OPEN FIRE DOOR CAUSED FLAMES TO SPREAD

Fifteen Thousand Dollars Damage Caused in King Street Building Occupied by Several Tenants Where Similar Fire Occurred Two Months Ago at Same Hour.

Believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace, fire did damage estimated at $15,000 to the three-story brick building and occupants at 441 West King street, at 7:10 last evening. Lieut.-Col. Wm. Cowan, 100 West King street, is the owner of the building, and the damage probably is covered by insurance. The Victoria Paper and Twine Co., occupants of the basement and first floor, are heavy losers in the fire, having stored in the basement a recent shipment of valuable goods from the old country, all of which are a total loss. The company's main warehouse, however, is at 415 West King street, and the loss will in no way hinder their business.

On the ground floor the occupants were H. A. Drury & Co., iron and steel merchants, whose loss is estimated at over $1000. Possibly the heaviest losers in the building are the Kelly Whiteawer-Manufacturing Co., on the third floor, thousands of dollars' worth of valuable whitewear being irreparably damaged by smoke and water.

Fire Door Open.

Had a fire door between the two basements been properly closed, the fire in all probability would have been confined to a rear basement, and extinguished without difficulty. This open door allowed the mass of confined flames to spread fire thru the bottom of the whole building, gradually working upwards to the second story.

Groping in a dark basement, choked with smoke, and stumbling over piles of paper, twine, and boxes, the firemen were harassed with the additional knowledge that above them, almost ready to collapse on their heads, were tons of piled steel. Orders were issued to firemen that no more chopping than absolutely necessary was to be done, for fear of the fragile floor collapsing with its heavy weight of iron above.

On Oct. 6, almost at the same hour in the evening, the same building took fire in almost the same place, and the damage sustained was approximately the same as on this occasion.

Must Prepare Plans

An order was yesterday issued by the Ontario Municipal and Railway Board requiring the Hamilton and Mountain Park Railway Company to prepare and submit plans for the reconstruction of the incline railway at Wentworth street.

WHERE IS LOUIE? WAS THE DEMAND

He Failed to Appear on Charge of Bigamy and is Sought by Many.

Where is Louis Levine? Mrs. Levine number one does not know. Mrs. Levine number two does not know, and the detectives do not know. Judge Denton would like to know. County Crown Attorney Greer demands to know, and Levine's counsel pleads to know. Everybody wants to know, but nobody does know. In short, Levine is the only one who is in the know.

Yesterday afternoon Levine was called upon to answer to a charge of bigamy before Judge Denton and also a charge of theft. But he did not respond to his name. Mrs. Fannie Turle, 1177 West Bloor street, became anxious because she went bond for Levine to the extent of $1000. Mrs. Levine number two also seemed to be a trifle upset as she went the remainder of his bail for $1000. The family relatives of the bondswomen allowed the two women to sing the opening numbers of their lamentation, but all joined in the chorus, which was: "O, where is Louis Levine?" And the echo came back thru the city hall corridors: "O, nobody knows, O, nobody knows."

Detective Archibald was then given a bench warrant by the judge and started out in search of Levine. He was hindered by heaps of advice handed out free of charge by the Levine chorus. At a late hour last night Levine was not in sight.

TRAIN TRAVERSED MOUNT ROYAL'S BIG TUNNEL

Completion of Huge C. N. R. Undertaking at Montreal Occasion for Hearty Congratulations — Representative Gathering of Leading Citizens on Pioneer Trip Thru Mountain.

—Mount Royal having been pierced from side to side by the C. N. R. tunnel in the early hours of today, the first passenger train, bearing a representative gathering of Montreal citizens, was run thru from the west portal to Dorchester street, in the afternoon. Work was practically suspended during the latter part of the day, the event being celebrator at the Dorchester street offices, where the guests of the company were entertained, and in a farage at the rear if the building the tunnel workmen held a joyous festival of their own.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the guests of the C. N. R. assembled and were taken by automobile to the west portal of the tunnel, situated in the Model City. There all embarked on small tunnel cars and commenced the first train journey thru the mountain. The start was made at 3:45, and at 5 o'clock the party emerged from the Dorchester street shaft.

Honored Chief Engineer. During the festivities which followed the health of S. P. Brown, the chief engineer, was "proposed" by Dean Adams of McGill University, who extended hearty congratulations on the achievement of this great engineering feat. Mr. Brown modestly disclaimed any personal credit, saying that the extreme accuracy of the work and its successful completion was due to the men who were actually in the tunnel.

Mr. Brown drew attention to the extreme accuracy of the work: pointing out that the two headings had met with a difference of only one-quarter of an inch in grade and three-quarters of an inch in line. For this he gave credit to Mr. Fisher, the tunnel engineer, and Messrs. Bassett and Busfield. While some of the European tunnels had been built in a shorter time, the Mount Royal tunnel heading was fifty per cent larger. Since the work started the average progress in each heading had been 490 feet per month and the gross 1100 per month. This was due to the men who were doing the work.

The Men Behind. Acting Mayor Drummond extended congratulations on behalf of the City of Montreal on the satisfactory and prompt completion of the great enterprise.

L. T. Marchal, K.C., drew attention to the fact that while the engineers were men of great ability, they were also careful of the safety of their workmen. In expressing appreciation of the work, he said it was well to remember Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann, who were responsible for such a great achievement.

C. P. R.'S DOMINATION IN WEST MENACED BY PANAMA CANAL AND RIVAL LINES, PLEA MADE

G. T. P. and C. N. R. Ready to Share Traffic While Canal Will Affect Conditions Materially Argued F. H. Chrysler, K.C.—Western Rates Lauded as Fair and Reasonable.

OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—It was this afternoon that F. H. Chrysler, K.C., counsel for the C. P. R., and E. W. Beatty, another exceptionally able counsel for the company, submitted the most effective matter of their argument in the western freight rates case before the railway commission, in rebuttal to all the evidence and arguments put in principally in opposition to the company.

Mr. Chrysler reminded the board that the opening of the Panama Canal is likely to affect railway conditions in Canada very considerably. He declared that the rates now charged by the C. P. R. in the west are fair and reasonable.

"The solitary position of the C. P. R. in the west is at an end, two rival companies being ready to share the traffic that has hitherto gone to the C. P. R. in the west," said counsel. "It is impossible to say what the effect of this will be on the C. P. R. earnings. Neither is it possible to say what effect on traffic conditions will be brought about by the opening of the Panama Canal."

"Fair and Reasonable." "The rates charged by the C. P. R. in the west are fair and reasonable charges for the service performed for the shippers," he emphasized. "There is a large spread of rates that may be regarded as reasonable. The question must be what might a tribunal find is a proper charge for a carrier to make against a shipper for the services performed, that is, on value of the goods."

COUNTRY NEEDS MEDICAL SKILL

Standard at Toronto University Higher, President Falconer Announces.

"In justice to the people of the Dominion the best that is possible in the way of attainment among members of the medical profession should be given," was the key note of an address by President Falconer to medicals of the class of 18 at their banquet last evening. Practically every first year med was present at this, the biggest event of their class.

President Falconer announced that in consideration of the constantly increasing number of men who are choosing medicine as their profession the already high standards would be made still higher. He declared that it would be difficult to set a standard much higher than has been attained by Toronto University.

Dean Clarke and Profs. Lang, McMurrich, Bensey and Starr also made short speeches. The banquet was held in the Grand Union Hotel.

ANGLO-SAXONS SHOULD STAND UNITED AGAINST THE WORLD

Speeches Full of Spirit of International Amity Marked Notable Banquet of Canadian Club in New York—Hon. W. J. Bryan Among the Guests.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—Cabinet ministers and leading citizens of both countries, and some three hundred Canadian residents of New York, attended this evening the 17th annual dinner of the Canadian Society. Wm. Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, represented the Wilson administration, while Hon. W. T. White, the Canadian minister of finance, was the Canadian Government's envoy. In addition, Sir John Willison, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Justice W. R. Riddell and F. B. Fetherstonhaugh, of Toronto, and Alex. D. Fraser, of Montreal, came to the city for the occasion, while Gov. Taylor, of New Jersey; Bishop Courtenay, and representatives of the St. George's, St. Patrick's, St. Andrew's, St. David's, and other churches, formed the American representation.

The British embassy was represented by Viscount Campden and Consul-General Courtenay; Bennett, R. L. Norsworthy, vice-consul, and John Joyce Broderick, the lately-appointed consul at Amsterdam, were the members of the consular body in attendance.

Bryan's Plea for Peace. Mr. Bryan delivered an eloquent plea for international peace, which was supplemented by an address from Mackenzie King for social justice as well. In his reply to the toast of the empire, Sir John Willison analyzed some of the feelings of Canadians towards the United States and pointed out that the differences between the two countries were merely those that might be expected to exist among members of one family.

Rev. Dr. Eaton, the president of the society, was toastmaster. The big ball room at Delmonico's was decorated with British and American flags while the table decorations were the small Canadian flags. Wives and daughters of the officers were in the galleries.

STOP FIGHTING TILL ELECTION POLICE CAPTURED BANKER'S SLAYER

Efforts Are Made to Call a Truce in Mexico to Choose a President.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—Tentative efforts were initiated today by the Conservative element in the Mexican Government to induce Provisional President Huerta to ascertain if Gen. Venustiano Carranza would be willing to cease fighting for the purpose of holding an election at which the constitutional leader would be a candidate for the presidency of the republic, or would name his choice for that office.

It is assumed in political circles here that Gen. Carranza would have opposition in the presidential race candidates from the capital named by the Catholics and other political parties. Important Seat Sale Announced. This morning at 9 o'clock seats will go on sale at the Princess Theatre for the engagement of Mr. George Arliss, in Louis N. Parker's great play, "Disraeli," which will take place next week at the Princess.

Winnipeg, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—John Krafchenko, charged with robbing the Bank of Montreal at Plum Coulee, Man., last Wednesday and murdering H. M. Arnold, the manager, was captured this morning at a house in College avenue, St. John's, Man., where he was known as a student by the name of Andrews.

A cordon of twenty police were on hand to make the arrest, which was effected without a struggle, the wanted man saying: "It's all up, I guess. I'll come quietly. I didn't intend to shoot anyway."

On searching the apartments an automatic revolver was found lying on the bureau beside the bed, while under the pillow was another fully loaded revolver.

