Fierceness of Fighting Marks End of German Retreat

TURKEY DEMANDS FREE HAND IN THE CAUCASUS

Declares Her Intention of Handling the Situation There According to Her Own Ideas — Split With Germany Due in Part to This Issue

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, July 30.—Turkey is going to handle the situation in the Caucasus according to her own ideas. This is indicated in a telegram from Constantinople dated July 28, which quotes an article in the newspaper Nasilik Ekki; presenting the Turkish viewpoint.

"We have nothing to say against the principles laid down in the Brest-Litovsk treaty," says the article, "but when the Caucasus, newly organized, turn toward us, and master of its own destinies, refused to be bound by the treaty, what is more natural than to take into consideration the necessities of this new situation created on our eastern front? A people close our ears to the appeal of the government of a people largely of the same race and creed as ourselves?"

"We are aware of the action and its present progress to place under German control Tiflis and Baku. That is a logical incident of the application of the Brest-Litovsk treaty. How could this treaty be taken into consideration in the affairs of the Caucasus, seeing that the Bolshevik government has not even been able to return to us, in accordance with the treaty, our eastern frontier, that in the Caucasus influences entirely independent of the Bolshevik government have arisen."

This reported attitude on the part of Turkey, which account in part for the report received through Copenhagen that Turkey and Germany had severed relations.

Washington, July 30.—The conference in London between the food controllers of the United Kingdom, United States, France and Italy is continuing its labors. Meetings are being held almost daily and it is said that the controllers will conclude their discussions by the end of the week.

Satisfactory progress has been made, and the establishment of an interallied food council, composed of controllers is now an accepted fact. A resolution adopted yesterday emphasizes the need for economy and the elimination of waste, as well as increased production. It concludes:

"We cannot adulterate the food problem on the basis of one year's want. We must prepare for long continuance if we are to insure absolute victory."

GREAT FIGHT COMING

Franco-Americans And British Continue to Make Progress

Paris, July 30.—The fierceness of the fighting Monday, it is believed here, is a sign that the German retreat has reached its limit and that the enemy will make stand with his right wing on the plateau south of the Crisse and with his left on the hill south of the Ardre. For the defence of this line, it is held, the Germans will devote all of General Von Boehm's army and the reserve divisions taken from Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.

NO CHANGE. Paris, July 30.—There was no change in the situation north of the Marne last night, says the statement from the French War Office today.

The official statement reads: "During the night no event of importance was reported from the front north of the Marne."

London, July 30.—German positions in the Marne region, on the Flanders front, were entered last night by Australian troops who took forty prisoners, the War Office announced today.

The enemy are active in the Marne region, on the Flanders front, were entered last night by Australian troops who took forty prisoners, the War Office announced today.

The text of the statement reads: "We captured a few prisoners last night in the neighborhood of Ayelette."

"Shortly after midnight Australian patrols entered the enemy's positions about Merris. Forty prisoners have been taken by our troops in this locality."

With the American Army, Alame-Marne Front, July 30.—Brought to an American dressing station on the banks of the Ourcq, a wounded German captain kept repeating, "One, two, three" monotonously, but with an earnestness indicative of his concentration. An inquiry by a nurse elicited this explanation:

"Oh, all those German officers do that."

"You see," said the nurse, who was administering ether preparatory to an operation upon the German officer, "an average person talks when under the anaesthetic. It is like talking in your sleep. The German knows this and every officer we get sees under the ether while counting. The result is that instead of talking and giving information they keep right on counting."

Ourcq asserted that he had been released from a German prison three weeks ago to join the army. When the Allied offensive began he was sent to fight with the Germans operating along the Marne. This prisoner said that other Germans had been released from confinement and turned over to the army. From a dead German the Americans to-day took two written papers showing that he had been free from the Nordlingen prison July 17 to go to the front. The documents showed that notwithstanding the man joining the colors the penalty he was paying was to continue hanging over his head. This German was killed just after the Allies had crossed the Ourcq.

NO GRAIN FOR MALTING. Washington, July 30.—Under a ruling to-day by the Food administration, malsters may not purchase any grain for malting purposes before next Oct. 1st. This action was taken pending determination of the amount of malt required for next winter's crop, the administration expecting that malsters now have on hand a sufficient amount to meet their requirements until January 1.

PRESSURE MAINTAINED AGAINST GERMAN LINES IN POCKET OF THE MARNE

Allied Troops Make Additional Gains Despite the Heavy Resistance

HUN RETREAT ENDED? By the Associated Press. Allied troops maintain their pressure against the German lines in the Marne pocket and are making additional gains despite increased enemy resistance, which may indicate the end of the retreat is near. Not only in the south but in the east and west—in fact everywhere except in the immediate environs of Soissons and Rheims—the Allies are forcing the Germans to give ground. Especially important is the progress on the flanks. Violent counter attacks with large forces and violent artillery and machine gun fire mark the German efforts to stop the on-coming Allies. But the enemy has been unable to halt the steady advances, although holding it up temporarily at several points. The base of the pocket is almost straight except for a jagged salient south of Ville-en-Tardenois.

Allied hammering on the flanks is beginning to tell. South of Soissons Scottish troops are pressing forward through Bazancourt. Between there and the Ourcq, French forces have gained appreciably, and are now efforts to stop the on-coming Allies. But the enemy has been unable to halt the steady advances, although holding it up temporarily at several points. The base of the pocket is almost straight except for a jagged salient south of Ville-en-Tardenois.

On the east, southwest of Rheims, the British and French have advanced farther west of the Dormans-Rheims road. Around Bigny and St. Euphrasie, where the German line had stood firm against repeated attacks in the past ten days, the Allies have progressed. The Germans have tried to check the French and American advance north. They now are on higher ground than the French and Americans, and apparently are making full use of the natural advantages in which to inflict as heavy losses as possible.

Whether the Germans are going to stop their withdrawal northward where they now stand is not clear. Berlin gives no indication of any further retreat, but says that the "defense" has been shifted to between Fere and Ville. The Allied successes on the flanks, however, may speedily force the enemy to gain more northward. Paris believes the enemy will try to stand on his present position.

The Germans expected great successes to follow their blow of July 16, is indicated by the large store of munitions captured by the Allies in the forest region north of the Marne. General Poch defeated the offensive and in the retirement the Germans took their guns but left (Continued on Page 4)

HUNS BREAK WITH TURKS

Relations Have Been Severed, According to Copenhagen Dispatches

ALLIES FALL OUT

Ottomans Wanted Bigger Slice of Rumania and a Black Sea Fleet

London, July 30.—The relations between Germany and Turkey have been severed, according to direct information from Constantinople. This announcement is made by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The sentiment against Germany, the advice further say, has been growing, particularly after the last week's events. The Germans recently demanded the cruiser Hamidieh, the only large ship then in possession of Turkey, as compensation for the Breslau, the former German cruiser, which was destroyed in the Dardanelles while under the Turkish flag. Despite Turkey's protest the Hamidieh has departed for Sebastopol with the German flag flying.

If, as reported, there has been a break in the relations between Germany and Turkey, disputes over the distribution of the spoils of war doubtless form the basis of it. For a long time there have been rumors that Turkey was opposed to the share of Rumania, that Bulgaria was to receive, and that Turkey also was looking for a "big" share toward the Black Sea littoral, the Caucasus and the Balkans. Announcement was made in the Reichstag in June that differences had arisen between Bulgaria and Turkey over the division of lands taken from Rumania under the peace agreement with the Central Powers. The announcement was made by Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German Foreign Secretary.

Differences with Bulgaria. The Cologne Gazette early in June asserted that the differences between Turkey and Bulgaria involved a certain danger that the work of harmony achieved by the Central Powers at Bucharest may suffer. The newspaper added that both Bulgaria and Turkey were claiming Germany's full support in their respective interests. The North German Allgemeine Zeitung, the semi-official German Government organ, however, declared that the dispute over Dobruja was one on which Turkey and Bulgaria would have to come to an agreement and that Germany could only express herself reservedly on the matter if Germany was not to assume heavy responsibilities for the future.

A few days later the Berlin Vossische Zeitung printed an article by its Constantinople correspondent, declaring that the political censorship in Turkey had been abolished in order to permit Turkish newspapers to attack Bulgaria.

Dispute Over Fleet. Announcement was made some time ago that Germany and Turkey were in a hot dispute over the disposition of Russia's Black Sea fleet. Talaat Pasha, the Turkish Grand Vizier, renouncing to denunciations from the Turkish Navy League, which pointed out that Turkey had an incontestable claim to the fleet, said negotiations were proceeding between Germany and Russia for the handing over of the fleet to Germany, but that the Turkish government had taken energetic action with a view to acquiring it.

Turkey's ambitions in the Black Sea littoral and in the Caucasus recently were attacked by the Pan-German Berlin newspaper Kreuzzeitung.

STATUS OF UNWOUNDED VETS. By Courier Leased Wire. Toronto, July 30.—At a meeting of the Great War Veterans to-day, a discussion was begun on the question of the position in the ranks of the association of returned men who had not seen active service. The discussion was still continuing at noon.

COLORNE STREET LEAGUE. Colborne Street Epworth League held their regular meeting last evening. The Citizenship Committee were in charge with Miss E. Cowherd as leader. Mr. F. W. Thompson gave a splendid address, his subject being, "On His Majesty's Service."

Associate of Prime Lichnowsky Demands Ruthless Action Against War Leaders, Whom He Declares Ruthless Scoundrels.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, July 30.—A memorandum demanding ruthless action against the men at the helm of the German Government in 1914 as guilty criminals has been issued by former Captain Von Berfelde, says a Berlin telegram, quoting the Cologne Zeitung. The memorandum is entitled "A necessary correction of the German white book" and was sent to the members of the Reichstag last week by the Captain, who was prominent in connection with the Prince Lichnowsky affair brought about by the Prince, who was German Ambassador to London in 1914, declaring that Germany was responsible for the war.

Captain Berfelde's memorandum says that the German leaders at the beginning of the war were guilty of appalling deceits and acted in the service of traitors. He demands the immediate arrest of former Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg and declares that if the Reichstag does not fulfill his demand the curse of this and all succeeding generations will fall upon it for cowardly neglect of duty.

In case of the Reichstag's refusal, Captain Von Berfelde declares, he will immediately request passes for himself and family to Switzerland, because he will no longer share Germany's shame and disgrace.

TURKEY DEMANDS FREE HAND IN THE CAUCASUS

Declares Her Intention of Handling the Situation There According to Her Own Ideas - Split With Germany Due in Part to This Issue

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, July 30.—Turkey is going to handle the situation in the Caucasus according to her own ideas. This is indicated in a telegram from Constantinople dated July 28, which quotes an article in the newspaper Nasir-i Eklar, presenting the Turkish viewpoint.

"We have nothing to say against the principles laid down in the Brest-Litovsk treaty," says the article, "but when the Caucasus, newly organized, turn toward us, and master of its own destinies, what is more natural than to take into consideration the necessities of this new situation created on our eastern front? This reported attitude on the part of Turkey may account in part for the report received through Copenhagen that Turkey and Germany had severed relations.

Each of the reports was reported through Washington that Germany was becoming alarmed over the aggressive tendencies of her Allies, especially Turkey. Several weeks earlier it had been reported that Germany had ordered Turkey to stop her advance in the eastern Caucasus. Almost simultaneously, an announcement came from Berlin that German troops had landed at Poti, on the Black Sea coast, and an important point on the railroad running through the Caucasus. On June 13th Turkey signed a peace treaty with the Trans-Caucasian government, but the terms have never been reported adequately.

