N. B. FARMERS COULD CONTROL THE BEEF MARKET

By Improving Their Stock and Feeding Their Hay at Home

By improving the stock and feeding their hay at home, local butchers say that the farmers of New Brunswick could control the local beef market and oust the western product, says the St. John Telegraph. For Easter beef five carloads of western cattle were brought to St. John and slaughtered for the local trade, besides two carloads of dressed beef handled through the wholesale butchers.

The city market looked very attractive yesterday with the fine showing of beef, lamb and fowl of all kinds, and the dealers pointed out that there was no distinction between good provincial beef and that brought from the west.

"There is no difference in the price," one man said, "when the beef is just as good, but the farmers have allowed their stock to run down and it is not very often that the provincial product makes a showing alongside the western meat. This year there is a new factor in the market in the shape of western cattle fattened in this province. Last fall York county farmers purchased 150 cattle from the west, paying five cents a live pound and have been feeding them all winter. These cattle are now being sent forward and command as high a price as their brothers direct from Ontario and the west."

Westmorland county beef is also on sale in the market, and is classed with the best. The price ranges from 10 to 11.1-2 cents wholesale, and 12 to 20 cents retail, according to the cut. Provincial lamb sells at $4.50 to $7 a carcass. Turkeys and ducks are rather scarce and are being imported, but all other kinds of fowl are very plentiful. Eggs stiffened in price a bit yesterday.

TRAIN DERAILED ON TOBIQUE BRANCH

Half a hundred passengers were in danger of serious injury when the Plaster Rock train, bound for Perth, jumped the track at a dangerous bend near Tobique Narrows on the Tobique branch early Thursday afternoon. None of the passengers were hurt, although all received a severe shaking up.

Two passenger coaches and one box car were derailed. The train was in charge of Conductor Herbert Colwell and Engineer Almon Tabor, and was making a speed of about twenty miles an hour at the time of the wreck. The track runs through a cut with the hillside on the left and an embankment with a 100 foot drop to the Tobique River on the right. Luckily the train left the rails on the left side of the track. The engine and tender with one box car remained on the rails and ran a distance of about fifty feet before being stopped.

An extra engine with a passenger coach from the north bound express ran up from Perth and brought the passenger's down. The derailment caused a delay of about two hours on the north bound express and an hour on the south bound express. The Plaster Rock express was delayed over two hours while a wrecking train removed the derailed cars.

The accident was attributed to the track being heaved by the frost leaving the ground and the stiff working trucks of a new box car on the train.

G. W. GREEN AND HIS WORK

Considerable interest has been aroused by the arrest and jailing of Ziba Davenport for taxes.

It seems that the papers, an execution for $1.60, had been placed in the hands of G. W. Green, who, evidently fearing to tackle the job single-handed, took Thomas Stockford along with him. They went to the home of Davenport's father-in-law, Addison Foster of Mainstream, at midnight on Friday, April 7. After arousing the household the officers were told that the man they wanted was not there. Mrs. Davenport, however, offered to pay the amount of the tax but not the costs of two constables. The officers refused to settle and Foster drove the men away from his premises.

It was learned that Davenport would be at the place on Saturday night and accordingly at the eerie hour of midnight the officers appeared again. In response to a thunderous knock upon the door, Foster, the man of the house, opened and asked the visitors' business. Whereupon Green burst into the room, drew a large revolver and proceeded to ransack the place. Quickly as he could Davenport dressed and gave himself up.

Everything seemed to progress alright until when nearing Hartland, the captors, annoyed by the caustic remarks of the prisoner, began to administer rough usage and handcuffed him. Green kept the man at his house over Sunday, which the prisoner said was worse than being locked in a cell.

Davenport has had little chance to become world-wise and when on Monday the constables advised him to plead guilty to the charges which they would lay of resisting arrest and an attempted assault on Green, he did so but was amazed to find that having done this he had made matters worse, for the magistrate imposed upon him a $20 fine and costs amounting to $12.50, or two months in jail.

The prisoner was committed to jail, but a few days later friends paid his fine and he was released.

It is only fair to Green to say that the foregoing is Davenport's side of the story, yet this is a sample of the way the canobo, Green, goes about the country doing dirty, low tricks, making a farce of the legal authority, which never should have been his. He, himself, has been in jail several times during the past year, and would be there today if he were getting his just deserts.

The methods of Green and Stockford should no longer be tolerated. "They have been useful agents," says the Scott Act Inspector. But the people know that these gents cost the county $800 last year, and their method of procedure was more disgusting than the traffic of the liquor men.