Approaching the Great Divide

Small indeed, in comparison with what is to follow, appears the "little advantage" of $10,000,000 accorded to the stockholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at the expense of the people of Canada. It really amounts to more. The company pays to the lucky shareholder who cares to invest, $15 a year interest upon a loan of $300, and then at the end of ten years gives him $1000 in a lump sum, or an average annual interest payment of 9 1/2 per cent. Sir Edmund Osler is good enough to observe that the company may repay this loan at any time, and therefore the issue allocated to the stockholders at 80 cents on the dollar can never go above par. But a device by which a stockholder investing $30 may get $100 with 6 per cent. in twelve months' time makes this latest melon even more juicy than at first appears. Sir Edmund to the contrary notwithstanding. The official announcement for which we are indebted to The Montreal Gazette reads as follows:

The Canadian Pacific Railway engages and promises that the interest on the note-certificates will be promptly paid, and that all of the bulk of the assets of the company will be sold to pay the same. On or before March 2, 1924, but they may be redeemed in part by drawings at any time when the trustee has funds in hand for the purpose.

Now what does this mean? The trustee will be receiving money from day to day, and at the end of the first year may have on hand five million dollars. A drawing is held, and Sir Thomas or Sir Edmund or some other sturdy patriot has a lucky number. He has invested in these notes, let us say, $80,000 in cash. At the end of the first year he receives from the company $106,000, or over 30 per cent. interest!

But we need not dwell on the lottery features of the scheme, which closely skirt the boundaries of the code. The ten million or fifteen million dollars, which is improperly diverted from the treasury of the company to the pockets of its stockholders by this latest melon of the Canadian Pacific Railway hardly rises above the dignity of a party of cards that is to follow. Another wrench of the vise, a little more extortion practised upon the unfortunate patrons of the road, a few more millions shipped to the stockholders in the United States and away forever from the country, would attract but passing attention. The significance of this latest exploit in high finance is to be found in the announcement that it is a "partial segregation of the company's extraneous assets" along the lines suggested in Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's address to the stockholders last October.

Segregate is a high-frown Latinized word to English-speaking people. But in the original it was a farmer's word, that carried the meaning of our cowboy when they speak of cutting out a part of the herd or flock from the rest. Sir Thomas is cutting out the land, or proceeds of the land grant, from the bulk of the assets. And he has another highly Latinized word, "extraneous," which means something aside or foreign to what it may happen to be joined up with, or to come back to our cowboy talk, a flock of sheep mixed with a herd of cattle would be extraneous as to the cattle.

So Sir Thomas believes that the lands (consecrated by law to the undertaking of the company) are "extraneous" when in the strong box of the company, and he proposes to cut them out and put them in the strong box of the Royal Trust, and away forever from the company, so that they will be taken into account of them for shareholders. That's what "segregation" of "extraneous assets" means in plain Canadian. But operators in high finance find it easier to cloak a wrong act in lofty words.

Sir Thomas has been segregating the liabilities as well as the assets of the company. He has been busy cutting out bonds at whatever cost. He threw away, so far as the company was concerned, $60,000,000 a year ago to replace a bond issue with common stock. The common stock drew 10 per cent., and the bonds 4 per cent., we were called upon to admire the wonderful sagacity of the Canadian Pacific president. Indeed, we are now told that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will soon have fixed charges to meet, that it will have no bonds outstanding.

We venture to think that the real reason for cutting out all bond issues is to clear the decks for the "Great Divide," when all the assets worth having will be segregated in the pockets of the stockholders. If there be no bondholder to intervene, and with the stockholders all members of the plunder-bund, who will protect the people of Canada? As long as there were bonds there could be no segregation of any of the assets—the bonds covered them. And while the bond was on them they could not be "extraneous." So all this high "segregation" of the lands to take place? We find out things after a while! But you may have to wait.

And this brings us to the government, and to parliament. What has Mr. Borden and his minister of finance to say to these things? To they in any place regard the previous issues of stock and the issue of notes as a violation of the law of parliament, that any increase in capital by the C.P.R. must first be sanctioned by order of parliament, approved by Governor and his colleagues? And in the next place, do they propose to intervene in any way with these high-bred, illegal and absolutely demoralizing acts, destructive of the safety of the country and of the railways, of the morals of the people, and as a sure result thereof, railway tariffs higher than we ought to have them, unless the provisions of the law be enforced.

These are things that Mr. Borden can do, and what he ought to do: say to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and the company that this "segregation of the extraneous assets" is against the terms of the original contract and charter, and that public policy against the welfare of the people who pay the tariff charges of the railway will not be allowed, and, if done, will be canceled as soon as parliament can meet.

What will the government do? These things could not be done in the United States today, because they have been declared illegal. Financing for the big roads there can only now be carried on after the State or Interstate Railway Commission has a seal on it, and that of the petition submitted is the best possible under the circumstances for the road and the public. Any preferred financing against the public is forbidden. And these laws were made because of the looting of the great holders or high financiers. It is because of such plundering and looting in our stocks—they can only raise money on short-date notes, which often cost them 10 per cent. The "extraneous assets" were segregated, or, as we prefer to say, were looted, and the capitalization at the same time money was increased, with little or nothing to show therefor. That's where American roads have got to, and where ours will go, if the Americans close the door after the horse was stolen. Is that what we will do?

CONFERENCE ON CHURCH UNION NOW BEING HELD IN TORONTO

Object is to Decide Whether Consideration of Basis of Union Will Have to Be Reopened.

A conference of the church union committee of the Methodist Presbyterian and Congregational bodies will be held today at the Wesley Buildings. The conference will include ten Methodists, ten Presbyterians and five Congregationalists.

The object of the conference is to decide whether it will be necessary to reopen the consideration of the basis of union.

Rev. Dr. Chown, speaking for the west, says that "on every hand large enterprises for good are being held up and the work of the church partially paralyzed by reason of the uncertainty as to what the future may bring forth."

A meeting of the Presbyterian union committee began at St. James' Square Church yesterday, to consider suggestions respecting the basis sent in by presbyteries last month. Rev. W. J. Clark, D.D., Montreal, presided. Rev. Dr. Gordon, Winnipeg; Rev. Mr. Mackenzie, moderator; general assembly; Rev. G. McBeth, Berlin; Walter Paul, Montreal, and J. K. Macdonald, were among the representative present.

At the opening a copy of the recently published pamphlet, protesting against organic union, was presented to the committee. No action was taken regarding it. A series of detailed changes in relation to the basis were discussed. They chiefly related to the conditions for stationing ministers.

The Presbyterian committee will meet again today in addition to being represented at the joint conference.

MEXICAN TRAIN WAS BLOWN UP

Heavy Loss of Life is Reported as Result of Attack Near Monterey.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—A troop train is reported to have been dynamited north of Monterey and the loss of life is said to be heavy. The train was on its way to Nuevo Laredo to reinforce the garrison there. Fourteen cars loaded with troops, it is understood, succeeded in reaching Laredo in advance of the train which was blown up.

An attack by rebels on a passenger train on the international railway at Zetula, near Monclova, in the State of Coahuila, on Dec. 6, resulted in the killing of six passengers and the wounding of others according to delayed advices.

A work train northbound from Monterey on the Laredo branch was forced to abandon repair work on account of the presence of rebels in force along the national railway.

NEW HAVEN ROAD PASSED DIVIDEND

For First Time in Forty Years Railway Suspends Disbursements.

ACTION NO SURPRISE

New England Banks and Trust Companies and Private Investors Suffer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—After an unbroken record of forty years as a dividend payer, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Co. has finally been forced to the necessity of suspending further disbursements on its $15,000,000 of stock.

This decision was reached late today after a protracted meeting of the directors at the Grand Central terminal. The action of the board, while partly fore-shadowed by the weakness of the stock, will come as a shock to thousands of investors, particularly in New England.

It is estimated that not less than $40,000,000 of New Haven stock and bonds, as well as securities of affiliated companies are held by savings banks and other financial institutions, as well as individuals. This is especially true of Massachusetts and Connecticut, and applies in no small degree to Vermont and New Hampshire.

Directors Unanimous.

The action of the directors, most of whom were present, was unanimous. The formal statement of Chairman Howard Elliott, which gives the conclusions of the board in detail, follows:

"The directors have given much thought to the question of the dividend to be paid Dec. 31. The New Haven is a strong company, owning valuable property, real estate and securities worth many millions of dollars. Some of these are mortgage holdings and securities can, in times of depression, and thus strengthen the cash resources of the company. It is very difficult to sell property and securities at this time and the directors believe it is unwise to attempt to do so until general conditions are better.

"During the year 1913 the road has already paid dividends of five per cent. amounting to $2,500,000. The four months of the fiscal year, July 1 to Oct. 31, 1913, the income available from all companies upon which the New Haven can draw, not counting the Boston and Maine, Maine Central and Merchants and Miners Transportation Co., which need all their resources is, in round numbers, $2,500,000, estimating that the net income for November and December will be $500,000, making a possible income for six months of $2,500,000. The 1 1/2 per cent. dividend, $2,250,000, paid Sept. 15, leaves $250,000, all of which is required for working capital.

"The company upon the volume of business is apt, under normal conditions, to be less than during the months July to November inclusive. The arbitration of wage disputes in the last eighteen months has resulted in increased pay that will increase expenses for the present fiscal year between $800,000 and $1,000,000, for the same number of employees. The improvements to which the company is already committed, in the interest of safety, efficiency and greater convenience to the public will take large sums of money. There are important lawsuits and investigations pending, the result of which are uncertain in effect upon the general financial and corporate condition of the property.

"The directors, therefore, that the welfare of the company, of its stockholders and of the territory served by the various lines will be considered, and under all the conditions now confronting the company, they do not declare at this time a dividend."

CLEAN THEM ALL OUT SAYS AID. RAWLINSON

Success of Hydro Radials Depends on Toronto's Franchise Situation.

"Toronto is now acutely interested in the progress of the plans of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission said Ald. Rawlinson. "The city will be the hub of the system, and our co-operation with the outside municipalities makes for mutual advantage."

"The commission proposes a partnership with the municipalities served by the radial lines. This is a practical policy. Each municipality to be served will be a full-fledged railway company, providing capital for construction of lines and sharing in the profits of operation. The commission will sell electric power and light to and along the lines. The partners will make money from electric transportation, power and light. It will be a strong combination.

"With each municipality in the partnership directing its patronage to the provincial hydro-radial system and to the provincial hydro-electric system, competition from private companies is bound to be eliminated. With the ruling policy of the provincial systems being a service for the people at cost of operation and taking care of recovery of bond issue, the municipalities in the partnership will have the minimum charges for electric transportation, power and light.

"Toronto the Hub. "It must be evident to the people of this city," said Ald. Rawlinson, "that Toronto's part in this great partnership is to clean up all the franchises within the city's limits and make Toronto in reality a most effective hub of a widespread radial system under public ownership and operation. To offer a hub that is shackled with a monopoly under private ownership and control would be to retain a most serious handicap upon the success of the provincial hydro-radial system. The Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission Toronto will be the greatest partner in the provincial hydro-radial system. That Toronto should take into the partnership the handicap of a great monopoly of private ownership and control of electric transportation, power and light, is to gravely endanger the undertaking."

