Evening Mercury. MONDAY EVENING, JULY 29. General News. Mr. John Shedden, Toronto, has bought the celebrated race horse, Thunderer. The Catholic Bishop of Montreal has issued a long pastoral, recommending Confederation and those candidate only who support it. The Ontario branch of the Crown Lands Department is packing up their books and papers for removal to Toronto. Between thirty and forty employees go with it.

A society for the prevention of gambling has been organized, and opened an office in New York. SHIPMENTS OF SPECIE.—The shipments of specie from New York, on Saturday, amounted to $1,406,100. The grass in Rhode Island is so thick this year, that when mowed, it has to be carried to other fields to dry. CHANGE OF ADMIRAL.—It is said in British naval circles that Sir Rodney Mundy, the Admiral in command of the North American station, will shortly be promoted, and succeeded in his command by Sir Sidney Dacres. Detective Mason was born for trouble. On Saturday last he got drugs administered to him in some liquor, and was for a long time thereafter insensible. Medical aid was necessary, and the matter is now in the hands of a detective for investigation.

Red River Territory. Interesting Lecture by the Rev. John Black. Last night Rev. John Black, a returned missionary, delivered a lecture in Knox's Church, on the geographical position of the Red River Settlement, and the progress of the missionary work therein. The arrival of the lecturer was not generally known, but last night the union prayer meeting was to be held, and those assembled for devotional exercise after engaging therein for a time formed, in point of numbers, quite a respectable auditory. The lecturer began by apologizing for the mistake that had arisen regarding the night on which he was to be present, either he had inadvertently written a wrong date, or written the right one distinctly. It would be proper for him to describe the general character of that part of the world in which he had laboured for sixteen years. The Red River Settlement and Prince Rupert's Land, as is well known, lie to the north west of us, and from the spot we occupy are distant about 1,300 or 1,400 miles. The central point of the Red River Settlement comes under the 50th parallel of north latitude, and the 97th meridian of west longitude. Its general aspect is that of one uniform, level plain; the land on the eastern side of the river being covered with wood, that on the west being prairie. These reach to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, a distance of 800 or 900 miles. The extent of prairie land is very large, and the soil is of the richest description, and productive enough to supply many millions of people with the necessities of life. All the inhabitants of the New Dominion many times told, might be put into it, and it would yield sustenance for them all. The country produces all the crops which can be raised here, with the single exception of Fall wheat and the smaller kinds of fruit; but the larger fruits, such as apples and pears, have not yet been grown there. Farmers who are frugal and industrious can live well, and they can make a better for themselves much easier than they can here, since they have not to take the axe to hew down the woods. All that is necessary is to yoke the oxen to a sharp plough, and turn the soil over, and when it has lain for a year or so, exposed to the summer sun, and the winter frosts, the seed may be sown in spring with a fair prospect of a good return. Many of the inhabitants choose to live by the chase, and hunt the buffalo, an occupation which affords both excitement and profit, since a herd of these animals numbering three thousand is often started, pursued by as many hundred horsemen, loading and firing while their horses are at full gallop. The settlement extends along the river from which it takes its name for about fifty miles, and along the Assiniboine for about 60 miles. The farms are so laid out that each one has a river frontage. They were originally ten chains in breadth, but many of them have been divided, which was always done lengthwise, so that numbers of the farms are now only three or four chains wide, and extend in length a distance of two miles. This mode of laying out the farms has the advantage of giving them all a frontage on one of the rivers, and the disadvantage of rendering it very difficult to supply the people with schools and churches. The population of the colony is about 10,000, and they are divided into three classes, by language. One half are French, mixed with Indian blood, and speaking the former language with the accent of the latter, the remainder are the English speaking people, chiefly Scotch, and the pure Indians. As to religion the professing Christians may be thus divided—nearly one-half Roman Catholics, seven-eighths of the remainder Episcopalians, and one-eighth Presbyterians. The whole number of the latter is about six or seven hundred. The colony is fifty-two years old, or if we reckon from the time that the Earl of Selkirk sent out the first settlers it will be three years older. Of those at that time sent out there are only two now remaining. By far the greater number, however, went there in 1815, the year of Waterloo, and were chiefly from Sutherlandshire. They immediately after their arrival, began to prepare for settlement, but they were beset by numerous difficulties, arising chiefly from the hostility of the Indians. Sometimes they were driven north as far as Lake Winnipeg, there to subsist by fishing—sometimes south to what is now part of the United States, where they were obliged to sustain themselves by hunting the buffalo. At last these cruelties terminated in a massacre, in which the governor of the colony was killed. Even after the cessation of Indian persecutions, their trials were not unimportant; they were seven hundred miles from Hudson's Bay Station, to which place their stores were brought from England, and an equal distance from any part of the States, whence they might derive a supply. And when they had settled down to the peaceful arts of agriculture, their crops were at first destroyed by locusts, and in 1826 a flood swept over the land carrying everything with it in its course. After this the colony took root, and many are now in circumstances of comfort. The Presbyterians have four congregations there now, three church buildings, and a Sabbath school in connection with each congregation. Two ministers are laboring in that distant region now, a third is to be sent out as soon as possible, and one has gone beyond them among the Indians. When the rev. gentleman began his labors as a minister in 1851 he was joined by about 300, a few remaining members of the Church of England, in which their families had been brought up. In the largest church that the Presbyterians now have there are one hundred and thirty communicants; in another to thirty; and in a third, fifteen. Had ministers of this denomination been there when the place was first settled, instead of waiting until they had had seven-eighths of the protestants under their banner, in place of one-eighth as at present. But this was a neglect into which they would not fall again, as they are making due preparations to supply all necessities. There has been no public provision made for the schools; they are all in connection with the various congregations. Those belonging to the Episcopalians have had aid from a society in England, but the others have been sustained by local contributions. The climate is very severe, but still it is healthy; and although it is much improved of late, having better houses built, and reaping and mowing machines having been introduced, it is still a very poor condition.

