Address by Pres. E. J. Elliott at Farmers' Association at Digby

President Elliott said: "Gentlemen.—It is with a very great deal of pleasure that I extend to you a hearty welcome to this, the thirteenth annual convention of this Association, meeting as it does, for the first time in its history in the stirring town of Digby 'down by the sea.' Coming together again after a year of labor and effort we naturally look over the seasons as they have come and gone and mark their results,—and first of all we would express our gratitude to our gracious God that we can truly say He crowns the year with His goodness. The year of 1907 was a most trying one to the farmers of the Maritime Provinces. The past year of 1908 in the way of weather conditions has been almost the opposite of the previous year.

GOOD FRUIT SEASON.

"The fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley have met one of the best seasons for a number of years. The season started in with low prices for Gravensteins, but owing to the excellent quality of our fruit and the unseasonably hot weather in September in the United States and Canada our competitors in the English markets were unable to put much fruit on the markets to compete with us and we have had the English markets largely to ourselves with good prices ruling almost all the way.

"Among the many merces of the past year we have to rejoice in the fact that we have had no experience of famine, floods or earthquakes, pestilence, or droughts, such as other lands have had, carrying death and destruction to a greater or less extent leaving the mark of their work in many places never to be forgotten. The hot weather of September and early October, which so seriously affected the fruit of the United States and Ontario, in our cooler climate only more perfectly developed our fruit and brought it to a greater degree of perfection, adding vastly to the quality, quantity and value of one of our largest products, viz., apples.

"It is true at one time the cash-crop threatened to be very destructive, and stands ready to resume operations with greater vigor when the spring opens, but like the Brown Tail Moth, may prove to be a blessing in disguise in stirring the orchardist to greater activity in caring for his trees.

IN A HAPPY LAND.

"We are getting more and more to believe and to assert our belief with greater assurance that we live in one of the best lands the sun ever shone on, under as great liberty and freedom and governed by as good laws as the world knows.

"The Provincial Exhibition held in Halifax in the early days of September was a great show of the mechanical industries and products of the Province, but can scarcely be reckoned as an agricultural exhibition, and we cannot but feel that it is not in the interest of agriculture to make an exhibit of farm products in so immature condition as must prevail at so early a date.

Major and Mrs. David Wade Celebrate Golden Wedding

One of those unusual and pleasing wedding anniversaries which are permitted only the few to enjoy, was celebrated on Wednesday evening of last week by Major and Mrs. David Wade. On January 27th, 1859, Mr. David Wade, of Granville Centre, and Miss Mary Webber, of Granville Centre, were united in marriage, at the bride's home by Rev. Mr. Smallwood. Accordingly, Jan. 27th, 1909, marked fifty years of wedded life for the happy couple. Two children blessed this union—Mrs. J. C. Withers, of Granville Centre, and Mrs. R. L. Hunt, of Bridgewater, who, with their husbands, were present; also their two grand-children, Mr. Richard Lang, son of Mrs. Withers by a former marriage, and Master Frederick Hunt. The only other immediate relative present was Mr. Edwin Wade of Granville Ferry, nephew of Mrs. Wade, who was also present at the marriage ceremony fifty years ago almost too young to have any recollection of it. These, together with about forty invited guests, assembled to offer congratulations to the bride and groom of fifty years. Providence has dealt very kindly with them during these years, no serious trouble or affliction having come to them, and today they are as wonderfully well and young-looking couple, are enjoying health and strength in a large measure, and are still able to engage in the usual activities of every-day life. Major and Mrs. Wade were very generously remembered by their friends at home and abroad. A substantial sum in gold coins was presented to them, also a number of useful and pretty gifts, some of which were presented to the bride and groom on the occasion. The evening was spent in social conversation and games and passed all too quickly. At a late hour the company dispersed, wishing their host and hostess many years yet of health and happiness.

Fresh Rumors of War

(St. John Times.)

The announcement that Bulgaria has ordered the mobilization of the eighth division of her army, and that men are being rushed to the Turkish frontier, has given rise to fresh rumors of war. A brief summary of the situation in that part of Europe will be of interest.

Bulgaria has declared her independence but cannot be recognized by the powers until Turkey recognizes her as a kingdom. The Turks are willing to do, provided a sufficient indemnity be paid. The Bulgarians do not want to pay, and are foolish enough to talk of war, in which they would have much to lose and nothing to gain. The money spent in preparation for war would be much more wisely spent in settling the claims of Turkey. The Turkish army occupies a very strong strategic position on the Bulgarian border and is evidently prepared for trouble.

Another menace to peace in the Balkans comes from Serbia. That ambitious country desires an outlet on the Adriatic, and to accomplish this end requires a strip of Bosnian territory which would unite it with the principality of Montenegro, on the shores of the sea named, this is strenuously opposed by Austria, which has lately annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Serbian minister at Constantinople declared this week that his countrymen would never give up their national aspiration, and the idea of autonomy for the annexed provinces, and that they would be ready before spring for all eventualities.

It was feared when Austria annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina that Turkey would make this act a pretext for war, and it will be remembered that the situation was regarded as extremely critical. Turkey, however, was willing to accept a large indemnity, and this Austria-Hungary has agreed to pay. The real danger zone is now on the Turko-Bulgarian border. Doubtless, if Bulgaria and Turkey went to war, Serbia would seize the opportunity to press her claims for an outlet to the Adriatic, but Serbia alone would not dare to go to war, and is only dangerous because she might take part in a general dispute, involving Turkey and other of her neighbors.

Councillor Piggott Loses Seat by Error of Presiding Officer

The decision in the election petition case, which has created considerable excitement in this County for the past year, against John W. Piggott, who was elected Councillor for Ward Eleven at the municipal elections in November, 1907, which was tried in this town last week, was given by County Court Judge Pelton Friday voiding the election of Mr. Piggott, on the ground of irregularity of the Presiding Officer.

The Judge freely expressed himself in open court that in so far as the evidence of the witnesses was concerned the election was run by Mr. Piggott without any corrupt practices, either on behalf of himself or agents, but owing to the fact that through the ignorance of the Presiding Officer thinking he was qualified to vote and having deposited his ballot, and having his attention called to the fact that under the Act he had only the casting vote, and at the instance of one of the representatives opened the ballot box and withdrew from it the ballot he had deposited, it was contended by the Judge as sufficient to void the election.

The petition against Elias Rawding returned at the same election as Councillor for Ward Eight, was tried by Judge Pelton at Annapolis Royal and after the examination of a number of witnesses called by the petitioner, the Judge at once decided that no evidence of corrupt practices was proved, and he dismissed the petition with costs against the petitioner.

The decision of the Judge in each case is given below:

MANLEY BENSON, Petitioner
JOHN W. PIGGOTT, Respondent.

I, Sanford H. Pelton, Judge of the County Court for District Number Three, do hereby certify unto the Clerk of the Municipality of Annapolis, that the said election petition against the election and return of the said John W. Piggott as a Municipal Councillor for the district number eleven in the Municipality of Annapolis, charging corrupt practices with respect to said election was tried before me in open court under the provisions of the said Act at Bridgetown, in the County of Annapolis, on the twenty-first and twenty-second days of January, and upon adjournment at Annapolis Royal in said County on the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1909, and at the conclusion of said trial I determined that the said John W. Piggott was not duly returned as elected, and that his said election was void, solely upon the ground of irregularity or misconduct by the presiding officer at said election in casting a ballot and in opening the ballot box before the close of the poll and taking ballots therefrom.

I do hereby certify that no corrupt practice was proved on the said trial to have been committed by or with the knowledge or consent of any candidate, that no persons were proved, and that there is no reason to believe that corrupt practices extensively prevailed at the said election.

Witness my hand at Annapolis Royal in the County of Annapolis this twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1909.

SANFORD H. PELTON,
Judge of the County Court for District No. 3, N. S.

J. MANNING NICHOLS, Petitioner.
ELIAS RAWDING, Respondent.

I, Sanford H. Pelton, Judge of the County Court of District Number Three, do hereby certify unto the Clerk of the Municipality of Annapolis, that the said election petition against the election and return of the said Elias Rawding as a Municipal Councillor for the district number eight in the Municipality of Annapolis, charging corrupt practices with respect to said election was tried before me in open court under the provisions of the said Act, at Annapolis Royal, in the County of Annapolis, on the twenty-seventh, twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth days of January, A. D. 1909, and at the conclusion of said trial, I determined that the said Elias Rawding was duly returned and elected.

I do further certify that no corrupt practice was proved on the said trial to have been committed by or with the knowledge or consent of any candidate, that no persons were proved on said trial to have been guilty of any corrupt practice, that no corrupt practice was proved on the said trial is no reason to believe that corrupt practices extensively prevailed at the said election.

Witness my hand at Annapolis Royal in the County of Annapolis this twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1909.

SANFORD H. PELTON,
Judge of the County Court for District No. 3, N. S.

Message from the Sea

Is It a Hoax? Or Is It a Clue to the Fate of Some Bark Which Sailed to the Port of Missing Ships?

