NORTH WELLINGTON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual Fall Show of this Society is fixed to be held at Drayton on Tuesday the 8th of October.
A TREAT.—The employees in the Mercantile office beg to express their grateful acknowledgments to Mrs. John Wetherald for a basket of beautiful cherries. Mrs. Wetherald's thoughtful kindness is highly appreciated.
MR. JOHN SMITH, of Pilkington, has returned from Manitoba. The Fergus Express is sorry to learn from him that the fascinations of the prairie land have stolen his affections from his first love, and that he is determined on taking up his abode in the Far West.
RUNAWAY.—About half-past one o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Michael Kelly, of Pilkington, experienced the delightful sensation caused by a runaway horse and capsize of the vehicle to which the volatile animal was attached. Beyond a scratch or two to the proprietor and a broken shaft to the buggy, Mr. Kelly may congratulate himself, under the attendant circumstances, on the minimum award of "consequential damages" to all concerned.
Rifle Match. GUELPH VS. GALT. A match between the Riflemen of these respective towns took place yesterday (Monday) at the Galt rifle range, which is truly a splendid one, and in every way creditable to the Galt Riflemen, in having the judgment and energy to select so suitable a spot. Guelph was victorious at every range, and led almost at every round. The weather was most propitious, and everybody enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. We hope to have another friendly encounter with our Galt friends, and trust the pleasures of the occasion may be as great as they were yesterday.

Tory journals remark that it is singular that the Hon. Mr. Blake should become ill and have to leave the Province for the sake of his health on the eve of a general election. It is very singular. It was also very singular that the late Sandfield Macdonald should have been ill during the last local elections. Yet, no before our journal had the indecency to sneer at him therefore. It was singular that the Hon. Sandfield Macdonald should die on the eve of the Dominion elections, for if it be a crime to become sick at such a time, it must be a greater crime to die.
Mr. Duncan Cleghorn, a prominent public man, while talking to some friends in the store of Mr. Middlemass, Port Hope, on Friday, suddenly fell of the store he was sitting upon and expired without a word.

