Three Million Troops Are Engaged in Battle Along Line To-day

GERMANS IN ALARM OVER THREATENED INVASION OF BERLIN

News That Kaiser Has Left for West is Taken Seriously—Report that Berlin is to be Burned Causes Terror in the Fatherland.

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
LONDON, Sept. 1.—The correspondent of the Express, telegraphing from The Hague, says: "There is the greatest alarm in Berlin over the advance of the Russian troops. The news that the Emperor has left the western headquarters and moved to the Russian front has shown the residents of the capital where the immediate peril to their safety lies."
"A story has been circulated that the Russians are preparing to avenge Louvain by treating the city of Berlin in the same way as the Germans treated that city. Many of the populace who can get away are going to Norway, Denmark and Switzerland."
"According to the German artillery experts, after vainly trying every type of field gun at their command against the forts, sent to the Krupp factory for a new 14-inch naval gun, which was set down four miles from the nearest Liege fort. The first shot fired from it hit the officers' mess house inside the Belgian fortifications, killing 125 men.

A DECISIVE VICTORY
LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch to The Times from St. Petersburg gives the following comment on the Russian operations against the Austrians:
"The Russian operations against the Austrians are considered by recognized military writers to have reached the stage when decisive victories may be within reach. The capture of the railroad centre forty miles south of Lemberg involves the rupture of railway communication with the Austrian fortresses on the Dniester and in Bukovina. Thus the southern part of Galicia, as well as Bukovina is severed from the remaining portions of Galicia, except by a circuitous route across the Carpathians."
"According to the Russian Slovo, the losses suffered by the Austrians in their desperate attempt to strike at the vitals of the Russian position in Poland, aggregate tens of thousands of men, including the sixth Austrian corps, which, on its retreat between the western Bug and the Wieprz Rivers, was almost annihilated."

BRITISH WIN FIRST BIG SEA FIGHT IN WORLD'S GREATEST WAR

Britannia still rules the waves. Her grim, gray war ships came to grips in the North Sea with Germany's navy, and as a result of what the British Admiralty terms "an operation of some importance" off the light of Heligoland on the morning of August 28, two German cruisers, one of them the Mainz, launched in 1910 and the fastest cruiser in the Kaiser's navy, and two destroyers of the Koin class, were sunk, and one battle ship left the scene in flames and in a sinking condition.
The enemy, which had been in hiding since the war began, stole out in a heavy mist at daybreak to attack the British fleet, but the Britons, who were not to be caught napping, soon sighted the oncoming Germans, waded right in and won the first substantial victory on the sea in the world's greatest war.
All the German cruisers which were engaged were thus disposed of. The battle cruiser squadron, although ably supported by submarines and floating mines, successfully evaded them and was not damaged, but no other vessel suffered no casualties. The flotilla cruiser Amethyst and the destroyer Laertes were damaged, but no other vessels were seriously injured. The British loss of life was not heavy. Rear Admiral Beatty was one of the commanding officers concerned in the skilfully handled operations.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF SEDAN MEANS FIGHT TO-DAY

Germans are Striving for a Dramatic Success and it is Believed that a Momentous Battle is Being Waged.

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
LONDON, Sept. 1.—To-day is the anniversary of Sedan and it is fully expected that the German army in France will make a supreme effort to celebrate the day in some strikingly effective manner.
Fighting has been resumed along the front, according to the official French account, which admits that the German right wing contigues its advance. No other details of this fighting have yet come through and it is not known whether the British army has again been engaged.
According to The Paris Temps, while the German forces are exhausting themselves by their tremendous exertions far from their base the French by their superior transport facilities, are able constantly to bring up fresh effective so as to prolong the struggle indefinitely and wear the enemy down if they do not beat them.

In regard to the eastern theatre of the war reports are conflicting. From St. Petersburg the continued success of the Russians against the Germans and Austrians is claimed. On the other hand Berlin which at last is beginning to issue much more news of the war claims important victories of the Austrians over the Russians.
It is impossible as yet to decide which of these conflicting reports is correct, but it is evident that fierce fighting is proceeding in the neighborhood of Lublin.

Three Million Troops are Battling on Frontier--- Headlong German Effort

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
LONDON, Sept. 1, 1.37 p.m.—To-day of the anniversary of the capitulation of Sedan, 3,000,000 troops are battling on the French frontier—the Germans in a headlong effort to celebrate the day with a dramatic success; the French, backed by their British allies to avenge their defeat of 44 years ago.
That the Germans have gained ground in their encircling movement on the French left wing is admitted by the French foreign office but it also is asserted that after a three days' battle in this region the Anglo-French, although pushed back, still remains unbroken.
This is described as the "wearing down" policy on the part of the allied armies, and it is claimed that the losses of the attacking forces have been enormously greater than have those of the defenders.

French troops alone thus far are available and nothing is reaching the public in London to enable even admitted experts to form an opinion of their real value.
The heaviest fighting appears to be taking place along the line from Oxyeronne, in the Department of Somme, to Verins in the Department of Aisne and there the flower of Emperor William's army is trying to pierce the British defence.
Further to the east the forces of the German crown Prince still are attacking the French in the region about Mezieres, the capital of the Department of Ardennes.
The only points where the French claim to have gained positive successes are in the Vosges Mountains and in Lorraine, where the Germans are said to be in retreat.