PROSPECTUS OF THE GUELPH EVENING MERCURY. HAVING removed to their new office in THE MERCURY BUILDING, Macdonnell Street, opposite the Great Western Hotel, the publishers have determined, in view of the elections, to issue an Evening Edition of "The Mercury."

The Canada Gazette contains a militia order, which says that the commanding officer of each rural battalion will until further order be entitled to an allowance of $3 a year for postage. W. J. Smithson, of Philadelphia, and Maggie Farnshell, were married in a balloon several hundred feet above the ground at Alleghany city, Pa., on Saturday week. Emphatically a wedding in the upper circles. A young man in London, named Simon Anderson, was badly injured on Friday by falling under the wheel of his wagon, loaded with iron. The wheel passed over his chest, and he now lies in hospital in a very critical condition. Chicago is eating frogs voraciously this season, and has already consumed 100,000, with the expectation of tripling the number next year. At the Sherman House and leading hotels, they are regularly announced on the bill of fare, and readily accepted as a relief from the "blue beef."

The Bank fishing is mostly over. The Gloucester Telegraph says that nearly all the vessels are now entering upon the mackerel fishery, though a few will continue on George's. The Gloucester George's fleet has been larger than ever before, 239, and all have returned in safety,—a very rare occurrence, three men only being lost, two washed overboard, and one drowned in the harbor. One vessel made eight trips; twenty-one, seven; twenty-seven, six; forty-two, five; thirty, four; thirty-five, three; thirty-six, two; and forty-seven, but one trip each. Twenty-eight vessels have pursued the Western Bank Fishery from Gloucester, and have met with excellent success. All but six of these vessels also belonged to George's fishery the greater part of the season. Twenty-two vessels made but a single trip, five made two trips, and one made three, and one four trips to the Western Banks. Some four or five vessels have made trips to the Grand Banks this spring, and have brought home good fares. The only accidents have been the loss of four men washed overboard from one vessel, and two men missing in a dory from another. These figures show that eight hundred and seventy-one trips of fish have been landed in Gloucester from George's Bank alone this season, and forty-six fares from other Banks; making nine hundred and seventeen trips in all, which will give some idea of the extent of the bank fishery from that town.—Halifax Colonist.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller has been visiting the gold mines in the neighborhood of the St. Mary's river, Nova Scotia, and gives the following account of his observations: "The first place that claimed my attention was Sherbrooke, and I would say that I find the gold mining there as being vigorously prosecuted, and with highly gratifying results. During the fiscal year ending September, 1866, over 5,000 ounces have been raised at Sherbrooke, and with the increased facilities afforded by large expenditures for improved machinery, together with the new developments being made, it is expected that the results from this section will be highly gratifying for the current year. The next point visited was Wine Harbor. Here the returns for the past year have exceeded 1,000 ounces, although the mining operations have been conducted on a very limited scale; but from the new impulse that this locality, which is known to be traversed with rich gold-bearing quartz, is receiving from companies newly organized, and who are determined to carry on the work on a more comprehensive scale, it bids fair to prove a very remunerative investment."

On Saturday last the driller of a well, at Petrolia, struck a strong vein of gas, which sent up a column of oil, the full size of the conductor. Parties from other derricks ran to the spot, when instantly the gas took fire and exploded with a loud report, and the flames enveloped building, men and machinery. Six men were badly burned, though it is believed none of them are mortally injured. The burning oil and gas that issued from the well formed a column of flame fifty feet in diameter and as many in height. Latest accounts say that the fire was still raging.

