

MURDEROUS ATTACKS MADE BY IRISH ON HOUSEHOLDERS IN PRESBYTERIAN DISTRICT

Wife Innocent Folks Were Shot Down, Incendiaries Applied Torch to Homesteads.

TWO GANGS OF RAIDERS AT WORK

Four Men and One Woman Killed, Several Injured, Several Houses Burned.

Belfast, June 18.—The districts of Altanaveigh and Lisdrumitka, on the South Armagh side of Newry, were the scene of murderous attacks Saturday on householders, the assassins claiming four men and one woman killed, and several wounded. Several farm houses were destroyed.

The district is largely inhabited by Presbyterians, and it is believed was selected for reprisal for the killing of two men at Lislea, Wednesday. The tragedy started about 3 o'clock in the morning and for hours the usually quiet countryside echoed with rifle and revolver shots, while incendiaries applied the torch to homesteads of people who had nothing to do with the Lislea crime.

The sound of the firing of land mines in Dublin road, as police and special constables hastened to the scene, awakened the people of Newry, who took care of those who had taken to flight in an effort to escape from the assassins' vengeance.

Tale of Cruelty

The dead are John Heaslip and son, Thomas Crisler and his wife, and James Lockhart. The wounded included James Gray and his son, Joseph, both of whom are in the hospital, Alice Crisler and a small boy. When Crisler, an old man, opened the door of his home and found armed men, he shouted "Mick, Mick," whereupon one of the raiders shot him dead. Crisler's wife rushed to his side and exclaimed to the raider, "Willie, I wouldn't expect that of you." The man then fired at her, inflicting a terrible wound in the arm, from which she died to death.

Lockhart's house and a nearby residence were set afire. The families attempted to escape, but were lined up in the roadway. One of the men called on Lockhart and a small boy to come with him. Lockhart hesitated in order to speak to his mother, whereupon the man shouted, "Young don't obey," and shot Lockhart through the heart in the presence of his father, mother and sisters.

Heaslip's family were ordered from the house; the man and his son were taken down the road and shot dead. Mrs. Heaslip rushed forward and clasped their hands. "Young don't obey," and shot Lockhart through the heart in the presence of his father, mother and sisters.

The raiders, proceeding toward Camlough, attacked the Chancoy house, which contains the table on which the Act of Union was signed in 1800. This table was exhibited at Belfast on the occasion of the Gray and Crahan Parliament visit of King George. The raiders, however, did no serious damage.

At the Gray household, after the assassins had gone, some one remarked that they must be low-minded to do such a thing, but young Gray, although he realized he had been mortally wounded, protested, "Don't say that, may be they had to do it. I forgive them, and hope God will, too."

When the raiders were carrying off Crisler and his son, Mrs. Crisler pleaded for mercy, but received the reply: "There was no mercy for Catholics shot in Belfast."

At one house the leader of the raiders gave "All right fire." An incendiary bomb was then flung into the dwelling and rifles and revolvers were fired. It is declared that two groups were operating, and that the Gray and Crahan houses were attacked simultaneously. The raiders wore police-men's caps and bandoliers, and carried service rifles, while ammunition cases, found later, also were of service pattern.

TWO STEAMERS REPORTED SINKING

Freighter and Tanker Thought to Have Been in Collision Off Key West.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 18.—Telegraphic advices, received here tonight from Key West, reported the steamers Bella and Desoto to be in a sinking condition, and added that a coast guard cutter was removing the survivors. The dispatches gave no details as to the cause of the disaster to the ships nor the immediate position.

The Bella is listed in the Marine Register as a freighter of 781 tons, and the Desoto as a tanker of 360 tons. Private advices reaching here indicated the vessels had collided.

The steamer Bergstadt is said to have aided in taking off members of the crew.

ADDITIONAL ESTIMATES ON TABLE TODAY

Bills Will Also Be Introduced Amending the Income Tax Act.

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—(Canadian Press)—At the opening of the House Saturday, Premier King announced that in connection with the remaining legislation to be introduced this session, there would be in addition to supplementary estimates, bills amending the Income Tax Act, the Act controlling the importation and sale of margarine; the Three Rivers Harbor Commissioners Act; the Naturalization Act; and such legislation growing out of the budget resolutions.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, replying to Mr. Meighen, said the amendments to the income tax would be of an important nature and would deal with exemptions and certain difficulties in connection with commercial travellers.

Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, was unable to state the nature of the amendments to the Naturalization Act, but said he would try to do so Monday. It was stated also that reports on immigration and the supplementary estimates would be tabled Monday.

H. C. Hocken, (Conservative, Toronto Centre), wanted an impact on magazines coming over the border.

George W. Kyle, Liberal, Cape Breton South and Richmond, characterized the proposal as "protection gone mad."

Sir Henry Drayton read a telegram from the Canadian magazine publishers protesting against continuance of present conditions and saying that unless a change was made some of them faced ruin.

On item providing for a duty of 25 per cent, general tariff on saw mill machinery, F. W. Caldwell, Progressive, Carleton, N. B., asked if this was not one of the items which the Liberal tariff plan of 1919 placed on the free list.

Mr. Fielding said he was not interested in that plan.

Kelly, set sail here yesterday on the homeward voyage. The royal yacht squadron signalled "bon voyage" as they departed.

They made for Madeira, which they expect to reach within a week. With fair weather it is hoped to complete the voyage to New York in six weeks, making an average speed of eight knots. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly plan to take turns at the wheel with the three members of the crew.

MADE SUPREME SACRIFICE TO SAVE FAMILY

Father Perishes With Mother-in-Law and Three Children in Burning Home.

RESCUED MOTHER AND FOUR CHILDREN

While Attempting to Rescue Other Roof Collapsed, Entombing Them in Fiery Furnace.

Halifax, N. S., June 18.—George A. Ross, 38, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Ross, 77, and three of his seven children, Frederick, 11, Percy, 8, and Arthur, 3, were buried to death in a fire which destroyed their home at West End Street, Saturday morning. The mother and the remaining four children, Nelson, 16, Alexander, 14, Peter, 9, and an eight-year-old baby were rescued by the father, who perished in an attempt to save the rest of the household.

Caught in Upper Storey

The fire home—a two-story wooden structure, occupied a secluded site, and the mother was in a state of collapse today and could give no connected account of the holocaust, but it is known that the father and mother, occupying the lower floor, along with the four rescued children, were awakened at four o'clock this morning by the driving of flames, heaved to have spread from a fire in the kitchen stove. Following his wife and the four children to a place of safety, Ross entered the house, and fighting his way up the staircase, had reached the side of his mother-in-law when the roof collapsed. The bodies of the two adults, terribly charred, were found together, while those of three children were found in what had been their bed.

BELIEVE HACHEY WAS THE VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY

Police, Not Satisfied With Coroner's Verdict, Make Arrest After Investigation.

Moncton, N. B., June 18.—Although a coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death following the landing on June 8, on the railway track of the mangled body of Leonard Hachey, of Bathurst, the police authorities of that district have not been satisfied that no blame attaches to anyone. As a result of investigations by Chief of Police Chamberlain of Bathurst, G. D. Dempsy, of that place, is now under arrest and is being held on suspicion of being implicated in the death of Hachey. Chief Chamberlain expects to make an arrest in connection with the death of Hachey.

The body of Hachey, who had been employed in the gravel pit at Gloucester, was found on the tracks about 4 miles above the junction of the railway. At the time it was presumed that he had been riding on a ballast train and falling between the cars had been run over, and that another train had mangled the remains before discovery.