The Baku region, on the Caspian Sea, is one of the world's most important oil fields. Possession of this territory might also be a menace to British control in India.

BULGARIANS TIRED. Washington, July 30.—An official dispatch from France yesterday says that German newspapers report King Ferdinand of Bulgaria as "gone to foreign lands" for some time on account of his health. According to the Neue Freie Presse, a Bulgarian newspaper on his way through Vienna, admitted that the Bulgarian people were very tired of the war and prospects of a poor harvest.

The enemy activity was active in the region northeast of Ailette, throwing in gas shells. It also displayed activity on the base canal and the Ypres.

The text of the statement reads: "We captured a few prisoners last night in a successful raid in the neighborhood of Ailette." "Shortly after midnight Australian patrols entered the enemy's positions about Ailette. Forty prisoners have been taken by our troops in this locality."

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards at once took him out to his home, where the overjoyed parents welcomed him as one back from the dead. Milton, who looks in the best of health, will be seventeen years old next month.

MISSING LAD RETURNS HOME. Milton Ireland, Long Sault, For in Vain, is Back on the Old Farm Once More. The mystery of the disappearance of the lad, Milton Ireland, has at last been cleared up by the return of the wanderer. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ireland, who own a farm near Langford, he came to Brantford in the usual course of events some fifteen months ago to attend his studies at the Collegiate Institute, and was last noticed in the Post Office, where he'd gone to post a letter. Then he disappeared as completely as if the earth had swallowed him up. Advertisements were inserted in the newspapers and bills printed, offering a liberal reward for trace of him. The police of the Province were also notified and on the alert, but not one word of the missing lad could be gleaned. Finally his heart-broken parents feared for the worst, and it seemed as if the chapter had ended as far as Milton was concerned.

Last evening, however, Mrs. David Edwards, an aunt, residing at 72 Emily street, was startled by having the long-sought youth walk into her home. In answer to questions, he said that he made up his mind that he would like to see a bit of the world and having enough money in his pocket he took train for Toronto, working on a farm near that city all last summer. Latterly he had been peddling in the Trenton district and suddenly found his mind to come home once more.

EXPERIENCES WITH GIRLS IN BUSINESS

Some Comments on Their Efficiency With a Touch of Romance and a Good Measure of World Wisdom

An anonymous contributor to the July "American" recounts his "Ex- perience with women in men's jobs." The experience was gained in the office and workrooms of a large factory in New England. Mixed up with his cost sheets on effi- ciency the writer has a touch of romance and a good measure of world wisdom.

But the boys have more ambition. When a boy looks at a superior in office, he is likely figuring out what he will do when he gets his job. The girl is probably wondering whether he is kind to his wife.

Women are slow to appreciate the impersonal element in business. They have their unreasonable likes and dislikes, and they will work only, in- differently for the superior who does not appeal to their imagination.

Men are more liberal in their judg- ment of their business associates (than women, and employers must re- spect social standards in making up a staff of girls.

While women are never jealous of the success of a man, and will loyally help him to succeed, they are not inclined to be so magnanimous to- wards their own sex.

A prevailing deficiency is the fail- ure to take business seriously. Some special demand at home and they are like as not to stay at home and attend to it. And next morning they turn up bright and smiling with no suspicion that their absence has in the least disturbed routine.

"But," we are told, "business is going to be cleaner and more whole- some in the future because of the presence of women in it."

WILL CLOSE PARKS TILL END OF WAR

Consensus of Major League Opinion Against Early World's Series

New York, July 29.—Definite de- cision as to when the championship races shall end will be made at special meetings of both major leagues either to-morrow or Wednesday. Harry N. Heppner, president of the Giants, and the heads of other local clubs have been notified that such meetings will take place and are waiting word now as to when and where they will be held.

Whether there is going to be a World's series this season continues to be a point of conjecture. Few in league clubhouses have any information whatever on this topic. Some favor holding the autumnal conflict, while others believed it would be better for the same to fil- lish the season on Labor Day and then quit for good. It is feared in some quarters that after all the dif- ficulties that have beset baseball this season the playing of the world series will be a waste of time, and there is no desire on the part of the clubowners to offend the public.

The situation will be gone over in France where the league meet. It is understood that a majority of the club heads in both circuits favor curtail- ing the schedule to about one hun- dred and forty-two games and stop- ping the campaign on Labor Day. It is highly probable that such will be the program of both leagues.

Baseball men are not attempting camouflage the fact that the game is in a bad way. The recent con- troversy over the "Work or Fight" rule as it is applied to baseball fall with severe effect upon the box of- fices in major league parks in both circuits. Attendance has fallen off alarmingly.

And still more serious from the viewpoint of the clubowners is the restive spirit of the players them- selves. The campaign on Labor Day of the managers are restraining players who are subject to the draft from entering the employment of shippers and other industrial con- cerns in which they would be drafted from the draft. Many players, numerous stars among them, have served notice on the clubowners that they will quit in a few days. That is why every major league manager is beating the "bushes" for veterans and youngsters not yet twenty-one years old with whom to plug up gaps in the ranks caused by athletes who are obtaining jobs in essential industries. The restive spirit of the players is the greatest difficulty with which the clubowners have to contend.

SAYS DARK DAYS OVER

But Hard Months are Ahead, Declares Andre Tardeco

SPOKE TO U. S. TROOPS

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, July 30.—Andre Tardeco, French high commissioner to the United States, at a dinner in his honor last night at the American university union, declared the dark days are over, but there are hard months ahead.

"The first great battle in which your own troops have participated extensively has been a great victory," he said. "The part taken by your soldiers is well known in France. It is not over yet. Hard months are ahead of us, but we have already taken the initiative. As far as numbers go the critical times are over with us. Under the strong leadership of Premier Briand we have held our ground. To- day, after some time on the defensive, the time for a victorious attack has come and the dark days are over.

"While greeting the completion of the first million troops in France we have greeted the first success. We are standing ready for the supreme effort. The faith which is inspiring us will not falter.

"In our crusade for the democra- cies of the world we are progressing steadily toward our goal. Through the wonderful unity and force of the minds and hearts of your country we can expect to reap the reward—the liberation of all peoples—which we anticipate from our sacrifices."

American Ambassador Sharpe in response said: "American soldiers could not help being brave after such examples of great bravery as displayed by French troops. Another million will follow and as many millions are necessary to bring the cause of democracy to victorious peace."

FATALITY NEAR NORTH BAY North Bay, Ont., July 30.—A drowning accident occurred at Trout Lake on Sunday afternoon, when Mr. Joseph Duss lost his life. A young lad, about 18, he, with a number of others, went in immedi- ately after dinner. He was almost once taken with cramps, sank before any help could be given him. The body was recovered but too late to be restored.

RETIRED FROM BUSINESS AUCTIONSALE

Of Livery and Teaming Business. I have been requested by Mr. Leslie Anguish to dispose of the livery and teaming business conducted by him at 213 Colborne St., Brantford, on THURSDAY, AUG. 1st, com- mencing at 1.30 o'clock sharp, the following:

Horses—Vick, good livery; Irish, good livery; Davy, good livery; Dock, good livery; Bertie, good safe driver for ladies; George, good for general delivery or market garden work; Grey Nell, good for market garden work or delivery; Bob, good work horse, 1400 lbs.

These horses are in good condi- tion, have been working every day and are reliable in every way. You must see these horses to appreciate their quality.

Yehle—Rubber tire phaeton, rubber tire open buggy, 9 steel tire open surreys, 8 set single harness, 2 set light wagon harness, lorry, Adams make, 3 ton, good; 1 1/2 ton lorry, good; 3 ton wagon and coal box; 4 ton truck, extension reach, good wagon and 16-ft. hay rack, robes, dusters, rug, forks, shovels and numerous other articles not here enumerated.

The above goods are in a No. 1 condition, always having been look- ed after in the proper way, and would suit the most sceptical gen- tleman for his own use.

There are some very interesting and instructive diagrams in a bullet- in on forest fires just issued by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. These diagrams show what, throughout Canada, whenever the rainfall becomes unusually light, the number of fires increases. Gen- erally speaking, too, the higher the temperature the greater the danger of fire. The bulletin is entitled "Fore- est Fires in Canada 1914-16," and the extent of the losses to the na- tion from this cause makes the pub- lication of particular value. The statement of these losses will aid in arousing Canadians to the need of stopping forest fires and details of statistics will show that forest fires can be stopped, just as surely as losses are kept down by a good fire brigade in a city. With the excep- tion of lightning, all forest fires are started by man, and if man were careful there would be no fires. The success of systematic fire protection measures is shown and the whole bulletin gives much valuable infor- mation on this important subject. Copies may be had free on applica- tion to the Director of Forestry, Ot- tawa.

FOCHS WILL AND SKILL
SAVED ALLIES BEFORE

How Generalissimo, by Quick Thinking, and Just as Quick Acting, Defeated a Powerful Attack in the Fateful Days of Early November, 1914.

Once again Generalissimo Foch is the hero of the Marne, and it is the same Foch of offensive strategy, the same Foch who declared, "I am persuaded that the only way to make war is to attack."

The 10th French Army was, by successive reinforcements, going to form north of Arras. The British army would take as its direction the north of Lille.

THE SITUATION.
The Allied forces have recorded still further gains in their brilliant counter-offensive but it begins to look as if the retreating Germans are about to make a definite stand.

The Canadians have been conducting some successful raids north and south of Gavrelle and have brought back German prisoners. London has received word from Constantinople that relations have been severed between Germany and Turkey.

THE MYSTERY OF FRUIT PROFITS.

Some deep mystery attends the spread in prices between the producer and the consumer that to all seeming passes the wit of man to solve. An inquisitive contemporary concerned about the high price of fruit commissioned a member of its staff to peregrinate extensively through the Niagara district.

Much the same story came from the canners and preserve makers who were equally ready with their evidences that nothing extra was being made out of the increased prices charged for jams.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Along with the rest of the world the Turk is commencing to get comradely tired of the Han. There are said to be oil prospects on Peace River. Perhaps that accounts for the character of the stream.

Joffre "Discovered" Him.
For it was during the great events of August and September, 1914, that Marshal Joffre realized what a valuable second Foch was to be to him.

It is essential to state the part which Foch played before and during this battle. As usual his arrival upon this new front on October 4 marked the return of confidence.

MANY VILLAGES ARE CAPTURED

Paris, July 29.—The Allied forces continued to gain ground at almost all points on the Soissons-Rheims salient today, but the principal progress, according to the War Office announcement, was on the left flank and around Fere-en-Tardenois.

"Now what is it?"

"Elsie asked the question when, after luncheon, we were cozily by ourselves in her sitting room."

"I don't think I understand."
"Tell me all you know about her please, then I'll tell you—if I can, just what I mean."

"I know very little, Margaret. She is one of the women who John Kennedy finds so interesting that he wants all his friends to know them too."

"What did Bob say?"
"That she had so much magnetism as to personally she didn't need beauty, and that he didn't even know if she were beautiful or not."