Green is reported a rumseller himself and on three occasions has offended in this regard quite recently, it is stated.

No doubt Mr. Green and Mr. Stockford too, will take exception to this article and will threaten dire things, but there is little likelihood of our being asked to prove the charges or insinuations made. Nevertheless we are always "at home" in the little cement block by the railway track.

The ice ran on Easter Sunday. It was of unusual thickness but no serious damage is reported. The river is unusually low for this season, but is rising.

Spruce Gum in Maine

Any one who can climb a tree and is willing to dig hard into the spruce limbs can make anywhere from $1 to $6 a day in the gum business, for the crop never fails and Maine produces more spruce gum than all the other States combined.

In order to be fragrant and agreeable to those who chew it spruce gum must be ripened under certain climatic conditions that are best realized in Northern Maine. While good clear gum is often found growing spontaneously in the wild woods without the help of human agencies, the best spruce gum—the kind that sells at $1.25 to $1.50 a pound wholesale—is the direct result of the gum gatherer's foresight. Gum is the dried and crystallized sap of the spruce tree, which had exuded and simmered in the heat of the summer's sun and then hardened into amber like nuggets in the cold of a long winter.

Maple sugar may be made by boiling the sap of the rock maple tree for a few hours, but if a man were to try to produce spruce gum by boiling the sap of the spruce tree he would get nothing but a bitter and sticky tar.

Of the fifteen thousand pounds of spruce gum annually harvested in Maine twelve thousand pounds or more are gathered in the month of March. The gum picker wears steel climbing spurs on his boots and in his belt he carries a light hatchet, while strapped to his waist is a bag with a wide mouth for the reception of the gum. Climbing a tree, the picker proceeds from limb to limb, chipping off the lumps of gum as he finds them, until he reaches the top. Most of the gum is caught in the wide open bag as it falls from the tree, while all that goes to the ground stands out in such relief upon the snow that it is easily picked up. Having picked all the gum on the tree, he hacks and scars the bark so that the tree may produce another crop.

The best tasting and cleanest gum comes from the deep and narrow cuts made on the south side of a tree. Wounds made on the north side of a tree may exude sap, but, being away from the sun, the sticky juices are filled with spills and bits of bark before it has time to crystallize. By scoring the bark in March the early flow of sap is made to come out slowly and it forms a dam of pitch, so that when the heat of summer comes on and the sap runs freely the gum hangs in pendulous bags, which are glued to the bark in the matrix which formed as soon as the wax was made.

Weather conditions have as much to do with the making of gum as in the making of hay. When the first drop of gum has been exuded and hardened it grows daily in layers from the outside. When there is a succession of warm and windless days followed by cool nights, the overlapping layers of pitch will harden up as pure gum. A windy or a cloudy day, followed by a hot night, leaves the gum soft on the surface; then when a dead spill or an insect lights upon the globe it becomes glued to the spot and remains there, a permanent blemish to the gum.

Spruce gum ceases to flow after July 15. From that time on until the picker comes in March the bags or globules of pitch harden and sweeten until they turn to flinty lumps of fragrance. How the process is carried out or what chemical changes take place in the ripening no one may know. It is a secret of trees.

In May and June the gum drops have a warty appearance; they are yellow and viscid, and have a disagreeable pungent taste like that of turpentine. A month later the drops are hardened on the surface and the yellow color has given place to an amber-like transparency. The masses are still sticky inside, and the turpentine taste has been succeeded by an intense bitterness. Under the sun of August the crystals of gum show pink and amber tints on the surface and have a vitreous lustre when broken open. Most of the sticky centre has hardened, but the pungent taste remains.

In September and October the pink lines grow deeper and are streaked with brown; by December every particle of pitch has become hardened, while from New Year's Day to March the frosts and ice take out the bitter taste and leave in its place that matchless aroma which gum chewsers prize. Then the gum picker has his harvest time. Bangor News.

The Facts About War.

This, says Captain C. F. Hamilton, in an article in MacLean's for April, is the meaning of the seriousness of modern war. A country must consider two facts:

1. To fight with success it must drop its entire ordinary business and turn its whole energy to fighting. Its ordinary life must stand still.
2. If beaten it can be made to suffer enormously.

Then, you exclaim, war is so expensive, so serious, that nations dare wage it no longer. Stop a moment. Suppose your nation wins?