(Portland, Me., Argus.)

"Bill Lorna, of Moncton, N. B., died on a French island, Nov. 8, 1908."

Who is Bill Lorna? Where did he die? Was he marooned upon some desert isle and did he die friendless and alone?

These are some of the questions that flashed through the mind of John E. Doughty, a well known citizen of South Portland, yesterday morning, when he found floating near the breakwater a bottle in which was an inscription upon an old envelope. The story as told by Mr. Doughty to the Argus in brief is as follows: Mr. Doughty was out near the breakwater yesterday morning picking up driftwood when he noticed something hatching up and down in the water. At first Mr. Doughty thought nothing of the incident, but as the thing kept edging nearer and nearer and sparkling in the sunshine, he became interested and started out to it.

Reaching the sparkling thing he picked up a bottle of the half pint variety, coated with ice and with a stopper securely driven into the top as to be almost flush with the top of the bottle.

Hastening ashore, Mr. Doughty took the bottle home and thawed off the snow and ice. The bottle proved to be a strange looking half pint bottle, the glass being very thick and so brittle that it seldom seems about these parts looking like a foreign make, or the kind of bottle sometimes used by druggists. The stopper was of the ordinary variety somewhat thick and driven into the top of the bottle as hard as it could be and not driven clear inside of the vial.

Inside on the flap of an old envelope, written on the gummed side was the following in very poor English: "Bill Lorna, of Moncton, N. B., died on a French island Nov. 8, 1908."

Nothing else was on the little piece of paper. No other identification of any kind, and the location of the island is a mystery.

Some have advanced the idea that he was sailing out of Portland; others that the thing is a hoax pure and simple; others that the man was on a French barque that was last somewhere off the Atlantic coast in October or a little earlier, and others say that the man was probably cast upon some desert island where he lived as long as possible without food or died from exposure.

The inscription was written with a lead pencil and was very legible except that the name of the place where he came from was somewhat discolored. Some have gone so far as to advance the old theory that this man was a survivor of the Portland and that he may have lived to get to some French possession where he has lived until he died at the above mentioned date.

The most reasonable theory is that the man was a sailor on some big sailing vessel, shipped from some point in the provinces and that when the vessel was lost, she must have been on a foreign coast. The sailor was cast upon some island of the French possessions, the name of which he did not know and there remained for a time, but eventually hunger or disease or exposure overcame him and knowing that his end was near wrote the few lines upon a piece of an old envelope and putting it in a bottle corked it and threw it into the sea, hoping that some one would find it and send word to those who would be waiting for him that he would never return.

Again in the Toils.

(Berwick Register.)

Frank Sabeans, who attained some notoriety a few years ago by showing a pistol to a Halifax detective, who, accompanied by four constables, attempted his arrest, and whose trips in search of the said Sabeans were ever after heralded by announcements in the local papers, was committed to jail in Kentville on Monday last. Mr. A. M. Thomas effected the capture. He put no notice in the papers but, accompanied by his son, Wentworth, and Mr. William Sommerville, drove to the domicile of Mr. Sabeans who, finding himself treated like a human being, made no attempt to evade arrest.

Mr. Sabeans had been released from penitentiary on "ticket of leave." He was recently charged with a misdemeanor and being brought before Mr. Justice Bligh, was released on bail. He forfeited his bail by not appearing when called for, and thus rendered himself liable to the arrest which he is effected on Monday. Rumors that he is wanted for the breaking of the safe at Berwick station last fall are at least, premature.

REASON ENTHRONED.

Because meats are so tasty they are consumed in great excess. This leads to stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. Revise your diet, let reason and not a pampered appetite control, then take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be well again. Try it. For sale at W. A. WARREN'S, BRIDGETOWN; A. E. ATLEE'S, ANNAPOLIS ROYAL; and BEAR RIVER'S DRUG STORE.

Samples free.

The real trouble is, after all, not the falling, but the setting up. Some people, when they fall, get discouraged, lose sight of their ideal, and when they rise they turn completely around and face in the opposite direction. Others, like Peter, when they fall still keep their faces toward the goal.—Rev. Alexander Lewis.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

The Medicos at Annapolis

The Annapolis-Kings Medical Association met here on Thursday last, quite a representative attendance from both counties being present. The meetings were held in the Masonic Temple. Dr. DeWitt, of Wolfville, President, occupied the chair, and Dr. W. B. Moore, of Kentville, acted as Secretary pro tem. Various matters of both professional and public interest occupied the attention of the members of the Society during the afternoon. Dr. L. R. Morse, of Lawrencetown, read an interesting paper on Pneumonia, which was discussed by a large number of the members. The evening session was an open house and a large audience filled the Masonic Temple to listen to the discussion of the subject Tuberculosis. Judge Owen occupied the chair. Dr. DeWitt, of Wolfville, and Dr. Birt, of Halifax, read papers and a very interesting discussion followed. During the evening several selections of vocal and instrumental music were rendered.—COM.

I. C. R. IS COMMON CARRIER AND LIABLE TO THE LAW.

Agent of the Government Road Convicted of Violation of the Scott Act in Receiving a Shipment of Liquor.

Fredericton, Jan. 28th—Police Magistrate Marsh delivered judgment this morning in the case of R. Z. Walker, I. C. R. station agent, charged with violation of the Scott Act, recording a conviction against the defendant. The proceedings were taken under an amendment to the Canada Temperance Act, prohibiting the shipment of liquor into Scott Act counties. His honor held that the I. C. R., although owned by the government, had acted in the capacity of common carrier and was therefore liable. It was not necessary, he said, for the prosecution to prove that liquor was for personal use. The fact that Walker did not know the package contained liquor, his honor held, was no defense. He pronounced the defendant guilty and imposed a penalty of $50 and costs. Counsel for Walker gave notice of appeal.

Ordered: That the report of the Health Officer as read be received and adopted. The following is the report:—

*HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT.

To W. G. Clarke, Esq.,
Warden Municipality of Annapolis Co. Sir:—

I herewith beg to submit my report as Health Officer of the Municipality for the year 1908.

The year as a whole has been one of more than average healthfulness and I feel quite sure that if it were possible to obtain our death rate it would be found to be diminishing rather than increasing. The new Act which came in force October 1st for the registration of births and deaths will hereafter furnish us with the correct number of deaths and causes of same, and we will then be able to know more accurately our death rate and cause of same.

Early in the year scarlet fever appeared in a number of localities, and has lingered about here and there ever since, while of a mild type its extremely infectious nature has made it difficult to be altogether clear of it. It became necessary to close a number of schools on account of it, and to observe, what seemed to those suffering from the disease, quite rigid quarantine to prevent a general epidemic.

In all cases the health law has been observed and these outbreaks have passed with scarcely a death except from the complications following the disease, due in all cases to the original disease being so slight that the child was not kept in bed or confined sufficient time to allow the rash to have completed its course throughout the internal organs as well as externally.

In September we had our first case of modified smallpox, similar in type to the many cases in various parts of the province the past few years. This case developed in Ward 1, near Margareville, and was traceable to Lunenburg County, where the patient had visited a few weeks previously in a house where the disease had been some months before her visit. As the case was very mild and every precaution taken by Councilor Outhit and his Board of Health to prevent any further spread, no other cases developed from this. Owing to the mildness of the case, no medical aid was required other than that I was able to give, and the expenses were therefore trivial compared with most cases of this disease.

Later in the fall the same disease appeared in a lumber camp in East Dalhousie district and it, too, was directly traceable to inefficient quarantine or disinfection in the upper part of Lunenburg County. In this case a man came to the camp suffering from the disease and before the whole camp and upwards of fifty cases was the result. These cases were cared for by the Davison Lumber Company under the supervision of Dr. Dickson. The infected camps have been disinfected and no further trouble has come from it.

A suspected case in Springfield still later served to arouse the Board of Health and put them on the alert, but happily no trouble developed here, and I trust we are now clear of further outbreaks of this disease.

The type is that seen throughout this continent the past decade and has been variously named, Cuban itch, Philippine Rash and False Smallpox, etc. Its mild form at once places it in another class from the true Variola or Smallpox, such as visited the Province in 1901 and 1902. It has consequently been termed Modified Smallpox. The individual cases or lesions does not differ from those seen in the severer forms of the disease, but they differ in the quantity rather than quality. A patient taking the disease by visiting a house where it had been four or five months before would prove its extreme infectiousness, and in some cases the severer types of the disease have developed from these mild forms.

I have endeavored to keep the expenses down and at the same time safeguard the communities and business interests involved in epidemics of this sort.

The present general movement toward a better understanding of tuberculosis would indicate that we should take some further action to assist our citizens in a better understanding of the modes of attack and methods of prevention of the ravages of this disease.

We probably have as little of it as any County in the whole Province but that does not mean that the death rate from it could not be further lessened, were the disease still better understood and greater care exercised by patients and those in care of patients to prevent its spread.

Faithfully yours,
M. E. ARMSTRONG,
Health Officer.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE MOST POPULAR BECAUSE IT IS THE BEST.