WORLD'S FAIRS HAVE OUTLIVED USEFULNESS

Argument Used in German Parliament Against Participation in Panama Exposition.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—A bill for the appropriation of $125,000 for the purpose of arranging German representation at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, came up in the imperial parliament today and was strongly opposed by Dr. Otto Arentz, who declared that world's fairs had outlived their day, and become merely amusement grounds. They should, he contended, be replaced by expositions on specialized lines. The most important branches of German industry, he argued, were opposed to participation in the San Francisco exposition. Ernest Bassermann moved that the bill be referred to the budget committee, and this was carried without debate.

The members of the government took no part in the debate, and indication was given of the attitude of the government toward the bill.

SPEAKERS PRAISE THE WINTER FAIR

Entries Have Increased and Quality of Exhibits Has Improved.

NEW BUILDING NEEDED

Too Much Overcrowding Owing to Limitations in Present Quarters.

(Special to The Toronto World). GUELPH, Ont., Dec. 10.—The annual public meeting in connection with the provincial winter fair was held tonight in the armories, when several distinguished speakers, including Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of fair fairs; Hon. S. Duff, John Bright, Dominion live stock commissioner; Dr. J. Rutherford, M.L.A., representing the great increase in the entries over former years and of the great improvement of the quality of the animals exhibited.

He referred to the overcrowding, and said that the government should give a grant for the erection of a larger building. Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, told of the various institutions which are under his control, such as jails and asylums, and what the patients or prisoners were doing to provide food for themselves, instead of it being paid for by the department. He said that each day there were between 800 and 900 persons fed in his department, and told of the various farms the department had purchased. At Guelph there was 840 acres at Fort William 1900 acres, and at Penetang 300 acres, nearly all of which was good agricultural land.

Milk and Beef Supply. The department owned nearly 600 milking cows, continued Mr. Hanna, and one year the milking industry was raised from 4000 pounds per cow to 6000 pounds, and it was now producing 8000 pounds. He said that each year it required two beef to first-class bullocks to provide for the first-class beef for the department. He said that the department was raising its own beef, for which purpose two or three hundred bullocks would be sent to the department at Fort William shortly.

London's Cannery. At London there was spread all tomato farm and peach orchard. There was a cannery also there where the tomatoes and peaches were canned and sent to other parts of the province. Hon. Mr. Hanna concluded by saying that an effort would be made to have the patients and prisoners secure the fish in the department as now there were three tons used weekly.

Ontario a Breeding Ground. Dr. J. Rutherford, superintendent of animal husbandry of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in a brief address, stated that there should be a nation-wide organization in connection with live stock. There should be a freer exchange of both money and ideas between the east and west. "Ontario is and always will be the breeding ground of the leading cattle in Canada," said Dr. Rutherford, "and it is a good deal of cattle being brought into Canada from the west, but the fact that Ontario cattle are more satisfactory and sounder is still recognized."

Dr. Rutherford went on to speak of the accommodation at the winter fair saying that it was abundantly in excess for animals and for humans. He said that the accommodation at the western fair was 100 per cent better than in the east despite the fact that Ontario is the present district of Canadian live stock shows.

High Cost of Living. Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture in Alberta, gave it as his opinion that the provincial winter fair was a fixture in the lives of the people. The high cost of living is largely due to the increase in the price of agricultural products. He stated that the winter fair was more for the products from the farmer than for the products from the city. The consumer has to pay the cost of the products, with the result that the dealer can profit.

The only way to stop this was to keep the farmer's boys on the farm. This could easily be done if the farmer were given a start by being presented with a calf which would eventually result in a herd. Several others also addressed the meeting and spoke in high terms of the winter fair.

See "Billy" Hay To-day. "Devoted as Canadians are to the ideals of religion and religion, living under and cherishing free institutions—is there any limit to their future development? With Europe to the east and advanced Asia to the west, did not Canada and the United States hold the favored position in the world to-day?" he asked.

McBRIDE CABINET IS DIVIDED ON SUFFRAGE. Premier Refuses to Introduce Bill for an Equal Franchise.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—Premier McBride refused today the request of the United Suffrage Societies of British Columbia for the introduction of a suffrage bill by the government. He suggested that the question would have to be brought up by a private member.

"The provincial executive is not in entire agreement on this question of the vote for women," announced Premier McBride to a delegation which waited on him today.

"If you get the vote, then you would sit in parliament and it would be reasonable to suppose that some time you would form a women's party and probably run the entire affairs of the country. That would be a logical conclusion," said the premier.

ANGLO-SAXONS SHOULD STAND

the benefits of the empire for Canada and for the peace of the world. He commended the only congress which the British Empire and the United States desire are conquests of immore comment, practices and industrial conditions and desperate social diseases, and international jealousies and hatreds.

Secretary of State Bryan said his coming was partly in pursuit of official duty, but largely on pleasure. He recalled the last elections in Canada. "I spent ten days there then," he said, "and found that the leaders were not the kind of men that I had been led to believe, according to views of the rival newspapers. I was led to believe that the country would be ruined whichever way the election went. I reassured them by pointing out that I had been defeated three times and this country still kept on."

Speaking of the relationship between Canada and the United States, Mr. White said he was happy to say it had never been more cordial, friendly and neighborly than at present.

Anglo-Saxon Millennium. Next year we should celebrate one hundred years of peace. That celebration would usher in a thousand more, a millennium between the two great English-speaking races.

Why should it not be so? he continued. "Neither nation seeks further territory. The bounds of our physical dominion are set. Both are interested in the peace of the world. No two peoples understand each other better than the American and Canadian."

Mr. White said the members of the society were sprung from a great race and were now citizens of a great republic. He had never been more cordial, friendly and neighborly than at present. He said that the members of the society were sprung from a great race and were now citizens of a great republic.

As to Canada, the dream of the fathers had been fulfilled. Confederation had welded together the scattered provinces of the great Dominion. As large as the United States, as large as Europe—such is the area in which Canadians were working out their great destiny. Rich they were in all the resources that make people great and prosperous and powerful. Nine million people were as yet settled from the Atlantic to the Pacific. With three transcontinental lines of railway, with fleets on either ocean, with a billion of foreign trade, Canada was country still in the making.

He paid his tribute of respect to President Wilson for his single-minded and persistent devotion to the ideals which animated and inspired his public conduct.

Great Dream Fulfilled. As to Canada, the dream of the fathers had been fulfilled. Confederation had welded together the scattered provinces of the great Dominion. As large as the United States, as large as Europe—such is the area in which Canadians were working out their great destiny.

These are to be applied to both countries with the object of checking further emigration of subjects liable to military service.

GIRL DROWNED IN THE HUMBER

Body of Maud Guest Was Recovered Yesterday—May Be Suicide.

After a few minutes dragging thru the broken ice in the Humber River, the body of the late Maud Guest, 21 years of age, who disappeared from the first establishment of Mrs. K. Abel at 1688 Dundas street on Dec. 4, was recovered from the bottom of the Humber River at 1:35 yesterday afternoon by Matt Aykroyd and Acting Detective Croome. On Saturday morning last, Keeler of 541 Perth avenue was walking along the Humber banks with his dog, and noticed a hat and what appeared to be the remains of a lunch on the east bank, about three-quarters of a mile north of the late Maud Guest's residence, which he called Dead Man's Point. When the reports of the young woman's disappearance appeared in the papers, Keeler reported his discovery to the police, and Detective Croome and he visited the spot where the hat had been seen on Tuesday night.

Had No Relatives. The young woman had no relatives in this country, and had only about six months from her home in England. No reason has yet been known for the suicide, but it is thought that she was at times subject to fits of melancholy.

Shortly after noon yesterday, Miss Elizabeth Bentley, employed at the Union G.L.P.H. Restaurant, stepped off in moving car on Dundas street, opposite Woodville avenue, and was thrown to the ground. She was taken to the hospital, and the woman was taken home by Policeman Alexander on Saturday morning. She is suffering from several severe bruises.

Housekeeping, Nursery, Gardening and News of Interest to Women

WOMAN SENATOR WILL COME HERE

Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson of Colorado to Speak in Toronto.

SENTIMENT IS GROWING In Favor of Extending the Franchise to Married Women.

An interesting meeting of the Equal Franchise League was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Hamilton, on Monday afternoon. The president was in the chair, and spoke briefly of the growing sentiment in favor of woman's suffrage, and the growing public knowledge of the aims and ideals behind the desire for the vote. She referred to the many letters on the subject which she has received from all over the province, and to the prominence given it at a recent Woman's Institute meeting in Toronto. Almost every speaker mentioned it in connection with the problems before the women of the country, and their solution.

She gave an account of the work of Mrs. Tilly, of London, Ont., who at the 70 years old, has been one of the moving spirits in the formation of a suffrage society there, and is its honorary president.

A letter was read from Miss Newcomb, of Australia, who is secretary of a newly formed Woman's Suffrage Union of British Dominions Overseas. This society owes its inception to the desire of the enfranchised women of Australia and New Zealand to help the women of the other British Dominions towards political equality. Miss Newcomb said they wished for a wider knowledge of our legislative problems which might help them in dealing with their own, and also hoped to be able to give us accurate information as to what the enfranchisement of women had accomplished in Australia. They seek affiliation with the Canadian Suffrage Association, which comprises of various suffrage societies throughout the country.

New Girls' League. Mrs. Hamilton announced the formation of a new Working Girls' Suffrage League, founded by girls in whom she has long been interested. These girls are preparing for a bazaar, which they are going to hold at her house on Saturday, Dec. 13. In the afternoon there will be a musical program, and in the evening a suffrage play.

She related her experiences in connection with a meeting held in connection of the since successful Conservative candidate, Mr. Follis. She said she was very much interested in the notice of her wish to put the claims of woman's suffrage before him and the audience, and when she and her husband arrived they were shown every courtesy, given seats of honor on the platform, and five minutes each to speak. Mrs. Hamilton spoke of the need for it, and Mrs. Davidson of the Justice of it from the man's point of view.

A unanimous resolution, which is important as showing the practical interest of suffragists in such pressing problems as the high cost of living, was passed. It was moved by Miss Newcomb, and seconded by Mrs. Davidson, that the Equal Franchise League, being vitally concerned in the best interests of the home, hereby proposes to co-operate with the Canadian House- hold Economic Association to promote every effort that would result in better market conditions in Toronto, and closer co-operation between producers and consumers.

The interesting announcement was then made that the only woman senator in the world, Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson, of Colorado, is coming to Toronto on Jan. 7, to appear to the Equal Franchise League and the public in Columbus Hall. She is a remarkably cultured and talented woman, who now that her children are grown, has leisure to devote her energies to public life, and has, both before and since her election, done much to advance social and industrial justice in Colorado. She is besides, a writer, an orator and a humorist, and Toronto is fortunate in having the opportunity to hear her speak.

