SIR WILFRID MAY RESIGN NEXT WEEK

The Probability is, However, It Will Be the Week After Before Borden is Called Upon to Form a Cabinet—Speculation is Rife as to the New Ministry.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—(Special)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier returned to Ottawa last night. His car was attached to the 10.50 train from Quebec. He was met at the depot by a few personal friends and immediately drove to his residence, accompanied by his private secretary.

The defeated prime minister made no statement, and, while he looks worn and fatigued, he is in good spirits. Mr. Borden has wired that he may arrive in Ottawa on Sunday. If he comes at any other time, the Conservatives are arranging to tender him a demonstration in keeping with his victory. Personally Mr. Borden is a great favorite in Ottawa. He has always evinced a deep interest in its affairs, and is a very large property-owner.

The Conservative victory has become very popular in the capital, which has a penchant for being on the winning side, and the average man, especially government employees, professes to have foreseen what was going to happen and to have voted accordingly.

No Appointments.
The cabinet ministers will return early in the week and start to pack up, and while no appointments can be made constitutionally, following the Aberdeen precedent in 1896, there is considerable departmental routine which is likely to be disposed of. Then Sir Wilfrid will bow to the public demand, and tender the resignation of himself and cabinet.

Thereupon Mr. Borden will be called upon to form his ministry. This may happen possibly at the end of next week, but more probably the week after. Public interest centres upon the probable selections for the cabinet. There is reason for the belief that Mr. Borden is absolutely unpledged and that he will exercise a perfectly free hand in making his selection. Beyond a doubt, he will himself take the position, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier filled as president of the privy council; the three are precedents for the premier also being a departmental minister.

The common report associates the name of Judge Doherty with the portfolio of justice. Mr. Monk is talked of as secretary of state and Messrs. Ames and Perley seem certain of cabinet rank. For the position of minister of railways Mr. Crockert of York has support. Much speculation.

As to Ontario there is speculation regarding Hon. G. E. Foster. Claude Macdonell is spoken of as a minister of labor, Major Sharpe or Col. Hughes as minister of militia, while other cabinet material are W. B. Northrup, Haughton Lennox and Andrew Broder, Dr. Reid, T. E. Armstrong and T. W. Crothers. Dr. Reid is mentioned more especially as minister of marine. There is no doubt that the tremendous Conservative majority in Ontario entitles it to a large share of cabinet representation and in addition to the members in the late parliament it is considered improbable that portfolios will be offered Sir James Whitney and Hon. Frank Cochrane. It is equally certain that Premier McBride and Hon. Robert Rogers will be given a choice of departments and if Dr. Roche is not a cabinet minister he will likely be speaker, the Dr. Spruille is also mentioned in that connection.

The re-election of cabinet ministers will be but a formality, and it is likely that the new parliament will assemble the second week in November. The occasion will be of unprecedented brilliancy with the coming of the Duke of Connaught and the advent of a new government.

Leadership of Opposition.
If Sir Wilfrid Laurier relinquishes the leadership of the opposition as he is more than likely to do, an Ontario man is likely to be selected and Hugh Guthrie of Wellington is a very probable selection. He has the unique distinction of being the only Liberal who retained his normal majority.

Congratulations to Borden.
HALIFAX, Sept. 22.—R. L. Borden has received about 600 messages of congratulation by telegraph and cable, many of which he will be unable to answer until he reaches Ottawa on Monday. Meantime he sends his

"The Parting of the Ways."

U.S. WILL KEEP EVER OPEN DOOR

Opinion at State Department is That Reciprocity Act Will Be Allowed to Remain on Statute Books.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—No official declaration is expected at the state department regarding the demise of the reciprocity movement, on the ground that the Canadian Government naturally supposes that the United States Government is familiar with the terms of the agreement, especially the conditions that the proposed new and reduced duties shall not be effective until after Canadian ratification. The single exception was the wool pulp and paper schedule, which by special provision, went into operation immediately upon the approval of the act and is now beyond recall, unless congress should see fit to repeal the entire reciprocity act.

The opinion expressed at the state department was that no effort would be made to repeal the reciprocity act, and also the duties thereon will not become effective, the act itself will be permitted to remain on the statute books, constituting an ever-open door to Canada and a constant reminder of the recognition by the United States of the merits of the principle of reciprocity with its northern neighbor. It was suggested to-day that the only chance for the continuance of reciprocity as an open issue might be found in an attempt by Newfoundland to secure such a treaty of agreement with the United States. It has been known that the Newfoundlanders were only waiting the disposition of the pact between the United States and Canada to open negotiations with Washington for a reciprocity arrangement on their own account, and state department officials said it has been difficult to keep them from pressing

A PLAY THAT IS WORTH WHILE.

A play that is worth while is "The Other Mary," which comes here next week to the Princess, the last three nights. The noted actress, Mme. Nazimova, will be seen in this play, and is said to be making the hit of her career in it.

FALL HAT TIME.

To-day, Saturday, is a good time at which to purchase your new fall hat. Dined's, just particularly to-day, has some unusually new blocks by some makers that don't sell their goods in Canada outside the Dined's shop. The company is sole Canadian agent for Henry Heath of London, England, and for Dunlap of New York. It is besides the distributing agency for most other large makers in England. There is an excellent showing of unpressed felts hats in Alpine shades and in new colors. The store will be open until 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Later Returns

MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—(Special)—Later returns received this afternoon gave Shefford and Bellechasse to the Conservatives, Davidson being elected in the former by 1 and Col. Talbot, ex-M.P., is defeated in Bellechasse by 28. There is also a probability of Bergeron's election in Beauharnois.

KINGSTON, Sept. 22.—(Special)—Complete returns not yet received. Frontenac County, many back townships to be heard from, but so far Dr. J. W. Edwards has a majority of 698 and it will reach about 700 when list is complete.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 22.—(Special)—Full returns give the majority of John Webster over Hon. G. P. Graham at 131.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22.—Further returns show that in Saskatchewan the Conservatives only elected one representative, in Prince Rupert constituency. All other constituencies returned Liberals. In Alberta, Calgary returned Bennett (Con.). All other constituencies returned Liberals.

