to Port Stanley yesterday and whipped them at softball to the tune of 10-4. In addition to this the Londoners carried off the victory in the famous Kiwanis tug-of-war. The sole glory left to the St. Thomasites was that of coming out top in the leap-frog race.

Repeating the procedure which proved so successful last year the St. Thomas and London Kiwanis Clubs combined for their annual picnic. The day commenced with the baseball game on the heights at 2:30, after which the sports were carried out and supper served at 5:30 in the L. & P. S. tea house.

All the prizes were presented at this time by Bevan Hay, president of the London club. A special award of half a ton of coal was made to Ki-loan, a member of the London club, who was the club member present with the oldest child. Mr. Atherton was with his daughter, Mrs. Goode.

Carlyle Hannah and Sam Amers, both of London, won the prizes in the unique baby contest. The "baby" in Mr. Amers' case was stuffed with lumbering information, and to cover this up he won a huge bouquet of gladioli given by Dr. Bennett of St. Thomas. The St. Thomas Horticultural Society also awarded the flowers which decorated the table.

In the ball game the following formed the London team: Thompson, Nash, McCallum, Tennant, Murray, Hunt, Pollock and Gairns. The following was the St. Thomas lineup: McMurtry, Stevenson, Thompson, McIntyre, Montgomery, Thompson, Small and Holcombe.

GETS THREE YEARS FOR $3,000 THEFT

William Wicks Pleads Guilty To Robbing Farmer of Hoard.

Special to The Advertiser. Owen Sound, Aug. 1.—William Wicks, who this morning pleaded guilty to the theft of $3,000 from 52nd Schriber, a Normanby Township farmer, and who led Schriber's foster-daughter Ellen to steal the money, on the promise of marrying her, later deserting her, was sentenced by Police Magistrate Cressor to three years in Kingston Penitentiary.

The girl, who is 19 years of age, was allowed out on suspended sentence for one year, and she will return to live with her foster-father.

Wicks, who travels under several aliases, was severely lectured by the magistrate for leading the girl astray with the understanding that he would marry her and later leaving her with the money he had won in a game at Niagara Falls, Ont. Wicks gave no excuse for his conduct.

Both pleaded guilty to the charge of the theft of $3,000, and both elected to be tried summarily. Considerable time was occupied in the straightening up of the money, which was left behind by Wicks when he was taken to Kingston.

SAYS BRITAIN ENVIES U.S. MARINE SUCCESS

Former American Consul At Newcastle Replies To Foreign Office Charge.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Aug. 1.—Fred C. Slater of Chicago, Kansas, who was United States consul at Newcastle, England, when the consulate was closed a year ago by the government, after the British authorities had accused him of espionage and that of Vice-Consul Brooks, arrived here today aboard the President Adams on leave of absence from his present post at Cornwall, Spain.

Replying to the British foreign office charge that he had attempted to force British subjects to travel on United States ships, and had refused to give them passports unless they promised to do so, Mr. Slater said the whole affair was the result of "British jealousy of United States merchant marine success."

GEORGE MCCOY.

popular Londoner who was instantly killed yesterday afternoon when he was caught in an elevator at the D. S. Perrin Company's plant.

FALLS TO DEATH UNDER ELEVATOR

George McCoy Instantly Killed While Working At Perrins.

TO BE INVESTIGATION

George McCoy, 65, of 92 Wilson avenue, was instantly killed about 1:45 yesterday afternoon at Perrin's biscuit factory, when he became caught between the floor of a moving elevator and a safety gate, and was hurled 25 feet to the bottom of the shaft.

Besides his wife he is survived by one son, Wesley, and two daughters, Reta and Madeline, all at home. A preliminary investigation into the cause of his death will be conducted at noon today by Coroner Cameron Wilson.

Mr. McCoy had brought a loaded four-wheeled truck from the ground to the first floor, and was attempting to get back on the elevator when the accident happened.

Saw Accident. Louis Ward, another employee, who was in charge of the truck, and who accompanied the truck on the elevator, saw the fatal plunge to the bottom, and later had to be removed to his home in a nervous condition.

The accident was a peculiar one, and could not be classed with the ordinary elevator mishap. The direction of the elevator is worked by pulling a cable. By pulling another cable a belt at the top of the shaft is pushed off a pulley and the elevator automatically stopped.

It is thought that McCoy, when he pulled the stop cable, did not pull it far enough with the result that a part of the belt remained on the pulley at the top of the shaft, and there was still power enough to move the elevator slowly.

When McCoy pulled the stop cable, the load on the elevator more than counter-balanced the driving power at that time.

STARTED TO GO UP

Company officials are of the opinion that when the front section of the truck was pulled off the elevator the machine started to go up on account of the lessened load. It was then that McCoy attempted to board the moving elevator. The safety gate, which automatically lowers when the elevator goes above the floor level, was bent to one side after the accident, indicating that McCoy was pulled up with the elevator and caught his head between the lower bar of the gate and the elevator floor. When picked up at the bottom of the shaft it was found that one side of his head was crushed and both legs were broken. Coroner Wilson and Dr. George Ramsay were called after the accident, but could do nothing.

SAYS BRITAIN ENVIES U.S. MARINE SUCCESS

Former American Consul At Newcastle Replies To Foreign Office Charge.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Aug. 1.—Fred C. Slater of Chicago, Kansas, who was United States consul at Newcastle, England, when the consulate was closed a year ago by the government, after the British authorities had accused him of espionage and that of Vice-Consul Brooks, arrived here today aboard the President Adams on leave of absence from his present post at Cornwall, Spain.

Replying to the British foreign office charge that he had attempted to force British subjects to travel on United States ships, and had refused to give them passports unless they promised to do so, Mr. Slater said the whole affair was the result of "British jealousy of United States merchant marine success."

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Special to The Advertiser. Windsor, Aug. 1.—Further raids on places which are suspected of retaining 9 per cent beer at 50 cents per bottle were made by the provincial police today. Inspector Putnam, head of Ontario police, declined to disclose where it was seized. The policy of the provincial police, the inspector said, is not to give out information at the time raids are made. Any information about the amount of liquor seized and persons arrested will be withheld until accused appear in police court, he said.

Fourteen kegs and 75 cartons of beer were taken in a raid Tuesday night by Inspector Putnam and his staff at a house in an alley west of Langlois avenue, Louis James, tenant of the house, pleaded guilty to being in illegal possession of liquor, and Acting Magistrate Ellis imposed a fine of $200 and costs today.

Arthur Nicolet, 941 Lillian street, and Joseph Barrett, 10 Brishin avenue, both pleaded guilty to having beer in their possession. A minimum fine of $200 and costs was imposed in each case.

Foiled with a bottle of liquor in his possession which, he told the court, he purchased from a street corner bootlegger, James Barth, Detroit, was fined $50 and costs for illegal purchase.

When the police answered a call to 14 Maranette avenue at 3:40 this morning after a report had been received that a man was attempting to break into the house of Albert Murphy, 34 years old of Detroit, was arrested. He admitted being drunk, and was fined $50.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1923.

The Purchase of the Street Railway.

The question of the city of London purchasing the property of the street railway company is once more before the citizens. The matter was voted on at the last civic elections, but the ratepayers turned down the proposal by a majority of 426 in what was not a large vote on so important a matter.

The Advertiser believed that it would have been good business for the city to secure the street railway, to own it and operate it, and make it serve the growing needs of a growing city. That was the attitude of this paper in the elections of 1922, and there has been nothing transpire since which has caused any change in this attitude.

The whole business of transportation in London is changing; the matter of track elevation at the National Railways has been definitely considered, and will be carried out, and in these changes it is highly desirable that the city should own and control its transportation, and be in complete charge of its roads when all the negotiations are being carried on. It would be much better for the city, in this way, to have its hand on the entire situation, for it will be one that will affect the city for years to come. The presence of a third party in the person of the street railway company, when it comes to dealing with these matters, and the future facilities for transportation on the streets, is not desirable. It would mean much to London to be absolutely in control of the situation, and the only way to assume that position is by securing ownership of the street railway.

The next step is determining the best way in which to go about this. There is no reason whatever for any person getting excited about the deal. It should be made on the same principle as any other transaction. The bylaw under which the street railway operates on the streets of London provides that in the year 1925 the city can take the road over, providing one year's notice is given prior to the eighth day of March, which means that by the eighth of March in 1924 notice will have to be served on the company that the city intends to act.

The method of taking possession is also provided for in the same bylaw, where it is mentioned that the city and company shall decide the matter by arbitration, and it is further provided that "each party shall pay half the costs of arbitration." This provision should make it desirable for each party to have arbitration proceedings as short and concise as possible. If it can be so arranged that a definite price can be named which is considered satisfactory to those acting for the city, then the question of arbitration could be minimized.

It is also provided that in considering the price to be paid "only actual and tangible property" is to enter into the contract. That is, the value of the plant and equipment, paving, etc., as such are found to be in 1925. Street cars will be put in at their value, wiring and rails on the same basis, and no count is to be taken of good-will or possible future earning powers of the road. When it is considered that there will have to be a setting down and agreeing upon of these values it looks as though arbitration would be necessary if the city is going to know exactly what it is buying and what it is paying for the property purchased.

The transportation commission of the city council has recommended that Sir Adam Beck be asked to act for the city in approaching the London Street Railway in regard to price or conditions of sale. This recommendation will, of course, have to be passed on to the council and from there to Sir Adam before anything can be done. Sir Adam has had a wide experience in such matters, and should be in a position to know more about the value of street railway properties than others. If he has the time at his disposal to undertake the work it should be good business to secure his services in this instance.

The council still has the Bunnell report to go by. It gives a fairly exhaustive resume of the whole situation from the standpoint of an engineer, and the estimates made last year would no doubt hold good now. This report has never been paid for, although the bill has been presented several times. No good purpose can be served by passing this account around from one committee to another. The transportation committee of last year's council considered it necessary to have such a report in order that they could bring something definite before the ratepayers. They secured a competent engineer to do the work, and he submitted his findings in good shape. Sooner or later the people of the city will have to pay the bill—it should have been paid months ago. The services charged for were rendered in good faith, and the council should meet the payment in the same way.