The statement that Emperor William has gone to the Russian frontier cannot as yet be confirmed.
Independent views of the fierce fighting now going on in East Prussia and in Galicia are entirely lacking so it is a case of one taking his choice between the German, Austrian and Russian versions of the battles.
The anxiety of friends of Millcent Duchess of Sutherland, was alleviated this morning by the receipt of a despatch from the American Ambassador at Berlin, who telegraphed that he had definitely ascertained that the Duchess and her whole ambulance staff were all well and working at Namur.

WAR SUMMARY

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
The absence of news concerning the progress of the European war is to-day most marked. Not since the early days of August when military operations first took serious form, has there been such a dearth of intelligence, official or otherwise. It is evident that there is a concerted effort on the part of both the British and French authorities to keep the world at large in absolute ignorance of what is transpiring in northern France.
No official statements have been issued in either London, Paris or Berlin, and such news as has come to hand is decidedly fragmentary, unsubstantiated, of minor importance and without real significance.
This veil of secrecy, drawn tighter to-day than at any time in the last thirty days, may be taken as an indication that events are transpiring in northern France. A similar silence was observed during the fighting around Mons, Cambrai and Leateau last week.
The latest official report on the situation north of Paris was issued last night. It was said that the French left, owing to the progress of the German right wing, had been forced to mark a "new retirement." Explaining this announcement, the French embassy in London, to-day, said: "The Anglo-French army corps have had to give ground, but nowhere have they been broken through. The fighting to-day is which the Allies are believed to be opposing the German advance, is thought to be centered around Le Fere, a strongly fortified French position on the River Oise, and 75 miles northeast of Paris. The fate of the French capital may hang on the outcome of these operations.
It is not definitely known whether the British troops in France have been engaged again or not.
A news despatch from Dieppe says a great battle has been fought at Croisilles, and is probably still in progress. No details are given nor has this report been received from any other source.

Croisilles is 10 miles southeast of Arras, in the Department of Pas De Calais, and is about fifteen miles from Cambrai.
Persons reaching Paris from the north, describe the preparations of the allies for a defensive fight. A Frenchman, who reached the capital to-day, says there are no Germans in Lille, Roubaix or Tourcoing, a group of towns near the Belgian frontier, which were occupied by Germans last week.
To-day is the anniversary of the battle of Sedan, which was fought with disastrous results to the French, September 1, 1870. This coincidence draws particular attention to the outcome of the present operations concerning which such an impenetrable silence is being maintained in London, Paris and Berlin.
Rome has received a report from so many that the Russians have inflicted a crushing defeat on the Austrians in Galicia, the troops of Emperor Francis Joseph suffering losses declared to amount to 200,000.
A news despatch from St. Petersburg makes a similar claim, making the Austrians in Poland having lost tens of thousands of men. Nevertheless reports from the eastern theatre of war continue to be conflicting. Both St. Petersburg and Berlin claim important victories.
By imperial order the city of St. Petersburg will henceforth be known as Petrograd, the change eliminating the Tsar's construction in the name of the chief city of Russia.
An official communication given out at Antwerp says the situation throughout Belgium is satisfactory. The Germans are declared to have evacuated Aerschot, and railroad communication has been restored in the Campine county.

Crushing Defeat

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch to the Daily News from Rome declares that news has been received there from Bucharest, Rumania, setting forth that the Russians have inflicted a crushing defeat on the Austrians in Galicia. They inflicted a loss of 200,000 on their enemy, who sought to cross the Vistula.

THE BRITISH FLEET SAVED THE SERVIANS

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
LONDON, Sept. 1, 8:1 a.m.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Cetinje states that the Austrians, supported by the Cattaro batteries and their fleet on Sunday re-attacked Mount Lovchen and Buda. The Montenegrin positions were being seriously damaged when the English and French fleet put in a timely appearance, silenced the batteries and forced the Austrian ships to beat a hasty retreat.
The Montenegrins under Prince Peter immediately began a counter-attack on the Austrian forces and repulsed them. They killed 450 men and took many prisoners, including several officers. Two pieces of artillery were also captured.

PICKED UP SHELLS AND THREW THEM OVER

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Harwich correspondent of the Telegraph gives interviews with wounded sailors and speaks of the plucky way in which the English handled live shells. Many of the German shells which made hits, it appears, did not burst.
"There were five shells in the boiler of one of the destroyers," he quotes one of the sailors as saying, and if one had burst it would have been all up with the ship.
"What did you do with them?" was asked.
"O, just shied them overboard. There was no room for such rubbish aboard our yacht."
In another instance, the correspondent says, it is related that a shell fell on a British ship, and as there was no immediate explosion the sailors rushed at it and pitched it into the sea with naked hands.

The Germans also showed considerable grit, it is said. As one of the cruisers was going down with decks afloat and the flag left in the forecastle hoisted the flag and then went down with the ship.
Proof that some of the Germans were shot by their own officers, the correspondent says, is given by one of the wounded Germans landed at Shotley, who has several revolver bullets in him, which he could only have come by on his own ship.