A man named Marshall, and a boy named Gillespie were drowned at Toronto on Sunday.
The late Edward Jackson, of Hamilton, has left $10,000 to endow a Theological Chair in Victoria College, and $10,000 at the disposal of his wife for the same purpose if she so wills it.
MR. DAVID PLEWIS, of the Homedale Mills, Brantford, bought on Saturday three hundred bushels of new Deihl wheat from Mr. George Parker, of Brantford township, at $1 26 per bushel. The sample was very dry, and the yield twenty bushels to the acre.
THE GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY.—The Hamilton Times says the condition of the Great Western Railway is undergoing constant improvement. Many miles of steel rails have been placed in position, and by the year 1874 it is expected that the iron rails will have been entirely removed, and the more desirable ones substituted. Owing to the excellent state of the road, the time of the Chicago night express, from Suspension Bridge to Detroit, has been reduced to eight hours and five minutes.
REB RIVER FUR TRADE.—The fur trade for this year is now closed, the traders having all arrived, disposed of their furs and returned to the plains. The buffalo robe collection has been good, but the collection of fine furs has been light. We had the pleasure of looking over part of the collection of fine fur of old Eschscholtz, the bride away. The marriage ceremony was performed by Dean Stanley. The presents received by Miss Nilsson on her marriage amount to $12,000. The Princess of Wales sent a diamond bracelet to her.
MISS NILSSON'S MARRIAGE.—Christine Nilsson was married in Westminster Abbey on Saturday to M. Rouzeaud. The nuptials were witnessed by an immense assemblage of people, including many of the aristocracy and well-known artists. Among the persons present were Baron Brunow, Russian Minister; Hon. R. C. Schenck, American Minister; Lady Peel and Mlle. Titiens. Count de Steinbach, Secretary to the Swedish Legation gave the bride away. The marriage ceremony was performed by Dean Stanley. The presents received by Miss Nilsson on her marriage amount to $12,000. The Princess of Wales sent a diamond bracelet to her.
MURDER IN HALDIMAND TOWNSHIP.—A terrible murder took place in Haldimand Township Sunday afternoon, causing great excitement. The following are the particulars, as near as can be learned: A young man named English, coming along the road driving, espied the deceased man, named Ryan, sitting on the fence in company with another man, name unknown. He alighted, and coming up angrily to where Ryan was sitting, they had a few words concerning a woman whom they had quarrelled about; whereupon English drew a knife and stabbed Ryan in the chest, when the man who was with Ryan knocked English down. English regained his feet and fled. Ryan died in four or five hours. Both men are not over 20 years old. The constables are after English all day.
ATTEMPTED MURDER BY INDIANS.—An Indian well-known in the neighborhood of Oneida town by the name of Bob, was nearly killed on the farm of Mr. Wm. Faircloth, a short time ago. For several days he had been chased by three other Indians also of Oneida, whose character is notoriously bad, for, it is alleged, accusing them of improper conduct toward Bob's wife. Their names are Fish, Abram, Jun., and Abram, sen., and father. When they found Bob near Thorndale on Thursday night they attacked him with an axe, making two or three horrible gashes in his forehead and the top of his head, and considered they had killed him. They dragged him into the woods, and hiding him behind some undergrowth left for other parts. Bob soon began to revive, and in the morning heard teams passing on the road, the driver of one of which he hailed. It proved to be a son of Mr. Faircloth, who, seeing the condition of the poor Indian put him in his wagon and brought him to Thorndale. There Dr. Foster dressed his wounds. Being able then to proceed, he was shipped to this city, where he has been left of night, and it is not known whether anything will be done in the way of capturing and punishing his would-be murderers.—London Advertiser.
Bumper Luck for the Colonel. To the Editor of the Mercury. Sir—The ball rolls well in the North, and everything seems favourable for the Colonel in the coming struggle; no more, we feel perfectly confident of putting him in at the top of the poll, and a large majority to spare. I accompanied the Colonel in his canvass through Luther, and we found the electors all on one side, and the hearts and hands of the people were warm towards him, and every man was pleased to give the Colonel his support. The ratepayers of this section feel great confidence in him, that he is the right man in the right place, and, if elected to the House of Commons, would look after the interests of the Riding, and especially of those who are poor and stand most in need of rightful and needful help, for, sir, the man who chopped down the forest and reclaimed the wilderness is too often forgotten when he should be gratefully remembered, and his rights trampled under foot, as has been the case with our present member during the last five years. Now, however, he is about to meet his due reward, which will indeed be a rich one, if the sister Townships do their duty as effectually as Luther will do hers for the Reform cause. We feel, sir, that the Riding is well tired of "hunches" indeed it is played out with us. Mr. Drew is scuffling through the Riding, like a door, from house to house and will not face the music fairly as a gentleman ought to do. Mr. Higginbotham is just the sort of man we want to represent us in Parliament, and we fully intend to put him there. Again we call on our sister Townships to help us to roll in future be safe from Tory attacks with all their attendant jobbery and corruption. Yours truly, Luther, July 29 1872. AN ELECTOR.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES
The Geneva Arbitration.
The "Florida" Case.
A Forced Loan.
Quiet Being Restored in Mexico.
Fire in Boston.
London, July 30.—It is reported that the Geneva Board of Arbitration have adopted the following method in disposing of the business before it:—The case of each ship is examined separately. The Arbitrators next decide what principle is applicable to the case, by which it stands or falls. No definite amount of damages is then fixed upon, but when the examination of all the cases is completed the Tribunal will review its separate conclusions and agree upon a total sum of damages.
Geneva, July 29.—The Swiss Times of to-day says it is in a position to confirm the report now current that the Tribunal of Arbitration has decided in favour of America in the case of the privateer Florida, on the grounds that the British Government did not use sufficient precautions to prevent the departure of that vessel from English ports. The Times also says the Board of Arbitration took up the case of the Alabama.
Madrid, July 29.—King Amadeus has completed his tour in the northern provinces, and will return to the capital tomorrow. Great preparations are being made for his reception.
New York, July 30.—The Herald's Matamoros special says that Gen. Rocha has levied a forced loan of $80,000 on Monterey, and that the country is in a worse condition than ever before. The Custom House of Vera Cruz owes the merchants half-a-million dollars. Tampico is largely indebted, and Matamoros is the same.
Matamoros, July 29.—City of Mexico dates up to the 24th have been received. The new tariff increasing the rate of duties has been suspended on this frontier for two months, and goods imported will be permitted to enter under old rates for the time. Gen. Rocha has issued a proclamation at Monterey, favouring peace and amnesty, to the late insurgents. Numbers of prominent revolutionists who have been refugees in Texas, have obtained permission to return with their families to Mexico. Stages and mails to the interior will soon be resumed.
Rome, July 28.—The Pope has preconcurred the Archbishop of Baltimore and the Bishop of Richmond.
Boston, July 29.—This evening the large tannery of Chester Guild & Son, in Charlestown Neck, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $85,000.
Coal Oil Still Burned. Special to the Daily Mercury. Petrolia, July 30.—About six o'clock this morning the big still, owned by the Ontario Carbon Oil Company, was for the third time within fourteen months, partially destroyed by fire. It contained about one thousand barrels of oil, which were totally consumed. The condenser, engine and boiler were all saved. Loss about five thousand dollars.
Riel's Last Shooting Case. (From the Manitoba Liberator of the 20th.) From reliable information we learn that as Mr. Stalker was on his way to Winnipeg, on Tuesday last, he came across the notorious Louis Riel, who was in company with two others, were talking on the road side some 4 1/2 miles up Red River. It appears this man Stalker entered into conversation with them, and the subject turning on the Scott murder case, Riel expressed opinions with which Stalker could not agree. The debate grew warmer until at length Riel ordered him to be off or he would shoot him. The man seeing that he had five arms, thought better to obey and as he walked off a few paces Riel discharged his pistol, the ball passing between his legs without doing any injury.
Now we have come to a nice pass in Manitoba, when a murderer with $5,000 offered for his head, should be permitted to shoot down loyal men with impunity. It is some to this that men must arm themselves with revolvers to protect their lives in open day in Manitoba. No wonder when the whole acts of our authorities have been a premium on murder of loyal people. If the Government do not at once take steps to stay the acts of this outlaw, the people must and certainly will take the matter into their own hands. Can there be said to be law or justice in any country where murder, and attempt to shoot down loyal subjects in open day will be perpetrated with impunity? Is this the kind of peace and quietness, the repetition of which we are sickened with hearing day after day? We wait anxiously to see what steps Governor Archibald and his attorney will take to show the people of this country, that even Riel will not be permitted to shoot down peaceful and unoffending men. If something be not done, Governor Archibald and his cabinet may some day find out, that others know the use of a revolver just as well as Riel.
The highest office within the gift of the American Government is the superintendency of the weather signal station at Pike's Peak, which is 14,000 feet above the sea level.
The Ministerial journals say much of the first gun fired at Ottawa on the Ministerial side, but the first blow on that side was struck at Kingston, and by the Premier himself.