It is well that members of the city council should bring the matter of purchasing the street railway up now rather than leave it until late in the year. The matter will never be settled in a satisfactory way until the city itself is in control of the situation. London is large enough to have a street railway that would not be a burden on the ratepayers; on the other hand, it should be an asset to them and a means of giving service to all sections of the city.

Playing Safe Because They Have To.

Special speed officers were placed on the road leading from Ridgeway to Port Colborne.

This stretch had been notorious for the speed made by cars that recognized no limit except the capacity of their cars to eat gas.

Placing the officers on the road has been a failure as far as securing convictions is concerned. They have not caught any speeders because drivers, through fear of being caught, are observing the law.

Another result is that there have been no accidents on the road since it has been policed.

Driving within the limits set by law, even if the motive is fear of a fine, is a regular mustard plaster and tonic combined for the smash-up disease.

Confidence a Great Asset.

The attempts to operate L. R. Steel stores in Canada, following the crash of the mainpring in the industry, has not been successful, and a loss of $40,000 has been shown for the months of April, May and June. No fault can be found with the attempt to operate the stores, for it was thought that by so doing it would be possible to pull some of the remnants together and make a better showing for the creditors.

The result of the test has been to show that confidence in the L. R. Steel undertakings had been so shaken that it is not possible to do business successfully in any line that has been mixed up with a crash that injured a lot of honest citizens.

After all, the confidence and good-will of the people toward any project is a great asset, so great that it is a positive essential in any business that is going to succeed.

Take away confidence and trust from any business, and it will not be long before the creditors sit around the table and figure how many cents on the dollar they can recover.

There's No Place Like Home.

London is putting on its bunting and hanging out its flags in preparation for Old Home Week. There is a strong appeal about the old home week idea that needs very little encouragement—if it needs anything it is simply wise and careful direction.

It is the most natural thing in the world for people to want to go home. They may have lived in half a dozen places since, but when the words "home" or "home town" are used there's just one place that rises up and claims the distinction.

"Home" is the place where people went to school, where they formed their early friendships, where they played hockey, where they longed for the day when they'd have a chance to get out and go to work, where they were sure they were being abused, but know now they were royally entertained.

"Home" cannot be in two or three places, nor is it necessarily where you are living now. Your own deep-seated affections will settle that matter in a moment—there is only one "home."

So the old boys and the old girls who have that regard for London are coming home next week. It should be a great, happy, wholesome week. London is putting on its best bib and tucker. The business section is being well attended to, and it is hoped that other streets will keep up the good work.

A Revolver Is Dangerous.

There can be nothing but feelings of regret for the Hamilton policeman who shot his wife when showing her how his revolver worked.

An inquest was held and the officer was exonerated. That is one function an inquest can serve—notify the man officially that a body of his own citizens do not consider him blameworthy.

A revolver is a dangerous thing. There is in it at all times the element of "didn't-think-it-was-loaded" or "thought-the-shells-were-all-used." It is a weapon that serves very little useful purpose in the community. When it is used, or misused, the wrong person is generally shot. The fewer revolvers there are in the community, and the fewer the number of persons who have access to them, the better for the safety of the people in general.

Note and Comment.

Reports state President Harding is on the road to recovery. May the road be free from holes and detour signs.

The Canadian dollar is still shaved off 2 1/2 per cent, so the best thing to do is keep friend dollar at home until they quit mutilating him.

The St. Catharines Standard passes this one along: "Just as exchange says, Ford and the world's Ford with you, Rolls and you Rolls alone."

And at the risk of prolonging the agony may we add: Dodge and you won't get hit.

Hon. Arthur Meighen went away down east to try his hand in the North Sydney by-election in the interests of the Conservative candidate. But a Liberal was elected by a good majority. Little Arthur should rest during the dog days.

That story, coming from Moose Jaw, of an employee of an elevator company "fixing" the scales so farmers would lose from 30 to 40 pounds on a load of grain requires searching to the limit. If the story is true, farmers in that district need shotguns as well as binders in their equipment.

It seems almost beyond reason that the story of two criminals being brought to Canada as cook and chauffeur for the governor of Ohio should be true. If it is a fact that these men, on parole for serious crimes, have been brought here, then the governor has certainly mistaken the welcome this province extends to outsiders. In the interests of international good feeling it is hoped there is some mistake in the story.

YOUR BOY AND HIS SPARE TIME.

(Thomas C. McKay in the Chatham News)

Perhaps it is continued residence in rural districts or just sheer bigotry which governs me, but whatever the controlling force may be I cannot help wondering what replies I would receive from Chatham parents to the question, "What does your boy do with his spare time?"

A few incidents which have occurred within the city precincts during the past weeks have been sufficient to alarm me on my own boy's account, so much so that I shall try to live away from cities.

Not long ago my wife and I took a Sunday evening stroll. On our way we were accosted by two boys, the elder not more than nine years of age. (As a teacher I think I can guess a boy's age pretty closely.)

"Give us a match, mister."

"What do you want a match for?"

"To light our cigarettes."

Not many days later four boys whose ages would range from ten to thirteen years passed the golf links with their cigarettes gaily suspended from too much sophisticated lips. Merely as a matter of course their language was also of the "manly" type.

To whip those boys would be a cruel injustice. In most of their cases it would be merciful to use reformatory methods on the parents. It is the lack of real home life and sympathy that causes most boys to go wrong.

Here is a short questionnaire every conscientious parent will seriously consider:

(1) Do I encourage my boy to have his friends come to his home for social evenings, distinctly their own?

(2) Do I allow my boy sufficient pocket money to preserve his pride in himself and in his family? This is a vital consideration, for the moneyless boy learns to brood on evils that give him chills everything and him nothing.

(3) Do I tease my boy or allow others to tease him on his girl friends. Nature forces the sex attraction and humanity by its folly brings about the abuse of sex. The instincts of chivalry lie within the hearts of our boys and it is the endeavor to torment a boy about his feminine friends that first make him scorn them, repress his better feelings, then burst the bounds of convention because he can no longer control those feelings. Imagine a tiny stream flowing calmly along for years and years being finally dammed. For a time we go on in blissful security, but the day of reckoning comes. You can keep your son a peaceful stream or you can make him a mad torrent respectful of no barriers.

(4) Do I make it easy for my boy to confide his secrets to me, or do I ridicule him until at last he bottles up everything, the bad with the good? The ultimate result of leaving a sack of bad potatoes with a ton of good ones brings no benefit to the owner. Guide your boy's thoughts.

CHINESE AND IMMIGRATION.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—As a friend of the Canadian people, firmly believing in promoting goodwill and mutual understanding between Canada and China, and urged by the sense of duty of citizenship, I beg to call your attention to the grave consequences and future complications that will surely result from the Chinese Immigration Act, 1923.

In my humble opinion, I would offend any one's intelligence if I were to offer him an elaborate argument, the purpose of which would be to attempt to prove the injustice and the harmful effect consequential of the said act.

It suffices, therefore, for me to point out:

1. That, historically, it is unwarrantable that the said act (if not amended) will not imperil Canadian and British trade in the Far East.

Have not the mighty Japan (Shantung restored), and the United States (Chinese Exclusion Act, 1922)

The Guide Post—By Henry van Dyke

THIRSTING FOR THE HOUSE OF GOD.

My soul thirsteth for thee * * * to see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the Sanctuary.—Psalm 83:1, 2.

Not to many of us has it happened to be entirely deprived of the outward ordinances of religion, to dwell in a region where there was no church and no community of worship and no service of Christian praise and prayer.

But perhaps there are some of the readers of this "Guide Post" who have known what it is to be kept by sickness, or infirmity of body, or the duty of caring for others who were helpless, for a long time from the house of God and the community of Christian worship.

If the church has ever been a reality and a blessing to you, this enforced absence has given you pain and distress.

You may have borne it patiently and without murmuring; but still it has been a real trial, and you have felt that deep thirstiness of spirit which David describes in his psalm.

It is a mark of true religious life.

For when a man can willingly forego even the outward services of religion and stay away from the house of God, and let the seasons of devotion and communion pass by without a regret, his faith and love must be at a low ebb, if indeed they have not altogether dried up and blown away.

A living plant seeks water: a living soul longs for the refreshment of the sanctuary.

modified in 1884 to appease the Chinese, said dearly for their iniquity toward the helpless Chinese?

2. That it is morally, socially, and legally wrong to exclude the wives and minor children of bona fide Chinese merchants. For establishing such a precedent, what will the determined men and women of the civilized world think of Canada?

3. That a Chinese immigrant "may be arrested without a warrant," tried, and deported with little or no chance for redress, by an immigration czar (commissioner) in his exclusive "Star-Chamber," is unconstitutional; it is a violation of the Magna Charta and the Bill of Rights; the complement of the Great Charter of the British liberty and justice. Indirectly, are the Canadian people not undermining their own liberty by this act?

4. That the said act strictly excludes all Chinese tourists, teachers, and professional people. Without first-hand knowledge of this country by actual contact, how can one expect these intellectual classes to form a correct judgment of things Canadian?

Recognizing the noble tradition and sterling qualities of the Canadian people for justice and fair dealing, I am persuaded to the conclusion that their sagacity and foresight will never allow the Chinese immigration act to become law without due modification and reasonable amendments.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I trust you will condescend to place this humble contribution in furtherance of China-British friendship.

We ask her, "Do you mind tonight if we go out to dance?"

And Grandma says, "No, that's all right."

She knows that's just her chance!

And mother combs each golden curl.

Well—just as mother should.

And all day long, though Grandma's arms

Are aching to enfold

That lovely bunch of baby charms.

That precious head of gold.

