The Joys and Sorrows of a Poor Old Man.

OUR hero was born in Edinburgh, in the year 1828. Of his parentage little is known, except that his father was in some way connected with the army. He had no recollection of either his father or mother, for he seemed to have been turned out upon the world a bare headed and bare-footed boy. The first kind attention he recollected to have received from any human being was from a gentleman in Scotland, whose little son had fallen overboard from a skiff, and our hatless and shoeless boy had plunged into the water to save him. With this gentleman he had a home for several years. As he grew up, his thoughts turned to the business of life, to striking out for himself and earning a living. Being in a mining country he naturally took to that occupation.

But Thomas Briggs was born to be a leader, and he soon aspired to something other than the dismal life of an underground miner, although at this time he could neither read nor write. Without money, without teachers, and without books, he nevertheless set about the enterprise of learning to read and write. Noticing the tradesmen's signs upon shops and in shop windows, he soon learned the significance of letters and the meaning of words, and it was not long before he rejoiced in being both able to read and write.

He then became a contractor for sinking shafts to deep mines for various owners of properties in the mining districts. Being a hard-working, resolute man, he acquired a little property, and obtained a comfortable home. In the meantime he had married, and was soon blessed with a little family of children, which brought joy and happiness to his humble fireside. To provide for this increasing family he toiled continuously, and often in cold and stormy weather. Being a strong and robust man, he imagined that he could endure almost any hardship. In this he misjudged. Taking a severe cold, he returned home one night too ill to eat and too hot and feverish to sleep. His head felt as if it would burst. Although his devoted wife was alarmed, and wished to send for a doctor, he determined to brave the storm without

When people, together with reputable Chemists, who have taken a medicine and it has done them so much good that they are willing to have us print fac similes of their photographs, in order to convince other people suffering from disease, it is positive proof that the article (Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup) mentioned in this book is genuine, and has the merit claimed for it. (See testimonial from a prominent chemist on page 5). We have hundreds of testimonials from all parts of the world on file in our office, but we print only a few for want of space. A. J. DYSPEPSIA CURED AFTER TRYING SEVERAL DOCTORS.

Myrtle, Ont.
April 5th, 1887.

DEAR SIRS—
Three years ago I was attacked by Dyspepsia and Indigestion. I called in our family doctor and he tried the utmost of his skill to cure me, but failed to do so. I went to another very skilful physician in Whitby, and took his medicine for six months, but it failed to do me any good. While I was taking his medicine I was as bad as ever, and declining all the time. I left this doctor and tried another: he also failed to do me any good. By this time I was about discouraged, and a friend advised me to try the Homeopathic doctors, which I did—I went to the best in Toronto and told him all about my case. He seemed to understand my case and gave me Medicine to take home and use. If I had continued taking it I would not have lived long: its effects were such that I was compelled to give it up. I then commenced to take your Mother Seigel's Syrup and thanks to God, I have been getting better and can now work about as well as ever I could. I have been gaining flesh since I commenced to take it, and would not be without it if it cost me $2.00 a bottle.

Yours truly,
REUBEN HURLBUT.

SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS move the bowels with more ease than any others. They never gripe nor cause any pain. They act mildly, but thoroughly.

Toronto, Ont.

GENTS.—I have reason to speak well of your Syrup, as I suffered agony with indigestion and could find nothing to give me permanent relief till I used Seigel's Syrup. I will never cease to speak well of it.

Yours truly,
MRS. J. B. STOOD.

medical aid, and "wear out the disease," as he expressed it. For days he sat in his chair resting his aching head on his hand with his elbow on the table. In this, also, he made a sad mistake, for if he had taken a simple timely remedy, his pain and suffering might have been averted. Although he was shortly able to go out and resume business, still, he was not well. He would have frequent attacks of illness, and be confined to his house for days at a time, and these ill turns came on oftener and oftener. He soon began to have dizziness, or vertigo, so bad that he was often in danger of falling when rising up suddenly from his chair. His tongue became coated, and a disagreeable taste destroyed all inclination to eat, and even what food he took lay like a load on his stomach and made his breathing difficult.

We speak of the poor man's sufferings with the more minuteness in order to show the noble and generous character of the man, for it will be seen that in all his long years of physical suffering and mental distress, Thomas Briggs never faltered in his devotion to his family. At the solicitation of friends he called a physician, but either the medical men mistook the nature of his disease, or their medicines were not adapted to his complaint, for he continued to grow worse and worse. His bowels had now become so sluggish and costive that he seldom had a movement without the aid of physic. The blood was thick and stagnant. The stomach and liver had become wholly deranged. The kidneys, too, sympathised with the disease, for the secretions had become thick, scanty, and high coloured. His disease may have thus been called dyspepsia or indigestion, and every one knows how much suffering this dreadful disease entails. His appetite was gone, and what food he did eat distressed him. After eating there were disagreeable eructations, or belchings of wind, caused by the fermentation of the food in the stomach. Frequently he would throw up what food he ate soon after taking it, for his stomach was so much diseased that he could not retain it. But during all this distress and suffering he had never yet lost his patience and equanimity of mind, and was ever kind and affectionate to his family; his only anxiety seemed to be for their welfare.

But the little savings that he had laid by for his family were fast wasting away. A small inlet with a large outlet soon empties a reservoir so did the large expenditures with small earnings soon exhaust the capital of our noble friend.

Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup.—A wonderful family medicine, and especially adapted to females who are suffering from continual constipation. Ladies, if you suffer from that distressing complaint, do not hesitate to take Mother Seigel's Syrup. A well-known lady in London, who has suffered from constipation for years, told the writer a few days since that she had been using the Syrup for the past six months, and that an occasional dose keeps her system in perfect condition, and that she would not do without it if it cost $10 a bottle. The secret of it is this: Seigel's Syrup is Nature's remedy, being purely vegetable. It acts as a gentle laxative without the distressing effects of nauseous drugs. See testimonial, page 9.