After the meeting Mrs. Hamilton entertained the members and their friends at tea.

THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET

A Famous Song and Its Composer

Samuel Woodworth, the son of a modest Massachusetts farmer, was born in Scituate, that state, Jan. 19, 1785. While the family were poor and had no luxuries, their lot was worse than that of the ordinary New England family, and they lived in comparative comfort.

Young Samuel received the usual education of the country boy of his time, began writing verse at an early age—and was apprenticed at the age of 15 to the printing office. While his life was a succession of ambitions, attempts and failures, his home rests secure on his faithful portrayal of the old-fashioned well and weather-beaten well-sweep, universally to be found on the farms of that day.

While living in New York City, on Duane street, he came home one July day, nearly overcome with the heat and with nothing to drink but the tepid water of the city—ice being unknown in those days in the summer months—he exclaimed to his wife: "What would I not give this moment for a long draught from the old oaken bucket hanging in my father's well!" "Same old bucket," said she, "that has been a good subject for a poem?" Forthwith he sat down—the throbbing recollections of his childhood crowded thick upon him—and that charmingly original of bucolic New England sprang into deathless life and fame. The melody is said to have been adapted from an ancient Scottish melody by Frederick Smith. Woodworth died in 1852. His songs like so many of the heart lyrics of an elder day, are found in the famous song collection called "Heart Songs"—which this paper is entering nearly free of cost to its readers.

We recommend them to look at the Heart Songs coupon, to be found elsewhere in this paper today—and learn the terms upon which this remarkable book can be had.

Controller Tells Board of Control Industrial Schools Are Over-worked.

Aid. Wallace introduced a deputation to the board of control yesterday which asked for the annexation of an area of about two hundred acres, having these boundaries: St. Clair avenue on the south, Bathurst street on the west, Huron street on the east and Burton road on the north. The board will send on a recommendation in this area are the R. J. Paving firm and the site for an isolation hospital.

Aid. McBride, chairman of the sub-committee on streets, advocated that payments of the assessments for all street widenings and extensions be extended over twenty years instead of ten. He urged that this change would do away with much of the opposition to these improvements. The board adopted his suggestion.

The executive of the Industrial Schools' Association applied for an increase in the grant from $225 to $350 per week for each boy or girl committed to the Victoria, Alexandra and Blantyre Schools. The high cost of living necessitates an increased grant.

Controller McCarthy brought up the issue of stopping indefinite terms for that payments of the assessments for all street widenings and extensions be extended over twenty years instead of ten. He urged that this change would do away with much of the opposition to these improvements. The board adopted his suggestion.

Beef Steak Pie. BEEF STEAK PIE need not be made from beef steak; any meat, poultry or game will do quite as well, if it is cut in small pieces. After the meat is cut prepare the seasoning; this is in three parts, one part salt, one pepper and the third just a pinch of nutmeg. You may dispense with the nutmeg and use onion salt or onion juice if you prefer, but the bit of nutmeg is delicate and usually well liked.

Put this seasoning mixture in a shaker and dredge it lightly over the pieces of meat, then sprinkle minced parsley over it and place in a well-buttered baking dish with white potatoes, cut in quarters, between the layers of meat. Add boiling water to make gravy, and over each layer sprinkle a little flour so the gravy will not be too thin.

Cover with a short paste and wash its top with yolk of egg diluted with a little water. Bake in a moderate oven until you are sure the potatoes are done. Serve in the dish it is baked in.

Chicken short cake is made from the same short paste with creamed chicken for the filling. Roll the puff paste out into a sheet about half an inch in thickness and cut in good-sized rounds. Chop or cut the cold chicken into small pieces. A little veal may be added to help out if there is too little chicken. Make a thin cream sauce and stir the chicken into it; season.

Fold each round of paste over one-half so as to form a sort of a pocket and place a tablespoon of the chicken mixture in it. Pinch the edges firmly together, wash the top with egg and bake. These little "cakes" may be baked with a top and bottom crust if you wish by using gem or cup cake pans.

Oyster patties are made in this same way, but the oysters must be steamed in their own liquor and thickened with a little cream and cornstarch. The seasoning for the oysters is pepper, butter and celery salt. If you use muffin rings bake the rounds of pastry in them and when finished cut the middle right out with a sharp knife and fill this well, or cavity, with the creamed mixture.

THE WISE GOOSE SAYS NURSERY CONDUCTED BY CLIMOR MURRAY

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY R. TODD M.D. Coleus—The Wonderful Foliage Plant.

More Books. A book that mothers will be glad to add to the juvenile library is Mabel Dearmer's "A Child's Life of Christ." The book is divided into seven parts and gives in clear, simple language the complete story of the life of a perfect child. The beautiful life story as told in the Gospels is set in a child's point of view, and the narrative is repeated and given the little one a very plain idea of the chronological order of events. It is for this reason that children's Bible stories are rewritten. Miss Dearmer is unusually successful in retaining the pure Biblical expression while at the same time she makes the meaning very clear to the youngest reader. This fact makes her story especially commendable, and there are eight colored illustrations by Eleanor Fortescue-Brickdale.

Of late years Coleus plants raised entirely from seedlings have become so popular for borderings and filling in garden beds, that most people have forgotten what an important part they played some thirty or forty years ago in the scheme of household decorations. We have in mind now one huge plant (a Joseph's Coat," our grand-mother used to call it) with its crimson leaves rimmed with bright gold, and after he had looked at it he was a "poor mechanic," although she insisted he didn't work in a shop at all.

Of course there is a Santa Claus! If you have any doubt about it in your mind, read S. R. Littlewood's "Story of Santa Claus." He will not only tell you that there is, but prove to you scientifically, psychologically, geographically and historically that there was and is Santa Claus at Bethlehem—Santa Claus, the Saint; Santa Claus, the Pagan, and Santa Claus of the Future!

How often were to be seen, on sunny windows, rows of sturdy foliage plants, the very thing called them. These were not the plants now known as coleus. Healthy air means a healthy coleus. Hot dry, sunny days mean a sickly drooping dying coleus. We are not saying a word about the effect of being living in houses with such air. The vast range of rich variegated colors shown by these coleuses enables one to make an exacting choice. Do you desire something that is bright and showing glowing crimsons, melting into something soft and delicate, or gold and green, with wavy bands of orange brown along the fringed edges? Or every leaf and stem and stock shows the coursing life blood, ruby, with 'Tis easy to have your wildest desire, the field is so vast from which to choose. And never one leaf like another.

A DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

Helen's Kitten.

By Virginia Vale. Once upon a time there was a little girl who wanted a white kitten. It was a very pretty and everyone loved it. She named it Helen, and look in my overcoat pocket and see what you find there, it is for you.

She looked, and there was the dearest white kitten you ever saw, all soft and fluffy. Helen could hardly eat her bread, she was so happy with her pet. She rubbed the kitten Pinkey and tied a plaid ribbon around its neck.

Pinkey soon learned to follow its little mistress around the house and garden, and many a frolic they had together. If you saw one the other grew somewhere around and the kitten grew to be very pretty and everyone loved it.

One day Helen's mother said: "Aunt Kate has written and asked you to come to visit her. Would you like to go?" Helen was so glad she could not stay still a minute and wanted to go right away, but her mother said they must wait until the next day.

All at once Helen cried out to her mother: "Oh, what will I do with me? Pinkey! Can't I take her with me? Oh please, please let her go!" So her mother fixed a little basket and put in the kitten and they started on their trip.

Pinkey was just as good as her little mistress, and at last they reached the end of their trip, and Pinkey was out of the basket. Auntie said: "What a pretty kitty," and she was glad they brought it.

Helen let Pinkey out in the yard to play and went with the others to take off her things and brush her hair. They were all sitting on the porch getting rested, when Helen looked down in the garden, and there was Pinkey rolling over and over, her feet in the air, then her head under some leaves, and again she would roll and wiggle on her back.

Down the path flew poor Helen. She had never seen Pinkey act that way. What could be the matter? "Aunt Kate and her mother ran almost as fast, but when Aunt Kate came up to poor kitty, didn't she laugh? "Why, Helen," she said, "Pinkey has only found a bed of catnip, and she likes it as much as you do candy. Let her stay and roll as much as she likes."

They all laughed and went back and Pinkey stayed and went to sleep right in the catnip.

Dr. Hastings Announces Campaign Against Industrial Diseases for Next Year.

MUCH OVERCROWDING In Toronto Boarding Houses, Says Medical Officer of Health.

services to the department throughout the year. "As chairman of this board for the past three years I have the satisfaction of knowing that more progress has been made in health measures in this city than in the previous years," said Aid. Rowland. "This progress is largely due to Dr. Hastings. What I have done has only been my duty, but I did my best."

"Next year I will campaign against the sweat shops," said Dr. Hastings. "What are termed industrial diseases, such as tuberculosis, are largely caused by poisonous material, together with bad ventilation and sanitation, are gaining such headway that extraordinary preventive measures have become obligatory. I will also make an even more active campaign next year against the lodging houses in the slum districts."

In his report for November to the local board of health, Dr. Hastings, M.O.H., states that the death rate for the eleven months of this year from scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever has shown a very encouraging decrease from that of the past three years.

In the 630 lodging houses there are over 1500 lodgers too many. The number of deaths in November from pneumonia was double that from any other cause. Infant mortality is still high.

In the dental clinic the number of patients is steadily increasing. Four cases of abscesses on the face were cured by operations. Tooth brushes are being supplied free to children. A request from the Sunnyside Orphanage to take ninety patients will be granted.

There are about 3000 houses that are occupied by from two to six families. In houses of ten or twelve rooms eight and ten families are living. Families of five to ten persons are living in single rooms, interior dark rooms, damp cellars and basements. Toronto needs at least 10,000 additional houses at low rentals.

At the meeting of the board yesterday special favorable comment was made upon the decrease in deaths from communicable diseases this year. "It proves effective preventive work," Aid. Rowland said.

Deficit Reported. Dr. Hastings reported an overdraft of $23,000 in the department. The board of control will be asked to report funds. The overdraft is made up of $12,000 for the smallpox hospital, $8,000 for the isolation hospital and $3,000 for salaries.

The Smart "Sports" Coat That Displaces Tweeds

Many a woman hunts the shops in vain for the rough and tumble, serviceable tweed suit with its severe, well-cut lines which has so long occupied a place in her wardrobe.

A Smart "Sports" Suit.

Everywhere she meets the same rebuff: "Tweeds are not worn this season." When she broaches the subject to her tailor she is told with a most expressive shoulder shrug: "We are not making tweeds this year."

She is offered plenty of substitutes, and some of them are admirable, but when she chooses the goods, she is confronted with the difficulty of finding the model which meets a taste she is compelled to believe must be hopelessly old-fashioned.