Prize Lists, and blank forms for intending exhibitors at the Provincial Exhibition may be had at the Mercury office. COMMITTED.—It would appear that Ferguson has some drunk and disorderly characters as well as other places. A woman named Etta Boston, having imbibed a little too freely, and become somewhat boisterous in consequence, was committed by two of the magistrates of the village to the County jail for ten days. EXCURSION.—We would again remind our readers of the excursion on the Great Western, to Hamilton, to-morrow. It is certain that we are not to have the holiday that was talked of, and on this account the number of excursionists will be smaller than it would otherwise have been, still it may be found convenient for many who wish to travel for either business or pleasure. SUDDEN DEATH.—James Harkley, of Walkerton, died very suddenly on Friday night last. An inquest was held and from the evidence it appeared that he had been drinking for some time. He was seen alive on the night in question about 12 o'clock and was found dead in the morning. The jury's verdict was that he had died from excessive drinking. PICNIC.—The Temperance Society's picnic yesterday was not so well attended as it was hoped it would be. Complaints are uttered against some of the members for their indifference, but it should be remembered that many of them are engaged in occupations which it is no easy matter for them to leave, how convenient soever it might be to their inclinations to enjoy an evening's amusement with their brethren. The President of the Society presented the speakers, who were Thos. Reid, Esq., late of Glasgow, and Rev. Messrs. Griffin and Howie. These gentlemen made short, but able addresses on the subject proper to, and popular on, the occasion. The Guelph Brass Band being present, enlivened the proceedings by various pleasing airs. The amusements were chiefly games of croquet, base ball and foot-ball. Engaged in these the hours flew past unnoticed until a late hour in the evening, when those who had gone to look for pleasure, returned, having found it.

Yesterday, John Oliver, a young man, laid information against his brother, Henry Oliver, junr., for having stolen a certain quantity of firewood from him. Armed with a warrant, the Chief Constable endeavored to arrest the criminal, but the latter having got wind of what he was to expect kept rather shy, and enjoyed his liberty until this morning when he was caught, and brought before the Police Magistrate. The prosecutor not being convenient, the case was adjourned until to-morrow morning.

The Municipal Council of Paslinch met on the 23d of July at the Council room, at Mr. Fleming's tavern. Members all present, the Reeve in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Moved by Mr. McFarlane, seconded by Mr. Spreuhan, that the Deputy Reeve and the mover be a committee to call on the County Solicitors and get their opinion with regard to the legality of purchasing real estate and the erection of a Township and Agricultural Hall thereon without submitting the By-law to the ratepayers.—Carried. The Treasurer presented his financial statement which was adopted and ordered to be engrossed on the minutes. Moved by Mr. Spreuhan, seconded by Mr. Cassin, that the claims of Mr. Thos. McBride for $15.50, John Iles for $5.75, Wm. Hener for $38.75, David King for $7.75, Thos. Carter for $16.75, John Robertson for $30, and Wm. McBride for $17.75 be each granted their respective sums, for sheep destroyed by dogs, and that the Reeve give them orders on the Treasurer for the same.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Gillchrist, seconded by Mr. Cassin, that the prayer of the petition of Edward Kinchler be granted, and that he be refunded the sum of five dollars, and that the Reeve give his order on the Treasurer for the same.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Cassin, seconded by Mr. Spreuhan, that this Council do adjourn until Monday the 29th of July.—Carried. R. T. JOHNSTON, Ty. Clerk.

Red River Territory.

Interesting Lecture by the Rev. John Black.

Last night Rev. John Black, a returned missionary, delivered a lecture in Knox's Church, on the geographical position of the Red River Settlement, and the progress of the missionary work therein.

The arrival of the lecturer was not generally known, but last night the union prayer meeting was to be held, and those assembled for devotional exercise, after engaging therein for a time formed, in point of numbers, quite a respectable auditory.

The lecturer began by apologising for the mistake that had arisen regarding the night on which he was to be present, either he had inadvertently written a wrong date, or written the right one indistinctly.

Accident to the Steamer "Algoma."

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

DETROIT, July 29.
The clerk of the steamer Meteor, just from Lake Superior, says that the steamer Algoma went ashore at 11 p. m., on the 23rd on Sandy Island Reef, on the rocks, 45 miles from Sault Ste Marie, in 4 feet of water. The revenue steamer, General Dix went to her assistance, and took off her passengers and light baggage, and brought them to the Sault. On the 26th the tug went to try to get her off, but had not been heard from when the Meteor left. The Algoma was not damaged and there is no water in her.

The following has just been received from one of the passengers on board the steamer Algoma:

"The steamer Algoma on her return from Fort William struck a sunken reef on Tuesday night in a fog off Sandy Islands. A boat was at once despatched to the Sault for help. The United States revenue cutter Gen. Dix promptly came to our assistance and brought most of the passengers to the Sault, a few in the meantime having proceeded to Batchewan, some six miles distant, in the steamer's boats. The Dix was unable to get near enough the Algoma to endeavor to pull her off. She, however, hailed a tug near this point, and sent her to the Algoma. Capt. Perry was sanguine of getting her off with the assistance of a tug. All efforts failed to get her off up to noon to day. We had been on the rock two nights and nearly two days before the Dix arrived. The passengers are all well and in good spirits."