The Centre Riding.

MR. ROSS'S MEETING IN PILKINGTON. The supporters of Mr. Ross in the Botham settlement, Pilkington, held a meeting in the School house on Monday evening. It having been announced that James Young, M. P. for South Waterloo, would be present, there was a large attendance of the intelligent yeomanry of the section. Mr. Donald Wallace was appointed chairman, and Charles Nicklin Secretary. The chairman introduced Mr. Young in a few brief and appropriate remarks.
Mr. Young on coming forward was greeted with applause. He spoke eloquently and ably for an hour on the great questions now agitating the country, and was listened to with the closest attention. He presented a formidable bill of indictment against the Dominion Government, and proved from facts and figures that it was corrupt, extravagant, and in more than one instance had wantonly violated the constitution, as in the Nova Scotia subsidy, the giving so many representatives to Manitoba and British Columbia, and the control it had assumed, without Parliamentary check, in the management of the Pacific Railway. He also instanced the needless and wasteful expenditure of money in building the Intercolonial Railway by the long route, which entailed an expenditure of eight or ten million dollars more than would have been required had the shorter and better route been chosen. He strongly denounced the conduct of the Government for its cunning evasion of the law in paying members of Parliament by the month, instead of by the year, for services supposed to be rendered. He showed from parliamentary returns how the public expenditure had risen immensely in every department of the Government, how the public debt had increased at a fearful rate, which was due to the reckless management of the Finance Minister. In this connection he referred to the charge which had been brought against him in the Guelph Herald, of stating in a paper which he wrote for the Canadian Monthly Magazine that our commerce had largely increased and was continually expanding, while in a speech in the House he had stated that the financial policy of the Government was injurious to the best interests of the country, and which, if persisted in, would lead us into debt, and it may be financial ruin. He showed that there was no inconsistency in this, for a country might, and in the case of Canada is, commercially prosperous in spite of the Government, while at the same time the policy of that Government was calculated to retard its progress and involve us in wasteful expenditure and debt. He concluded a vigorous and effective speech by bearing money to the high character of Mr. Ross, and urged the electors to use every proper effort to return him by a large majority.
Mr. James Fahey (who is now known throughout the Riding as the turncoat) was then permitted to speak on behalf of Dr. Orton. He went at it like a steam engine, opened his battery of words, and fired off his adjectives at the rate of a hundred and fifty a minute. He did his best to meet Mr. Young's arguments, but entirely failed to answer or refute them. Still he labored on in great mental distress until Mr. Fahey came to his relief, and facetiously asked him about his own conversion; whereupon he at once dropped the subject under discussion and entered into a long and labored argument to prove his own consistency. The whole defence was a lamentable failure, and feelings, this latest born of the Tories, after saying a word in favor of Dr. Orton, retired.
Mr. James Massie was then invited to speak, and on rising, was loudly cheered. He made a short and excellent speech, in the course of which he knocked the bottom out of Mr. Fahey's arguments. He remarked, as a most significant feature of this contest, that there was not a single influential Conservative in Fergus or its vicinity working for Dr. Orton. This was a convincing proof that they had no confidence in him, that they did not consider him the proper person to represent them, and therefore that the electors should follow their example and elect him to stay at home.
A young gentleman from Fergus named Kelly then asked to be heard in defence of Dr. Orton, and the audience being good natured, and willing to give the Tories every chance to speak (a privilege which has more than once been denied Reformers at Dr. Orton's meetings) allowed him to have his say. After wandering from one subject to another for about half an hour he got on to militia matters, but soon lost himself among the guns and batteries and ammunition and camp kettles, and after exhibiting a good deal of patience the audience kindly informed him that he had better stay among these formidable implements of warfare, and give place to Dr. Orton, who had just come in from a meeting he had been holding at the German settlement.
The Doctor then said his lesson with tolerable fluency, but he blundered terribly in his facts and figures, and after a very lame speech he pleaded weariness and retired.
Mr. Young was then asked to wind up the discussion, which he did in a most effectual manner, and completely riddled the arguments which the Tory speakers had advanced on their side. A more effectual exposure was never made, and Dr. Orton felt this so keenly that he asked to have a few words of reply. The audience did him more than justice in granting it, but after some explanations he was beginning to read some extracts from John A.'s speech about Scott being yet a Conservative, when (it being nearly 12 o'clock) he was told this was introducing new matter which would not be allowed. He then charged the meeting with attempting to stifle discussion, but this was so barefaced that even the Doctor's half-dozen supporters he had brought with him could not stand it, and so he left.
Mr. John Smith of the Observer then made a few good points in his short speech, after which a motion of confidence, Mr. Ross was moved by Mr. Talfer, seconded by Mr. Larter, and carried unanimously. Votes of thanks were then tendered to the speakers and chairman, and after three cheers for the Queen, three for Ross, and three more for Young and Massie, the meeting, which was most orderly and quiet throughout, dispersed.

Mr. Drew's Address.