There's not a chance, and anyway.

She knows that times have changed.

But Grandma rocks her when we're out.

Your Health:

Here Are Hair Facts All Women Ought To Know.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

It is far more difficult for a woman to care for her hair than it is for a man. The long, twisted locks are piled together in a mass which may readily become matted and unclean. Unless there is the greatest care, there will be disease of the scalp and pronounced loss of hair.

It is unfortunate, but there is a popular idea abroad that frequent washing of the hair is harmful. It is thought by many that loss of hair, premature grayness and all sorts of hair ailments are due to excessive washing. I don't believe a word of it.

If I could raise money as easily as I can hair I would be almost as rich as Henry Ford. My hair is very heavy and very coarse, and on this account is capable of enduring more than hair of finer fibre might bear. But if washing and shampooing could harm hair I would be bald and white-headed—I am old enough to be both.

For more than thirty years I have had a thorough shampoo every two or three days.

Nobody should go more than a week without a shampoo. You don't need to go to an expensive establishment to have this done. You can do it yourself if you only will. In summer certainly you can easily shampoo your hair.

Simple soap or a cocoanut oil shampoo can be used. I don't believe in the use of cocoanut oil as a substitute food for cream, but as a toilet article it is first-class.

You cannot have good hair and a lot of it unless you keep it clean. Of course there are exceptions. Some dirty, filthy, smelly, oily, sticky, stringy manes appear to flourish in spite of the condition of the scalp.

The hair differs. Some heads of hair have an abundance of oil, perhaps an excess of oil. Others are abnormally dry.

The oily hair catches dust and dirt—this variety is especially in need of frequent washing.

The dry hair should also be washed—it will be benefitted by the application of a trifling amount of oil.

If you are troubled with dandruff or greasy hair, the following preparation will be found helpful:

Tincture cantharides—40 drops.

Spirits of rosemary—3 ounces.

Spirits of lavender—3 ounces.

Of course women are affected by the same factors which cause baldness in men. The scalp is supplied by blood carried to it by vessels which run to the crown from below. If the heart is weak the blood is not sent in powerful stream to the very top of the head. In that case there is apt to be loss of hair and perhaps baldness.

But women escape a contributing cause of baldness so common in men—tightness and heaviness of the hat, which certainly interfere with free circulation of blood to all the hair bulbs of the scalp. The millinery of women is more favorable to keeping the hair than is the head-dress of men.

Attention to the details necessary to a "crown of beauty" should result not only in retaining the hair you now have, but in increasing your possessions.

Terry Confesses She Has More Than a Mere Liking For the Prince Charming of Her Childhood

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY.

Betty Sheridan, her granddaughter, whose rudeness to Terry the latter will never forget, is the wife of Miles Sheridan, handsome and likable, who when Terry was a child furnished the money to send her to the convent, partly to atone for his wife's rudeness, to Terry he is always "the prince."

Eustace Nazlo, a wealthy Greek, unscrupulous with women, is impressed by Terry's beauty and her resemblance to Juliet Divlane, the famous stage beauty. He invites her to go for an auto ride and on the way to New York he kisses her.

While Nazlo is arranging for a private dining-room at the hotel, Terry slips away. Nazlo is furious.

Terry takes a taxi to her sister's apartment, and begs the maid to let her see Julia.

Hartley Phillips, a member of New York's four hundred, is calling on Julia and Terry has to wait. Phillips announces that he wants Julia to do a favor for Miles Sheridan.

It develops that Sheridan and his wife are unhappy, and Sheridan, in order to facilitate her getting a divorce, will pay Julia $20,000 to take a yacht-trip with him. He lets it be known that aside from appearing with her he wants her to have nothing to do with her.

Julia promises to think it over, and Phillips is to call again for her answer. She welcomes her little sister warmly.

CHAPTER XVIII. MEMORIES OF A PRINCE.

Terry had begun to be frightened during the long moments when she was kept waiting, shut up in the elaborate dining-room. At first, she had fled for refuge to this palace of her fairy princess, without a thought that she might not be welcome; for Julia had always been kind and sweet.

As time dragged on, however, she had relived the past, remembering how Mother and Julia had put her off with excuses whenever she begged to be taken to her sister's home.

Never had Julia come to Silverwood or to the Blue Moon Inn without being asked by Terry to take her to New York, and letters from her.

"I never thought any medicine could be as good as Tanic has been in my case. I suffered from stomach trouble until my appetite was so poor many days. I didn't touch a mouthful of dinner, and I could hardly get home from work at night. I couldn't rest, and mornings when I got up it seemed like my eyes were about to drop out of my head for want of sleep."

"But I sleep like a farm hand now, and get up feeling like a two-year-old. I eat three hearty meals every day. Everything agrees with me, and I'm so strong I finish a day's work feeling so good I go home in big time. Tanic is the best medicine I ever heard of."

"By this time the girl's face was burning under her sister's fixed stare, which had turned from amazement to surprise, then to keen interest."

"For the - love - Mike!" gurgled Julia. "Say! talk of Fate! But let's get this right. You mean Miles Sheridan?"

"Terry was scarlet, though she had tried to hold her breath because the girls at the convent said if you did it while you counted ten, you could stop a bluish."

"It doesn't do much harm," she said, "because I never talked about him to anyone at all. I've just thought of him. Oh, you can't understand how common the men I see at the Blue Moon seem beside the memory of him I've saved up!"

"And you'd be glad to have your hand cut off to do him good?" Julia repeated.

"I would. It's been a dream of mine, something I've been so I could help him. But of course it never will. He's married, and has been through the war, and I suppose he's always traveling about now, to splendid places in the world—with his wife. I'm not much more than a child, and he's almost old—so—"

"Thirty-three or four—if you call that old," Julia laughed.

"Maybe it isn't old for a man. But even if it is, I can't think of him as changed, or seeming old to me. I always call him to myself 'The Prince,' because he named me 'Cinderella.' Of course, he must have forgotten me long ago, but I—"

In the next installment Terry's hopes receive a blow, and Julia has an inspiration.

On Nature and—Bald Heads

WOMEN!

Do not trust NATURE, She's a fickle jade. Have you ever noticed— For the FIRST twenty years Of a woman's life Nature gives her everything. In the way of charms, To make her BEAUTIFUL; Then, about ten years later, She DELIBERATELY starts taking Her beauty away again. So the only thing

A woman can do Is to take the matter Into her own hands AND MAKE herself beautiful. A woman's crowning glory, They say, is her HAIR; So she looks after it And it grows more And more BEAUTIFUL; But men still trust to Nature And—go bald. THEREFORE I say, Trust not That fickle lady.

Nanny Risks Her Life To Warn Danny That Black Pussy Will Catch Him If He Comes Out

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Just as long as she could stand it Nanny Meadow Mouse on the old scarecrow in Farmer's Brown field watched Black Pussy watching the entrance to the old tin can at the foot of a fence post, waiting for Danny. Then it was Nanny's turn to wait. Nanny kept hoping that Black Pussy's patience would not hold out. But when Black Pussy was watching for a mouse she had a great deal of patience. She knew that Danny Meadow Mouse was inside that can, and she knew that sooner or later he would come out. Nanny knew that Black Pussy knew this.

"I've got to do something," said Nanny to herself at last. "I've got to do something. That awful cat looks as if she intends to stay there the rest of the day if necessary. Danny will think she has gone away and he will come out. If he does that he'll be the end of him. I'll never see him again. I've got to do something. I've got to do something."

Having made up her mind to do something, Nanny wasted no more time. She ran down the old scarecrow to the ground. She ran along between the rows of corn until she reached the end of them where she could peep out and see that old can and Black Pussy. It was only a few feet from the corn to that old can. Black Pussy was crouched just at one side with her yellow eyes fixed on the little hole in that can, and the tip of her black tail was twitching with eagerness.

From where Nanny was she could look right in at the little round hole in the can. She could see Danny's face. He was close up to that hole peeping out. She knew that he couldn't see Black Pussy and had she told him that Black Pussy was just behind him he would have been just one thing to do. Yes, sir, there was just one thing to do.

thing to do. Nanny Meadow Mouse did it. Drawing a long breath, she darted but from that corn straight Black Pussy with her yellow eyes fixed on that hole didn't see Nanny until just as she darted in at that hole. Then it was too late.

Nanny was so excited that all she could say was: "I did it! I did it!" "What did you do?" asked Danny. "I ran almost under Black Pussy's very nose," replied Nanny. "What did you do that for?" demanded Danny.

"To keep you from coming out and getting caught," replied Nanny. "You know very well that you were getting ready to come out. That dreadful cat is still out there, and has been ever since you ran in here. Now that there are two of us here, she probably will stay the rest of the day. I was so afraid you would be caught!"

"I guess I would have been but for you, my dear," said Danny very soberly as he rubbed noses with Nanny. (Copyright, 1923, by T. W. Burgess.)

Coming To An End?

Mothers and Their Children

A Handy Rack. One Mother Says: To keep rubbers, tennis shoes, bathing shoes and boots from being strewn over the closet floor, my husband made a rack on the inside of the door, cutting out two triangular-shaped end pieces, with three slats across them, and the picture above. A line of coat hangers was placed above the rack just at the right height for the youngsters. (Copyright, 1923, Associated Editors.)

Miss Hopper it's too bad you run out of wool when you come to make the sleeves for that sweater take a letter to Mister J. Burton Allen, College Hill, Idaho. Dear Mr. Allen:

Reading over your letter, stating that you graduated from your general course leading to the A. B. degree in June having in addition to a complete grounding in Latin and the romance languages comma a fine mark in economics which gives you a keen insight into the money and credit side of business comma adding that you made the Bear's Bicuspid in the district surveying comma which only 13 men are elected each year and offering to come to see me about a job if I have any openings that present a really worth while future has been very interesting period.