The military expenses of Germany in the Franco-German war were $370,000,000; but she obtained an indemnity of a billion dollars and two rich provinces; it has been calculated that she actually made a profit of about $800,000,000 over and above her military expenses. Thus the accounts of the two countries stand:

Germany:—Monetary gain, $800,000,000; territorial gain, Alsace and Lorraine.

France:—Monetary loss, $2,600,000,000; territorial loss, Alsace and Lorraine.

I omit all references to losses of human life, and I omit all references to the national exultation on the one side and the anguish of spirit suffered on the other. I may add that Germany at first demanded an indemnity of $2,500,000,000 instead of $1,000,000,000; and that had Bismarck fully realized the wealth of France and her power of recuperation, it is probable that he would have insisted on his original demand. His purpose was to crush France, to obliterate her.

But there is more. Modern Germany dates her material prosperity from that war, and from the political changes which it caused.

Stealing from the C. P. R.

A series of thefts have been committed at railway sidings along the C. P. R. below Perth. On Wednesday night of last week part of a consignment of goods of J. B. Adam, of Muniac, was stolen. The missing articles include 35 pounds of pork taken from a barrel that was broken open, 13 pairs of pants, two bags of cornmeal, 36 pounds of currants and three pairs of black overalls. The goods were valued at upwards of $40.00. On Saturday night it was reported that 12 suits of clothes were stolen from the River de Chute siding from goods consigned to Samuel Bishop.

The C. P. R. officials at once placed a man to work to find the parties who committed the theft. Several persons are under suspicion but no arrests have yet been made.—Victoria County News.

Big Development in Land Plaster

New Brunswick farmers should awake to the advantage that will come to them through the fact that the Stinson-Reeb Supply Co., Ltd., of Montreal, has taken over the Tobique Gypsum Company, Plaster Rock, and will make a specialty of the manufacture of land plaster for fertilizing purposes. It will put the well known brand of "Tobique" Land Plaster, on the market at a price within the reach of every farmer in the province. Land Plaster on account of the assistance it gives in conserving the moisture, is a most valuable application for light, dry soil, helping the crops through a drought. On one acre of land treated with land plaster investigations proved that the top eight inches of soil contained 6½ tons more moisture than in one acre of untreated land. Every farmer in New Brunswick wants land plaster, and the new company is ready to make immediate shipments. Orders can be sent to their Montreal office.

Returning to N. B.

Two farmers, former residents of Victoria County are returning one after a trial in Aroostook County the other after working in the West. One declares that the West is painted in far too glowing colors and that conditions are not at all as represented. The other is strong in the belief that Victoria County is as good as the best of places for the farmers.

These are cases of men who are able to return. Those who cannot or would prefer returning but feel ashamed to are innumerable but we never hear of their conditions. It would be well for the New Brunswickers who feel the Western fever coming on to take such cases as these into consideration. Stop; look; listen! Perth views.

TURNED DOWN.

A correspondent in this issue writes on some pertinent matters, and he pushes a virile pen. The OBSERVER welcomes such communications as these, and gladly disseminates the gospel of Progress in the village, the county and the nation. But in the village first of all.

Mr. Rigby failed in his attempt at getting his bill through the Legislature, and once again Hazen and Fleming have disclosed their sickening toadyism to men of money and private cars. Our townsman, an enthusiastic supporter of the Hazen government, gets flatly slapped in the face, literally sneered at in the House, for an honest attempt to create an industry in his town. His county representatives against him! Ye gods! What men!

Had there been a valid reason, a ghost of a reason, a pretense of a reason, it had been different. But only this excuse—"Mr. Sayre fears it MAY sometime interfere with his interests." There was nothing further. Mr. Sayre's council spoke in the lobby, and all was cut and dried on the spot. The rich man raised a finger and like puppets the sycophants nodded acquiescence.

THE PUBLIC DANCE.

In advance of many innovations which Hartland really needs comes the public dance hall, which the welfare of the community does not demand. In other communities, particularly Roman Catholic communities, where dancing is not denounced by the church, the people are accustomed to the "country dance," the "barn-floor" or the "kitchen dance." The parish priest is there and the old folks sit around and recall with pleasure the days of their own youth. This is a Rome where the people do as Rome does—and all is well.

Hartland is a different Rome. The dominating element is in religious bodies that denounce dancing and the opinion of most must to a certain extent dictate what is correct in social circles. The OBSERVER does not claim that this should govern any customs in private homes and there even is a limit to its governance in other matters. But there stands the pat axiom that "when in Rome one must do as Rome does."

