MAINTENANCE OF NAVY MUST BE THE FIRST CONSIDERATION

Addressing Newspaper Men Foreign Secretary Grey Spoke Seriously on the Necessity of Large Expenditures—Statenlike Speech

LONDON, June 8.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna First Lord of the Admiralty. Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject". He called attention to the serious tone taken by Lord Rosebery in his recent speech to the newspaper men, and said he entered every word of his address. Continuing Mr. Edward summed up the policy of the British government as follows: "To keep what we have got; to consolidate and develop and to quarrel as little as possible with other powers and to uphold in the councils of the world the ideals of Great Britain. With so much at stake the maintenance of the navy must be the first consideration not only for the home government but for all the self-governing dominions of the empire."

No one was injured seriously. This town with its population of 4,000 people, awoke today to a situation as trying as could be presented to one of its size. Like other prosperous towns in Aroostook County the citizens were fairly well protected by insurance and there is said to be no question but what the destroyed buildings will be replaced speedily. Although there were several accidents of minor nature and a number of men were exhausted from their efforts in fighting the fire, no one was fatally hurt. Assistance from Fort Fairfield, Caribou and Houlton and a favorable wind saved the town from more extensive damage.

Canadian federal ministers have gone to England to discuss plans for a navy. Means a lot of money, doesn't it? But it means very little to discuss plans for holiday gifts if the purchases are to be made from Walter H. Irving, the Jeweler, 85 King street. All new ideas, all goods at bottom prices.

Nothing so appeals to the modern player as a good western drama. Such a play is "Out in Idaho," to be presented by N. B. Evans Company at the Opera House tonight. The company is headed by that most bewitching little actress, Dorothy Kury, who is supported by a company far above the average.

Time was when John Clarkson and Mike Kelly sold for $1000 and the public gasped. They believed that to be the high tide for baseball stars, but today it is a minor league price. Last year, Marquardt, an untried pitcher, sold for $1000; "Cy" Young represents an outlay of about $1000 on the Cleveland club; Roger Bresnahan, according to Stanley Robinson, stands him $7500, he having traded four men, worth $50,000, and guaranteed Bresnahan $25,000 for three years' work.

Concave spectacles, or goggles, are being used in England to induce high action in horses. The lenses are set in leather or rubber frames, which fit closely around the eyes, and seeing only through these near-sight glasses, the horse is led to step high, since the ground has the appearance of being raised just ahead of him. It is said the device, when used on young horses, works a remarkable change in the step and action, and that much of the effect is retained after the goggles are discarded.

City Engineer William Murdoch was the victim of a delivery accident yesterday afternoon. He had gone to Lake Latimer to make repairs in connection with the water main. The horse bolted, and breaking the carriage axle, threw the engineer from the wagon. Mr. Murdoch had his ankle sprained and was badly shaken up. The carriage was badly smashed. There was a considerable quantity of dynamite in the carriage and the accident might have been more serious. Mr. Murdoch is under the physician's care, but will be out during the course of a few days.

Passing Along the High Sign; Catcher is Busy and Must Keep Thinking All the Time

Did you ever get a good line on the work of the catcher?
For instance, the way he signals to the pitcher?
Probably not, for as a general thing you see but the pitcher can see what the catcher calls for.
When the backstop signals down behind the batter and holds his mitt sideways, or perhaps turns it so the palm faces the pitcher, he tips off to his battery mate what he thinks will fool the batter.
If he wants a straight fast ball, he holds down his index finger.

ST. JOSEPHS PROVE TOO STRONG FOR ST. PETERS

One thousand fans assembled at the Shamrock grounds last evening to witness the match between the St. Peter's and St. Joseph's. The old rivals played a fast contest, replete with brilliant work. The purple and white players landed on top. The St. Joseph's had the champions beaten from the start and played in excellent form. One excusable error was recorded. The team united to the support of their pitcher and played the game for all it was worth. The St. Peter's also played strongly, but the superior batting and base running, coupled with two errors at a critical moment practically won the game for St. Joseph's.
Donovan occupied the box for the winners, and after the first inning pitched good ball. He has four strikeouts and walked four men. Hodd was the twirler for the North Enders, but although he pitched good ball he was struck out for five safe hits. He struck out one man and allowed four passes.
Fred Mahoney was instrumental in completing a splendid double which saved the St. Peter's in the second inning. Donnelly, P. Mahoney and J. Dever had two baggers to their credit.

Summary—St. John, N. B., Shamrock Grounds, Monday evening, June 7. St. Joseph's, 2; St. Peter's, 2. Two base hits, Mahoney, J. Dever, P. Mahoney; stolen bases, E. Mahoney (2), Harris (2), Simpson, Long; sacrifice hit, Simpson, Donovan, Burke; struck out by Donovan & viz. Rogers, Hodd, C. McCormick, P. Mahoney; by Hodd, J. V. Simpson, base on balls of Donovan & E. Mahoney, P. Dever, McGowan, J. McCormick; off Hodd 4, viz. Harris (2), Callaghan; hit by pitcher, Long, Taylor; double play, P. Mahoney to McGowan; left on bases, St. Peter's, 5; St. Joseph's, 4; base ball, Rogers; time of game, 54 minutes; umpire, Peter Carroll; attendance, 1,000.

GREEKS WALK OVER SECOND GAME OF SERIES

The second game of a series between the Marathons and the Clippers was played last evening, with the result that the Marathons had a walk over and won in six full innings by a score of 19 to 4.
The Clippers played very ragged ball, and in the half dozen innings totalling up no less than a dozen errors which were not only a surprise to themselves but to their supporters. For four innings they failed to score, while the Greeks managed to get in nine of the ten runs.
In the fifth inning each side scored one. It was fast becoming dark, and in the sixth, with only two hits off Nesbitt, the Clippers rolled up four hits and made three more runs. The seventh inning was started and some five Clippers went to bat. There was a run off three hits in the dim field and the Greeks were making errors. Three Clippers had crossed the home plate, but it was too dark to play and the game being called went back to even innings in the sixth with the score 19 to 4.
Nesbitt's pitching up to the sixth was almost faultless and he was only found for two singles. McBride was in the box for the losers and his support was bad. H. Howe of the St. John Baptist team was behind the bat for the Clippers.

Summary—Victoria Grounds, Monday evening, June 7th, 1909. Marathons, 19; Clippers, 4. Two base hits, Lynch, Copeland; base on balls, off McBride (three); struck out by Nesbitt 3, viz. P. Howe, H. Howe, Wilson; 4 double play Lynch to Ramsey to Crosby; first base on errors, Clippers 4; Marathons 2; hit by pitched ball, McBride, J. Malcom; time of game, one hour and five minutes; umpire, J. McAllister.