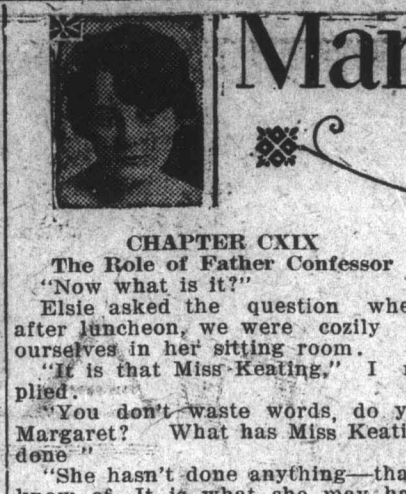

"I don't think so," Elsie interrupted. "Just a fascinating one."
I commented to Elsie that when a man loved a woman he would do anything and everything she wanted him to. Now I say that if a woman really loves a man she finds nothing so hard to do for him—nothing.

"You have changed, Margaret."
"I hope so. But it is all owing to you Elsie. You made me see what a selfish wretch I was; how I thought of nothing, no one, save myself, and my own wishes."

"Yes, Elsie, and I could smile to think how I agonized over trying to make Bob see things, life, as I saw them. I've walked the floor at night. I have agonized over them when he has been sleeping as quietly as a child. I have loved him with all my heart and at the same time have driven him from me. Did you ever see or hear such a muddle as I have made of my life?"

"I left Elsie in a much happier frame of mind than when I went to her. She had talked or laughed me out of what she called my superstition regarding Charlotte Keating. Bob did not come in until after I had retired. In the morning he was as courteous as usual; but there was something disquieting in his attitude; something I could not fathom."

PASSED EXAMS.

The many friends of "Artifice" W. J. Keep, of the H.M.S. "Niobe," Halifax, will be pleased to learn that he has passed his final examinations with success, and has now left to resume his duties on the sea.

CITY COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the city council will be held, likely, on Tuesday evening of next week, when the toll roads question will be considered once more, following the conference held last week between Mayor MacBride and the warden of the county.

KEEPS CAPS DRY.

George Mosley, Y.M.C.A. swimming instructor, states that he has made a discovery which will be welcomed by all lady swimmers, a means of preventing rubber bathing caps from becoming sticky. A little powdered sulphur, scattered inside the cap, according to Mr. Mosley, is all that is necessary.

TWO NEW PLAYERS.

The Semi-pros have secured the services of "Leity" Flint, formerly of London, and Grury, of Hamilton. Flint is a first class left-hand pitcher, while Grury is a fast, hard-hitting outfielder. Flint will pitch here on Friday evening against the Athenians of Toronto, and on Civic Holiday morning against Hamilton.

BREAD MAKING.

A slight decrease of about one sixteenth of a cent per pound is shown in the report of the department of labor on the cost of bread making in Canada during the month of the May. The flour consumed shows an increase of 1.77 barrels as compared with April. The cost of flour and flour substitutes for the month show a decrease of an average of four cents per barrel.

GOES TO CHICAGO.

Mr. E. H. Jory, who for a year past has been employed with Mr. T. G. Holes, druggist, leaves with his family for Chicago. Mr. Jory has made a host of warm friends during his residence in the city, and they will be pleased to know that he has received the appointment as manager of the chain of Central Drug Stores, operated by the MacLean Drug Co., in the States.

BAKERIES INSPECTOR.

Mr. H. Gignac of this city has been appointed by the Canada Food Board supervisor of bakeries, confectioneries and eating houses in the district between this city and Galt, but not of Galt. It will be the duty of Inspector Gignac to see that bakers and confectioners observe the rules laid down by the Food Board as to the use of ten per cent. substitutes for wheat flour. His district includes Princeton, St. George, Lynden and Paris.

REPAIRING TRUCK.

The mechanics at the central fire hall were busy repairing the big truck. It was ready to be tested shortly after dinner and made a fast trip around town.

BUILDING PERMITS.

There were two building permits issued at the city engineer's office this morning. One to John Gumbik for the erection of a frame garage at 6 Main St., to cost $75 and one to Shultz Bros., Limited, for the construction of a brick dwelling estimated to cost $2,000.

BUSINESS MEN'S OUTING.

The merchants of the city will take their annual outing in connection with Dollar Day, by automobiles to Port Dover. This year a regular program has been arranged and a "big time" is anticipated at the Beach there.

POLICE COURT.

Frank Hazel was charged in the police court this morning with having liquor in an unauthorized place. He was fined $200 and $10.30 costs. Harry Luce, charged with theft of a basket, was ordered to return the article and pay the costs of the case. Daniel Black paid $10.00 and costs for trespassing, while a charge of indecent assault was dismissed. Hattie Hodge and Grace Taylor of Hamilton, charged with falling to carry registration cards, paid $2.85 costs. Gordon Bonham, who was charged with a breach of the Motor Vehicles Act., proved an alibi and was dismissed.

SOME FREEDOM.

The blood of his unleashed forefathers tingling in his veins, his feet pressed to the sweltering planks of a metaphorical steed, William Markham, a young Indian, from Brantford, tore madly through the criminal code and landed in the dock on a charge of vagrancy. Laws he smiled at; none called him slave. Oh, to be a vagrant! The earth for a couch, a mound of moss for a pillow and the stars firmament for a canopy. Sleep, vagrant! But the rude hand of a police constable disturbed his rest, and a matter-of-fact magistrate asked him for $13.—Toronto Telegram.

Little Waste, States Mayor

Characterizes as "Vicious Falseness" Charges Made by A. G. Ludlow

"It is a vicious falseness," commented Mayor MacBride this morning, on the charge made yesterday by A. G. Ludlow, city assessor, that a large quantity of food had been wasted at the civic picnic Saturday. "I cannot understand," continued his Worship, "how Mr. Ludlow can make such a ridiculous statement, and certainly feel that he might be much better engaged. His remarks are a reflection on the noble hearted ladies who aided us in serving the kiddies. The refreshment committee took particular pains to see that there should be only the minimum of waste. It is true that during the rain storm, some small boys were seen to throw away their sandwiches, but a prompt stop was put to this. I was the last person to leave the park Saturday night, and I was down again Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, and I certainly saw no buns or sandwiches left on the ground, as Mr. Ludlow states. I shall have something more to say on this subject to-morrow."

Every woman and every man has a "good-buy" offered them on Dollar Day.

HOMES FOR WORKINGMEN

Visit to the City of the Ontario Government Secretary

Mr. Sissons, secretary of the Ontario Government Committee in connection with the proposed aid in the building of workmen's houses, was in the city yesterday.

He first of all surrounded the city with Mr. W. S. Brewster, and visited with him the site of the proposed dwellings to be erected in connection with the Dominion Steel Products Company, and expressed himself as well pleased with what was planned. Later he joined with Mr. Hendry, chairman of the Housing Committee of the Board, and a pleasing conference took place with the members. The Schultz Bros' model house was visited on Waterloo street, and favorably commented on. The Motor Truck factory was also visited and the surrounding site, which is to be developed in connection with such work will bear interest at 5 per cent.

TWO DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENTS

Again Given in the Chautauqua Tent

Brantfordites Should Wake Up to the Splendid Nature of These Performances

Two most notable programs were again given in the Chautauqua tent yesterday.

In the afternoon three of the Chautauqua artists afforded a delightful musical treat. Mr. H. De Mille not only possesses a baritone voice of great range and mellow quality, but he is also a consummate artist.

Miss Alexander of New York is a violinist of exceptional merit and her bowing is always beyond the ordinary.

Miss Madge Williamson not only proved herself a most efficient accompanist, but also demonstrated her great skill as a soloist.

All three were deservedly the recipients of encores.

The address of the afternoon, delivered by Father MacCorry, was "The Kingship of Man," and proved most interesting and inspiring. The lecturer, who is a Catholic priest of the New York City, is a staff lecturer on the roster of the National State Council of Defence of the United States, and is one of the two clergymen of his faith having that distinction.

His pulpit and platform oratory, during the past 26 years, has made him famous; and his address yesterday evidenced scholarship of a high order. Touched with humor, many of his programs were received with appreciative laughter.

"Just because I chance to button my collar behind," he said, "please do not conclude that I am necessarily walking backwards."

And again: "The most insupportable bore in all this world to me is the little pin-headed animal with two legs who agrees with me absolutely in everything I say."

Taking as the theme of his address Browning's lines: "His soul was like a star and dwelt apart," Father MacCorry dwelt on the necessity for initiative and the development of personality. He urged his hearers to think for themselves; to act, argue, reason, conclude things, for themselves, rather than merely echo the individuality and mental expression of others; not to cry out "Great is Diana of the Ephesians" simply because the shout was in the air.

At night the three artists above named again charmed everyone. Father MacCorry gave his famous art-musical, lecture-recital, the Story Beautiful. This lecture has been delivered upwards of 1,500 times. Intensely dramatic, the poetical deal with the great tragedy of the Redemption, the speaker, in beautiful and lofty language, following the footsteps of the Man of Nazareth from the cradle to the throne.

Illustrating this wonderful story nearly 100 pictures, reproduced from the original paintings, and in fac-simile colors, were thrown on the screen, while the singing of Hartwell DeMille, accompanied by Miss Williamson, further enhanced the effect of the speaker's eloquence.

NO SPECIAL FARES FOR DOLLAR DAY

Shortage of Help and Cars Make it Impossible, the Officials Claim

On previous Dollar Days the Brantford merchants have been able, through the officials of the Lake Erie and Northern, to arrange for special rates from the north and south to this city. This year, in spite of the most strenuous efforts on the part of the committee, it has been found impossible to arrange for special cars or special fares. The merchants are chagrined at their failure, the claim being made that had been employed by the Bell Telephone Co., The Wm. Davies Co., and W. T. Pearce, Nelson Street.

Music and Drama

THE REX
Gladys Brockwell, the noted emotional screen star, is seen at the Rex the first of this week, in her latest picture, "A Branded Soul," a forceful drama of life in modern Mexico, and of the strength of a woman's faith and prayers.

THE BRANT
"The Third Floor Front" a clever comedy skit, capably presented by "Wags" King, is a staff lecturer on the roster of the National State Council of Defence of the United States, and is one of the two clergymen of his faith having that distinction.

CORP. H. E. BRADLEY KILLED IN ACTION

Another Member of 84th Battalion Makes the Supreme Sacrifice

Lance-Corp. Harold Edgar Bradley has made the supreme sacrifice, his death occurring on March 30th, last. This is the information received from Ottawa in answer to an enquiry from a Brantford friend, with whom he had corresponded. Lance-Corp. Bradley, who had resided in Brantford for some years, leaves no relatives in this country, but many warm friends. Turned down three times when he endeavored to enlist he finally succeeded in joining up with the 84th Batt., and after a short time overseas, was transferred to the 75th Batt. During his residence in this city Bradley had been employed by the Bell Telephone Co., The Wm. Davies Co., and W. T. Pearce, Nelson Street.

SUB HUNTING BY AIRSHIP LATEST SPORT OF THE WAR

Crew of German U-Boat Preferred Death to Capture

London, July 30.—(British Wireless Service).—A sea sport which has arisen out of the war—hunting German submarines by airship—is described in The Times. The writer's story concludes with telling how the crew of the U-boat apparently preferred death to being captured.

One of the crew of an airship spotted a submarine lying on the bed of the ocean, in fairly shallow water. "The wireless spark," reads the account in The Times, "and soon away on the horizon there appeared a little destroyer, followed far astern by four equal trawlers, all racing toward the spot above which the airship cruised around.

"The destroyer came up first, of course, and it was not long before, guided by wireless instructions, her guns were trained in readiness to greet the unsuspecting U-boat should it bob to the surface. It seemed ages to the impatient crew before the trawlers arrived, but things moved rapidly once they were at the scene of action, for they knew their job of old.