In Manitoba, Staples (Con.) is elected in Macdonald, and Moloy (Lib.) in Frovencer. In Selkirk, Bredin (Lib.) is probably elected. Haggart's majority in Winnipeg was nearly 5000.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 22.—Oliver (Lib.) 1392; Taylor (Con.) 515.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22.—Clement's election in Comox-Atlin is conceded with eight polling places to hear from. Clements, (Con.), 1901; Ross, (Lib.), 783. Ross had a lead in Prince Rupert City with 397 votes, as against Clements' 238. Clements won Vancouver Island.

SASKATCHEWAN: Assiniboia—Latest returns give Turiff 1247 majority. Regina—Martin Liberal, 1112 majority, with 38 polls to hear from.

Mackenzie—Thirty-six polls give Cash, Liberal, 1324 majority. Saskatoon—Seventy-five polls give Monday 500 majority.

Appelle—Eighty-seven polls give Thompson, Liberal, 155 majority.

MANITOBA: Selkirk—Forty-six polls give Bradbury majority of 2471.

ALBERTA: Victoria—One hundred and thirty-four polls give White 620 majority.

EDMONTON, Sept. 22.—Oliver now has 1373 majority in Edmonton district, and there are still 92 polls to hear from.

WON $5000 ON MAJOR CURRIE.

Probably the largest election bet in Ontario was made by James A. McCabe, the well-known horse brever in North Simcoe. He wagered A. E. Dymont of Toronto $5000 that Major Currie would get elected in that riding, and wanted to make a further bet of $1000 that Dymont would lose the $5000 but unfortunately for Jim this latter bet was not taken up.

Presentation to Fireman.
James Montgomery, who recently resigned from the city fire department, was last night entertained to a dinner by his former comrades at the Berkeley street hall, and presented with a valuable cut glass set. District Chief Villiers did the honors and altogether a good evening was enjoyed.

CHAMP SAYS TAFT DID IT

President's "Parting of the Ways" Did More to Defeat Pact Than Speech of Speaker of House.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 22.—When Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, arrived today to be the guest of the Tennessee State Fair, he was asked if his professionally humorous remarks in the house about annexation had not aided in the defeat of reciprocity by Canada yesterday. Mr. Clark wrote the following statement:

"My remarks about annexation did not do half as much to defeat reciprocity in Canada as did President Taft's speech in which he insisted on hurrying up agreeing to reciprocity in this country before Great Britain established her imperial policy of tariff with preferential rates for the colonies. "He and I were both quoted by the anti-reciprocity crowd in Canada, he more than I, but the chances are that the quotations from his speeches and mine did not have half so much to do with defeating reciprocity as did the corruption funds sent from both this country and Great Britain into Canada.

Signed "Champ Clark"

Rep. McCall's View.
BOSTON, Sept. 22.—In commenting upon the defeat of reciprocity in Canada, Congressman Samuel W. McCall, who introduced the original reciprocity bill in congress, said to-day:

"With the great railroads, the manufacturers and the commercial and financial and powerful interests on this side of the border opposing reciprocity, and with the help of Mr. Rudyard Kipling, and his warning that an increase of commerce would increase crime, it is not strange that Canada retained possession of her soul. "The puerile annexation bogey appears to have led her to reject as golden an opportunity as she ever had or is ever likely to have."

TAFT STILL DOWNCAST
"But I Guess We Can Get Along," Says President.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 22.—President Taft had a heart-to-heart talk here to-day with the leaders of the different Republican factions in Illinois. He still was downcast by the defeat of the reciprocity agreement in Canada, but his only reference to that subject was made earlier in the day, when he addressed the workmen in a local manufacturing establishment where farming implements are made.

"I was sorry to hear that in Canada they do not care to have closer commercial relations with us," he said. "If reciprocity had been adopted we could have gotten our agricultural implements into Canada at a substantial decrease. But I guess we can get along."

Door Is Now Thrown Open To Imperial Reciprocity

Canada's Refusal to Enter Into Entangling Alliance With U.S. Has Put Great Hope Into British Advocates of Tariff Reform.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The result of the Canadian election has put great heart in the tariff reform movement here, and has been received by the Unionist newspapers and Unionists generally with great enthusiasm. Frederick E. Smyth, Unionist member of parliament for Liverpool, says Canada's example will be of immense encouragement to the tariff reformers here, and a corresponding rebuff to the free traders, while Lord Willoughby de Broke declares that he is delighted that Canada has not forgotten the old country.

Andrew Bonar Law, Unionist member of parliament for the Dulwich Division of Camberwell, believes the result of the election will hasten the triumph of imperial preference. According to L. S. Amery, the journalist, the election is the most important decisive imperial event since the South African War. He declares Canada has given the lead, which England must follow.

IMPERIAL RECIPROcity CERTAIN.
William R. Peel, leader of the Municipal Reform party, says the Canadians defeated an American conspiracy to absorb their country, and that imperial reciprocity now is certain. Sir William Maxwell Aitken declares that time alone can make clear the far-reaching significance of the victory by which Canada set the seal of a new declaration of imperial faith and unity.

Viscount Ridley, former secretary to Lord Aberdeen, when he was governor-general of Canada, said:

"The door bolted and barred by Premier Asquith has been flung open again by Canada. The tariff reformers will work with renewed vigor, and with certainty of success."

INDEPENDENT OF BOURASSA.
Among the more moderate of the tariff reform morning newspapers, the feeling of triumph is tempered by expressions of regret at the disappearance from political life of such a staunch imperialist as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the recognition that the victory is partly due to the Bourassa party. These papers declare they are glad that R. L. Borden has a majority large enough to render him independent of Mr. Bourassa's support.

The Scots King of Canada.

How J. A. Macdonald engineered Reciprocity

This is perhaps remarkable when it is recalled that his great-grandfather left the shores of Scotland in the early part of the eighteenth century. The secret, however, was out when he whispered, "There's no Sassenach blood in me—all Highland."