STILL LATER FROM A GUELPH PASSENGER.

Mr. F. W. Galbraith, of this town was on the Algoma, when she struck lately, and a short sketch of her trip from Collingwood to that unfortunate point may not be uninteresting. The vessel left that town on Saturday the 20th, bound for Fort William, on the northern shores of Lake Superior. This place she reached on Sunday, and departed on her return trip on Saturday, at 2 o'clock p. m. She arrived at St. Ignace, also, on the northern shores of the lake, that night and remained there until Monday evening. Again she steamed out, and passing Michipicoten on Tuesday, where the mails were landed, she continued her course towards Batchewan, and it was between ten and eleven o'clock at night as she was turning the point to enter the Bay of that name, that she struck on the hidden rock. At the time she struck she was going at a very slow rate of speed, probably not more than three miles an hour. There was scarcely any perceptible concussion, no grinding, and no commotion among the passengers. Indeed Mr. Robert Boyd, of Paisley Block, who had been standing on the bows with Mr. Galbraith a few minutes previously and gone to bed was quite ignorant of the mishap until the morning. The vessel caught a short distance behind the paddle-boxes; the engines were immediately stopped and an attempt was made to reverse them, which, however, proved futile. A small boat was immediately dispatched to Sault Ste Marie, a distance of forty-five miles for the purpose of procuring a tug. The boat reached its destination about ten o'clock next morning, but there was no tug to be found. But the crew told their story to Capt. Slicer, of the American Revenue cutter John A. Dix, and he came up on Thursday. Some of the passengers had on Wednesday night taken a boat and landed on the point, and others had followed suit on Thursday morning. As soon as the cutter came up all were removed to her who wished to leave the boat, and also those who had landed on the point, and brought them to Sault Ste Marie. The captain of the cutter treated the passengers of the Algoma well, administering to their hunger and thirst, in the way of sandwiches and wine. Mr. Galbraith left Sault Ste Marie on Friday for Detroit, and last night returned to town. The misfortune to the Algoma is attributed to the absence of Capt. McLean, whose brother was at the point of death, and has since died in Detroit.

WHAT ARE THE MEXICAN LIBERALS FIGHTING FOR?

The New York Commercial Advertiser publishes a letter from a correspondent who has resided for a long time in Mexico, and who professes a thorough knowledge of that country and its leading men, from which we make the following extract:

"The American people are still ignorant of the question at issue in Mexico; it is not a struggle for personal liberty, religious toleration, free press, or even Republican institutions (as they believe the majority of Mexicans are Republicans); it is not of those which Juarez is the champion. No; Juarez is a full blooded, copper-colored Indian, whose dream is of the supremacy of his race, to the utter extermination of the white man; and his wish is to bring back Mexico to the primitive conquest condition when Indians were the dominant race. That project seems likely to be realized; for white men and foreign capital must desert that country until the day comes when this great nation fulfills its manifest destiny and mission of civilization, by replacing that brown mongrel and bloodthirsty race, with almost its pagan rites and institutions, by the energy of the white man, and the civilizing influence of a pure Christianity."

The Steamer American safely off.

The following telegram has just been received by Messrs. H & A. Allan:

"FATHER POINT, July 29.
"Got the North American off safely at 8 p. m. on Saturday. The Austrian waited at Anticosti from 1.30 p. m. on Friday, and took the North American in tow at 11 p. m. on Saturday. She should be here very soon."
"Signed JOHN BARCLAY."

THE ROSSIN HOUSE.

This Hotel, which was burnt down in 1862 has been rebuilt, and is now open for the reception and accommodation of guests. It will assume the position it formerly occupied. Plans were devised soon after it was consumed for rebuilding it up again, but the immense capital required to effect this prevented its being accomplished for a long time. It opened on Monday the 29th of July, under the management of Mr. Geo. P. Shears, a hotel-keeper of experience, and with him at its head it will no doubt take the rank it formerly held among Canadian Hotels. The fitting up and furnishing are luxurious and costly—the Brussels Carpets on the halls and the floors of the flats alone costing $1,500. The rebuilt Rossin House is a commodious and comfortable establishment, and a credit to the hoteliers and a credit to the

The American Watch Company.

OF WALTHAM, MASS.

THIS Company beg leave to inform the citizens of the new dominion of Canada, that they have made arrangements to introduce their celebrated Watches to their notice. They are prepared to prove that their watches are made upon a better system than others in the world.

They commenced operations in 1850, and their factory now covers four acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They reduce 75,000 Watches a year, and make and sell not less than half of all the watches sold in the United States. Up to the present time, it has been impossible for them to do more than supply the constantly increasing home demand; but recent additions to their works have enabled them to turn their attention to other markets.