The dance recently held in the Foresters' hall was an attempt at such fandangoes as are frequent in some sections of Aroostook, and a concomitant of western mining camps. It is true invitations were issued to the amazing number of 200—a very "select" company! It was for the purpose of making money and no applicant at the door, whether the bearer of an invitation or not, was refused admittance.

At the outset one would not think that more than five Hartland women would venture into such a place, and it is only properly charitable to imagine that these should do so by being misguided rather than vicious.

One report of the dance that reaches the OBSERVER is that there was a large crowd of rough men, and five cases of liquor—and two girls.

Hartland must dispense with the public dance hall. No self-respecting person can attend and this is a case where the "color line" must be sharply drawn—where the scarlet and the white must stand far apart.

We should not want to say that any women who attended the dance were not "good" women. Yet they are a class that strive to maintain a fair reputation and yet flit so closely to the scum of sin that one is reminded of swallows skimming the surface of the water—the spectator can scarce believe that they do not at times actually dip in.

PEEL LUMBER COMPANY'S MILL DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire which broke out about midnight on Wednesday last in the engine room of the Peel Lumber Company mill, damaged that structure considerably. It is not known exactly how the flames started, but fortunately they were discovered before they had made much headway.

The walls of the engine house were badly damaged and the roof fell in. The carriers caught and were half burned down. After hard work the flames were got under control at 1 o'clock Thursday morning. The loss will be covered by insurance. The amount on the building is not known, but it is said to be in the vicinity of $30,000.—Telegraph.

Advices from Stickney say the fire was quite inconsequential and that it arose by a smoke explosion through the man-hole of the boiler. The damage was so slight that the companies were not called upon, and the work of the mill was not delayed at all. The engine room did not burn at all and the fire merely attacked a carrier, disabling it for a time.]

SIR WILFRID LAURIER ON THE DUTIES ON GOVERNMENT

The government does not exist for the farmers alone or the manufacturers alone or for any one class, but for the manufactures and the farmers and for the classes which compose our nation. I do not admit that there should be any antagonism between the manufacturers and the farmers. The manufacturer is the best customer of the farmer and the farmer is the best customer of the manufacturer; let them walk hand in hand; let each profit. But so far as we are concerned for four years we have administered the government of this country on these lines, trying to do away with class, keeping always in mind the motto freedom for all and privileges for none. That has been our policy and that policy we shall continue.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier in May Columbian.

Robert Dickinson

Robert Dickinson, who formerly lived at Lower Brighton, later at Plover Rock, and for the past five years at Clifton station, Alberta, died Sunday night, aged about 60. His remains will be brought to Lower Brighton for burial.

He was a son of the late Darius Dickinson of Lower Wakefield, and a brother to Samuel Dickinson of Newburgh, Jct., and Mrs. Robert Nixon, Mrs. John Nixon, Mrs. Wm. Taylor and Jerry Dickinson. Two sons, Glazer and William, and one daughter, Miss Ida, survive. She will accompany the remains East. Mrs. Dickinson's wife, who was a sister to Fred Hale, died some time ago.

L. O. L. Meeting.

Past Grand Master David Hipwell of St. John and A. D. Thomas of Fredericton addressed a public meeting in Bert's Hall, Friday evening April 14, in the interests of Hartland L.O.L., No. 41. Bros. Hipwell and Thomas were listened to with rapt attention as they discussed Oranigism—its foundation, its aims, in the past, present and future. Amasa Plummer acted as chairman. At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was tendered Bros. Hipwell, Thomas and Plummer for their very interesting and helpful addresses.—Press Correspondent.

Hartland And Miramichi Railway

A meeting of the provincial government was held Tuesday evening when a delegation who were introduced by provincial Secretary Fleming and Mr. Munro urged upon the government the advisability of guaranteeing the bonds of the Hartland and Miramichi Railway Company to the extent of 15,000 per mile.

The railway is to be 38 miles long, but at present the guarantee is asked on only 24 miles of the railway to Knowlesville.

The company have negotiations in progress with the Canadian Pacific Railway to operate the road paying the company forty per cent of the gross earnings as rental to the interest on the bonds.

The delegation consisted of S. S. Millery, president, and M. L. Hayward secretary of the Hartland and Miramichi Railway Company, and W. M. Hemphill, James Hobbs, Fred Curtis, Fred Hamphill, A. F. Campbell and A. R. Rigby.

The government promised consideration of the matter, the request of the delegation not being that legislation be put through this session, but that the government give assurance that the legislation would be enacted upon the company successfully concluding the negotiations for C. P. R. operation of the railway.