ANOTHER CANADIAN IN LINE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP
It is known to but a few people that Sam Langford, who defeated Hagge, and who is the most prominent colored fighter in the world at the present time to Jack Johnson, is a Canadian. Like George Dixon, who was born in Halifax, and adds another name to the long list of world renowned athletes bred in the Dominion, which, as far as heavyweight boxing goes, also bred Tommy Burns, for months the world's champion.

It would be a funny thing indeed if the colored Canadian heavyweights should despoil the colored United States heavyweight of the honors he won from the white Canadian heavyweight in the antipodes.
Sam hails from Boston, where he has been living of late years, but his home is at Weymouth, Nova Scotia, where he lived until he was well along in his teens. The Langfords are very numerous there and they, with the Roberts, Jarvis, Cromwells and Bristers form quite a large community of colored people at "the Falls," about two miles from Weymouth Bridge.

The great grand parents of these people came there after the American revolution, some of them were servants (some slaves) of Colonel James Moody and Col. Taylor, who obtained large grants of land there from the government for their loyalty and heroic services to the crown. Many of these colored folks were very decent and worthy people. Sam's parents still live in the old home, and it seems as if Sam comes naturally by his fighting proclivities as his father is known as "Fighting Bob" and has, not a very good disposition. Sam, however, is good-natured. Now for a little anecdote about Sam. When he was about twelve years old the writer employed him for a few days' work on his farm. His home being far away he stayed all night at my house, there not being a bedroom for him, a bed was made up for him on a couch in the kitchen. When the servant came downstairs in the morning (a sister of his) she found Sam curled up on the floor, with his head in an overturned coal scuttle snoring away "to beat the band." Sam declared he remembered nothing about having fallen off the couch; so he must have had a pretty hard head even then, and now he will find it comes in play to meet sledge hammer blows.

DEFENCE READ LIKE A HIGH SCHOOL ESSAY
BOSTON, Mass., June 7.—Unusual incidents continued today in the trial of the libel suit of Judge Henry S. Dewey against certain officials of the Good Government Association in which the damages are placed at seventy-six thousand dollars, on the ground that Judge Dewey was libelled in the majority campaign of 1886. Today in the course of the trial which Judge Dewey is conducting in his own behalf, a long statement, which his own clerk declared was an essay, was read to the jury by consent of the defence and was found to contain Judge Dewey's opinions on Plato, Cicero, poetry, rhetoric, music, politics, religion, weather, stars and the unwritten law.

A dozen witnesses were called during the day but as all of the questions asked by Judge Dewey were excluded, very little evidence reached the jury. In fact in trial was a continual legal contest between Judge Dewey and Judge Sherman, who presided, questions being raised out and exceptions taken in each case.

THE SHRINERS IN SESSION
LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 7.—The thirty-fifth annual session of the Mystic Shrine began here today with pomp and festivity.
Eleven patrols arrived yesterday and forty-nine according to the schedules, are due today. The Imperial potentate, Edwin I. Alderman, and his escort arrived from Iowa at 9 o'clock today. An excursion on the Ohio river aboard three steamers is planned for this afternoon, and on the return to the city street cars and automobiles will bear the visitors and their ladies to the Masonic widows and orphans home where a Japanese supper will be served on the acre or two of lawn.
Little business comes before the session of Shriner's beyond the election of a tier of officers and the granting of new temple charters.

ROUMANIA AS PARTNER

IN TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Germany and Austria bid for the Allegiance of King Charles.

BERLIN, June 8.—Germany's policy of strengthening her external relations in all possible directions is manifested afresh by two announcements in the papers.

The first is a Bucharest telegram stating that circumstantial reports are current there to the effect that preliminary arrangements for the inclusion in the triple alliance were made on the occasion of the German crown prince's visit to King Charles in April. They will be completed in the course of a few days, when the heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, arrives in Bucharest on a visit to the Rumanian court.

A military convention already exists between Rumania, Germany and Austria-Hungary. It is the final accord, according to the information current in Bucharest diplomatic circles, which is now to be amplified into a formal partnership in the triple alliance.

The second announcement implicating the trend of Germany policy is a statement that orders have been given to the cruiser Bremen, the flagship of the Kaiser's "Western American station," to anchor in New York harbor on the visit of the Bremen is intended as a special compliment to the people of the American metropolis. It is designed to supplement the remarkable series of ardently pro-American speeches which the German Ambassador to the United States, Count Bernstorff, has recently been delivering at various great functions.

Lady—Will you send me this rug on approval?

Salesman—"Certainly, ma'am."

Little Girl (who is with her mother)—"Haven't you better tell him to be sure and get it there on time, mamma? You know we give the party tomorrow night."

The Lerve of Joe

By D. C. LAWLESS.

"I left him and started for the office. When I got to my room, I looked back and saw him going out with his coat. Then I went back to lock the door. But I remembered that I failed to lock my key from him; so I got a padlock and fastened the door tight.

"After dinner I came back and stopped at the top to see if everything was all right. What do you think that fool did? I could have him sent for breakfast to the premises. The door was wide open. I found that the staple had been pried out of the door-post. I went in, and there hung his coat on that hook as nice as you please. If that isn't the nicest piece of business I ever heard of! But no sign of him about the place. He said that meant he was working. He was working all right—working me. But I made up my mind to settle him this time. I went in and set down to wait for him to come back. Well, I waited and waited, but no Joe came. I got up and looked all around outside. Nothing doing. I decided to wait in another spell. I determined to wait if I had to stay until he came for his eyes glinted like morning dew on the grass. Daily must have some friend he wants to get my job. But he'd better keep his nose out of this shop and leave it to you if you want to fire me—fire Joe after he's been with you for twenty years and stuck by you through thick and thin."

Joe paused to allow his words to sink into the Manager's mind. The latter still remained barricaded in silence behind his paper.

"Joe went over towards him and spoke in an entreating tone. "Say, we can't do much till we get that paint—and I'd like to get off this afternoon—my mother-in-law's visiting my wife, and I'd like to take the ladies out."

The Manager received this entreaty with the silence of a sphinx. Joe turned to the timekeeper.

"Well, you tell Daily, Dick, that I won't be here this afternoon. And tell him to keep out of the shop while I'm gone."

Joe turned on his heel and walked out. The stillness of death, except for the heel of Joe's retreating footstep, hung over the shop. When he had died out in the distance, the Manager lowered his paper. He looked at the timekeeper incredulously. Dick stammered:

"Well, what do you think about that?"

