P. S. COATE, Esq.,
Manager Chatham Gas Co.

Dear Sir,—I have used Coke in my furnace for several seasons, and find it twenty-five per cent cheaper than hard coal. It has not damaged the fire pot and has proved satisfactory in every way. I can heartily recommend it.

Sincerely yours,
D. S. PATERSON

Genuine Gas Coke will hereafter be sold and delivered at $5.00 per ton, natural size, or $5.50 per ton, crushed. There are as many heat units in a ton of Genuine Gas Coke as there are in the best quality of hard coal. Why not save the difference?

ADVERTISE IN THE PLANET

RESIDENTS DOWN THE RIVER CLAIM TO HAVE SEEN GHOSTS

Apparition of a Young Murdered Girl Makes Its Appearance in an Unused Granary

WILD SHRIEKS ARE HEARD IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT

Do the spirits of murdered persons sometimes return to earth to call for vengeance on their slayers? The matter of fact persons will shrug their shoulders, and matter, "Bosh, there is nothing to it."

Still there are people who firmly believe that the dead sometimes return to this earth, and there are very few who will consent to sleep alone in a house which has the reputation of being haunted. There are very few grown-up persons who at some period of their lives have not had an experience which they can not very well explain, and some will swear that they have been the spectators of some dead friend or relative.

On the River Thames just below Chatham there stands an old fashioned dwelling, long defunct, which, it is claimed by several persons, is haunted by the spirit of a young girl, who years ago was cruelly put to death by her mother.

Some claim that they have seen the young woman walking about in the vicinity of the granary, others have heard her wild shrieks in the dead of the night.

Mr. C. A. Williams, well known in this city, is one of the authorities for the story.

"I have seen spiritualists and all sorts of religious frauds," says Mr. Williams, "but what I am about to relate beats them all. There is a building on the Thames below Chatham, where a young woman was at one time murdered by her mother. The instrument with which the unnatural mother committed the deed with, was an Italian iron.

"This old building was purchased by one of my neighbors, and converted into a granary. Curious to say, anyone who is in this granary at a late hour of night, is certain to hear his name called softly by a female voice. On one occasion a wayfarer tramp, who asked for a night's lodging, was given permission to sleep in the granary. He was given some covers and made comfortable for the night. He had barely dropped off to sleep, when he heard someone calling his name. He was first puzzled, then then alarmed, as no one in the vicinity knew him. Finally, unable to sleep for the strange noises about him, he abruptly left his snug quarters. He was in such a hurry to get away, that he left all the doors and gates open behind him.

"A well known local minister states positively that he saw the apparition of this young woman one night when he was on his way home to Jeannette's Creek."

THREE BOLD MEN IT IS OUTRAGEOUS

Sneak Thieves Visit the Victoria Block But Are Frightened Away—Got Nothing

Some of the residents of the Victoria Block record a fright on Saturday, when three supposed sneak thieves paid them rather an unexpected visit.

Mrs. Geo. Heyward, upon returning to her room late in the afternoon, found a man prowling around in her apartments. He seemed quite surprised when Mrs. Heyward walked in. She asked him what he wanted, and he answered, "O, nothing, where is Dr. Bray's room?" He was informed that he was not in Dr. Bray's room, and Mrs. Heyward directed him where to go.

After he had gone, Mrs. Heyward, thinking it over, became a little nervous and decided to tell her experience to Mrs. Falls. She rapped on Mrs. Falls' room and there was no answer. She opened the door, and found the man in Mrs. Falls' bedroom. Mrs. Falls was not home. Mrs. Heyward became more frightened than ever. The man again replied that he was still looking for Dr. Bray's room, and made his departure.

About the same time that this was happening a third man, Dr. Holmes, door down stairs, and when asked what he wanted, replied that he wanted to see Mrs. Black. He was told that she did not live in the block.

A third man tried to enter Mrs. Stegmann's rooms, but when he found that Mrs. Stegmann was at home he asked where Dr. Holmes' office was.