EARLY RETURNS FROM IRISH ELECTIONS INDICATE WIN FOR PRO-TREATY ADHERENTS

Figures So Far Have Not Seriously Modified Forecasts of Daily Composition.

COLLINS ACCUSED OF BREAKING PLEDGE

Attacked by Republican Press for Violating Collins-De Valera Pact.

Dublin, June 18.—The counting of the votes in the recent election in Dublin begins tomorrow. It is thought possible that the result may be announced by midnight. The Cork figures have been eagerly scanned here, but have not seriously modified the expert forecasts of the final composition of the Dail Eireann.

The return of Robert Day was looked for, as he was recognised as the leader of the extreme labor section and was in command when the port was seized some months ago, and the adherence of the "red flag" took over the shipping authority for two days. The defeat of the other two new candidates at Cork is taken to indicate, approximately, the solidarity of the panel vote, an impression confirmed by the Monaghan results which is the only other constituency yet announced.

O'Callaghan's Defeat

But it is evident that whatever departure from the straight ticket occurred has been in favor of the treaty side, and the defeat of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan is attributed to his refusal to recognize the Provisional Government offer in relation to the expenditure of money for rebuilding Cork.

Collins Breaks Pledge

Already the accusation is made, from the Republican side, that the supporters of the treaty have violated the Collins-De Valera pact, and Mr. Collins is attacked, not only for his speech at Cork last Wednesday, which is generally regarded as an utterance throwing over the panel and the coalition, but for his refusal to endorse a joint daily propaganda in the latter part of the panel candidate.

The Republican Sunday newspaper, the Plain People, says: "Quite clearly Collins' pledged word can in the future be regarded as no more trustworthy than his Republican oath."

The paper denounces Mr. Collins for his forecast of the character and functions of the new bill, and asserts that the first duty of every deputy before he undertakes to make the oath of allegiance to the Irish republic.

The notice sent to the Railroad Labor Board, in the form of a letter, reiterates the real union leaders' attitude on the threatened walkout, which was first definitely asserted in their statement issued last Thursday night. The previous statement also indicated the declaration that an overwhelming vote was being cast for the walkout.

Jacobs, Liberal, George Blaine Carter, asserted in the Commons yesterday when asking the Government as to the truth of a press report that ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine were to be sold to British interests.

"It is a newspaper report," the Prime Minister replied.

"I would be good news to private interests," Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen interjected.

ASK APPOINTMENT OF ROYAL COMMISSION

To Investigate Charges Levelled Against Pension Commissioners by G. W. V. A. Officers.

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—(Canadian Press)—A recommendation to Parliament, requesting the appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the charges levelled against the Board of Pensions Commissioners by G. W. V. A. Officers, was made by Mr. W. T. Piper.

Mr. Piper, who held office until July 18th, 1920, when he resigned to become Minister of Finance in the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Fielding has contested thirteen elections, five for the legislature of Nova Scotia, and eight for the Dominion Parliament. On two occasions he has been elected by acclamation, and in 1911 he entered his first and only defeat.

Of the forty years which have elapsed since he entered public life, he has spent fourteen in the Legislature of his native Province, and twenty in the Parliament of Canada. He served twelve years as Premier of Nova Scotia, and in two sittings his sixteenth year as Finance Minister of Canada. Out of the thirty-four years during which he has been a member of Parliament, or of the House of Assembly of Nova Scotia, Mr. Fielding has sat in Opposition but four years, from 1917 to 1921, and during the same period he has held office under the Crown for nearly thirty years.

Party Followers Presented Him With Roses and Address of Appreciation.

Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—(By Canadian Press)—Friday, when the House of Commons assembled, the desk of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader, was decorated with a beautiful bouquet of pink roses to commemorate the 48th anniversary of his birth. Today, Hon. T. A. Crear's desk was ornamented with a bouquet, no less beautiful, and the Progressive was receiving congratulations on his 48th birthday.

Members of the Progressive party presented their chief with a beautiful gold-headed walking stick and an address of appreciation. Crear's address stated that Mr. Crear had directed the political action of his party during the present session in an able, tactful and capable manner, and that he had displayed courage, diligence and intellectual foresight. The wish was expressed that Mr. Crear might long be spared to direct the destinies of the Progressive party at Ottawa.

DAY IS SAVED FOR THE "HOME BREWER"

Amendment in Budget to Prohibit Home Brewing Has Been Struck Out.

Ottawa, June 18.—The day is saved for the "home brewer." Item number ten, in the budget resolutions, which would have prohibited the brewing of beer by anyone except by a regular licensed brewery, was struck out Saturday night at the request of Hon. W. S. Fielding who said that there had been abuses in the past in connection with the "home brew industry" of Paris had come to the conclusion that the proposed remedy would, perhaps, be worse than the disease it was meant to cure.

T. W. Caldwell, Carleton-Victoria, N. B., thought the home brewing industry was becoming a menace to the country. He was sorry the minister had struck out the amendment.

Mr. Fielding said there had been many protests since it was proposed to cut off the permits for the manufacture of beer in private homes.

BENEFIT OF REAL CO-OPERATION IMPRESSED UPON ADVERTISERS

All Factors Must Work Together to Get Results, Says Speaker—Presidential Aspirants Showing Activity.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 15—(By Staff) Close co-operation among manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and all sources of supply, and pointing out that advertising in its many media of expression offers exceptional services in speeding the product from raw material to its final usefulness, O. C. Harn, advertising manager National Lead Company of New York, today addressed the morning session of the eighteenth convention, Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. Mr. Harn's subject was: "The Importance of Co-ordinating the Various Media of Advertising." He divided this subject into four sections: The national campaign; the sustaining effort; the intensive follow-up and the checking of returns and circulation audits.

"Business success," said Mr. Harn, "hinges on team-work among all the factors of distribution, and properly using all the instruments by which distribution can economically be effected."

Sales Effort Considered

"Sales effort is exerted in three ways," he added. "First, when the prior sells in person; second, when he sells through representatives or salesmen; third, when these representatives sell to jobbers or retailers through whom in turn the product reaches the consumer. But as selling becomes complicated, naturally new problems arise.

"So long as our system of doing business is in the simple stage where the seller has three direct channels of communication with the consumer, first, for conducting the selling message to the consumer; second, for the return of the order; and, third, for the delivery of the goods, advertising effort also is likely to remain simple and direct. We have but one target to shoot at. If we multiply our advertising media, it is generally to increase the number of targets, not to develop different methods of hitting them.

The manufacturer who sells direct to the consumer will first try to get into contact with prospective customers, to know their names, address and where they live. This he will do either by collecting their names and addresses from various sources or by broadcasting alluring messages through publications, hoping that some people of the right sort for his purpose will listen in and will send an order, or ask for further information.

Team Work a Necessity

"Team work in advertising comes to its highest development with certain advertisers who distribute their merchandise through the jobber and dealer, but seek to maintain some selling contact with the consumer themselves. I say certain of these advertisers, for not all who find themselves in this category have developed the system to the utmost of its possibilities. Perhaps none has. The possibilities are there, however, and no advertiser who sells through the trade and who seeks to maintain his contact with the consumer exerts 100 per cent selling power who talks only to the consumer.

"The manufacturer who must rely upon the jobber and dealer to get his product to the consumer may waste most of his advertising expenditure if he relies entirely on his direct effort to the consumer, and neglects his distributors. What good would it do you to get a man on an island to promise over the telephone that he would buy your potatoes if you had provided no boat to carry the potatoes to him and bring his money back?"