The truth is that the so-called "sports" coat has made the suit of this kind less necessary. These coats are just what the name implies. They are coats, roomy enough to be slipped on over a suit, smart in their useful informality of texture and cut, capable of giving any amount of hard wear and of filling any want in the life of travel or out-door interest.

Many eccentricities have been marketed in their name, but the average coat is a desirable garment. For the woman who, no matter how many coats she may possess, clamors for a substitute for her well-beloved tweeds, there are numerous plaids and checks, ranging from the shepherd to the Tartan, and running boldly the gamut of the color card and all its combinations.

THE LESSON OF THE STAGE BEAUTY

IONE BRIGHT in "Stop Thief"

Good Complexions Must Be Earned

By Eleanor Ames.

Don't envy the stage beauty, sister mine. Take a lesson from her. Try just half as hard as she does to make the most of all her good points and take as good care of your health and good looks as she does and you may outshine her. I know her hair is like spun gold, or jetty black as the raven's wing, and her brow is as smooth and white as alabaster, and her lips curve in the sweet, gentle smile of childhood, and her figure has all the curves of youth—and really she isn't so awfully young. I know all the witchery and appeal of the stage beauty. What is more, I know that it is not there by chance, but the result of constant work and constant care. And I say unto you, oh, my sisters, that if you took half the care of the looks and charm nature gave you the result would amaze you. It's a question how far envy of the stage beauty is responsible for the increased number of well-cared-for girls and women we see every day in business and society. More stage beauties are made than are born. And by that I do not mean made up. For the test of stage beauty is made in the manager's office, where there are no footlights or other illusory aids. The actress whose beauty lasts is the actress with brains. She learns early in the game that neglect means loss of pulchritude. She begins—if she is a wise little lady—to keep all the charms of face, figure, mind and manner that she has and add to them at compound interest. She knows she must have health to have good looks. So she takes care of her physical self. She is careful of her diet, she exercises, she gets all the fresh air she possibly can, she rests. No, Elise, dear, she does not shine in the gay restaurants and the tango trotteries. The majority of the really beautiful and clever stage women are never seen in a public dining room. If one sees them at all, it is at the luncheon or tea hour, and they are apt to be eating toast and salad, or bread and milk. The lobster and wine diet has been the ruin of many a beauty. There is no record of its ever having made or preserved one. Then, the lovely girl you so much admire has spent many hours getting acquainted with herself. She has studied her type. She has decided what she would like to be and she has put her best efforts toward achieving that ideal. She doesn't worry. Worry makes wrinkles and old age. She has her temper in subjection. She tries to be always sweet and charming. She is interested in life. She cultivates all the pleasant friends that come her way. In fact, she lives a simple and wholesome life. Beauty is her stock in trade and she has constant competition. Study the face of Ione Bright. Health and happiness are reflected in the fresh, firm outlines of the cheeks, the straight Grecian throat, the clear, intelligent eyes. The hair looks alive. It shows the effect of care, of cleanliness, of brushing. It is arranged to suit the oval of the face. The mouth is sensitive and sweet. It shows a sweet nature. Paints and powders and lotions won't do this for any woman on or off the stage. The price of beauty is eternal vigilance.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why You Have Red Hair; Why Hair Colors Change

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg, A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins) Copyright, 1913, by L. K. Hirschberg.

Red hair, an index to a warm heart and firm beauty, has always stood for courage, humor, health, and light-heartedness; yet the first person, be he Cadmus or a Phoenician, who called golden tinted coiffures "red" must have been color blind. Of course, true scarlet or vermilion locks have been occasionally reported as anomalies, just as blue hair is seen in workers in cobalt mines and in indigo works; green hair in copper smelters; deep red hair in handlers of aniline dyes and vermilion paints. Dr. Kossé, for example, saw two instances of grass-green hair in men employed in a brass foundry. New born babies at times have tufts of hair of strange colors and Dr. Schenck describes a red-headed boy with a beard perfectly snow-white in color. Examples of red hair changing to white are all doubtful, but Professor Brown-Séquard, the great physiologist, said that one or two hairs in his own beard changed overnight to white, so he did not doubt that fright might really turn a whole beard of black hair white. Byron mentions this peculiar anomaly in the opening stanzas of the "Prisoner of Chillon" whose living counterpart was Ludovico Sforza. "My hair is gray, but not with living, Nor grew it white In a single night, As man's have grown from sudden fears."

Why Hair Changes Color. The hair is apt to undergo certain changes of color due to injury or disease, especially to the shaft or blade in which the human pigment or coloring matter lodges. The French physician, Dr. Alibert, reports a patient, M. James G., born with brown hair, which was lost after a spell of typhoid fever. When it again grew out, there appeared a crop of the brightest red growth in its place. This rare instance is duplicated by a very singular one, published over a hundred years ago. A young woman, whose hair was as fair as airy, fairy Lillians, was afflicted with a malady—possibly malaria—and her hair assumed a tawny red color as often as she fell ill with this fever. There are numerous examples of girls and men whose black and blond hair turned red. It is strange that the authentic cases have been reported in the last fifty years. Red hair is said by savants to be growing more and more rare.

Red Hair Growing Scarcer. Whereas red-haired animals are spreading over the face of the earth, red-haired apes, savages, and civilized men, like the seals and the whales, are being rapidly eliminated. The fact that there were at one time many more red-haired individuals in the human family than at present is attested by Darwin, who cites the fact that the new-born white child and the new-born negro nut-brown hair, which soon becomes darker; the black color may not appear until within a year. Chorus girls and certain fashionable debutantes often seek for hair dyes or stains with which to color their brown or blond curls the tint of a summer sunset. This is a grievous practice, for artificial red hair is usually harmful, and the rare of golden tresses depends upon their rarity as much as their purity. If you are the proud possessor of red hair, never use any chemicals upon your scalp without the advice of a medical specialist. Do not bind your tresses tightly with bands, combs, or hats.

Red Locks Inherited. Contrary to a prevalent belief, red hair really has nothing to do with iron or anything else in the blood. Just as one man inherits a club foot and another a cupid's bow mouth, so you inherit red hair. If red-haired guinea pigs are crossed with black-haired ones, as Dr. Donaldson has done, all of the litters from this mating will be black. If the young in-ternary—to speak—three out of each four will be black and one will have red hair. If this red-haired one marries another red-haired one from this second generation all of the offspring will be red-haired. If it is, however, mated with a black-haired one, the young will be all black.

How to Care for Hair. Never use oils or eggs on your hair despite the wise advice of hair-dressers and beauty specialists. Do not clean your coiffure with borax, soda, or glycerine, and avoid as you would Old Nick the fine tooth comb and the ordinary cheap alkali soaps. The head should be washed either with an odless cream or a neutral soap—a soap that is neither acid nor alkaline—and pure water. Pieces of "lint" paper obtained from the druggist turn a deep blue in alkali water and a pale pink in acid solutions. Finally, taboo all dyes and coloring matters.

DAILY HEALTH HINT

If your baby wakes up with a sharp cry at night or in the early morning and was well the day before, touch its ears. Fifty per cent of such winter ailments will call for the ear-dropper to puncture the ear-drum before pus and a high fever sets in. The alert mother will inform the family doctor that the baby will not permit any one or anything to touch its ear. Three months' old infants give just as unerring warning of this as do older ones.

Answers to Health Questions. Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical hygiene and sanitation. The subjects are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care of this office.

Tried Recipes.

Jam Puffs. A small quantity of puff, or good half-and-half paste may be used up in this way. Roll it out thin and cut with large cookie-cutter or in squares, whichever is most convenient. Lay a tablespoonful of home-made jam or half a canned peach in centre of each; wet edges with white of egg and bake in a quick oven about 15 minutes. Oysters, Kalamazoo Style. Drain a quart of oysters. Melt two tablespoonfuls butter in your chafin dish or skilletpan, add two level tablespoonfuls cornstarch or four teaspoonfuls flour, saltspoon of celery salt, dash of white pepper. Stir until smooth. Put in the oysters, and cook until their edges curl. Serve very hot on slices of whole wheat bread toasted and buttered.

AS SEEN THROUGH A KNOT HOLE By Homer Croy. Illustration of a man looking through a hole in a wall.

How to Get a Wife Ashore

We have decided that likes should marry likes. We reached that ponderous decision a few days ago after something that happened to a man at Halesite, Long Island, New York. The party mentioned—a short nubbin of a man—had taken for better or for worse a full sized dear weighing a trifle over 200 pounds. He loved every inch of her. He loved to take her in his arms—or as much of her as he could—and comfort her. He would hold as much of her as he could, then move over to a new place; in the course of the evening he would get all the way around with his cheer and comfort. A few days ago he took her out for a row on the bay off Halesite. In a few minutes he had to take off his coat and pretty soon his collar. Rowing a 200 pound wife on a warm afternoon is hard work, no matter how much you love, no matter how fair a flower she appears in one's eyes she pushes the boat down just the same. Taking pity on her better half, she leaned over to fan his perspiring face, when something happened. She leaned too far and in a moment was in the bosom of the bay. The husband bent over to lift her out, but when the water filled her clothes he could not budge her. He braced his feet against the bottom of the boat and heaved with all his might, but he could not get his love out of the bay. He tried to slip his arm around her waist, and almost choked

A Letter, a Husband and a Wise Woman By WINIFRED BLACK

She found it in his pocket the other day—the dreadful letter that broke her heart and turned the merry world of laughter, light and love she lived in into a very morgue of deathlike misery. It was from one of her dearest friends—the letter—a girl she had loved and befriended and trusted, and the letter told a story of sickening treachery and miserable deceit. My friend was blind for a little while after she read the letter—she tells me she doesn't believe she will ever see anything quite clearly again except the words that burned themselves into her horrified brain. It was a love letter—such a foolish, silly, empty-headed little love letter—why, it wasn't worth the paper it was written on—but it was from a girl she loved, and it was written to the woman's husband. My friend is a wise woman—and the first thing she did was to burn that letter. The second thing she did was to pack her travelling bag and go for a trip to the country. She called a note for her husband telling him she had been called suddenly away to a sick relative, and then she went away—and cried. She cried all day and all night—and then she felt better. She took long walks and she read and she forced herself to eat, and on the third day—she began to faint. "My husband loves me," she thought—really. "We are travellers together on a long journey—in the poor silly girl is only an incident in the realities of life. She will get off at the next station—I'll see to that."

THE KING'S ADVANTAGE. Senator Claxton—I wonder if Henry Clay was sincere when he said he would rather be right than be president. Called Epsomite—but why not become king? Then he could be both. CONTENTMENT. Do you think I can reduce the cost of living or raising my own vegetables? No, but you can thus reconcile yourself to the prices charged by the green grocer. WANTED TO BE SAFE. But why do you oppose your wife's suit for divorce if you don't want to live with her? I am afraid if I were free I would be fool enough to marry again.