WORLD WIDE GLIMPSES OF THE WAR

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
SAVED BIG HOEL
LONDON, Sept. 1.—An Oxford undergraduate, who escaped from the German lines, has arrived in London after a trip through Louvain and Brussels. He says the Hotel De Ville, the beautiful fifteenth century structure, had not been set on fire or damaged by the Germans. In fact they took precautions to preserve it, and the officers said it was their intention to save the building. The cathedral, however, he says, was not allowed to go scot free, as all the windows were knocked in. The fabric was still intact when he left, but was filled with refugees.

BRUSSELS NOT GUARDED
Paris, France, Sept. 1.—Belgians, who are constantly arriving in Paris, say that the Germans have only from 20,000 to 30,000 men in Brussels, and that it is very easy to get in or out of the city. North of Brussels there has been constant minor engagements the Belgians from Antwerp harassing the German rear.

Refugees from Laon, a few miles from La Fere, say that there are no Germans there. Many refugees have also arrived from La Fere and Guise, where a mother and her children made the distance of fifty miles from Guise to Laon on foot. They received food from the soldiers on the way.

MISS EFFIE BUNNELL IS HOME FROM WAR ZONE

"Really," exclaimed Miss Effie Bunnell, at her home this morning, "I only passed through the most common every-day experience. Hundreds of people have had the same experiences as I have. One would think that I had gone through some sensational adventure when it was nothing extraordinary. The ships funnels were painted black and the port holes were covered up and all that sort of thing, but everyone knows that," she added.

Miss Bunnell admitted, however, that what was for her quite a common experience, inasmuch as she had gone through it with many others, was not by any means common to Brantfordites, who were not privileged to experience such adventures.

The thing which impressed Miss Bunnell more than all was the irrefragable optimism of the British people. "Everyone wore a confident expression and not a gloomy view was ever taken. The people seemed to have no doubt whatever of the outcome of the war. They took things more rationally than the populace here. Losses were expected at first and those losses were taken calmly. Citizens did not expect the British at first to sweep all before them, but they never doubted the eventual outcome."

"An elderly man stood beside me whilst I was watching a splendid regiment of Scots Guards pass along the street. They were fine, strapping fellows and excited the admiration of the nearby man, and he exclaimed with fervor: 'They're off to Waterloo, but it will be a better and finer Waterloo than the last.' And his words expressed the sentiment of all around."

"Everyone knows of the state of London," said Miss Bunnell. "Of the military aspect, of the stopping of vehicles of the people and things as they are in general. Almost every available building was turned into military headquarters and at one large Y.M.C.A. building, contacts upon many local territorial units, crowds of women and girls were to be seen; some wives, sweethearts, mothers and sisters and all with happy faces, pleased and proud of the fact that some relative of theirs was going to fight for his country."

The French take the war in a much more serious light than the British. They are much more emotional, and are pessimistically inclined upon the news of the least reverse. Of course they have reason to be more anxious than the English, as they are not surrounded by a sea wall such as England is. The war came upon France like a bolt from the blue. They were apparently unprepared, and there was not a sign or a shadow of the impending war on July 25th, the day when I left Paris. I saw two soldiers chatting away, with happy faces, and not a thought of war as I left.

"Southampton, as a seaport, was closed and therefore I had to embark at Newport, on the Welsh coast. When two days out sailors painted the funnels black and all deck lights were extinguished, while port holes were all covered and our cabins were ever locked upon us. The reason for this was not that we thought there were some Germans on board, and in order to effectually prevent them sending messages from the Ascania all berths were secured at night. No chart of the days' course was ever given during the voyage, and we were informed upon arrival in the St. Lawrence that the ship had been taken 145 miles north of her usual course. It was the captain's first trial in that capacity, and although we felt sure he was competent, we were a trifle anxious under the conditions; many of the former captains were taken for their country's service. Miss Bunnell said she would not have cared to be penned up in some little place as she had heard about, and was very pleased to be back in Brantford once more.

BRITISH WOUNDED TELL CHEERFUL TALES OF BATTLE

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Sept. 1, 4 a.m.—The following story of the fighting near Mons was told to an Express reporter by one of the British wounded who was brought here Monday:

"We had left the shelter of a little forest and opened out, supported by the north country regiments. Our colonel warned us that the German infantry was advancing."

"We had hardly extended ourselves prone along the grass when patches of blue and green were seen on the skyline and soon battalions of the enemy were made out following each other at regular intervals and gougled holes through them. 'Bravo,' shouted my platoon commander as he watched through his glasses."

"Now the order was given to fix bayonets. Before the enemy arrived the artillery had increased until it was an inferno. German shells were falling all round us. Our position was a little higher than that of the enemy and we were able to see their positions very clearly. The Germans escaped however, for whole platoons rushed to the right, emptying their magazines as they ran."

"A moment later the Germans were on us from the front, we let them come until their breasts were above the neighboring trench and then decimated them. They fell back in confusion and dropped to the ground."

"Another line we treated the same way. Scores of machine guns were turned on us, however, and we were ordered to prepare to charge."

"On the word of command we sprang as one man and with yell after yell charged the advancing Prussians. As we neared their ranks we fired indiscriminately and only a few remained to cross bayonets with us. The remainder rushed off and were shot in the back as they went. They left more than half their regiment on the field in killed and wounded."