Mr. Harn paid tribute to the Audit Bureau of Circulation and urged the use of its service to the fullest degree by advertisers and advertising men. When the value of space is determined by the proper check up, he said, "then arises the necessity for complete co-ordination—that newspaper and magazine advertising may be adequately supplemented with an intensive follow-up of those persons whose names are obtained by prevailing upon them to write in response to the publication's advertisements.

Better Understanding Sought

Anderson Page, advertising manager, The Decorating Company, Baltimore, Md., made a plea for "a better understanding of the advertising business and the advertising man." To make this possible, he stated, it is necessary to "clear the decks" of men not responding to the true standards of the business. "It is somewhat unfortunate," he said, "that in some minds there should be a suspicion of this type of man which quickly leads to the remark, occasionally heard, 'He talks like an advertising man.'"

"The phrase," he continued, "so far as I know, never has been used in a complimentary sense. A proper understanding of advertising of its aims and objects, will soon dispel the prejudice for any such remark. Especially if the 'clear the decks' operation is performed at the same time."

Considerable interest centered around the address of Edward F. Jordan, president of the Jordan Automobile Company, Cleveland, O., he having been mentioned prominently as a "dark horse" candidate for the presidency of the association. Mr. Jordan spoke on "How Do You Find Business?" He answered the question with the terse remark: "By going after it."

Lou Holland, of Kansas City, Mo., proprietor of an engraving plant, is said to be showing considerable strength as a presidential candidate. Considerable opposition appears to have developed against re-election of Charles H. Mackintosh of Chicago. According to his backers, Mr. Holland has been assured approximately 750 of the 725 votes necessary to elect. Beside Mr. Jordan, H. T. Meredith of Iowa, a former Secretary of Agriculture, is considered another "dark horse" candidate for the presidency.

Next Meeting Places Chosen

Atlantic City, N. J., as the meeting place for 1923 and London for 1924 was the decision of the club president at a session late last night. This action, however, is subject to ratification by the convention which is anticipated, will be forthcoming. Sir Charles Frederick Huxham, a prominent advertising man of Great Britain, is in attendance at the convention for the express purpose of inviting the delegates to visit London in 1924.

Hin Wong, delegate from Canton, China, has been much interested in all phases of the convention. It is his opinion that women are the key to successful advertising in the Orient. He believes a far-sighted policy on the part of the advertiser is needed to aid in the development of various movements for the popular education of women in his country.

It is expected that the old question of removing the headquarters of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World from New York to Chicago will be up for discussion before the convention ends.

FINANCIAL CRISIS FACES AUSTRIANS

Pound Sterling Worth 100,000 Kronen — Fantastic Quotations for Commodities.

London, June 15—Austria is in the throes of a financial collapse. Yesterday the pound sterling there was bought for 100,000 kronen—the Austrian unit of money. Today the Austrian Embassy here has news that it buys 80,000 Kronen. This means that the kronen which in normal days was worth 20 cents, is now only the equivalent of the two-hundredth part of a cent, and its value is jumping about even at that figure so irregularly that business has become impossible, and fantastic quotations in thousands of kronen are quoted for the ordinary articles of food in Vienna.

Great Britain some months ago paid Austria 2,500,000 in the hope that this might help to save her from collapse. Tsecho-Slovakia also agreed to allow a credit to the extent of 2,500,000 for articles to be bought in that country by the Austrian Government, but this has completely failed.

Loan negotiations have also broken down despite the imposition by the Austrian Government of enhanced taxation, and despite also the lifting by the allied governments of the lion upon the Austrian customs revenue. Austrian factories are now silent, and the only industry which continues active is that of agriculture, which is being conducted by the peasants, who have ceased to pay any attention to the authority of the central administration of any kind.

A last desperate attempt is now being made to restore the Austrian republic's position by a financial alliance with Germany. This is advocated by Dr. Otto Bauer, leader of the socialist party, who represents Labor in opposition to the combined Christian Socialists and Nationalists who are in power. It is finding a certain amount of support, but it has yet to be seen what view the allied governments will take of the scheme, also to what extent it can help the situation which now seems almost desperate.

It is easy to run into debt, but it is always a long and tedious walk back.

Audacity is the stepfather of success.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1922.

NEGRO POINT BREAKWATER.

We have several times pointed out in these columns that the practice which obtains of treating any Member of the Government, or other distinguished visitor to a trip round the harbor, to show him the beauties of the place and the excellent shipping facilities we could have if only some few additions and alterations could be made to the property, although it never fails to draw forth very appreciative comment from the visitor, never leads to any practical result. Successive visitors have been seen and been conquered by the representations addressed to them regarding the needs of the port by city officials and others and have gone away after saying how much they had been impressed by the opportunities for development the port affords and the great part it should play in the commercial life of the country. And there it stops.

A few days ago the question of filling up the gap between the end of Negro Point Breakwater and Partridge Island was brought to the attention of the Government by Hon. Mr. Baxter and Dr. MacLaren in the course of consideration of the Public Works estimates. Both St. John members pleaded earnestly for the work to be done and pointed out how necessary it was for the safe accommodation of shipping that present conditions should be done away with. As usual, the Minister, while sympathetic and admitting the great importance of the work, intimated that nothing was proposed to be done this year. It is the same old story. "Some other time, when we can get around to it."

This matter is not one of politics; citizens of all shades of opinion are alike desirous of getting this breakwater extended as a protection to the harbor and the vessels using it. The city's representatives have done what they could to urge on the Government the carrying out of the work, without effect; and once again St. John is left to shift for itself.

LIQUOR ON AMERICAN SHIPS.

Quite a stir seems to have been created over the border by the decision of Chairman Lasker of the United States Shipping Board, that the prohibitory law regarding liquor has no force outside the territorial waters of the United States, and that consequently outside the three-mile limit, American vessels can carry and dispense all the liquor that is asked for. Chairman Lasker offers two reasons in defence of his attitude,—one financial, the other legal. The financial reason is a secondary consideration and could have no possible weight with the Government if the carrying and selling of liquor on shipboard is illegal. Since Federal prohibition began it has been known that American ocean-going passenger ships were at a disadvantage in getting business in competition with passenger ships sailing under foreign flags on which wines and liquors were freely sold. The legal question was put up to the department of justice in the last administration and it was then decided that, inasmuch as an American vessel on the high seas was legally American territory, the Volstead Act covered every ship flying the United States flag.

Some refinement of the legal issue was necessary in the case of foreign ships carrying or selling liquors on the United States coastline or in its harbors, although that question was decided by the United States Supreme Court on May 15 last, when the Court decreed that no ship, under any flag whatever, may lawfully possess or transport liquor within the three-mile limit. But in the case of United States ships owned by the Government and operated by the Shipping Board the legal question has always been clear and simple.

When the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico were acquired the United States Supreme Court in the Insular Cases decided that the Constitution for the most part did not follow the flag, and that special acts of Congress were required to make the Constitution, or the parts thereof, run into the insular territory. But a ship is not an island, and it is a well-established legal principle that both the public vessels and private vessels of its citizens with them its national character is in the fullest sense.

One critic somewhat pertinently asks, "If Mr. Lasker is correct in his claim that neither the Volstead Act nor the 18th Amendment reach American ships beyond our three-mile limit, it may be asked if the 18th Amendment prohibiting slavery or involuntary servitude is in effect on American ships sailing the high seas. Did Congress ever pass an Act specifically outlawing the anti-slavery amendment to congressional ships?"