"Then he rose from his chair and walked out of the shop with slow, meditative steps."

When he had left the factory Dick hastened over to the office to claim his wages.

Most encouraging reports come from many parts of the province regarding forest fires. The scores of men who have fought the flames during the past few weeks are now able to relax their efforts somewhat.

Woodstock, the heart of the fire zone, sends word that the fires around Tapley's Mills, Richmond Corner and Debec, have about burned themselves out. The slight rain of Saturday aiding. The winds of Saturday and Sunday helped subside the flames around Hackett and at present the fires are burning themselves out. Considerable damage, however, was done. The flames burned a strip of excellent timber land five miles long by one mile wide.

Charlotte county the flames are about extinguished. There are a few scattered fires, however, near the railway.

Should no wind spring up in the next few days the forests will not likely suffer further damage.

Residents of Upper Brighton, a village four miles above Hartland, were shocked to hear yesterday of the death of William Rideout, a blind man, who had been conspicuous about the place for over half a century.

Mr. Rideout, who was 70 years old, had been confined to his bed for the past few days. Sunday night he took a weak turn, which rendered him powerless to summon other occupants of the house. Yesterday morning the doctor, who was present, and several members of the household were shocked upon entering the man's room to find him in an unconscious state and upon summoning a physician it was discovered that life was extinct.

Mr. Rideout, who was an unmarried man, will be missed by the entire community. Although blind, he was the general messenger for practically all the mechanics of the village.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock and the body will be interred in the Episcopal cemetery.

Enquiring Treasurer (new to the ways of the Territorial Army)—"Now, what becomes of these 'orss' when we break up camp?"

Horse Contractor—"Why, bless 'ee, they've got to go and 'oss 'em or five camps after this!"

Trepreneur—"I suppose in time of war 'bout six of us would 'ave to ride one 'orss!"

AMUSEMENTS.

WHAT IS PHROSO?

The show at the Princess Theatre this week is without doubt one of the best all round programmes seen in St. John in many a day. The management of this house has certainly sprung a new one on the public in the La Moto Phroso act, billed as an automation. On the rise of the curtain a gentleman of decided foreign appearance made a short introductory speech about the mechanical wonder, and when the curtain was drawn aside, a life figure was brought to view. The doll was made to do several stunts which were very true to life, so much so that some of the audience contented that it was really a live man. The automation was taken through the audience and a number of persons requested to shake with its stiffness, but very few took advantage of the opportunity, apparently for fear of receiving a shock of some kind. The act is a novel one and is sure to cause lots of speculation. The manager, who is exhibiting the doll promises to reveal the secret tonight, if it is really a mechanical contrivance it is a most wonderful invention, but if done by human agency it is a marvellous piece of acting. In addition to Phroso, the Princess has two other acts, Shaw and Shaw, singer and dancer, and Billy Court, Scotland's favorite comedian. We would advise all who can to attend the early show, thus avoiding the great rush later.

GREAT SINGING AT H. H. K. LAST NIGHT.

Last night the applause that Signor Stasano and Mrs. Berini received shook the rafters of the Happy Hall. Several cases are known of patrons going out and coming back with friends to hear the singing. By request Mrs. Berini sang Answer, Signor Berini sang La Donna Mobile, from Rigoletto, and if applause is a criterion, then last night was his biggest hit yet and he has made some big ones already. The Arion Ladies Orchestra rendered a splendid programme of new music. The pictures are good and all new, no repeats. They are Charley Forged To Find a Job, and Be Sure You Shoot the Bullet Before You See the Skin are comedies. Japanese Magic is a trick-ture, and On the Brink of the Precipice is a very strong drama, with scenes set in the Alps. See them on Friday and it's worth seeing. Watch for a song surprise tomorrow.

VICTIM OF HER DAUGHTER'S LOVER

Ribb Hungarian Widow Murdered in Her Own Garden.

A mysterious murder which has been (allegedly) disclosed in Hungary for several weeks has taken a sensational turn.

A month ago at Szabadka, Mme. Marie Haverda, a rich widow, was found shot in her garden, and the police were unable to prove the guilt of any of the numerous persons treated in connection with the affair.

Mme. Haverda left over $100,000 to her only daughter, Alexandrine Jarmacy, an extremely beautiful woman who lived in Buda-Pesth in great style though her mother, who hated her extravagance, had long ceased to give her money.

It has only now become known, says a correspondent of the "Daily Mail" that Alexandrine was suspected by the police, who ascertained that she had been hard pressed for money. Nothing could be proved against her, as she was in Buda-Pesth at the time of the murder.

The police, however, shadowed all Alexandrine's admirers and circulated press portraits in Szabadka and neighbourhood. At last they discovered that two of

The proposal to unite the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches of Canada into one great unnamed Canadian church has aroused a very wide-spread interest. The initial proposals were not regarded very seriously. It seemed merely an unusual way of exchanging the customary interdenominational courtesies. It had all the appearance of the indefinite but cordial invitation. But the subsequent seriousness of the negoti-

With a thousand people homeless at Presque Isle, many of them already poor, there will probably be an excellent opportunity for charitable disposed persons to show their generosity. There is no city in which the seriousness of such a disaster can be appreciated more thoroughly than in St. John, or where the plight of the homeless should arouse reader sympathy.

The officers and men of the 6th Regt. are to be congratulated on the splendid showing made at the match-out last evening. St. John has reason to be proud of her citizen soldiers and would like to see even more of them.

Engineer Murdoch had a narrow escape from being blown up yesterday. A little thing like that would not bother him however, he is used to being blown up by the aldermen.

And now the Germans are taking up golf. The language of golf crossed with German should make a weird compulsion.

It was hardly dawn, and the window was open. The intruder had clambered up to the front porch, and the interior of the room looked inviting. He could see that it was the abode of some person of wealth. There were costly ornaments about the room, any one of which would bring handsome returns at a pawnbroker's. A gold clock ticked on the mantel, and a silver service glinted on the table.

On a couch lay a man sleeping heavily. His face was red and his hairless crown glistened in the first faint glow of day.

"This is fine," muttered the intruder. "Here's a bultheaded man asleep in the day. The season is opening in great shape."

And the first cry crawled over the window sill, and the season of torture had begun.

GERMANS TO SEEK COMMAND OF AIR

Big Agitation in Country for Construction of Huge Fleet of Aerial Warships.