"I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicines on the market. For babies and young children there is nothing better in the line of cough syrups," says Paul Allen, Plain Dealing, La. This remedy not only cures the coughs, colds and croup so common among young children, but is pleasant and safe for them to take. For sale by ...

THE TERRORS OF THE TUB.

A young woman who has recently been teaching in a school in a large factory town with a rapidly increasing mixed foreign population has had many interesting and amusing experiences in dealing with ignorant parents of little immigrant pupils. The hardest thing to make them both understand and acquiesce in were the requirements of cleanliness. They considered her standard preposterously, even perilously high.

The protest of one indignant mother—made through an interpreter—ran thus:

"Shall I unsew my child out of her new, warm woollen clothes that I have sewed her safely into for the winter, and put water on her bare skin? No, I will not do it. Water is dangerous on the skin in cold weather. I am a good mother. She shall be warm, and she shall not be wet. If she is not very clean, what matter? She is clean enough; and she does not go to school to be cleaned but to learn books; and she can learn books if she is dirty."

She was cleaned, nevertheless, and was not again sewed into her clothes for the winter.

Baths were also peremptorily inflicted upon a thin little girl, whose terrified parents pleaded against the sentence because "there is so little on her bones, and much water melts flesh;" and upon a plump one whose mother lamented that she was too fat already, and if she were washed would of course "soak fatter."

But the hardest battle of all was with the woman, a magnificent dark peasant creature with great flashing eyes, for whose two admirably pretty and appallingly bearded, small daughters a soapy warm bath, very thoroughly administered, had been suggested.

"Are my children rick with bristles that they should be soused in hot water and scrubbed?" she screamed, furiously. "I tell you, woman, if you try to souse them in a tub, I will souse you, and you will not come out again, for I shall drown you like a kitten. You are only a little thing, and it would be easy. They shall not be soused, do you understand? They are God's creatures with souls, neither swine to be scalded, nor live fish to swim."

Nevertheless, the beautiful dirty children were soused, and the teacher was not drowned, and the wrathful mother, by the exercise of tact and patience, has become one of her firmest friends.

A WAY OUT OF IT.

A company of select colored artists were rendering a version of "Othello." The scene between the Moor and Desdemona demands the handkerchief which he has given his wife as a wedding amulet. The actor who had been intrusted with the title role confused vacillateness with improvisation.

"Desdemona!" he cried, "fetch me that handkerchief!"

But the doomed lady only laughed at Cassio, and her lips shouted again: "I set you to de second time to sit me dat han'kerchief."

"Still the fair one parried the issue with the talk of Cassio, and the lordly Othello, now thoroughly incensed, bellowed: "Woman, fo' de third and las' time Othello demands the han'kerchief. Away!"

And as he was just about to open his mouth again a big leather-lunged patron in the top gallery shouted at him: "Fo' de Lawd's sake, nigger, why dean yo' wipe yo' nose on yo' sleeve an' let de show go on?"

NOTHING HAPPENED.

A Denver paper is responsible for the following:
An old lady entered a local dry goods store and asked to see some shirtwaists.
"What bust, madam?" inquired the salesman.
"Land, I dunno," responded the lady, with a nervous look around; "I didn't hear nothin'!"

THE COMMON APPLE A GREAT SOURCE OF HEALTH

The Juice of the Ordinary Apple is One of the Best Things in the World For Keeping the Blood Pure.

Few people there are but enjoy a ripe, juicy apple. But how many realize that it is a medicine as well as a treat?

Apple Juice has a very marked effect on the kidneys, increasing their power to throw off the waste products of the body, called urea, and thus prevent Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, and similar troubles that come from poisoned blood.

Similarly, other fruits stimulate the action of the liver and bowels—others of the skin. Combined, they keep the blood pure—the body clean and healthy.

To get this effect, however, one must eat a great deal of fruit, or better, eat a little fruit and take "Fruit-a-lives."

"Fruit-a-lives" are tablets in which the juices of ripe fruits, with their medicinal value intensified, are combined with valuable tonics. They act directly on Bowels, Kidneys and Skin and put them in perfect condition—thus ensuring the thorough elimination of all waste matter and poisons from the body. Trial box 25c. Regular size 50c—boxes for $2.50. Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

PHYSICIAN GIVES ADVICE

Tells Why So Many Suffer from Catarrh and Rheumatism.

A distinguished physician, famous for his successful treatment of catarrh and rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, states as follows:— "Our climate being more or less damp and changeable, is bad for catarrh and rheumatism, and care must be taken not to let these troubles gain headway. In addition, he states that a great many Canadians are careless in their habits, and to this as much as climatic conditions is due a great deal of the trouble. Insufficient clothing and improper eating will cause rheumatic and catarrhal troubles in any climate.

This eminent authority gives the following as the simplest and best treatment known to science, and to it he gives credit largely for his success: Fluid Extract Cascara, ½ oz.; Fluid Extract Carriana Compound, 1 oz.; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 6 oz. Directions: One teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

The ingredients are all vegetable, and have a direct and specific action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, eliminating all poisonous matter from the system. Any druggist can dispense this, or you can buy the ingredients separately and mix at home by shaking in a bottle. Many of our readers should benefit by this article. Save the recipe.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1909.

—Nova Scotia has immense possibilities as a successful dairy country, states J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, and in this opinion he is supported by many agricultural authorities. As it is important that our agriculturists should keep in the line of progress with other agricultural countries the opinion of these students of our conditions and possibilities should be favorably regarded and acted upon.

The value of our present output of dairy products in creamery butter and cheese is $71,113 and stands lowest in the list of the Provinces excepting Saskatchewan, and is about one-fifth of the output of New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island which come next. Twenty-five million dollars a year is the exceedingly high sum output with which Mr. Ruddick credits the qualifications of our province for this industry.

The little kingdom of Denmark,
only two-thirds the size of Nova Scotia, has a greater value of exported dairy products than any country in the world. Their exports of dairy products, bacon and eggs approach the almost incredible sum of $80,- 000,000.

"No country can be successful in agriculture for any length of time," says Mr. Ruddick, "unless live stock is made the basis of it." Denmark had become impoverished and its agricultural industry stunted when its leaders came to the conclusion about fifty years ago that it was necessary to institute a radical change in their methods of farming. Turning their attention to dairying they began to improve the degenerate stock of the country and it was not more than thirty years ago that the butter making industry began to flourish.

With the growth of dairying and its allied industries, the condition of the people in Denmark has steadily improved. The population increased from 2,172,380 in 1880, to 2,464,770 in 1901. There is probably no agricultural community in the world today which, on the whole, is more progressive, prosperous and happy than the farmers of Denmark, and they owe their present prosperity entirely to the dairy industry. Without it, declares the Commissioner, the country would have lost a large percentage of its population and would have grown poorer every year.

Dairying does not prosper, says Mr. Ruddick, unless it is made the special business of the farmer, and the Nova Scotia farmer in general has his attention absorbed in fruit growing, lumbering or fishing. Where the conditions are especially favorable for one of these industries, "as in certain beautiful and far-famed valleys of Nova Scotia," he would not expect to find dairying methods conspicuously developed, but where-ever there is waste uncultivated land there the dairying industry, by careful cultivation and intelligent methods, should yield profitable returns.

Thou hast great cause to be encouraged, considering the power of
God. The power of God is with thee.
It is bound to be thine, by His promise; and if God be able thou shalt obey whatever He hath commanded
thee, so thou wilt believe His promise and use the means.—Thomas
Hooker.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will all ways cure my coughs and colds."

Address by Pres. E. J. Elliott at Farmers' Association at Digby

and so essential to the carrying on of agricultural interests.

MR. FULLER'S GOOD WORK.
"I desire to refer to the efficient work of Mr. F. L. Fuller as Superintendent of Agricultural Associations under whose supervision our institute work is carried on. The energetic, active work of Mr. Fuller in acquainting himself with the needs of all localities and the points at which the most effective work may be done commends him to our confidence and support.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
"I came now to a subject which in my opinion far exceeds in interest all other subjects connected with agriculture in Nova Scotia—I refer to the technical education of our young men as agriculturists and the facilities afforded to obtain such instruction at our Agricultural College at Truro under the tutelage of Prof. Cummings and his efficient staff.

"The time has been when the farmer needed to raise a little bit of everything needed to bring comfort to his home and the greater the range of variety the better furnished the home and the little surplus sold was the only source of income. But times have changed, methods have changed.
Competition has become keener year
by year in all branches of industry, and the one that succeeds best is that one that can produce the article in quantities, at the least cost, and to do this he must devote himself to one or at least a limited line of work.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
He must know that his environments are suited to his undertaking.
If it is the soil he would cultivate he must know the requirements of the soil for the crop he would produce. If it is fruit he would raise he must know what varieties will succeed best on the particular land which he would plant. If it is stock breeding he would engage in he must know the points which go to make up a good breeding animal. If dairying, he needs to recognize a good cow at sight—and the thousand and one things he must know which cannot be enumerated here. I say HE MUST KNOW—to be successful he must know—and he cannot afford to learn these by years of experience; he must get this knowledge from the experience of others.