"Working in pairs they approached their victim from opposite directions, steaming toward each other. Between each pair a strong 'sweep' was stretched and allowed to hang in a huge loop that it might traverse the seabed. The vessels met and crossed each other's tracks immediately above the doomed craft. The 'sweeps' of either pair engaged the U-boat fore and aft simultaneously and held her in a gigantic cradle. Thus far the German boat had shown no signs of alarm, although the churning of the trawlers' screws. Now she suddenly seemed to awake to the menace that threatened her." The article goes on to describe the fate of the submarine. "She wriggled and squirmed about in a frantic endeavor to escape, but it was useless. Not a loophole was there to be found, and at length, realizing the helplessness of her plight, she ceased to struggle. This fact was duly wirelessed by those on board the airship to the destroyer below. Trapped securely, the enemy vessel could still rise to the surface, if she so desired, and, to give her an opportunity to do so, the British craft now waited for several minutes. She preferred to lie still, and so, at a signal from the destroyer, the starboard foremost trawler and the port aft one attached a tin of high explosives to each of the 'cradle wires' and allowed it to slide downwards until it rested upon the U-boat's hull. Then those upon the airship flashed a signal and upon the two trawlers two firing keys were pressed.

CANADA PRODUCES METAL FOR CUTLERY

Will Soon Appear on the Market in Commercial Quantities

New York, July 30.—A metal suitable for the very finest forms of cutlery has been developed from combining iron, chromium and cobalt according to an announcement made by Prof. W. L. Goodwin, of Queen's university, Kingston, Ont. Consul F. S. S. Johnson, who is at Kingston reports that the new metal is easy to work, and is shortly to be put on the market in commercial quantities. Prof. Goodwin is chairman of the Canadian section of the Society of Chemical Industry, which organization, in conjunction with the Canadian Chemical and Chemical Engineers, is working towards getting a higher degree of extraction of useful substances from ores and finding new uses for waste products. Canadian chemists were responsible for the discovery of the new metal, which is peculiarly a Canadian product.

WAR VETERANS MEET IN TORONTO

"Greatest Parliament Ever Assembled in Canada," Says Mayor Church CONVENTION OPENS

Toronto, July 29.—The Great War Veterans Association convened here to-day. In the absence of the Lieut.-Gov. from the city Sir Wm. Hearst welcomed the delegates in a brief speech and was followed by Mayor Church. The mayor told the delegates they "were the greatest parliament Canada had ever assembled." In December last, his Worship thought they were voting for a decision that would do its duty by its soldiers. He thought it was a great mistake to allow the capital of the country to be transferred from Ottawa to London for some months of the year. This was no way to win the war. He never yet knew anything to come out of these pilgrimages. It was a disgrace to people of Canada that more liberal pensions were not paid. There should be a home cleaning in the pension office. Little action had been taken for the care and welfare of the returned soldiers. The whole hospital accommodation was inadequate and needed overhauling. The government appointed a new commission about every day. The mayor also found fault with the government's failure to deal with aliens and to tax the soldiers who are paid $10 per day. He would have the German language abolished in our schools. He would have appointments to the senate fixed entirely by the soldiers returned from active service. He demanded that the soldiers be kept on full pay until at least eighteen months after the ending of the war and said the soldier should be at all times a preferred class.

Y.M.C.A. SOFTBALL SEASON IS ENDED

Bluebirds Are the Unbeaten Champions of Boys' League

SWISS THREATEN GENERAL STRIKE

Basel Switzerland, July 29.—The internal situation in Switzerland is assuming a grave aspect as a result of a conflict between the Federal authorities and the labor organizations.

Labor Men Dissatisfied With Position of the Federal Council

Matters came to a head yesterday at a meeting of the Swiss Workmen's Congress, organized by a Socialist committee, headed by Robert Grimm, which voted by a large majority that the Federal Council's reply to the workmen's claims was unsatisfactory and that it further prompt negotiations failed in obtaining concessions a general strike would be called. The Congress included representatives of the Railway Men's Union, numbering 16,000 and the Federation of Officials and Employees of the Federal departments, numbering 66,000. In official circles the situation is regarded as serious. The claims of the workers were: Better arrangements for the food supply for the working class; A shorter working day, with wages fixed by a special bureau. Allowances for the increased cost of living and advance to Government officials to enable them to lay in a stock of fuel and food for the winter. The abolition of restriction on the right of meeting and the withdrawal of the decree closing the frontiers to foreign deserters and spies.

Life-Size Canvas Given to Col. Roosevelt Got Final Kick

Oyster Bay, N.Y., July 29.—A life-size painting of Emperor William, presented by him to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt several years ago, came to grief when a party of citizens visited the home of its possessor, Mrs. C. H. Pollitz, here, yesterday. The picture had been given to the public library by the Colonel, and hung there until after the sinking of the Lusitania, when it was relegated to the cellar. Mrs. Pollitz offered $5 for the painting to the trustees and became its owner. The incident was forgotten until the death of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, and then the villagers recalled it. They organized a party Sunday, and going to the home of Mrs. Pollitz, demanded the picture. Mrs. Pollitz wanted to give it up, but Mrs. Pollitz wanted to keep it, members of the party said. The struggle on a balcony for its possession the portrait fell among the villagers gathered in the street. A caller promptly put his foot through it.

IRISH MOTION MEETS DEFEAT

Dillon Proposes That Wilson Be Arbitrator on Home Rule Question

CALL IT WAR PROBLEM
 Former Premier Asquith Points Out Impossibility of the Suggestion

London, July 29.—The debate in the House of Commons to-day on the Irish question ended in the defeat of the Irish Nationalist motion of John Dillon, the Nationalist Leader, condemning the Government's Irish policy as rejected by a vote of 245 to 106.

Mr. Dillon's suggestion that the question of Ireland be referred to President Wilson was well received by the House, but, as former Premier Asquith pointed out, it could not be expected that the President of the United States would undertake such an arduous task at this time, and the matter was obviously one which they would have to settle themselves.

The question was one of overwhelming importance, Mr. Asquith declared, and he made a strong appeal to the Government to make another effort, even at the eleventh hour, to settle it.

expressed the view that the "true solution of the Irish question is to put into operation without delay in regard to Ireland the principles laid down by President Wilson." Mr. Dillon admitted that the Nationalist party was in difficulty, but he added, "we are because we have struggled to save the constitutional position and bring Ireland into the war, while the government has done everything in its power to drive her out of the war."

The Nationalist Leader declared the question of Ireland was a war question, and that was why he brought it up at the present time. How could Great Britain, he asked, put before the world as one of her objects of the war the freeing of small nationalities when there was Ireland lying at her back door under the unhappy tyranny of a military government?

Double Government Faith.
 The Irish were holding back in the war, Mr. Dillon declared, because they believed the Government was determined to break faith with Ireland and deny her the right which she had won after a long and patient struggle.

There had been a German plot in Ireland before the war, there had been a German plot in Ireland since the war. They had three objects: first, to deprive the British of Irish help; second, to compel Great Britain to keep a large number of British troops in Ireland; third, to weaken the moral position of Britain in dealing with the cause of small nations.

The Germans, said Mr. Dillon, had succeeded simply and solely because of the operations of the British Government.

Accept No Pledge.
 The way to conquer German plots, the Irish Nationalist Leader went on, was not to break faith with but to win the sympathy of the Irish people themselves. No one in Ireland believed in any pledge of the British Government, or that the Government would stick to any policy whatever.

Mr. Dillon counselled the Premier to settle the Irish question by referring it to President Wilson, or else by taking it into his own hands and abandoning at once all coercive measures. The Premier might very well ask America, he added, to render another great service to humanity in the reconciliation of Ireland and England.

Replying to Dr. Dillon's speech on his motion, Edward Shortt, Secretary for Ireland, said that the Government has been "compelled to take strong action in Ireland because there was a complete military system in southwest Ireland worked out with considerable skill and knowledge. Instructions were given, the Secretary declared, as to how to cut railways and destroy bridges and communications, while explosives had been secretly imported.

The Irish Secretary declared that Ireland had been infinitely quieter since the Sinn Fein leaders were arrested and put out of harm's way. Before that the country had been seething in sedition.

A very small use had been made of the Crimes Act. A certain number of societies had been declared dangerous, but that was intended mainly as a warning. The Government wanted to avoid conscription, if that were possible, but no help toward that end had been received from the Nationalists.

The Secretary asked Mr. Dillon if he were in charge of Ireland would he grant the demand for an independent Republic.

"Certainly not," Mr. Dillon responded.

Ireland Prosperous.
 Ireland was now exceedingly prosperous, Mr. Shortt said, and he hoped that something might yet be done to make her contented as we and bring about an era of good feelings that would make it possible to pass the Home Rule measure, which twelve months ago the whole country desired, but which to-day could not be passed in England at any general election.

He appealed to the Irish members to do all they could to make recruiting in Ireland a success.

Must Settle for Selves.
 The debate has made clear, said Mr. Asquith, "the supreme and overwhelming importance of the settlement of the Irish question."

The adoption of a man-power bill this year, applicable to Ireland, had increased the difficulty of a settlement. An atmosphere had been created in Ireland, which had shifted for the time being the balance of political power from the constitutional to the revolutionary party. That was a very serious state of affairs.

"How are you going to have a league of nations?" asked Mr. Dillon.

"There are many difficulties in the way of a league of nations," replied Mr. Asquith.

"Ireland will be one," interjected Mr. Dillon.

"I entirely agree with you," said Mr. Asquith. "But this Irish question is one which we must settle for ourselves and by ourselves."

He made an appeal to the government, in the interests of the country, the Empire and the Entente allies, to try again, even at the eleventh hour, to find a settlement of the Irish question.

Regarding the suggestion made by John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist that the Irish question be referred to President Wilson, Mr. Asquith said: "He would be a very bold man who would expect Mr. Wilson to undertake a task which has baffled so many pioneers in the past. If it could not be referred to members of our own family, it does not seem that a question of that kind could well be submitted to the arbitrator of a foreign country, however friendly."

Nationalists Do Share.
 Joseph Devlin, Nationalist of Belfast, ridiculed the idea that the Nationalists had not done their fair share in sending recruits to the army. Deducting from Ulster's contribution those who were Nationalists, Mr. Devlin said the figures stood 33,000 for Ulster and 55,000 for the Nationalists.

After the Nationalists had converted this country to Home Rule through forty years of constitutional action, they had been denied what they wanted, and the Sinn Fein had been given his opportunity. The Nationalists, he added, now made the definite proposal to the government that they put into operation the principles President Wilson had declared the allies were fighting for.

Must Consult People.
 The Government could get recruits by establishing a system of government in Ireland based on the people's will and entrusting recruiting to agents of the Irish Parliament, Secretary Shortt, he declared, would no more succeed with his policy than had his predecessors.

Sir George H. Reid moved an amendment, gratefully acknowledging the services of the men of Irish birth or descent in the allied army, but deploring "the organized attempts made in many parts of Ireland to prevent Irishmen from joining their English, Scottish, and Welsh fellow citizens in defense of the liberties enjoyed by all the free nations and securing the emancipation of oppressed nationalities."

LESS SUGAR SUGGESTION.