BERLIN, June 8.—A new agitation in favor of creating an immense aerial fleet will shortly begin in Germany with the support of many prominent men who have hitherto been ardent advocates of naval expansion. The watchword of this new movement will be, "Let us build Zeppelins instead of Dreadnoughts."

It is pointed out that each of the latest Dreadnoughts costs in round figures two million pounds, and that the latest type of Zeppelin airship can be constructed and completely equipped for $250,000. It is therefore possible to construct and equip forty Zeppelins for the cost of one Dreadnought.

There are many expert judges in Germany who are firmly convinced that this country would derive more advantages in practical warfare from forty Zeppelins than from one Dreadnought, and circumstances are all favorable to the new movement.

Its ardent originators and supporters recognize that German naval expansion has temporarily reached its limit owing to the solemn public pledge which Germany has given to Great Britain that her stipulating programme as formulated by the navy act of 1906, supplemented by the later navy acts of 1908 and 1908, shall not be accelerated. This public pledge prevents the German navy from meeting the wishes of the navy enthusiasts, who are therefore turning their energies to another sphere of activity.

The German Navy League numbers a million members, so that it is expected that the German Aerial Navy League will speedily enroll two or three millions. The extraordinary interest taken in all matters connected with aerial navigation is being stimulated by the managers of the International Aeronautical Exposition, which will be held this summer at Frankfurt-on-Main. It is announced to-day that the international airship races will start from Frankfurt-on-Main on the last two days of August and the first day of September. During August there will also be special days for different foreign nations.

HIGHBROW NURSERY LORE.

JACK SPRAT AND WIFE.

The subject of this narration is an eccentric character burdened with the appellation "Jack" Sprat, although his real cognomen appears to have been John Sprat. Sprat was remarkable for an aversion to animal food in which adipose tissue prevailed, and to such a degree that he was unable to consume any of it. On the contrary, his spouse was equally precluded from indulgence in flesh free from greasy constituents. In consequence of this phenomenal condition, he carried on extensively in Iowa, and not long since an order was placed there for fifty-one cartloads of eggs to be delivered in Seattle during the coming exposition and paid for at a price prevailing at the time of delivery. That means 335 tons of eggs, and an estimate puts the probable value of the consignment at $122,650.

How many of the 734,000 eggs will be passed off to patrons of the big show as "strictly fresh" is of course a matter for conjecture. Still, the cold storage egg of modern commerce is not always bad. Nor, on the other hand, is it without exception unpalatably good. And certainly the hens are not at fault in that direction.

Every house in the town which escaped the flames was thrown open to the fire sufferers and the churches and school buildings were also a refuge for many. Hundreds spent the night in the open, guarding such effects as they could save. In many cases it was possible to save very little from the houses as sparks blown long distances set them alight and consumed them while their occupants were absent fighting the blaze in another section.

Every abbeholed man in the village turned out to assist in fighting the flames. All the stores and all the factories closed their doors and proprietors, clerks and operatives worked together to save property and assist the unfortunate. It was feared for hours that a shift of wind would turn the fire back upon the principal business portion of the town, but this calamity was happily averted. Late tonight the breeze died down and except for an occasional leap of flames from smoldering embers, the fire was subdued. In the woods in the outskirts of the north, however, there was still visible the light of a good-sized blaze. From the south also came reports of other fires in the woods sweeping in the general direction of the village, though still many miles distant.

Every house in the town which escaped the flames was thrown open to the fire sufferers and the churches and school buildings were also a refuge for many. Hundreds spent the night in the open, guarding such effects as they could save. In many cases it was possible to save very little from the houses as sparks blown long distances set them alight and consumed them while their occupants were absent fighting the blaze in another section.

It was 4:30 o'clock when the fire broke out in the kitchen of John Brown's boarding house on North Main street, and it was nearly midnight before the work was finished. The burned section covers an area of half a square mile, including North Main street, Allen street, Third street, Blake street and South street to Main street.

BEYOND CONTROL From the boarding house the flames communicated to the Congregational church and from that time it was entirely beyond control, the wind making the hydrant streams practically useless.

Among the finer residences destroyed in the vicinity of the church were those of the following: Former State Senator E. Parker; Capt. Richardson in the legislature; A. E. Maguire; M. P. Cook; Baptist parsonage, occupied by Rev. E. L. Gates; F. T. Thompson. The High School building was threatened, but was saved from destruction by one of the kitchen steamers.

Among the storehouses burned was one owned by A. M. Smith and containing a large quantity of valuable hardware, and a storehouse owned by S. L. Black, in which there were many tons of potatoes. Most of the other potato storehouses were nearly empty.

NO FATALITIES. Several persons were reported injured in various ways during the fire, but there were no fatalities. Miss Elizabeth Scott was injured in an automobile collision while assisting the fire staff.

QUEEN WILHELMINA IN DRIVING MISHAP

LONDON, June 7.—A despatch received in favor of the Hague says that Queen Wilhelmina and Henry, the Prince Consort, had a narrow escape from a serious accident when they drove to the church today for the christening of the infant Princess born to Her Majesty April 26.

Their carriage was run into another vehicle, and a scene of confusion ensued. It took some time to disentangle the car.

Her Majesty was cool throughout the incident and afterward decamped from her carriage amid the cheers of those present.

CARIBOU, Me., June 7.—The foundry and machine shops of J. S. Mitchell and Son, in this town, were burned late today, together with a large stock of manufactured goods, potato diggers, farm wagons and other farm implements which were awaiting shipment in the storehouse. The total loss is $30,000, of which $20,000 is on the buildings. The buildings were insured for $6,500 and the contents for $3,500.

Knitted into its Perfect Shape—Not Stretched

Long after it is purchased after sundown the Laundry—Pen-Angle Underwear still retains its graceful, perfect form. It is not stretched, it is not distorted, it is not wrinkled. Ask your dealer to show you Pen-Angle. Examine it—feel it, note its soft, smooth texture; stretch it, and see its wonderful elasticity—it cannot shrink.

It is knitted, not woven—comfortable, not irritating. Exclusive U.S. Pen-Angle is an individual, exclusive underwear creation. It is knitted into its snug, perfect shape—not stretched. The variety of styles, sizes and weights interest taken in all matters connected with aerial navigation is being stimulated by the managers of the International Aeronautical Exposition, which will be held this summer at Frankfurt-on-Main. It is announced to-day that the international airship races will start from Frankfurt-on-Main on the last two days of August and the first day of September. During August there will also be special days for different foreign nations.

ANNUAL EGG YIELD WORTH $600,000,000

Iowa Leads the Industry and the Total Product Equals Seventeen Dozen to Each Person.