By the United States flag? The 13th and 18th Amendments by their very terms apply to all territory or places 'subject to the jurisdiction' of the United States, and the one amendment reaches as far as the other. The deck of an American ship is American territory as much as the ground on which stands the Washington monument or the White House itself."

The intent of Mr. Bush of St. Louis that the United States Government is the "biggest bootlegger" of them all, so long as it permits its own vessels to engage in a traffic forbidden by the Constitution and the Federal statutes, and which no one can engage in on land without committing a crime—carries with it considerable truth. The moral aspect of the case is the worst imaginable, for no Government can seek financial excuses for violating its own laws without pillorying itself as the rankest of hypocrites whenever it throws its citizens into jail for the same offence.

PROVINCIAL FINANCING.

The taxation problem is becoming urgent, not only in the Dominion but in several of the provinces—among which the province of Quebec is a notable exception. Ill conceived and poorly managed enterprises of a kind which should have been left to private management are usually responsible for the financial difficulties of the provinces as they are to a large extent for those of the Dominion, but that fact does not seem to prevent provincial politicians from extending their undertakings, as evidenced by Ontario's recent embarkation in the banking business.

Reference is made in the current investment circular issued by the Royal Securities Corporation, to the prospect there is that in some provinces resort is to be had to an income tax as a source of provincial revenue, notwithstanding that it is already used not only by the Dominion but by a number of municipalities. If this policy should be carried out, says the circular, and individual incomes are subjected to a third imposition, the result will be the same as if the Dominion Government were to double its own rate of collection; that is to say, the burden upon this one form of taxable revenue becomes excessive, the disposition to acquire income beyond a certain point is seriously impaired, and a great deal of productive enterprise is consequently abolished.

VOTING IN THE COMMONS.

The Ottawa Journal expresses the view that the process of recording the votes on a division in the House of Commons is clumsy and tedious, and it complains that more than an hour was consumed in the divisions on the Budget and Drayton amendment. Says The Journal: "The lengthiness of the proceedings, as well as its tediousness, suggests that it might be well for our Commons to adopt the British system of voting. In the British House there is no long roll call of members. All that takes place is simply this: After the putting of the question the doors are locked and the Speaker, or Chairman, directs the 'Ayes' to go into the Right Lobby and the 'Noes' into the Left Lobby, the Division Clerks checking their names and numbers as they pass by him in single file, and reporting the result to the Speaker, who communicates it to the House. The method is simplicity itself, and there is no loss of time. In the old Parliament buildings, the absence of proper lobbies made it difficult to have the British system, but in the new building, with its two large lobbies, one on either side of the Chamber, it could be very easily adopted."

Purposes of New Brunswick, many of whom are growers of potatoes on a large scale, will be interested in a bill that has just been introduced into the Commons with the object of standardizing the various grades of potatoes and also of onions, and also making some important regulations regarding their packing and marketing. When potatoes are sold under the proposed bill, weight in pounds will govern except when sold by the closed barrel. There will then be no such thing as a "bag of potatoes" in market quotations. Some objection has been taken to the bill on the ground that its provisions are unfair to growers, and would put shippers out of business. Regarding the sale of small potatoes, it was said that in the West Indies there is a demand for small potatoes because the people are so poor they often buy from one to three cents worth of potatoes at a time, and potatoes there are sold at six cents per pound. The bill as introduced, may be modified by the Agricultural Committee before it goes through the House.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Mr. Motherwell's Loose Tongue.

(London Free Press.)
Hon. W. R. Motherwell in his Saskatchewan campaign seems to have been even more critical and profane in his election promises than Hon. Mackenzie King, and that is saying a good deal. He waved the Liberal flag on every hustling. He pointed to the clauses pledging free agricultural implements and 17 other articles free, promising 50 per cent. increase in the British preference and a general all-round reduction on the tariff. He told the farmers that there was little difference in the platforms of the Liberals and the Progressives. Now Mr. Motherwell, official candidate of the Liberal platform by Hon. W. S. Fielding and the protectionist speech of Sir Lomer Gouin, is being asked for explanations from his Western constituents.

When the campaign was in progress he was all for the re-establishment of the wheat board. Billboards were plastered with appeals headed "Vote for Motherwell and the Wheat Board!" Now that he is in office, Mr. Motherwell has cooled on the question of a wheat board, and to his election promises to his evident embarrassment.

Mr. Motherwell also demanded with the utmost vigor during the campaign that the Crown's Nest Pass freight agreement be restored. Today Mr. Motherwell's ardor seems to have vanished and he has informed a sceptical West that he is looking for something better.

Finally, in the House this week, Mr. Motherwell was faced with his ringing declaration that he would present the West with the head of Hon. Frank B. Carroll. He pledged himself to the electors of Regina that if returned he would fire the chairman of the railway board. The Progressives demanded that the head of Hon. H. H. Stevens, who pointed out that there was a perfectly legal and constitutional method of firing the chairman, be restored. This was under clause 9, subsection 3, of the Railway Commission Act, which says: "Each commissioner shall hold office during good behavior for a period of ten years from the date of his appointment, but may be removed at any time by the governor-in-council upon the address of Senate and House of Commons."

Mr. Stevens added:
"The Minister of Agriculture owes the country some explanation for the rash and, I think, irrational statement he made in Regina. I am not here to defend the chairman of the railway board, but I do say it is in the interest of good government, and the interest of every public body, such as the railway commission, should have the respect of the people, and should not be open to attack except by constitutional means. The address drawn from Mr. Motherwell:
"I made the statement as a private citizen. I am now a member of the House of Commons. If I crown myself a private member of this House, do you think I would stand the taunts about this thing for five minutes? I will show any honorable member the statement of what I said."
Is it any wonder that Hansard reports that the Progressives laughed?

"Placing the Blame."
(New York Globe.)
If the day ever comes when hostilities are resumed between Irish and English fighting men, De Valera and the military dictator will be the responsibility. Certainly no body of leaders which will not concede to the Irish people the right to vote upon their own affairs can afford to claim for consideration among those who have served Ireland or the cause of human liberty. The fact that there is a blind and arrogant minority in Dublin unwilling to accept a majority rule for Ireland is in truth the real menace today.

The Value of Drill.
(Baltimore Cities Star.)
The value of proper fire drill was emphasized in Park street public school yesterday when 310 pupils marched from their class rooms, cool and unafraid, from the building. The children did not know until they reached the street that a fire was in progress. The alarm, it seems, was emptied in less than two minutes.

Without proper drill from time to time, with pupils untrained to expect emergency calls of this kind, such an occurrence as happened yesterday at Park street building, might be marked with injury and loss of life even though the fire itself amounted to little.

Time spent in fire drill is time well spent. The same idea might well be extended to office and factory buildings.

A Get-Together Spirit.
During the years that Lloyd George and De Valera and Griffith and Carson and Craig and the other best minds of England and Ireland were debating the matter of the Irish Free State and the world was anxiously waiting and trembling for what might happen next, the Rotary Clubs of Belfast and Dublin were holding get-together meetings and golf tournaments.

This was recalled through the arrival in Los Angeles of William A. McConnell, of Dublin, Ireland, official McConee of the Rotary Clubs of the entire British Isles, to attend the 18th annual convention of the Rotary International, which was held in Los Angeles, Calif. Accompanying the idea of Rotary spirit to its final analysis, Mr. McConnell, of Dublin, was accompanied by Harford Montgomery of the Belfast Rotary Club.

Rotary, it is stated, is a "school for service," in which men of hundreds of countries, big and little, gather once in a good time, become well acquainted, open their minds and hearts to learn, and then seek to apply their lessons so thoroughly that the world everywhere is learning to do things and do them willingly and unselfishly.