DEAR SIR:—I could send you a great many testimonials where the parties have received great benefit from the use of Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have never heard of any other remedy equal to it for dyspepsia, it has performed some wonderful cures here. Money would not tempt me to be put back where I was when I began to take this medicine; if I had not got help, I would have been obliged to give up business, but the Seigel's Syrup has nearly cured me of dyspepsia. I would advise every one who is suffering from dyspepsia, to try Mother Seigel's Syrup.

SIRS,—I take great pleasure in informing you that I have been cured by your Seigel's Curative Syrup and Pills. I have suffered for three or four years with dyspepsia.

33 Murray St.

The remedies he was taking did him no good. He was fast wasting away. Sometimes he would have such a faint, "all-gone," distressed feeling at the pit of the stomach that he felt like giving up in despair, for neither food nor drink would relieve this feeling but for a short time, when it would return again to depress him still more. The state of his disease had now so weakened his mind that for the first time he began to be peevish, and almost fretful as a child, and even push his little children away from him as though he could not endure their playfulness, or even their caresses. His hands and feet had become cold and sticky. His flesh was wasting away, and the skin put on a dark, dirty appearance, so common in cases of stomach and liver diseases.

Finding that the medicines were doing him no good, he abandoned everything of the kind, having tried several medical men of eminence. He often said at a later period, if he could have found at the outset the remedy that finally effected his cure, he would have avoided years of distress and suffering. But disease, left alone, walks fast and always down hill. He stooped as he tottered about his house with a stick, and when he would try to straighten up and stand erect to ease his tender stomach, the weight of his clothes seemed to crush him down again, for his shoulders and chest were so tender and sore that he could not bear his clothes to touch him. His sides, shoulders, and back were now subject to constant pains. There was a sensation in the throat which caused a constant desire to clear it by hacking and spitting. His breath was offensive, and the taste in his mouth was nauseating. The whites of his eyes were tinged with yellow and his countenance was sallow. Friends and neighbours who saw him would say, "Poor Tommy Briggs will soon pass away." He was really dying by inches. Rheumatism and palpitation of the heart, that generally follow long cases of diseased liver and kidneys, were now almost constantly present, so that he could scarcely hobble across the room. His cough had become dreadful, with a greenish-coloured expectoration. His breathing had now become like that of an asthmatic. His money was now exhausted, and the little children were aiding their mother to supply the absolute wants by working in the mill, he being no longer able to perform even the light task some kind friends had provided him in the early days of his confinement to the house. We speak of this to show the sympathetic nature and noble magnanimity of the man, for it is a fact that should not be omitted that

GENTS,

I wish to assert here, that I believe Seigel's Syrup, Pills and Ointment to be the best remedies made, for they sell on their merits. Several parties attest to have been cured by the use of the medicines, and all those that have used them are greatly satisfied: Having tried the ointment myself for tetter and humors, it gave me a perfect relief. in this his dire extremity, with no money, with no strength to earn bread, and with the wolf of want staring in at the door, he gave a home to a poor fatherless and motherless boy, and let him share his scanty living, and to this day the little orphan boy has a home with the family, made comfortable by the surprising recovery and subsequent success of this noble man.

It is an old saying that it is always darkest just before day. It is a true saying as applied in the case of our friend. Reduced to absolute want in purse, and to a mere skeleton in body, his mind dejected, there appeared to be no room for hope.

One day some friend handed him a little book issued by an American in London, setting forth the virtues of certain plants and roots that grew in America, and which had been accidentally discovered by an old German nurse to be not only harmless, but a potent remedy for indigestion. The American was sending out the medicine on trial without the payment of any money. Mr. Briggs' eye rested on the following clause in the little book: "Being a stranger in a strange land, I do not wish the people to feel that I have the least disposition to take advantage of them. I feel that I have a remedy that will cure disease, and I have so much confidence in it that I authorise my agents to refund the money for the first bottle sold to a party in case no benefit is derived therefrom. I want no one's money unless they receive their money's worth. While I place such confidence in the people as to take their statements upon this subject, I hope they will not take advantage of my liberality in this respect."

After reading this, Briggs said, "Well, if this American is not a fool he certainly must have a good medicine, for no one but a fool or a crazy man would send out a poor medicine on such favourable terms without prepayment of money." At all events he determined to send for a package and see what it was like. Briggs wrote the American medicine man that he had no money, and no prospect of having any, and if the American had confidence to send out his medicine in such cases without money in advance, he ought at least to have confidence enough to give it a trial. He did so, and that act was the pivot on which all his fortunes turned, both in body and purse, as the reader will presently see.

He commenced taking the medicine in small doses, and in a few days a favourable change was apparent. His eyes looked brighter, and his countenance more cheerful, and the palpitation of his heart less distressing. Soon he had an inclination to eat something. Dreaming fancies that this or that thing would taste good would come over him as he fell into a calm sleep. In a week he could nibble a crust of bread with a relish, and what was more pleasing, it did not distress him as formerly. Neighbours who called to see him noticed the change, and Briggs would sell them a bottle of the medicine out of his little stock, and the profits on these bottles enabled him to provide some relishing food. The poor man had been a long time in reaching this low state of health, and it could not be expected that he would be restored to his former state of health in a moment; but improvement was gradual, although slow. In a few weeks he was able to go out for a little walk. When friends would congratulate him on his improved condition, the conversation would naturally turn to the medicine he was taking. People reasoned among themselves that if a medicine would produce such marked results in a case so desperate as that of Briggs, it must indeed possess merit. The consequence was, that people went to Briggs and bought the medicine for themselves, so that in a short time he established quite a business in selling Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup or Shaker Extract Roots; so much so, that he was enabled to provide the comforts for his family out of the profits on the medicine sold by him.