Mr. Drew's address, which has at last seen the light, is a characteristic production. He expresses his continued confidence in John A. Macdonald, whom he regards as a heaven-born leader, and who, having in old times done so much for his Conservative friends, will, if they only continue to support him, lead them in days to come to even richer pastures than they have yet enjoyed.

He gives the present Government credit for carrying Confederation, which is not correct, for without the aid and co-operation of the Reform party that measure would never have been consummated. He states that they have amended our banking currency, but he forgets to tell us that by the enforcement of their policy, the Government has gained an undue control over our banks, which in times of financial difficulty and danger will tend to paralyze their efficiency and weaken their independence.

He states further that the Government have improved our inland water channels of trade, which will be news to the country. They promised to improve these channels of trade, such improvements which followed Confederation, but we have yet to learn what they have done. Our canals remain as yet untouched, and it was only last session, when in view of the elections it was necessary they should make a show of moving, that they renewed their promise to have the canals enlarged.

Having thus given the Government credit for work never performed, he goes on to defend their whole policy in the management and construction of the Pacific Railway. The high-handed and unconstitutional course they have pursued in assuming the control of this enterprise without Parliamentary check or approval, meets Mr. Drew's views exactly, for they can bribe and buy support as long as the money will last.

In conclusion Mr. Drew ventures on a title prophecy, for he says that this Railway can be built without any cost to the country, "as the money necessary to be advanced at first will be more than re-imbursed by the sale of the lands along the line of the road." Now, does Mr. Drew think the electors of North Wellington are so credulous or so ignorant as to swallow such buncombe. Do they not know as well as he does that the construction of these 2,700 miles of road much of it to run through an impassable territory, will require before it is completed more than a hundred millions of dollars, and that a great part of the land through which it is to run is not worth five cents an acre for agricultural purposes.

The Tories boast of John A. Macdonald's sledge-hammer arguments. In Kingston he delivered them with his fists a la Heenan. The strength of the Tories lies in their muscles. As an evidence of the slight claims that "your own John A." can present for the further representation of Kingston, it is stated by the Weekly that he does not own a foot of ground in Kingston; has even removed his law office to Toronto; never visits his supporters except at election times; and for Kingston generally, speaking in the words of an Ottawa poet, John A. "sits and smiles, and doesn't care a —."

Speaking of our political institutions, Prof. Goldwin Smith is reported to have said that we are in "danger of submitting at no distant time to the domination of scoundrels." The past five years of misrule might warrant apprehensions of this climax of Tory power if the days of the present faction were not numbered, and their influence likely to be weakened or destroyed at the coming election.

Sheriff Powell, of Carleton, (a Tory) is heard on John A. In a published address to the electors of Carleton, a few days ago, he said that Sir John had, "for his own selfish purposes, been capable of the infamy of betraying the mistaken trust of a friend (Mr. Scott) who had supported him by a life-long devotion." Now that's a pleasant sort of certificate of character from a Tory.

In Toronto the chief interest appears to centre in Kingston, North York and East Toronto. On the results of each—particularly Kingston and East Toronto—there is some heavy betting. Little interest is manifested in South Brant, the impression being that Sir Francis is sure to be defeated.

The London Herald remarks that there never was an election contest in that city conducted with less religious animosity than the present one. It seems to be a straight, stand-up fight between the supporters of the ministry and their opponents.

Hon. P. Mitchell, Minister of Marine, was elected by acclamation for Northumberland on Monday.

Messrs. Ross and Cauchon were nominated for Quebec Centre on Monday. The candidates were not allowed to speak by the crowd. There was great excitement in the city.

Eleven candidates were nominated for South Grenville on Monday, all of whom withdrew except Mr. Walter Shanly and Dr. Brouse.

The other nominations on Monday were for North and South Norfolk, Carleton, Brockville, West Hastings, North Simcoe, North York and London.

Mr. Wm. McDougall is not very comfortable in North Lanark, judging from his nomination speech. We hear that Mr. Galbraith is growing stronger every day, and his election may now be considered safe.

Mr. Carling's friends are working with desperation in London, while the tone of Mr. McMahon supporters is calm and confident.