The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this: European Watches are made almost entirely by hand. In them, all those mysterious and infinitesimal organs which put together create the watch, are the result of slow and tedious manual processes, and the result is necessarily a lack of uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-keeping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skilful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades, most European watches are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland, and the result is the worthless Anores, Lepins and so-called Patent Levers—which soon cost more in attempted repairs, than their original price. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take them to the nearest watch merchant. He stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered—whether London, Paris, Geneva or what not; and many a man who thinks he has a genuine "M. I. Tobias, of Liverpool," (whose only fault is, that he can never regulate it to keep very good time), is really carrying a cheap and poor Swiss imitation.

How American Watches are Made.
The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process—and by no such incompetent workmen. All their operations, from the reception of the raw materials—the brass, the steel, the silver, the gold and the precious stones—to the final completion of the Watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skilful and competent direction. But the great distinguishing feature of their American Waltham Watch should be lost or injured, the owner has only to address the Company, stating the number of his watch and the part wanted, whether it be spring, pinion, jewel, or what not, and by return mail he will receive the desired article, which any watchmaker would adjust to its position. The Company respectfully submit their watches on their merit only. They have fully succeeded in overcoming popular prejudice in the States in favor of European watches, and solicit a thorough examination and fair trial for their manufactures elsewhere. They claim to make

A Better Article for the Money

by their improved mechanical processes than can be made under the old-fashioned handicraft system. They manufacture watches of every grade, from a good, low-priced, and substantial article, in solid silver hunting cases, especially adapted to the wants of the farmer and lumberman, to the finest chronometer for the navigator; and also ladies' watches in plain gold or the finest enamelled and jeweled cases, but the indispensable requisite of all their watches is that they shall be good Timekeepers. It should be remembered that, except their single lowest grade named "Home Watch Company, Boston," all watches made by them

Are Fully Warranted by a special certificate given to the purchaser of every watch by the seller, and this warranty is good at all times against the Company or its agents.

THE RUSSELL WATCH!

A FEW REASONS THAT MAKE IT SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

1st—It proves itself a reliable time-keeper beyond all question.
2nd—The RUSSELL WATCH being made on correct and scientific principles, it must follow as a natural consequence that it will keep time.
3rd—Each part of which the RUSSELL WATCH is composed is a reflex of the perfect machine by which, under skilful direction, it is produced.
4th—Truth is the essential of each part.
5th—Uniformity and conformity must therefore characterize the several parts in fulfilling the purpose for which they are made and brought together.
6th—Reproduction, as regards watch work, is simply an application of the principle that "things which are equal to the same things are equal to one another," and if there is any merit, the RUSSELL WATCH possesses that merit to a demonstration.
7th—The greatest variety of price, quality and size, that confidence and perfection will admit, afforded by the RUSSELL WATCH.
8th—The RUSSELL WATCH stands pre-eminently above all competitors for public favor and patronage.
9th—Proofs of the foregoing—the universal testimony of all Watchmakers who have sold, and the positive statements of the thousands in Europe, the United States and Canada, who have worn the RUSSELL WATCH.

TESTIMONIAL.

OR THE HAUNTED CASTLE.

CHAPTER IV.—THE SMUGGLERS' CAVE—
THE DISCOVERY.

Wind and tide being both in their favour, Terry knew they must be going in the direction of the shore, which they must be near, though it was hidden from their sight. He therefore grew anxious as to a proper landing-place, for none knew better than he that it was only here and there a boat could run in.—Sharpe ledges of rocks lay in all directions out from the cliffs, with an occasional narrow and intricate passage between, and in the prevailing darkness and turbulent state of the sea, a safe harbour must be almost as much a matter of accident as of skill. So, being quite aware of the responsibility of his position, and the others were trusting to him he was doubly watchful, and bent a keen searching look in front. There was one circumstance that almost assured him that the beach was at hand, and this was the fact that Dash would not come again into the boat, but continued to swim behind them.

"Back her oars," he suddenly shouted, as he caught a glimpse of a dark form rising in front of the universal foam.

The warning was just in time, for the next moment the boat glided alongside of a high isolated rock which shot perpendicularly from the water.

"Bedad, but aren't we the lucky ones?" cried Terry, joyously. "Och, by the powers, Ireland forever, and I hope I'll never be so long away from it again."

"Why, what's the matter?" asked Hargreave. "Are we about ashore now?"

"We're nate and handy to it, sir, and to beautiful lodgings too, if the boys are as brisk as they were six years ago. It's a matter of life or death, or I'd be afraid to do it; but an oath is meant to stretch at times, and sure yer honour won't betray the bould boys."

"Haven't the slightest idea what you mean," observed Hargreave, as he and Andrew, now much exhausted with their long rowing, rested their arms and gazed at the precipices now looming through the darkness.