The three men left the building together. If they were looking for something to steal they were evidently fooled, as someone seemed to be at home wherever they went.

BRANCH TO PAIN COURT

The people of Pain Court are intent on having a branch of the C. W. & L. E. R. run out to their district this year.

For some time past the matter has been discussed and considered, and the general opinion of the Pain Court people is that they both merit and deserve a connecting branch with Chatham.

A representative deputation waited on Mr. Edwin Bell, the company's solicitor, on Saturday, asking that the railway company take the matter up. They were told that the request would receive careful consideration and that there was every likelihood that a line would be laid to Pain Court in a short time.

FISH SEIZED

James O. Weldon, Government Inspector at London, last night seized 20 cases of fresh water fish at that place. Two of these cases of fish were shipped from Jeannette's Creek and they will be held until investigations are made. The fish were illegally caught in the Thames river, and were billed for New York. Over a quarter of a ton of fish was seized together—248 pounds came from Jeannette's Creek and 436 pounds from Prairie Sidings.

The new company will manufacture brass work of all descriptions, but will make a specialty of plumbers' supplies.

Beauty without grace is a hook without bait.

FIRE MARSHALL WM. BAXTER

Well-Known Chathamite
Resigns His Position
in Detroit

A MUCH VALUED OFFICER

Fire Marshal William Henry Baxter, of Detroit, has resigned his position in that city. Mr. Baxter is an old Chathamite, and he has many friends in this city who will be sorry to learn that ill health causes him to take this step. He is the son of the late Richard Baxter, who was a prominent miller in this city many years ago. James Baxter, baker, of Dresden, is a brother.

The Detroit Free Press says of his resignation:—
After twenty-six years of unbroken service, without one stain on his record in all that time, Fire Marshal William H. Baxter handed in his resignation to the board of fire commissioners yesterday. It was accepted, to take effect April 1, when the old Marshal will go on the retired list, at a pension of $1,000 a year. Assistant Marshal John McDuff was chosen as his successor. Capt. Henry T. Moiles was appointed assistant marshal, to succeed Assistant Marshal McDuff.

Though Marshal Baxter's record covers more than a quarter of a century, the fire department books contain only two items referring to him. One is his appointment as marshal, April 1, 1880. The other is the date of his retirement, April 1, 1906, exactly twenty-six years later. Not one complaint ever has been registered against him in all that time. Never has he been before the board of fire commissioners to answer to charges of any kind.

His health and old age are given as the reasons for the retirement of the marshal, who so long has been a faithful servant of the public, and whose name has been connected with the department so long that, as one man said yesterday, "It won't seem like the fire department any more without you, marshal." He is over 70 years old, his seventieth birthday having been celebrated Feb. 9, last. The death of his wife several months ago was a source of great grief to him, and his sorrow over the loss of her has aggravated his physical troubles.

"I was sorry to do it, boys, but I had to," said the marshal yesterday afternoon. Tears, of which he was not ashamed, stood in his eyes as he spoke. "My health has been bad, and I can't climb round like I used to. Then I have other troubles. It will be a tough wrench to leave, yes, but it's the best thing to do."

When the marshal was called before the board to be informed that his resignation had been accepted, Commissioner Fred T. Moran, senior member and spokesman of the board, said:

"I have been officially connected with Marshal Baxter for seventeen years," said Commissioner Moran, "and in all that time I never have known him to make a mistake. I wish you to understand, marshal, how much the board regrets to lose you. We all know you and have known you for a faithful public official, a man against whom no suspicion ever has been breathed. We wish to compliment you upon your long years of excellent service and express our deep sorrow that your age and sickness compels your retirement."

Marshal Baxter entered the department as marshal. For twelve years before he had been a member of a volunteer hand engine company. His former training as a newspaper man and later a police officer, combined with his experience in the volunteer company, made him a man especially fitted for his work, and he always has been known as one of the city's most efficient officials. — Detroit Free Press.

THE PLANET FOUND IT

B. D. Binga, of the Central Drug Store, is another of the vast host of people who have found out that advertising in The Planet pays.