SECOND TO NONE.
"To obtain this knowledge in the shortest, in the cheapest and most effective way the Agricultural College at Truro has been established. It has been styled a child of this Association and such, it is under the fostering care of the Government. The brightest hopes of its early promoters have been more than realized in its success, not only as to the patronage given to it, but the college has taken character from its leader and we believe stands second to none in its line as an educational centre. Our farmers' sons who do not avail themselves of the great opportunities afforded them at Truro must be heavy losers. Our noble professions call for men, men to take rank amongst men—men better developed, working more understandingly and hence with greater success."

MONEY INDEMNITY.
It commences to look as if Turkey
would be content to accept a money indemnity from Austria for its stolen provinces. Should this be the case it may usher in a new system of international dealings in real estate, and offer a practical suggestion for the consideration of the Hague peace tribunal. When one nation covets a few provinces belonging to another, all it will have to do is to preempt them after the manner of a public corporation; then the Hague tribunal could arbitrate on the price, and the whole thing be settled without warfare or bloodshed. That is exactly what has happened in the present case, except that Turkey seems disposed to take the price tendered without any appeal to arbitration of any kind.

GAVE TWO QUARTS OF BLOOD TO HIS WIFE.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Doctors today were elated to find Mr. and Mrs.
Archie Nicholson doing well after the transfusion yesterday of the extraordinary quantity of two quarts of blood from the veins of the husband into those of the wife. Mrs. Nicholson seemingly was dying from loss of blood when the operation was decided upon. She is now expected to recover.

Thou hast great cause to be encouraged, considering the power of
God. The power of God is with thee.
It is bound to be thine, by His promise; and if God be able thou shalt
obey whatever He hath commanded
thee, so thou wilt believe His promise and use the means.—Thomas
Hooker.

Lose Money But Fulfill Contract

Because the well known firm of Waugh and Sproul of 103 High street
Boston, whose specialty is artesian and driven wells, persisted in sticking to its contract to bore an artesian well for the Plymouth Rubber Company of Stoughton, the plucky firm lost $2,225 in money and 181 days of valuable time.

"But we delivered the goods, we carried out our contract, and that is worth more to us than all the days and dollars we lost," declared Mr.
Waugh, when urged to tell about the remarkable manner in which his firm lived up to its contract.

Last spring Waugh and Sproul contracted with the Plymouth Rubber Company to bore an artesian well at the company's plant in Stoughton.
Work was begun on the well June 16, of last year. Ordinarily a well of this sort takes about thirty days to complete. It is very seldom that more than a month's time is needed. The contract was for an artesian well that would supply 75 gallons of water a minute, and the contract price was $1,625.

The start-off went smoothly enough but it was not many days before the Waugh and Sproul workmen found themselves up against a tough proposition. Their apparatus struck some of the hardest sort of rock, ledges that were apparently of felspar or some such rock of equal hardness.
The formation was so hard no steel could be tempered hard enough to withstand it. Day after day the workmen labored and from five to eight inches per day was all the progress that could be made on an average.
Week after week and month after month the workmen were kept at the task. Expert as these workmen were they advised their employers to give it up as a bad and impossible task.

Other well-digging firms heard of the wonderful ledge of practically impenetrable rock, looked the premises over, shook their heads wisely and advised giving up the attempt altogether, but Waugh and Sproul had contracted to bore that well and they decided to bore it if they lived long enough.

On the 17th of this month, or thereabouts and one day from the time the well was started, it was completed. The time that had been put in on it was sufficient to dig a well 1,000 feet deep under ordinary conditions. The well, in fact, was exactly 205 feet deep and produced, instead of the stipulated 75 gallons a minute, a little more than 80 gallons to the minute. It cost the contractors $2,- 250 to bore it.

A Simple But Effective Test

(Ottawa Citizen.)
Toronto has been troubled for six weeks past by "demonstrations" of the unemployed led by a small but efficient band of agitators who acted as a deputation to wait upon the mayor every day or two to demand work for the unemployed, and to make vague threats as to what would happen if the deserving out-of-workers did not forthwith get bread.

The alternative was usually a demand for a hall in which to air their grievances by pouring out torrents of oratory to a sympathetic audience of the out-of-workers. While everybody naturally sympathizes with the man who cannot get employment and is in straitened circumstances or actual want, these demonstrations in Toronto were not of a convincing character, and suggested that the demonstrations were more for the purpose of allowing the agitator to air their eloquence than anything else.

In the light of Ottawa's experience
last year when an incipient outbreak of "demonstrations" by the unemployed was nipped in the bud. The Citizen suggested a simple receipt to the Toronto authorities for discouraging this form of socialist agitation, which, while harmless in itself has a tendency to give the country an unenviable reputation abroad.
Moreover the Citizen believes no condition exists in any city of Canada at the present which justifies imitations of starving mobs demanding bread. That this impression is correct has been proven by the simple test of offering the agitators work.
It was successful here, and we are pleased to see that the mayor of Toronto used the receipt with most edifying success.

A deputation of four agitators has been at the head of the unemployed demonstrations in Toronto nearly all winter. On Saturday last jobs were secured for the whole of them, and notices sent to their houses that the work was waiting for them. When they turned up at the city hall again on Tuesday, still acting as a deputation for the unemployed, they were asked why they were not at work, when one and all declared they had never received the notice. This was too much for his worship who plainly told them that he had come to the conclusion that "Most of you people do not want work." One modest request of the deputation was that the city should build 150 workingmen's houses; another was that they be provided with a public hall in which to talk. When finally they were dismissed by the mayor, a civic official proceeded to take their names with a view of furnishing them with some more employment, when along came another agitator and ingeniously pointed out that they would be betraying the unemployed if they accepted these jobs when the others had no work. This seemed to afford a good excuse, and it was reinforced by the after thought that if they were to go to work the unemployed would have no deputation to articulate their grievances. This latter proved conclusive, but it may be taken for granted that the authorities of the city of Toronto will not be much bothered with demonstrations of the winter.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

Sleight parties are now contesting popularity with the sport of skating.

The inmates of the County Institutions were treated to a sleigh-drive on Thursday last.

The reported purchaser of Mr. Murray's farm is Mr. Atner, not Mr. Herbert Williams as stated.

The Town Accounts passed the hands of the Auditors yesterday, and will presumably be in the hands of the printer this week.

The Parrsboro town council has recommended J. F. Outhit for the position of stipendiary, vacated by the death of C. S. Muir.

Frank Sabean has been arrested in Kentville. It is understood that four charges have been preferred against him, but the nature of them is not known.

The Annapolis-Kings Medical Association met at Annapolis on Thursday last. A report of the interesting session is given by our Annapolis reporter elsewhere.

The ladies of St. James' Church added the neat sum of forty dollars to their church repair fund by the Bean Supper given in their vestry last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Harry Ruzgley was elected Mayor of Bridgetown by acclamation yesterday. Other Mayors elected by acclamation were Judge J. M. Owen for Annapolis and J. E. Jones for Digby.

Outlook.—Mrs. Ina Minney, who has been suffering for a number of weeks with a felon on her finger, had the afflicted member amputated on Saturday. Dr. Miller performed the operation.

In our paragraph regarding the competitors in the original story contest, the name of the writer who stood second in the voting should have been Mrs. George Foster, of Granville.

Doubtless a large number of townspeople will take advantage of the opportunity of combining a sleigh drive with hospitable entertainment and attend the Social at Miss Whitman's, Tupperville, to-morrow night.

A naval seaman has once every day to salute the quarter-deck of his ship, even if no officer is upon it. "Salada" Tea is in such popular favor that many people feel like saluting a packet wherever seen.

Reuben didn't marry his sweetheart but Dan Mulloy, the tramp, did. According to the Lunenburg Daily News Dan Mulloy, playing the tramp in "Reuben and His Sweetheart" and Miss Hazel Corinne, the sweetheart, were married in that town by Rev. Mr. Frame.

At a very interesting and hotly contested debate held in the Y. M. C. A. last evening, it was decided that a lie was never justifiable. The subject for next Tuesday evening will be: "Resolved that the death penalty for crimes should be abolished," to be opened by W. H. Burns, and responded to by J. M. Fulmer.

The annual meeting of the N. S. T. Alliance will be held in Y. M. C. A. Halifax, on Tuesday, February 23rd, at 10 a. m. All Churches and Temperance Societies are earnestly requested to send two delegates, and all ministers and other friends of temperance are hereby invited to attend and assist in the deliberations. Railways will grant the usual reduced fares.

A special meeting of the Canadian Forestry Association will be held in the Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto, Ont., on Thursday and Friday, the 11th and 12th of February. Two sessions will be held each day. His Excellency Earl Grey will open the meeting. On Thursday evening a banquet will be given by the Toronto Board of Trade. Delegates must purchase first-class full fare one way tickets, and secure a certificate to that effect on the standard certificate form where the ticket is purchased. Tickets for going trip must not be purchased more than three days before the meeting. W. B. Snowball, Vice-President Maritime Board of Trade, will preside, and F. C. Whitman, President of the Lumbermen's Association of Western Nova Scotia, will make an address.