TRICK WORKED WELL
LONDON, Sept. 1.—Wounded men in the hospitals of Boulogne related to The Express correspondent incidents of the fighting between the British and Germans. One of the men, he says, told of a trick which the British learned in the Boer war and which worked very well against the Germans. The story of the incident follows:

"The enemy before sending their infantry against our positions, opened a hot artillery fire. Our artillery replied at first warmly and then gun after gun of the British batteries went silent."

"'What's up now,' I asked a comrade. There were a few minutes more of artillery firing from the Germans and then their infantry came on in solid formation. We received them with rifle fire. Still they came on until they were within 100 yards of our position. Then they had their rifles fixed to their tripods and fired."

RAMEY-CALDWELL
A fashionable and pretty wedding took place in Trinity church, Waterloo, Ontario, on Wednesday, August 26th, at 2 o'clock when one of Waterloo's most popular young ladies, in the person of Eva M., second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Caldwell of Waterloo, was united in matrimony to Mr. Elmer V., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Ramsey, Simcoe.

The nuptial was tastefully decorated with white and pink gladioli. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. James Ward, of Waterloo, took place under a canopy of evergreens and white gladioli.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming, in a gown of white silk crepe, trimmed with silk shadow lace, with full veil and orange blossoms, and wearing a beautiful necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Miss Ariel Beemer.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gladys, who looked very pretty in a dress of pink broadcloth silk with a long Russian tunic of pink chiffon and hat of pink chiffon to match. She carried a large bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Stanley Sutton of Simcoe, who acted as best man.

The happy couple left on the M.C.R. for a trip to Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis.

The bride's travelling suit was of brown with hat to match. She was the recipient of numerous, handsome and costly gifts, showing the esteem in which she was held by her many friends. She will be greatly missed in Trinity church, where she was soprano soloist for a number of years.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace; to the bridesmaid a cameo ring set with pearls; to the best man a pair of gold initial cuff links and to the ushers cameo tie pins.

Guests were present from Simcoe, Alvington, Brantford, London, Hamilton and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramey on their return, will reside at Simcoe, Ont.

GAVE GUARANTEE

Four Richest Men in Belgium Will Pay Shot to Germany.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch to The Express from The Hague says that the four richest men in Belgium have guaranteed the payment to Germany of the war tax which the Germans levied against Belgium. The four men are Ernest Solvay, the Alkali king, Baron Lambert, the Belgian representative of the Raschid; Raoul Warocque, the mine owner, and Baron Empain, the railroad magnate.

"Had not this guarantee been given," says the correspondent, "Brussels would probably have been treated as Luvain was. Big guns were mounted in front of the palace ready for bombardment."

A NARROW ESCAPE

Fire on Colborne Street Last Night Nearly Suffocated Inhabitants.

A number of foreigners ad a close call last night when they were all but suffocated in smoke laden passage when Fire Chief Lewis burst open a door and succeeded in helping the fellows to stumble out of their stifling prison. This occurred at 11:15 last night when a fire raged in the basement of Barney Gaynor's tobacco store.

P. C. Tyrell, proceeding on his beat, noticed smoke issuing from the grating of the store and immediately summoned the Fire Dept. with the result that a dangerous conflagration was nipped in the bud. Some wooden joists in the cellar had taken fire, supposedly from a gas heater, which was left on, and soon the building was full of dense volumes of smoke. Looking around, the fire chief heard some one frantically pulling at a side door and he lost no time in mucking short work of the door and out stumbled the half stifled foreigners. A number of them had their belongings in the passage and succeeded in bringing them out into the street. Two hydrants were played upon the fire and it was soon extinguished. The damage is estimated at about two hundred dollars, but adds to the loss of the damage to Gaynor's stock of cigars and shop fittings.

Military Notes

The Dufferin Rifles paraded at the Armouries 200 strong last night under Major Genet and provisional adjutant Capt. W. Newman. Parading somewhat small in numbers, but looking in pretty fair condition, the influx of recruits making raw spots here and there—the men, however, are going with keenness and spirit to their duties.

Upwards of a dozen joined the battalion last night, many to await the first opportunity for active service when volunteers are asked for. The ambulance men were thirteen strong and paraded two stretcher parties with a spare man. Their work is being perfected in many ways and increased proficiency is remarked as they go through the bearers duties. The battalion held a drill outside on the triangle under the various company officers who find themselves somewhat handicapped by the fact that many companies are mere skeletons. A strong appeal is being made to obtain recruits and it is hoped there will be a response which will bring the Dufferin Regiment up to strength. It is a duty for every man to perform that he learn to bear arms for his country.

Eight hundred men of the Royal Canadian Regiment are about to leave Halifax for Bermuda, to replace British regulars.

CHEQUES WERE ISSUED

Patriotic Committee at Work—Mayor Spence Receives a Threatening Letter To-day

"Men in this city want work; if they don't get it there will be trouble." This was the opening sentence of a threatening letter received by Mayor Spence this morning. Needless to say his worship is much annoyed. In his own capacity as Mayor he has been working under a terrific strain and his time has been almost wholly occupied in looking after things which form one of the most difficult problems this city ever faced.