From what I have seen of the young men of your age and my next door neighbor had two good looking daughters and a porch swing so I have seen considerable I am surprised to learn your college finds it necessary to give instruction in romance language. I thought it came natural but your insight into money and credit might help some in bill collecting and your membership in the Bear's Bicuspid might stimulate your interest in our business so if $12.50 a week to start interests you come along and see me especially if you grounding in Latin will help you dope out whether a composite alba is dahlia or a string bean which mine won't.

Yours for worthwhile futures. THE SUPREMACY EMPORIUM Per.D.D.

FRENCH RIVER. Just the other day, some adventurous person discovered a new fishing ground in one of the many lakes in the district surrounding the French River Bungalow Camp, situated but a few hundred yards from French River Station. Of course, everybody satisfied their ambition, and came home with a good catch of fish. Not only are there lots of fish up there, but a person wanting real service, excellent meals and quiet, cozy bungalow, while enjoying the cool breezes from the point on which the camp is situated, will find French River Camp a real out-of-door vacation camp. One returns feeling 100 per cent better. Canoes, rowboats and a launch may be hired at nominal rates for trips up the river, or, if desired, on a bare-faced rock, there is an Indian painting of a head with horns, that is said to have been made as a guide mark long ago, when Champlain and his party passed through.

For reservations, write to C. Smyth, French River Camp, Asinika Postoffice, Ont. When telegraphing, address French River, Ont. Full information supplied by any Canadian Pacific agent.—Adv.

PAINTING in light is the idea of an English artist, F. Gregory Brown, who proposes to use the blackness of night as his background, colored incandescent lights as his pigments, and the surface of the Thames as his canvas.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

TWO OF A MIND.

By CORA REMINGTON.

"forever and ever, amen." As the last words of the minister were spoken the solemnly bowed heads came up with a sudden alertness and a slight rustle passed over the congregation as men stooped for their hats and women greeted their neighbors in quiet undertones. Slowly they made their way toward the doors and out into the almost blinding sunshine that poured over everything with all the abandon of a bright spring morning in the country.

"Sunday!" John Walters unconsciously whistled the word under his breath as he hesitated a moment on the top step of the church. It was strange, he reflected, that there should be a subtle difference between Sunday and the other days.

Something intangible, but nevertheless there. He could see it; the roads, the sunshine, the air itself was not quite the same, and so strongly did he feel this difference that he believed that if in some manner he could lose all track of the days of the week he would know when Sunday came.

He walked slowly down the street, breathing in the fresh, clear air. What a contrast to the ten years he had spent in the city trying to make a name for himself—working, working day and night with just one idea in mind.

After all, was it worth while? He had missed so much, he had had no time for friends, recreation. Now as he glanced about at the passing couples a feeling of loneliness swept over him. Nearly every one he knew seemed to have someone to talk to, but he was alone. He was the stranger in the land.

He had motored out to Newton several times before and attended church because somehow it took him back to his boyhood days and he felt that there was more sincere religion in a little country congregation than in a dozen fashionable city churches.

Perhaps he was right, perhaps not, but a strange peace and comfort seemed to come over him when listening to the simple sermon of some earnest young minister.

As he walked back toward the boarding-house, where he expected to have dinner he dimly noticed the slender figure of a girl in front of him and there was something vaguely familiar about her that teased him every time he glanced in her direction. Who could she be? He knew her, yet he didn't know her. Anyhow, there was one bond between them, they were both church-goers. Who could she be? He quickened his pace.

"Margaret Cole, as sure as I live!" he exclaimed as he came abreast of her. "John Walters, as sure as I live!" laughed the girl, extending her hand.

"How you have changed," he said, admiringly, as he took in the dancing eyes and flushed cheeks. "You're—you're positively beautiful." "A girl's apt to change a little between the ages of 12 and 18," she smiled, breaking in on him.

"But what are you doing here?" he asked. "Oh, we moved over here two years ago. Father's teaching at the girls' seminary."

Soon they were laughing and talking of old times—of the days when they were next door neighbors in the West.

"I fell quite in love with you that last time I went back home," he laughed. "I watched you playing with your dolls one day and you were the happiest, most content little thing I ever saw."

"You're a flatterer," she told him. "You're the first and all the time I thought you didn't care. What a dance you've led me!"

"I kept this because," she stammered, but got no further for John had taken her into his arms. "You little fraud," he laughed happily. "You're the first and all the time I thought you didn't care. What a dance you've led me!"

"Not a bit of it. May I walk home with you?" "Oh, you're coming to our house to dinner, of course. I didn't even think that it was necessary to mention it."

"Thanks so much. I hoped you would ask me. I shall enjoy seeing your parents again."

Never was youth more fascinating, he thought, as he glanced at his companion—the little figure, the quick step, the parted lips, the radiant face that seemed to be expecting some thrilling thing to happen every second.

It was a gay dinner they had that Sunday. Everybody laughed and joked a great deal, and John Walters felt really happy for the first time in years.

"You'll come back next week, won't you?" Professor Cole asked warmly as he took his guest's hand. "And the next and the next and the next, if you'll let me," laughed Walters.

"You'll always find a warm welcome," the professor assured him. "Before the summer was over it had become a regular habit for Walters to motor down to church on Sunday, take Margaret to church and have dinner at her home afterward, and by the time the trees were turning gold, he had found at last a sign of a similar feeling."

"I have something to show you after dinner," he told her one day. "Oh, good!" she answered in an undertone. "I love to see things. How can I ever resist?"

A little later in the afternoon, when they were again seated on the porch, she brought up the subject again. "What was it that you were going to show me?" she asked eagerly.

"Oh, yes." He slipped a hand into his pocket and brought forth two birthday cards addressed in a childish scrawl to himself.

"I've kept them all these years," he said, handing them to her. "because—because I loved her even then. Now do you still think I'm flirting?"

"Oh, John," she said softly. "What a dear you are! I'm afraid I've been too flippant. Really, I didn't know you cared that much. I was afraid it was only at best some passing fancy. I at—but I'm awfully glad. No, wait a minute. Sit down. For a penny I'd show you something because I've been so horrid to you, but I guess it'll spoil you forever. I'll do it anyway. You stay right here and I'll be back in a minute."

She flitted through the doorway and returned a moment later with one hand behind her back.

"Shut your eyes tight," she said. "—now look."

And there in front of him were three birthday cards addressed to her in a handwriting that he had little difficulty in recognizing.

Over 140 Crack Athletes Are Entered In Ontario Track Championships Here Saturday

Officials Expect Records To Be Shattered Saturday

Meet Has Attracted Greatest Array of Talent In History of Event—Interest Centered On Schoolboys' Effort.

As a means of picking up any straggling details, the track committee of the L. A. A. will hold a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the C. of C. rooms, but the Ontario track championships, due to be held at the Ontario Athletic Club, and which promises to produce the greatest array of athletic talent ever brought out at this event, is in splendid shape, as far as preparation of the vast amount of detail goes, thanks to the energy of Chairman A. T. Taylor.

Throwing the meet open has given an international flavor, which should not only add spice from the spectators' standpoint, but should insure keen rivalry. The best of the State of Michigan can produce will be seen in nearly all the events and it will probably result in some of the provincial marks being shattered.

Chairman Taylor left no stone unturned in getting the meet before every athletic organization, and the result is shown in over 140 entries to date, and with most of the athletes entered in at least two events, the number of entries nearly reach the 300 mark. Two hundred was the objective set, and surpassing it is an achievement in itself.

International Tinge.

Aside from the international atmosphere given the meet by entries from Michigan and New York States, the Olympic possibilities are to the fore.

How far interscholastic meets, so common the last two seasons, have gone towards developing material for future Canadian Olympic teams will be answered here Saturday, with Hamilton Collegiate and London Collegiate track teams taking their chances in the competition, and many "fast" graduates of secondary schools being numbered on the various teams coming from Toronto and Hamilton.

The playgrounds are going over their available material for the novelty mixed relay, which will be run in the half-mile relay. It has been decided that boys coming for the novelty mixed relay will not be allowed to run in the half-mile relay. It has been decided that boys coming for the novelty mixed relay will not be allowed to run in the half-mile relay.

Mr. Near has kindly consented to mark out the course, so that all are assured it will be accurate and that records made will be official.

HENSHAW WINS HALF-MILE IN RECORD TIME

Noses Across Tape In 1:03—An Unofficial Canadian Dirt Track Mark.

DELMAN PITCHES HAS TIERLY GAME AS BOOZERS

Tec's Trounce Kazoos With Avalanche of Hits.

KAZOO ERRORS AID

Press Box, Tecumseh Park.—The Tec's smothered the Kazoos in under a 12-hit avalanche aided by some five Kazoo misplays, turning in an easy 7 to 1 win on the combination.

Delman in the box looked even better than he has on his other two appearances, and that's patting him some. His support was ironbound, too, only one error being made behind him and that in the first, but did no damage. He had a big day in the field with seven assists.

The Tec's wanted no time making their intentions known. Four safe hits and two errors in the first yielded an opening brace of tallies, and they repeated the scoring count in the second on singles by Ruane and Gettle, with Delman's long double sandwiched in between. Two more clean hits were exchanged for the fifth run, with Delman's long double brought a final pair. Kazoo's line tally came in the seventh, when O'Brien doubled and Gettleman singled him home.

Down the Line In All Sports

The Ontario track championships did not exactly need an extra drawing card, since the best athletic talent in Ontario and the neighboring States are going to provide probably some of the best competition this event has ever brought forth, but Conacher, Canada's super-athlete, might have been a small-sized ring by himself in the circus if the meet was a week later.

Since Conacher has denied that he is emigrating to the U. S., efforts have been made to have Conacher go in for the all-round event and represent Canada at the next Olympic. The big fellow has never gone in for track athletics, but it is felt that he could, with a little training and the coaching that would be showered upon him if he decided to take a crack at the track game, in all seriousness take a shot at the performance the famous Indian, Jim Thorpe, hung up.