Mrs. Beckwith is visiting her son, Dr. Beckwith, of Halifax.

Mr. Harry J. Crowe was in town on Saturday and Sunday, en route from Toronto to Newfoundland.

Mrs. George Dixon spent last week in Middleton, the guest of Mrs. G. H. Vroom and Mrs. William Feindel.

Misses Edith and Alice MacMillan, of Annapolis, are guests of relatives in Bridgetown and Granville this week.

Miss Myrtle Bishop has accepted a position in the C. P. R. office at McAdam Junction, N. B., and left for that place on Saturday.

Dr. Stella Messinger, of Lunenburg, while answering a professional call on Friday last, slipped on the ice, receiving injury to her knee and sustaining a severe shock.

Miss Clara Deelman, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Milner for several weeks, left last week for Halifax, where she has accepted a position as instructor in the School for the Blind.

Miss Emma Johnson returned from Boston on Wednesday and has resumed her duties in the Union Bank. Mr. Ford, who was substituting during Miss Johnson's absence, returned to head office at Halifax on Saturday.

Mr. J. B. McBride, of Digby, who has been spending a day or so in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McBride, left today en route to Winnipeg, where he enters the employ of the Merchants Bank of Canada.—Sackville Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fowler, who have been boarding in Wolfville for some years, have rented Miss Harvey's house on Summit avenue, and expect to reside there in the near future. Mrs. Fowler's mother, Mrs. H. H. Morse, of Bridgetown, will spend the remainder of the winter with her.—Wolfville Acadian.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. MacPherson were suddenly summoned to South Framingham, Mass., last week by the critical illness of their daughter, Edna (Mrs. Hiltz), who is suffering from tuberculosis, and whose condition is causing grave anxiety. Mr. MacPherson returned on Saturday. Mrs. MacPherson will remain with her daughter indefinitely.

An exchange reports that Mr. G. H. Vroom, Dominion Fruit Inspector, has dealt with thirty-eight cases accused of violation of the "Inspection and Sale Act." Eighteen fines have been collected.

Berwick had a $20,000 blaze last Sunday morning when C. H. Beardsley's modern departmental store, one of the finest in this part of the province, was burned to the ground. Berwick having no fire-fighting apparatus, nothing could be done to check the flames. There was partial insurance.

The St. John Telegraph says: One of the physicians who addressed the clergymen on tuberculosis made several statements about our schools which will deeply interest many parents, and which should receive attention from the school board. His idea is that the younger pupils spend too many hours in the school room and that some grades have too much home study. He suggests medical inspection of the schools and the pupils. The spread of tuberculosis might be considerably checked by this method of prevention, and doubtless the general health of the pupils would be guarded and improved by it.

EVANGELISTS BEGIN A GREAT CAMPAIGN.
Boston, Jan. 26.—The greatest evangelical campaign ever undertaken in Boston was formally opened to-night in twenty-four Protestant churches in the city and suburbs. The crusade, which will last until February 25, is being conducted under the leadership of Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, of Albany, N. Y., and Charles M. Alexander, the well known evangelist. They are being assisted by more than sixty speakers from all parts of the country.

FIRST MATCH OF WESTERN HOCKEY LEAGUE.
Windsor, Jan. 27.—The first game of the newly organized western hockey league to be played here was witnessed to-night, between the Windsor Swastikas and the Wolfville team, which resulted in a victory for the visitors by a score of 3 to 2. Mr. Young, manager of the Wolfville team and about fifty enthusiastic supporters, accompanied the boys to Windsor, a special train conveying them home after the game was over.

IN MEMORIAM

Entered into rest January 22nd 1909, Viola Myra Betton, only and beloved daughter of the late Robert Stone Betton and Myra R. Betton. His wife; born March 21st, 1884. At the age of thirteen she made a public profession of religion and was baptized by Rev. R. B. Kinley at Clarence. At the age of sixteen she matriculated into Dalhousie University, Halifax, studying for three years there, then, owing to her father's illness and subsequent death, left the year she otherwise would have graduated. The Rev. Harold S. Davidson, Professor of Semitic Language, Columbia University, New York, under whom she studied classics, previous to entering Dalhousie, speaks thus of her: "I can with confidence recommend her as a very clever, capable and deserving young lady. She has had rare advantages from an educational standpoint, and distinguished herself in the courses she has taken. I am satisfied that in whatever work she might engage she would prove equal to it, and perform it in a manner highly satisfactory." For five years she was a successful teacher, the last three as Principal of the High School at Jordan Falls, Shelburne County, loved alike by her pupils and their parents, by one and all. She was gifted beyond the common lot, blest with an attractive personality, and a disposition that ever looked on the bright side of life. During the years of her father's illness, as the patient, faithful, little breadwinner, forgetting self, that the mother, so fondly loved, might miss as little as possible the protecting care, the sheltered love, that was hers, previous to her husband's death—of her it may be truthfully said, as of a hero of old, "she died at her post," died doing her duty and going it from the best of motives, love, strong, deep and true.

For her to live was Christ, for her to die was gain. Five months previous to her death was spent with relatives in the United States. Two weeks previous to her death she returned to Clarence, her native place, the home of her grand-parents, where an anxious mother awaited her coming. Here, amid the friends and companions of her childhood and youth, lovingly ministered to by those nearest and dearest to her, cheerful and bright to the last, she passed from earth to Heaven.

As her dear mother bent over her in her last moments, she asked "Viola, darling, are you afraid to die and go home to Jesus?" with a bright smile she replied, "Oh, no, mother dear, I am not afraid." Peacefully, without a struggle or a sigh, she closed her eyes in death, to awaken in the mansions above, the home where her beloved father preceded her only one year and nine months before. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. H. Saunders; text Revelations, 21st chapter and 4th verse. The hymns sung were, "Sister, thou wast mild and lovely," "Asleep in Jesus." "Some day we'll understand." "That God's promise, 'I thy Maker will be thy husband' may be the bereaved and lonely mother's comfort and support in this trying hour, that she may lean hard on Jesus and find His grace sufficient in this her hour of sore need, is the prayer of her many friends.

CHALMERS-REAGH.
The marriage took place at Grand Coulee, Saskatchewan, on the 29th day of December, 1908, at six o'clock of Miss Eva B. Reagh, daughter of the Venerable Archdeacon Reagh, of St. John's Rectory, Millen, P. E. I., and Ernest D. Chalmers, of Grand Coulee. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Ross. The bride, who was given away by Captain W. J. B. Selby, of Regina, was attired in a costume of white point d'esprit over white net, and wore a veil and coronet of orange blossoms. Miss Bertie Reagh, of Regina, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and wore a dress of pale blue silk eolienne with trimmings of cream chiffon and lace and a cream colored picture hat. The groom was supported by Steven Glynn. At the close of the ceremony Mrs. Ross played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. A wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers left for their home in Grand Coulee.—Charlottetown Guardian.

After which we must begin our course anew, as if we had never fallen, with this anthem in our mouths. "All my fresh springs shall be in Thee." * * * For be it remembered that it is by a constant series of new starts that the spiritual life is carried on within us.—Edward M. Goulburn.

MAGISTRATE'S ECZEMA CURED

AFTER 20 YEARS OF SUFFERING.

Zam-Buk's Healing Power Proved by School Commissioner and Baptist Deacon. ONE of the most recent converts to the Zam-Buk method of treating and curing disease is Mr. C. E. Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed, throughout the County it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Some time back he had occasion to test Zam-Buk, and here is his opinion of this great balm. He says:— "I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of eczema on my ankle, which had been there for over twenty years. Sometimes, also, the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had taken solution of arsenic, had applied various ointments, and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but all in vain. I was advised to give Zam-Buk a trial, and as I am a firm believer in Nature's remedies, I did so. From first applying it I saw it was altogether different to the ordinary ointments and embrocations, and it soon began to show signs of clearing away the eczema on my ankle. This was so gratifying, that I persevered for some time with it, and I am glad to say it had the desired result. I am now cured of the disease which defied every other treatment for twenty years. "This is not the only direction in which I have proved the merits of Zam-Buk. I suffered for a long time from piles, and I found a perfect cure for this painful ailment in Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk soothes the pain, relieves the congested veins, and so restores the elasticity to the tissues that the piles gradually but surely disappear."

Jonas Albright

After Jonas Albright had worked for a year or so keeping the books at Old Man Bagby's general store at Sawyers Crossing, which did a gross business of perhaps five thousand dollars a year, he was, perforce, obliged to give up the idea, which he nursed when he began, of becoming a merchant prince in six months. In the absence of any information, he put down the failure to realize his ambition to lack of education in business methods, which he forthwith determined to secure. A magazine, left by a forgetful customer on top of a biscuit barrel, contained an attractive picture of a youth, with trousers in need of pressing, reaching out from a little six foot cubbyhole, exactly like Bagby's office, to take the fifteen hundred dollar salary of a fire manserial position. It was being handed to him in a brick-shin bag, with the numerals on the outside, from one of the many windows of an imposing correspondence school.