This strange but true that you must take trouble to avoid trouble.

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millersdale, Sask. writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes if I am happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.
I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but felt no good, was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die. In fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.
This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout.
I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.
You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

BORDER STATES COMPETING FOR SETTLERS

Stipulated Rights Ignored, Promise to Return Property Broken, and Communistic Propaganda Unchecked.

Spokane, Wash., June 15.—There is friendly but nevertheless energetic competition between western Canada and the northwestern states in the matter of their respective lands people by high-class settlers who will give a good account of themselves and convert these lands into productive areas. This is evidenced by reports emanating from controlling offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway the possession of local representation that roads as well as reports coming from various states along the Canadian border which show in detail not only the varied inducements held out to the prospective settlers but the actual personal attention paid each individual who investigates the prospects in the northwestern states or in western Canada.

The report shows that while the Canadian government has expended millions of dollars during the past in building up the western half of the territory, the rest has been devoted to governmental expenditures, its total to date being upwards of $88,000,000. The railroad as a controlling agency has on its own account expended into western Canada $4,000,000 and placed them on the lands of the company. This has been done at an expense to the railroad of $1,200 for each settler. This policy, as the report shows, is building for the future; it is estimated that the expenditure of the past will be much more than repaid to the company whose adjacent territory is even partly developed.

GREECE DISPLAYS OPTIMISM IN MEETING FORCED LOAN ACT

Cost of Living Advances and Business Becomes Slack — Land Mortgage System Proposed.

Athens, May 29.—(By Mail)—The forced loan act has now been in operation for over a month. During the whole period little else has been discussed. The subject has dominated the working of banks, expressed into attention of politicians and financiers, and constituted the theme on which the street-boy has handed jokes.

is to be attempted in territory in Greece. A time limit to be fixed for exchanging Turkish liras into drachmas, after which Turkish liras will cease to be legal tender. Results hoped from this area:

One-half, bearing the image of George Starvos, founder of the National Bank (the National Bank being the issue bank of Greece) is to circulate until July 7 as a new token, worth half the value originally inscribed on the whole bank note. The other half, bearing the image of the crown, does not circulate but constitutes a provisional bond of the new loan. These bonds are now accepted as pledges for advances of money by all banks, and after July 7 are to be exchanged for definite bonds of the loan.

It should be added it is also reported that the Greek Government proposes to impose a mortgage upon all landed property. The proposal is that this mortgage should amount to 25 per cent of the value, and that it should be lifted only when it has been paid off in full. It is felt on the ground that land in Greece is more lightly taxed than almost anywhere else in the world, and that it is only fair the proprietors should contribute to the new taxes.

The first two weeks that followed the passing of the loan were confused. The measure touched everybody down to the lowest mental, and nobody knew how to manage. In general, however, the Greek nation met the situation with courage, optimism and excellent good humor.

It is expected that discussion arising out of addresses on housing and equal moral standards will be presented for endorsement. The latter portion of a resolution regarding housing reads: "Whereas, in spite of the downward trend of building, there is a real shortage of housing, and it is felt that a little or no tendency to reduction, be it resolved that the National Council of Women urge the necessity for legislation to determine a fair and just share of the housing problem."

There was a rush on the banks for withdrawals of deposits at first and exchange operations were closed for 10 days. Afterwards, values rose and fell from hour to hour. A consistent feature was a rise both in foreign exchange and in the price of the shares of the old Government sterling loans.

At noon day luncheons the speakers will include Mrs. A. P. Twidale, alderman of the City of Niagara Falls, who will entertain the delegates with a resume of women's affairs in municipal life. Miss Frances Loring, sculptor, of Toronto, will address the delegates on the subject of "The Art of Designers." Miss Lucy Doyle, president of the Canadian Women's Press Association, will speak on "Recent Canadian Fiction." Problems of Young Girls; Immigration at a Port of Entry will be the subject of what will probably be one of the most interesting addresses to members of the Council to be given by Mrs. Dennis M.A., Halifax. Mrs. Hannington of Ottawa, chief lady superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, will speak on "Conditions of Home-making in Isolated Places." The convention expected that in addition to hearing Magistrate Patterson discuss the problems of the young generation it would have representing Western Canada, Magistrate Jamieson of Calgary, but she has forwarded word that it is impossible for her to attend.

Shares of banks and private companies were not so much affected. During the first fortnight after the loan was issued they went down, as it was strongly rumored that new heavy taxation would be laid on all banks and limited liability companies. Later on, after a definite statement to the contrary had been issued by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, quotations went up. Since then the general atmosphere has been calmer.

With a view to facilitating the use of the new currency the National Bank of Greece grants advances to other banks here without interest, to be used on behalf of the Government to meet exigencies arising from withdrawals of deposits until matters have settled down. Advances are also being made against the scrip of the forced loan.

Verdict Ordered For Defendant In $100,000 Suit
Boston, June 17.—A verdict was ordered for the defendant by Judge Qua in the Superior court in the $100,000 suit brought by Jane Frost Rogers of Boston, against Fred Greely of Newham for alleged interference with a contract of marriage made between the plaintiff and the late Cyrus Greely, a banker of Lewiston, Maine, who at the time was 87 years old.

To meet the decrease in their deposits and the consequent limitation of the scope of their business, some of the banks here have raised their rates of interest on advances, hoping thereby to increase their deposits in other currency.

The case was tried a year ago and the jury disagreed. A material issue answered by the jury at the trial just concluded was that Cyrus Greely did not promise to marry the plaintiff.

"Adam And Eve" Ill At Houlton

Cannot Return to the Woods for Some Time Is the Physician's Order.

Houlton, June 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sutter are again located in Houlton for a few days. Both will be better known as the modern "Adam and Eve" who have been spending the past month at Howe Brook in the depth of the deep forest living the primitive life, living on roots of trees and on whatever Adam was fortunate enough to snare or spear. Both were arrested and brought to Houlton for a hearing in the Municipal court and fined on five laws. A fine of about $350 was paid Tuesday and both returned the following day to Howe Brook, Adam to enter the forest again to complete his six weeks' stint, but owing to illness came to the clearing in the early part of the morning and on Wednesday both came to Houlton so that a physician could be summoned to prescribe Adam was forbidden to go back to the woods for some time but insists that after a few days' time he will return and continue his time. This is a case that has been attracting considerable attention and many are wondering if the couple will be able to complete their six weeks' stay in the woods without the necessities of life.

SPAIN'S POLICY IN MOROCCO DISAPPOINTS COMMISSIONER

Colonists Are Called Incapable of Conducting the Work for Which They Were Sent to the Country.

Madrid, June 17.—It goes without saying that General Damaso Berenguer, High Commissioner of Spain in Morocco and commander in chief of the forces there, is a bitterly disappointed man, and that through no fault of his own. Placed in control of the North African effort by the Count de Romanones when Premier Lyautey, with whom he is in frequent communication.

Efforts Rejected
Count de Romanones says that the original idea of the nature of the Spanish effort in Morocco was that Spain should never exert herself independently, but only through the medium of the Sbererath authorities, and in view of the suspicion that the administration on a modest scale that was then planned might be amplified into extensive bureaucracies, it was ordained that important changes must receive the approval of Parliament and that the military objects should be achieved not by increase of the Spanish national forces, but by increase of the native police. But from the very first, says the Count, there was resistance to these conditions, so that at no time had the Government found itself in a position to carry out its plans.