All this time he kept on taking the medicine, which was having a marvellous effect upon his system. His eyes and skin had resumed their natural colour. The cold clammy hands and feet were now warm, and the pain in the side and back had ceased. The secretions from the kidneys were fast resuming a natural colour and quantity. The bowels had become regular. Briggs now felt enthusiastic. He could walk all around the country, and was gaining flesh and strength very rapidly. Everywhere he went he sold the medicine, for his recovery was like a miracle. He felt that he had been snatched from the jaws of death. As fast as he would sell out one box he would send the pay for it, and get another, sometimes selling a box a week, for the medicine was gaining a wide and excellent reputation, because Briggs' case was not the only one that had now been relieved. It was effecting astonishing cures for miles around. Briggs after a time felt that he was entirely cured, for, like a well man, he was able to walk miles every day without fatigue and with a cheerful spirit, as in former times. Wherever he went he sold the medicine, for, knowing he himself had

When a party is bilious, has nausea and headache, one or two doses of SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS will effect an immediate cure.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S PILLS.—For females of all ages these Pills are invaluable, as a few doses of them carry off all humors, and bring about all that is required. No female should be without them. There is no medicine to be found to equal SEIGEL'S PILLS for removing any obstruction or irregularity of the system. If taken according to the directions given with each box, they will soon restore females of all ages to sound and and robust health.

SICK HEADACHE CURED.

Freeport, N.S.

June 1st, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

DEAR SIRS,—In repeating my order for one gross of Mother Seigel's Syrup, I beg to say that we find it an excellent family medicine, and freely recommend it to our friends to whom it never fails to give satisfaction. For sick headache and general lassitude it is a Sovereign remedy, and its effects are lasting. The only limitation to its sale, is its great curative power, those who use it for a time soon need it no more.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTS.—I introduced your medicines here over a year ago, and they have given universal satisfaction. The most stubborn cases of dyspepsia have yielded to their influence; in kidney diseases they have proved invaluable. I could send you a much longer testimonial, but I know your space is valuable.

Yours truly,

been rescued from death, he could recommend it with an eloquence that could not be resisted.

Briggs was then living in the little village of Shawforth, near Rochdale, and every prominent man in the place is cognizant of the facts herein related. He felt hopeful for the future, except from the fact that his sphere was too limited, and his means not equal to the grand enterprise which he felt sure was now open, if he only had capital or credit to avail himself of it. He determined, however, to make an effort to grasp it; so he wrote up to London and requested a credit of a hundred pounds. Although the American had been willing to trust poor people with small boxes of the medicine at a time, amounting to one or two pounds, he felt a little staggered to receive Briggs' request for one hundred pounds' worth on credit, especially when it was accompanied with the statement that he was not worth a penny in the world. Mr. White, the American alluded to, thought enough of the matter, however, to jump on the train and go and see his unknown customer, who had done such a properous business, who had been so "faithful in a few things," and moreover spoke in such glowing terms of the medicine.

Mr. White took Briggs quite un-awares, calling on him unexpectedly at his humble home in Shawforth. Briggs' eyes filled with tears on seeing Mr. White, and he began to apologise for the desolate appearance of his little house. A few remarks from Mr. White, however, put Briggs at ease, and he went all over his sad story of suffering and want, which was enough to melt a heart of stone. When he was describing the wonderful effects of the medicine his eloquence would have graced any public occasion. When, for the purpose of drawing him out, Mr. White suggested that perhaps he, being ignorant of medical science, might have been wrought upon through his imagination, and not by the medicine, Briggs burst out with an eloquence that was irresistible, saying, in substance: I admit I am not an educated man. I even learned to read by studying the letters on tradesmen's signs, but I can tell when I am pricked with a pin. It produces the same feeling in me as in a learned man, and I know what that feeling is. And furthermore, said he, I know when the aching stops, when relief comes, as well as the most profound man in the realm. The argument was conclusive that education is not necessary for realising a sense of pain.

The result of Mr. White's visit was in extending to Briggs the desired amount of credit, and who thereupon POSITIVE EVIDENCE.

Woodstock, N.B.

May 28th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTLEMEN,— It affords me great pleasure to inform you that Seigel's Syrup and Pills have given every satisfaction. I could quote numerous cases that are known to me, where great benefit has been derived from the use of Seigel's Syrup. A mechanic who had been unable to work at his trade for seven years, has been cured by the Syrup. Another man who had not enjoyed a day's health for years, after using two bottles of Curative Syrup says. "I feel like a new man; I can work as hard and eat as hearty as when young." A lady customer, says: "My Doctors' Bills have made a poor man of my husband; last winter they amounted to Seventy-five dollars. Two bottles of 'Syrup' have cured me." It would take up all the space in your book to give all the voluntary testimonials I constantly hear from my customers. When one has customers who repeatedly assert that they would not sell a bottle of the Syrup for Twenty Dollars, if they could not replace it, I think it conclusive evidence of its merit and value.

Yours very truly,

J. W. DALLING.

When the Shakers put their name on an article you can rely upon it.

A coated tongue with a brackish taste is caused by foul matter in the stomach. A few doses of SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS will cleanse the stomach, remove the bad taste, and restore the appetite, and with it bring good health. SEIGEL'S SOOTHING OINTMENT will remove pain in the side and back.

moved his family to the neighbouring village of Bacup, where were better business facilities, and entered upon a new career. In this enterprise he was entirely successful, extending his trade largely through the northern part of England, and he finally developed such good business talent, and inspired such a confidence, that when Mr. White required a man to visit Australia to introduce Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup (the name of the medicine in question), Briggs was taken in preference to all other applicants. Mr. White has never had occasion to regret the choice, except he fears that the hot climate of Australia may have had an influence in terminating his faithful agent's life, as he died of apoplexy after an absence of two years. Mr. White feels that he owes much of his prosperity to this noble specimen of the labouring class in Great Britain. It is but just to Briggs' memory to state that his efforts in Australia alone created a business of upwards of £6,000 a year.