When a medicine must be given to young children it must be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. Sold by all dealers.

A British Columbia member of Parliament who is against reciprocity with the United States lectured in Woodstock last evening. Reciprocity is being bitterly fought by bankers and capitalists and an immense fund has been raised by the Canadian Manufacturer's Association and by the Tories of England to pay for an extensive campaign among susceptible newspapers such as the Victoria Co. News, the Gleaner, Press, etc., and for a corps of stump speakers.

The Two Sides Of Our Suits

The outside of a suit is for looks—the inside for wear.

Turn up the lining and look at the inside of one of our coats. Look at the thousands of little stitches put there to give the coat greater durability.

A little matter, to be sure, but these stitches cost money and they give you a coat that will go through the season and come out something at the end.

Take a look at our Suits, ask the Price, and match them elsewhere, if you can.

You'll appreciate the goodness of our clothes for our reputation is scored right in them and our long experience in fitting will be of value to you.

The Easter morning service in the Baptist church was a most impressive one, the sermon strong and helpful. Several candidates were baptized, the new baptistery being used for the first time. In the evening a children's concert consisting of exercises well rendered and beautiful music was greatly enjoyed by a large audience.

The following unsigned paragraph came through the mail to the OBSERVER too late for insertion last week: Rarely have the Methodists of Hartland had the pleasure of hearing such a powerful and masterly sermon as was delivered by their pastor, Rev. W. Whitehouse on Sunday night to a crowded congregation. Taking as his subject, Mountains and Plains, and as his text, Luke VI. 17. He spoke most eloquently and showed how religion, in order to meet its own ideal must be a practical and everyday reality. There is evidently a brilliant future awaiting this young orator.

CENTREVILLE.
 Easter Sunday was duly observed in all the churches: Rev. C. W.
 Walden preached on the Resurrection
 and the choir rendered appropriate music in the Baptist church.
 In the Methodist church the pastor gave over his service to the Mission Band and a program was given very creditably to a full church. The solo by John Fogg,
 a young English boy, was excellent,
 also the duet by Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Hawker. The balance of the program was all given by the little tots and an audience always enjoy having the little ones perform.

Our roads are bad; very muddy in places and immense driits in other places. Someone should have authority to look after our roads in the spring. The driits should be ploughed out and the roads made passable.
 Our road law is not yet perfect by any means.

The highway board has purchased the old school house and lot and intend to use the gravel for the roads in the district. It is an excellent gravel bed. We presume the old house will be for sale.

The Agricultural Society purchased three animals at the government sale
 last week: 1 Ayrshire bull, 1
 Ayrshire cow and a shorthorn bull.
 These are to be sold to members of the Society next Saturday at 2 p. m.
 They must be kept in the parishes of Wicklow, Wilnot, and Kent for three years.

Ernest Ross, book-keeper for Fraser Co. at Plaster Rock is spending a few days with his mother.

Miss Hanson of Woodstock is visiting Miss Meda Hoyt.

Miss L. Nevers of Rockland is visiting at Mrs. Leland Clark's.

The House is closed and nothing done about the Valley Road. Conservatives here are claiming that the road is to be built the coming summer.
 It seems peculiar that some men are furnished with what they call private information on this all important subject and the public are denied the least inkling of what is being done.
 As one of our oldest residents always says at the annual school meeting
 "the proprietors" (meaning the rate payers) should know everything that is being done. Our present government does not seem to believe this wholesome doctrine.

The Federal Government seems to have lived up to their promises and have introduced legislation to that effect, but our local government don't seem to now want I. C. R. operation and will have nothing to do with it.
 Mr. Malcolm's offer to build the road under the conditions now asked for by the Federal government is not seriously considered apparently by Mr. Hazen and Mr. Fleming.

It would look as if an editorial we read the other day is all too true, viz.
 that Corporations have too much influence over the local government.
 Are their hands tied in this railway matter? We think the voters have a right to definite information. Too many of our young people are going West this spring. A railroad will stop this.

RIVER BANK
 Mrs. Kilcollins and Mrs. Post have been visiting their brother Allison of this place they are delighted with River Bank.

Several of our inhabitants have been laid up with the grippie but all are on the mend again.

A party of our young people spent an enjoyable evening at Mrs. F. D.
 Lovely's Sunday night.