It was thought for some time that Mr. Tilley would have things all his own way in the city of St. John; but those who are opposed to the Dominion Government have brought out an able and popular opponent and will use every effort to have him returned.

The Tories of South Wentworth have wakened up Mr. Rymal by starting a candidate, and there will be lively times in South Wentworth during the next fortnight. There is no danger of his defeat, but parties are so closely divided in the county that it is always possible to get up a fight.

Mr. Wm. McDougall threatens to run for East York.

Mr. Alex. Thompson, the opponent who was brought out in Haldimand against Mr. David Thompson, has wisely retired rather than meet certain defeat.

Mr. Somerville's canvass is complete in North Huron, and his election is considered quite safe.

Dr. Bergin's election in Cornwall is now considered quite safe.

The canvass shows that Mr. Patterson has a majority of pledged supporters in the town of Brantford. As he has also a large majority in the country, the defeat of Sir Francis Hincks does not appear at all doubtful. The Finance Minister will hold no more meetings, but is making a house-to-house canvass—rather a come-down for a Finance Minister.

Col. G. T. Denison has issued his address to the electors of Algoma, and has attended a meeting at Bruce Mines in company with Mr. Cumberland, his opponent. Col. Denison takes the field with the best prospects of success.

EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society,

No. 120, Broadway, New York. Wm. C. Alexander, President. Henry B. Hyde, Vice-President. Net cash assets, 1st Feb. 1872, $18,000,000. Annual Income, $8,000,000. Total paid policy-holders, 1871, $2,429,827. Surplus, 1871, 1,700,000. New Business, sum assured 1871, $41,804,027.00.

The Largest of any Company in the World. This Society has led the van in the insurance world for many years; it has introduced more improvements and given greater impetus to the business than any Life Company in the United States, and is deserving in this respect of the praise and gratitude of the community.

There are many reasons for selecting the Equitable Life Assurance Society. 1st—No company has such large annual transactions, thereby insuring its business a constant accession of fresh and selected lives which is one of the greatest elements of strength. 2nd—Liberal dealing with all claims; observing at the same time, a due regard to the interests of its present large body of policy-holders by a firm resistance to any attempt at imposition. 3rd—Perfect organization in every department, which renders official information easily attainable and secures a complete administration of its affairs. 4th—Being one of the most progressive institutions of its kind in the world, it is ever prepared to seize at once upon all the improvements in the business that science can suggest.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society issues every recognized form of policy, and especially the FORTUNE SAVINGS FUND INSURANCE which the Company introduced. This new plan has become very popular, as equalizing among all who are insured under its advantages which arise from the profits of the business, without in any respect infringing upon the normal results for which Life Insurance was first instituted.

THE EQUITABLE feels that it has the strongest claims upon public confidence. Under the management that distinguishes it and the principles by which it is guided, perfect security is given for the future, than which no greater inducement can be held out to all who wish to insure their lives. Further information regarding the different kinds of Policies issued by the Society can readily be obtained at THE COMPANY'S OFFICES, 120 Broadway, New York.

CHAPTER XL MILLEY'S REVELATIONS, AND WHAT THEY LED TO.

Between the end of last chapter and the beginning of this, fifteen months have elapsed, and this fact the reader will please to bear in mind, in order the better to understand the events now to be narrated.

The large west Indian trading ship Yarrow had just come safe to her moorings at the quay of Greenock, and her crew, with noisy glee, were making all safe preparatory to stepping ashore after their long voyage, when, amid confusion and confusion, an elderly seaman, with long iron-grey hair and a kindly face, came up from below, leading by the hand a young negro girl poorly clad, who cast a shy and timid look on the scene around the forest of masts, the quay thronged with people, and the crowded houses standing along the shore.

He led her to the gangway, and there came to a stand. "Now, Milley, my lass, I can do no more for you," he said, as he looked sadly and anxiously at the ebony face before him. "I don't rightly know the whereabouts of the party for which you have to steer, but I know you have a longish land voyage afore you, and you'll find it no easy matter to keep on the right track."