Yesterday a letter appeared offering criticism and it has been pointed out that if the writer who had the welfare of the family he instanced really at heart he would have reported the case of distress to the authorities and not have run to the public press with the matter.

Mayor Spence announced this morning that the committee was now in a position to handle cases and this morning 62 cheques were sent out through the mail. Accompanying the cheques were instructions as to how and when they would be further issued and on what basis the money was distributed. Each case is investigated separately and the amount is arranged on the basis of necessity. In case of large families the amount is greater. The city adds so much to the government pay of each soldier, according to the dependents left. At the same time the city is advancing the government pay itself, although it is not known when it will be forwarded. It is expected that additional cheques will be forwarded shortly.

"Those who have required immediate assistance have been given it," said the Mayor to-day. "If there are any more urgent cases they should be reported. The city is ready and willing to do its part."

MR. CHRIS. SUTHERLAND HAD SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS TRIP

He Arrived in Scotland Just Before War Broke Out—Many Interesting Sights in the Land of Heather.

Mr. Chris. Sutherland, the well-known Colborne street merchant tailor has just returned from Scotland, after one of the most successful and yet one of the most interesting business trips he has ever taken to the Old Land. As is well known, Mr. Sutherland buys direct from the big Scottish manufacturers and in his recent trip he was extremely fortunate in a business way. He arrived in Glasgow on the Letitia, July 19, just a couple of weeks before war broke out. As a result of his timely arrival Mr. Sutherland cleaned up his business and completed his buying before the bolt from the blue came, for a veritable bolt from the blue it was. When war broke out, prices went up tremendously and Mr. Sutherland effected a great saving from which his trade in Brantford will receive the advantage. From a business view-point, Mr. Sutherland's trip was a great success in every way.

However, it was of fascinating interest as well. He visited Scotland only, but Scotland on the North Sea coast at the present time is alive with action, which bespeaks the spirit of the nation. Mr. Sutherland was in Glasgow when the war broke out, but Glasgow took it quietly. Not even closing the banks for four days caused any excitement, so great was the confidence of the people. The Scotch had made up their mind that a big job had to be faced and there was no use getting excited about it. The Government acted quickly. From one warehouse which he dealt with, Mr. Sutherland saw five motor trucks commandeered for service and he saw one hundred men leave work out of the warehouse for the front. The soldiers would stop a man with a horse and rig, unhitch the horse, have him examined and if the animal was satisfactory, the rig would be left standing on the street.

On the coast the people were somewhat more excited. On reaching Inverness, Mr. Sutherland saw 18,000 soldiers, chiefly Highlanders, all mustered. The library in church, every school and town hall, were sleeping quarters for the troops. Two weeks ago 10,000 of these troops went out one night under secret orders for the front. Further north at Cromarty, the British naval base, and Invergordon, Mr. Sutherland witnessed interesting things. The fortifications are tremendous, particularly the guard which is kept over the big oil supply for the British fleet. The precautions taken are amazing, as it is well known the British Isles are honey-combed with German spies.

Mr. Sutherland saw two boats captured from the Germans, one of which had been engaged in laying mines. He saw 100 prisoners escorted to the prison at Perth.

An interesting incident took place in Glasgow in front of the booking office, which was filled at the time with Americans. The Highland Light Infantry was passing and the Americans rushed out and cheered the regiment lustily. It made a great impression on everybody.

Mr. Sutherland's return was delayed over two weeks, because of the ocean liners being commandeered by the Government. Men offered to sleep on the deck if they could only return and they offered fabulous sums for passages. The Americans finally admitted that they had little excuse for panic as old Britain was a pretty safe place after all, even in war time. Mr. Sutherland finally got back on the Letitia, which was held up twice en route, but on both occasions by British cruisers. On the return was a Belgian passenger to Montreal, who had just left Brussels before the Germans arrived. Mr. Sutherland got home in the best of health and spirits, and is imbued with the feeling of the British business world, that business must go on, war or no war.

RED SOX LOST GAME

Big "Nick" Should Have Won Game Which Went 12 Innings.

After having taken the lead through Dudley's home, the Brants failed to take advantage of opportunities yesterday and were beaten by the Brewers, who won on Hartkins' drive in the twelfth after Lacroix had dropped his foul fly. Nickels pitched a splendid game up to the ninth, allowing but four hits, but after that was hit freely. The feature plays were made by Cosma, who ended Toronto's last innings with a catch off his boot tops. Manager Ort also saved the game for Toronto by a one hand catch in the twelfth.

TROOPS REVIEWED HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 31.—Eight hundred men of the Royal Canadian Regiment, who will replace British regulars at Bermuda, were reviewed today by His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada. After having passed through the ranks, H. R. H. told the R. C. R. that they were going to Bermuda and would probably be sent to the front later to serve their king and country. He referred to the fact that the Royal Canadian Regiment was the first Canadian regiment to ever leave this country on Imperial duty. The Duke of Connaught said that he would follow the movements of the regiment with interest.