The case of Thomas Briggs does not stand alone. In the village of Pontnewynydd, near Pontypool, Monmouthshire, Wales, James Francis Thomas, aged 23, collier, lives with his widowed mother. His experience with MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP was so remarkable that the principal chemist of that place called Mr. White's attention to it by letter, giving therein such particulars as the young man and his mother had given him, believing it a case so extraordinary that Mr. White should be advised of it, that he might institute a special inquiry into its truth, should he deem the matter important to himself or to others who might be suffering the agonies of a like disease. To this end Mr. White sent a special agent from London to thoroughly investigate the case and report the actual facts. He first called on the chemist, whom he found an eminent citizen and a careful business man, not easily impressed by the enthusiasm of others, even though it might be about the merits of the goods in which he dealt. The chemist sent one of his assistants to conduct the agent to the house of the widow Thomas and her son, about a mile distant from his chemist's shop. Fortunately both were in at the moment of calling, and though in humble life and surroundings, they were more than ordinarily bright persons. The young man sat and respectfully listened to the narrative of his mother, whom he seemed to regard with tender affection as the being who had not only given him existence, but still watched over him with the same solicitude as when he lay in the cradle, confirming all she related with expres-

DYSPEPSIA AND IMPURE BLOOD

Severn Bridge, Ont.
June, 3rd 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTLEMEN,—Your medicine, Mother Seigel's Syrup, has acted like magic in this neighbourhood. Out of a long list of medicines I have in Stock, none sell so well or with such good results as Seigel's Syrup. Having suffered for years with dyspepsia and impurities of the blood, I have tried many remedies, but none as effectual as Seigel's Syrup and Pills. To reliable parties I gladly give the medicine on trial, believing it to be a magic working remedy, and one worthy of a far wider use.

Yours truly,

W. H. MILLER.

PAIN IN THE BACK CURED.

Ship Harbour, N.S.
May 9th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTS.—Last fall I had a severe attack of pains in the back and hips, and was in constant pain. After using the Syrup and ointment for two weeks I was able to move about as well as ever. I have not had another attack since. It is also the best medicine for the stomach I have ever taken, and the pills cannot be excelled.

Yours truly,

BENJAMIN KEATING.

sive emphasis, and only correcting her in the unimportant matter of dates.

They had lived in that village about eighteen years. Her son, she said, had been as healthy and had grown up like other children of the village, and had been to school and had learned as well as others, and would not to-day turn his hand to any of them for reading and writing. But there were other children, and the ambition of the boy and the family necessities hastened him too early into the coal mines, the principal industry of the neighbourhood. A few years of hard labour in the damp and gloomy underground resulted, as one might naturally expect, in physically prostrating her good and faithful boy. First asthma developed itself (the result of indigestion, as the sequel will show), under which he suffered nine years, during which time he could never lie in bed, but slept in a stooping or reclining posture in an arm-chair. After several years labouring under his asthmatic burden, rheumatism was added to his sufferings, and for three years he was confined to the house. Every joint in succession became inflamed and swollen, his blood watery, and his skin transparent. He was treated during the three years by many physicians in succession. Besides asthma and rheumatism, which were apparent enough to anybody, they finally declared that he had heart disease of a chronic nature, and beyond all power to cure. Thus, given up by the doctors, all hope, except the final spark of a mother's for her child, seems to have gone out like a candle. One evening, after some young friends had made a call upon her poor boy, and he had lapsed into a little doze in his chair, she sought a little mental diversion and change of her thoughts in the evening paper. Singularly, her eye rested for a moment on an advertisement of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. "James," she said, prophetically, "I have found a medicine that will cure you. But, my boy, how shall I get a bottle, I have not a penny by me at present?" "Mother," said the young man, "you never did fail yet and I know you will find some way to get it." James, just before he had become confined to the house, had got him a new pair of trousers, but had never worn them. "I took them," said Mrs. Thomas, "to the sign of the 'three balls,' and pledged them for enough to get one bottle of the medicine, and returned home with it. After taking half a bottle he could lie in bed, and in a few weeks," said she, "that boy was out of doors, the swelling had left his joints, the pain and tenderness had left his limbs and flesh, and he could breathe as well as anybody." Two bottles of the syrup in a few weeks had accomplished all this; so they both say, and religiously believe. The young man said, that after a few weeks he felt he was able and must return to work and begin once more to help his mother, and when he presented himself at the mouth of the pit after an absence of more than three years, the old miners said in friendly astonishment, "Good gracious! Jimmy, have you come back?" For many months now has this young man been working as before. "And," said he, "I not only do the ordinary day's work but I make fifteen shillings a week on over-work."

Mrs. Thomas, notwithstanding the cares and sorrows of her life, has a bit of fine humour still left in her nature, and her imitation of one of the old doctors, who had given over her son two years before, when one day he passed her door and inquired if her son was still living, is rich. "O yes," she replied, "he is at work as formerly." "At work! what cured him?" said the doctor, with medical curiosity. "Mother Seigel's Syrup," said Mrs. T. "Good day, ma'am," said the doctor.

The agent said to Mrs. T. that Mr. White desired only the real and exact truth in the case, and asked both her and her son if it was not possible that their iraaginations had been wrought upon in favour of the Seigel Syrup when in fact his wonderful recovery was due to some other cause. Mrs. T.'s eyes sparkled when she said, "We have given you the real facts, and if you think it was not Mother Seigel, what was it? I know many others about here who have been cured by it."

These two cases of Thomas Briggs and James Thomas were the result of aggravated indigestion. Although they both had asthma, rheumatism, and what was called heart disease, they really had dyspepsia, and these dreadful complaints were nothing but symptoms of the real disease. The country is filled with those who are suffering with various diseases that have their origin in the digestive organs, and which would be relieved by the use of Seigel's Syrup in the same way that these people were.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

DEAR SIRS,—Having suffered for years from liver complaint, indigestion, and dyspepsia, I was induced by your Agent to try Mother Seigel's Syrup; when I had taken one bottle, I felt much improved, and continued with the second bottle which has done me a wonderful amount of good. I believe it a wonderful medicine for the system, and recommend it to all who are afflicted.

BAD CASES OF DYSPEPSIA CURED.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTS.—I have met with four bad cases of Dyspepsia, and from three to six bottles of Mother Seigel's Syrup completely cured them.