Winter does not mean hardship for most of the men who read The World. Big, heavy storm coats and shaggy gloves with soft lining take the sting out of the air.

It is different with the poor kiddies of poor parents. They feel the cold thru threadbare clothes, and it chases them into the house when the frost king drives them from the street.

THE O. H. A. ARRANGE THEIR CLUBS IN GROUPS

EIGHT IN SENIOR CLUBS GROUPED

Five New Clubs Admitted to the O. H. A.—Centennials Are In.

At last night's meeting of the executive of the Ontario Hockey Association, the Toronto Riverdale, Aurora, Waubashene juniors, Norfolk juniors of Simcoe and Acadians of Waterloo were added to the roll.

The Maple Leafs of Downsview were not admitted, the field being occupied by an intermediate team in that town already, which will be asked to give any Maple Leaf players an opportunity to make the team.

The Hamilton Centennials were granted permission to play on ice outside of Hamilton, as the rink people have refused to make room for them in the Hamilton rink.

Claims by Seaford against St. Mary's of $15.75, and by Chesley against Warton of $6.60, both owing from last year, were allowed.

Three players, who had been suspended with the Hamilton Alerts a year ago, were restored to good standing. They were Ross, Boyer of Kingston, Fred Dennison of Peterboro and C. Langman of Hamilton.

President Farquharson reappointed the sub-committee, Messrs. J. Ross Robertson, D. J. Turner and W. A. Hewitt. This is Mr. Robertson's fifteenth year as chairman of the sub-committee.

HAMILTON INTERMEDIATES BEAT THE ARGONAUTS 5-3

TRAINING TRIP FOR MURPHYITES

Ontarios to Play in American Cities—No Ice Until Monday—Gossip.

Jimmy Murphy is out with a new idea to get his Ontario team in shape for the opening of the O.H.A. season.

Jimmy Murphy has only one real hold-out and this gentleman is given until tonight to sign or draw a fine and a suspension.

The Toronto Canoe Club O.H.A. Juniors have the following team doing regular practice: Fred Lake, the former Ottawa defence player, gathered the idea somewhere that he would be given a free agent, but President Quinn and Jimmy Murphy soon set him right and the big Ottawa man is expected along before the team leaves on its training trip.

The Toronto Rowing Club leave for Cleveland tonight, where they play on Friday and Saturday. The team line up as follows: Laird, Hunter, Sidley, Hyland, Bartlett, Dennison, Dopp and Skinner.

Eugene Sidley, the speedy cover-point of the T.C.C. junior champions of two years ago, will play with the Toronto Rowing Club senior team.

It is likely that the O.H.A. senior series this year will be composed of only two four-club groups. There will be six teams from Toronto, Osgoode Hall, T.R. & A.A., St. Michaels, Toronto Rowing Club, Argonauts and Varsity. Midland and Kingston Frontenacs will be the outside teams and they will likely be placed in different groups with three of the Toronto teams.

The Grand Trunks, senior champions of the Queen City Hockey League, have organized for the season 1913-14. The following are the officers: Honorary president, L. MacDonald; president, John Gray; vice-president, J. J. Holtzman; manager, R. C. Wilson; secretary-treasurer, R. Polph; Grand Trunk Railway freight office, corner Simcoe and Front streets, Main 4560.

The Beches League certificates are ready and may be secured from Secretary Brown at the World office any evening by payment of fees.

Dr. "Mac" McGreger received a wire from the New Glasgow Maritime Rowing Club yesterday to report on Dec. 26. This doesn't look as if the eastern league is to go under.

Broadview Y.M.C.A. will have a juvenile, a junior and an intermediate team in the Beches League.

Manager Leon of the Wanderers stated last night that he had asked Billy Fern to turn out with the team this winter.

HOCKEY TEAMS OUT ON PRELIMINARY JAUNTS

ARGOS LOSE THE FIRST OF SEASON

Hamilton Intermediates Have Two Goal Margin Over Locals in Exhibition.

(By a Staff Reporter.) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—About three hundred fans witnessed the opening of the Canadian hockey season at the Alerte's rink tonight.

The contesting teams in the exhibition game were Argos seniors of Toronto and the Hamilton Club Intermediates. The Hamilton septet won by 5 to 2 after a battle which was fast, but not particularly clever.

Both teams relied too much on speed alone and there was a lack of combination play. In fact the latter team had practiced much before. This was the first time the Hamilton players had not had much practice.

KUNTZ'S OLD GERMAN LAGER

HURRY UP with a bottle of Kuntz's Old German Lager.

"It's worth a trip to Canada to get a drink of this corking brew. There's nothing like the 'Old German' flavor in the United States, you know. Perhaps because the 'Old German' process of brewing is so very costly.

Anyway, you Canadians ought to feel proud of Kuntz's for brewing such a superb beverage. And I guess you are from the number I see drinking Kuntz's Old German.

All dealers have or can get Kuntz's Old German Lager. If your dealer cannot supply you, phone J. D. Todd, Toronto agent. Phone College 3475.

AN OVERCOAT OPPORTUNITY

In certain lines of business weather and trade are closely identified. An unusually mild season in the opening months of the winter season such as has been this year's experience means a diminishing demand for winter goods.

But that provides the opportunity for those who save money by taking advantage of favorable chances. And just now, winter overcoats—there is bound to be winter weather before the first spring air—are offered by such a well known house as that of Hickey & Pascoe at exceptionally low prices.

Their "Big Whitey" Shawl Collar Overcoats, former values $20, can now be bought for $15, and the very cream of their overcoat stock, $25 and $35 values, for $17.85.

Hickey & Pascoe are open till 9 p.m.

STALLION ACT IS NOT SATISFACTORY

Horsemen Want Compulsory Inspection and Means of Enforcing It.

GRADING OF ANIMALS Minister of Agriculture Promises Consideration—Unanimity Needed.

(Special to The Toronto World). GUELPH, Dec. 10.—The Breeding of Horses in Relation to Their Utility, was the subject of an illustrated lecture at the winter fair by Prof. George E. Day of the Ontario Agricultural College.

Enrollment of Stallions. John Bright, Dominion live stock commissioner, Dr. F. C. Grenside of Guelph and others discussed the enrollment of stallions in Ontario. The act that controls and regulates the use of stallions for service was not perfect but could be improved.

Lively Discussion. The horsemen expressed themselves in a motion favoring compulsory inspection and the grading of horses as No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3, according to quality, such grade to be indicated on the certificate. It was suggested that the expenses of inspection be defrayed by the government.

C. P. R.'S DOMINATION IN WEST MENACED BY PANAMA CANAL AND RIVAL LINES, PLEA MADE

G. T. P. and C. N. R. Ready to Share Traffic, While Canal Will Affect Conditions Materially Argued F. H. Chrysler, K.C.—Western Rates Lauded as Fair and Reasonable.

(Continued From Page 1.) Vice. So long as the railway keeps its charges within the realm of reasonableness, the board has no jurisdiction to interfere with such rates except on the one ground of discrimination, and discrimination does not exist under the circumstances of this case.

"The G.T.P. has been established in Ontario for over half a century. Being first in the field and serving eastern Canada exclusively, it has secured a firm foothold in Ontario and Quebec, from which it draws an enormous traffic of high-class tonnage. When the construction of the G.T.P. was decided upon, it was said by all those who had any knowledge of the conditions that the principal reason for the construction of the Transcontinental and G.T.P. companies would be the enormous traffic which would accrue to the two railways from traffic which would be contributed from the manufacturing and industrial centres on the line of the G.T.P."

"All thru traffic from eastern Canada to western Canada has been carried by American lines thru Chicago over the G.T.P. or other American lines, or via the C.P.R. to the C.P.R. at North Bay." Mr. Chrysler, "An enormous tonnage will be transferred to the C.P.R. western line from this source. It is not to be expected that with the favorable location of the G.T.P. in Ontario, the equally favorable location of the G.T.P. in the west, and the high standard of construction of the latter line, enabling it to haul tonnage at the least possible cost, a very large amount of this tonnage will not be diverted from the C.P.R. to the G.T.P."

Loss of Supremacy. The same remark applies to the lesser extent to the tonnage which may be forwarded by the C.N.R. The inevitable result must be that the total tonnage carried by the three companies

NEW ARENA MUST SOON BE BUILT

Hon. Jas. Duff Says Accommodation is Sorely Needed at Guelph.

(Special to The Toronto World). GUELPH, Ont., Dec. 10.—"I have been told that you must have an arena here," said Hon. Jas. Duff, minister of agriculture of Ontario, in speaking at the winter and sheep breeders' luncheon at noon today. There is nobody knows of more than 100. This show started on a small basis, and Guelph was the only city to make the undertaking to run it because of the smallness. Even Toronto would not accept it. Guelph has stood by it ever since its inauguration and it has grown to wonderful proportions. It was at first thought that the accommodations would be sufficient to cover everything, but the show has expanded to such an extent that the accommodations now are entirely inadequate.

VALUABLE CONTRACTS.

The advisability of purchasing the electric light and power end of the Chatham Gas Co. business was never in doubt, he said. The company had contracts for supplying 1500 horsepower of electricity for power purposes, which would be handed over to the hydro-commission, thereby increasing the hydro-electric horsepower for Guelph alone but for the entire province.

HAMILTON WILL APPEAL

IF SERVICE IS CUT City Solicitor Says Success Would Follow Protest to Railway Board.

(Special to The Toronto World). HAMILTON, Dec. 10.—It was reported at the city hall today that the Hamilton Street Railway Company quit down its service, as was announced a few days ago, an appeal will be taken to the railway board. City Solicitor Waddell, K.C., explained that the city has a clear case before it. If the council is convinced that the street railway service is inadequate, that more cars and a faster service are desirable at any time, its course is to ask the company to make improvements. If the company does not do so within the time set, which may be fairly short, the city can apply to the Ontario and municipal board for an order to make the company do so. The board has absolute power over the operation of street railways.

MANY REASONS GIVEN

Tilbury Gas Field Estimated as Sure to Last for Ten Years Longer.

(Special to The Toronto World). CHATHAM, Ont., Dec. 10.—The attendance at the winter fair today was 15,327, which surpasses by far the attendance on any day during the former fairs. Last year on Wednesday there were 12,235, with a total attendance of 21,382 for the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This has been eclipsed already this year including only Tuesday and Wednesday. The total attendance for these two days was 23,337. People come into the city on every train from all directions, with the result that the buildings were continually packed to overflowing. In fact the crowds were so large that many were unable to see the exhibits and the judging in the horse arena.

The judging of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry continued all day, and it was after eleven o'clock before the horse judging was discontinued. The exhibits were not the only attractions, as many of those attending the fair also partook in the various association meetings or listened to the lectures.