In making lemonade or other summer drinks, less sugar will be required to sweeten it if the sugar is made into syrup before being added to the lemons as it does not dissolve readily in cold water.
 As a substitute for icing on cake try spreading a thin layer of corn or maple syrup over the top and then sprinkle liberally with grated cocoanut, fresh or dried. Nuts of dried fruits, such as raisins, dates or figs, even prunes, or apricots, chopped fine, may also be used in this manner.

MAKE OWN GOODS NOW.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Manchester, England, July 29.—Before the war, England, like the United States preferred to buy certain manufactured articles abroad rather than make them. Magnets and insulating materials were purchased from America Germany and Austria lenses for field glasses were imported from Germany.
 Now these articles are being turned out in the munition factories of this district. Field glass lenses have been giving better satisfaction to the army and navy than any of German manufacture.

 Sewing machines are another war development in England. Not one in 1,000 was made before in any other way than dies by skilled labor. To-day almost the entire supply of sewing machines in the country is made by the milling process, the machines being operated by unskilled workmen.

SHRUB CAUSES WHEAT RUST, SO THE WEST IS BANNING BARBERRY

At Same Time New Variety of Early Rust-Escaping Wheat in Being Successfully Grown

What rust on grain has cost the Canadian farmer in cold cash through startling reductions on yield and what, in turn, the consequent cut in spending power has meant in hardship to the wage earners in eastern Canada who produce goods western Canadians buy, can not be calculated. But no two representative grain growers or manufacturers would hesitate to declare the cost to Canada as one expressed in terms of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Many people now foresee the utter extinction of the rust menace in Canada in the eradication of the barberry plant, in the development by Seager Wheeler—the Luther Burbank of the Canadian wheat world—of a variety of the great essential cereal that matures some ten days earlier than that generally grown in the western provinces.

It seems to have been proved absolutely that the decorative barberry—except the Japanese sort—is the chief cause of the propagation of rust trouble, and already in the spring wheat belt in the United States and in Canada an organized campaign is working for the eradication of the barberry in all sections likely to infect the growing grain.

It was all brought out in Congress in Washington by Hon. George Young, of North Dakota, that the settlers in the colony of Massachusetts in 1775 were aware of the intimate relations between the barberry plant, and rust on wheat, and that a law was passed thirty years ago providing for the rooting out of the shrub in that jurisdiction. Denmark, however, has begun the modern crusade, and the Hon. Mr. Young says that rust has practically disappeared from the wheat fields of that progressive Scandinavian country since the carrying into effect of the campaign against the innocent appearing barberry.

Apparently the plant is "host" for the rust, which is carried on the winds as far as two or three hundred miles. When the climate conditions are suitable, it fastens to the wheat, and then to complete the cycle, the parasite returns to the barberry, which preserves it in health during the winter.

New Advanced Wheat. For the past eleven years, on his farm near Rosthern, on the Canadian Northern Railway, in central Saskatchewan, Seager Wheeler has been "breeding" a strain of wheat that matures early. In itself that should be of value as a guarantee against loss by frost. But there is added significance that by the time the rust usually develops on wheat in the west, his wheat has developed to the point where it can do practically no harm.

While little has been said in public in Canada, the leaders in Canadian agriculture have been closely watching the rust evil in all its ramifications. Now, Dean Rutherford, of Saskatoon, points out: "The people of Saskatchewan are fully aware of the fact that rust can come to us from Dakota or from any of the states to the south, and gets started when are conditions are favorable to its propagation and spread. The states to the south are waging war against the barberry. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and I think Alberta, have included the barberry bush among their noxious weeds. Steps are being taken to have it destroyed in all gardens and hedges. The Dominion Department of Agriculture is interesting itself in this important question, and has under way carefully planned investigations with reference to it."

BRITISH AIRMAN TAKEN FOR GERMAN

Audacity nabled Him to Succeed, King George is Told

London, July 30.—An amazing story of how the British airman reached Tondern and bombed Zeppelin sheds on the occasion of the recent raid was told King George when he visited the "Mystery Ship" of the Grand Fleet. This ship is a triplane-carrier. She took the flying men and their machines to a suitable point off the German coast at a very small hour of the morning. A number of airplanes were despatched to destroy the Zeppelin hangars at Tondern.

Captain Dixon, a very young officer, arrived at his destination in the grey dawn and came so low in his search for hangars that at one time he was within five feet of the ground. He flew along the whole length of the main street and was seen by a milkman, who took the machine for a German plane and stood up in his cart to wave a cheery good morning.

Dixon quickly recognized how helpful this mistake would prove to him and fleetly waved back a greeting. The crews of the German anti-aircraft guns seem also to have mistaken the machine for a German plane, for they did not fire.

Dixon, searching for Zeppelin sheds, hawked around just above the rooftops until he found what looked to be an airship shed. Down went a bomb upon it, but the tremendous explosion showed that he had hit an ammunition dump which was utterly destroyed.

Speeding along, still quite low, he came upon a Zeppelin shed and bombed it. Almost instantly there was a fierce conflagration. The flames rising nearly 1,000 feet. This indicated the nature of the target reached, and as his object had been achieved, the pilot made for his supply ship. A heavy barrage was now put up by the enemy, but Dixon reached home with his machine undamaged.

The barrage gave the direction to the other attacking machines. Capt. Smart, who piloted one of them, saw by the light of the burning hangar that there was a second Zeppelin shed, which had escaped direct injury from the first attack. With better guidance than his comrade had found available, but with enemy shells flying thick around him, which compelled him to keep to a much greater height while launching his missiles, he attacked in turn and blew up the second shed. He, too, returned unscathed.

PROVINCIAL COUNTY ROADS. Woodstock, July 29.—A special session of the County Council was held here to-day to discuss the advisability of asking the Government to take over as Provincial county highways certain of the county roads. Under present conditions the Government pays 20 per cent. of the maintenance, and 40 per cent. of the construction of county roads, but under the proposal the Government pays 60 per cent. of maintenance and construction. It was finally decided to send to the Government a request that the county roads running from Thamesford to Natic, via Ingersoll and Woodstock, from Ingersoll to Tillsonburg, and from Woodstock to Tavistock be taken over as Provincial county highways.

President Purney Says They Are Losing Confidence of the Public

BECAUSE OF FEW MEN

Toronto, July 30.—A strong appeal to the veterans of the great war, to so conduct themselves that veterans as a whole would regain some of the public sympathy which has been lost by individuals delivered by Col. W. P. Purney, of Halifax, president of the Dominion Great War Veterans' Association, featured the opening of that organization's second annual convention at the Central Technical School yesterday. Col. Purney made a strong and stirring address, pointing out that the "unreasonable attitude of some of the members has been responsible for losing public sympathy," and he went to the length of declaring that if some of the veterans did not see fit to mend their ways, he would be ready to give up the prominent position which he now holds in them. The only way in which the veterans can hope to attain their objects is to retain the confidence of the public, for no government, he maintained, would dare to legislate against the interests and the wishes of the majority of the people. All good things, he added, must come through legislation, but legislation cannot come without the sympathy of the bulk of the people.

A Few Are to Blame.
"But let me tell you," he added, "we are in danger now of losing the sympathy of the public upon which so much depends. Even now the Government is not giving all the consideration we would wish to matters of interest to us, but that is not entirely the fault of the Government. We are ourselves somewhat to blame."

"It is because we are harboring in our membership men who are unreasonable, men who make ridiculous and impossible demands, men who in some quarters have earned the name of anarchists and agitators, and who have managed to bring discredit upon the name of the Great War Veterans' Association. Sometimes these men may act thoughtlessly, but there are all too many cases where they seem possessed of the idea that they can take constituted authority by the throat and run the country themselves. I firmly believe the time is coming when the returned men will be able to run the country, but that can only happen after they have reached a sufficiently high plane of civilization to be entrusted with that responsibility. I want to warn you that the time has come for us to cure this evil in our midst, for it must be cured, for if one will not bear it any longer, and I have come to this convention to do all in my power to bring about a complete change in affairs. If necessary, I will sacrifice my position to regain public confidence. Our members must be controlled, and we must talk with a united voice, rather than through the mouths of individuals. We must conduct ourselves so that never again will any of us be called anarchists or agitators."

Judging from the enthusiasm with which Col. Purney's disciplinary speech was received the majority of the delegates were heartily in sympathy with his attitude. Many problems to face. The conference, which opened yesterday, represents the veterans from all points of the Dominion, some 200 delegates being gathered, with the object of bettering the conditions of returned soldiers as a whole, with improving their constitution, and, as the president put it, "straightening out some of the crooked points in their organization." At this is but the second annual convention and the organization is such a youthful one, many details of organization have necessarily to be improved upon, one of the most important questions coming up for consideration being the obtaining of a proper Government charter under which to operate.

SERGT. J. JENKINS DEAD IN OLD LAND

Beeton Man, Well Known in Waterford, Makes the Supreme Sacrifice

Closely following a letter from Sergt. James Jenkins, comes the news of his death at the Canadian General Hospital, Taplow, Bucks, England, on July 10th. It is presumed that, as the Sergt's heart had developed a weakness, his death was very sudden. James Jenkins was born in Hartland, England, about 47 years ago and came to Canada and almost immediately to Beeton, some 20 years ago. He was employed for a number of years with the late S. Hayes as a shoemaker. In the fall of 1916 he enlisted in the 157th Battalion and after training at Camp Borden proceeded to England. Sergt. Jenkins could not come up to the physical test and was not drafted for France. He remained in England and was employed at his trade in the army until some few months ago, when, owing to an attack of bronchitis, he was confined to the hospital. This disease left a certain heart weakness and, he expected to

A Few Good Fish Recipes

Baked Halibut.
Arrange 6 thin slices of fat salt pork 2 1/2 inches square, in a small dripping pan. Cover with a thin slice white onion and a little chopped parsley. Wash and wipe dry a two-pound piece of halibut and place on the pork and onions. Sprinkle lightly with salt, celery salt and pepper and cover with crushed cracker crumbs that have been mixed with melted butter. Cook in a hot oven basting frequently with the pork fat that forms in the pan, and 1-2 cup boiling water. Be careful not to disarrange the crumbs when basting. If it browns too quickly, cover with a piece of buttered paper. Dish on a heated platter, garnish with lemon joints that have been rolled in chopped parsley and serve with a thick, highly seasoned tomato sauce.

Beat the whites and yolks of two eggs separately. Add the yolks first and mix well, then just before cooking fold in the whites. Turn into well greased molds and steam one-half hour. Serve on individual dishes with a sauce poured over them.

Fisherman's Delight.
Dress clean and split a four-pound haddock, wipe with a piece of cheesecloth wrung out of cold water, sprinkle inside generously with salt, cover and let stand overnight. In the morning remove salt, rinse fish thoroughly, tie in a piece of cheesecloth and cook in boiling water. Drain, remove the hot plate, surround with steamed potatoes and hot boiled beets, cut in fancy shapes. Cut fat salt pork in slices and cubes, then try out. Serve fish with pork scraps, pork fat and white sauce made as follows: Melt 3 1/2 tablespoons butter, add 3 tablespoons flour or cornstarch and stir until well blended. Then pour on gradually while stirring constantly 1 1/2 pints scalded milk. Bring to the boiling point and season with salt and pepper.

He and Former Munitions Employee Gave Away Official Secrets

London, July 30.—Sir Joseph Jones, former Lord Mayor of Sheffield, was fined £2,000, and Charles

Alfred Vernon, former employee in the Ministry of Munitions, was fined £1,000 with costs, in the Old Bailey Court yesterday in connection with charges that they had conspired to violate the Official Secrets Act by obtaining and communicating information that might be useful to the enemy. The jury which heard the evidence in the case found that they were not guilty of a felony, but had committed a misdemeanor. Carl Hahn, another defendant in the case, was acquitted. The charges against the three men were based on information given to Germany in 1913 relative to the intention of a British firm to manufacture rifles.