Yesterday morning Miss Dolly Scott lost a very valuable watch. At noon Mr. Binga, who is a neighbor, found out about her loss and, with the instincts of the bright young man that he is, suggested that she should put an "ad." in The Great Home Journal. She followed his advice and at six o'clock the watch was returned. A small boy had found the watch, and, seeing the "ad." in The Planet, returned it to the proper owner.

Miss Scott is delighted over the recovery of her timepiece, and the little boy who found it is tickled to death over the reward he received.

WALLPAPER

Exclusiveness is, next to quality and value, a feature of the stock of Wall Paper we offer you. This is, we think, the reason why we are selling so much of it this season. You can get from us something that you will not find anywhere else; something that will harmonize with your carpets and furniture and this is not to be overlooked in the selection of paper. We have opened up a new lot of room mouldings in embossed designs, tinted to match on new Spring papers and picked out in gold—just the thing with a pretty paper border and ceiling to make a perfect room. The cost is a bagatelle compared with the result in your decorations. Sulman's Beehive, the store with the stock.

COUNTY JUDGES

Major Hugh Clark has introduced a bill into the legislature which is designed to limit the number of county judges. The promoter of the bill says this of it in his paper, the Kinardine Review: "In most of the counties where there are two judges there is need for only one. Perhaps no statute has had so much juggling done to it as this feature of the local courts act. When the Conservatives were in power in Ottawa, the Liberals in Toronto amended the act so as to limit junior judges to counties having over 80,000 of a population. (It should be stated that while the province has this power, the Dominion Government has the appointing of judges.) When the Liberals got into power at Ottawa, the Liberal Government at Toronto added a clause to the act stating that where the commission of a judge recited that the county to which he was appointed had a population of 80,000, that that recital was sufficient, it must be presumed to be true and could not be controverted. This clause allowed their friends at Ottawa to appoint several junior judges in counties that did not need two judges.

"Another section of the act allows two judges in all counties having cities. Mr. Clark's amendment reduces this to counties having cities of over 50,000 population. This will give two judges to York, Wentworth and Carleton, and to none others."

That immigrant who was dumped into Chatham by the same free and easy plan that increased the population of Leamington the other day, was not so lucky. This last is a laborer with a family and he has been on the pauper list for ten days. He was told by the immigration agents "at home" that when he reached Canada he would want for nothing. The family that invaded Leamington were told that a certain citizen would see that they wanted for nothing and the citizen's desire to live up to this expectation proved a happy thing for the wife. But it is a loose immigration policy and, like insurance, evidently needs investigation.—Windsor Record.

FOUND THE BOTTLES

Policeman James Dodson has found traces of some of the liquor which was stolen from Robert's liquor store at one o'clock and drove in carriages to the church, where service was held at three o'clock. The service was most impressive, the Rev. Mr. Hingley preaching a strong and appropriate sermon on "Preparation for Death." Many people were unable to get in the building, which was packed to the doors. The remains were interred in the graveyard behind the church.

WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

The funeral of the late Sidney Downs took place Sunday at St. Thomas church, Dover. A large body of S. O. E. members assembled at Burrows & Lorrain's store at one o'clock and drove in carriages to the church, where service was held at three o'clock. The service was most impressive, the Rev. Mr. Hingley preaching a strong and appropriate sermon on "Preparation for Death." Many people were unable to get in the building, which was packed to the doors. The remains were interred in the graveyard behind the church.

Bitter Tea Is Not Good Tea

People who don't like tea know only the kind that is just bitter, the lowland tea that has more tannin in the leaf than you can kill with any amount of sugar.

Grand Mogul is a Highland tea, grown on the mountains of Ceylon, up near the sun.

Balmy breezes and light soil produce the mellow flavor that makes Grand Mogul a distinctive product. High in theine (tea-one) and low in tannin (bitters) it appeals to the palate and tones up the nerves.

Grand Mogul Tea

Sold only in packages lined with paper, never in poisonous lead. "Mogul" premiums are simply a part of the advertising appropriation—and do not detract from the quality of the tea. A coupon in every package.