And what a striking personality! The man rivets attention immediately. So much so that I quickly realized the truth of the saying that "Macdonald is King of Canada."

Of course he was the author of it all.

"Yes," he said smiling, "I have played my part in the game—and deliberately, for has it not been echoed through the columns of the Globe for years? It is part and parcel of the policy we stand for."

"But what about your visit to Washington?"

"Well, Sir, I went there as the ordinary visitor goes—to see and hear the men and things of note; in fact, to fulfil a commission from my chiefs for impressionist sketches of people who count. There I met Knox, the Secretary for State, and afterwards had a phone call from President Taft. He invited me to see him."

"You went?"

"Yes, as any keen journalist would, not as a secret ambassador, as our Tory friends say."

"And you talked Reciprocity?"

"Informally, yes. Like any citizen would to Taft in his capacity as a citizen. And which I, a Canadian, attached to all things Canadian, have a perfect right to do."

"Certainly, but how came you to act as the middle man between the two Governments?"

"Because Taft clearly proved to me that that haughty intolerance to all things Canadian had passed from American statesmen's minds. They now admitted and recognized our national policy. He, personally, had no desire to put in operation a tariff engine against Canada. In fact he desired Reciprocity and asked me to convey the message to Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

"You complied?"

"Why not? It would be madness to raise a tariff wall between two nations with a" frontier 4,000 miles long. America is our natural customer and ally. To breed opposition and raise the seed of discord, would be impolitic and ridiculous in this humane and practical century. And believe me with the Yellow East looming large, throwing out as they are doing, the talons of aggression and equality, it behoves us to be honest, frank, and solid."

"Annexation now?"

"Ha! Ha! Ha! Oh, you little Englishers," he exclaimed merrily. Then relapsing to a more serious mood turned fiercely round, and with an emphatic gesture, exclaimed, "Annexation! Think you, that we who have won this land with our blood, who have wrested religious and political liberties from Downing Street almost at the point of the sword, and better still, who have in the Highlands and Lowlands of Britain, tomb stones of our race, will sell our heritage, will desert the flag, will for the despicable dollar give this vast Dominion to Uncle Sam! Are we fools?"

"I think not," I interjected.

The last race meeting of the year, and one of the few real sporting events of the turf, begins to-day at Woodbine Park. The material will receive a better test this time, with the larger fields, than in the spring.

The Toronto Ball Club will disband in Rochester to-night, after they finish to-day's game. J. J. McCaffery, president of the team, says he will depart for Baltimore at once, and will not see any of the post-season games unless some of them are played in Baltimore.

"Well, there's three pennants in a row for the Eastern League; now let the other seven clubs shoot at the record," was the comment of President Chapin on the winning of the third consecutive championship by the Senators. "It will be a long time before it is equalled."

Next comes the post-season series. President Chapin said that he expected to hear from President Barrow at once in regard to the management of the series. Barrow is to conduct it for the league. Manager Jack Dunn of the Orioles will manage the All-Stars, who should be selected within a day or two to give the fans a chance to consider its strength. The Eastern League will meet next Thursday in Rochester, the day set for the first game of the series. The league is to select the place for holding the games, following the first two, to be held in Rochester. Jack Dunn has said he will insist on having the third and fourth games played in Baltimore.

SWAN ENGLISH CHANNEL FROM DOVER TO GRISNEZ

Graphic Description of Gigantic Athletic Feat by W. T. Burgess.

William Thomas Burgess has accomplished what is probably the most gigantic task in the athletic world, and we who accompanied him on his journey are wondering at the feat in The London News. He swam the English Channel, and he swam it in an exhibition style. It was a most remarkable feat, and he did it with a style that was not only athletic but also artistic. He was in excellent spirits, and he did it with a style that was not only athletic but also artistic. He was in excellent spirits, and he did it with a style that was not only athletic but also artistic.

At the start of the breeze was northerly, about ten miles an hour, and this was favorable to the swimmer. It was soon apparent, however, that the wind was freshening. White-capped waves came rolling up, and Burgess had a hard time. Several times he swallowed water, the lumpy sea was very trying to his arm action, and most serious of all, his eyes became itchy, the lumpy water getting under the motor goggles he was wearing. In the first three hours he changed his goggles four times.

Twenty-four Strokes a Minute. After swimming for an hour and a half Burgess asked for some hot chocolate, and Mr. Watson prepared some Nesle's chocolate. While taking his drink Burgess chattered with the party, stating that in all his experience he had never suffered so much from the salt water. Despite this fact, it was agreed that the progress made up to that time was better than on any previous channel swim. Burgess used his left overarm stroke continuously to the finish, and did not vary it for fifteen hours.

After swimming four hours Burgess had some more chocolate, and remarked that it was rather too sweet for him, and a quarter of an hour afterwards he was sick. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a big tramp steamer hove in sight. The whole of the party stood up and signalled her to go behind the swimmer and her captain slowed down and altered his course. When informed who was in the water he and his crew shouted a message of good wishes, which was heartily responded to. The end of the food tide on which the swim was started took Burgess three miles north of the South Sands Head Headlands. In three hours he was six miles off the land. The top was still hazy, and after a bout of sickness he had a serious talk with his pilot as to the advisability of remaining in the water. A couple more tugs of sickness will finish me," he said, but when advised that the wind was dropping he settled down to hard swimming. Faster Than the Boat.

The job was tremendously strong, and seven hours from the start Burgess was three miles south of the Vares, or roughly, half way across the channel, and in the course of a few minutes Burgess stated that his stomach trouble was quite a relief. He borrowed Watson's goggles which suited him much better than his own, and the inflammation in his eyes having subsided, he started his night swim in excellent spirits. So fast did he travel that the motor-boat—under sail—could hardly keep up with him, and he laughingly advised the skipper to "shove on more canvas."