Attitude Considered Mistake
Now the weakness of the Spanish Government in inclining toward a semi-withdrawal and the substitution of a colonial army recruited on a voluntary basis for policing business in place of the armed endeavor that has been in progress hitherto fills the general with forebodings. He gives few interviews but all who are intimate with the general know that he who has known Morocco well since his youth and has deeply studied Spain's position in regard to her, feels that his country is now making a desperately serious mistake, for which some time soon she will be very sorry.

The want of native policy was the result of incomprehension on the part of the Spaniards of the psychology of the Moor, with the result that the Moors all the time were drawing farther and farther from them. Even in those parts where Spain apparently lived in the best relations of friendship with the Moors, there could be no doubt that the latter at the bottom of their hearts were hostile to Spain. "Attempts at colonialization have been made," says the Count de Romanones, "but what attempts! The reality tells us that the little colonialization that has been accomplished by the Spanish colonists has served only to engender hatred toward us!"

YOU MAY BE ILL TONIGHT. HAVE YOU A REMEDY?
It may be a disordered stomach, perhaps cramps or acute indigestion. If you have no remedy handy, you're bound to suffer. Twenty drops of Nerviline in sweetened water will ease the pain and enable you to get a good night's sleep. Whether it is Neuralgia, Sick Headache or some other minor ache or pain, Nerviline can be used internally or externally, and will be found a true friend for every family. Large 50c. bottles sold every where.

General Berenguer has just made a statement to the Diario Universal, the organ of the Count de Romanones, which is expressive of his disappointment. From time to time criticisms have been leveled against the colonizing capabilities of the Spaniards. In reality they seem to be much better in Morocco now than in other parts previously, but General Berenguer is bitter in his condemnation of the Spanish effort in this matter.

Spain has not put back into this colonizing effort, he thinks, and that is why the achievements of France cannot be imitated. The colonizers who leave Spain for Morocco are of an inferior kind and incapable of their work, he says. The majority of them are little business men hardly better than packmen whom the Labor difficulty in Spain have turned toward Morocco.

General Berenguer considers that Spain ought to have in Morocco an army equal to that which France has in her zone because in reality the Spanish zone is as extensive as that of France Morocco in which Marshal Lyautey keeps his troops for the maintenance of order. As to the substitution of the regular troops from Spain by a colonial army recruited on the voluntary plan, he does not believe that when such a corps is established there will be enough volunteers to satisfy the needs of the case.

He says finally that he has determined to remain at his post as long as he has the confidence of the Government and that current rumors as to his resignation may be disregarded.

Self-Acting Light House Latest Aid To Navigators
London, June 15.—A self-acting light house is the latest device to be erected by the Board of Trade to warn navigators of the proximity of danger. One has been installed at Barry Holmes, Gower, on the Swansea coast and has given entire satisfaction. It lights itself when it gets dark, and extinguishes itself when daylight returns. It requires no attention from keepers. So completely automatic is its action that it needs no care except from time to time to feed it with chemicals, and each of its gas tanks hold supplies sufficient for two years. Its lamp is comparatively small, but emits a very powerful and far-penetrating light.

Jasper Park Lodge Opened To Public

Splendid New Hotel in Canadian Rockies.

A wire received at Canadian National Railway offices states that the official opening of Jasper Park Lodge is being held Saturday at 10.30 a.m. Jasper Park Lodge is a new tourist hotel erected this year by the Canadian National Railway, on the north shore of Lac Beauvert in Jasper National Park in the Rocky Mountains. The area of this Park is 4,600 square miles, the largest of Canada's great national playgrounds.

Many guests including representatives from leading daily newspapers were present, and there were guests from Australia, England and United States. Most favorable comment was made on the splendid location of the Lodge in one of the finest scenic sections of this wondrous park. The accommodations furnished the guests were most favorably noted, the artistic appointments and excellent cuisine being entirely in keeping with the Canadian National Railway's best hotel standards. Traffic officials of the Western Division are highly delighted at the successful opening of this new Rocky Mountain Resort, and predict it will influence a greatly increased flow of Transcontinental travel.

The Wandering Sheep.
The Pastor (driving to church, to passer-by)—"Where are you going, John?"
John—"To church in the next parish."
Pastor—"I don't like that. What would you say if your sheep strayed to some other parish?"
John—"Well, sir, as that goes, I wouldn't say nothin' if the pasturage was better."—Kasper (Stockholm).

Can Sell Liquor Outside Three-Mile Limit Now

New U. S. Treasury Regulations Issued Frigidly Make It Permissible, Says Vise.

Washington, June 17—Sale of liquor on Shipping Board vessels outside the three-mile limit is permissible under new treasury regulations issued today according to P. A. Vise, general counsel for the prohibition unit.

This interpretation was taken as settling for the time being the controversy over liquor on government ships precipitated by Adolph Busch, Ill., the St. Louis brewer, when he wrote President Harding that the government was engaging in the bootlegging business by permitting sale of alcoholic beverages on Shipping Board vessels.

Solution of the problem, Wayne Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, declared tonight, lies in "excluding all ships that sell liquor from American ports." Legislation to this end is being considered, he said, asserting that by putting both American and foreign vessels on an equal footing with respect to liquor the competitive feature of the question would be removed.

The new regulations were not drafted with the intention of settling the question of liquor on Shipping Board vessels, Mr. Vise said, and in fact were written before that question arose. As drawn, however, he said they would apply equally to American and foreign ships in permitting intoxicating spirits within the three-mile limit under the customs regulations which provide that while in American ports all liquors on board shall be sealed up.

Amending the former regulations the new rules were issued "pursuant to an opinion of Acting Attorney General Nebeker, on February 4, 1921, affirmed by Attorney General Daugherty June 30, 1921, and the decision of the United States supreme court in Grogan vs Walker and the Anchor Line vs Aldridge, rendered May 15, 1922.

The new regulations which became effective today provide for the shipment of beverage liquor when in transit through the United States. "It is unlawful," the regulations said, "to transport liquor for beverage purposes, including in transit shipment from one foreign country to the same or another foreign country, in or through American territory, either by land or water and even though the liquor be not landed in this country and such liquor so transported in or through American territory will be subject to seizure and the persons transporting it, subject to prosecution. No permit for such transportation can be issued."

Speed And Batting Ability Main Factors

Looms Up As Decisive Punch at This Stage of Major League Race.

New York, June 18—The combination of speed and batting punch, looms as the decisive factor at this stage of the major league pennant race. The runaway pace of the New York Giants during the past week, which left them five and a half games in the lead, today after being at the hands of St. Louis and the sudden rush of the St. Louis Browns to the top as the Yankees faltered, can be laid largely to their hitting and batting ability in those departments. The Browns increased their margin to a game and a half today by defeating Philadelphia, while the Yankees lost to Cleveland.

Exclusive Yacht Club Elects Eight Members, Peers

Membership in Royal Yacht Club is Certificate of Social Position in England.

London, June 18—The Royal Yacht Squadron, styled the most exclusive club in the world, has just elected eight members, a majority of whom are peers.

To achieve membership in the Royal Yacht Squadron is equivalent to obtaining a certificate of social position far more widely recognized than a patent of nobility. Wealth alone, as some very rich men have discovered, will not suffice to secure admission to what some have termed the last stronghold of "snobocracy" in England.

Tradesmen, however, philanthropic or patriotic are barred. Sir Thomas Lipton has issued several challenges for the America's cup, and no man in the country has done anything like as much to encourage yacht building and designing as he has. But because he is a tradesman, it is said, he has never been elected a member of the Royal Yacht Squadron. King Edward, though a yachtsman himself and the most popular of monarchs, discovered that even his influence was not strong enough to procure the election of a friend in the Royal Yacht Squadron.