Some of my customers will not be without a bottle in the house, as it never fails to assist digestion when the gastric juices fail in their functions. I have known Mother Seigel's Syrup during 12 years, and it is with every confidence I recommend it to humanity.

Yours very truly,

INDIGESTION AND STOMACH COMPLAINTS.

Montreal, Que.

May 17th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

DEAR SIR:—It gives me great satisfaction to state that I have derived great benefit from your Mother Seigel's Syrup and Pills, and I can recommend them to all suffering from indigestion and stomach complaints.

Truly yours,

THOMAS HENRY.

DISEASES of the LIVER.

A person in health does not know he has such a thing as a liver, but when the system gives way to the ravages of disease he is made sensible that he really has a liver. After one has spent a couple of years in India he knows there is a liver, generally to his sorrow, for this organ is the mainspring of the human organization. When the liver becomes disordered and diseased, the person so afflicted is indeed miserable. He suffers with dull pains in the side, bad taste in the mouth, spots before the eyes, flushes of heat, irregularity of the bowels, piles, coated tongue, disordered stomach, heartburn, costiveness, and pain in the head. He frequently has a dry cough, high-coloured urine, yellow skin, and dull sleepy sensations, rendering him unfit for business or for employment. The hands and feet are cold, circulation of the blood sluggish; the patient suffers with vertigo, ringing in the ears, loss of appetite, nausea and sick headache, heartburn, dry scaly skin, etc.

Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup acts moderately upon the bowels, so as to produce two or three easy passages a day, without any purging or griping. It does not leave constipation, as most of the ordinary blood purifiers in use do, but produces harmony in every part of the system. The liver is invigorated to secrete healthy bile and to filter impurities from the blood by the use of this wonderful regulator and invigorator and all the disagreeable and painful sensations above mentioned are one by one removed as the blood is cleansed and renewed. The skin loses its sallow appearance, and the bloom of health and beauty takes the place of the haggard sallow hue of disease. A dose of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup or Shaker Extract of Roots, taken at night on going to bed, will, in a short time, give evidence of its purifying and cleansing properties by the brilliancy of the eye, the bloom of the complexion, and the vigour of the whole body. A few doses of Seigel's Operating Pills will aid in effecting a cure.

RHEUMATISM.

Never before has there existed a remedy as unfailingly successful in rheumatic affections as Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. It lubricates the joints, promotes the secretions of the fluids necessary to remove the stiffness of the muscles, removes hardened deposits in the joints, greases the machinery of Nature and makes it move easily. One or two bottles of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup will do more than a SIRS.—I had tried several great doctors from Lowell, Mass., U.S.A., and Quebec, Canada, but no one could do me any good, so I began to take Mother Seigel's Syrup and Pills. After having taken 4 bottles of Syrup and 1 box of Pills I felt entirely cured. I heartily recommend the use of your medicine to all those that are afflicted with these diseases.

OLIVIER ROUSSEAU.

RHEUMATISM OF LONG STANDING CURED.

Adderly, Que.

DEAR SIR:—Owing to the wonderful cures it has made, I have a great demand for your Seigel's Syrup, and which is still growing. As instances of its high character and value, I may mention that it was in my case of the greatest value, having cured me of Indigestion and Rheumatism of the chest of long standing, and in fact at a time when I had tried several professional men, but without good result. I may also add that many of my customers speak in the highest praise of the value of your medicine, having cured them of long standing ailments; in fact in two instances, nothing can be said in too high praise of its curative properties, it having cured two of my neighbours of the same complaint I was suffering from, but in a much more acute form than my own. They also wish me to say that if it will do any good, I am at perfect liberty to use their names, especially so, that if in so doing it will cause a wider circulation to use these words; it cannot be in too many households. Another striking instance of its value, is that only a short time ago one of my customers drove over to my place, a distance of 25 miles, for the special purpose of procuring a supply of your valuable medicine for the use of his wife, who had been a great sufferer from the same ailments previously referred to, and only found relief when she was recommended and tried your most invaluable medicine.

Yours truly,

EDWARD IVES, P.M.

SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS, unlike many kinds of cathartic medicines, do not make you feel worse before you feel better. Their operation is gentle, but thorough, and unattended with disagreeable effects, such as nausea, griping pains, etc., etc. Price 25 cents per box.

hogshead of limiments, for it carries out of the circulation the acrid humours in the blood, upon which rheumatism depends, and removes inflammation, soreness and stiffness of the muscles. A short trial will convince the most discouraged that it is all that is claimed for it.

The Bowels and their Functions.

The bowels, in a healthy state, carry off all useless matter which can be carried off in solid form. Sometimes the main channel becomes choked up by slime on the coating of the intestines, which gives rise to constipation and irregularity of the bowels. If the bile is not thrown out from the liver in sufficient quantities, the bowels become costive and the membranes of the bowels become weak and irritated. When much irritation exists, diarrhoea ensues, because the bowels have not the strength to do what is required of them. Inflammation follows; the fundamental cause of this irregularity is indigestion. The effect of this constipation is something awful to contemplate. The foul gas that arises from the faecal matter becomes absorbed into the system, and acts as a slow but deadly poison. We all know the injurious effects of when taken into the system, and we expend money and skill to so adjust the plumbing of our houses as to shut the poisonous gas out. We have carts going about the city pouring disinfectants into the sewers, so as to obviate the poisonous influence of this terrible pest, but we allow this same gas to be generated within our own systems.

If by constipated bowels we permit the formation of this sewer gas within the system (for this is what it really is), we expose ourselves to a slow but deadly poison. We should make use of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and remove the constipation, and with it the danger.

SICK HEADACHE.

There are few persons who, at times, are not more or less liable to sick headache. Moderate and occasional use of Mother Seigel's Syrup is a sure preventive, as thousands who have tried it are willing to testify.

How Happy Many People would be if they did not have Stomachs.