At 6 o'clock Burgess ate a few grapes, and was still many miles off, Burgess asked for "twenty drops of champagne every hour, and not another drop if I go down on my knees for it." When informed that he was only a mile and a half off shore, he brightened up very much, and went away again, with the words, "champagne, then."

"If you can stick it a little longer, Bill, you won't be troubled with this job again," shouted the pilot, and Burgess answered, "I'll stick it." "Oh, we'll stick it now, then!" and increased his pace. At 6:25 Burgess found he was not making headway, and the situation was critical, as a decision to alter the course half a point east of midnight meant failure, as the slack water did not last more than half an hour. Burgess summed up the situation in twenty seconds, and told his pilot that, rather than run the risk of being swept off shore by the tide, his own was a previous swim, he would make a dash for the nose of Grisnez. The course was at once altered, and the wisdom of Burgess' decision was soon apparent, for he drew rapidly nearer the land.

At 8:30 the point of the Cape was straight ahead, and Burgess had missed it by a little under a quarter of a mile. The end of the attempt, and Burgess said "I'm glad to see you're all safe." He had swum from England to France in 24 hours 36 minutes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—With the Eastern League's season close only one day away and the pennant question definitely settled, arrangements for the post-season series between Rochester, the flag-winners, and a picked team of stars from the other seven clubs were begun to-day. "Why didn't some one think of this Spring Steel Plate before?"

Walpole RUBBER HEEL FOR HORSES

With Patent Spring Steel Plate

When you examine the Walpole you will immediately see its superiority and advantage over all so-called hoof pads or bar shoes.

Made of high grade rubber—reinforced with tempered spring steel plate—the most resilient heel or hoof protection possible.

Possesses every feature of a bar shoe—yet much lighter. The spring steel plate takes the place of the traditional bar—furnishes a larger bearing surface for the frog. Then it protects the heel—the one great advantage.

You know how quickly all other so-called pads become floppy when subjected to water, snow or slush, allowing the hoof to settle into the pad and bear on the corn or tender spots, thus causing lameness.

This spring steel plate coming next to the hoof with an even, firm pressure, overcomes this fault and positively relieves all soreness, tenderness, bruises or corns.

The Walpole affords the horseowner an opportunity to regulate not only the frog, but sole and wall pressure to suit every individual foot. The rubber is reinforced for its holding qualities on ice or wet surfaces—wood, stone or asphalt pavements.

Do not let another day pass without giving the horses the benefit of the Walpole Rubber Heel.

Nothing even near enough to them to take their place.

MR. BORDEN'S PLATFORM.
While the general election was fought and won on the issue of reciprocity by agreement it ought not to be overlooked that Mr. R. L. Borden, the premier-elect, has a platform of high intrinsic merit and importance. In his manifesto to the electors of Canada he gave the pledge of the Liberal-Conservative party to carry out the following policy if returned to power:

- "1. A thorough reorganization of the method by which public expenditure is supervised. The increase in what is known as ordinary uncontrolled expenditure from $21,500,000 in 1908 to nearly $7,000,000 in 1911 is proof of extravagance beyond any possible denial.
- "2. The granting of their natural resources to the Prairie Provinces.
- "3. The construction of the Hudson Bay Railway and its operation by independent commission.
- "4. The control and operation by the state of the terminal elevators.
- "5. The necessary encouragement for establishing an industry on the chilled meat industry.
- "6. The establishment of a permanent tariff commission.
- "7. The granting of substantial assistance towards the improvement of our public highways.
- "8. The extension of free rural mail delivery.
- "9. The extension of civil service reform.
- "10. The granting of liberal assistance to the provinces for the purpose of supplementing and extending the work of agricultural education and for the improvement of agriculture.
- "11. And lastly, we pledge ourselves to a course of policy and administration which will maintain independent and unimpairing the control of our own affairs by the parliament of Canada; a policy which, while affording no just cause of complaint to any foreign nation, will find its highest ideal in the autonomous development of Canada as a nation within the British Empire.

The ten points of this declaration, and the general sense with which it closes form the foundation of a valuable constructive endeavor that will be of inestimable benefit to the whole Dominion. The first three have special reference to the prairie provinces, and the second and third include the main demands of the grain growers' deputation apart from their demand for tariff relief. But even this is not excluded, for Mr. Borden has undertaken to establish a permanent tariff commission whose duty it will be to review the duties on scientific lines and have the balance even among all the national interests concerned. Such an expert commission has been strongly urged by The World and will be not the least of the advantages that will accrue from the change of government.

All the farmers of Canada will benefit by substantial assistance for the good roads movement, another and not the least valuable way of reducing the cost of living, and by liberal grants for extending and improving agricultural methods. Agriculturists and stock raisers will profit by government encouragement of the chilled meat industry. This also has been advocated by The World. Expansion of the chilled meat trade will act as a stimulant to the many allied industries connected with it, and add to the general prosperity. Government ownership and operation of the Hudson Bay Railway and of the terminal elevators is an acknowledgment of the principle of public ownership, which will commend itself all over the country. Ontario, which has so splendidly rallied to Mr. Borden's support, is practically a unit on the merits of this principle, as exemplified by the hydro-electric policy of the provincial government.

The premier-elect undertakes the responsible duties of his high office with the fairest prospects. He is untrammeled by no entangling ties, or by pledges which it may embarrass him to fulfill. Mr. Borden has it in his power not only to give the Dominion able, honest and efficient government, but to conduct his administration and to forward progressive legislation, so that the good of the whole country may be considered and secured. This country can be trusted to respond to a national ideal in all departments of the public service and is guided by the clear determination of the Canadian people to remain a free nation within the empire.

EFFECT WILL BE GOOD.
Little exception can be taken to the comment of the principal United States newspapers on the result of the Dominion general election. Only here and there can a more or less veiled warning be found that the rejection of reciprocity may be resented. But the endeavor at philosophic acceptance of the verdict does not disguise the disapture of surprise that ministers with the disappointment. For despite all attempts to the contrary effect even the public men of the United States have not been able to escape from a lurking belief that Canada's attitude towards the empire was less sentimental than traditional and the band so light as to be negligible.