The full importance of the egg industry of the United States can be realized only by consulting the official statistics, says the Troy Times, and the attention given the matter is evidence of the government's watchfulness over all the factors that contribute to national prosperity. Truly the egg business is a big thing.

Over 100,000,000 eggs are produced in Iowa, and not long since an order was placed there for fifty-one cartloads of eggs to be delivered in Seattle during the coming exposition and paid for at a price prevailing at the time of delivery. That means 335 tons of eggs, and an estimate puts the probable value of the consignment at $122,650.

How many of the 734,000 eggs will be passed off to patrons of the big show as "strictly fresh" is of course a matter for conjecture. Still, the cold storage egg of modern commerce is not always bad. Nor, on the other hand, is it without exception unpalatably good. And certainly the hens are not at fault in that direction.

Every house in the town which escaped the flames was thrown open to the fire sufferers and the churches and school buildings were also a refuge for many. Hundreds spent the night in the open, guarding such effects as they could save. In many cases it was possible to save very little from the houses as sparks blown long distances set them alight and consumed them while their occupants were absent fighting the blaze in another section.

Every abbeholed man in the village turned out to assist in fighting the flames. All the stores and all the factories closed their doors and proprietors, clerks and operatives worked together to save property and assist the unfortunate. It was feared for hours that a shift of wind would turn the fire back upon the principal business portion of the town, but this calamity was happily averted. IN HAND TO HAND FIGHT WITH A LION

Lieutenant in English Army Nearly Loses Life After Wounding Beast With Gun.

Lieutenant G. S. Anderson, Eighteenth Hussars, of Dawlish, who has been attached to the intelligence department, is suffering from blood poisoning, the result of a mauling received from a lion a month or six weeks ago on the borders of Somaliland and Abyssinia, says the London Daily Mail.

In company with a native servant Lieutenant Anderson went out for a day's shooting. Finding a lion at short distance he fired and the shot grazed the animal's skull, slightly wounding it. The infuriated beast leaped upon the ground, and bit him through the knee just as he fired a charge from his double barreled sporting rifle through its head.

The animal continued to claw and bite him, while Lieutenant Anderson, fighting for his life, clubbed the lion with the butt end of the rifle. All the while blood was streaming from the wounds of the lion, which was of unusual size.

The native servant, although practically unarmed, rushed to the aid of his injured master, and at length the animal, exhausted from a long and bloody fight, was slain. The body of the lion was almost overcome and in a very precarious condition.

Subsequently the lion was found dead a little distance from the scene of the encounter. The injured officer was conveyed to the coast and at Aden embarked for London, where he will be treated in a hospital.

SUIT AGAINST CITY FOR FALSE ARREST

John McCracken through his legal adviser, A. A. Wilson, K. C., is bringing suit against the city for false arrest.

McCracken claims that he was taken from a meeting of friends and arrested while sitting in the square by one of the city marshals. Later he was allowed to go upon proving to his tormentor that he was not the McCracken wanted, and so far from being delinquent in his taxes he had always rejoiced in taking advantage of the discount allowed.

Yesterday notice of the action was read at the meeting of the Common Council. The matter was referred to committee.

SCARCITY OF SCHOOLS IS ONE REASON GIVEN

Various Reasons Advanced by Farmers for Wishing to Sell Properties

It seems hardly possible that there should be over 300 valuable farms for sale in this province, but A. B. Wilmot, secretary of Immigration for the province, has on file at his office applications from almost every county from people wishing to dispose of their properties.

Kings county heads the list of offers, with 64 farms; Queens county, 58; Carleton county, 55; York county, 48; Sunbury county, 29; Westmorland county, 17; Albert and Victoria, 8 each; Charlotte and Kent, 8 each; St. John, 7; Northumberland county, 5; Restigouche, Madawaska and Gloucester, 4 each.

In an interview with The Sun yesterday, Mr. Wilmot stated that many reasons had been given for wishing to dispose of farms.

Some were growing old and had no immediate heirs. Others declared their children had left their farms for the cities and western Canada. Another reason was that in some districts many of the older residents had sold their farms and moved away, leaving their neighbors an extra burden in taxes. This seems to be the most discouraging feature as the withdrawal of persons from the province has made the school tax and other expenses much heavier for the remaining ratepayers and in several districts it has been necessary to close the schools. This most unfortunate circumstance would discourage the heads of families, who are anxious to give their children educational advantages which they had not received, and will explain to a more or less extent the reason for the apparent exodus from farming centers.

In the immigration department Mr. Wilmot reports most encouraging results, he having returned yesterday a visit to several families who came to this province a few months ago and are perfectly satisfied with their present homes and prospects.

WASH THEIR LINEN IN NEARBY WELL

The farmers and residents of South Bay have a grievance against the C. P. R. and some threaten lawsuits unless immediate action is taken by the railway officials to check the actions of about 100 Italians employed by them in that locality.

These employees are laying new rails about a quarter of a mile from South Bay station and are housed in eight box cars at the siding. For the past few days they have been helping themselves to water from the wells and in some cases washing cloths there without asking permission. Some have been so obstreperous and have torn down fences for fire wood regardless of the feelings of the owners.

Notice was sent the C. P. R. officials on Saturday, and South Bay residents say that, unless something is done immediately drastic measures will be taken to put a stop to the habits of the Italians.

DROWNED AT MCADAM

FREDERICTON, June 7.—Word has been received of a sad fatality at McAdam Junction on Saturday evening, which cost the life of Charles Moffatt, one of the most highly esteemed residents of that place. With a party of friends he was out sailing in a motor boat when he fell over the side into the lake and was drowned before he could be rescued. The body was recovered Sunday and the funeral will take place tomorrow. The late Mr. Moffatt was forty-eight years old, a widower, and is survived by four children.

COUNCIL INCREASED SOME OF THE SALARIES

Others Will Remain as They Are—Water Rates Cause Discussion.

At the meeting of the Common Council held yesterday the treasury board's report was adopted recommending the payment of the recorder's bill, amounting to $252.55, incurred in the appropriation proceedings of the Gordon, Sheehy and Quinlan leasehold properties. The recommendation of the safety board to increase a large number of salaries caused much discussion. Ald. Vanasse moved an amendment to the section making the increase to date from Jan. 1, 1910.

The motion for the increase dating from January 1st next was then put and carried, Ald. Elkin, Lewis, Colner, Hayes and Frink voting against.

The motion to increase the salaries of the chiefs of the fire and police departments was lost by a vote of eight to six.