"Why," returned Terry, "we've got into the passage that leads to the smugglers' Cave. I took an oath long ago never to show it to a stranger; but it's the very place for us this could night wid this poor colleen to nurse, for cever a bit o' shelter can we get anywhere else, till we cross the hills to Dundarra, and that's a matter o' five long mountain miles."

"Don't fear for us—we're as true as steel, Andrew and I; and we swear that not a soul shall be the wiser for what we see or experience in the smugglers' Cave."

"Then yer honour will have as comfortable a night of it as if it were Dundarra itself, and sure that's not demeaning the quarters, for Dundarra in the Colonel's time was a place to boast of—it's changed now, more's the pity. Och, yer honour, mind the oar, or we'll be smashed to smithereens."

"Ah, ab, it was a mistake," said Hargreave, resuming the strokes, which he had suddenly ceased.

A peculiar 'ahem' from Andrew at the same moment served still further to recall him to prudence, and they pushed forward cautiously and carefully.

The boat was now threading a rocky maze. Black jagged masses, over which the billows broke in spray, rose on both sides, and if the rowers could have looked behind they would have beheld similar barriers closing them in as it were from the open sea. Clearly, none but those familiar with the spot could have guided a boat into such a harbour even in daylight.

They were now in smooth water, for the rocks behind and on either hand broke the mighty waves, which eddied in fragments through the spaces between. They were also sheltered from the wind, which could be heard roaring at some distance, and joining with the dash of the billow to create a thundering sound which went up the face of the cliffs and sounded far over the mountains.

By Terry's directions, Hargreave and Andrew shipped their oars, and bent their heads almost to a level with the edge of the boat, for they had to pass underneath a low archway of rock, and were carried by the full tide some thirty or forty yards into a cavern, the roof of which receded as they advanced, till it rose a lofty sounding dome overhead.

With a loud grating noise the boat struck the gravel, and came to a standstill.

"We're safe to leap, I suppose?" said Hargreave, inquiringly.

"As safe as if you were stepping into your own bedroom, sir," replied Terry. "The floor is as smooth as a garden walk. May be you'll condescend to take hold of the tails of my coat, and I'll guide you both to as patty a place as you would think of looking for in a cave of the sea."

Terry, still carrying the cold, wet body of the girl they had taken out of the water, walked forward, followed by the others. Andrew having taken out of the boat the two portmanteaus which contained his own and his master's travelling wardrobe, and slung them over his shoulder; and Dash, having shaken himself well, brought up the rear.

After walking a considerable distance, and turning in various directions, Terry and his party at length paused; in a few moments the sharp click of a spring was heard, and a door creaked on its hinges.

"By the powers, but the spring isn't rusted, anyhow," observed the Irishman. "It has been opened by the boys not many days ago."

They advanced again, but only for a few paces.

"Might I trouble yer honour to hold the colleen till I strike a light?" Terry had scarcely time to make the request, when Hargreave stretched forth his arms with alacrity, and took a supporting grasp of the body.

"Her heart hasn't ceased to beat," said Terry, his voice sounding at a little distance; "I've felt it going against mine all the time."

There was a sharp crack, a flash of fire, and the next moment Terry was seen with a blazing torch in his hand.—In a twinkling he lighted several more, and the place was brightly illuminated.

It was a large rocky chamber, comfortably furnished, with chairs and tables and couches. There were also several recesses, some containing a bed, and others bottles and crockery. In one corner was a heap of burnt ashes, and a pile of dry wood lay near it.

Hargreave and Andrew were both amazed and not a little pleased by a sight of such comfortable well-stored lodging; but the girl had the first claim of their attention, and Hargreave laid her tenderly upon a couch.

Her slender form was enveloped in a thick woollen shawl, and her arms were tightly folded on her breast. Her long hair fell in wet heavy masses over her face, so that her features could not be seen.

The youth, with all the tenderness of a woman, unpinned the shawl and took it from her bosom, when lo! they found that her arms clasped an infant to her breast.

HOW A BURGLAR WAS VANQUISHED BY A BRAVE OLD LADY.—A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing from Augusta, Ill., says: "Our usually quiet little village was startled about 11 o'clock on Saturday night last, by an attempted burglary at the residence of two old ladies, named Mead. The oldest was startled by hearing a noise in her sister's room, and supposing it was her sister, she started in to see what was the matter, when she suddenly found herself seized by the throat by a man and told if she made any noise she would be killed. She, however, managed to tell her sister to run for a neighbor, when the would-be thief, thinking discretion the better part of valor, made his exit through a window—minus any booty and most of the skin from his face, which Miss Mead had managed to secure under her finger nails, and which led to his arrest and identification on Monday. He is now in jail at Carthage under $800 bail, awaiting trial."

RIOT AT ST. HYACINTHE.—A disgraceful riot occurred at St. Hyacinthe on Saturday evening. An excursion party of Grand Trunk employees, from Montreal, had gone there, and thirty or forty Griffintown rowdies had managed to go with them. The roughs picked quarrels with country people and insulted them. The mayor called out the volunteers, who drove the roughs to the cars. It is alleged that the volunteers fired into the train and injured several passengers. One woman, shot in the breast, has since died. Great excitement prevailed on Saturday night.