The sweeping majority against reciprocity should have a valuable educational influence on United States opinion. Acceptance of the Washington pact would have led to an immense reencouragement of the annexation notion. It should now be dispelled and its disappearance will, after the first irritation has passed, aid materially in placing the relationship of Canada with the United States on a proper footing and thus in the end make for enduring friendship. Another nation that will not be unimpaired of this proof of Canadian loyalty to Germany, which also has eagerly welcomed supposed evidence that Canada would break away from the empire. If for nothing else than these things the defeat of reciprocity will be memorable.

SOME PRESS COMMENT.
One might have thought that the expression of opinion on Thursday was sufficient definite and clear to leave no room for misunderstanding. There are still many people who never learn and never forget, and the comments in the press show that newspaper circles are not entirely free from the Bourbon frailty. Much, of course, is to be allowed for the first hasty reflections after our unexpected shock, but there had been ample time to consider both sides of the question, as every wise man does of every question. The peculiar thing about much of the comment is that it shows no familiarity with the other side of the reciprocity question at all.

A news note in an opposition newspaper illustrates this point: "The Maritime Provinces were expected to go more or less solidly for the pact, on account of the benefits which the fishermen would gain under the agreement." Could the writer of this have ever read the agreement? Were the fishermen, after reading clause 12, in the least likely to wipe themselves out of existence by handing over the business to American fishermen?

The Ottawa Free Press, which opposed reciprocity when it was first proposed, takes a sensible view of the situation. On the other hand the Hamilton Times indulges in this remark: "It is at once a vote of want of confidence in Canadian patriotism, and a declaration of hostility toward the adjoining republic." This is the wait-eyed attitude of some of the party papers. Are the people likely to vote want of confidence in themselves, or is it meant that the Laurier cabinet contained all the patriotism in the country? The Montreal Witness takes the ground that the majority of the people of Canada are silly creatures.

The Toronto Star falls into a general error in blaming the people for condemning the method of the government in trying to secure reciprocity. The people were very clear that they would not have reciprocity on the terms of allying their government with a United States.

When He Attempted to Work, So Exhausted Was the Nervous System.

The Feeble, Wasted Nervous Were Restored and Revitalized by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Nervous prostration is a terrible disease to all who understand its symptoms. At times the sufferer feels comparatively well, but with slight exertion the dreadful helplessness returns and all strength and vitality seems to leave the system. This letter from Mrs. Martin very well describes the terrible condition in which many a sufferer finds herself. She also tells how she regained health and strength by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after all other treatments had failed.
"Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ave's Cliff, Que., writes: 'Before I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition from nervous exhaustion and prostration. Daily spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor. The weakness was so great that I could not do so much as sweep the floor without fainting, but the nerve food helped me after the doctor failed. It has done wonders in building up my nervous system. I can do my own household work now and washing, and feel that this great medicine has been a boon indeed to me. I think it is the best of medicines.'

Toronto Man Cured of Intolerable Itch

By Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment

"I just want to say a good word for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. For or for some days I was suffering from an intolerable itch of the skin. It certainly was an intolerable nuisance. The itching was principally at night before I went to bed. The throes were especially affected. 'I went to two doctors about it, and tried more than one remedy. I was told to take a course of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and they apply Cuticura Ointment. I took his advice, and, sure enough, the itch went for me. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for two or three months before I was cured of this intolerable nuisance. After one warm bath with Cuticura Soap and Ointment, I was never troubled with the itching again. Anybody in this predicament I would be pleased to swear to in a court of law.' (Signed) Mr. J. E. Hooper, 668 Parliament Street, Toronto, Feb. 10, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment has afforded the speediest, simplest and most economical treatment for eczema, itching skin, eruptions, eruptions, eruptions. A liberal sample of each, with 32-page book, sent free to any address, by mail, to Cuticura Soap and Ointment Co., 253 Columbus Ave., Boston, U. S. A.

States political party, and at the expense of their own parliamentary independence.

People are undoubtedly glad to get the reciprocity discussion out of the way, and are generally heartily tired of it. They are not so inert, however, as to realize that an intelligent opposition is a necessary factor of good government, and they would be glad to see the reciprocity organs opening their eyes to facts, and searching for something in the way of a constructive policy. The Ontario Legislative assembly is an example of the utter incapacity of the Liberal press to take any ground but that of petty criticism. The big progressive questions which would appeal to a large section of the electorate are actually farther beyond the intelligence of the Globe than they are of the government. The people see this and they give Sir James Whitney their confidence. He has no rival. Similarly, Mr. Borden has only to do what the public interest demands, and from the ranks of the opposition press, which appears resolved to continue the agitation of a reciprocity policy for the next few generations, Mr. Eerden will have no rival any more than Mr. James Whitney. No party can afford to give up to its own creatures what is meant for the country.

HAS CLEANED THE AIR.
One of the wonderful things of the late election was the rapid way in which it cleared the air. It was so sweeping that it not only settled reciprocity, but it settled the minds of everyone in business. Even the market gardeners had a load taken off their minds in one night. They saw nothing ahead of them but the most unfavourable competition of American garden products, and the loss of their livelihood. Now they are all happy men. The same with many large investors, who contemplate factory extensions of one kind or another, or who have recently made extensions, and see direct loss ahead. They now are all happy. Owners of real estate feel much better. So do all the railroad men and railway companies; and in a hundred other ways the voice of the people has cleared the air and given a new encouragement to active operations of all kinds.

The farming weeklies and their able editors didn't take the farmers with them on reciprocity. Neither did the eminent K.C.'s who sweat blood for the sons of the soil on many a platform. Even Sam Blake, K.C., put on cowhide boots in vain.

PREACHER, POLITICIAN AND JOURNALIST.