The provisions of this section and will be subject only to customs regulations. This latter provision, according to Mr. Vise, was the loophole through which foreign passenger lines escaped the results of the supreme court's decision holding in transit shipments of beverage liquor illegal. Shipping Board vessels would be entitled to the same treatment, he declared.

Mexican Bonds Given Boost

Liberty Bonds Showed Nominal Gains and Losses—European Loans Showed Dullness.

New York, June 17.—Like the stock list, today's bond market owed much of its activity to the agreement reached between Mexico's fiscal representatives and the International Bankers' Committee. Mexican government 4 1/2 and 5's made additions to yesterday's sudden recovery, but these were cancelled in part on the evident desire to take profits.

There was some trading in issues of the National Railways of Mexico, but changes in that quarter were not impressive.

Liberty bonds showed nominal gains and losses. Leading European loans showed further dullness and uncertainty, although holding well considering the renewed heaviness of most foreign exchanges.

New York, June 17.—Cotton futures closed steady. Closing bids: January 21.60 to 21.65; March 21.64 to 21.69; July 22.04 to 22.06; October 21.98 to 22.00; December 21.78 to 21.80. Spot closed steady. Middling Uplands 22.56.

Stronger Tone Prevalent On Montreal Trade

Considerable Narrowing of the List and Only Slight Activity—Gains and Losses Even.

Montreal, June 18.—There was a better tone prevalent Saturday on the local stock exchange, although there was considerable narrowing of the list and only the slightest activity. Gains and losses were about equal.

The greatest advance of the morning was in Lyell, which was up 3/4 on the closing price of 47. The largest loss was in Dominion Steel, preferred, which was off 1/2 points on the closing price of 73 1/2.

Brazilian led the market and closed at a point at 47.

Canada Cement came second and closed unchanged at 69. British Empire Steel, second preferred, was third in activity and was off 1/4 at 23 1/2.

Montreal Power was up half a point at 92. Ottawa Power was unchanged at 86, while Quebec Railway was also unchanged at 25 1/2.

In the papers, Abbott, Brompton and Laurentide were unchanged, while Price Bros. was up 1/4 and Spanish River preferred off 1/4.

Activity in bonds continued only fair, with slight strength showing in Victory bonds which were the most active of the group.

Total sales, listed 341 1/2 bonds 74,750.

New York Stock Market Prices Were In Confused State

Net Result, However, Showed Number of Substantial Gains—Mexican Rate Stronger.

New York, June 16.—Stock market prices rose and fell in bewildering confusion during today's short session. The net result, however, showed a number of substantial gains.

Announcement overnight of the signing of an agreement for reorganization of Mexico's foreign debt, was a strong sentimental factor, as indicated by the further advance of Mexican Petroleum and affiliated stocks.

Re-selling for profits, and short selling of motors and equipments and miscellaneous specialties checked the advance, temporarily and effected a real unsettlement. This was overcome before the close on renewed buying of Mexicans, and sudden uprush in prices of independent steels, several of the prominent automobile issues and rails, the latter, especially coals, showed restraint, however, in connection with the latest aspects of the labor situation.

Lima Locomotive Heavy

Among the few distinctly heavy issues was Lima Locomotive, traders offering that stock on news of the company's plan of recapitalization. Its trend was in striking contrast to that of American Locomotive and other popular equipments.

Sales amounted to 500,000 shares.

Foreign exchanges again were unsettled, brokers reporting an increase of selling orders on London, Paris and Amsterdam.

Demand sterling at 44 1/2 was 5% cents below the week's highest quotation. The French rate firmed another eight points and recessions among neutrals, particularly Dutch and Scandinavian bills, ranged from 7 to 10 points.

Quiet But Firm Session On The Winnipeg Market

Trade Volume Light With Prices Working in a Narrow Range.

Winnipeg, June 17.—Today's short session on the local wheat market was quiet but firm, and trade volume was the lightest in many days. Values worked within a narrow range, closing figures showing a range of from 1-5 cent lower for July, to 5-8 cent higher for October.

There was no new feature to the market. Both Canadian and American trading continued to be largely governed by the weather, which is still favorable. The export market was very dull, there being no reports of any inquiry from the other side. General conditions all around were unchanged from yesterday.

There was very little doing in the cash markets this morning and premiums were unchanged. Farmers continue to hold their stocks, consequently offerings were very light. There was some demand for the top grades of wheat, and also enquiries for No. 3 and lower grades by domestic millers and mixing houses. Although there was an improved demand for cash oats, offerings were light, and very little business was worked. Other grades were dull with all premiums unchanged. Inspections totaled 201 cars.

Impressive Service At The Cathedral

Blessed Sacrament Carried in Solemn Procession of Society Officers and School Children.

In commemoration of the feast of Corpus Christi, which was celebrated in the Catholic churches throughout the world last Thursday, the Blessed Sacrament was carried in solemn procession at the Cathedral at last evening's services. The officers of the different societies, and the school children, boys and girls, marched in the procession. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed. Rev. Father Duke was the celebrant, Father Magee, deacon, Father Nagant, sub-deacon, and Father McDonald, master of ceremonies.

On Saturday morning at the 7 o'clock mass, His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of 207 candidates, 74 boys, 95 girls, and 33 adults. He was assisted by Rev. Simon Oram and Rev. H. G. Ramage, Rev. J. Roy McDonald, was master of ceremonies.

Previous to the reception of the sacrament, the large class were addressed by Rev. Wm. Duke, their pastor, who spoke of the great blessings to be received in the worthy reception of the Holy Ghost, which would come into their hearts, even as it had in the hearts of the apostles, provided they were in a state of grace, and possessed of the right disposition.

After Bishop LeBlanc had performed the sacred rites, he addressed the class, and spoke of the duties and obligations assumed by them in becoming soldiers of Christ through the sacrament of confirmation.

The sponsors for the Confirmation class were John Cogger and Mrs. P. J. Fitzpatrick. There was a large congregation present, including the relatives and friends of the candidates.

Students Attend Annual Service

Members of Rothesay Collegiate School Heard Interesting Sermon Preached by Rev. R. Taylor McKim.

The annual "college service" of the Rothesay Collegiate School was held in St. Paul's village church, at Rothesay yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The Rev. R. Taylor McKim, of St. Mary's church, this city, delivered the sermon, Dr. Hubbard took the service, and the rector of St. Paul's, Rev. Canon Danahy, read the lessons.

The school boys, some 94 in number, paraded to the church headed by their life and drum band. There were a large number of friends present in the church, and the service was a most impressive one. The offering which is to be devoted towards the building fund of the School's Memorial chapel on which it is hoped to begin work this summer, amounted to $40.

The Rev. Mr. McKim took as his text Dan. 1:8: "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself: and he refused to eat of the king's table." He exhorted the students to be true to their faith, and to stand firm in the face of temptation.

Mr. McKim closed his sermon by exhorting the students to take as their motto: "Watch Ye Stand Firm in the Faith. Quit Ye Like Men and Be Strong." He advised them to see to it that through life they never quit anything they undertook, but that they enlist under Jesus Christ, the captain of their salvation, and stand by it.

Sneak Thieves Robbing Churches

Entered Canterbury by Breaking Stained Glass Window—Took Money from Box.