JUDGES WANT RAISE
By Courier Leased Wire
Toronto, July 30.—The latest body of workers to be affected by the unrest regarding the wage scale are the county court judges of Ontario. A number of them met to-day and discussed the situation. Their salaries, they claim, have not been raised in forty years, and some of them say that if it were not for commissions derived they would not be able to live.

CALL TO CANADA FROM OVERSEAS

Boys in Trenches Urge the Speeding up of Munition Supplies

VICTORY IS AT HAND

Hearty Co-Operation of the Workers Will Hasten End of War

Canadians have won immortal fame by their gallant and heroic actions in fighting the Germans in France and Flanders. They have given proof that the boys "over there" are fighting so that all may retain the blessings of liberty and civilization. The same spirit seemed to animate all the people at home for a very long time. Those who could not go overseas recognized it was their duty to do "their bit" at home. They entered upon their tasks in a light-hearted manner and gloried in carrying their share of the burden, with the result that great things were accomplished. For instance, when Canada was asked to manufacture munitions of war, everybody was anxious to help. Men and women who previously had been strangers to industrial activity entered the factories and workshops to fill the places of regular mechanics who had been called to the colors. They quickly adapted themselves to the new conditions, and in a very short time became experienced artisans.

This volunteer army under the direction of the older skilled mechanics were not long in producing results. Last year these people produced fifty-five per cent of all the shrapnel used by the British army. They also turned out forty-two per cent of all the 4.5's and twenty-seven per cent of all the 6-inch shells which "Tommy Atkins" fired at the "Boches." That was a great achievement, and it was confidently expected that a still greater record would have been made this year. For some unknown reason efforts have been relaxed and there is a danger that the output of munitions may fall below the standard of last year. This would be very unfortunate and would place a nasty blot on the escutcheon of the Dominion. Probably some have grown weary in well doing, others may have become infected with war-weariness, but whatever the cause, it is only necessary to call the attention of true Canadians to the fact and they will undoubtedly see to it that the magnificent record of the past is more than maintained.

Makes New Record.
 National prestige demands that a new record be made in the output of munitions this year. Canadian soldiers have given the world a new example of pluck and endurance. They have shown how to "carry on" in the face of every obstacle and difficulty. They have refused to acknowledge the word "fear." It is not in their vocabulary or in their make-up. Their indomitable energy and unflinching courage on the fields of Flanders and in the trenches won the admiration of the whole civilized world. It aroused the latent spirit of patriotism in the breasts of our compatriots to the south, and impelled them to enter the war and emulate their heroic deeds.

Those at home should remember there is a limit to human endurance. That "the boys" in France can only maintain their record and win more laurels if those of the industrial army, entrenched here in ease and comfort, keep them well supplied with shrapnel, shells and other munitions.

That is the price of victory, the only safeguard the men have to protect them from the devilish death dealing devices of the Hun. It is the duty of the stay-at-homes to see these things are provided in abundance, and the slogan in all factories and workshops of the Dominion for the balance of this year should be "more-munitions-continually." Keep up the supply, let there be no more lukewarmness, and victory will soon be won.

CHURCHES UNITE.
 Associated Press.
 New Haven, Conn., July 29.—At least a temporary union of churches in 18 Connecticut towns has been accomplished within a year owing to circumstances resulting from the war, reports a committee of the Connecticut Federation of Churches. Denominations joining in the movement were Baptist, Methodist, Congregational, Free Baptist, Lutheran and Independent Methodist. Thirty-seven church organizations are combining services in eighteen buildings in one town. Baptists and Free Baptists united under a Methodist minister.

Each church organization has retained its own officers and adheres to its own denominational beliefs. In most cases the union is considered a temporary expedient for the period of the war. It is pointed out that the federation of churches is not irrevocable.

CURRENCY IN CANADA

Some Interesting Facts and Figures Regarding Our Coinage

In the early days all sorts of coin were current in British North America. The first ordinance passed by the British authorities in Canada was in 1764 and by it the French Louis d'or and the French Crown were rated above their normal value for the purpose of retaining them in circulation in the colony.

The first step taken in Canada for a revision of the currency was in 1795, when to remedy the evils resulting from the coined money in circulation being reduced in weight, debased in value, and composed of every variety of metal, it was decided to all countries trading with this continent an act was passed fixing a standard of value founded upon the average intrinsic worth of the gold and silver coins of Great Britain, Portugal and Spain, and the United States. Some assistance was given by this measure but the increasing business of the country demanded improved facilities for change.

Canadian coin as more frequently termed "Hall's" currency was established by an ordinance of 1795, which changed the monetary nomenclature from French to English terms, but adopted as the unit a shilling equal in value to the old French livre. The denominations were dollars, pounds, shillings and pence, 30 shillings being equal to the dollar.

From August, 1812, near the close of 1820 the people of Canada used a currency composed for the most part of promissory legal tender designated "Army Bills," issued by the government to the value of $23,441,993 in denominations of $400, $100, $50, $25, $10, $5, $3, $2 and $1, each dollar being considered equal to 5 shillings Halifax currency. "Army Bills," which provided the government with funds during the War of 1812, were finally withdrawn from circulation, and the books closed 28th April, 1821.

The "decimal system" of dollars and cents was adopted by the Public Accounts Department in 1858. The single gold standard adopted by Canada under the act of 1871 is that of the British sovereign, of the weight and fineness prescribed by the laws of the United Kingdom to pass current at $4.86 2-3. Provision was also made that, until otherwise ordered, the gold of the United States should be legal tender in Canada at its face value, when it is up to the standard weight and limit of tolerance (rounding of mint) prescribed by law, namely, fixed weight to penny-weights, and 18 grains Troy, and of the fineness fixed by the United States Act of 1837 equalling .99225 and that of 1837, equalling .900. A Canadian 50-cent piece weighs 179.31 grains silver and is .325 thousandths fine. The 5 and 10 cent pieces are in like proportions and are legal tender to the amount of $10. The copper coin is legal tender to the amount of 25 cents in one payment.

RAIDS FOR ARMS IN IRELAND CONTINUE

Sinn Feiners Reported to be Commandeering Many Weapons

Dublin, July 29. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Raids for arms continue in Ireland and some are reported daily. As a rule the Sinn Feiners meet with no resistance in commandeering whatever weapons are discoverable in a raided house. But occasionally the owners fight and the raiders suffer. An attack was made recently by six armed men with blackened faces on a woman's house at Fermoy. A retired army officer living in the house captured two of the raiders and drove the others away. Five prisoners were committed for trial to the Assizes.

In a case near Tusk, in Roseomon, a party of men with blackened faces raided a farmer's house in search of arms. They demanded his gun, and when he refused, dragged him out and handled him roughly. He escaped into the house and a finding his gun turned it against his assailants who fled.

The weapons seized by the Sinn Feiners are in many instances seized by the police in counter-raids. The other day several shot guns and ammunition were found in Tipperary. In one house during the raid the police came upon a heap of one hundred and fifty pounds in silver which they took away.

OTTAWA ATHLETES LEAVE
By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Ont., July 30.—Three of Ottawa's best amateur baseball and hockey players, Bert LeSage, Art Rheume and Roger Smith are leaving this week for Hamilton to take up positions. All three played with Ottawa East team this summer. Le-

Sage being a second baseman, Smith a first baseman and Rheume a short-stop. LeSage last winter played hockey in the Quebec City league, while Rheume, who is one of the best goal tenders, amateur or professional in these parts, was with the Royal Canadians and National Mfg. teams.

GRAPE JUICE TESTS.

Ottawa, July 28.—Of 111 samples of grape juice recently analyzed by A. McGill, chief analyst of the Dominion, 97 completely met the departmental standard. Only two were seriously adulterated.

One of these pictures show 50 boys of the Boys' Naval Brigade, starting from Toronto on a two-weeks' cruise on the lake in the Schooner Wave Crest, an 80-ton sailing vessel which has crossed the Atlantic seven times, and called the Mediterranean. This is the first of a series of such trips with 50 boys on each. Capable naval instructors are in charge. The picture shows the Wave Crest alongside the Boys' Toronto Bay Training Ship, the Commodore Jarvis. The other photo presents a general view of the big garden fete given at "Ben Macdree," the residence of Mr. A. M. Hobbelen, at Port Credit, for the Navy League. A drill by the lads of the Naval Cadets was a feature of the thoroughly naval program.

USING MORE GREENS.

The healthfulness and the deliciousness of greens is not merely evident in the springtime—when they're advised because of their value as a "medicine"—but is important the year around. What uses do you make of beet greens, dandelions, sorrel, onion tops, spinach and the other greens of which you know.

Best greens need only the addition of a small amount of water. They should be boiled about 10 minutes. Then drain, chop, drain again and season with salt, pepper and butter, adding if desired a few drops of vinegar or lemon juice. Sorrel is delicious when cooked in the same way and served with a cream sauce.

Dandelions, cooked for about 12 minutes and treated as are the other greens, with perhaps the addition of a little onion juice, or creamed, are exceedingly good. The tops of scallions, cut into small pieces, covered with boiling water and rapidly cooked for about 10 minutes, then drained and mixed with a cream sauce and served immediately are well worth trying.

THE KAISER'S PROBLEM.

Will He Try to Save "Mittel-Europa" Scheme?

The Kaiser to-day faces his greatest crisis, the biggest problem of the war—and he alone can solve it. Hindenburg can't help him, Mackensen can't help him, Ludendorff can't help him.

This is the problem: "Shall the west front offensive be abandoned to save the dream of world-empire—'Mittel-Europa'?"

This problem must be solved, because—

First: Austrian military collapse seems imminent on the Italian front.

Second: An ever-increasing American army is facing the Hun in France.

Third: Retreat in Italy must be the signal for disruption of Austria-Hungary.

Already the Austrian drive in Italy has been without question one of the war's most colossal failures. It holds some serious consequences for Austria as did the battle of the Marne for Germany. Not only that, but it puts Germany in a most serious position.

The possibility of defeat never enters into the German military plans. If Germany sends an army to stave off Austrian disaster, it will mean that the great summer offensive in Champagne and Picardy will have to be abandoned.

And with the American army at the front growing bigger every day, Gen. Foch might decide to put into operation this summer or autumn the great Allied drive which is planned for next year.

The critical question is complicated by the urgent necessity for keeping Austria in the war. Austria lost means Mittel Europe lost; the Kaiser's dream of world empire evaporated.

And the food riots in Austria must be stopped; the hungry Austrians must be fed or they will quit the war regardless of the plans of Kaiser Wilhelm and Kaiser Carl.

THE STRONG POINT

(By Lieut. J. B. Morton.)
Four men sat at a wooden table in the Divisional canteen, eating sausage and mashed potatoes. When they had finished they pushed their plates aside, finished their coffee, and lit their pipes. Then they called on Pheelin Raftery for a tale. Pheelin was a gunner and was temporarily attached to the tanks. He had a great reputation as a teller of tales, and this is the tale he told that night.