Since yesterday was Aug. 1, and the O. H. A. rules that all hockey players must be in residence by that date, many towns and cities will have new citizens this morning, and all "bona fide," too.

The Yanks are discovering that winning the next Olympic may not be so easy. It would seem from the results of intercollegiate contests between the big universities of England and United States that the former country still has athletes left, and Liddell and Abrahams, two sprinters, are a pair that has set the Yanks to being a little uneasy.

American opinion, as expressed in the press, would seem to deplore the fact that Suzanne will not journey to the U. S. and remove the unfortunate impression she made during her first and last trip. She has removed it as far as one naturalized American is concerned, and with a certain amount of finality.

IN COUNTY OF PERTHSpecial to The Advertiser.
Stratford, Aug. 1.—The continued
dry weather is having little bad effect on the oat crop in Perth County so far as can be ascertained. Crop prospects are on the contrary good.
Most of the wheat has been cut and drawn in and some oats have been cut, notably around Fullerton and other places. It will be ripe soon.
The farms in the county present a very prosperous air on the whole as in many cases the barns have been inadequate to hold the hay crop, and it is stacked outside in the fields, while oats will in some cases have to be stacked until ready for threshing.
Rain is badly needed for the root crops in some parts of the county.VETERAN TELLS ABOUT DAYS WHEN
CITY WAS HAMLETRobert Wilkinson Recalls the London of More Than Sixty Years Ago.
ONTARIO PIONEERMr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson of Warwick haven't quite decided which to celebrate next, their "platinum" or their "radium" anniversary.This couple, both well over the eighties, see another anniversary in the offing, and, having already celebrated a silver, a golden, and a diamond wedding, they now find it necessary to originate another title for the next affair.
It is three years since Mr. and Mrs.
Wilkinson celebrated their diamond wedding. Most men would consider themselves lucky to celebrate a golden wedding with a wife who had battled with them through the early days of pioneer hardships in Ontario.
But Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson are much more favored than the average couple, having seen a diamond wedding and both being in a position to look forward to "a few more wedding days yet."As a girl, living in Lobo Township,
Mrs. Wilkinson was known as Eliza
Lambert. After the marriage of Mr.
Wilkinson took his bride to a bush farm, where they started life with a radiant optimism, supplemented only by a log house, two acres of cleared land and an axe. From this meagre beginning, they kept pace with the development of the province and cared for a family of four children, two of whom are still living, and with one of whom the parents now live retired.London a Village.
Mr. Wilkinson's earliest recollection of London is that of a village, centered about the market, and extending no farther eastward than the present Clarence street."Not very long after I came to this country at the age of thirteen," Mr.
Wilkinson said in the course of his customary visit to The Advertiser's office, where he always calls on the few occasions when he comes to the city, "both mother and father died, and I took up farming on my own in the vicinity of Stratford. There were one or two small stores in the village near home at that time, but we could only trade our butter and eggs for merchandise. We had to come to London to raise any cash. At home we got about 10 cents a pound in trade for our butter and 5 or 6 cents a dozen for eggs.""On market days, we left home about 11 p.m. and we would arrive in London just in time to get an early stand on the market. Of course, at that time we didn't dream of a great deal about railways. I remember coming to London to my first fair, in 1855, when the fair grounds were way up north on Richmond street."Landed at Port Stanley.
Mr. Wilkinson is one of the fast-decreasing number of pioneers who remember an almost perilous voyage across the seas, the journey by boat terminating at Port Stanley, which at one time was a main point of entry."It took us six weeks and a day to cross from Liverpool to New York.
We went by steamer again from New York to Albany, thence to Buffalo by rail. From Buffalo, we came across Lake Erie to Port Stanley. There my father had to hire a wagon to take us up to my uncle's place at Stratford. And there weren't any gravel roads in those days."Strangely enough, Mr. Wilkinson has never again visited Port Stanley, now one of the most popular summer resorts in the province.Mr. Wilkinson has read The Advertiser for over 60 years. "It took it first as a weekly, and when when it became a daily paper why, of course,
I had to take it then too."
Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were married in 1860. Next October he will celebrate his eighty-fifth birthday and Mrs. Wilkinson her eighty-fourth.
Memories only remain of the log house and the axe with which they started life, as the rewards of cheerful labor have brought them other possessions, but both retain the optimism which transformed a two-acre clearing in the midst of bush into a fertile farm and prolonged two fruitful lives to enjoy a series of anniversaries which fall to the lot of
but few men and women.THREE PERSONS KILLED

Cornet Music
Has No CharmsSpecial to The Advertiser.
Brantford, Aug. 1.—Ernest Philpott, who separated from his wife, appeared on a charge of conversion in this morning's police court, the complainant being Mrs. Philpott. The cause of dispute lay in the ownership of a cornet, which, Mrs. Philpott stated, had been bought for her son.
Philpott admitted he could not play the cornet, and was not a member of any band. "What use is the instrument to him?" asked the crown solicitor.
"What use is a cornet to anybody except to disturb the neighbors?" parried Magistrate Blake.
The court ordered that the instrument be returned to Mrs.
Philpott, while the charge against her husband was dismissed.BELIEVE BANK BANDITS

Until General Survey Is Completed.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 1.—Until the Fer-

general survey of provincial timber resources, further timber sales will be few and far between, according to the premier. Discussing the likelihood of immediate timber sales, Hon.
Mr. Ferguson stated that a general survey, which is now complete as regards the Mississauga and some of the larger reserves—would have to be brought more clearly up to date before further distribution of timber resources would be countenanced.Only where the needs of a company were very apparent, he said, would the government, for the present at least, release any timber tracts.
As regards the white pine blight,
which at one time threatened to wipe out the province's white pine resources, the premier said that his information was that the disease had been arrested in its course across the timber country.ANDREW MELLON BACKS

SEE SLIGHT HOPES OF SETTling RUHR ISSUES

BALDWIN AND CURZON GREATLY DISAPPOINTED WITH REPLIES TO NOTE

French and Belgian Statements of Policy Hold Out Slight Prospects of a Settlement of the Ruhr's Problems—Premier Outlines Efforts Made To Reach Unanimity With Allies On Question.

JOINT ALLIED REPLY SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 2.—Prime Minister Baldwin joined with Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, in informing parliament today that the replies by France and Belgium to the British reparations note seemed to hold out no prospect of a settlement of the Ruhr situation in the near future nor the opening of a discussion regarding reparation.

Great Britain had submitted to the other allies the draft of a joint allied reply to the last German reparations communication and Great Britain had attached very great importance to the despatch of such a reply, the premier said. Neither France nor Belgium, however, had mentioned this reply in their answer to the British communication and Great Britain, to the regret of her government, was unable to find in these responses sufficient material for the despatch of a joint allied reply to Germany.

The prime minister, in the House of Commons, and Lord Curzon, in the House of Lords, began their identical addresses by reciting the history of the recent negotiations. They then broke new ground in this manner:

"The government drew up a draft reply which they forwarded on July 26, with a covering note to the allied governments.

"In this draft reply the British government dealt with the various proposals contained in the German memorandum, and they expressed the opinion that while nothing should be done which was inconsistent with the stipulation of the treaty of Versailles, advantage would be derived by an examination of impartial experts, in co-operation with the reparations commission, into Germany's capacity to pay.

"As regards the guarantees offered by the German government, the British government went on to point out in the draft reply that the economic value of any such guarantees must largely depend on factors of which the German government in its memorandum had made no mention, such as stabilizing the mark and balancing the German budget, and that no guarantee could be effective unless provision were made for some form of international control over the German financial administration.

Mr. Baldwin, making his eagerly-awaited statement in the House of Commons, said that the British government had expressed the opinion that while nothing should be done which was inconsistent with the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles, advantage would be derived if impartial experts, co-operating with the reparations commission, should examine Germany's capacity to pay.

The reply also pointed out, Mr. Baldwin said, that the economic value of such a step must largely depend upon factors which the German memorandum, such as stabilizing the mark and balancing the budget, and that no guarantee could be effective unless provision were made for some form of international control over the German financial administration.

Advised Withdrawing Decree.

"The reply ended," continued the prime minister, "by advising the German government that if it desired a resumption of the inquiry, to withdraw without further provision, the British government would be prepared to organize and fomented the policy of passive resistance, and to unequivocally disavow the violence and sabotage which in some cases had accompanied it.

"The reply expressed the belief that all a meeting of the reception committee of the Old Boys' Association last night this plan was hit upon as more effective than any definite organization. All members expressed their willingness to devote as much of their time as possible to this work and, with this assurance from everyone concerned, it is felt that there will be no lack of effective welcome for the thousands of ex-Londoners who are expected to reach the city.

A large representation from the reception committee is particularly needed on the job with the "glacé hands" and all necessary information on Sunday at noon. The Detroit delegation, which will form possibly the largest visiting body from any one city, have announced that they will arrive in London at that time. The Detroiters will be accompanied by a band and their arrival will be termed something of an event, as there will doubtless be crowds of Londoners, as well as a representative of the reception committee, at the station to meet them.

DOCTORS DECLARE HARDING IN NEED OF ABSOLUTE REST

Brigadier - General Sawyer States Convalescence Will Require Time.

CALL FOR PRAYERS

Federated Council of Protestant Churches Asks Divine Aid in Recovery.

Canadian Press Despatch.

San Francisco, Aug. 2.—Time seemed today to be the chief element in the recovery of President Harding. It also was regarded by his physicians as one of the most uncertain.

"The president's convalescence is going to take time," said Brigadier-General Sawyer, his physician. One thing was certain and that was that the president was making progress toward recovery at the beginning of the day. He obtained considerable sleep during the night, and just before he dropped off to sleep General Sawyer "took stock," as he phrased it, and found all indications favorable.

HAS RESTFUL NIGHT.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN, United Press Correspondent with President Harding's Party. Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Aug. 2.—President Harding, fighting his way back to health, is being aided by a night of sound sleep, according to those on watch at his chamber at 4 a.m. At that time there had been no activity in the presidential suite for five hours. Secret service men in the corridor reported that there had been no coughing in Mr. Harding's room and it is believed he is resting easily, as he did last night.