CHURCH BURNED IN MONTREAL.—Early on Monday morning Zion Church, (Rev. Dr. Wilkes), old Haymarket Square, Montreal, was discovered to be on fire, but too late to subdue it. It originated about the organ, and seized the steeple, which fell in flames, and nothing is left but the bare walls. The firemen had several narrow escapes. Alfred Perry fell a distance of 20 feet, but was not seriously injured. The choir was in the church on Saturday night, and it is supposed that some fire was left. The church was built in 1843, at a cost of $12,500.

Queen Victoria is building an extensive lock for occasional occupation on Loch Muick, among the Grampian Hills. The site is a very wild but picturesque locality. On each of three sides of it, and within a few hundred yards of the house, rise the bold rugged mountains. These will be large enough to accommodate her Majesty's and a limited suit for a night, and will take two seasons to build. Its isolated position may be imagined when it is known that it is about seven miles from the nearest farm-house, and nearly four miles from the nearest habitable dwelling, the latter being the house of one of her Majesty's gamekeepers.

TELEGRAPH TO CUBA.—Within a few days we expect to receive our news from Cuba and the other West India islands by way of the cable which is now being laid between that island and Key West. The advantages to the commercial world of this telegraphic line will be readily comprehended. Lines will, doubtless, next be established between Cuba and the islands of Jamaica and Hayti, and next under the Mexican gulf to Vera Cruz, in connection with Panama. Thus we shall be in immediate communication, we may say, with the West Indies, Mexico, Central and parts of South America; and thus our commercial and political relations with all those tropical colonies and nations will become closer, better understood and more intimately established and more widely extended, to the benefit of all concerned. We predict that the cable between Key West and Cuba will be the inauguration of a new epoch of prosperity in our commercial exchanges in the tropics, to say nothing of the extension of our political influence in behalf of the Monroe doctrine.—New York Herald.

THE NORTH WEST.—The Montreal Gazette says:—"We understand it is the intention of the Imperial government to form the North-west territory into a crown colony. This is a step which is not only desirable but urgently called for, to prevent it from drifting into annexation with the contiguous states. We have always looked upon the question as one of the greatest interest; for this reason: If ever we are to form a great northern nation out of the Dominion of Canada, we must have the band of cultivatable territory and moderate climate which stretches across the continent to the Pacific, with the Pole at our back. Things go fast in these days; and either we must by timely action keep British the North-west territory, or it will soon become American. We understand that Mr. J. Nelson, of London, passed through this city yesterday en route for the Red River settlement, to report upon its capabilities for settlement. We believe he will return in October."

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.—At a special meeting of the Kingston City Council, held on Thursday, it was resolved, after a long discussion, to grant $1000 for the repairs and alterations necessary on the Crystal Palace grounds, to accommodate the Provincial Fair in September next. The grant was carried by 11 to 5. The minority did not wish to give more

Its isolated position may be imagined when it is known that it is about seven miles from the nearest farm-house, and nearly four miles from the nearest habitable dwelling, the latter being the house of one of her Majesty's gamekeepers.

TELEGRAPH TO CUBA.—Within a few days we expect to receive our news from Cuba and the other West India islands by way of the cable which is now being laid between that island and Key West. The advantages to the commercial world of this telegraphic line will be readily comprehended. Lines will, doubtless, next be established between Cuba and the islands of Jamaica and Hayti, and next under the Mexican gulf to Vera Cruz, in connection with Panama. Thus we shall be in immediate communication, we may say, with the West Indies, Mexico, Central and parts of South America, and thus our commercial and political relations with all those tropical colonies and nations will become closer, better understood and more intimately established and more widely extended, to the benefit of all concerned. We predict that the cable between Key West and Cuba will be the inauguration of a new epoch of prosperity in our commercial exchanges in the tropics, to say nothing of the extension of our political influence in behalf of the Monroe doctrine.—New York Herald.

THE NORTH WEST.—The Montreal Gazette says:—"We understand it is the intention of the Imperial government to form the North-west territory into a crown colony. This is a step which is not only desirable but urgently called for, to prevent it from drifting into annexation with the contiguous states. We have always looked upon the question as one of the greatest interest; for this reason it ever we are to form a great northern nation out of the Dominion of Canada, we must have the band of cultivable territory and moderate climate, which stretches across the continent to the Pacific with the Pole at our back. Things go fast in these days; and either we must by simply keep British North-west territory, or it will soon become American. We understand that Mr. J. Nelson, of London, passed through this city yesterday en route for the Red River settlement, to report upon its capabilities for settlement. We believe he will return in October."