Jonas' ambition was fired. He, too, would "double his salary," yes, treble and quadruple it, by becoming an office manager. He sent for literature, forwarded cash for instruction and began his campaign of education. To set down the unalloyed truth, Jonas had never been able to convince Old Man Bagby that he was harboring in embryo a successful organizer of the great ear of trade. Once he spoke to Bagby about it, the old man replied heartlessly: "Guess you'd better fatten to navigate one of them derrick hot air balloons they tell about. Might be able to startle the financial firmment some of ye was to go up an' bust. Ye won't never do it any other way."

Old Bagby had some excuse, for, between the blots and erasures, he had hard work to square his business by Jonas' bookkeeping. So it was not strange, when Jonas had completed his "course," and, explaining to Bagby the value of "system," and the advantages he would derive therefrom should he install Jonas as office manager, struck for that position with doubled pay, that Bagby averred: "I never had no need for a manager, but just only one, an' that was when I loved myself, to hire you. An' as fer system, payin' cash an' takin' cash, with what ye might call just a reasonable profit, is good enough system for anybody."

Nor was it strange that Jonas immediately thereafter, having let loose a hot word or two, emerged from the office he had aspired to manage with a rapidity that made the wind whistle through his coat tails. Now, except for the fact that Old Man Bagby continued to drive a brisk and thriving business after having been deprived of Jonas' services, even as before, he has no further interest for the readers of this narrative.

But Jonas was not the youth to risk his all on the power of a single bowstring.

"Mr. Jonas Albright, who has studied for an office manager at the Correspondence Schools and got his diploma last week, has resigned as head bookkeeper at the G. M. Bagby's grocery, and accepted a very responsible position with the Sawyer Buggy Wheel Factory, and goes to same (a touch of correspondence school enrollment) next Monday, entering upon his new duties."

"We predict a rapid rise for our talented young townsmen in the mercantile and financial world." This was exactly the way it read, the very modest little item that Jonas himself carried to the office of The Gleaner that afternoon, and in substantially the same manner it appeared in type on Saturday morning. But that was not the fault of the correspondence school.

And it indicated, further, that, while Jonas was by nature a poor speller, he was endowed with a gift that no amount of correspondence schooling can supply where Nature herself has failed—namely, Hustle—and that at a time when his own horn needed blowing he was not the one to let it lie silent for lack of wind. The "respectable" job in James Sawyer's office, which he got on the strength of his diploma, and of being a local product, brought him ten dollars a week.

Sawyer ran the buggy wheel shop, down by the river, which was rapidly growing to the dimensions of an important manufacturing plant under the shrewd management of its owner, a practical wheelwright, who had a wide reputation for honest repair work before he became a manufacturer.

Between Saturday, when The Gleaner appeared, and Monday, when the Sawyer factory was to acquire his valuable services, Jonas went around in his best clothes to receive the congratulations of his chums. As the only youth in the village who had "taken the correspondence school," as the natives put it, he felt entitled to distinction.

All Sunday he discoursed: "When a fellow's got it in him, he'll set ahead. If you'll use your brains, there ain't any necessity for doing manual labor all your life. All you've got to do is to get an education, like I did, and then attach yourself to some growing concern. That's why I left Bagby's. He wasn't growin'." Jonas spoke as one having authority. "Now, after I took the correspondence school," he went on, "and got all they could teach me about office managin', I saw quick there wasn't any chance at Bagby's, so I struck Sawyer for a place. Jim has got a good business growin' up, and he knows all there is to know about making; but I don't suppose he knows anything about managin'."

"When I was down there last week I asked him what about his office system, and he said he was afraid he didn't keep his office very systematic, except to set down to work early and quit late. When I take hold, one of the first things I do will be to put in a good system, and in a short while, with what I know about office managin', I'll be able to make myself pretty schld. Lesson 26 in the course has some fairly good points on 'Making Yourself indispensable,' and I tell you frankly it's a partnership I'm aiming at."

The village lads listened openmouthed, and Jonas was very well pleased with himself. Already he pictured an immense factory, filled with whirring machinery, down there by the river, and the sign "Albright and Sawyer" in gilt letters a foot high above the entrance.

Monday morning he went to work. Jonas was early at the mill, but Sawyer was earlier. From his rough little office his push and energy reached out and dominated every department and man in the mill. The machines themselves seemed almost insistent with his strong personality. He was a living corroboration of Jonas' assertion that he knew all there was to know about makin' wheels. He seemed to know something about handling men besides. Though his books were kept in a way unique, the profit they showed at the end of the year was to a cent the amount of money he had made in his factory. His correspondence was sometimes a trifle blunt; but it had the merit of saying exactly what he meant in not too many words: for his capable hand held a gouge or chisel more readily than a pen. And the rough "J. Sawyer" of his sign mental had indubitable value at the bank.

"Good morning, Mr. Albright," was his hearty greeting to Jonas. "Hang up your hat and coat, and I'll give you an introduction to your work."

Swelling visibly at the unaccustomed "Mister," Jonas obeyed, noting inwardly and deploring the extremely odd hand way in which Sawyer disposed of his correspondence. He shot a jumble of half sentences, suggestions, and quotations at the young woman stenographer, not at all as they taught dictation in the correspondence school. For instance: Wire Tones and Co., "Accept; send 21st if we can."

H. Peterson. Tell him not to waste his time offering seconds to this shop. Absolute guarantee quality before we'll do business. Acknowledge Berkshire Wagon Company's order the 18th. 250 set wheels as per specifications. Guess we can ship 'n date named. Tell 'em so, anyway, and we'll do it."

Azala Jonas roared. Was this the proper way to treat an order which ran into money like that? When he held the ropes—But in a moment his listened to a letter of acknowledgment that came up to the correspondence school standard, though it was addressed to nobody but Henry Hubbs, blacksmith, at Poduck Corners.

Dear Mr. Hubbs, I am very glad you were so well pleased with the pair of wheels shipped you on the 10th. You will find that they will wear well, stay in shape, and not rattle if kept properly ironed. Will be glad to supply you with everything in our line that you may need in your repair business at discounts quoted in my last letter, and trust that you may become a steady customer. Respectfully yours.

Then followed instructions to Jonas, who was to keep the time of the hands, figure the payroll, check completed orders, and by attending to various routine matters make himself generally useful around the office.

The lad started in well, as he was gifted with natural shrewdness. He picked up detail with considerable rapidity, and before a month went by began to be really helpful to his employer. One of his first suggestions to Sawyer was that an indexed letter file would be much more convenient than the old cupboard which one of the workmen had partitioned roughly for that purpose. Having heard his employer make the assertion that only good workmanship and sound lumber could go into the product of the factory, he was instrumental in having "Honest Buggy Wheels" printed on the letter heads, with excellent results.

Moreover, he fought one of the village youths, who intimated that this legend was untrustworthy, and whipped him to a standstill. Some busybody informed Sawyer that Jonas had disgraced himself in a fight; but, obtaining an inkling of the cause of quarrel, Sawyer said he was too busy to listen to neighborhood gossip, and dismissed the subject. Which goes to show that Jonas was now in a fair way to take the first small step toward the realization of his abiding ambition.

But Fate was lurking around the corner in the form of a recurrence to Jonas' memory of Lesson 26, and he forthwith set about the task of making himself indispensable. He began in "unobtrusive ways," according to instructions. He followed his employer about the mill and about the office, to open the door, pick up a dropped memorandum, or hand a scroll and paper at the opportune moment. He fancied that every such incident brought him to the favorable attention of Sawyer, who must be inwardly commenting, "What a useful, handy, accommodating young man that Jonas Albright is! I must really think about taking him into partnership."

Consequently, he was one day painfully surprised when Sawyer, instead of thanking him, said testily, "I wish you'd attend to your business, and keep out from under my feet!" And another time when, in pursuance of the same purpose, he brought Sawyer a mass of criticism, telling how this employe had a habit of coming late, that one always had a disorder of sticks about his machine in violation of shop rules, and a child had spoken disrespectfully of his employer:

"Don't tell me those things, Albright," said Sawyer. "Jackson may perhaps come a little late, for he has a sick wife; but a more faithful man never worked for me. Litter about Burns' machine, eh? I'll let him pile it as high as he likes as long as he turns out more spokes than any other men in the shop. And what about the engine—he spoke disrespectfully of the old man, did he?"

"Yes, sir, he did. He—"

"Perhaps he had a right. Yesterday I was obliged to give him a dressing which we both knew was undeserved, because he didn't set more efficiency out of these old boilers that ought to be replaced. He swore at me, I believe you said. How many times?"

"I heard him once, distinctly."

"Only once? He can swear twice for every additional horse power he can get out of those old cripples, and when I can afford it I'll make him a present of a new power plant."

"But—but I thought you wanted me to be watchful of your interests; to make myself—" stammered Jonas. "Certainly, certainly; make yourself just as useful to the concern as you can—I won't limit you—but don't interfere with the efficiency of the force."