PRAY FOR RECOVERY.

PLANS TO REORGANIZE ONTARIO TREASURY

Premier Ferguson Announces Financial Controller To Be Appointed.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Aug. 2.—In addition to the appointment of a financial controller, there will be a reorganization of the treasury department, Premier Ferguson intimated this morning. The department had so grown and there were so many different features, and branches that a system of co-ordination was advisable. The new controller would not just be a bond expert, but his activities would embrace every branch of the department, and he would act in an advisory capacity to the treasurer.

London Railwaymen Expect To Meet Many Old Friends

Some of the Old-Timers in Railway Service Who May Return For Old Home Week.

Members of the Canadian National staff who have been with the road since the days of the Great Western are looking forward to Old Boys' Week with the hope that many of their old friends and acquaintances will return to London at that time. Jack Gillean, London's veteran station master, Police Captain "Bob" Logan, and News Agent Tom Pinch constitute a self-appointed reception committee who will more than "do the honors" in welcoming London's Old Timers who have served on London's railways in the past.

The older members around the C. N. R. depot are expecting a host of Great Western and Grand Trunk veteran trainmen to return for Old Boys' Week, and it is expected that many a yarn will be retold by London's rail veterans of the real old days when trains were hitched up with the old "link and pin" couplers. Those were the days! The train crews of today know nothing of the thrills and dangers which the older hands experienced in standing between the cars waiting the proper moment to drop the pin. Common dangers and the hardships of pioneer railroading are the ties which cement the friendship of the veteran railway men, and their reunion will be a reunion in the true sense of the word. The older hands at the station seem to have a feeling that many of their former comrades will return to London next week, and the following is a list of the few who will not surprise the local wise men if they roll in on the first stage of the homecoming Old Boys: William Farrell, general manager Algoma Eastern, Sudbury; Bill White and Jimmy Miller, one-time dispatchers on the Great Western; Joe "Gassy" Thompson, Edmonton; Jack Portune, freight conductor, Great Western; Tommy Brophy, brakeman and conductor on the G. W. for over 20 years; Jack Wheatcroft, a veteran baggage man of the Great Western days; J. C. Crombie, one-time master of trains at London; Ed. Harwood, assistant general superintendent of transportation, Toronto; G. S. Cramp, now chief dispatcher at Hamilton; J. Benjafield, chief dispatcher for the Pere Marquette at St. Thomas; and F. A. Rutherford, former train master at London, now serving in a like capacity in Toronto.

These are only a few of the old-timers who are looked for when the crowd really starts to arrive. There will be others, and Messrs. Gillean, Logan, Pinch and the other veterans who have served in London through three regimes on the one road, are looking forward to a real "gabfest" when their old cronies reach this city.

TAXES PAID AUGUST 1 WILL REACH $200,000

City Treasurer Satisfied With Manner in Which Second Installment Was Met.

City Treasurer Bell reports that, as usual, Londoners are coming well to the front with their taxes. The second installment, due August 1, has been received, he states, and, while definite figures will not be available for a day or two, probably $200,000 at least has been received. Londoners have always taken the lead in this respect and there are probably fewer delinquents here than in any other municipality in the province.

Southsea, England, Aug. 2.—The British team of six-metre yachts gained a sweeping victory over the United States team again today, all four of the Britishers crossing the finish line ahead of the United States boats. The British gained 26 points to 10 for the United States team.

VISITORS POUR INTO CITY FOR OLD HOME WEEK

Registrations Already Show the Arrival of Many Former Londoners.

A FLORIDA GUEST

W. C. Norsworthy, One of First to Come, Has Not Been Home For 57 Years.

Old "girls" are vying with old boys for the reunion attendance laurels. To date the number of women registering at Old Boys' headquarters is running neck and neck with the men, a condition unprecedented in the history of the London Old Boys' Association.

Former Londoners are pouring into the city from all parts of the world, as indicated by the list of names filed at the registration booth yesterday and today. It is estimated only one in six persons who have come to the city for the occasion has made his presence known to officials, but tomorrow and during the festival all visitors will be asked to register.

Among the guests arriving yesterday was W. C. Norsworthy of McIntosh, Florida. Mr. Norsworthy entered registration headquarters by mistake, thinking it was the postoffice. He had not been here for 57 years. He is 74 years old and a veteran of the Penial Raid of 1866. London, he declared, had changed to such an extent that he could hardly recognize it.

Mr. Norsworthy was anxious to know the whereabouts of "Tom" Essery, whom he knew in boyhood days. Mr. Essery was a sergeant in the 7th Regiment in the old days, when Mr. Norsworthy was a private. A group from California arrived Wednesday, and another from Cleveland came today. Delegations from Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles and New York have chartered special trains and will come in numbers of anywhere from a dozen to sixty.

As the celebration draws near, the Old Boys' Association is buying it self erecting flags and decorations at registration headquarters. Workmen from the T. Eaton Company of Toronto commenced the dressing of streets with flags, streamers and shields on Tuesday, and their work will not be completed until Friday evening, when the Meynell Carnival Company is expected late today from Peterboro. A. T. Taylor and his sports committee are busy marking out the racetrack in front of the grandstand at Queen's Park for the amateur Ontario championships on Saturday.

Among those who registered yesterday are Bruce Cartledge, Montreal; Emily Cartledge, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rolland, Steveston, B. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Cartledge, Montreal; Miss Helen West, Cleveland; H. A. Maguire, Cleveland; J. D. Porteous, Trinidad, Colorado; W. Ryan, Hamilton, Ont.; Miss E. Spittal, Hamilton; Dorothy Clark, Windsor; Mrs. A. J. Knowles, San Francisco; W. E. Chadwick, Windsor; Wesley Miller, California; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. W. Nett, Sault Ste. Marie; M. G. Black, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Graham, Winnipeg; Geo. Lintz, Detroit; Miss Florence Graham, Detroit; Fred Graham, Detroit; Nitt Morgan, Ottawa; Mrs. M. Fairweather, Hamilton; W. A. Noble, Denver, Colorado; Richard Dealey, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. C. Five false alarms were turned in, while one emergency call was responded to. The department also made two test runs for the Fire Underwriters Association.

'Welcome Home, Why Not Stay?'

Mayor Wenige has formulated his own slogan for "Old Boys' Week." He doesn't exactly approve of the sort which say, "Welcome Home," following this up with "Good-bye, and Good Luck." His idea of an up-to-date slogan is, "Welcome Home, Why Not Stay?"

"London's as good a town as there is in the country," says the mayor. "There's a whole lot of the Old Boys who might as well stay here and be comfortable, as go anywhere else, note take a chance. I am going to get that slogan up, anyway."

ITALY APPROVES BRITAIN'S VIEWS ON REPARATIONS

Marquis Curzon Declares the Nation in Accord, Although No Written Reply Given.

DEPLORES DELAY

Statesman Sees Little Hope of Settlement on Franco-Belgian Basis.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 2.—Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary, informed the House of Lords today that Italy had not sent a written reply to the recent British reparations note, but had nevertheless expressed herself as approving in general Great Britain's views and proposals.

Little Prospect of Settlement.

Lord Curzon said that the French and Belgian replies to the British note appeared to hold out no prospect of an early settlement of the situation in the Ruhr nor of a commencement of a discussion on reparations. The British draft reply to Germany was not mentioned in the communications from Paris and Brussels, the foreign secretary added.

He regretted that Great Britain could not find in the French and Belgian responses enough material for sending a joint allied reply to the German note, but he was attached very great importance to the despatch of such a reply.

The foreign secretary asserted that the British reparations note had not often repeat that, while regarding the interests of its allies as bound up in its own, it holds firmly to the view that the situation now before it cannot be evaded.

While the allies may be occupied in an exchange of views, in a spirit of unabated friendliness on this or that detail, the European situation, carrying with it all the prospects of reparations payment in which all the allies are interested, may sink into irretrievable ruin.

Agree to Publication.

Great Britain, Lord Curzon continued, is inviting the other governments to agree to publication of the notes exchanged on the situation. She hopes that publicity for these papers may assist in determining the problem which the allies are confronted, and that it may convince the world of the imperative necessity of prompt and united action.

V. B. Grey characterized the foreign secretary's statement as very grave.

ALBERTA PARTY WILL BOOST COAL WHILE IN LONDON

London Old Boys' Association in Calgary Will Be Well Represented.

PASS RESOLUTION

Send Greetings to Ed. Smith in Letter Announcing Their Homecoming.

"Moved by Charles O. Smith, and seconded by Dr. W. A. Piper, and unanimously carried, that the members of the London Old Boys' Association, assembled at the annual picnic at Bowness Park, send hearty greetings to the Home Association; also that they wish the home people at London to know that the Calgary-London Old Boys are one with them in spirit in celebrating the Old Home Week, and would greatly like to be with them, and, further, that the Londoners in this western city, by the foothills of the Rockies, look back with constant love to the beautiful city on the Thames, their birthplace and the home of their fathers; and that the secretary be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to the secretary of the Old Boys' Association at London."

Alberta coal has been a beacon light to many a harassed Londoner has looked forward to steering that stubborn old boat—his furnace. Arrangements have already been made to ship some of the city. Reminded of this, the Calgary Old Boys, when they reach London next week, are to break into lusty songs of the tune of "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Together with this same cheerful greeting, they are to bring a timely message on "How to Keep the Home Fires Burning With Alberta Coal."

All this is according to a letter which reached Edwin Smith, secretary of the London Old Boys' Association, today, inclosing the resolution printed above from the Calgary Old Boys' Association.