The same fate awaited the motion to increase the salary of Charles Piercy. On the casting vote of the mayor the salaries of all the officers named in the above list except the ones already referred to and the five last were ordered to remain at the old figure. The last five sections were carried, to take effect Jan. 1st and the report adopted as amended.

Upon the report of the Water and Sewerage Board being brought down Ald. Kelley brought up the motion of the water rate upon manufacturing industries. He had in hand a number of concerns whose rates had been doubled during the past year. He thought that if any class of ratepayers merited consideration it was the manufacturers. He asked for an explanation.

Ald. Frink stated that upon the matter being thrashed out there had been no determined opposition to the increase. He had heard of no complaints and the rate for this year had not been changed.

OTTAWA, June 7.—At the last session of parliament provision was made for the appointment of a commission to proceed to Denmark, the United Kingdom and Ireland to investigate the condition of the swine industry in these countries with special reference to pork packing. The commission has now been appointed and consists of W. W. Ballantyne of Downs, near Stratford, and W. Jones of Zenda, Middlesex, representing Ontario; Geo. Jarreau of Three Rivers, representing Quebec; J. E. Sinclair of Springfield, P. E. I., representing the Maritime Provinces; and Joseph Rye of Daugh, Alberta, representing the west. The commission will sail from Montreal on the 18th instant and will be absent about three months.

CONVENTION AT SUSSEX

Among those who went to Sussex yesterday to attend the Church of England S. S. Convention were the Rev. J. Westra B. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart; Rev. E. B. Hooper, Mrs. H. H. Pickett and Miss Ethel Jarvis. Rev. Canon Smithers, travelling secretary of missions, passed through from Fredericton last night to take part in the convention. Canon Cowie also went through yesterday. Bishop Richardson will go to Sussex today. The sessions of the convention will occupy all of today and Wednesday. Several addresses, followed by discussions, will be given upon the most modern methods of Sunday school work.

DR. PUGSLEY'S OFFICE ABLAZE

OTTAWA, June 7.—Fire which broke out in the office of the Minister of Public Works at the west block of parliament buildings at one o'clock today burned all the Minister's morning mail together with a number of important departmental papers on his desk and did damage to the room to the extent of about $300. Hon. Dr. Pugsley was in the room but a few minutes before, and on his return from an adjoining room found his desk and chair ablaze. An alarm was immediately given and the Dominion fire police in the building soon extinguished the blaze with the fire hose in the corridor. The fire is thought to have originated from electric wiring leading from the Minister's desk to the various offices in the department.

PAVED STREETS CERTAINTY NOW

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 7.—Arthur Anderson, of the post office staff, and nephew of the Hon. Thos. C. Ashburnham, was quietly married this afternoon at the home of the groom's parents to Miss Barbara Allen, daughter of the Hon. E. H. Allen, ex-provincial secretary. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Smith of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties.

A resolution was also passed recommending the extension of Carleton street from Charlotte to Newchar streets. Tenders are to close on the 19th instant.

Reports from outlying districts are to the effect that the fires are still raging, but in many quarters to less extent. Chief Fire and Game Warden Dean arrived in the city this evening and will start tomorrow morning for the Keswick district, stopping off at Cardigan.

Word received from the quarter says that much destruction to property has been made, and Mr. Dean will use every endeavor to stop its progress.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 7.—A collision with an iceberg fifty miles off shore today sent the schooner Gelska to the bottom. The schooner had previously collided with another ice pillar, and when the second struck their vessel the crew of six men had their boats in readiness and lowered them. The sailors reported little loss in the extent and solidity of the ice floe. They reported meeting the first ice nearly 100 miles off shore.

ANSWERED

"What happens when a man's temperature goes down as far as it can go?"

A Mighty Ruler, He

Who wisely rules himself.

Curious what a scrap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens") with what the old Scotchman called the "deevlish part" of your make-up.

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and so if we can't earn the right to rule greater things.

Most every day some one of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a scrap to see if he can rule.

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knees or, perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

There are several of these "enemies" which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whisky, coffee, cocaine, tea, tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all.

It has many friends, but coolly and cunningly knives them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

Perhaps the victim realizes it, but has fallen time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels and the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "nailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give his place to Postum.

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

Of times remarkable changes quickly follow the victory of one's better self over a known enemy. Peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only too glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, its weakening.

Mr. Charles Morrison, one of the wealthiest men in the City of London, died on Tuesday, at the advanced age of ninety-two. Most of Mr. Morrison's wealth consisted in huge blocks of office buildings such as Basilston House, Finsbury House, and the like. Up to within a few months ago he was a constant attendant at his office, and went into every detail of his business.

Mr. Morrison's personal habits were almost austere in their simplicity. Dignified, though slightly bent by age, he was a familiar figure in the city, but his dislike of publicity made him refuse the natural position to which his wealth would have entitled him.

His relatives cannot recollect that he ever smoked, and he was almost a teetotaler. Though he kept two or three carriages, he never bought a motor car; in fact, Morrison's only mode of transport was by omnibus.

LATEST G. B. SHAW
PLAY IS BANNED

Dramatist Says That His New Work is Too Religious.

The censor has refused to license Mr. G. B. Shaw's new play, "The Doctor's Dilemma," which the Afternoon Theatre was to have produced at His Majesty's Theatre. Mr. Shaw, to whom the experience is no novelty since the ban on "Mrs. Warren's Profession," is calmly and righteously disgusted. He issued a statement in which he regrets that he is unable to explain the king's absolute, and he is not to be performed, he says, rests with the Lord Chamberlain's action. The decision to the moral fitness of a play is not to be performed, he says, rests with the king's absolute, and he is not to be performed, he says, rests with the Lord Chamberlain's action. WAVE OF PROSPERITY SEEN BY THE PROPHETS

End of Roosevelt Rule, Settlement of Tariffs, and Good Crops the Reasons.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 7—From a canvass made today of the principal iron and steel manufacturers, it is apparent that a wave of prosperity, equal to any experienced in this country is about to take place.

From a majority of interviews secured here today the fear is expressed that wants in the iron and steel business will return with such a rush as to cause congestion.

NEW YORK, June 7—The end of the Roosevelt administration, quiet settlement of the tariff and the assurance of excellent crops, are given as the three-fold basis for prophesying the approach of great national prosperity in the annual report of the consolidated stock exchange, issued here today.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FAIRVILLE CHURCH

The Baptist Church of Fairville held its annual meeting last evening. Reports presented showed that the funds of the church were in excellent condition. The past year has proven most successful and the edifice now ranks high among the suburban churches.