Herbert S. Clements, M. P., Speaks of Hog Slaying Iniquity in Kent County

Ottawa, March 26.—In the House to-day Mr. H. Clements, on a motion for a return, denounced the Government's unjust and unfair methods of dealing with hog cholera in Kent County.

For some time past a horde of Government inspectors had been going around the country feeding upon the fat of the land carrying out the regulations in an improper manner, slaughtering hogs right and left without any attempts at care or precaution being taken to save the droves.

Mr. Clements described these regulations to show their iniquity, and pointed out that farmers having been subjected to the unnecessary law the first time, refrained from reporting subsequent cases of sickness, with the result that the sick ones recovered under treatment and no disease broke out.

The proper course would have been to confine the inspection and penalties to the packing houses.

Mr. Clements read a letter from a prominent hog-raiser in Howard township complaining that the enforcement of the regulations was left to the discretion of local inspectors who were mainly interested in asserting their own authority.

There was little or no disease in the county.

Mr. Fisher's answer was that if there was little or no disease in the county it was due to the efficiency of his hog inspectors.

ESCAPE WAS SENSATIONAL

Mother Helps Son Away from Mimico Industrial School

DROVE UP IN A BUGGY

Toronto, March 27.—Five boys escaped from the Mimico Industrial School within 24 hours from midnight Sunday. Of these two have been captured. The pair, who escaped in their nightgowns, are still at liberty.

The most sensational escape occurred yesterday afternoon right under the nose of Superintendent Ferrier and the rest of the staff. George Cameron is only 14 years old.

Late yesterday Mrs. Ferguson, his mother, living at 62 Beatty avenue, Parkdale, called at the school and requested permission to see her son. She drove up in a buggy, and to all appearances looked the lady from the top of her expensive hat to the sole of her patent leather shoe. Mr. Ferrier granted the request readily.

After interviewing the son, the mother prepared to go away from the institution, and her son, convicted of housebreaking on Wilson avenue, returned to the ranks of the prisoners filling into the supper-room. Suddenly he broke away upon seeing his mother. She hurried after him and followed him into the buggy, covering him with the driving rug until beyond danger from pistol shot.

Before the startled officials could recover their wits she was down the roadway, driving the horse furiously, and her son with her. Her house on Beatty avenue, was searched last night but without finding trace of either mother or son.

NO MASTER MIND

Standard Oil is Directed By Aggregation of Experts.

New York, March 27.—John D. Archbold, vice-president of the Standard Oil Co., testifying at the hearing in the Ouster proceedings brought against the Standard Oil Co. by the State of Missouri, said that John D. Rockefeller knows nothing about the matters concerned in this suit.

"He dislikes very much the notoriety and cartooning," said Mr. Archbold. "If Attorney-General Hadley wants to go to Lakewood and question him, I am sure he will and him willing to answer any questions."

"There is only one way to examine witnesses here," the Attorney-General interrupted, "only one way."

Mr. Archbold said John D. Rockefeller is president of the Standard Oil Co., but has taken no active interest in the business affairs in some years, owing to ill-health.

"Who is the active head of the Standard Oil Co?" asked Attorney-General Hadley.

"There is no master mind in the Standard Oil," replied Mr. Archbold. "It is made up of an aggregation of individuals." The business was controlled by men, experts in their respective departments.

Deceased was a grandson of Mrs. A. Counts, of this place, who, with her daughter, Mrs. Campbell, left last night to attend the funeral at Mount Clemens.

A PLEASANT TIME

Canadian Order of Oddfellows Held a Very Enjoyable Smoker Last Evening

The Canadian Order of Oddfellows held a most successful smoker in their room last night, about 80 members and their friends being present.

Mr. Wm. Irwin was an excellent chairman and dispensed Irishness and witticisms in the true style of a son of old Erin throughout. The A. O. F. orchestra were present and deservedly won the applause of the assembly with some splendid selections.