There was a Platoon holding a strong point in an important part of the British line. The trenches ran along a ridge which the Germans particularly enjoyed, for it commanded a view of the surrounding country and was carefully and strongly fortified. Everyone knew they were going to attack the position again, and every man there knew that if the strong point fell, that part of the line went with it. A barrage had been put down behind the trenches which made it very difficult to get food up to the line. The men had contented themselves with their pipes and cigarettes, but at last their supplies of tobacco ran short also.

"I hope they'll soon come sir," we'll have nothing to smoke."

That night the Platoon commander sat at the telephone.

"Yes, Sir," he said. "We all quite understand. Hold out to the death. Yes, sir. Forty-three men, sir: all in good spirits."

"He got up and walked slowly down the trench. There was no question about the spirits of the men. Their only anxiety was for their dwindling supply of cigarettes and tobacco. The Platoon commander emptied his cigarette case when he came to the Lewis Gunners, and gave the sentries a word or two of advice. Then he saw that his own revolver was in proper order, and that every man knew where to find the reserve of ammunition and the bombs. A 'Minnie' landed a few feet from the parapet and brought in some of the sandbags. He took a spare himself and started to build them up again sucking at his empty pipe. He was putting the parapet into shape when the alarm was given. There was a bustling in the trench, and in a second or two every man was at his post his rifle in position. There was a murmuring among the Lewis Gunners as they strained their eyes into the darkness of No. 14's Land.

It was a moonless night and the sky was dark with clouds, so that it was difficult at first to make out the moving forms. But the artillery had already seen them and had shortened their barrage. That drove the attackers more quickly out of their trench. For a few seconds they may have hugged the delusion that they were "surrounding" the British; just for a few seconds, and then came their disillusionment. Lewis guns and rifles spoke, and the air was throbbled with bullets. There were great numbers of the Germans, and the check was only momentary. They pressed forward over the fallen, coming nearer and nearer.

They were some forty yards from their objective when Percy came. He came quite calmly, almost superciliously blundering out of the night, and the Germans saw his bulk loom. He was with his Lewis gun and his six-pounders.

They knew that any moment he might move forward in that deliberate, inexorable manner of the tanks. They judged it wiser to withdraw. So they went back, with Percy neatly inflaming them, and the men in the strong point speeding them from the rear. When all was clear once more, Percy turned and waddled back into the night. The platoon commander went to the telephone once more.

"Yes, sir, Merrick speaking. Hold them! No, sir, beat them off, thanks to the Tank. Expect they'll have another shot, sir."

Then he went round his defences, and saw that everything possible was done for the wounded men. He had kept a small reserve of cigarettes for this emergency. These he distributed. They were to be relieved quite soon, unless there was another attack.

He began to feel very weak. He wished there was some tobacco in his pipe. He wondered if anyone had noticed blood on his clothes. His thigh hurt devilishly. His head began to whirl, and intense physical sickness came over him. He'd better lean up against something. He went slowly to a corner of the trench, and a great darkness was in front of his eyes and a great ringing in his ears, like the sound of the sea in storm. He must pull himself together; somebody was speaking. He leant one hand against the parapet.

"Yes, sergeant."

"They're coming, sir."

"Oh, right." He made one great effort to walk.

"Sentries all right? I—"

"It's the relief—yes." I meant sir. Word just come. We're to get ready to go."

"Oh—relief—yes." He felt his mind slipping away. That infernal pain was burning him. The sergeant's voice was coming from a great distance. Gradually he was sinking into deep places.

The sergeant caught him and uttered an exclamation of surprise. The subaltern's tunic was wet with blood round the thigh. Presently the relief came, and he was taken away on a stretcher.

In the mess two days later, in a village behind the line, the M.O. was talking to the colonel.

"Yes, sir," he said, "there's no doubt about it. Young Merrick was hit some time before that attack, but he just kept it quiet. And he knew what was coming. But it's not serious fortunately. He'll need a bit of a rest, that's all."

MESSAGE TO U.S. SAILORS.

Associated Press.

London, July 29.—A personal message of greetings and good wishes from King George V was recently delivered to the men of the American battleships with the British Grand Fleet by the Duke of Atholl, who visited the American ships as the personal representative of the King.

WEEK QUIET.

By Courier Lensed Wire.

London, July 29.—Reporting military operations on the Australian front, a War Office statement issued to-day says:

"In the week the situation on the British front was quiet. Six hostile airplanes were brought down. Two of our failed to return."

FOUR DRIVES FAIL.

Germans Expected to Get Decision on West Front.

Drive on the Somme, March 21. Base, 50 miles; advance, 35. Defeated in 11 days.

Drive on the Lys, April 9. Base, 20 miles; advance, 13. Defeated in nine days.

Drive on the Aisne, May 27. Base, 43 miles; advance, 30. Defeated in seven days.

Drive on the Oise, June 9. Base, 22 miles; advance, 12. Defeated in six days.

Such is the record of the German spring campaign in the west. It is an admirable example of what economists call the law of diminishing returns, in accordance with which products of the soil decrease in amount in proportion to the increase of population, requiring additional labor and capital to augment the supply. Note the successive decrease in the duration of the drive, from 11 to nine, to seven, to six, showing that the enemy is more quickly exhausted now than he was three months ago.

Also it will be observed that his penetrating power is less. The latest drive was from a slightly longer line than that in Flanders, yet the depth of advance was a mile or so less. The entire campaign has added territory in the grip of the Germans, not very valuable if one excepts the Chemin-des-Dames and the line of the Aisne river, which are strategically of great importance; the rest matters little. On the other hand, not a single one of the Boche objectives has been reached.

Although the Allies have lost largely in prisoners and guns taken by the enemy, this is counter-balanced by the fact that the Germans have sacrificed in their vain efforts hundreds of thousands of men whom they could ill spare. Some estimates place their losses as high as 680,000 men, even more than in the slaughterhouse of Verdun. The German army is depleted and has been fought to a standstill, but it is believed that there are yet untouched reserves of men, together with those back from the hospitals, with whom the enemy will undoubtedly go on with the war.

The military coterie that is now the master of Germany cares nothing for the lives of her people so long as it can retain its supremacy. One may take for granted, therefore, that it will continue the struggle as long as it can find the men to fight for its interests. For the time being, however, the rulers have been defeated. Whatever their ultimate purpose, whether it was the capture of Paris or simply a preparation for a drive against the Channel ports, they have failed.

RIDING A BICYCLE ACROSS CONTINENT

George Storm of Vancouver, is on the way to Halifax and will be in Toronto Very Soon

It is not generally known that a prominent wheelman of British Columbia is making an effort to cross Canada on a bicycle. So far his attempt has been highly successful and in a comparatively short time he should be on the road that leads direct to Toronto. The man's name is Geo. Storm. In other words, there is a "storm" headed this way.

Storm left Vancouver on May 9th and he expects to arrive in Halifax six months later. Soon after his start, the tourist was compelled to cross the border into the United States in order to make any progress at all. He travelled through the States of Washington and Idaho after which he regained Canadian territory near Kingsgate, British Columbia. He passed through Cranbrook, B.C., on June 3rd, his total mileage at that time being 763 miles. At Kingsgate his tour almost came to an untimely end when the hotel in which he was stopping was totally destroyed by fire. Storm managed to save his wheel and kit and soon resumed his long journey.

Before the end of June Storm had reached Alberta, after a plug over mountainous roads in Eastern British Columbia. In spite of fierce roads, however, the tourist had not suffered one puncture. He is now reported to be in Saskatchewan and he hopes to make Winnipeg before the end of the third month.

Mr. Storm started out without any money, one condition of the trip being that he was to earn his way. At different places along the route he has obtained work as a painter. Storm is not competing for any great wager or prize such as was put up for similar stunts in the olden days. He is not trying to break any speed records, his one object being to cross the continent on a bicycle and to keep within Canada as much as possible. After the one dip into the States south of British Columbia, he does not expect to be compelled to cross the border again. He has mapped out his route through Northern Ontario and expects to ride his wheel Superior where the roads and trails are more or less scarce. With his bicycle however, Storm can squeeze through where a larger vehicle could not pass at all.

Storm reports that the roads which he uses in British Columbia were absolute "feres." On one occasion he ploughed through thirty seven miles of mud during a continuous rain storm.

The wheel or of various places in Ontario and Quebec have been making enquiries regarding the possible date of his arrival at the different centres so that they may give him a welcome.

SPORTING COMMENT

Donie Bush, the Detroit short-stop, was playing in an exhibition game against an Indianapolis colored team. One old darkey was sitting in the bleachers watching his brethren perform. Also he had waisted all his spare change and all he could borrow on them.

The teams were playing the ninth inning and the colored "buds" were one run behind. They also had a man on third with two out and their heaviest batter at bat. The batter popped a foul.

Bush, stampering over, reared the ball and just as he was about to make the catch the old darkey dropped on his knees and howled: "Oh, Gawd! Paralyze dat man!"

Bush heard him, started to laugh and dropped the ball. The batter slammed the next pitch for a home run, winning the game.

There is one colored gentleman in Indianapolis who is far from being in need of words from Billy Sunday on the power of prayer.

There is a member of the Chicago Sox who possesses a weakness. His name is Eddie Cleotte. It is a weakness of being easily bluffed in a poker game.

One night, when the team was on the road, and Eddie was leaving his room in the hotel to join the Burglar's club in its regular session, his wife called to him: "Eddie, oh, Eddie!"

"Yes, wife," he answered.

Toronto, July 29.—Dr. J. T. Gilmour, inspector of paroled prisoners in Ontario, died suddenly this morning from heart disease. He was attacked suddenly while working in his garden. Dr. Gilmour was warden of the Central Prison from 1896 until the removal of that institution from Toronto to Guelph, when he became connected with the parole board. From 1886 to 1894 he sat in the Legislature for East York. He was born in Newcastle, Ont., 63 years ago.

HIGH HEELED SHOES PUT CORNS ON TOES

Tells women how to dry up a corn so it lifts out without pain.

Modern high-heeled footwear buckles the toes and produces corns, and many of the thousands of hospital cases of infection and lockjaw are the result of woman's suicidal habit of trying to cut away these painful pests.

For little cost there can be obtained at any pharmacy a quarter of an ounce of a drug called "freezone" which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus without the slightest danger or inconvenience.

A few drops applied directly upon the tender, aching corn stops the soreness, and shortly the entire corn shrivels up and comes out without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Cut this out and try it if your corns bother you.

LADIES' CORSET COVER.

By Anabel Worthington.

This new summer corset cover, No. 8334, is suitable for embroidery finishing and is very easy to make. The edge of the neck is perfectly straight, and it is drawn in slightly on a ribbon. A circular, fitted peplum holds the corset cover snugly in place at the waistline, but it may be discarded if preferred. A shield-shaped piece of the embroidery may be added to conceal the dress shield, as shown in the sketch, but this is also optional. The small front view shows the corset cover made up of plain lingerie material and trimmed with a dainty Val insertion and edging.

The one-piece corset cover pattern, No. 8334, is cut in five sizes—34 to 42 inches bust measure. The 38 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of 18 inch flouncing, 1 yard edging, 1 yard beading and 3/4 yard of ribbon.

To obtain the above pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

To obtain this pattern send 15 cents to The Courier office, or two for 25 cents.