The letter further says: "On the coal question, the Alberta-London Old Boys' Association appreciate the efforts of our Alberta Government and our trade commissioner for his province in helping to bring the attention of the people of Canada to the importance of making every effort to solve the fuel problem within the provinces, and what it will mean in the east and in the west in the future by hundreds of millions of dollars per year. The association have already registered in the city and will arrange to meet the 'Home Guard' to provide a suitable place for the Home Old Boys' Week to hand out above five thousand circulars, which have been prepared and contain much material of interest to the people of the province of Alberta and its fuel provision generally."

WILL USE NEW TRUCKS AS SOON AS INSURED

Fire Chief Says There Will Be No Delay in Employing New Equipment.

The pair of new Ruggles fire trucks are now being used as satisfactory arrangements are completed for their insurance. Chief Aitken announced this morning.

"The machines are first-class fire equipment," the chief declared, "but we cannot take a chance of placing them in the streets until they are insured. We learned our lesson in that regard some years ago, and now we make sure that everything is O.K. before the trucks are used for fire. The trucks will be placed in Nos. 4 and 5 halls, and the motor equipment from the old trucks which have been used at No. 4 for some months will be brought back to the King street hall. Two horses now drawing the wagon will be offered for sale, the chief stated."

MAY CHANGE THE DATE OF SWIMMING EVENTS

Owing to the present Corsan campaign, there is a probability that the date of the swimming championships at Thames Park may be changed from Saturday, Aug. 11, to Saturday, Aug. 18.

For either one day or the other, however, an excellent program has been arranged, giving ample scope for a display of progress made by young London swimmers during the past season.

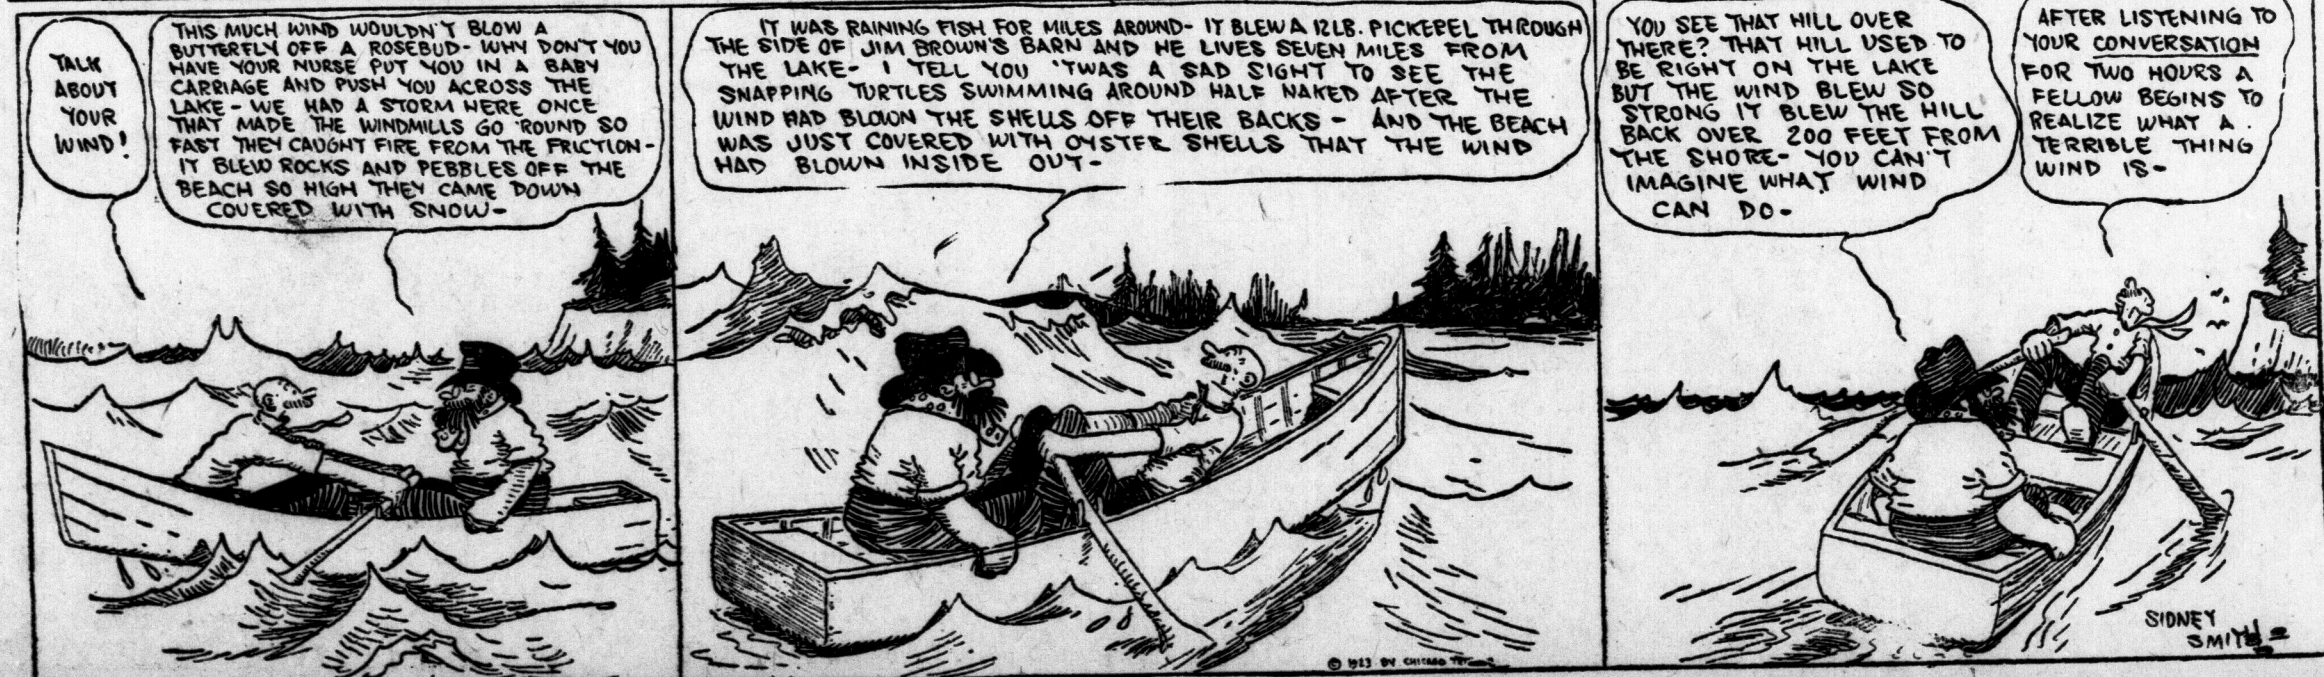

If it can be arranged to hold the events on Aug. 11, it will form part of the official Old Home Week program. Classes have been arranged for junior and senior boys, junior and senior girls, and men.

It is also announced that a team of expert divers, "who represent the cream of championship material in Eastern Canada," will be on hand to give an exhibition as a part of the program.

Prizes and trophies will be awarded for a number of the various events. The program is arranged by Dr. George Smith, director of physical culture in the municipal play parks.

Londoners and Their Hobbies

Howard Hartry's Garden Is a Riot of Loveliness

President of Horticultural Society Makes Interesting Experiments.

Who should have a lovelier garden than the president of the London Horticultural Society? The president happens to be Howard F. Hartry, and perhaps no prettier spot could be found in the city than Mr. Hartry's garden on Belgrave avenue. Mr. Hartry has made a hobby of growing flowers ever since he was a small boy. Indeed the love for flowers and horticulture was inbred in him, his father, William Hartry of Seaford, having one of the finest gardens in that part of the country.

The front garden at Mr. Hartry's home, a delightful lawn with trees and shrubs, gives but a faint idea of the beautiful gardens at the rear. Just a step in through the bridal wreath bushes, along a fence fringed with vines, and the real gardens come into view—a wealth of perennial bloom. Not a straight row meets the eye, but curve upon curve, as peonies hob nob with gladioli and marigolds nod their heads close to the plants. Everything is in groups, and arranged as flowers might grow in the woods, not in conventional beds.

Begonias in Bloom. Just now the begonias are making the biggest show, with their brilliant scarlet colorings, and in all the lovely double varieties. Hardy crysanthemums are showing buds, and the gladioli will soon be a riot of bloom. Climbing up a clothes-line pole, a gorgeous trumpet vine, adds its beauty to the scene and one would never suspect the existence of a clothes-line pole.

Giving height to the display are splendid fruit trees and lilac bushes, while asparagus shows its feathery leaves near the fence. Mr. Hartry plants his vegetables with a view to their beauty in the garden. They are part of it, just as the flowers are part of it.

But simple beauty in a garden does not content Mr. Hartry. He is an investigator too. And here and there among his plants are those which are being grown for experimental purposes. He wants to get something which other people haven't got, something which he can call his very own. And so in one spot there is the young iris bed, the little plants coming up from seed, and there are the small peony plants, which are also the product of seed, sown by Mr. Hartry, and from which he expects something very fine.

Likes To Experiment. "Of course nothing unusual may result," says Mr. Hartry. "And then it may just happen that I shall get a plant which will be something very rare and beautiful. It is largely a matter of chance, but I like to experiment."

"Gardening is one of the most contagious diseases in the world," says Mr. Hartry. "A man starts growing a few geraniums and then becomes interested in cultivating annuals and keeps on adding and adding to his garden until it has grown enormous. He begins to discover that there are different varieties of the plants he is growing and he wants to experiment with them. He starts to put in perennials of all kinds, and first thing he knows his gardening space is so crowded that he cannot put in another thing. Then he wants to specialize, and probably roots up his whole stock, discards everything, but one or two varieties and cultivates them exclusively."

Plans It On Paper. Mr. Hartry plans his garden on paper before he starts to plant. And he advises all other gardeners to do the same thing. If they would secure the best results in the way of arrangement. The winter is the best time for making garden plans, he says. Seeds should be ordered long before they are to be planted.