"Heaven bless you, Massa Jack. You been good, good to Milley," replied the girl, the tears standing in her large round eyes. "Not a bit on't, my poor lass," replied the tar, as he pressed the hand he held. "I've done no more to you than I was bound to do. I've a gal of my own, as is nigh about your age, and I thought what if she had been in your case, and had no one to look after her; so I took the convey of you through the voyage, and didn't allow none o' my mates to harm you—that's all. And now, as I said afore, we have to part company, and I hope with all my soul as how you'll get safe to the end of your voyage."

"Oh, tank you, Massa Jack, you berry much. Milley not afraid. Milley find the way somehow to missus, and den I I be all right and happy."

"Hope you will, my lass—hope you will. You've had uncommon luck as yet, and it looks to me as if Providence had you in tow. Now look here, I've got a crown piece—the only shot in the locker till I get my pay—take it, it will help you on the road so far, and when it's done maybe you'll meet in with good Christian people to help you along."

"What dis for?" asked Milley, eyeing with wonder the large silver coin which Jack put into her hand. "To buy rations and a berth at night as long as lasts," was the answer. "Get it changed for coppers at the first shop you come to, and do your best to spin it out. There, good-bye, my lass, good-bye."

"Good-bye, Massa Jack," returned the girl, and, with an impulsive gesture, she raised his tawny hand to her thick lips and bestowed several rapid fervent kisses. Then, with a sob and eloquent glance of thanks, she passed along the gangway and reached the quay, where, without again looking back, she sought her way through the crowd, shrinking timidly from the marked observation to which her color made her subject.

The honest warm-hearted sailor stood looking after her with moistened eyes, till her figure was lost in the crowd. Then, passing the back of his hand across his eyes, to clear their dimness, he dived hastily below, muttering— "Poor thing. I've heard it said as how the blackiemoores haven't the Christian feelings o' us white people, and haven't to be anything but slaves—low as their skin. Their hearts seem as good as whites, and I feel as I'd like to know that Milley got safe to the missus she loves so dearly. Anyhow, I'll miss her company, and it will be a while afore I get used to want her, for it did my heart good to take care on her and have her beside me."

The appearance of this young negro girl in the ship had been the great sensational event of the voyage. It was on the third or fourth day after they sailed from Kingston that she was discovered lurking in the hold, and, when dragged on deck and asked how she had come there, and for what purpose she tremblingly besought them to allow her to remain, and take her to Scotland, where her mistress had gone. As to allowing her to remain, there was no choice, for she could not now be put ashore, though the circumstance gave the captain no little annoyance, and all the more so that he saw among the crew indications of fun from Milley's presence.

It was then that old Jack Conslund stepped forward, and, touching his forelock, said he would take care of her in the ship, and this charge he had faithfully attended to, and now, the vessel having come into harbour, his task was ended, and they parted with such feelings as we have described.

Ten days later, Stephen Gibson was sauntering to and fro under the shade of a row of trees, which, with the low hedge in which they were set, separated his garden and the grounds round his residence from the public road which intersected that part of Glenfask.

And as he sauntered thus, his eye fell on a dark and dingy figure coming slowly onward on the dirty road. The extreme darkness of this sultry forenoon caused him to regard it with attention, and as it drew near he saw that it was a negro girl. Such a being from another clime in that remote Aberdeenshire glen was such a rarity that Stephen could not forbear remaining where he was till she should go past.

Mr. Henry Maudsley says: "The full and healthy development of all the lower natural forces are indispensably pre-requisite to the existence of a sound and vigorous mind." Just so. Humanity requires the full equivalent of vital force in order for the free and potent manifestations of the mind. When we consider that Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites supplies the deficiency to unhealthy blood, restores the nervous elements, and produces healthy action to the various organs and forces of the body necessary to sound mind, we wonder at the imbecility everywhere apparent. As a deficiency of healthy blood, or a direct loss of this fluid, are causes of the senses, and also of the nervous system generally, we can safely calculate on the disappearance of such unpleasant and dangerous disturbances as the condition of the blood improves.