The sneak thief or thieves, who have been making a practice of robbing churches have been busy again, and this time they picked a Canterbury church as the field of operations. Some time Saturday evening, some person or persons, made a forcible entry and after going all through the building, broke open the box at the front entrance, in which the offerings for flowers are placed, destroyed it and made off with what few dollars were there.

The entry was made through one of the stained glass windows near the Wentworth street entrance to the school room, breaking out a piece of glass about eighteen inches square. In one of the fine stained glass windows, a hole was made, and the thief had been made to get in through the school room door and when this failed they had broken the window.

On Saturday morning at the 7 o'clock mass, His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of 207 candidates, 74 boys, 95 girls, and 33 adults. He was assisted by Rev. Simon Oram and Rev. H. G. Ramage, Rev. J. Roy McDonald, was master of ceremonies.

How Bellisle Ducks Differ From Others

Build Nest and Was Hatching in Large Chimney of Summer House.

That the wild ducks (the Bellisle, or at least one duck in particular, has become imbued with the modernist, or at least a modernist's, idea of nesting in a chimney, is a fact that is being proved by a nest found in the chimney of a summer house at that beautiful stream.

The particular duck, a young matriarch and one of this year's brides, which has been inclined to believe, is not only strongly opposed to bare suicides, but an ardent believer in large families, and in child-welfare and better homes, or falling short, usually she possesses a peculiar eagerness to appreciate the strident that have been made in the science of artificial incubation, and willing to take advantage of the discoveries of the day.

On examination of the nest, it was found that there was not a single "half-baked" one among them. This it might be said was not natural in view of the fact that the mother duck had been determined to investigate, and after the fire had burned down sufficiently, disconnected the stove-pipe from the base of the chimney on the second floor. There he found a dozen beautiful white duck eggs, but alas, the gleaming white shells were but the coffins of an unborn generation.

The summer resident, who is somewhat of a philosopher and naturalist, is inclined to believe that the young matriarch, like many another before her, will be obliged to abandon her advanced views and theories, and agree that mother was right in her venture at a new home will be, not the pretentious brick mansion which she coveted the young bride, but a snug and modest contrivance of twigs and such nesting material as she could find about the shore of the limpid waters of the majestic tributary of the St. John.

RAISED FUNDS FOR ST. PHILIP'S CHURCH

Willing Band of Tag Day Workers Collected $639.50—Response of Citizens Appreciated.

The Tag Day conducted by the members of St. Philip's church, to raise funds for the work, on Saturday was a splendid success, the very fine sum of $639.50 having been realized. Last evening, speaking to the Standard, Rev. C. A. Stewart, pastor of the church, expressed his appreciation of the response made to their appeal for aid by the citizens of the city.

Mr. Stewart was in charge of the arrangement for the Tag Day and was assisted by a large corps of willing workers.

P. E. I. Clergyman At Queen Sq. Church

Rev. J. F. Denny, Late of Demerara, Preached Two Powerful Sermons Yesterday.

Both services at Queen Square Methodist church yesterday were conducted by the Rev. J. F. Denny, late of Demerara, who has been transferred to the N. B. and P. E. I. conference, and he preached two powerful sermons, which were listened to with much interest by fairly large congregations.

At the evening service, Rev. Mr. Denny took as the subject of his address, "Can or Does God Forgive Sin?" The preacher said that forgiveness was more than a problem of theology, it was a problem of life, whose difficulties appear only as we seek to solve them. We have all felt that there was something wrong with the world but even in our ecstasy, our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thoughts.

The speaker pointed out the development of the study of evil, by which men have realized that not accident or circumstance but the individual himself has been to blame. He showed how, in many ways, men had been brought to see sin as a broken law and a rebellion against God. But when Jesus came in the Cross, He gave a great stimulus to re-thinking our thoughts in regard to sin.

The preacher said that sin could be considered in three aspects, as a record, as a habit, and as an influence. Christ taught that a record could be blotted out by the repentance of the sinner. The power of sin, expressed in habit, could be broken, and the speaker gave an illustration in which he pointed out how an habitual drunkard had lost his craving for liquor in a moment.

In regard to influence, we must remember, by saying that we are responsible for ourselves, and for the temptations we cast in the way of other people, but not for the response of others to those temptations.

In concluding, the speaker said that Jesus has given us the power which sets us free from sin; in other words Christ has reconciled us to God.

Test Of Turbine Very Successful

First Light from Musquash Development—Two Other Turbines Start in Few Days

The test of the turbine, hatched up to the west branch of the Musquash, was begun on Saturday and is proceeding nicely. The machine will be ready for a week or ten days in order to make whatever adjustments are necessary, before it is taken over from the contractors by the Power Commission. Saturday morning the lights in the power house were supplied with juice from the turbine, the first light from the Musquash development.

It is expected that repairs to the broken leading from the east branch to the power house, will be completed and the water turned into it more or less in about four days. The turbine hatched up to this feed will be started and given their test. Each of the three turbines installed in the Musquash power plant have a generating capacity of a little better than 3,000 h.p. and it is hoped to have all three tested and in good working order within the next two weeks.

Exchange of Pulpits in Local Churches

Baptist Ministers in Regular Exchange—Methodist Pulpits Filled by Visiting Clergy from Conference.

Yesterday morning the Baptist ministers had their regular exchange of pulpits. At Main street the preacher was Rev. A. L. Tedford; at Victoria street, Rev. C. T. Clark; at Thebes street, Rev. G. D. Hudson; at Waterloo street, Rev. S. S. Poole; at Germain street, Rev. F. H. Bone; at Central street, Rev. A. S. Sweeney; at Charlotte street, Rev. David Hutchinson; at Fairville, Rev. C. R. Freeman.

Most of the Methodist pulpits of the city were filled by visiting clergymen yesterday, sent down from the conference for the purpose. At Portland street the preacher was Rev. Frank H. Littlejohn, of Chatham, who delivered two splendid addresses, morning and evening, and who also gave a ten minute talk to the Sunday school in the afternoon.

At Exmouth street the pulpit was filled by Gordon Stevens, a former member of the church, who has been accepted as a candidate for the ministry.

At the Carleton church the speaker was Rev. J. B. Champion, who is now stationed at Newcastle. Rev. R. G. Fulton, pastor of Central street, exchanged pulpits with Rev. J. B. Rice, of Fairville at the morning service and occupied his own pulpit at the evening service.

At Queen Square church Rev. J. F. Denny, late of Demerara, preached at both services.

MAIN ST. BAPTIST PICNIC ENJOYED

The annual picnic of the Main street Baptist Sunday School was held Saturday at Crystal Beach and nearly five hundred of the school's and their friends took advantage of the opportunity to spend a day in the country. The day was all that could be desired for such an event and all seemed to enjoy the day. During the afternoon a ball game between the North End Nationals and a picked team provided a world of amusement for the on-lookers, the former being the winners of the game and a monster watermelon.

The happy crowd went to the steamer Majestic and Hampton and were brought home on the D. J. Purdy.

Concrete Main Was Repaired

Bread Case In The Police Court

Working continuously from Saturday at noon until late last evening a large crew of men made a number of repairs to the concrete main from Lattimer to Phinney's Hill, and the water will be turned on at five o'clock this morning.

This main has been giving a considerable amount of trouble of late and Commissioner Wigmore decided to make the repairs inside the pipe this time instead of outside, as they have been doing.

The water was shut off Saturday at noon and the commissioner and a large crew of men started to work. The men worked in relays, there being no stop until the job was completed. The new concrete was covered with plaster paris to keep it from washing out when the water was turned on and it is expected there will be very little leakage from the main for some time to come.