In the evening about two thousand people crowded into the armories, where the annual public meeting held in conjunction with the fair, was held. Many distinguished speakers addressed the meeting and a musical program was provided.

It is expected that the attendance this year will be double that of any previous year. As there is already a big margin in the attendance, over other years there is no doubt but that the attendance this year will greatly surpass that of former years.

City Engineer of Hamilton Says City is Paying for Line Losses.

(Special to The Toronto World). HAMILTON, Dec. 10.—Notice of the reduction of one dollar in the price per horsepower of electric current charged against the city by the Hydro-Electric Commission was joyfully received at the city hall today. Although the cut from $16 to $15 will be gladly accepted, there is some talk of the city making a show of strength against the commission in an endeavor to have the price cut still lower. The city has been well treated since it first agreed to use hydro power for $17.92; its price being now $15 and a further reduction coming into effect on Jan. 1 will make the price $15 per horsepower. But this price is charged for at the regulation on a meter at Dundas, which means Hamilton pays for line losses between that place and here.

"In going to get the data on which our prices are based," said Engineer Sifton today, "and see if we can't get a further reduction of 50 cents or so." One of Mr. Sifton's ideas is that the line should be turned over to the city and the price of power cut below $15 to offset maintenance charges.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND PEOPLE AT GUELPH FAIR YESTERDAY

Attendance Records of Former Years Have Been Broken—Judging of Horses Was Not Concluded Till Nearly Midnight.

(Special to The Toronto World). GUELPH, Ont., Dec. 10.—The attendance at the winter fair today was 15,327, which surpasses by far the attendance on any day during the former fairs. Last year on Wednesday there were 12,235, with a total attendance of 21,382 for the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This has been eclipsed already this year including only Tuesday and Wednesday. The total attendance for these two days was 23,337. People come into the city on every train from all directions, with the result that the buildings were continually packed to overflowing. In fact the crowds were so large that many were unable to see the exhibits and the judging in the horse arena.

The judging of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry continued all day, and it was after eleven o'clock before the horse judging was discontinued. The exhibits were not the only attractions, as many of those attending the fair also partook in the various association meetings or listened to the lectures.

for the organization of a young men's club. Rev. Joseph Moore, president, Committees were appointed to put into practice the ideas expressed in several speeches.

The formation of such a club is more feasible now than at any former time in the history of the town, largely owing to the public-spirited action of the trustees and adherents of the Congregational Church. When the members of the congregation decided some time ago to discontinue services at the church building, one of the town's beauty-spots, was handed over to the corporation. It was subsequently remodelled as a public library and centre of civic social life, and was formally opened some weeks ago.

Rev. J. W. Pedley of Toronto was the principal speaker at last night's function. He lauded the progressive spirit manifested by the corporation and predicted that in its new role the church building would accomplish quite as good work, if not better, than had ever been carried on there during its ecclesiastical career.

SAYS WOMEN LOAF IN PICTURE SHOWS

Hamilton Alderman Complains of Moving Picture Craze as Being Unhealthy.

(Special to The Toronto World). HAMILTON, Dec. 10.—Despite adverse criticism, Ald. Roy is still convinced that many women are unwisely in their practice of attending local moving picture shows. Amplifying on his previous assertion that the women of Hamilton attend cheap theatres to the neglect of their children, Ald. Roy last evening made a statement to The World.

"These women," he said, "take babies in arms to the moving picture theatres, where the air is foul and awful. Can you tell me that it is good for those babies' eyes to sit in the dark for an hour or more and then be brought out suddenly into the day-light?"

"No wonder some hard-working men complain when they arrive home at 5.30, and instead of finding a warm, nourishing meal, have preserved food, such as a can of salmon, offered them, simply because their wives flocked to the cheap theatres and didn't get home in time. The women travel from one theatre to another. The more they attend the more they wish to attend, and it is getting to be an absolute craze."

DAIRY SHORTHORNS CAN BE RAISED WITH BIG PROFITS

Prof. Day of Ontario Agricultural College Says Breeders Which in Addition to Being Be a Good Milker.

(Special to The Toronto World). GUELPH, Dec. 10.—In Ontario Shorthorn cattle are raised as beef and a great many people have been trying to find dual Shorthorns which can be raised both as milk and beef cattle.

G. E. Day, professor of animal husbandry, Ontario Agricultural College, made a special trip to England to see information about and bring back to Canada some of these Shorthorns, which are being raised successfully in England. He gave the following illustrated lecture on "The Dairy Shorthorn" this afternoon at the lecture hall at the winter fair to about 500 persons: "In introducing this subject I would like to explain that in calling attention to the dairy Shorthorn there is no intention to belittle the importance of other breeds. The strictly dairy breeds are doing excellent work and no person is more ready than I am to acknowledge the importance of dairy breeds in this province. The question has been placed very frequently, 'Is there such a thing as a dairy Shorthorn?' Some have claimed that there is such a thing, but that it is of relatively small importance, and the object of this paper is merely to give you the present standing and the peculiarities of the dairy Shorthorn. Methods in England. 'Any person who has visited England and has studied at first hand the livestock and the methods of farming in that country will very readily admit that there is such a thing as a dairy Shorthorn, because in England we find more Shorthorns than anything in the dairy herds of that country. In fact it is rather an exception to see anything but Shorthorn cattle on English dairy farms. Such being the case, there is no room to doubt that there is such a thing as a dairy Shorthorn. The appearance of the dairy Shorthorn is likely to disappoint those who are familiar only with the beef type. People are apt to forget that a deep milk cow will give more milk than a thin one at the end of her milking period and they expect a heavy milker to look like a cow that does not give enough milk to properly nourish her calf. All cattle which are very thin look very much alike so far as conformation is concerned. The casual observer, therefore, is liable to jump to the conclusion that the dairy Shorthorn is an undesirable type and is likely to give more milk than the average of the fat which covers up her hump and smooths over the angularities of her legs. If we were to take one of these same angular and thin cows, allow her to go dry and feed her liberally, we would be surprised to see how closely after all, she would eventually approach the beef type. Generally speaking, however, there is a difference between the general type of the

Shorthorn and that of the approved beef type of Shorthorn cattle. Is there a Place? 'We have discussed the dairy Shorthorn from various points of view, but there is still one other point to be considered and that is, is there a place in Canadian agriculture for a cow of this kind? 'It seems to me that she probably does not come directly into competition for public favor with the recognized dairy breeds for the reason that they are not regarded as a special dairy breed and consequently cannot be reasonably expected to give us a maximum of milk or butter. While this is true, there are many farmers in this province who do not wish or who do not find it practicable to make a specialty of dairying, and it is to this class of farmers that the dairy Shorthorn will especially appeal, for the reason that she will pay her way in milk and produce a calf which it is profitable to raise for beef purposes. The greatest difficulty in the way of the spread of dairy Shorthorns is their comparative scarcity. It is in this respect that they differ from other breeds in England, but the demand from other countries as well as the demand at home exceeds the supply, and the result is that these cattle cannot be bought in England today for what they are worth. Such being the case a person will naturally ask, 'How then is the dairy Shorthorn to find a place in Canada if it cannot be bought for what it is worth?' It seems to me that in the meantime at least there is only one thing to do and that is to make the best of what we have. There are many excellent milking Shorthorns in this country already if they could only be sifted out and have their merit recognized. Will Bring Good Cows. 'The present move of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association in establishing a record of merit for milk production should bring in the course of time a lot of good cows to the front, and as time goes on it will be possible for those who are interested in dairy Shorthorns to make selection of sires from large producing dams, and in this way increase the milking qualities of their herd. It will not take years to bring the dairy Shorthorn into prominence in this country, especially since it is difficult to make importations at a reasonable cost, but the persistent use of sires from deep milking dams and the careful selection of breeding stock will work wonders in quality in dairy Shorthorns in this country. 'What will be the ultimate position taken by the dairy Shorthorn in this country remains to be seen, but the breeders of Shorthorn cattle have it in their power to develop a dual purpose breed of great possibilities provided they see fit to do so. The whole matter now rests in the hands of the Shorthorn breeders.' Robert Miller also spoke on "The Scotch Type of Shorthorns."

Guelph Winter Fair Is a Record

POULTRY ENTRIES OVER SIX THOUSAND

Winter Fair Exhibit is Declared to Surpass All Predecessors.

JUDGING IS COMPLETED

Bullock Memorial and Club Challenge Cups Won by Ingersoll Man.

(Special to The Toronto World). GUELPH, Dec. 10.—An unusually large degree of interest was manifested in the poultry exhibits at the Winter Fair today, the large hall being crowded from early till late. A continuous stream of interested spectators thronged the long aisles all the time, and it is doubtful if ever a more perfect poultry exhibit was prepared for the public's inspection.

A Leading Attraction. The show this year surpasses by far anything that has ever been shown heretofore in Canada and the United States. Over 6000 birds have been entered. Among the leading attractions in the poultry show is the large exhibit of the Galt Pheasant. Several cases full of the prettiest fowl imaginable are in this exhibit, and birds carried off the majority of prizes in their classes.

Among the chicken exhibitors is J. Pringle of London, whose entries won many of the prizes in their class, along with several special prizes donated by the various breeders' associations.

The small pet animals, such as rabbits, guinea pigs, mice, etc., also attracted a great deal of attention.

Judging of poultry has practically been completed. The silver cup (the Bullock Memorial) was awarded to the best cock, cockerel or pullet of White Wyandotte breed, was awarded to Sid Saunders of Ingersoll. The club challenge cup, worth $50, was captured by the same exhibitor. Specials: For the best cock, Charles Massey, Port Hope; best hen, Sid Saunders; best pullet, A. M. Cameron, Beaverton; best pullet, J. Hind; best cockerel and pullet, Sid Saunders.

(Special to The Toronto World). STRATFORD, Dec. 10.—The Y. M. C. Stratford Cost of Justice Is Rearranged

G. T. R. CONDUCTOR AWARDED DAMAGES

Three Hundred and Twenty-Five Dollars for Broken Collar Bone.

(Special to The Toronto World). STRATFORD, Dec. 10.—The town council has leased the ferry dock to the Loughheed estate for an annual rental of $100. The estate can now sublet it to the ferry company, and the town cannot prevent the company from landing at the dock, as was done some time ago. An attempt was made last year to force the company to operate only large boats, with the result that the line pulled off the boats and there was no service for a week. With the leasing of the dock the town has lost what little control it had on the company, but the town will get its $100 per year rental, which it was never able to get from the company.

Today is the closing of navigation on the lakes, as far as the government weather reports are concerned. The captains will not be able to get storm warning from now on unless they telephone or telegraph to the weather station. The government foots the bills in such cases.