The annual financial statement was read by Walter Ross, secretary-treasurer. The Sunday collections amounted to $794.48. There was collected to help pay off the church debt $1,041; total cash receipts from collections in the church were $2,832.27.

The total expenditure during the year amounted to $2,332.41.

Much credit is due to the pastor, Rev. F. B. Bishop, and to C. P. Baker, who has been a most liberal contributor to the funds of the church, as well as an earnest worker.

CHARLES MORRISON

Charles Morrison was educated at Edinburgh and received his education by a visit to the United States, where his father had acquired various commercial interests. After his father's death his wealth increased, until he earned for himself the title of "the richest man in the city of London." His business was that of a financier—largely in the way of underwriting or promoting enterprises which he had supported in their infancy. He would buy anything and sell anything, and his deals almost always turned out well.

Until his great age made his appearance remarkable he looked like a not too prosperous clerk. He was a man of the strictest probity, never doing a stroke of business he could not justify to himself. It was he who mainly helped to put on its legs again the London and Paris Exchange after its first failure in 1864.

Mr. Morrison's peculiarities amounted almost to eccentricities. He would always walk when possible, the middle of the street—often eating a bun or an apple, which frequently formed his modest repast. At one of the times he patronized a restaurant in Coleman street, but an eighteenpenny lunch was about the extent to which he indulged.

It is told of him that one night, a year or two back, Charles Morrison got out at Tilbury, the station before he was late, and he walked to a trap to drive to the city. The landlord appeared to eye him with great disfavor, and curtly told him that he could not have a trap. Mr. Morrison had, of course, only to be identified to have the finest equipage in the place pressed upon him. But his accustomed reserve made him say nothing, and he steadily tramped the whole of the way home.

HIS LABORS NOT IN VAIN

The literary critic saves the public many loaves—it can read his rank and do without the books.

A day or two later someone in Basildon heard the story, and, being in "Thehurst, called on the landlord and asked him if an old man had asked him for a trap a few nights previously.

"Yes," said the landlord, "but I wasn't going to let the likes of him have one." "What?" said the other, "it was Mr. Morrison, that was all!"

"Lord," said the astounded and disgusted landlord, "I wish I'd known."

The "Times" notes the curious coincidence that there should have died within a few weeks of each other the partner of James Morrison and the one of a working artist.

SKEPTON, Duck Lake, Sask., June 7—(Special)—After thirteen years' suffering from Kidney Disease brought on by an accident, Mark Southern, of Hestlar Farm near here, is a well man and he is not slow to state that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I began with pains in my back," Mr. Southern says, "and across my loins, and of late years I became very weak and for days I had to keep to my bed. I had all kinds of advice and tried a great many medicines, but all to no purpose.

"Reading an advertisement induced me to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial, and I wrote for six boxes. After taking the first box I began to feel relief, and after using five boxes I felt quite well again. I am now able to get about my work and feel no effects whatever from the old complaint.

MISS ILLINGTON IN NEVADA

Daniel Frohman's Wife Joins the Divorce Colony in Reno.

RENO, Nev., June 8—That Margaret Illington, the actress, late leading lady in "The Thief," and wife of Daniel Frohman of New York, is in Reno to stay six months, resulting in a divorce from her husband is the conviction of about twenty New Yorkers in the Reno divorce colony.

Mrs. Frohman is certainly in Reno, at 160 Centre street, just a short distance from Mrs. Kipp's cottage, it is said, and she will stay here indefinitely.

"The actress did not come with the usual flare that accompanies theatrical people. On the contrary she stole quietly into town and dropped her stage name of Illington for her real name, Blanche Bloomington, name of Leighton. How long she has been here is not known, except that it is less than three days.

Mrs. Frohman, which is another name which she expects to drop, is staying at the cottage of her chum, Mrs. Semmes, of Reno, who was a classmate of her Illinois school days. The actress was seen today reclining in the rear seat of a luxurious automobile, the property of one of the male seekers for divorce.

So far as can be ascertained no legal steps have yet been taken and the local lawyers busy with their usual emplacements that they know anything about the case.

In taking a cottage in fashionable Centre street Mrs. Frohman is but following Mrs. Kipp, who is the leader of the corps.

CHURCH UNION, SUBJECT DISCUSSED YESTERDAY

HAMILTON, Ont., June 8.—At the session of the Presbyterian General Assembly yesterday the mayor of the city addressed the delegates. Principal Patrick spoke for the committee on Union. He opened by a reference to the attitude of friendliness exhibited by the Anglican Church. He spoke in high terms of the various laborers of the sub-committee. He said that organic union was possible and it was the duty of the churches to unite. He spoke for over an hour and a half.

Rev. Dr. Duval followed with a brief speech in the lines with the previous speaker.

Principal McKay of Vancouver rose to offer an amendment. Either he was unable to form a judgment or the union committee was laboring under a delusion. He went for Principal Patrick with a retreating frankness. He knows or he ought to know, that he is wrong in his faith," said Principal McKay. He quoted from Scotts on the other side of the question. Dr. Duval was one of those who quoted that it was distinctly anti-union as is contemplated by the committee. Dr. Lyman Abbott was quoted against union by the B. C. principal.

"This question will not be settled by using scare words such as we have heard from Principal Patrick and Dr. Duval," he concluded and the house applauded loudly.

"The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are no overlapping of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal McKay resumed his address at the evening session and said that the people of the church have not yet expressed their indifference to the denominational idea of the church as now existing. He appealed for federation not union.

Rev. Dr. Morton, of Trinidad, advocated union as one who looked at the question from a foreign mission point of view. "The heathen cannot understand the divisions of Protestantism, and Dr. Morton thinks this union will heal divisions in Canadian Protestantism."

T. J. Jones, Charlottetown, followed in a condensed and comprehensive speech against the resolution. He charged that co-operation and federation had never been tried and no one could tell how much good it would do. President Forrest was afraid he could not speak his mind in fifteen minutes. He attacked the anti-unionists in a characteristically vigorous fashion. Then he reviewed the history of the union movement. Incidentally he averred that these men had turned on themselves, had contradicted their own expressed views. He ridiculed the opinions of the parties of the other part and caused a roar of applause when he said "Union is bound to come if the laymen's missionary movement did not fizzle out."

Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell continued the debate. He gave three reasons against union. (1)—Opposition in the church to union. (2)—We are adding to church organizations by this union. (3)—We are breaking off most valuable alliances by this union. These he elaborated and these he said are unchangeable reasons for retaining our identity.

EX-ALDERMAN HAMM DIED LAST EVENING

Stricken With Paralysis Two Months Ago. Had Long Been Prominent in the City, at the Common Council and in Business Circles.