"I only wanted to be of service, Mr. Sawyer."

"Well, let me tell you, my boy," said Sawyer, with returning good humor, "you can be of most service when you do just those things I hired you to do, the way I want them done. You see, I'm at the head of this business," he continued more kindly, "I built it up from nothing, and I know it. Just remember there are a lot of things you can't see at all that I am in a position to understand thoroughly, and you'll be far more useful than you can ever be by bringing me such information as you did just now."

It was a black year Jonas spent trying to make himself indispensable by rule. At the end of it the coveted partnership seemed farther away than at the beginning. He had no one in the village to advise him, and at last he determined to take the case to headquarters.

Girlhood Vigor Regained.

The difficulty with most women lies in the fact that while they are anxious about the health and welfare of their family and loved ones, they rarely ever pay attention to themselves until Nature says Stop. To prevent this every woman should take Psychine regularly. It creates an appetite and is the greatest of digestants. Psychine is a boon to run-down, tired and overworked women, for there is LIFE IN EVERY DOSE. Mrs. J. T. Miller of 63 Notre Dame St., Winnipeg, proved this, for she says: "I am thankful for what Psychine has done for me. I was laid up with weakness. Oh, how I suffered. My appetite was very poor and my stomach was greatly disordered. Today I am strong and well, for Psychine has brought me permanent relief. I feel like a new woman now to what I did before taking Psychine. I feel the vigor of girlhood in my veins once more."

TRY PSYCHINE FREE.

We want every family to know the merits of Psychine and will send every householder a trial bottle free. Cut out coupon and mail to Dr. T. A. Stocum, Ltd., Toronto.

Please let me have a free sample of Psychine as per your special offer. Name: Address:

have I, Mr. Sawyer?" concluded Jonas anxiously.

"Not as I can see, Jonas," replied Sawyer, with a quiet laugh: "but there are some things I can see now that I couldn't before, and one of them explains your conduct during the last year. You have been trying to please me in my business by a rule that was made to fit somebody else in their business, and that can't be done. You've been trying to make yourself indispensable, and that's a thing that can't be done either, not by trying. People who get to be indispensable, and they're very few, don't do it with that as an object. I doubt if the best man I've got in the shop ever bothered his head thinking whether I could get along without him or not."

"You have done some very good work for me during the last year, and I think you'll do better in the year to come. I had made up my mind to double your salary to start your New Year with, and if I'm good enough man to keep you from getting the business away from me, I think we shall try to worry alone for a spell. There are lots of good ideas you get from the correspondence school that we'll consult over and put in effect in the office; but let's forget about Lesson 26."

The next year proved the correctness of Sawyer's prediction. With a more definite mutual understanding, the young man and the elder one got on well together, gaining respect for each other's methods as the months went by. The subject of partnership was not again broached, though neither had forgotten the conversation relative to it. Jonas devoted himself to learning the business, making a better assistant for Sawyer as his interest and knowledge grew, and at the same time storing up information that would be valuable to him should he ever be in a situation to conduct a business of his own. The opportunity to do so came earlier than he could have anticipated.

A few miles down the river, at Rossport, was situated the factory of the Collins Hub Company, with a big output. Its managers had kept an eye on Sawyer's success, and determined to equip their plant with additional machinery as a rival to his. Owing to certain manufacturing and shipping facilities, they could produce slightly cheaper than could Sawyer; but the bulk of the trade was in his hands. It had been gained by honest and fair dealing and would be hard to win away from him. Once they could weaken his hold on his

It was ordered that all proceedings hereunder be confirmed, and that said new road be opened and become a public road in the County of Annapolis.

Upon reading the petition of Geo. W. Shipton and upwards of twenty others, freeholders of the County of Annapolis, asking for a Committee to lay out and open up a road to connect the road known as the Saunders Lane and the road known as the McLeod Lane near the post road and the Annapolis River in Ward 10:

Ordered: That Councillors Chariton Thomas and the Clerk be a Committee to revise jury lists.

Ordered: That the report of the Committee on Road Returns be referred back to said Committee for amendment.

Ordered: That the Newcombe Road, a new road in Ward 4, be added to Road District No. 2 in Ward 4.

Thursday morning. Council met at 10 o'clock. All Councillors present. Minutes read and approved.

Ordered: That the report of the Committee on Statute Labor Returns as read be received and adopted. Following is the report:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STATUTE LABOR RETURNS.

To the Municipal Council of the Municipality of Annapolis.

Gentlemen:—

Your Committee on Statute Labor Returns report as follows: We have carefully examined all returns placed in our hands, and in most cases find them very unsatisfactory. In many cases returns are not properly completed, work apparently not having been fully performed and showing lack of understanding of the requirements of the Act. We therefore recommend that hereafter not later than August first in each year, the Clerk be instructed to call upon all road overseers whose returns have not been received in conformity with the Highway Act to submit same forthwith and thus be enabled to take the necessary steps to collect unpaid balances, that the roads of this Municipality may be kept in a passable condition.

A. STANLEY BROWN, ELIAS RAWLING. Annapolis Royal, Jan. 13th, 1909.

Ordered: That the report of the Committee on Assessment as read be received and adopted. Following is the report:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ASSESSMENT.

To the Warden and Councillors of the Municipality of Annapolis Co.

Your Committee on Assessment beg to report as follows:

Having carefully looked into the claims before us, we would recommend that the following persons be relieved of the sums set opposite their respective names:—

Elias Messenger, Collector Ward 4, $7.00
J. F. Lonsley, Collector Ward 5, 1.92
E. H. Armstrong, Collector Ward 6, 3.19
Darby Crozin, Collector Ward 7, 8.52
John Lowe, Collector Ward 8, 11.54
Wallace Lent, Collector Ward 9, 1.07
Isaac Whitman, Collector Ward 10, 87.64
John Grimm, Collector Ward 13, 37.80
Joseph Ringer, Collector Ward 14, 2.62
John I. Nixon, Collector Ward 16, 19.42

$180.72

Your Committee has to report that apparently some assessors have now made their assessment in the careful manner they should have done, and for which the law clearly provides.

Your Committee would also call attention to a gross mistake in making up rate roll of Ward 10, one sheet being duplicated amounting to $83.47, which amount shows in this report as illegally assessed.

JOHN H. CHARLTON, J. C. GRIMM, A. D. THOMAS. Annapolis, Jan. 12th, 1909.

Ordered: That the report of the Arbitrators appointed to place a valuation on certain lands of John

C. W. Ditmars at Deep Brook for a proposed road from the main road to the shore, as read be received and adopted and that the arbitrators, J. B. Whitman, R. V. Ditmars and W. D. Long, be continued a Committee to make such changes as may be necessary to complete said road. Following is the report:

REPORT OF ARBITRATORS.

To the Honorable Municipal Council Municipality of Annapolis Co.

Gentlemen:—

We, the undersigned, arbitrators appointed to place a valuation on certain lands of John C. W. Ditmars at Deep Brook for a proposed road, from the main road to the shore, beg to report to you as follows:

We have looked over the ground and have tried to get acquainted with the conditions, and in view of all the circumstances we agree and decide unanimously that such road when built shall not go where located by the Commissioners but shall go west of the barn, and that the said John C. W. Ditmars shall receive a damage of $300.00.

We as arbitrators know quite well that we have not been asked to change the location of this road but we decide that the place we suggest is quite as convenient to the general public, the expense of building the road will be less rather than more and when completed will be a better road.

We are informed that the said John C. W. Ditmars owns only a portion of the beach where the pier is to be located at the end of the proposed road, therefore it would seem to be necessary to arrange with the owners unless this has already been done by the Commissioners.

Respectfully, R. V. WHITMAN, R. V. DITMARS, W. D. LONG.

Deep Brook, Jan. 11th, 1909.

Cash paid by Treasurer, 1908, 2,236.72 Leaving balance due Department of Public Works, Sept. 30, 1908, $398.55

The accounts have not been received for the last three months of 1908. We respectfully recommend that the sum of $1,800.00 be placed in the Presentment for 1909, to provide for support of our Insane at Mount Hope.

W. E. ARMSTRONG, J. I. FOSTER, SYLVESTER BENT. Annapolis, Jan. 13th, 1909.

Ordered: That the resignation of the Treasurer be accepted.

Ordered: That the resolution adopted by Council expressing their appreciation of the services of the late Treasurer and his reply thereto be printed in the minutes of Council. Following is the resolution and reply:

RESOLVED: Whereas our highly esteemed and very efficient Treasurer, Rev. James R. Hart, has tendered to this Council his resignation of the said office, we cannot allow the occasion to pass without placing on record our high appreciation of the manner in which he has discharged the responsible and important duties of the position and our profound regret that circumstances have arisen compelling him to take the course he has. During the entire period of his tenure of office his bearing toward every member of the Council and his devotion to the material interests of the Municipality have been of a character that has commanded our greatest respect and given him the highest place in our confidence. We feel that in severing our official connection we are parting with an officer whose qualifications for the place cannot be surpassed and a gentleman, whose gentle manner,

EMPIRE LIMITED CO., LTD., Bridgetown, N. S.