They imagine if they had no stomach they would be free from pain and distress after eating; free from headache,

A. J. WHITE Limited.

I have sold your medicines very successfully among my friends near home, and at a distance, some persons have taken it that could not keep corn starch gruel on their stomach without vomiting it up, and in a week they could eat anything, their appetite craved, and in two weeks they could eat any hearty food without any distress whatever. And numbers have told me that have come quite a distance to buy it, that they could not do without it, and I have also sold it for other things besides dyspepsia, some use it for coughs, and liver troubles and jaundice. What I have told you is correct, and what has come under my own observation with a girl that stated to me she had dyspepsia so bad that she could not keep the choicest corn starch gruel on her stomach, and in less than two weeks she could eat any kind of hearty food, and numbers have told me the same.

Respectfully yours,

MRS. BYRON HINES.

Liver Complaint & Dyspepsia Cured

Bridgetown, N.S.

May 21st, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTS,—I have been troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia for a long time, and have tried different kinds of medicines, and did not help me, and looking over one of your Almanacks, I find that Mother Seigel's Syrup, for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, so I sent at once to your Agent, and have taken several bottles, and has done me a great deal of good, which I recommend to all that are dyspeptic, and are troubled with liver complaint.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK D. HILL.

dizziness, &c. But this only happens when the stomach is diseased, when digestion is impaired. A good stomach gives a good deal of pleasure and helps to endure the labour of life, for it is through the stomach that we obtain all our strength and vigour.

When the stomach is too weak to properly digest the food, the person so diseased is sorely afflicted. Dyspepsia shows itself in very many disagreeable forms, but more frequently in distress in the stomach after eating, sourness of the stomach, beating and trembling of the stomach and sides, a sense of fulness, headache, dizziness, bad breath, loss of appetite, difficulty in breathing, restlessness, nervousness, and loss of strength.

The food remains in the stomach until it becomes corrupt, which poisons the blood and produces the most painful and distressing feelings.

The stomach loses its tone, becomes inflamed and filled with slime and mucus. This produces giddiness, sick headache, choking up of the circulation, and pressure upon the brain. Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup cleanses out the corrupt and noxious matter from the stomach, and strengthens the stomach to dissolve and digest the food, increases the flow and strength of the gastric juice, and produces harmonious action between the stomach, liver, and intestines. All the organs work in concert—no jarring, no over-taxation of one organ above another, which always damages the nervous system and works havoc and decay.

Strength to the stomach, invigoration of the liver, and tone to the bowels must necessarily follow the use of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. Mother Seigel assured me, when I was at her home near Berlin, that a few packages of the Syrup had cured cases of indigestion of twenty years' standing which had baffled the efforts of the best medical talent in Berlin. It corrects acidity, and promotes a flow of healthy gastric juice, which dissolves the food and carries it out of the stomach at a proper time.

FEVER AND INFLAMMATION.

When there are free evacuations each day by the water passages, by the bowels, and by the sweat of the body, and all the corrupt and useless matters are carried off, there can exist no inflammation or feverish symptom.

Dyspepsia is the cause of these derangements. When these diseased particles are retained, they poison the blood, which shows itself in various forms. When good and bad blood are struggling to get the better of each other, the irritation produced gives rise to fever and inflammation. How necessary, then, to keep every outlet of the body free and open, that no clogging of impure blood can exist! By attending to these passages of evacuation, persons can live to old age without one feverish symptom; and when bruised or cut by accident the wound will immediately heal, without inflammation, if the blood be kept in a pure and uncorrupted state by occasional use of this strengthening, cleansing, and invigorating Syrup.

Yours truly,

J. G. TRAHAN.

WORMS

are produced by corrupted matter in the system, which breeds these uncomfortable companions. Clear out these scavengers by the use of the Syrup, which so paralyses them that they cannot cling to the sides of the bowels, and when the corrupted matter is passed off by the use of the Syrup they must go with it. They and their nests are effectually destroyed and passed off.

Mothers should give their children occasional doses of the Syrup, that worms may not breed in corrupt substances of the body.

Foul matter breeds worms; cleanse the system of impurities. Worms cannot breed in healthy substances, for they grow and thrive on the filth and corruption.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup has given health and spirits to thousands of females. The hollow cheek, the sunken eye, the sallow countenance, the dark circles underneath the eyes, all are indicative of weakness of the female organs of generation, which are speedily overcome by the use of Mother Seigel's Syrup.

During pregnancy the Syrup can be taken with perfect safety in 10 to 15 drop doses instantly after eating. If the bowels should be costive, an occasional dose of the Seigel's Operating Pills will give great relief. Care should be used so as not to produce violent purging.

Its use removes obstructions, brings the hue of health to the countenance, and should be used by females suffering from the various diseases to which the sex is subject, such as leucorrhoea, or whites, falling of the womb, bearing down sensations, &c. Two or three bottles of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup will bring the flush of health to the cheek and vivacity and elasticity to the system. Flagging spirits are restored, and new life and vigour take the place of the loss of energy, sickness, and decay.

CONSTIPATION.

A very prevailing complaint, and one that causes a vast deal of suffering. The cause is a torpid liver. The liver is the largest gland in the body, secreting the bile, the natural physic, and when this gland becomes torpid and inactive, the bowels become sluggish and constipated. The effects of constipation upon the system are serious; when the collected fecal matter collects in the lower part of the bowels, it produces an unnatural pressure upon the blood-vessels of the parts, causing that painful malady known as piles, but as a rule, when this matter is removed, the piles disappear. This collection of fecal matter, however, causes several other serious troubles. This foul matter becomes re-absorbed into the system, poisoning the blood, and when the poison reaches the brain, there is congestion, which may vary from simple headache to the most violent brain disease. The impure blood, while circulating through the lungs, causes the breathing to be laboured, without affording relief as usual, and the breath becomes disagreeable, leaving a nasty taste in the mouth. Too close attention cannot be paid to the regularity of the evacuations from the bowels. Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup will be found especially adapted in such cases, for it gives the most satisfactory results.