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.—At a special meeting of the Kingston City Council, held on Thursday, it was resolved, after a long discussion, to grant $1000 for the repairs and alterations necessary on the Crystal Palace grounds, to accommodate the Provincial Fair in September next. The grant was carried by 11 to 5. The minority did not wish to give more

ASTOUNDING, CONFOUNDING, BUT TRUE.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL

Cure of Consumption!

BY THE

GREAT SHOSHONES REMEDY,
IN CANADA.

Messrs. Young & Chamberlain:

GENTLEMEN.—I, Wilson Storms, of Brighton, C. W., make oath and say: I feel anxious to let you know what great Shoshones Remedy has effected for me. My wife was afflicted with Consumption and died; I was also afflicted with the same disease, and my death I continued sinking just as she had done. I had very severe Night Sweats, coughed nearly all night, and every night could not sleep unless a little towards morning; I raised over a quart of matter every 24 hours; I had severe pain in the left lung, &c., and was greatly distressed. In fact, I was going as fast as I could. I was taking medicine from a regular physician, but it did not even relieve me. I was taken to a village one day, about a quarter of a mile, which took me to go and come about two hours. While there I saw a sign for the Great Shoshones Remedy, and I bought a bottle. I took it to bed and to say to him I wish you could give me something to relieve my cough. He said—

"There is a remedy just introduced; Dr. Baker has it for sale, and I believe it will cure you." I took his advice, and bought it with me, took a teaspoonful at once, which I felt through my whole system. At night I took a table spoonful and in the morning I was able to get up and rest all night. The cough, &c., gradually raised of matter, pain in the lung, &c., gradually left me, and I got hearty and strong. I took only three bottles, and am not taking it now, and I am as hearty and well as ever I was in my life. My sister-in-law was with me for a while, and she was cured of her Liver Complaint. She has taken the remedy and is well. This certificate you may show to the world if you please.

DOCTOR DAVIS,

Physician and Surgeon.

OFFICE—Merrick-st. between the Methodist Church and the Royal Hotel, UP STAIRS, directly opposite the Marquee, on Merrick Street.

Can be consulted at all hours of the day, and every night, in all Chronic Diseases, Diseases of Women and Children, Dropsy, Rheumatism, &c., &c., together with those of a private nature. He has devoted over thirty years to the treatment of the above named diseases, and the success so far has been without a parallel, as may be seen from the numerous testimonials in his possession.

Private Diseases.

It is well known that this branch of the medical profession has been much neglected, from the fact that it is most represented by quacks, who invariably practice under an assumed name. Dr. D. has devoted much of his time to the various forms of this disease, and by his improved remedies the worst stages are brought under subjection in from four to ten days. The many ills arising from Secret Habits in both Sexes permanently eradicated.

No Mercury Used.

Patients at a distance can be treated by corresponding with the Doctor, and the symptoms of the disease, age, length of time afflicted, &c., and receive his celebrated remedies by express, or as otherwise directed, securely packed for shipment. A reasonable remittance on all such applications will be required.

Dr Davis' Celebrated Female PILLS.

For irregularities, Suppression of the Menstrues, Leucorrhoea or Whites, and all female difficulties, have been before the public for the last ten years, and are universally admitted to be the best remedy for which they are recommended by any one in use. Thousands have used them without single instance of their failing to have the desired effect. Printed directions accompany each box. Sent by mail to any part of the country on receipt of one dollar.

The doctor can be consulted at all times with the utmost secrecy, as his office is so arranged that it is impossible to see each other, unless by consent. No charge for advice when obtained at the office, if by letter, one dollar.

All letters must be addressed (pre-paid) to Dr. Davis, M. D., Hamilton, and to contain a postage stamp when an answer is required.
Hamilton, Oct. 19, 1867. 627

Business College and Telegraph Institute.

Express Buildings, 55 Yonge-st., TORONTO.

Established in Connection with

Commercial College

Located in 46 of the largest cities of the States and Canada, under the management of J. D. ODELL, Principal.

A SCHOLARSHIP issued from this College is good for an unlimited time, and entitles the holder to the advantage of instruction and inducements in obtaining situations. Each College derives special benefit from all others, in the combined experience of numerous teachers, the collection of manuscripts and the publication of text books, beyond the ordinary means of any single school. We have the best system of Penmanship known to the public, taught by experienced, first-class Penmen, for which we were awarded First Premiums in all departments at the late Provincial Fair. Regular class instructions in Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Book-keeping, English Grammar, Correspondence, Composition, &c., &c., with ample black-board explanations, and special lectures to suit individual cases. Actual business is here introduced by the use of Banks, and other offices, as in business houses. The practical method of giving instruction in this institution is the most important feature. Students count their thousands of dollars, buy and sell merchandise, real estate, stocks, &c., with as much interest as our first merchants, thus converting the school-room into a banking house and a stock exchange, by introducing the actualities of business, as well as the abstract theory of Book-keeping. For further information please call at the College, or send for a College Monthly, enclosing letter stamp.