Cigars were served to the company and a most enjoyable evening was spent in beaming conviviality. The program was a lengthy one, consisting of excellent selections by the orchestra, songs by Dr. Russell, recitations by Mr. Irwin, and Richard Tipping, a cornet solo by Mr. Sauerman, a fine violin solo by James Robinson, two trombone solos by Mr. Thorndyke, and an unique contortionists exhibition by Mr. Darling under the title of "the rubber man."

Mr. Irwin, organizer of the local lodge, made a capital address and Mr. Carswell, of Highgate, acted as chairman toward the end of the evening in place of Mr. Wm. Irwin, who left to catch his train back to St. Thomas.

Altogether the evening was a delightful success in every way and praise is due to Mr. James Robinson, who provided the program and was the chief factor in getting up the concert. After the entertainment votes of thanks were passed to all who officiated and one of the most successful smokers ever held by the Order closed at 11.30 by the singing of "God Save the King."

If the Banner only knew how really serious the public looked when the Banner man bumped into the buzz saw!

Perhaps the Banner had reference to its "joke" column when they asked the public not to take them too seriously.

KING'S SECOND COUSIN.

Count Albert Victor Gleichen Now Attached in Military Capacity to U. S. Embassy at Washington.

Count Albert Victor Gleichen, who is attached in a military capacity to the British embassy at Washington, is, in spite of his German name and title, an English soldier and in every sense of the word a Briton. He is no stranger to this country, writes the Marquis de Fontenay, which he visited about sixteen years ago, and on his return home published an article relating his American experiences and which appeared in Murray's Magazine, attracting a good deal of attention on this side of the Atlantic, owing to the fact that he had been imprudent enough to mingle with his praise some criticisms which were not altogether well received here. He is, however, a gallant soldier, one of the most popular men in the English army, alike with his fellow officers and with the rank and file, and besides that an extremely accomplished man, who paints, sketches, plays, and sings, as well as he writes. He is the author of several successful books, one of the most interesting of which is a record of his experiences as a member of Sir Rennell Rodd's mission to the Negus of Abyssinia.

Besides being the godson of King Edward and one of his equerries, Count Gleichen is his cousin. For his father, the late Prince Victor Hohenlohe, who, as Count Gleichen, rose to the rank of admiral in the English navy and distinguished himself in the Crimean war, was a favorite nephew of Queen Victoria, being a son of her half sister, Princess Victoria Hohenlohe, on marrying Miss Laura Seymour, assumed the title of Count Gleichen, which belonged to his family, and abdicated his rights and prerogatives as son of one of the medieval or formerly reigning houses of Europe, descending to the rank of a mere noble. Otherwise he would have been compelled to marry Miss Seymour morganatically. Prince Victor's sister was the mother of the present German Emperor, and Count Gleichen is, therefore, first cousin of her German majesty. Thanks to this, he has enjoyed an exceptionally privileged position at the Kaiser's court and in Berlin society, while acting as military attaché of the British embassy there. His mother now bears the title of Princess Victor Hohenlohe by virtue of an order of Queen Victoria, though it is not recognized on the continent. One of his sisters, Countess Frederica Gleichen, has achieved a little fame both as a painter and as a sculptress, having won prizes both at the Royal Academy and the Paris salon, while another sister, Countess Valda, who possesses a magnificent voice, married a few weeks ago Mr. MacNeill, under secretary of state in the department of finance of the Egyptian Government, and a son of the famous sportsman, Capt. MacNeill.

Count Gleichen, who holds the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the Grenadier Guards, and who is covered with decorations, is a bachelor, far from rich, and there are no restrictions in the way of his marrying anybody he chooses. His wife will come through her union to him a first cousin of the Kaiser and of King Edward, a German countess, and the helpmate of a charming and accomplished man, who is generally known among his friends by the nickname of "Glick."

I may add that he has seen a good deal of active service, having taken part in most of the Egyptian campaigns, is a graduate of the staff college, has been attached to special missions in Morocco, a country about which he has written, and was so badly wounded in the last war in South Africa that he was reported as dead in fact, his recovery were little short of miraculous.