A robbery of more than usual importance was committed in town some time between Tuesday and this morning, according to the police. The home of Mrs. W. C. Dillon was entered and furs and clothing to the value of $600 carried away. The police of Port Huron and Detroit have been given a description of the goods and are keeping a watch, as it is likely that the stuff was taken over the river in a boat.

ST. MARY'S MUNICIPAL FIELD.

ST. MARY'S, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding the year is nearing its close, the municipal pot is hardly warm. The present council have set an example for quiet order and businesslike methods, and while they have their faults, on the whole St. Mary's has been well served during the year. Mayor Butcher will doubtless look for the usual second term, and it is thought that most of the council will be up for re-election.

NONEGARIAN'S DEATH.

ST. MARY'S, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—The funeral took place today of Mrs. Agnes Barbour, relict of the late Robert Fulton Barbour, who died in her 81st year.

Sarnia Thieves Make Big Clean-up

GRAND CHAMPION OF ALL SHEEP OWNED BY JAS. BOWMAN, GUELPH

FARMERS MAY JOIN WITH THE VENDORS

Merry War on at Berlin Between Milk Handlers and Consumers.

(Special to The Toronto World). BERLIN, Ont., Dec. 10.—It looks as if there was to be a merry war between the milk producer and the consumer, if the farmers of the district carry out their threat to stand by the milk vendors by the organization of a protective association and fight the city folk who, in compliance with the advice of the city council, are cutting down their milk supply in order to force the vendors to reduce the price of milk.

Since the order went into effect last Saturday, there has been a falling off of seventy gallons of milk per day. At a secret meeting of the farmers of the district, at which forty attended, it was decided to adjourn and meet again next Monday, when the details of their organization will be completed.

It is just possible," said a prominent farmer to The World, "that we shall have to cut off the whole supply and ship all our milk to Toronto."

FOSTER WILL SAIL FOR ENGLAND AT CHRISTMAS

Will Discuss Ocean Freight Rates Before Imperial Trade Commission.

(Special to The Toronto World). OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—Hon. George E. Foster will leave on Christmas afternoon for London to attend the meetings of the Imperial trade commission. He will introduce the question of ocean freight rates and the discrimination against the St. Lawrence route.

Smooth Out the Ruts. How soon will your community replace the mud holes and ruts with a permanent good road? How soon will you stop filling the ruts and mud holes with your road taxes and build roads that will permit you to put your road taxes into more good roads? How soon will you discover that permanent good roads increase land values and lessen the cost of living by lessening the cost of marketing and enabling increased production? How soon will your roads, that now take the heart and soul out of every man and horse that uses them, be made into a continuous stretch of road that you and everyone in your county will be proud of? The permanent good road is of vital importance to every community because it has a direct influence for betterment on the everyday life of every person.

Concrete Roads are Permanent and are the "best good roads." They cost no more to build than any other good road and their upkeep expense is practically nothing, which makes them the cheapest kind of roads. Concrete Roads benefit the farmer, the consumer, the merchant, the newspaper, the board of trade, the railroad, and make for greater prosperity generally by increasing land values and production; bringing more trade; more industries; more employment; greater traffic. They decrease the cost of marketing; decrease taxation in proportion to increased production, and all of these factors combine to decrease the cost of living. Every citizen owes it to himself to investigate the advantages of concrete roads and learn how they will benefit him directly. This information is free for the asking. Write for it to-day to CONCRETE ROADS DEPARTMENT, Canada Cement Company Limited, Montreal.

UNION EULOGIST OF UNION LIFE SAYS HE WAS DUPED AND DECEIVED; HEARING EXPECTED TO END TODAY

E. A. Rusher, Actuary of the Prudential Insurance Company, Tells How Proof Copy of Union Life Was Doctored Before He Saw it—Dummy Directors Did as H. Pollman Evans Directed Without Question.

Out of the concentrated evidence of the final stages of the Union Life Assurance investigation, two facts stand forth distinctly to demonstrate how H. Pollman Evans, the engineering mind of this, and a score of contributory organizations, was enabled to prop up for years an enterprise tottering steadily to a fall.

"I had known the facts it is quite certain in my reports would never have been given," he writes to the court. These reports were the backbone of the prospectus. Their authority, linked with the name of the Prudential and blazoned from one end of the United Kingdom to the other, drew investments from the pockets of the cautious British public.

Not only does Mr. Rusher state that he was blinded to the facts of the financial condition and that his name and connection with his firm were improperly used, but he makes plain that Mr. Evans was conscious of his illegitimate practice. The only prospectus which he (Rusher) received was one carefully expurgated and vastly different from that which appeared. His hasty order to stop the issue when he learned of its contents was ignored till the effect was manifest. In disgust at the position in which he was placed, he resigned at once from the Prudential.

Evans' Reply. In the court yesterday Mr. Evans made reply: "I think the facts speak for themselves," said Mr. Evans. "It was absolutely impossible to make any changes after we received his letter. Mr. Rusher must have known that his report was going to be used that way. It seems to me childish for anyone to contend otherwise."

In his statement to the referee Mr. Rusher begins by saying that he would show that he took every reasonable precaution to prevent the introduction of the name of a company (the Prudential) which never had any connection in any sense with the Union Life. Mr. Rusher had refused the handling of it because he had given up "private" work. Further, when Evans had asked him to become consulting actuary, he had refused because the Prudential never allowed their name used in connection with private work.

Where Proof Differed. "In the proof prospectus (the only one I have ever seen) nothing is said about the Prudential. This is in any way with the Union. My name is not even mentioned. It is needless to say that had I signed the prospectus giving my connection with the Prudential I should at once have stopped it."

On the state of the assets he drew attention to the fact that the Canadian commissioners pass no assets at an amount exceeding their value and throw out doubtful ones. He took their figures as he found them and felt justified, understanding that they tell the company would put their straight in time without public confidence being destroyed. Again, the Canadian parliament, by special act, had authorized the raising of further capital. Surely this would not have been done for a company in a "bad" financial condition.

"The assets are really the crucial point," he states. "Had they been of the value set out in the commission report the company would have had to fear only the early stage."

Press Was Critical. The witness stated further that press criticism had worked heavily against them in competition with other companies. W. H. Carrie, who had served as accountant for the National Agency, told of paying over $252,000 to the Union Life and never having it returned. The Agency had subscribed for the total Union stock, valued at $100,000. The writing-up of the assets in 1905 as $90,949 was calculated on the weekly debit multiplied 125 times, or 1-2 years' payment. He was only the accountant and had nothing to say in the policy.

Municipal Franchise Referendum Committee. The above committee wish to state that they are distributing to the voters did not bear the union label, altho they were printed in The World office, which is a union shop. The committee is having all its printing done at union offices.

Priests Ordained. Next Sunday, at the high mass of the cathedral, Archbishop McNeill will officiate at the priesthood. Rev. John O'Connor and Rev. Francis Pennington. Mr. O'Connor is a nephew of the late Archbishop O'Connor. The Rev. Fr. Keenan, O.C.C., professor at St. Augustine Seminary. The staff of the seminary will assist the archbishop, and the students will also be present in a body.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IN UNITED STATES

Government Telegraph and Telephone System Now Under Adversement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(Can. Press.)—Government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines throughout the United States is being seriously considered by President Wilson. Conferences between the president and Postmaster-General Burleson have led to a gathering of information about the practical working of government ownership in countries where such a system is in operation. The subject will be discussed in the president's annual report, soon to be made public, tho it is by no means certain that it will make any positive recommendations. The bills have been drafted by members of congress looking to government ownership, none has been agreed upon as an administration measure, while the result of Mr. Burleson's investigations is being awaited.

YOUNG MAN CONFESSES PART IN BANK ROBBERY

Confession Said to Have Implicated Farmer Near Primrose, Neb.

ALBION, Neb., Dec. 10.—(Canadian Press.)—A young man, 20 years of age, arrested two days ago on suspicion of being the man who robbed the bank at Primrose, Neb., last Thursday, confessed the details of the robbery to Sheriff Suttan of Greeley County. His confession is said to have implicated Paul Carson, a farmer living six miles from Primrose, and on whose farm the officers found $3700 of the $4000 taken from the bank by Fins. The money was found in corn stacks. Carson was arrested.

Theatres and Concerts

In furtherance of an idea he has had in mind for some time, Louis Meyer, London's luckiest man, has established himself in Australia and South Africa with "The Glad Eye" and other pieces, and his latest venture is in Toronto to superintend the production of "The Glad Eye" to the Alexandra next week. Mr. Armitage said the idea of Canadian tours had taken root in his mind, and he had been induced to come over here to what he thought would be a certain failure. That his half hour in Toronto, however, has shown him a welcome in consequence with which he has decided to persevere. Mr. Meyer's British company with "The Glad Eye" played Montreal last week to a packed house, and the pleasurable favorable comments of the newspapers, which aver that it is one of the best British comedies and one of the most successful seen in Montreal in years, which has been secured in Canadian public as if they were in the west end of London. He has laid out a great deal of money on the magnificent furnishings and scenery, a replica of that used at the Strand Theatre.

"The Inner Shrine." A new play, "The Inner Shrine," a dramatization of the famous novel of that name, comes to the stage next week. The work has been done by Channing Pollock and his record also there can be found no product which may not bear the closest scrutiny. Mr. Delamater chose judiciously when he nominated Mr. Pollock to dramatize Basil King's great novel. Both men have nothing to say. "The Inner Shrine" is a play of a decade, and as a play is showing life the equal of any that has had its first production. The story is one of unusual strength and exactness, and the type of man who handles such a woman's name. It is the story of an old conquering love, not the wishy washy kind, but love born of tragedy and great sorrow. The winsome Justine Wayne will appear as Diane Evelyn, and the handsome Albert Andrews will be the hero, Derek Prun. Judging from the advance sale of seats this will be one of the most popular offerings of the season. Several theatre parties have been arranged.

"The Red Heads" Coming to Shea's. Productions of condensed musical comedy intended for vaudeville usually compare favorably with, and frequently surpass, those made for complete evening's entertainment. For next week at Shea's Theatre, Jesse L. Lasky presents his latest effort, a vivacious musical comedy called "The Red Heads," in which names of the stage are featured prominently. However, the complete success must necessarily depend upon the material in use. The book of "The Red Heads" is by William Barron, an author whose previous efforts, both for vaudeville and the legitimate stage, command him respectful attention.

Special attractions for next week are the Merkel Sisters, four dainty young woman gypsies and contortionists, and Melvyn and Kelly, "The Piano Movers and the Actresses." Other features included in next week's bill are Leon Kimberley and Halsey Mohr, Lew Brice and Lillian Gonne, Frederica Belmont, Lynn and Zeller, Swain Octman Trio and the Kinograph Symphony Orchestra.

The sale of seats for the "popular" concert of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra next Monday evening, 15th, at Massey Hall on Thursday morning of the week, the popular pieces for this attraction, have already met a large audience.