New organs seem to be the order of the day. F. D. Lovely, G. F.
 Jones, H. M. Hunter, and Gertrude Chase each have purchased a new one this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kilpatrick of Greenfield were calling on Mrs. Mat-lida Tompkins, Sunday.

Gideon Holmes was taken quite ill at the hub a few days ago.

There was a good attendance at church Sunday morning in spite of bad roads.

We are pleased with the new blinds donated to the hall by Rev.
 C. S. Young, our pastor, also the new song books.

Herbert Lovely has returned to St. Marys.

Hughie Hunter got his hand quite badly jammed in the mill at Stickney
 last week.

Mrs. Manzer Day on Monday, last week.

Several of the Upper Brighton people attended the millinery opening in Hartland last week and were delighted with the beautifully decorated window of C. Humphrey Taylor's store. Mrs. Bartheaux deserves great credit for the arrangement of this window which is one of the finest ever seen in Hartland.

Who Are The "Knockers"?

Mr. Editor,
 In your issue of last week you very righteously reprinted "Jere-miah's" article in hope a few good seeds might take root in good soil.
 "Jeremiah" hits it about right; this place has surely been a "hogged town." Every man in town hustling so after the dollar, and so jealous that his neighbor may make ten cents that he didn't get that he will not join any enterprise for the good of the town and community in general for fear it might benefit someone else besides himself. I am glad he referred to "That man Rigby." Now Mr. Editor, Mr. Rigby has shown himself to be very wide awake and a hustler in many ways. So much so that he now possesses on the Guinac stream an excellent site for a dam and power house that would generate enough power to make this old town of Hartland a regular bee-hive of industry.

This is our chance of a century.
 With plenty of cheap power we can boom Hartland.

Mr. Rigby, with a few other gentlemen of Hartland asked the Provincial Government to pass an act to grant them privilege to dam
 the Guinac and generate power for use in our local and adjoining parishes. Who were the knockers?
 The people of Hartland were not active knockers but were not "boomers." No, it was Mr. Sayre,

Mr. Editor, who kept Hartland and the north of Brighton from securing cheap power for development of local industries. Mr. Sayre said he had objections but when asked on the floor of the House to give them he remained "num." Would this satisfy our local Govt? It seemed to do so. Mr. Sayre was represented by Mr. Hazen, son of Premier Hazen, and Mr. Hanson a brother-in-law of Mr. Slipp. Did our local representatives fight tooth and nail for a measure to assist local industries?
 Certainly not after Premier Hazen's lead! All they seemed equal to was a half hearted appeal ending up with an expressed desire to protect Mr.
 Sayre's interests.

Mr. Editor, how can Hartland boom or the Parish of Brighton develop when even your representatives place the interests of Mr. Sayre before the interests of Hartland and the Parish of Brighton? When the said Mr. Sayre pays taxes on only $1000 compared to the thousands paid by the rate payers of this Parish.
 I have heard a number of rate payers
 this spring complaining of Mr.
 Sayre's rating but none seemed to see any redress so long as his Hartland manager is one of the assessors.
 Is this the fault of our Councillors?

Now, Mr. Editor, to finish the history of the fall of the Hartland Electric Power Co.'s Bill. Mr. Rigby was urgently requested to withdraw but refused, and wished a vote taken,
 but it was passed over to a picked (or packed) committee who soon made quick work of it.

Mr. Editor, so long as monopolists control our village, our Parish assessment roll, our local government, what chance have we to compete with the allurement of the West where such actions are exposed and where the people are wide awake to their rights and privileges and not afraid to demand them?
 A WOULD BE "BOOMER."

Not From Life.
 "Will she succeed as a writer?"
 "She has a great imagination."
 "Does it show in her work?"
 "One of her women didn't want her husband to saw wood lest it hurt his back."

Room to Guess.
 "Do you raise
 much around here?"
 "I hate to tell you what we raise
 the most of."
 "Why this modesty?"
 "It's a swear
 word, stranger."

Usual Place.
 "What's the matter with him, anyway?"
 "He has the writer's cramp."
 "Where does it hurt him?"
 "In the pocketbook."

In the Near Future.
 "He seems to be much in love with her."
 "In love with her? He worships the very air she flies in."

Reduced the Time.
 "Can I see you for just a minute?"
 "But your minutes are so long."
 "This one won't be over half an hour,
 I promise you."

Couldn't but Wonder.
 "I inherited my beauty from my mother and my wit from my father."
 "Did your father have much wit?"

Similar.
 A poor class is like a play—
 You have to throw the things away
 if owing to some little flaw
 it will not draw.