Dear Sirs:—

Last winter while working my horses in the woods, one fell, straining the cords of the fetlock so badly it laid him up. I used all the different liniments including horse liniments without the slightest benefit.

My son bought your EMPIRE LINIMENT and a few bottles made a complete cure, so that I was able to put him back to work in the woods.

I will cheerfully furnish any further information to anyone and will say without hesitation your liniment cannot be excelled.

Yours very truly, J. F. TRASK.

Jonas Albright

Jonas, who was coming to be recognized as Sawyer's right hand man was approached with flattering offers.

"Would you consider a proposition to take the management of a larger business in the same line at a considerable increase of salary and a prospect of a partnership later on?" he was asked.

"Sure! Who wouldn't?" said Jonas who was highly elated.

"Can you leave Sawyer at once?" "On the 30 days' notice specified in our agreement."

"And you will sign with us today?" "Yes, if you can satisfy me as to the desirability of the job. By the way, you say your concern is styled the Monarch Manufacturing Company. Where are you located?"

"In Rossport."

Instantly there flashed across Jonas' mind a conversation he had had with Sawyer a few weeks earlier when the latter had said the only thing that worried him was the possibility of the Collins Hub Company engaging in the manufacture of wheels.

"Any connection with the Collins Company?" "None at all. But we have an option on their plant."

"I see. How good a line of trade have you got?" "Just fair, and we're relying on you to aid us somewhat in that respect."

"Expecting me to swink Sawyer's customers over to the Monarch?" "That's the idea."

"And wreck Sawyer's business?" "His business was wrecked potentially when the Collins Hub Company decided to go into the manufacture of carriage wheels," said the Monarch man, "forgetting concealment in his anxiety to land Jonas."

"He'll have to look out for himself. His prospects are no longer any good, nor are those of anybody continuing to be associated with him. Sawyer is practically broke, I tell you. We're going to skin the Sawyer Bugle Wheel Company alive."

"Well, let me tell you, gentlemen, that you won't do it; at least, not with my assistance. I want to get into business as badly as any young man who has ambitions. I'd like mighty well to be a manager and eventually a partner; but if I've got to do it at the cost of wrecking Jim Sawyer, I'd sooner stay a cheap clerk all my life. Why?" Jonas went on frately, "that business done there at the crossing is big! He made it. He built it up by the work of his hands and the sweat of his brow. And I wouldn't do him the dirty trick you propose any sooner than I'd break into his safe with a jemmy and steal the cash for tomorrow's pay roll."

"I thought one time I could work my way up to become his partner; but found I wasn't equal to the job. But here's a deal where we can be partners, and I tell you now that from this on I've taken Jim Sawyer into partnership—a partnership the sole object of which is to put the Monarch Manufacturing Company, alias the Collins Hub Company, under the ground. And we'll do it."

What is more, they did; though how they did it—how Sawyer furnished the sinews of war and Jonas made a flying trip to corral the trade with long time contracts, and brought back so much new business that they had to enlarge the factory to take care of it—all that is another story.

And when the light was over and the Collins crowd had been wiped off the map, it was Sawyer who finally brought up to the partnership question.

"You've saved the business," he said simply.

"As far as that goes," said Jonas, "we have been partners for several months. I took you into partnership the day I received the proposition from the Monarch Manufacturing Company; but in the haste and excitement prevailing about that time I must have neglected to mention it to you." And he told Sawyer for the first time the full story of that fateful interview.

"It's been a barrel of fun," he continued, "but I don't believe I should ever have won out if I hadn't figured out that partnership deal. That made it my own personal fight to save my own individual bacon, and it opened my eyes to some of the things the senior partner has to contend with. The present arrangement looks pretty good to me. I rather like it out there, on the fringing line. Why not let the partnership matter go for a while just as it is?"

Nevertheless, his name was on the sign before he was a week older—The Captain.

AN ASPIRATION.

It is always aspiration rather than ambition by which I feel myself stirred. I do not care to outstrip others and become what is called "distinguished," were that a possibility, so much as I long to answer the voice that invites as it ever recedes, up to invisible heights, however unattainable they may seem.

I am ever conscious of a desire that others should feel something coming to them out of my life, like the breath of flowers, the whisper of the winds, the warmth of the sunshine and the depth of the sky; that I feel does not require great gifts or a fine education. We might all be that to each other, and there is no opportunity for vanity or pride in receiving a beautiful influence and giving it out again.

(The above words were found written on the fly leaf of a book or a young man who has gone to the Great Beyond and of whom great things had been predicted.

A COMMON COLD.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia.

It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by

The students of the County Academy held their annual sleigh drive on Friday evening. Returning to the Academy, refreshments were served and a good social time was spent till 10.30.

We note the Rev. E. B. Spurr, who has just left Westville parish church for Bridgewater, on the eve of his departure from the former place, was presented by the citizens with a purse of gold, all denominations joining in and subscribing to the presentation. Mr. Spurr is one of our Round Hill boys.

We are always pleased to note the success of Annapolitans. It is indeed pleasing to learn of the success of our young men and women who are in other fields of labor. The Rev. R. A. Robinson, son of Dr. Robinson, Rector of St. Cyprian's Church, Lacombe, Alberta, has been appointed Honorary Canon of St. Peter's Protestant Cathedral, Calgary.

The little snow storms of the last week have been of great benefit to our villagers. There is good sledding now clear down to the shore. The sledding is well improved and the door yards have fine piles of wood.

The Rev. J. W. Bancroft, of Hill Grove, Digby Co., is making us a friendly visit. He came on Saturday last and occupied our pulpit Sunday morning and evening, preaching two excellent sermons, and holding special meetings during the present week. It is expected that the ordinance of baptism will be administered the first favorable day.

The publisher of the best Farmer's paper in the maritime Provinces is writing to us stating:

"I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitators."

But what if I fall of my purpose here? It is but to keep the nerves at strain. To dry one's eyes and laugh at a fall. And bamed, get up and begin again.

kindly disposition and true Christian character have given him the highest place in our affections. We sincerely trust that, relieved from the exacting duties of official life, he may long be spared, and that the remaining years of his life may be of the happiest description, shining brighter and brighter unto the perfect day.

JOHN H. CHARLTON,

REPLY.

Mr. Warden and Gentlemen, Councillors of Municipality of Annapolis.

Your very flattering and much appreciated address touches me deeply. During the twenty-one years that have passed since I was asked by the then Council to take up the duties of the office, I have tried to transact any business which came into my hands carefully and prudently. It appears to me that you overpraise me, yet I am gratified that the manner in which I have discharged the duties of the office meets with your approval.

I regret that I feel myself unequal to cope with the responsibilities of the office longer and therefore am compelled to resign. I would not like to have yourselves or the ratepayers of the County discover that I was trying to retain office after I had outworn my usefulness.

I had learned ere this to esteem each one of you as a personal friend. It pleases me to be assured in this public manner of your respect and confidence.

There is no sentence in your printed address which more deeply appeals to me personally than that one in which you refer to Christian character. It was thought by some, when I accepted the office, that a Christian minister was unqualified to this position for discharging the duties of the office of Municipal Treasurer in a proper manner, and that acceptance of such a position was a degrading of the higher office of the ministry. Your valued words show that neither of these results has followed in this case. The public has not suffered by mal-administration, nor has the office of the ministry been degraded by false action. Evidently you agree with my own long-held opinion that all honest work is noble when well done, and that not an office but an officer can be degraded.

Mr. Warden and Gentlemen Councillors, permit me to thank you heartily for your kind address.

May we all well perform the duties given us to do by the Great Master. Whose we are and Whom we profess to serve, till He takes us to the doing of higher duties in the glorious beyond.

Yours very respectfully,
J. R. HART.

Ballot being taken for the election of a Treasurer, W. E. Outhit, of Melvern Square, was declared elected.

Ordered: That the matter of a lock-up at Middleton be deferred till the April session.

MOTHER AND TWO LITTLE ONES IN ONE COFFIN.

Stellarton, N. S., Jan. 26.—The Angel of Death visited many homes in this town the past week, and one of the most pathetic cases of affliction has to be recorded. A mother and her four little ones have passed to the Great Beyond, since Christmas Day, when the first child died, from the effects of diphtheria. The other members of the family recovered from their attacks of that dread disease, but on Sunday, the 17th inst., the eldest son passed away from heart failure, as a result from his illness. Deceased was the thirteen year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morrell, who came here from Londonderry, and while the funeral service was being conducted on Tuesday afternoon the mother was taken suddenly ill and two doctors were summoned, but the anxiety and care of her children during their illness had worn her out, and she passed away the following day. On Thursday, another little boy, aged two years, died, and Friday, the baby died.

The three bodies were placed in the one coffin, the dead babe in the mother's arms and the other child at her feet. It was a sorrowful and affecting sight, as the coffin containing the three bodies was interred in Brookside Cemetery, beside the other two little new-made graves. The husband and father is heartbroken, but he and the three remaining children have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.