The British Weekly (London, April 22, 1911): There is no other man in the British Empire who more successfully combines in one personality the qualifications necessary in the strange profession mentioned above than does Dr. Macdonald, editor of The Toronto Globe. Dr. Macdonald is a master of the art of preaching, he is an ardent politician with the reputation of BEING DICTATOR TO THE LIBERAL PARTY AT OTTAWA, and he is editor of the most influential daily journal in Canada. It is said, and not without reason, that DR. MACDONALD IS DISTINCTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PRESENT RECIPROCITY PROPOSALS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA. Then again on the question of British-American arbitration, the doctor is well to the front. On the strength of a personal interview with President Taft and Secretary Knox, Dr. Macdonald declares that these two great statesmen are anxious to see the consummation of a treaty that would make war impossible between the British-speaking peoples of the world.

U. S. WILL KEEP EVER OPEN DOOR

Continued From Page 1. The matter while the Canadian agreement was pending. A Unique Situation. WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—John Morris, chairman of the committee on paper of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, to-day issued a statement showing that the defeat in Canada of the reciprocity agreement has expanded the free zone for pulps and papers so as to include all of the favored nations. His statement follows: "Canada's rejection of reciprocity raises a question with respect to the favored nation treaties that is unique. Unlike the items contained in section one of the reciprocity bill, the paper and pulp clause, which was section two, abolished the duty on Canadian pulps and paper, subject only to a condition precedent that the pulps and paper must be made from unrestricted woods. Section one could not go into effect until Canada took reciprocity action, but section 2 became effective July 25, when the president signed the reciprocity bill. Canada's vote of rejection will make section one ineffective, but it will not impair the pulp and paper section, which cannot be nullified except by a repealing act of the American congress, and such repeal is highly improbable. The importers of pulps and paper from Germany, Norway and Sweden claim that under the favored nation treaty the products of these countries are entitled to the treatment that Canada obtains when the pulps and paper are made from unrestricted woods, and that the tariff on those articles is automatically abolished under like conditions. Treasury department officials say no similar case has ever arisen in this country. The best and most delightful bonnet in the world, Campana's Italian Balm. E. G. AS EXPECTED, LOTS AT GRANDVIEW PARK ARE SELLING RAPIDLY

It couldn't be otherwise, for good real estate practically sells itself. INVESTORS are buying in GRANDVIEW PARK because at prices ranging from $10 to $30 these lots are the safest investment Toronto Real Estate has to offer. HOMESEEKERS are buying in GRANDVIEW PARK because any lot on the plan is within a half-minute walk of the civic center, on which the grading is now nearly complete. BECAUSE all the improvements are laid right up to the eastern boundary of the property and can easily be extended in on the new streets, GERRARD street will be to the east what College street is to the west—the great midway thoroughfare for passenger traffic leading to the heart of the city. ALL WHO BUY in GRANDVIEW PARK buy for the one common reason, which is this—GRANDVIEW PARK IS ONE OF THE BEAUTY SPOTS OF TORONTO. FROM NORTH TO SOUTH the view extends over the whole city, where every prominent building can be plainly distinguished. No man but a blind man can fail to be impressed. REMEMBER, TO-DAY is your opportunity. At the present rate ten more days will close out this subdivision. You cannot afford to lose this opportunity. It means dollars to you. DOOR NOW THROWN OPEN TO IMPERIAL RECIPROCIETY

Continued From Page 1. The Daily Telegraph thinks it will be a long while before the statesmen of either the United States or Canada will propose another reciprocity conference. The Standard says it was tempting fate offered the Dominion and it would hardly have been strange had the electors succumbed to Washington's wooing. "That the effort to reduce them failed so disastrously," The Standard adds, "is eloquent evidence of Canada's pride of nationality and confidence in her own destiny." The Standard and most of the other English newspapers predict that it will not be long before the policy of imperial reciprocity is triumphant. JEWIS NOW CELEBRATING ADVENT OF NEW YEAR

It is 5672 by Their Calendar— Interesting Rites Make Occasion Notable. At twilight yesterday the new Jewish year of 5672 was ushered in by solemnly beautiful services in all the eight or ten synagogues of Toronto. All day long the Hebrew quarters of the city were restless with activity, in preparation for the advent of the New Year. Peace was made between neighbors, debts were paid, acquaintances greeted with unusual cordiality, and everything was done to promote good will entering upon the time when every Jew makes peace with his Maker. The New Year, or the Holy Day period, really lasts two days, from Friday evening to Sunday at sundown. Services will be held twice to-day in all the synagogues, the first commencing at about 8 o'clock in the morning and lasting two or three hours. Another follows in the evening, and the closing one is held early Sunday forenoon. These services are strangely impressive, being solemn and dignified. Every Jew makes a point of attending these services, and the deeply religious side of their life is strongly emphasized by the fidelity they display to their customs of worship and prayer. All work practically ceases in the "ward" during New Year's, and those who keep stores open are in such minority as to be greatly conspicuous. Beside the clearing up of old scores, and the entrance upon a new year with an attitude of good-will toward all, the Jews follow a custom of starting the children with a new outfit of clothes each. The boys appear resplendent in a new suit and boots, and the little girls are presented with a bright new dress that giddens their hearts. The older people pay quiet calls during New Year's, or else stay at home in devout thoughtfulness. The Holy Day is a time of solitary reflection and individual improvement. The younger generation spend the time between services in quiet amusement. A distinctive feature of the services is the blowing of the trumpet, or so be exact, the shofar. It is intended as a reminder of the services in the temple, and is also purposed to recall to the listener the voice of the divine. A curious custom of the extremely devout of the Jews is a semi-literal interpretation of the biblical passage referring to the casting of sins upon the deep. They stand on the water's edge at the layfront and repeat certain prayers. There is little action to this custom's practice, but the oddity of the proceedings always attracts a large crowd. Holy Day ushers in the period of the ten days' repentance, which culminates in the Day of Atonement. Use Gibbons' Toothache Gum— Price 10 Cents. Early Standards of Mendacity. Eve meditated. Dyspepsia Claims Many Lives
But John Mitchell's Life Was Saved by Morrissy's No. 11 Dyspepsia Cure.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 10, 1910.—“I had a very severe case of stomach trouble which caused me great pain, and a lot of distress. I tried several doctors, but could get no relief. I also tried about all the patent medicines that are recommended for stomach trouble, and still I was getting worse. In fact, I felt like dying, and had to stop work. My friends thought my days on earth were few, and I thought so myself. I had heard a great deal about the wonderful skill of Father Morrissy, and thought I would go and see him. He prescribed his No. 11 Dyspepsia Cure for me, and I soon became well as he directed, and soon began to feel relieved, and to-day I am a very well man. I have gained in weight, and have no pain. There is no doubt feeling first-rate. There is no doubt that he saved my life, and I only wish I could find words to express my gratitude. I hope all who suffer as I did will use his marvelous No. 11 Stomach Remedy.”