Mr. Hartry claims that gardening is the most interesting and beneficial of hobbies. "It takes you outdoors in spite of yourself," he says. "And there is something healthful even in the turning over of the earth. One of the troubles in this country is that there is no school for the study of horticulture. Several London men interested in the subject are now negotiating with the government to get such a school started in connection with Western Ontario University, and their efforts be successful London will be a big horticultural center in the province."

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her mother, and looked charming in a Parisian frock of gray tulle silk, with side panniers heavily embroidered in blue and silver. A hat of gray mohair and silk, with flowers in pastel shades and gray shoes and stockings completed her costume. She wore a corsage of lilies-of-the-valley and Sweetheart roses. Mrs. Tune wore a gown of black and white Canton crepe and black net hat with osprey. Her corsage was of mauve sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker left immediately after the ceremony by motor for Montreal, where they will take the Saguenay trip, and on their return will reside in London.

Your Home and You

WHILE YOU'RE AWAY. Little Madame Housewife was going away to the country for the sultry weather of August, to visit some of her relatives. Her home-maker was to stay in the apartment (and the office), for the month, and then they were to go off fishing together during the September.

Homemaker, being a newcomer, had to take his vacation when he could get it—after everybody else had had first choice.

On the day before she went away Little Madame Housewife led her legs into the pretty kitchen.

"If you are going to stay here alone," she said with decision, "you must learn how to take care of the house and the food and the fee and—yourself, Teddy." Here she visibly weakened about leaving him at all.

"First of all, you must know how to get yourself an appetizing breakfast. I can't bear to think of your eating cold baker's bread and drinking horrible coffee. Here's the percolator, dear. When you get up, come down in the morning put the tea kettle on. Then put two heaping tablespoons of coffee in the percolator. Pour two big cups of boiling water over the coffee and set it over a low flame—like this. It will be not eat a dish of cold cereal and nothing more."

Then she showed him a list of "do's and don'ts" instructions for getting a simple supper, and how to make unwashed dishes look as if somebody cared for them. Every two days a cleaning woman was to come in and catch up for him, and if he would only eat well, she could be happy about him. He promised faithfully, and when he joined her a month later showed that he had fulfilled his promise.

Then she showed him a list of "do's and don'ts" instructions for getting a simple supper, and how to make unwashed dishes look as if somebody cared for them. Every two days a cleaning woman was to come in and catch up for him, and if he would only eat well, she could be happy about him. He promised faithfully, and when he joined her a month later showed that he had fulfilled his promise.

"OLD TYME PICNIC"

Outing Will Be Held at Pardon Love's Farm Saturday, August 11.

Londoners are making of the Old Home Week a grand and glorious opportunity of showing what they can do in the way of hospitality. All the preparations for a good time aren't being left in the hands of the executive committee. The London Typographical Union, 123, this morning issued to the secretary of the London Old Boys' Association, a general invitation to its "Old Tyme Picnic," for which arrangements are now being made, and which is to be held Saturday, Aug. 11, at "Loveholme," the Springbank residence of Pardon F. Love.

The invitation is signed by John McLean, chairman of the committee, and W. A. Hunter, secretary. All those who intend accepting the invitation are asked to meet at the Labor Temple, where motor cars are being provided. The nature of the program has not been divulged. The assurance is given that it will be enjoyable.

THINK DEFUNCT BANK
STILL IN EXISTENCE

Old Boys and Girls Try To Obtain Cash at Merchants' Bank.

Numerous old boys and old girls, thinking the Merchants' Bank to be still in existence, are coming every hour into the bank's old building, now old boys' registration headquarters, to deposit money and cash checks. This morning half a dozen persons entered the structure and laid bundles of money on the teller's counter, simultaneously asking the registration clerk to make out an account for them. Others entered with checks to be cashed, and were dismayed to learn the Merchants' Bank had succumbed to the flight of time.

By ELOISE.

The cape is still the most popular wrap of the season, and so it is to be expected that the cape frock will be seen again this summer. Cape suits have passed out, but many of the pretty silk frocks have a short shoulder cape or draped effect. Many women feel more dressed when a shoulder cape is added to their frocks, and do not mind going without a coat if the frock boasts such a feature.

AVIATOR REACHES HEIGHT OF SEVEN MILES IN AIR

Associated Press Despatch. Villa Coublay, France, Aug. 1.—In a flight today under official control, Sadi Lecointe, the noted aviator, reached an altitude that may go down in the books as a world's record.

On descending after two hours in the air, one of his instruments showed that 10,000 meters had been attained and another registered 11,000 meters, so that he actually reached a height somewhere close to seven miles. The ascent required eighty minutes. He was forced to descend when an oxygen bottle refused to work.

Fashions By Wire

Special to The Advertiser.

Paris, Aug. 1.—An interesting frock with but two fastenings was seen here today. One fastening was at the shoulder and the other at the left hip. Of course a skirt of this sort overlaps widely, but a vagrant breeze makes an underlip at least advisable.

Large Hat Still Prevails.

Paris, Aug. 1.—Although the cloche and other small hats are so much in vogue today, the large hat remains. In some cases it is as large as an umbrella, stretching out for an appalling distance around the head, and decorated simply with a swathe and bow.

Transparent Sleeves Again.

London, Aug. 1.—Transparent sleeves have begun tentatively to return. Many women today are beginning to tire of the entirely sleeveless gown, and are substituting the long, wide scarf sleeves of chiffon, caught at shoulder and wrist, but open down the arm.

Wool Embroidery.

London, Aug. 1.—Wool embroidery is becoming more and more smart. Crepes of various sorts today, even very fine silk crepes, are embroidered with wool flowers. It seems to be an unwritten law that the flowers shall be of many colors.

Two Veils for Motoring.

New York, Aug. 1.—If one wishes to be fantastically chic, as well as entirely shielded from dust on a motor trip, one may wear today a beige veil over the hat and back of the head, while a black veil—looped from ear to ear—protects the lower half of the face.

The Cape Suit.

New York, Aug. 1.—Nothing is more practical or more graceful than the cape suit. The most of the frocks seen today were in a dark shade, embroidered in a lighter tone. The capes, falling to the hem of the frocks, matched the embroidery, and were trimmed with shirring or frills matching the gowns.

Plaid Effects in Suits.

New York, Aug. 1.—The short box jacket is one of the late summer and early fall styles. Suits are tending today toward plaid effects, trimmed at collar and cuffs with fluffy furs.

That "Kruschen" Feeling!

Game for anything!

Here he is again — just as sprightly as ever! The youngster eggs the old boy on, of course; but he doesn't need much of that! How the place echoes to the happy, irresponsible laughter of these two jolly lads of six and sixty! Their energy seems tireless, their whole-hearted enjoyment of life unending.

That's because they've both got "that Kruschen feeling!"

Every morning Grandpa drops into his breakfast cup of coffee or tea just enough of the magic Kruschen Powder to cover a 10 cent piece. Half that much stirred into his porridge is enough for sonny. Neither of them can taste the tiny dose, but it keeps them always fit and well, so that the Kruschen Kid is everything that a jolly, healthy youngster should be, and Grandpa is as young in spirit as his grandson. That's what Kruschen does for them.

Good health largely depends on a clear blood-stream, which in turn depends on the active working of the internal organs. The Kruschen habit gently stimulates the liver and kidneys to proper activity and thus removes all impurities from the system. This ensures that the blood-stream is always clear, the body strong and healthy.

Is this gift of glorious vigour worth half a cent a day to you? That is all it costs. Next time you see a drug store, go in and ask for a bottle of Kruschen — 160 doses of "that Kruschen feeling" for 75c. Get a bottle to-day.

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

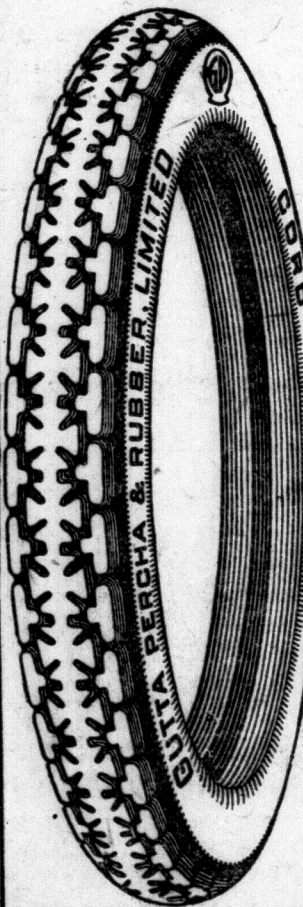

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

A 75c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains daily use is "as much as will be on a 10 cent piece" — enough for three months — which means bounding health for less than half a cent a day. The dose prescribed for Kruschen. Get a 75c bottle to-day.

CHARGES BUYERS ARE BLACKLISTED

W. M. Rose Continues Case
At Session of Royal Grain
Inquiry Commission.

DENIES FILING SCALE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Moose Jaw, Aug. 1.—Several charges of alleged blacklisting, incitation

and issuing of false statements were made at this afternoon's session of the royal grain inquiry commission

here. The charges were presented by

W. M. Rose, counsel of the Order of Grain Buyers.

Several witnesses were heard in the cases, which involved the State Elevator Company, the Saskatchewan

Co-operative Elevator Company, the Peaker Grain Company, and the now defunct Goose Lake Elevator Company. Mr. Rose said the charges were introduced to show a practice among elevator companies of having the bonding companies assume responsibility for shortages and blacklisting

of buyers when the buyers refused to pay for shortages.

Denial that he had told W. P.

Rogers to file his scales at the State

Elevator Company elevator at

Star City was made by J. M. Stewart,

Rogers' superintendent. Stewart said he never had instructed Rogers to steal from the farmers in any way.

He denied all of the statements made by Rogers at Tuesday's session in respect to filing the scales. He never had heard of the filing until Rogers had testified Tuesday. The case occupied all of the morning session, several witnesses being called to testify.