CAN'T TAKE PARIS LONDON, Sept. 1.—Eugene Clemenceau, former premier of France, is quoted by the Paris correspondent of The Mail as saying: "We are fighting for a great cause which is worthy of great sacrifices. We knew our frontier would be invaded everywhere. We are still resisting, and have many troops in reserve for the big battle which will follow this one. The Germans cannot invest Paris. Its size is too vast."

IRISH OF MONTREAL OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 31.—An order-in-council authorizes the establishment of an Irish infantry regiment in Montreal. It is understood 300 men are already enlisted and that W. B. O'Brien of Montreal, may be the commanding officer.

SIXTEEN BATTALIONS He also gave Col. Williams the necessary authorization to raise sixteen battalions instead of twelve, or in other words, gave instructions for the formation of a fourth brigade. This was on account of the large number of volunteers. There were 29,000 men in camp, and the first contingent would comprise but 22,000 men. The Minister said that no one need be disappointed if he did not go with the first force, for all would have a chance before long.

INSPECTED NEW PROPERTY After addressing the officers, Col. Hughes rode over the new property on Pinkey's mountain, recently acquired by the Government, accompanied by Lieut.-Col. McBain and other officers. The Minister was pleased with the location, which is ideal for artillery purposes, and gave Col. McBain instructions to have it cleared and ready for use within ten days, in which he also inspected the camp generally, and held a consultation with the various commanding officers. He will most likely return to Ottawa tomorrow morning.

QUEEN IN ENGLAND LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Queen of Belgium and her children who arrived in London last night, were met by the Belgian ambassador at the station and proceeded almost unnoticed to the residence of Lord Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India, whose guests they will be for a few days.

ANOTHER 6,000 MEN TO GO FROM CANADA

A Fourth Brigade is to be Formed for Contingent at Valcartier--Dominion's Volunteers Hear Stirring Speech by Col. Hughes.

VALCARTIER CAMP, Sept. 1.—Col. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, announced yesterday afternoon in an address to the officers that a fourth brigade was to be organized here, bringing the strength of the Canadian force which will leave here shortly for active service to about 26,000. One battalion of this brigade will be sent to Bermuda, while the others will be despatched to points not yet decided upon. A later official announcement was to the effect that four regiments, considered to be the strongest individual units in the Dominion, would go to the front in separate units. These are the Queen's Own Rifles, 48th, Highlanders, of Toronto, and the 5th Royal Highlanders, and 1st Royal Montreal Rifles, Montreal. For weeks it has been stated that the regiments mentioned were to go as units, but until last night there was no definite official confirmation, and the men affected are naturally highly delighted. The new arrangement means that an entire reorganization of the camp, including an appointment of another commander, will be necessary. Col. Victor Williams, camp commander, stated last night that it would be proceeded with immediately.

Col. Hughes' Speech. Mounted on his bay charger and surrounded by upwards of a thousand officers, the pick of Canadian manhood, Col. Hughes yesterday afternoon delivered a brief, soldierly address in which he said that only fully qualified officers, thoroughly trustworthy and capable of leading men, would be allowed to go with the expeditionary force. This affects a great many of the younger men here, and it is probable that they will go as privates. Many other officers will be left behind, for there are some 1,500 in camp, and only 500 will be required for the first contingent. "It is absolutely necessary to secure the most competent officers available," Col. Hughes said, "and I have even refused some of my personal friends who have applied for commissions. I want men of action. I want cool-headed men, because it is a terrible responsibility that they will be called upon to shoulder. They men who can make quick decisions, whether they are in charge of a battery or a battalion. Incompetent officers are worse than baggage, for they have to be fed."

Shortly before midnight last night another man was arrested by the military police, charged with smuggling intoxicants into the lines. He had been carrying a quantity of whisky, for $24 was found on him when searched by the authorities. It was announced here last night that Lord Kitchener had called the authorities accepting the services of six Canadian aviators.

SUICIDE AT GUELPH GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 31.—John J. Hunt, aged 45 finisher in the Bell Piano factory, committed suicide this morning by drowning near Victoria bridge in a few feet of water. The body was found shortly after noon by four boys in a canoe. Around his neck was tied a big stone.

A BIG SOLDIER. TORONTO, Aug. 31.—Mr. McIlroy, M.P. for Carleton, who is here today, says Carleton claims the honor of having sent the largest man to the war. He is ex-Reeve Sergt. Godfrey Armitage, who stands 6 feet 5 inches and weighs 225 pounds. He is accompanied by a brother in the ranks who stands 6 feet 2 inches.

OUR TROOPS EXCELLENT. LONDON, Sept. 1.—A Times' despatch from Paris speaking of the fighting in the north says: "Throughout the fighting of the last few days, swarms of aeroplanes have circled the sky. The enemy's supply arrangements are reported to have broken down, the men in some cases subsisting on the flesh of horses. The British transport is working admirably. The spirits of the British and French troops are excellent."

WERE DRESSED LIKE SOLDIERS FROM ENGLAND

How Germans Tricked a French Regiment in Fight at Guise.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—12-25 a.m.—The latest list of soldiers dead issued here includes the name of Pierre Gouyon, of the Department of Ain, the first of the numerous members of the Chamber of Deputies at the front to succumb.