John H. Mitchell, “Cure-All” or so-called patent medicine. Dr. Morrissy prescribed it for me, and it cured thousands after other doctors failed.

GREAT WORK FOR EMPIRE SAYS PREMIER WHITNEY

'Twas Victory of the Great Masses of the People—Cabinet Ministers Jubilant.

There were no signs of boisterous jubilation at the parliament buildings yesterday as a result of the great conservative victory at the polls on Thursday, but a quiet, satisfied look was everywhere apparent, as if the expected, and nothing but the expected, had happened. Sir James Whitney was pleased. He is confident that the people of Canada took the right course, and that the country will go forward to far greater prosperity. Sir James' statement to the press was as follows: “Considering the possible results, which hung upon the decision of yesterday, in my opinion, no such good news was ever done in British America before, and having regard to its effect on the future of the empire, I do not think any one day's work in modern times in the old country ever signified so much. There will be no more pretence of pretended friends of British institutions to encourage policies which would surely lead to the disintegration of the empire. Serious consideration will be given for the first time to the editor of the great work done by him to further the gospel of reciprocity. “The most satisfactory feature of yesterday's landslide is the fact that the long roll of agricultural constitutions which gave reciprocity its death blow shows beyond the doubt that the Canadian farmer thinks for himself nowadays, and that he determined to leave no room for doubt as to his attitude.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS

AT THE ROYAL ALEXANDRA.

Lawrence O'Grady in “The Earl of Pawtucket.” The engagement of Lawrence O'Grady at the Royal Alexandra next week, when the distinguished English comedian will be seen in his greatest success, “The Earl of Pawtucket,” will be an especially welcome one, as Mr. O'Grady is very popular in Toronto. Not only has he an actor's power, but his delightful personality and charm of manner are well as his never failing humor are all elements which make the people of Toronto like O'Grady. The play is one of those rare comedies in which, after after wave of merriment sweeps over the audience, it is without doubt, and the critics are agreed on this, the best comedy suggested by Thomas ever wrote.

AT THE PRINCESSES.

Montgomery and Stone, the eccentric comedians, who have a stronger hold upon popular favor perhaps than any others in America, come to the Princess Theatre in an engagement of three nights, beginning Monday. They come under the direction of Mr. Charles Dillingham, and will present the comedy, “The Old Town,” in the preparation of “The Old Town.” Mr. Ade's libretto and lyrics were given musical setting by Gustav Luders, who wrote the tuneful score of “The Fair Co-Ed,” in which Elsie Janis appeared last season, and for “The Prince of Elisen” of pleasant memories.

“The Old Town” is said to be one of the characteristic stories and has to do with the fortunes of Henry Clay Baxter and Archibald Hawkins, two boys reared in a country village, who go forth with a peripatetic circus to seek adventure and fortune in the great world. They encounter all sorts of vicissitudes and are finally reduced to their extremities that they are obliged to do an entire circus performance themselves. To this happily devised emergency Fred A. Stone's protean abilities shine as they never shine before, even in “The Wizard of Oz” or in “The Red Mill.” Always a host in himself, the lanky and nimble Mr. Stone in “The Old Town” develops into a veritable legion of entertainers. He sings, he dances, he does funny falls, he performs upon the tight wire with the grace and agility of a Biondin. He does some very stunts upon a perpendicular rope, executes a bit of neat tumbling and ends up in the guise of a cowboy and a cowboy, and a cowboy and a cowboy that would put the star performer of Buffalo Bill's outfit to shame. Montgomery's talent for impersonation finds pleasant expression in his caricature of a Swedish emigrant woman and in a beautifully arranged Japanese ensemble number in which he does some very funny stunts of the same kind by the full strength of the company.

“The Old Town” is in two acts, one scene showing a wonderful vista of mountains and valleys, and the other depicting the elaborate surroundings of a millionaire cottager at St. Augustina, Fla. Being Charles Dillingham's production, the details of scenic investment and costumes are, of course, beautiful and in fastidiously good taste. “The Old Town” has had a tremendous success in New York where it ran the better part of last season at Mr. Dillingham's new Globe Theatre, and in Chicago, where it has recently run for a long and most successful run at Mr. Dillingham's Studebaker Theatre. The cast in support of Montgomery and Stone is practically the same as was approved by the critics during the seasons in New York and Chicago. Among the principal players are: Robert W. Smiley, Harry Driscoll, John Taylor, Lewis B. Farmer, G. H. Stewart and Irving Glick. Ernest Shipman, the manager, is a Toronto man.

Mme. Nazimova in New Play at the Princesses.

At the Princesses Thursday evening and for the balance of the week, Charles Frohman will present Mme. Nazimova, one of the really great actresses of the contemporary stage. In “The Old Man,” a new play by Algreen Boyesen. The scenes are laid in New York City. A talented young architect has fallen into the snare of infatuation that amounts to a disease—for a notorious woman has made him unfaithful to his wife. In the opening act of the play this horrible sin suddenly reaches the wife. Unlike Nora in “The Doll's House”—one of Mme. Nazimova's best known and greatest roles—this wife, staggering under the blow, finds forgiveness and pity in her heart for the sinner and strives to lift him from his degrading condition. The character of this woman—Mme. Nazimova will impersonate her—inspires the author of the play, and that women will understand her if they do not always approve her actions. The supporting cast includes Brandon Brumby, Malcolm Williams, Lucia Moore, all players of experience and on sale. Seats for the engagement go on Monday morning.