How tactful he is in best shown by the manner in which he has managed to retain until now the affection and good will of his two kinsmen, the Kaiser and King Edward.

Leading Dietetic Authority.

Dr. Robert Hutchison, the leading authority at the present day on the subject of dietetics, is a Scotsman by birth, and was educated at the University of Edinburgh. He was one of the most brilliant students which the university ever had, and he was awarded every prize and scholarship practically which the university had to offer him. Edinburgh did not seem to give him a large enough field for his abilities, and he followed the example afforded by many of his countrymen in going south to the metropolis. There his ability was at once recognized, and, like the late Sir Andrew Clark, he was appointed physician to the London Hospital. Since then his career has been one of interrupted success. He has published what is at the present time the standard work on "Food and Dietetics," and also a manual on children's disease. Dr. Hutchison is a tall, very strongly-built man, clean shaven, with a quiet but impressive manner, and his whole personality speaks efficiency. He is possessed of a fund of dry humor, and of many friends.

Relic of Scotland's Kings.

An old cushion on which the Crown of Scotland rested was recently placed in the jewel room at Edinburgh Castle. The cushion has been presented to the nation by Sir Patrick Keith Murray, Bart., of Ochertyre, Gifford. It has been in the possession of the Keith Murray family since the marriage of the late Sir William Keith Murray, eighth Baronet, to the heiress of the last of the Keith Marischals, and who thereby became owner of Dunnotar Castle and Navelton House, near Edinburgh. It was sent in June last to the King's Remembrancer in Edinburgh, who, on receiving a certificate of authenticity from Sir Patrick Keith Murray, lodged the cushion with the regalia.

Always Raining There.

There is a group of islands to the south of New Zealand called the Sisters, or Seven Sisters, which are reputed to be subjected to a practically constant rainfall. The same may be said of the islands and mainland of Tierra del Fuego, for the difference there that the rain often takes the form of sleet and snow. On a line running round the world from four to eight or nine degrees there are patches over which rain seldom ceases to fall. This is called the "zone of constant precipitation," but at the same time there are several localities along it with very little rainfall.

A CHICAGO ALDERMAN OWES HIS ELECTION TO CHAMBER- LAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Schenck, 229 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop. I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took further doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

There is no use wasting time to study out the meaning of the shadows which usually fall across your pathway.

The mother who would be horrified at the thought of letting her daughter wander away to a strange country without guide or counsel, yet permits her to enter that unknown land of womanhood without counsel or caution. Then, in utter ignorance, the maiden must meet physical problems whose solution will affect her whole future life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been well named a "God-send to women." It corrects irregularities, and imparts such vigorous vitality to the delicate womanly organs, as fits them for their important functions. Many a nervous, hysterical, peevish girl has been changed to a happy, contented man after the use of "Favorite Prescription" has established the sound health of the organs peculiarly feminine.

Every woman should own a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. The same book of 1008 pages in substantial cloth for 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

LOVE'S PHILOSOPHY.

The fountains mingle with the river
And the rivers with the ocean,
The winds of heaven mix for ever
With a sweet emotion;
Nothing in the world is single
All things by a law divine
In one another's being mingle—
Why not I with thine?

See the mountains kiss high heaven,
And the waves clasp one another;
No sister-flower would be forgiven
If it disdained its brother;
And the sunlight clasps the earth,
And the moonbeams kiss the sea—
What are all these kissings worth,
If thou kiss not me?

—Shelley.

CINDERELLA.

Her Story is Very Ancient and is in Sacred Hindoo Books.

The story of Cinderella is substantially the same that told of Rhodope and Psammitichus by Eilian who lived in Rome in the third century of the Christian era. The story as told by Eilian is that while Rhodope was bathing an eagle carried away one of her sandals and dropped it near the feet of Psammitichus, King of Egypt, who, like Cinderella's prince, was struck by its diminutive size, caused the maiden to be sought for and married her when found. Make the sandal a glass slipper and add the ugly sisters for the sake of contrast, and the stories are much the same. The glass slipper, by the way, is an acknowledged fiction, being in reality a mistranslation of "pan-toufe en val" (a fur slipper), and not "en verre."