GRAVEL, STONE, AND OTHER URINARY DIFFICULTIES.

When the body is in a healthy state, the various salts of the body are carried off by the water passages; but when there is a weakness in the urinary organs these particles do not pass off, but lodge in the bladder, kidneys, and urethra, and keep growing in size by continued fresh adhesions until they sometimes form substances varying in size from that of a bean or pea to that of an egg.

Persons with gravel frequently pass some portions of it in their urine, but the main part of the sandy substance remains, and gives rise to inflammation, pain, heat and intense suffering in making water. The accumulation of sand covers up the water passage, and the most intense misery follows. When the bladder is full, it must be emptied; but frequently the gravelly substance so clogs up the mouth of the water passage that an instrument has to be used to push back the gravel and let the water off.

Language fails to describe the agonies of persons afflicted with stone and gravel.

Pain in the small of the back, hips and thighs; heat and inflammation; desire to make water, but cannot do so;

A SHATTERED CONSTITUTION BUILT UP.

May 11th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTS.—I had a fit of sickness last fall, from which I did not fully recover, in fact through the winter. I felt completely run down; my nerves were weak, I had no appetite; after trying several remedies, I tried Mother Seigel's Syrup; to my great surprise, the first dose helped me, I have taken half of one bottle and feel better now than I have for years past and can do a good day's work, and not feel any great weariness; in fact there cannot be too much said in favor of Mother Seigel's Syrup, it is the cheapest medicine that I know of, and the best.

I am, yours truly,

MRS. J. Y. STEACY.

Oftentimes disease or partially decayed food causes sickness, nausea and diarrhoea. If the bowels are cleansed from this impurity with a dose of MOTHER SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS, these disagreeable effects will vanish, and good health will result.

KIDNEY DISEASE THOROUGHLY CURED.

Fawkham, Ont.

May 9th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

DEAR SIR.—I write to thank you for your wonderful preparations, Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup and Pills, which I obtained from your agent in this place (Mr. W. Carrick) I was suffering with severe kidney disease, also dyspepsia in its worst form. I was affected continually with headache and dizziness, also indigestion; having used somany different medicines, I lost faith in them. However I was persuaded to try a bottle of Seigel's Syrup and a box of Pills, and before I finished the first bottle I felt like a new man, I took the second and feel as good as I possibly could. I would recommend it to every one as an unfailing family remedy, that should be in every house.

Yours very truly,

GEO. CUNNINGHAM.

A CASE OF DYSPEPSIA & HEART TROUBLE CURED, WHERE PHYSICIANS COULD NOT EVEN GIVE RELIEF.

Aylesford, N. S.

December 15th, 1886.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

GENTS :—I have been suffering from dyspepsia and heart disease for several years, getting no relief from physicians or any proprietary medicines, until last spring when hearing of the curative properties of Seigel's Syrup, I procured a bottle, and so great was the effect in a short time, that my health was entirely changed for the better, being able to do my work without difficulty from the heart trouble, and to eat my meals without distress from indigestion. I did not think it to be in the power of man, to have prepared a medicine so excellent in its effects, and would not have supposed that anything short of a special Providence would have given me such relief, making me entirely a new man, with apparently a new lease of life.

Yours truly,

JOSEPH SPINNEY, SR.

and burning, smarting, indescribable agonies which render life a burden and death courted. Sometimes the particles of gravel are so sharp and cutting that they tear the sides of the urinary passages, and then blood will come in quantities from them. Sometimes the bladder and kidneys are filled with slime and cannot perform their duty. The water passages should always be kept free and open. When there is the least disposition to an accumulation of gravel it should be immediately dissolved and made to pass off by its proper channel. Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup cleanses the kidneys and bladder and water passages from slime, and gives strength to the organs requiring sufficient power of endurance to perform all the labours required of them in carrying off the watery portions of the food, after all the nourishment it contained has entered into the blood, and gone to repair the daily waste of the system.

DISEASES OF THE SKIN.

All diseases of the skin are blood diseases, for when the blood is pure the skin must be free from all unhealthy eruptions, and, as we have stated, all impurity of the blood is caused by Indigestion. Pimples on the face or body, erysipelas, salt rheum, ulcers, sores, boils, carbuncles, and every disease which shows itself upon the surface of the skin are caused by bad blood. Scabs in the hair, sore eyes, running from the ears, etc., are caused by vile humours in the blood, which can be speedily exterminated by Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup.

The skin of Old Mother Seigel was marvellously white and pure and smooth and although sixty-five years of age, she told me she attributed the ivory-like and elastic whiteness of her skin to the occasional use of the Syrup. The coarsest skin can be made soft and beautiful by the use of the purifying Seigel's Syrup. Rashes, festers, flesh worms, pimples, liver spots, blackheads, and all unhealthy appearances of the skin must yield to this great cleanser and brightener of the skin; for if the blood be pure the skin will be pure.

TREATED FOR THE WRONG COMPLAINT.

It is at all times hard to lose one whom we hold dear, but it is terribly so when we have the consciousness that but for mistaken treatment the loved one might have been with us still. In some cases the fact that the sufferer is treated for the wrong complaint is known in sufficient time to admit of the patient being saved, and the following is a case in point:

MOTHER SEIGEL'S CURATIVE SYRUP COMPELLED HIM TO CHANGE HIS OPINION.

Madford, Man.

May 15th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

SIRS,—I have been one of those that do not believe in Patent medicines, nor did I ever allow my name to be seen in print, in such testimonials as some have, and still I always thought that they were only put forward for advertisement to sell such medicine. Well to be faithful and to do my duty, I feel that I would do anything for my suffering neighbours, and therefore, I introduced Seigel's Syrup, and may say that I have been in business in Manitoba for over seven years and I have always sold more of Seigel's Syrup than any other medicine, and more of Seigel's Syrup than all the rest put together; it is all that I represent a true and honest medicine. For all the dozens I have sold, I may say that I am selling more at the present time than ever I did; the medicine will sell on its own merits.