At the Star.

The show at the Star Theatre next week will be the well known and popular “New Century Girls.” The management has always given its patrons a good show, but this season has outdone all former efforts. All that time, money and long experience can do to produce a good first production, has been done to make “New Century Girls” the best show of the season. The costumes and scenery are far above the usual standard. A musical farce in two acts entitled “The Two Pikers,” written and produced by Tom McRae, is given by a company of well known burlesque artists. The chorus and ensemble are a pleasing surprise. There is an interesting plot, which develops during the action of the play. The dramatic and mechanical effects are seldom found with companies of this kind. An olio, which contains only well known and acts of recognized ability appear in this part, amongst which are The Famous Runaway Four, most talked of quartette on the road; The Three Musical Slaves, the present day musical act; and the dancing of Mabel Lydia Jospe, the little Nightingale, directed by her manager, and several other acts. The production has been a very successful one, and will be a great attraction, Rosalta, the European sensation, will appear at every performance.

AT THE GRAND.

“The Goose Girl,” dramatized from Harold MacGrath's well known novel by Geo. D. Baker, will have its first presentation in this city at the Grand Opera House for the week commencing Monday. The dramatization by Mr. Baker is said to be an excellent one, and has carefully followed the lines of the first and the last act, there are plenty of incidents to bring things to a climax. Frank Buck and her lover engage in many amusing tilts; the Goose Girl comes into wealth, the love between her and the visitor goes on as do the acts of romance which prevail. There are ten secret services is heard for its negligence and warfare of the residence of the King and premier of Jugendheit, hereditary enemies of Ehrenstein. In the end, Leo, the winter develops into the King of Jugendheit, the Goose Girl, the rightful princess, and the princess, an impostor thru no fault of her own, again becomes the princess.

AT SHEA'S.

The Famous Bell Family. At Shea's there is a great bill. The show is one of the best seen in many weeks. The headline act is the famous Bell Family, presenting the world's famous sensational musical act. There are ten people in the company, all gorgeously costumed, and the act has been going on in this country but a few weeks, it is one of the successes of the season. It is unique, and each member of the company is a well trained finished musician. The program is most pleasing and interesting. Joe Welch, the Hebrew comedian, has not been seen in vaudeville in many seasons. He was equally successful in comedy. He has an entire new line of material for his present vaudeville venture, and is all the more popular for it. He is always welcome to Toronto theatregoers. Miss Norton and Paul Nicholson are also old favorites, and it is many seasons since Sheaggers has been seen. They deserted vaudeville for musical comedy and made an enviable place for themselves in the new field. They are now appearing for a few weeks in the vaudeville houses, and their matter is snappy and up-to-date. Miss Norton has a charming personality, and Mr. Nicholson's impersonations and imitations are always a feature of his performance. Nellie Nicholas, the dainty singer, comedienne, comes with a new line of songs and trunks of Lyvo's costumes that will be the delight of the women patrons of the theatre next week.

AT THE GAYETY.

Bowman Brothers Show. The eternal feminine question will hold forth its complex plot and con at the Gayety Theatre next Monday night, and the many arguments put in favor, as well as the reverse, make it a screen from start to finish. No better subject could have been chosen by the librettists of the Bowman Brothers. The many pretty faces seen and heard pleading hard for women's rights, the catchy music enhancing their claims, and the magnificent scenic display, showing the ideal spot for the kingdom of femininity, “The Pacific Island,” are liable to create havoc in the political situation of this city, and may cause a suffragette movement for civic government.

De Pachmann's Play.

When de Pachmann plays a prelude of Chopin that he plays with the feeling of a man who is a musician, not a pianist, he is a musician. Under de Pachmann's virtuosic hands a miracle takes place; mystery comes about it like an atmosphere, an airy thrill traverses it, the terror and ecstasy of a beauty that is not in the world envelop it; we hear Chopin's great and beautiful music, crying outside, time and space. Is it Chopin's music? Or is it de Pachmann's? Could de Pachmann himself explain to us his own magic? He will appear at Massey Hall on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27, and perhaps the musicians who hear him will be able to explain what it is that makes his interpretation of Chopin so different from all others' pianists'.

TALKING REAL ESTATE NOW

A marked revival of interest in the real estate business was noticeable yesterday. After two months of dullness and small sales, affairs took a decided turn for the better. The disposal of talk of tariff changes was entirely responsible. The real estate market has suffered more, almost than any other business, from the unsettled state that was existent throughout the whole country. There have been few big sales; practically no transactions in factory sites, and but a fair turnover in small properties and vacant lands for several weeks now. It had been almost impossible, furthermore, to get principals to take up partially proceeded with reality deals, as everybody nearly was busily engaged in election work.

TALK OF GREAT VICTORY STILL HOVERS IN AIR

But Signs of Campaign in Toronto Are Fast Vanishing From View.

There was a most perceptible swagger to the good people of Toronto as they wended their way to work yesterday morning after reading the final score of the big battle.

There was no other topic of conversation other than how the election had resulted. The returns of the various ridings from one end of the country to the other were discussed eagerly.

The signs of strife were nearly all wiped away yesterday. The loudly proclaimed election cards have all but disappeared.

Some fierce strokes were added to the list of untenable by the closing up of committee rooms.

The political organizers are still doing business at the old stand, but the scene now is a period of quietness.

While plenty of money, much of it big odds, must have changed hands in Toronto, freak bets were rather scarce.

Consider the matter of color alone. Here is a brilliant green tiger-beetle of inland woods.

Another species is nearly white, for only a faint speckling of gray colors its body, and this, indeed, still further incorporates the body outline with the sand against which it rests.

That the theory of such protection and the mimicry of surroundings has been overcome no one can deny; but it is equally certain that a remarkable sympathy does exist widespread in nature between the color of a creature and its habitat.