This at all events is what is claimed by Perrault in his "Contes de Fees." Both these stories have doubtless a common origin, but it is necessary to go farther back in the history of literature to find it—to a people who lived in a period of the world's history. It is in the Vedas, the four sacred books of the Hindoos, that the origin is to be found.

After what has already been said it will not be surprising to learn that Cinderella is a dawn maiden, her sisters being the powers of darkness, who compel her to wait upon them, keeping her hidden from sight. The dawn maiden breaks from her bonds and captivates the sun, remaining with him for a time. She is compared with him in the heavens. She can remain only until a certain hour. Once she lingers too long and, hurrying back, leaves on the path she has taken a token of her visit in the form of a fleecy cloud, which she carries along with her in the regions of darkness. The sun, determined to find her, sends out his emeralds (the rays of light), but does not find her until she appears before him as the evening twilight. In the Vedas the prince is called Mitra, which is one of the names given to the sun.—London Globe.

A Yankee Stretcher.

The late General Wilman W. Blackmar once told how he had overheard an English corporal drilling his squad in this fashion, according to the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"Now, then, No. 7," the corporal said, "we'll make another start—that is, if you've quite finished feelin' if your back hair happens to be on straight this mornin'. It's you I'm talkin' to—third man from the left on front rank. I haven't the pleasure of knowin' your name, but I expect to be writin' it down for an hour's extra work pretty soon. Now, then, look out to your front. Squad, 'tchum! Left dress! Turn your eyes to the left—without squintin' like Chinese rummies, if you can. Stand up in the ranks, too like soldiers, not like a measly row of lopped, spindle shanked, cockney shop boys! Stick your chests out and put your stummicks somewhere out of sight altogether. There's 'est of you with figure like bags of potatoes. Strike me crimson if I ever saw such a mob! Hi, you in the centre—the ginger headed man, I mean—don't grin like that. This ain't no perishin' beauty competition, not by no manner of means."

Badly Mixed.

The following extracts from speeches made by vestrymen are given in a local English paper:

Mr. H. D.—If I paid a man to do a job and he did not do it, I would not pay him.

Mr. G.—Is Mr. St. C. in order in introducing fresh matter that has already been decided?

Mr. D.—I move that we have a survey on this day (Thursday) fortnight on Saturday.

Mr. P.—I am proud of my ancestors, and I hope to be proud of my posterity.

Mr. B.—If this proposal is carried the parish will stink in the eyes of the ratepayers.

The Lake Dried Up.

Lake Chrissie is a small body of water in the eastern Transvaal, in connection with which there is an interesting legend. The Boers held the belief that not until the lake in question became dry would they lose their independence. For the first time with in human memory the lake, one of the very few fresh water lakes in South Africa, was perfectly dry during the latter stages of the war. After the declaration of peace the lake resumed its normal appearance, though the water was shallower than before. Twice since then—in 1904 and 1905—the bed of the lake has been quite dry.

CONFESSES TO A MURDER.

Rancourt Says He Had Himself Been Threatened With Death and Was Terrorized Into Deed.

Montreal, March 26.—A wire from St. Joseph, Beauce County, says that Bernard Rancourt was put on trial Saturday morning for the murder of Johnny Rainville. Friday the widow Rainville said she did not believe Rancourt killed her husband, but the young woman's theories were upset Saturday by a confession from the accused to High Constable Dulac of St. Mary's.

"Several times Rainville had threatened me with death," began the accused, "and he said things to me so terrible that they are still ringing in my ears. 'If you do not obey me in everything,' he declared, 'I will kill you like a dog.'"

"Seeing him alone in the road the night of Aug. 25, I was more frightened than ever because I believed my life to be in danger. In fact, I was afraid of my life whenever I would meet him. For the last few days before his death, Rainville became still more terrible in his threats, and I feared for my life."