A petition for a pardon, signed by three thousand women of Geneva, was sent to the Crown Princess of Germany nearly a year ago. Ancient Advertisements. Writers of advertisements for department stores, who were fond of endless detail in spreading their store news before the public, might gather a lesson from the Baltimore American's recent reprint of its first issue, dated August 20, 1773. This contains an advertisement of a Baltimore Jeweller. After enumerating part of his stock, he concludes: "Silver & steel top'd thimbles, pin cushion hoops and chains, with sundry other articles, too tedious to mention. Another advertisement in the pre-Revolutionary paper above quoted runs as follows: Baltimore, August 18, 1773. Many people in this Town and Fell's Point having hitherto neglected to pay their public Dues this year, my deputy has my orders to execute every person that has not paid, without distinction, as I am to leave the office in November, and all accounts must be settled with

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Sheriff of Baltimore County. No doubt the exasperated sheriff here uses the word "execute" in the legal sense of enforcing a judgment of writ of execution to sell the offender's property, and does not mean to threaten him with sudden death if he fail.

GIRLS AT WORK

By Courier Leased Wire. Saskatoon, Sk., July 30.—Girls have been put to work at the post-office. Labor leaders are preparing to call out power house employees at once.

What is a Doughnut? "What is a doughnut?" The question is not nearly so important as "where is a doughnut?" But few people now know how to make doughnuts. The genuine doughnut is a matter of substance, not shape. It is perfume, not persiflage. It must be golden brown; hot from the deep lard; not sugared (sugar is a crime); smelling like home and mother and Thanksgiving perfumes like basting of turkeys, simmering of mince pies and browning of sugar cookies. A doughnut may be made like a little man and fried until he winks at little boys who eat them like cannibals, but the usual form of the doughnut is a rim of ecstasy around a hole of hope. The hole in a doughnut is not an accident. No doughnut may properly be fried to perfection unless around a hole, because the solid dough will not do as well unless it has room to grow beautiful in the cooking. There is always a reason in old-fashioned housekeeping. A doughnut is as near perfect as a mince pie. And mince pie is what the gods ate on Olympus and called ambrosial. There is another kind of doughnut called cruller. It is a corruption of the word cruller. Your digestion will tell you the difference between the two.

GIRLS RUN FACTORY. Liverpool, England, July 29.—There is a shell factory in this district operated almost exclusively by the daughters of business and professional men. Many are young girls who had never done any kind of work than needle work and a bit of cooking. The heavy work of the establishment is performed by the wives of sailors.

LOSS OF APETITE is commonly gradual; one dish after another is set aside. It is one of the first indications that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla—the best of all tonics.

CROWN PRINCESS OF GERMANY.

Crown Princess and that she will do nothing towards bringing it to the attention of the higher authorities. The document has been described as a typical expression of autocratic desire to bring suffering to those who oppose them, and is characteristic of the woman who hopes to be some day the Empress of Germany. It is not surprising that the Crown Princess of Germany is a hard and bitter woman. She has been trained in a country where the old idea of the divine right of the ruling classes has not been undermined, and she has never been given an opportunity to broaden her vision. Her domestic experiences have not been calculated to soften and beautify her character. Married to a young rake, whose love affairs are notorious all over Europe, she had to content herself with the knowledge that she is, at least, the mother of the future German Emperor, even though the amorous glances of the Crown Prince were continually singling out other women for more attention than he paid to his wife. It is stated by an American ambassador who had an opportunity to observe the habits of the Crown Prince before the war, that his fondness for female admiration was almost abnormal. Even when playing tennis, a game of which he was very fond, he would immediately lose interest if he saw a pretty woman, other than his wife, near the court. He invariably began to pose for her benefit and watch the effect out of the corner of his eye, with the result that his opponents, usually scoundrels, had hard work allowing him to win. It is not much wonder that his wife has become embittered. She probably gloats over the suffering of other women who are in her power because she has been forced to suffer so much in silence.

The Useful Coconut.

There is no other plant in the world so extensively used for so many purposes as the coconut. It is the universal provider, and practically everything man needs for food, housing, and clothing can be obtained from it. There is the margarine that has come into its kingdom during the war. There is the soap with which we wash, the scrubbing brushes and carpet brooms used for cleaning, the mats on which we wipe our feet, and the matting we lay in kitchens and corridors. We make cocoanut cakes and biscuits for tea and cocoanut ice for the children. When our hands are roughened in cold weather we rub them with cocoanut cream; we grease the wheels of our mangle with cocoanut oil. Sometimes we burn the oil in our reading lamps, and light ourselves to bed with candles made from the cocoanut fat. We tie up our parcels with rope made from cocoanut fibres, and this also makes the coarse clothing with which furniture is often packed. Mattresses are often stuffed with coir.—My Magazine.

Must Bein Ourselves in.

"He died in harness, poor chap." "Yes, and, by the way, did you ever notice how much like a harness life is?" There are traces of care, lines of trouble, bits of good fortune and breaches of faith. Also tongues must be bridled, passions curbed, and everybody has to tug to pull through.

Mexican Alcohol.

Alcohol is being made in Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, from a plant called sotol, which grows uncultivated in Mexico and southern Texas. Consul E. A. Dow reports that from eighteen to twenty-five gallons of alcohol can be produced from one ton of the plant.

A Bolshevik meeting at Winnipeg was broken up by Dominion police, and fourteen men arrested.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason.
UNDERSTANDING US.

They held the theory everywhere—a theory uninviting—that gold is all for which we care, for which we'll do our fighting. "They're money grubbers, one and all," the nations cried, in anguish; "we have our backs against the wall, and still in sloth they languish. Still, they chase the buck and bone, to strains of Yankee Doodle; they hear the stricken peoples groan, and gather in more huddle." But now they see our legions rush across the rolling breakers, and not to gather in some cash or annex foreign acres. They see our men go forth to fight where demolition rages, to plant the standard of the right where it may stand for ages. Across the mined and ambushed sea, a thousand leagues of water, we go that nations may be free, that tyranny may totter. The wealth for which we planned and toiled in times of peace, is helping to see the warlord's program spoiled, and sets his cohorts yelping. And now they see us as we are; we're slow to wrath, but thunder! When aroused we rip things all ajar and tear the map asunder. They see us standing up for right without a thought of profit; they'll see us carry on the fight until there's ice in Tophet.

ANOTHER EMPLACEMENT.

By Courier Leased Wire
Paris, July 29.—(Havas Agency).—French and American troops have discovered a second emplacement for a German super cannon at Nanteuil-Notre-Dame, according to The Herald. The emplacement was five metres deep and 14 metres square. The first super cannon emplacement discovered by the Allies was at Brezy, a little over three miles to the south of Nanteuil-Notre-Dame.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IS NOT WITH R.A.F.

Comedian is Still Making Motion Pictures in California

NOT DRAFTED YET

But Was Recently Married to His Leading Lady

Charlie Chaplin, the much featured star in Movieland whose eccentric walk and exaggerated comicallities have gained for him friends and finances sufficient to excite the envy of minor kings, has been mentioned in print of late by Ontario newspapers which have persistently credited him with being now in the Royal Air Force, preparing to take up his part as an Englishman in the fight for civilization. He has been referred to as resident at Leaside in Deseronto. Another placed him at Camp Mohawk—and still another at Beamsville.

Kingston Josted
It was one of the Kingston dailies that invested its recognition of the "million dollar success" turned soldier with the convincing particulars disclosed in the following excerpt:
"Kingstonians who were in Belleville yesterday saw calmly walking up and down Front street gazing into the shop windows a personage familiar to all motion-dollars, Charlie Chaplin, the 'million-dollar comedian' who has been drafted into Britain's army, and is now training at Camp Mohawk as an aviator. Gone is his funny moustache and his alligator walk. He would be hardly recognizable now except for his drawn face, familiar to everyone. His uniform fits him like a glove. His cap is neatly folded away under the regulation puttees and his head is crowned with a dinky little cap which completely transforms his appearance. Charlie has made two or three solo flights and expects to go overseas very shortly to fight the Huns. If he is successful in the war, the Germans undoubtedly will desert the sector to which he is attached."

The admission that Chaplin's appearance is completely transformed in R. A. F. uniform is something of a saving clause in this case. The Belleville "Intelligencer" too assured its readers that Chaplin was "in their midst," with much particularity and somewhat personal comment.
In the Sunny South
As a matter of plain fact, Charlie Chaplin when seen in Belleville was actually present in the flesh at Los Angeles. He has not been drafted into the British army. He is not in training at Mohawk or any other Canadian aviation camps. He has yet to make his solo flight, save in the realms of fancy. He has not been enrolled in the Royal Air Force, as careful search of the records of that important branch of the army activities authoritatively attests.

He registered under the American draft some time ago as a naturalized citizen, but was not drawn for service, and therefore has continued in the enjoyment of his favorite pastime of piling one "movie" upon another by way of picture-making, with a little boxing on the side to keep himself in form.

Acquired a Bride
As a variation from fun and film and financing he took the time a few weeks ago to acquire a bride, the wedding being kept secret by order of the business management, which holds to the time-honored theatrical superstition that the known marriage of an popular star depreciates his or her box office value.

The lady in the case of Mr. Charles Spencer Chaplin—Signor Carlos, as he is christened in Spain, which claims the honor of being his native land—was formerly Miss Edna Purviance, for some time past his leading woman.
They were not denied a honeymoon, which took them to Hawaii, but the wedding trip also was strictly at sea. The voyage to Honolulu was carefully camouflaged by the company management as necessary in connection with the filming of a new comedy, with the back-ground, cord and "atmosphere" of the Pearl of the Pacific as essentially incidental.

After a fortnight in Honolulu and the usual trip to the great volcano, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer Chaplin returned to America and resumed the quest of the dollar, in which up to date the groom has proven himself singularly efficient.

From Old London
While Charlie Chaplin may have been born in Spain, as writers of that country maintain, producing registration certificates as supporting evidence, he was first heard of in the dear old London of pre-war days, as a street arab with an instinct for mimetic imitations, his now famous walk having been copied from the stuffing of an old curst character who stood out in precarious existence by "olding 'orses."

With the walk he "got it over" in a London hall, whence the graduation to the movies came as a matter of course.

CONVOY SYSTEM EFFECTIVE.

By Courier Leased Wire
London, July 29.—(Via Reuter's)—As evidence of the efficiency of the convoy system since it was established by the Admiralty about a year ago, it is pointed out that the proportion of ships lost to those conveyed during that period has been 59 per cent. In other words only one ship out of nearly 200 has been lost.

History at First-Hand.

Light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles per second. As everyone knows, we are now looking at some stars with lights that left them centuries ago. Suppose that you could prepare to space at a velocity greater than that of light. And suppose that you were armed with a telescope so powerful that you could see everything that happened on this earth. A time would come when history would unfold itself before your astonished eyes. You would see Napoleon losing the Battle of Waterloo; you would see the death of Julius Caesar; and then Mark Antony making love to Cleopatra on the Nile. If you like, you could juggle yourself back and forth so that you could see the same event over and over again and make a special study of it.—Popular Science Monthly.

Portuguese Burial Customs.
Instead of headstones and monuments, the cemetery of Lisbon shows rows and rows of tiny chapels ranged in long avenues bordered by cypress trees. The Portuguese are reluctant to bury their dead out of sight, and these chapels serve as mortuaries for the coffins, which are placed on the shelves within. Through the iron grills the eye discerns small altars and flowers gleaming through the subdued light of the interiors.

Houses Scarce in Germany.
Germany is said to lack 750,000 of having enough small dwellings. No empty houses are available in any of the large towns and rents have gone up 50 per cent. The dwelling house committee of the Reichstag recently recommended that the state advance 500,000 marks and construct family barracks and the committee's recommendations were unanimously adopted.—Fathfinder.