A corporal in a convoy of wounded at Champigny says that in the fighting at Guise a regiment firing on the line heard the signal to cease shooting, immediately in front of them they saw soldiers wearing caps like the English. They advanced cheering the English and were met by a deadly discharge of rifle fire. The Germans, he declared, had used this subterfuge to draw the French on.

Stories of the hardship and courage of the French wounded are reaching Paris. One of these refers to an Algerian rifleman who was taken to Noisy-Le-Sec seriously wounded with a bullet in his head. He insisted that he be operated on immediately, and made so much fuss that the surgeon in charge conducted him to

GERMAN SOLDIER DEFEAT AHEAD IN GENERAL

Three years ago a book published in Germany predicted what has just taken place in Europe. Even then the author regarded the general European war as a certainty of the near future. What makes the book the more remarkable is that it was written by a German soldier who was a member of the German army at the time. The book is entitled 'Germany and the New War' and the author is Gen. Friedrich von Bernhardi. It was written in 1911. An English translation by Allan H. Powles has been published by Edward Arnold in London.

Has Gloomy View. A striking feature of the book, is the impression that Gen von Bernhardi takes a rather gloomy view of the outcome. He sees Italy detached from the Triple Alliance. He sees England's fleet striking with overwhelming strength at Germany's fleet. He sees the armies of Germany, with only moderate help from Austria, outnumbered by the armies of France on the west, and Russia on the east. He sees the possibility of an invasion of the empire by England and her allies through Belgium and Holland. He sees Germany's commerce suffering severely if not ruined.

Our next war will be fought for the highest interests of our country and of mankind. This will invest it with importance in the world's history. 'World power or downfall' will be our rallying cry. Built for War. Gen von Bernhardi believes the English have long been preparing to attack Germany by sea. 'These preparations are like a strategic march and the natural extension of their naval bases leaves no doubt as to their meaning. The great military harbor of Rosyth is admirably built for the eventuality of a war with Germany and can mean nothing else. Harwich has also been recently made into an especially strong naval base and, further, the roadstead of Scapa Flow in the Orkney Isles has been enlarged into a cruiser station. These are measured so directly and obviously directed against us that they demand an inquiry into the military position thus created.'

He does not believe Germany could effect much by a sudden attack on the English fleet or by attempt to war on British policy. Under the circumstances her fleet would have to rely directed against us that they demand an inquiry into the military position thus created. Gen. von Bernhardi does not profess to be an authority on naval matters and in giving his views as to

THE PROBS

TORONTO, Sept. 1.-Rain is now becoming general in Ontario while a few light scattered showers have occurred in the west. Local frosts are reported from Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Fresh to strong south to southwest winds, showery with thunderstorms. Wednesday-Fresh to strong west to southwest winds, a few passing showers, but partly fair and cooler.

Schools Open Again To-day

Three thousand boys and girls of the city trooped back to school this morning when the six school buildings and the Collegiate Institute once more opened their doors for the benefit of the future generation.

Over two solid months these children have enjoyed freedom and liberty and it was with different and perhaps, indifferent feelings that many of them returned to what is generally regarded as a continual drudgery. Mothers, particularly, are pleased with the resumption of school hours as this institution of young life, save the mothers a great deal of worry.

Promptly at nine o'clock bells rang and whistles were blown and the assembled students went back to their tasks in the school rooms. They were confronted by many old teachers and twelve new ones, a total of 67 in all. Besides these there are the kindergarten teachers and the domestic science and domestic economy teachers, altogether some 81 teachers.

There were no special addresses given to the scholars. The principal was assured that they were pleased to see them safely back at their duties and this was practically all the ceremony attached to the occasion. There are about 150 or 200 new scholars enrolled that there was last year.

Laid of Rest

Infant Jackson. Many sad scenes marked the funeral of little John Jackson, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, of 53 Alfred street, when interment took place yesterday at Mount Hope Cemetery. The Rev. Marshall conducted the last ceremonies, which were attended by many sympathizing family friends. The flowers, which were many and beautiful, were sent by the following: Mrs. Marshall, Mother and Daddy, Herbert and Freddy, Mr. Jarvis and Mr. Crea-geor, Balfour Street Sunday School, Janie Ferroll, Madge and Vera, Dig-George and Annie, Mr. J. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. F. Morrison, Mr. F. Neal, Maggie Jones, Mrs. Sweet, Fern Foster, Mr. and Mrs. H. McCormack, Clara Biffin, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Diggins, Mrs. J. Couperthwaite.

All Protest Against Sale

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.-Expressions from each of the powers of the Triple Entente that they would regard with disfavor the purchase of German steamers for use as transport of arms and munitions were sent by the Administration officials for consideration to-day. Great Britain, France and Russia state that an immediate prohibition would be placed at the disposal of the Germans through the transfer of marooned German steamers to the United States. It was suggested, however, by the German Government that if the Washington Government bought an equal number of ships from each of the belligerents there would be no complications was seen nevertheless in questions that might arise over cargoes carried on the American ships, which Administration officials have asserted the proposed shipping line would handle only those cargoes defined as not contraband, yet the ambassadors of the allies expressed the belief that their governments would raise objections even to conditional contraband, that would tend to restrict purchases with the belligerents.