Farmers and stock raisers have frequently told us that they have seen very good results from giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to cows and swine before and after they drop their young. The powders put them in good condition, and give them strength to care and provide for their sucklings.

John A's. Ballying.
Referring to John A's. "braving" and bullying propensities, the Globe calls to mind a little incident that occurred on the floor of the House some years ago. This is not the first time that this ideal Canadian gentleman has acted in a similar fashion. We referred a few days ago to a scene in the old Assembly, which we think even Sir John will soon remember without a blush. As our Premier can only be paralled by himself, we may be excused for giving the former escapee with greater fullness than would otherwise be necessary. In a debate the present Vice-Chancellor Mowat, then member for South Ontario, delivered a speech severe and damaging from its very moderation and gentleness. It stung John A. to the quick. And that paragon of "sweetness and light" crossed the floor of the House, put himself into a threatening attitude, and addressed his fellow-member with the choice words: "You d—d pup, I've a good mind to slap your chops." The Tory had been scraped a little, and peeped the ruffian, just as in the present instance and in many others of a more private character. The friends of John A. urged that he was drunk on that occasion, and no doubt the more sensible of them will plead the same excuse for this recent escapade. But it was not so. He was not drunk when he spoke thus to Mr. Mowat, and we have no evidence to that effect. He was sober when he struck Mr. Carruthers. But even though he had been, the apology would be frightful, and no avail. A gentleman will be a gentleman even when he is drunk. If ruffianism is not in the man it will not come out in any circumstances. The Globe writes in an old phrase, but it is true as it is old. If a man finds that when drunk he becomes an insolent swearing rowdy, he may be sure that such is his true character. It is nature asserting its supremacy over all conventionality. Let Sir John and his apologists take any alternative they like. If sober, his conduct was that of a vulgar ruffian. If drunk, it was but that of the Tartar showing through the Russian's skin.

We have often wondered whether there is a person in all New England, who does not know and appreciate the value of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as a family medicine? It is adapted to most all purposes, and is the best pain killer that can be used.

Instantaneous Barbers, in Mr. Horsman's Establishment, so noted for many years as the Emporium of everything in his line of business, it is some what astonishing to take a comprehensive view of the variety of his stock:—Guns, Pistols, Ammunition, Fishing Tackle, Hooks, Baiting and General Shop Goods, Mats, Ivory Table Cutlery, Plated Ware, Bird Cages, Flower Baskets, Smoothing Irons, Tea Trays, Wringers, Mangles, Lamps, Mechanics' tools. Besides the great assortment of Farming Implements, Scythes, Snaiths, Rakes, Forks, Hoops, Building and General Shop and Heavy Hardware, Oils, Paints, Colors, Varnishes. One gets from this a slight idea of what it is to carry on with enterprising spirit a large Wholesale & Retail Hardware Establishment. DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF RHOSPHERS AND CALASAYA. — This elegant and agreeable preparation has specially been a favorite on account of its great reliability in the cure of Diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. It relieves at once, pain and a sense of fullness after eating, distention, acidity, or heartburn, headaches, and constipation of the bowels, all of which arise from feeble digestion, and consequent poor blood. It enables the stomach to digest food perfectly, and in sufficient quantity to nourish the system thoroughly, and prevent decline, and running down with chronic wasting diseases. In consumption and scrofulous cases, in women prostrate from family cares, and in delicate children, it will act like a charm in restoring vitality to all the organs and invigorating the general health. It will restore all those who for a long time have been in a feeble condition of the system, wanting energy and disposition to exertion. It cures by means of purifying the blood, the building up the tissues of the body. Sold at $1 by all Druggists.

IT IS A FACT—That the Great Shoeshoer once Remedy and Pills exercise most wonderful powers in promoting appetite, improving digestion, regulating the bowels, and removing nervousness and debility. The weakest will take no harm from the use of this great Indian Alterative and Tonic Remedy, but will gradually regain their health, and the strength they reserve themselves from many of the malaises in which they are so often betrayed. Long suffering invalids may look toward this rectifying and revivifying medicine with certain hope of having their maladies mitigated, if not cured by its aid.