After a long and active service in the business life of New Brunswick, Joseph B. Hamm, ex-alderman for Kings Ward, passed away at 10:30 last evening at the General Public Hospital. The deceased would have attained his 74th year today. About eleven weeks ago he was stricken with paralysis. At first it was considered that there were hopes for his recovery.

The ex-alderman's death was a most peaceful one. Mrs. J. B. Hamm and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hamm were at the bedside, when the end came.

THE LATE EX-ALD. HAMM.

The deceased enjoyed a wide acquaintance. He has for many years been engaged in the livery business and has served at the council board for several terms. Mr. Hamm was born at Grand Bay, Kings County, on June 8, 1830.

He was a son of Captain David and Sarah B. Hamm. He was descended from Jersey City, N. J., prior to the American revolution, and who was among those who sided with the mother country. He moved to St. John in 1856 and started in the livery business. He was twice married. His first wife died in 1857, and in the following year he married Miss Annie Currie, daughter of William Currie, of Sanbury County, Oregon.

Mr. Hamm's career at City Hall is a most interesting one. In 1876 he was first elected from Wellington ward. In 1878 he was appointed inspector of coal, and returned to the council in 1885, April last, but was compelled to withdraw from the contest.

Many in the city will learn with regret the death of Mr. Hamm. Arrangements have been completed to hold the funeral Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his son, 114 Elliott Row.

At 6:15 this morning a very pretty wedding was held in St. John's (Stone) church, when William McDonald, son of the late Mont. McDonald, was united in marriage to Constance Climo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Climo. In the presence of many friends of the contracting parties, the ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. Kihring and music was furnished by the choir of which Miss Climo was a member—under the direction of D. A. Fox. Miss Gladys Climo acted as bridesmaid and the groom was supported by his brother, C. H. McDonald. The newly married couple left on the Prince Rupert this morning for a two weeks' trip throughout the New England States via Digby and Yarmouth. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. McDonald will reside at Woodman's Point for the summer. The presents were numerous and costly and demonstrated very clearly the popularity of the bridal couple.

MISS VESTA TILLEY AND THE ESKIMO

Lately Boy's Mental Torture in New York.

Miss Vesta Tilley, who is as great a favorite on the American music hall stage as in this country, has aroused much local enthusiasm by her kind and opportune deed.

The charming singer has authorized the publication of the story of her participation of Miss, the Eskimo boy, who was brought to New York by his father on the return of one of the Peary expeditions.

He died in New York, and thereafter the boy's troubles began. He was put to school and learned English, but could never assimilate American ways, and New York, he declared, was always setting on his nerves.

He dared to assert that there was more kindness in his own Par North than there was in always asking his guardian to read him some of the ordinary wares of the system arranged Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of wonderful success as a blood-purifier that you soon begin to feel strong and healthy by its use.

By means of this great restorative treatment you can rebuild the body when it has been wasted by worry, overwork, lingering colds or the depressing and debilitating effects of spring.

There is no reaction after the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food because it is not a stimulant. On the contrary it is a blood-forming, system-building medicine which by working hand in hand with Nature proves of lasting benefit to the system and thoroughly drives out the winter disease by filtering the system with new energy and vigor.

Mrs. H. A. Lyness, nurse, Philadelphia, Que., writes—"I was all run down and could not do my work. Everything I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and resolved to try it. As a result this is of me. I have gained ten pounds, do my work alone and feel like an entirely different person."

SELLS GOLDEN CHURCH BELLS

Mexican Congregation Adds $2,500 to Treasury by Parting With Richly Alloyed Castings.

"Many of the church bells in the Republic of Mexico are of copper, which also carries a large quota of silver, and consequently they are worth a great deal of money," said Mr. Peter J. Thrasher, a mining engineer, of St. Louis, says the Baltimore American.

"Not long since while in the State of Guadalupe, I was present at the sale of a bell of one of the historic Catholic churches for $2,500. The good fathers did not wish to part with it, as it had summoned their people to mass and vesper for generations, but the church was poor and the money sadly needed. The bell will be thrown into the melting pot of the local smelter and no doubt the buyers will realize a good profit on their investment, for it is a big affair and has much precious metal. It may be that this will set a precedent and that many similar sales will occur, for there are hundreds of ancient copper bells in the towers of the churches in the land of 'God and Liberty.' It will be a good way to relieve depleted treasuries and iron bells will answer every purpose."

Clothing of Character

You have doubtless observed that a suit may be stylishly cut and still lack that indefinable "something" that marks the difference between strictly correct, distinctive dress and ordinary "clothes."

20th Century suits are not only CUT right but MADE right. They rest on the shoulders properly. The collar never sags. The waist fronts lie smooth. And even the light-weight summer suits, with little interlining to preserve the smoothness, are so skillfully fashioned that PERMANENT fit and style are assured.

These and other genuinely, honestly good suits are sold by us at $1 to $25.

And every suit is on a hanger, free from wrinkles, easy to inspect.

You'll never regret buying a 20th Century Suit.

W. C. R. ALLAN FINED ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS

For Selling Liquor to A. R. C. Clark

Says Clark & Adams are Trying to Ruin Him, and That Clark Took Liquor Without His Consent.

W. C. R. Allan, the West End drug-ist, was fined $100 or three months jail by Magistrate Ritchie this morning.

The information in the case was laid by Albert R. C. Clark, of the firm of Clark and Adams, contractors, who gave evidence that on May 24th he had entered Mr. Allan's store on King street, West, and purchased whiskey for other than medicinal purposes, and paid ten cents for it to Mr. Allan's son.

In answer to Mr. Allan witness said that he did know that he had a doctor's prescription in the store for liquor. He did not go into the store for the specific purpose of getting liquor; he had drunk liquor in the back store, he did not consider himself an intruder as he had often been asked in the back store by Mr. Allan.

Edward Wheaton was a witness who testified that he saw Clark drink liquor in the back shop often. Sometimes he took it himself and other times he was served.

Mr. Allan in his defence, said that Clark and Adams were only trying to ruin him and they already were the means of injuring his business. He said he promised on being fined before not to sell any liquor and has kept to this promise ever since. If Clark went into the back store, took the liquor and laid down ten cents, he took a mean advantage. Mr. Allan said his clerks were tea-totalers and he gave an order that no liquor was to be sold and if any had been sold it was without his knowledge. He claimed that the actions of Clark and Adams has cost him his business as he was fined once before for selling liquor to them.

The magistrate decided that a case had been made out, and fined the defendant $100 to be paid in a few days.