With the City Police

The business of the police court was generally dealt with his morning. Three assault cases were settled out of court. John Leanders was discharged on a trespass charge, while Jas. Tufford was fined five dollars. Darby Jennings did not appear and a warrant for his arrest was issued. Two drunks contested the list.

LABOR REPORT

Conditions in Brantford During July as Told in Gazette.

The following is the report of labor conditions in Brantford during July as told, in the Labor Gazette, Ottawa:

"Labor conditions were not improved generally over the conditions existing in June. There was a surplus of labor in nearly all trades. The erection of a new school and a new factory found work for more employed. The civic authorities were continuing the sewer work, and applications were still being received."

The work at Long Bridge preparatory to raising it was being continued, and a new bridge to span the Grand River for the Lake Erie and Northern Railway was commenced. A factory has been commenced in which silk manufacturing will be carried on, the cost of erection being $35,000.

The Stone works, which was closed down for some time for alterations to machinery has resumed operation. Short time was general in the factories and a large number of men were idle. The strike of painters was ended, the men returning to work during the month.

Tenders have been called for the erection of a government building at Burford. Agriculturists were busy. Haymaking and wheat harvest progressing. The wheat in some sections was reported good, and in others fair. Rain was badly needed for the market gardens. The army worm caused a lot of damage. Railroad construction was active.

The application made by the Lake Erie and Northern Railway to the Municipal Council was not allowed by the Railway Commission. The Company wished to alter the position of its station here.

Expect Turkey to Make War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.-The British embassy has been informed by a cable from London that Germany has expressed a desire to send a military mission to Constantinople to take charge of the Turkish army, and that a declaration of war from Turkey was expected. Plans are already under way to ask the American ambassador at Constantinople to take charge of British interests there.

The Turkish ambassador, A. Ruge, has expressed a desire to-day that the Turkish army was mobilizing and about to fight on the side of Germany. He said the Turkish army was mobilized three weeks ago.

THIS LOOKS LIKE WAR. ROME, Sept. 1.-Seventy-two superior German officers forming the German military mission at Constantinople, have been incorporated in the Turkish army and will participate in the war.

The presence of the German officers in the army is interpreted to mean that Turkey will fight on the side of Germany.

SPAIN IS UNEASY

Government is in Accord With Britain-British Officers Visit Coast.

(By Special Wire to the Courier) NEW YORK, Aug. 1.-A cable from Madrid to The Tribune says: Although the attitude of the Spanish Government is officially one of the most strict neutrality, it is clear that the sympathy in the official world is in favor of the advanced elements. But it is also apparent that Germany has the sympathy of a large number of Spaniards, who seen in a German party organized two demonstrations that were quickly suppressed by the government, whose actions are the object of comment.

It is known that despite the declaration that Spain will be neutral, the last officers in the army and navy who were on leave of absence have been ordered to join their colors. The artillery placed there and of Biscay have been reinforced. A large force of engineers, has been sent to the Balearic Islands, and it is supposed that a number of British officers have visited nearly all the coast defenses.

The public takes it for granted that an important move is in preparation.

War News Briefly Told

Refugees from Brussels say food there is getting scarce and declare the German garrison today numbers not more than 10,000. German sentinels are posted at all the public buildings.

Queen Elizabeth of Belgium and her children, who arrived in London last night, are to-day the guests of Lord Curzon.

A news despatch from The Hague says the four richest men of Belgium have guaranteed to pay 100,000,000 francs of the war tax of $40,000,000 levied against the Belgian capital.

News despatches published in London say that the people of Berlin, alarmed at the Russian advance, are beginning to flock to Germany for neutral countries. The Prince of Wales relief fund is approaching the $10,000,000 mark.

POSITION IS GOOD. PARIS, Sept. 1.-The position of the allied armies, according to the opinion of French military experts, is good. The Germans, it is pointed out, are attempting a movement which, if it failed, will leave them in a dangerous situation with their troops exhausted. The British army, fresh and rested, the experts say, is about to engage the German extreme right, and to support the French who have been retiring slowly for several days.

Two Army Corps and Captured and Confident of the War.

GENERAL IS LOST. LONDON, Sept. 2.-A telegram from St. Petersburg, says: "Lieutenant-General Samoff, who commanded a corps in the Russo-Japanese war, and who recently was chief of the Russian Turkistan military district is deeply regretted."

The above would seem to indicate that General Samonoff died, although no report of death has been received here.

INVADE GERMANY. LONDON, Sept. 2.-A telegram from St. Petersburg, says: "Besides advancing in Prussia, the Russians are also vading Germany in northern Italy, their objective being nightclubs, in Prussian Sillesia, presumably they march on Berlin via Breslau."

CAN BE BELIEVED. LONDON, Sept. 2.-Telegram from St. Petersburg, the respondent of The Times declares that the war reports given of the headquarters staff in the sian capital are generally accurate, but in contrast with the case in Berlin and Vienna, they are always true. Up to present time they have had nothing to announce but a series of defeats. That the Headquarters staff in the Russian capital is so confident of the future, and that the Russian people, which doubtfully is deserved and as well for the future.

The wording of to-day's announcement indicates that the Russian people are confident of the future, and that the Russian people, which doubtfully is deserved and as well for the future.