Believe me,

Yours truly,

GENTLEMEN,—Your medicine has done more for me than any doctor ever did, and I would not be without it.

SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS prevent fevers and all kinds of sickness, by removing all poisonous matter from the bowels. They operate briskly, yet mildly, without any pain.

A little more than two years ago a beautiful young lady in New York was given up to die of consumption. Her fond parents took her to Paris as a last resource, hoping to find some skilful physician there capable of arresting the rapid strides of the supposed dreadful disease. In this their hopes were blighted, but fortunately away in that distant foreign city they met with a description of a new method of treating Dyspepsia, which emanated from the discovery of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. The thought struck the parents of this helpless young girl that perhaps their daughter was afflicted with Indigestion or Dyspepsia, and not consumption; and if so, there might be a chance of her recovery.

Some of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup was obtained and administered to the patient, and the result was marvellous. To-day their daughter lives in the enjoyment of good health.

The fact was, the patient had been treated for the wrong complaint, and when she was treated for Dyspepsia (her real ailment), all the alarming symptoms of consumption vanished. This is not an isolated case. The country is full of suffering thousands that are being treated for Liver Complaint, Malaria, Kidney Disease, Lung Disorders, etc., etc., when the fact is they are afflicted with Indigestion in some of its varied forms, and all of such sufferers would obtain relief if they were properly treated for Dyspepsia.

SEIGEL'S OINTMENT.

For Burns, Scalds, and all Inflammations, Piles, Chilblains, &c.

Every family requires some kind of Ointment to be kept in the house, to be used in cases of Burns, Scalds, Sores, Bruises, etc. For this reason we have made SEIGEL'S OINTMENT, which will be found invaluable in such cases.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

For Blisters, Burns, and Scalds.—Spread a small quantity of Seigel's Ointment on fine linen cloth, and apply to the part, so as to exclude the air; renew the application daily.

For Sprains.—Shower with cold water every day, and apply a piece of linen spread with the Ointment twice or three times a day.

For Sore Eyes.—Rub the Ointment on the eyelids once or twice a day.

For Boils and Swellings.—Rub the Ointment on the affected parts several times a day.

For Piles.—Wash in cold water every day, and apply the Ointment twice or three times a day.

For Inflammation.—Apply a piece of linen spread with the Ointment several times a day.

Rheumatism.—While waiting for the effect of Seigel's Syrup to operate upon the blood, the pain may be temporarily relieved by rubbing the part with the Ointment.

STOMACH AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

Chatham, N.B.

May 30th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited,

GENTLEMEN,— I herewith enclose to you a few statements from parties who have used your Seigel's Syrup and Pills, of which I could get dozens. I have sold about 20 dozen Syrup and Pills the last year past, and must say that all those who tried the Syrup and Pills, all say it is the best medicine they have ever tried, for the various diseases for which it is recommended. I have also used the Syrup and Pills myself for dyspepsia of long standing, and find it the best remedy for derangements of the Stomach and Liver, for which I have tried many other medicines, without the desired effect. I can send you many more testimonials if you require them.

Yours very truly,

ALEXANDER McDONALD.

May 30th, 1887.

A. J. WHITE, Limited.

DEAR SIR:—Having been troubled with dyspepsia and disorder of the stomach and bowels of the worst kind, I was advised by a friend to try Seigel's Syrup and Pills, who had used them himself and was cured by using two bottles of Syrup and two boxes of Pills, sold here by Mr. Alexander McDonald, your agent, so I tried the Syrup and Pills, and must say that they are the best medicines I have used. After trying various other remedies and prescriptions, without, I might say, any benefit, your Syrup and Pills have done wonders for me.

GENTLEMEN,—Having been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia, for about two years, so much so, that scarcely any food would agree with me or digest, I was in great distress and pain all the time. Being advised by Mr. Alexander McDonald, your agent here, to try Seigel's Syrup and Pills, sold by him, I procured a bottle of Syrup and a box of Pills and used them according to directions, and was so astonished at the sudden change, and great effect it had in restoring me to health, that I bought another bottle and box, which has cured me completely and have recommended it to many others.

Yours with best wishes of success.

SEIGEL'S OPERATING PILLS (SUGAR COATED)

Cure Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after Eating, Pain in the Side, etc., while their most remarkable success has been shown in curing Sick Headache, yet SEIGEL'S PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels.

Even if they only cured Headache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these Pills valuable in so many ways, that they will not be willing to do without them.

But after all Sick Headache is the bane of so many lives, that here it is where we make our great boast. These Pills cure it, while others do not.

SEIGEL'S PILLS are very small and very easy to take. Two to four Pills at bedtime make a dose. They are strictly vegetable, and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

General Directions for taking Mother Seigel's Syrup.

DOSE—FIFTEEN TO THIRTY DROPS, two or three times a day, in a wine glass of water immediately after eating.

The quantity may be regulated by the patient, who will bear in mind that sufficient needs to be taken to operate on the bowels two or three times each day. The blood will thus be purified, the sweat-glands of the skin will be opened, and the flesh made soft and healthy as an infant's. The kidneys and liver will do their duty, and all humours of the blood will be driven out of the system, and the body purified and restored to a sound and healthy condition. The medicine must be taken instantly after eating, so that it will become mixed with the food while in the stomach.

Commence by taking ten or fifteen drops three times a day instantly after eating, in a little cold sweetened water. It is best not to take the Syrup on an empty stomach. If this does not give relief, increase the dose to thirty drops, always to be taken instantly after eating, so that the Syrup may become mixed with the food while being digested. It is essential that the bowels be made to move freely every day, and if the above doses of Syrup be not sufficient to effect this, take one to four of Mother Seigel's Operating Pills at bedtime. It is better to take the Pills than to increase the dose of the Syrup.

Mother Seigel's Syrup is put up in a highly concentrated form, the full dose being thirty drops (half a teaspoonful), and contains sixty average doses, being about ONE CENT. PER DOSE.
